STRIKE IN CHICAGO

FREIGHT HANDLERS ON RAILROADS WALK OUT.

TWENTY-SIX LINES ARE AFFECTED

MEN DEMAND INCREASED WAGES AND RECOGNITION OF UNION.

Conference to Be Arranged Soon and Early Settlement of Trouble Is Expected—Tie-Up Is Complete.

Chicago, July 7.—Between eight and nine thousand freight handlers struck this morning. All the twenty-six railroads entering Chicago are affected. Business men fear the strike will be the most serious which has affected their interests in years. The demands of the freight handlers are for an increase in wages, extra pay for overtime and holidays and recognition of the union. At noon President Curran of the union reported his men all out and that it was still impossible for any freight to enter or leave Chicago. Many of the railroads had small forces of men previously hired on hand when the strike was called and by adding to them from other departments managed to handle the perishable commodities.

Hopes for Speedy Settlement. Hopes of a speedy settlement of the strike are entertained tonight by officials of the union and members of the state board of arbitration. The union officials are willing that committees of the men discuss the situation with their own roads provided the officials are permitted to act as advisers to the men. As the railroads favored this plan from the beginning the state board of arbitration hope speedily to arrange a conference. It is said a large number of men quit work under protest. The suspension of work already is of considerable inconvenience. Should the teamsters carry out their threat to join in a sympathetic strike it will affect freight of all kinds. Much unneeded freight is already in the yards, some of it of the perishable class. Many men brought in by the railroads have been induced to join the union and refuse to work.

It is reported tonight that the Illinois Central was bringing four hundred men from the south to take the places of the strikers. Other roads were said to be taking similar measures, bringing in men from the country districts, or other cities on their systems.

Bloomington, Ill., July 7.—The railroads are rushing section men into Chicago to take the places of the striking freight handlers. The Chicago & Alton sent fifty, mostly colored, from this city on a special train tonight. More are being sent for.

Plattsburg, N. Y., July 7.—A fire starting in Citing's storehouse on Burke street in this city today was fanned by a high wind and spread to the adjoining buildings and would have swept away one-third of the business portion of the town had it not been for the timely arrival of several hundred soldiers from Plattsburg Barracks, who worked hard as volunteer firemen. The loss is $125,000 and insurance $75,000.

SOLDIERS AS FIREMEN.

City of Plattsburg Would Have Been Destroyed but for Boys in Blue.

Plattsburg, N. Y., July 7.—A fire starting in Citing's storehouse on Burke street in this city today was fanned by a high wind and spread to the adjoining buildings and would have swept away one-third of the business portion of the town had it not been for the timely arrival of several hundred soldiers from Plattsburg Barracks, who worked hard as volunteer firemen. The loss is $125,000 and insurance $75,000.

CHAMBERLAIN BADLY INJURED

ENGLAND'S COLONIAL SECRETARY CUT BY BROKEN GLASS IN CAB AND WILL BE LAID UP FOR SEVERAL DAYS TO COME.

London, July 7.—An injury was sustained by Lord Chamberlain today when his head was cut by his falling against a broken glass in his cab. The injury was such as to require a number of stitches. The wound is severe though not dangerous. Chamberlain is resting quietly tonight but the doctors are not sure he can be moved tomorrow.

Chamberlain's injuries, although not dangerous, are likely to detain him in the house the remainder of the week. He has already cancelled his engagements until next Thursday and it is extremely doubtful if he will be permitted to attend the coronation banquet in Guild Hall Friday, or the reception to Lord Kitchener Saturday on his return from South Africa.

The secretary has a crescent shaped cut across his forehead three inches long and penetrating to the bone. Pieces of broken glass were found imbedded in the wound. There is no concussion, but the bone is bruised. Chamberlain also sustained a slight cut under the right eye.

MOTHER AND SON ARRESTED. Sioux City, Ia., July 7.—Mrs. William Pike and son of Ponda, Ia., were arrested tonight charged with attempting to murder William Pike, the woman's husband who was shot while in bed today. Pike may recover.

FATAL ACCIDENT NEAR SOO.

Passenger Train Kills Three Woodsmen at Gilchrist.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 7.—Three woodsmen were killed near Gilchrist by a Soo Line passenger train. The dead are: James Heath, Charles Cartwright and William Cushman.

DISCREDIT'S STORY OF ANDREE.

Survivor of Greely Expedition Does Not Think Explorer Was Killed.

Indianapolis, July 7.—Sergeant Julius Frederick of the local weather bureau, who was a survivor of the Greely expedition to the North Pole, does not place much faith in the story that Andree was killed by natives 300 miles north of the Hudson Bay post. He thinks the balloon must have landed farther to the north and in a place where there would be no danger from hostile Eskimos.

FIND TRACE OF TRACEY.

Boat in Which Desperado Escaped Discovered in Bushes.

Seattle, Wash., July 7.—At the extreme head of Millers Bay the boat which carried Harry Tracey and Anderson from Port Madison Saturday night has been found. In it was a pair of cans. Everything else was carried away. The boat was in the bushes. Tracey evidently believing it would not be found for several days. Immediately after finding the boat the party discovered the tracks of two men leading into the forest. The members of the posse believe they are hot on the track of Tracey and his unwilling partner. Shortly after noon the sheriff's posse entered the forest.

VENEZUELAN TROOPS ROUTED BY REVOLUTIONISTS.

BATTLE OCCURRED JULY THREE

VICTORS MOVED ON TO LAY SIEGE TO BARCELONA.

General Modesto Castro, Brother of the President, Leader of Defeated Army—Many of His Troops Desert.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, July 7.—Three thousand government troops under General Modesto Castro, the president's brother, were completely routed July 3 between Barcelona and Aragua by the revolutionary army under the command of General Rolando. The government forces lost all their ammunition, equipment and many soldiers deserted to the revolutionists during the engagement. After the battle the revolutionists moved on the Barcelona and surrounded that city. The inhabitants are panic-stricken. The shops are closed and the streets barricaded.

FOOL ROCKED THE BOAT.

Would Not Listen to Protests and Drowns With Companions.

Peoria, Ill., July 7.—While on the river in a row boat with three companions this afternoon, Frank Case rocked the boat despite the protests of Frank Cannon, who could not swim. He continued rocking the vessel until it capsized. Cannon locked his arms around Case's neck and they went to the bottom. When found three hours later Cannon's arms were still locked about Case's neck. The other two boys, William Aur and Joseph Blundell, swam ashore.

SHERIFF BAXTER INDIGNANT.

Shrieve of Saline County Says He Did His Duty in Race Trouble.

Springfield, Ill., July 7.—Governor Yates received a letter today from Sheriff Baxter, of Saline county, insisting that he did his duty in the alleged race troubles at the colored school at Eldorado and was doing all he could to protect the colored people. The governor responded that the statements of the sheriff and the officer he sent to Eldorado to investigate do not agree. The governor says the sheriff having failed to bring back those frightened away and assure them of protection he will take up the matter himself.

REPORTS OF VIOLENCE CONFIRMED.

