MUSCOVITE TROOPS LONG POURED INTO DISPUTED TERRITORY.

United States Will Act Individually in Protecting, but It Is Feared the Dismemberment of China at Least Is at Hand.

St. Petersburg, April 24 (via London, April 26).—It has been known here for several days past that the Russian government was contemplating a diplomatic move at Peking calculated to arouse the indignation of Japan, Great Britain and the United States. This move is intended to legalize what is already a practical occupation of Manchuria. That Russia is disposed to back up its diplomatic move by force of arms is indicated by the presence of General Kouropatkin, the minister of war, in the far east. Kouropatkin has reorganized the Russian military staff in that quarter, placing it under the rule of Commander-in-Chief Sahbutch, one of the ablest of Russian fighting generals of the Skobeleff and Kouropatkin school.

Troops of colonists have poured incessantly into Manchuria since the opening of the Trans-Siberian railway. The preparations leaving no doubt of the government's purpose to link the Baltic with the Pacific by carrying the Trans-Siberian system to Port Arthur. Russia's startling proposal may be taken as a measure that has arisen out of the feeling against Great Britain, which is opposing Muscovite expansion wherever the two countries meet. That feeling almost reached boiling point when it became apparent that Downing street was interested in the Bagdad railway only to be dropped the moment it was discovered that for the time being there was no danger that the line would be constructed.

Is Defiance to Britain and Japan.

London, April 26.—Intense anxiety prevails in Chinese official circles with regard to Russia's latest step in the far east. Speaking today a distinguished mandarin said: "There are two things—either England and Japan must prevent the consummation of Russia's astounding plans or else disclose to the world the fact that the Anglo-Japanese alliance is an empty bluff. Everybody knows that the alliance was a warning to Russia not to persist in its attempt to incorporate Manchuria in Siberia and thus advance the Muscovite political and military system a long way in the direction of Peking.

"There is not the slightest doubt that the treaty was meant to apply to China. Diplomatic Russia has been escaping from a situation that threatens war, may pretend that Manchuria is no part of China; but the world will estimate such pretensions at their true worth. In a word, we appear to be on the threshold of developments that will show of what sort of stuff the Anglo-Japanese alliance is made."

It was quite apparent that this mandarin took a gloomy view of the situation. He declared that if Russia's demands should not be resisted the whole Chinese question would probably be reopened and the dismemberment of the empire begun. "The Muscovite seems determined to undermine the whole international attitude with regard to the distressed empire. That attitude represented a self-denying ordinance guaranteeing China's integrity. The great trouble about opposing Russia in the far east is that she fights socially and economically while the other powers fight diplomatically. She occupies territory with her people, trade and buildings and to get her out it is necessary to tear up her civilization by the roots."

Germany Are Not Moved.

Berlin, April 26.—Russia's latest demands on China are no surprise to the German government. Some indications even exist that the foreign office here was privy to Russia's purposes in advance and expressed indifference to them. This is in exact accord with the policy to resist Russia in nothing in which she is really in earnest. The constant expression in government quarters concerning Manchuria ever since Chancellor von Bulow's declarations in the reichstag two years ago has been that Germany has no interest there and hence that Germany is simply in a position of calm observance.

Von Bulow might find it consistent with this attitude to join with other powers in expressing the hope that trade will have freedom in Manchuria. Russia would not object to Germany's participation in such representation. What Germany will not do is to join in any energetic pressure at Peking to prevent China from yielding on every point. The expectation here is that all kinds of written protests from Great Britain and the United States will especially be lodged at the Russian foreign office and that these will be replied to with ample courtesy and reasonableness but that the correspondence will be the only satisfaction the United States and Great Britain will get for their open-door demands. Germany is recommended to Russian mastery in Manchuria.

United States to Act Singly.

Washington, April 26.—Secretary Hay yesterday and today has had a number of conferences with various foreign diplomats relative to the Manchurian situation and has heard from President Roosevelt. These conferences and exchanges are all preliminary to the preparation of a protest which is to be made against the Russian demands, but it is not yet clear what form this will take. The protest, however, must be directed not to Russia, but to China, who will be warned that the nations which sign the protest will not look with favor upon any action by China that will alienate Chinese territory or will confer special advantage upon one nation (meaning Russia) over others.

The tone of the press articles from the European capitals has done much to depress officials here who have labored so long to preserve the integrity of China. It begins to appear to them that Manchuria is hopelessly lost to China and the best that can be done now is to save as much as possible from the wreck and, therefore, the effort will probably be made to procure from Russia a binding promise that the powers will not be entirely deprived of the right to exploit Manchuria commercially. It may be possible to secure the opening of one or two ports, such as was proposed in the pending treaty between China and the United States which will probably have to be amended in view of these last developments. The fear is expressed that the Russian movement will be copied by other nations and that Germany will proceed to extend her sphere of influence in the Shantung peninsula, while France will overlap the borders of Tonquin and Russianize a considerable part of South China.

It is made quite plain, to avoid a misunderstanding of dispatches from foreign capitals referring to the United States, that this government will join in no general protest against Russian action. The state department policy is so clearly defined in such matters that the officials assume that it is understood that whatever action the United States takes will be individual.

Conference With Count Cassini.

American interest in the subjects of a conference this afternoon between Secretary Hay and Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, which occurred at Secretary Hay's house and lasted nearly an hour. It is denied that the ambassador brought official advice from his government, but the fact he is still suffering from an attack of lumbago, which has confined him to the embassy for several weeks, is evidence of the urgency of the call.

Steps already have been taken by the state department to ascertain the true inwardness of Russia's latest move. Ambassador McCormick, at St. Petersburg, has been instructed by cable to present to the Russian foreign office a note which, while diplomatically known as one of inquiry, is in substance a strong protest against Russia's demands. (A) Instructions also have been sent to Minister Conger, at Peking, to express to the Chinese authorities the dissatisfaction of the United States with Russia's demands and our hope that China will not accede to them.

CZAR'S MOVE NOT SURPRISING.

Foreshadowed by Senator Beveridge More Than a Year Ago.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 26.—Senator Albert J. Beveridge, who two years ago visited Manchuria, foreshadowed in a series of articles that he wrote on his return to this country almost exactly such a situation as now prevails.

In an interview today, Senator Beveridge said: "Russia's latest move should surprise nobody. For three years and more nothing has been clearer to a careful student than that Russia intends to occupy Manchuria permanently. "Of course Russia is not going to give up the dominion which the money and her soldiers' blood has transformed from a region of savagery to a region of law and order. From personal observation and from conversations with those who knew, I estimated, in 1901, that Russia had in Manchuria and in the southeast corner of Siberia, about Vladivostok and generally within three weeks' striking distance of Japan, not less than 150,000 troops. I should imagine that if this estimate is correct, it has since that time been swollen to perhaps 175,000 men.

"If Russia permanently maintains Manchuria and it becomes part of the Russian empire, the czar is made master of the whole far eastern situation; and Japan thereby loses an advantage which will be hard—indeed, impossible—for her ever by any means to overcome. "Our own interests in the matter consist in the fact that we are perhaps the largest shippers of cotton and other goods into Manchuria. It is a matter of perfect indifference to us who controls Manchuria, so long as her ports are open to our goods.

"Should a conflict come, as in the long run it is bound to come, it is likely that France and Germany will be found allied to Russia. This whole movement involves the entire Chinese empire.

"Russia has merely taken another of her determined steps. Whether it will result in a serious conflict nobody can tell, but that it will so result in the course of years, few who have seriously studied this question can doubt. " meantime, on our part, a firm, but careful and conservative statesmanship is required. The president, whose mastery of foreign affairs is unusual, can be depended upon to do the right thing in safeguarding American interests without embroiling us in a conflict."

WAS FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Aurora, Ill., April 26.—An autopsy was held today on the body of Thomas Snow, mayor of Batavia, who was found dead last night in a room in the Hotel Schütz in this city. The result of the post mortem was withheld, but friends of Snow attribute his death to kidney trouble. Mayor Snow was one of the principal owners of the United States Wind Engine & Pump company of Batavia and was worth a million dollars.

