ALCOHOLISM CAUSED DEATH. Andrew Pausti, a Finlander, Found Dead at Hancock.

The body of Andrew Pausti, a Finlander, was found in the lavatory in the rear of J. H. Steinback's saloon on Tezcuco street, Hancock, at about 11 o'clock Thursday night by Frank Johnson, the bartender of the place.

The Mining Journal was yesterday informed by saloon keepers that Pausti was a habitual drinker but that he was scarcely ever given a drink, because as a usual thing he was without the price, which was the case Thursday night.

WINTHROPITES STIRRED UP. ALL IDLE MONDAY. Tilden Township People Do Not Take Kindly to School Tuition Proposition.

The announcement in this department a few days ago relative to the action of the Ishpeming school board in deciding to charge a tuition of $20 a year to all non-resident students attending the city schools caused more than a gentle ripple in Tilden township. With the proposed rule in effect, the people of the Winthrop will be greater sufferers than will be the residents of any other township adjacent to Ishpeming, as they send more students to the schools than, probably, all the other outside places combined.

The people of the Winthrop do not question the right of the local school board to adopt the new rule, but they do think it will be treating them rather shabbily to compel the children to pay tuition. They argue that the Winthrop is really a part of Ishpeming, inasmuch as all the residents of the township do their trading in town, thus contributing to the support of the business houses. It is estimated that anywhere from $30,000 to $35,000 a month is spent in the city by residents of Tilden township.

The Winthropites also call attention to the fact that the greater part of the taxes of the city is paid by the same corporations that contribute to the support of the location. This being true, they deem it still more unjust to compel their people to pay the fee. The question has been so warmly discussed at the Winthrop that a proposition to hold a public meeting for further consideration of the matter will likely prevail. A member of the Tilden township school board said this week that he was quite certain the people of the location would get together for a general discussion of the proposition, also for devising a plan whereby they may be able to influence the city school board to reconsider the matter, at least so far as their township is concerned.

An appeal may also be taken to the business men of the city, asking them to use their influence with the trustees to get the matter reconsidered. It will be shown in the petition that in case the tuition is imposed the burden will fall upon the shoulders of poor people who are unable to pay it. Four of the Winthrop children who had planned to attend the Ishpeming High school the coming year are fatherless and their mothers are making many sacrifices in sending them to school at all.

The highest grade taught at the Winthrop is the eighth. This is largely due to the fact that there is not enough school room to take care of pupils in the higher grades. It is now proposed, however, that two additional grades shall be added as soon as the new school is completed. With the higher studies, the Winthrop will be prepared to take care of its own students, except occasionally when the higher branches taught in the high school will be sought by the children.

What weight the proposed movement on the part of the township people will have with the city board remains to be seen. A man who has been asked yesterday advised a reporter that the question of taxation, etc., alluded to in this article was fully considered by the board. The ground is taken that students from one outside locality should not be given a preference; if one is to be taxed, all should be. The trustee further stated that the members of the board had the very kindest feeling for their friends at the Winthrop, but they could see no other alternative than to charge the non-resident students no matter whence they come. It is figured that the cost per capita of furnishing education to the Ishpeming children is $21. The cost of high school students is about $25. It was the wish of one member of the board that the tuition be placed at the latter figure.

The trustees realize that the advantages offered by the manual training school will eventually be the means of bringing many outside students to the school. One boy from Racine, Wis., has already applied and he will be here at the opening of the schools next week. In Wisconsin a law was enacted at the last session of the legislature, making it compulsory for all school boards to charge all non-resident students a tuition of $20. Many schools in the country to the cities to take advantage of the higher branches of education.

ASTONISHED THE EDITOR. Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. A cross nineteen feet high, bearing the figure of the Savior, has been erected in the Catholic cemetery. It stands directly opposite the main entrance. Miss Kate Maloney, who has been visiting her parents here for some time past, returned yesterday to Chicago to resume her work in the Lake Side hospital in that city.

Yesterday was by far the coldest day of the summer. Winter overcoats were called into use and at many places fires were started. The cold spell was preceded by a drizzling rain. Michael Ames, who has been the guest of his brother, James, for the past two weeks, left yesterday for Mackinac to spend a few days at that resort, before returning to his home in Chicago.

Slight repairs are being made at the new manual training school. Timbers are at work on the roof and some minor improvements are in progress. The building will be ready for occupancy when school convenes Tuesday.

Fifteen carpenters in the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company arrived in the city Thursday evening. They left yesterday for Clowery where they will be busy for a short time rebuilding a bridge. Mrs. J. Pellow has bought out Luff Bros' confectionery business. She has taken the big store room in the Dundon block, Main street, where she will serve lunches, ice cream, etc., as well as sell a general line of candy and fruit.