The governor yesterday received a letter from President Astion of the industrial institute at Eldorado confirming the reports of violence against the colored people of Eldorado. He writes from Metropolis, Ill., and states that there have been acts of violence against the colored people in Eldorado the past four or five months. He says that, owing to the mob's violence, the contented sale of property May 29 was prevented and that he and his wife were now in Metropolis, where the colored population is strong because they felt their lives were in danger as long as they remained in Eldorado. He also states it is the intention of the trustees to establish the school elsewhere.

Governor Yates suggests that Astion reopen the school at a proper time as if no disturbance had occurred, saying: "I will furnish you by telegraph all such force as may be necessary to protect you and all inmates of the school from disturbances of any kind whatever."

WIFE MURDERER SUICIDES.

Theodore Oelfeuer Hangs Himself in Chicago Prison Cell.

Chicago, July 7.—Theodore Oelfeuer, who yesterday murdered his wife and wounded his baby and stepdaughter, committed suicide in a cell at the police station last night by hanging himself with a rope made from his undergarments.

SIX DEATHS FROM HEAT.

Pittsburg in Grasp of Hot Wave and Much Suffering Is Experienced.

Pittsburg, July 7.—Six deaths and a score of prostrations is the heat record for the past twenty-four hours. At ten o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 85 with the mercury still rising. Last night was the hottest of the season. There was much suffering among the mill workers.

EX-CONVICT'S MAD DEED.

Kills Wife, Shoots Friend and Then Attempts Suicide.

New York, July 7.—Karl Von Boeckmann shot and killed his wife, fatally wounded O. F. Farewell, a friend of the family and sent a bullet through his own head today. The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Von Boeckmann. A sister of the dead woman says Von Boeckmann has served eighteen months for burglary in a Massachusetts prison. On his release he went to live with his wife but began drinking and it is said abused her until she had him arrested and sent to prison. Today he got into the flat during his wife's absence and when Farewell entered shot him twice after a fierce fight. Then he shot and killed his wife and later shot himself. Both of the men will die.

MICHIGAN COAL OPERATORS PRESENT ONE TO EMPLOYEES.

IF NOT COMPANIES WILL WITHDRAW CONCESSIONS.

Miners Were to Decide on Question at Once but Instead Are Waiting Until Indianapolis Convention.

Bay City, Mich., July 7.—The operators of Michigan this afternoon presented an ultimatum to the miners notifying them that the propositions submitted at a recent meeting in Saginaw must be accepted by July 12 or they would be withdrawn. At that meeting the operators' and miners' committees agreed upon a scale. The operators say they supposed this scale was to be voted on at once but instead the miners deferred action until July 20, after the national convention. This the operators claim, is bad faith and they want action taken before that date.

PERJURER GETS TWO YEARS.

Julius Lehmann, Implicated in St. Louis Scandal, Sentenced.

St. Louis, July 7.—Julius Lehmann, a former member of the house of delegates, recently convicted of perjury in connection with the franchise bribery cases, was today sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary. Lehmann's attorney gave notice of an appeal to the supreme court, giving bond at $10,000.

D., who is a member of Taft's party, that the committee expects to be able to reply to Taft by next Thursday night.

BEVERIDGE IS NO CANDIDATE.

Indiana Senator Has No Vice Presidential Aspirations.

Indianapolis, July 7.—Senator Beveridge was today asked about a Washington dispatch saying the general opinion there seemed to be that Roosevelt would be nominated by acclamation with a western man for vice president—Beveridge, Speaker of Wisconsin, or Doolittle of Iowa, preferred. Beveridge declared emphatically he has no idea of becoming a candidate.

Two of Farmer's Children Killed by Train and Companion Is Dying.

Carbondale, Ill., July 7.—Two sons of Stanley Beggs, a prominent farmer of Johnson county, aged ten and fourteen years, and a cousin were found today near the tracks of the Illinois Central. ## CROWNED IN AUGUST

DATE OF CORONATION OF KING EDWARD FIXED.

BETWEEN 11TH AND 15TH OF MONTH

HIS MAJESTY CONTINUES TO IMPROVE RAPIDLY.

Everything Points to Ultimate Recovery and on This Account Delayed Ceremony Is Again Being Broached.

London, July 7.—King Edward may be crowned between August 11 and 15. His recovery is so rapid and satisfactory that the decision was arrived at today. No official announcement of the fact has been made. The pageants through the streets and the ceremony at Westminster Abbey will be much curtailed from the original plan.

King Edward passed a favorable day and a verbal report given out tonight was that his majesty is still doing well. The use by the Prince of Wales of the word "recovery" when he referred to the king's progress at the inauguration of the Raphael nurses' home of Guy's hospital this afternoon is regarded as indicating that the royal family considers the king's case most hopefully.

The following bulletin was issued this morning: "The king had nine hours natural sleep. His progress continues to be uninterrupted. The wound is discharging freely and is less painful to dress."

AGRICULTURE IN ALASKA.

Sec. Wilson Says Value of Farm Products Will Soon Exceed Mines.

Columbus, O., July 7.—The formal inaugural exercises of the graduate school of agriculture was held at the chapel of the Ohio State university tonight. President Thompson of the university presided. The principle address was made by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson who gave a comprehensive view of the work being done by the government to promote agriculture. Speaking of agricultural possibilities in Alaska he predicted the day was not far distant when the value of its agricultural products will exceed that of its mines. Seventy students, representing fourteen states, were matriculated.

Santiago de Cuba, July 7.—The American and British residents are indignant at the alleged brutal treatment at the hospital here of a Scotchman named William Houston, who died, as asserted, of alcoholism Sunday morning. Houston drank to excess during the recent celebrations and last Saturday became delirious. A friend took him to the hospital and left him there. That night Houston became violent. He was put in a straight jacket thrown into a cell and left without attendance and the next morning he was dead.

This is the second case of this nature within a month. The other was that of an American named Cooper who was taken to the hospital suffering from delirium tremens. He was refused admission and taken to jail where he died in a few hours. Mason, the British consul, is investigating both cases.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST MEYER

REV. FR. CUSHING, A CATHOLIC PRIEST, CLAIMS MINISTER TO ITALY WAS NEGLIGENT OF HIS DUTIES LAST YEAR.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 7.—The first official caller on President Roosevelt since his arrival here was Rev. John May Cushing, a Catholic priest of Denver, Colo., who was sent here today to file a complaint against Ambassador Meyer at Rome. Rev. Mr. Cushing claims that he and twenty-eight priests were driven out of the Denver diocese by Bishop Matz for no other reason than their failure to vote for him for the bishopric. He said he was the fourth to go. Protests were sent to Rome and later the twenty-nine priests as well as Bishop Matz went to state their case before the Vatican. The fight has continued since 1888.

In 1901 Bishop Matz is alleged to have had Cushing arrested in Rome for forcing himself into his presence, and it is said Cushing was put in jail by the Italian authorities who openly admitted that it was in retaliation for the lynching of an Italian in New Orleans. He claimed he was treated to great indignities and Ambassador Meyer and Consul De Castro were negligent in protecting him as an American citizen. Cushing claims further that three New York men furnished Bishop Matz with $30,000 with which to fight the priests in their claim to restoration to ecclesiastical functions. When Cushing called the president was not at home, but he left certain papers and will return here Thursday.

