Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Mrs. Carrie Catt, president of the Woman's suffrage association, may be the right person for the important office she is filling, but as a friend of the cause we could wish that she bore some other old name.

Stearns has not yet announced that he will be a candidate for governor against Bliss and the suspense is beginning to tell on some of the fellows who are waiting to have him shy his castor into the ring and tap his barrel.

Governor Taft says the Filipinos are not fitted for jury service. During his stay among them the governor doesn't seem to have discovered anything the poor Filipinos are good for except to serve as targets for the soldiers we have sent there to teach them the lesson of obedience to our rule.

The prediction is made that Russia and Japan will be scrapping within the next six months. Should that come to pass Great Britain will be given a chance to prove the qualities of her naval fighters, as she will have to take sides with her ally and much of the fighting will be done on the high seas.

RATHER RASPING. A Detroit politician named McGregor who attended the Lincoln day banquet of the State League of Republican clubs at Grand Rapids last week gave out for publication the statement that the election of Mr. Fenton as president of the league is a victory for Stearns, as the organization will now be used to give impetus to the movement to make him the next governor.

It ought to be called The Noble Association of Hungry Grafters and Bungstarters. Isn't the Courier-Herald taking the day-after-the-banquet utterances of the Detroit man too seriously? It is hardly to be believed that the league mentioned will allow itself to be so used as to justify giving it the shocking name suggested by that paper as being fairly descriptive of its character.

HILL AS A MINE OWNER. A West Superior dispatch gives this account of what "Jim" Hill has done during the past year toward securing a foothold on the Mesaba iron range and the purpose for which he desires to become a large holder of iron properties there:

One of the most interesting developments of the last year on the Mesaba iron range has been the struggle of the Eastern Minnesota railroad, owned by James J. Hill, to assume itself of a permanency for its ore traffic. With the formation of the United States Steel corporation Mr. Hill saw that his investments in ore roads and terminals, as well as the exceedingly remunerative ore traffic itself, were menaced for the reason that the two roads controlled by the steel corporation would handle all of its business and take from his road traffic from mines that were the property of concerns becoming constituents of the combination.

In order to prevent being put out of the ore business entirely, Hill set about, taking lands on the range, buying fees, and options on leases of every character. This policy is being continued, and is being pushed vigorously. The Eastern Minnesota road has purchased outright a great many tracts on the formation, has explored and bought many more, and has taken leases right and left.

It has secured the capital stock of companies owning well located lands, and in every possible way has fortified its position. Once having the lands in fee, the road withdraws them from exploration or purchase by mining corporations, except in cases where these companies have lands of their own on which ore is known to exist, and the traffic from which can be turned over to the Eastern Minnesota.

Through these operations the Eastern Minnesota company has placed itself in a position where it can control the ore situation so far as newcomers in the mining and steel business are concerned. The energies of Hill have been largely devoted to this move, and it is through his wisdom that the road is put in a position where the United States Steel corporation does not have a monopoly of the ore shipping and mining business in this region.

In order to handle this great business, Hill is taking steps to add to the equipment. He has already two ore docks here, one holding about 50,000 tons of ore, while the other at present holds a little over 70,000 tons. To this latter, now one of the biggest in the world, the work on a 600-foot addition has been started, giving the dock 100 new pockets, fifty on each side, and making it by far the greatest and largest ore shipping dock in the world. The capacity of the one dock alone will be over 100,000 tons, and it will be seventy-two feet in height. Hill will handle 4,500,000 tons of iron ore in this city during the coming season, which will be a jump from last season's record of a little over 2,000,000 tons. The previous year only about 1,000,000 tons were shipped by his roads. The extension now being put on the big ore dock will cost about $300,000. One thousand new steel ore cars have been ordered by the Hill interests.

THE PRESIDENT'S GOOD SENSE. The Boston Herald believes that President Roosevelt is coming to be well liked by the people of the Southern states, in spite of the temporary ebullition of feeling among the rabid "nigger" haters in these states provoked by his action in having Booker T. Washington as his guest at dinner some time ago.

It cites as evidence of the good sense he is displaying in dealing with problems arising in that part of the Union, and which is winning him favor with the people there, his refusal to reappoint a colored man postmaster at Athens, Ga., and remarks that this was not in conflict with his recognition of Professor Washington as a social equal, "or, in any fair sense, a slight to the colored race," the colored postmaster having been turned down because he was objectionable to a large majority of the patrons of the office.

He would have refused to have reappointed a white man for the same reason, undoubtedly, but in the supposed case the candidate would hardly be objectionable to patrons on account of his race, whereas the presumption is that the colored postmaster was objected to mainly because he is a negro.

However, this is neither here nor there, for the president has to deal with conditions as he finds them, and, as the Herald observes, it is the theory of Professor Washington that it is hurtful to the interests of his race to have colored men forced, or forcing themselves, into relations to the white race which increases the antipathy of the latter to the negro as a general proposition.

TOOK BOTH GAMES. St. Paul Hockey Team Not In It With Portage Lake Boys.

Saturday's night's hockey match between the St. Paul and Portage Lake teams at the Palace rink, Hancock, was a more interesting and harder fought contest than that on the preceding night at Portage Lake won by 12 to 1. The attendance was fully as large as on Friday evening and much enthusiasm was shown. People were liberal with their applause and whenever St. Paul made a good play it was recognized. The visitors were so completely outclassed, however, that the locals apparently could score at will. As on Friday night St. Paul got its only goal near the end of the second half, Patterson made it. Howell, Portage Lake's point, stood near Patterson at the time and yelled to him to shoot and he did. Howell stated after the game that he wanted to see if the visitors could get just one goal when they had a clear shot for it, and said that had he desired he could have stopped Patterson easily.

At the end of the first half the score was 6 to 0. The play commenced with vim and Portage Lake used rushing tactics from the start. The team work was beautiful and could not have been better. When the puck was passed in a pinch from one side of the rink to the other a local man was always there to receive it and thus the play continued. At times Gibson would break through the opposing line and score by brilliant individual work. The Portage Lake players are great stick handlers and seldom lost the puck although the sticks in their hands were knocked often and the boys were compelled a number of times to jump over the sticks of their opponents set for trips. Hay, who took Rowe's place in this game, scored the first goal after one minute of play, and started the fun. The other goals were made by Meinke, who scored three, and by Gibson, who got two. The Portage Lake goal was in real danger only once in this half although several times St. Paul rushed the puck to the goal only to lose it on account of the local's great defense which could not be broken up. Meinke's goals were the result of team work while Gibson's work was a sample of his old individual playing. St. Paul had little or no team work in this half nor in the second half.

Portage Lake continued its fast work in the second half. Gibson scored two goals in rapid succession nearly at the outset and after five minutes of play Wilson sent the puck into the net. A half minute later Meinke scored. St. Paul's turn was now and its only tally was secured. Wilson got the next for Portage Lake and Howell scored the last. Lawrence and Patterson did the best work for St. Paul on the forward line. Jones demonstrated again that he is an expert goal tender. He was successful in stopping many hard shots. Rowe referred to the satisfaction of both teams. The match was devoid of any wrangling and other objectionable features and was clean and fast hockey throughout.

The complete walkway by the Portage Lake hockey team over the St. Paul seven Friday night was a great surprise to those who witnessed the game as it was thought the visiting players would give the locals a hard cub. The St. Paul team for the most part was comprised of the Virginia club players, who stand at the head of the hockey league at St. Paul with a percentage of 1000 to its credit, meaning that it has not lost a game with the teams of the league this season. The other members of the seven were picked players from other St. Paul teams. From the start of the match Saturday night it was seen that the St. Paul boys were entirely outclassed. The playing in both halves was almost entirely in the visitor's territory. Each team on the Portage Lake team could handle the puck as he wished and as much as he desired. The team work of the Portage Lake seven was excellent and completely bewildered the St. Paul boys, who attempted some team work but without success. Goals were made in one, two three order and will appear on the local's record. The only St. Paul goal was secured at the close of the second half by Patterson, who, in conjunction with Lawrence of the visitors played good hockey from start to finish.

The playing of Jones at goal for St. Paul was wonderful and his equal in that position has never been seen here. In the first half he stopped eleven hard shots that looked like certain goals and in the second half seven. He undoubtedly did the hardest and the best work for his team, saving his fellows from a more disastrous defeat.

Washburn, the Portage Lake goal, had little or nothing to do. The playing of Gibson, Haller, Rowe and Wilson for the locals, of course, was gilt edge as usual. Meinke was a particular star and did brilliant work, scoring seven out of the eleven goals.

