Firemen Not Back to Headquarters When Summoned to Ex-Mayor Jacobs'-His Barn and Horse Lost

Marquette is harboring a fire-bug. At least two fires in two different barns, neither one of them occupied by per-sons, early this morning, would lead to that conclusion.

Shortly after midnight, a blaze was noticed in the barn owned by A. Mathews, and the firemen had just quenched the flames and were partaking of hot coffee served by Mrs.Mathews when they were summoned to the barn of ex-Mayor Jacobs, located a little over a block up stance was confined to a comparatively small sum, but in the latter case th handsome structure lies a mass of ruins, the barn of Edward Kellan, adjoining. was damaged to the amount of some bundred dollars, and one horse met it