DAILY MINING JOURNAL.

A MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY THE MINING JOURNAL CO. (LIMITED.) Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

At last the upper peninsula is enjoying a spell of hot weather, and many people, who a few days ago were praying for warm breezes straight from the torrid south, are up in arms at the discomfort caused by the heat.

The coal strike is progressing so peaceably that people hardly realize that 200,000 miners and the operators are grappling in deadly strife.

The latest La Follette estimate on the returns from the counties which have already held conventions credit the governor with 5304 delegates as against 2294 controlled by the Stalwarts.

The "anti-imperialists" must now feel pretty well out of a job. The Philippines are, by the latest orders of the president, so thoroughly knit to the remainder of the body politic of the United States that all question of getting rid of them has resolved itself into question of how to govern them under the flag.

That Lord Salisbury contemplates an early resignation of his office as premier of England occasions no surprise. He has now reached an age when official life has lost its glamor and attraction and offers only arduous toil and heavy care.

With King Edward contemplating a yachting trip at an early date, his illness may be considered a closed incident. It is now believed likely that the postponed coronation will be held some time in August, presumably in the latter part of the month.

The Grand Rapids Herald pays its respects to the "bolter" in the following manner: And now the bolter. In about a week after a nominating convention has done its work the bolter bolts up serenely.

Generally the bolter carries only one vote with him—that is his own. The man who knows more than a convention of over a thousand delegates made up of reputable citizens from all parts of the state is of course too big for any party. His only recourse is to block by himself. The great world, however, moves on without a quail, leaving the bolter flogging. He doesn't flog long, however, as bolting is but another name for political suicide.

If the Iron county newspapers and reports from observers are to be believed, Iron county is now having one of the liveliest times in its political history.

It cannot be considered for a moment that the boxer delegation elected to the congressional convention from Chippewa county has a leg to stand on in a contest.

It is a fact that Mr. Young is one of the attorneys for the Oliver Iron Mining company, but that doesn't reflect upon his ability as a gentleman of brains or man of reliability.

The postmasters are not going to steal the counties, no matter if they are contesting wherever they are honestly whipped. This district will not stand for such dirty work on the part of the officeholders.

It is true that postmasters from outside counties made themselves conspicuous in Schoolcraft county by their attendance and work for Mr. Sheldon, it is high time that the civil service commissioners were informed of the fact so that those persons who have been committing such a breach of trust should be laid down by the president and that body—Calumet Evening News.

Tomorrow will be the all-important day in the congressional campaign with which the Republicans of the district have been so greatly concerned during the past several weeks.

It is possible that the district convention, called to assemble here on the 10th, will be marked by an interesting struggle. This will assuredly be the case if Mr. Wright remains in the field and from all accounts he is in to stay.

The Literary society's reception, which was to have been held yesterday afternoon, but was postponed on account of the death of John Randall, will take place next Monday afternoon at the home of Thomas Walters.

The Manistique Pioneer-Tribune claims that many persons were imported into Schoolcraft county, among them postmasters from places outside of the county, in the interest of Congressman Sheldon and that it was by their efforts that the contesting delegations were procured in the interest of the present member.

THE MICHIGAN MINE.

Bright Future Predicted for This Property by Well Known Man. "Inside of five years I believe that the Michigan will be one of the best properties in the copper country," remarked a man who has a pretty thorough knowledge of that property.

"The Michigan has just begun to tap some of the copper left in the old mine and in my opinion future operations will show that it will prove even better than the brightest anticipations of the most sanguine friends of the property."

"Then again the value of the Calico lode should not be lost sight of. The openings upon this lode show that it is fully as rich or richer in copper than any other lode in the district which is being worked, and all that is necessary to make a mine out of this resource alone is more extended openings."

MARQUETTE ON THE ROUTE.

2,000-Mile Tour in Connection with the Educational Convention.

In connection with the National Educational association convention at Minneapolis, which opened yesterday to continue during the week and for which all the railroads have made a special fare for the round trip, the railroads have arranged a number of special tours.

The first day's route will be along the upper Mississippi river and through the lake region of Minnesota to Cass Lake. Sunday will be spent in camp among the lakes and pines of the proposed national park in the Leech Lake Indian reservation.

From Port Arthur the party will pass around Lake Superior by rail, or by steamer, to Sudbury where a visit will be made to its nickel mines. A day will be spent at the locks and power canals of Sault Ste. Marie; thence by rail to Marquette and its iron mines; afterward a visit to the Michigan College of Mines at Houghton and to the Calumet & Hecla copper mines with the smelting works at Lake Linden.

The party will then go to Duluth by rail and give two days to a study of its harbor and industries; the drowned valley of the St. Louis river; the ancient lava flows and lake erosion. The return to Minneapolis will be through the valley of the Nemadji river, past its sandstone quarries and through the sand dunes of Anoka county.

The trip is estimated to cover 2,000 miles of a most interesting geological and geographical section; will occupy about twenty days of time and cost for all expenses of transportation and subsistence not to exceed $85. The rate for the Yellowstone park trip is also $85, covering everything.

Marine Matters. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 7.—(Special.)—But Richards, Hutchinson, 10-40; Corwalk, 2-40; Carnegie, 4; Conell, 4-30; Wolvin, 7-20; China, 8-20; McWilliams, 8-40; Eads, 10-20; Fleetwood, Moravia, Chas. Edwards, city superintendent of schools in Marinette, Wis., writes: "I have purchased the Burton Holmes Lectures in book form because I consider them unsurpassed in their line. Nothing broadens, develops, or educates like travel, and the Burton Holmes' descriptions and pictures are so realistic that they are almost a tour of the world in themselves.

PLANTS AS WISEACRES.

Laws That They Make to Protect Themselves From Drought.

A single leaf of an apple tree has 100,000 pores and through every one of these pores the constantly passing air flows into the surrounding atmosphere.

Air has an enormous appetite for water, and the drier it is the more it takes up.

Considering the way in which the atmosphere is constantly forcing the apple tree and every other plant to give up its moisture, the marvel is that, after a very few days of hot sunshine, every plant does not wither and dry up. Yet even those growing in light soil and exposed situations manage to withstand weeks of drought without losing their greenness.

More marvelous still, according to the theory of the plant world, green out on the wastes of the desert in North Africa and in Arizona.

Plants, like all other living things, have learned to adapt themselves to their situations, and to take precautions accordingly. Water to plants is more valuable than gold is to human beings, and where the supply is scanty they have learned to hoard it as carefully as a miser does his treasure. Plants cannot refuse and give up water altogether, for otherwise they could not grow. All their food is taken up by their roots, dissolved in water. This sap rises through their veins and sends them. Then make use of the mineral matter, and then let the water which contained it escape through their lungs—that is, their leaves.

But their methods of holding on to sufficient water to keep them green and flourishing are many and ingenious. Go out and pick a leaf from any plant at all shrub—a hawthorn leaf, for instance. You will notice that its upper side is much smoother than the under.

The under side looks dull in comparison. This is because the upper side is exposed to the direct rays of the sun. The glaze prevents the hot rays sucking all the water out of the surface of the leaf.

Some plants, indeed, refuse entirely to part with water through the upper side of the leaf. Laurustinus and lilac leaves have no pores at all on the shiny upper surface of the leaves.

