STORM KING HOLDS REVEL. Blizzard from the Northwest swoops down on several States. CHICAGO A BAD SUFFERER. Snow Paralyzing Traffic Falls in Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska.

MANY TRAINS BLOCKADED. Grand Rapids, Feb. 3.—The worst blizzard of the winter struck here at 1 o'clock this afternoon and has increased in fury tonight, impeding street railway and railroad traffic to a considerable extent. The snow is still falling and drifting badly. Reports from various points in central and western Michigan show the storm is general over a great section. HUGO DRIFTS IN IOWA. Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 3.—The snow storm that struck the city about midnight and has covered the entire state in the most severe of the winter. A strong N. W. wind has been blowing all day and has piled the snow in drifts two feet deep. The temperature has been falling steadily through the day, and will probably reach zero before morning. Railway trains throughout the state have been delayed considerably and the street car traffic blocked for several hours. Similar conditions prevail throughout the state. BADGERDOM HARD HIT. Milwaukee, Feb. 3.—A blizzard from the Northwest has been raging in this city all day and continues with unabated force tonight. The street car lines were kept open only by the constant running of sweepers. The snow is drifting and the steam railroads are hampered also. Reports from points throughout the state indicate the storm is general and delaying traffic. The car ferry Muskegon, of the Pere Marquette line, which left Ludington for Milwaukee, had not reached port late tonight and is supposed to have lost her bearings in the storm. PIERCE GALE AT CHICAGO. Chicago, Feb. 3.—Six inches of snow on the level, with drifts in many cases in the outlying districts piled as high as the second story windows, is the condition in which Chicago is tonight. The snow began to fall early in the day, and by the middle of the afternoon a blizzard was raging with the wind blowing a gale from the west. The street car lines, with the exception of the elevated roads, were the worst sufferers. Many surface lines were compelled to abandon their schedules entirely. Trains throughout the northern part of the state suffered from drifting snow, railway traffic being considerably impeded. KANSAS' WORST IN YEARS. Atchison, Feb. 3.—The worst snow storm in several years prevailed in northern Kansas and southern Nebraska last night and today. Three hundred miles on the central branch of the Missouri Pacific, traversing northern Kansas, is tied up, not a train having come in and the road today. Passenger trains are snowbound at different points. In Atchison, the street car lines are tied up. Snow drifts six feet deep are reported at many places along the central branch, while from various towns in northern Kansas and southern Nebraska the snow is reported from a foot to eighteen inches deep on the level. TORNADO VISITS TEXAS. LIVES LOST AND HOUSES DESTROYED IN DELTA COUNTY. Cooper, Tex., Feb. 3.—A tornado last night did great damage in the western portion of Delta county. The home of James Moody, at Honest, was wrecked and his fourteen-year-old daughter fatally injured. Tink Surret was killed and two daughters seriously injured at Rattan, where a number of houses were wrecked. TRAINS RUNNING TO PEKIN. WALTERS REPORTS REOPENING OF RAIL COMMUNICATION. Berlin, Feb. 3.—The German war office today received a dispatch from Count von Walterssee, dated at Pekin, which announces that railway communication has been re-opened to the road to Pekin, Fong Lai and Pao Ting Fu. FIRE WRECKS WIRE WORKS. NATIONAL COMPANY HAS A $350,000 LOSS IN CONNECTICUT. New Haven, Conn., Feb. 3.—Fire destroyed the large plant of the National Wire company at Fairhaven today, entailing a loss estimated at three hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars. LOSSES ELSEWHERE. Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 3.—Fire tonight at the W. B. Hartman Lumber company's plant caused a loss of $90,000. In addition, twelve tenement houses and nine freight cars were destroyed, the total loss being $150,000. St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 3.—Fire in the trimming department of the Krug Packing company's plant tonight caused a loss of $100,000. LITERALLY BLOWN TO ATOMS. MAN, TEAM, WAGON AND MAGAZINE DISAPPEAR IN INDIANA THROUGH NITRO-GLYCERINE EXPLOSION HEARD FOR MILES. Indianapolis, Feb. 3.—By the explosion of several hundred quarts of nitro-glycerine at the magazine of the Gas Belt Torpedo company, four miles northeast of Alexandria, today, Perry Fort, a carrier for the company, with a team of horses, a wagon and the magazine, were blown to atoms, not a vestige of any of them having been found after the accident. Forte started from Kingstown on Saturday night, hauled his load through Alexandria and arrived at the magazine where the explosion occurred. A hole fifteen feet deep and forty feet wide is left where the magazine formerly stood. Windows were generally shattered in town and the report was distinctly heard at Kokomo, Muncie, Marion and Elwood. PLAGUE SPREADS TO WALES. WORKMEN AT CARDIFF ARE ATTACKED BY THE DISEASE. Cardiff, Wales, Feb. 3.—Cardiff workmen have been attacked by a disease which has been diagnosed as bubonic plague. Bishop Thoburn, Methodist Missionary Bishop in Asia, Creates a Stir in a Chicago Church. Chicago, Feb. 3.—Bishop James M. Thoburn, missionary bishop in Asia of the Methodist Episcopal church, made an address this afternoon in the First Methodist church that created something of a stir among the audience, inasmuch as he launched into a review of the political possibilities likely to arise from the recent events in China and the death of Queen Victoria. He touched upon the political significance of the death of the queen and the friendship which has resulted between the royal relatives, Edward VII and William II. The bishop said: "I do not admire Russia in all respects, but I thank God every time I hear of that empire annexing more of Asia. But there is a new power entering Asia, and hardly anybody seems to notice it. "Many significant things will result from what has just passed between Emperor William and his uncle, Edward VII. Before many years, the old Austrian emperor will die. The old-second rate empire will then fall to pieces, and what would be more natural than that Germany will possess that part of it which now borders on the Adriatic? The German empire would then be continuous from the North sea to the Mediterranean. The old second rate empire will then fall to pieces, and what would be more natural than that Germany will possess that part of it which now borders on the Adriatic? The German empire would then be continuous from the North sea to the Mediterranean. The old second rate empire will then fall to pieces, and what would be more natural than that Germany will possess that part of central Asia which Rus-

