ESTABLISHED IN 1846.

MARQUETTE, (L. S.), MICHIGAN, SEPTEMBER 9, 1882.

THE WAR VESSEL Michigan spread her white wings and took her flight for other harbors Saturday night, after nearly a fortnight's sojourn in this hospitable port.

SCHOOL WORK began on Monday in the city schools, and is progressing smoothly, with a competent corps of instructors in charge and a good attendance of pupils.

A MAN named Jno. Anderson died of typhoid fever in the city early this week. This is the second death from that disorder in Marquette within the past month, we believe.

An unique entertainment will be given in Mather's hall next Wednesday, when the "Merry-makers" are announced to hold forth there, rendering a varied and highly interesting programme. The company embraces several brilliant specialists, and comes well endorsed by the press.

Mr. F. S. ABBOTT, late of the Wyandotte Herald, is in the city this week, the guest of Mr. Hanscome, his brother-in-law. The gentleman recently sold his paper and printing establishment at Wyandotte, and is now enjoying an interval of relaxation before again engaging in business.

The orphan asylum fair held the floor at Coles' hall the first two nights of this week, continuing to attract a good attendance to the hall, and to swell the net proceeds of this very successful venture in behalf of the asylum. The fair has been highly enjoyable socially, and quite as successful, financially regarded.

A QUARTETTE of hard cases left for Jonia in sheriff Jeffrey's charge to serve out sentences in the house of correction the other evening, via the D. M. & M. road. These were Jno. Floyd and Frank Lindberg, sent below for one year each, and a brace of vags named Moore and Beck, who will sample the fare of that institution for the next six months.

For a minute the other evening there was an illumination more brilliant than pleasing to the proprietor in the show window of Conklin's jewelry store. A show curtain caught fire from a gas jet and blazed up with startling suddenness. No damage, except to the curtain—and as that was getting to be a damaged affair anyway, Conklin says he's glad it was cremated.

Mr. P. F. PETTIS has just engaged a Mr. C. F. Johnson, of East Saginaw, to assist him in the music business. Mr. Johnson is a good musician, and the cornet is his favorite instrument. He will give lessons on the instrument, and will exert himself in the organization of a brass band in this place. There is lots of room for a band, and no such organization now exists here.

It pains us to announce that the "Cuban restaurant" has closed its shutters for lack of patronage. While the MINING JOURNAL regrets to see any enterprise of the city go under, be it ever so humble, yet it can lay its hand on its cigar pocket and say it expected this. There ain't Cubans enough in the place to support a restaurant of that complexion, and the proprietors might as well have known it.

It is quite plain to see that there is a railroad crossing just this side of Meads' museum on Front street since the railway people furnished up that bulletin board of theirs which makes perpetual announcement of the fact. Hitherto the public has obtained information on that point from the flagman stationed there, but from this time forward "he who runs may read" and find out all about it for himself.

The Chippewa County News, published at Sault Ste. Marie, has this pleasant notice of a popular Marquette divine:

A very prominent feature of the Baptist devotion services was the sermon by the Rev. Kerr B. Tupper, of Marquette. Mr. Tupper is a thorough scholar, a profound reasoner and an eloquent speaker. Mr. Tupper's admirers will rejoice to learn that he has consented to deliver a lecture in this place some time not far distant.

PATRONS of the MINING JOURNAL's jobbing department seem to think that printers never need a rest. Ever since the opening of the current year work has poured in upon us in an increasing stream, taxing to the utmost the capacity of the office and the endurance of the gallant crew by which it is manned. No one has been allowed to go away disappointed, though it has been a strain upon us to turn out work as rapidly as was necessary to avert a deadlock. With the additional machinery now on the way, and an increased force, we shall henceforth be better fixed than ever to meet all demands upon us. Customers need not be afraid to rush in their orders—we have the stock on hand and the facilities at hand to do all the job printing that any number of them can require. Business must be lubricated with printers' ink to run smoothly, and the best article for the purpose is that furnished by the MINING JOURNAL office.

CINDERS.

There are over two thousand diseases that people who want to shuffle off can select from and die respectably, and yet the statisticians tell us that suicide is on the increase.

Marquette may not have a palatial hotel, but she has a heap of business waiting for one when it does come, and there's solace in that thought—for all but those who do the waiting.

There is a hotel in this city that has over fifty waiters in the dining room at meal times since the influx of summer visitors. They sit down to eat, but invariably have to wait until their patience gives out before they can get anything to work their masticators on.

The democrats, like drowning men, catch at straws, tauntingly remarks a stalwart state exchange. They have to, poor devils. It's only members of a party who have a hundred thousand office-holders to fall back on when money is needed that can afford to suck theirs through a straw as a regular thing.

The senior is away this week, and Cinders improves his absence to relate the story. During a recent visit to Mackinac he was persuaded to buy a farm on Beaver Island, and he was extolling the beauty of the location, the wealth of its timber, and the fertility of its soil to Cinders on his return. An attentive listener was the unhappy youth whose task it is to provide bait when the senior goes a fishing, and when the latter had finished telling about his farm, the boy enquired: "Say, Mr. Swineford, can you raise things on that farm?" "Raise things? why certainly. The soil is rich enough to raise anything. Why do you ask?" "Cuz if I'll grow everything, you ought to plant some of it to angle-worms. They're gettin' mighty scarce in these parts I can tell you." The senior gazed earnestly at the lad for a minute, but as he seemed to have made the suggestion in good faith, he escaped being assisted out of the office in a violent manner that time.

Some evenings ago in the office of one of the city hotels a stranger approached a group of men who were lounging against the cigar case, and enquired what time a certain train started in the morning. They were at a loss to reply promptly, when a super-servicable young man interposed with, "Here's a time-card Mister, come here and I'll show you" taking the querist by the arm at the same time and leading him in front of what appeared to be a railroad time card stuck on the wall. The stranger inspected the card, then turned to the impulsive young man and remarked: "Much obliged, sir, but I don't want to go to heaven yet, and when I do that ain't my route—I'm a Baptist." The supposed railway time card was of quite another character, being a printed announcement of the hours for holding regular services in St. Paul's church. The young man invested in cigars for all smokers within ear-shot of the laugh that went up at his expense.

"Nice saloon-keepers you have in this town," said the delegate from Badgerdom to Cinders the other morning. Cinders acquiesced in this flattering compliment to the local disseminators of liquid refreshments, adding that they seemed to be a very clever lot of fellows, who gave good measure and always returned the right amount of change. "Think so, do you?" interjected the young man, with a snort of disdain. "You don't catch on to the drift of my language. They're sharks, sir—downright harpies. Why, I bought a drink in one of your saloons last evening, and the bar-tender wanted to charge me twenty cents for my 'bath,' as he called it!" And the aggrieved sampler of Marquette whiskey snaked viciously at the reticent, as if determined to get the worth of his money out of that, at least. "Ah, indeed? Well, that was hardly using you right, unless you measured out the dose in a beer glass, Cinders timidly suggested. "Of your knee again, mister, it wasn't a beer glass. 'Twas one of these little thin things, and I had to pour it brim-full to get a square drink," he explained. "When I handed the fellow ten cents he remarked, 'Kind of bifalutin like.' Another dime, if you please—we charge twenty cents for alcoholic baths here." Then he got mad when I refused to pay him double and swore he'd take it out of my hide." He reached for a queer-looking tool behind the bar and I climbed out of there on a lively center. If I thought it was any deadly weapon he was going to pull on me, I'd have him arrested, I swear I would." "Afrad you haven't a case," said Cinders, "it wasn't a dangerous weapon." "So? well, what was it, then?" "A stomach pump, most likely," replied Cinders cheerfully. "They use 'em sometimes here on snoozers who try to walk off with luscious things, and I had to pour it brim-full of gray horror o'erspread the young man's face, as he sank heavily back in the chair from which he had risen to take his departure. "You don't mean that such doings are allowed here," he gasped. He was assured that such cases were rare, but not unknown, when he registered a solemn pledge, resting his right hand on the sacred bible, never, never again to enter a saloon while he remained in Marquette.

The rumor reached Cinders early in the week that there was a disconsolate federal employe in the city who had been struck by a second of those circulars sent to all civil servants of our "best government" to civily demand from each a contribution to the republican congressional campaign fund, and we hunted up the distressed recipient with the amiable desire of assisting him with much counsel and seasonable condolences. After much labor, and consequent perspiration, we cornered our man, who was in a state of unusual depression. Cinders first alluded to the heinousness of the weather, then touched upon the prevalence of yellow fever in Texas, the strike at Pittsburgh, and various other lugubrious topics, to lead him up to the immediate cause of his dejection. As we went on his face lengthened perceptibly, and he at last broke in with, "Oh, gosh dang it, yes! The blamed country is going to destruction, but I tell you, Cinders, my fellows who have to furnish funds to save it every time there's going to be an election, are the ones who suffer where it hurts most. Dye know," said he, sinking his voice to a confidential key. "I've just had another circular from our congressional committee at Washington, reminding me that I haven't forwarded my 'contribution' (here he ground out a hollow, unearthly laugh) yet, and I s'pose I've got to send along the wealth and wear my summer suit during the rigorous Lake Superior winter coming on, in order to help elect cut-throat Chalmers in Mississippi, and aid Billy Mahone in carrying Virginia. That's what grinds, I tell you—blowing in 2 per cent. of my salary to keep a bloody treacher in congress and help a man who believes in repudiating and carry the state he has dishonored."