Pine trees inhabit sandy soils. These refuse to grow wide leaves, but confine themselves to producing thick, fleshy needles, which have very few openings through which water can escape. Cabbages need an enormous quantity of water, but unless the supply was absolutely unlimited their big leaves would grow up so much to the air that, without some means of checking this over-liberality, they would wilt and die.

Cut a fresh cabbage leaf and examine it. It has a sort of dusty, mealy look. Put the leaf under a microscope, and you will see that this "dust" is composed of tiny needles of wax. The cabbage has produced the wax to protect itself from the water-stealing rays of the sun.

Australia is the drier of all the continents; yet it has plenty of trees. They never grow any more leaves than they absolutely need, and they take the additional precaution of turning these leaves edge-ways, so that those water thieves, the sun-rays, cannot fall direct upon the broad surfaces.

Australian acacias go a step further still. When they are fully grown they shed their leaves altogether; they keep the leaf stalks and produce two tiny wings, which present their edges to the sun.

In spite of all these various precautions, the amount of water which growing plants part with to the air is almost beyond belief. A square foot of long pasture grass gives off near four and two-fifths pints of water every twenty-four hours in dry weather. That is to say, there rises into the air 100 tons of water from each acre of meadow with one summer day's night.

One single cabbage has been measured to give off two and one-half pints of water within a similar period. As for the amount big trees give off, it is enormous. A 60-foot elm will have about 7,000,000 leaves. If spread out, these would cover 2000 feet, or five acres. From these leaves there pass out into the air within a summer day over seven tons of water in the form of vapor.—Answers.

Specimen of Slow Railways. Train in Florida That Went 31 Miles in One Day—Its Record.

"Speaking about rapid transit I remember a few years ago traveling on a go-as-you-please train in Florida, and, although it took the greater part of a day to travel thirty miles, I enjoyed the trip."

The speaker was Jack Fanning, the crack trap hunter at the Fifth Avenue hotel, the other day.

"It was in 1894. I went down to Florida on a hunting trip, intending to join a party at Leesburg. A steambot carried us up the St. Johns river to Astor, all right."

The next week line called the St. John's & Lake Eustis Railway runs between Astor and Leesburg, a distance of thirty miles, and the return trip takes from 5 o'clock in the morning until midnight. The conductors on trains down south are all called captain, and the particular 'genus homo' on this train was Captain Tucker, and he was all right."

"We hadn't been out of the Astor station three minutes before Captain Tucker was taking the measure of my guns and dogs and wanted to know why I didn't stop off at Seller's lake."

"If you'd want like to get a shot at a deer," said he, "I'll hold her up (meaning the train) out at the bay head."

"Much game out here?" I inquired.

"Some deer out with the cattle, and plenty of quail and robins."

"Finally the train pulled up at a little station called Ravenswood, a decayed village with two or three inhabited houses, and Captain Tucker pointed in the direction of the bay head and said he would 'hold her up for yer' and away I went in search of game."

"I was gone about an hour, had bagged seven or eight brace of quail, and returning to the train, found train men and passengers (there were two besides myself) fast asleep under a shed, the engineer playing a game of solitaire in the baggage car. Captain Tucker was absent and the engineer promising to whistle for me before the train started."

Wretched Hot Weather Sufferers.

Paine's Celery Compound

SHOULD BE USED IN JULY AND AUGUST.

The extraordinary variable spring and early summer weather of the present year has been the cause of a vast amount of sickness in every part of the country. Strong men and women have been victims; the weak, run-down and sickly have suffered intensely, and many families now mourn the loss of near and dear ones.

The nervous, weak, run-down and debilitated should now devote their best energies and attention to health-building, so as to enable them to withstand the enervating effects of the approaching hot weather.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound will soon bring a return of true physical strength; the nerves will be fed and braced; the blood will be made purer and richer; digestion will be corrected and sweet, refreshing sleep will take the place of insomnia and irritability.

Paine's Celery Compound is doing a marvelous work for the sick and suffering at this time. It is the only preparation that possesses value and virtue for recruiting the strength and spent energies of weakly and sick people in summer time. The trial of one bottle will give you happy results.

started, I wandered off in the direction of a neat looking house to get a glass of milk and something to eat.

"Here I found my conductor engaged in conversation with the lady of the house, who was apparently a widow, and on seeing me the 'genus homo' exclaimed: 'I'll be starting her up in about twenty minutes.'

"What's keeping us?" I inquired.

"A dratted turkey has just gone on her nest, and she's (pointing his thumb at the widow) wants to send a dozen eggs to town, and she's just one shy."

"We reached Leesburg that night."—New York Times.

 A BUSY SHOP.
 THE LAST COMPANY STORE.

With the Passing of Two on the Menominee Range This Institution Dies Out.

The upper peninsula is now without a "company" store. The last two merchandise establishments owned and managed by mining corporations were closed on the first of this month. Both were owned by the Penn Iron Mining company, one being located at Norway and the other at Vulcan. The following from a recent issue of a Menominee range paper dealing with company stores generally, will be found interesting reading:

"On and after July 1 the two general stores (one at Vulcan and one at Norway now Penn Co.'s stores), will be operated and managed by a new company; the 'Penn Store' no more. The store at Norway will be conducted absolutely independently of the Penn Iron Mining Co., which has owned them for so many years. We do not know the entire roster of the incorporators, but have been assured that the business of the two stores will be conducted hereafter on an entirely new system. This move marks the disappearance of the last of the so-called 'company' stores in this peninsula, the existence of which has been a source of much adverse comment by other merchants. It is perhaps a good thing for these merchants that the stores have now been closed as such a condition would be the signal for the opening of at least a half dozen other business houses in an attempt to secure and hold the trade which the local merchant is sure would be his were the stores closed; and these new stores would not in all cases be as honorable and fair competitors as has been the Penn Iron Mining company. Many an employe has during the past twenty-five years been carried through sickness and trouble when other merchants could not and would not have helped him. The writer was here to see the installation of the first 'company' store in 1880 by the Menominee Mining company and had charge of the accounts. 'Twixt the men and the company and is free to say that at that time when many began to build homes for themselves and families, without a dollar in hand, the company store was indeed a boon; furnishing them with food, raiment and building materials (the latter at cost price) and carrying many of them for years with better results to the employe than any 'building and loan' association has ever shown. We are aware that many who read this will join issue with us on the arguments advanced but we have data and facts to bear us out in the assertion that the company store system has been a boon to many."

It is many years since a mercantile business has been conducted by a mining corporation on this range. The Iron Cliffs company store at Negaunee, the last of the kind, was closed out some eight or nine years ago. The Cliffs people did not compete their men to do all their trading at their store, but workmen were paid in cash, less the amount held out for merchandise, and they could trade wherever they pleased. The company stores of this range met all legitimate competition and not a few regretted that the Iron Cliffs company closed out the Negaunee store, as patrons had always been treated fairly there.