CONTRACT MAY BE LET TODAY. Gauthier Bros. Will Probably Erect New Kerredge Theatre.

The contract for the new theatre to be built at Hancock in the spring by William Kerredge will be given to a copper country contractor. The contract will be awarded, probably today, to Gauthier Bros., of Hancock, whose terms for the work were the most reasonable. This announcement has not been given out by Mr. Kerredge but comes indirectly from him on the best of authority. The painting will be done by J. C. Donahoe of Hancock. The contract for the interior decorations will be let later. Gauthier Bros. is the same firm that had the contract to remodel the First National bank building of Hancock. The bids for the theatre work were opened by Mr. Kerredge Saturday evening. There were nine bids from copper country and outside contractors. Work will be started in the spring as soon as the weather will permit.

Houghton's Proposed Playhouse. In about ten days definite plans for the proposed Houghton theatre will have been decided upon. A meeting of the board of control is to be held this week, at which time the plans now on a level with the street. It is believed, however, that the plans are already drawn will be selected almost in their entirety. The plans provide for an armory as well as an opera house. The armory apartment will be in the basement while the theatre proper will be on a level with the street. It is said that some Hancock people are not satisfied at the action Houghton is taking in this opera house matter and that they believe Hancock should be entitled to the one modern theatre at Portage Lake, claiming that definite steps for such a venture were first taken there. Houghton men interested in the theatre project state on the other hand that a new opera house for the village has been talked for the last three years and that it is nothing new at this time nor is the movement now being brought to a head to work against the Hancock house which will also be built in the spring.

RENEWED ACTIVITY IN WOODS. During the last couple of weeks there has been renewed activity in the logging camps on account of the snow and cold weather. There has been a demand for men, particularly in the smaller camps, and many are leaving the city every day. Wages are at a good figure and are holding steady. If the weather continues favorable the loggers and manufacturers who are doing their own logging will continue operations into April.

SMOTHER A COUGH. You can smother a cough with your hand but you can't cure it that way. Some medicines only smother coughs. Scott's Emulsion cures them. Old coughs and deep-rooted coughs can't be cured until the inflammation which causes them has been replaced by healthy tissue. That is exactly the kind of thorough work Scott's Emulsion does. It changes the entire nature of the throat and lungs so that there is nothing to cough about.

ACCIDENT NOT WITNESSED. Coroner's Jury Holds Inquest Over Body of Captain Kelly.

The inquest over the body of the late Captain Thomas Kelly, of the Franklin mine, who was found dead in No. 3 shaft at the sixteenth level Friday evening, was held by Coroner Fisher of Laurium Saturday morning. Not much evidence as to how the captain met his death could be introduced as no one was with him at the time of the accident. It is known, however, that he fell about 200 feet. The left collar bone was broken and cuts were found on the head. Physicians state that death must have been instantaneous. The verdict of the coroner's jury was to the effect that the immediate cause of death was the shock caused by the fall. The captain leaves a wife and thirteen children. He was a member of the Old Fellows. The funeral will be held this afternoon from the Peavie M. E. church at 2 o'clock with interment at Forest Hill cemetery, Houghton.

WILL SOON BE ABANDONED. Old Armory to Pass Out of Hands of Houghton Militia.

The old armory, which has been the home of the Houghton militia for a long time, will soon pass out of the hands of the Light Infantry company. Before the company will have its new armory, which is to be below the theatre proper in the new opera house building. By that time the present armory will have been disposed of by the militia for the amount of the debt upon it and perhaps something over besides.

GOES TO CHICAGO. H. I. Johnson, who has been Mr. Vaughn's assistant in the St. Paul road's commercial office at Houghton for several months, will leave this afternoon for Chicago where he will be employed as a soliciting freight agent by the company. Mr. Johnson has many friends during his residence in Houghton and all regret to see him leave. His place at Houghton will be taken by Claude Sawyer, who has resigned as operator in the Postal telegraph office at Hancock.

BAND WELL EQUIPPED. The Calumet & Hecla band is steadily improving in every way and the management is doing all in its power to make the organization one of the best of its kind in the country. At present the band is better equipped than ever before and it can easily take its place at the head of the list of the good bands in the United States. New instruments are continually being added and the instrumentation is about complete. The latest instrument to be added is a bass clarinet.

DRUMMER HAS SMALL-POX. A traveling man, Harry Pierson, representing a wholesale drug house of Ithaca, N. Y., arrived in Houghton from Duluth Saturday morning and shortly afterwards it was discovered he was suffering with small-pox. Mr. Pierson was immediately bundled off to the county detention hospital where at last accounts he was comfortably located. Mr. Pierson informed the health authorities that he had been ailing for some time but did not know what the trouble was.

INDOOR BALL TEAMS UNITE. The two indoor baseball teams of Lake Linden, the "Buffalos" and Lake Linden aggregations, have united and hereafter the team will be known as the Lake Linden team. The best players of the two former teams make up the new one. The new aggregation is a strong one and will be hot after the county championship. C. H. Kettenbeil is the captain and B. Derriek the manager.

WILL NOT INCORPORATE. The proposed plan to incorporate Linwood, South Lake Linden and Tamarack City has been given up for the present. Before any steps can be taken to incorporate special legislation will be necessary, as the territory to be included in the town is not sufficient.

COPPERDOME BREVITIES. Greenland's new fire hall is completed. Manager Cuddihy, of the Calumet theatre, is expected home from his western tour this week.

The annual meeting of the Houghton village council will be held on Thursday evening, Feb. 27. George Reisewitz has sold his saloon on Montezuma street, Houghton, to Joseph and Michael Michaels.

The special revival services will be continued at the Grace Methodist church, Houghton, all this week. Florist York, of Hancock, left yesterday afternoon for Indianapolis to attend the convention of the American Carnation society.

F. G. Coggin of Lake Linden, ex-superintendent of the Calumet & Hecla stamp mills, who has been ill for several weeks, has about recovered. Rev. R. M. Scott, of the Portage Lake Baptist church, Hancock, addressed the young men's meeting at the Calumet Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon.

The Lake Linden "Buffalos" were defeated by the Osceola indoor baseball team at the Italian hall, Calumet, Friday night. The score was 22 to 20. The Calumet & Hecla orchestra will furnish music for the skating party to be given at the Superior ice rink, Laurium, tomorrow evening by the members of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Calumet Congregational church.

The Mass City fire department has applied for membership in the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association. The Mass City firemen will enter a running team for the athletic events to be held during the Negawanee tournament.

The members of the Red Jacket tribe of Red Men will give a grand concert at the Red Jacket town hall on the evening of Feb. 22, Washington's birthday. An excellent program is in preparation.

Hundred of lives saved every year by having Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the house just when it is needed. Cures croup, heals burns, cuts, wounds of every sort.

WARRANTS FOR SALOONKEEPERS. Warrants for the arrest of five more Calumet saloonkeepers were sworn out in Judge Curtis' court Saturday afternoon upon evidence furnished by one of the members of the Civic Federation. The saloonkeepers are William Waas, Lake Linden avenue; Frank Distel, corner of Osceola and Fourth streets; Alex. Dufort, Iroquois street; John Valsano, corner Hecla and Second streets; and J. R. O'Neill. The charge against the first four is for keeping their saloons open on Sunday, Feb. 9, and that against Mr. O'Neill for failing to remove the screens in his saloon after 11 o'clock.

NEEDS A NEW HOTEL. Milwaukee Men May Build a Hostelry in Hancock.

A prominent Milwaukee hotel man who conducts one of that city's best hostels and who is well known to the traveling public, recently made the remark to a Houghton man that Hancock would soon have a new hotel and hinted very strongly that Milwaukee capital would build it. Milwaukee hotel men keep well posted upon the needs of the copper country in the hotel line and it is said they have had their eyes on Hancock for some time. They are filled with the idea that the village needs a new hotel. The hotel proposition in Hancock is not yet a dead one, although it has been shelved temporarily. The need for a new hostelry still remains and the idea to build will be a pet one with certain Hancock men until the structure is erected.

C. & H. BAND CONCERTS. The Calumet & Hecla band is now making arrangements for a concert to be given in Houghton the latter part of the month, and also one at the Calumet theatre. The evenings selected are Feb. 24 and 25, the latter date being the one for the Houghton entertainment, which will be given at the armory. The band will present Emil Kopp, recognized as the greatest solo cornetist in this country, as its special attraction. In conjunction with the solos that Mr. Kopp will render the band will play several excellent selections.

LIBRARIES ARE NEEDED. Houghton and Hancock Should Accept Andrew Carnegie's Offer.