We saw that he was hit hard, that the iron end of the contribution-compelling good stick had entered his soul, so we tried to soothe his perturbed spirit by reminding him that there were thousands of patriots who would gladly sacrifice the balance of his salary. He smiled grimly. "There you go," he observed with bitterness, "just like the rest of 'em, who think that if a man holds a paltry little governmental place he lies on a bed of roses. One-fiftieth of my salary at one fell swoop may not seem much to you, but I beg to remind you that its diminutive aspect in your eyes is largely due to the circumstance that it doesn't come out of your pocket. Besides, that isn't all. That's the congressional committee's assessment. D'y'e think that our poor devils of office-holders are meat for that committee only? Ain't there going to be a state election, and a county election, as well as the general congressional racket, this fall? Oh, you don't know anything about the trials and tribulations of the office-holding class," he continued with desperate emphasis, "I am often tempted to wish that I were dead, or a democrat, and done with it all." The case was one of graver symptoms than Cinders had been led to expect, and he withdrew to pen this account of the interview, wondering to himself if there is such a thing as contentment and happiness any where in the great world of politics.

BOY DROWNED.—Monday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, a lad named Frank Henderson, aged 12, was drowned in the lake, while bathing off the rocks near the light house with several companions of his own size and years. The spot where he met his untimely end has been a favorite bathing place for idle youngsters all summer, and a swarm of them might be seen splashing in the water or clambering up the rocks almost any hour of the day during the warm season. Between the ledge of rocks jutting out from the shore, and an upheaved mass some distance out in the lake, is a channel of deep water, reputed dangerous, and designated as the "suck-hole" by the fraternity of juveniles who have rather monopolized the spot as a swimming place. It was there that young Frank Henderson met his fate. While in the deep water he must have been seized with cramps, seeing which his frightened comrades clambered up hurriedly on the rocks and began shouting for help. The light house was close by, but, unfortunately, the keeper was not at home. A son of his, who noticed the commotion on the rocks and quickly guessed the cause, hastened for help to where two men were at work repairing the fog horn. On being notified that a boy was drowning at the spot described, the men hastened thither, and discovered the body lying at the bottom, the unfortunate lad's companions having decamped in the meantime. Possibly if the body had been taken from the water at this time, and due efforts made to restore animation, the lad's life might have been saved. But the men took it for granted that the only thing left to be done was to recover the remains: a boat was procured, also grappling hooks, and the body was fished out with great deliberation, life being wholly extinct, of course, when it was finally secured. The body was taken to the morgue, identified, and word was sent to the boy's father, who lives at Champion, of the sad occurrence. He came down the same night and took charge of the remains, which were interred in the Catholic cemetery here Wednesday. Henderson, the boy's father, is a widower. The lad had been making his home with the family of Mrs. Giroux, on Bluff street, for some time past. His fate is a sad one, and should deter other boys from courting a similar doom by going in swimming in dangerous places without any competent older person being with them to afford assistance in case they become frightened or cramped in the water.

LAST Sunday closed the pulpit work of Rev. P. R. Parrish in connection with the Methodist Episcopal fold of Marquette, and he leaves this evening on the Arctic to attend the Detroit annual conference of the M. E. church, to commence next week. After the conference closes its labors, Mr. Parrish will visit his parents in Ohio, and indulge in a brief interval of relaxation from ministerial work in the society of friends and viewing once more familiar faces and scenes. The MINING JOURNAL cannot permit the reverend gentleman to depart from among us without bearing testimony to the high esteem in which our people, of all denominations, have learned to hold him. He is an earnest worker in the vineyard, devoted to his people, yet free from narrow, sectarian bigotry, and his qualities of head and heart peculiarly fit him for the service to which he has chosen to give his time and talents. Our earnest wish is that his lines may ever be cast in pleasant places, and that the pulpit from which he now retires may always be as worthily filled. The church will be closed from now until October 1st, to admit of certain repairs on the interior that are much needed.

A YOUTH who has been amusing himself for some time past by shooting stones out of an air gun at people's windows after nightfall tried the game on the MINING JOURNAL office Thursday evening, and came to grief. As soon as the missiles began to rattle against the building, a skirmish line was thrown out to feel for the enemy. The click of his air-gun, when discharged, discovered the marksman's hiding place to our forces, and an advance upon his place of ambuscade was ordered by the business manager, and gallantly responded to by the boys. The enemy was captured, with all his arms and munitions, and was released upon parole, his father going security for his future good behavior. Better not shoot at anybody's windows with your pop guns, boys, but if you will persist in that amusement, don't make a target of our office. We are liable to hurt the next one caught in the act.

It is somewhat early, perhaps, to begin talking sleighs to the public, but none too early if the "Common Sense Sleigh" is the sort discussed. This sleigh is always before the house, because of its many points of excellence, which go to especially adapt it to the wants of Lake Superior loggers—and of teamsters anywhere and everywhere, indeed, where a strong, easy-running and durable sleigh is needed. This sleigh is manufactured at Fond du Lac, Wis., by B. F. & H. L. Sweet, veterans in the business, who have made a reputation in the Northwest out of the merits of this sleigh alone. The agent here is Mr. T. Morgan, whose energy, supplemented by the excellent quality of the sleigh, has borne fruit in its general introduction throughout this part of Michigan, where it is a favorite with all who have heavy winter teaming to do. His regular announcement for the season of 1882 will be found in another column, and the reader will profit by its perusal if he has need of anything of the sort.

It pleased the writer to meet Mr. Alfred Meads, who favored the MINING JOURNAL with a call on his way home from New York Monday, and to learn that while absent he not only sold a valuable mining property in the vicinity of Ontonagon to parties who will at once proceed to develop it, but also that he had purchased a new dress for his paper, with a Taylor press to print his sheet on henceforth. Mr. Meads has labored faithfully in the interests of his town and county in the past, and can "read his title clear" to a generous support from the Ontonagon people. Unless they would lay themselves open to the charge brought against republicans by those familiar with republican "tricks and manners," they will give the rehabilitated Miner the biggest kind of a benefit when it blossoms out in its handsome new dress. Mr. Meads left for Ontonagon on the noon train west, taking with him his daughter, who had been visiting friends in Marquette for some time latterly.

NEW FIRM.—C. H. Call & Co. have bought out the entire stock in trade and the good will of James Pickands & Co. An inventory is now being taken and the transfer will be complete in a few days. Henry Call, the senior of the firm, is so well known throughout the upper peninsula that no word of ours could add to the reputation which he justly sustains wherever he is known—of being a man of ability and integrity, coupled with all necessary pluck and go-ahead-iveness. Alfred O. Jopling is the junior member of the new firm, and is a civil engineer of good ability. He is possessed of capital, energy, pluck and perseverance that will surely bring him success in his new field of labor. If our commendation will make the new firm equal to the retiring firm of Jas. Pickands & Co. in the estimation of the purchasing public, then their success is assured.

PRACTICALLY, the pleasant summer weather is over, and the season is at hand when summer suits must be laid aside. Where to get your fall clothing is now a seasonable subject for thought. On this point the MINING JOURNAL is prepared to give its readers and the general public valuable advice. Buy your fall clothing of Markwell, where the stock of seasonable goods is large, well selected, fashionable in make-up, and excellent in quality, and marked at very low prices. Markwell has the goods you need, and he will part with them for less money than you can have any idea of buying such clothes for—unless you have "been there." He has just returned from the east, bringing a superb stock of goods, including piece goods for custom work, and patrons will find him prepared to meet their every want, either in ready made or in custom made suits.

The pleasure was ours of meeting in the city on Wednesday, Col. Van Duser, of the Escanaba Iron Port. The gentleman was en route to St. Ignace to attend Thursday's congressional convention there. Col. Van Duser is one of the oldest editors in the state, and the Port has become, under his management, a valuable representative and advocate of upper peninsula interests. The writer has long desired the pleasure he derived from making the colonel's acquaintance, and found him to be the genial, well-informed gentleman that we had been led to expect from the high standard of journalistic excellence maintained by his admirable paper. Such editors as he will always find a warm welcome in the MINING JOURNAL sanctum. The other sort need not apply.

OVER fifty vessels lay at anchor in our harbor Sunday, the greater part of which were carriers of the larger class. If the number of vessels touching at this point be any criterion, the shipping business done at Marquette during the season of 1882 will show a large increase over that of last year, notwithstanding the hurtful effect of the strike on the ore market. An immense amount of freight is received by boat here for points above, being forwarded by rail from the docks to its ultimate destination. Marquette is growing in prominence and favor as a shipping and distributing point, a fact fully shown by the steady increase in the volume of business done at this port.

THURSDAY afternoon at 2:30 o'clock occurred, in this city, the death of Mrs. A. C. Shaw, wife of the groceryman of that name, after a severe and protracted illness. The deceased lady was the only daughter of Geo. W. Greene, of Arch street. She was a most estimable lady, whose early death—she was but 27 years of age—brings sorrow to a large number of friends, as well as deep grief to the families thereby bereaved. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of her father. Mrs. Shaw was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and the services usual on such occasions were conducted by Rev. P. R. Parrish, pastor of that denomination.

PARENTS, if you have boys to whom you desire to give educational advantages that will be to them as a hand-full of trumps with a cold deck up the coat sleeve in the great game of life, read the announcement of the Michigan Military academy in another column of this paper. The academy is an institution wherein boys can fit themselves either for a scientific, literary or a business career, as they or their guardians, elect. Its location is pleasant and healthy, terms moderate, with a competent corps of educators in charge. The term opens on the 13th, by which time pupils should be in attendance. See advertisement for additional particulars.

