TRIBUTE OF NATION

PAID TO MEMORY OF STRICKEN CHIEF MAGISTRATE.

SERVICES HELD AT WASHINGTON.

FUNERAL ADDRESS DELIVERED BY BISHOP ANDREWS.

Cortege Leaves White House in a Drizzling Rain and Passes Through Solid Lines of Humanity to Capitol.

Washington, Sept. 17.—All that is mortal of William McKinley is speeding toward its last resting place after the nation officially and with state representatives of every phase of American national life, including the president and the only surviving ex-president, together with representatives of almost every nation on earth.

As the sweet notes of President McKinley's favorite hymn "Lead Kindly Light," floated through the great rotunda the assemblage rose to its feet. Bared heads were bowed and eyes streamed with tears.

This was almost the closing act in the awful tragedy which drenched the civilized world with tears. The services were conducted in accordance with the rites of the Methodist Episcopal church, gathered around the bier were representatives of every phase of American national life, including the president and the only surviving ex-president, together with representatives of almost every nation on earth.

Bishop Andrews' Address. Bishop Andrews said in part: "Characters abide. We ask, therefore, even at the grave of our illustrious dead, not what great achievements they have performed, but chiefly what sort they were; what the interior nature of the man was; what were his affinities."

"I think we must concede that nature and training and reverently be it said—inspiration of the Almighty conspired to conform a man admirable in his moral temper and aims. We, none of us, I think, that even by nature he was eminently gifted. A calm and equitable temperament, a kindly generous heart, love of justice and right, a tendency toward faith and loyalty to unseen powers and authorities—these things must have been with him from infancy."

"It is a beautiful thing that to end his life he bent reverently before that mother whose example, and teachings, and prayers had so fashioned his mind and all his aims. School came but briefly, then came to him the church with its ministrations of power. He accepted the truths which it taught, and from it he received the inspiration that lifted his above much trouble and weakness incident to our human nature, and in his final hour enabled him to say, 'His Will, not ours, Be done.'"

"Such influences gave us William McKinley and what was he? A man of incorruptible personal political integrity. A man of immaculate purity. Love for Fellow Men. "Beyond all that this man had something wrought in his great generous love for his fellow man. He believed in men. He had been brought up among the common people. He knew their labors, struggles and necessities. He loved them."

"Shall I speak a word next of that domestic love which has so often been commented upon? I take it no word can set forth fully the unfaltering kindness, carefulness and love which belonged to this great man. And he was a man who believed in right, who had a profound conviction that the courses of this world must be reordered in accordance with everlasting righteousness; that no nation can expect success except as it conforms to the eternal love of the infinite Lord."

"His high qualities drew to him the good will of his associates in political life in an eminent degree. They felt his kindness and confidence in his honesty and honor. His qualities were even associated with him in kindly relations by those who were his political opponents and made it possible for him to bind all parts of the country in one indissoluble union. And will such a man die. The divine word of the scripture leaves us no room for doubt."

"If there is personal immortality before him, let us also rejoice that there is immortality and memory in the hearts of the large and ever growing people who, through ages to come, will look back upon this life and upon its nobility, purity and service to humanity, and thank God for it."

DRIZZLING RAIN FELL. As Funeral Cortege Left the White House for the Capitol.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR LAST HOME COMING OF PRESIDENT.

CITY IS SHROUDED IN BLACK.

HUNDREDS OF MEN AND WOMEN ARRANGE DECORATIONS.

Body Will Be Taken to the Residence and Ceremonies Will Commence at Church at 1:30 Tomorrow Afternoon.

Canton, Sept. 17.—Canton is ready for the last home-coming of William McKinley. In other days she has welcomed him with cheers, waving banners and triumphal marches. Tomorrow she will receive him in silence, with the streets hung with solemn black and the falling notes of dirges. All day long hundreds of men and women labored in the task to arrange the decorations. At sunset Canton was shrouded in black and so will remain until the body of her best loved son has been committed to the vault in the West Lawn cemetery.

