BATTLE IN RAILROAD COACH.
Woman Killed and Two Men Wounded on Negro Excursion.
St. Louis, June 23.—As a result of a shooting and cutting affray in a coach on the St. Louis & San Francisco road loaded with a picnic party of the First Baptist church, colored, today, Mrs. Samuel Hart, colored, was shot and killed; Conductor Laughlin shot through the arm, and Frank Williams, shot through the leg and cut about the head. Williams started the trouble with a slighting remark about the woman and her escort, Sam Torans, who drew a revolver and began shooting. Before the resulting panic was quelled by the trainmen several passengers were severely wounded.

DEFENDS CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.
Mrs. Eddy Replies to Recent Attacks at Convention in Boston.
Boston, June 23.—The annual message of Mrs. Eddy to her communicants was read today at the mother church in this city. The message was in substance a reply to the attacks on the church. She defended her belief strenuously and prophesied the growth of Christian Science. The church, she said, now had 21,631 communicants, and since last November 2,496 had been added. Christian Science, she said, was the result of her own observations and discovery and was founded entirely on the Bible. Fully ten thousand attended the service during the day.

Thought He Became Dizzy.
The full details of the accident will never be known. It is generally supposed, however, that while in his room Mr. Hay was seated at the window for air and while sitting on the sill grew dizzy and, overbalancing, fell to the pavement sixty feet below. The fall resulted in instant death. The physician who was hastily summoned could only leave the case to the coroner, who pronounced an accidental death.
Mr. Hay arrived in this city last evening and after dinner with several of his class-mates. He attended the theater and after the performance he spent a quiet hour in the hotel corridor and smoking room, retiring shortly after midnight. He was not seen again until his body came whirling through the air two and one-half hours later.
Bereaved Father Stricken.
Hon. John Hay, secretary of state, worn by a trip of nearly nine hours from Washington to New Haven and nearly prostrated by grief at the untimely end of his son, reached the city at 5:40 this evening and was driven in great haste to the residence of S. Mosely, proprietor of the New Haven House, in the drawing room of which reposed the remains of his son. In the presence of his beloved dead, Colonel Hay utterly collapsed and, prostrated by his great grief, took to a bed. Dr. Gilbert was summoned and administered to the patient.

200 Lives Lost and Immense Damage Done to Property in the Elkhorn Valley.
Roanoke, Va., Monday, June 24.—Conservative estimates place the loss of life in the stricken West Virginia district at 200. The loss to property is put at between three and five million dollars.

FLOOD HORROR IN WEST VIRGINIA
Bluefield, W. Va., June 23.—This entire section has just been visited by a flood, the extent of which will equal or exceed that of the Johnstown disaster in 1889 so far as the loss of property and lives is concerned. Meagre reports so far received place the number of lives lost at between two and five hundred.
Cloudburst Follows Heavy Rain.
Early yesterday morning, shortly after midnight, a heavy downpour of rain began, accompanied by a severe electric storm which increased in volume, continuing throughout the entire day and night; and at 10 o'clock today, while the storm has abated, the lowering clouds indicate that another terrific downpour is imminent.
Many miles of the Norfolk & Western railroad track, in addition to bridges and telegraph lines, have been entirely destroyed and communication is cut off west of Elkhorn. It is impossible to learn the full extent of the loss of life and property, but the officials of the coal operations located in the stricken district have sent out messengers to Elkhorn, the terminus of both telegraph and railroad communications, whose reports place the loss of life at over two hundred. Some of the drowned were among the most prominent citizens of the coal fields.
Located in Mountain Basin.
The Pocahontas coal district, where the bulk of the disaster has been wrought, is located in a basin, with high mountain ranges on either side, the Elkhorn creek flowing through the center of the basin, which ranges from a fourth of a mile to one mile in width from Ennis, W. Va., to Vivian, W. Va., a distance of ten miles. Miners' cabins, coal company's commissaries and coke plants line the basin. Elkhorn creek is fed by a number of small streams coming from the mountainside and rises very rapidly.
The watershed came so suddenly that the entire basin between the two mountain ranges was flooded and before the terror-stricken people had realized what was upon them they were carried down by the flood, which swept everything in its path. The little town of Keystone, of about two thousand inhabitants, seems to have been the center of the greatest force. Practically the entire town was washed away.
Headquarters for the District.
This town was located near the center of the Pocahontas coal fields and to a great extent was the headquarters from which mining people purchased supplies; it was also the only place in the field where whiskey could be purchased. All its dozen or more saloons were washed away, and the mining people are now occupying the banks of the stream below catching merchandise and barrels of whiskey as they float down.
A great number of coal and coke plants are reported practically destroyed. From the best information obtainable, the property loss will easily reach two million dollars. On the Clinch valley branch of the Norfolk & Western, between this city and Norton, Va., communication is entirely severed west of Lazewell, and reports come from that point of great loss of life and property throughout the entire section. The railroad and telegraph companies

CAILLES SWEARS ALLEGIANCE.
Noted Filipino Leader Surrenders With Over Six Hundred Men.
Santa Cruz, Luzon, Monday, June 24.—General Cailles surrendered here today with 650 men and 500 rifles. Oaths of allegiance to the United States were administered to the former insurgents. Colonel Cailles, who fled to the mountains with a portion of his command, likewise surrendered.
General Cailles did not sufficiently control the populace to bring in all the insurgents in his district. The proceedings of the surrender were orderly. In consequence of the surrender of Cailles all the insurgent prisoners in Luzon island will be released.
Information from native sources confirms the previous reports that General Malvar will soon surrender.
RUSSIAN DEMAND RENEWED.
Notice Served on China Annexation of Manchuria Is Still Denied.
London, Monday, June 24.—The correspondent of The Times at Peking says that M. De Giers, Russian minister, has notified Li Hung Chang that immediately the indemnity agreement is signed, Russia will require of China negotiations concerning the conditions of Russia's withdrawal from Manchuria.
M. De Giers said that the reason alleged by the powers for opposing the signature of the Manchurian convention—that China should not negotiate separately with one power while negotiating jointly with all the powers—will then have ceased to exist.
Fresh Outbreak in Manchuria.
The Daily Mail publishes a dispatch concerning further disturbances at Kharbin, Manchuria. There are large bodies of Chinese troops in the neighborhood, and the railroad has been destroyed in several places.
MACHINISTS ENJOINED.
Employers' Association Begins a Legal Battle Against the Strikers.
Milwaukee, June 23.—A sweeping injunction of widespread scope and importance, relative to the strike of the machinists, was issued yesterday by Judge Elliot in the circuit court to the Vilter Manufacturing company.
The order prevents the strikers from in any way interfering with workmen employed at the Vilter works; from gathering about the works in any way; from posting pickets; from combining for the purpose of preventing tradesmen selling to the workmen who have refused to quit, and from doing anything that will in any way operate or result in damage to the Vilter company.
The injunction equals in effect the combined strike order issued by Judge Jenkins in Northern Pacific circles, without embracing many of the defects of that order which led to its revocation by the court of appeals. There is not a single reference to the strike in the injunction; the men are simply restrained from doing anything which will tend to cause damage to the Vilter company.
The suit is the first of the kind ever instituted, and if it is successful, it will have a most important part to play in the labor disturbances of the future. While the action is brought in the name of the Vilter company, it is really the National Metal Trades association that is the plaintiff, Milwaukee being considered the best place in the country in which to fight the legal battles. The injunction is directed against every member of the International Association of Machinists and all persons in any way connected therewith.

ITS PATH SWEEP CLEAN.
Everything Movable Carried Down by the Maddened Torrent.
Roanoke, June 23.—Great excitement was created here today when it was reported that an awful flood and cloudburst had swept over the Elkhorn coal region of West Virginia. This territory is near the Virginia line, about 125 miles west of Roanoke and twenty-five miles west of Bluefield, W. Va. The region visited by the flood is said to be devastated, and the Pocahontas coal fields are reported in ruins.
More than thirty miles of the tracks of the Norfolk & Western railroad are gone, reports into the general offices of the system in this city reporting wash-outs on various sections of the line in the flooded districts. The railroad yards at Vivian, a small town in West Virginia, were completely destroyed and it is reported most of the town was washed away. North Fork Junction and a few other smaller towns also have suffered greatly.
Pay Day Filled the Towns.
Saturday night was pay night in the coal fields and it is supposed that the coal miners had flocked into the towns

MARQUETTE, MICH., JUNE 24.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

By the amalgamation of the two English papers at Hancock that thriving town will be provided with one strong newspaper establishment instead of two struggling ones, and will be vastly better off in consequence. The new concern will issue an up-to-date evening daily, taking a press report and giving close attention to the local field. With so able and influential a man as Mr. C. A. Wright of Hancock interested in the new venture it will command one very powerful element of success from the start, and as the field it is legitimately entitled to occupy is a good one for the needs of a newspaper business the "amalgamated" printing and publishing concern at Hancock should prosper finely.