Miss Ida Gill is doing typewriting and stenographic work at Cooley & Sedgwick's office. She is prepared to do work in that line for all who desire it. The Ishpeming baseball team will play at Lake Linden tomorrow and Monday. Several teachers, whose homes are in the lower part of the state, returned yesterday after their summer vacation. More are expected today and tomorrow and by Tuesday morning the entire corps will be on hand to take up the regular work.

Miss May Kalink and Miss Anna Dennison, who have been attending Mrs. Treat's Kindergarten training school at Grand Rapids, returned yesterday afternoon, having completed the course. Miss Kalink has been appointed to a position at Michigan. Miss Lottie Rough entertained a number of her friends at a lawn party Thursday afternoon. The time was pleasantly passed with croquet and other outdoor games. A sumptuous supper was served at the conclusion of the afternoon's entertainment.

BIG SCOW BEACHED

WAS BEING USED IN TRENCHING THE NEW INTAKE PIPE.

OWNED BY WIN WILLIAMS.

VALUED AT $1,500, IT IS SAID TO BE A TOTAL LOSS.

Lake Superior Gale Dragged I from Its Moorings—Damage Wrought Through Filling of the Submarine Excavation.

Yesterday's blow on Lake Superior wrought considerable damage on the lake front at the point near the pumping station, where King & Steele of Duluth are busy with the contract of laying the new intake pipe. A large scow, owned by Win Williams and used on the trenching work, was wrecked early yesterday morning, and it now lies on the rocks south of the intake. It is said that it will be a total loss. It is worth somewhere in the neighborhood of $1,500. It was rented by the contractors and was being used by them at the time it went ashore, consequently they will be called upon to recompense Mr. Williams.

An attempt by the tug Schenck to pull the scow off yesterday failed through the parting of the tow line, one end of which forthwith became entangled in the tug's wheel. It was cut away by giving the engine steam, causing the propeller to revolve. This ended the efforts to recover the scow, whatever may be done when the storms blows itself out.

When the scow was moored a little off shore, it was not anticipated that the blow would prove of sufficient intensity to sweep it to the rocks. This danger was not foreseen, otherwise the scow would have been towed into the protection of the harbor.

Nor was the damage accomplished by the fierce waves confined to the beaching of the scow. They gave King & Steele a taste of what they must expect unless they speedily extend the pipe with which they are working to deep water. The contractors are still engaged in getting the first length to be extended from the water's edge properly trenched and the submarine excavation they have made was open to the waves yesterday, with the result that it was washed partially full of sand which will have to be removed before the work can progress from the point where it stood before the storm. This will cause some delay and no little expense, as it practically requires the contractors to do over again trenching they thought they had finished several days ago.

The first length of the new intake out from the water's edge was rolled into the trench a number of days ago, but developments showed that the excavation was not deep enough to allow it to lay properly and in the intervening time efforts have been made to remedy the trouble without fitting the pipe. This has been a slow and tedious task, as only the solitary diver could work at it and his labors have been confined to such a narrow space and have progressed under such difficulty that, of necessity, they have been quite inefficient. However, some progress had been made from day to day, practically all of which was undone yesterday.

This first length out from the water's edge is the stickler. When it is properly trenched, the laying of the remainder of the pipe will be a comparatively simple matter, as there will be little, if any, submarine excavating. The pipe can be all placed and moored in days where weeks will have been consumed in getting the improvement completed to the point it will reach when the present length is down.

"LOVERS' LANE."

It Will Be Presented by a Big Company Wednesday Evening.

Clyde Fitch's beautiful rustic play "Lovers' Lane," which will be seen at the opera house Wednesday evening, comes after long runs of five months in New York and three months in Chicago. "We don't want no billiard table, or playing cards in the young men's clubs," says the deacon to the young minister, whose trials he is trying to bring his congregation in the village out of the old-fashioned ideas. "Lovers' Lane" will be presented here in the same manner, in regards to cast and scenery, that has marked the plays success elsewhere. The tour is under the direction of William A. Brady.

DOT CONTEST CLOSES.

All Counts Will Have to Be in by Noon Today.

The Mining Journal's dot counting contest, which has been responsible for much interest among the readers of the paper for the past couple of weeks, closes at noon today and no counts will be received after that hour. Many subscribers have tried their luck in the contest, there being upward of four hundred returns. Some of the figures are right, but the great majority are more or less wide of the mark. Some counts are laughably distant from the proper number.