FARMERS KILL HIM

COLORED MAN LYNCHED BY A MOB IN ILLINOIS.

BODY IS RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

ATTACK ON NEGRO COLONY FOLLOWS THE EXECUTION.

Laborers Engaged in Construction Work and Living in Tents Are Those Assaulted and Many Are Wounded Before the Crowd Disperses.

Thibes, Ills., April 26.—An unknown negro, aged about seventeen, was lynched by a mob of farmers near the village of Santa Fe this afternoon for attempting to assault the ten-year-old daughter of Farmer Branson Davis, and this was followed by a general onslaught upon a colony of negroes living in tents who were engaged in bridge construction work. The tents were burned and many negroes were shot, but so far as known none were killed. Hundreds of shots were exchanged, but no whites were hurt. Branson Davis lives half a mile east of Santa Fe, a small village near here. While his ten-year-old daughter was in the barn yard today, the negro assaulted her. She ran, but he seized her and her screams brought her mother to the rescue and the negro fled. The officers were notified and were soon in pursuit. The news of the assault spread and resulted in a mob starting in search of the assailant.

The negro, who had been captured by the officers, was being brought to Santa Fe when the mob of farmers was met. A scuffle resulted, during which the farmers secured the negro. He confessed his crime, but begged for mercy. Without a word he started toward the new bridge being constructed across the Mississippi, where he was hanged to a tree without ceremony or delay. After the body had dangled in the air a few moments it was riddled with bullets. The officers endeavored to disperse the mob, but their efforts were unavailing. A rush was made for a colony of several hundred negroes employed on bridge construction work and living in tents near the bridge. The negroes saw the mob coming and opened fire. A fusillade followed and the whites fled with effect, as a considerable number of negroes were shot down. None of the whites were injured. It is not known how seriously the negroes were wounded.

Santa Fe is a village in the extreme southwestern portion of Illinois. A Negro Strung Up in Texas.

Long View, Tex., April 26.—News reached here today of the lynching at Carthage last night of a negro named Hensley-Johnson, charged with criminal assault on a four-year-old white girl of that place.

PEASANTS DEFIED THE MONKS.

Closing of Unauthorized Convent Resisted With Serious Results.

Paris, April 26.—In the provinces Sunday was marked by numerous disorderly occurrences resulting from the dispersing of unauthorized congregations. The most serious disorder is reported from Laroche-Sur-Eiron, where 500 peasants, who were guarding a convent in which the monks had barricaded themselves, and severely injured three magistrates who came to the convent with officers to carry out the order of the court and close the convent. The peasants finally drove the magistrates away. The latest dispatches announce the arrival of two companies of infantry and 100 cavalrymen on the scene.

RAID BY WHITE-CAPS.

Two White Girls and a Colored Man Whipped in Indiana.

Bloomington, Ind., April 26.—Thirty-eight men early today broke into a house on East Ninth street and whipped Rebecca and Ida Stephens, white, aged eighteen and sixteen, and whipped Joe Shively, colored, aged fifty. The Stephens girls lived with their mother in the same house in which Shively had a room. The negro was whipped with barbed wire and was hit in the eye with brass knuckles. The older girl was whipped with barbed wire, but neither is dangerously injured. Many of the white-cappers were recognized and warrants will be sworn out for their arrest.

UNION EXPELS MEMBERS.

Chicago, April 26.—In order to bring peace the teamsters' union tonight decided to accept the findings of the Chicago board of arbitration and sacrifice eleven of its members by expelling them. These teamsters, who went out in sympathy with the striking employees of the gas company, had refused to take out the gas company's drip wagons when ordered by the officers of their national union to do so.

MORMON TO APPEAL TO KAISER.

Berlin, April 26.—Hugh J. Cannon, a Mormon missionary, intends to appeal to Emperor William for permission for the Mormons to remain in Germany, hoping his majesty's policy of religious tolerance may include the Mormons.

CLEMENT, MINING EXPERT, DEAD.

Saltillo, Mex., April 26.—Victor Clements of Salt Lake City, a mining expert of international fame, is dead here. He underwent a surgical operation yesterday and his death today followed.

RELIANCE IS SPEEDY.

Given Good Account of Herself in the Builder's Trial Trip.

Bristol, R. I., April 26.—In a fifteen-mile boat to windward down Narragansett bay, out to sea, and a long run before the wind and back to her moorings here, the Reliance, the new aspirant for the honor of defending the America's cup, was given her first builder's trial yesterday. At its conclusion, C. O. Sylvester, the managing member of the syndicate of owners, said that he was much pleased with the new boat.

In a twelve knot so'wester, whether close hauled in a beat down the bay, or on a broad reach with the wind abeam, or running free from under the spinnaker, Reliance rendered a splendid account of herself, and gave a splendid promise of being a formidable candidate in the trials for the choice of a cup defender.

The performance of the boat demonstrated that despite the apprehension that she would be still because of her supposed scowlike features, she hoisted readily, and easily to her sailing lines in a very moderate breeze. Once down to these lines she refused to heel further, giving evidence of the power which her broad flat floored hull was designed to impart. She was quick to come about, averaging twenty-seven seconds in stays. She made some fuss under her bow at times and steered with only one man at the helm.

There was a light air at the start in the morning, but the sails then and in the heavier breeze after worked satisfactorily. In the afternoon there was more weight in the wind, and as the boat opened out into the ocean she encountered a small sea and her bow began soon to make it fly. It did not have any perceptible effect on her speed. Passing Beaver Tail Light she stood out to sea, about five miles by Brenton's reef lightship, sailing with the wind abeam, on the starboard tack and going like a veritable witch.

Other Craft Left Behind.

The fastest and most spectacular run on the day was on the reach back to the entrance of the bay. Five inch canvas was drawing, and the Reliance was making a white lather on the water under her lee bow and along the lee rail which was just awash. The racer rushed by the lightship at a gait which would have taxed the speed of a steam yacht. Approaching the entrance to the bay she took the wind more on her quarter and the spinnaker was run up and broken out for the first time. The operation occupied one minute and twenty seconds. The new sail added considerably to her speed.

The press tug, which was following at a rate of nine knots an hour, was unable to maintain a sufficient pace and the Stubbard and Naomi were left astern. While running up the east passage to her moorings the wind gradually died away. The Reliance carried her spinnaker until about four miles from Bristol, when it was smothered promptly and in a sea-um-like manner. She finished the run under her mainsail and jib, and tied up off the Herreshoff docks after a successful trial and without mishap.

It is clear from the Reliance's performance that under fair sailing conditions she will derive whatever advantage there is in the added sailing length in her long over-hang forward and aft. Her after over-hang quickly touched the water when heeled, but she seemed to carry her bow considerably higher. Her stern seemed to slide over the surface rather than cut through it and the slight splashing at the bow did not appear to retard her.

LEE STEPS OUT.

Lieutenant Governor of Missouri Resigns His Office.

St. Louis, April 26.—Lieutenant Governor Lee has resigned. The resignation was mailed to Governor Dockery at Jefferson City this afternoon. Mr. Lee had spent the day in conference with his advisers. It is not necessary that the resignation be accepted by Governor Dockery. Under the constitution of Missouri a resignation is self operative and becomes effective the moment it is filed with the governor.

Senator Thomas T. Rubey, president pro tem of the senate who represents the Ninth senatorial district, succeeds to the office of lieutenant governor. Lieutenant Governor Lee's resignation is voluntary. He expressed gratification in laying aside the cares of office.

Mr. Lee tonight gave out a statement in which he said a desire to retire from political life and personal publicity had prompted his resignation. He said in conclusion: "I feel that my effort to reform abuses in legislative matters has brought upon me troubles that I could have avoided by a policy of silence and concealment, and that determination to do right and refusal to be deterred therefrom has brought about my political downfall."

GETS A REWARD OF $5,000.

New York Boatman Finds Body of Missing Silk Merchant.