It may be, as the Chicago Inter Ocean puts it, that "there is no reason why the vice presidency should be the grave of ambition," and that Roosevelt is a real presidential possibility for 1904. But neither is there any reason why a second term in the presidency should make a man ineligible for a third, yet that is its effect. One people have got in a way of thinking that when a man becomes vice president he is practically out of politics to stay, and that is what the matter with Roosevelt. There is no particular reason why he should not be in the race for the presidency in 1904 except that the people cannot now be got to think of him in that connection, and when popular mind is settled on a point of that kind to change it calls for more power than Mr. Roosevelt and his friends can bring to bear on it. City 'tis 'tis so, but Teddy is out of the running for the presidency, not only for 1904, but we fear permanently.

The story that the county clerks throughout Michigan are leagued in a movement to retire Governor Bliss with but one term to his credit is not entitled to much credence. The alleged aim of the movement is to have the ticket headed by a stronger gubernatorial candidate than Bliss in order to make it easier for the county clerks to secure re-elections. There is no more reason why the clerks should take the burden of determining the action of a state convention on themselves than that the registers of deeds, or sheriffs, or prosecuting attorneys should essay the same thing. When the time comes the voters of the party will select their candidates for state offices without much considering the preferences or needs of aspirants for humbler favors at their hands. The county clerks, and other county officers, are all right in their places, but they are not wanted as slate makers for the party in the state, or even in their several bailiwicks.

With the close of work in The Mining Journal printing house Saturday the connection with the establishment of Mr. Trowbridge Johns, who for eighteen years has had charge of the mechanical department of the business, ceased. Mr. Johns retires from the service of his late employers to take charge of the job printing department of The Mining Gazette at Houghton, and takes with him the good will and good wishes of the proprietors of The Mining Journal. He is a thoroughly competent printer and is possessed of an unusual capacity for organizing and holding at a high standard of efficiency the working force under him, and is as honest as he is capable. One of the considerations that has influenced Mr. Johns to take the situation he is to hold at Houghton is that he desires to have his son Harold, now a young man, take a course in the College of Mines there while at the same time having the advantage of wholesome home surroundings. His many friends in Marquette will hope that Mr. Johns will find the change he has decided to make beneficial to him in every way, and among these none hope that more deeply and earnestly than the proprietors of The Mining Journal, whose appreciation of his faithful and valuable service in the past is shown by the length of time it has lasted and the confidence they have always reposed in him.

PROTECTION STILL NECESSARY.

Senator Burrows is quoted in a Washington dispatch as saying, relative to the proposition of Representative Babcock which has in view revision and modification of the Dingley tariff schedule:

I do not believe the Babcock bill will get any sympathy or support among Republicans in the next congress. If by any possibility his bill should be reported by the ways and means committee next winter and pass the house it would never see daylight again after it reached the senate finance committee, so that there is absolutely no danger of the present tariff law being disturbed by the Babcock proposition or any other similar agitation. The Babcock proposition would destroy the industry to which it is applied without correcting the tariff wall.

If the Dingley rates were removed from the products of the steel trust that concern, gigantic as it is, would sooner or later go to the wall, because it could not survive against the combined competition of the world. The first thing it would be compelled to do in order to keep running would be to cut the wages of all employees in this country. Then we would have distress in thousands of American homes. Then, after a while, it would have to cut wages again in order to bring the cost of its products down to the level of the cost of European steel and iron wares, in the production of which labor does not enter as such a big item of cost as in this country. Then we would have labor strikes and disturbances, which soon would involve all of the industries of the United States; and when it was all over Europe would control our iron and steel market and there would be tens of thousands of Americans out of work.

Thus, you see, the subject resolves itself into the original and elemental principle of American protection, which is the protection of American labor. When the Republican party finds a sure and safe check to trusts it will not hesitate to apply it.

Whether import duties can safely be reduced or not at this time is a question on which there is much difference of opinion. Until the public mind is more fully made up on that question, the safest plan is to let the tariff schedule alone, and we are of the same belief as Senator Burrows as to the improbability of having anything done with the Babcock bill at the coming session. The country is getting along pretty well under the existing schedule, and has not forgotten its experience under the last attempt that was made to reduce tariff rates. There is no very urgent demand for tariff reduction at this time and the new congress will find plenty to do without taking up a matter that opens the door to endless and profitless discussion.

A PLEA FOR GOOD WAGES.

At a meeting of the Foundrymen's association recently held at Pultego, Edward Howell Putnam read a paper on "The Economic Status of Wages" in which he made a logical and convincing plea for good pay for the workingman on the ground that only when labor is well paid can there be prosperity for the employer. These extracts from his paper will give an idea of the trend and soundness of his argument:

It is impossible to maintain a given margin of profit on a reduced wage scale; say, I will go farther and affirm that it is, and in fact is, impossible to maintain a given margin of profit in a rapidly progressing society. For with expanding intelligence and more nearly universal high education, the proportion of men who compete for profit increases far more rapidly than that of those who compete for wages in the common ranks. Every man who rises from the ranks of mechanical labor to compete for profit diminishes the stress of competition for common wages and intensifies the competition for profit.

This being the case, the margin of profit being too high under circumstances where free competition prevails. To get an idea of what competition would do to the margin of profit, imagine a general reduction of wages to the extent of 25 per cent. Assume that there are ten millions of wage workers receiving an average of two dollars per day per man: 10,000,000 x $2 = $20,000,000. 25 per cent of this is $5,000,000.

Now if we have made this 25 per cent cut in wages in the hope of increasing the margin of profit, we must not permit prices to fall. But what about these goods to the value of five millions of dollars every 24 hours, which the workman formerly bought, but which he has not now the power to buy? What shall we do? We must act quickly, for in a week's time it will be thirty million dollars' worth; in two weeks sixty, in a month one hundred and twenty millions of dollars' worth of goods beyond the usual surplus for which there is no demand! We have deprived the workmen of the power to buy them, and we ourselves are not going to increase our purchases under conditions like these—with warehouses bursting with rapidly accumulating goods.

What shall we do, wait another month and see how things may turn? Yes, and now there are two hundred and forty millions of dollars' worth of surplus goods. Who will buy them? We know that the workmen cannot, for we have cut their wages to just that extent. And you and I are not going to increase our purchases of other men's goods when we cannot sell our own product! In fact, we will cut down our expenses at every possible point. Yes, that's exactly what will happen; employers everywhere will "retrench," and that means a still further falling off of demand.

Advance the general wage rate far enough, and consumption will absorb the utmost possible supply. If the present industrial system is to survive, it will be because its sponsors shall perfect it to such extent as to employ every man all the time at wages that shall represent the full value of his service.

Society owes no man a living, but it owes every individual a fair chance to make a living for himself; nay, more—it owes each individual a chance to produce all that he can under the most favorable conditions and, to exchange his service for equal service.

This is not romanticism. Mr. Putnam has made no new discovery, but there are some few employers who have not yet obtained a complete comprehension of the significance of the motto, "Live and let live." It is well to keep bringing to the notice of these fact that they cannot prosper while labor starves, so that they may cease to obstruct the general movement to better the condition of labor in this country, and thus make it a still more potent factor for the promotion of the general prosperity.

The friends of Mr. Ellis, and he has many in the copper country, wish him the best of luck in his new field of work.

Samuel S. Pope, one of the oldest settlers in the copper country, died at Calumet Friday afternoon from paralysis. He came from Cornwall, England, when copper mining was at its prime in the Keweenaw county—in the days of the old Cliff mine, when Copper Harbor was in its glory. Afterwards he worked in the Superior Engine house at Calumet on the famous "Jumbo" hoist and subsequently handled a Tamarack hoist.

The funeral services of Mrs. Dr. E. D. Gardner of Hancock took place at the residence on Quincy street at 5 o'clock last evening. Rev. Edwin More, Jr., officiating. The Hancock Finnish choir of twenty-five voices gathered on the front porch of the house and sang two beautiful hymns during the obsequies, in remembrance of the lady who had been so kind to people of the Finnish nationality. Today the remains will be taken to Lapeer, Mich., for burial.

A party of seventeen fishermen left Hancock at 9 o'clock Saturday night on the tug Valerie. They were bound for Rock Harbor, Isle Royale, where they expected to arrive at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, leaving on the return late in the evening. It will be recalled that Rock Harbor is where J. M. Longyear of Marquette broke the record by catching a brook trout weighing 64 pounds. Every man in the fishing party went determined to imitate the example of Mr. Longyear.

Rev. Edwin More, Jr., pastor of Hancock Congregational church, on Saturday received a telegram from the general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Worcester, Mass., asking him to speak in the association hall of that city on the afternoon of Sunday, July 7. This is the date when Rev. A NICKEL MINE. BETTER THAN A COPPER MINE.

THE SULTANA NICKEL MINING COMPANY

The rapid growth in the demand for Nickel, especially in manufacturing Nickel Steel for use in naval construction, engine building, etc., and in all those uses of steel that require the maximum of strength with the minimum of weight, together with its increasing use in the ornamental features of manufacturing, as in sewing machines, stoves, bicycles, etc., allied with the known scarcity of nickel mines, has operated to double the market price of refined nickel within a very few years and the price still tends upward.

The world's supply of nickel comes chiefly from two districts, one being New Caledonia, in the Pacific Ocean, and the other the Sudbury district, in the Province of Ontario, Canada, about 400 miles north of Cleveland, Ohio. The nickel mines in the Sudbury district produced forty per cent of the world's consumption in 1898, and has increased that proportion since.

