John Erickson of Denver, Colo., for many years a resident of this city, arrived here yesterday. It is fifteen years since his last visit to the town, and there thorough and careful official investiga are few people here now whom he remembers. In his younger days Mr. Erickson was an expert ball player. Some twenty years ago he and his brother Will, now deceased, played fast ball on the Ishpeming team. John has been successful in the west. He is at present interested in several of Colorado's gold mines and during the past few years he has been buying and selling claims. He left Denver in May and since then he has been traveling through different parts of the United States, taking in all the principal cities in the west He will remain here a few days.

The liniment bottle and flannel strip are familiar objects in nearly every household. They are the weapons that have been used for generations to fight old Rheumatism, and are about as effective in the battle with this giant disease as the blunderbuss of our forefathers would be in modern warfare.

Rheumatism is caused by an acid, sour condition of the blood. It is filled with acrid, irritating matter that settles in the joints, muscles and nerves, and liniments and oils nor nothing else applied externally can dislodge these gritty, corroding particles. They were deposited there by the blood and can be reached only through the blood. Rubbing with liniments sometimes relieve temporarily the aches and pains, but these are only symptoms which are liable to return with every change of the weather; the real disease lies deeper, the blood and system are infected. Rheumatism cannot be radically and permanently cured until the blood has been purified, and no remedy does this so thoroughly and promptly as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and sends a stream of rich, strong blood to the affected parts, which dissolves and washes out all foreign materials, and the sufferer obtains happy relief from the torturing pains. S. S. S. contains no potash or other mineral, but is a perfect vegetable blood purifier and most exhilarating tonic. Our physicians will advise, without charge, all who write about their case, and we will send free our special book on Rheumatism THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

ANCIENT TORTURE

How it has Been Revived in Modern Times.

An ancient method of poisoning criminals was to force them to swallow quantities of bull's blood. Bull's blood is really no poison at all. Yet the prisoner usually died in agony, caused by the coagulation or hardening of the bull's blood in the stomach. The pressure of this solid mass on the vital organs almost always resulted fatally