New York, April 26.—The body of Adolph E. Openheim, a wealthy silk merchant, who is believed to have jumped into the Harlem river from the high bridge on March 10, was found within a short distance of the bridge today by a boatman, who will receive a reward of $5,000. The body came to surface today alongside the boat of John Meehan. On it were found all the jewelry Openheim wore when he left home, and a small sum of money.

The Kaiser has decorated the naval officers who served in the strenuous fighting attendant on the Venezuelan blockade.

An experiment that may mean much to the iron and steel industry of the country was successfully made last week at the plant of the Valley Iron works in St. Paul.

In the Tyner incident Postmaster General Payne has demonstrated that he is not, under provocation, afraid to set promptly and drastically.

Andrew Carnegie's latest benefaction cannot be too warmly commended. His gift of $600,000 of 5 per cent United States Steel company first mortgage bonds.

Mr. Carnegie has been cognizant of the field and work of the Tuskegee institute for many years.

A well informed correspondent writes from New York that if David B. Hill wants the Empire State delegation in the next national convention of the Democratic party he can have it.

It is not surprising under these conditions that reports should be circulated to the effect that Governor Odell does not relish the appointments made at Washington in deference to Mr. Platt's desires.

Mr. Payne's opposition is not considered very serious by itself. He has always opposed Roosevelt since the latter, when governor of New York, refused to reappoint him as state insurance commissioner.

CORNER STONE OF THE COURT HOUSE IS LAID.

Put Into Place With Impressive Ceremonies Saturday Afternoon.

WORK IN CHARGE OF MASONIC GRAND LODGE.

Able Address by Judge Streeter, of Houghton, a Feature of the Occasion and Heard With Interest by the Several Thousand Persons at Scene of the Epoch-Marking Exercises.

Under the most auspicious conditions that could have been wished the cornerstone of the new court house for the county of Marquette was laid Saturday afternoon by the grand lodge of the order of Free and Accepted Masons in the state of Michigan, in the presence of a concourse of several thousand people. Without being elaborate or pretentious, the ceremonies were picturesque, dignified and attractive, being sufficiently interesting to hold the large crowd from the beginning to the end of the program. For the complete success of the observance the fine weather was in no little degree to be thanked. The sun shone bright and warm, and though the wind was a little chilly it was not cold enough to cause much discomfort. The attendance was composed largely of Marquette people, but the up-the-road cities and towns were well represented. The court house grounds were fairly covered with the spectators and the neighboring streets accommodated other crowds, and many carriages.

Judge Streeter's admirable address contributed not a little to the success and pleasure of the observance, and it greatly pleased the supervisors and those of the assemblage who were in range of his voice. No little was expected of Judge Streeter, but no expectations were disappointed. His address was hearty, direct and excellent, and turned with the occasion. It was frequently interrupted with bursts of applause, at no time with more enthusiasm than when he turned a neatly phrased compliment for Marquette's own judge, the Hon. J. W. Stone. Judge Streeter, as an orator, has a commanding presence, a delivery at times dramatic, clear and resonant voice and an unusually good choice and phrasing of the language. His subject was law in its general aspects, the latter part of his address being turned in a local application to the occasion at which he had been invited to assist.

Impressive Masonic Ritual.
The Masons' part of the ceremony was discharged with great dignity and impressiveness, and the grand officers had the close attention of the onlookers all through the ritual. The various members of the grand lodge had perfect command of their parts, and the charges were delivered clearly and in impressive manner.

The arrangements at the court house were excellent. On a platform above the corner stone, a plain black and white inscription with the date, located on the northeast corner of the building, on the worktable line, were chairs for the members of the board of supervisors and the county officers, who witnessed the proceedings from this elevation. Directly below, and in the rear of the corner stone, a stand for the grand lodge of Masons, where the ritual was carried out. On another lower level was a speaker's stand and seats for the visiting Masons, and on the ground a fourth stand for the city officers, visitors and public. However, comparatively few of the onlookers were seated, most of them having to be content with standing room.

The Ishpeming City band came down on the noon train to furnish music. It marched directly to the Opera House block, where shortly before 2 o'clock it headed a procession of members of the Marquette, Negaunee and Ishpeming lodges of F. & A. Masons, nos. 2101, 202 and 214, respectively, which marched to the court house by way of Front street. The members of the grand lodge and the speakers were in carriages.

The program was opened about ten minutes after the hour by an overture by the band. Following this selection Chairman Walter Fitch, who presided at the ceremonies, introduced the Rev. E. A. Elliott, who offered the following invocation:

The Invocation.
"Almighty God, Thou Great Architect and Builder of the Universe, we implore Thy blessing upon the exercises of this hour. We recognize that in Thee we live and move and have our being, and therefore, with grateful hearts, we acknowledge Thy goodness and manifold blessings.

"We thank Thee for Thy providence in leading us as a nation, a state, a county and city. Bless all who have assembled here to participate in the laying of the corner stone of this building, a building which, we trust, will be dedicated to law and order, to justice, truth and righteousness.

"May Thy preserving care be upon all who shall carry forward this work. May architect, builders and workmen be kept from harm and accident, and when the building is complete grant that it may always be used in the interest of justice and the true sense of humanity.

"We ask Thy blessing, especially rest upon our county, upon its officers and all the people. Help us to understand that the power that will give us strength and build us up must come from righteous living. May we then have right consciences, of manhood and duty and day by day be found diligent in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord.

"May Thy blessing rest upon our nation. Let Thy kingdom come and Thy will be done and grant that the whole earth may be filled with Thy glory. May this meeting be conducted in harmony free highway for his commerce. On rocky isle and hold headland beacon lights shine to guide the prudent mariner to his destined port. Impartially, its buoyant waves float the steamers, laden with lives and rich cargoes, the fisherman's boat and the canoe of the hunter. Winter's bitter cold can only no dim its hollow, and the blizzards of the summer sun cannot change its refreshing coolness. The howling tempest scarcely ruffles its surface, and only hurls the driftwood on the shore. In many respects typical of the law, No human mind can grasp all its meanings, no finite intellect sound all its depths. Impartially, it decides the most trifling and the most weighty of worldly affairs. No storm of passion nor gale of popular frenzy can more than momentarily disturb its calm. Ever replenished by the perennial springs of truth, and radiant with the light of justice that emanates from the very throne of God, it encompasses all, cherishing and protecting its worshipers and effacing its violators by disgrace and the prison. The nature of law forbids display. It deals with the citizen in all his affairs, in his family, in his business, in his relations with his neighbors, with respect to his property, with even the liberty of his person. Its greatest triumph is in peace and security. So, sometimes, thoughtful persons, believe that quiet means apathy, undertake forbidden things, for their own purposes. Forgetting that the law is the entire power of the state, and that it is as irresistible as the lightning's stroke, they move in fancied safety until blasted and withered by its vengeance.

Speaks Highly of Judge Stone.
"Citizens of Marquette county, you are to be congratulated. You are fortunate in having a bar distinguished for its ability, zeal and character. You are fortunate in possessing a judge learned in the law, skilled in affairs, patient in investigation of sound and ripe judgment, who has the courage to declare the right as he sees the right, and whose fame is not limited by his circuit, but belongs to the whole state. You are fortunate in your board of supervisors, who, seeing the need for this building, were not satisfied to supply temporary quarters for present wants, but have provided for the future of coming generations, who will receive it as a monument of their fathers, its value enhanced and hallowed by the traditions which will cluster around and cling to it. You are fortunate in yourselves, that you so cordially authorized the erection and planned for the expense of the building, and do not leave the burden of debt to be met by your children.

Surpasses Ideals of Ancients.
"The system of laws which we enjoy, in reality, far surpasses the loftiest ideals of the ancient philosophers, Plato dreamed of an ideal republic, in which a few wise governors should rule over many governed. The wisest light of his imagination fell short of the idea that men can govern themselves, that the people can make the laws, that the rulers are the multitude, and government the carrying out of their will by their servants. He could not conceive of men so framing the fundamental law transacted. The court house should be rocky, convenient, and in some degree expressive of the majesty and dignity of the law. That the roof covers officers not directly connected with the courts makes no difference. All are for the use of the public servants in direct compliance with the law, and the building is the court house.

