PRESCRIPTIONS..... NEVER ALTERED.

It does not make any difference what your physician prescribes, if you will bring the prescription to The People's Drug Store you get exactly what is specified. There is never a thought in our mind of substituting, or altering the prescription in any way whatsoever. We know that the doctor has a reason for prescribing just what he does, and we follow the prescription exactly.

In fact, we believe that the work of the physician is often defeated, and the patient made to suffer, because a mania for cheapness leads some druggists to substitute drugs of inferior quality for those prescribed. We invite you to bring prescriptions here. Our prices are always close.

HENRY AT CAPITAL

ROYAL VISITOR AND PARTY ARRIVE AT WASHINGTON.

RECEPTION AT WHITE HOUSE

PRESIDENT RETURNS PRINCE'S VISIT AT GERMAN EMBASSY.

Kaiser's Brother Is Given an Enthusiastic Reception—Small Army of Secret Service Men and Detectives Guard Party.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Prince Henry arrived in Washington at 10:20 this morning. He was met by Secretaries Hay and Long, and Count Quadt and two other attaches of the German embassy. Ten minutes later he left for the White House.

Secretary Hay and Admiral Evans rode with the prince, intermingled with the crowd. The prince was met by a small army of secret service men, detectives and policemen, and the carriage bearing the prince and cortege from the depot were surrounded by mounted police, who were followed by a military escort of United States regulars. The route from the depot to the White House was lined with police and the District of Columbia militia.

Procession Reaches Capitol.

It was 10:40 when the procession reached the White House. The Marine band played the German national air while the party were leaving the carriage. The prince and party were conducted to the green room, where the president received his royal visitors. After greetings had been extended, which were of a purely formal nature, the president led the prince into the reception room and introduced him to Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt. The prince was conducted into the green room and introduced to the members of the cabinet and their ladies, and other invited guests. The ceremony occupied just thirty minutes. The president returned the prince's visit at the German embassy at 11:40, remaining about ten minutes.

Prince Receives Diplomatic Corps.

One of the most brilliant functions of the day was at 2 p. m. when Prince Henry received at the German Embassy the members of the diplomatic corps, including ambassadors and ministers, accompanied by their staffs of government, and naval and civil attaches, all in full uniform. It was the same brilliant assemblage as seen at the White House New Year's day—Turks in red fez, Russians in tall shakos, Chinese in rich oriental silks. But today there was added brilliancy in the showy uniforms of the imperial receiving party.

Prince Henry remained in the drawing room while the ambassadors were being received, meeting them separately and alone, their staffs remaining in the reception room to be greeted later. Lord Pauncefote was the first to be ushered before the prince, followed by the French, Russian, Italian and Mexican ambassadors.

Scene a Brilliant One.

In the meantime the foreign ministers and staffs of both the ambassadors and the ministers had assembled in the hall room to await the conclusion of the prince's personal conferences with the ambassadors. These over, the prince was presented to the ministers and then to the members of the various staffs.

The scene, as these many diplomatic officers of high rank mingled with the prince, admirals, generals, and members of many noble houses of Europe, was brilliant. Almost every famous regiment of Europe was represented among the foreign military officers, in rich gold embroidered uniforms, their breasts resplendent with medals and decorations from the emperor and the emperor's reception of the diplomatic corps lasted about an hour.

Portrait of Henry for President.

Before the dinner at the White House tonight there was presented to the president a large painted portrait of Prince Henry in naval attire, a statuette (bust) of the emperor and an autograph naval scale prepared by the emperor. The bust shows the emperor in the uniform of the corps guard with eagle tipped helmet.

Prince Henry gave expression tonight to his deep sense of appreciation of the splendid reception accorded him at the national capital. He spoke in terms of the warmest approval for the many evidences of official and popular good will he had received since his arrival.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt, and a party of official and personal friends left at midnight for New York.

DINNER AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Decorations Were on Most Magnificent Scale Ever Attempted.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The dinner given Prince Henry by the president at the White House tonight closed the honors bestowed by official Washington today. The affair was on an elaborate scale and brought together a most distinguished company. It was an assemblage such as has rarely, if ever, before gathered in the White House.

To accommodate the large number of guests the dinner table was set in the east room, the decorations of which were on the most magnificent scale ever attempted.

Beautiful Electrical Display.

An effective and new feature of the decorations was an electric illumination. Several thousand little electric lights of all colors, and arranged in careful designs, supplemented the illumination from the great chandeliers. The general effect of the decorations of the dining room was pink and white.

During the dinner the president proposed the health of the German emperor and the German people, saying: "We admire their great past and their great present, and we wish them all possible success in the future. May the bonds of friendship between the two peoples ever grow stronger."

The president also proposed the health of the prince in these words: "In the name of the people I greet you and extend to you our warmest welcome, and the assurance of our heartiest good will."

Prince Toasts President.

Following the toast to the emperor, the prince addressed himself to the president and proposed a toast to him and the people of the United States, accompanying it with an expression of good will and a hope for the continuation of the friendly relations between the German and American nations.

Then followed President Roosevelt's toast to the prince.

After the dinner the guests spent an hour or more in social conversation. At 10:40 the party dispersed, the prince leaving directly for the railroad station. His train left at midnight for New York city.

ALL READY FOR LAUNCHING.

Emperor William's Yacht Will Slide Down Ways This Morning.

New York, Feb. 24.—The emperor's yacht and surroundings are all ready for the launching at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The union jack is at the yacht's bow, the imperial German standard on a staff amidships, and the American flag flies aft.

Miss Roosevelt will exit, with a specially made silver hatchet, the king rope, releasing the weights, and the yacht will immediately start down the ways.

After the launching a luncheon will be served on the Hohenzoeller. Following this the party will visit the Battery, later going to New York, where the freedom of the city will be presented to the prince.

Preparations for the reception and care of the presidential party and Prince Henry and suite are completed. A large body of detectives and police have been detailed for their protection and to look after the crowds. Various functions have been planned for the week.

GERMANY SHOWS PLEASURE.

Berlin Newspapers Devote Columns to Reception of Prince at New York.

Paris, Feb. 24.—The visit of Prince Henry to the United States is attracting attention here, and there is a ring of iron in the newspaper comments which betray some feeling of pique at the enthusiasm of his reception. The Journal des Debats:

"Americans must see in Prince Henry's flattering visit fresh proof of the eagerness of the powers of the old world to worship the rising sun of this young and powerful republic, which some of them formerly treated as a parvenue, but before whom the powers today vie with each other in prostrating themselves."

Germany Shows Pleasure.

Berlin, Feb. 24.—Narratives of the reception of Prince Henry at New York cover one and two pages in today's issues of the principal newspapers here. No further event has ever been reported in the German press with such detail as the welcome at New York to the brother of the emperor.

Everybody here is pleased thereat and court circles are especially gratified by the spontaneous good will manifested as well as by the great size of the organized demonstrations. Editorial articles on the subject are without exception kindly.

MISS STONE AT STRUMITZA.

Missionaries Will Rest After Strain of Past Six Months.

Constantinople, Feb. 24.—A dispatch received here announcing that Miss Stone and Madame Tsilka are now at Strumitza, five hours ride on horseback from the nearest station on the Salonika-Uskub railroad. Miss Stone is suffering from the strain of the past six months and was unable to take the horseback trip, but Mr. House rode from Salonica to Strumitza this afternoon. Miss Stone and Madame Tsilka will probably be compelled to rest at Strumitza for a few days and then it is hoped to bring them to Constantinople by sea, but the arrangements are yet indefinite.

FEELING AGAINST RUSSIA.

Brigandage Is Increasing in the Interior of Manchuria.

London, Feb. 24.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times finds the situation in interior Manchuria such that brigandage is increasing and the feeling of the people against the Russians is growing. The Russians now have 65,000 troops in Manchuria. The Japanese say they can land 150,000 soldiers there in a month. The Chinese and Japanese fraternize everywhere.

TRAINS IN COLLISION.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 24.—Passenger train No. 211, westbound, on the Auburn road, crashed head-on into a wrecking train at 10:10 o'clock tonight at Aurelia. Earlier reports said only four trainmen were hurt, but later it was said one fireman was killed and a number of people injured.

LAWS ARE UPHELD.

Washington, Feb. 24.—In the case of E. W. Voight vs. Detroit, involving the constitutionality of the law authorizing that city to create districts for street improvements, an opinion was pronounced today by the United States supreme court, upholding the laws and affirming the opinion of the court below.

SEE SOLONS AT WORK

PRINCE AND PARTY VISIT BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS.

HOUSE GALLERIES ARE CROWDED

OUTBURST OF APPLAUSE GREET'S KAISER'S BROTHER.

Visitor Evinces Interest and Working of Legislative Machinery Is Explained—Hears Interesting Debate in the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The visit of Prince Henry to the Capitol this afternoon must have been not only a gratifying experience to the royal visitor on account of the warm, flattering reception received at both the house and senate, and of the opportunity of meeting personally the leaders of both houses, but it must have been an extremely interesting experience as well. The prince not only saw the houses at work, but in the senate witnessed one of those rare and intensely dramatic moments which come in that body occasionally at the conclusion of a great debate.

Troops and Police as Escort.

The prince and his party, in carriages escorted by troops and cavalry, and flanked on either side by a bicycle platoon of police, arrived at the eastern entrance of the Capitol at 4 o'clock. The prince was attired in the simple, dark blue fatigue uniform of the German admiral, and wore the flat German naval cap of his rank.

The party was met at the rotunda by a committee from the house headed by representative Hitt of Illinois. Brief cordial greetings having been exchanged, the prince and party, under the protection of half a hundred police, were conveyed through solid walls of people to the room of Speaker Henderson. The speaker greeted the prince with a warm handshake. General Henderson invited the prince to be seated, while the German ambassador made other introductions, and then in a few words formally welcomed him.

Welcome by German Ambassador.

"Your royal highness," he said, turning to the prince, who instantly arose, "it gives me very sincere pleasure, in behalf of the United States house of representatives, to greet you with a cordial and heartfelt welcome, and it gives me all the greater pleasure as you come representing in an eminent degree, that friendly feeling which exists between your nation and ours, and the representative of half a hundred States, house of representatives, to greet you in the illustrious head of the German empire."

"When you are ready to go from here, we have made suitable provision for your accommodation in the gallery, so you can see the house in session. When you have remained there a length of time agreeable to you the committee will consult your pleasure as to what further may be gratifying to you while at this end of the Capitol."

Appearance Causes Applause.

The prince thanked the speaker for the courtesy, and without further ceremony the party proceeded to the gallery of the house, walking up the marble stairs instead of using the elevator. An impressive sight met the gaze of the prince as he reached the threshold. The surrounding galleries were crowded, and below on the floor the members sat at their desks. His appearance at the door caused an enthusiastic demonstration.

No sooner had his tall, graceful figure been framed into the doorway than a spontaneous outburst of applause swept the floor and gallery. The prince paused, smiled and acknowledged the greetings with a slight bow. Advancing, he descended to the place reserved for him. Instantly every eye was upon him. He seemed perfectly oblivious of the fact that he was on exhibition at close range. Representative Gilbert of Kentucky was addressing the house on the Philippine question, although the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was under consideration. Prince Henry seemed interested, listening attentively for several minutes to what Representative Gilbert had to say, and appearing much shrewdly at the hearty applause which followed the statement of the Kentucky member that the "Anglo-Saxon and German races are one."

Showed Great Interest.

While Representative Sims of Tennessee, who followed Gilbert, was speaking, the prince turned to Representative Hitt, and in answer to his question the latter explained briefly the working of the cumbersome legislative machinery in the consideration of the appropriation bills.

The party remained about ten minutes and then descended to the ways and means committee room, where a reception was held.

The demonstration as the prince left the gallery was even more enthusiastic than when he entered. A number of the members rose to their feet and cheered. The house at once adjourned to afford the members an opportunity to meet the royal visitor personally. The reception was very informal. Practically the entire membership of the house took advantage of the chance to meet the prince.

Trip to the Senate.

Just as the reception was concluded, the senate committee, with Senator Culom of Illinois at the head, escorted the prince and party to the senate, they again moving through a solid mass of people congregated in the rotunda. There was much handclapping as the prince passed. He was interested in everything, remarked upon the polished mar-

WRECKED BY EXPLOSIONS.