Andrew Carnegie has signified his willingness to furnish funds for the erection of libraries in towns of about the population of Hancock and Houghton if certain conditions are followed. Either Hancock or Houghton is in a position to accept an offer of this kind and it is a wonder to many citizens that the villages do not avail themselves of Mr. Carnegie's generosity. Hancock took up the proposition, or rather Mayor Scott did, several months ago, but nothing ever came of it. Mr. Scott wrote quite a satisfactory reply. His proposition, however, was somewhat different from that of Mr. Carnegie. Instead of erecting a new structure it was Mr. Scott's intention to turn the upstairs portion of the new village hall into a library and reading room to be maintained after once established by the village. The rooms would be in the charge of one or two attendants and would be kept up well.

Mr. Carnegie's proposition to establish libraries and his liberality in this is well known to some. Several cities in the Northwest have accepted his terms. Of the upper peninsula cities Iron Mountain has the start in that line, as it is to have a Carnegie library.

The proposition for a Carnegie library has not yet been called to the attention of the Houghton council, probably on account of Mr. Carnegie's liberal offer not being generally known. Houghton wants a library just as much, perhaps, as an opera house and a new armory. In fact, the Women's library, which has been struggling along in a half sort of a way in its one little room in the village hall, desires larger quarters. The ladies are ambitious in their hope to have new quarters provided at some time and it is quite necessary if the library is to grow and prosper. The association now has only one small apartment in which to keep its books and has no reading rooms. During the last few months a large number of new books have been added to the library and the ladies have begun to realize that they must soon seek new quarters.

The proposition to include the library quarters within the new opera house to be erected has fallen through. That structure will contain only the theatre and the new armory. It is understood that the ladies have several propositions in mind for new quarters, but whether or not they will supply the need is not now known.

Houghton could have a Carnegie library if it desired. A site would be easily procurable and it is believed that the ten per cent of the amount donated by Mr. Carnegie could be raised each year without much protest from the taxpayers. It is believed that that amount could be saved through economy for the village has been extravagant in regard to its streets and in carrying out plans every now and then in a needless search for a new water supply when it is not needed.

CONCERT BY LODGE. A concert is now under preparation by One and All Lodge, Sons of St. George, of Calumet, to be given at the Calumet theatre on the evening of March 28, Good Friday. A program of fine musical merit is to be presented. A committee has been appointed to look after the program for the day, which will begin with a parade of the members, headed by the Calumet & Hecla band, through the principal streets of Calumet. At the conclusion of the parade speeches will be given in the lodge's quarters in the Dunstan hall. Supper will be served in the Light Guard armory at 6 o'clock and the concert at the theatre will commence at 8 o'clock.

FIREMEN'S SKATING PARTY. The Lake Linden fire department will give a skating party at the Mammoth ice rink at that place this evening. Music will be furnished by the Lake Linden band. A special program of twenty selections will be rendered between 8 and 11 o'clock. The firemen will attend the party in full dress uniform. There will be several races to attract the crowd, such as contests in which stout and lean skaters will participate, and skaters against runners. There will also be a relay race between the firemen. Each fireman will skate one lap and the winners will receive a prize.

WARRANTS FOR SALOONKEEPERS. Warrants for the arrest of five more Calumet saloonkeepers were sworn out in Judge Curtis' court Saturday afternoon upon evidence furnished by one of the members of the Civic Federation. The saloonkeepers are William Waas, Lake Linden avenue; Frank Distel, corner of Osceola and Fourth streets; Alex. Dufort, Iroquois street; John Valsano, corner Hecla and Second streets; and J. R. O'Neill. The charge against the first four is for keeping their saloons open on Sunday, Feb. 9, and that against Mr. O'Neill for failing to remove the screens in his saloon after 11 o'clock.

NEEDS A NEW HOTEL. Milwaukee Men May Build a Hostelry in Hancock.

A prominent Milwaukee hotel man who conducts one of that city's best hostels and who is well known to the traveling public, recently made the remark to a Houghton man that Hancock would soon have a new hotel and hinted very strongly that Milwaukee capital would build it. Milwaukee hotel men keep well posted upon the needs of the copper country in the hotel line and it is said they have had their eyes on Hancock for some time. They are filled with the idea that the village needs a new hotel. The hotel proposition in Hancock is not yet a dead one, although it has been shelved temporarily. The need for a new hostelry still remains and the idea to build will be a pet one with certain Hancock men until the structure is erected.

C. & H. BAND CONCERTS. The Calumet & Hecla band is now making arrangements for a concert to be given in Houghton the latter part of the month, and also one at the Calumet theatre. The evenings selected are Feb. 24 and 25, the latter date being the one for the Houghton entertainment, which will be given at the armory. The band will present Emil Kopp, recognized as the greatest solo cornetist in this country, as its special attraction. In conjunction with the solos that Mr. Kopp will render the band will play several excellent selections.

LIBRARIES ARE NEEDED. Houghton and Hancock Should Accept Andrew Carnegie's Offer.

Andrew Carnegie has signified his willingness to furnish funds for the erection of libraries in towns of about the population of Hancock and Houghton if certain conditions are followed. Either Hancock or Houghton is in a position to accept an offer of this kind and it is a wonder to many citizens that the villages do not avail themselves of Mr. Carnegie's generosity. Hancock took up the proposition, or rather Mayor Scott did, several months ago, but nothing ever came of it. Mr. Scott wrote quite a satisfactory reply. His proposition, however, was somewhat different from that of Mr. Carnegie. Instead of erecting a new structure it was Mr. Scott's intention to turn the upstairs portion of the new village hall into a library and reading room to be maintained after once established by the village. The rooms would be in the charge of one or two attendants and would be kept up well.

Mr. Carnegie's proposition to establish libraries and his liberality in this is well known to some. Several cities in the Northwest have accepted his terms. Of the upper peninsula cities Iron Mountain has the start in that line, as it is to have a Carnegie library.

The proposition for a Carnegie library has not yet been called to the attention of the Houghton council, probably on account of Mr. Carnegie's liberal offer not being generally known. Houghton wants a library just as much, perhaps, as an opera house and a new armory. In fact, the Women's library, which has been struggling along in a half sort of a way in its one little room in the village hall, desires larger quarters. The ladies are ambitious in their hope to have new quarters provided at some time and it is quite necessary if the library is to grow and prosper. The association now has only one small apartment in which to keep its books and has no reading rooms. During the last few months a large number of new books have been added to the library and the ladies have begun to realize that they must soon seek new quarters.

The proposition to include the library quarters within the new opera house to be erected has fallen through. That structure will contain only the theatre and the new armory. TREATY UP TODAY

SENATE WILL ENDEAVOR TO RATIFY DANISH AGREEMENT.

EXECUTIVE SESSION TO BE HELD

PHILIPPINE BILL MAY COME TO A VOTE THIS WEEK.

War Revenue Bill to Be Taken Up in the House with Two Days for Debate—Indian Appropriation Bill Wednesday.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The greater part of the day Monday will be devoted by the senate to an effort to ratify the treaty with Denmark for the cessation of the Danish West Indies. This proceeding will be in executive session. If the consideration of its final disposition will probably be postponed several days, as Senator Lodge has agreed to sidetrack the Philippine bill, for only one day.

Active Week in the House. The coming week promises to be one of unusual activity in the house of representatives. Beginning tomorrow the war revenue reduction bill will be taken up with two days for debate, and there is a stringent special rule bringing the bill to a vote at three Tuesday, without an intervening motion to recommitt or amendments other than those of a verbal character proposed by the committee. At the outset there promises to be a spirited contest on the adoption of the special rule, as the minority protest against cutting off the amendments and the motion to recommit. There is little doubt, however, that the rule will be adopted.

When the debate proper begins there will be hardly more than three hours on each side. This time will be given to the members of the ways and means committee, who, in turn, will apportion it among their colleagues. The passage of the bill is a foregone conclusion as the majority favor it, the only difference being as to the amount of the reduction and the extent to which the tariff changes should go.

Wheeler Speech May Figure.

Aside from the tariff issues, it would be no surprise if the sensational speech of Senator Wheeler of Kentucky on Prince Henry's visit and other foreign matters figures in the discussion, as much feeling has been aroused by the speech.

The Indian appropriation bill will be taken up Wednesday, with two other appropriation bills, of diplomatic, consular and the postoffice, in reserve. Chairman Sherman, of the Indian affairs committee, expects to occupy two or three days, as the other appropriation bills will probably go over until the following week. In that case private claims may get some consideration the latter part of the week.

The wreath was left at the residence and later carried to Woodlawn cemetery and placed on the tomb by two members of the Golet family.

WALL STREET STOCKS.

