STRIKE IN BALANCE

TERMS OFFERED BY TRUST TO BE CONSIDERED TODAY.

SHAFFER DOUBTS RATIFICATION.

EXPRESSES HOPE, HOWEVER, OF AMICABLE SETTLEMENT.

Labor Leader Visits Combine's Offices, Presents Proposition That Is Rejected and Is Given Until Tonight to Accept Ultimatum.

New York, Sept. 5.—The steel strike conciliatory conference continued until 8:30 tonight. When the conference adjourned President Mitchell explained the point reached in the negotiations to be that the proposition of the steel corporation had not yet been acted upon by the Amalgamated, but the advisory board would probably reject it tomorrow. Nevertheless, he expressed hope the strike would be amicably settled. He said the propositions submitted by the Amalgamated had been rejected by the company. Then he secured the terms from President Schwab, but while the Amalgamated men did not think the time sufficient to consider them, the advisory board would meet on Friday.

The officers of the Amalgamated association later expressed their conviction that the terms will not be approved, but hope is entertained that a settlement of the conflict will yet be reached. It was learned late tonight that at the request of the conciliation committee, President Schwab has agreed to extend the time for the acceptance of the offer to tomorrow (Friday) evening.

PITTSBURG ANTICIPATES PEACE.

Opinion Is General That Great Steel Strike Is Near to Settlement.

Pittsburg, Sept. 5.—The prevailing opinion in Pittsburg tonight is that the great steel strike is practically settled, but absolutely nothing positive can be learned from either side.

Labor Board in Secret Session.

The day was spent by the Amalgamated advisory board in secret conference. When the final adjournment for the day came those who had been inside refused to say a word and volunteered no statement. When the meeting was over, it was learned for the first time that President Shaffer had not been with his colleagues during the afternoon session, and his whereabouts up to 11 o'clock tonight were unknown. Secretary Williams also disappeared shortly after adjournment and cannot be located. It is the belief that the two gentlemen have started on another visit to New York. It is believed the morning session of the advisory board must have decided upon a plan by which Shaffer could go to New York and complete the arrangements for peace.

The only approach to a statement of the condition of affairs was made by the two gentlemen who said it was impossible to accept the proposition made by the steel corporation, as by doing so some of the members of the Amalgamated would suffer. His intimation that the Amalgamated was willing to arbitrate the differences indicates that all efforts for peace have not been abandoned.

Big Gain Scored by Trust.

The officials claim a big gain in the addition of 225 men at the National tube works at McKeesport, making the total number at work 625; and also accessions at the Pennsylvania tube works and the Continental tube plant in this city. The strikers offset this by claiming that the Denmler tin mill could not be started this morning, as officially scheduled, because of lack of men.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 5.—The striking steel workers met in joint session today for three hours, but without important developments so far as could be learned. The representatives authorized to speak for the strikers say the men are standing firm. They do not credit the report of the Joliet mills as non-union plants. The officials of the Swansea lodge of the tin plate strikers here agitate breaking away from the Amalgamated.

STOCKADES GOING UP.

Trouble Looked for in Strike Threatened Kansas Coal Fields.

Pittsburg, Kas., Sept. 5.—The miners' strike situation looks more serious tonight.

The miners' national board has authorized the district board to use extreme measures if necessary to force the "Big Four" operators to terms. President Richardson said: "We will order a strike tomorrow if we find no other way of securing a settlement. Ninety per cent of the men will walk out."

All the companies are preparing for trouble. Stockades are being built about the mines and guards posted. There is bad feeling between the union and non-union men, and serious trouble may ensue. The calling of a strike can hardly be avoided, as failure to strike would, in the mind of the miners, mean disorganization of the union. The companies offered every concession except recognition of the union.

CHICAGO SCHOOL BOARD ENJOINED

Catholics Secure Injunction Against Purchase of Free Text Books.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Judge Vail today issued a temporary injunction restraining the purchase of free text books by the Chicago school board. The main allegation is that the school board, in buying books for the use of pupils, would act in excess of the power legally delegated to it. The petition was filed by members of St. George's Roman Catholic church.

PORTE PROTESTS TO LONDON.

Landing of a Turkish Expedition Prevented by British Warship.

Constantinople, Sept. 5.—The Turkish ambassador in London has been instructed to inform Great Britain that the action of the commander of a British warship in the Persian gulf in preventing a Turkish corvette from entering Kowet is incompatible with friendly relations. The British side of the controversy is that the corvette was trying to land Turkish troops on the territory of a sheik who is independent of Turkey.

M'KINLEY MAKES SIGNIFICANT SPEECH AT PAN-AMERICAN.

GREETED BY ENORMOUS CROWD.

REPEAL OF UNNECESSARY TARIFFS ADVOCATED BY PRESIDENT.

Says Extension of Trade by Means of Reciprocity and Otherwise Is Urgent, Remarks That Excite Keen Interest in London.

Buffalo, Sept. 5.—President's Day at the Pan-American exposition was blessed with ideal weather and probably the greatest crowd that ever assembled on the esplanade at the exposition grounds greeted the president with ringing cheers as he entered the stand erected there, soon after ten this morning. The esplanade was crowded to suffocation and the vast assemblage overlooked to the court fountains.

President Millburn introduced the president, who spoke at great length. After expressing his appreciation of the people's hospitality extended him and the welcome of the foreign commissioners to the exposition, the president spoke of the benefits to be derived from expositions, saying they stimulated the world's advancement to high degree and broadened and brightened the daily life of the people. He next touched upon the success of art, science, industry and invention, pointing out that the requirement of swift ships, fast trains and the telegraph had brought into close relation widely separated peoples and made them better acquainted, giving to the country vast markets for its products.

Advocates Reciprocity.

The president said the trade statistics indicated the country in a state of unexampled prosperity. The figures were almost appalling, and the problem of more markets required urgent and immediate attention; that if some of our tariffs are no longer needed for revenue or to encourage and protect our industries at home, they should be annulled and reciprocal means employed to promote markets abroad. He declared that the needs of the times are direct commercial lines from our vast fields of production to fields of consumption that have been barely touched. The merchant marine must be encouraged, the isthmian canal must be built and the Pacific cable constructed. He closed with a touching reference to the part taken by Blaine in propagating the Pan-American movement.

At the New York state building at 1:30 this afternoon a notable gathering sat down to an informal luncheon. President McKinley was in the center of the main table. On his right were Senator Don Menned de Azpiroz, ambassador from Mexico, the Duke de Aros and other diplomats, and at his left Hon. Daniel N. Lockwood; James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, and the members of the New York state board.

At 3:20 o'clock the president and party visited the government building, where he was received by federal troops. He held a reception in the main building and was kept busy shaking hands for over twenty minutes. A pleasing incident occurred while the president was making the rounds of the government building. He noticed Captain Hobson standing at attention. Halting, he turned and walked briskly over to the hero of the Merrimac, grasped him cordially by the hand and chatted with him for a few minutes.

Tonight the president again visited the grounds to see the fireworks.

His Speech Excites London.

London, Friday, Sept. 6.—President McKinley's speech at the Pan-American exposition is a theme of much comment in the London papers this morning. "It will excite throughout Europe," says The Standard, "as keen interest as it will arouse in the Western continent. It is the utterance of a man who feels that he is at the head of a great nation with vast ambitions and new-born consciousness of strength.

"America has become an imperial power. Her national life is no longer self-contained and introspective. Heedless of scoffers at 'spread eagles,' the United States will go its way regardless of attempted combinations such as Count Golschowski has sketched and with certain carelessness whether or not they come into violent conflict with any European power."

The Morning Post uses the speech as a text from which to urge the necessity resting upon Great Britain to redouble its efforts to maintain trade supremacy.

The Chronicle says: "The free trade tendency of the speech, under the name of reciprocity, outweighs in importance all the president's remarks about kinship, canal and the like."

SPANISH PILOT TO TESTIFY.

Man Who Directed Cervera's Fleet to Be Witness at Schley Inquiry.

Washington, Sept. 5.—It was stated at the navy department today that Admiral Schley's latest request as to the summoning of witnesses will be granted. This will have the effect of bringing here all of the Schley witnesses at an early day in order that a conference may be held with the counsel for the admiral. It is also understood that Captain Nunez, a Spanish pilot who was a close observer of the battle of Santago Bay, having piloted Cervera's squadron out of the bay on the day of the sortie, is to be requested by the navy department to come as a witness.

MILL OF THE FORESTER LUMBER COMPANY IS DESTROYED.

LOSS FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

150 MEN ARE IDLE AS A RESULT OF THE BLAZE.

Flames at Jefferson, Wis., Do $60,000 Damage, Threaten to Wipe Out the Entire Town and Render the Citizens Panic-Stricken.

Munising, Mich., Sept. 5.—The Forester Lumber company's mill burned at 2 o'clock this morning. The loss is $50,000, and 150 men are thrown out of employment.

Costly Blaze in Badger Town.

Jefferson, Wis., Sept. 5.—Fire today that started in the Wisconsin Manufacturing company's plant threatened to destroy the town and caused a loss aggregating about $60,000. The manufacturing company's loss is estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000, with an insurance of $9,500. The other losses are: St. Mary's Episcopal church, $3,000; Gottlieb Bros., $500; Wm. Rockroff, $500; O. J. Kerstensteiner, $600. Frank Weaver, John Roessler, Charles Zohler, Charles Schweiner and F. L. Reinel suffered smaller losses.

Fire brands were blown to other parts of the city and started many smaller blazes. The citizens were panic-stricken and help was summoned from Johnson's Creek, Fort Atkinson, Watertown and Janesville. They subdued the small fires and protected the other plants. Hundreds of citizens moved their household goods to places of safety.

River Steamer Burns in Iowa.

Muscatine, Ia., Sept. 5.—The steamer Urania burned to the water's edge here tonight. A large excursion from Burlington people returning home from Davenport escaped without loss of life. The Urania was lately purchased at Cincinnati for $17,000 and was fully insured.

EXCITING RACE AGAINST TIME.

Important Mail Being Rushed Across Continent to Catch Ocean Liner.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—A carload of important Australian mail is being rushed across the continent with the utmost speed that ingenious railroad men can command, to catch the Southampton mail steamer Antwerp at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. In an effort to make a connection, a special from Omaha is speeding toward Chicago tonight, with the right of way. In case of failure to connect here, a special will be sent to overtake the regular train at Cleveland. To overcome an advantage of one hour, it will have to average better than a mile a minute from here to Cleveland.