Upon its arrival the train will be met by committees and personal friends of President McKinley and the honorary pall-bearers. Troop A of Cleveland will act as an escort; the hearse following, and then will come the carriages bearing the members of the family and distinguished visitors. The casket will be placed in the rotunda of the court house and the citizens of Canton will be given an opportunity of paying a last tribute of respect.

At 9 p. m. the body will be taken to the family residence, Canton Post, G. A. R., acting as an escort. The ceremonies at the church will commence at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The program includes a discourse by Rev. G. E. Manchester, a prayer by Rev. O. R. Milligan and scripture reading. A quartet will sing "Lead Kindly Light," and other appropriate music.

At the conclusion of the services in the church the march to the cemetery will be taken up and the casket will be placed in the receiving vault, but before that it will be rested upon supports upon the walk leading to the vault for the purpose of allowing those who take part in the parade to view the remains. When finally placed inside the vault a guard will be thrown around it and day and night until the final resting place is prepared it will be surrounded by armed men.

CANCER

Sufferers from this horrible malady nearly always inherit it—no necessarily from the parents, but may be from some remote ancestor, for Cancer often runs through several generations.

To cure Cancer thoroughly and permanently all the poisonous virus must be eliminated from the blood—every vestige of it driven out.

Cancer begins often in small way, as the following letter from Mrs. Shirer shows: A small pimple came on my jaw about a inch below the ear on the left side of my face.

The stock market is mighty ticklish these days. Conflicting interests appear to be working to give it contrary directions, and between the fluctuations they are producing speculative investors are kept guessing.

President Shaffer of the Amalgamated seems as incapable of handling a retreat as of choosing his time for an attack. The defeat of his association in the strike he ordered seems to have deprived him of whatever control over his following he ever had.

The stock markets of the past few days have been a surprise to many people, although they have verified the predictions of many investors and speculators who insisted that the president's death had been fully discounted by the fluctuations of the stock following his assassination.

Thursday will be the pre-eminent day of general mourning in late years. Throughout the country, mayors and acting mayors have called upon the people of their cities to suspend business, drape stores and residences and participate in funeral or memorial services.

Ex-Governor A. P. Swineford's optimism in everything pertaining to Alaskan affairs has been one of his characteristic traits for many years past. It has suffered no diminution lately, witness the following from his Ketchikan Mining Journal:

The Tacoma News says there are only twelve farms in Alaska. Who said there wasn't? But the News must remember they are the "chosen twelve" and the salt of the earth.

The fear expressed by so many writers on trade topics in this country, that the aggressive policy pursued by American manufacturers in forcing their products upon foreign markets would result in reprisals by the Europeans, may be justified by history.

The total exports of breadstuffs, provisions, cotton and mineral oils for the first eight months of 1901, compared with the same period in former years, shows a marked increase.

equally satisfactory, gains being made in all of the articles mentioned with the exception of mineral oils, the exports of which show a slight falling off when compared with the same month last year.

The half formed project of postponing the international cup races until another year on account of the assassination of the president has been dropped and they will be held, the latter part of this month, according to original arrangement.

It is significant of Mr. McKinley's breadth of view at the climax of his career that upon the most important items of his program both Democrat and Republican, Northern and Southern, will be in accord.

The country has confidence in President Roosevelt. He is a clean man in every respect. As governor of New York he proved himself an able executive.

What the Cleveland Plain Dealer says of the late President McKinley in this brief article could not be better said, and explains why he was so universally loved as well as esteemed:

No higher tribute would be desired by William McKinley than that he was a representative American citizen; representative of what is most creditable and desirable in American citizenship—love of country, love of home, love of family, regard for the welfare of his neighbor, and fellow citizens as well as of his own.

Men might differ with him in politics and on public policies, but those who knew him at all, however strongly opposed to him in those matters, acknowledged his sincerity of purpose. He acted from honest convictions of what was right, or was persuaded into the belief that the action taken was for the advantage of the country.