Movement in Metropolitan Caused by Merger Confuses Speculation.

New York, Feb. 16.—An exceedingly erratic movement yesterday in Metropolitan Street Railway caused by the proposed merger confused speculation. There was a rally before the appearance of the bank statement and Amalgamated Copper became strong, moving up 2 1/2.

The trading in all departments of the metal market was very slow and prices as a rule unchanged. Private cables from London were negative in character and there was an open market there.

Selling by Europeans Large.

Uncle Sam sold his Cuban wares close by woven cotton goods to the value of $107,340, while Europe sold the same goods to the value of $1,037,000. Loose woven cotton cloths and muslins from the United States were valued at $337,560, and those from across the Atlantic were valued at $2,360,000. American wearing apparel valued at $34,454 was sold to Cuba, while those from Europe were valued at $327,000. Fish products to the value of $237,522 were imported from the United States, but Europe sold Cuba goods of this class to the value of $1,007,297. Cheese to the value of $400,732 was imported in Cuba, and of this amount the United States sold but $30,353 worth.

All along the line it is shown by this statement that the European nations sell to Cuba more goods than does the United States. This is true of meat, butter, potatoes, knit goods, and a large number of other articles.

Circuit court will be in session at Crystal Falls this week. There are five criminal cases on the docket. The most important of them is the case of Captain Samuel C. Bennett, who is charged with manslaughter in having killed the village poundmaster some months ago.

The contract for the erection of the new hardwood manufacturing institution of the I. Stephenson company at Wells has been awarded to John Lindsey of Escanaba and the work has already been commenced. The building will be of gigantic proportions and will when finished, contain machinery for sawing hardwood exclusively and for the manufacture of hardwood flooring and inside finishings. It will be ready for operation early next fall and will be the largest and most complete plant of its kind in the world.

There is very little traffic to Menominee from across the bay this winter as compared with former winters, as not many of the Door county farmers are coming across the ice. This is due to the fact that there is very little demand for baled hay, which is the principal product brought over. Prices are way down and as a consequence the farmers do not care to bring the hay over to this side. There is, however, a large amount of fish being brought to Menominee from Fish Creek, Egg Harbor and other points and fishing is said to be good on the other side this winter.

The under sheriff of Mackinac county, Frank Ryerse, has been kept rather busy for the past week. Among other matters he attended to, he arrested a man named Bailey from Engadine, on a charge of rape. The officer had no warrant, but when he found that the defendant, whom he knew was "wanted," was turning his property over to Mrs. Bailey, he thought it time to nab him. Bailey is now in jail, having been committed for trial by Justice Anderson of Engadine under $2,000 bonds. The girl in the case is said to be only fourteen years old, while the defendant has a grown up family. The next day the officer captured Charles Collier on ten minutes' notice from the Soo. The man was seeking to elude himself of a $40 bond bill at Elderman by the simple expedient of flight.

A correspondent of the Menominee Herald advises that paper as follows: "One of the worst epidemics of small-pox ever known in Menominee county is now raging at Faithorn. The schools are closed and several camps are quarantined and guards watch them night and day. The pest house has twelve or thirteen cases in it, and still they come, in spite of the strict guard some patients get out and mingle with those who are not afflicted, and the danger of thus spreading the disease is great. The health department ought to be notified of the condition of affairs and should do something to prevent it. We are all well in our camp (that of Albert Brandt) and do all in our power to keep the disease out. We fumigate the camp every morning with sulphur and keep everything as clean as possible and thus hope to escape a visit from the dreaded disease."

To all across a revolving circular saw and live to tell the story is a rare occurrence, indeed, but that has been the terrible experience C. H. Sensiba of Atkinson. Just seven weeks ago, while at work in the Atkinson plant in the immediate vicinity of the huge circular saw, Mr. Sensiba was suddenly struck by a bolt which fell from an elevator overhead. The suddenness of the blow caused him to lose his balance and fall backwards, his shoulders horizontally coming in contact with the swiftly revolving saw. The accident was witnessed by several fellow-workmen and the machinery was immediately shut off. Mr. Sensiba never lost consciousness and by an almost super-human effort succeeded in regaining his balance, not, however, before the saw had cut a gash eighteen inches long and nearly three inches deep. In addition to this a long splinter was ripped from his spinal column. Although rapidly losing blood in large quantities he was able to walk to the door of the building, over sixty feet away, where he was placed in a sleigh and driven with all speed to his home. The most convenient physician, residing twelve miles distant, was summoned with all haste, and the two medical men who responded worked over three hours in dressing and placing sutures in the awful wound. During the operation the injured man lost several pints of blood, but his wonderful constitution proved strong enough to stand the terrible shock. After two days he was removed to the hospital at Iron Mountain where he rapidly recovered. After a period of three weeks Mr. Sensiba granted the physicians permission to make a photograph of the wound, which is said to be the longest straight cut, where the victim survived, known to medical history. While the wound has not entirely healed, Mr. Sensiba suffers not the slightest inconvenience from it, and is as active and chipper as if he never had been within a half inch of death.

Testimony given by W. H. Kerr at the trial of Jeremiah Casey at the Soo, subsequent interrogation of the witness by Judge Stere and later directions given the prosecuting attorney by the judge have created considerable of a stir at the Lock City, according to the News-Record, which says: "Kerr had completed his testimony in which he had stated that Casey was a bartender at the Water Power Hotel it had been the custom to keep the saloon open all night. Turning to the witness, Judge Stere asked: 'Where did you say you were working at this time?' 'At the Water Power Hotel,' Court. 'You were kept open all night?' 'By whose authority were you permitted to do so?' 'A. The city officials gave me permission. All the saloons were allowed to keep open.' The judge then turned to the prosecuting attorney and said, in effect: 'Mr. Conrick, this is a matter, which should be looked into. When it is stated in open court that saloons are allowed to keep open all night by authority of city officials it is time for an investigation. If it is necessary to call a grand jury for this purpose you can have one.' Mr. Conrick said the matter had not heretofore been called to his attention, and that it would be looked into." On the resumption of the trial, Justice R. Marston testified that it had been the custom of police justices to make complaint against inmates of the houses of ill fame, issue warrants, make returns and file the offending parties without their ever appearing in court and pleading to the information, the fines being paid by the landladies of the various resorts, once a month. This statement again led the court to use sharp language. The judge said: "It having been brought out by testimony in this court that prisoners are being tried and convicted without ever appearing in justice court, and that saloons are keeping open all night with the authority of city officials, it is a matter to be probed by the prosecuting attorney. If you want a grand jury, Mr. Conrick, I will order one." Denials of the testimony of Justice Macdonnell have been made by the police court judge and his predecessor.

New York, Feb. 16.—It is announced that Dr. Mueller, former consul of the Orange Free State to The Hague, was one of the passengers on the St. Paul which arrived today.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

W. H. Laidley left on his return to Chicago last evening. Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Kaufman left Saturday evening for Chicago. Benjamin Blodgett of Ewen was a Marquette visitor yesterday.

Judge Flewelling of Crystal Falls was a Marquette visitor Saturday. Judge J. W. Stone left last evening for Crystal Falls, where he holds court this week.

Superintendent A. Ward, of the Munising railway, had business at the general offices here Saturday. A good portrait of Bishop G. Mott Williams adorns the front page of The Churchman for February.

A card party will be given at the A. O. U. W. hall on the evening of the 28th by the ladies of the Degree of Honor. Mrs. E. H. Towar and Miss Towar left last evening for Coronado Beach, California, to spend the balance of the winter.

H. H. Reed of Chicago and H. O. Fairchild of Green Bay, who have been the guests of W. H. Laidley for several days, have returned home. Rev. J. E. Harkness, Presbyterian minister at large for the upper peninsula, with headquarters in this city, occupied the pulpit at the 800 yesterday.

W. E. Straight of Munising, well known here, leaves today for the Indian Territory on a land-looking trip for the Cleveland Cliffs company. John Stewart, the newly selected keeper of the county poor house, will not take charge until the first of April. The resignation of Mr. Barney does not take effect until that date.

George Drolet, formerly of "de first," is doing the lathing at the Hotel Grand Portal, the new hostelry being erected at Munising. Seven thousand yards of surface are to be covered. H. N. Ormsbee, who has been attending school at Exeter, N. H., has returned because of poor health. He will probably reenter the academy at the opening of the spring term.

Professor E. C. Thompson, superintendent of schools, is booked for a lecture at the meeting of the Ontonagon County Teachers' association to be held at Ontonagon next Friday and Saturday. The receipts from the two indoor ball games at Manistique last week amounted to $160. After paying the expenses of the Beavers and settling for all other bills, $76 were divided between the two clubs.