METHODISTS VETO OVERTURES.

Ecumenical Conference Declines to Hear Messages from Episcopalians.

London, Sept. 5.—The ecumenical Methodist conference today unanimously declined to hear the secretary read a message from the Archbishop of Canterbury in which he expressed the hope that some day the Methodists would be united with the Episcopalians, and one of similar import from the Bishop of London, on the ground that they have been addressed to the editor of a religious newspaper and not to the conference.

COLUMBIA CHOSEN

OLD CRAFT WILL AGAIN DEFEND AMERICA'S CUP.

CLUB COMMITTEE DECIDES IT.

NEWS ELATES THE CREW OF LIPTON'S CHALLENGER.

Feel Yankee Yacht Not Improved Sufficiently to Beat the New Shamrock, While at London the Verdict Is Hailed With Joy.

Boston, Sept. 5.—A protest against the right of the New York Yacht club to exclude Independence from entering the trial races, and threatening in the event of Shamrock II "lifting the cup" to ask an injunction from the United States court to prevent the club from turning over the cup to Sir Thomas Lipton, was sent to that organization tonight.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 5.—After a conference of two hours today between the members, the challenge committee decided to select Columbia as the defender of America's cup.

Big Surprise at Bristol.

Bristol, R. I., Sept. 5.—The announcement of the selection of Columbia was a great surprise to President H. B. Herreshoff, of the Herreshoff company, but he declined to discuss the committee's action. The news was received with great regret in Bristol. It is the very general feeling here that Constitution is the better boat and ultimately she would prove herself to be all right. The Bristol people, however, have the utmost confidence in Columbia's ability to defeat Shamrock.

Verdict Pleasing to Englishmen.

New York, Sept. 5.—After waiting three hours for a breeze it was decided not to take Shamrock II out for a trial spin today. At noon the Associated Press dispatch announcing that Columbia had been selected to defend the cup was handed to Sir Thomas Lipton. After reading it he said: "I thank you for your information. Of course, I shall abide by any decision the committee may make. I am sure they have made the proper selection, for I know their judgment is correct. All I want is to sail Shamrock against the fastest boat in America, and if it is Columbia, we are ready. I am glad the decision has been made."

Captain Sycamore seemed pleased. "We have thought all along," he said, "that she would be the best, and I am sure anything the New York Yacht club does is satisfactory."

There seems to be a jubilant feeling among the crew of Shamrock at the selection of Columbia. They have not much to say, but it is plain they feel encouraged. At the prospect of meeting the old defender, for they do not believe she has improved enough to beat Shamrock II in any kind of weather.

No Change in the Betting.

New York, Sept. 5.—The news of the selection of Columbia to meet Shamrock II, when received at the stock exchange, apparently caused no great amount of Shamrock money to uncover. Nor did it effect the odds formerly obtained by the backers of the visitors. But little betting was recorded during the day. One wager of $500 on Columbia to $400 on Shamrock was made. An offer of $1,000 even money on Columbia was made with no takers.

Confidence Gains in England.

London, Friday, Sept. 6.—The selection of Columbia is a matter of great satisfaction to the British press. The chances of the race are now regarded as even; but there is no disposition to express overconfidence in the result. It is generally conceded that Constitution might prove the faster boat had there been sufficient time for further experiments and tuning up.

CHINESE READY TO SIGN NOW.

Suspicion That the Delay Was Utilized With Effect in Germany.

Pekin, Sept. 5.—Li Hung Chang tonight notified the foreign ministers that the imperial edicts providing for the signing of the peace protocol had arrived. This announcement, made immediately after the settlement of the difficulties which Prince Chun experienced before going to Berlin, confirms the impression here that the Chinese used the protocol to induce Emperor William to waive the low-tow ceremony.

Chun Received by the Empress.

Potsdam, Sept. 5.—Prince Chun today witnessed the field exercises and parade march of the First Regiment of Royal Guards. The empress received the prince at noon.

BIG DEAL IN TIMBER LANDS.

Tract of 50,000 Acres in Oregon Sells for Half a Million.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 5.—A. B. Hammond of this city has purchased the largest unbroken tract of timber land still remaining in first hands in this state. It is a tract of 50,000 acres. Associated with him is Charles J. Winton of Wausau, Wis. The price is reported at about half a million dollars.

CATARH

Catarh has become such a common disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with. It is customary to speak of Catarh as nothing more serious than a bad cold, a simple inflammation of the nose and throat. It is, in fact, a complicated and very dangerous disease; if not at first, it very soon becomes so.

Mr. T. A. Williams, a leading drug-goods merchant of Spartanburg, S. C., writes: "For years I had a severe case of Catarh, with all the disagreeable symptoms which belong to that disease, and which made life painful and unendurable. I used medicines prescribed by leading physicians and suggested by numbers of friends, but without getting any better. I then began to use S. S. S. It had the desired effect, and I cured me after taking eight or ten bottles. In my opinion S. S. S. is the only medicine now in use that will effect a permanent cure of Catarh."

DAILY MINING JOURNAL, A MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY THE MINING JOURNAL CO. (LIMITED.) Issued daily except on Sundays. Contains Associated Press dispatches and is especially devoted to Upper Peninsula interests.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich. It is announced that Admiral Sampson is going to attend the sessions of the Schley court of inquiry "to defend his record during the West Indian campaign."

The sultan of Turkey continues to delay a settlement with France. One of these days he may find French guns sending him an ultimatum that he will have no difficulty in understanding, and if that should happen he will "come down" with more celerity than grace.

The German newspapers find much fault with Vice President Roosevelt's outline, in his recent speeches, of what the policy of this country should be with reference to resistance to European encroachment on the American continent. He is quite too sturdily American in his views to suit them.

Mayor Rose of Milwaukee is credited with an inordinate ambition by some of the papers of his state, these going even so far as to assert that he has dreams of being president some happy future day. The Cream City mayor is a likely politician, but bigger men than he have dreamed of the same thing without ever coming near a realization of the hope that beguiled them.

Havana and Santiago have been breeding places for yellow fever for centuries, but American sanitation, since we have had charge of these cities, has eradicated its germs. The Spaniards were unable to fight the plague effectively because they lacked capacity for enforcing obedience to regulations for maintaining cleanliness among the people of these cities.

Anything for a quiet life! The Mining Journal is willing to grant that the Houghton daily is the greatest thing that ever happened in the journalistic world since the first newspaper made its timid bow to the public; that it has the most brilliant editor, the most capable business manager, the most liberal lot of stockholders, the finest plant and the largest circulation of any paper published in Michigan; that it receives a telegraphic news report so complete that it is able to print but a part of it each day; that its staff of "trained mining reporters" under the direction of their tireless chief, is accomplishing wonders in the way of collecting reliable news about the copper mining industry in its own immediate vicinage from the columns of the Boston and other papers on its exchange list, and that it is as pretty as it is good.

What he doesn't know. As a rule, when educated Englishmen attempt to discuss American affairs, they flounder badly. A recent instance is found in the Fortnightly Review, in which Mr. Sidney Brooks attempts to discuss the insular decision of our supreme court. He says: "The constitution, it is decreed, does not follow the flag; America is both a republic and an empire, and all men under the stars and stripes are no longer free and equal, for some are citizens of other subjects. It is a momentous judgment; five years ago it would have been an incredible judgment. Five years ago no American would have thought of disputing the constitution and the flag were inseparable, that where one went the other was bound to go with it."

men are so much in love with it that it is eagerly taken and rapturously read by both the officials of a mine where the men are out on a strike and their striking employees. OUR BEST SUGAR INDUSTRY. The growing belief that the United States will shortly be able to produce from beets the $100,000,000 worth of sugar which her people now annually import seemed to be shared by British Consul Wyndham, who has given the subject close attention and reported upon it to his government, says the American Economist.

outlying unorganized territory belonging to the United States as it please to; that working in that capacity there is no empire rule, but rather the rule of all the free people of the United States, and that behind them is the theory that whatever is done must be on lines leading up to the same freedom that they themselves are enjoying? That more, this is a necessity, for the constitution was framed for sovereign states where the people are enlightened and self-governing, whereas in outside territory there might be lawless bands or armed insurgents, or a majority of the people might hug a faith which gave no true allegiance to the sovereign government of the republic?

If this Mr. Brooks has read the constitution of the United States, he has not yet taken on the spirit of American institutions, and he is a poor student of the political history of this country, or he would know that the decision over which he so much marvels is, in fact, but a confirmation of the acts of President Jefferson in dealing with outside, unorganized territory, and he missed the stately words of the great expounder of the constitution, delivered before that same tribunal more than fifty years ago, one paragraph of which reads as follows: "The constitution is extended over the United States and nothing else. It cannot be extended over anything except over the old states and the new states that shall come in hereafter, when they do come in."

Now, Daniel Webster, who spoke those words, was in touch with many of the men who helped frame the constitution, and he knew the political history of the country perhaps better than any other man; the history and the spirit that governed in the making of that history. If Mr. Brooks will devote a day to looking up the history of what has been done and said in this very subject in the past, he will, for all his life to come, be more careful about delivering opinions on subjects on which at best he has only a smattering of the facts for a guide, and which in some respects are beyond not only his knowledge, but also his comprehension of the spirit behind the knowledge.

COPPER COUNTRY NEWS. (Additional.) COPPERDOM BREVITIES. The copper country branch office of The Mining Journal is located in Room 3, second floor of the Dea Postoffice building, Houghton. All having business with the paper are cordially invited to call. Telephone No. 376.

Howard Clement Vanderbilt of Chicago is a visitor in Houghton. He will visit the mines of the county before returning home. Mr. Doering of Hancock, who suffered a loss of several hundred dollars by fire in his residence Wednesday afternoon, had no insurance.

