LAITY IN PARIS PROTEST AGAINST GOVERNMENT.

SEVERAL PERSONS ARE INJURED

TROUBLE CAUSED BY AMBIGUOUS WORDING OF CHURCH LAW.

Premier Combes Orders Congregationist Schools Closed, Which Precipitates the Disturbances.

Paris, July 23.—As a sequel of yesterday's clerical outbreaks as protests against the government's enforcement of the law against unauthorized congregations, a serious disturbance occurred to-night on the terrace at Cafe de Mussee de Cluny. The police cleared the cafe. Several persons were injured, and twenty-five arrests made. Some disorderly meetings of Catholics were held during the evening, resulting in scuffles and making arrests.

Nationalists Join Clericals.

The agitation provoked by the order of Prime Minister Combes to close the Congregationist schools recalls to some extent the scenes when M. Ferry, then premier, expelled the Jesuits in 1880. Demonstrations in favor of the nuns and the teaching friars were taking place in Paris and in many places in the provinces where the prefects presented themselves at the schools and ordered the institutions to be closed. Up to the present, however, no serious incident has been recorded. The Nationalists have joined the clericals in engineering the agitation and their leaders are in the forefront of the effort.

The trouble was caused by the ambiguity of the wording of the law of the associations which led the branches of the congregations such as the schools now closed to suppose their positions were legalized by a request for authorization made by headquarters. This was even the interpretation of the matter accepted by Waldeck-Rousseau, former premier but Prime Minister Combes takes a contrary view.

The Temps takes Combes severely to task. The establishments now closed, says The Temps, appear to have been drawn into a trap and the paper points out that there is not enough lay schools to receive all the children turned into the streets and that primary instruction being obligatory, the government should have provided accommodation in official schools. Twenty thousand children in Paris alone will need schools.

The Temps asks what the government intends to do, and adds: "If it allows the schools to ask for authorization and re-open in the autumn, it was not worth while to take the trouble to close them with such great noise."

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER DROWNED

Stephen A. Calder and Mrs. Allen N. Calder, father and wife of Captain Calder died tonight.

INVESTIGATING MINE HORROR.

Coroner Begins Inquest of Disaster at Cambria Steel Co.'s Plant.

Johnstown, Pa., July 23.—The coroner today began an inquest into the disaster in the Cambria Steel company's rolling mill mine, July 10 by which a hundred and twelve men lost their lives. When the inquest adjourned for the day, twelve witnesses had been examined without any unusual incident having developed.

KRUGER'S INCIVILITY CAUSED WAR

Mayor of Bloemfontein Makes Remarkable Statement.

Berlin, July 23.—Dr. B. C. Kellner, mayor of Bloemfontein, has arrived at Berlin. In the course of a conversation Kellner said he attributed the war in South Africa to a trivial incident, namely the impoliteness shown by President Kruger to the Cecil Rhodes during their last interview, which took place on a street in Pretoria where Rhodes arrived to carry on negotiations with Kruger. Before Rhodes could state fully the object of his visit, according to Kellner, Kruger, who had a Bible under his arm, growled: "must go to church" and broke off the interview abruptly, leaving Rhodes standing in the street. That was the last time that Rhodes saw Kruger. He left Pretoria convinced that the old man was impracticable.

SCORPION GROUNDS AT NEWPORT

Newport, R. I., July 23.—The United States dispatch boat Scorpion went ashore in the upper harbor today, but she backed from the position with her own engines and proceeded to the bay and anchored for the night. It is believed the damage to the vessel is slight.

BUYS MRS. LANGTRY'S THEATRE.

English Methodists Invest in London Realty and Will Erect Hall.

London, July 23.—Robert William Perks, treasurer of the Methodist million guineas fund, announced today that the Methodists had secured the Royal Aquarium theatre property facing Westminster Abbey on which they will build a great hall to be called the "Central Headquarters of Universal Methodism." The price paid was £330,000. The ground comprises two and a half acres and on it also stands Mrs. Langtry's Imperial theatre. It is probable arrangements will be made by which the Imperial theatre will be transformed into an annex of the church house, the building of which is expected to commence early in 1903. Since it was opened in 1876 the aquarium has been a famous place of amusement for Londoners.

DRIVEN FROM HOME WILL PROVOKE WAR

FARMERS ARE WASHED OUT BY FLOODS ALONG MISSISSIPPI.

HUNDREDS OF HEAD OF STOCK KILLED

CLOUDBURST AT WATERLOO, IA., DOES CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE.

Lacy Levee at Havana, Ill., Washed Away and Five Thousand Acres of Land Under Cultivation Are Inundated.

Clinton, Ia., July 23.—The worst flood in years is being experienced in White and Bureau counties on the Illinois side of the Mississippi river, as a result of today's deluge of rain. Two houses were washed away but so far as known no lives were lost. Hundreds of head of stock were drowned and the loss to growing crops is beyond estimate at this time. The Hennipen canal in Green river has overflowed for miles and there is a lake seven to eight feet deep and ten miles long traversing the lowlands near these streams. A great number of families of farmers were driven from their homes tonight either camping on the hills or being cared for by neighbors.

Clodburst Does Damage.

Waterloo, Ia., July 23.—A cloudburst this afternoon did $50,000 damage and drove twenty families from their homes. No lives were lost but three people narrowly escaped drowning.

Keokuk, Ia., July 23.—The Mississippi flood reached its maximum throughout the district on the Missouri side and the crest was at Hannibal at noon today when the stage was at a standstill. The river fell four inches at Quincy and ten inches at Keokuk.

Lacy Levee Washed Away.

Havana, Ill., July 23.—A portion of the Lacy levee was washed away today by the flood of waters in the Illinois river. Twelve thousand acres of land, five thousand of which were under cultivation, are now inundated by water varying in depth from five to ten feet. Alarm whistles sounded a warning to the farmers in the flooded district. No fatalities have been reported. It is impossible to estimate the property loss with the water still rising.

ST. CLAIR CANAL RULE VIOLATED.

Vessels Frequently Pass One Another While Going in Same Direction.

Detroit, July 23.—Major W. H. Bixby, United States engineer, today issued a notice to lake masters calling attention to the rule that one vessel is forbidden to pass another going in the same direction in the St. Clair flats canal and stating that the rule is being frequently violated. He mildly suggests that the courts may possibly be called upon to enforce it by resorting to a specific fine of $500 and six months' imprisonment.

MRS. SANGER HAS OPERATION.

Wife of Acting Secretary of War Ill With Appendicitis.

Washington, July 23.—Adjutant General Corbin today received a telegram from Assistant Secretary of War Sanger, who has been acting as secretary during the absence of Secretary Root, saying he expected to return to Washington today but has been delayed on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Sanger. Kroker was postmaster of that place until Feb. 8 last, when it is alleged he disappeared with money placed in his care. Kroker, although taken by surprise today, showed fight, drawing a revolver. He will be extradited as soon as possible and taken to Germany.

ESTIMATES FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

Amount Needed for Rivers and Harbors of Michigan $867,000.

Washington, July 23.—The chief of engineers today received a report from Capt. Charles Keller, in charge of rivers and harbors at the Grand Rapids, Mich., district with the following estimates for the fiscal year of 1904: Harbor at Michigan City, Ind., $40,400; Saugatuck harbor and Kalamazoo river, Mich., $185,000; Grand river, $150,000; Muskegon harbor, $253,100; the harbors at Pontwater and White Lake, $29,000; Ludington harbor, $180,000; Charlevoix harbor, $47,800; Petoskey harbor, $33,000.

FORMATION OF IRISH LAND TRUST MAY HAVE THAT RESULT.

Leader of Irish Party Says the Chief Secretary Is Useless to Country and Has Done Nothing For It.

WYNDHAM MOVES REDUCTION IN SALARY.

Leader of Irish Party Says the Chief Secretary Is Useless to Country and Has Done Nothing For It.

London, July 23.—The house of commons tonight entered on a series of Irish debates. When the estimates for Ireland came up for discussion John Redmond, chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party moved a reduction in the salary of Chief Secretary Wyndham. Redmond maintained that Wyndham had done nothing for the country and that the Irish problem was more dangerous to the empire today than it has been for a quarter of a century.