Fred Schultheis got back yesterday from Bay City. He intended leaving for Seattle, but was called home to attend to business matters which will necessitate a postponement of the Western trip.

The winter meeting of the Knights Templar will be held next Friday and Saturday. Knights from all sections of the peninsula are expected, and as an extra inducement the South Shore has made very low rates of fare.

V. P. Chappel, Schoolcraft county's former treasurer, who recently began serving a five-year term at the branch prison for embezzlement of public funds, is learning the bindery and printer's trades at the institution down the bay shore.

Professor and Mrs. Wm. McCracken and Professor and Mrs. L. F. Anderson tendered the Normal school students at the Normal school on Saturday evening. The function, a very pleasing one, took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson.

The flag pole on the court house grounds is minus its halyards and the officials are now looking for some nimbler man to climb to the top of the stick and supply the deficiency. It is desired that the flag be flung to the breeze on Washington's birthday.

N. A. Sheldon, formerly the South Shore agent at the East End station at Superior, who disappeared about a month ago, together with railroad funds and negotiable tickets, and who was captured at New Orleans, has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment at Wau-pun. He pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzlement.

Sheriff Pennglass is finding the task of looking up the jurors drawn to serve during the coming term of circuit court, no easy task. A number of the gentlemen, miners and others, have removed from the county, and in some instances from the state, and it would seem as though some other plan of selecting the names should be devised.

Judge Stone will hold court at Crystal Falls this week. The term opens today. Considerable interest in the outcome of one case is being taken here. It is that in which Captain Bennett, superintendent of the steel trust mines in the Crystal Falls district, is the defendant on the charge of manslaughter, the captain having killed the village pound-

A CASE OF IT. Many More Like It in Marquette. The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Marquette. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such conclusive evidence.

Mrs. Wm. Warren, 220 W. Jackson street, says: "I had constant pain through the small of my back; at night I was very restless, could find no position to lie in that was comfortable and consequently rose in the mornings feeling tired and worn out. The secretions from the kidneys were unnatural and greatly in excess. I also suffered from persistent headaches and had intense thirst, feeling as though I could not drink enough. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills recommended highly for just such troubles and I procured them from the Stafford Drug Store. The treatment promptly relieved me of the trouble.

For sale at all dealers, price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

SOME WEALTHY COOKS.

They Make Big Salaries in New York Cafes. The discovery that the head cook of a big hotel here who died last summer left an estate of $50,000 may have surprised many people who look upon the art of cooking as humble and ill-paid.

As a matter of fact, there is more than one cook in this city whose salary is as large as that of a justice of the supreme court. In addition to his salary the head cook in a fashionable restaurant, though he may not be known to his patrons by sight, receives many a fat tip. Connoisseurs in cooking who are satisfied only with the best will send their order, through the waiter, directly to the head cook, if they have previously generously recommended themselves to him, with the request that he attend to it personally. Such requests, accompanied by generous tips, are also made by men who are not connoisseurs, but who find that it is a cheap way of impressing their guests. The head cook in one of these big restaurants is not only an auto-racer in his kitchen, but to convince a dozen different hosts that he is personally attending to their cooking he must be a diplomat and such diplomacy brings sure financial reward. Not all high-salaried cooks, however, save their money. One such man who was the pioneer of his class in this city, and who went back to Paris and opened a restaurant that catered largely to Americans, died not long ago in comparative poverty. But in New York most of them are thrifty and some of them own comfortable homes in neighborhoods where no one suspects their occupation. -New York Sun.

THE MODERN WAY. Comments itself to the well-informed, to do pleasantly and effectually what was formerly done in the crudest manner and disagreeably as well. To cleanse the system and break up colds, headaches, and fevers without unpleasant after effects, use the delightful liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. Made by California Fig Syrup Co.

HAD TO CONQUER OR DIE. "I was just about gone," writes Mrs. Rosa Richardson, of Laurel Springs, N. C., "I had Consumption so bad that the best doctors said I could not live more than a month, but I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by seven bottles and am now stout and well." It's an unrivaled life-saver in Consumption, Pneumonia, La Grippe and Bronchitis; infallible for bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Stafford's drug store.

On motion of Alderman Bull, the recorder was directed to again write the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railway Company for right-of-way for a track through their property from Fourth street to Fifth street.

On motion of Alderman Donovan, the committee on finance and taxation were directed to report at the next session the probable cost of acquiring the land for widening Lake street south of Market street, and the matter of the proper assessment for sidewalk in Fifth street, in Front Street 75 to 80th Street's Addition, referred to the committee on finance and taxation.

On motion of Alderman Asire, supported by Alderman Jones, the following was unanimously adopted: That a committee of three be appointed by the mayor to wait on Mr. W. F. Fitch, general manager of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railway Company, and assure him of the willingness on the part of the common council and the citizens of Marquette to cooperate with him in any move to further the interests of said railway company in this city, which would necessarily result in a direct benefit to the city.

The mayor thereupon appointed as such committee Alderman Asire, Jones and Donovan. On motion of Alderman Bull, supported by Alderman Ward, the following was unanimously adopted: That the city attorney be directed to notify the city treasurer to appear before the council at the council chamber, on Monday, February 17, 1902, at 8 o'clock p. m., to furnish information in relation to personal taxes returned delinquent by him and which appear in the statement of delinquent personal taxes on Page 50 of the annual statement of the city of Marquette for the year ending March 12, 1902, and also in relation to personal and other taxes for the year 1901, he has collected by levy or otherwise since January 19, 1902, and such of the same as remain uncollected, returned to the city of Marquette, and if counsel adjourns it be until Monday, the 17th day of February, 1902, at 8 o'clock p. m.

Carried. The council then, on motion, adjourned. DANIEL S. DONOVAN, Recorder.

UP LIKE A ROCKET.

Meteorite Career of Frank C. Andrews, the 'Young Napoleon of Finance.'

About thirteen years ago Frank C. Andrews, a farmer's boy of eighteen years, was married in Oakland county to a Miss Baker, the daughter of a neighboring farmer.

During the first year Andrews was in Mr. Warren's office he cleaned up about $3,000. He was then scarcely twenty years old.

He suddenly blossomed forth as a capitalist, a daring and successful speculator in stocks, a banker, a gold mine owner and a heavy stockholder in inter-urban street railways.

He was generally hailed as a coming 'Napoleon of Finance,' and by some was regarded as having already arrived.

He went in with Tom Navin, D. W. H. Moreland, the McMillans and others, to form a combination to secure the passage in the legislature of the Detroit Ripper bills.

He kept on frequently selling and buying property, and speculating on the stock market until last fall, when the big crash in Amalgamated copper came, his friends say he would have secured for all his property nearly $1,000,000.

DEADLY QUARREL OVER A NICKEL.

Manuel Cavallo Stabbed, and Dominic Marketto Under Arrest for the Deed.

As the result of a quarrel over a five cent piece, Manuel Cavallo lies at his boarding house in Negaunee with a ugly knife wound in his abdomen, while Dominic Marketto is confined in the city jail awaiting the outcome of Cavallo's injuries, which he is charged with inflicting with intent to kill.

The murderous attack was made Friday night, but the affair was not reported to the police until Saturday noon, and then it was through information furnished by Dr. Hudson, who was called in to dress Cavallo's wound. Marshal Gribble, after an exciting search, found Marketto in a down town saloon and placed him under arrest. The prisoner made no resistance, but has absolutely refused to talk, and will neither deny or affirm his connection with the stabbing of Cavallo.

Took Out First Papers.

From other sources it is learned that the two men, in company with Frank Degona, had obtained leave of absence from their work in one of the mines Friday afternoon in order to take out their first citizenship papers. After accomplishing their object, they proceeded to celebrate the occasion by visiting several of the resorts in the city, and all seemed to be on the best of terms until late in the afternoon, when Marketto seemed inclined to become quarrelsome, and he and another Italian, believed to be Cavallo, had a wordy quarrel near the Northwestern depot, which attracted considerable attention about 5:30 o'clock. This passed over without the pair coming to blows, and later in the evening the three, Cavallo, Marketto and Degona, visited the saloon of Dominic Degarzo, when they appeared to be on the most friendly terms.

Less than an hour after the three went into a saloon on Iron street, and Marketto gave a nickel to have a music box play a tune. He was dissatisfied with the music, and began a quarrel with the bartender, claiming that he had not received the worth of the five cents in music, and declared that he would have the owner of the place arrested by the police.

Friends Tried to Quiet Him.