The five-year-old son of John Elila of Hurontown died Wednesday afternoon. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Matt McConnell and daughter, Miss Grace, of Houghton left yesterday morning for Marquette, where they will visit relatives for a few days.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Daniel W. Kumpula and Wendella Wianika, both of Calumet, and August Isakson and Hilja Abrahamson, both of Hancock. Guy Moore, who has been in the employ of I. E. Swift & Co. of Houghton, has resigned and left yesterday afternoon for Superior, where he will take another position. Henry A. are many other reasons why an office should be located here expressly for the benefit of the marine interests. Mr. Webster has filed an application for the establishment of one here, and it will be backed up by facts and figures such as the officials must recognize. We believe that another session will see the request granted.

The Menominee federal building is to be completed by October 15, if the contract is honored, or the contractors will be compelled to forfeit a considerable sum each day thereafter until the work is finished, says the Herald. The contracts for all of the material, even to the furniture, have been awarded. The furniture contracts aggregate $3,000. B. B. Moses & Sons of Washington, D. C., will supply the chairs and more expensive furniture for the building; A. H. Revel & Co., Chicago, the desks, tables and wardrobes; the Square People's Furnishing Co., of Menominee, the mats, spittoons, curtains, etc., and Mitchell & Vance of New York, will provide the combination electric and gas light fixtures. The plumbing and heating systems are in place, but the work is progressing only slowly. The carpenters are at work. The force will be increased this week.

The A. W. Clark Lumber company will rebuild its match block factory, saw mill and dry kiln, which were destroyed by fire at Menominee Saturday afternoon. The plant will be replaced on an extensive scale. The work of rebuilding it will undertaken as soon as the insurance claims are adjusted. The company will, in the meantime, provide employment for a part of its force by operating the sash and door plant which has lain idle for several months. This plant will be ready for a start this week. The company carried $25,000 insurance on the plant, $2,500 on its contents and $1,000 on the contents of the dry kilns, total $32,500. The estimated loss is over $40,000. Fire Chief Collins says that the origin of the fire is still unknown. The Menominee Electric Manufacturing company suffered about $200 damage to its coke and steel storage building, the roof of which caught fire. This building contained over $3,000 worth of steel and coke and had it burned the company would have lost over $4,000, as steel has gone up since this lot was purchased. Their loss is covered by insurance.

Upperr Peninsula. Word comes from San Francisco that Jacob Mortenson, president of the Garth Lumber company of Menominee, has closed a deal for the purchase of 3,000 acres of redwood timber land in Oregon. The deal, so the report says, involves over $500,000. It is understood that Mr. Mortenson secured this big tract, which contains millions of feet of timber, as a speculation.

Captain Robert S. Welch of the Soo has presented to Judge Steere a badge that is an interesting souvenir of the Philippine insurgent government. In one of the campaigns in which Captain Welch participated he was instrumental in capturing an insurgent court while it was in session. Each of the judges wore, suspended from a silver chain, a triangular badge of silver, on which was inscribed the insignia of his office and the insurgent seal. Capt. Welch presented one of the badges, and it now adorns a bust of Blackstone in Judge Steere's room in the court house of Chippewa county.

The Menominee Range Street Railway company has applied for a franchise for occupying the Iron Mountain streets for the purpose of operating the system it proposes to build there. The company has already secured a franchise from Breitung township and its application for another is now before the Norway council. It is the intention of the promoters to build the line from Iron Mountain to Vulcan and they are now getting franchises in the intermediate points, wherever necessary. Work on the road will not begin until next May, but by the following fall it is expected that all, or the greater part of it, will be in operation.

Once again Mayor Hammond of Iron Mountain refuses to sign the checks of Officers Gleason, Costa and Freidstrom. These policemen were off duty under suspension by the mayor for two weeks last month. They were reinstated by the council with the agreement, it is said, that they be given pay for the time they were not working and he finally let on Sept. 1. Mayor Hammond said this week that if this bargain were really made, and he was sure it was, he would not sign the checks, although he would affix his signature to the aldermen would demonstrate that they were acting in good faith when they reinstated the officers.

Mrs. Mary Dittmore, who lives at 1109 Dunlap avenue at Menominee, will be arrested at the command of the health department as soon as the quarantine for scarlet fever is relieved at her home, says the Herald. Her visitation of the health laws was most flagrant. The house has been quarantined for several weeks, and the house was still placed when, on Labor Day, she allowed her two daughters to visit Riverside park, exposing hundreds of people. The warrant has been sworn out and will probably be served this week. The health department is very vigilant in protecting the public and this violation of the laws will be punished.

The Gladstone Delta asserts that the Standard Oil company will soon begin to explore the Bay de Noc peninsula. Surface indications point to petroleum natural gas, or coal, either bituminous or anthracite. There have been some efforts made in past years to explore the Bay de Noc peninsula, with the result that only hearing rock and other indications have been exposed. The exploration will be conducted by the firm of Wilbur, Herring & Boggs of Lima, Ohio. Work will be begun on the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of Section 8, Town 39 N., Range 21 W. The whole peninsula is to be thoroughly tested, and some 12,000 acres of land are under option for exploration.

Postmaster Webster's effort to secure a marine post office for Sault Ste. Marie should, as no doubt it will, receive favorable consideration by the department, says the News-Record. The importance for establishing such an office at this point must be recognizable to anyone who will give the matter a moment's thought. It is the only stop-boat mail hauling from lower lake ports until they reach the head of Lake Superior. Many seamen desire to send money home, and the establishment of an office here with a money order department attached thereto would enable them to do this without delay. Every day, during the season, Canadian boats pass through the locks, having on board persons who desire to mail letters. They may be well supplied with Canadian stamps, which are useless here. They haven't the time to make the post-office and letters and often business of an important character have to wait. Many seamen have no other postoffice than the Soo locks, and depend entirely upon getting their mail here, and nine out of every ten call for mail. There

FIRE AT CHAMPION MILLSITE.

Blaze Starting from Sparks Said to Have Burned Several Camps. Word was received at Houghton yesterday afternoon of a fire at the Champion mill site. The location, of course, is as yet without fire protection.

NOTED WRESTLERS TO MEET.

Ziehr and Jones to Meet in Match for $200 and Gate Receipts. Joe Ziehr, the lightweight wrestler who defeated Al Comers in the Labor Day contest at Calumet, has been matched to meet William Jones, the champion of Montana, at Calumet on Sept. 28. Jones is in Calumet at present and witnessed the matches last Monday. He did not enter because he was desirous of meeting the winner of all the bouts in a separate match. The date of the sport is now looking forward to the match between these two men, each being considered a phenomenal wrestler. The purse will be for $200 and all the gate receipts. The contest is to be in the Cornish style and the best two out of three falls.

SALOON KEEPERS SCORED.

Editor of Liquor Dealers' Journal Not Pleased With Houghton Mission.

According to Truth some of the saloon keepers of Houghton are good fellows while others are just the opposite in every way. Truth is a paper published ever so often in the interests of the saloon keepers, and it must not be confused with the delightful magazine of the same name. One Burch edits the Truth. He is described as a tall man who wears glasses and a crop of straggling whiskers. Burch visited the copper country not long ago and dropped into Houghton especially to see his friends—those saloon keepers who subscribed for his paper. Incidentally he called on several proprietors who did not want the Truth and who turned a deaf ear to Burch and walked away. It seems that he holds the opinion that every saloon keeper should have his paper and that a saloon is not complete unless he thinks it should be proceeded to "roast" those who cannot agree with him. In the last issue of the Truth several saloon keepers of Houghton are highly praised while others are scored and one in particular, who is generally looked upon as a good fellow, gets about a column and a half in which he and his place are described as anything but what they really are. Burch is long on his roasts, which are read with nothing more than amusement. His paper costs two dollars a year and apparently for every refusal he gets he writes out two dollars' worth of revenge and in some cases adds a little more.

INSURANCE BUSINESS RUSHING.

People Also Now Thinking of Better Fire-Fighting Systems.

As a result of the recent fires in copperdom, the fire insurance business is rushing many new policies having been taken out during the past few days. Incidentally the visit of the fire chief is having effect in other directions. At South Lake Linden, where the water supply is inadequate the people are now more united than ever in the movement to have the town incorporated as a village in order that a better water system may be had. The improvement is sadly needed and when it is inaugurated the residents will feel more safe from the ravages of the flames. At present the town is in such position that a fire fanned by a good wind is apt to cause much damage in spite of all the firemen can do. Hancock's water system is well suited for the fighting of fires in the village proper, but not in some places along the lake shore, as was evidenced by the blaze which destroyed the Armstrong-Thielman Lumber company's plant, because in those sections the pressure is not strong enough to throw the streams to any considerable distance. A hydrant here and there, perhaps, would facilitate the work of the firemen.

CENTENNIAL AND WOLVERINE.

Views of Mineral Statistician Concerning Them and Atlantic as Well.

[From Forthcoming Report of Commissioner of Mineral Statistics.]

Since the publication of my last report there has been a change of great importance in the Centennial, further than that the opening of a new mine on the Kearsarge amygdaloid is progressing steadily and with satisfactory results. An assessment of $5 per share, amounting to an even half million dollars, was levied last February, and was well received by shareholders, it being felt that the money was needed for the legitimate development of the mine. The old shafts on the Calumet conglomerate are completely abandoned, which is much the best use that can be made of them. But little work has been done of late in the shafts on the Osceola lode, which are too good to be condemned, but not good enough to make a first-rate mine. They will be of use in furnishing auxiliary supplies of stamp rock when the new mine on the Kearsarge is fully opened, and in that way will be of some little value.

The showing on the Kearsarge amygdaloid is improving slowly but steadily, as depth is attained, and the future of the mine is now brighter than ever before in its long and somewhat checkered career. There have been times when greater promises were made, but there is no touting of horns at present, which is just as well. There was newspaper talk in the late spring of the possibility of an arrangement would be made between the Centennial and Arcadian companies, by which the mill of the latter would be used by the mine of the former, but these seem to have been either premature or unfounded—probably the latter. The Centennial company owns one of the finest unimproved mill sites in the entire copper district, located on the eastern shore of Torch Lake, opposite the giant mills and smelters of the Calumet & Hecla. It is to be hoped that the development of the mine will soon warrant the construction of a new and modern mill. The mill now in use is very old, and while it serves the purpose of providing a considerable revenue toward meeting the expenses of the property, it is not of the sort that earns dividends. The production of refined copper by the Centennial mine for the year 1900 was $92,500 pounds.