Assay Offices in Colorado Blown Up With Giant Powder.

Victor, Colo., Feb. 24.—Early this morning the leading assay offices at Cripple Creek, Victor and Goldfield, numbering six, were wrecked by explosions of giant powder, each office, with its line of equipments and delicate balances, being destroyed. The railroads did not hesitate to jeopardize life at all. But one building was occupied by sleeping families, and while no one was seriously injured, men, women and children were hurled from their beds by the shock.

It is estimated the loss is $1,200,000 each office. The general impression here is that the outrages are the result of a general movement to rid the district of all high grade ore purchasing institutions. The sheriff has taken all means to discover the perpetrators of the crimes.

RUN ON DETROIT BANK.

Report That Dime Savings Held Andrews' Paper Frightens Depositors.

Detroit, Feb. 24.—A run was started today on the Dime Savings bank. The report became circulated that the institution held considerable of S. C. Andrews' paper and the run was started on the strength of this. The depositors are being paid as fast as possible. President Livingston says the bank will re-open until midnight, if necessary, in order to pay all depositors who wish to withdraw their accounts.

Just before closing the bank at 5 o'clock President Livingston addressed the crowd of depositors, telling them the bank would again open in the morning and that all who wanted their money could get it. Other banks offered assistance but the officials said they had ample funds in their own vaults.

ENTIRE FAMILY MURDERED.

Horrible Crime Is Discovered in Dwelling at Welsh, La.

Welsh, La., Feb. 24.—Tonight it was discovered that five of six members of the Earl family, living three miles from here, had been murdered and the head of the household had disappeared. It is generally believed he has been killed.

The wife had the whole front of her face mangled in some blunt instrument. One of her sons had been shot through the head and throat, and three others had been cut. None of the family had been seen since Thursday last, and it is thought they were killed that night. There is no clue to the perpetrators. The Earl's originally came from Iowa.

VON HOLLEBEN UPHELD.

Germany's Reply to Lansdowne Maintains Correctness of Dispatch.

Berlin, Feb. 24.—The reply of Germany to the complaint of Lansdowne, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs, concerning the publication by Germany of the dispatch from Dr. Von Holleben, the German ambassador to the United States, with regard to the meeting of the ambassadors in Washington, held April 14, 1898, maintains the correctness of Von Holleben's dispatch.

The reply of the German government suggests that the British government publish Pauncefote's report of the conference.

ble columns in Statuary hall, the great historic paintings in the rotunda and the frescoes in the corridors. In the richly gilded chamber of the vice president, Senator Frye, president pro tem of the senate, greeted him and the members of his suite. No formal remarks were made on either side.

Escorted to Diplomatic Gallery.

The party was escorted to the diplomatic gallery, but Prince Henry and Ambassador Von Holleben were ushered directly into the senate chamber. The scene was intensely dramatic. The chamber was brilliantly illuminated, the galleries crowded with suffocation and the members so excited at the moment over the discussion of the contempt of the South Carolina senators that the entrance of the prince was not immediately noticed.

Senator Frye, with the prince, mounted the rostrum and the spectators and senators arose. The debate proceeded. The prince understood the situation and several times glanced at Senators Tillman and McClaurin.

After a stay of twenty minutes the party left, the prince thanking Senator Frye. As he departed the galleries broke into applause. As the prince appeared at the east door the people crowding the plaza cheered him and he was driven hurriedly away, accompanied by a cavalry escort.

GIRL WOMEN.

The general standard of measurement for womanhood is "grown-up-ness." When a girl is emancipated from school and arrives at the dignity of trailing skirts and elaborate hair dressing she is looked upon as a young woman. But nature knows nothing of such standards. When the womanly function is established womanhood is attained according to her standards, and there is need of womanly care and caution. It is girlish ignorance or neglect at this critical time which often results in long years of after misery.

Mothers who perceive the evidences of functional derangement in young girls should promptly have them begin the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, tranquilizes the nerves and tones up the whole system. "My troubles started during my girlhood," writes Miss Flora I. Greer, of 107 Howe Street, Akron, O., "but did not prove serious until 1892. From that time I did not see a well day. I suffered at every monthly period with terrible headache, irritation of the spine and pains in my heels. I had soreness through my hips and ovaries all the time and constant backache. One doctor would tell me one thing and another would say something altogether different, but they only relieved me. I then wrote you and followed your advice. I took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, four of "Golden Medical Discovery" and five vials of "Pellets." Have not had a single symptom of my old trouble so far. Can sleep good, work hard, and eat solid and substantial food without distress."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

Mining is regarded as a risky occupation, but it is doubtful if the delver after hidden riches in the bowels of the earth takes any greater chances than do the guests in some of those big city hotels.

With Tillman in the senate and Wheeler in the house the south's representation in congress can be relied on to maintain the prestige of that section of the union as a breeding place of irrepressible fools.

"It now appears that it was the British fleet that destroyed Montejo's squadron in Manila bay," remarks the Detroit News. Even so, and the British press may yet establish that the squadron destroyed was German instead Spanish.

Not being allowed to take either his shotgun or his pitchfork into the senate, Tillman is obliged to resort to his fists when driven to back his arguments with force. South Carolina must feel proud of the slugger she has sent to the senate.

Unless the war tax on beer is taken off the brewers say they will have to advance the price of their product. This would place the burden on the retailers, for the price per glass has been so long fixed at five cents that to raise it above that would bring about a shrinkage of consumption which would be seriously felt by both the brewers and retailers. But the brewers may be only bluffing. They have paid the war tax so far without any of them having been forced into bankruptcy on account of the extra burden it imposes on them.

The Republican members of the ways and means committee of the house have declared themselves in favor of the negotiation of a reciprocity treaty with Cuba on the lines laid down in the president's message, provided that the Cuban government, when established, shall adopt immigration laws modeled after those of the United States. This is a preliminary blow to the beet sugar men, but they must have known it was coming, as recent advices from Washington have indicated that the president would be supported in his views relative to our trade policy with Cuba when the time for action arrived.

Bryan still holds to the silver issue, though most of those who stood with him in its support in the two last national campaigns now admit that it has been hopelessly shelved by natural causes. In his address at the Ionia banquet the other night he disappointed the gathering greatly by giving much of his time to defending his free silver views, and also by attacking ex-President Cleveland and the element in the party which has been loyal to its traditional policy on the financial problem. Mr. Bryan talked himself into a commanding position as a leader of his party, but if he keeps on talking as he did at Ionia the other night he will soon be as completely discredited with his former followers as he is with the gold Democrats who bolted him in 1896, and again in 1900.

Among other things that Tom Reed knows a good deal about is the newspaper and the influences that make it good or bad, as the case may be. At the annual banquet of the newspaper publishers of New York, held a few evenings ago, he was present as a guest, and in the course of a response to a toast said, among other wise things:

Newspapers are what they are by virtue of a power greater than themselves. They are much more the product of the reader than of the editors and publishers. A great man once gave me in this city a discourse an hour long about the follies and shortcomings of newspapers, all of which I recognized; but when he had finished I said to him, "Don't you see that newspapers are what their readers make them, and hence all you have said is an indictment against the human race to which you and I belong?" He was silent a moment and then said, "I am afraid you are right."

NO MORE FUSION WANTED. Senator Helme of Adrian would like to have a fusion effected between his party and Republicans who are dissatisfied with the management of their party in the state, and a combination state ticket put up by them in the coming election. He believes that if such a combine could be brought about it would be very likely to result in driving the Republican party from power, a consummation that, from his point of view, is "devoutly to be wished for."

The senator's plan for driving the Republican party out of power in Michigan has not the merit of novelty. Ever since there have been contentions among men the weaker side has sought to take advantage of treachery among adherents of the stronger, to obtain in that cowardly way what it had found itself unable to win by strength or superior strategy.

The senator will find no Republicans of sufficient influence to have value as factors in his great scheme who will give consideration to his proposition. Really, he has nothing to bring to the combination but a lot of eager aspirants for office. The Republicans who would go into it would have to bring to it the votes that would render it effective for the purpose sought, and in return would have to content with a meager representation on the fusion ticket. Nor is it probable that the state would be given any better government through such a deal, should it be successful in turning the "Republican rascals" out. Fusion administrations in the past have not made such a record for honesty and capability as to make the people eager to try some more of the same.

FAITH IN OUR PROSPERITY.

There are many who believe that the era of prosperity now prevailing in this country has about run its course, and that it is the part of prudence to prepare for a run of "lean years." The argument of those who hold this view is that years of activity and depression in trade and industry follow one another in obedience to some fixed but not well understood law, and that as we have had a run of prosperity more than ordinarily prolonged the turn for the worse must be near at hand.

But to argue thus is to ignore patent facts which bear directly on the conditions which affect our trade interests and producing industries. We now have a sound currency, and our financial system, while still far from perfect, has been given a flexibility it did not formerly possess, by recent legislation designed to correct some of its most obvious defects in that particular. We have greatly diminished our foreign liabilities and have at the same time immensely increased our export trade. The country is free from internal dissensions and not threatened with disturbing complications abroad. All this counts sensibly for a continuance of our prosperity, and while we are favored with good crops it is not easy to see what can happen to create the depression which so many of the pessimistically inclined among us are fearful we must soon experience.

It is noticeable that the shrewdest of our large financiers, as well as the men at the head of our greatest industries, are pronouncedly hopeful of the future, and that they are launching great schemes the success of which would be fatally impaired by a return of hard times, even for a year or two. They are the best judges of the situation, and we believe that it is safer to accept their forecast of what is in store for the country than that of the doubting ones who are apprehensive because they lack the courage which is the basis of success with the individual as well as with a nation. When the large interests begin to take in sail it will be wise for the lesser ones to begin preparing for squalls, but to do that when the winds favor is to miss opportunity.

A FIREMAN'S CLOSE CALL.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters and, after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by Stafford's. Price 50 cents.

A PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

"I was troubled for about seven years with my stomach and in bed half my time," says E. Demick, Somerville, Ind. "I spent about $1,000 and could get nothing to help me until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken a few bottles and am entirely well." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does the stomach's work by digesting the food. You don't have to diet. Eat all you want. Kodol dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles. The Stafford Drug Co. H. N. The Oliver Mining company is shipping 5,000 tons of ore from the Aurora mine at Ironwood to the Illinois Steel company's furnaces at Milwaukee. The ore is going forward via the Northwest coast railroad.

J. C. Thomas while fishing through the ice on the bay at Baraga recently caught a lake trout which measures fifty inches in length, thirty inches girth, and weighed thirty-two pounds. The fish has been mounted and is on exhibition at a local drug store.

Agent McCullough of the Soo depot at Manistique has been promised an additional assistant by the company on account of increasing business. Since the car ferry traffic has been inaugurated Manistique has leaped into prominence as doing more business than any other station on the Soo Line, not even excepting St. Paul or Minneapolis. The balance sheet for last month showed a business of nearly $60,000.

Recent developments presage a lively time during the spring campaign at the Soo. Present indications are that there will be three municipal tickets in the field. These will be the Republican, Labor and Democratic. The union labor organization has been considerably strengthened in the past winter and it was never in better shape than now. Many new members have joined, and all the trades are represented as well as many laboring men. The matter of placing a ticket in the field has been discussed for some time, and Wednesday evening a preliminary organization was effected.

Two miners were killed in the new shaft of the Colby mine at Bessemer last week. The crew sinking the shaft had fired several holes, one of them missing. William Ham, Louis Pitka and Gus Eliason returned to the shaft to see what had caused it to miss. Ham was using a pick, and in doing so struck the cap and the charge of powder exploded. Ham and Pitka were killed, and Eliason was seriously injured. Ham had handled dynamite for fifteen years. He was foreman of the Gogebic Powder company's plant for nearly fifteen years, and surprise is expressed by the management of the Colby and by Ham's friends that he should have resorted to the use of a pick in digging out a missed hole. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

A young fellow who had been circulating around Powers for the past couple of days has been arrested at Hermansville and taken to Menominee on a charge of burglary. One night recently he entered, it is alleged, the room of Emil Carriere, an Iron Mountain merchant in the Commercial Hotel and stole a gold watch and one hundred dollars in money from his pockets. He then entered the room of another guest, but was ordered out. Having no place to stay he went over to the depot and stayed until morning. Another man was sleeping in one of the seats, and he was relieved of his money, a few dollars. The next morning Mr. Carriere awoke and reported his loss, suspicion fell upon the jolly fellow who had been amusing the people about town and a search was instituted for him. He was finally located at a saloon in Hermansville, where he was standing at the bar in a much intoxicated condition.