she has suffered for nearly a year was due to an assault committed on her at her home by Keller. The assault, it is alleged, was committed after a hard struggle during which Mrs. Barker became unconscious. Barker for many years has been employed by the Commercial Cable company. SHOTS A MINISTER. ARLINGTON (N. J.) MAN MAKES GRAVE CHARGES AGAINST A CLERGYMAN, WHOM HE PROBABLY FATAALLY WOUNDS. New York, Feb. 3.—Rev. John Keller, secretary to the Right Rev. Bishop Starkey; pastor of the Trinity Episcopal mission at Arlington, N. J., and chaplain of the First New Jersey regiment, was shot and seriously wounded by Thomas G. Barker at Arlington this morning. Dr. Keller had just left the house of John S. Sands, where he had his meals, when Barker, who was in front of the door, opened fire. One bullet went through the face from the right side and destroyed the sight of the right eye. Another bullet shattered the fingers of the right hand, while another passed through the clergyman's hat and a fourth went wide of the mark. The shooting, it is said, was the result of a dispute made by Barker's wife, although Keller denies the accusation made against him. Barker, after the shooting, surrendered and was locked up, while Keller was carried into the Sands home, where the doctors said he had an even chance for life. The priest said after the shooting that he did not know who shot him and he refused to sign the complaint. According to the story told by Barker after the shooting, his wife last night told him that the illness from which she has suffered for nearly a year was due to an assault committed on her at her home by Keller. The assault, it is alleged, was committed after a hard struggle during which Mrs. Barker became unconscious. Barker for many years has been employed by the Commercial Cable company. TO BE TRIED FOR TREASON. CRAZY SNAKE AND SEVENTEEN OTHER WARRIOR CREEK INDIANS JAILED AT MUSKOGEE. Muskogee, I. T., Feb. 3.—Chitto Harjo, "Crazy Snake," leader of the warrior Creek Indians, and seventeen minor leaders of that tribe have been landed in the federal jail here, where they will be held pending their trials for treason. They were brought here under a cavalry escort from Henrietta. It is stated that certain attorneys who, it is asserted here, misled the Indians may be prosecuted. "Crazy Snake" said he saw no reason for his arrest and felt confident that when the Indians were given trial before the great white fathers of the courts they would be released. He said they were acting in good faith and had papers from Washington that gave them the right to establish their old government. As to all talk about killing whites, he said it was never their intention. They expected only to treat and act with their own people, and in so doing expected to finally get all the whites out. FILIPINOS QUIT THE CHURCH. Baptism of a Hundred and an Evangelical Conference Emphasize the Revolt Against the Friars. Manila, Feb. 3.—About four hundred persons attended the meeting called for today by Senor Buenacmino to inaugurate the evangelical movement. Considerable interest was manifested in the proceedings and there were some expressions of approval of the addresses. No attempt, however, was made to commit the meeting to Protestantism, that aspect of the case being left for subsequent action, at his discretion, to Rev. James B. Rodgers, missionary of the Presbyterian board, who was present. The first mild applause occurred when Senor Buenacmino compared the priests to the white ants, which eat the substance and leave nothing of value. Rev. Mr. Rodgers preached a short sermon, but refrained from any criticism of the Roman Catholics. Prior to the meeting there was a political gathering attended by practically the same people at which the advantages of American sovereignty were explained from the Federal party point of view. A Methodist minister baptized a hundred Filipinos this afternoon at Malibay, four miles from Manila, while Rev. Mr. Brauch has secured a score of signatures in a neighboring village to a declaration in favor of handing the church over to Protestant worship and debarring Catholics. President Taft, of the Philippine commission, this evening entertained at his residence the members of the directorate of the Federal party. Three hundred insurgents, members of Delgado's former command, have surrendered at Santa Barbara, island of Panay. AMBUSHED BY FILIPINOS. SMALL AMERICAN DETACHMENT MEETS WITH A REPULSE IN THE ISLAND OF CEBU. Manila, Feb. 3.—Lieutenant Hicken and a detachment of thirty men of Company M, Forty-fourth regiment, were surprised by insurgents gathered at Feista San Lucia, island of Cebu. They were attacked in front and on both flanks by 100 rifles and more bolomen. Five Americans were killed, four were wounded and two are missing. The insurgent loss is believed to have been heavy. Captain Malley, with a detachment, reinforced Lieutenant Hicken. They recovered some bodies, which were mutilated. Additional detachments were sent and are endeavoring to surround the insurgents.

STANDS BY M'KINLEY. Then, taking up the Philippine question, the bishop upheld the policy of President McKinley in relation to those islands, saying: "Why should the people lament the absorption of small powers by large ones? When we lay our hands on those scattered islands and bring them into order we put an end to crime in thousands of forms. We bring in light and shut out darkness. Even the Russian government is a blessing to those portions of the country which have been annexed by the czar." Then, speaking again of China, the bishop said the American government should be more emphatic in what it says concerning the future of China. "The United States should either agree," he said, "to let certain powers break up China or say they shall not do it. If our nation should ever say it must not be done, not all the nations in Europe would risk the consequence of opposing our wishes. Great Britain and Japan would support us and Germany would fall in line even though it does want the southern coast." Governor Shaw of Iowa presided at the meeting and the remarks of the bishop were several times vigorously applauded.