The management of the company is the same as last year, with H. F. Fay president, James Clynover superintendent, John M. Wagner clerk and John Pentecost mining captain.

Wolverine.

The Wolverine mine is sometimes called "the little Calumet & Hecla" and is a considerable revenue producer. Its progress, from 1894, when it was a mine with a dubious past and an uncertain future, has been most rapid, and in the past seven years it has emerged from obscurity to a point where it now ranks with the Calumet & Hecla, Tamarack, Quincy, Osceola and Atlantic, as one of the permanent dividend-paying properties of the Lake Superior copper district. Its steady growth as a producer is shown by the following table, giving annual production in pounds of refined copper for the past five years:

Table with 2 columns: Year and Production. 1896: 2,196,791; 1897: 2,316,296; 1898: 4,588,111; 1899: 4,500,373; 1900: 4,789,829

Starting production with a single stamp at the mine, the mill and its appliances being far from modern, the Wolverine expanded in 1898 by leasing one stamp at the Alouez mill, and despite the handicap of producing its mineral from two separate mills, both small, the property has done an enviable position both as regards production, costs and profits. The Wolverine is making copper more cheaply than any other amygdaloid mine in the district, and when its new mill is completed will probably be in a position to turn out metal at a lower cost per pound than any mine of the Lake district with the possible exception of the Calumet & Hecla.

Work on the construction of a new mill was started in the spring of 1901. The site is opposite that of the Mohawk, on Traverse bay, Lake Superior. The rock will be hauled over the Mohawk & Traverse Bay railroad, which is completing its new line. The new mill will start with two stamps, which can treat about 500 tons each daily, as against an average of about 350 tons now crushed by each of the two stamps in use, so that an increase of at least 40 per cent may be looked for in the production of the mine as soon as the new mill is in operation. As the mill will also be a reduction in milling costs, the earnings of the mine will show an increase of nearly 50 per cent, given a continuation of the market prices of copper that have prevailed for the past two years.

Underground the mine was never looking better than at present. The reserves have been added to steadily, and the starting of the new mill will find the mine with more stores than ever before. It is probable that a third head will be added in a short time after the new mill starts, and the mine can be made to supply the rock without undue crowding. Three heads in the new mill would more than double the productive capacity of the mine. The Wolverine is paying regular semi-annual dividends of $2 per share, in addition to which the new mill is being paid for out of the surplus, which on July 1, 1901, had reached the handsome figure of $540,141.88. The eastern offices of the company are at 11 William street, New York, with John Stanton president and John R. Stanton secretary and treasurer. At the mine, Fred Smith, who has been in charge since it was a piling infant, is still the capable head of the property, and Willard E. Smith is mining engineer, with Chas. L. Noetzel clerk and cashier.

Atlantic. The Atlantic Mining company has a capitalization of $1,000,000, divided into 40,000 shares of the par value of $25 each. Its eastern office is at 11-13 William street, New York city, with Joseph E. Fay president and John Stanton secretary and treasurer. At the mine Frank McM. Stanton is agent, F. W. Denton assistant superintendent, A. D. Edwards clerk, Theo. Dengler mining engineer, Wm. S. Trethewey mining captain and F. G. Coggin, Jr., mill superintendent.

The production of the mine for 1900, from 419,674 tons of rock stamped, was 6,577,955 pounds of mineral, which yielded 4,930,149 pounds of ingot copper at the smelter. The product of refined copper averaged 213 pounds per fathom of ground broken, or twelve pounds per ton, equal to six-tenths of one per cent ingot. This was about midway between the average of 59 in 1898 and 614 in 1899, and shows but a trifling fluctuation in the value of the rock for the past three years. The gross value per ton of rock stamped was $1.97, and the total costs were $1.77 per ton, deducting construction account expenditures, the total costs of mining, milling, smelting and marketing amounted to a fraction below $1.50 per ton. Out of the profits of 1900 operations the regular annual dividend of $2 per share was paid in February, 1901. The total production of refined copper by the mine to the close of the nineteenth century was 92,178,177 pounds.

In addition to the mine proper the Atlantic company owns a square mile of land, known as Section 16, lying just one mile south of the tract on which the mine is opened. The development of the Baltic mine to the south of Section 16 led to the exploration of the latter tract in 1898-99 by the Atlantic company, the Baltic amygdaloid being the prize sought. A shaft was sunk to the depth of about eighty feet, and a cross-cut driven westward for a short distance, it having been the original theory that the Baltic lode must necessarily deflect to the westward within a short distance north of No. 5 shaft of the Baltic mine. However, as the western crosscut did not cut the lode, it was speedily abandoned, and a crosscut started to the east. The latter was driven some 800 feet, until the boundary line was reached, when work was necessarily stopped. The outcome was discouraging, but the matter was dropped in 1899, and no further attention paid to the Section 16 tract until the summer of 1901, when the shaft was unwatered and at the present writing arrangements are being made to continue the crosscut to the west. The Baltic lode has an unimpaired strike to the east of north on the Baltic tract, but conforms to the general trend of the formation where opened to the southward of the Baltic, on the lands of the Champion and Tri-mountaine mines. It is believed that the lode takes a northward turn a short distance north of No. 5 shaft of the Baltic, various indications favoring this theory, in which case the lode should be located somewhere between the center and the eastern limit of Section 16. There remains a possibility, however, that the true Baltic amygdaloid was cut a short distance from the exploring shaft in the eastern direction, where a wide but barren amygdaloid was penetrated. It would soon settle all doubts were a winze sunk on this barren amygdaloid. The new hoist at "D" shaft went into commission in May, though the mine did not get the immediate benefit of the new machinery, owing to the necessity of rebuilding the skip-tracks to carry the sixteen skips. This powerful hoist, quite fully described last year, gives the Atlantic an equipment ranking among the best in the district, as the new plant at "D" shaft can take care of the mine for a depth of a full mile below surface. New boilers have been installed to furnish steam and the boiler house is nearly completed, and will handle one thousand tons of rock daily, and when the Baltic releases the two stamps now used at the Atlantic mill, the Atlantic can materially increase its monthly production.

The new dam being built jointly by the Atlantic and Baltic companies at the foot of the mine, and will probably be finished before snow flies this season. Its crest is twenty feet above that of the old dam, which was giving some uneasiness, and the new dam will impound about 600,000,000 gallons of water, and will be capable of furnishing an adequate supply of water to both the mines, even in the driest seasons, thus relieving the Atlantic and Baltic companies from the cost of pumping millions of gallons of water daily, as is done by the great majority of stamp mills in the district. The cost of the new dam, complete, will range pretty close of $150,000, and the expense will be shared jointly by the Atlantic and Baltic companies, which are equal beneficiaries.

Copper Gossip.

The reported fire in the Old Dominion mine is pronounced a canard. For the first eight months of this year the Wolverine has produced 2,018 tons of mineral, and the Atlantic 2,178 1-3.

The Houghton Gazette credits the Adventure mine with "1,200 feet of openings." Isn't it crowding things a little to have a million tons of milling rock blocked out and ready for mining in such a limited amount of openings?

Lake copper was unchanged, at 16 1/2 @ 17 cents, yesterday at New York, but at London, copper was 2s. 6d higher on the scarcity of sellers, rather than on an increase in demand, and spot closed at 26s. 15s and futures at 27s. 2s. 6d.

N. L. Anster, the copper man, has returned to Boston from an European tour. He states that a large number of electric roads are being constructed throughout Great Britain and the continent and others are projected, which will call for large supplies of copper. He says that people abroad believe that the Antigonish people are artificially holding up the price of copper and they fear another Secretan disaster. They are at present only buying for immediate needs, but it is only a question of time before they will have to enter the market in a large way.

FILIPINO WAR LUSTY

GENERAL BURT DECLARES PEACE FAR FROM NEAR.

FIGHTING STILL IS VIGOROUS.

DOES NOT EXPECT TO SEE END FOR YEARS.

Says Insurrection Continues Strong in Samar and Cebu and in Archipelago Generally the Guerrillas Hold Full Sway.

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—The transport Dix arrived here today with 220 bodies from the Philippines.

Denver, Sept. 5.—General A. S. Burt, U. S. A., home on leave from the Philippines, expresses himself strongly on the situation in the Orient.

"Many observing officers," he said, "have committed themselves to the opinion—and I am one of them—that the troubles in the Philippines will not cease during our time for the reason that the country is peculiarly adapted to guerrilla warfare and there are many hands of ladrones in the mountainous regions throughout the archipelago. Naturally an ordinary Filipino would prefer this life to one of industry and labor."

"General Otis labored a long time and with splendid success, and after much fighting came home and announced that the war was practically over, and his tour of duty was pronounced very successful. General MacArthur took up the job, and found that for one year there was as much fighting to be done as there was before Otis left. When he left he pronounced the war to be practically over, and his tour was declared to be very successful."

"There is no doubt that these generals are entitled to their country's gratitude for their successful work, but as far as the war being over is concerned, that is another question. As a matter of fact, the island of Samar, one of the largest in the archipelago, is still unsubdued, and General Hughes is still fighting there. And in Cebu the insurrectionists are still killing our officers and men and all the friendly negroes they can find."

EX-CONSUL IS SUED FOR $100,000.

Money Collected at Berlin Charged Not to Have Been Turned Over.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Suit was instituted today against the sureties of Charles H. Day, late vice consul and late deputy consul general of the United States at Berlin. It is claimed that Day collected $100,000 and failed to turn over to the government the amount, for which the suit is brought.

PEACE AT PACKING PLANTS.

Butchers and Employers Conclude a Truce to Last Two Months.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—A truce, to last two months, was declared tonight between the proprietors of the packing plants at the stock yards and the butchers' union, which demanded an increase of 10 per cent in wages. The demand has been withdrawn temporarily.

FOUL ENDS LIVELY BOUT.

New Britain, Conn., Sept. 5.—What promised to be one of the fastest fights ever seen here was stopped in the twentieth round tonight and the decision given to Art Simms of Ohio on a foul over "Kid" Thomas of Philadelphia. The men met at 133 pounds to go twenty rounds, and for eight rounds things were even. In the ninth Simms cut loose and put it over his opponent badly. Thomas stood it until the twelfth, and then began to hit low, which he continued in the thirteenth, when the decision was made.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

Dark Hair

Do you want it? All that dark, rich color your hair used to have? Easy enough, so long as you can buy Ayer's Hair Vigor. It always restores color to gray hair. It stops falling of the hair, too, and sometimes makes it grow very long and heavy.