His friends, Cavallo and Degona, tried to quiet the man, and coaxed him to leave the place with them for a walk, also urging him to go home with them. The three boarded at Dominic Oberto's place at the race course. "You side with him," shouted Marketto, "you are as bad as he is." It is said that in the quarrel which followed Marketto struck Degona in the face, and then said to Cavallo: "I'll kill you. I'll wait for you when you come home."

According to the story told by some of Marketto's fellow countrymen, Marketto then left and went home to Oberto's house. Degona became alarmed, and said that he was afraid, and would not go back to the boarding house that night. He went to Dominic Degarzo's residence and slept there that night. Cavallo is reported to have declared that he had done nothing to Marketto, and that he would return home as though nothing had happened. He is said to have a bad record in his native country, but he persisted in his intention of going home.

Tried to Get a Gun.

According to the story told, Marketto had reached home late in the night and going to the room of his brother had asked the latter for his revolver. This the brother refused to give him, it is said. Then it is alleged Marketto went down stairs and waited there for Cavallo to come home. When the latter returned and entered the house, Marketto sprang at him with a pocket knife and thrust the blade into Cavallo's abdomen, penetrating the intestines. Then Marketto fled.

Cavallo was taken care of by the other inmates of the house and Dr. Hudson was called to dress the wound, about 1:30 o'clock Saturday morning. They would tell the doctor little about the manner in which the injury was inflicted, and it was not until the next day that the doctor learned enough of the particulars to warrant his notifying the authorities. At the same time the owner of the place had decided to take action, and he went before the prosecuting attorney and swore out a warrant for Dominic Marketto charging him with assault with intent to kill.

The warrant was placed in the hands of Marshal Gribble, who started out after dinner to find his man. Marketto was not at work, nor at his boarding place. The marshal had only an imperfect description of him, and was entirely at sea as to where he was likely to be.

found. He took one man who answered the description into custody, but soon discovered his mistake and released the prisoner. Later he heard that Marketto had left a package at Nesbitt's saloon on Iron street the night before, and thinking there he found his man and walking up to him placed him under arrest. Marketto made no resistance and offered no comment, and since his arrest he has refused to talk.

Preliminary Hearing Today.

The prisoner will be brought up for preliminary hearing today, but the hearing will be adjourned to await the outcome of Cavallo's injuries. Should the wound prove fatal, the charge against Marketto would be changed to murder. Should Cavallo recover, it will be some time before he can appear against his alleged assailant, and Marketto will be held meanwhile.

The weapon with which the cutting was done has not yet been found, but Marshal Gribble hopes to secure it today, and it will be an important link in the evidence which will be produced against Marketto in case he is brought to trial.

Last night Dr. Hudson reported that Cavallo was doing well, and that unless complications set in he was inclined to believe that he would recover. He would make no positive statement as to the character of the wound which is said to have been an old rusty pocket knife, blood poisoning is a very possible result of the wound. Dr. Hudson found that the blade had penetrated the intestine, and two stitches in the intestine and six in the abdomen were necessary to close the wound.

SINKING SHAFT VERY FAST.

Wonderful Progress Being Made at Maas Mine—Down Over Thirty Feet.

Wonderful progress is being made in sinking the shaft of the new Maas mine. The first bucket of earth was hoisted at 8:30 o'clock last Monday morning, and since that time the shaft has gone down at an average rate of six feet every twenty-four hours.

Some delays have been experienced because the timbermen have been unable to keep up with the men sinking the shaft. The work has been in progress within the last two days, and progress will be steady from this time forth.

The shaft is now down over thirty feet, and it is expected that it will be down to quicksand within a week or ten days. Quicksand is expected at a depth of about sixty-five feet. This will be the most delicate and difficult stage of the work, and the experts figure that there will be about sixty to sixty-five feet of quicksand and water to go through before the clay strata above the ledge is reached.

Ledge Down 158 Feet.

It is estimated that there is about thirty feet of this clay above the ledge, and that the ledge will be struck at a depth of about 158 feet. Once the quicksand has been passed the remainder of the work will not be so difficult, although progress will necessarily be slower the deeper the shaft is sunk.

Twelve men were worked on opening the "sets" until Thursday, when it was found that that force was not sufficient. On Wednesday there was a considerable delay waiting for the timbermen to prepare "sets," and after that more men were put on the timbering. The entire force numbers about sixty.

The bottom "set" of the shaft is shod with steel "shoes" with a sharp cutting edge. This shoe weighs 6,400 pounds. Each set of timber weighs about two tons. Some fifteen sets of timber were prepared and joined together before the excavating was started. This immense weight serves to force the timber down as fast as the dirt is removed from below the lower set. The men at the bottom of the shaft dig away at the sides under the edge of the steel shoe, until the huge structure is supported only at the corners. Then the steel shoe is removed at the corners and the steel shoe, forced down by the immense weight of the timbering above it, crushes down into the hole, sometimes dropping as much as eighteen inches at one time. Then the miners begin digging away to prepare for another drop.

The shaft is a ponderous structure. It is composed of timbers 14 1/2 inches in size, with another corner timber running up and down inside to which the "sets" are bolted. Outside there are heavy planks spiked onto the timbers, and running up and down. The dimensions of the shaft inside the timbers is fifteen feet, ten inches by eleven feet, ten inches, while the dimensions outside are eighteen feet, eight inches by fourteen feet, eight inches.

Is a Four-Compartment Shaft.

It is what is known as a four-compartment shaft. Two of the compartments will be for skips, one will be for the cage, and the fourth for ladder and pipe-way. The timber which goes into the shaft will be Tennessee white oak for the first fifty feet, Washington fir for the second fifty feet, and No. 1 Michigan white pine for the remainder. As before stated, if when the shaft gets down to the quicksand and water that the trouble is expected, and the management has made preparations to meet whatever conditions may be encountered. Two Prescott pumps from the Ashland mine have been procured, with a capacity of 4,000 gallons a minute. These pumps will be placed upon timbers about ten feet above the bottom of the shaft, so that they will go down with the timber as it sinks. Thus the pumps will maintain the distance from the bottom of the shaft all the time, without being moved. A ladder has been constructed from the mouth of the shaft to the Carp river, so as to carry all the water pumped out of the mine to the river. The purpose of this precaution is to prevent the possibility of water pumped from the mine finding its way back into the workings.

Many people do not understand the danger or difficulty when quicksand and water are encountered in sinking a shaft. This material is as soft and mobile almost as water alone, sometimes. Cases have been known when the quicksand would literally "boil up" into a shaft and fill it as though a subterranean lake had been encountered. On the Menominee range it has sometimes been found necessary to employ artificial freezing in a shaft and to solidify the mingled quicksand and water, and dig it out in that condition. That was the only way it could be accomplished.

Such extreme measures are not expected to be necessary in the case of the Maas shaft, however. In the first place, the proximity of the Negaunee mine gives a good indication of the exact nature of the problem ahead of the people sinking the new mine, and in the next place it is believed that the water from the quicksand strata has probably been partially drained off by the Negaunee workings.

It is absolutely impossible to state when the shaft will reach the ledge. Even should the calculations of the experts be correct and the ledge be found at a depth of 158 or 160 feet, yet the uncertainty would be to be down to the ledge, no matter what obstacles are encountered. After the ore is finally reached, at a depth of 600 to 800 feet, it will be a considerable time before the mining of the deposit will begin. Workings will have to be opened, additional machinery installed, and other arrangements made. The railway companies are arranging now to run spur tracks to the property as soon as necessary, and the surveys are being looked after at this time.

A NEW "CON" GAME.

Negaunee Man Tells How a Stranger Worked His Friend in Eastern City.

One of Negaunee's well known citizens who recently made a trip east tells the following good story of how one of his friends who runs a livery stable was victimized by a smooth stranger.

The incident happened in a small town of several thousand population, from which neighboring villages are reached by team. One morning a well-dressed gentleman walked into the livery barn and asked whether he could hire a rig with which to drive to a neighboring town. The liveryman replied that he could, but added:

"I make it an invariable rule when renting rigs to a stranger to have them either get some local man to vouch for him or else make a deposit to secure me against loss. Of course," he proceeded to explain, as he noted the stranger's irreproachable costume, "I do not doubt that you are all right, and you probably know some business man who will introduce you and stand for your being O. K. But I really cannot break the rule."

"Fact is," replied the other, "that I am as much a stranger to the entire town as I am to you. I arrived on this morning, and know no one here. But what is the rig worth?"

"What's it worth," said the owner of the stable; "oh, $200."

"Well, here is the money," was the outsider's remark, as he produced a bulky wallet and "peeled off" greenbacks to the amount named, which he passed over to the horseman.