It is with a sense of profound satisfaction that the MINING JOURNAL force learns of the marriage, solemnized at Milwaukee on Wednesday of last week, of Mr. Edward R. Gledhill, formerly a pressman in this office, and Miss Julia La Pierre, of this city. Ned's trade will now stand him to good advantage, as he has a "form" of his own to "press," and his technical knowledge should fit him to ensure the happiest results. The boys breathe blessings on the union, and join in praying that no untoward disaster may disturb Ned's journey over the matrimonial route, on which he and his bride have but just embarked.

In the city at present is A. W. Nordyke, of Indianapolis, president of the Nordyke & Marmon manufacturing company, makers of all kinds of flouring mill machinery and millers' articles. The gentleman is here for recreation, and is accompanied on the trip by his sons, two bright lads who are finding much to wonder at and enjoy in the Lake Superior country. They will remain in this and the copper region for several weeks. Mr. Nordyke has visited the Marquette district before, but was not prepared to find the city and its tributary territory advanced so far beyond his recollection of both.

The fine store room in the National bank building into which M. Topalska will move his stock of dry goods and boots and shoes next week is being put in readiness for his occupancy. In it are also stored numerous boxes and packages of fine new goods that will be offered to public inspection for the first time when Mr. Topalska opens out in his new quarters. The reader should bear in mind that he will also continue to "do business at the old stand," where he will offer a fine line of clothing and furnishing goods, of which he will make a specialty in the branch establishment.

PATRONS of the telephone exchange should bear in mind that it is a violation of law, as well as an offense against decency, to load the wires with profane expressions. If you want to swear at a man, hunt him up and do it at short range. The telephone was not invented to provide unnamable persons with a means of insulting others without incurring the risk of being punished on the spot for their insolence. Don't swear through the telephone if you don't want to risk being struck off the exchange—by lightning.

QUANTITIES of goods for the fall trade are being received and put on sale by our merchants, who seem to anticipate a brisk season of trade, to judge from the extent of their purchases. Those who advertise liberally won't be disappointed, and as for the others, they are so habituated to carrying over a part of one season's stock to the next that it would startle them to see goods go off in the way they do where the merchant advertises wisely and persistently. Don't disturb the mourners.

BISHOP HARRIS, of the Episcopal church, was with us over Sunday, and conducted the services that day at St. Paul's church. The bishop is one of the most eloquent divines in the state, beloved in his own fold and highly esteemed outside of it. He has been visiting the church societies under his charge in the upper country for some weeks past, and it no doubt afforded him profound gratification to find them prospering as they are, and yearly growing in numerical strength.

DOMINIC DERAGO, the harpist, has engaged a first class violinist, named Charles Fish, who will assist him in furnishing music for dancing the coming fall and winter. Dominic is now prepared with a complete band to furnish music for parties of all kinds, and his name will find its accustomed place on ball posters. Those whose feet have tripped the light fantastic to the strains of Dominic's harp will no doubt be gratified to learn that he is still in the field.

At the school meeting Monday evening, J. C. Morse and Dan H. Ball were chosen trustees, for the term of three years each. A tax of $14,000 for school purposes was voted. This, with the one mill tax and the amount received from the state, will make in the neighborhood of $20,000 to be expended in the cause of education here the ensuing year—a sum ample to give the aforesaid cause a powerful momentum, if judiciously applied. The meeting was but slimly attended.

AMONG the prominent persons in Marquette this week, coaxed this way by the St. Ignace convention, were Hon. S. M. Stephenson and Judge Brown, of Menominee, Jno. L. Buell, and Mr. E. P. Foster, from the Menominee range, Mr. Howell, of the Ontonagon Herald, from Ontonagon, and "Cur" Lewis, from Marinette, who always likes to be where there is fun or excitement. Others there were also, but their stay was so brief that we couldn't take a census of them all.

ATTENTION is directed to the business announcement of L. F. Beals, elsewhere in to-day's number, in which he informs the public that he is ready to serve all who need work done in the line of blacksmithing or wagon making. The latter department of his business is under direction of Chas. Larson, a skillful artisan, and customers may depend on getting satisfactory work in either line if they leave their orders with Mr. Beals.

As will be seen from their regular announcement, the Lake Superior Transit Co.'s steamers will carry visitors to the state fair from Hancock, Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie to Detroit and back at reduced rates, tickets good until the 30th. The vessels of this line are finely appointed, and those who take advantage of the liberal offer made will enjoy a delightful trip.

This has been another quiet week in police circles, no grave misdemeanors calling for the attention of the police courts. The city continues to be remarkably free from nocturnal brawls and offenses against property, a state of affairs highly creditable to the vigilance of the police force, and due in no small degree to the honest discharge of their duties on the part of the city justices.

CABBAGE begins to come into market freely. From the size and texture of the heads we conclude that Marquette won't have to import any of her kraut from Germany the ensuing year.

There are no signs of an ebb flow in the tide of summer visitors as yet. The season opened late, and it would be only fair if it should linger later than ordinarily.

JOHN POWER, Esq., of Escanaba, was in the city this week.

PEACE PRODUCES PROSPERITY.—The prosperity with which the blessing of Divine Providence has visited the South is evidenced by the increase of the comfort of living in the several prominent cities, notably New Orleans. The great Charity Hospital, which has flourished for over a century, is sustained by the gratuity of $1,000,000 from the London State Lottery Company, in return for its franchises. The next drawing (the 148th Grand Monthly) will occur September 12th, and prizes of $75,000, $25,000, $10,000, etc., will be given to purchasers of tickets—whole, $5; fifth, $1. Any information can be had on application to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MICHIGAMME.

A Finlander by the name of Erick Beldo fell down No. 4 shaft of the Michigan mine, a distance of 330 feet, on Tuesday night, and was killed. He was a single man. His funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon.

Our schools opened last Monday with over 500 pupils enrolled and many more to come in. Mrs. T. Canning, the teacher in the intermediate department, has resigned to accept a more lucrative situation at Clarkburg. Her place will be filled as soon as the school board can get a teacher. Miss Canning will teach until then.

F. C. Chamberlain arrived in Michigamme on Saturday last, and opened school at the Spurr on Monday, Sept. 4. Mr. C. will reside in Michigamme and practice law during his stay with us.

On Sunday last a man by the name of Andrew Johnson, who has been in the employ of A. E. Erickson for several years, was found to be insane, and before he could be cared for, he bade good-bye to his friends and put out for the woods. A party was organized on Monday, and after some search found him in the woods north of Michigamme. When found he was standing in a pool of water praying. He was brought back to town and handed over to deputy sheriff Brown, who locked him up. Steps are being taken by the supervisor, Capt. J. P. Christopher, to have the man cared for properly.

The township board has been looking over the ground and estimating the amount of work required to properly drain that part of town south of Main or First street; also making estimates as to the probable cost of finishing the fence around the cemetery. Contracts for the performance of the work necessary to accomplish the above mentioned improvements will be let at an early date. This indicates a willingness on the part of the board to make any needed improvement and to expend the township moneys for the benefit of the people.

The future prospects of Michigamme were never brighter than they are to-day—business of all kinds has increased largely; the number of men employed in and about Michigamme has doubled within a year and will still increase steadily for the year to come. Men who come here to work, it matters not in what capacity they are employed, now find plenty to do at remunerative wages. Trade is brisk and an impetus is imparted to it by opposition. The idler is indeed a rara avis, while the chronic office-seeker abounds not in our lively town. Michigamme extends a hearty welcome to the earnest worker, in nearly every department of business, while the lazy lout, who expects to gain his daily bread and whisky at the public crib, will justly merit and receive the scorn and ridicule of the entire community. To the former class we owe, to a great extent, our present prosperity. To the latter we owe nothing, they having received their ill gotten gains at the public expense, lang syne.

A gentleman engaged in writing up the early history of the upper peninsula and northern Wisconsin was in town this week. The writer hereof thinks he discovered a new canvassing dodge during a conversation with the aforementioned gentleman. After getting your family history written up, how many copies of the work did you order?

The weather is very warm for this season and this locality. No frost yet, and fair growing weather continues. Now, who says that potatoes and other vegetables will not be cheap this fall? Some of our farmers and gardeners hold their farm produce at very high figures, but if we mistake not prices will be fair, and not as high by 50 per cent, as last year. Fruits and vegetables are plentiful, and the prices thereof are daily coming down and are now within the reach of the man who earns his living "in the sweat of his face."

Ten dollars reward is offered by the director of our schools, J. C. Fowle, Esq., for evidence leading to the discovery and punishment of the persons engaged in destroying the school property; such acts of lawlessness having been of each occurrence late as to make the offering of the above reward a public necessity.

Joe Sues is among us again for a few days. Messrs. Nast and Karger offer their building, now occupied by A. E. Erickson as a furniture store, for sale, subject to the lease of Mr. Erickson for one year. For terms apply to I. N. Bassett, Michigamme.

REPUBLIC.

An informal meeting was held in the town hall Monday night to call for the town that purpose made, at which propositions were submitted relative to the matter of procuring some sort of a fire protection for our town. The project of purchasing a steam engine with about a thousand feet of hose seemed to prevail, and a committee of four, consisting of Messrs. Hart, Tyler, Gleason and Kirkwood, was appointed to ascertain the probable cost of the same. Another meeting will be held September 18, when the aforesaid committee will report, and further action will be had, if it is possible to harmonize ideas sufficiently.