He was put under arrest and his clothes searched, but only fifteen dollars were found on his person. He could give no coherent explanation where the balance of the money had gone. A section man who has been ill with small-pox at Watersmeet has been released from quarantine, having fully recovered. When the man was found to be sick nearly two weeks ago, the physician notified the others who had been in the car with the sick man, numbering forty odd men, that they must submit to vaccination and quarantine. Some of the men were inclined to disregard the order of the health officer and several packed their grips and announced their intention of leaving at once. This was prevented, however, by appointing one of their number, who was known as the "strong man" of the crew, to keep the others from breaking away. The cars were fumigated, one being used to isolate the patient and his attendant, and after all hands had been vaccinated the other cars containing the men were taken to the "sink hole" about twelve miles from Watersmeet, where the crew was employed, and the men were allowed to continue their work under guard. Previous to the investigation of the case several of the crew, who no doubt suspected that they had a case of small-pox among them, quietly disappeared and their whereabouts are unknown.

Fred Emerick, a Mackinac Island hotel keeper, has, according to the St. Ignace Enterprise, been sought out by other members of the Emerick family in the United States and made acquainted with the fact that he is interested in the estate of John Nicholas Emerick, whose heirs were first advertised for ten years ago. During that period the task of unraveling the Emerick genealogy has been persistently followed up. The estate consists of real estate and other assets in Germany, in the hands of the government, to the value of seventy-eight millions, and in Philadelphia, Pa. in this country amounting to twenty millions more. Over 100 years ago four brothers named Emerick came to America from Germany. Three settled in Bersk county, Pa., but John Nicholas became associated with John Jacob Astor in the fur and shipping business, spending his time partly here and partly in Germany, and investing his accumulation of wealth, which was very great, in both countries. He was unmarried, and the descendants of the other three brothers are his heirs. For a long period the estate remained in trust, the increment constantly growing, until vigorous steps were initiated for its distribution as stated above. The descent and division of this property, now aggregating $100,000,000, is legally "per stripes," the descendants of each of the three brothers share between them a separate third. The investigation of the kindred relationships is now sufficiently advanced to warrant Mr. Emerick in estimating that his share may be expected to run well up to about $30,000,000. Documents have just reached him to enable him to establish his claims and identity, and he will push the matter energetically now that he has recovered from the state of dazed astonishment that followed upon this astounding discovery.

TARIFF BILL PASSES

SENATE FINALLY DISPOSES OF PHILIPPINE MEASURE.

AFTER DEBATE OF EIGHT HOURS

TILLMAN AND M'LAURIN NOT ALLOWED TO VOTE.

Disgraced Senators Take No Part in Proceedings and Question as to Their Rights Precipitates a Sharp Debate.

Washington, Feb. 24.—After eight hours of tumultuous debate today, the senate shortly before 7 o'clock this evening, passed the Philippine tariff bill by a vote of 49 to 26, strictly a party vote. Senators Tillman and McLaurin of South Carolina, who on Saturday were declared by the senate to be in contempt because of their flight in the chamber, were not permitted by voice or vote to participate in the proceedings. The question as to their right to vote precipitated a sharp debate lasting nearly two hours.

Senator Turner (Democrat) of Washington contended for the right of the majority to cast their votes, and he was sustained by Senators Patterson of Colorado, Bailey of Texas, and other Democrats.

They held that even though the senators actually were under arrest and in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms, they could demand that they be allowed to vote as the senate had not passed on their case.

Senators Foraker, Aldrich and other Republicans held that if the senators, clearly not participants in any proceedings of the senate until they had purged themselves of contempt and the senate had removed the ban placed on them.

President Pro Tem Frye held that the senators could not vote and he was sustained by the majority of the senate. During the debate on the Philippine bill Senators McComas and Wellington of Maryland became involved in a controversy, during the course of which the latter declared if McComas should make his statements outside the senate chamber he would brand them as malicious falsehoods. He was called to order promptly and resumed his seat amid considerable excitement.

Many Amendments Offered.

Many amendments were offered to the Philippine bill, but those offered by the committee only one restricting the operation of the tariff laws enacted by the Taft commission, was passed. The amendment of Senator Foraker, fixing the rate of duties levied upon products coming into the United States from the Philippines at 50 per cent of the Bingley rate upon articles sent from as fixed in the bill, was lost, but it received a large Republican vote. Had the Democrats voted for it as a party it would have carried, but many Democrats voted against it.

As passed the measure provides that articles imported into the Philippine archipelago from the United States shall be required to pay duties levied against them by the Philippine commission, and upon like articles imported into the United States from the Philippines shall pay a duty of 75 per cent of the rates fixed by the Bingley law, less any export taxes paid upon articles sent from the Philippine archipelago as required by the Philippine commission.

Commerce Is Exempt.

All articles now imported free into the United States shall be hereafter exempt from the export duty imposed in the Philippines. The bill exempts commerce passing between the United States and the Philippines from the operation of the navigation laws of the United States until July 1, 1904, and authorizes the Philippine commission to issue licenses to craft now engaged in lighterage of exclusive harbor business, provided such craft are built in the United States or the Philippines and are owned by inhabitants of the Philippine islands.

The duties and taxes collected in pursuance of this act shall be put into the treasury of the Philippine islands and used for their benefit.

All articles manufactured in bonded warehouses of imported materials or of materials subject to the internal revenue tax, when shipped from the United States to the Philippines, shall be exempt from internal revenue, and all taxes paid upon such articles shipped to the Philippine islands since Nov. 15, 1901, shall be refunded.

House Bill to Divide Texas.

The house today passed a bill to divide Texas into four judicial districts; also the Towney resolution calling on the secretary of war for information concerning the transfer of sugar lands in Cuba since American occupation.

It then transacted some business pertaining to the District of Columbia and later took up the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. The bill carries an appropriation of $1,931,678, an increase of $82,950 over last year. It was made a vehicle for speeches on trusts, copyrights and other irrelevant matters. The galleries were packed all day in anticipation of Prince Henry's visit.

Representative Irwin of Kentucky delivered his first speech in the house and denounced the remarks of his colleague (Wheeler) regarding the visit of Prince Henry.

Representative Gilbert of Kentucky opposed the Republican policy in the Philippines.

Prince Enters Gallery.

At this juncture Prince Henry entered the gallery and was loudly applauded, some venturing to give vent to cheers. The prince gracefully bowed and was then shown to his seat by Representative Hill of Illinois. He remained for fifteen minutes, during which time he evinced the greatest interest in the proceedings. He was loudly applauded as he left the chamber.

Without disposing of the pending bill, the house at 4:20 adjourned.

NAMES MUST NOT BE CALLED.

Orders issued in Senate Regarding Tillman and McLaurin.

Washington, Feb. 24.—President Pro Tem Frye gave directions to the clerks of the senate today that the names of Senators Tillman and McLaurin must not be called on the roll calls until further notice. This practically suspends the senators from all senatorial functions.

The president has withdrawn the invitation to Senator Tillman of South Carolina to attend the dinner given tonight in honor of Prince Henry at the White House.

BRYAN MAKES DENIAL.

Says He Has Not Pledged Support to Hill for President.

Columbus, O., Feb. 24.—William Jennings Bryan was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Colonel Kilbourne at his residence today. Prominent Democratic leaders were also present and a conference was held. Colonel Bryan left in the afternoon for Delaware where he delivers a lecture before the students of the Ohio Wesleyan university.

He denied he is going East to confer with the Democratic leaders and when asked regarding the truth of the report he would call on ex-Senator Hill and pledge him his support for the presidential nomination of 1904, Bryan said with emphasis:

"I have never made any such statement as that, and what I may have said regarding the presidential nomination two years hence, I will say in my own way and at a time which I may deem proper."

FLED WITH MONEY.

Petition in Bankruptcy Is Filed Against an Iowa Man.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Feb. 24.—Gilbert S. Gilbertson and his business partner today filed a petition in involuntary bankruptcy against Thomas Crenshaw, a former grocer here, who disappeared Feb. 10.

They allege a few days prior to his disappearance they sold the Crystal Lake, Ia., bank to him but received no cash at the time, having extended him credit for the purchase money. They further allege that he immediately took possession of the bank, induced the cashier to issue him a number of certificates of deposit aggregating over $20,000 and then fled.

He is alleged to have obtained some money from the Omaha National bank on a portion of the certificates as collateral security. The Omaha bank declines to state whether or not such is the case. Gilbertson is state treasurer of Iowa.

EXPLAINS HIS COUNT.

Bob Fitzsimmons Tells of Louisville Fight in Chicago.

Terry McGovern's victory over Dave Sullivan was explained last night by Bob Fitzsimmons, who refereed the fight. Fitzsimmons arrived in Chicago from Louisville and answered the question as to whether Sullivan was counted out, or was disqualified for going down without being hit.

Fitzsimmons sticks to the claim he made at the ring side, that Sullivan was down fully twelve seconds and was actually counted out. Several Chicagoans who saw the battle disagree with the Cornishman as to the count, but Fitzsimmons says he was doing the counting and ought to know.

The confusion regarding the decision does not affect the merits of the fight. There could have been but one end to it, according to all the Chicago men who sat at the ring side, and that was a victory for McGovern. Nearly all agree that Fitzsimmons was rattled when Sullivan was knocked down in the fifteenth round, did not begin to count on time, and furthermore allowed McGovern to stand directly over his prostrate opponent while counting.

Fitzsimmons does not go into details regarding his decision, but simply claims that Sullivan was actually counted out and lost for that reason.

"There was nothing to it," said Fitzsimmons last night. "It is true that I did not begin my count just the instant Sullivan fell. In my mind I had noticed the time he was down and anticipated that if I made any mistake at all it was in the direction of giving Sullivan too long a time in which to recover. I counted Sullivan out, and no matter if he was able to get on his feet I would have declared McGovern the winner. I wasn't rattled. I knew perfectly well what I was about."

BIG SALT PROPERTY DEAL.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 24.—One of the largest deals in salt properties ever made in this country was closed by the sale today of the L. J. Pettit salt company's business and equipment to the International Salt company of Illinois. The price is not stated. The property is one of the largest and most completely equipped in the country.

ILLINOIS CASE DECIDED.

Justice Fuller Upholds Lower Court in O'Brien et al vs. Wheeler et al.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Chief Justice Fuller today delivered the court's opinion in the case of O'Brien et al vs. John G. Wheeler et al. involving the act of the Illinois legislature of 1871 concerning the construction of drains, ditches, etc. The claim was for money advanced on bonds for the improvement of the Sny-Carlee levee in southern Illinois. The case was decided against the bondholders below and that opinion was confirmed by today's opinion.

MARTIN DEFEATS CHILDS.

Denver Boy Has Easy Work in a Six-Round Contest.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Denver's Ed Martin obtained a decision over Frank Childs tonight in a six-round contest. It was easy work for Martin all through. Jim Driscoll, a Chicago middleweight, knocked out Tim Hurley of Susquehanna, Pa., in the first round.

Joe Percente of Milwaukee knocked out Jack McInerney of Buffalo in the third round.

JACKSON PUNISHES WEST.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—Young Peter Jackson and Tom West of New York went to have fought six rounds tonight but West quit during the second round after receiving severe punishment.

NEW YORK SUN IN NEW HANDS.

William M. Laffan Now in Editorial Charge of the Paper.

New York, Feb. 24.—The New York Sun, in both its morning and evening editions yesterday printed the name of William M. Laffan at the head of the editorial page. Mr. Laffan has been the publisher of the Sun for many years, both under the editorship of the late Charles A. Dana and that of his son, Paul Dana. Mr. Laffan was not in the Sun office today. Paul Dana refused to discuss the matter, but he said that Mr. Laffan was the only man who could talk about the matter. It is inferred that the change means that Mr. Laffan has at last secured control of the paper.