TO BE SETTLED TUESDAY. Cincinnati, Feb. 3.—There has been more anxiety than training at the quarters of Jeffries, Ruhlin, Martin and Childs today. It is now known to all the promoters that Governor Nash has not only given an ultimatum to the Saengerfest Athletic club, but has also given instructions to Prosecuting Attorney Hoffmeier and Sheriff Taylor. The latter received a letter from the governor early this morning by immediate delivery messenger in which his excellency directs Sheriff Taylor to swear in any number of deputies and exercise the fullest power to prevent the fight, and in the event of the sheriff needing assistance the governor pledges him the full power of the state. It is generally believed that no further action will be taken in the case until the application for the injunction is heard before Judge Hollister on Tuesday. At that time it is understood the governor will be represented in the courts by Attorney General Sheets and that both sides will abide by the decision without further appeal to the circuit or supreme court. STATE CHIEF GIVES NOTICE. A dispatch was sent to Governor Nash which was signed by the Roth Packing company and over 1,000 of the leading business men of the city, promising not to violate any laws. To this message, the following from the governor was received by the John Roth Packing company: "Your telegram received. Unless all outward evidences and preparations are at fault, the enterprise booked for Cincinnati Feb. 15 will be a prize fight. It will not be permitted to come off and the entire power of the state will be used to prevent it." (Signed) George K. Nash, Governor. The directors of the Saengerfest Athletic association sent a message to the governor as follows: "Your telegram sent to the John Roth Packing company and others has been handed to us. It is not and never has been the intention to give a prize fight. The mayor's permit is for a boxing contest and nothing will be done that said permit and the Ohio statutes do not authorize. It is not the intention to antagonize your authority nor the power of the state. Nothing will be done that will violate the law."

SHOCK TO THE FIGHTERS. The news from Governor Nash and the Saengerfest Athletic club soon reached the training quarters of Jeffries on Price Hill, west of the city, where he is engaged preparing for the fight, and it caused consternation there as well as at the country club where Ruhlin, Madden, Ed. Martin and others are in training for the contest. No estimate could be learned from Manager Madden and Ruhlin tonight as to how much they would stand losers, but it was estimated that Manager Brady would be out about $20,000 on account of the engagements he had cancelled for Jeffries and the expenses he has incurred here during the past two months in preparation. The deficit of the Saengerfest board was over $68,000 and it has been increased by the forfeit and other expenses incurred for the fight, so that the deficit now will exceed $80,000. ATE POISONED PORK. PITTSBURGH FAMILY IS MADE VERY ILL—ONE DEATH. Pittsburg, Feb. 3.—As a result of eating pork supposed to have been doctored with some sort of preservative, a whole family of persons was poisoned last evening. One member is dead and five others seriously ill. The dead: MRS. ANN FOX, widow of the former well-known coal operator. Seriously ill: Mrs. Ellen Cuddy; Ella McCartney; Thomas Cuddy; Jas. F. Fox, and Harry M. Fox. Y. P. S. C. E. ADJOURNS. Portland, Me., Feb. 3.—With meetings in every Protestant church in Portland today, the twentieth annual convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavors came to a close today. The principal gathering was at the city hall in the afternoon, when Dr. Francis E. Clarke presided over a union meeting. Thirty-minute addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Hoyt of Philadelphia, Rev. Mr. Wilson of Hamilton and President Barrows. An immense crowd was present. TODAY'S WEATHER. Washington, Feb. 3.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Fair and colder Monday, Tuesday, fair. Brisk northwesterly winds.

BIG FIGHT IN DANGER. Governor Nash Shows Hostility to the Jeffries-Ruhlin Bout. ISSUES AN ULTIMATUM. Declares Contest Will Not Be Permitted, but May Abide by Decision in Injunction Case.

It is encouraging to note that the most effective war that is being made on Tammany and its methods in New York is the work of Democrats of that city.

These pointed paragraphs, taken from the Grand Rapids Herald, denotes that the paper, which ranks as one of the most influential of the Republican journals of the state, is becoming somewhat disgusted with a tendency in the affairs of the commonwealth which cannot be corrected too quickly.

If the bill introduced for the appointment of an archaeological commission shall be enacted, one of the duties prescribed should be the hunting up and classification of some of the fossils that hang about the state house.

No bill has yet been introduced in the Michigan legislature for the appointment of a commission to inspect the ponds where the boys go skating on the coasting hills in the state.

As proof that a woman may have to do with public affairs without neglecting her duties as a wife and mother, it is pointed out that the late queen of England was in active politics all her life.

The leading papers of the state endorse his demand for abolition of the office, or legislation to ensure having it administered more efficiently than it has been for some years past, and the question of what to do with it is now fairly before the legislature.

A few obscure papers in this peninsula have chosen to ascribe an unworthy motive to the present commissioner in what he has done to call the attention of the legislature and people of Michigan to the manner in which the office has been conducted for several years in succession, but their strictures are unwarranted.

It is reported that Governor Bliss tendered the appointment of member of the state tax commission to Graham Pope, of Houghton, but the latter refused the honor.

The appointment was not only offered to Mr. Pope, but the tender was made him while the entire political push of Houghton county was lined up for another candidate.

STEEL COMPACT NEGOTIATED. A Pittsburg dispatch gives this information relative to the compact the steel men are alleged to have entered into to prevent cutting of prices and invasion by any of them of another's territory for the purpose of securing trade.

Reports received by local iron and steel concerns from their representatives in New York are that the compact between Andrew Carnegie and the combines is nearly ready for the signatures of the contracting parties.

It is said that the agreement provides that the Carnegie company shall not operate sheet mills or wire rod or nail mills during the life of the agreement.

The Carnegie company, it is alleged, will build the sheet and tube mills, but will not operate them as long as the terms of the agreement are sacredly carried out.

A TAKING SUGGESTION. The Sault Ste Marie News, Railroad Commissioner Osborn's paper, suggests that the offices of state commissioner of mineral statistics and state geologist should be combined, and makes this argument in support of that proposition.

Senator Pierson's bill to abolish the office of commissioner of mineral statistics will not, in all likelihood, become a law.

Some changes in the office title and duties might be made with advantage. The office should be called commissioner of minerals.

The determination of the governor's advisers to sidetrack Commissioner Osborn is as strong as ever, and they have united in pressing the claim of the office to be abolished.

THE TAX COMMISSION Muddle. The Detroit Free Press is furnished with this, bearing on the tax commission problem that is bothering Governor Bliss, by its staff correspondent at Lansing:

Gov. Bliss is still confronted with the problem of having to appoint two state tax commissioners and it is proving a hard nut for him to crack, especially in deciding the upper peninsula muddle in connection with the Newett matter.

While the impression is given out from the governor's office that the chief executive does not care to meddle in the matter of appointments resting with various boards, it has become quite evident that the various appointments have been given to understand that the chief executive reserves his prerogative the right to distribute such patronage as he sees fit.