"I am over 50 years old. My hair is long and heavy, and of the dark, rich color of youth, thanks to Ayer's Hair Vigor."

RACES WON IN RECORD TIME.

Two New Marks Established on the Harlem Track, Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Two records were broken at the Harlem track today. One of them was the world's mark for a mile and seventy yards, which distance was covered by Jiminez in the third race, in 1:42 3/5. In the fourth, Nellie Waddell covered four furlongs in the Sampling stakes in 47 1/5, beating the former track record of 47 1/2.

The previous world's record for the mile and seventy yards—1:43 1/4—was made on the Harlem track in July, 1894, by Lillian Lee, who carried ninety-five pounds. Jiminez today, with 101 pounds up, ran the fastest race ever made on a circular track in this country. The race was between the winner and Federal, and with both horses in perfect condition and on a fast track Jiminez was forced to a record-breaking pace to land the prize.

CANADIANS WIN SHOOT.

American Team 28 Points Behind in the Championship Match.

New York, Sept. 5.—The Canadian and American riflemen had a long session today on the Sea Girt rifle ranges in a contest for the American Centennial Palma trophy, emblematic of the world's championship, and the Canadians won by a margin of twenty-eight points.

The conditions of the contest called for the use of the national arms represented by the teams, so it was practically a duel between the American Krag and the English Lee-Enfield weapons. The Canadians used orthodox sights while the Americans had service sights. Lieutenant Leizer of Washington, D. C., made the highest collective and his individual score in the match. His total was 203 points. Captain R. J. Davidson, for the Canadians, second 202 out of a possible 225.

It was nearly dusk when the final scores—Canada, 1,522; America, 1,494—were out on the blackboard at the General Spencer and the men cheered the winners heartily. Major Mason, captain of the Canadian team, and his men responded with "three times three."

BASEBALL MAGNATES MEET.

Invasion of St. Louis Decided Upon by the American League.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—All the magnates of the American League, excepting Somers of Boston, met here today. They decided to have a team in St. Louis next spring, but the question of what team to transfer was left open. They gave up the idea of going into Pittsburg, and the New York proposition was left for future reference.

A black list was created which contains the names of eight National league players, who, after signing with the American, jumped back to the older organization. These men are Christy Mathewson, New York; Dineen, the Boston pitcher; Roger Denzer and Luther Taylor, pitchers, New York; Victor Willis, pitcher, Boston; Davis, Pittsburg; Sheekard, Brooklyn and Emmet Heydick, St. Louis.

Minor Leagues Band Together.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues was organized tonight. Eleven minor league organizations were represented by their presidents, and from present indications they will be banded into a union and respect each other's contracts in such way that will be as formidable as under the former protection of the National league. Those in attendance were: Hickey, Western; Sexton, "Three I's"; Meyers, Western association; Powers, Eastern; Murnane, New England; Farrell, New York state; Lucas, Northwestern. Little was done except to effect a temporary organization.

OUT FARM AND CASH

IOWA MAN LOSES BY ROBBERY IN CALIFORNIA.

IS VICTIM OF A CONSPIRACY.

$29,000 IN BILLS AND DEED TO PROPERTY GONE.

Currency Given in Payment for Land Mysteriously Taken During Absence of Family, and Purchaser of the Tract is Accused.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 5.—Five packages of $100 bills, $29,000 in all, were stolen today from a trunk in a cottage at Long Beach, a seaside resort. Up to a late hour tonight no trace of the missing money has been found. The funds were the property of John Kempley, who came from Fort Dodge, Ia., five months ago, accompanied by his wife and married daughter, Mrs. Hama H. Wonders, and were the proceeds of the sale of his 240-acre farm in Iowa.

Responding to an advertisement inquiring for him, Kempley came to Los Angeles to meet the friends. He found the features of a romance common in many stories. Fred W. Callaway is the son of the general manager of the "Soo" railroad system and nephew of the manager of the New York Central. He spent the early summer here with a geological class from the Minnesota School of Mines. One day he lost his footing and slipping into a prospect hole, fractured his ankle. When rescued he was nursed by Miss Cain, who, as a reward for services, agreed to take the young man to wed as soon as he graduates. His father came to Cripple Creek to meet his proposed daughter-in-law, and was so pleased that he gave instant assent.

WILL APPEAL TO CONGRESS.

Convention of Postoffice Clerks Declares for Shorter Hours.

Milwaukee, Sept. 5.—The postoffice clerks' convention today adopted the committee's report on the eight-hour bill. It provides for forty-eight hours per week, exclusive of Sunday work, the Sunday work not to exceed eight hours or more than the interest of the service demand. This, with the classification bill, will be pushed at the next session of congress.

COUNTERFEITERS NIPPED.

Two of Gang Operating in Iowa Corralled by Federal Officers.

Hedrick, Ia., Sept. 5.—Deputy United States Marshal Webb of Omaha arrested Columbus Monohan and Gerald Ruby here today, charged with handling counterfeit silver coins. It is evident there is a gang at work, and more arrest will likely be made. The gang's headquarters are in the woods on Skunk river, and the work turned out is crude although it has been passed frequently within the last few months.

WOULD BANISH POVERTY.

Socialists Declare Their System the Balm for All Ills.

Des Moines, Sept. 5.—The Socialist party of Iowa, represented by delegates from fifteen counties, held its state convention here today and nominated a ticket headed by James Baxter for governor. The platform says: "We believe socialism to be the scientific solution of the labor problem and that it will provide an ethical construction of society whereby equality and justice will be meted out to every individual. We declare our unalterable opposition to competition for bread and to capitalistic control of the means of production and distribution; and to secure a system whereby want, misery and poverty shall be forever eliminated we pledge ourselves to the final and complete overthrow of all competitive and capitalistic systems and the substitution thereof of a co-operative commonwealth and collective ownership of all means of production and distribution."

She will touch at Caracas and La Guaira, Venezuela, and at Colon, Colombia. At the beginning of November the school ship Moltke will reach Rio Janeiro and go to Venezuelan waters.

Springfield, Ills., Sept. 5.—H. H. Klay, today filed in the supreme court a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel Henry Yates, state insurance superintendent, to revoke the license of the Aetna Fire Insurance company of Hartford, Conn. The petition makes many serious accusations of dereliction in duty.

WITHIN REACH. BECAUSE of its low price Ivory Soap is within the reach of all. Besides its low cost it has the advantage that it is entirely satisfactory for so many varied uses; it will do the work of a half dozen kinds of soap each intended for a special purpose. IVORY SOAP IS 99 PER CENT PURE.

WILL WED HIS NURSE.

Broken Ankle Gives Fred Callaway a Bride at Cripple Creek.

Cripple Creek, Sept. 5.—The engagement of Miss Bessie Cain to Fred W. Callaway, just announced here, has all the features of a romance common in many stories.

Fred W. Callaway is the son of the general manager of the "Soo" railroad system and nephew of the manager of the New York Central. He spent the early summer here with a geological class from the Minnesota School of Mines. One day he lost his footing and slipping into a prospect hole, fractured his ankle. When rescued he was nursed by Miss Cain, who, as a reward for services, agreed to take the young man to wed as soon as he graduates. His father came to Cripple Creek to meet his proposed daughter-in-law, and was so pleased that he gave instant assent.

IMPORTANT TAXATION RULING.

Attorney General Declares Equalization Must Be on Cash Value.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 5.—Attorney General Owen rendered an important opinion last evening to the effect that it is the duty of the state board of equalization to equalize the counties of the state upon the basis of their cash value, and that to knowingly equalize upon a lower basis would be a "gross disregard of a duty imposed by the constitution."

The state is now equalized at $1,100,000,000. The assessed valuation is 1,300,000,000, and the true cash value, as determined by the state tax commission, is $1,000,000,000. The state university cuts a big figure in the equalization, since to equalize on a so-called cash value basis would increase the appropriation for the institution from $275,000 to $450,000 per year. The state board of equalization may disregard the figures of the state as there is considerable doubt as to the accuracy of the tax commission's percentages.

FINDS USE FOR THE APPENDIX.

Denver Surgeon Denies the Theory the Organ Has No Function.

Denver, Sept. 5.—Dr. E. P. Hershey, known as the leading surgeon of Denver, stirred up the Interstate Medical association yesterday with the positive statement that the vermiform appendix has a function to perform in spite of the reiterated statements of the world's wisest medical men that it is without use and may be removed with impunity.

INVASION OF ENGLAND EASY.

French Officer Asserts British Naval Maneuvers Have Proved It.

Paris, Sept. 5.—Lieutenant Colonel Delaunay has written a sensational article for Vie Illustrée, in which he claims the autumn maneuvers have demonstrated that an invasion of England by a French army is as simple as a game of checkers.

FEAR OF FROST BOOSTS CORN.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Though a small trace was witnessed in wheat today, a rather firm feeling was prevalent, and the close showed 3/4 cent advance. Large Northwestern receipts and indifferent cables were considered bear factors, but the action of corn tended to prevent any material decline. At Liverpool, spot was unchanged to 1/2 lower, with futures steady to 1/2 higher. The seaboard clearances were 495,000 bushels and twenty-eight boatloads were reported taken for export. The local receipts were 211 cars.

ADVENTURE IN WAD STREET TODAY.

New York, Sept. 5.—The principal development in Wall street today was the renewal of the interior demand for currency. Seven hundred thousand dollars were deposited at the sub-treasury for transfer to Chicago. The sub-treasury had taken $2,253,000 from the market up to last night, although the movement of currency to the interior was suspended up to that time. The offerings of United States bonds for redemption under the terms of the secretary of the treasury have slightly increased the last few days, but are insignificant as an offset to the drain. All street is discussing relief by some new action of the treasury department, as is invariably the case in periods of money difficulties, but nothing was announced during the day to give color to the expectation. Money worked firmer in all departments.