The Scandinavian society had a public demonstration last Friday, at which time their new hall was formally dedicated. The society made a very creditable appearance on the street, and the dance in the town hall the same evening was well attended. It is safe to say that we have not a better class of citizens than our intelligent Scandinavians.

Work on the old M. E. parsonage has been commenced. The old structure will bear a very different appearance two or three weeks hence.

F. H. Kearney is below on a business tour. M. Stafford, one of Marquette's sons, was in town last week, the guest of Dr. Taft and family.

Peter White, S. P. Ely, and several other gentlemen from Marquette, visited Republic during the week. It is not certain that they will locate permanently here.

The advice of this journal regarding the putting in of pumps and wells by our people was evidently good, as about a dozen have been put in since our suggestion was made and more are going to be put in. Put them in gentlemen, it's a tip top investment.

Michael Carey, an uncle of Thos. Carey of the Ely house, died of consumption on Wednesday of last week.

Abraham Matd, John Matd, and Joseph Gare each lost a little child last week.

Scarlet fever and inter-colicis are the deadly diseases that are most active just now in this locality. Carl Weinberg will occupy the new and elegant store in the Scandinavian building. He will fit it up in good shape, and when there, his will be a store worth visiting. Liquors will all be sold down stairs, which will be fitted up for that purpose; this will leave the general store free from the annoyance attendant upon the sale of liquors, and which has always been unavavoidable at the old store. A good move, Carl!

The speech of Dr. John F. O'Daw, in the Swedish language, at the dedication of the Scandinavian hall was pronounced by those competent to judge to be a very fine effort.

Capt. Peter Pascoe leaves on the 7th for a tour south and east. He attended the congressional convention at St. Ignace as a delegate from this county, and went from there to Lake Forest, Ill., where he takes young Peter to school. From thence he intends taking in Kalamazoo, Detroit and Cleveland. The captain has well earned a vacation and proposes taking a short one now.

The new bridge across the river at the water works is now completed and is pronounced a good and substantial structure. Mr. Doyle, the builder, has earned his money, and our thanks besides.

A good tailor can get rich if he lives long enough, just by locating in Republic, and attending to business. Come right along, some of you honest tailors; don't wait to write.

One thing we want besides a tailor, we want a bank—and some money to put into it. Who will start a bank and become a millionaire?

The Modern Classics number six souls, three of each sex. They are to be forever incog., and are to be known only by their court names. The public are welcome to the benefit of their debates, which will be published in these columns if found to be of interest. Their object and style is entirely unique. We are promised admission to the next meeting, but are to be put under the most elaborate oaths of secrecy first.

The annual meeting of the school board was held Sept. 4th, at which time Matthew Gibson, Esq., was elected moderator, vice E. G. Dungey, term expired. A tax of $6,000 was voted for school purposes during the year ensuing.

James Dwyer, Esq., from Marquette, was in Republic Thursday, on a visit to his iron farm near this place.

Our diamond drill boys say that their item in the Bea about some one in Michigamme drilling 133 feet in one day with a diamond drill is alladamlie.

L'ANSE.

A consignment of steel rails for the M., H. & O. railroad company is being unloaded from the schooner Reindeer at this writing. They are being laid down by the company as fast as taken from the vessel.

Circuit court for Baraga county was in session here Tuesday, and for that day only. Nearly every case on the calendar was continued to the December term.

At the session of the circuit court held here this week, Mr. Jno. Twohoy, Jr., county clerk of Keweenaw county, was admitted to the bar, after a searching examination conducted by attorneys Grant, Brady and Chabourn, and which he sustained with great credit. The gentleman had evidently prepared himself thoroughly, and we look for a good report from him in the profession in the practice of which he proposes to engage.

Our public schools opened on Monday with a good attendance—some of the departments being overcrowded in fact. The primary department showed 80 pupils enrolled the first day, which is too large a number for any one department. The board should do something to relieve it of this excessive strain. Why wouldn't it be well to put a few of the primary classes in other rooms for the present?

The Shaefer house in Baraga was rented to Wm. Chappel, Esq., from Hancock, who is now having the same repaired with the intention of opening it to the public the coming month.

One shipment has been quite brisk here lately. There has been more ore shipped up to date from this port than during the entire season of 1881.

Rumor promises a piece of interesting litigation from Aaron township presently, in which the prosecuting attorney will be called to take a leading part. Particulars later, if at all.

The Nestor sawmill in Baraga is one of the things soon to be fait accompli. There is no longer any doubt of it.

At the annual school meeting held Monday evening at the graded school Mr. August Menze was re-elected trustee for the term of three years. Mr. Thos. Descham was chosen in place of E. L. Mason, also for a term of three years. It was voted to have ten months school the ensuing year, when the meeting was adjourned one month, at which time the question of selecting a new site will come up and be acted upon.

ISHPEMING, SEPTEMBER 9, 1882.

FINE confections can be had at Tillson's. The hospital building will soon be in shape for occupancy.

See Sheldon's announcement about digging boots, in another column.

MRS. FREDERICK STABLER, of Ann Arbor, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. S. CURRY.

THERE is considerable sickness among children about the city, the ailments being mostly after the order of cholera morbus.

THE sights and seclusion of the Black Hills were not sufficiently attractive to hold Mr. J. Mallanby longer than his intended stay of two weeks, and he accordingly returned to home and business on Wednesday's train.

A NEW and large bulletin board for the purpose of displaying advertising has been erected on the sidewalk at Austin's hall, and is now in the market for patrons. It is an infringement on the Sackrider place, and is so situated as to be of benefit to advertisers.

MAYOR OUTHWAITE'S new residence has received its paint, and but little time will ensue before it will be ready for occupancy. It is in all respects a model modern home—a little more ornate than most Ishpeming residences, yet not any more so than the times demand.

THE familiar sound of the school bell is again heard, and the small ones of the city are once more at their tasks. The schools this year show a considerable increase over last in the number of pupils, every room being crowded to its utmost capacity. What Ishpeming most needs is increased school facilities, and the sooner this fact is generally understood and action taken looking toward supplying the need, the better will it be for all concerned. We need just double our present school room.

A CHANGE.—On the first of the coming month the Commercial House, of this city, will pass into the hands of Mr. H. Eckert, formerly of Great Manitowlin Island, Ontario, who on Wednesday purchased its furniture and fixtures of its present proprietor, Mr. Geo. Chopat. Mr. Chopat's retirement from hotel life in Ishpeming will be greatly regretted by his patrons and friends, for he has proved himself an excellent host. His successor, however, is a gentleman of large experience in hotel management, and will be found equal to the new undertaking, and worthy of a generous patronage. Mr. Chopat will remain in the city, embarking in other business.

QUITE a serious, though not fatal, accident happened at the Lake Superior mine on Wednesday. In the afternoon of that day two men, Jerry Harrington, and a Finlander whose name we have not learned, were engaged in cleaning out what they state was an old blast hole, and which exploded while they were at the work, the force of the explosion sending rock and dirt into their faces and eyes, inflicting injuries that it was thought at the time would result fatally, or at least maim them for life. Later reports, however, show that through the Finlander's badly injured, he will recover without impaired sight. Harrington's injuries are even less severe. The opinion prevails at the mine that the hole was not an old one, but one that had failed to explode at the proper time, and which the injured man approached to examine. 'Twas a sad and unfortunate piece of business at best.

UNDER the leadership of their pastor, Rev. H. J. Rousseau, the Catholic people of this city will from this date make a desperate effort to raise sufficient funds to complete the erection on their grounds in this city of a select parochial school and convent. At a meeting held on Sunday last it was decided that the work must be accomplished, and accordingly a subscription was taken up among those present at the meeting and $600 pledged as a starter. The building contemplated will be a large, plain, but substantial frame structure, to cost not less than $8,000 completed, and this amount it is proposed to raise by voluntary subscriptions. Father Rousseau informs the MINING JOURNAL that work will begin on the foundation this fall, and that the building will be completed during the coming winter and spring, so as to be ready for use by the opening of the school term next year.

THE indications all point to a season of business prosperity in Ishpeming during the months of autumn and winter, and the business men, anticipating a profitable season, are laying in much larger stocks of merchandise than has been their custom in former years. All the large mines, and the smaller ones too, lying in and adjacent to Ishpeming are putting in their best licks to mine and ship all the ore they can, and as the shipping season, owing to the completion of the new locks at the Sault, will last from one to three weeks longer than formerly, employment will of necessity be had for the present large force of men until the last, when, if the iron market has its present cheerful outlook, all will be employed underground, in mining and raising ore for the coming season. At least 1000 more persons will winter in Ishpeming this season than formerly, and it is with reason that the business men anticipate an increased trade.

THE report recently started by a four eyed medicated quack of this city, to the effect that Mr. I. N. Oie was about to give up his extensive business in this place and remove to other fields, we are pleased to say, without foundation, other than in the befuddled brain of the aforementioned quack, and could only have been started with a view to the injury of Mr. Oie's business—which by the way, could not be hurt by any rumor from the source from which sprung this apparently harmless report. Mr. Oie has established a business in this city and county that has grown to immense proportion, and he has no desire, nor has he thought of leaving it for other fields.