THE CZAR'S HOME LIFE.

How He Passes His Time in the Bosom of His Family.

Anyone who has had the privilege of staying at a palace belonging to the reigning house of Russia immediately recognizes its mighty magnificence, and soon experiences its hearty hospitality, and yet, if his stay has been even only of brief duration, neither of these features will impress him more than will his imperial host's home life.

It might almost seem that the czar does not really care to be a potentate; his tastes are much more academic than monarchic, and he appears to avoid all kinds of public display. On one occasion, while returning from the family annual holiday at Copenhagen, conversation turned upon a difference that had, just at that time, sprung up between the Danish king and his parliament.

"Well!" exclaimed the then czar-witch, "a king's bed is not always one of roses; that is plainly to be seen. There are many more pleasurable occupations than ruling refractory subjects, and so far as I am concerned I have no great desire to be either emperor or czar."

The czar's sociability extends to his servants, and he imitates the late Queen Victoria in having colored attendants. One of these, James Hercules, hails from the West Indies, and is very anxious that no one should forget—not even his imperial master and mistress—that he is a British subject.

The faithful black fellow is a great favorite with the czar's children, who frequently commandeer "Jimmy," as they call him for participation in their nursery sports. The czar is always considerate to his servants. "You are not looking so well today," he will say; "it pains me to see you like that. You had better take a rest." And forthwith the attendant is excused from duty.

One cannot remain long in the palace without noticing the English atmosphere that pervades it; and Christmas is not allowed to go by without indulgence in those essentially English dishes—roast beef, plum pudding, and mince pies—which are specially prepared by an English member of the household.

The zarina is expert with both brush and pencil; this latter accomplishment, backed by a taste for caricature, is often used for the purpose of amusing her friends, who, in addition, at times receive from her drollly painted cards a reminder that she has not forgotten them.

Although no boy has, hitherto, blessed their hearth, four girls have been born to their imperial majesties—Olga, the eldest; Tatiana, Maria, and the more recently arrived baby, whose sex was such a disappointment to the Russian nation. The care of these children devolves upon Miss Edgar, an Irish lady, and two Russian undernurses.

In their play room the mighty ruler of all the Russias is frequently to be found gambling with his young daughters; while he never allows a night to pass, when he is at home, without making his way to kiss them before seeking his own room.—Pearson's Magazine.

SENTENCED TO BE HANGED.

Casper, Wyo., Feb. 24.—Charles Woodward, confessed to having killed Sheriff Boker, was today sentenced to be hanged March 28.

The Chicago Department Store, 309 Front street, has closed its doors and will not resume business before Saturday morning, March 1st, the entire stock to be disposed of regardless of cost or value, by J. C. Rosenberg of Chicago. See small bills for prices, etc. (2-24-H)

OPINION ON MERGER

SUPREME COURT REFUSES TO TAKE JURISDICTION.

CASE IS REVIEWED AT LENGTH

MINNESOTA MAY BE ENTITLED TO RELIEF.

Railroad Companies, However, May Not Have Formed Combination in Disregard of the Policy of the State.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The opinion of the supreme court, refusing to take jurisdiction in the Northern Securities merger case, is voluminous, but the greater part of it is a review of the history of the case. After reviewing the case at some length the opinion says: "Directors of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific companies are appointed to represent and protect not merely the private and pecuniary interests of the stockholders, but the rights of the public at large, which is an deeply concerned in the proper and adequate management of these public highways. State May Represent Only One Side.

"It is not sufficient to say that the attorney general or governor, or even the legislature of a state, can be conclusively deemed to represent public interests in such a controversy as that presented by the bill. Even a state, when she voluntarily becomes a plaintiff in a court of equity, cannot claim to represent both sides of the controversy.

"Not only have the stockholders, but they few or many, a right to be heard through the officers and directors whom they have legally selected to represent them, but the general interests of the public, which might be deeply affected by a decree of the court, are entitled to be heard, and in a case like the present, can only be effected by the presence of the railroad companies as the parties defendant.

"Upon investigation, it might turn out that the allegations of the bill are well founded, and the state is entitled to relief; or it might turn out that there is no intention or design on the part of the railroad companies to form any combination in disregard of the policy of the state, but that what is proposed is inconsistent with that policy and advantageous to the communities affected.

"In making such investigation a court of equity must insist that both sides of the controversy shall be adequately represented and fully heard.

Complainant May Amend.

"When it appears to a court of equity that a case, otherwise than presenting ground for its action, cannot be dealt with because of the absence of the essential parties, it is usual for the court, while sustaining the objection, to grant leave to the complainant to amend by bringing in such parties; but when it likewise appears necessary and indispensible that the parties be beyond reach of the jurisdiction of the court, or that when made parties the jurisdiction of court will thereby be defeated, for the court to grant leave to amend would be useless."

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Features of the Day in the Wheat, Corn and Oats Pits.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Wheat, losses of 1 1/2 to 2c were established today, and the market showed but very little reaction. The prices reached were the lowest in several months. The cash business was small—10,000 bushels at Chicago and thirty-two boatloads on the coast. Liquidation and short selling were features. Stop loss orders were quite frequent and the Southwestern advices were bearish. The demand at times was quite brisk. There was heavy buying of July by the Northwest—probably in the way of hedges. Liverpool was 3/4 lower. The visible decreased 1,021,000 bushels for the week. The local receipts were eleven cars.

Corn at the close was 1 1/2 to 1 3/4c lower for the day. The cash sales were small here and twenty boatloads were reported taken on the coast. There was important covering generally especially late in the day. Largely increased offerings on stop loss orders and short selling were features, with the shorts the best buyers. The country offerings of cash were larger than for some time but the demand was slow. At Liverpool spot was unchanged, with the futures 3/4 to 1/2c lower.

Oats ruled active, weak and lower. The prices received 1 1/2c and May and July closed at the bottom, but September only lost a cent. The weakness was in sympathy with the other grains. It produced general liquidation by holders.

on stop loss orders. The country offerings were not large, although larger than a week ago. Support came from shorts, and leading longs also bought on the break. The statistics were bullish.

The leading futures ranged as follows: May wheat opened at 77 1/4; highest, 77 1/2; lowest, 75 1/4; closed, 75 3/4. May corn opened at 60 1/4; highest, 60 1/2; lowest, 59 1/4; closed, 59 3/4. May oats opened at 42 1/4; highest, 43; lowest, 41 1/4; closed, 41 1/4.

Receipts and shipments were as follows: Receipts, Shipments. Flour, barrels, 53,000 53,000 Wheat, bushels, 100,000 102,000 Corn, bushels, 256,000 259,000 Oats, bushels, 278,000 177,000

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Announcement of Decision in Merger Case Attracts Little Outside Demand.

New York, Feb. 24.—The confidence that the supreme court would refuse jurisdiction in Minnesota's suit against the Northern Securities company, which has been firmly held in Wall street for three weeks, was unimpaired this morning, and traders did some of their buying on that basis. The announcement of the decision by the court failed to attract any outside demand and the efforts of the traders to take their profits caused a reaction in the market and an easy buying. The decision of the administration to push the case against the Northern Securities company deprived the other suit of much of its importance, but the fact remains that one possible course of procedure against the company is closed by this decision, and a step is thus achieved towards the establishment of the company's status. It is generally felt that all possible courses of procedure will have to be met in the same way.

GARDEN OF EDEN AT THE POLE?

Prof. Louis Dyche Thinks That Adam and Eve Lived in the Arctic Zone.

After much careful study and two trips to the polar regions, Louis Lindsay Dyche, naturalist and professor of natural history at the Kansas university, has arrived at the conclusion that the first human beings were born and lived in the Arctic zone. Professor Dyche does not deny that a place as the Garden of Eden existed, but he says, if there was such a place it existed 100,000 years before the time covered by biblical history. He has made the following statement, based on his researches:

BIG SUPPLY OF FLOWERS.

Millions of Artificial Ones Used in This Country, Made in Saxony.

A notion of the enormous consumption of artificial flowers in this country is given by the fact that we imported during the last year about $500,000 worth of such imitation blossoms, including leaves and plants, from Saxony alone, the bulk of them being manufactured at Sebnitz, a town thirty-five miles from Dresden and close to the boundary of Bohemia.

The origin of this great industry dates back to about 1840, the business making its first beginning with the arrival of Sebnitz of a few Bohemian artisans skilled in flower-making. For some time only a very inferior, cheap grade of flowers were turned out (chiefly of tissue and thin colored paper), which were bound together with fancy grasses and ferns, and peddled at the church steps and at village fairs.

Later on more serious attention was given to the matter, and paper was replaced by more substantial materials, such as cotton, silk, plush and velvet. At the present time Sebnitz is not only the center of the artificial flower trade in Germany, but the manufacturers there located compete quite successfully with their French rivals.

The Franco-Prussian war, so disastrous to most branches of trade, was highly beneficial to the flower-makers of Sebnitz, inasmuch as during the siege Paris was unable to fill its orders for such merchandise, and the little Saxon town, which has only 8,500 inhabitants, was called upon to supply the demand. This was practically the foundation of the town's export business in this line, and of its reputation throughout the world.

Such a notable impetus was then given to the trade of Sebnitz that many new factories were erected, and at the present time there are in Sebnitz and neighboring villages no fewer than 330 concerns engaged in manufacturing artificial flowers, leaves, plants and fruits, the largest firms employing from 250 to 1,000 persons.

A special report on this interesting subject has been received by the department of state, and estimates the total exportation of artificial flowers from Sebnitz to foreign countries other than the United States at over $1,000,000 per annum. Practically no machinery is used in the industry, though hand presses are employed for cutting out and embossing leaves and petals. Also quite an ingenious device is utilized for making cotton fruits, and an exception to the above statement is furnished by a machine that turns out stems for leaves and flowers.

All the rest of the work, such as dyeing, coloring, stemming, shaping, shading, mounting, waxing and binding, is done by hand. Work is paid for by the dozen or gross, and earnings of the work-people vary from $7.50 to $12.50 a month for women; $8.75 to $20 for men, according to age, kind of labor, skill and diligence. Children under fourteen years of age are prohibited by law from working in the factories.

The making of artificial flowers in Saxony is a household industry, fully two-thirds of all the work being done at home by the employes, who are supplied with the cut materials ready for stemming, shaping, binding, etc. Thus, a factory employing 100 persons on its premises will give out work to 300 or 400 people outside. There is hardly a house in the town or its neighborhood where artificial flowers are not made, and even the farmer who works in the field in summer time makes flowers during the winter. The tools used for cutting out the petals, leaves, etc., are made in Sebnitz and Dresden, and they are quite elaborate and expensive, particularly those employed for cutting delicate fern leaves.