As a citizen aside from political matters, and as a man, there was no difference of opinion concerning William McKinley. His strongest political opponents—it would be a misuse of language to say his bitterest political foes, because he was not the man to inspire bitterness in anyone and his opponents could hardly be designated foes—esteemed him as a citizen and were among his warmest personal friends.

His private life was without reproach, his domestic life one that endeared him to the people who hold domestic virtues in strong regard. His religion was sincere but unostentatious and was expressed in his dying words, "It is God's way. His will be done."

God fearing, "plain American citizen." His example as such is an inspiration. Such as he made this country what it is today, the knowledge that the late president was a representative of the qualities and the virtues of American citizenship.

His LAST PUBLIC ADDRESS. The Chicago News has this comment on the last public address of the late president, in which he advocated a modification of the economic policy that for many years had in him its most powerful advocate and champion.

Viewed in the light of the tragic developments which followed it, the speech which President McKinley delivered upon the occasion of his last public appearance before the country's citizens takes on a singular impressiveness. To his countrymen at large, as well as to the members of his party, this definition of the nation's aspirations and its future mission among nations stands almost as the statement of William McKinley's legacy to his country.

It is significant of Mr. McKinley's breadth of view at the climax of his career that upon the most important items of his program both Democrat and Republican, Northern and Southern, will be in accord.

Michigamme. LABORATORY FOR SCHOOL.

The Michigamme school will soon be provided with a laboratory. This is one of the things necessary before a twelfth grade is established.

It will be necessary to make some changes at the school in order to equalize the work of the teachers. One teacher has over sixty pupils while others have less than forty.

It is likely that a series of entertainments will be given here under direction of the school management during the winter season.

IMPAIRED DIGESTION

May not be all that is meant by dyspepsia now, but it will be if neglected. The uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, sourness of the stomach, and disagreeable belching may not be very bad now, but they will be if the stomach is suffered to grow weaker.

HAD A GREAT TIME.

Bad weather didn't count against the Michigamme firemen's picnic last Sunday. The lake was unusually rough but the fans seekers braved the waves and went out to Brown's farm.

Superior Sundstrom intends to issue a proclamation to all business men of the village requesting them to close their doors on Thursday afternoon from 1 o'clock until 5, as a mark of respect to the late president of the United States.

MICHIGAMME PICK-UPS.

Marcus Levin's store will be closed next Monday. John Dunn has taken charge of the school at Covington.

The medicine company which held the boards at Odd Fellows hall all last week did not reap a big harvest. The attendance was not as large as the merits of the entertainment warranted.

A number of Michigamme men have gone into the woods during the past week or so. F. W. Read & Co.'s working forces are being increased right along.

Rev. Leonard, late of Greenland, will reside permanently over the Methodist church congregation here. He will also do missionary work in the smaller places west of here.

SEARCH FOR COPPER.

The search for copper goes on with unremitting zeal. Rumors of the creation of international copper trusts, which have been from time to time floated only to be contradicted later, stimulate the search rather than discourage it.

California is one of the fields in which the search for copper is progressing with the greatest activity. There seems to be no limit to the amount of capital which is ready to be invested in it wherever there is a reasonable promise of a fair return.

fully at the train. A very brief stop was made.

New York, Sept. 17.—At every town the road was lined with people. Even bankards who retire early were awake late to catch a glimpse of the mournful train.

Harrisburg, Sept. 17.—This city was not reached until after midnight but the crowd was enormous and the scene impressive.

As the choir sang "Lead, Kindly Light," every person in the crowded rotunda stood in reverence.

After the services twenty minutes were required to clear the rotunda sufficiently to permit the general public to view the casket.

While the tremendous crowd surged toward the east entrance thousands of people were caught in the crush at the foot of the main staircase.

It is estimated that no less than fifty women and children were injured to some extent.

The money market continued easy, as was reflected in the lower rates for call loans under the influence of the disbursements of the sub-treasury.

On call, steady, at 2 1/2% per cent; last loan, 2 1/2%; ruling rate, 4 1/2%.