THE SHAM BATTLE.
 Ishpeming Grand Army men and the local military companies are manifesting much interest in the sham battle to take place Thursday afternoon, the last day of the reunion of the upper peninsula veterans. Last week it was feared that it might be necessary to "cut out" the late on account of a lack of funds to purchase all the ammunition necessary to conduct it on a large scale, but a good sum has been added to the fund within the past few days, and the battle will be given as originally planned.

The business sessions and the concerts each evening will take place at the Anderson hall, it being impossible for the veterans to get the opera house on account of its having been previously engaged by the Kennedy Players, who hold the boards there all week.

BRIGHT CHILD PASSES AWAY.
 Joseph Malloney and wife of West Barnum street mourn the loss of their daughter Norine, who died yesterday morning at 5:30 o'clock. Pneumonia was the direct cause of death. The child had been ill about five weeks. Her age was thirteen years. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. John's church. The sisters of the parochial school request all the boys and girls of the school to meet at the school rooms at 8 o'clock to turn out later and to assist at the funeral mass. Norine was a member of this year's communion and confirmation class.

JOHN RANDALL'S FUNERAL.
 The funeral of the late John Randall will take place this morning at 10:30 from the house, on North Pine street. The services will be conducted by Rev. C. D. Atwell of Grace church and Rev. M. M. Allen of the Presbyterian church. The men who took part in the search for the body did good work. On Saturday and Sunday a number of Sibley men came to the lake voluntarily and assisted. Dr. G. J. Sweetland directed the work and the men who labored during the two days say that he and the others from here worked like beavers nearly all the time. The remains were accompanied to the city on the special train Sunday evening by Drs. Sweetland and Leonard. Mr. Randall was in a critical condition Sunday evening and it was thought advisable to leave him at the camp until the morning train. He was accompanied home by Messrs. Schoch, Crabb, Paul and Leigh Swift.

"FAUST" TONIGHT.
 The Kennedy Players made a favorable impression last evening at the opera house. The company gave a satisfactory production of "Faust." John and Miss Nellie Kennedy did excellent work and some of the other members of the company also appeared to good advantage. High class specialties were introduced between the acts.

Tonight "Faust" will be produced. Mr. Kennedy assumes the role of Mephisto and Miss Kennedy takes the part of Marguerite. The company has complete electrical effects and a first class performance of this famous play is assured.

"I was just twenty years old when my health began to fail," said Miss Bertha Wilson, of St. Ignace, Mich. "I consulted three specialists on the diseases of women, but as their medicine did me no good, I gave them up. I suffered tortures with intense headaches, my back ached so that I could not walk across the room without agonizing pain, I was nervous, sleep did not rest me, my kidneys became affected, the functions of my sex ceased and my color gave place to a death-like pallor."

DOUBLE TRACK

FROM CHICAGO TO THE MISSOURI RIVER.

The Latest Transcontinental Railway News.

THE CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN
 The First Road to Double Track Its Line the Entire Distance
 FROM CHICAGO TO OMAHA.

A Distinctly Forward Step, Made Necessary by the Increased Travel Resulting from the Phenomenal Growth of the Pacific States and Our New Trade in the Far East.

A double track, block system line of transcontinental railway now reaches out to the westward as far as Omaha. This will be in the way of a distinct revelation to the man who made the trip across the plains twenty-five years ago in a prairie schooner, or on the emigrant train of the seventies.

The rapid development of our great agricultural states has been lost sight of to a certain degree in the discussion that has arisen lately concerning the commercial invasion of China and the far East, our occupation of the Philippines, and the whole general movement by which we have suddenly become a world power. But while we have patriotically discussed these questions, commerce has moved ahead positively and relentlessly in the direction of the Pacific Coast, raising up new towns, building up old ones, making factories and farms where wild prairie had been.

The result is shown, in part, in the necessity on the part of the Chicago & Northwestern for this double-track line, where great trains of live stock and grain move in long lines eastward, to feed not only the eastern states, but to afford an outlet for the products of what is now, more than ever before, the granary of the world.

To the westward there is also a continuous stream of travel. The Northwestern Line operates three daily passenger trains from Chicago to the Pacific Coast. One of these, known as the Overland Limited, is probably the most luxurious and beautiful train in the world. Through Pullman service to Omaha, Denver, Portland and San Francisco leaves Chicago daily heavily loaded with traffic to these points. As to freight movements, the double track system across the plains is busy carrying manufactured goods for Asiatic Russia, cotton cloths for the Chinese, various articles required by the pioneers who have crossed the Pacific to Manila and gone north to the gold mines of Alaska; as well as the tremendous traffic for the Dakotas, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and the Pacific Northwest, comprising the product of every known branch of the country's commercial activity.

It was in 1848 that the Chicago & Galena Union, having been completed from Chicago to the Des Plaines River, a distance of ten miles, the first train over the line opened the traffic to Chicago by stopping on its way East to take on a farmer's load of wheat, the first grain shipment by rail to Chicago from the West. It may be imagined that this wheat was hardly destined for export, and that the travelers on this junket of early days little thought to what proportions this nucleus of a great railway system would grow.

By the road grew and in 1870 the line to Council Bluffs was complete, and the Pawnee on the Platte and the Sioux on the Missouri began to feel the crowding of the white man's outposts. In 1880 Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin had become well settled, while along the Platte the Indians still remained. The Northwestern had, however, built a line across Southern Minnesota and into Dakota as far as Watertown, with feeders to various points, while in Wisconsin and Northern Michigan lines had been extended north into the Lake Superior district through Escanaba to Ishpeming.

This all seems very recent, but since that time the system has grown until it penetrates nine states of the Union, and its heavy lines of freight trains and its palatial passenger service reach all important points from Chicago to Milwaukee, Madison, St. Paul and Minneapolis, Duluth and Superior, Omaha, the Black Hills, Colorado and the Pacific Coast.

With all this development in various directions the Northwestern has never for a moment lost sight of the great fact that the transcontinental business of this nation is for many years to come to furnish a great volume of traffic. The Chicago & Northwestern is the pioneer transcontinental line. Its little ten mile forerunner of '48 reaching bravely out to

CRYSTAL FALLS TEAM.

The Firemen of That City Will Begin Practicing This Week.

The Crystal Falls fire department will be represented by a good team at the tournament to take place here the last week in August. At the Houghton tournament the Crystal Falls department had a strong team and it would not surprise local firemen if a number of this year's prizes went to that city. The People's Mail of Saturday last had the following tournament gossip: "A regular meeting of the Crystal Falls fire department was held in the town hall Tuesday evening and the matter of entering a running team in the tournament races to be held at Negaunee the latter part of August was again taken up. A committee consisting of Chief H. M. Johnson, L. A. Henry, John Wall and W. J. Phillips was appointed to pick out those whom they thought would make good material for the team. Practice may begin next Monday [yesterday], the track on which the tournament races were held last year to be used by the team. There are about 500 cots piled up in different places about town, which belong to the tournament stockholders and a resolution was passed by the department which will be presented to the stockholders, asking them to turn over these cots to the department. If the cots can be had the boys may be able to dispose of them and put a little money into the treasury. There were about 600 of the cots on hand when the tournament closed last year, but they have been disappearing right along, until now there are no more than 500. Chief H. M. Johnson and John Wall were chosen as delegates to the tournament convention and Jas. H. Johnson and Oscar Waldstrand, alternates.