Home Rule Impossible.

Wyndham replying declared he could at present offer no constructive policy and maintained there could be no cessation of the agrarian strife, no revival of industry and no staunching of the flow of emigration and that the idea of home rule was impossible even to those who cherished it unless and until the desolating process of social proscription and the maiming of four which penetrated and paralyzed every nerve of national life were repudiated by the good sense of the people and repressed by the government.

Land Trust Will Provoke War.

Wyndham's accusation that T. W. Russell, the liberal unionist member for South Tyrone, palliated the disorder during the De Freyne evictions brought out a heated denial from Russell and lengthy exchanges between himself and Wyndham. Russell declared that only a man who had sold himself body and soul to the landlords and evictors would dare make such an accusation. Dealing with the formation of the Irish land trust Russell said it would provoke war, the end of which no man could foresee.

TEACHERS WERE MURDERED.

News Received of Americans Who Disappeared from Cebu.

Washington, July 23.—The war department today received a cablegram regarding the school teachers who have been missing from Cebu since June 10: John E. Wells of Providence, R. ## OVER $50,000 IN CASH SECURED BANDITS ARE SUPPOSED TO BE AMERICANS.

Messenger Offers No Resistance to Thieves, Who, After Taking Valuables, Quietly Disappear Into Woods.

El Paso, July 23.—A daring hold up occurred on the Mexican Central early yesterday morning just after the train left Bermejille. At Bermejille three Americans boarded the train, two securing themselves on the blind baggage and the other entering the third class coach. As soon as the train pulled out, the two riding on the blind baggage entered the express car covering Messenger Buckner with guns and ordered him to throw up his hands. The messenger offered no resistance. The robbers then went leisurely through the safe, securing $50,000 in currency consigned to Rance miners at Chihuahua. They also took what other money packages were in the safe stored quietly until the train slowed up when they made a hasty exit and dropped off the train disappearing in the darkness.

About the time the robbers entered the express car the conductor became engaged in an altercation with a passenger who refused to pay his fare. Finally the conductor had the train stopped and the passenger was ejected. The robbers alighted at the same time. It is believed that the troublesome passenger was a partner of the robbers.

TRACY NOT WOUNDED.

Tacoma, Wash., July 23.—Harry Tracy the outlaw appeared at Miller's logging camp, four miles from Nazzasak, yesterday and ate dinner. Tracy is not wounded, looks fresh and rosy and still has a good supply of ammunition.

MISS WEST DECLINES HONOR.

Iowa Maiden Unable to Christen Cruiser Des Moines.

Des Moines, July 23.—Miss Frances West, selected by former Governor Shaw to christen the new cruiser Des Moines, to be launched Sept. 30, today notified the navy department that it would be impossible for her to be present at the launching of the vessel. Miss West sails tomorrow for China to visit Minister and Mrs. Conger for several months. Governor Cummins will name her successor.

WILL NOT TAKE REDUCTION.

Association of Iron and Steel Workers Maintain Position.

Elwood, Ind., July 23.—Great pressure was brought to bear today to have the Amalgamated association of iron and steel workers accept a twenty-five per cent reduction in wages in order that the American Tin Plate company may secure the order of a million and a half boxes of tin from the Standard Oil company. It was without the desired result. The American Tin Plate company plant closed in order to give four hundred members of the Amalgamated a chance to meet the representatives of the company and the national officers of the association that the matter might be fully discussed. The meeting lasted four hours. Despite the fact that President Shaffer advised the men to accept the reduction they refused to rescind the vote taken last Saturday. The national officers, seeing the utter futility of bringing the men to an understanding with company left the hall before the meeting was half over and took the first train for Pittsburg.

"IMPOSSIBLE," for you to enjoy motherhood," says the doctor. Sometimes he qualifies the statement, and says: "Impossible without an operation." Yet both these "impossibles" have been made possible by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Many times the hindrances to motherhood are to be found in womanly diseases or weaknesses, which are perfectly and permanently cured by "Favorite Prescription."

This great medicine for women cures irregularity and dries debilitating drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I wish to add my testimony to hundreds of others as to the value of Dr. Pierce's medicine," writes Mrs. Ida M. De Ford, of Latona, Hubbard Co., Minn. "I have suffered with a great many ailments—some specialists, have twice been in a hospital for treatment. My case has been regarded as a hopeless one, and they knew not all out of order; tired out, severe pains in all parts of the body; sinking spells, and nearly every ailment a woman can have. I took a small bottle of 'patent medicines' without effect. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and ten months afterward I gave birth to a ten-pound boy. All physicians had stated as a fact that I never could bear a child. Both the baby and myself were strong, and I got along splendidly—thanks to your medicine."

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 300 large pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Michigan has four of the 124 starch factories in operation in the United States and the industry is going to make great strides during the next few years, as the manufacture of corn starch, of which five-sixths of the total product in the United States is composed, is only now to be undertaken by a company which is arranging to produce it on a large scale at Traverse City. The four starch factories now doing business in the state produce only wheat, root and potato starch, for which there is not a general demand, it being used principally in the textile industries. The four present Michigan plants are backed by a capitalization of $408,921 and they employ 145 hands. They pay $161,089 for produce annually, and the value of the yearly product, 3,287,880 pounds of wheat starch, 1,657,800 pounds of potato starch and 1,800,000 pounds of root starch, is $330,183. It is said that, with the introduction of the manufacture of corn starch, the industry will gain rapidly in the amount of capital invested, labor employed and value of annual product.

Brewery employes in Boston, who have been on a strike for some time past, conceived a most indignant and ill-considered plan for bringing their employers to terms. There is a local option law in Massachusetts that permits each city to decide whether or not licenses will be issued within its limits. In its zeal in the strikers' cause, the Building and Trades Council determined to undertake a crusade in favor of shutting off licenses in Boston, a step which the strikers heartily seconded. Of course the loss of the home market would be a body blow to the brewers, and there was great jubilation in the ranks of labor at this ingenious scheme for circumventing them. But shortly someone remembered the fable about the old lady who killed the goose that laid the golden eggs, and it dawned upon the misguided strikers that if there were no breweries there would be no work for men skilled in the treatment of malt and hops. Seen from this viewpoint, the clever plan for gaining labor's fight lost all its attractiveness and the men determined to struggle along on old and more usual lines.

The Soo News-Record comments as follows on the proposed all year ferry for St. Mary's river, between the Michigan and Canadian sides:

There can no longer be any doubt that the two Soos are to be connected by a complete and metropolitan ferry system in connection with a street railway system that cannot be equalled in any town three times their size. The published plans of the company indicate that they are building for the future and for a very large population. Usually cities have to wait for this class of improvements until their needs have long passed the stage that will tempt capital to venture in such an investment, but as stated in the News-Record yesterday, owing to the very favorable circumstances under which capital has been and is being invested here, through the development by the power company, industrially and commercially, the city is springing from birth to maturity without suffering the usual period of swaddling clothes.

All winter navigation of the river between the two cities, by a system of powerful ice crushers, providing every convenience for comfort and speed was hardly to be expected for a number of years yet. But it's all to come and come this winter.

General Arthur Marsh, who managed the late ex-Governor Pingree's last campaign and who is nominally a Bliss man, said this week, according to the Detroit Today, that Hon. Peter White of Marquette would give Governor Bliss a harder run for re-election than any other man on whom the Democrats could unite. General Marsh credits Mr. White with ability to split the vote of the upper peninsula, and he says, with the dissatisfaction with Bliss in lower Michigan, this should give him a fair show of election. The Mining Journal too, believes that Mr. White would make about the best run of any Michigan Democrat who could be placed at the head of the ticket, but it cannot see how he could be elected. Nor is it certain that he would be acceptable to the state convention, he having strayed away from the Democratic fold, since the party forsook the trodden paths which were good enough for its founders and several generations of faithful partymen. Then, too, Mr. White does not seem to be gunning for political honors this year of our Lord, 1902. He does not appear to be asking for any consideration at the hands of his one time political associates. The Democratic convention is only a few days off and the deliverer has yet to put in an appearance.

