SOME GOOD SPORT

IT WAS HAD AT MERCHANTS' PICNIC YESTERDAY.

BIG CROWD OF PEOPLE OUT

ENJOYMENT MARRED CONSIDERABLY BY HEAVY RAIN.

Horse Racing, Contests Participated in by the Smail, Boy, Baseball, Dancing and Day Fireworks, Features of the Program.

The success of the merchants' picnic at the fair grounds yesterday was marred by the downfall of rain which set in about 3:30 and continued at intervals for the remainder of the afternoon. Nevertheless the program of amusements was carried out almost entirely and there were probably none in the large gathering who did not get a large measure of enjoyment out of the business men's celebration. The crowd numbered close to fifteen hundred people.

Some Good Horse Racing.
The picnic was productive of some of the best horse racing ever seen on the local grounds. This was in the 2:40 class, and in which there were three entries—Gaslight, owned by Stewart; Vestie Medium, owned and driven by Alderman Michael Shea, and Pioneer, owned by Menhennet of Ishpeming. The race was won by Gaslight in three straight heats, with Vestie Medium second and Pioneer third. The time of each heat was 2:27, 2:35, and 2:37. In all three heats the horses came under the wire closely bunched, and in the last heat Gaslight won by a head from Vestie Medium, with Pioneer but a head behind the Shea stepper. The latter horse broke several times during the racing, and lost a considerable distance because of it.

The "scrub" or "farmers' race" was an interesting event, if the time was not fast. There were two competitors—Nancy, owned by Michael Doane, and Lottie, owned by Vanderhoorn. Nancy took the money, winning the first, fourth and fifth heats, the latter in a pouring rain, in 3:22, 3:37 and 3:35, respectively. Lottie's time in the second and third heats was 3:27 and 3:40. The third heat was very close, Lottie winning only by a head. Both horses broke considerably and for that reason the race was very amusing.

Two horses competed in the running race—animals owned by Messrs. Dorais and Clulo. Two heats of half a mile each were run, and Dorais' horse took both, in 1:10 and 1:00. Clulo's entry was a broncho, ridden by a large boy who appeared too heavy for the little animal. About twenty-five feet separated ed the two horses as they came under the wire. The last heat was ridden during a heavy rain.

Boys' Sports Amusing.
With Joe Smith as master of ceremonies, the sports in which the small boys participated were highly amusing, though the rain marred their success to a considerable extent. The most interest centered in the chase of the greased pig, which was freed from its pen and let loose in a crowd of a couple of hundred boys. After an exciting run of several minutes two boys named Nason and Tansey fell on the frightened animal and held him fast, and the prize was theirs.

About fifty boys, huddled, competed in a 100-yard dash in which a number of the contestants fell over each other. Master Paradise was the victor. The sack race was won by young Murphy, with Vanderwarker second. Davis and Rustenhoven were victors in the three-legged race, and in a half-mile bicycle race young Lindholm outclassed his opponents.

The pie-eating contest was won by young Murphy, with McCarthy second and Rossiter the winner of third money. The contestants in this event, with hands tied behind backs, each tackled half of a blueberry pie, the juice from which well smeared their faces. The contest was very amusing, as was also the doughnut-eating contest, in which the doughnuts, dipped in molasses, were suspended by strings. A boy named Baudin got his doughnut out of sight first and took the money.

Half-Mile Run a Farce.
There were four contestants in the half-mile run, open to young men, these being Will Long of Negaunee, and Burns, Broad and Mitchell. The race proved something of a farce. Long took the lead at the start and maintained it throughout, never being pressed. He crossed the finish line in an easy jog, about a hundred feet ahead of Burns, with the two other contestants lost in the distance.

There were calls for a "fat man's race," and after some urging Anton Manthei, the well known dealer in meats, and Tom Sparrow were induced to participate in a 100-yard dash. Mr. Manthei was victorious, defeating his opponent by about ten feet. The time was announced as 3:27, but in reality it was twelve seconds.

Ball Game Interesting.
The South Ends and a scrub aggregation of ball players under the name of the North Ends were the opposing nines on the diamond. The South Ends were defeated by the score of 9 to 7 in an interesting contest. The batteries were, for the North Ends, Connors and Trudeau, and for the South Ends, Hogan and Dorais.