The Sultana Nickel Mining Company is being organized by Chicago gentlemen of solid worth and high standing in this city, to take over and complete the development and operate the Sultana mines, located 23 miles west of the city of Sudbury, and seven miles from Worthington, on the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Another railroad from a lake port in Georgian Bay is also under construction, right up to the mines.

The property which the Sultana Nickel Mining Company will take over embraces 2,382 acres of nickel ore property, on part of which four shafts have been sunk in doing development work, and many thousands of tons of ore have been placed on the dumps or exposed to view. This ore, when reduced to matte, has a present market value of over $25,000 per ton. A valuable town site and water power are situated on the property, and an ample supply of timber for mining purposes.

This entire property, with a valuable plant of mine operating machinery, will pass to the Sultana Nickel Mining Company free of debt, with the exception of $195,000 due in one, two, three and four-year payments, being the deferred purchase price on part of the property.

The Sultana Company will be capitalized at two million dollars, divided into 200,000 shares of the par value of $10 each.

One-fourth of 50,000 shares of this stock at $25,000 cash will be used for acquiring the property in its present state as a going concern. 150,000 shares will be placed in the treasury, from which 50,000 shares are now offered for public subscription at the low price of $2.50 per share, par value $10.00. It is confidently believed that no other sales of treasury stock will ever become necessary. And since three-fourths of the entire capital stock is treasury stock, the purchaser of each share acquires an additional interest of equal amount in the Treasury stock.

From the proceeds of the sale of this stock $25,000 will be applied on the purchase of the property, as already stated; $25,000 will be used for the construction of a reduction works; and the remaining $75,000 will be used for the further development of the Company's property. The reduction plant will have a capacity of 100 tons per day, and it is expected that it will be completed and in operation by January 1 next, by which time a sufficient body of ore for a three years' run of the plant will have been uncovered. The cost of mining and milling ore will not exceed $8.00 per ton, which insures a profit, at present market prices for nickel, of at least $2,000 a day for every working day.

From this brief review of the history and condition of the enterprise it will be apparent that this enterprise is practically removed from the atmosphere of uncertainty, and the stockholders may reasonably anticipate very large dividends for years to come. It appeals most strongly to the conservative investor.

Subscriptions to this stock are now invited, accompanied by ten per cent of the subscription price, for which negotiable receipts will be issued by the undersigned. Balance of subscription will be payable when the stock is delivered. The company will be incorporated under the laws of Canada, which are very favorable, and the stock will be full paid and non-assessable.

Detailed experts' reports on this property and all information desired will be promptly furnished.

The following from Kenton were in the class confirmed: Mrs. C. Perron, Emma, Lily, and Fred Demmler, David and Jennie Dion, Mrs. and Maggie Burrill, Edna Paquette, Clara Provost and Joe Lamoreaux.

Manager Wm. Kroll has improved the surroundings of his company's grounds adjoining the office and store building by erecting a high tight board fence around the market lot, thus obscuring the view of unbecomingly shabby boxes placed there. The front lot has been rearranged into a large flower yard which will give pleasure to the passerby when the plants begin to bloom.

CONSOLIDATION OF LAKE MINES.

South Range Merger Likely to be Followed by Other Amalgamations.

The completion of the second part of the general plan of consolidation upon which the Amalgamated Copper Company is based, comments the Boston Financial News, now permits the Standard Oil magnates and those associated with them in their copper campaign to proceed with the third phase of the scheme.

To successfully carry out this part of the program, considerable time will be required, yet it is doubtful if there will be so many delays in this department as hindered the absorption of the Montana companies.

The consolidation of the so-called South Range group of mines, which is now on the tapis, is, it is believed, merely preliminary to a comprehensive plan looking to the amalgamation of various lake properties in the interest of the standard oil people.

None of the actual details of the South Range plan have yet been officially given out, although gossip clings to the theory that Baltic and Trimboutain will go into the combination on a share for share basis.

Old Dominion. E. P. Jose, in another "berish" communication to the editor of the Boston Transcript, says: "The official announcement was made today by one of the local news agencies that Old Dominion at the present time is producing at the rate of 10,800,000 pounds of fine copper per annum."

PLANS APPROVED. The board of control of the Michigan College of Mines met Saturday afternoon. It was the next to the last meeting before commencement on the 30th of August.

THE ATLANTIC SCHOOLS. The Atlantic schools have been in charge of Superintendent F. A. Jeffers for eleven years. He finds a worthy assistant in the school work in his wife, whose talent in oratory has been of special service in training the children of the miners from their earliest school days.

owns extensive mineral lands on the South range, and they will probably be given attention.

President Fay emphatically denies that arrangements have been made to use the Arcadian mill and says that the Centennial mill has not changed the plans to erect a mill on the shores of Torch lake.

The Boston Herald says: "At the price paid for Montana and Butte the Amalgamated company, once more capitalized, looks good and must keep copper high enough to pay good dividends on boom prices."

It is understood at Boston that N. F. Leopold, in whose interest the last option on the Belt mining property was secured, will extensively explore the property and satisfy himself as to its value before he attempts to float it.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Arcadian Copper company was adjourned until July 3, because of the failure to secure a quorum at last Thursday's meeting.

The Tamarack is now stamping upwards of 1,800 tons of rock daily, and earning considerably more than $20 per share annually.

No. 1 shaft at the Trimboutain mine is nearing the sixth level. No. 2 is sinking to the fourth level, and No. 3 to the third. Thirteen power drills are being operated.

Dr. L. L. Hubbard has written the Boston office of the Copper Range company that the fourth level south of "E" shaft, in the Champion mine, is as rich as the famous second level north of "B" shaft was.

People in position to know concerning the Isle Royale rock place the minimum percentage at 1 per cent refined copper, which is distinctly different from 1 per cent mineral, says the Boston News Bureau.

The fact that Baltic and Trimboutain continue to rule at practically the same prices the Boston News Bureau gives color to the belief that in their consolidation with Copper Range they will receive equal treatment.

The successful termination of the Amalgamated consolidation, says the Boston News Bureau, foreshadows an early consolidation of the Copper Range, Trimboutain and Baltic properties, as attention will now be given to that subject.

The Parrot Mining company has filed its annual statement for the year ended June 1 with the Montana tax assessor. The income account is given as follows: Gross yield $1,337,032, cost of production $826,855, net proceeds $510,196.

The Atlantic Copper Mining company owns Section 16, with an area of one square mile, adjoining the Baltic where the Atlantic has recommenced exploratory work to locate the Baltic lode.

A Butte dispatch states that with respect to the fight waged between Heinze and the Amalgamated Copper company, one who is thoroughly posted regarding the matter says: "The hope of the Amalgamated company has been to cut off Heinze's supplies of ore by injunction and enormous bonds."

FAVORITES BEATEN.

CRACK COLTS VANQUISHED IN THE CHICAGO DERBY.

ROBT. WADDELL WINS HANDILY.

A 12 TO 1 SHOT AND BUT LITTLE BACKED BY BETTERS.

Time Breaks the Record, While an Ovation for the Horse and Jockey Characterizes the Finish of the Great Turf Event.

Chicago, June 23.—Forty thousand people saw Virginia Bradley's gelding, Robert Waddell, carrying 119 pounds, at 12 to 1 in the betting, win the fourth American Derby of a mile and a half at the Washington Park track yesterday afternoon by one length in 2:33 4-5—record time for the race.

Terminus was a good second, while the favorite, The Parader, was a third. The Parader, who shared with The Parader at one time the honors of the favorite, failed to run his race and fourth; His Eminence had a bad start, but landed in fifth position, while Sanzarzo, Six Shooter, Beat Gallant, Silver Dale and Sadie S finished in the order named.

Few Who Picked the Victor. Few in the surging cheering throng had backed the comparatively friendless animal to capture the rich stake from the animals of Eastern and Western millionaires, yet never since the day that the grand filly Modesty took the first American derby has the tumultuous cheering and genuine ovation given to the horse and his rider been equaled in this state.

Jockey Bullman, to whom fell the honor of taking two derbies in succession, was swept into a human whirl and fell from his saddle, but he was not hurt. On the shoulders of strong men the popular rider was carried and a detail of bluecoats had to be called to clear the admiring throngs from the course. As for the earnest plebeian racing local, Robert Waddell, he refused to permit the attendants to be upon his back the gigantic floral saddle the club had provided for the winner.

It was 3:50 o'clock when the horses came out of the paddock and in two minutes they were at the post. They got away eleven minutes later after one false break. Sanzarzo showed first, a neck ahead of Six Shooter; Bonniert was third; Beat Gallant was fourth; The Parader was fifth; Terminus was sixth; Robert Waddell was seventh; Silver Dale was eighth; Sadie S was ninth and His Eminence was last.

Favorite Leads Temporarily. The jockeys did not send out their mounts for a killing race. Rounding the turn the positions were not altered much, except that Piggett took The Parader into the lead. Passing the stand the first time, the field was well in hand with The Parader a length ahead of Robert Waddell, who dropped into second place without any jostling or crowding.