The governor has already decided that F. O. Gulliver, of Detroit, will succeed Fred M. Twiss as secretary of the state tax commission. He is so anxious that the board does not care to act in the matter for the reason that Commissioners Oakman and Freeman do not know just where they will wind up and they do not want to make any appointments if they cannot be retained on the board.

During the recent junket to the upper peninsula several senators had a conference with Governor Bliss at Houghton, and made a strong effort to get him to reconsider his decision and accept an appointment on the state tax commission.

Andrus Evland, who is now quite seriously ill at that time, was the earliest settler, now living, to locate in Menominee, having settled there in 1841.

The value of the hardwood forests of the upper peninsula has always been recognized, but it is only within the last few years that hardwood has been logged in any quantities and mills erected for its manufacture.

The upper peninsula has not exhausted this resource and it will be worked for all its worth in the future. More attention has ever before been given to maple, beech, cherry, ash and other northern Michigan hardwoods for furniture making and inside finish for residences.

Escanaba has had a teachers' meeting. Escanaba people spent money like water to entertain the visitors. Prof. Ewing worked day and night to make the meeting a success, and now some of the antiquated memories of defunct instructors are howling to the people of their home towns that they were not treated right.

Upper Peninsula News.

John T. Jones, who left Iron Mountain Christmas night for South America to look over some property there, is on his way home. A cabinogram received Friday morning states that he sailed from Trinidad Thursday. It is expected that he will arrive at Iron Mountain in about three weeks.

The publishers of The Grand Marais Leader announced in their last issue that they would suspend the publication of their paper with that number.

The investigation of the trouble at the Emergency hospital, Iron Mountain, is proceeding. As is usually the case, it is developing that some of the stories current in connection with the affair have been false and mere inventions.

City Treasurer Franklin H. Brown of Menominee up to Thursday evening had collected $114,999 taxes. There is $155,000 taxes on the rolls, this including the state and county tax, and the officers feel assured that the collection this year will be exceptionally good.

There is every indication that the creditors of Morris I. Perlestein, the bankrupt Finntown merchant at Menominee, will accept his terms for a settlement, and he will pay them 25 cents on the dollar.

COON HUNTING.

An Exciting and Interesting Pastime in the South. "Did you ever go on a coon hunt?" said R. H. Binley, of Richmond, Va., at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. "It's really very exciting and well worth trying. You hunt them after dark, and the coon invariably covers a good stretch of territory before he is compelled to take to a tree. It is almost from half an hour to an hour from the time the coon is first started to the time he is compelled to take to a tree. The dogs go off on the coon's trail, and you follow them as fast as possible. When the pace gets tiring, the coon takes to the highest tree he can find, and the dogs see that he stays there until the hunters come up. Usually the coon is at the top of the highest tree in that part of the country, and up it a mountaineer promptly climbs. If he can get at the coon, the coon usually finds it out first, and transforming himself into a parachute, sets sail for the earth beneath. I'll bet even money that you can chuck a coon from the top of the American Survey building and he'll alight on the ground unhurt. No matter how high the tree, he invariably lands safely. After he strikes earth, however, it is different. There is at once a mixture of growls, snarls and short barks, and men ensue as fast and game a fight as one could wish to see. Why it is over what is left of the coon is hanging on the end of a stick, and the party goes off after another one, or home, as the case may be. Sometimes, though, the coon will get out on a limb where a man dares not follow him, and then the tree has to be chopped down. Then it's about an even chance that the coon may get into another tree before he can be killed. When the coon is treed it's a weird sight. There you are all in the center of a woodland, the dark of night lighted only by pine torches carried by the party. The negroes are grouped around, their glinting eyes turned upward in the attempt to catch a first glimpse of his coonship. The yelling circle of dogs at the tree's base completes the picture. It's mighty good sport, coon hunting, and if it comes your way, I should advise you to take it in."—New York Tribune.

A PROSPECTIVE CONSUMER. The U. P. Brewing Co., May Take the City's Electricity.

Carl Meeske of the Upper Peninsula Brewing company, has been figuring with the electric light and power commission the last few days relative to a project for installing the municipal plant's power at the company's Marquette brewery. A deal has not yet been closed but in all probability an agreement will be reached this week.

Mr. Meeske is to go to Duluth to consult his partner relative to the matter. The company at present operates its own electric plant. It lights the brewery and furnishes all the power. Under the proposed arrangement the electric light and power commission will replace this plant with the city's service as it will furnish all the motor power needed at the plant as well as the current for all the lamps about the buildings.

Mr. Meeske is considering putting in the same power that is used at the Lake Shore Engine works, seventy horse power in two motors of fifty and twenty horse power respectively. It is likely that the actual consumption, in horsepower, of electricity will fall far below the capacity of either of the machines. A large number of lamps are used about the plant.

Construction work costing approximately $1,200 will have to be done if the change is made. Four new lines will have to be extended to the brewery. Two will start from the corner of Third and Washington streets and two from the corner of Seymour and Bluff streets. The initial cost of this new work will be borne by the Upper Peninsula Brewing company but it will be refunded in rebates and ultimately the city will own the lines.

Mr. Meeske has decided that he can save considerable money by making the electric light and power commission is pleased at the prospect of adding another big consumer to its power business as the addition will mean a big increase in the monthly income from this source.

HIGHLY ENDORSED. Spence-MacDonald Entertainment Well Received Everywhere.

The entertainment to be given by Miss Spence-MacDonald and Miss Gavin Spence at the opera house, under the auspices of the Woman's guild, next Wednesday evening, receives the highest endorsements everywhere. The Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat and Chronicle said of it: "It is not too much to say that the entertainment at the opera house given by Miss Spence-MacDonald and Miss Gavin Spence is one of the best character. Gavin Spence is a justly celebrated Scottish tenor, and Miss Flora MacDonald is a Scottish soprano with a remarkably clear and sweet voice. Scotch songs value charmingly to take in the Scottish dialect deservedly earn for Mr. Spence the title of 'Prince of Scottish Entertainers.'" There was a large number of persons in the lecture room of the church last night, who applauded each number on the programme, which was presented under the auspices of the A. H. Cole Bible Class. Mr. Spence and Miss MacDonald were attired in full Scotch costume, most attractively. It would require a column to tell the interesting things Mr. Spence told about Scotland and its people. His humorous stories, coupled with his hearers, and his pathetic word-picture of the death of Dr. McClure moved many to tears. The several duets by Mr. Spence and Miss MacDonald were greeted by prolonged applause. "Bonnie Annie Laurie," "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," "The Bonnie House of Ivy," "Jessie's Dream," and other songs not on the programme, delighted the audience. It is the custom to close all the Scotch meetings by singing, "Auld Lang Syne." That was the way Mr. Spence last night closed one of the most interesting, instructive and thoroughly pleasing entertainments given in Rochester in a long time.