The announcements of the prize winners will be made in Monday's issue of The Mining Journal. The awards will be made exactly in accordance with the conditions outlined in the paper during the past couple of weeks. Checks will be mailed the winners Monday.

BALL MONDAY NIGHT.

Grafton Lodge of the Workmen Will Entertain at the Casino.

On the night of Monday, Grafton Lodge of the Workmen will entertain at the Casino rink, the occasion being its annual ball. For some time past the committees in charge have been engaged in completing the preparations, and as a result of their work they feel safe in guaranteeing all who attend a jolly good time. The hop will practically be the only observance of Labor Day, and this fact, coupled with the reputation in the entertainment line which the Workmen enjoy, will do much in bringing the attendance up to the large proportions anticipated.

Dancing will start about 9:30, to music furnished by the Marquette Ideal orchestra, and the grand march is scheduled to take place at 11 o'clock. Joe Hogan will do the prompting. Support will be served in the vacant store room in the Bertha block. Landlord Quarters of the Queen City Hotel doing the catering.

The hall has been thoroughly overhauled, in which work a liberal use of soap and water has figured, and has been tastily decorated with bunting and other materials generally used for the purpose. The Workmen desire to state that the best of order will be maintained, a condition that has been decidedly lacking at some dances held at the rink, and that the cloak room will be in capable hands.

Mayor Mangum, County Clerk Ross, Dr. W. H. Morse, A. Mantiel, C. A. Eggers, Geo. W. Rule, J. G. Stenglein and M. H. Ford are on the reception committee; the floor is in charge of Bert Salter, Frank Frei, Frank La Bonte, Fred Seigel, Otto Tuch, C. Rublein, Joseph Mahoney and P. Grant, while Frank Stiekney, G. H. Kemper, Jas. H. Bennett, J. B. Reaney, R. McKelvey and T. J. Downs are the committee on arrangements.

HEPPNER SELLS OUT.

John W. Deschaine of Bay City Will Conduct the Business.

John W. Deschaine of Bay City has purchased the bakery and ice cream factory of Fred Heppner and he will at once succeed him in the conduct of the business. Mr. Deschaine is not unknown in Marquette, as he has been here for some time each year for a long period. He is a well informed business man, thoroughly qualified to care for the Heppner trade to his satisfaction and to extend it beyond its present limits.

Mr. Heppner will be here at least a month, nominally in charge of the business, while Mr. Deschaine becomes acquainted with its details and with the customers. Then he and his family will leave for Detroit, where they contemplate remaining for about a year. It is his intention to settle ultimately at some point on the Pacific coast, although their plans are, as yet, quite nebulous.

Mr. Heppner has been in business in Marquette for the past seventeen years. By attending closely to his trade and by becoming thoroughly conversant with the methods of obtaining a fine product, he has built up a large and profitable bakery and ice cream factory. He has paid particular attention to the latter trade and, through his product of ice cream, his name is a byword all over the upper peninsula, he shipping it to all of the leading cities. Mr. Heppner and his family will leave Marquette with the best wishes of many friends.

EXTRAVAGANZA TONIGHT.

"Witch of the Woods" Will Be Given Its First Presentation.

"Witch of the Woods" will be given its initial presentation at the opera house this evening under the direction of Mrs. Harriet Purdy-Smith and the auspices of the Young Woman's Guild of St. Paul's. Mrs. Purdy-Smith will be seen in the title role, the principals in the cast being Everett Ball, Harold L. S. Johns, Morgan N. Jopling, Will Tucker, Jessie E. Palmer, Gladys F. Brown and Lizzie Hogan. This cast will be assisted by upwards of two hundred children and young ladies, who will be seen in various dances and unique turns. Specialties by Miss Norma Ross, Miss Neenie Hogan, Eddie Gilbert and Arthur Lawrence are announced.

Among the groups of dancers and other materials which will appear are the Greeks, the Parasols, the Songs Girls, the Living Dolls, the Ducklings, the Delmonico Waiters, the T-a-r-a-rum-boys, and, in addition, the Gavotte will be danced. The Skedaddlers' ball will be another feature. The children of "Way-off-land" will be numerous.

"Witch of the Woods" is an extravaganza without rhyme or reason, but it seems to be the universal testimony that it is a delightful and entirely satisfactory entertainment. It will be attractively staged and costumed.

There will unquestionably be a packed house this evening and a large assemblage is expected at the second presentation, Monday evening.

The patronesses are Mesdames. Ball, Johnson, Stewart, Rankin, Shiras and Jopling and Misses Thiel, Watson, Williams and Grylls.