During the afternoon there was a display of day fireworks, dancing was in progress at the administration building and luncheon and ice cream and other refreshments were served at various stands.
Just about the time the rain started to come down, the street car service was knocked out and for over an hour no cars were run, greatly to the inconvenience of the crowd. The large grand stand, however, proved ample shelter and there were few persons who got wet.

GRIST OF MISHAPS

SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED YESTERDAY BY FIREWORKS.

JOHN R. GORDON A VICTIM

SKY ROCKET PAINFULLY WOUNDS ONE OF HIS HANDS.

E. L. Kellan and Ted Charlton Are Hurt While Shooting Off Toy Cannon and Giant Firecracker Tears a Boy's Hand.

The Fourth of July celebration here was fortunately not attended by fatalities, but as is the usual thing a number of persons were injured. None of these, however, were hurt seriously, but all will feel the effects of their experience for some time to come. The names of the patriotic victims follow:

HON. JOHN R. GORDON.
EDWARD L. KELLAN.
TED CHARLTON.
A BOY NAMED JOHNSON.
Mr. Gordon's injury was caused by a sky rocket while the legislator was entertaining his children with a display of fireworks at his residence on Pine street last evening. The rocket turned in the wrong direction as it went off and struck Mr. Gordon in the hand. He will carry the member in bandages for several days as a result. A peculiar coincidence is that at the last session of the assembly, Mr. Gordon formulated a bill prohibiting the use of certain varieties of fireworks, including sky rockets of the kind he was shooting last evening. At the request of several fellow members, however, the bill was withdrawn and was never acted upon by the house. Mr. Gordon will now, however, should he be returned to the state capital, introduce a measure designed to regulate if not prohibit the use of fireworks, as was his intention.

A toy cannon was responsible for painful injuries sustained by Mr. Kellan in the face and one hand. The miniature gun in some manner exploded prematurely last evening, and the powder caused the hurts.
Ted Charlton also was the victim of a toy cannon. He had lit the fuse and was watching for the gun to explode when loose powder on the ground was ignited by a spark from the fuse and was blown into his face and one eye. The physician who was called worked for some time in picking out the powder and it is expected that Ted will not long carry the marks of the accident.

The Johnson boy, who resides in the north end of the city, had a hole torn in the hand by a giant fire cracker. His wound was dressed at St. Mary's hospital.

In addition to these accidents, there were a number of lesser ones, principally burns, caused by firecrackers shot off by small boys.

FIERCE ELECTRICAL STORM.

Lightning Strikes Residences of Judge Stone and R. J. Ellison.

The electrical storm which passed over the city yesterday afternoon was one of the worst experienced in several years, and it left substantial evidence of its visitation.

Down in South Marquette, lightning struck the residence of R. J. Ellison, 145 Champion street. The rear portion of the roof was damaged, and Miss Agnes Ellison, the only occupant of the house, was quite severely shocked by the bolt, as were likewise a couple of persons who were passing by on the sidewalk.

A bolt also hit the residence of Judge J. W. Stone, 324 Spruce street. It took the top off of one of the chimneys and tore a hole through the roof. The same bolt knocked off a portion of a chimney at E. O. Stafford's residence, but in neither house were any persons injured.

A third bolt shattered a tree down near the Normal school, and another burned out the electric light converter at the Hotel Marquette so that for some time the hostelry went without electrical illumination.

A number of telephones also were burned out, and for about an hour the street railway was forced to suspend operations. During the storm the rainfall was heavy and there were many members of picnic parties at the "island" and other nearby points who were drenched before they could find shelter.

MAAS MINE SPUR.

Condemnation Proceedings Brought by the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Road.

Condemnation proceedings instituted by the Lake Superior & Ishpeming road, and in which Louis Corbit, Medard Gauthier, Charles Martel and Frederick and George J. Haupt of Negaunee are the defendants, are scheduled for a hearing today in the probate court before Judge Kelsey. The matter involves a portion of the right-of-way for a spur into the Maas mine site. The railroad company has petitioned that the matter of condemnation and damages be left to a commission, but whether the proceedings will be conducted before commissioners or before a jury, remains for the defendants to determine. The branch line for a considerable distance, from Eagle Mills almost to Negaunee, parallels the South Shore road and good progress has already been made with the grading.