The latter immediately hustled the best horse in the barn into harness, attached him to a noble turnout, and as the stranger drove away the liveryman counted over the roll of bills again while he softly whistled that familiar tune:

"I don't care if you never come back." But the stranger came back after five or six hours, and as he drove into the barn the liveryman greeted him with:

"Well, I suppose you came back after that bank roll of yours?"

"That's right," replied the stranger, as he alighted. "I wouldn't think of 'passing up' $200 for that outfit."

"Here is the money," said the liveryman, and he produced the cash and handed it to the man. He glanced at the roll to satisfy himself that it was all there and turned to walk away.

"Hold on there," called the owner of the barn, "you forgot to pay for the use of the rig."

"Oh, I don't owe you anything for that," was the unexpected reply.

"Certainly you do," said the man of horses. "You owe me $250 for the use of my horse and cutter."

"Your horse and cutter," exclaimed the other, "well, hardly. I was driven by my own rig, for which I had paid $200. Guess you can't charge me for the use of my own property. Much obliged to you for buying it back when I was through with it. But you can't expect me to pay here for driving my own rig."

With that he walked away, leaving the liveryman speechless with surprise and trying to disentangle himself from the puzzling logic of the smooth stranger.

ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT.

A public entertainment will be given this evening by the National Protective league at A. O. U. W. hall, which will be open to all, and at which it is expected there will be a large attendance. Mrs. C. M. Connor of St. Ignace will be present and will give an interesting talk on the benefits of the order, its objects and progress. There will be other interesting features on the program which will make the meeting well worth attending. The order has made good progress in Negaunee, and the local lodge has a growing membership.

CENTRAL COULDN'T UNDERSTAND.

"Halla. Umpa pooka sa la dim-wa booda eley hong." The foregoing is a faint imitation of what greeted the astonished ears of one of the central girls at the Negaunee telephone exchange Saturday evening, when she accidentally "rubbed" after connecting a Negaunee phone with another instrument at Ishpeming.

She started with fright, and looked to see the switch board explode or the safety plug blow out. The apparatus held together all right, however, and the next moment she realized that it was only one of the Negaunee Chinese liverymen advising a fellow countryman at

GREAT DEVELOPMENT.

In Florence—The Splendid Showing of the Banner and Ozark Has Stimulated All Other Mining Enterprises.

Joseph Cornish, one of the old mining captains and prospectors of Negaunee, died at 9:10 o'clock Saturday morning of pneumonia, after a long illness from a complication of diseases.

Mr. Cornish was about fifty-five years of age, and had been in the upper peninsula for thirty-five years. He was the first captain of the well known Queen mine, was one of the first captains at the Macumber mine, and was at one time in charge of the work at the Swaney mine.

For some time he had been a sufferer from asthma, and had been unable to do any severe labor. His illness developed into other complications, until pneumonia set in, and although every effort was made to save his life he rapidly grew worse, his weakened condition making him unable to resist it.

He leaves a widow and seven children. Two of the daughters are married, one being Mrs. R. D. Kellow of Ishpeming and the other Mrs. Charles Kinsman of Champion. Two of the daughters, the Misses Mattie and May, and the three sons, Joseph, Emory and Newell, are at home. The funeral will be held from the Methodist church this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

New radishes, lettuce, beet, greens, parsley, water cress received from the grower every day. Also a full line of fruits and vegetables at George Haupt's grocery. Both phones. (12-7-11)

NEW COAL DOCK

PICKANDS & CO. MAKING NOTABLE IMPROVEMENT.

WILL EXPEDITE UNLOADING BOATS

HOISTS TO TAKE THE PLACE OF THE "CLAMS."

New Arrangement Will Double Capacity of Plant, and In Addition the Storage Room Will Be Much Increased.

Work is in progress upon a new coal dock for Jas. Pickands & Co. which will be one of the finest in the upper peninsula, and will practically double the capacity of the old plant.

New Hoisting Arrangement.

Primarily, the old-style clams will be replaced in the new plant by three Mead hoists, manufactured by the John A. Mead Co. of New York. These hoists will be mounted upon three movable tracks placed on the top of the superstructure. This will make it possible to move the hoists and hoists to any point along the dock, so as to bring the machines over the hatches of the vessel to be unloaded.

Ample Storage Room.

One of the best features of the new dock will be the storage pocket which will be constructed over the railway loading tracks. This pocket will extend the entire length of the new dock, 400 feet, and will have a total capacity of 1,500 tons.

Great Saver in Time.

"This feature of the new dock is of immense advantage," said Manager Van Evera, Saturday. "I believe that we will be able to save fifty per cent of the time formerly required for unloading coal cargoes."

Reason is evident.

Vesselmen prefer to take a charter for a point where they know that their cargo will be discharged with the least possible delay. During the busy season, with high rates ruling, a day's delay for one of these big boats means a considerable loss.

Worked to its full capacity.

The new plant will be able to handle from 200 to 250 tons of coal per hour, or 2,000 to 2,500 tons in ten hours. The capacity of the old plant was only about 125 tons per hour, so that it will be seen that the capacity is about double for the new plant.

Dock to Be Higher.

To give room for the storage pocket over the car tracks, the top of the dock will be raised about nine feet higher than the top of the old dock. This will make the top of the dock proper reach about fifty-three feet above the water line. Above the top of the dock the derricks will rise sixty-eight feet more, making the top of the derricks 121 feet above the water line and 114 feet above the floor of the dock.

To carry the additional weight which will be imposed on the dock by the new machinery and storage pocket, it will be necessary to drive about 400 additional piles under the dock, before commencing construction of the superstructure. This piling is the work which is now being done. At the outer edge of the dock a row of forty-foot piles has been driven. These have been put deep enough to permit of making a depth of water before the dock sufficient to float the largest boats on the lakes, without endangering the stability of the dock by the removal of the earth in front. This front row of piling will be tied back every five feet by a 12 by 12 timber to other rows of piling set in line with the dock front.

Improved Traction Service.

The raising of the top of the new dock will make it necessary to raise all the tram trestles nine feet. This work will be commenced soon. Manager Van Evera is also planning to improve the traction system for the hauling of trams. The raising of the trestles will have another result, which will benefit the concern's facilities for handling coal here. It will make it possible to raise the stock pile nine feet, thus increasing the storage capacity of the plant. This increase has been needed by the firm in the past, and will be one of the new improvements.

M. J. Peppard & Co. of Minneapolis have the contract for the construction work, and the John A. Mead Co. of New York has the contract for the machinery and iron work. Hard work will be necessary to complete the plant within the time desired, before May 1, but Manager Van Evera is pushing matters with his accustomed energy, while his efforts are being ably seconded by the contractors. When finished, the new dock will be one of the finest on Lake Superior, and will be a credit to Marquette, as well as a decided aid to maintaining her importance as the leading upper peninsula port on the Superior shore.

SECOND COURSE OF TALKS.

Rev. E. A. Elliott Will Give It at the Methodist Church.

The series of subjects which the pastor, Rev. E. A. Elliott, has been discussing at the Methodist church, and which was concluded last evening with the answer of a number of interesting questions asked as a result of the speaker's remarks, has been so successful in arousing interest and stimulating attendance at the Sunday evening services that Mr. Elliott last night announced he had decided to give a second course. The topics selected are very suggestive of interesting addresses, and as they will be discussed in the light of modern theology it is anticipated they will prove as attractive as the series just completed. The subjects chosen are:

Feb. 23—Are We Here to Be Tried or to Be Tried?

March 2—Is God the Author of Evil?

March 9—In What Sense is Christ Divine?

March 16—How Does Christ Save the World?

March 23—Has Christ Come, or Is He Yet to Come?

March 30—How Are the Dead Raised?

April 6—The Judgment, What Like? And When?

Mr. Elliott also stated that, instead of waiting until after the concluding talk, he would answer such questions as should be asked on the evening of their presentation. It was found under the plan first adopted that too many questions accumulated, and that to answer all of them during one evening was quite impossible without not doing the subject the justice the pastor wished to give it.

FUNNIEST OF THE SEASON.

"Hello Bill" Will Tickle the Risibles at Opera House Tonight.