BIRD COLER IS DROPPED.
Anti-Tammany Committee Selects Four Men for the Mayoralty Race.
New York, Sept. 5.—The Citizens' Union committee of 100 voted on their candidate for the mayoralty late last night and selected John De Witt Warner, Seth Low, George L. Rives and George F. Peabody, leaving out Bird S. Coler and E. Norton Goddard. Jerome O'Neill, who is a labor man and for Coler, left disgusted when Coler was thrown out, and the nine other Coler men left disgusted as well. The labor men say they will carry the fight into the city convention.

Colonel Willis L. Ogden, who represents the Eighteenth, made strong speeches against Coler. They antagonized him with great vigor, which they allowed even to become vituperation for what they called his "equivocation." While they were talking representatives of each of those assembly districts reached the headquarters and reported that at the Citizens' Union primaries each district had sent Coler delegates to the city convention.

Following was the vote: John De Witt Warner, 44 to 10; Seth Low, 36 to 26; George L. Rives, 35 to 10; George Foster Peabody, 33 to 10; Bird S. Coler, 19 to 23. E. Norton Goddard and Eugene Philbin (district attorney) received so few votes they were not counted.

WORN BY PASSING COINS.
Object Lesson Offered by Ticket-Window Ledges.
"Talk about money burning holes in people's pockets," remarked an observant stranger the other day, "but here is a case of nickels burning holes in wood." He pointed to the front of the ticket seller's window on one of the "L" stations as he spoke. The woodwork was scooped out several inches deep where the intended passenger usually shoves in his fare, and the cavity was twice as wide as it was deep.

"That," said the observant man, "is a more graphic illustration of what constancy will do than all the lessons ever taught by the dripping of water upon rocks. They used to tell us in school that a drop of water would wear away the greatest stone, but here we have a hole in the wood of what the constancy of passing coins in and out of the ticket seller's window has done. You will notice that the wood is worn out as smoothly and evenly as if it were done by the finest kind of tools in the hands of the finest kind of a carpenter. There isn't the faintest suspicion of a splinter there. Millions of nickels and dimes must have passed and passed through that window and been shoved along that hardwood board which was originally level and flat as a street of asphalt until they wore away that cavity which you now see there.

"I do not know that there is any particular way of shoving the money between ticket seller and purchaser, but there must be, because the cavity is shaped like an elongated saucer, demonstrating beyond any doubt that there must be a universal way for moving the coins back and forward. I have traveled a good deal, but I have never seen such a thorough object lesson as the hollow of that board affords. To make a cavity like that the exchange of coin must have been simply enormous and beyond the imagination of man to conceive. It is one of the greatest curiosities of the city. I doubt that it has any equal in the world. This is the hundredth window sill on the 'L' that I have noticed worn away by coins in this way. At Forty-second, Thirty-third, Twenty-third and Fourteenth streets on the Sixth avenue road the cashiers' window ledges are especially well worn away by the passing of coin. I don't suppose that one New Yorker in a hundred notices the fact as he reaches forth for his ticket, but it is a wonderful truth to strangers. It conveys to them an idea, faint though it may be, of the great riches of the Empire City, where so many people travel."—New York Mail and Express.

AMERICAN PRISON PRACTICE.
Appreciation of Elmira Reformatory Methods.
Mr. Ruggles-Brise, the energetic chairman of the prison commission, has published a report, which has much more than historical value, on the two prison congresses held in recent years in Paris and Brussels. He is not an enthusiast who believes that congresses will teach us to recast our present prison system. He is convinced, if we mistake not, that foreign countries have at least as much to learn in this matter from this country as it has from them.

The famous Elmira system, the creation of an enthusiast, Mr. Brockway, was much discussed, but it does not seem to have found very great favor with the English or the foreign representatives. There is something attractive in a system which makes its primary object the reform of the prisoner. The results as reported by some admirers of Elmira are remarkable. Mr. Ruggles-Brise admits that "as a special system, aiming at the differential treatment of a class of prisoners, too old for the operation of the reformatory acts, and too young to be classed as adults, the American state reformatory were to be commended in their idea, without necessarily being imitated in their practice." But, in common with the majority of experts, he thinks that the advantages of the system are not so clearly proved as to make it expedient to imitate what is a daring experiment. To lodge in the hands of any two or three persons the power of almost indefinitely determining the duration of confinement of a prisoner might be dangerous.

It is an alarming extension of officialism and is too much like a revival of letters de cachet to be hastily accepted. Gravest defect of experts is to express clearly the condemnation of all honest, healthy people of evil deeds. One notable decision was as to the age of "penal majority" or full responsibility for criminal acts. For our reformatory system we fix the age at sixteen, but here, and almost abroad, there is a strong body of opinion in favor of raising the limit. At the Paris congress the general view was that the limit of sixteen might be advantageously relaxed, provided older boys were sent to "schools of preserva-

Mr. A. Hoard of Dead River Mill says: "There was a dull aching pain across the small of my back and in my kidneys, at times so severe that I could hardly stand it, particularly if I caught cold or did any heavy lifting. I took medicines at different times, but the trouble still remained as bad as ever. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I got a box at the Standard Drug company and used them. The treatment cured me."

"Papa! Papa!"
Again the onlookers jumped from their seats. The cry seemed to come from under the benches on which they were sitting. The voice was almost human. It was childlike. Yet nowhere in the large courtroom could a child be seen. Justice Prindiville looked puzzled. His clerk and bailiff cast apprehensive glances about. The prisoner before the bar paled slightly. A woman at the far end of a settee colored. "Five dollars and costs. Call the next case," the justice said.

"Papa! Papa!"
The shrill cry. Peter Lindquist and James Rance and his wife, the latter two living at 3331 LaSalle street, stepped forward. Mrs. Rance had a large package wrapped in a newspaper in her hand. She told the court the package had disappeared from her back porch last October. Her husband yesterday found it at Thirty-first and LaSalle streets in the possession of the Lindquists. The latter said he had given $1 for the package. It contained a parrot. Then the bird was freed. It quickly settled the question of ownership by perching itself on Rance's shoulder and crying the pet name taught to it: "Papa! Papa! Polly's papa!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

BATTLE WITH MOSQUITOES.
Travelers Almost Forced by Them to Abandon Their Journey.
In a letter to a friend in West Walnut street, Clarence Bell, a popular Washington society man, tells of a fierce battle with mosquitoes on the wagon road over the meadows between Atlanta City and Pleasantville late last Sunday afternoon.

"We started from the hotel about 5:15," Mr. Bell writes, "en route for Northfield. Mr. Nighten was with me. We did not give a thought to mosquitoes, and, in fact, little suspected we would meet any until we got about half way across. Then they swarmed toward us in clouds. They worried the horse so much that he attempted to stop three or four times, for at the same time the mosquitoes attacked him a flock of green flies went for him, and together they bit the poor animal mercilessly, actually raising welts on his back.

"Our experience was something terrific. We fought the mosquitoes first with our hats, then with our coats, but it was all useless, and we stopped the horse, thinking it would be best to return to town. We figured that as a northeast wind was blowing, the farther on we would go the more mosquitoes we would find. But we at length concluded to proceed, which we did with our coats thrown over our heads. This barrier was, however, not effective, as for nearly an hour we went through the worst trial I have ever had in my life. It was almost impossible to expose my hands while holding the reins. The mosquitoes even bit us through our linen shirts, and when we got to Northfield we were in agony. There was not a spot the size of a pinhead on our necks and faces unbitten."

Mr. Bell and Mr. Nighten have been at the St. Mary's hospital for several weeks. On Monday they put themselves in the care of a doctor, as the effect of their experience alarmed them.

'T WAS A WISE BIRD.
Parrot Knew "Polly's Papa" When He Saw Him.
"Papa! Papa!"
So piercing that it penetrated every corner in Justice Prindiville's Harrison street police court room, the cry startled the morbid crowd of spectators who lined the benches, the court, the attachés. None saw whence the shriek came. After a momentary flurry the trial of a case for disorderly conduct was resumed.

"Papa! Papa!"
Again the onlookers jumped from their seats. The cry seemed to come from under the benches on which they were sitting. The voice was almost human. It was childlike. Yet nowhere in the large courtroom could a child be seen. Justice Prindiville looked puzzled. His clerk and bailiff cast apprehensive glances about. The prisoner before the bar paled slightly. IT WAS NO "CHAIR."
She had returned from a university with an M. D. after her name, and had been elected to the chair of English literature in a small local college. On the day before the session opened the president invited her to her duties as holder of her place. "In addition to your work in literature," he said with apologetic hesitation, "I should like you to take the junior and senior classes in elocution, and also assume charge of the physical culture."

"There is no teacher of elocution?" asked Miss Jones.
"Well, no, not at present."
"And who has charge of the physical training?"
"To tell the truth, we have no teacher as yet. You perhaps noticed in the catalogue that these two departments were 'to be supplied.'"
"And I was elected to the chair of English literature?"
"Yes," the president answered gloomily.
But he was reassured by her winning smile. "I will take the work and do what I can with it," Mr. Smith," she said, brightly; "but why didn't you write me at first that the 'chair' was a settee?"—Harper's Magazine.

EMBLON SEEKS REVENGE.

The Second Street Saloon Keeper Charges a Woman With Slandering Him.

August Emblom claims to have been slandered by Mrs. Gustave Hagstrom and is seeking redress in the courts. Wednesday Mrs. Hagstrom was arrested on a warrant issued by Justice Peters, charging her with willfully spreading injurious stories about Emblom, menacing the character and reputation of the plaintiff.

The case is a peculiar one. Emblom never did anything to earn the woman's hatred, nevertheless she has busied herself during the last few months in telling the wildest tales about his domestic life, of which she knows nothing. The woman has asserted that Emblom is a brute and is accustomed to beat his wife in an unmerciful manner, that his children are ragged and starving, and that he absolutely refuses to contribute to the support of his family. Stories like this and other yarns equally damaging have been spread all over town and have become annoying to the man. He has remonstrated with the woman for pursuing him in this way, but has been unable to put a stop to her malicious work. Early in the summer he threatened to have her arrested if she did not desist, but his warning went unheeded.

Mrs. Hagstrom does not confine her attack alone to Mr. Emblom. His sister, Mrs. Gust Walstrand, also comes in for a share of the abuse. About a week ago matters reached such a state that he was obliged to take some action to protect his reputation. He consulted his attorney, who advised him to have the woman arrested on a criminal charge. This was done and the trial has been set for September 11. Attorney M. H. Crocker will appear for the plaintiff.