Ironwood News-Record: The Ironwood fire department's running team is engaged in hard practice just now for the upper peninsula firemen's tournament to be held at Negaunee next month. The boys do not expect to win everything in sight, but they hope to get a generous share of the silverware and things provided by the Negauneeites, besides having a royal good time at the tourney.

"THE MISSOURI GIRL."

Manager McDonald, of the local opera house, has booked "The Missouri Girl" for next Saturday evening. The company comes well recommended. The People's Mail of Crystal Falls gave the show this mention: "The Missouri Girl," Fred Raymond's popular play, was played to a large crowd at the opera house last Saturday evening and was well received by the audience. The show has been greeted by good houses in all the towns it has appeared in and has received a great deal of praise, being one of the most popular plays on the road this season. Some fine specialties were introduced and all the members of the company played their respective roles in a pleasing manner."

WILL TELL YOUR FORTUNE.

Fitz & Webster, managers of "A Breezy Time," are probably the foremost inventors of ingenious advertising methods that the theatrical profession has ever known. This season they have something unusually novel. Not only is it a clever advertising scheme, but a really scientific novelty that will prove interesting to young and old and is well worth going out of your way to see. It is none other than the Mysterious Indian Fortune Teller, a mechanical invention that will absolutely tell your fortune correctly. This novelty will be seen at Perkins' drug store, where the reserved seat tickets are sold. The company appears at McDonald's opera house tomorrow evening.

MAY BUILD NEW CHURCH.

Members of the Episcopal Congregation Considering the Proposition.

Some months ago the members of St. John's Episcopal church society of this city decided to make extensive improvements about the church property. A part of the work has already been done, but there is now a strong sentiment among certain prominent members of the congregation in favor of building a new church. The money for the proposed improvements was forthcoming and it would not have been much of a task to raise considerably more than the amount required to liquidate the debt. The old building has been in had repair for some years past. If the new structure does not go up the old church will require no little attention.

WILL IMPROVE HIS DWELLING.

Thomas Trathen is preparing to make a number of improvements about his home on the corner of Brown avenue and Third street. The new building to be added and a new foundation will be built. The lot is below the level of the street and it will be filled in. When the projected work is finished Mr. Trathen will have a neat and convenient home.

SYMPATHY FOR ENGLAND.

In the recent disaster at St. Vincent the United States was among the first to extend sympathy to England and also to offer assistance to the fortunate survivors. Giving sympathy is a very appropriate way of showing our feeling for those in distress, but the person who is unable to eat or sleep on account of a weak or disordered stomach needs more than sympathy. He wants a medicine that will cure him. Then Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is needed, because it positively cures loss of appetite, indigestion, flatulency, indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, constipation, biliousness, insomnia or malaria, fever and ague. It positively cures. Hundreds of persons have said so, and many prominent physicians and druggists always recommend it. Be sure to try it. Our Private Stamp is over the neck of the bottle.

The other afternoon as Joseph St. Cyr, a Manistique lad of nine years, together with two younger boys, was playing on the M. N. & N. railway bridge which spans the Manistique river above the Soo line tracks, he caught his feet and fell, striking on some logs in the river fifteen feet below and being injured quite severely. A man who responded to the boys' cries found the injured lad lying partly in the water and the two younger boys holding his head. He had fallen head foremost upon the logs and rolled into the river. His face was badly injured and he was unable to masticate anything for several days.

A person who would rob a poor printer would pasture his cow on his mother's grave, and talk through his nose to save the wear and tear of his teeth. But who would even suspect for a single moment that a newspaper man could be robbed? That he can, however, has been conclusively demonstrated to our entire satisfaction, and to the profit of the individual who touched us. Some farsighted puffer entered upon the premises of the Iron Port company the other night and prying open a drawer containing about $25 in small change swiped the whole works, with the exception of the price of a soap bone—Escanaba Iron Port.

Grand Marais harbor boasts a beautiful fleet of launches. Most of them are of moderate size, generally running in the class between twenty and thirty feet in length, of light draught and capable of carrying from five to a dozen people. These are found the handiest for all purposes, and, although their cost is considerable, still they are within reach of people of moderate means. They cost from $250 to $1,000, according to size and fittings. Gasoline is the power generally used. This has been found more convenient than steam in many ways. The engine can be run by unlicensed hands, it takes up only about a fifth as much room as steam, and gives out practically no heat, which has been found to be one of its chief good qualities. While the launches are used a great deal for pleasure, they are at the same time money makers for their owners in other ways, a large number being used in the fishing business out of the port. That the people of Grand Marais enjoy yachting is evident to the visitor who spends a Sunday in Grand Marais and notes the many parties out for a spin.

Matt Neckela, of the Wakefield Mercantile company's store at Wakefield, near Ironwood, was asphyxiated by illuminating gas in his room in a hotel at Ashland last week. He retired about 11:30 and left a call in order to take the early train for the range. When he went to his room, Clerk Peterson accompanied him and inquired if he understood the use of gas, to which Neckela responded that he did. When making the rounds of the corridors at half past twelve and half past one o'clock, the clerk noticed that the light in Neckela's room was burning, but thought nothing of it. When he went to awaken him at 6 o'clock he found the door unlocked and when he opened it discovered the room filled with gas and Neckela dead. The jet showed that the gas had been about half turned off, and the supposition is that a gust of air blew out the small blaze during the night, or that the pressure on the jet failed and extinguished the light, and that the pressure coming on again filled the room with gas and killed the unfortunate man. Deceased was actively connected with the Wakefield Mercantile company, being one of the stockholders of the concern and prominently identified with its management since its organization several years ago.

A shooting carnival occurred at Iron Belt last week, in which Herman Hill and Clark Rebeck were shot. Hill dying in the evening, while Rebeck was brought to the Union hospital in Ironwood, where he now lies. Various stories are abroad as to how the men were shot. One of them is to the effect that Hill and Rebeck were on their way home at the hour stated, when they were accosted by an Italian, who asked them their names, and when the same were given, the men opened fire on the two men with a revolver. Rebeck declares that this is the true story of the shooting. Another account is to the effect that Hill, who had been a good member of the Finnish temperance society for many months, had broken his pledge and becoming dependent over his action, attempted to commit suicide, when Rebeck, attempting to interfere, received the two bullets which entered his body, one of which penetrated his intestines in seven places. Hill was shot back of the left ear, and in the breast. When Hill was revolved by Policeman Nolan, he had an old revolver in his right hand, but it is believed that he had taken it from his pocket to defend himself, after being attacked by his assailant. There is suspicion, even, that Rebeck fired the shots that ended Hill's existence, and that the former's injuries were received during the attack. It is a complicated affair, at best, and every effort is being made to clear it up. Rebeck is doing nicely at the Union Hospital, and unless unfore-

A. W. Blom of Menominee has returned from an extended tour through the lower peninsula, where, representing the Commercial Club of Menominee, he investigated the beet sugar industry, conferring with operators in Alma, Bay City, Saginaw and other cities. Mr. Blom is highly gratified at the result of his labors, and states that it is now up to the neighboring farmers to decide if Menominee is to have a beet sugar plant. Mr. Blom asserts that there are a number of capitalists ready to furnish the funds for the erection of a suitable plant if they may depend upon a sufficient supply of the raw product. To insure the establishment of a factory the prospective promoters must first be guaranteed the product of from 8,000 to 10,000 acres, which will give an output of 800 tons of refined sugar. A corps of agents, under the direction of Mr. Blom, is now at work among the farmers of Menominee county, as well as the agriculturists in contiguous territory on the other side of the river. Each farmer is required to sign a contract in which he agrees to set aside a certain portion of his land for the exclusive cultivation of the sugar-beet. From the present indication the farmers seem to favor the project and it is more than likely that a plant will shortly be erected. Such an enterprise would be of great benefit to the city, inasmuch as it would give employment to several hundred men, while the farmer would receive a substantial financial benefit in the price paid for sugar beets.