Archbishop Patrick A. Feehan of Chicago, whose funeral last week brought together a great host of admirers from all parts of the country, was one of the most able and best beloved prelates of the Roman Catholic church, although not so distinguished as many others in the knowledge of the public at large. He had been for twenty-two years archbishop of the diocese which is now second only to New York in size. His work was strictly church work and charitable work. He was no politician, secular or ecclesiastical. He avoided controversy, and hardly concerned himself at all with general public questions, although it is said that he was in sympathy with what is known as "Americanism" in Catholic polity. The archbishop did a great work of upbuilding, his investments being prudent and the wealth of the organization having grown steadily. Having sole charge of the collection and use of millions, he was personally poor and leaves to his relatives no fortune but his honorable name and his splendid service. He was devoted, pious, gentle and self-sacrificing. His heroic work in Nashville during the ravages of a cholera epidemic in the late sixties made him widely famous and marked him for preference. For the succession, Bishop Spaulding of Peoria will be warmly urged on the attention of the church authorities.

THE FILIPINO GOVERNMENT.
The government which is secured to the Filipinos by the bill passed at the late session of congress will not be participated in by the natives for many years, probably six at least, to come. Meanwhile the islands will be governed by the Philippine commission, members of which will be appointed by the president, with the approval of the senate. Thus the Filipinos will have practically the same government that was given to the Northwest territory and the territory embraced in the Louisiana purchase or the then sovereign states of the union.

Republic.
THAT BURGLAR.
Several "Republicites" Thought They Had Desperate Character Cornered.
Every time anyone says "burglar" to a certain young business man of Republic it is generally the signal for the croaking of a few "shaws." Sunday morning between 2 and 3 o'clock the young man saw a light in his father's store. It immediately occurred to him that something was wrong, it being unusual for a light to be burning in the place at that time. Without investigating he aroused a number of men in the neighborhood and all went after the burglar supposed to be plying his vocation. The business man arrived himself with bricks and climbed up on the roof, taking a position at the rear, where he could throw the heavy missiles at the thief in case he attempted to make his escape through the rear window, which was the only one by which he could get out of the store. The place was burglarized less than two years ago and it was through that window that the fellow entered the store.

JOHN PASCOE INJURED.
John Pascoe, one of Republic's oldest and best known miners, was severely injured last Saturday. He had occasion to go from one level to another and decided to make the trip on the skip. He stood on the bale and instructed the bell man to give a signal to lower. The usual number of bells were given, but it appears the brakeman received a signal to stop instead of to lower. The skip went up suddenly, throwing Mr. Pascoe back into it. He fell with considerable force and struck his side on the edge of the skip. Three or four ribs were fractured and he was otherwise injured.

JOEL GOOD PICNIC

IT BROUGHT NEWSPAPER MEN'S OUTING TO A CONCLUSION.

AT THE ISLAND IN AFTERNOON

PRISON AND THE CINDERELLA VISITED IN THE MORNING.

Editors Leaving Town Highly Pleased With Their Entertainment and They Heartily Voice Their Thanks—Exodus Began Last Night.

A jolly picnic at Presque Isle yesterday afternoon brought to a conclusion the mid-summer outing of the upper peninsula newspaper men. Evening and night witnessed an exodus of editors and their ladies, and this morning and afternoon the remainder will leave for their homes to again take up the cares of life. Yesterday morning a carriage drive was taken to the prison, where the institution was inspected with much interest. The Cinderella also was visited, the newspaper men and their ladies spending some little time at the farm as the pleased guests of Hiram Burt. Shortly after noon, cars were boarded and the party were conveyed to the "island," where a splendid dinner was served at the pavilion by Caterer Joe Prince. Following this there were lunch excursions and "bird rides" around the park, and about 3:30 dancing was begun. This continued for nearly an hour and a half, during which time Hon. Peter White was induced to recite one of his famous French dialect pieces that was concluded amid hearty applause. At 5 o'clock the steamer Ephantor street cars, as was desired, were boarded and the return to town was made in time for those of the visitors who so wished to catch the evening train out.

The picnic arrangements were well planned and well carried out under the auspices of Peter White, who officiated as superintendent. A "cash" of Mr. White's famous punch was on tap all afternoon and was well patronized. The launches used were turned over to the editors through the courtesy of J. M. Longyear, W. F. Fitch and Frank and Phil Spear. The time spent at Presque Isle was highly enjoyed by all. Those of the visitors who had never been at the island were delighted with the beauties of the place and more than one expression of rapture was heard. The outing, in fact, from the trolley ride of Monday evening until the very last, has been thoroughly enjoyable. There were not one of the visitors but who declared themselves delighted, and it is likely that pleasant memories of the visit to Marquette and Munising will live long with them.

The citizens of this city and of Munising, the officials of the railroads, state farm, street car line and steamers, the launchmen, the caterers and all who joined in helping to make the outing enjoyable and successful have the grateful thanks of the picnic pushers. These resolutions of thanks were adopted yesterday.

"Whereas, The 1902 mid-summer meeting of the Lake Superior Press association at Marquette and Munising has been one of the most enjoyable and interesting outings in the history of the association; and

"Whereas, This has been made possible by reason of the magnificent hospitality of the genial citizens of the two cities; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the members of this association feel highly honored and deeply grateful for all the courtesies extended them by the citizens of Marquette and Munising. We wish particularly to thank the D. S. S. & A. railroad, for courtesies received through its general passenger agent, George W. Hibbard; the officials of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company's railway system, for placing at the disposal of the association a special train, thus affording members the pleasure of a most delightful ride through the beautiful forests between Marquette and Munising; and especially thank Superintendent Ward and Auditor St. John for their kindly personal attention to the party during the pleasant journey; be it further

"Resolved, That the thanks of the association be extended to the citizens of Munising for the complimentary dinner at the Russell House; to A. Booth & Co. for the delightful trip by the steamer Hunter to the Pictured Rocks; to Superintendent Leo Geismar and wife and Director C. D. Smith, for hospitality and courtesies at the experimental station at Chatham; to Mr. Hiram Burt, for the regal entertainment at the Cinderella farm. And to Mayor Russell, to J. R. Van Evert, A. T. Van Alstyne, Dr. J. H. Flynn, F. M. Moore and A. Archambeau, as the committee on arrangements, and to the people of Marquette in general, we are under lasting obligations for the enjoyable reception and dance at Fraternity Hall, for the drive to the branch prison, and for the most delightful picnic at Presque Isle which was so admirably superintended by Hon. Peter White.

"Resolved, That the members of this association here present do hereby express their regret because of the absence of ex-President Chase S. Osborn and family, and heartfelt sympathy is hereby extended them in their recent sad bereavement."

PICKING UP.

Lake Passenger Business Beginning to Reach Good Proportions.

F. B. Spear & Sons, the local agents of the various lines, report that passenger business on the lakes is just beginning to become what it ought to be. Very unfavorable weather has held it back so that the season to date has been below the average.

Last year's business was swelled largely by the Buffalo exposition, but even counting this out, and estimating

STEADY BUYING OF COPPERS.

Boston Sympathizing in the Activity and Strength in Wall Street.

Concerning the Boston stock market, Paine, Webber & Co., yesterday said: "There has been steady buying of the coppers today and it has been of a most excellent character. It is said that the Amalgamated interests in New York have changed their position and are now bullish on the copper. As yet there does not appear to be a big bull movement, and we believe the better class of coppers should be bought for much higher prices."

Hayden, Stone & Co. wired the Laidley Commission company: "With such a fine New York market, the local stocks could not help sharing a little of the activity and strength. Copper Range was made very active and strong, and next in activity were United States Mining and United States Oil. There is practically no pressure to sell and stocks advance on very small transactions. It is this narrowness of the market that makes us so averse of it. Mohawk is very strong and we think very well of it. The report on Old Dominion will be out in a day or two."

Chicago Grains Hold Steady.