MARRIED.—At the residence of the bride's parents, in Clarksburg, on Saturday, the 2d inst., by the Rev. Robt. Wood, of this city, Mr. Orrin J. David, and Miss Cora M. J. Sterne. The ceremony occurred in the afternoon of the day mentioned, and the occasion brought together a large circle of friends of the contracting parties. The groom is one of the David brothers, well-known prospectors in this county, and the son of Col. James I. David, of Grosse Isle, near Detroit. He is a young gentleman of high standing, and one who has made many friends during his residence in the upper peninsula. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sterne, of Clarksburg; a young lady of such excellent home accomplishments and pleasant social qualities as are but seldom found combined in the young ladies of modern times. The list of presents was quite large, and embraced was justified in assuming that a revolve about the only "authority" that readily respects in that community.

A Scandinavian miner of the Commonweal, of the name of Gustave Engstrom, killed on Tuesday morning, by being struck on the head with a piece of ore or rock from a blast. He was not married.

Either accidentally, or because of delirium caused by drink, a Swedish miner shot a rifle in the shoulder one day last week, and the two were walking along the street, the officer who undertook to arrest the shooter was viciously assaulted by the fellow, drew a razor and might have injured the officer seriously if the latter had not used his prompt and effectively. He was safely arrested at last, and will suffer the legal penalty for his wicked behavior.

An extremely large and pleasant birthday party was given H. D. Fisher on the eve of the anniversary of his 50th birthday, which occurred on Saturday last. As H. D. is the father of the town it is nothing more right that his children should give him a fitting reception. He was the recipient of a presents which will undoubtedly be cherished in remembrance of the donors.

SAULT STE. MARIE.—The News notes lumbermen are beginning to solicit recruits for their winter logging campaign. Mr. P. of Bay Mills, wants 350 to enlist with him four months or during the winter.

A new steam ferry boat has been placed on the Sault river, owned and run by Mr. Cott of the Canadian Sault.

The Marquette MINING JOURNAL of down rather hard on the history of north Michigan which is being compiled by Mr. son under the direction of the Western Historical Society. It speaks in decided terms of "stuff printed by this book factory, and late history." Mr. Leason has been collected material in a wholesale, haphazard sort manner at Sault Ste. Marie that we do think promises very much for its value.

That history will be worth its weight in paper, and don't you forget that we told you so.

The old Anaxias has once more gone to bottom, this time on the south side of Pelee dock in Wausau Bay. She had just finished loading a cargo of lumber and was to be authorized to borrow $10,000 for general purposes, which motion was adopted.

THE first day of the Ishpeming trotting meeting (Tuesday) opened bright and beautiful, and continued thus throughout the day; but that fact did not operate to draw an immense body of spectators to the association grounds to view the sport, perhaps not more than 100 persons being present at any one time during the afternoon. If the thinness of the crowd was a disappointment to the management, the thinness of the races had a like effect on the spectators, and the account was about evenly balanced. Very few, other than members of the sporting fraternity, were on the ground, and even these did not enthrone to any great extent—a circumstance most plainly noticeable from the lack of spirit manifested in the pool selling and the private bets made. The first race of the day was for the 3:20 class, and was between the horses Little Maid, Topsy, Minnie C., and Lake Shore. The race was awarded to the first named, after winning three straight heats, the best time being 2:50. The second race was of the 2:40 class, and the contestants were Gazeteeer, Rox, and Halfpenny. The first mentioned horse took first money in three straight heats, the last time being announced as 2:37.

Wednesday, the second day of the turf meeting, opened auspiciously as the first in regard to the weather, but in point of interest centered in the races, much more was expected, it being the day for the "free for all" and 2:40 classes. In the first mentioned were classed Gazeteeer, Rox and Bay Prince, the first heat being taken by Rox in 2:34, which, considering that the track is known by horsemen as a "slow" track, is excellent time. The three following heats were awarded to Gazeteeer, the time of each being 2:37, 2:39 and 2:41, respectively. The trotting of Bay Prince was a failure in each heat, and the friends of that horse were sorely disappointed in him. Gazeteeer took first money; Rox second, and Bay Prince third. The other race was won by Topsy over Halfpenny, Little Maid and Sorrel Bob, the best time made being 2:46. The attendance on this day was something of an improvement over the first, but it was not good. The meeting was not a great success financially, yet it afforded much sport to the lovers of the turf.

THE MINING JOURNAL.

The Carp River Iron Co. had shipped by lake and rail up to and including Wednesday, the 6th, 8,689 tons of pig iron.

A SIDE-TRACK to the Laxey is being put in by the Northwestern railway company, and will be completed in time to enable the management to ship its present stock pile this season.

MR. GIL HODGKINS, of Ishpeming, has a contract to strip the vein at the Titan, just west of the Beaufort, upon which work he now has a large force of men employed.

A DIAMOND drill of the Sullivan pattern is at work exploring from the bottom of the principal shaft of the Pendill. The management is hopeful of good results, but the work had not progressed sufficiently at our last report from there to indicate what prospect of having that expectation realized.

SHIPPING from the St. Lawrence will begin next week, the branch road being graded to the mine and ready to receive the iron. All the machinery is now in position and the mine is in readiness for active work as soon as it can be furnished with transportation facilities.

THE fear that ore shipments from this district would show a steady decrease from about this date forward does not appear to have been well founded. All the lake ports show an increase for the past week over that preceding, while the shipments for the week ending with and including the 6th are nearly double what they were for the corresponding week of last year.

NEARLY all our iron mining exchanges "take stock" in the reported find of an immense deposit of 91 per cent. iron ore at St. Paul by parties engaged in sinking a well for the Harvester company, of that city.

EXPLORING operations at the Cannon mine have been somewhat retarded lately by the flow of water. Some very excellent ore has been uncovered at this mine, but the major part of that found so far has been badly mixed.

As instancing that Chicago is becoming a "center of mining interest," the Mining Review, of that place, states that a new smelter and refinery is to be located there shortly.

IT seems to us that the tariff commission might have visited the iron district of Michigan, after having come within a day's run by rail of the upper peninsula, with profit to the members thereof in the matter of useful information acquired first-hand.

THE Messrs. Dwyer and Wright are still vigorously pushing their explorations on sections 27, 47-30, giving that property a most thorough examination, and finding ample warrant for the outlay incurred in the developments resulting from their work.

WE learn that the Canadian firm of Ross & Co., which makes a business of getting out square timber within certain limits along the line of the D., M. & M. railroad, has sold to Prentiss & Co., of Alpena, the stumpage within their territory for lumbering purposes.

DAILY ore shipments from the Cambria now average from 60 to 75 car loads, the ore being a clean, blue hematite, for which there is a good demand.

SOMETHING new in the line of minerals was recently discovered by E. G. St. Clair, of Ishpeming, during a tour of exploration in the woods of this county, in the shape of a ledge of marble, white as snow.

THE merest trace of oxide of iron was discovered in the piece analyzed, and the specimen was pronounced to be equal to the finest Italian marble.

MR. WRIGHT informs the MINING JOURNAL that the stock pile at the Erie will contain 6,000 tons of ore by the time the M., H. & O. branch is finished to the mine and shipping begins.

WE help ourselves to these items of copper mining news from the Northwestern Mining Journal of the 6th: Explorations are being carried on at the Humboldt to find, if possible, the Allouez conglomerate, but unsuccessfully so far, owing to the heavy overburden.

FROM Mr. Alfred Meads, who passed through Marquette Tuesday, on his way home to Ontonagon from New York, the MINING JOURNAL obtained an interesting account of the sale, recently consummated through him, of the Bohemian, Great Western and Penn copper mines, the purchasers being an English company of capitalists organized to develop and work the properties.

LAKE shipments last week footed up 102,941 gross tons, from the several ports as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Name of Port, 1881, 1882. Rows include Escanaba, Marquette, L'Anse, St. Ignace, and Totals.

Showing an increase of 538,387 tons.

THE tariff commission has visited Cleveland and Detroit, in its itinerant investigation into the workings of the tariff system, and at each of these points gentlemen conversant with the iron mining industry gave the commission the benefit of their views.

just as soon as the necessary appliances can be obtained and put in position for use. He is very sanguine of the success of the enterprise, and that it will greatly redound to the prosperity of his beloved Ontonagon, which certainly cannot fail to be benefited by having a strong management in control of and working these valuable, but hitherto neglected, mining properties.

SHIPMENTS. - The following is a statement of lake shipments of iron ore and pig iron for the season up to and including September 6:

Table with 2 columns: Name of Mine, Gross Tons. Rows include Escanaba-Marquette District, Menominee District, and Totals.

The following table exhibits, in gross tons, the total lake shipments of iron ore from upper peninsula ports the present season, up to and including Sept. 6, together with the amount shipped during a corresponding period last year:

The object of the association is to utilize the Big Quinnesec Falls on the Menominee river, which forms the boundary between Wisconsin and Michigan, for the purpose of compressing air for use in the mines in that region as a power, in place of steam.

THE tariff commission has visited Cleveland and Detroit, in its itinerant investigation into the workings of the tariff system, and at each of these points gentlemen conversant with the iron mining industry gave the commission the benefit of their views.

WORKS on the present plan will be let for $200,000. Contracts have already been let for most of the labor comprehended in their construction. They will be ready for use next season.

RECENT work with the diamond drill at the Dey mine has removed all doubt as to the valuable character of that property, and nothing now remains to be done towards placing it fairly in the list of paying mines but to reach the deposit of ore south of the present shaft, where its presence has been revealed by the drill.

valorem duty should be replaced with a specific duty of 80 cents or one dollar per ton on imported ore. Both gentlemen dwell upon the fact that the ore miner, as well as the iron manufacturer, had to compete with the "pauper labor of Europe," and that, as a broad proposition, the one was as much entitled to "protection" as the other, under the principle underlying the tariff policy of the government.

of passing, or attempting to pass, counterfeit money. These practices hitherto have been by many persons regarded as trivial offenses. To all such Judge Lowell's decision should, through wide publication, be a timely warning.

