THE DAILY MINING JOURNAL.

Letter from Miss Georgie Bryan, Secretary of the Social Economic Woman's Club of Memphis, Tenn.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally.

If you know of any young lady who is sick and needs motherly advice ask her to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., who will give her advice free from a source of knowledge which is unequalled in the country. Do not hesitate about stating details which one may not like to talk about, and which are essential for a full understanding of the case.

MISS GEORGIE BRYAN, 193 Vance St., Memphis, Tenn

"I can heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all young girls, for I have used it myself with the best of results.

"Last spring I was very much run down and was advised to try it, which I did; and I was most pleased with its results. The monthly aches and pains so common to women, especially distressing in my case, were all cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I now always keep it on hand to help me over sick days."

The Manstraining the young ladies for their future life was paid. The "Spanish Dance," by Moszkowski, was very well field tour is made by special train of two sleepers for the big company, four played by Miss Jennie Bennett, violinears for the "Beaucaire" production and ist, and Lillian Thoney, pianist. They the private car of the great actor. were succeeded by Anna E. Wallace, who enlogized the poet, Wordsworth, in an admirably worded essay.

Pleasing Patriotic Number.

"The "Star-Spangled Banner," which followed, was a very pretty number. Part of the class, to the side of the stage and invisible to the audience, sang the song while the others portrayed by gestures and delsartean movements its various sentences. These latter young misses were dressed in white gowns, with a flowing drapery of red, white and blue which, maneuvered in different ways, made the scene attractive. A tableau-like effect, with red-fire from the wings casting its glow on the assembly of maidens, was a pleasing finale.

"Fidelio," by Beethoven, an eight-hand selection on two pianos, played by the Misses Bennett, Reed, Thoney and Lawhurch parlors. ler, was charmingly executed and with perfect technique. The essay prepared by Catherine Connors, who followed, was on the subject of "the Herces of Fic-It was_pleasingly handled, To tion." read of the real heroes of history, she thought, in time came rather tiresome. and it was refreshing to occasionally look to fiction for the honesty, truth and valor which we all admire. Dressed in loose Greek gowns, the members of the elocution class recited in unison "The Lost Youth," the story of a sacrifice in centuries gone by, and following "La Baladine," a duet on two verse, Including Man, Evolved by pianos, was played by Nellie Reed and Atomic Force?" Jennie Bennett, It was well executed. St. Margaret's mission (Episcopal) The cantata, "Fairyland," next on the South Marguette-Sunday school at program, was thoroughly enjoyed. The o'clock, and all graded according to size in four sections, representing fairies, naiads, water nymphs and wood nymphs, were prettily dressed in yellow, green, pink and white dresses, and with the tableau which brought the piece to a conclusion the scene was a delightful one.

A Masterly Essay.

The class oration, delivered by Miss Margaret Maney, was really a master-piece. It treated of "The Union and Its Progress," and throughout was replete with patriotic thought and utter-Through the principle that in ance. union there is strength, the country had any occasion requiring changes of busirisen to its present greatness, and while warning was given against the dangers of a world policy, the young lady pre-dicted still greater progress in the years to come. Hearty applause that contin-and until the scenery was thrown back for the next number followed the con-duction of the next number followed the con-duction of the next number followed the con-duction of the next number followed the conclusion of the essay. The chorus sang "The Chase," and with all the class occupying places on the stage, Miss Margaret Russell deliv-ered the valedictory. It was with heavy hearts, she said, that the gradu-ates were now to leave the school, but