On account of the entertainment at the opera house Wednesday evening Manager Mitchell has postponed the masquerade at the ice rink.

January was a moderately cold month. The mean temperature was nineteen degrees, with an average mean temperature of seventeen degrees for the past thirty years. The total precipitation for the month was 2.08 inches, compared with an average for thirty years of 2.04. There were four partly clear days, five partly cloudy and twenty-two cloudy days.

T. W. Cleary and Ed. Homel are the champion heavyweight mail carriers of Marquette and probably of the upper peninsula. Friday morning, on the first trip, the former left the post-office with ninety-two pounds of mail matter in his sack while the latter "toted" off seventy-six pounds. They didn't use sleighs or pushcarts but carried the entire burdens on their backs. This is pretty heavy work but it is only a fair index to what a number of the carriers have to do right along. Any person who doesn't appreciate what ninety-two and seventy-six pounds of mail means is advised to load a sack with bricks to that weight and to walk off with it.

WAITING ON THE MOTOR. It Will Drive the Air Fans For the Proebel School.

The school trustees and officers are waiting for the motor which will drive the air fans, an important part of the ventilation system, before occupying the new Proebel school. This motor was ordered some weeks ago and should be here at any time now. As soon as it arrives and is placed the ventilation system will be prepared for the reception of the pupils of the temporary rooms by moving and fitting the seats. There was some talk of making the change before the motor arrived and of getting along without it for a few days but it was feared that the ventilation might not be all should be so it was decided to postpone the removal until everything is in spick and span shape. It is hoped that it will be possible to move within a short time as all concerned are anxious to get settled in the new quarters.

A PERILOUS JOURNEY. A Government Geologist Runs the Canyons of the Rio Grande.

In the January Century Robert T. Hill, the geologist, describes the successful navigation and mapping of three hundred and fifty miles of the Rio Grande—one of America's greatest rivers, hitherto deemed impassable. Among other things, Mr. Hill says: "At noon, Oct. 5, 1899, we pushed out into the river at Presidio, and started on our long journey into the unknown. I do not claim to be the only man who has traversed the tortuous and dangerous channel of the frontier stream; for one of our party, one James MacMahon, has made at least three trips down the river. Mine, however, was the first exploring expedition to pass the entire length of the canyons, and, with the exception of McMahon's was the only attempt that succeeded. Others like Cano and Nevill, have passed the fearful twelve miles of the Grand Canyon de Santa Helena. The only government expedition, the international boundary survey, pronounced the canyons impassable, and gave up the attempt to survey them, except the lower hundred miles of the course, which Lieut. Micheler passed through. MacMahon was interested neither in science, exploration, nor travel. He ventured the stream without knowledge of its dangers, and merely because, as a lifelong hunter and trapper, he knew that the beaver probably lived along its unexplored banks. These animals alone interested him, and a map made by him, if he could make such a thing, would note only beaver banks and dangerous spots, for these were all that he saw. Unguided and alone, he loaded his boat with traps, placed it in the stream and slowly drifted down to Del Rio, braving a thousand dangers, and making the first successful passage. This man, whose name has perhaps never before appeared in print, had spent his long life in such exploits, and is one of the few old-time trappers still to be found in the west.

The finding of McMahon was the first of the dozen fortuitous circumstances which made my trip possible, and there were others. My knowledge of the dangers of the stream did not save us from loss and destruction. Always kind and unobtrusive, he was as cautious as a cat, being at times apparently over-careful. He was ever on the lookout for a safe channel in the treacherous current, being close to the banks, and border Mexicans in the bushes.

TIMELY RHYMES.

The iceman and the plumber and the coalman sat apart— No glad or joyous sentiment was found. The iceman and the plumber sighed some sighs both long and deep, And then the iceman hung his head and soon began to weep.

"Now, what is this?" the plumber cried; "I know I have my woes, The weather is so warm and mild—no pipe is ever froze." The coalman said: "That's my complaint. The weather is so bland That coal is a commodity which is not in demand."

The iceman wept. He sobbed aloud. The others then inquired, "Why do you weep? What sadness has these bitter tears inspired? You had your chance last summer, when the days were fierce and hot; We waited for the winter, but the winter cometh not."

The iceman raised his tearful face, and ruefully began: "This true you have your troubles, but the ice has not begun to freeze, and, oh, I sadly fear I'll have to raise the prices very high the coming year."

The plumber and the coalman then gave him a scornful stare. It might be impolite to say they were inclined to swear. But slowly and with dignity they took among other things, Mr. Hill says: "While through the iceman's briny tears a smile began to play. —Baltimore American.

CAUCASUS GATES.

The Dark and Awful Defile Between Europe and Asia. Eight miles from Vladikavkaz is the posting station of Balta; eleven miles farther is Lars, and five miles farther is the world-famous Gorge of Dariel, the "Caucasus Gates" of Pliny, the dark and awful defile between Europe and Asia, writes Henry Norman. Gradually, as we drive on, the hills rise and close in on us till at length they fall almost sheer to the edge of the rushing Terek and the narrow road, leaving only just room for these at the bottom of a rocky cliff, 5,000 feet deep. The air strikes chill as a vault; not a ray of sunshine enters; the driver stoops low and lashes his horses; instinctively we lapse into silence.