Weather forecast: Partly cloudy; moderate temperature; variable winds. Yesterday's temperature: 7 a. m., 34 degrees; noon, 35 degrees; 7 p. m., 32 degrees; maximum, 38 degrees; minimum, 32 degrees.
A. T. Van Alstyne left last evening for Chicago.
Victor Nelson of Negaunee was a visitor in the city yesterday.
W. R. Adams of Ontonagon had business in the city yesterday.
James Cummskey, a prominent attorney of Escanaba, is in the city.
Born, yesterday, to Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Beaudry, Fourth Street, a son.
Mrs. E. Lobb of Munising came up to Marquette yesterday afternoon for a short stay.
Rev. Father Faust of the Mission, near Baraga, was a guest at the Episcopal residence yesterday.
F. O. Clark has gone to Grand Rapids, Minn., on a business mission. He will be back Thursday or Friday.
H. Armstrong of Iron Mountain yesterday greeted old friends in Marquette, his former place of residence.
Professor E. C. Thompson was a passenger on last evening's train for the south. He left for Chicago for a few days' stay.
Miss Maggie Brimacombe returned to her home at Houghton yesterday. She had been the guest of Miss Amy Lang for a few days.
A. J. Gemell of St. Ignace, father of George Gemell of this city, has been granted an increase in pension. He is a Civil War veteran.
Miss Flora Winegar, who has been a guest at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Egan, left last evening for her home at Escanaba.
Seats for "Monte Cristo" go on sale at the usual hour—8:30 o'clock—at Bigelow's this morning. There promises to be a big rush for them.
John A. Monger, representing the Medicine Remedy company, manufacturing chemists, of West Superior, was a Marquette visitor yesterday.
The loss occasioned by the fire in the L'Huilier block about a week ago has been adjusted through Alderman Joe Reau's agency. The damage amounted to about $65.
The funeral of Miss Carrie Brown will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Goff on Harrison street. The interment will be in Park cemetery.
Colonel Howard, deputy collector of customs, arrived on his return from the east yesterday afternoon. He was gone about ten days, part of the time being spent at Detroit and Lansing.
Thomas Fitzgerald returned to Hancock yesterday after spending a couple of days with his family here. Mr. Fitzgerald is superintendent of the Portage Lake Foundry & Machinery company.
One of the circuit court jurors showed signs of intoxication yesterday at the opening of court, and under instructions from Judge Stone he was taken to the county jail by the sheriff and given opportunity to sober up.
Among the real estate deals closed within the past few days was the transfer from W. R. Adams to Frank O. Brown of the west half of the north half—fifty foot frontage—of Lot 169 of Hewitt's addition. The consideration was $725.
Harry Price arrived on his return yesterday morning from "an involuntary trip to the Soo over which his friends are now having considerable amusement. There is an interesting story connected with the journey which Mr. Price does not relate.
John Nilsson will be the special attraction at the ice rink this evening. George Mitchell will race with the champion, and the latter will later give an exhibition of jumping on skates. An extra street car will be put on to accommodate the expected large crowd.
Aaron A. Losey, the man whose watch William French is accused of stealing, arrived here yesterday from Hillsdale, Mich., to appear against the prisoner. The case, however, was put over to the next term of the circuit court and Mr. Losey left last night on his return home.
It really did look yesterday as if "the backbone of winter" had been broken. The weather was mild and balmy like a day in May and the snow again suffered severely. Havoce was raised with the sleighing in all sections of the city, but more particularly on Front and Third streets, and runners were being displaced by wheels, a couple of wagons being noticed.
The school for the study of German conducted for children in the basement of the German Lutheran church has been so popular and has aroused so much interest among older people as well, that Rev. Carl Appeler has decided to increase its scope so that grown persons may also receive instructions in the language of the Fatherland. Classes for adults will be organized at the church this evening, and hereafter every Tuesday evening will be given over to them by the pastor. The school for children will be in session every Saturday morning as formerly.

Alfred Day, secretary of the Michigan State Sunday School association, and Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, of Chicago, are at Republic today, holding a convention in the interest of any and all Sunday schools interested in denominational or creedless other schools. They will be the leaders in a like convention at Ishpeming. All interested in Sunday school work will find it well worth while to attend.
At the meeting of Morse Hose company last evening it was decided that the Easter Monday ball to be given by the department be held at the Casino rink. The ideal orchestra will furnish the music and Joe Hogan will be the promoter. The boys will make an active canvass of the town in disposing of tickets, and they deserve all the patronage that can be given them by businessmen and others.
John O. Plank of Chicago, who built "Plank's Tavern-on-the-Beach" at St. Joseph, Mich., said to be the largest hotel in the world, and who has built twenty or twenty-five other hotels in different parts of the Union, was in Munising last week. He looked over the country immediately surrounding the village and went over the greater part of Grand Island. It is understood Mr. Plank went to Munising at the invitation of the city of Chicago. He expressed his admiration of what he saw but declined to say whether or not anything would grow out of his visit.
Ralph Bingham was greeted by an audience which packed the auditorium of the Methodist church last evening. For nearly two hours he delightfully entertained the large assemblage and demonstrated that his reputation as one of the world's best monologues entertainers was well founded. The scope of his talent is surprising. He is a splendid player of the piano and violin, his imitations on the latter instrument in particular making a hit; he sings in pleasing voice, and tells humorous stories which keep his auditors in laughter as long as he talks. His manner is charming and his delivery is so convincing that the entertainment was by far the most enjoyable of the course.

FIFTY DOLLARS.
Taken In a Day by the "Successful Beggar."
"It requires something more than nerve to be a successful beggar," said the old crippled man. "The asking for alms is the least part of the profession. People think because we ask every passer-by for something that we expect each to contribute. This is the reverse of the story. We know pretty well as soon as a man or a woman heaves in sight whether we can look for a lift or not. We study humanity. We get so we can tell from the face what the inclination of the person is. As not every cynic looks sour, so every beggar is not a miser. I don't wear his or her heart on the sleeve.
"In fact, we get more from the sour-looking people than from those who are gay. Those who are gay are usually broke, and if they are not they are too busy figuring on having a good time with their money to help a beggar out. Business men are generally easy marks, because they would rather give up than be detained with the harrowing details of how the arm or leg or eye was lost in a terrible wreck. Grab one when he is in a hurry and he will part with a coin nine times out of ten rather than expect the engagement, even if it be a lunch appointment. Children, contrary to general belief, are poor givers. In the first place, their pockets are few and far between, as a rule, and in the next place they are usually in a rush to get to the nearest candy store and spend it. Women, too, pass us by. Whether they expect the money to do all the giving or whether they dread contact with suffering, I know not, but I know that few women contribute. But by far the bulk of the money which is given to beggars comes from the middle classes, from the men who are working for small salaries, and this, perhaps, is due to their knowledge of and acquaintance with suffering themselves. Most of them have had more of the ups and downs than come to the very rich, and they have a fellow feeling for us. They are the ones who stop and listen to the stories we have fixed up. We reach them at once, and very rarely fail to land them.
"The first thing to do, if the man is a good artist at his story and knows the game besting is not such an unprofitable business after all. As a means of earning a living it beats several of the trades all hollow. The proceeds do not seem large to the casual observer, but when you figure up at the end of a day a beggar who cannot average from $7 to $10 a day is not a good hand at the business. I have made as much as $20 a day for months at a time. My family lived well, and I managed to do so at the same time. During gala days and the carnival times we sometimes clean up as much as $50 a day. It has nothing in the world that a man cannot be proud and be a beggar, but he can sometimes afford to put his pride in his pocket for awhile if he is making money. When he has the money he will find his pride is all right."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL DISCOVERIES.
Tracing the History of the Human Race in Bored Cities.
"There is a great deal doing in archaeology. One would suppose that the surface of the earth had already been so thoroughly explored in the last few years that important new findings bearing on the past history of the human race would begin to grow scarce. But it does not seem so. On the contrary, there is much that favors the belief that there are better archaeological documents still underground than have yet been dug out, and far more of them. The field is not nearly exhausted." To all appearance, its surface has not been more than scratched. In Rome the other day a tunnel driven under a square of black pavement, itself recently exhumed, disclosed what is believed to be the tomb of Romulus, and on the other side of the base on which stood two guardian lions, carried off, maybe, by the Goths in 410. Search was made for the tomb because there was historical evidence of its existence under the black stones.

In England this month workmen engaged in raising one of the great stones at Stonehenge dug out a lot of stone implements which are thought to put the date of the Stonehenge group back at least as far as 1500 B. C. Professor Petrie on November 7, told the supporters of the Egypt exploration fund in London that their diggers in ground near Abydos, supposed to be exhausted, had turned up exhibits of the greatest importance, which settled in a manner that had seemed beyond hope the very foundations of Egyptian history. He told about finding the gold scepter of Mena, the founder of the Egyptian monarchy, and of gold vases and jewels, engraved tablets by the score and inscriptions by the hundreds, telling about rulers who lived 6,000 years ago.
Dr. Stein has been burrowing in the sands of the deserts of Chinese Turkestan, and has found in abandoned villages many objects of interest, including a profusion of documents on wood or paper, some of them as much as 2,000 years old. Still more interesting is the discovery in central Arizona of a big irrigation canal formerly fed by the Rio Verde, and large enough for logs and small barges to be floated in it. It is considered the most interesting discovery made in those parts in recent years, though ruins of irrigation canals are common in the Arizona desert. One of them, thirty-two miles north of Phoenix, and formerly fed by the Rio Verde, passes for four miles through an artificial gorge in the Superstition mountains, cut out of the solid rock to a depth of 100 feet. In that country there are abundant remains of a civilization existing as much as 3,000 years ago, and antedating the cliff dwellers. Europe, through Columbus, seems to have discovered America only in the sense that Croker discovered New York. It was not lost. It was there, but nobody happened at the time to be putting any considerable part of it to remunerative use.—Harper's Weekly.

KISSING AT DUBLIN CASTLE.
The "kissing" question at Dublin Castle will soon be likely to take a place among other Irish questions. The king has abolished the kiss of presentation, which it was the sovereign's right to imprint on the debutante's cheek. The lord lieutenant still retains the privilege, but whether or not he will continue to retain or henceforth relinquish it is one of those grave state affairs which demand the consideration of a court of claims.—London Truth.

MAKES OLD AGE VIGOROUS.
Paine's Celery Compound the Greatest Nerve Tonic.
Paine's Celery Compound is the greatest nerve tonic ever given to the world. It is particularly effective when the system is gradually wasting away in old age, and when each separate organ is predisposed to degeneration. Paine's Celery Compound renders a vigorous old age possible. It keeps the nervous system in a normal condition of health; it keeps the digestive organs in perfect condition; it keeps the liver and kidneys active and in perfect health; it nourishes nerve fibres, as well as muscle fibres and other tissues; it keeps the nerve force strong; it aids digestion; it makes rich, pure blood and gives strength and health to those in whom the energies of the human body have begun to wane.
In the treatment of the infirmities common to old age, Paine's Celery Compound is the world's greatest remedy.
William P. Snowden and his family were the first white settlers of the town that is now the city of Omaha. He has had a long and eventful life. His trade was that of a brickmaker. He came with the army of the North from 1861 to 1864. He had previously seen service in the Mexican War in the forties. He has held many local offices of trust, and there is no better known man in Nebraska today.
"It gives me great pleasure," he writes in a letter on Oct. 11 last, "to attest the good qualities of Paine's Celery Compound. I have used it for years, and it has never failed to help me. While I am perhaps the oldest resident of this city, I am in good health. I have never found it necessary to take any other medicine."
Nothing has ever approached Paine's Celery Compound in its power of building up weakened nerve tissues and giving strength to the tired body. In severe cases of persistent headaches, dizziness, neuritis and sleeplessness, due to nervous weakness, Paine's Celery Compound has a record of rapid and lasting cures that embraces every city and town in the wide sweep of the United States.
Mrs. Emyle Hyde Grinnell, at the age of 99 years, writes to the proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound:

"I can recommend Paine's Celery Compound to every one. It has been my health preserver during the last few years. Few women, even though much younger than I, enjoy as good health, for my appetite is natural, my sleep refreshing, and I can walk quite a distance without feeling tired. People are surprised at my vigorous appearance and activity, which I believe is the result of my using Paine's Celery Compound. It is a great help to me, and I hope every old person will use it and be saved sickness and suffering."
Give the nerves a chance to recover, and the entire body will regain its health and strength. Paine's Celery Compound is nature's food for the nerves.

Omega Oil

It would hardly be truthful to say Omega Oil cures Bruises and Sprains and Strains. Nature herself does most of the curing, but the Oil stops the pain while the bruised place is being cured. The pain is what annoys you, and Omega Oil must be given the credit for fixing you up so you will not suffer. Omega Oil soothes, softens and comforts any pain you apply it to. If the pain is not too great, the Oil is to be well rubbed in. This sets up a good circulation of the blood, and the result is always beneficial. Besides rubbing Omega Oil into the pores, some of the Oil should be bound around the ailing part.

Omega Oil is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for.

HOT FIGHT IN SIGHT.

Municipal Campaign This Spring May Be an Exciting Contest.

Prospects are excellent for a really exciting contest in the municipal election this spring. Although there have been on indications thus far as to who will be the candidates, there is a well defined feeling that when the campaign finally opens there will be a fight along lines which do not depend upon the personality of candidates, but on the principles they will represent.