In speaking of the affair yesterday to a Mining Journal reporter Mr. Emblom said: "I don't know what Mrs. Hagstrom has to gain by spreading stories about me which are absolutely false. I have never done anything to harm the woman, and in fact am very slightly acquainted with her. She has told some awful tales relative to my home life, which are lies from beginning to end. My wife will testify that I treat her in a kind and considerate manner and that I have never raised my hand to her. My children are well fed and well clothed and I try to do as much for them as I can afford."

"Some months ago I told Mrs. Hagstrom that if she did not quit her slandering talk I would make her hot for her, but this was only fuel for the flame of her malice for she talked more than ever before. Lately she began to attack my sister, Mrs. Walstrand. The stories she relates are horrid and although few believe it is very annoying to have lies told."

"I will not look for damages from the woman. All I want is to have the court order her to abandon slandering me. I have had her arrested under a criminal charge and will prosecute her to the full extent of the law."

WILL NOT COME.

The Young People's society of the Bethany Lutheran church will not bring Bishop H. K. Geselius Von Scheele here to deliver a lecture, as was planned some time ago. The idea of entertaining the distinguished guest has been given up, as the society is of the opinion that the expense is too great. If the bishop would spend a Sunday in this city he would be invited to deliver an address, but as he has no date open except Nov. 27 the members of the society have decided to abandon the idea of securing him for the occasion.

The Rt. Rev. H. K. Geselius Von Scheele is one of the leading men of Sweden. Indeed it is claimed that he is at the head of the Lutheran church in that country. Dr. L. G. Abrahamson of Chicago is now in Sweden making arrangements for the bishop's American trip. Ishpeming members of the Swedish Lutheran church were anxious to have the distinguished visitor come here. Dr. Abrahamson was requested to book this city for a date in the itinerary. A reply has been received stating that the only date open is Nov. 27. As this does not fall on Sunday, the Swedish people here have decided not to endeavor to have the bishop come to Ishpeming. A letter cancelling the invitation has been sent to Dr. Abrahamson.

The bishop will visit all the larger cities of the country, including New York and Chicago, while in the United States. He will arrive in this country the latter part of the month.

GARDNER AND THE ELEVENTH HOUR.

"The Eleventh Hour," a new play in five acts by the well known playwright, Lincoln J. Carter, will be the offering at the Ishpeming Opera House next Tuesday evening. It is said to be an exceedingly bright play, full of comedy, pathos, strong situations and elegant scenery. It is a play dealing with life in and around Chicago, and does not depend upon any mechanical effects for its success. It was produced in Chicago last spring and made the most emphatic "hit" that has ever been made by a Carter attraction. The cast is strong and includes that eminent Gorman dialect comedian, Chas. A. (Karl) Gardner, and the patrons of the local theater can look forward to a most interesting event at "The Eleventh Hour." Mr. Gardner is known in all the larger cities as one of the sweetest singing comedians on the stage. He will be heard here in all his latest songs, including "Sweet Blue Grass Home." As well be seen by the advertisement in this issue, the prices for this attraction will be fifty cents for general admission and seventy-five cents for reserved seats.

ISHPeming'S CITY DADS.

They Met and Held a Short Session Wednesday Evening.

If the members of the school board will give the city at large a clear title to the property, the new Carnegie library will be erected on the lot east of the Division street school.

At Wednesday evening's meeting of the council a resolution was passed requesting the board to deed the property to the city. If that is done work on the building will be started immediately. The petition to the school trustees asked that, if possible, that the lot be turned over at once so that no delay will be encountered. The school board will undoubtedly act on the matter at its next meeting.

It is anticipated that the board will act favorably on the council's proposition, for the erection of a handsome library on the grounds will add greatly to their appearance. At the July meeting of the council a special committee appointed to select a site reported that, considering all things the Division street school property was by far the most desirable. While other lots located more centrally were offered, the price asked was so great that the committee concluded not to take any of them if the school board will deed the property mentioned to the city.

While there has been some dissatisfaction with the committee's selection, it has met with general approval. The fact that the city will save at least $7,000 by locating the building on the school site is in itself a big point in favor of the Division street property.

The council meeting Wednesday evening was short, and very little business was transacted. No time was lost in useless discussion. After passing the resolution requesting the school board to turn over the Division street site, the council adjourned.

The usual reports of the standing committees were read and adopted. Dr. Picotte, the city health officer, submitted a report on his trip to the convention of health officers held at Duluth. The council ordered the board of public works to erect a new flag pole and also authorized the purchase of twenty-one photographs of the aldermen, one to be given to the mayor and to each member of the council.

A GOOD CROWD TODAY.

Ishpeming was well represented at the Marquette County Fair yesterday, though a much larger crowd will attend today. The Lake Superior band went down yesterday morning and furnished music at the grounds during the day. The special trains in the morning caught a number from here; more went down on the 10 o'clock train and a third delegation left on the noon train. All who attended from here yesterday were pleased with their visit. The amusement offered was quite satisfactory and the displays in the several buildings are attractive.

DEPUTY F. A. STEVENS.

Deputy F. A. Stevens of Lansing, of the A. O. U. W., has concluded two weeks' very successful work for that order in Ishpeming. Last evening a large class, organized by him, was received into the order. Altogether he has drummed up some fifty new Workmen in Ishpeming and he has aroused interest and enthusiasm in lodge matters. His visit has been a great thing for the local Workmen. Mr. Stevens goes from Ishpeming to Houghton where he will likewise organize Workmen classes, returning to his home on the conclusion of his work in copperdom.

ORE CARS DITCHED.

Nine ore cars on the Northwestern line were ditched at Section 21 mine at the Lake Superior iron company yesterday afternoon. The train, of which they formed a part, ran into an open switch, with the accident as a result. None of the trainmen sustained any injury, but the ore is scattered along the track where the derailment occurred and much of it will be lost.

It is easy to keep them from getting wrong, but the work you shall know them." Give Fordyce a trial and see what he can do.

CIVIL ACTION NEXT.

Mrs. Zulegar Will Endeavor to Secure Damages for Breach of Promise.

In Justice Trathen's court yesterday, John Mulholland, or Holland, as he is generally called, was found guilty of assaulting Mrs. Louise Zulegar.

Mulholland is worthy. He contends that a gross injustice has been done to him, and declares that he did not assault the woman, only lightly and gently pushing her away from him when she persisted in embracing him despite his remonstrances.

Mulholland returned from the old country they were married. Mrs. Zulegar claims that she has helped the man who jilted her in many ways during the past two or three years.

On the other hand, Mulholland contends that he never contemplated matrimony until he visited the old country and met his present wife, that his attentions to Mrs. Zulegar were entirely of a friendly nature.

No case that has come up in a justice court here for the past year has attracted as much attention as the Mulholland-Zulegar complication. It was the talk of the town yesterday and everybody was interested in it.

BURIED IN ORE.

While working at one of the chutes at the South Jackson mine Wednesday morning, August Svedberg, an old employee of the Svedberg, was buried in ore up to his shoulders.

The accident was peculiar. Svedberg was engaged in loading ore from a chute into the cars. He made an opening with a crowbar and the ore came down with such rapidity that he was unable to get out of its way.

It was a hard job to keep the ore back. As soon as the ore met with a little cleared away, more would run down. The chute was finally blocked up and then with little difficulty the man was removed.

IT PLEASED HIM.

Dairy and Food Inspector McCall Found Belueve an Ideal Farm.

While on a visit of inspection to the Belueve farm, owned by the Cleveland-Cliffs company and situated a few miles from Negaunee on the county road to Palmer, Mr. McCall, the state dairy and food inspector, found many things that pleased him.

Before leaving the place he paid many compliments to the management. He said that the stables were absolutely the cleanest in Michigan.

The Belueve, although a new farm, is a fine example of what a money expended in the right direction can do. The management of the farm has reason to feel proud of it.

The only thing the company offers for sale is the stock and the products of the dairy. No grain or vegetables will be sold.

appearance, but no arrests were made. Owing to the frequency with which attacks have been aimed against various people through the press at Niles of late, the action of Messrs. Cope and Scott is applauded by many citizens.

While endeavoring to couple a traction engine to his separator Tuesday, Austin Potts of Galesburg was terribly scalded. When Mr. Potts backed up the engine, the man whose duty it was to make the coupling failed to do so, and the engine continued backing, catching Potts between the feed board of the separator and the boiler head with such force as to break off the steam valve and let the full volume of steam against his chest and side.

As the sequel to the recent grade crossing fatalities at Galesburg, the council Tuesday evening passed an ordinance prohibiting the employees of the Michigan Central from running trains through the village at a greater speed than eight miles per hour.

A BIG FAIR CROWD

ANNUAL SHOW WAS LARGELY PATRONIZED YESTERDAY.

GOOD UP-THE-ROAD DELEGATIONS

THERE WERE FULLY 3,000 PEOPLE ON THE GROUNDS.

Racing Was Again Most Acceptable—Strong Events Reserved for Today—Negaunee City Band Will Be Down.

The nineteenth annual fair of the Marquette County Agricultural society was visited by upwards of 3,000 people yesterday and if the weather today, the last of the annual exhibition, continues, favorable it will prove one of the most successful in points of interest and attendance ever held in this section.

The specials from Marquette to the grounds on the South Shore line handled over 2,000 people and, in addition to this number, hundreds sought the fair in carriages or on foot.

Large delegations of out-of-town people were in the city. The special from Michigan and intermediate points arrived in the morning with a big contingent and all the regular trains were packed to their capacity. Similar crowds of outsiders will visit the exhibition today, when the attendance should break the record for any twenty-four hours at any of the shows ever held by the Marquette County association.

Yesterday the Lake Superior band furnished music at the grounds, coming down for that purpose early in the morning. Today, which is officially designated as Marquette day, the Negaunee City band will be in attendance. This is one of the foremost musical organizations in this section and some fine selections may be expected.

As is usual on Marquette Day, most business will be suspended here. Many of the merchants have signified their intention of closing their stores from noon on and the association's officers urge that it be generally done. Both banks will be closed at noon and activities in other industries will be suspended for a few hours so that all may seek the fair grounds.