"On this fair and pleasant site today, is laid, with impressive and appropriate ceremony, the corner stone of a noble building, hereafter to be dedicated to the use of the people and the doing of justice. The laws show thoughtful and adequate provision for all that is needed. They show no room for the pettifogger, no place for the tamperer with jurors. May these, accursed of the nation, never enter its portals to usurp the places of better men.

WHAT THEY SAID.
Comment of Up-the-Road Papers on Corner Stone Laying.

In connection with Saturday's ceremony of the laying of the corner stone of the new court house The Peninsula Record says:

"Marquette county's new court house that will be dedicated today is in keeping with the population and financial interest of the largest county in area in the state of Michigan and the home of the best iron ore mines in the Lake Superior region. A suitable place for county records and the transaction of important county business has long been needed, and in the expense of structure and the selection of a site at Marquette the board of supervisors has acted wisely. The building is to be by far the finest county building in the upper peninsula. The city of Marquette is to be congratulated upon its good fortune in having opposed us with arms. The Republic such a fine building within its limits and all citizens of the county of Marquette can now feel that no reproach is their due for backwardness in county pride as the demand for such a structure was emulate your deeds, you will never arouse the spirit of envy. They unite with you in the fervent wish and the abiding faith that while this corner stone is being laid, the flag of liberty, so dear to every loyal heart, shall wave over the dome of this building, the spirit of liberty, regulated by law, shall fill all its rooms and corridors, and that here, ever and always, under the forms of the laws of the republic, justice shall be administered that even sure and exact justice which is the right of all."

When the burst of applause that followed Judge Streeter's address subsided, Grand Marshal James E. McGregor advanced from among his fellow grand officers and in a loud and impressive voice proclaimed the opening of the ritualistic ceremony of laying the corner stone, the various parts of the ceremony then proceeding smoothly and rapidly. The following were the representatives of the grand lodge who officiated: Grand master, Hon. Roscoe W. Broughton; deputy grand master, Dr. Theodore A. Felch; senior grand warden, E. L. Simmons; junior grand warden, C. A. Sweet; grand treasurer, John A. Allison; grand secretary, Captain W. H. Johnston; grand chaplain, George P. Cummings; senior grand deacon, D. T. Morgan; junior grand deacon, Peter White; grand marshal, James E. McGregor; grand scribe, E. C. Anthony; grand architect, D. Fred Charlton; grand steward, E. W. MacPherran; grand steward, John L. Bradford; incidental to the ritual an anthem was rendered by Messrs. George Tucker, Abel Olson, Thomas Scadden and E. L. Simmons.

Contents of Box.
The ritual included the deposit of the usual box, containing various articles of interest, in the corner stone, and as a record of the things to be found within it, W. H. Johnston, the grand secretary, read the following list:

ROSS A HISTORIAN
CLERK SETS FORTH MAIN FACTS ABOUT MARQUETTE COUNTY.
HE WROTE FOR THE CORNER STONE
COUNTY WAS CREATED IN 1843 BUT ORGANIZED IN 1851.
ITS FIRST ASSESSED VALUATION WAS $493,456.76 IN 1856—IN 1854 ITS POPULATION WAS ESTIMATED TO BE 350.

To County Clerk Ross, who prepared it for deposit in the corner stone receptacle, The Mining Journal is indebted for the following brief history of Marquette county:

Marquette county was created and the boundaries thereof defined by Act No. 89 of the Public Acts of 1843, which divided the upper peninsula into six counties. Section 4 of this act reads as follows:

"All that portion of the state embraced between the line between Ranges 22 and 24 west, the north boundary of Township 41, the line between Ranges 37 and 38 west and Lake Superior shall be laid off as a separate county, to be known and designated as the county of Marquette," and it was approved March 9, 1843.

Marquette county, under this Act, embraced the present counties of Houghton, Baraga, Iron, the north twelve towns of Dickinson county and all of the present county of Marquette, excepting Towns 44, 45, 46 and 47 north of Range 25 west, which were detached from Dickinson county and added to Marquette county by Act 292 of the Local Acts of 1875, and approved March 26, 1875.

While Marquette county was created in the year 1843, it was never organized until the year 1851, and the first state and county election took place on Tuesday, Nov. 4, 1851, with a total of sixty-two votes cast and the following county officers elected, viz:

County Clerk—John S. Livermore.
Sheriff—John D. Watt.
Probate Judge—Philo M. Everett.
County Treasurer—Charles Johnson.
Register of Deeds—Peter White.
Corners—Cullen C. Eddy, Elsha B. Gray.
County Surveyor—John Burt.

Met Sept. 13, 1852.
The first authentic record of any meeting of the board of supervisors was a special, held (pursuant to a six day notice) at the home of Philo M. Everett, on Monday, Sept. 13, 1852, at which the Hon. Peter White, then deputy county clerk, acted as clerk of the board, owing to the absence of John S. Livermore, county clerk.

The population of Marquette county in the year 1852 was estimated to be about 350. The present population of the county, as given in the census of 1900, is 41,239, with each city and township credited with the following number of persons:

Cities—
Ishpeming	13,255
Marquette	10,058
Negaunee	6,935
Townships—
Champion	1,707
Chocoma	602
Ely	303
Forsyth	595
Humboldt	341
Ishpeming	360
Marquette	290
Michigan	1,143
Negaunee	2,293
Republic	2,293
Richmond	892
Sands	192
Skandia	328
Tilden	1,448
Michigan	1,143
West Branch	282
Wells	282

Largest County in Area.
The county of Marquette has always been since its creation the largest county (in area) in the state of Michigan.

In the proceedings of the board of supervisors of the meeting held Monday, Oct. 13, 1856, the first mention is made of the aggregate assessed valuation of the county, and it is placed at the sum of $493,456.76.

The valuation of the county as reported in the proceedings of the meeting of the board of supervisors held on Monday, Oct. 13, 1902, is placed at the sum of $19,075,574 on the real estate and $6,907,061.83 on the personal estate, making a total of $25,982,635.85 and it was equalized at $26,030,000. The court house grounds were purchased in three different parcels. The first parcel, comprising two acres, was purchased from the Cleveland Iron Mining company and decided to the county March 5, 1855, consideration $600. The second parcel was purchased from the same company and was for all the holdings of Cleveland Iron Mining company, in and to block seven of the Cleveland Iron Mining company's sub-division to the village, now city of Marquette, consideration $2,000. The third purchase was of a triangular piece of ground lying adjacent to the above described land, and owned by Olive L. Harlow, the consideration being $450, making the total cost of the grounds $3,050. The first building erected was a county jail. The contract was awarded to one Charles Johnson for $1,187 by the board of supervisors at a meeting held May 18, 1855.

The Present Court House.
The building of the present court house was ordered by the board of supervisors at a meeting held May 23, 1857, and the contract was awarded to R. K. Farnham and Charles Johnson for the sum of $4,200 at a meeting held June 20th, 1857. It has since that time been added to on two different occasions until it has reached its present dimensions.

The new court house was authorized by a vote of the people of Marquette county, at the general election held on Tuesday, April 15th, 1902; by voting upon proposition to bond the county for the sum of $120,000 to pay for the same. There were 5,633 votes cast, 3,815 of which were in favor of said proposition and 1,878 against.

The contract was awarded to the Northern Construction company for $118,563 by the Board of Supervisors at a meeting held August 7th, 1902. Additional changes in the construction have been made from time to time at a total extra cost of $13,618, which, together with amount contracted for the furniture (movable) and the fixed furniture, with the A. H. Andrews company of Chicago, Ill., viz: $9,863, the contract with the Art Metal Construction company of Jamestown, New York, for the vault furnishings, amount to $8,992.24; the contract with the Lake Superior Steam Heating company, for the heating and ventilating plant at a cost of $8,784 and the probable extras for grading lot, etc., will make the aggregate cost (estimated) $200,000.