While the excellent administration that Mayor Johnston has given the city is recognized, there is no question whatever that there is dissatisfaction among certain elements. This dissatisfaction has reached a point where it threatens to take the shape of organized action in the spring campaign. Whether it will amount to anything remains to be seen. But there is talk which points to the possibility of a warm contest, with the manner in which the city affairs are to be handled by the next administration as the dominating issue.

Who will be brought out by this dissatisfied element is still a problem. H. N. Meloche is anxious to be a candidate for mayor, and is already laying the wires to be the nominee on a labor ticket. Mr. Meloche makes no secret of his ambition, and he has a program which appeals to an element among the voters of the city. He also proposes to introduce a novelty into the campaign, in placing a labor ticket in the field which he believes will not be antagonistic to the corporation interests. As he himself expresses it:

"The labor element heretofore has fought the corporations. I propose to change that attitude. The corporations are the life of this city, and I do not propose, if I am a candidate, to antagonize the corporations. I want a business administration of the affairs of the city. This means that I want the city to be run on the same lines that other cities on the upper peninsula are run."

"I believe in giving the corporations a fair show, and I do not believe in trying to down them. In this program I think that I will find the voters back of me. Not only that, but I believe that I will have the mining industry back of me. I will be a candidate on a platform of a business administration, without fighting the corporation interests. I will ask the laboring men of this city to come to my aid in order that we may have a city which will be progressive and wide awake."

"It seems to me that Ishpeming has had enough experience with people in office who do not care whether the town advances or not, and I feel certain that a ticket pledged to the interests of the laboring men and the industrial interests, with a promise of giving the city a liberal business administration, will stand a good show of winning out this spring."

There is a disposition on the part of the opponents of Mr. Meloche to regard his candidacy as a joke and to laugh at his attempt to get into the field. But Meloche is in earnest, and he has friends who believe that he would make a good mayor.

As before stated, there is an excellent chance for a hot fight. Mayor Johnston is reported to be out of the field. Who will be nominated in his place is entirely a matter of conjecture so far. Ex-Mayor Fred Braastad has been mentioned, but he has so far said in private conversation that he would not run. Should Meloche develop strength, it would take somebody fully as well known and popular as Mr. Braastad to make the run against him.

J. W. Jochim is also mentioned as a possible candidate. Mr. Jochim is not looking for the nomination, his friends being responsible for the mention of his name. Should he get into the field in earnest, he would make a popular candidate for the position.

BOTTLING WORKS AT THE SOO.

The Soo News-Record has this to say concerning a former Ishpeming man who was here Sunday enroute to Milwaukee: "Charles Farm, late of the grocery firm of Carlson & Farm, corner of Bingham and Maple streets, will about March 15 open a bottling works in a new building that is being constructed for him by C. W. Caskey & Sons, on Maple street, adjoining the store of the late firm of Carlson & Farm. Mr. Farm has gone to Milwaukee to order a first class equipment for his new enterprise. For many years Mr. Farm conducted a bottling works at Ishpeming and with his experience he no doubt will enjoy a liberal trade here."

MAY MOVE TO MUNISING.

Says the Munising Republican: "Attorney C. F. Donohue, of Ishpeming, was in Munising Tuesday and Wednesday looking over the city with a view to locating here. He made no decision before leaving here, but a friend he said he thought he would come. If he does he will be here about March 15. Mr. Donohue was born in Ishpeming and has lived there all his life. He was graduated from the law department of the Michigan University seven years ago and has since been practicing in Ishpeming. He is circuit court commissioner of Marquette county."

LOGGING ON DEAD RIVER.

Reichel Brothers of Marquette, who have been logging on the Dead river this season, have made a good-sized cut. George Voelker visited their camp recently, and reports that over 3,000,000 feet of pine has been logged. The firm has everything banked except some 200,000 feet, and this will be banked within a week or ten days. Mr. Voelker says that the camp is in excellent condition, and that whereas other camps have had small-pox and other diseases, Reichel's camp has been absolutely without serious sickness.

TO VISIT COPPER COUNTRY.

Ski Jumpers Will Probably Make the Trip Next Saturday.

Negotiations are under way for a trip to the copper country by the Ishpeming Ski club. D. D. Randall, of the South Shore road, will leave this evening for copperdom to make the final arrangements for the proposed tournament, which it is intended to be held next Saturday.

There is no doubt that if the club sends a team up the line it will be accompanied by a large delegation of local enthusiasts. The people of the copper country are reported to be very anxious to see a good ski jumping contest, and a team from the Ishpeming club would attract much attention in that section. Mr. Randall will try to secure a special car for the delegation.

The copper country people are willing to put up money to see the Ishpeming ski jumpers, and they have indicated that they would hang up some good purses if the boys would come up. According to present intentions, Bye will be one of the party and he will give the copper country folks a chance to see what a crack jumper can do. It is probable that he will only give an exhibition race, for so far as known there is no one in that section who could hope to compete with him. Should the Ishpeming club send a delegation to the copper country, it would be under the joint management of D. D. Randall and Carl Tellefsen. Mr. Tellefsen is an enthusiast, and much of the success of the Ishpeming club is due to his efforts.

There is a hot rivalry developing as to who is entitled to the honor of the local championship. The Humboldt men are undoubtedly very fast, but the local skiers are willing to pit their men against him and it is very probable that the two men will be matched soon.

NOT A "SECOND JUMP."

Bye's Peculiar Motion Made to Regain His Balance.

Mitch has been written and said of Gustave Bye's peculiar "form" in making his big ski jumps. Saturday afternoon the Ishpeming club sent a delegation to the copper country to analyze the singular character of the jump which Bye makes. There is no doubt that Bye has a jump all of his own, but it cannot be said that he makes a second jump while in the air.

As Bye goes off the slide he is plainly in bad balance. As near as can be judged he acquires this position in gathering himself together for his flight. At any rate, when he goes into space there is a feeling that he will be liable to land on his back. But he does not. With a backward, sweeping motion of his arms Bye gathers himself into line and lands square on his feet. This makes his jumps very spectacular and attractive, but there is nothing in the motion itself which can help the jumper in getting through the air.

Possibly the jumpers did it impossible to "save the momentum" well balanced. The fact that Bye uses his peculiar action to regain his balance seems to indicate that there is some truth in the theory. But the fact that there are some of the local jumpers who make the jump with that control and balance which seems to be lacking in Bye's work would raise an interesting question. However, Gustave Bye has won medals and races so numerous and so prominent that no one will be likely to call his style of work into question.

PASSING OF THE CABLE CAR.

A few years ago the cable system of street car propulsion was considered decidedly the best, but since the invention of the trolley system the cable is being rapidly replaced, and many experts now claim that compressed air will eventually be the best car motor of the future. In all lines of industry we see improvements being made, but in medicine there is one remedy that is impossible to improve upon, and that is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It will not fail to cure dyspepsia, indigestion, sour stomach, constipation, liver and kidney troubles, or malaria, fever and ague. Take it at the first symptom of any of these diseases and it will give prompt relief. Be sure to get the genuine.

WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

IF SMITH'S GREEN MOUNTAIN RENOVATOR CURES OTHER PEOPLE HOW CAN IT FAIL TO BE A GOOD THING FOR YOU?

We don't recommend it to you because we are the sole agents for it. We are sole agents for it because we know it and can recommend it.

Up in Vermont, where people place the highest possible estimate upon health and bodily strength, there isn't a town so small but that you will find plenty of people in it who have been cured of blood troubles, nerve troubles or diseases of the stomach, liver and kidneys by the use of Smith's Green Mountain Renovator. In fact, you will be more than likely before going very far to run across people who have been cured by this medicine when all other medicines had failed and doctors had shaken their heads in dismay.

Read this sample testimonial:

COUNCILMAN BERNECKER, 204 E. Norris St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I feel it my duty to write and say that your SMITH'S GREEN MOUNTAIN RENOVATOR has done more to give me real natural vitality and strength than any medicine I have ever taken. In fact, it has put me on my feet. I have suffered from kidney and liver troubles for years which have sapped my strength and vitality. I had about given up in despair, until after taking only one bottle of the RENOVATOR I felt better. After taking perhaps six bottles I am cured. Kidneys and liver no longer sluggish—stronger, sleep well."

Smith's Green Mountain Renovator cures because it is compounded of roots and herbs, Nature's own remedies instead of concoctions of various drugs. You certainly ought to keep Smith's Green Mountain Renovator in the house and use it as a general blood purifier, spring medicine and corrector of simple, every-day ills.

The first time you have any occasion to use a medicine of this kind, we want you to try Smith's Green Mountain Renovator. Go and buy it, give it a trial, and come back after your money if you fail to be benefited. This offer shows how highly we esteem it.

"CY" YOUNG'S TEASER.

How He Discovered His Famous Slow Drop.

"CY" Young's most effective ball last season was a slow one with a big drop on it, and, after he commenced using this, he had all of the American league stickers breaking their spinal cords trying to land for safeties. They could not connect at all, and he wound up the year with a brilliant record of victories behind him. His discovery of this tantalizing ball was almost an accident. Early in the season the Baltimore club was playing in Boston and big "CY" had been selected to do the twirling. As usual, he began sending them up so fast that they looked like birdshot. But the McGraw aggregation had good eyes that day, and every time a ball was swung it hit something. Singles and doubles were being made with a regularity that commenced to take all the tuck out of Cyrus. He showed evidences of being weary of the game. Finally he threw up a slow one, delivered partially underhanded. It just lobbed up lazily, and then all of a sudden it dropped from the latter's shoulders almost down to his knees. He fanned at it. This surprised the pitcher as much as it did the sticker. Again the trick was tried, and again it was successful. The rest of that game Young worked the slow, wide drop in connection with an occasional fast straight ball, and he pulled a victory out of what looked like sure defeat. He did not forget the slow ball, and a great portion of his practice work after that was devoted to perfecting it. He made a study of the delivery and before the season was old he had it down pat.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Whatever virtue there is in medicine seems to be concentrated in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for five years with profuse and painful menstruation until I lost flesh and strength, and life had no charms for me. Only three bottles of your Vegetable Compound cured me, I became regular, without any pains, and hardly know when I am sick. Some of my friends who have used your Compound for uterine and ovarian troubles all have the same good word to say for it, and bless the day they first found it."—MRS. KATE BERG.

A CHANCE IN A LIFE TIME to invest on the ground floor with owners, in a developed free milling gold mine that has produced, and has expended on it.

Fifty Thousand Dollars in development on the ledge and a complete five stamp mill, with all other necessary machinery ready to run.

The Ozark is not a prospect, but a mine that has produced. We are placing 100,000 shares of development stock at 25c per share, capital stock 1,000,000 shares (par value $1.00) each, fully paid and non-assessable, to further develop and put the property on a paying basis.

A property lying near the Ozark, with nowhere as good a showing and very little development, sold last week to a New York syndicate for $200,000. The Ozark will pay dividends and be worth par inside of six months. This is the best investment for the money that has ever been offered to the investing public.

Do not lose this opportunity. It will never come again. For further particulars, prospectus, report on mine, reference, etc., address,

OZARK GOLD MINING & MILLING CO., MOSCOW, IDAHO.

GREAT DEVELOPMENT.

have a million dollars worth of ore blocked out.

"The Ozark mine lying north of the Banner is also drifting on a twenty-four foot ledge on the 100 foot level, and there is no question but that it will develop into a great mine, as it has the richest ore in the camp and has a greater showing as far as developed than the Banner. They expect to get the mill now on the property started by the first of March and add stamps enough as soon as the roads will permit in the spring to make their capacity 100 tons per day, and with these two big mines with others that are getting ready to start, the people of Florence are looking for a great boom in the spring. The town of Florence is full of mining men looking for bonds on property where the owners are not able to do the necessary development work to put the property on a paying basis but as usual the prospectors' idea since the development of the Banner and Ozark is such that they are hard to deal with in the way of price, but the people who are looking for the property have made liberal offers since the Banner and Ozark started, and I am satisfied will pick up most of the best properties between now and spring."

J. N. Taylor, United States Mineral Surveyor, has just come down from Florence and reports great activity in the camp and that there is more development going on at the present time than there has ever been before in central Idaho.