W. H. Laidley & Co. said of the Chicago grain markets:

"The wheat market today was characterized by extreme dullness, but exhibited a firm undertone during the fire session, closing slightly over last night. The foreign markets continue indifferent. The receipts are somewhat heavier. The Minnesota crop report and reports quite generally from the Northwest indicate very good prospects. This is a trading market, and should be bought upon the breaks and sold upon the bulges."

"Corn opened slightly lower than last night and after continued dullness closed at small recessions from yesterday's prices. The conditions continue favorable for the growing crops, but with the supply of corn small, the September option is a purchase at all points. "Oats opened about last night's close, but after an early show of weakness, turned strong, closing very slightly above yesterday's close for the September option. The receipts continue small and as the weather remains so bad, the new crop is severely damaged, and it looks as if higher prices would be seen. Under these circumstances, the July option should be bought."

Bull Market in New York.

Walker Bros., wiring Paine, Webber & Co., said of the New York stocks: "The bull market continued again today, with good buying in the entire list. The grangers were heavily bought and the volume of business was large. Many of the specialties were taken hold of and advanced. In the middle of the day there was some profit-taking, but the stocks were all absorbed. Before the close the prices sagged off and closed under the best, but with sentiment still bullish."

STATE TICKET FOR N. DAKOTA.

Frank White Selected as Republican Candidate for Governor.

Fargo, N. D., July 23.—The Republican state convention today nominated the following ticket: Congress, R. F. Marshall of Bismarck, R. F. Spaulding of Cass; governor, Frank White of Barnes; lieutenant governor, David Bartlett, of Griggs; judge of supreme court, John M. Cochran, of Grand Forks; secretary of state, E. F. Porter, of Foster; auditor, D. M. Holmes, of Pembine; treasurer, D. McMillan of Cavalier; commissioner of insurance, Ferdinand Leutz, of Morton; attorney general, C. W. Frick, of Nelson; superintendent of public instruction, W. L. Stockwell, of Walsh; commissioner of agriculture and labor, R. J. Turner, of Stark; railroad commissioners, C. J. Lord of Cande, J. F. Shea of Wahpeton and Andrew Schatz of Harvey.

The resolutions adopted pay tribute to the late President McKinley; endorse the state administration; approve the work of the North Dakota representatives in congress; denounce the attacks made upon the administration by the anti-imperialists; abrogate the state and Republican party from the charge that either were dominated by corporations; demand the reform of primary election laws. The only reference to prohibition was in favor of the continued enforcement of the existing laws.

DOGS IN THE CITY.

Few Know the Meaning of a Whistle, Says a Fancier.

A New York dog fancier says that the city dogs would have to learn over a good many things if they were sent to smaller towns or the country. "When you want a dog in a small town or the country," he says, "you whistle. A city dog doesn't know what a whistle means. "You seldom hear a city man whistle to his dog when the dog is untied, and, of course, there is no use in whistling to one that is at the end of a string. Most city dogs are taught to come at the crack of a whip, or the ordinary call, 'Come here.' "The city dog is also familiar with the salutation, 'Hello!' He will frequently pick up his ears at that when he won't notice any other call. "A city dog seldom barks on the street when he is at large. He may make night hideous if he is tied up in a backyard, but rarely in the streets. "The dog course, the principal reason why dogs are seldom seen at large in New York is that there is a law against it, but this law, like a good many others, is violated. You will find quite a number of dogs at large in the upper part of the city, but they seem to know that it is not safe for them to wander elsewhere.

WANTED HER HUSBAND KILLED.

He Had Become a Bargain Hunting Fiend.

The bargain-hunting woman has her counterpart in that strange and wonderful biped, the man who thinks he can shop. He never goes alone, of course—not he! Somebody has made purchases which did not suit him and he has brought the whole family along to show 'em how to do it right. It takes a fussy and a naturally nagging man to succeed in the role of "shopping husband," and one who hasn't any too much business of his own to 'tend to. A really busy man is only too thankful to have his womanfolk keep the details of the retail market away from him.

There is quite a well known elderly man, who lives within a stone's throw of Fifth avenue and not too far up town, and who, having retired from the management of his business while still active, has (so his wife and daughters tell) altogether too much leisure time upon his hands. Not long since this man became convinced that the women folk of the family were being unbecomingly little shopping transactions, so he organized an expedition and descended upon the retail stores with his patient better half, one married daughter and one of the younger generation good-natured enough to sacrifice herself for the good of the family. In and out of the stores they "tramped" and "grandpa" talked, advised and nagged until the three women were objects of extreme solicitude to all the more fortunate shoppers.

Suddenly, in one of those inexplicable hulls which sometimes occur in places where many persons are gathered, when voices cease and the usual bustle is suddenly stilled, a woman who stood behind "grandpa's" party remarked, in what she meant to be a polite sotto voce, to her friend, but which clearly sounded in the ears of the fretted women in front: "If I had a husband who insisted on going shopping with me, I'd kill him!"

"Grandma" seldom loses her temper, even during public exhibitions of her husband's failings; but she lost patience this time. She turned around and said in despair to the speaker: "Madam, if you have the time, would you please kiss this one for me?" And "grandpa" Oh, he heard it all and laughed. He is too caulked in crime to care.—New York Mail and Express.

TREAT YOUR KIDNEYS FOR RHEUMATISM.

When you are suffering from rheumatism, the kidneys must be attended to at once so that they will eliminate the uric acid from the blood. Foley's Kidney Cure is the most effective remedy for this purpose. R. T. Hopkins, of Polaris, Wis., says: "After unsuccessfully doctoring three years for rheumatism with the best doctors, I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and it cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this great medicine." People's Drug Store.

Ishpeming and its Environs.

CAUGHT A VICTIM HERE.

Pickpockets "Touched" One Man in Ishpeming Saturday.

Pickpockets, who have been doing an extensive business in this section, seem to be scattered all through the upper peninsula. Railroad conductors tell of how passengers are being separated from their coin and other mischief is being done where any crowds congregate. Many have been relieved of their money at the railway stations, while waiting for trains, and others have suffered losses after boarding the train.

Saturday morning last an Ishpeming man was robbed of his "wad." He and his wife came to the depot to await the arrival of the Sons of St. George society's excursion train to the copper country. After purchasing a ticket for his wife the man carelessly dropped his purse in a hip pocket. He did not intend to take the train, but merely came over to see his wife off. After the train pulled out he felt for his purse, but it was gone. His loss was less than $10.

Ishpeming people have not been bothered much by sneak thieves and pickpockets this season. The warning given the officers by the detectives with the Buffalo Bill show put the police force on its guard. Several crooks were driven out. Some of the fellows registered at the hotel as Buffalo Bill men. A representative of the show posted the marshal. The crooks knew that they were spotted and they never left the hotel veranda until they were ready to get out of the city.

ISHPEMING'S BIRTH RATE.

Dr. Barnett Furnishes "Vital Statistics" With Interesting Article.

The June number of the Bulletin of Vital Statistics, issued by the state board of health, contained an interesting article relative to the high birth rate here, written by Dr. George G. Barnett, of the Ishpeming hospital. A table was printed in connection with the article, showing the births occurring in Ishpeming from June 1, 1897, to June 1, 1902. It also gave the number of children born of parents of the different nationalities, as well as much other valuable information. The article, exclusive of the table, is as follows:

"Ishpeming, Michigan, claims the highest birth rate, per thousand population, of any city in the country. The statement is proven by the following report, which includes all births occurring in the city since June 1, 1897, at which time the local law requiring the immediate reporting and recording of births went into effect.

"It is obviously impossible to make a report of this kind absolutely correct. We claim, however, that the following is nearer the exact truth than any before published. We have assumed that in a city of 12,000 population, one birth per month might, and probably does, occur which would not be reported on account of carelessness, ignorance or intentional disregard of the law.

"This report includes 2,302 births, all white, and presents points of more than usual interest, notably the unusually high birth rate—at least ten per cent higher than any we have found in other cities.

"During the time included in this report, viz., June 1, 1897, to Jan. 1, 1902, there have been 793 deaths in our city. Deducting the number of deaths from the number of births, 2,302, gives a natural increase of population of 1,509 for fifty-five months, or an average of 27.43 per month, 329 per year or an average yearly natural increase of 27 per cent.