De Lesseps has quit shaking his fists at the English ships in the Suez canal, and now protests, between dinners at the English headquarters, that, by far, he wasn't angered against the British any of the time, only terribly anxious for the fate of his ditch.

Brady has gone out of the newspaper business, after having sunk $100,000 in buying and running "organs" to manufacture sentiment adverse to the prosecution in the star route cases. He didn't manufacture much sentiment of the kind he desired, either. His experience in the newspaper line cost Brady a pretty figure, but he can charge it up to "expense" on his star route books without materially reducing the showing on the profit side of the balance sheet.

England's rifle team, headed by Sir Henry Harford, reached New York Sunday, and will do some friendly shooting on American soil. They may possibly win some triumphs in a friendly trial of skill, but by the blood of our forefathers (revolutionary), if an English team should visit these shores with a hostile purpose, they would stand a slim chance of scoring victories. [Applause here.]

It is now admitted by the British commander in Egypt that Arabi Pasha is stoutly entrenched; that his force is large and devoted to his cause, and that it will be no child's play to dislodge the "rebels" and suppress the "revolution." We had a suspicion that they would discover all this in time, despite the roseate color of the despatches sent out by English correspondents in Egypt.

The Democrats of the ninth Wisconsin congressional district have nominated Judge Parks as their candidate against Hon. Isaac Stephenson, the republican nominee. The selection gives the democrats a strong candidate, and Mr. Stephenson a competitor for the congressional prize that it is an honor to beat, even with the odds in his favor given him by his party majority.

We note still another enlargement of the Cheboygan Democrat, one of our newest exchanges from the lower peninsula. Ed. Forsyth is giving the Cheboygan people an excellent paper, in return for which they are giving him a generous support, as his pages abundantly attest.

hold furniture, machinery, four steel boilers, engine, horses, hay, oats, and a crew of about fifty men, some with families, but mostly single men, and the way they took hold of it, as well as the manner in which they worked, is a thing to see. All our enterprising people rejoice in their prospects of success.

St. Ignace.—The Republican has an account of "doings" at Newberry and Dollarville, up the D., M. & N. road from St. Ignace, from which it appears that these points continue to flourish vigorously. At the former place the Vulcan Furnace company has its brick casting house almost finished; the frame work for the retort building is up and a number of the iron retorts to be used in making charcoal are in position; the iron work for the hot blast is nearly done, the hot air pipes are in place and being bricked in, and all other work is going forward expeditiously under direction of Lee Burt, manager, and Chas. S. Burt, superintendent.

The agent of a paper factory at Niagara Falls is having 1,000 cords of poplar put out in the neighborhood of St. Ignace, for use in the manufacture of that article. The stuff is to be shipped before navigation closes for this season.

The new church building of the Episcopal mission at Sault Ste. Marie held its first audience last Sunday night, the occasion being the visit of Bishop Harris. The beautiful liturgy was read by the reverend pastor, followed by the rite of baptism; then an address by the bishop, and the concluding service a class of seven or eight. The choir furnished very acceptable music, and the service was most solemn and impressive throughout.

FLORENCE.—There hasn't been a fire since the village got in its system of water works, and the News itemizer feels quite put out about it.

There was a Michigan officer in the place last week who showed a revolver when asked for his authority, and there wasn't a man in town who dared question the instrument. Michigan officers understand their business.

A Scandinavian miner of the Commonwealth of the name of Gustave Engstrom, was killed on Tuesday morning, by being struck on the head with a piece of ore or rock from a blast. He was not married.

Either accidentally, or because of delirium caused by drink, a Swedish miner shot a comrade in the shoulder one day last week, while the two were walking along the street. An officer who undertook to arrest the shooter was viciously assaulted by the fellow, who drew a razor and might have injured the officer seriously if the latter had not used his club promptly and effectively. He was safely caged at last, and will suffer the legal penalty for his wicked behavior.

FUN WITH THE BOYS.

ESCANABA.—The new court house is under way and the foundation for the new school house ready for the walls, we gather from the Port. And it must be a goodly site to see work for the advancement of litigation and "edification" going along together, hand in hand. We feel like congratulating Escanaba on the inspiring spectacle afforded.

"Several cases of scarlet fever are reported and the doctors wear an anxious look," records the Port. "An anxious look," did you remark? They are afraid the rumor has no foundation, probably.

Changes and rumors of changes in the hotels of the place are noted. That of a change in the proprietorship of the Ludington House is one, and the proposed closing, for an indefinite period, of the Tilden House is another, the latter event to take place not later than October 1st. The Tilden stands in need of extensive repairs, which the Port opines it will not receive while its ownership remains vested in the Northwestern railway, and N. Ludington lumber companies.

Sixteen drunks in the cooler Monday of last week. Pay-day previous Saturday—fools and their money soon parted—saloonkeepers get the moneys; fools get too much poor whiskey—the rest following as a matter of course.

From an article in the Port concerning the project, we infer that the agitation in the interest of a driving park at that place falls to deeply interest the property owners of Escanaba, the prospect being that the scheme to secure one will fall through.

THE Star clothing house has a new and ornamental delivery wagon, which will in future run in connection with the store in delivering parcels to the houses of their customers, and also take one of the proprietors on an occasional visit to the suburban mine locations. Messrs. Clifton & Co. have stocked the Star clothing establishment with an immense stock of clothing and furnishing goods for the fall and winter trade, and, if low prices avail anything, they will, with their determination to please, attract to the house an immense trade.

THE young gentlemen comprising the Scandinavian society of this city have for some time past had in contemplation the organization of a company of the state militia, made up of members, and now step to the front with a sufficiently large list of names to make such an organization practicable. They have signified their intention to the adjutant general, and applied for his permission to be mustered into the service of the state. The young men thus designing the organization of a company of state militia in Ishpeiming should, and will, receive the hearty support of all citizens, for there can be nothing finer on occasions of public importance than a parade of well dressed militia. We trust the organization will soon be effected and the company mustered in. Then will the city be safe from foes without and dissensions within.

THE MINING JOURNAL would be the last publication to maliciously injure, or reflect discredit upon, the character of any person, and especially does it aim to be guarded in cases where the character of a woman is at stake. Its reporters, however, cannot personally know every person, and when strangers are arraigned before the police court on criminal charges, or are complainants in such cases, we often have to take the statement of third persons as to the character of the people in the suit. If in our assault and battery case report of two week ago we said things that were untrue we regret it and make our apology; but when women, and neighbors, engage in frequent quarrels, and are often before the courts one against the other, they should remember that it is but natural that onlookers should look on them as slightly "off their base" as regards ladylike deportment.

THE coming week will witness Ishpeiming's new water supply system so far completed as to enable residents on the hill, and in some other portions of the city also, to draw their regular rations of God's only beverage from Lake Angeline. The engine house, boilers and machinery are in complete readiness, the fires have been lighted and the work of testing the pipes accomplished, and all, aside from some little breaks incident to the starting of so great an enterprise, to the entire satisfaction of the commissioners. In only one or two cases was any delay or inconvenience experienced in making the test, and this only where plugs had been forced out by the pressure of water at points on street corners where the joints had not been supplied; and even this would not have occurred on the hill, where the solid formation of the earth would have been sufficient to resist the pressure of water. The mains have not yet been laid on all the streets, but this work is being rapidly pushed to completion, and, in that part of the city where the water supply was most meagre, the citizens will be, by next week, (if, indeed, they are not now), drinking water drawn from the pipes of the water works. Great credit is due and accorded to Mr. C. H. Hall, chairman of the council committee on water works, who has given his time to the supervision of this work, now so near completion. The success of the system, so energetically pushed, is due to his untiring labor, and his services are recognized in the general expressions of the people, that he has managed the work in an economical and thoroughly satisfactory manner. He performed a task few citizens would care to undertake. The board of water commissioners have already instituted a system of private supply, together with the rules governing patrons, all of which have been published. Ishpeiming now has a complete system of city water supply, equal to anything in the country, and that her citizens appreciate the great blessing of a bounteous supply of fresh water will soon be seen in the number of private connections with the mains.

NEGAUNEE.

MR. AUSTIN B. MORSE goes to the eastern market for goods early in the coming week.

A NEW grocery establishment has just been opened in the store located by Tom Harris, the younger.

MR. WALTER BARNES, late clerk of the McComber iron company of this city, is now established as accountant of the Body House, Toledo, Ohio, the principal hotel of that city.

THE regular meeting of the common council for the month of September has been postponed until next Thursday evening, when the councilmen will be expected to show a full hand.

DR. CYR is the only person in the city who keeps a constant supply of the choicest confections. His variety of fine candies is the largest in the county; so when in want of fine flavored taffy visit his store.

THE telephone exchange which is to operate between this city and Marquette and Ishpeming is fast nearing completion, and residents will soon have the benefits of the system at a comparatively small cost per annum.

A CHEAP jewelry concern has held nightly auctions in an Iron street store during the week, and has done a flourishing business in supplying suckers with plated jewelry and "diamonds," as well as other costly "precious stones."

WITH the exception of Mr. Scadden, all who participated in the rendition of the cantata "Lost and Saved" in this city last week, went up to Ishpeming last evening, where they met and delighted an audience that was quite large.