At the half mile pole the relative positions of the leaders was not materially changed. The Parader still had a lead of two lengths; Waddell was second while Terminus had moved up into third place. Straightening out for the drive in the stretch, the horses gave an inkling of the final result. "The Parader is beaten," came from the throats of thousands. Then Robert Waddell passed the crack Eastern colt and Bullman never had any doubt of his victory. Down to the wire and under it flashed the winner, still full of running and a length ahead of Terminus, who had just snatched second place from The Parader by a neck.

Jockey Gets $2,000. Bullman, who last year on Sidney Lucas won the classic race, came near getting a mount yesterday, having been displaced on Bonniert by Jockey Turner and then finding himself again out in the cold by the withdrawal of Lady Schorr. At the last moment Bradley offered Bullman $2,000 to pilot Robert Waddell to victory and the boy gladly accepted.

Waddell won $19,000 for his owner and Terminus won $3,000, while The Parader's share of the sweepstakes is $2,000, which just about paid the expenses of the colt's long trip from New York.

FASHIONABLE MATCH BROKEN.

Engagement of Miss Sartoris and Archibald Balfour Is Off.

New York, June 23.—According to a dispatch from London among the paid announcements in the Morning Post of London yesterday appeared this notice: "The marriage between Miss Vivian Sartoris and Mr. Archibald Balfour will not take place."

The London society is mystified. Miss Sartoris, who is a granddaughter of the late General U. S. Grant, is well known in London and Mr. Balfour is a cousin of Arthur Balfour, the statesman. The American contingent in London were surprised at the announcement of the engagement on April 18 last, but prepared to send wedding gifts fitting for the granddaughter of a former president of the United States. Hardly anyone knows the meaning of the strange notice and many refuse to believe it true. The Morning Post, however, prints all the authorized society announcements.

When seen last night at his home in this city, Ulysses S. Grant, grandson of General Grant and cousin of the young woman, said: "I know that Mr. Balfour and Miss Sartoris are engaged. If there have been any changes in their plans it is all news to me. More than this I can't say."

It was only on May 25 last that Mrs. Nellie Grant-Sartoris, daughter of the late General Grant, announced that the wedding of her daughter to Archibald Balfour would take place on July 11 at the home of Mrs. Gordon, sister of the Countess Russell, in England. In her announcement Mrs. Sartoris added that the honeymoon would be spent in Scotland and that in September Mr. Balfour would bring his bride to America in order that he might meet for the first time his grandmother, the widow of General Grant.

Miss Sartoris made her debut in Washington three years ago. Miss Sartoris only left Washington a few weeks ago for London. Miss Rosamond, her sister, went with her. Mrs. Grant, her grandfather, and Mrs. Nellie Grant-Sartoris are in Coburg, Can., for the summer.

Grant Family Opposed to Match.

Washington, June 23.—No surprise is expressed here by the friends of the Grant family at the advice from London announcing that the engagement between Archibald Balfour and Miss Vivian Sartoris has been broken.

Miss Sartoris is regarded as quite uncertain in her love affairs, and is credited with having canceled at least two engagements here. In addition, it is known that her immediate family did not approve of her marriage to Balfour. Her mother, Nellie Grant Sartoris, decided not to attend the wedding, which was fixed for July 11, and her brother, Algernon Sartoris, did not determine to go until the last minute. He is said to have sailed from New York for London Thursday.

From the time the engagement was announced there has been a general feeling of doubt among the friends and relatives of Miss Sartoris that the wedding would take place.

EARL RUSSELL HELD ENGLISH PEER TO BE TRIED ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY.

Appears as Prisoner in Court.

Case is Adjudged at London, with Bail at £2,000.

Defendant Accused of Marrying in Nevada, Although Divorced There, While the Countess Is Still Undivorced in England.

London, June 23.—Earl Russell reappeared in the Bow street court yesterday on the charge of bigamy and before the court's decision was rendered for trial at the next session of the central criminal court. Bail was fixed at £2,000.

The charge against Earl Russell is having married Mrs. Mollie Somerville in the United States while his first wife, the Countess Russell, was still undivorced and living in England. This case, which has been worked up with secrecy in America by an English solicitor, presents many anomalies and complexities.

Earl Russell and Mrs. Somerville were the same person, each having married in England and been divorced in Nevada, and then been married there, but apparently what is said for the gender is not true for the goose. He is arrested after thirteen months for bigamy, while no proceedings are taken against her. The earl's defense will naturally be that his divorce was obtained under the Nevada law and that he was free to marry again.

Divorce Claimed Defective.

In court Saturday the register of Earl Russell's first marriage was produced. Mr. Brown, associate director of public prosecutions, then testified that the present proceedings were begun by the public prosecutor independently of any other person, thus confirming the first countess' statement that she is not a party to the suit.

Mr. Brown gave details of his investigation at Reno and B. F. Curler, county clerk of Washoe county, Nevada, testified to marrying Earl Russell and Mrs. Somerville at the Riverside hotel, Reno. The defendant called himself Mr. Russell, and the witness was not aware of his rank. After detailing the Nevada law on divorce, Mr. Curler said that in Earl Russell's divorce the law was not complied with in two respects, and therefore the decree annulling the earl's marriage was not valid, even in Nevada.

After counsel had protested that Earl Russell had not been given adequate time to prepare his defense the earl was committed for trial. His second wife, Mrs. Somerville was present. The arrest of Earl Russell was a complete surprise to him, in view of the fact that he had not been molested for thirteen months. The work done by the solicitor in America was cleverly concealed and, although the warrant was issued last Saturday, Russell was not warned of the impending proceedings.

Story of the Case.

Earl Russell's marital career has been troubled. In 1880 he wedded the daughter of Sir Claude Scott, but in the following year she sued him for divorce, making charges of cruelty and other offenses of a serious character. The charges created a great scandal. The countess was unsuccessful in her suit, and she was compelled to pay the costs, which, it is said, amounted to over $25,000. Her mother, Lady Scott, was afterward convicted and imprisoned for libeling the earl, and the countess was convicted of libeling H. A. Roberts, a master of Bath college, who was mentioned in the charges she made against her husband.

Five years ago the countess withdrew the charges she had made against her husband and sued for restitution of conjugal rights. In this suit she was also unsuccessful. She then adopted the stage as a profession. In April, 1900, Earl Russell was married to Mollie Somerville Cook at Reno, Nev. In March of this year the countess sued for a divorce in London, and the earl has not defended the suit, which is still pending.

Affects the American Law.

This bigamy trial in its broadest aspect brings up the whole question of the validity of American divorces, when Englishmen cross the Atlantic for the purpose of evading the English law and return with American decrees as their ground of defense. It is evident that the prosecution was prepared itself for a hard fight and that it has obtained possession of all the facts respecting Russell's marriage and divorce in Nevada, and also full information concerning the recent decision of the United States supreme court on the subject.

FOREIGN TRADE GAINS.

Exports This Year Will Reach $7,500,000,000, by Far the Largest Recorded.

Washington, June 23.—Exports from the United States in the fiscal year 1901 now about to end will probably reach $1,500,000,000, the highest point ever recorded for a single year in the history of our export trade. For the eleven months ended with May, 1901, the total exports were $1,385,913,595, being double those of the corresponding period of 1889, and $100,000,000 in excess of the total for the eleven months of last year, which broke all previous records.

Distribution of Exports.

The distribution of our exports during the year among the grand divisions, basing the estimate upon the percentages for ten months already available, will be in about the following proportions: To Europe, $1,155,000,000, as against $1,040,000,000 last year; to North America, $195,000,000, as against $187,300,000 last year; to South America, $44,000,000, as compared with $38,900,000 in 1900; to Asia, $48,000,000, as against nearly $65,000,000 in 1900; to Oceania, $36,000,000, against nearly $43,400,000 last year; and to Africa, $26,000,000, as against $19,500,000 of the preceding year. It will be observed that the exports to Asia, where unsettled conditions in China have seriously affected trade, and to Oceania, from which Hawaii has been omitted as a foreign territory since its organization as a territory of the United States. To products of agriculture is due the credit for the greater portion of the increase in our exports during the present year.

Exports Since 1889.

The following table shows the exports from the United States in the eleven months ending with May in each year since 1889: 1889 . . . 869,433,804 1890 . . . 815,901,067 1891 . . . 804,717,334 1892 . . . 977,800,322 1893 . . . 826,886,076 1894 . . . 1,136,503,607 1895 . . . 965,380,311 1896 . . . 1,130,629,075 1897 . . . 782,218,625 1898 . . . 1,285,831,125 1899 . . . 834,636,985 1900 . . . 1,385,913,595 1901 . . . 752,370,353

CITY BRIEVITIES.