HON. J. DWIGHT PALMER.
Old Soldier, former Resident Here, Passed Away at Cleveland.

Hon. J. Dwight Palmer, well remembered by the old residents of Marquette, who resided on East Arch street when he lived in this city, but who left here in the neighborhood of twenty-five years ago, passed away a week ago Saturday. He has been many years since Mr. Palmer has been in Marquette, but last year he visited the port on an ore carrier, while he was making a trip of the lakes. At that time he met many of his oldtime friends.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer says of his death:

Hon. J. Dwight Palmer, a former member of the legislature and one of the best known men of Cleveland, died at his apartments in The Hamden, No. 1386 Detroit street, Saturday morning, April 18th. Death was due to heart failure. Major Palmer was seventy-one years of age and had been suffering for years with heart trouble. Since last November he had been confined to his home because of his failing health and for the last two months his health failed rapidly. About four weeks ago he was obliged to take to his bed, where he remained until the end came. The deceased leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. M. A. Marshall of New York. His wife, daughter, Alexander Noble and his secretary, Francis L. Gross, were at the bedside when he died.

Major Palmer was born in Norwich, Ct., in 1831, and came to Cleveland when his parents when but four years of age. When the One Hundred and Fiftieth Ohio volunteer infantry was recruited in Cleveland Mr. Palmer was elected major of the regiment and served with great gallantry throughout the war. After the war he became interested in the mining business and started with a party of five men for Marquette, where surveys were to be made. This was in the terrible winter of 1875-76, when great storms were raging all over the country, and the little party was overtaken by one of them. They were out five days and nights, almost entirely without food, and though the other members of the party died, Major Palmer survived, but lost his eyesight as a result of his terrible exposure.

Major Palmer has been rightly called the father of the fire department, having, as a young man and a member of the city council, brought about the change from the old volunteer service to the present paid department. In politics Major Palmer was a stalwart Republican and an indefatigable worker. When still comparatively young he served four terms in the state legislature and was fearless in his demands for anything which he considered necessary to the general welfare of the people at large. After the completion of his service in the legislature, Major Palmer was elected justice of the peace and held the office for two terms, having retired only one year ago.

Again the Plain Dealer says:

The funeral services for the late Hon. J. Dwight Palmer were held from the First Congregational church, Rev. John W. Maloum officiating.

Ever fireball in the city was tolled for fifteen minutes, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, the time of the funeral. This was done as a mark of respect for the deceased, who was known as the "firemen's friend." Mr. Palmer did a great deal of work for the benefit of the fire department when he was a member of the state legislature. Bills in which the firemen were interested were always sent to him for introduction.

free highway for his commerce. On rocky isle and hold headland beacon lights shine to guide the prudent mariner to his destined port. Impartially, its buoyant waves float the steamers, laden with lives and rich cargoes, the fisherman's boat and the canoe of the hunter. Winter's bitter cold can only no dim its hollow, and the blizzards of the summer sun cannot change its refreshing coolness. The howling tempest scarcely ruffles its surface, and only hurls the driftwood on the shore. In many respects typical of the law, No human mind can grasp all its meanings, no finite intellect sound all its depths. Impartially, it decides the most trifling and the most weighty of worldly affairs. No storm of passion nor gale of popular frenzy can more than momentarily disturb its calm. Ever replenished by the perennial springs of truth, and radiant with the light of justice that emanates from the very throne of God, it encompasses all, cherishing and protecting its worshipers and effacing its violators by disgrace and the prison. The nature of law forbids display. It deals with the citizen in all his affairs, in his family, in his business, in his relations with his neighbors, with respect to his property, with even the liberty of his person. Its greatest triumph is in peace and security. So, sometimes, thoughtful persons, believe that quiet means apathy, undertake forbidden things, for their own purposes. Forgetting that the law is the entire power of the state, and that it is as irresistible as the lightning's stroke, they move in fancied safety until blasted and withered by its vengeance.

Surpasses Ideals of Ancients.
"The system of laws which we enjoy, in reality, far surpasses the loftiest ideals of the ancient philosophers, Plato dreamed of an ideal republic, in which a few wise governors should rule over many governed. The wisest light of his imagination fell short of the idea that men can govern themselves, that the people can make the laws, that the rulers are the multitude, and government the carrying out of their will by their servants. He could not conceive of men so framing the fundamental law emulate your deeds, you will never arouse the spirit of envy. They unite with you in the fervent wish and the abiding faith that while this corner stone is being laid, the flag of liberty, so dear to every loyal heart, shall wave over the dome of this building, the spirit of liberty, regulated by law, shall fill all its rooms and corridors, and that here, ever and always, under the forms of the laws of the republic, justice shall be administered that even sure and exact justice which is the right of all."

When the burst of applause that followed Judge Streeter's address subsided, Grand Marshal James E. McGregor advanced from among his fellow grand officers and in a loud and impressive voice proclaimed the opening of the ritualistic ceremony of laying the corner stone, the various parts of the ceremony then proceeding smoothly and rapidly. The following were the representatives of the grand lodge who officiated: Grand master, Hon. Roscoe W. Broughton; deputy grand master, Dr. Theodore A. Felch; senior grand warden, E. L. Simmons; junior grand warden, C. A. Sweet; grand treasurer, John A. Allison; grand secretary, Captain W. H. Johnston; grand chaplain, George P. Cummings; senior grand deacon, D. T. Morgan; junior grand deacon, Peter White; grand marshal, James E. McGregor; grand scribe, E. C. Anthony; grand architect, D. Fred Charlton; grand steward, E. W. MacPherran; grand steward, John L. Bradford; incidental to the ritual an anthem was rendered by Messrs. George Tucker, Abel Olson, Thomas Scadden and E. L. Simmons.

Contents of Box.
The ritual included the deposit of the usual box, containing various articles of interest, in the corner stone, and as a record of the things to be found within it, W. H. Johnston, the grand secretary, read the following list:

MARQUETTE-ISHPERING DEBATE

Team to Represent the Ishpeming High School Has Been Chosen.

George Erickson, Thomas Clancey and Miss Bessie Carlyon will represent the Ishpeming High school in the debate with a team from the Marquette High school, to be held here Friday evening, May 8, at the high school auditorium. Ishpeming will defend the negative side of the question, "Resolved, that courts of compulsory adjustment should be established in the United States and the several states." Three circuit judges, Messrs. Streeter, Steere and Haire, have been invited to act as judges, but have not yet signified their acceptance. The Ishpeming representatives have made a thorough study of the question, and have been doing some hard work. The contest promises to be highly interesting, and will probably be the first in the series of annual debates.

LIBRARY RULES.

Mrs. Fiske Gives a Few Directions in Regard to the Care of Books.

The city librarian has contributed the following in regard to the library: For the sake of the many new library patrons we would like to repeat a few library rules, which, if followed, will lengthen the lives of the books and consequently lessen the expense of the library:

- The worst enemies of books are careless people.
- Another enemy is dampness. It is bad for the binding; it is very bad for the paper; therefore always wrap the books on wet or damp days.
- Do not hold a book by one of its covers.
- Do not handle them when the hands are moist; of course never when the hands are soiled. Some little people will have to be sent home without books if they do not bring cleaner hands to the library.
- Use books to read, and for nothing else.
- Never mark them.
- Do not turn down their pages.
- Do not lay them face downwards.
- Do not strap them up tightly.
- Open them gently.
- The book you are reading will go to others. Pass it on to them neat and clean, hoping that they will do the same by you.
- In getting a book renewed bring the book, or else the borrower's card, with the author and title of the book.

The offer made on January 9 by Andrew Carnegie to give $35,000 to the city of Lansing for a public library building was accepted by popular vote at a city election. The gift was made on the usual conditions, that an annual maintenance fund of 10 per cent ($3,500) should be insured and a site provided. Mrs. Mary C. Spencer, the state librarian, carried on the preliminary negotiations with Mr. Carnegie, and was active in securing the acceptance of the gift.