The geologist calls this gorge a "fault," for it is not a pass over the mountain chain, but a rent clear across it. To the imaginative traveler, however, it is a fit scene for the most wonderful highway in history. Seventy years ago it was a perilous road, for avalanches, or the sudden outbursts of pent-up glacial streams, swept it from end to end, but the Russians have spent twenty million dollars upon it and now it is a fit scene for the most wonderful highway in history. The gorges of the Yang-tze may be as impressive, I have not seen them—before the present road was constructed anybody ever got through it at all. It even said: "Thus far and no farther," to Rome herself, and marked the limit of her dominion.—Scribner's Magazine.

Sciatic Pains.

The cutting, tearing, burning, piercing, excruciating pains of sciatica are among the most common and painful forms of nerve irritation. Nerves that are overworked, irritated, weakened and run-down until their strength is all gone, cry out in protest against such misuse and neglect. Are the nerves hungry? They must be fed. Irritated nerves must be quieted, weakened nerves strengthened and tired nerves soothed and rested. Worn-out nerves must be built up and the vitality of the whole system replenished before permanent relief comes.

"I was afflicted off and on for years with sciatic rheumatism. Was laid up in bed months at a time—could not walk. Tried many remedies but nothing seemed to do any permanent good. Was in bed when I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and before the first bottle was gone I returned to work. Have not had an attack in four years." HOWARD WEMPLE, 46 Taylor St., Battle Creek, Mich.

A SKI TOURNAMENT.

ONE TO BE HELD HERE THE LAST OF THE MONTH IF ARRANGEMENTS CAN BE MADE.

Karl Talifson has called a meeting for this evening of all who are interested in a ski tournament. It will be held in Brastad's club rooms at eight o'clock. On or about the twentieth of this month the officers of the Oliver Iron company and other prominent mining men will be in the city. These gentlemen have never had the pleasure of witnessing a genuine ski race and it is the intention of some enterprising citizens to afford them that entertainment. It is thought that there will be no difficulty in arousing interest in the scheme, for there has been no tournament of this kind held here since the winter of 1890. The Oliver company will head the subscription with a goodly starter and the merchants will no doubt fall in. An effort will be made to bring some of the famous riders from the vicinity of Red Wing, Minn., for the best riders of the country are located there. There are a number of promising riders in the county and all will be invited to enter the list. Prizes of some value are to be offered so that skiers from a distance will be induced to come. The tournament has the right kind of backers and is sure to be a success. Though the date cannot be fixed upon at present, it will be somewhere about the 20th, as the visiting officials will be here on or near that date.

The place where the tournament will be held has not been settled on as yet, but there are two hills either of which would be suitable, that on the west side of Lake Bancroft or the one on the south side of Lake Superior. If the latter place is chosen, arrangements would be made so that a special train from Marquette and Negaunee could be run around the track on that side of the hill and people from those towns could see the race without leaving their train.

At the meeting this evening a committee will be chosen to arrange all the preliminary details and a subscription list will be started, so that no delay can occur to balk the arrangements.

This sport has always been very popular in this county but there has been no tournament held for ten years. There are a number of boys in town who can race and jump with the best of them and every effort will be made to induce them to join. At the tournament of 1890 the famous Hemstedt brothers of Red Wing were the particular stars. It is not known if they are now racing, but if they are every effort will be put forth to get them here. At that meeting they jumped over eighty feet. They were the world's champions, one of the brothers holding the record, a jump of one hundred and eighty feet.

The tournament was held on the Lake Superior hill and was a great success. It was made a local holiday and thousands of people saw the race, though the day was bitterly cold. Ishpeeming claimed a boy who could beat the best amateurs in that state. His name was Ole Groat, and his record was a jump of sixty feet. Groat shortly after sprained his knee while racing and was never on skis afterwards. He died some three years ago of consumption.

Though there are no known riders of ability in town today, it is the expectation that when the time comes there will be many racers on hand to claim the honors. Let every one attend the meeting this evening and help the project along.

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

The attraction which Manager Butler has provided for his patrons next Tuesday evening is without doubt the best of its kind that the county affords. Mr. Spence and Miss MacDonald are under the management of the Great Eastern Lyceum Bureau, renowned throughout the country as a provider of first class entertainments. There have been many novelties presented to the play going public in the past few years but none have given so much satisfaction as the program provided by Carvin Spence and Miss MacDonald. Everyone knows the Scottish reputation for wit and dry humor and these are admirably portrayed by Spence in his songs and stories. He is not lacking in genuine pathos, as those who have heard his rendition of the "Death of Dr. McClure," from the "Bonnie Briar Bush," testify. Miss MacDonald catches her audience at first sight. Her dramatic ability, together with her sweet, clear voice, place her on a plane with Mr. Spence. They are the most versatile couple that has ever come this way. Their voices blend most harmoniously in their duets and each has a remarkable power, range and modulation. They are heartily endorsed by audiences they have entertained all over the country and are sure to bring out a crowded house Tuesday night. Seats go on sale at Tillson's to-day at twenty-five, thirty-five and fifty cents.

A MONSTER DEVIL FISH

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles Schaney were greatly shocked Saturday upon hearing of her death. Mrs. Schaney passed away at her home on North First street at eleven o'clock Friday night. She had been suffering for some time past from cancer of the neck, and though everything possible was done to relieve her suffering the end was inevitable. Besides a sorrowing husband, she leaves a daughter and two sons who are residents of this city. Mrs. Schaney was one of the best known French residents of the county, having lived here for many years. She was fifty-five years of age. Mrs. Schaney was very prominent in church work. The funeral was held from the French church yesterday afternoon.

A BUSY LEGISLATOR.

Hon. C. J. Byrns of this city was in town last week, having come up from Lansing to attend to some important business. Mr. Byrns is serving his first term in the legislature but has already made his influence felt among the older members. He is a member of the Jackson prison committee and is getting thoroughly acquainted with matters there prior to the visit which the committee will make to that institution this week. Mr. Byrns and his son, who is a page in the house, are very comfortably situated in Lansing at 319 North Capitol avenue. He is very busy with Woodmen affairs at this time. A meeting of that organization will be held in Jackson the middle of the month. Mr. Byrns, accompanied by Mrs. Byrns, left for Lansing Saturday evening.