"Hello Bill," the well-heralded comedy which is to be produced here tonight, was recently presented at Kookuk, Ia. In commenting on the play, The Gate City said: "The funniest show of the season." That was the universal verdict of the theatre patrons last night after the curtain went down on the last act of "Hello Bill." The verdict was as true as the name of the comedy of William Maxwell Goodline is misleading. The play is not a bundle of exclamation points, but a real comedy, ranking with the best in pure, refined, genuine fun. Its dialogue is specially good, bright and really humorous. The best of it is that there is not a new laugh—the kind of laugh that bubbles up in spite of any desire to smile because it is a place to smile in the playhouse. Close attention to the point showed that there were over a hundred bits of dialogue which might be lifted out and transferred to the funny columns of a newspaper—and the number of old jokes was remarkably small, perhaps the smallest in ratio to the whole that an observant critic ever saw. Moreover, it is a natural comedy that does not depend upon impossible and absurd situations, but upon the lines for its fun most of the time and upon the action the rest of the time. The company is an excellent one, especially in the line where they have the best chance to make a mistake—nobody at the stage overdoes the part. Those who missed the attraction at the opera house last evening missed a good thing. Such plays so rendered and attended by everybody two or three times a week would drive all the doctors out of business."

BALL GAME A FARCE.

Beavers Had Matters All Their Own Way Saturday Evening.

Beavers 4 0 2 0 5 2 4 10-13
Queen City 0 1 0 0 0 1 2 0-4

The indoor baseball exhibition at the Casino rink Saturday evening had the score given above as its result; but, while the "game" was too one-sided to be exciting, it was interesting and probably afforded the spectators a much amusement as any contest this season. The game put up by the reorganized Beavers was a splendid one, and had the same line-up presented at Marquette last week it is likely that the result of the two contests would have been somewhat different. Hanley, Monroe and James Dunlavey were the particular stars, though Price did well in the box and the others played did their share in keeping the hotel team's tallies limited to four. Derra, behind the bat, was weak at times, but considering it was his first game he did fairly well and gave evidence of being a factor of strength in the position in the future.

The work of the Queen City Hotel boys showed great unfamiliarity with the fine points of the game, and the battery was woefully weak. In fact, the bulk of the Beavers' tallies were due to wild pitches or passed balls, and at other times inaction as to just what to do was responsible for additions to the score. At the beginning of the eighth inning, Pitcher Rankin and Catcher Jensen, of the hotel aggregation, changed places, and the result was a big improvement which seemed to indicate that had the men been switched before the game was started the score would have been a great deal closer. A fair-sized crowd was in attendance.

MOTOR BICYCLE HERE.

Agent of Wisconsin Company Exhibited the Machine Saturday.

A gentleman representing a Wisconsin manufactory was in the city Saturday exhibiting a motor bicycle. The machine was the first one ever shown here, and it attracted considerable attention. The business streets filled with people who were hardly appropriate for a demonstration of the merits of the machine, but it was easily to be seen that the self-propelled bicycle has a bright future before it. The particular machine exhibited has the appearance of the ordinary bicycle except for the motor attachment. It weighs 110 pounds and possesses the tires, pedals, frame and two wheels of the modern bike. Its motive power is a gasoline engine of two horsepower, capable of driving the bicycle over ordinary roads at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour, although thirty-five miles have been made under extra favorable conditions.

It is only within the past year or two that the motor bicycle has been put on a practical mechanical and commercial basis. It supplies the hitherto "missing link" between the bicycle and the automobile, between the poor and the rich of the speeding sport. It makes one feel that he is still a wheelman, in spite of the sporting motor on his wheel, and when automobiles of much larger horsepower try to pass him in vain on the road he is pleasantly reminded that he is in it and able to hold his own among the swift company of automobiles. That, too, has something to do with the popularity of the motor bicycle. It is much less liable to get out of order than the most reliable type of horseshoe vehicle, and it is the swiftest and most economic vehicle known in proportion to weight, carrying capacity and fuel consumption.

NOTABLE PICTURES.

More Just Added to the Normal Art Collection.

A notable addition has just been made to the collection of pictures at the Normal school. One of the most attractive pieces in the new selection is a large photograph of McKinley. This is without doubt the best portrait of the late president to be seen in the upper peninsula.

The new accession also includes a fine carbon photograph of Rembrandt's "Night Watch." Another particularly attractive carbon reproduction is Dutchman's "The Avenue." This is a Dutch landscape worthy of study. There is also a large photograph of Kenilworth castle, and an excellent copy of "Cicero Denouncing Catiline."

In addition to the above there are two noteworthy color pictures; one a group of three hounds, called "Unity," by Blinks; and the other a reproduction of Turner's Ulysses and Polyphemus. This is a color print executed on an etching plate, and gives the exact color of the original painting. Not the least meritorious in the selection is a photograph of a mural decoration in the Appellate court building in New York, called "The Justice, Wisdom and Power of the Law."

COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT.

The common council meets in special session this evening, and much as some of the aldermen would like to attend the "show" at the opera house there promises to be a full turnout of the aldermen at the municipal grist mill. City Treasurer Maechts has been requested to appear and explain why some of the personal taxes have not been collected, taxes which it was declared at the last meeting should have been turned into the city strong box long before this. An interesting discussion is anticipated to follow the treasurer's session "on the carpet," as to the need of which there now appears to be a diversity of aldermanic opinion.

A NIGHT ALARM.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the brassy cough of croup, which sounds like the children's death knell and it means death unless something is done quickly. Foley's Honey and Tar never fails to give instant relief and quickly cures the worst forms of croup. Mrs. P. L. Cordier of Mannington, Ky., writes: "My three year old girl had a severe case of croup; the doctor said she could not live. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar, the first dose gave quick relief and saved her life. Refuse substitutes. Sold by People's Drug Store."

NO COAL "FAMINE" HERE.

Dealers Could Sell More Fuel, However, If They Had It.

The Duluth Herald says that "the shortage of soft coal is felt at Marquette as well as at the head of the lakes. A Duluth coal manager has been asked if he could furnish 3,000 tons for a concern there, but he could not. It is said that the South Shore road is short of soft coal for its locomotives."

Asked concerning the above, the local coal dealers said Saturday that as far as they are concerned there is no "shortage" in the coal supply. Of course, they said, had they more of the bituminous fuel they could sell more, there being a great demand for the coal all throughout the Northwest, but the stocks on hand in Marquette are plenty ample to supply the regular patrons of the local concerns. It was stated that in several sections of the Lake Superior country a veritable soft coal famine does exist, due to the inability of the railroads to take Lake Erie ports from the mines sufficient supplies during the season of navigation, but that there was by no means a "shortage" here. The South Shore, too, is understood to have plenty of coal to carry the road through to the opening of navigation, but in great contrast is the condition of affairs on the Manistique road. That company's coal supply is practically exhausted and contracts have been made for a supply of cord wood for use on the engines.

RALLY DUE THIS WEEK.

Pressure to Sell Amalgamated Relaxes and Buying Sets In.

Hayden, Stone & Co., in a dispatch to the Duluth Commission company on Saturday said: "We expect some rally next week in the coppers and think United States Mining will likely be a favorite with the traders, especially when one can sell 5,000 or 10,000 shares of this stock without breaking the price too much. Rumors of some good and big news are floating about. We know nothing of them, but see good buying of the stock at 70 and under." Paine, Webber & Co. said: "There was no further pressure to sell Amalgamated this morning and later there were signs of a renewal of the same kind of accumulative buying about the stock from 69 to 70. We think the prices are off sufficiently for the present and that the best of the Lake coppers should be bought. There is nothing in the general copper situation that should cause the copper stocks to sell as low as they are buying at present, and the heaviness of Amalgamated should not be taken as too much of a bear card. Those who watch Amalgamated too closely will be likely to lose sight of other things that can be followed with more profit."

Wheat and Corn.

W. H. Laidley & Co. said of the Chicago markets:

"Wheat opened a trifle higher on better cables and remained strong although extremely dull during the entire session, closing at an advance of about half a cent over Friday's close and at the best prices of the day. The receipts here were light, but the Northwestern receipts were heavy. The primary receipts were comparatively light. We think the undertone of wheat strong and that it can be bought on the breaks, but at the same time the market is still a scalping one and sales on bulges will show profits." "Corn opened a trifle higher, with wheat, and followed the same course, closing somewhat higher than last night. The receipts here were light and the primary receipts were very light compared with last year. Corn at present is at a fair price, but we think it will follow the course of the market."

New York Stocks Weak.

Dick Bros., in a wire to Paine, Webber & Co., said concerning the New York stocks: "Anticipation of an unfavorable bank statement kept the market weak today. There was persistent selling throughout the first hour, particularly in Metropolitan Street railway, the official announcement of that company's deal being unfavorably regarded. The statement proved quite as bad as expected, showing $13,000,000 increase in loans and $4,500,000 decrease in surplus reserve. After this publication the market rallied under the lead of Metropolitan and Amalgamated, in which there was short covering."