OYSTERS.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Four of the doctors who attended Mr. McKinley from the time he was wounded until his death, and who assisted in performing the autopsy, have been interviewed.

These physicians, Messrs. Wasdin, Park, Mynter and Mann, agree only on one point; that is, that by no exercise of surgical skill or medical attention could the death of Mr. McKinley have been prevented.

Several physicians met in consultation several times daily at the Milburn home, discussed the phases of the case as they were presented from time to time, did all that could be done, and now, after the autopsy, are not a unit as to what caused the death which resulted in the president's death.

Wasdin Says Bullet Was Poisoned.

Dr. Wasdin, at his home, in discussing his theory, reiterated his belief that the bullet was poisoned. He said: "It seems impossible to me that gangrene could have developed to such an extent as it did in the case of Mr. McKinley without the introduction of foreign deleterious matter.

"The fact that gangrene was not due to the introduction of any injurious germs is proved by the fact that the gangrene was absolutely localized. The tendency of germs is to colonize on development and then spread out, affecting not only those parts wherein it originated but going into the entire system."

"On Tuesday it was decided to open the exterior wound in the abdomen. There had been some irritation there, and we decided to find out the cause. At first we took out a few of the stitches, and later laid open the entire incision, leaving an opening in this wound five inches long and three inches deep. It required no effort to open the wound, and we immediately found in the track of the bullet through the flesh and fatty tissue that gangrene had developed. None of the parts other than those around the immediate bullet wound were affected. We removed this affected tissue, cleansed the wound, and closed it."

"When you found that gangrene existed in the surface of the wound, was it not an indication that it had penetrated deeper?"

"No, it was not. We discussed the subject through his theories, and even we could, and there was no indication that the process had continued into the abdominal cavity.

Park Does Not Agree.

Dr. Roswell Park does not agree with any of Dr. Wasdin's theories, and even goes so far as to disagree with him in statements of facts. Dr. Park declared he had been so much misquoted he would insist upon having his statement reduced to writing. He wrote: "There is no reason to believe that poison was introduced into the wounds.

Michael Mulligan and John Veasy, two of our townsmen, says the Grand Marais Herald, have been the victims of an erroneous report which has been going the rounds, to the effect that they were guilty of stealing the missing articles from the post house.

Negaunee and Vicinity.

[Subscribers to The Mining Journal will please remember that carrier boys are not allowed to receive money on subscription account.]

CONNORS WILL BE POSTMASTER.

It is Now Settled That He Will Succeed John D. Stevens.

Mayor Thomas Connors will be appointed postmaster of the Negaunee office some time within the next month, to succeed John D. Stevens, the incumbent. It is now that the opponents of the mayor that he has as good as won out, and the other aspirants for the position have dropped out of the contest.

It is anticipated by Mr. Connors' friends that the official announcement of his appointment will be made soon. They have received assurances from Washington that the place will be given to him and that the appointment will be made within a short time.

The fight for the postmastership has been a long one, extending over a period of several months. At one time it was rumored that Mr. Stevens would succeed himself, but, although he had considerable backing, Congressman Sheldon flatly refused to appoint him. Besides Mr. Stevens, there were a half dozen other aspirants, all of whom have now dropped out of the race in favor of Mr. Connors.

When seen by a Mining Journal reporter yesterday, Mr. Connors said that he had nothing to say in regard to the postmastership. He was told that it was the talk of the street that he was to receive the appointment, but he replied that street talk is not always reliable. However, it could be seen from his manner that he was confident of securing the position.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.

City Offices Will Be Closed Thursday in Honor of the Late President.

The following proclamation was issued yesterday by Mayor Connors:

"For the third time a president of the United States has fallen the victim of an assassin's bullet. For the third time in two generations, the people of this republic are called upon to mourn the untimely taking off of their chief executive. Death, grim in any form, but horrid in its latest guise, has claimed William McKinley, president of the United States, and millions of his fellow citizens are made to grieve.