Today's weather: Probably unsettled weather; variable winds, mostly fresh. Yesterday's temperature: 7 a. m., 58 degrees; noon, 60 degrees; 7 p. m., 62 degrees. Maximum, 62 degrees, minimum, 51 degrees. John Jones of the land office is at Lansing. Miss Lorne Wallace of Champion has been in Marquette the past few days. Miss Kellogg, of the high school faculty, left for her home in Chicago Saturday. County Clerk Ross issued a marriage license Saturday to Joseph Dupros and Roseanna Houle, both of Marquette. Mrs. William Sedgewick, Miss Betsy Sedgewick and Mrs. E. C. Cooley of Ishpeming were in Marquette Saturday. The regular meeting of the Lake Superior commandery of Masons has been postponed from tonight until further notice. Professor W. H. Hogue will not hold his dancing classes this afternoon and evening. They are announced for Thursday. Penton Hanchett of Saginaw, one of the attorneys for the plaintiffs, in the litigation on in the circuit court last week was heard Saturday. The street cars had a fair traffic yesterday. There was no great rush to Presque Isle but the business was steady and the aggregate of fares was respectable. There will be a meeting of the Spanish-American war veterans at the city hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock. It is called for the purpose of hearing reports of committees and for the transaction of any other business which may come before it. Professors Anderson, Faught and MacCracken of the Northern Normal faculty went to Ishpeming Saturday and enjoyed the experience of a trip underground in the company of Professor Anderson's brother, who is chief chemist for the Lake Superior Iron company. Lieutenant W. F. Hase, U. S. A., was in Marquette on recruiting service the latter part of last week. The sub-recruiting station is still open at Dr. Youngquist's office, where examinations will be made at any time where all information in connection with enlistments may be obtained. The Junior reception to the Class of '01 in the assembly room of the city hall Friday evening was a pretty function. The hall was handsomely decorated, thanks to the labors of members of the class. Refreshments were served late in the evening in one of the recitation rooms on the second floor of the city hall. The Marquette ideal orchestra furnished the music. The floor was in good condition for dancing and waltzes followed two steps until after 2 a. m. Saturday morning. There was a general attendance at the dance. The Juniors had every reason to be proud of their success as entertainers.

FLOOD HORROR.

in the district to do their trading. There is no telling how many were caught in the flood and drowned. It is stated that the greatest damage so far known is at Keystone, which is only a mile distant from North Fork and thirty miles west of Bluefield. From meagre reports describing the fate of the storm at Keystone it would appear that the damage rivals that of Johnstown and is equal to the Galveston horror in its intensity as far as the percentage of population lost and property destroyed.

It is said by the telegraph officials that the lines are useless between Kenova, W. Va., and Bluefield, a distance of two hundred miles. It may be several days before the telegraph lines will be restored sufficiently between these points to get a full report of the damage. However, every building in the town of Keystone was demolished or carried away by water save one saloon. The normal population of Keystone was about two thousand, but there is no telling how many miners had gone to town to swell the population. It is estimated two hundred lives alone were lost at Keystone.

Vast Area Stricken.

The flood seems to have extended over a vast area of mountain country, and the many mountain streams, becoming swollen, seemed to swell Elkhorn river until it assumed large proportions and carried destruction in its wake. Railroad ties, small buildings of all description, trees, telegraph poles, huge boulders, every imaginable movable thing within sweep of the mighty torrent of maddened waters went down the mountains in a sweeping, roaring mass. Debris and dead bodies could be seen floating along the valley by those who had gained places of safety on the high hills.

All day Saturday the rain fell in sheets. It was evident that if it continued a flood must result, but it was not until after darkness that the great catastrophe was upon the country, making a clean sweep for miles around. Shortly after midnight Saturday night it seemed as if the heavens had opened flood gates over the town of Vivian. Here a passenger train was caught in the flood, the lives of the frightened passengers being saved by ropes which were quickly brought over from the coke ovens which skirt the railroad yards.

Havoc in Other Valleys.

Owing to prostrated wires, the Norfolk & Western officials have detailed messengers by foot to cover the territory as best they could. One of these messengers in walking over the devastated district reported having seen thirty-eight dead bodies. The loss of life will probably reach five or six hundred, and possibly this number will be swelled when fuller details are obtainable. It is not known how far back into the mountains the storm extended, and perhaps weeks will elapse before all the stricken country is heard from. The flood has not only damaged the Elkhorn valley, but it is stated that every one of the thirty-three Flat top coal operators or plants have suffered. Great damage is also reported in the Cincin valley section, which extends south from Graham, Va. The next train from Bluefield, the farthest point west from which trains are running, is not expected to reach here before 3 o'clock a. m.

A message reached the Associated Press tonight from Coaldale, fourteen miles west of Bluefield, saying there had been immense loss of property and some lives at that point. The telegraph operator at Bluefield says the Associated Press at 9 o'clock that the loss of life at the lowest estimate is two hundred. He says there is one wire working through to Emis, eighteen miles west, but it is monopolized by the railroad people.

ILLINOIS DISTRICT STRICKEN.

Wind Storm Does Great Damage at Lincoln and vicinity.

Lincoln, Ill., June 23.—This city and vicinity were visited last night by a destructive wind storm which caused great damage. The storm came from the southwest, and its path was a mile and a half wide by twelve miles long. The Lincoln Mattress factory was almost totally destroyed, while serious damage was done to the asylum for feeble minded children, the Odd Fellows orphans' home, Lincoln college, roller and flour mills and the county poor farm. Several stores were unroofed and houses wrecked and tore up. The elevator at Middleton was destroyed and stores damaged. Reports of great damage come from the rural districts, where growing crops have suffered severely.

Havoc in Ohio.

Homery, O., June 23.—A tornado struck the residence portion of Middleton at 3 o'clock this morning. Two houses and six barns were blown down, twenty buildings unroofed and a hundred trees uprooted. All the telephone, electric light and telegraph wires are prostrated. One man and a number of horses were killed by contact with live wires. A heavy rain which followed the wind caused thousands of dollars of damage along the streams.

Mr. Kaynor has now opened his fountain in Pendill's pharmacy, where the thirty public many find courteous treatment and a bath to top the inner man's cravings. Quality counts and it may be found here. (5-15-11)

DAINTY box, an exquisite wrapper, a delicate color, and a clinging fragrance—yet all these will not cleanse the skin! Has it ever occurred to you that you pay big prices for these things? Do you care to buy five articles or do you require only one—a strictly pure soap. Remember you pay for perfume whenever you buy it mixed with soap. Don't you think it is wiser to make your own selection of perfume and buy it separately? It is certainly the method adopted by most persons of cultivated taste, those who bathe with pure Ivory Soap. SOME MISUNDERSTANDING.

It Exists Relative Prize for Marching Society.

Those who have to do with Marquette's Fourth of July celebration have been annoyed during the past few days with inquiries from society men who do not seem to understand the terms on which the prize for the biggest marching organization is offered. This award of fifty dollars will be made to the society which has the largest proportion of its active members in rank on the morning of the Fourth. If an organization has fifty members and they turn out en masse it will receive the prize, irrespective of the fact that another society with a total of 400 members has turned out 375 of that number.

Captain S. M. Wheeler, who has the parade in charge, reports that he has received numerous acceptances from Marquette societies and that the prospects are bright for an unusually long line of march. Ishpeming's crack military company, the Light Guards, has virtually accepted the invitation to participate in Marquette's celebration and it is expected that its marching, drills and evolutions will be an attractive feature of the program.

While the veterans of the Spanish-American war are giving considerable attention to the Fourth of July parade, for which they will be mainly responsible, they are not forgetting their own military picnic, which will be held in Meeske's grove, or their ball, to be held the evening of the Fourth in Fraternity hall. The Marquette Ideal orchestra will furnish the music. The boys are making elaborate preparations for the reception of their guests at both entertainments. The proceeds will be applied to a fund to be used in forming another veterans' post here. The picnic and dance will not interfere with the celebration of the Fourth, but will add to the attractiveness of the program.

"SAG HARBOR" TONIGHT.

It is the Notable Attraction of the Season.

"Sag Harbor" interpreted by one of the best companies that has visited this section in many months, the work of the famous playwright, but recently deceased, James A. Herne, will be the offering at the opera house this evening. It is a stupendous production and in this case the adjective is used advisedly, although the ordinary theatrical usage of the term is not intended. "Sag Harbor" is stupendous in that it realizes, in a wonderful way, the purest possible dramatic art. The exquisite scenes in which this play is set were painted by artists who went to Sag Harbor especially for the purpose, and all the various yachts and launches and other appointments were painstakingly drawn from real models.

Last and best of all is "Sag Harbor" truly stupendous through the dominating and controlling art of the late Jas. A. Herne. The performance of this wonderful play is so great in its perfection that the cultured theatre-goers of New York and Chicago, who flocked by thousands to the theatres where "Sag Harbor" was presented, sat spell bound in their seats from the very rise to the final fall of the curtain, enchanted for the hour by the thought that Mr. Herne's actors were not merely playing parts but that his marvellous romance was being "lived" before their very eyes.

Such is the wonderful art of this representative American author-actor. He created illusions so perfect that the audiences never think themselves at the play, but feel themselves to be observers of actual life in the representations of his dramas. James A. Herne was the greatest dramatic writer and, in the line which he has made peculiar to himself, the greatest dramatic interpreter in Amer-

Ishpeming and its Environs.

WHAT GOES ON TODAY.

There Will Be Quite an Exodus from Ishpeming.

To those looking for pleasure today
it will be easy to find it. All the mines will be closed and the stores will shut their doors at noon. Many pleasant outings are planned by the various societies, and as the weather man seems to be in a pleasant mood the prospect is that the excursionists will be favored with fine weather.