HEAVYSIDES-LYNN.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. Samuel Lynn Saturday evening. The occasion was the marriage of Mr. Lynn's daughter Jennie and Mr. William Heavysides of this city. Relatives and intimate friends witnessed the ceremony. Mrs. Heavysides is the organist of the Methodist church of this city and the members of the choir were present in a body. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. After a short wedding trip the happy couple will return and make their home in this city.

Mart Molloy, day operator at the Northwestern, is relieving the agent at Little Lake, who is away on a vacation. During his absence Tom Cowan, the night operator, is looking after the day work and H. Halberson is on duty at night.

Do not forget the entertainment which will be given in the opera house tomorrow evening. Spence and MacDonald are the most celebrated team in their particular line on the American stage today. Seats went on sale at Tillson's Saturday and there was a big demand for them.

At a meeting of Di Ututo Socorro di Ishpeeming the following officers were elected: Bruno Mardi Zacca, president; Antonia Bertucci Chiac, vice president; Antonia Zacca, secretary; Joseph De-ward, assistant secretary; Frank De-ward, treasurer; James Brown and Bruno Ward, sick committee.

The Gustavus Adolphus Male choir elected the following officers at the annual meeting, which was held last week: George Skogberg, president; Oliver Johnson, vice president; Albin Hasselblad, secretary; A. G. Bergstrom, treasurer, and A. W. Johnson, director. The choir took in three new members at this meeting and there is much enthusiasm shown by its membership over the prospect for a prosperous year.

YANKEE MERCHANTS ON BRITISH TRADE.

Lord Roseberry's recent speech at Wolverhampton, in which the former prime minister declared that the industrial and commercial outlook for Great Britain was dark and gloomy was received in England as a confirmation of fears that have been freely expressed there for many months. Opinions of New York reporters on the foreign trade go to show that Lord Roseberry's apprehensions are well founded. These expressions are printed in the New York Evening Post.

All the exporters believed that British trade is declining, but few agreed with Lord Roseberry as to the remedy. He suggested education and the scientific training of young Englishmen for commercial life. The American exporters, on the other hand, hold that the Englishman is simply behind the times; that he must be aroused to the antiquity of his methods and must put in new capital for new machinery.

England, it was remarked, can export nothing but her manufactured products and the United States can make these more cheaply because the raw materials are all at hand in abundance. The English, it was further pointed out, are being beaten by the methods adopted in this country since the trade revival of 1883, big "turnovers" and small margins of profits, while the English manufacturers adhere to their old policy of making up small lots. As one of the importers put it: "They have never adopted what we call the 'standardization' of products. The American manufacturer finds out what the trade wants most and makes that thing. The English manufacturer makes everything that everybody wants. He cannot hope to compete on that basis."

The New York exporters agreed that an American combination can undersell British producers in London in a matter of days, admitting, moreover, that this competition might involve selling some goods more cheaply in England than in the United States. As to the formation of similar associations in England it was said to be both possible and probable; in fact, that many such organizations already exist. The English pools, it was pointed out, already serve some of the purposes of the American trust, but are only organized for selling, not for production and distribution.

As to capacity and special education of selling agents abroad, the New York merchants were not inclined to place too much emphasis on the point. They insisted that the question of price and good value for the money is of prime importance. When it comes to getting trade fact is, of course, valuable, but low prices are better than much fact.

Another question propounded by the Post was whether our producers could sell abroad as heavily as now if England and Germany were to cut prices heavily. It was said in reply that if these countries could make prices below ours they would get back the trade they have lost, but that their manufacturers are already cutting so deep that profits are approaching the vanishing point. The only way they can make lower prices is to lessen the expense of manufacture, and raw materials remaining the same for both, this is impossible with the antiquated methods which prevail in the old countries.

The tone of all the interviews was one of confidence. Clearly the New York merchants believe that there will be no relaxing of America's grip on foreign markets and that this country now has a lead in the race for commercial supremacy that our transatlantic rivals cannot reduce—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MARQUETTE'S REMAINS.

Rev. H. S. Spaulding Writes of Their Discovery and Final Disposition This Month

IN THE FEBRUARY NUMBER OF THE MESSENGER OF THE SACRED HEART.

He Refutes the Story That They Were Recently Exhumed Near Frankfort, Mich., and Shows That They Certainly Are in Safe Keeping at Marquette College.

SETS ALL CANARD TALES AT REST.

Rev. H. S. Spaulding, S. J., contributes a convincing article on "The Grave and Relics of Father Marquette" to the February number of The Messenger of the Sacred Heart. Its motive is to effectually refute the report, which became current late in December, 1900, that the remains of the great explorer had been exhumed by workmen near Frankfort, Mich. This story came from the Ann Arbor railway officials and it was stated that only the skull and some imperfect bones of what was once the body of the famous Marquette remained, a streak of rust and small remains being said to have been the father's beads and cross. The discovery was made in the changing course of a stream.

Answering the question, could the bones in question possibly be those of Father Marquette Rev. Spaulding turns to the "Jesuit Relations," which contains records written two hundred years ago, now accessible for the purposes of research and in which is found a complete account of Father Marquette's last trip, when he was returning to St. Ignace from a visit to the Kaskaskias of Illinois. Father Dablon writes in detail of this last voyage and its fatal outcome. He says: "As they sailed along the lake, he (Father Marquette) perceived the mouth of a river with an eminence on the bank which he thought suited for his burial, and told his companions that it was the place of his last repose. (He was then approaching his end.) They wished, however, to pass on as the weather permitted it and the day was not very far advanced; but God raised a contrary wind, which forced them to return and enter the river pointed out by Father Marquette." Then follows an account of his death and burial on this eminence near the lake which has been satisfactorily located some fifty miles from Frankfort.

EXHUMED BY THE INDIANS.

Father Dablon's account proceeds to relate the manner in which the remains were exhumed by the Kiskakon Indians whom Marquette himself had instructed in the truths of Christianity. Returning from a hunting trip, they resolved to visit the resting place of their beloved father and as Dablon prettily puts it "God even gave them the thought of taking his remains and bringing them to our church at the mission at Mississiniquia where they now reside."