Our stock of unbound magazines is steadily increasing, and it will cost a goodly sum to have them all bound at once. They are called for so often by persons looking up past subjects or events that it would be a great help to the library and public in the saving of time and trouble if they were bound, and therefore easily accessible. As it is, the magazines are becoming ruined by handling, piling and dust, and when we consider that the best literature of the day appears in current magazines, it is surely wise to preserve these records.

In the matter of education the "Self-Made Merchant" continues: "It's not the first half, but the second half of a college education that pays. It's the Bah Jove! cigar-smoking, Champagne-Charlie boys that make them doubt the cash value of the college output, and overlook the roast beef and shirt-sleeves boys, who take their education and make some fellow's business hum with it. You bet it pays. Anything that trains a boy to think and to think quick pays; anything that teaches a boy to get the answer before the other fellow gets through biting the pencil, pays. College doesn't make fools; it develops them. It doesn't make bright men; it develops them.  It isn't so much knowing a whole lot, as knowing a little and how to use it, that counts."

CONSTABLE ARRESTED.

Donato Corso, constable of the First ward, was arrested Saturday for engaging in an altercation with a fellow workman. He was wearing his star in a conspicuous place on his breast when another guardian of the peace made the arrest. Corso was arraigned before Justice Kennedy. His case was adjourned till tomorrow.

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents guaranteed, at Stafford Drug Co., drug store.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, Editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted, it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I have never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy cured it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." A New Labor Union—

Federal Trades Union has been organized at Menominee with a charter membership of about 100. The Federal Trades union is for all laborers and members of different trades of whom there are not enough in their particular trade to organize a union. It is expected the Menominee branch will add a large number of workers to its membership.

Wedded at Detroit—

Miss Myrtle Lennox, daughter of Dr. Lennox of Detroit and Daniel Wells, a prominent young business man of Menominee, were married last Wednesday at the residence of the bride. The wedding was a private and unostentatious affair, only most intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom being present. The house was very beautifully decorated for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Wells will make their home at Escanaba. Mr. Wells' business interests being found principally at Wells, a short distance from Escanaba. He has purchased a lot in the residence portion of the city and will erect a handsome residence there. The couple left on a six weeks' wedding trip through the south. The bride was a well-known young society lady of Detroit, where she had resided for many years. She is a musician of considerable prominence. She became acquainted with Mr. Wells while visiting in Menominee with Mrs. Frank Spies, formerly of Detroit. Mr. Wells is a prominent lumberman whose home is in Menominee. He is the son of J. W. Wells of that city, one of the leaders in the lumber industry in the northwest. He is closely connected with the I. Stephenson company of Wells.

A GREAT SENSATION.

There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind., when W. H. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from Asthma, but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c. and $1.00. Guaranteed by Stafford Drug Co., druggist. Trial bottles free.

DREADEFUL ATTACK OF WHOOPING COUGH.

Mrs. Ellen Harrison, of 300 Park Ave., Kansas City, Mo., writes as follows: "Our two children had a severe attack of whooping cough; one of them in the paroxysm of coughing would often faint and bleed at the nose, and heigh them in again. IF INSURED, THERE'S HOPE.

There was a merchant in our town, and he was wondrous wise. He went into an outside deal, which bulged out both his eyes, when he found his eyes were bulged, with all his might and main, he insured his life, kept at his work, and heigh them in again. Next Life Ins. Co. of Va. (Mutual) ORGANIZED 1850. M. W. Marshall, General Agent, Marquette, Mich.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS CURED.

"For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so bad that at times I could not speak above a whisper," writes Mr. Joseph Coffman, of Montmorenci, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. Its effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." Sold by People's Drug Store.

Rheumatism Is Not a Skin Disease.

Most people have an idea that rheumatism is contracted like a cold, that the damp, chilly air penetrates the muscles and joints and causes the terrible aches and pains, or that it is something like a skin disease to be rubbed away with liniment or drawn out with plasters; but Rheumatism originates in the blood and is caused by Urea, or Uric Acid, an irritating, corroding poison that settles in muscles, joints and nerves, producing inflammation and soreness and the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to this distressing disease.

Exposure to bad weather or sudden chilling of the body will hasten an attack of Rheumatism after the blood and system are in the right condition for it to develop, but have nothing to do with the real true causes of Rheumatism, which are internal and not external.

Injections, plasters and rubbing will sometimes reduce the inflammation and swelling and ease the pain for a time, but fail to relieve permanently because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it attacks it in the blood, and the Uric Acid poison is neutralized, the sluggish circulation stimulated and quickened, and soon the system is purified and cleansed, and the joints are relieved of all irritating matter and a lasting cure of this most painful disease effected.

S. S. S. is a harmless vegetable remedy, unequalled as a blood purifier and an invigorating, pleasant tonic. Book on Rheumatism will be mailed free.

A RACE FOR LIFE.

Spurring his jaded horse to renewed efforts when the animal should be refreshed with proper food and rest, is about as sensible as prescribing nerve tonics, alcoholic compounds, coca mixtures and cocktails which only spur on the already weakened nervous system. Neither does it do to put the nerves to sleep with narcotics. When you feel worn-out, broken down, jaded, and feel the effects of brain tire as well as nerve weakness, sleeplessness and fatigue, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a tonic which will do you lasting good, build you up, increase your appetite and strength and improve the condition of the blood. When the blood is impoverished the nerves feel the effect. Nervousness in nine cases out of ten is the "cry of the starved nerves for food." Feed the nerves on pure rich blood and all nervous manifestations will cease. The man who lives an out-of-door life, who earns his living by his brawn and muscle, is a being who can defy bad weather and all kinds of hardships. He is quickening the heart, driving the blood through unobstructed channels, hastening the breathing and increasing the secretions of the skin. He may be able to abuse his stomach, drink or smoke to excess and yet be healthy. His red blood corpuscles will still keep their shape and color. But the person who does not live thus close to nature, who works and sleeps confined in an ill-ventilated room, is risking his life in commercial habits that are ruinous to the stomach and heart, such as lunches consumed at racing speed, overwork and late hours, and will have fewer red blood corpuscles and an increase of white corpuscles. The stomach, heart, and nervous system of Americans are being sorely overtaxed. Our people are overworked and overstrained in schools, offices and workshops, and this is the growing evil of America. Sleep is often broken; the ill-used brain will not permit one to enjoy "Nature's sweet restorer"—sleep in bed.

The blood is slow, sluggish and filled with white corpuscles. Stagnation of the blood causes headache, constipation, bad colds, coughs and a pale countenance.

is gained by taking a medicine which is close to nature's way for making up for the abuse of the body, such as stated above.

To gain in fat is nearly always to gain in blood, but to fatten a person does not depend merely on the food eaten; something more is wanted in the way of a digestive and tonic to enable the person to prepare and appropriate the food taken in. That is what the "Golden Medical Discovery" does. The blood-making glands are assisted in their work, the poisons driven out of the body, the liver

TWO MORE FIRES.

They Gave the Fire Department Employment Friday Evening—Small Loss.

Two small fires kept the fire department busy for a few hours Friday evening. About seven o'clock a blaze was discovered in the old Mitchell building. The flames spread rapidly and were among the rafters of the roof before a stream was started. As soon as the water struck the building the fire was of very short duration for the structure is a mere shell, every part of which can be reached by the streams without difficulty. The fire appears to have been of incendiary origin. Frequent attempts have been made to destroy this building and the fire department has each time succeeded in preserving it. In its present condition the structure is a complete wreck and a veritable tinderbox. The second fire occurred shortly before nine o'clock. The barn back of the Garfield House occupied by Louis Cyr caught fire in the interior and the flames had a pretty good start before they were discovered. The barn is a good sized building and covered with a sheet iron, which probably prevented the fire from spreading to adjoining buildings. A neighboring barn belonging to Chris Johnson, used as a warehouse, caught, but was not badly damaged. Mr. Cyr had a cow and calf in his barn. The cow was suffocated by the smoke, but the calf was saved. The interior of the barn was comparatively slight. The interior was thoroughly soaked with water.