"Concluding, Dr. Barnett said: 'Finally, we think the report fully and thoroughly illustrates the importance, value and necessity of a law requiring the prompt, complete and correct reporting and recording of all births.'

"The doctor's article brought forth the following comment from the editor of the Bulletin: 'In the absence of any effective legislation for securing the proper registration of births in this state, the operation of the local ordinances which have been put into force in some cities is a matter of especial interest. Incidentally, such ordinances show that there is a real demand for reliable records of births, and occasionally a local office may be found that undertakes to make intelligent use of the statistics collected.'

ONE-RING CIRCUS.

Williams' circus will exhibit in Ishpeming next Monday and Tuesday afternoons and evenings. The show is not a large one, though the performances given are said to be very pleasing. The agent of the company spent yesterday billing the city. The entire performance is given in one ring. Professor Williams has been here before. He is a clever horse trainer and one of the strong features of his show is the work of his horses and ponies. Popular prices of admission will be charged.

WOODMEN'S EXCURSION.

The date of the excursion to the Ontonagon range under direction of the degree team of the local camp of the Modern Woodmen has again been changed, this time to Sunday, Aug. 17. The excursion will not now conflict with the Freeman's tournament, which commences on the 27th. The fare for the round trip from all points in this county will be $3.50. A Foresters' society of Calumet will run an excursion to the Ontonagon range the same day and the trains will meet at Keweenaw Bay.

WANT WOOD CHOPPERS.

Thompson & Hodgkins, liverymen of this city, advertise in this issue for wood choppers. They can give steady employment for the next year or so to twenty or more men. They own a large tract of hardwood seven or eight miles west of this city, and have already started cutting. The rate of pay offered is $1.25 per cord, which should be an inducement to men who want work of that kind. Good choppers can make big money.

MOUNTAIN CIVIL SERVICE.

Why the Wise Man of His Region Failed on His Original Essay.

Away up in the western part of this state a civil service examination was recently held for the position of mail carrier for a rural free delivery route. As such examinations are always advertised for some time ahead, the population in and around the village of B— was considerably stirred up over the event. A circus or an election would have scarcely evoked more comment, and for hours at a time the sturdy mountaineers would discuss the approaching and all-absorbing examination.

But the wonder of the whole matter was the numerous applicants who signified their desire to enter the contest. Without regard to intelligence, education, race, color or previous condition of servitude, they, one and all, girded up their loins and marched forth to battle for civil service honors. The followers of Peter the Hermit were not more zealous in their desire to get at the throats of the infidel Moslems than were this band of mountaineers to get a whack at that examination. They, of course, had no idea what the nature of it would be. But a majority of them having at one time or another hoodwinked and outwitted the agents of Uncle Sam from another department, felt confident of their ability to do likewise on this occasion.

At last the eventful day, or rather the day before the eventful day, arrived, and with it came the post office inspector who was to conduct the examination. He was a smart, hustling, business sort of a little fellow, and gave every indication of being able to answer questions as well as to propound them. At any rate his ability in this direction was soon put to the test.

Among the numerous aspirants for civil service honors was one King, who was supposed to be the best posted man on general topics in that section of the country. He was the leading wag and wit of the village. When King saw the inspector his heart gave a great leap of joy. He was, in the estimation of the modest King, a soft snap. King would squeeze him as dry as a lemon—would pump him until he should make known every question to be asked at the approaching examination. So, immediately after supper, with this ulterior design in view, the redoubtable King sought out the dapper little inspector. He found him at his room, and as may be expected under the circumstances, was made heartily welcome.

In reply to several questions, Mr. King was politely informed that the examination would be practically confined to reading, writing and arithmetic. In addition, however, each applicant would be required to write an essay on a subject to be selected by the examiner. Right here was King's opportunity! He made his grand stand play! He felt certain that he could distance the whole community on the three "R's"; and if he could but show up well on the essay the prize would assuredly be his. Carefully concealing his agitation, therefore, he modestly inquired if the inspector could give him an idea as to the probable subject of the sketch.

"Oh, yes," replied the inspector, "something on the order of the Southern Railway, the Blue Ridge Mountains or the life of some eminent man, say, for instance, Abraham Lincoln."

King was delighted. If there was one point in his character upon which he prided himself more than another it was his ability to read the minds and divine the thoughts of others. Something in the voice, in the eyes and in the manner of the inspector gave him dead away. "The subject of that essay," chuckled King to himself, "is as certain to be Abraham Lincoln as grass is to grow in the spring." Prudently keeping his thought to himself, however, the wary King thanked the inspector cordially and bade him a very good night.

At 12 o'clock that night King was writing for dear life by the light of a kerosene lamp; at 1 o'clock he was still at it toot and nail; it was the same at 2 and 3, and not until his clock struck the hour of 4 did he rest from his labors and seek repose.

The examination was, of course, held behind closed doors, and not until it was concluded could anyone on the outside learn anything of its details. When the applicants came marching forth King was among them, but instead of the triumphant leer which everyone expected to see on his countenance his looks betokened despondency and disappointment. Upon being gently questioned by an onlooker, he broke forth into a storm of angry invective.

"It's a damned outrage! a damned ornery outrage! An eternal low down thieving Yankee trick!" he howled, getting hotter and madder all the time. At length a friend led him away from the crowd until he could cool off. When his composure was restored he returned and gave the following account of himself.

"You see, boys, when I axed that blamed inspector about that 'ere assay, as he called it, that was that about him which as good as said that old Abe Lincoln was the chap what we would write about, and he can say what he dernd please, but that ornery sneek knowed I thought so, and he let me go on with out telling me better. Well, I went straight home and looked up a book called 'Life of Abraham Lincoln,' which my old 'oman bought from a peddler about ten years ago. I tuk this book and went to work. I'd read a little bit, then wrote a little bit, and by 4 o'clock in the morning I had the neatest, purtiest piece writ that you ever seed. I allow it would make any man in North Cal'ny cry like a baby to read it. So with my assay, or whatever the dernd thing is called, I went to the examination. Then what happened? Why, that damned, dirty, ornery sneek of an inspector, instead of telling us to write about Abe Lincoln, axed us to each furnish him a short article about George Washington, a man whom nobody in these mountains knowed anything about. I tell you it was a shame! A damned shame!"

"But did you not write a sketch of the life of Washington?" asked a spectator. "Oh, I started one," replied King, "but all I could remember about him were that he were killed at the battle of Waterloo, so I tore it up at the last minute." So saying and still uttering curses not loud but deep, Mr. King wended his way homeward, a sadder though wiser man.—(Kaleigh News and Observer.)

THE HORSE DID IT. How a Young Missourian Got His Appointment to West Point.

One of the recent graduates of West Point tells this story: "I fell in with an old army officer after the exercises. He looked me over and asked me a good many questions. Among others he asked how I came to be appointed, and I told that it came about in the usual way.

"A recommendation does not necessarily mean merit," he said. "I assented to this. 'I do not think that passing an examination always means merit,' he added as a crusher. 'I said I supposed not. I had resolved that I would not violate any of the rules by getting into an argument with an old regular, now on the retired list.

"I knew a young man who got here," he continued, "just after the civil war, because he was mentioned by the commanding officer in an engagement, for bravery, and the youngster never intended to be brave—he did it because he did not know what he was doing, or because he could not help it. He is dead now, and I do not mind telling you about it.

"He was at headquarters in the army of the Potomac, and as he was a good sort of fellow, he got in with a general of one of the divisions who lived pretty high. He and the young man went on a bat on one occasion. Not to speak disrespectfully of the dead, the young man got as drunk as a sailor on shore leave.

"While he was in that condition the division got orders to go to the front and this young fool was put in the saddle and told to go in the other direction. But the engagement came on quickly and the horse on which he sat, being like Job's charger, smelled the battle and turning, dashed into the thick of the fight.

"The young fool who rode him had just enough sense to hang on and the horse plunged and neighed into the fray. It was a miracle that horse and rider came out of it alive.