"As a husband and as a man, his life was free from blame—a noble example for the youth of the land to pattern after. His noble qualities taught his people to respect and love him. Therefore, I, Thomas Connors, mayor of the city of Negaunee, do order that the departments of the city government, with the exception of the police, fire and water departments, suspend all business on Thursday, Sept. 19, and remain closed throughout the day. All saloons are ordered closed on that day from 12 o'clock noon until 6 o'clock p. m., and I hereby earnestly request that all business be suspended from noon until evening and that all business houses and private residences be suitably draped in mourning. I also ask that all flags be placed at half-mast and that other observances be followed that may fittingly express the sorrow of the American people at the tragical death of their chosen ruler.

"THOMAS CONNORS," Mayor of the City of Negaunee.

EXCURSION SUNDAY.

The excursion to the Soo Sunday, under the auspices of the Morse Hose company of Marquette, will be liberally patronized by Negaunee people, if the weather is favorable. For the past few days Mr. Barnes, the local agent of the D. S. S. & A. railroad, has received a great many inquiries regarding the excursion. The fare of $3 for the round trip is so ridiculously low that the excursion is sure to be successful.

The train for the Soo will leave Negaunee at the usual hour, 4:20 a. m., and returning, will leave the Soo at 6 p. m. This will give the excursionists about eight hours in the Lock City.

PROCLAMATION TO TEACHERS.

"In order that the important lesson of patriotism and devotion to duty may be impressed upon the minds of the children upon whom the responsibilities of government will rest in later years, it is eminently fitting at this time to have presented to them a knowledge of the noble life, exalted personal character, and distinguished public services of our third martyred president, William McKinley. I therefore request that each teacher in the public schools of Marquette county devote a part of Thursday afternoon, Sept. 19, to a memorial service, suitable to the occasion.

"F. D. DAVIS," County Commissioner of Schools.

Lower Michigan.

The board of education of West Bay City, which is having a new school course of the city taken to make up the losses reported by the first enumerators, is much encouraged by the reports as they are coming in. The third ward reports a gain of twenty-eight and the fifth ward a gain of thirty.

An incident in the way of molecatching which has no recorded precedent occurred on the premises of A. A. Taft, of Plymouth. Two ground moles which were burrowing up his lawn were caught simultaneously in one trap, meeting at that point just in time. It is usually pretty sharp work to catch even one of the little pests.

Sanilac county farmers, and especially those of the interior townships, are going through a period of anxiety over the great bean crop now being harvested. A few days of wet weather will ruin a great portion of the crop. The acreage in the county this year is larger than ever before. Should the weather prove favorable the output of beans in the county will not be far from 200,000 bushels.

A Burlington man is out $30 and some odd cents because he delayed too long in presenting his claim for the county for sparrows he had killed. Because he killed the birds before the expiration of the bounty law he thought he could collect the bounty any time, but he found out his mistake when the treasurer refused to give him the money on the ground that he had not presented his claim before Sept. 5, the date the law expired.

During a recent gentle shower a Kalamazoo man thought to do a good turn to his next door neighbor who was temporarily away from home, and took a large palm on the latter's porch and placed it where the rain might strike it and brighten its leaves, which appeared dull-tinted, as from lack of moisture. He found out soon afterward—but not, however, until it was too late—that the "palm" was an artificial one, and the rain soon ruined it completely.

If Plymouth succeeds in landing all the manufacturing enterprises she has in contemplation she will have three new factories. The Beech State factory, controlled by Toledo capital, wants to locate in Plymouth if the village will put up for moving expenses, and the council has appointed a committee to investigate probabilities and possibilities. Then the Wagner Tool works of Sidney, O., but lately resting on its laurels, wants also to come for a consideration of $5,000 or $6,000. Besides these, the formation of a stock company to establish a pickling, preserving and canning factory is in prospect, a meeting having been called for Sept. 21 to consider the matter. The movers in the last project are Detroit people.