THE annual report of school director N. Laughlin, read at the school meeting last Monday evening, shows the receipts of the year from all sources to be $12,934.02, and the disbursements to have been $10,330.65, leaving a balance of $2,603.37 in the hands of the assessor.

MR. ED. A. MAAS returned home on Wednesday, and we regret to report that he has not been benefited either by surgical operations performed in Chicago, or by the baths at Mt. Clemens, from which latter place he came direct home. That sprained ankle, in his case, has proved a serious injury, but we trust will yet obtain relief.

A REAL "bang up" lecture on the "Laws of Happiness" is announced to be delivered from the rostrum of Winter's hall on the evening of the 28th inst. The lecturer, Matilda Fletcher, is spoken of by the press as a lady of great oratorical ability, one who will not fail in pleasing an audience. Her lecture is moral, and cannot fail to accomplish good.

THE public schools were opened for the fall term on Monday, with nearly the usual number of pupils, several families of children choosing to take their instruction from the sisters who are in charge of the new St. Paul's parochial school, which also opened on the same day. At the high school Miss N. M. Coleman, of Ann Arbor, succeeds Miss O'Mera as preceptress.

REV. L. E. LENOX left for the Detroit annual conference session on Monday last. Before returning he will visit the home of his parents in Toronto, Ont. He will not return until about the first of October. During his absence the evening service at his church will be conducted by Rev. H. E. Davis, of the Presbyterian church, who has this week got back from his southern rambles.

THREE hundred and sixteen children were enrolled as pupils in the new St. Paul's parochial school at the opening session on Monday, and this number represents the number of "kids" withdrawn from the godless public schools of the city, and removes the necessity for increased school room. This is the thanks the school board gets for not appointing a chaplain in the public schools to say "now I lay me," etc., at the beginning of the sessions, and it serves 'em right.

THE works of the concentrating company, in the suburbs of this city, give employment to upwards of 100 men, who are divided into shifts, for the constant running of the mills, the shifts changing at midnight and noon. This order began with Wednesday of this week, and to us is sufficient evidence that all the sympathy extended to this vast concern by a self-considered expert in numerous things that he doesn't understand, who runs a hand-bill factory in a sister city, is so much "gaff" wasted.

THE double quartette of congressional delegates from Delta and Menominee counties, consisting of Hon. S. M. Stephenson and Jno. L. Buell, and Messrs. E. P. Royce, Esq., Joseph Fleishim, E. P. Foster, H. P. Bird, and a couple of others arrived in the city last Tuesday, and, together with Mr. Breitung and some of his faithful supporters from this city and other points in the county, left on the evening train for St. Ignace. It was a jolly, confident party, and good. The remaining delegates from this district went down on the following evening.

MR. THOMAS FLYNN, manager of the Negaunee base ball association and captain of the nine, has just received word from an admirer of the club in support of the convention's choice. At the conclusion of the speeches Mr. Breitung was called for, and at his appearance a generous and hearty cheer went up from the crowd, for which, and the other evidences of a welcome, the nominee returned his sincere thanks. The crowd then dispersed and indulged in personal congratulations. Thus opens the campaign of 1882 in Negaunee. The nomination of Mr. Breitung, coming in the manner it did, is a matter of great pride to every resident of this city, all of whom hold him in the highest esteem as an honorable citizen, generous friend, and kind neighbor; a gentleman, gifted with both education and business ability, and who will become a recognized leader in the halls of national legislation, whether he is going as the unanimous choice of the voters of the upper peninsula of Michigan.

THE annual school meeting for the election of two trustees for terms of three years each, and of one trustee to fill out the unexpired term of Geo. R. Houston, resigned, was held in the city council chamber last Monday evening, and was the occasion of a very large vote, there being something of a contest between the candidates for the full terms of services. Mr. Dougherty was the only candidate for the unexpired time of Mr. Houston, and was elected of course. Joseph Winter and Nicholas Loughlin were on one ticket for full terms, and Norman McLeod and Nathaniel Hibbert were their opponents. The first named ticket received seventy five votes, and the opposition ticket received 128 votes, and the gentlemen named on that ticket are therefore elected to the responsibilities of school trustees for the next ensuing three years.

OWING to the severe rain storm of Saturday, that day's races of the Negaunee trotting meeting was held over until Monday, which day opened and continued bright until sunset. Aside from the sporting fraternity of the county, very few people were in attendance, and yet this want of spectators did not tend to lessen the interest in the races, one of which, the "free for all," was hotly contested, and full of sport to the horsemen. For this race there were three entries, viz.: Bay Prince, Gazetee, and Rox, the second named, probably owing to his success at Marquette, being the favorite in the pools, and with persons addicted to talking through their purses. But this world is full of disappointments, and Gazetee succeeded in doing his share to make one of the number, as far as his backers were concerned. The race was won by Bay Prince in three straight heats, time, 2:38, 2:39 and 2:39. The second race of the afternoon—the 2:50 class—was not so interesting. In it were also entered three horses, viz.: Sorrel Bob, Topsy and Halfpenny, the first mentioned winning first money in three straight heats, in 2:52, 2:49 and 2:52. Halfpenny took second money in this race and Gazetee in the first.

WITH the broom (insignia of a complete victory) held high in air, and headed by the city band, the local base ball club marched from the train on Saturday through the principal streets. Their visit to the tournament in Calumet was productive of glorious results, and our local ball tossers, considering the disadvantages under which they played, and the prejudice they encountered at the tournament, have every reason to feel satisfied with their visit. Their first game, on Wednesday, was played during a severe rain storm. On Thursday, they played with the Osceola club, which organization they defeated by a score of 19 to 10. Friday morning occurred their game with the Lake Linden club, or rather a picked nine of the entire copper district. In this game our boys were likewise victorious, by a score of 17 to 13. The closest game of the week, however, was between our boys and the Celtics, of Hancock. This game took place on Friday afternoon, and, despite the "kicking" of the chronics who made up the Celtic nine, was won by our boys in a score of 8 to 6. This clean sweep entitles Negaunee's base ball club to the broom. The boys found some few friends in the copper country, but they were very few. They did such effective work, however, that they left behind a regiment of admirers, not merely by reason of their fine playing but also on account of their gentlemanly carriage, and quiet submission to the discourteous and uncalled for hootings indulged in by the spectators of the games, and the members of the clubs whom they went for but to defeat.

NEWS of the nomination of Mr. Breitung by acclamation at the St. Ignace congressional convention was received in this city soon after the event, and rapidly spread from house to house until the whole city was aware of the great honor conferred upon her most distinguished citizen. It was not until the following day, however, that the enthusiastic feeling of the people burst forth. On the arrival of the morning train from Marquette, bringing home the nominee and the delegates, a crowd of citizens, numbering something over 500, were at the depot, and as Mr. Breitung alighted from the train he was met by the outstretched hands of his neighbors and friends, all of whom were hearty in their expressions of congratulation. After a general hand-shaking, the entire crowd, headed by the local band, marched through the streets to the Breitung House, where a halt was called. Speeches were called forth from John Q. Adams, Esq., Judge Brown, of Menominee, and Mr. John L. Buell, of Quinnesec, all of whom urged upon democrats and republicans the necessity of a hearty support of the convention's choice. At the conclusion of the speeches Mr. Breitung was called for, and at his appearance a generous and hearty cheer went up from the crowd, for which, and the other evidences of a welcome, the nominee returned his sincere thanks. The crowd then dispersed and indulged in personal congratulations. Thus opens the campaign of 1882 in Negaunee. The nomination of Mr. Breitung, coming in the manner it did, is a matter of great pride to every resident of this city, all of whom hold him in the highest esteem as an honorable citizen, generous friend, and kind neighbor; a gentleman, gifted with both education and business ability, and who will become a recognized leader in the halls of national legislation, whether he is going as the unanimous choice of the voters of the upper peninsula of Michigan.

THURSDAY'S CONVENTION AT ST. IGNACE RESULTS IN THE UNANIMOUS NOMINATION OF THE HON. EDWARD BREITUNG.

If anything could add to the gratification afforded the MINING JOURNAL by the action of the republican congressional convention at St. Ignace, Thursday, in nominating as the candidate for congress of that party from this district Hon. Edward Breitung, it is that the work of the convention was done as we had suggested it should be done—by acclamation. The convention met at the hour named in the call, and was called to order by Mr. Briggs, of the congressional committee, the chairman, Mr. Hanna, not being in attendance. After this formality had been gone through with, Mr. Briggs called E. J. Mapes, of Marquette, to the chair, to act as temporary president of the convention. The routine work incident to perfecting the organization was then gone through with, Mr. Mapes being made permanent president in due order of procedure, and proper action on the credentials of delegates, to determine who were entitled to seats in the convention, having been taken, when Judge Brown, of Menominee, on behalf of the delegation from his county, presented the name of Mr. Breitung in the following well-worded speech:

MR. CHAIRMAN AND GENTLEMEN: I am deputed by the delegation from Menominee county to present to this convention the name of a distinguished citizen of Marquette county for your nomination as a candidate for congress from the 11th congressional district of Michigan. "Out of the old fields comes all the new corn." What the republican party has done in the past is the golden pledge of what it will do in the future. The past is secure, and out of it comes the inspiration of today. But let us not forget that it is in the wise selection of the standard bearers of the party that its welfare is upheld, maintained and advanced.