The two chief excursions are those of the French society to Iron Mountain and of the Woodmen to the picnic of that order at Republic. Each will vie with the other in popularity and there is every prospect that both orders will entertain a large number of visitors.

The French society will leave here
over the South Shore for the Menominee range town at 8:45. The round trip fare will be $1.75 for adults, and children over five years and under twelve will be carried at half rates. The Northwestern is also offering special inducements in the way of special trains and cheap rates for Iron Mountain. Its train will leave this city at 9:15 in the morning and the fare will be the same as via the South Shore. A special train will leave Iron Mountain for the return trip at 8 p. m. There is every prospect that a large number of people will travel over both lines.

The annual picnic of the M. W. A. will be held at Republic this year. Tickets from this city are being sold at seventy-five cents and are good for return passage on the train leaving Republic at 9:10 a. m. tomorrow or on any regular train today. A special train for this city, Negaunee and Marquette will leave Republic at 9 p. m. The Woodmen are going to have a fine time. Great preparations have been made by the good people of Republic for their entertainment. State Deputy Charles J.
Byrns announces a very pleasant surprise for those who attend. He has secured the services of National Lecturer Charles E. Whelan of Madison for the address of the day. Mr. Whelan is a lecturer of no mean repute. He is a man prominent in the affairs of his native city as well as the M. W. A. and his address will be a rare treat for all.

The Swedish Home society will hold its annual picnic at the Deer Lake grove during the day. The prospect is that a large number of picnickers will go out to that charming resort. The South Shore is offering special rates for this event as well as the others, and the special trains will also come in very conveniently. The Scandinavians have secured a band, and dancing, sports and other amusements will be the order of the day.

Very little is planned for the city proper. The Salvation Army will serve ice cream and cake all day at a moderate price, as will the good ladies of the Salisbury M. E. church. Both societies will doubtless entertain a large number of visitors.

FIRSTS HAVE GOOD DATES.

Columbia Giants Will Be Here Wednesday and Chicago Unions Are Coming.

Manager Aleck Erickson of the Firsts announces the booking of two of the best amateur baseball teams in this section of the country. They are the Columbia Giants of Detroit and the Chicago Unions. The Giants are the colored team which has heretofore gone
under the name of the Page Fence Giants, and they are every bit as good ball players this year as formerly.

They will be here Wednesday and Thursday and a game is scheduled for that afternoon at the park. The games will be called at 3 o'clock promptly and the admission will be twenty-five cents.
The Chicago Unions have not yet assigned their date, but will be on hand sometime between the 8th and 14th of next month. They are also ball players of considerable repute and will give the locals all they can attend to.

DR. CRANE WENT FISHING.

Dr. Frank Crane, who delivered the address at the commencement exercises of the high school Thursday evening, is an ardent fisherman. Learning of this,
Louis Beigler, day clerk at the Nelson, invited him to take a little trip in the cool of the morning last Friday. The doctor readily consented and at half-past five the couple struck out bravely for Dead river. They reached the stream about eight and lost no time in getting down to work. Instead of the usual bait, the doctor had an idea that red, white and blue yarn was "good stuff,"
so the party neglected to take anything else. When the wily M. W. A. of the famous stream saw that yarn they laughed—at least that's the way in which Louis describes it. They evidently laughed so hard that they had no time for biting, for the couple returned empty handed.

They had several narrow escapes from tipping over and falling into the water,
but the doctor was as game as game could be and he stuck it out until the dinner whistle blew. Of course he had no suitable clothes to wear and Manager Tellman of the hotel furnished him with an ample supply—that is they were ample in dimension, for Tellman weighs two hundred and the doctor tips the scales at 125. As he left town Friday evening he stated that in another month he would be ready to try it again, but Louis says he does not think the trip will be made.

AN OLD SETTLER GONE.

Mrs. Mary McCormick, Aged Ninety Years, Died Yesterday Morning.

Mrs. Mary McCormick, for the past thirty years or so a resident of Ishpeming, died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of her niece, Miss Bridget Casey, on South Main street. The old lady had been an invalid for some years as a result of a fractured thigh, caused by a fall. Much of the time since the accident she was quite helpless and lat-terly she sank rapidly.

Mrs. McCormick was a pioneer resident of the copper country. She spent a number of years at Rockland and other places in that section before locating in Ishpeming. She is survived by several grandchildren residing here.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from St. John's church.

Mrs. F. H. Raisky returned Saturday afternoon from a two weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Ewing of Escanaba.

A. W. Myers left for his home in Milwaukee Saturday evening, after having spent a week in the city on business.

A large crowd gathered at the station
Saturday evening to bid farewell to ex-
Superintendent of Schools J. E. McCollins.

Members of the two local lodges, also the Winthrop lodge of the Sons of St.
George, attended the funeral of the late Thomas Nichols yesterday.

The trains to Presque Isle today will leave Ishpeming at 9 a. m. and 1 p. m.
Returning they will depart from the island at 5:25 and 10:30 p. m.

Tim Nolan graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan last week and is now looking for a place to hang out his shingle.

Miss Carrie Dennis of Marquette and Miss Mary Williams of Iron Mountain returned to their homes Saturday afternoon after a week spent in the city with friends.

Miss Eleanor Power arrived home
from her school in Evanston Saturday morning to spend the summer vacation with her parents at the Johnston house.

The barber shops will close this noon promptly, as will all the stores. Miss Welmira Hoyseth has returned from her studies at the University of Chicago for the vacation.

El Ebborg returned to his home in Chicago last evening after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson. Mrs. Ebborg will remain for two weeks longer.

Ed. Carney, Jack Lacy, Jack Lemio,
Jim Tucker and Jim Mullins spent Saturday and yesterday at Dead river.
They expect to return this evening well laden with trout of their catching.

Hon. George P. McCallum of Manis-tigue, member of the Michigan legislature, was an Ishpeming visitor Saturday. Mr. McCallum will likely be a candidate for the speakership of the next house.

The local Italian society held a very enjoyable picnic at Pease's grove Saturday together with its Negaunee contingent. A band was alone and things were very merry until a late hour in the evening.

Miss Francis B. Ham arrived in town Saturday afternoon from Seattle, where she has been engaged in kindergarten work. Miss Ham will spend the summer here with relatives and will go west again in the fall.

Dr. and Mrs. Vandeventer will give a reception tomorrow evening at their residence on Main street. The music, which will be furnished by the complete Trombly orchestra, will be one of the features of the function.

The Harry Shannon company closed a very successful engagement in this city Saturday evening and left this morning for the "So." A week's engagement will be played there, when the company will disband for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Funsten of Virginia are expected to arrive here on tonight's train for a stay of some weeks with Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Vandeventer.
Mrs. Funsten will be remembered as Miss Nancy Vandeventer, the doctor's niece.

The Lake Superior band of this city will furnish music at the Marquette celebration July 4 and 5. The band is improving right along since Professor Trombly took the leadership. The boys expect to make a very good showing in the Queen City.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Honoura Crabb was held from Grace Episcopal church yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. C. D. Atwell officiated and the church was crowded with friends and relatives of the deceased. The remains were given sepulture in the local cemetery.

Charles E. Whelan, ex-mayor of Madison, Wis., is in the city, the guest of C.
J. Byrns. Mr. Whelan is the National lecturer of the Modern Woodmen of America, a position he is well qualified to fill, as he is one of the ablest orators in Wisconsin. He will deliver an address at the Woodmen's picnic in Republic today.

One of the largest funerals which has ever been held in this city was that of Thomas Nichols, which was held yesterday afternoon from the Division street
M. E. church. It was under the supervision of Tremayn lodge, Sons of St.
George and a large representation of the society was in attendance. Rev. Stephen Polkinghorn preached the sermon. Interment was in the Ishpeming cemetery.

The Misses Abina Hanley, Minnie Callahan and Jennie Benedict, who have been in the employ of Landlord J. P.
Outwaite of the Nelson House for a number of years past, will leave this evening for Butte, Mont., where they will take positions in the New McDermott Hotel. All have had several years experience in hotel work. They will receive much better wages at Butte than is paid in any of the hotels of the upper peninsula.

BURNED TO THE GROUND.

Plant of the Dalton Packing Co. Totally Destroyed by Fire Saturday.

The worst fire which has occurred in this vicinity for many years broke out in the plant of the Dalton Packing company near the street railway power house at 4 o'clock Saturday morning. When discovered the flames were busy licking along the eaves of the structure and by seven, three hours after the fire was first discovered, the plant was a heap of smoking ruins. President Dalton of the company puts the loss in the vicinity of $20,000, but further investigation may establish that it is not quite so great. The insurance foots up to $6,650 and is carried in seven companies.

Caused by Lightning.

The fire was probably caused by lightning. A heavy electrical storm raged over this city about 12 o'clock Friday night and the lightning struck several times hereabouts. As there was no fire of any kind in the building when the last workman left for his home Friday evening, it would seem that it must have been fired by a stroke of lightning. As stated above, the fire was running along the eaves when discovered, but when some of the employees gathered they found the blaze hottest near the elevator well and the supposition is that the lightning struck in that portion of the building, and that the fire smoldered for two or three hours.