Thomas Walker of Warren, Mich., was run over on Oxford Saturday night by a work car on the Detroit & Flint electric line and instantly killed. He lay upon the tracks intoxicated and the work car struck him before his body was noticed. Beside the track lay his brother Frank, also intoxicated, and unaware of the fate of his brother until twacked by the train men. Walker's left arm was cut off and his head terribly mangled. He was a son of Mr. Walker of the Walker Carriage factory at Warren. He was twenty-two years of age and a member of Company K, Thirty-fourth Michigan infantry, seeing service in Cuba under Captain Farrar of Mt. Clemens.

A CERTAIN CURE FOR DYSENTERY AND DIARRHOEA.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says E. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford County, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea, and was about to give up the trip, when Editor Ward, of the Laceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully and never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy and this time one dose cured me." Sold by The Stafford Drug Co.

HIT BY ANGRY SEAS

SCHOONER MAUTENEE HAS TUSSELE WITH GALE ON LAKE.

NOW PRESENTS SORRY SIGHT.

LOSS TO CARGO AND VESSEL ABOUT SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Wind Causes the Craft to Sheer and as a Result the Deck Load Rolls Into the Water, Taking the Masts With It.

The schooner Mautenee, Captain M. Ryan, master, arrived in port yesterday morning in low of the propeller Lizzie Madden showing the effects of a hard tussle with the gale that has kicked up such a heavy sea during the past few days.

The schooner was bound from Chicago to Ashland loaded with lumber as the steamer and the Madden's other consort. Monday night, while the boats were about thirty miles north of Marquette, an unusually heavy sea sheered the Mautenee broadside to the waves, and as a result the deckload rolled off into the lake and carried the masts with it. Incidentally, the cargo poured into the hull and when the barge managed to make port yesterday with her tow the Mautenee was practically in a waterlogged condition. She presented a sorry-looking sight as she lay at the dock.

The official report of the mishap filed at the custom office estimates the damage to the craft at $1,000 and the loss to the deck cargo at $5,100, both covered by insurance.

Big Fleet Storm Bound.

A good sized fleet of vessels was weatherbound in the harbor yesterday, waiting for the seas to go down before resuming their trips down the lakes.

The China was due, bound up, early yesterday morning, but up to last evening she had not made port and it was not known just when she would arrive. The lake was too rough for comfort for the staunch tug Schneck, and her proposed trip to the Huron Mountain club was postponed. Eleven cans of speckled trout fry are awaiting transportation to the club, and the Schneck will take them up on her next trip, which probably will be made this morning.

Later—The China arrived last night, considerably shaken up by the heavy sea.

SIGNAL STATION AT PRESQUE ISLE

Weather Bureau to Establish a Branch Observatory There.

The weather bureau has decided to establish a signal station at Presque Isle for the benefit of the shipping which caters to the ore business at that lively little port. A tower, or observatory, will be erected at some high point on the "island" for use as a display station.

At the last meeting of the park and cemetery commission, a resolution was adopted providing that for the sum of $1 a ten-year lease to any tract of land thirty feet square be given to the department of agriculture for the purposes above set forth. The site is left to the selection of the department, which is also awarded the right-of-way to and from such parcel of land as may be chosen.

The move of the weather bureau will fill a long-felt want, and will save much valuable time to vesselmen since a glance at the signals displayed will show the weather indications without the necessity of a trip to town or the annoyance of a resort to telephone.

STREET SIGNS PURCHASED.

Council Committee Closes a Deal With a New York Concern.

The purchasing committee of the common council yesterday placed the order for the street signs it was decided some time ago should be procured.

In reply to the proposals for bids, eight propositions were submitted by as many concerns, four of them being from local parties. Cesar Brothers of New York submitted the most satisfactory.

proposition, and accordingly they were awarded the contract.

Something over 325 signs are to be purchased at a cost to the city of under twenty-five cents each. They are of brass, with white letters, are made of steel, range from about fourteen to twenty-four inches in length and are about four inches in width.

The signs will be posted at the various street intersections throughout the city.

COPPERS UNDER PRESSURE.