Fine Entertainment.
There was no dearth of entertainment at the grounds yesterday. The horse races were witnessed by a crowd of between 1,500 and 2,000 people, the grandstand being packed to its capacity. The events were of the same order of excellence as on the previous days, with close, hard going and smashing finishes. The races were for the 2:20 and 2:50 classes.

In the former were entered Little Johnny, Rob Rene and Joe J., the latter another copper. Little Johnny won, although the finishes were close enough to be interesting, winning three straight heats in 2:22, 2:26 1/2 and 2:28, respectively. Joe J. won second and Rob Rene third money.

The entries in the event for the 2:50 class were Gaslight, Kittie, Billy K. and Pioneer. It required the full five heats to decide the winner. Kittie took the first, 2:31, being pressed by Gaslight, 2:28 1/2 and 2:26 1/2. Then Kittie again came to the fore, winning the fourth heat in 2:31. Gaslight took the next, after smashing finish with Billy K., Billy K. getting third position and Pioneer fourth.

There was universal satisfaction with the races, as they were cleanly and fiercely contested. It was the general remark that they compared favorably with any that had been seen on the track.

Circus Features Pleased.
The circus features pleased the large assemblage in and about the grandstand, the work being in plain and comfortable view of all, by reason of the directors' provision of an elevated stage for the acts that are not performed in midair. The turns were interspersed between the heats of the horse races and proceeded to appropriate music from the band. The program as given yesterday and as it will be repeated this afternoon follows:
Comedy acrobatic act. Ed Brown and his son, Ollie.
Head balancing trapeze act. James Irwin.
Rolling globe act. Master Irwin.
Feats of dental strength. Miss Dora Irwin.
Shack wire act. Master Jimmie Brown.
Dancing ladder act. James Irwin.
Trick, comedy and fancy bicycle work. The three Browns, Ed, Jimmie and Ollie.
Bouncing wire act. Canaux.

All these features are attractive, being given by first class artists, who are exact, concise and clean in the execution of their several feats. The applause yesterday afternoon was liberal, some of the performers receiving real ovations.
One act which made a particular hit with the assemblage was James Irwin's head balancing trapeze turn and it is not too much to say that it has never been excelled here. In that old fashioned phrase, "it alone is worth the price of admission." Cadeaux on the bounding wire is likewise a strong card and the Browns are all clever.

Good Events Today.
In the racing line, there are a couple of fine events reserved for today. Among them is the free-for-all, which should be the best and most interesting race of the three days' matinees. The entries will include the fastest horses at the track and the bunch contains animals which have lately been winning alternately in successive races. The racing will be one of the features of the closing day of the fair.

An additional card today will be the physicians race, in which each medical man will drive his own horse. The following colors will be worn by the drivers: Dr. Cunningham, white; Dr. Flynn, blue; Dr. Youngquist, yellow and Dr. Harkins, red. The friends of the physicians are requested to don their favorite colors.

The balloon ascension yesterday afternoon was one of the best ever seen in Marquette. The aeronaut got away just previous to the departure of the last train, his rise and subsequent parachute drop being witnessed by at least 1,500 people. There was a stiff south wind blowing at the time he mounted heavenward and his balloon was borne rapidly to the north. He allowed it to attain the maximum elevation before releasing his parachute. He must have reached earth fully a half mile from the grounds. His ascension and drop will of course be repeated this afternoon.

At the ground is a merry-go-round, shooting galleries and other things to help out the main show. There are also numerous refreshment booths. The fair buildings were inspected by hundreds of people yesterday, before, after and during the track and circus attractions.

HAY FEVER ENTERTAINMENT.
It Will Be Held at the Normal This Evening.
The second of the series of entertainments given under the auspices of the Western Hay Fever association will be held at the Northern Normal auditorium this evening at 8 o'clock. Friends and members of the association and the public generally is invited to attend. There will be no admission. Between parts one and two of the following musical and literary program there will be an intermission in which those present will have an opportunity to meet friends and enjoy short social chats:

Male quartet, "In Absence".....Cluck Messrs. Tucker, Richardson, Clarke and Simmons.
Duet for two pianos, Selected.....Mrs. Slemmons and Mrs. Davis.
Tenor solo, "Waiting".....Millard Mr. Tucker, with violin obligato by Professor Kluge.
Duet, Selected.....Misses Heppner and Ross.
Violin solo, "Cavatina".....Musin Prof. Otto Kluge.
Baritone solo, "I Seek for Thee in Every Flower".....Ganz Mr. Clarke.
Piano solo, "Tremolo".....Gotschalk Mr. Richardson.

SHARP REACTION IN COPPERS.
It Surprised the Talent Late Yesterday Afternoon.
The monotony of a continually strong and spasmodically advancing copper market was broken yesterday afternoon, when there was a sharp set back in some of the stocks which have figured most prominently in late developments. Mass dropped, in two quotations, from 37 to 35 and shortly thereafter, as low as 33, bracing up on the close to 34 and 34. Adventure suffered on a similar scale. Paine, Webber & Co. said: "Coppers were strong until the close, when realizing and a strong effort to depress them caused a sharp reaction. We believe Osceola, Mass and the South Range stocks are a purchase on it. As to some of the low priced coppers, we advise taking profits on hard spots."

MINATURE WORK.
Mrs. Cornelia A. Northrup Exhibits it at Conklin's.
Mrs. Cornelia A. Northrup of Marquette has a single miniature of her painting on exhibition at Conklin's. It will be replaced by a new specimen from time to time. The miniature affords an actual testimony to Mrs. Northrup's skill in this field of art, in which she has had considerable experience. She intends to devote no little time to the production of miniatures and is ready to fill any orders. Miniatures had been neglected for many years up to about the beginning of the last decade, but they are now being revived and miniature interest and production are largely on the increase.

Mrs. Northrup has had an extended training in painting and the allied arts. She has worked under a number of acknowledged artists and, from time to time, has marketed her talents in the form of illustrating work for eastern periodicals, including St. Nicholas. In oil, she has studied extensively and widely. Lately she has turned her attention to miniatures, which are painted in an artist who has worked in Paris, largely in miniatures, for the past sixteen years.

Those interested in this department of art will be entertained and instructed by an inspection of Mrs. Northrup's work and she will willingly give further information on the subject.

"BIG BILL" DEVERE.
He Will Be Seen in "A Common Sinner" Monday Evening.
Monday evening William Devere, better known as "Big Bill" Devere, will be remembered here through his appearance in Hoyt's "A Black Sheep", will be seen in a new comedy, said to be one of the season's hits, the principal character, that of Colonel Culpepper Sinner, having been especially written for Mr. Devere. The title of the new play is "A Common Sinner" and is in three acts; the first being laid in Kentucky, the second in New York and the last act at the sea shore.

The story of the piece is said to be sufficiently lucid to prevent the performance from being rated as a vaudeville entertainment and it is interspersed with bright and witty dialogue. The theme is apparent at all times, and it is with joy that one hails the absence of those breaks which usually occur in productions of this kind, when a specialty is introduced. The specialties and songs are many and are heralded as being absolutely new and up-to-date. The action of the piece is rapid, with no let up to the fun from the rise of the curtain to its fall on the final act.

Mr. Devere, who has no equal in the rendition of laughing songs, has two new songs which have made decided hits, and so catchy are the melodies that they are being whistled and hummed on the street everywhere he has appeared this season. One of these songs is his own composition and the other was brought to him from Paris, by Mr. George Marion, stage director for Anna Held.

The Marquette Juniors entertained a large number of their friends at a dance in Fraternity hall last evening. The proceeds went into the treasury of the ball nine.

A literary and musical entertainment will be held at the M. E. church Monday evening under the auspices of the young men's Sunday school class. The proceeds will be applied to the church improvement fund.
County Clerk Ross has issued marriage licenses to William W. Prentice of Ironwood and Vina R. Gray of Ishpeming; Israel Lovie and Lena Polla of Ishpeming and John L. Beckman and Hilda Norman of Ishpeming.

Professor Hogue will return to Marquette September 10. Tuesday afternoon and evening he will meet his usual classes, that in the evening being followed by the customary hop. All who attended the previous dances are invited to be present.
County Clerk Ross has received Marquette county's allotment of the red books, the Michigan state manual, for distribution among county and city clerks. They will be given out on the receipt of cards issued from the state department at Lansing.

The fair given by the ladies of the French Catholic church at St. Ignace hall last week and a couple of evenings of this week was an unqualified success, both in the points of entertainment and finance. All who attended had a good time and the receipts promise to amount above the ladies' fondest expectations.

The D. & C. N. Co. will hold the steamer City of Mackinac at St. Ignace on the morning of Monday, Sept. 9, until the arrival of the D. S. S. & A. morning train from the west, due at 10 a. m. Excursionists for the G. A. R. encampment at Cleveland and the Pan-American exposition who can not make arrangements to get away on Saturday's boat can leave here on the early morning train Monday and catch the steamer Mackinac, arriving in Detroit Tuesday morning in time to connect with the steamer for Cleveland enabling them to enjoy the delightful day trip across Lake Erie.

The "Quaker Doctors" seem to be firmly established on the vacant lot on Superior street. They have been holding forth the past few evenings without interruption and without a license from the city recorder, although they have deposited with the city treasurer upwards of thirty dollars. It is said that when they rent private ground for their entertainment and the accommodation of the crowds that assemble to hear them they cannot be interfered with under the city charter. They sell more or less of their medicine nightly and the short time being ready to pull up stakes and seek new fields.

Hi Henry's Big Minstrel aggregation, now the largest of its kind in the world, will appear at the opera house next Tuesday evening. The Milwaukee Sentinel, Aug. 25, says: "Standing room was at a premium at the Alhambra when Hi Henry's minstrels gave their opening performance. The veteran leader received a warm welcome. It is a pleasing novelty for an audience to be treated to high class minstrelsy at any time, and applause again and again greeted the performers in their specialties of songs, dances or jokes. The first part was almost ideal, with its excellent scenic effects, costumes of blue, red and white satin, and its military band."

Tired Mothers. It's hard work to take care of children and to cook, sweep, wash, sew and mend besides. Tired mothers should take Hood's Sarsaparilla—it refreshes the blood, improves the appetite, assures restful sleep, and helps in many ways.

A light lunch can be had at any time during the day or evening at Heppner's.