In an interview with The Star reporter, Mr. Taylor said: "The Banner is working sixty men in getting their mine ready to start as soon as the hundred ton mill they are putting in is completed. This property has developed into a great mine, I believe the largest free milling gold mine in the Northwest. They have twenty-seven feet of $14.00 ore in one drift, and twenty-three feet of $6.00 ore in another drift. This property was bought by a New York syndicate composed of Henry Clews, Arubuck Bros., and others a short time ago for two hundred thousand dollars, and the value of the property today is hard to estimate as they Negaunee and Vicinity.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE STARTED. READY TO HOIST ORE.

Breitung House Will Be Put in Excellent Condition by Landlord Suess. Volunteer Mine Will Be in Operation Within a Short Time.

Work was started yesterday morning on improvements on the Breitung house which will make that popular hostelry as good as any hotel in western Marquette county.

A. Myers and B. K. Weber are doing the work. They will completely renovate the office and lobby of the hotel. Dark green will be the color to be applied to the walls of the office, while the three panels on the ceiling will be in old rose, shaded off to white.

There will be a thirty-inch frieze in hand work with raised, stucco ornamentation, and a four-foot dado. The general effect will be Linerusta Walton, and when finished there will be nothing finer on the upper peninsula. The wood-work will be either cherry or antique oak.

Proprietor LaVerne Suess has decided to make his house one of the best in this section, and this work is only preliminary to changes which will be made within the next twelve months. The rooms will be re-papered, and the hallways and main entrance are to receive attention. While these changes will not be renovated at this time, Mr. Suess says that he will eventually give it a touching up.

The improvements will not be completed until some time next summer, when a hardwood floor will be placed in the hotel office and the main entrance. There is also a possibility that new sample room arrangements will be made which will give the Breitung one of the best sample room suites to be found in this section.

The betterment of this hotel will be appreciated by the traveling public. Important changes have recently been made in the culinary department, and the accommodations are now ample for handling any crowd which the house will be called on to serve. A new range has been placed in the kitchen and the quarters of the chef have been modernized. One reason for these changes is the coming of the firm's tournament, which will bring immense crowds to Negaunee while it is being held. Another is that the new mining operations which are under way here promise to make the city very lively within a year or eighteen months, and Landlord Suess believes that he should be prepared for the enhanced patronage sure to come to his house.

ROYAL ARCANUM INITIATION. This evening will be a red letter day for the local lodge of the Royal Arcanum. There will be an initiation of a large class of candidates, and a banquet afterward.

Deputy Eckstein of Jackson has been in the city for several days past, and has succeeded in gathering a good crowd of candidates together. These candidates will be given their initiation this evening, and the local members of the Arcanum are looking forward to one of the best meetings which the Negaunee lodge has ever held.

The banquet which will follow will be one of the most elaborate social affairs ever given by the local lodge. Mr. Eckstein will address the gathering on the benefits of the order, and the record it has made in the line of work it is designed to accomplish.

EL RACINE OF FORTY-SIX TOWNSHIP, who was drawn for jury service at Marquette this term, was here Sunday on his way to the county seat.

PETER COLE DEAD. Peter Cole died yesterday morning at 4 o'clock. He had been ill for about three weeks, and his death was a relief from suffering which had reached a point where there was no hope for recovery.

Mr. Cole had been a resident of the city for only six months, but in that time he had made many friends. He was originally a L'Anse man. The saloon business which Mr. Cole owned was purchased a short time before his death by Joseph Coll of L'Anse.

TIES FOR MEXICO. Kirkpatrick Bros. have taken a big contract to furnish ties for the Mexican Central railway. Twenty cars belonging to that road have arrived in the city to take away some of the material. The timber holdings of Kirkpatrick Bros. include some of the best timber in this section of the country and the ties are certain to be first-class.

WILL HAVE FINE QUARTERS. The Maccebes will have one of the finest lodge rooms in the city when they take possession of their new quarters over John Shea's store. Mr. Shea has fitted up the rooms in the best of style, and the Maccebes and the Lady Maccebes have done their part. The lodge will appropriately celebrate its advent into the new rooms.

BRONCHITIS CIGARS!

A Disease that is Dangerous. The smoker's delight is a Good Cigar. We have all the best brands in Key West and Domestic.

Vinol's Great Value in Such Cases. When we talk to a man who has bronchitis, it is unnecessary for us to enter at any length into symptoms.

Our experience has been that sufferers from this trouble become careless. After a time they believe it is a misery they must endure. That is not the case. Many of our friends who will read this will agree with us that it was a good thing for them when they followed our advice and took Vinol. It is indeed wonderful how quickly this modern scientific preparation completely overcomes this disagreeable and dangerous disease.

We wish more of our friends and citizens who suffer from bronchitis, or, in fact, from any throat or pulmonary trouble, would come to us. It would give us pleasure to devote our time in explaining how Vinol cures all such diseases; in fact, any disease that has a tendency to deplete the system. The following letter on this subject is surely of interest:

"For five years I was troubled with a terrible cough and bronchitis. I tried a great many different preparations without getting relief. I could not sleep and I became so weak I could hardly walk, and all this time I was coughing day and night. Then I took Vinol. What a God-send that first bottle was! I had not taken half of it before I noticed a change for the better. I took four bottles in all, and now the improvement in my condition is most encouraging. I no longer cough, and I feel stronger and better than I have for a long time. Miss ANNA RAY, Bangor, Me."

When you call on us, we will give you many other facts fully as interesting as the above. You will thus see why we never hesitate to refund to anyone the cost of Vinol, if we fail to benefit them.

ORIENTAL SERVANTS. A Feature of Housekeeping on the Pacific Coast.

Housekeeping in California, and, indeed, on the whole Pacific coast, has such an emphatic Oriental tinge that the exclusion act has more to do with the proper washing of western dishes than one would imagine. Many a housewife in the west homes ardently that the exclusion act may not be renewed, for the unrestricted immigration of Chinese would solve the domestic help problem of the west. There are a great many more kitchens waiting for a Chinese and Japanese to fill them than there are competent boys, and the maid servant is growing scarcer and more scarce as women find out how much more useful than a maid a man is in the kitchen. To begin with, there are so many more things that a man can do. Very often the housewife and her daughters do not object at all to doing the chamber work, save on sweeping and window washing days, but they do object to watering the garden, which is a six-months' duty during the dry season in the west. Here the Japanese or Chinese is most handy. If there is a little gardening in the kitchen, a man always looks better than a woman as a waiter, and often he looks after the family horse, in addition to his other duties.

Of course, he is well paid. The cheapest Japanese cooks are now paid $8 a week, and frequently a schoolboy earns $85. Good cooks in the families where a second girl is employed and the family keeps up some style are paid from $8 to $10 a week. The best cooks are Chinese; the best waiters Japanese. Often the "second girl" is a Chinese boy. A change in the last two years is not substitution of Japanese butters for the English or American article. Several fashionable hostesses have a Japanese in a tuxedo at the door on their reception days, and at least three prominent society men in San Francisco have Japanese valets.

Young Chinese girls from the missions sometimes serve as maids at teas and as waiting maids on ordinary occasions, and some travelers bring back dirty Japanese ayaks, but until the slave girl problem is settled these valuable bits of femininity are too much of a temptation for the highbinder to make the mistress who employs them feel absolutely safe. It is unpleasant to feel that you must watch a maid every moment, lest she be kidnapped. Every serving maid or man in the west nowadays has an afternoon and an evening out, and on these days the mistress almost never attempts to get dinner at home. Either the family arranges the night on one which they are invited out, or else the entire family goes to a restaurant for that night.

PROCEEDINGS OFF

MAPES-MANEY CASE IS DROPPED IN CIRCUIT COURT.

VICTOR MOON PLEADS GUILTY

ACCUSED OF EMBEZZLING ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL FUNDS.

Peter Rasmussen Acknowledges Violating Liquor Law—Sentence Under Advisement—Paulson Forgery Case Now on Trial.

The case arising from the removal of the Mapes manure pile under the direction of the health department will not be tried in the circuit court. A settlement has been reached between the attorneys representing the plaintiff and the city, and yesterday's session Judge Stone ordered the case stricken from the docket.

The case of The People vs. George Miller, the Lathrop boy accused of manslaughter in having killed Matt Briz in alleged mistake for a bear during the hunting season last fall, was on consent continued until the next term. The bail will remain in force.

Liquor Law Violation Cases.

Peter Rasmussen, William Pelmer, Hans Anderson, Anti-Bessonen, Marino Caruso and William Lucas, charged with violation of the liquor law, all pleaded guilty when arraigned. In the case of Mr. Rasmussen, the court took the matter of sentence under advisement for a few days, and in the matter of William Pelmer, sentence was suspended until the first day of the next term. The other defendants were each fined $30 and costs of $5.50, which were paid. Mary E. McGraw, charged with the same offense, pleaded not guilty. Her case was continued until the next term, with the bail remaining in force.

William French, charged with stealing a watch from Aaron Losey in this city several weeks ago, entered a plea of not guilty and on the application of the prosecuting attorney the case was continued. The amount of the bail, which French so far has been unable to secure, was reduced to $300. Thomas Nelson, who jointly with French was charged with the holding, but who in reality was the principal witness for the prosecution, did not appear in court. His case, however, was not pressed on the application of the prosecuting attorney.

MOON PLEADED GUILTY.

A plea of guilty was entered by Victor E. Moon, charged with embezzlement. He will be sentenced later in the term. Moon is the man who was charged with disposing of St. Mary's hospital tickets and appropriating the proceeds to his own account, the pecuniations amounting to several hundred dollars.

In the case of The People vs. John McHale, accused of larceny, the prosecuting attorney filed reasons for not filing information against the defendant, and McHale was discharged from custody.

Isaac Paulson, the young Finnish section man charged with forgery in having cashed a check which did not belong to him, it is alleged, pleaded not guilty. W. T. Potter of Ishpeming was appointed to defend him, a jury was drawn and the trial was started.

To secure the condemnation of the various parcels of land and the award of monetary damages to Sidney Adams and others. The report was yesterday approved by Judge Stone, and an order was entered formally confirming the decision of the commissioners.

The two cases of the St. Mary's Power company vs. the Chandler-Dunbar Water Power company, involving water power privileges at the Soo, were continued until the next term on the application of the plaintiff and on the usual terms.

PERENNIAL MONTE CRISTO.

Jas. O'Neill's Great Play Seems Destined to Live Forever.

"Monte Cristo" is one of the old plays likely to live so long as there is a hearty and healthy love for stirring narrative and melodramatic thrills. Perhaps it may properly be considered the best of its class. Alexander Dumas knew a thing or two in regard to the constitution and by-laws of a thrilling and sensational story, and there is no manner of doubt that the original novel, known as "The Count of Monte Cristo," and the play translated from its pages fully justify its uncommon reputation.

James O'Neill has for many years been the recognized American representative of the Dumas hero in this play, and although a versatile and on many accounts admirable actor, particularly in roles requiring vocal eloquence, he has been forced by public demand to devote most of his time to "Monte Cristo."

In due course of time he was recognized as the supreme April 1, 1902, the minimum wage shall be thirty-one and one-half cents (31 1/2 cents) per hour, and that nine hours shall constitute a day's work.

by his splendid environments. Everywhere the great production was shown, from the moment the plot commenced to unfold, until the very end, the absorbed attention, punctuated by frantic applause, gave sufficient evidence that the Dumas complications were thoroughly appreciated. "Monte Cristo" seems destined to live forever.

GOOD BUYING IN COPPERS.

Butte Mining Deal Has a Favorable Effect on the Market.

The purchase of Senator Clark's Butte mining interest by the Amalgamated people, said Paine, Webber & Co. yesterday, is regarded as a straw which indicates that the copper wind is now from a clearing quarter. The buying has been better in all of the coppers, and, as we have often predicted, the best of the Lake group led the advance. The rise in Copper Range and Baltic came on well scattered buying. We believe that all good copper stocks should be bought at the present level of prices. Walker Bros., writing Paine, Webber & Co. from New York, said of the stock market: "The market at the opening was steady and inclined to be strong and there was some good buying in the Pacific and coals. Later in the day the market became very strong and active, and covering helped the prices along. The decision in favor of the Northern Securities company had very good effect and this caused further buying. Before the close the market sold off on profit-taking, but the liquidation was not large and the tone of the market was good."