"The commander of the division witnessed what I related, and in his report to Grant he made special mention of the daring of the fellow. The result was that the fellow was appointed a cadet. He was a graduate, I believe, of the Missouri university before he went into the army, so he was able to pass here.

"But what I want to impress upon you, young man, is this, if this fellow had not been drunk he would have kept his horse from being so reckless. And in that case he might not have been mentioned for bravery, and, consequently, he would not have been appointed a cadet.

"He was a good fellow—peace to his soul—but he owed his education by the government to his horse."

"And to getting drunk," I added. "Well," said the old regular, "you know what Lincoln said when somebody told him Grant got drunk."

"And with that he turned away, evidently satisfied with his lecture."—New York Sun.

NOT CLOSING PROMPTLY.

Some Merchants Not Living Up to the Early Closing Agreement.

The members of the clerks' organization of Negaunee frequently receive complaints from merchants who are not satisfied with the manner in which a few of the store keepers are observing the early closing agreement. So far as can be learned the stores are closed promptly one evening a week, when all business suspends at 6 o'clock. It is on the other nights of the week that the shopkeepers complained of are negligent. The matter was discussed at a meeting of the clerks' association last Monday evening, at which time it was decided to ask the business men to be more prompt in locking their doors.

Last winter when the merchants held several meetings before coming to a definite understanding as to closing at 6 o'clock, it was practically decided to add another night to the early list after the Fourth. Nothing has been heard of this and the clerks are wondering if the present arrangement is to continue, or if one more night will be included in the 6 o'clock closing.

TOURNAMENT MATTERS.

Plans for the fence, seats and necessary buildings to be erected at the tournament track have been completed and the contract for the construction work will soon be awarded. It is the wish of the executive committee that the work be completed at least a week before the tournament opens.

At the meeting of the committee held Monday evening a communication was received from Saul Stearns, who is asking that their canvas be rented for the tournament. The committee decided not to accept the canvas at any price, as it might be considerably damaged if used. A high board fence will be erected and the lumber used will be sold at the conclusion of the tournament.

Applications for gambling privileges are still being received by the committee, but no games of chance will be run here. Big money has been offered by some with "sure games," but if they offered ten times as much they would be kept out.

A CHARITABLE ACT.

Captain Samuel Mitchell has given Andrew Lindquist a contract to enlarge the house owned and occupied by Ben Richards, who has been crippled for several years past. Mr. Mitchell was recently advised by a person who visited Richards' place that the house was much too small to accommodate the family and his charitable action followed. An upper story will be built, adding three or four rooms, and other improvements will also be made. Mr. Lindquist will put men to work early in the week and expects to complete the addition in less than a month.

Mr. Richards was injured some years ago in one of the mines of the city. Since then he has been absolutely helpless, his spine being affected. He has a large family and all his children are small.

LOCAL LAONICS.

Andy Seass returned from his camp near Little Lake yesterday morning. Frank V. Sauer is camping down two or three weeks. Mrs. Katharine Brand and Mrs. M. E. Ariand are visitors at the Kirkwood camp this week.

Dr. J. H. Hudson has received plans from Architect Chubb of Chicago for the hospital he proposes building in this city. Bids will be asked for soon.

John Allen is suffering from a fractured shoulder. He was working on the Lake Superior Iron company's Iron King steam shovel and fell from the platform.

Edward Sues, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sues, has returned from Milwaukee, where he spent the past year attending school. He will go down again in September.

An ore train on the Chicago & North-western line left the track near Trombley Tuesday. Three or four cars went into the ditch. A wrecking train from Escanaba repaired the mischief.

The dwelling rooms in D. McDonald's opera house block are now provided with parquet floors. The material has arrived and Andrew Lindquist will put men to work on the job within the next few days.

Gideon's Minstrels will hold the boards at McDonald's opera house tonight. The attendance should be large, as the troupe give a first-class performance. The prices of admission will be ten, twenty, thirty and fifty cents.

Large three-sheet posters, advertising a few of the principal features of the firemen's tournament to be held here next month, will be issued soon. The posters will be sent to every city and town in the upper peninsula.

All the trophies to be given the winning teams at the firemen's tournament have been ordered and will be displayed in J. M. Perkins' store window as soon as they arrive. In the neighborhood of $1,000 will be expended on them.

A number of young people of this city attended a hop given last night at the Anderson hall in Ishpeming. The orchestra traveling with Gideon's Minstrels furnished the music. The dancers returned home on the street car line at an early hour this morning.

HUCKLEBERRIES RATHER SCARCE.

Crop This Year Will Not Be as Large as in Past Seasons.

From present indications the blueberry crop will not be as large as it has been in former years. The berries, it is said, are small and more scattered than usual. A number of Negaunee people have been to the fields in the vicinity of Harvey and Sands during the past week, locating places where their tents may be pitched.

A. C. Wead, who buys berries every season, has gone to Harvey to remain as long as the berries last. Barney Goodman will also buy berries this season. He went down yesterday, but will not begin business until next week. He has visited the berry fields and has stated that the crop would be only fair.

The price at present offered is $2.50 per bushel. This is considered good money, as it is a poor picker who cannot gather a bushel or more in a day.

BROKE THROUGH THE BRIDGE.

Miller Bros' farm team broke through the bridge on the county road leading to their place east of the city last Monday. The bridge has been in use for the past eight or nine years and it appeared to be in good shape. Just as the horses were passing over it the stringers gave out, and the animals went down. They were hitched to a hay rack, but this remained on the road above. It took some time to get the horses out. Street Commissioner Thomas was notified, and at once had started the work of rebuilding the bridge.

CHARLES GRIFFEY MARRIED.

Charles Griffey, only son of Editor C. G. Griffey of The Iron Herald, was married recently to Miss Margaret Mae Hewett of Maple Rapids, Mich. Charles is working for the Detroit Sugar company at Rochester, Mich. They will reside at the latter place.

SONG THAT KILLED SINGERS.

Two Died While Singing "Good-Bye, Dolly Gray."

The popular song of "Dolly Gray" has been connected with it two sad and striking tragedies. Not long ago a promising young actor fell dead on the stage of the Lyceum theater, in Birmingham, England, just after finishing the refrain, which, as everyone knows, begins with the line:

"Good-bye, Dolly, I must leave you." Now news comes by cable of an occurrence equally pathetic which took place at Southend a few weeks back. A child actress was singing "Dolly Gray" at a place of entertainment in the seaside town on a Monday night. On Tuesday she was too ill to appear, and on Wednesday was dead.

Few in the musical world forget the shock caused a few years back by the tragic death of the famous contralto, Madam Patey. The vocalist had created an immense sensation at a concert in the provinces, and in response to a vociferous encore sang the pathetic Scottish ballad of "The Banks of Allan Water." Madame Patey gave the last line—"There a corpse lay she"—with thrilling expression, walked from the platform, and straightway fell dead.

The cause of the coincidence was much commented upon at the time. Even more striking was the death of an opera singer in Melbourne in 1897. The opera for the night was Gounod's immortal "Faust," and the singer was cast for Mephistopheles, the evil spirit.

The last act came in due course. Poor Mephistopheles found among the angels the peace denied her on earth, and the profligate Faust was about to suffer the penalty of his misdeeds. Mephistopheles summoned him to the infernal regions. The trap on the stage opened and the Evil One and his dupes sank from sight. When the curtain had fallen, those about the theatre were horror-stricken to learn that the representative of Mephistopheles had died suddenly during the descent of the trap.

There is a well-known instance of a song which killed not the body but the mind of the singer. A certain promising young vocalist was once with a comic opera company, playing a repertoire of well-known musical pieces. He made such a hit in a patter song that he toured in the part season after season, his rendering of the ditty in question at length mounting up into a number expressed by four figures. The deadly monotony was too much for the excitable, artistic mind. The poor young fellow became quite mad, and had to be removed to an asylum.—Chicago Tribune.

MALARIA An Invisible Enemy to Health

Means bad air, and whether it comes from the low lands and marshes of the country, or the filthy sewers and drain pipes of the cities and towns, its effect upon the human system is the same.