BUFFALO BILL'S WILD WEST.

Marquette People Waiting With Much Anxiety for the Show.

The arrival of Buffalo Bill's Wild West on the 10th of July will be a memorable event for this city. A good many of our people have already seen his brilliant and exciting performances in places farther east, some of them journeying considerable distances to do so, and their reports have made the rest of us somewhat impatient to share their experience. And, as the proverb says, "everything comes to him who waits," Marquette's time comes at last.

We are pretty good judges, out this way, of Indians, broncos, cowboys, ex-armymen and Western girls, and we want to see how Colonel Cody (Buffalo Bill) and Nate Salsbury have arranged those components so as to give with them a show that has won the enthusiastic plaudits of the larger part of the civilized world. Of course, they have had a good deal of help from Colonel Cody's "Congress of Rough Riders of the World," some of whom are said to be first-class athletes, and from the Atlantic coast life-savers and many other novel features, but natural pride in what we can claim as our own inclines us to take most interest in the reality. Western part of the show. However, it's all great.

A DAY OF CONVENTIONS.

Republicans of Three Counties to Choose Delegates Tomorrow.

Tomorrow will be a day of county Republican conventions, and in all of them the result will have an important bearing on the congressional situation. On that day the Republican caucus delegates of Houghton county will meet at Reed jacket, those of Iron county will assemble at Stambaugh and those of Baraga county will convene at Baraga to choose representatives to the congressional convention to be held here on the 15th. The Young and Sheldon men are making widely different claims as to the outcome in these counties, and the result of the struggle will be awaited with interest. On Friday, at Bessemer, the Gogebic county convention will be held, and on Saturday at Iron Mountain the Dickinson county Republicans will select their congressional delegates. This convention will wind up the list, so that by the end of the week, and probably before that, a pretty close guess can be made as to who will represent the upper peninsula in the national house of representatives next term.

JUNE COOL AND DRY.

Weather Last Month Not as Warm and Wet as Usual.

The weather last month was not as warm as that usually experienced in June, and neither was it as wet. According to the summary prepared by Observer Patrick, the mean temperature was 54.2, comparing with 59 as the average for the past thirty-two years. The hottest day was on the 15th, when the mercury climbed to 78. On the 5th, the thermometer registered 35 degrees, the minimum for the month, and the same day witnessed the greatest daily range of temperature. The average precipitation for June for the past thirty-two years is 3.47 inches. Of the thirty days, ten were cloudy, sixteen partly cloudy and four are classed as clear. A light frost was noticed on the 5th.

During the month 2.98 inches of rain came down, there being fourteen days on which there was .01 of an inch or more of precipitation. The average precipitation for June for the past thirty-two years is 3.47 inches. Of the thirty days, ten were cloudy, sixteen partly cloudy and four are classed as clear. A light frost was noticed on the 5th.

The prevailing direction of the wind was northwest and there was a total movement of 6,894 miles. The maximum velocity was attained on the 21st, when the wind blew at the rate of forty miles an hour from the northwest.

The mean atmospheric pressure in June was 29.91, the highest being 30.27 and the lowest 29.53.

INFLUX OF BEGGARS.

Visitors in Search of Alms Make the Rounds in Marquette.

"Hark, hark, the dogs do bark, the beggars are coming to town; some in rags and some in tags, and some in velvet gown." Marquette has within the past week or two been the scene of a visitation by beggars and nearly every section of the city has been worked by members of the profession. The velvet gown variety was not in evidence, however, and all those who struck the city were poorly clad, if not wholly in rags. It is apparently their annual rally in this summer resort section.

Some of them have been cripples. Others evidently are able to work, but for some reason do not care to indulge. To avoid the police the majority of the visitors have made it a practice to go into the offices and stores, where they ply their trade with a vengeance. Usually, a card bearing a bit of doggerel verse is handed to the man who is about to be "struck." One, about twenty-five years of age, and who seemed to be able-bodied except for an arm that had been amputated above the elbow, made the rounds of the business district. He had a card bearing a few lines of rhyme. It started off with "Not tomorrow, but today." That gave to the reader the idea that a standoff was not to be thought of. The applicant would probably have done a little business had he not given evidence of long service before a bar. He was persistent, however, and would not take "no" for an answer. To make his game stronger, and to prevent his desired patrons from getting him confused with men with "make believe" amputated limbs, he would show the stub arm. Another man sold a penny lead pencil for a nickel, which in most cases was paid over at the quickest means to get rid of the fellow.

The men, probably because they like their own company, travel in bunches, instead of by themselves. The beggars generally remain here for a day or two, until the police get them spotted, then they lie away to another city.

One of the profession, however, was not so fortunate. The man, a cripple, with both legs cut off, got his kipp full of corn juice last Saturday and proceeded to make himself very obnoxious. He was arrested on declining to keep quiet or to leave town, and was taken in a rig to the city jail. He was kept there until yesterday afternoon, when he was escorted to the depot and started out of town on a train bound up the line.

MERCURY AGAIN CLIMBED.

The mercury yesterday got up as high as ninety, out a cool breeze in the late afternoon brought decided relief and the night was ideal. At 7 o'clock in the morning the thermometer at the government weather office recorded 70, and from that time on, the mercury climbed until the maximum was reached about 2 o'clock. Along about 5 o'clock, however, the temperature fell rapidly, and at 7 o'clock it was the mark registered. The weather today promises to be somewhat cooler although southerly winds are still on the program, with probably showers.

HELD IN $300 BONDS.

Jesse Listen, the man arrested Saturday for passing a forged check at the tobacco store of M. Hinz, waived examination when brought before Justice Byrne yesterday afternoon and was bound over to the circuit court for trial. The amount of the bonds was fixed at $300, and on his failure to secure sureties, Listen was taken back to the county jail. The man is very anxious to settle the case without trial.

FROM ONTONAGON ON SUNDAY.

Excursion to Be Run to Marquette by the A. O. U. W. Lodge.

Arrangements are being perfected at Ontonagon for an excursion to be run from that village and intermediate points to Marquette next Sunday, the 13th. The trip will be made under the auspices of Ontonagon lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. The lodge last year gave a very successful excursion to the copper country, and is making all advance preparations to complicate the success on this coming occasion. It is planned to have the excursion train leave Ontonagon at about 6 o'clock in the morning and arrive at Ontonagon on the return about 10:30, giving the excursionists about eight or nine hours in this city. Negotiations are now on with the South Shore relative to the train service.