GRAIN MARKETS LOWER.

W. H. Laidley & Co. said of the Chicago grain markets:

"Lower cables, the small increase in passage and comparatively small shipments contributed toward opening the wheat market today at a decline of half a cent, and it continued extremely weak all day with scarcely any reaction, closing on the bottom. The news was almost entirely bearish. The decline uncovered stop orders and brought about an avalanche of selling. It looks now as if the market would surely sell a cent or a cent and a half lower than present prices, and we would not advise purchases except on very decided breaks from present figures."

"Corn opened weak and followed the course of wheat all day, closing at a net loss of 1 1/2 cents a bushel. The foreign receipts were weak, and the primary receipts and shipments less than last year. There was a fair decrease on passage and smaller shipments and clearances. It looks as though corn would sell lower in sympathy with wheat."

WORKED AMONG INDIANS.

Rev. A. R. Bartlett Was an Active Minister for Forty-Seven Years.

In the death last week at Detroit of Rev. Alanson R. Bartlett, father of Mrs. W. G. King of this city and formerly presiding elder of this district, with headquarters at Marquette, the Methodist church lost one of its oldest ministers. He served in the active pastorate for forty-seven years, and built up a fine reputation for scholarship and piety.

His last pastorate was at the Gratiot Avenue church, Detroit, which pulpit he left three years ago to take a superannuated relationship with his conference, this being made necessary by advancing years and failing strength. Like many of the older ministers, he was practically a self-made man. He was born in Essex county, New York, Feb. 25, 1827, of old New England stock. His father was a direct ancestor. While he was still a child, his father came to Michigan and established the first saw mill in the state, not far from the village of Farmington.

Rev. Mr. Bartlett, in his early days, spent some time in mission work among the Indians of the state, and the memories of those times were the ones he liked best to recall. He was one of the first to become an abolitionist, and was a member of the gathering which at Lansing first organized the Republican party in Michigan. A staunch temperance man, it was said of him that he could not preach a sermon without in some manner referring to that subject; yet so great was his loyalty to the party he helped to found that he could never become a member of the Prohibition party.

About forty-three years ago he was preaching at Hudson, Mich. In the midst of a temperance campaign, one Sunday morning, the opposition surrounded the church and threatened to assault him when he emerged. At the close he walked calmly out, his wife on his arm, and the would-be assaulters made way without a word.

Rev. Mr. Bartlett had during his period of service twice presiding elder, once of the Saginaw district and once of the Lake Superior district. His service on the latter field was closed about eight years ago. At one time or another, he occupied most of the larger churches in the upper peninsula, in the elderships at Marquette and at Hancock. He also presided at Birmingham, Hastings, St. Clair, Howell and Saginaw. A number of years ago he was pastor of the Jefferson Avenue church, now the Mary Palmer Memorial church. He was twice chosen a member of the general conference of the church.

Rev. Mr. Bartlett had been in poor health for some months, and the end was not entirely unexpected. Rev. Mr. Bartlett was twice married, and a widow and three children—Mrs. W. G. King, of Marquette; Mrs. G. E. Thompson and Miss Edith Bartlett, both of Detroit, survive. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon.

U. B. of Carpenters and Joiners of America, local union 968, of Marquette, Mich., demand that on or after the first day of April, 1902, the minimum wage shall be thirty-one and one-half cents (31 1/2 cents) per hour, and that nine hours shall constitute a day's work.

Dated Feb. 7, 1902. Signed and sealed, John G. Dunand, Pres., Jas. E. Scanlan, Rec. Sec. (2-10-4-1)

BALL GAME THIS EVENING.

Workmen and Maccabee Teams Will Contest at the Casino.

The indoor baseball game to be played at the Casino rink this evening will be between the A. O. U. W. and Maccabee teams and will be the fifth of the city league schedule. For the protection of spectators a wire netting has been placed along the front of the row of seats, and as at games in the past boys have been causing considerable annoyance it is announced that they will not be admitted this evening. A glance at the line-up of the Workmen's team will bear out the claim that the club has been materially strengthened. "Jack" Rivers will be seen in his old position behind the bat, and the Corbett brothers will cover right and left short. Other new and better players have also been assigned to positions on the team, and it would seem that the Maccabees, strong and experienced as they are, will be compelled to play their best in order to make the showing expected by their supporters. The game, at least, will be interesting and will undoubtedly be well patronized. The line-up of the teams:

To Houghton Tomorrow. The Beavers' indoor baseball club leaves tomorrow morning for Houghton to play two games with the Light Infantry team, the contests taking place Wednesday and Thursday evenings. A rate of $2.50 for the round trip has been secured and, in addition to the players, will apply to all "rooters" and others who wish to make the trip, providing they notify Manager Joe Simpson prior to train time. The indications are that the delegation going to the copper country will be a good-sized one.

Manager Thomas Price, of the Saloon Keepers' Baseball team, yesterday received a challenge purporting to come from the "Shoe Makers' ball club." If the manager of the latter aggregation, whose name is signed to the communication, will call on Mr. Price a game can very easily be arranged.

WALDO ON ROOSEVELT.

Normal School Principal Talks of the Career of the President.

Professor Waldo of the Normal school was at the Soo last week and while there delivered an address before the high school pupils. He spoke of the life and character of President Roosevelt and is quoted as follows by the Soo News-Record: "Roosevelt's earliest ambitions was to be a leader in politics. Soon after he left college he was elected to the legislature of New York. He determined to do all he could to control several important bills. With the help of an other legislator of his own stamp, Roosevelt finally succeeded in carrying out most of his plans. After serving in the legislature for three years, he retired from public life and, going to the Dakotas, engaged in stock raising for several years. During this time he had made considerable of a reputation as a writer on American history."

"When he returned to the East, he was appointed to a position on the civil service. Roosevelt believed that in order to hold a public office, a man should be fit to hold and should hold office because the office seeks the man, and not because the man seeks the office. He made his stand on this doctrine, and did his best to reform the civil service. It may be stated in this connection that up to the time of Roosevelt's elevation to the presidency, the civil service of the United States was generally going down. He has now done more in four months toward reforming it than would have been done in ten years under ordinary circumstances."

"After holding a position on the civil service, Roosevelt was appointed chief of the police commission of New York city. He declared that he proposed to close the saloons in that city on Sundays and after hours, and did much toward doing so, although laughed at for it all over the country. He straightened the police force up and made it the cleanest and most effective organization of the kind in the country."

"While assistant secretary of the navy, Roosevelt sent across the continent the ammunition used by our forces at Manila bay, and made it possible for Dewey to win on May 1, 1898. He resigned his position after the Spanish-American war had been won, and went to Tampa Bay with his friend, Colonel Wood. It was with great difficulty that he obtained permission for the Rough Riders to go to Cuba."

"After the war he was made governor of New York. His enemies thought they would eventually put him out of the way by nominating him for the vice presidency. He did not wish to hold this office, but was finally persuaded to sacrifice his personal interests, and become a candidate. When he became president, his enemies said that he was so strenuous and erratic that he could not possibly succeed. However, Roosevelt has shown them different. Formerly it had been the custom for senators to name those whom they wished to hold certain offices in their states, and without questioning their characters, the president appointed them. Roosevelt changed all this, and when any person was named for office if he did not think the person named eligible for it, he refused to appoint him."

WILLIE BOY TO CHIMMIE.

Being a Few Scattered Remarks on the Late Pilgrimage.

Market—1902, Feb. 24th. Say Chimmie! De Shriners was in town last Friday, and dar was de biggest sale in de history of dis section of de country fer hunc-seltzer wat you ever saw, der nex morning. De whole roll call had dar tired feelin wat a brown paper taste in de mug, but dar was also dar satisfaction wat a big 8 and don't you forget to put dat in your diary.

De kamel did certainly hump hisself on de square. Dar wuznt a pilgrim wat didn't take a fall out of de desert auto-mo-bubble. I guess from de way de bunch feels dar must have all fell off on dar kokomots an gotten dar eyes full of sand—dar extra dry light sand wat takes 84 before you can remove de wrapper an view de beauties of de bot.

De Shriners is de gold-plated gang wat don't travel on dar wiskers. De dar de Calumet & Hecla in de hot stuff market, and know fan de equator into de middle of nex July wat dar warn proceedings. De bunches together twict a year an pinches de grape juice wat a mut cracker till you can hear de vegetable boller way up by de ice rink. Its de strait trough, de Shriners live to make dem say called pilgrim dar wuznt no de kin visit de shrine an neck de balled bay out of de yahoos wat aint nex.

De Shriners be plays de Christian egg fer six months, an den brakes loose like de devil was stickin de spur in his flaux. Gee Whiz! wat he don't do aint worth de name of de beer.

Friday de Shriners kum in bokays to de oasis of Marquette. Dar trouas was dry from de extended journey over de snow. De Mining Journal says de burnin sands, but I guess if some of dem Shriners ever took off dar socks and soaked dar feet in some of de holes on West Washington street dey'd tink de burnin sands must have skinned de varnish off de Nox pole. Dar wuznt no burnin sands wat I could see outside de race course, but dem Shriners wat got a ticket to de big tent says dar was hot things doin in de arena before dey sprayed dar necks wat shampain on dar frein a sponge bat in de Chicago beer wat Mike Shea is pushin to de front.

Market looks like de face on a dining room girl before she gives it de kalsomine application previous to de pouched eggs. It looks more like de fine one a watermelon dan a shrine to de foot-firly pilgrims from de far East.

De night clerk at de Hotel Marquette is sufferin from dis-likomoter-ataxia in de main spring projected from rusbun cocktails up three flights of stairs an plain de cracker, he over de lively Brussels carpet of de lino resort. Wat more, de night operator in de Western Union telegraf offfis has got de riter's krampp from sendin dez kind of messages.

"Sorry, dearie, but I can't git home tonight." "Has seen a man wat wants to talk biz." "Luvie, Iz ill wid stomach complaint. Kan't make de bitch till de spasms passes away."

"Little Willie—Met sun of de boys an dey korred me to stay over fer de Epworth League meeting." "Wen de Shriners kum again dey kan have de key to de whole shootin match. Dey is hot stuff widout a limit, an carries de ward by de biggest majority watever choaked de hallo! box."

Yours wid an orful big kramm, WILLIE-BILL.

DETOUR'S CLAIMS SCORED.

Not the Key of Inter-Peninsular Travel Says St. Ignace Paper.

The ambition of DeTour, amusingly fanciful but which its people nurse with earnest gravity, to become the northern terminus of communication between the two peninsulas of Michigan, supplanting the straits passage, is just now receiving the exploitation customary at this time every year, says the St. Ignace Enterprise.

DeTour, it is urged, has a practically open winter harbor; Cheboygan is but thirty-six miles distant. The Soo Journal then argues, "When it is considered that the ferries at the straits are delayed more or less by ice the entire winter, to say nothing of the perennial period that all traffic is suspended, the additional distance to be run would be a mere bagatelle when the trip could be made on open water."

Whilst the subject in this form is hardly worth discussion, The Enterprise may point out to the Journal that its reasoning is based upon a distortion of facts. The suspension of traffic is not "perennial," nor are the ferries at the straits "delayed more or less by ice the entire winter," in the sense intended to be conveyed. The duration of the passage, of course, is longer in summer than winter, but as a rule is easily kept well within the scheduled running time. Such interruptions of travel as occurred this winter are extremely rare, happening but once or so in years, and always being caused by raging storms that would at the same time make the DeTour passage perilous beyond attempting.

When the Ste. Marie is kept at the dock our DeTour friends would also be safer at home.

The latter journey would, under the most favorable conditions, occupy such boats as the Ste. Marie or St. Ignace from four to six hours. The passage of the straits takes from forty-five minutes to an hour, and travelers are well on towards halfway to Detroit in the time that, by way of DeTour, would be spent rolling about on Lake Huron. Moreover, St. Ignace is just as open a port as DeTour; the trouble is always caused by northerly winds blocking the south side; Cheboygan is as liable to blockade as Mackinaw.

The annual pipe dream of the good DeTour people is an innocent indulgence, but it is cruel of the Soo Journal to encourage an extravagant chimera by advancing it as a really serious proposition.