MODEL A SUCCESS.

Captain Hoar's Sand Shaft Device Fulfills Expectations of Its Inventor.

Captain Sam Hoar's device for sinking sand shafts, invented about a year ago, is being used on a very difficult piece of work on the Mesaba range. The ground has been penetrated at the rate of about two feet each day, and the invention has been given a sufficient test to show that the expectations of the originator were justified. Captain Hoar and James H. Billings of Ishpeming are engaged in sinking a shaft at Chisholm, Minn., having taken a contract from the Oliver Mining company. Recent reports from Mr. Billings state that the work is being carried on rapidly and that the prospects of reaching the ledge in a comparatively short time are very encouraging. The shaft is located in the midst of a swamp, where the oozy slime is as unstable as water and extends down for some distance below the surface. Considerable difficulty was experienced in going through this body of mire, but the task has been successfully completed and the bottom is now in firmer ground.

Captain Hoar's device is entirely original. Two big frames, or sets, covered with roll plate steel are put in the bottom of the shaft, one above the other. These frames are made in sections that are bolted together and can be enlarged or reduced to any required size to conform to the dimensions of the shaft. The two sets are surrounded by perpendicular "laths" two and one-half inches thick, one foot wide and eighteen feet long. They fit closely, edge to edge, and are sharp on the lower end. They are made of roll plate steel, and there is a groove several inches wide and about an inch deep extending the whole length of each. A clutch is fastened in this groove that works either between the sets or the top set and the bottom of the laths being, and forces the sharp ends of the laths into the ground. The distance between the two frames is regulated by a screw arrangement. The whole weight of the timbering pressing on the frames at the bottom serves to keep them in position and gives them the proper poise. When the laths have been sunk for a number of feet below the model the sand enclosed between the sides is hoisted out, the sets are put down for the distance gained and the required timbers are put in. The process continues in this manner until the ore is reached when the frames are unbolted and taken out in sections. The secret of the success of Captain Hoar's contrivance lies in the fact that only a much sand is taken out as lies in the direct pathway of the shaft. That which is outside cannot enter because the laths are always kept below the bottom frame, presenting an effective barrier against the inrush of quicksand and preventing the boiling that usually makes the sinking of sand shafts such difficult undertakings. The bottom of the shaft always remains on a base that is as firm as the nature of the formation through which it is passing will allow, and thus can always be kept level without any hoisting out of the laths. The new plan can also be utilized to excellent advantage where the ledge slants, because the laths can be shoved down on the lower side and the unstable sand can be shored out as easily as any other stage of the operation.

DIED SATURDAY.

Charles Goldsworthy died Saturday afternoon from consumption, with which disease he had been ill for an extended time. Mr. Goldsworthy returned from British Columbia about two years ago, after spending several years in the west, engaged in mining. Previous to that he had been in the gold fields of South Africa. He had been afflicted with tuberculosis ever since he came back to Negaunee and his ill health had prevented him from engaging in any kind of active work for a long time before his death. The deceased was about thirty-four years of age. He leaves a widow and five children. His wife is the sister of W. P. Kinsman of Ishpeming. Mr. Goldsworthy was an Odd Fellow and the members of the local lodge will conduct his funeral, which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Mitchell street Methodist church. The Odd Fellows will meet at their hall promptly at 1 o'clock.

A large number of Negaunee people went to Marquette Saturday to attend the ceremony of the laying of the corner stone of the new court house.

Trombley's orchestra will give a hop Wednesday night at Anderson's Hall, Ishpeming. A special car will return to Negaunee as usual after the dance.

Improvements will be started soon on the building occupied by Henry Heisel's cafe. New sills and joists will be put in, and the interior will receive attention.

Capt. Thomas of Swanzy was in town Saturday on the way to Marquette where he attended the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new court house.

Norman Trev and Miss Minnie Panboe were married Saturday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. Mr. Gilchrist. The bride arrived here a short time ago from England.

J. D. Chubb of Chicago was in town Saturday for the purpose of meeting with the building committee of the Odd Fellows and making further plans for beginning work on the Odd Fellows hall.

A great variety of coins are taken in by the automatic weighing machine at the union depot which works on the penny-in-the-slot plan. When the receipts for the week were taken out Saturday five Finnish coins were found in the big pile of cents. Coins of every other nation that has its representative here have also been found from time to time.

WOMEN AND JEWELS.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get this reliable remedy at Stafford Drug Co. Price 25c. and 75c.

MINING NEWS

A CALUMET & HECLA VIEW.

A gentleman closely associated with the Calumet & Hecla management has this to say concerning the recent apparent change for the better in the copper situation:

"So far as the actual situation is concerned, the so-called change is more sentimental than real—more of a speculative character than of an actual business nature. The Calumet & Hecla people, who are in the legitimate business of producing and selling copper, have sold no copper for nearly three months for less than fifteen cents, while a considerable portion has been sold as high as 15 1/2 cents. The demand from actual consumers is, if anything, larger than it was thirty days ago, and there are no indications of any let up.

"I know nothing about the artificial quotations recently given out by the New York Metal exchange, nor do the large producers, as a rule, care much about these. They represent merely a sort of bucket shop trading in the metal which counts for nothing, either as an indication of the actual market or as a factor on sellers. These quotations are only valuable for speculators, and as they represent all sorts of copper they fail to give any real idea as to the position of the market and the consumption that is in progress. The metal market has simply during the past three months worked out along the lines that the Calumet & Hecla and other large producers have for a long time past believed that it would and it is based at the present time clearly on the natural operation of the law of supply and demand. This is all there is to the situation, and according to present indications it is one that bids fair to hold as sound and healthy as it is at present for a long time—certainly through the present year and probably very much longer.

"The Calumet & Hecla people have very little copper in store at the present time, and, indeed, are now operating their smelter to its fullest capacity seven days in the week in order to fill contracts already in hand, and what is true in their case is equally true of the other large producers—a fact that does more in measuring the actual situation than all the speculative gossip and market predictions made for possible effect on copper shares combined can possibly do."

MINING GOSSIP.

The low priced coppers will have their turnings shortly.—Boston Journal.

Calumet & Hecla is operating 250 drills and stamping nearly 6,000 tons of rock daily.

It is said that the Quincy management will install a complete telephone system underground. Each level of the mine will be wired for phones so that communications to the surface may be promptly made. In case of accident, breakdowns or other emergencies the telephones will save much time. Telephones are used quite extensively in the mines in the West. The Calumet & Hecla has a system of underground communication, but it is the only mine in this district that has.

There is still considerable snow on the property of the Miskawick Development association in Keweenaw county and it will be impossible to start exploratory work until the white mantle disappears. The officers of the organization are anxious to begin operations but at present they can do nothing but wait. The several copper outcroppings on the territory will be explored as thoroughly as possible. Those interested in the enterprise are sanguine that the Kearsarge lode underlies the property but it is the intention not to organize a mining company until something is found that will warrant it. The men at the head of the association's affairs are well-known copper country business men who are perfectly reliable and their course is to be commended. Dr. L. L. Hubbard, of the Chisholm, consulting engineer for the Miskawick people, will supervise the exploratory work.

COPPER SHARE OUTLOOK.

There has seldom been a time when the copper share outlook was more favorable than is the case today, comments the Boston News Bureau. This is based on the position of the metal, which is the fundamental and governing factor. So far as one can see there is every reason to believe that the price of copper, based on demand and supply, will rule around 15 cents or better during 1903. What effect 15-cent-copper will have upon producing mines should be plain to all people who are at all familiar with the copper situation. It should mean very much higher values, as well as prices, to the dividend paying properties, and prove a stimulating factor to even those that are now non-dividend.