We have in our party in this district many able men, any one of whom would serve his constituents with fidelity and marked usefulness. Yet, at this moment, by a general consensus of opinion, we are invited to turn to a man who has, by force of his own industry, thrift and good management, risen from the narrow fortunes of a clerk in a country store to great wealth—wealth not hoarded for personal self-gratification, but of which he deems himself the trustee for his neighbors, this region, and all the varied interests therein which touch the well-being of his fellow-men; a man not only respected but universally beloved; a man of business, and who is yet something more, who somehow, and in some way, has added to the excellent training of his boyhood under a foreign flag, intimate knowledge of our American life and a wide appreciation of the grave political problems which press upon us for solution; a republican of tried fidelity, who will always remember his district without forgetting the country of which that district forms an important part. I nominate Edward Breitung, of Marquette county. With him as our candidate we shall march with confident step—our banners run high—advanced—to victory!

Mr. Chandler followed with a neat address, seconding the nomination, and moving, further, that it be made by acclamation. This proposition caught the convention in a frame of mind for its enthusiastic adoption, and was concurred in without a dissenting voice.

After transacting some other business, pertaining to party organization in the district, the convention adjourned. In the afternoon the body of the delegates visited Mackinac Island. On their return in the evening a rousing ratification meeting was held in the principal hall of St. Ignace, at which Mr. Breitung came before the assembled voters as the nominee of his party for representative, and briefly addressed the assemblage. The delegations from this portion of the district returned home via the D. M. & M. road, reaching Marquette yesterday morning, and a happier set of men the writer has never been privileged to gaze upon.

[Communicated.]

EDS. MINING JOURNAL:—People come to your beautiful city of Marquette and enjoy the hospitality of its citizens, the pleasures of its boating, the unsurpassed excellence of its brook trout fishing, and the best deer hunting in the whole Northwest—in a climate that has no equal in the states for its bracing and health giving properties—and quietly go back to their homes giving no report of the enjoyable time they have had. If all should do this only a few will know the facts and enjoy the pleasure. In company with Mr. Frank Milligan and others, I took an extensive trip from Munising along the coast, viewing the "pictured rocks," stopping at the various points of interest en route. Nowhere from the "Gitche Gumme" to the Gulf of Mexico have I witnessed such a grand and magnificent view as these rocks present. No pen nor tongue can describe the faintest outlines of their beauty and grandeur. For twelve miles in length these vast towering rocks stand forth, and, if never before, the tourist must here feel impressed with the fact that there is a "God of the Universe." The Sauble sand banks, four hundred feet high, are little less worthy of mention. Among the points of interest are Beaver Lake, one-half mile from the land shore of Lake Superior, where we caught bass and pickerel until it ceased to be sport. The supply is inexhaustible. Here, too, the deer are as numerous as they can be to live and get enough to eat. At least the writer found no trouble in supplying the camp with venison. Another point of interest is the "Chapel Rock" and beach, so beautiful with pebbles of every color. This is of easy access to "Cascade Falls" or Trout Creek, where I caught so many brook trout that I felt ashamed of myself. Such beauties I never saw before. Here, too, the deer and beaver live unmolested, except—I boldly confess a—line doe that the party assisted me in carrying into camp for steak. At Chapel Lake, if I were able to spend the time, I think I could kill two deer per day for a month. At Mosquito river, also, deer are yet ununted and the brook trout unfished and waiting to bite, except a splendid lot that Mr. M. brought in. Miners' river too, and lake, are equal to the wants of the most sanguine sportsman. The trout here attain a weight of two pounds and upwards. One man saw nine deer at this point together last week; another five, and often three together. I must not forget to mention that one man had five shots at short range and did get a deer. Nor the kindness of Dr. Palmer, of Munising, whose hospitality I most unmercifully abused by losing him in a cedar swamp. It is not possible for me to describe the scores of places where the deer are now being killed by the dozen, as it would fill your paper, but the whole line of the D. M. & M. road is one vast hunting ground for deer. Au Train is a popular hunting and fishing resort. I saw hundreds of acres of excellent farming land covered with immense birch and maple timber. I must express my thanks to the employees on the D. M. & M. railway for kindnesses and courtesies shown.

SWEET'S PATENT COMMON SENSE SLEIGH.

THE STRONGEST, MOST DURABLE, AND MOST PERFECT SLEIGH IN USE.

I RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION OF Lumbermen to this cut, showing Sweet's Logging and Supply Sleighs. We are now making eight different sizes, suitable for all kinds of work, both double and single, and of any width of track desired. It is a well known fact that these Sleighs will draw larger loads with more ease of draft over rough roads and bad places than any other Sleigh produced. They are built loose jointed, so that each runner will act independent of the others, and it will not tip over in bad places, as the common stiff-jointed sleigh is sure to do. They also have a Patent Shoe, Concave Heel, so as to prevent the sleigh from slewing or sliding sideways, so that the sleigh is bound to keep the track, which is a large item to every man that drives a team. I keep on hand all sizes of Logging, Light and Heavy Teaming and Delivery Sleighs, all warranted to give perfect satisfaction. Parties will please send their orders in time for the coming winter, and not wait until the rush comes.

As this valuable sleigh is sold and shipped west and north-west by the car load—over 25,000 now in use—the best of references given on application.

The use of steel for shipbuilding is rapidly increasing, and the success the superior metal is meeting with is astonishing even its boldest advocates. It is stated by some prominent shipbuilders that on account of the decreased weight required in steel substituted for iron, and the consequently greater floating power that can be obtained in a steel vessel over one of iron of the same size and shape, that it is more economical to build a ship of steel than of iron, even if the former metal costs 30 per cent more than the latter.

TOO HONEST TO SUCCEED.

"I have been a little thing... The beautiful maiden's smiling face... The meadows, spangled over with flowers... The sunniest and divinest... And over all there comes the sweet... of the twittering of the birds."

THE PORTRAIT.

Maurice was wandering aimlessly in the depths of the forest. It had ceased raining, but the drops of water were still rolling from leaf to leaf with the light sound of a nearly exhausted fountain trickling into its half filled basin...

Maurice loved this hour at the decline of day, when after the rain the sun has not shone out, and when a gray tint is cast over everything, blending outlines, softening angles and investing every shape with a smooth and exquisite roundness.

He reached the glade he looked around him. The grass was green and brilliant; the delicate leaves of the shrubs shining beneath the water which had washed them formed a fine, lace-like network against the dark background of the great forest beyond.

The young man, Maurice, stood out against the foliage of the birch trees. She advanced with a supple movement, without perceiving Maurice, who, as immovable as the trunk of a chestnut tree, was watching her when two steps from him the young girl perceived him.

"You frightened me," said she, smiling, and her large black eyes shone out merrily beneath the tangle of her blonde hair.

"I am going to take your portrait," she wished to push back her hair which had fallen over her face, but he prevented her by a gesture.

"I shall soon be sixteen," she said, and he was thinking with contemptuous pity of his folly, when the young girl addressed him: "I will not let us marry, sir."

"I am poor; he has some property, and his mother will not have me for a daughter-in-law. She talks of disinheriting him."

"I THOUGHT IT WAS MARY."—A racey story is going the rounds of summer resorts upon a leading Philadelphia lawyer, who indulged in an oscillatory venture at the Bryn Mawr Hotel a couple of weeks ago.

COLLECTING A DIVIDEND.—In the early days of railroading in Missouri a six-foot stranger, with a bad look in his eye, one day entered a station on the line of the Blank & Dash Road.

MAKING A PASSENGER "GIT."—A justice of the peace in the interior of Michigan had a case before him some time ago in which the defendant, who had been arrested as a suspicious character, and plead guilty to vagrancy, was sent to the Detroit house of correction for six months.

WHAT SHE WOULD DO.—They were sitting on a log near the Rock spring, and a few days later he presented himself at the young girl's house.

NOT ALWAYS THUS.—Several parties had stopped to look at his patent churn as he exhibited its workings in front of a grocery store in Jersey City, and one of the group finally observed: "Have you been long in this business?"

ROUGH ON RATS.—Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bed-bugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers. 15c. Druggists.

VENNOR'S PREDICTIONS.—Vennor's predictions so far have been wonderfully correct. He says 1882 will be remembered as a year of great mortality.

POETUOSE VS. MUTRON.—When Tom Dayton used to be loading sheep on the coast, he had a band of Italian stevedores to do the heavy lifting while he did the heavy profanity...

A GARFIELD "Memorial Fair" is to be held in Washington, to raise money for something or another, and every state is to be represented by some of the clerks that are employed at the capitol.

A WORD TO REPORTERS.—Some of the young men who write for the newspapers "in a reportorial capacity," as they would say, should take a certain degree of intelligence in their readers for granted.

BLOOD POISONING—AN ALARMING DISCOVERY.—Half the people are suffering and many die from this fatal complaint. Diseases of the kidneys and liver are the principal causes.

A CHAPTER ON PUNCHED COINS.—Grandfather Lickshingle called at the Enquirer office last night to leave word that the real cause of this country is punched coin.

THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER remarks: "If every man refused to marry until he owned a home, what a wilderness of miserable old bachelors and spinsterhood would be the result of this world would become."

SCENE IN A SCHOOL-ROOM.—Teacher—"Now, John, how many kinds of 'gs' are there?" John—"Three, sir." Teacher—"Three! Why, explain yourself!" John—"Well, there's the hard 'g' and the soft 'g' and the refugee."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

BILL NYE has lately been made postmaster of Laramie, W. T., and when a young lady inquires for a letter, and goes away sorrowing because she failed to connect with the expected missive, ten chances to one she will get one the next time she calls, even if Bill has to write it himself.