Not Much Change Locked For Until Money Situation Clears.

Coppers, that is the Lake coppers, held fairly steady yesterday despite free selling of Amalgamated and Isle Royale. The market was rather depressed, however, and the big bull boom that has so often been predicted as on the road seems to have come to another halt. The money situation apparently is still the bugaboo, and when the present stringency is at an end in Wall street, better things are looked for.

Hayden, Stone & Co. wired the Laidley Commission company as follows from Boston: "The persistent selling of Amalgamated has had rather a depressing effect on our local market. Isle Royale is exceedingly weak on selling by insiders, who find that the mine is not all it was represented. Old Dominion looks very cheap to us. They have done their best to depress it, and when they have gotten all the stock they want, up it will go. We do not look for much change in the market until the financial situation clears."

Paine, Webber & Co. wired from Boston that "coppers were dull and steady today, except Isle Royale. The same interests are selling who have been doing it for the last month. Amalgamated continues weak on what looks like inside selling. We think that a deal will be made before long, taking in the minority Anaconda stock, and that the present selling is in anticipation of this."

Grain Markets Strong and Higher.

A. R. Jones & Co. said of wheat: "The bull market that we have been predicting for some time is at last a reality. The strength of grains today was all that the most ardent bull could wish, though it was corn that led from start to finish. Wheat gained inspiration from corn, also from Argentine cables stating that rain was needed, and on export buying. Shorts came in freely. Traders are at last awake to the situation, and we do not believe they will let wheat rest here—it should go considerable higher tomorrow. All that has been lacking is trade, and now that that is awake we would buy wheat at any price."

"Frosts were the first factor in corn, the market starting half a cent better than last night's close. Predictions of frost again tonight kept the market going until it became almost panicky. All the big interests were buyers. One of the leading commission houses took a couple of million bushels. Frost on the late corn will put this market ten cents higher before the week is over. We advise buying corn and holding it for a good profit."

SALOONS TO SUSPEND.

Liquor Men Will Join in the McKinley Memorial Services.

At a meeting last night of the proprietors of the leading saloons, it was decided that all saloons be closed during the hours of one and five tomorrow afternoon, so that the liquor men, in common with all patriots, may join in paying tribute to the memory of the nation's martyred president. The move is a commendable one, and the saloon keepers are deserving of much praise for their voluntary action.

Postoffice to Be Closed.

Postmaster Youngquist is in receipt of orders from the department at Washington to suspend the business of the postoffice for the day at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. The carriers will make one delivery.

The custom house officials have received instructions from Washington that the port be closed Thursday, the day of McKinley's funeral at Canton.

$30,000 CONTRACT AWARDED.

Northern Construction Company Will Build Alger County's New Courthouse.

The Alger county board of supervisors met at Au Train yesterday afternoon to consider bids for the construction of the new county buildings at Munising, the new county seat. There were three bids presented, as follows: Lippsett & Snelair, Marquette, $29,997; Northern Construction company, Milwaukee, 29,448; Mosher & Stewart, Munising and Manistique, 29,200.

The contract was awarded to the Northern Construction company, its bid being considered the best despite the fact it was not quite the lowest. The buildings are to be completed by Aug. 1, 1902, and the electro printed here-with shows that they will be handsome structures and a credit to the county. Charlton, Gilbert & Demar are the architects.

This last trial by the jury is a suit brought by Mr. Culver involving a commission alleged to be due by reason of a land deal. The testimony has been taken in part. The remaining cases are civil actions for decisions by the court. The session will probably last for the balance of the month.

News has been received of the death at Port Sarnia, near Port Huron, of Frank C. Barney, son of S. L. Barney of this city. Mr. Barney was forty-one years of age. Quinsy was the cause of his demise. The remains will arrive here, in charge of the bereaved father, today. The funeral will be held from the residence of a sister of the deceased, Mrs. Todd, 116 Ohio street, probably on Thursday. Mrs. George Trethewey, also a sister, will be here from Buffalo to attend the obsequies.