A man in the street railway power house saw a light in the building about three, but thought it was one of the men employed about the place carrying a lantern. He intended to watch the light but was called away to some duty and forgot it. The next thing he knew the foreman of the plant told him of the fire. The power house workman was able to see the light through an open window situated on the third floor through which one could look almost the entire length of that story of the plant.

Cooler Might Have Been Saved.

Delay in getting fire apparatus to the scene may be counted as the reason for the complete destruction of the plant. Telephonic communication with the Negaunee firemen showed that their engine was out of order and they stated that they could not do anything. Communication with Ishpeming was impossible for some time owing to the storm having disarranged the wires and it was not until 8 o'clock that the engine, Robert Nelson, finally arrived on the scene. No time was lost in getting down to pumping, but it was then too late to do anything. The workman who first discovered the fire is authority for the statement that if an engine had been on the scene at six the cooler could have been saved. There were some things like forty tons of ice in the box and this of course served to check the flames in that section of the plant, the ice melting slowly and the water was kept running down the wooden sides of that portion of the building for many hours after the rest of the structure was a mass of flames. As the cooler contained $4,000 worth of product, both finished and otherwise, it will readily be seen that a large portion of the loss might have been saved off if there had been prompt service from the firemen. No blame is attached to the firemen of this city for their inability to render aid, but the authorities, whose duty it is to attend to the repair of the engine, are blamed, and justly too. It was a sad piece of neglect and it will be a long time before it is lived down.

How the Fire Was Fought.

The workmen employed at the plant gathered at the burning building about 4 o'clock. Seeing that they could do nothing with the main building, they devoted their attention to the one situated immediately west, which is used as a warehouse and office. This structure lies about forty feet from the burned building with nothing between. At one time it was seriously threatened, but a change in the wind saved it from destruction. The office furniture was moved to a safe place, as was much of the stuff in the warehouse and the wagons and teams. A car of the wood was standing on the siding to the west of the burned building and this became ignited. No engine could be procured to haul it out of danger and it looked as if it would go. About this time the early morning freight over the Northwestern hove in sight and upon appeal the engineer ran in and hauled the car out of danger. About a quarter of the load was destroyed. When the Ishpeming engine arrived with a small force of men it was set at the side of the brook, about a hundred yards from the fire and it was soon sending a good stream through the hose. This was played on the ruins throughout the day, as the grease and grease-soaked wood burned for many hours after the walls had fallen in. The fire was one of the hottest ever known in this part of the country and it was impossible to get very near it before the building had collapsed.

Much credit is due the firemen of Ishpeming for the prompt manner in which they responded to the alarm, especially as a large number of them had been fighting the fire at the Lake Superior Hard Ore mine that night. The engine sent down is the one located in the Salisbury hose house, the other steamer being at the mine. Very little was known about the fire in this city or Ishpeming much before half-past seven. The authorities would not allow the bell to be rung here for some unknown reason and thus it was not until people were up and about that they learned the news. Ishpeming's telephone service was so badly disarranged that it was seven o'clock before the people there learned of the fire. The firemen who were finally caught on the other end of the wire understood from the workman that the fire was in the Breitung house, and later they thought he said Johnston house, Ishpeming, so it was some time before they got the trouble correctly located.

President James E. Dalton of the company was in Republic Friday evening and did not reach the ruined plant until shortly after 10 o'clock. He found time to stop the shipment of a car of hogs and cattle beef, but otherwise was a very busy man for the rest of the day and yesterday.

Treasurer Joseph J. Leffer was early on the scene and assisted in straightening things out. A. B. Miner of the management came just looking after the insurance and Carl Tellefsen of Hall & Moss was on hand on the same mission.

May Not Be Rebuilt.

President Dalton was unable to state whether or not the plant would be rebuilt. It is unlikely however that it will be. It has had a precarious existence from the first and had only recently begun to make both ends meet to say nothing about profits. Mr. Leffer was reticent on the subject. The concern was badly in debt and from the claims on its books and the interest on the management came just about pay the debts. It is the prevailing belief that the Dalton Packing company closed its active career Saturday, and that no time will be lost in finally winding up its affairs. Both Mr. Dalton and Mr. Leffer have the sincere sympathy of friends in this loss. Both had a great deal of money tied up in the business. Mr. Leffer is a man of considerable means, and can stand his loss, but Mr. Dalton has lost everything. He is a valuable man in the meat business, as his past record will attest, and will not be long out of employment, but his endeavor to build up a business of his own has resulted very unfortunately for him.

Only One Year Old.

The Dalton Packing company was organized last July and the plant had been in continuous operation since. When it was first formed Frederick Braastad, Joseph J. Leffer, James E. Dalton and a few others were financially interested. About six months ago Mr. Braastad withdrew, finding that it was not making money and this rather left the concern in the lurch. Both Dalton and Leffer shouldered the debts and started in to carry on the business, determining not to be downed. It was a hard struggle. "We were just getting where we could see a little way ahead," Mr. Dalton says. A general packing and beef business was conducted the first six months, but when Mr. Braastad withdrew only pork products were handled and on these the concern had been running, together with the beef agency which it held for the Omaha Packing company. The trade extended from Munising to Michigamme along the South Shore and down the Northwestern as far as Turin. An average business of $2,500 a week was done, but the profits were very small.

When it was first started twenty-five or thirty men were employed and the pay roll amounted to $300 a week. The cost of machinery was installed and no expense was spared to make this one of the best of the smaller packing establishments of the country. Many repairs were made to the building and a large amount of money spent in various ways. The business was not found to be the bonanza which was predicted and soon the killing of cattle was stopped. For sometime after, hogs by carload were slaughtered every week. Poultry was also handled in carload lots. Since the firm took the agency of the Omaha concern no killing has been done and an average of ten men has been the limit of the working force, including Mr. Dalton and the bookkeeper, Lev Seniling. The Miner's National bank of Ishpeming holds a large mortgage on the plant and product and Mr. Braastad holds a $6,000 note for the building. These with $16,000 paid in capital form the liabilities of the company. With the insurance running over $6,000 and bills receivable making another $6,000 the debts can be paid, but the investment in the plant is a dead loss.

ALL UP FOR THE ISLAND.

This being mid-summer day, the degree team of the Woodmen will run an excursion to Presque Isle over the L. S. & L. railway. Trains will leave at the regular Sunday hours and the round trip fare will be fifty cents. The Marquette Ideal orchestra will furnish the music at the island and dancing will be in order all day and also during the evening. A late train will be run, presumably at eleven o'clock, to accommodate those who wish to remain over. If the day be fair the boys will no doubt carry a large delegation of their friends to the beautiful resort.

SLOT MACHINES ORDERED OUT.

On Saturday Marshal Gribble visited all the saloons of Negaunee where slot machines have been in use of late and ordered the proprietors to either turn them to the wall or remove them entirely. This order was issued by Mayor Cannon and the marshal was permitted to carry out the instructions. The officer advised the reporter Saturday that there were machines in nearly every saloon in the city.

P. J. Pierce, chief of police of Manitowish, Wis., spent a few hours in Negaunee Saturday, having stopped off here between trains. He had a prisoner, arrested one day last week in the copper country, in charge.

The Italians made merry at eParee's grove Saturday in spite of the rain. Many of their Ishpeming brethren turned out and a very enjoyable day was passed by all. The Negaunee orchestra band furnished music throughout the day.

The board of school trustees recently examined all the school buildings of this district with a view to making repairs. The board found that with the exception of the Jackson building little needs to be done to put them all in excellent order.

Rex Seibert has resigned his position as mining engineer at the Negaunee mine to accept a similar position with the Champion Copper company. This is a distinct advancement for Mr. Seibert, and his many friends are cordial in their congratulations. He left for his new post on the 4 o'clock train Saturday afternoon.

The first train of the Woodmen's excursion to Presque Isle today over the L. S. & L. line will leave Ishpeming at 9 o'clock and Negaunee nine minutes later. The second train will leave Ishpeming at 1:30 p. m. and Negaunee at 1:39. Returning trains will leave the island at 5:25 and 10:30 p. m. The time of departure of trains announced on the posters is incorrect, an error having been made.

Poisoned by Absorption

POISON OAK, POISON IVY, BARBER'S ITCH, LEAD AND BRASS POISONING, ETC.
 Through the pores of the skin many poisons are absorbed into the blood, deranging the circulation and affecting the constitution as quickly and seriously as those generated within the system. Just under the skin are innumerable hair-like blood vessels, and connecting these with the skin are millions of small tubes or glands, through which the poison is conveyed to the blood system. During the spring and summer, while the skin is most active and the pores well open, we are much more liable to be affected by Poison Oak and Ivy and other dangerous plants. Workers in brass, copper, lead and zinc have their health impaired and the blood supply poisoned through the absorption of fine particles of these metals and the acids used in polishing and cleaning them. Inhaling the fumes of lead give painters that pallid, weary appearance of the skin. Barber's Itch is another disease that reaches the blood through the skin, and is a most obstinate one when it becomes firmly fixed in the system. After the poison has reached the blood and been disseminated throughout the system it is too late to resort to local applications. In many cases the blood is affected simultaneously with the appearance of the rash or eruption on the skin, and all efforts should be directed to the purification and building up of the blood. Ugly eruptions and sores will continue to break out in spite of salves, washes, soaps or other external treatment.