These atmospheric poisons are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood, and the foundation of some long, debilitating illness is laid. Malaria. Noxious gases and unhealthy matter collect in the system because the liver and kidneys fail to act, and are poured into the blood current until it becomes so polluted and sluggish that the poisons literally break through the skin, and carbuncles, boils, abscesses, ulcers and various eruptions of an indolent character appear, depleting the system, and threatening life itself.

The germs and poisons that so oppress and weaken the body and destroy the life-giving properties of the blood, rendering it thin and watery, must be overcome and carried out of the system before the patient can hope to get rid of Malaria and its effects.

S. S. S. does this and quickly produces an entire change in the blood, reaching every organ and stimulating them to vigorous, healthy action. S. S. S. possesses not only purifying but tonic properties, and the general health improves, and the appetite increases almost from the first dose. There is no Mercury, Potash, Arsenic or other mineral in S. S. S. It is strictly and entirely a vegetable remedy.

Write us about your case, and our physicians will gladly help you by their advice to regain your health. Book on blood and skin diseases sent free.

IS A BUSY PLANT

"PIG" IS SHIPPED ALMOST DAILY

PRODUCT THIS YEAR WILL BE THE BANNER ONE.

Process of Converting the Ore Into Iron Is Interesting Though Extremely Simple—Smoke a Tonic for Weak Lungs.

Business is booming at the Carp River furnace. The company has never handled more ore or turned out a bigger product than at present, and in all departments there is great activity.

Last fall new boilers were installed and the machinery was overhauled and improved to correspond with the increased steam power. At present ten ninety-five cord kilns are being added to the nineteen already in use in order to supply the increasing demand for charcoal.

Shipments of pig iron are being made almost daily by boat and rail to Cleveland, Buffalo and other manufacturing centres.

An Interesting Process.

It is interesting to follow the ore through the various processes to the finished iron product. Mined at a depth of a thousand feet in the mines at Ishpeming, it is loaded onto cars and in twenty-four hours or less arrives at the tramways over the ore stalls in the basement of the furnace plant. Into these bins it is dumped. Afterwards men with carts that hold from 400 to 600 pounds remove it to the point from which it is hoisted to the top of the big stack. It is there handled by a workman who mixes it with the charcoal and "flux" or lime, in the hopper that crowns the stack. The hopper is an inverted cone and into this is placed, first, a layer of charcoal; then on top of this the ore is scattered, and the lime is mixed with it. The use of the lime is for the purpose of removing many of the impurities from the ore, which aside from iron chemically contains seven compounds—silica, magnesia, phosphorus, calcium, magnesium, sulphur and aluminum.

From the hopper the contents fall into the stack proper. There the process of melting takes place. The burning charcoal, being mixed with the ore, places the latter in contact with an intense heat that separates the iron from the other ingredients, and the iron in consequence of being heavier falls to the lower hearth. On the surface of the molten metal lies the cinder that later on being taken out hardens into a light porous mass which has been found very useful in road building. The fire in the stack is kept going by large blowers which, operated by steam power, keep the charcoal flame constantly alive as new material enters the stack.

From the hearth, which takes up about seven feet of the stack height at its base, the molten iron and its cinder are released by greasing the clay which is baked over the opening. Thence the metal runs down a trough into the pig iron moulds. Meanwhile the cinder, which floats on top, is turned aside by a screen into another channel leading outside the building, where it hardens and is broken up into small pieces to be shipped. The iron is allowed to harden, and then is rapidly cooled by the use of water after being taken out of the moulds.

Don't Mind the Smoke.

The charcoal used at the furnace is made in the kilns, near by. Only hardwood is used in its manufacture; soft wood will do, but it is not procurable in sufficient quantities. When the present equipment of nineteen kilns is all in commission the entire section resembles from a distance a small volcano in action, the smoke issuing from twenty or thirty holes at the base of each kiln completely enveloping everything. The employees say they do not suffer from working in the smoke, and jokingly remark that none of their number ever die of consumption. On the whole, they claim that in spite of the heat and smoke, their life is much preferable to that of the miner, who spends his work-day underground.

Head Chemist F. D. Fowler conducted a representative of The Mining Journal about the plant. Speaking of the operation of smelting, he said: "There is one process in smelting that ore mined in Michigan does not require. Some ore needs roasting before it is put into the stack. This is a process gone through with to remove the large quantities of sulphur which that particular ore contains, this notably being the case in England. Here the process is very simple. The stack is practically divided into three divisions: the lower or hearth is devoted to the fusion of the mixture in the stack above; the middle is a sort of concentration chamber, and the space above forms a place where the lime and coal are placed, making a kiln and oven combined. I make a test of each carload of ore before it leaves the ear and then of the iron when the smelting is completed."

Waste Gas Used for Fuel.

The gas formed in the stack, instead of being allowed to escape, is run under the boilers and used for fuel. It takes very little wood or coal in addition to this to run the plant.

During the year the company will run the furnace full blast and expects, owing to the renovation of the plant last spring, to make this year the output the largest in the history of the enterprise.

TO BUILD BIG WAREHOUSE.

Carpenter-Cook Company Leases Portion of Merchandise Dock.

The Carpenter-Cook company, wholesale grocers of Menominee, will soon have a building of its own in Marquette. Ever since the establishment of the branch here, several weeks ago, it has been occupying quarters in the old Pen-dill block on Superior street. These, however, have been found entirely unsuited to the concern's needs, aside from being too remote from the lake shore and the railroad tracks, and Manager Boaz has been on the lookout for a more desirable location.

The company has leased from the South Shore road the east end of the merchandise dock, or that portion which constitutes the extension built on to the wharf some years ago. The section leased by the wholesale house is several hundred feet long and on it a large warehouse is to be constructed. The building will be 200 by 50 feet in dimensions and will contain two floors. The lumber has already been ordered shipped to Marquette from the company's mills at Menominee, and immediately on its receipt the work of erecting the structure will be started, it being very desirable that the warehouse be ready for occupancy at as early a date as possible.

The branch established here is supplying the local trade and as well is filling orders received from all points in the territory east to the Soo. A very satisfactory business is being done, and it is evident that the company is here to stay.

TWENTIETH ANNUAL.

County Fair Will Be in Full Blast for Four Days This Fall.

The county fair to be given this fall by the Agricultural society will be the twentieth annual. The dates are the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th of September, and the fair will not only be in full blast during the day but will be open during the evening as well.

Tuesday, the opening day, will be "everybody's day," as County Clerk Ross calls it. Wednesday has been set aside as "Copper Country day," on which very low rates of fare will be in effect from Houghton county. Thursday will be "Ishpeming day" and Friday, the closing day, will be "Negaunee day." The new City band of Negaunee will furnish music on Wednesday, the Ishpeming band will be in attendance on Thursday and the old Negaunee City band on Friday.

This fall an exceptionally good list of special attractions has been arranged for by Mr. Ross. Included among the performers will be Lionel Legare, the celebrated equilibrist, who will give a thrilling gymnastic exhibition on a big spiral tower. The Langfords, trapeze artists, will also be here to amuse, as will likewise Mons Perry, who comes heralded as the king of the slack wire. "The Grotesque Trio" of celebrated contortionists round out the vaudeville program.

For the horse races, the largest purses ever offered by the society will be hung up, it being the intention to secure the entry of speedy steppers from points outside of the peninsula as well as from those within it. A fireworks display will be given every evening in conjunction with the spiral performance of Lionel Legare, and the grounds will be well illuminated by electric lights. A fifteen-minute service to the grounds will be furnished by the street railway and the South Shore will run trains to the grounds.

SIDNAW'S NEW INDUSTRY.

Work of Constructing the Plant Has Been Started—Will Cost $20,000.

A gentleman in the city yesterday from Sidnaw informed The Mining Journal that the manufacturing plant which D. A. Hapeman of Earville, Minn., is to build and operate there would go into commission by the end of next month. The new industry will be a shingle mill and box factory, the construction and equipment of which will cost about $20,000, and their erection has already been started.