"They accordingly repaired to the spot, and deliberating together, resolved to act with their father, as they usually do with those they respect; they accordingly opened the grave, unrolled the body, and though the flesh and intestines were all dried up, they found it whole without the skin being in any way injured. This did not prevent their dissecting it according to custom; they washed the bones and dried them in the sun, then putting them neatly in a box of birch bark, they set out to bear them to the house of St. Ignace.

"The convey, consisting of nearly thirty canoes in excellent order, including even a good number of Iroquois who had joined our Algonquins to honor the ceremony. As they approached our house, Father Nouvel, who is superior, went to meet them with Father Pierson, accompanied by all the French and Indians of the place, and having caused the convey to stop, made the ordinary interrogations to verify the fact that the body which they bore was really Father Marquette's. Then before landing he intoned the De Profundis in sight of thirty canoes still on the water, and all the people on the shores; after this the body was carried to the church, observing all that the ritual prescribes for such ceremonies. It was deposited in a little vault in the middle of the church, where he reposes, the guardian angel of our Ottawa missions."

BONES IN MARQUETTE COLLEGE.

Considering that Dablon's concise relation of the exhuming and second burial of the remains is sufficient in itself to dispose of the Frankfort story, Rev. Spaulding proceeds to a consideration of the question whether the bones cherished at the Marquette College, Milwaukee, are really the bones of Father Marquette.

Here he dwells on their discovery by Father Jucker, the famous missionary priest who died in this city somewhat over ten years ago and who ranks in the history of the upper peninsula with Bishops Baraga and Marak for the importance of his Indian labors. Father Jucker was intimately acquainted with the history of the great explorer and he had long pondered on the question of the final resting place of his remains. At the time of their discovery he was stationed at St. Ignace where once stood the Christian village of the Ottawas; where Marquette toiled; where he had met Joliet and prepared for his voyage of discovery; where the Indians chanted the Litany of the Blessed Virgin, as they laid their father to rest beneath the little chapel.

Rev. Spaulding says: "Father Jucker writes from St. Ignace, September 24, 1877: 'The report concerning the discovery of Father Marquette's remains is, I am glad to say, not a fable or an exaggeration. I am now writing within a few paces of the little casket which contains all that is left of the saintly Jesuit's perishable part. But, alas, it is very little! If the fragments of bones gathered from the humble grave were to be given away for their weight in gold, a person of moderate means could easily acquire them.'

"Shea's opinion is given to us in language that is equally plain: 'The detailed account of the final interment of Father Marquette, the peculiarity of the bones being in a bark box, evidently of small size for convenient transportation, the fact that no other priest died at the mission who could have been similarly interred, leads us irresistibly to the conclusion that Father Jucker is justified in regarding the remains found as portion of those committed to the earth two centuries ago.'

SHEA'S FURTHER STATEMENT.

Shea, who is a credited historian, speaking before the Missouri Historical society July 19, 1878, thus summed up the history of the finding of the grave at St. Ignace: "Two years after the missionary's death his Ottawa Indians took up his body, cleansed the bones, and, putting them in a box of birch, conveyed them to St. Ignace where they were deposited in a little vault of the church. This edifice was burned down in 1700 and all trace of Marquette's tomb was lost until last year when Rev. Edward Jucker discovered and identified both, but only to find that the tomb had been rifled by some medicine man who wished the bones of the great priest as a magical power. The remnants of the box and some fragments of bones were gathered to be placed under a monument in his memory."

Rev. Spaulding says: "Against this double testimony of Shea and Father Jucker not a single argument has been given. Some doubted; some who knew Father Jucker said that his enthusiastic love for anything connected with the old missions had outweighed his judgment. But this was mere assertion; he sides unbounded enthusiasm would not have persuaded Shea to add the weight of his authority."

LETTERS OF TRANSMITTAL.

The two letters which passed between Father Jucker and the head of the Marquette College concerning the presentation and transmission of the relics are interesting. They follow:

Hancock, Mich., Aug. 15th, 1882. Rev. Father Lalumiere, S. J.

Rev. Dear Father: Considering the uncertainty of life, I would like to place my collection of memorials from Father Marquette's grave in good hands, and knowing of no other place where these articles would be appreciated better than in your college, I offer them, through you, to that institution.

When my successor, Father Kilian, insisted on my delivering up to him what I possessed of Father Marquette's (reputed) remains, I sent him about one-fourth of the fragments of bone, together with a small selection from the diverse articles (pieces of evidence, as we might call them) found in the cellar and in the grave.

Will your Reverence please let me know whether the Rev. Father Rector and the faculty of your college are willing to receive my collection as a sacred deposit to be preserved in that institution?

Should circumstances allow me to go to Milwaukee, I would prefer to bring that treasure thither personally, and might on that occasion, answer any questions about the significance of the several articles contained in the collection—as far as my ability goes.

Very sincerely,
EDW. JUCKER.

Rev. Father Lalumiere, S. J.
Rev. Dear Father: Here are all the bones left in my hands, after sending about seven similar fragments to Fr. Kilian of St. Ignace.

The other articles—pieces of bark, wood, iron, etc., I shall either send or bring you in a short time, Des volez, Very sincerely,
E. JUCKER.

Rev. Spaulding has made out a good case. It is amply sufficient to take the probability out of all canards regarding Twentieth century discoveries of the great Marquette's bones.

PLEASING RECITAL.

It Was Held by Mlle. Olivier's School of Music.

The young people of Mlle. Olivier's school of music entertained their friends with a recital at the Morgan Memorial chapel Saturday evening. They were assisted by more mature talent and the entertainment was a gratifying success. The young people acquitted themselves with entire credit and the numbers from the other participants in the program were most acceptable.

Among the pupils who were heard were Misses Barnes, Mitchell, Connell, Dwyer, Mathews, Williams, Sink, Eldredge and George Barnes, Ed Connell and Morgan Jopling. Mrs. G. Watts, Dr. A. E. Brown, Mlle. Olivier, Miss Norma Ross, Fred Holmes and Miss Nelle Freiberg assisted with the program. Many favorable comments on the performances of Mlle. Olivier's pupils were heard. Several of them possess skill beyond their years.