COPPER STOCKS DEAD.

Prospect of a Squeeze in Amalgamated Is the Only Feature.

Hayden, Stone & Co. of Boston yesterday wired the Laidley Commission company: "It is a very dull market in the coppers. Oil is the only feature in the Boston market at present, and we think it will sell higher."

Paine, Webber & Co. said: "There is a dearth of news on the copper situation. The only change is a slightly better buying demand for the good copper stocks. Manipulation is making the metal market look a shade weaker. We get it from New York that the recent decline in Amalgamated was engineered for the purpose of getting in a good short interest and that the shorts will now be squeezed."

Chicago Wheat and Corn.

W. H. Laidley & Co. said of the Chicago grain markets:

"Good weather throughout the harvesting district and liberal receipts of new wheat were bear features in the opening today. To offset this, rain was predicted for tomorrow and this brought a firm opening in September although the July option was much lower. A show of steadiness early the market turned very weak, selling off rapidly. Toward the close, however, the strength in corn and short covering rallied the market. The reports today from the country were much more cheerful, and it is not expected that the government report will reflect any dangerous condition of the crops. A continuation of the wet weather will bring a somewhat higher opening, but we would take profits on all bulges."

"Upon fine weather, September corn opened lower and was dragging during the early part of the session. Later, however, upon the big advance in the July option it recovered all its early loss and closed 1/2 over Thursday's close. The reports of the corn crop are extremely favorable, but in view of the small supplies and an inclination to the belief that the same manipulation that is going on in July will be brought about in September, we believe an early close much higher prices for the September option and we advise its purchase upon every break."

Strength in Wall Street.

Walker Bros., in a wire to Paine, Webber & Co., said of the New York stock market: "The market today was strong and active, and with advances in most of the good stocks. There was more commission business, and while it was not large, still it served to advance prices. Illinois Central, Louisville & Nashville and other high priced stocks were taken hold of by the market. At the age of fifteen he had formed his life's plan, deciding to follow in the footsteps of the great traveler and lecturer, John L. Stoddard. As his parents were wealthy, he was thoroughly educated for his life's work. In 1885, when only seventeen years old, he made his first tour of Europe, and since 1890 he has traveled almost incessantly for twelve years, covering over 200,000 miles and penetrating to the most remote places of the earth. In the preparation for his travels Mr. Holmes read and studied more than 5,000 volumes on the history, art, literature, architecture, languages, religions, governments, manners, dress and customs of all people in all parts of the habitable globe, so that when he came to visit them later he would be familiar with just what he wished to see and know. Mr. Holmes is always accompanied by an expert photographer, who has secured 4,000 photographs illustrating the descriptions of the most sublime scenery, historic ruins, temples, shrines, great engineering feats and peculiar people in all lands. Such is Mr. Holmes' popularity, that he only appears on the platform in twenty of the largest cities in the United States; but every home in the land can now possess these lectures in book form and tens of thousands of delighted readers will learn the fascinating story of the wonderful world in which we live. A few sets of the Burton Holmes Lectures will be placed in Marquette at a considerable reduction in price, the object of the publishers being to establish the merit of the work in the community. These first sets printed are necessarily much better than those which will be printed later because half tone engravings wear out. Forty-eight sets were placed in Menominee, Mich., among leading citizens, and fifty-four in Marinette, Wis.

NEW COURT HOUSE.

Bids for Its Construction Are Asked from Contractors.

Proposals for the construction of the new court house will be received from contractors by County Clerk Ross up to noon on the 6th day of August. The plans and specifications will be ready for inspection at the office of the county clerk and at the offices of the architects, Charlton & Gilbert, at Milwaukee, on and after July 21.

A meeting of the court house building committee will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow, beginning at 11 o'clock. Among other matters, the question of temporary quarters for the county officers during the construction of the new building will probably come up for consideration. It is thought likely that the committee will decide to move the present court house directly south to the limit of the lot on Superior street, rather than hunt up other quarters with little chance of securing vault room. It is believed the vaults can be moved with the building at no very great expense.

THREE DEATHS YESTERDAY.

Two Men and an Infant Answer to the Final Summons.

There were three deaths in the city yesterday. One was that of Robert Morrow, a brakeman, residing at 418 Marble street, who is survived by his wife and one child. Her quarters were years of age. Lung trouble was the cause of the demise. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the house to Park cemetery.

At St. Mary's hospital, John Y. McDonald of Grand Marais succumbed to appendicitis, his wife arriving from down the line just too late to see him before the end came. For a number of years Mr. McDonald was a foreman of the Alger-Smith Lumber company. He was a member of the Grand Marais lodge of Modern Woodmen. The remains were yesterday shipped to Harrisville, Mich., the former home of the deceased, for interment.

The third demise was that of Theodore E. Jilbert, the three-weeks-old son of Edgar Jilbert, residing at 433 Washburn street. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Burial will be in Park cemetery.

PROTECT THE HORSES.

Special Hot Weather Abuses That Are as Bad as Cruel Teamsters.

In a talk with a horseman concerning the item which appeared in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal relative to the teamster who was arrested and fined on the charge of cruelty to animals, the gentleman stated that during the hot season drivers use special abuses which were even worse than the punishment given the dumb animals by drivers too free with the whip. "Much of the cruelty to horses during hot weather," said the gentleman yesterday, "is due more to thoughtlessness and ignorance than to deliberate intention. Drivers and owners do not seem to remember the difference in conditions which arises during warm summer days. "One of the first things which those who have charge of horses in hot weather should remember is to protect them from the sun, frost, flies, I often think that if drivers who shouldn't do this could only be placed at the mercy of the little pests himself for two or three hours, his experience would be such that he would never again neglect to provide his animals with fly nets, or covers of some kind. The experience is trilling. "Then there are those hats which come into vogue a season or two ago. They are a decided protection to the animals' heads and cost but little. "During hot weather drivers should remember that animals require liquid refreshments much oftener, and they should accordingly give them an opportunity to drink often as necessary. "Still another point which should be remembered is that when weather is torrid conditions are favorable to galling of horses' shoulders and backs. A little attention will generally prevent this, and no one who has had experience will deny that there is nothing more annoying and detrimental to the effectiveness of a beast than to have an ugly sore on some point where the harness will press whenever an attempt is made to pull a load. "Generally, well-fitting harness will not cause sores. But if the skin is tender, they will sometimes come. Spots which are likely to become tender should be watched, and after quieting work at night these spots should be bathed and rubbed, and some application should be made that will take out any soreness and toughen the skin. "It may seem considerable trouble to some people to take this care of their horses, but as a matter of fact it pays in dollars and cents. Take for example the big concerns in the larger cities which have many horses. They insist that those who have charge of the animals must see that they have just such care as I have been speaking of. It is not especially a matter of sentiment with them, but a question of business policy. "They know that worry wears a horse down, just as it does with a human being. They know that they will get better work and more of it from their teams, if they take good care of them and make them as comfortable as possible when weather is warm. They know that it saves feed. It is a matter of dollars and cents. I recently spoke to a gentleman connected with a wholesale establishment, and he expressed his opinion that fly nets and similar appliances actually save oats."