S. S. S. is especially recommended for poisons of this character. So completely does it destroy the effects of the Oak and Ivy that there is no possibility of its reappearance, and it is equally as efficacious in brass or lead poisoning or Barber's Itch; building up and purifying the blood and driving out of the circulation impurities of every kind, and removing every blemish, sore or eruption from the skin. There is no substitute for S. S. S.; it is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the safest and best in all constitutional or blood diseases.

Our Medical Consultation Department.—If you desire any special information or advice about your case, write our physicians, explaining your condition, and they will carefully consider what you have to say and you will receive a prompt reply. Our physicians have made a study of blood and skin diseases, and you can have the benefit of their experience and skill without any cost to you whatever. Don't hesitate to write fully about yourself, as nothing you say goes beyond our office. We have a very interesting book on Blood and Skin Diseases, which we will glad to mail free.

It cures all losses by day or night. Prevents squanders of discharges, which if not checked leads to Spermatorrhea and all the horrors of impotency. CUPIDENE cleanses the liver, the kidneys and the urinary organs of all impurities. CUPIDENE strengthens and restores small weak organs. The reason why sufferers are not cured by Doctors is because 90 per cent are treated with Prescriptions. CUPIDENE is a natural remedy to cure without operation, and is guaranteed. A written guarantee given and money returned if it does not effect a permanent cure. $1.00 a box for $3.00. Write for full particulars and testimonials. Address DAVOL MEDICINE CO., P. O. ### FIVE GRADUATES.

THEY LEAVE ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY THIS SPRING.

EXERCISES THURSDAY EVENING.

WILL ATTRACT USUAL ATTENTION AT OPERA HOUSE.

All the Young People Will Be Heard and Program Will Be Participated in by Other Classes of the School.

Marquette has one more commencement before all its young people can settle down to a period of summer repose and recreation. The public schools, grade and high, have concluded their closing exercises and their pupils now have complete liberty, but St. Joseph's academy and parochial school has yet to finish its year's labor. Its commencement is announced for the opera house Wednesday evening when the class of '01, comprising five members, four young ladies and a young man, will be formally presented with their diplomas at the conclusion of a program in which they and their fellow-pupils of the last few years will participate.

The class of '01 is somewhat larger than that graduated from the academy last year, the class of 1900 having but three members. The graduates this spring have completed their courses in a very satisfactory manner and they leave the school with good words and wishes from the Sisters of St. Joseph, in whose care they have been for the past several years.

The comparatively limited size of the class admits the hearing of each of the graduates and they are on the program for essays, the solitary young man being announced for an oration.

The commencement program has been carefully arranged and thoroughly prepared. It will be fully up to the standard of past years. The opera house will be handsomely decorated for the commencement. The usual interest in the exercises is apparent and a large assemblage of relatives and friends of the graduates will observe their exercises Wednesday evening.

Program in Full. Following is the commencement program. Chorus, "Praise Ye the Lord". Bordese Class. Salutory. Susan B. Kearney. Duet, Polacca Brillante (two pianos). Von Weber Op. 72. Hattie May Davenport, Jennie Bennett. Essay, "Conversation". Elizabeth A. Maney.

Piano, violin and mandolins, "Merriment." Music Class. "Mouvant des Roses." Senior Pupils. Chorus, "Over Fields of Clover". Gabel. Essay, "Books." Lucy A. Fitzgerald. Recitation, "Mary, Queen of Scots." Elocution Class. Violin and piano, "Fantaise." Hattie May Davenport, Jennie Bennett. Pantomime, "Story of Some Bells." Elocution Class. Oration, "Athletics and Education." Joseph Oliver Flannigan. Chorus, "Fisher Crew's Return." Veazie. Class. The valedictorian is Miss Mary Agnes Powers. The diplomas will be presented by Rev. Joseph G. Pinton, rector of St. Peter's. The class of '01 is composed of Mary Agnes Powers, Susan B. Kearney, Joseph Oliver Flannigan, Elizabeth A. Maney and Lucy A. Fitzgerald. Diplomas for music will be granted Hattie May Davenport and Jennie Bennett. The exercises were postponed from Thursday until Wednesday evening, on account of the death of Father Keller of Hancock, whose funeral will be held tomorrow.

FIFTY DOLLAR REWARD.

Offered for Definite Information Relative William H. Prior.

The fate of William H. Prior, keeper of the Big Bay light, is still in question. As outlined in Saturday's issue of The Mining Journal, he disappeared last week and has not been heard of. It is feared that he may have made away with himself. In any event his whereabouts and his manner of life during the past few days are matters of mystery. Marquette lodge, No. 108, of Odd Fellows is offering a $50 reward to the person who locates him if he is alive, or finds his body, if it develops that he has committed suicide. Mr. Prior is forty-five years of age. He is five feet, eight inches tall, weighs 175-180 pounds, has a sandy complexion, chin whiskers and mustache and when last seen wore navy blue trousers, a vest, a brown coat and a regulation lighthouse keeper's cap.

GOES TO DULUTH.

L. S. Humes Has Just Received a Fine Promotion.

L. S. Humes, for the past ten years manager of the Western Union Telegraph company's Marquette office, has received a fine promotion. He has been designated to assume charge of the company's Duluth office. He left for the head-of-the-lakes Saturday evening and the business was to be turned over to him yesterday. Mr. Humes leaves a large number of friends in Marquette, but there is a general feeling of pleasure and satisfaction at his promotion, as the Duluth office is a most important one and his new position will put him in line for still further advancement.

Mr. Humes first came to Marquette from Eau Claire, Wis., about a dozen years ago, to assume charge of the local office. He was here about a year when he was transferred to Minneapolis to take a position in the superintendent's office. He saw about twelve months' service there before he was transferred to Marquette again to take the management of the Western Union office. Since that time, about ten years ago, Mr. Humes has resided here continuously. He and his family will henceforth make their home in Duluth. His household goods are packed for shipment and Mrs. Humes and little son will leave Marquette as soon as Mr. Humes can locate a suitable house.

Mr. Humes' departure has paved the way for a number of changes in the Marquette office. He will be succeeded as manager by John McCann, who has been here for the past couple of years. Mr. McCann has been wire chief and chief operator. E. R. Aler, who has been taking The Mining Journal's Associated Press report, advances to assume Mr. McCann's old duties. A. A. Babcock of Cass Lake, Minn., is now here to take The Mining Journal's report.

During the years of Mr. Humes' management the Western Union business here has grown rapidly and it now has large proportions. The Marquette office, for several reasons, is one of the most important on the upper peninsula. It is a transfer point and many messages for different offices are rehandled here. It has quite a large staff of operators and part of its equipment, in addition to "quads" and "repeaters," is a big switchboard by which the wires throughout this district are regulated.

Altogether, its management presents difficulties which would be appalling to any but a skilled and experienced telegraph man. Such a one has been Mr. Humes and under his direction the office has been maintained at a high standard of utility, while its business has been all that could be asked. He has a capable successor in Mr. McCann.

Mr. Humes stands well with his superiors, being one of the company's old and trusted employees. His friends have realized for some time that it was simply a question of months when he would leave Marquette to accept a better position. Although regretting to lose him, they are glad he has been given such an important post as the one at Duluth, with every opportunity for further promotion. There are nothing but good wishes here for his success and continued advancement.

FRENCHMEN OFF.

St. Jean Baptiste Society Goes, En Masse, to Iron Mountain.

A big representation of Marquette Frenchmen is off to Iron Mountain, where the annual reunion of the French societies of the upper peninsula will be held, this morning. The St. Jean Baptiste society will turn out a big proportion of its membership and there will be, in addition, large delegations of unaffiliated Frenchmen and friends of the society.

The excursion will draw at least a couple of hundred people and this estimate may be largely exceeded. This will depend upon weather conditions, they being an important factor in determining the size of parties such as leaves Marquette county this morning. The Marquette society is accompanied by the Negames orchestra band, which it has engaged at a considerable expense. The band came to Marquette on the early train this morning for the purpose of escorting the members to their excursion-train. It will escort them in the grand parade, to move shortly after the arrival at Iron Mountain. The St. Jean Baptiste society will lead this parade.

At Iron Mountain everything possible has been done to assure a successful observance of the Midsummer festival and there is no doubt that the visitors will be well entertained.

Midsummer days will be more or less of a holiday here and Marquette people have been planning for some time how to spend it with the greatest pleasure or profit. Of course the Iron Mountain excursion will take a large representation from the city. Then there is the Woodmen picnic at Republic and the reunion of the Swedish societies at Ishpeming, both of which will draw considerable delegations.

Presque Isle will also be popular. The Negames Woodmen will make their third try at a picnic, unfavorable weather handicapping them in their two former efforts. The degree team will be down and it will go through all its drills and evolutions. The Woodmen have engaged the Marquette Ideal orchestra to play at the resort and there will be a dance through the afternoon and evening. This activity and life at Presque Isle will certainly attract a big delegation of townspeople and, if the weather is fair, the street railway company will have all the business it can handle.