The main building will be 50 feet long, 40 wide and 24 in height. The boiler room will be 36 by 30 feet in dimensions, the engine room 30 by 30, the fuel room 16 by 30 and the dry kiln 18x75. These last four buildings will be constructed of brick, a fact which is taken to indicate that Mr. Hapeman, realizing the advantages of Sidnaw as a manufacturing point, is preparing in a substantial manner for a long and successful career in the thriving little village. The capacity of the shingle mill will be three hundred thousand daily. The site selected for the plant is on the banks of a pond that covers about twenty acres and has a depth in water of about ten feet. At one end of the pond a dam nearly two hundred feet in length—or, to be exact, 197 feet—is being constructed. A union track to the mill location has been completed by the two railroads.

The power for the plant will be furnished by two engines, one an Erie City engine of 200 horsepower and the other a Chandler & Taylor engine of forty horsepower. This is a capacity considerably more than will be needed at the start to operate the mills, which will require but seventy-five horsepower with the modern machinery to be installed, and the management is arranging to furnish power for the electric lighting of the town, while if desired it is willing to supply fire protection as well. Later Mr. Hapeman will himself have use for much of the surplus power, as it is his intention to add a saw mill to the plant.

The management of the industry has been put into the hands of E. R. Bristol, while, with sales headquarters at Earville, Mr. Hapeman will dispose of the product of the mill and factory. In about two weeks the gentlemen will be ready to contract for shingle belts. The enterprise will give employment to a good-sized force of men and naturally the people of Sidnaw are much pleased that the town has been selected as the location of the plant.

The Metropolitan is looking for a hustler to take charge of a section of Marquette and do their collecting. Fine opportunity for a man of ambition to work up in the business. Salary on commission. Call at the company's office in the Harlow block, before 9 a. m. (7-22-34-0)

BIG PICNIC TODAY

SWEDISH CROWN WILL ENTERTAIN AT FAIR GROUNDS.

ADMISSION WILL BE FREE TO ALL

STREET CARS WILL MAKE TRIP EVERY FIFTEEN MINUTES.

Horse Racing, Sports of Various Kinds, a Greased Pig Chase, Music and Dancing Are Features on the Amusement Program.

The members of the Swedish Crown society and their friends will picnic at the fair grounds today, morning and evening. The admission will be free, and there will be plenty of amusement for all the persons who attend. Among the features will be a couple of horse races, and included in the program will be foot races and other contests in which the boys and younger men will participate. A chase for a greased pig will also assist in entertaining the crowd. In addition to the sports, there will be music and dancing, and several kinds of refreshments will be served. Beginning at 9 o'clock this morning and continuing all day the street cars will leave the corner of Superior and Front streets every fifteen minutes for the grounds.

The Royal Theatre company, which opens an engagement Monday at the Marquette Opera House, is headed by Willard Mack and Maude Leone, two of the cleverest people in stock. Seabolt and Pegg, the managers, have spared neither time nor money in securing the best talent that it was possible to engage and the company is the best that ever appeared at popular prices. The company is not on a plan with the common run of popular priced attractions. It is presented not as a repertoire company, but a traveling stock. Vaudeville features will eliminate all tiresome waits, and the specialties which are introduced are on an order never before attempted in an organization of this kind. The opening bill, "Forget-Me-Not," is the same play in which Mrs. Patrick Campbell made her greatest hit. It gives Miss Leone an excellent opportunity to display some of her beautiful imported gowns, a feature which is always appreciated by the ladies.

The grounds of the Normal school are being graded preparatory to transforming them into a pretty little park. At the south end of the premises the grounds are being levelled and toward the north, in front of the new wing, they are being filled in. With the grading done the plot will be seeded and sodded, and shrubbery will be planted.

The heirs of the estate of the late Henry C. Parke have requested the administrator to pay the claims made by St. Andrews church of Detroit and the Episcopal diocese of Marquette, in order to close the estate. The heirs believe, however, that these pledges of donations were conditional, and that the conditions have not been fulfilled. No provision was made in Mr. Parke's will for either of the pledges.

It has just come to light that the regular Soo delegates to the congressional convention at Marquette secured the big banner which announced that the Young headquarters were at the Clifton, and took it home with them. The banner was cut down by James Thompson, who climbed a pole to get it. Mr. Young visits the Soo, the banner will be strung across the street in front of the Park hotel.

Four years ago the United States Fish commission began to plant in Lake Superior the steelhead salmon of the Pacific. It was believed that this salt water fish would thrive in the fresh, cold waters of the great lake, and fish of this kind weighing five pounds have recently been caught, a few in the waters adjacent to Marquette. As modified in the lake, they were well shaped and firm, with flesh of a fine red color and delicate flavor. The planting will proceed rapidly.

With the adjournment of the Maas mine spur condemnation case last evening, two days' testimony had been taken, a number of witnesses having been examined in the interest of each side. It is expected the evidence will be concluded today and that the jury will formally begin the consideration of its verdict.

The officials of the local land office are advised from Washington that the commissioner of the general land office has sustained their ruling in the homestead contest case of John B. Belanger vs. the heirs of John B. Lafontaine, in which they decided in favor of Belanger. The contest involved eighty acres in Baraga county.

The Republican convention which will nominate the choice of the party for state senator from this district will be held at Munising in the course of a month or two, according to M. M. Duncan of Ishpeming and Tom Hanna of Iron Mountain, members of the committee. M. H. Moriarty of Crystal Falls seems to have a clear field for the nomination.

The grounds at the Normal school are being graded preparatory to transforming them into a pretty little park. At the south end of the premises the grounds are being levelled and toward the north, in front of the new wing, they are being filled in. With the grading done the plot will be seeded and sodded, and shrubbery will be planted.

The heirs of the estate of the late Henry C. Parke have requested the administrator to pay the claims made by St. Andrews church of Detroit and the Episcopal diocese of Marquette, in order to close the estate. The heirs believe, however, that these pledges of donations were conditional, and that the conditions have not been fulfilled. No provision was made in Mr. Parke's will for either of the pledges.

It has just come to light that the regular Soo delegates to the congressional convention at Marquette secured the big banner which announced that the Young headquarters were at the Clifton, and took it home with them. The banner was cut down by James Thompson, who climbed a pole to get it. Mr. Young visits the Soo, the banner will be strung across the street in front of the Park hotel.

Four years ago the United States Fish commission began to plant in Lake Superior the steelhead salmon of the Pacific. It was believed that this salt water fish would thrive in the fresh, cold waters of the great lake, and fish of this kind weighing five pounds have recently been caught, a few in the waters adjacent to Marquette. As modified in the lake, they were well shaped and firm, with flesh of a fine red color and delicate flavor. The planting will proceed rapidly.

A lively runaway yesterday morning furnished considerable excitement in the downtown district. A horse and wagon owned by a Chocey farmer composed the outfit. The horse ran up Superior from Lake street, turned up Front and finally came to grief by slipping on the corner crosswalk at the corner of Spring and dashing up against the telephone pole and the hydrant. It was thought the animal was badly injured, but on being helped to its feet it walked off as if nothing unusual had happened.

The street committee of the common council is seriously considering the idea of sprinkling a street or two with oil as an experiment in keeping down the dust. Only one or two applications a season, it is said, are necessary, and the method is much cheaper than the use of water. The oil also serves the purpose of preserving the roadway, forming a coating which keeps the surface intact for an extended period. The experiment will be tried on a couple of the newly-built streets. Eighteen barrels of oil will be required for four blocks and the entire cost will be under $50.

Eber B. Ward, son of the late Captain Eber B. Ward of Detroit, is suing for divorce before Judge Haney in Chicago. Mrs. Ward was formerly Miss Victorine Amelia Heralut of Toronto, and is ten years her husband's senior. The marriage was arranged in 1889 by relatives in the belief that a wife's influence would overcome young Ward's wild and tendencies. Mr. and Mrs. Ward lived happily in Paris three or four years and twins were born to them, but Ward finally separated from his wife and settled an income of $12,000 per year on her. Mrs. Ward and her children reside in Toronto with Mrs. Ward's parents.