The recent weakness in copper shares has been chiefly owing to the decline in Amalgamated. The latter stock has been influenced by the fact that Henry H. Rogers was suffering from appendicitis and was about to undergo a surgical operation. All this, however, has been purely sentimental. To date, Mr. Rogers has failed to make successful business policy, though possibly his large holdings of Amalgamated, and his unlimited command of money, have enabled him to fool the public to his advantage. He was unsuccessful, however, in maintaining copper at 17 cents, he could not control it at 11 cents, he could not bring either Mr. Heine or the Calumet & Hecla under his power. For these reasons possibly an absence of policy would not now be detrimental. The position of copper, and consequently copper shares, is governed by conditions of

FITCH RE-ELECTED

UNANIMOUSLY CHOSEN CHAIRMAN BY THE SUPERVISORS.

HELD BRIEF MEETING SATURDAY

MATTER OF PUBLISHING PROCEEDINGS WAS BROUGHT UP.

Supervisor Sunblad's Motion to Let the Superior Posters in Precipitated a Debate—Committee to Report in the Connection.

The matter of the printing of the proceedings of the county board of supervisors was opened up the last thing at Saturday morning's session by Supervisor Sunblad's action, taken on request, in moving that the Superior Posters, the Swedish paper at Ishpeming, be included among the papers that publish the proceedings, now the Iron Ore and Peninsular Record of Ishpeming, the Iron Herald of Negaunee and The Daily Mining Journal.

Supervisor Sunblad, unwittingly or not, stirred up something of a hornet's nest. When his motion had been seconded and put, Supervisor Hodges took the floor to register his protest. He said in substance that he objected to the motion because there are already too many papers printing the proceedings; furthermore, he believed that the proceedings of the board should be printed only in the English language.

Supervisor Sunblad stated that he supposed that if the Posters was given the work it would print them in the English language, as do the papers now getting them.

Supervisor Treldick gave it as his opinion that the county was paying too much for the service, and offered as an amendment to Sunblad's motion that the proceedings be given to the two papers submitting the lowest bids.

Supervisor Sundstrom of Michigan took the floor to express his disapproval of the suggestion that the proceedings be given to any newspaper published in a foreign language, even if such newspaper would publish them in English. He said that once the precedent was established it would be hard to tell to what lengths the practice might be carried. He, too, expressed himself in favor of a cheaper arrangement of getting the board's proceedings before the public.

The entire matter was finally referred to the proper committee, with instructions to report at the next meeting.

Chairman Fitch Re-elected.

The organization of the board was accomplished very expeditiously yesterday morning. The entire membership was present, including the representative of Wells township, the county's fortieth precinct. County Clerk Ross called the meeting to order, asking the supervisors what their pleasure was in relation to the office of chairman. Walter Fitch of Champlain, the chairman during the past year, and who has just completed his twentieth year of service on the board, was nominated, and was elected by acclamation, by the heartiest of votes.

The matter of the special auditing committee, which is usually appointed at the first meeting, was allowed to go over until the next session, June 3, on account of the general desire to finish up the business of the session as soon as possible.

The old rules of the board were adopted for the ensuing year.

Chairman Fitch, on motion, appointed Supervisors Ewing, O'Donoghue and Fay a committee to close a contract for the county patients with St. Mary's hospital, a communication from Johnson & Cadorette relative to the purchase of their new county map for the use of the county officers was referred to the purchasing committee.

The chairman appointed Supervisors Morgan, Sundstrom and Elliott a committee to employ an accountant to audit all the county books for such period as the committee saw fit to cover.

The use of the iron fence surrounding the court house property at the poor farm was authorized.

MUSICALS TONIGHT.

Hi Henry's Show Will Be Given at the Opera House.

Hi Henry's minstrel show will be the attraction at the opera house this evening. Hi Henry is accompanied by the inevitable minstrel band, which will be seen in a parade and heard in a concert at the usual hours today. He is said to have a capable company of minstrel artists, singers and comedians, with several good specialty features for the evening.

Wednesday night will be presented "For Her Sake," a play of Russian and Siberian life on melodramatic lines. It is the first melodramatic bill that has been offered at the theater for some time, and it will doubtless appeal strongly to the class of theater goers who like this kind of entertainment.

"For Her Sake" deals with Russian official life and existence in the penal settlements of Siberia. It tells a pretty love story, and is said to be enlivened by sensational incidents and climaxes.

FIRE AT NEW FURNACE.

Gas Explosion Results in Blaze Causing Nominal Damage.

An explosion of gas in the stack at the new furnace caused a blaze shortly before midnight Saturday that, while at first dangerous, resulted in the city fire department making the long run to the plant. The fire was in the casting house, a steel structure, where yesterday about the only evidence of the previous night's excitement to be seen was the charred window frames. The damage done amounts to but a nominal figure and the operation of the plant will not be interfered with.

The gas explosion occurred about 11 o'clock. The flame shot up in the air to a height of over a hundred feet, and for a few moments brilliantly illuminated the northern end of the city. The fire that followed was fought by the furnace employees for a time, and then the city department was summoned although it did not have much to do when it arrived on the scene. Burning charcoal scattered by the gas explosion was responsible for the blaze.

MASONS ENTERTAIN.

Large Meeting Held in the Lodge Rooms Saturday Evening.

Marquette Masons entertained the visiting members of the grand lodge for the state of Michigan and their Negaunee and Ishpeming brethren at a largely attended meeting at their lodge rooms in the Opera House block Saturday evening. In the neighborhood of 200 Masons were present. Work in the third degree was exemplified, and the evening was wound up by a banquet, with speaking and music. The up-the-road delegation left for their homes on a special, leaving here at 12 o'clock. The lower Michigan members of the grand lodge, who officiated in the ceremony of the court house corner stone laying Saturday, left for their homes yesterday morning, much pleased with their reception and entertainment here and with the success of Saturday's program.

CARPENTERS QUIT.

They Would Not Work in Conjunction With Convict Labor.

The carpenters employed by Lipsitt & Sinclair on the repairs to the chapel at the branch of state prison quit Saturday morning, refusing to work any longer in conjunction with the convict labor being used to help with the work, which will now have to be finished by the convicts. The restricted amount allowed by the state legislature for the repair of the chapel made it necessary to use the inmates on some of the work. The union men and the convicts had worked together a number of days before the latter quit.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

Plans for Introducing Lacrosse Here Being Perfected.

There was a meeting Friday afternoon of the ways and means committee of the Marquette Lacrosse club, organized Thursday evening, at which matters in connection with the introduction of the game here were considered. It was decided to make the lacrosse club open to all who may wish to join, on the payment of a $1 membership fee. The sticks and balls will be ordered at once and practice will be taken up as soon as they are received. There are to be found here, as has been stated, about twelve men who have had some experience with the game, a number sufficient to form one team. It is planned to interest a sufficient number of "green" men to permit of the organization of two teams to practice together, the aggregation that will meet outside teams to be made up of the best players in both the local teams. Lacrosse is not a game of insurmountable obstacles, and green men, if they are fit physically and have good eye and nerve, can be broken into it very rapidly.

The team will likely arrange to play at the fair grounds, having besides some convenient place near the city for practice. Those who are manifesting an interest in the new sport are enthusiastic about it and they contemplate no difficulty in introducing the game here. Once Marquette people become familiar with it, they predict that lacrosse will have a great vogue. The prospective members of the Marquette team are now talking about playing their first game on Decoration Day, when they may meet a team from Calumet, if the game is taken up there, or otherwise, a team of Indians from Baraga.

A GREAT TRANSFORMATION SCENE!

VAN ALSTYN'S STORE TALK.

A glimpse of our ideal has been discernible for the past few days. Our plans have progressed so far that we can now see the beginning of the end. This will be a remarkable week in many ways in our store. The Western Express company will vacate its quarters in a day or two, when active preparations will be commenced to remodel the west room of the block for our occupancy.

This week will complete the alterations in the east basement, which we will occupy at once with the finest and largest line of rugs ever shown in the county, making a rug department which will compare favorably with similar departments in Chicago. The week following we expect to complete alterations in our present carpet department, which when completed will give us almost double the space now used.

Both of these departments have been restocked during the past two weeks with an immense line of new goods. Mr. Frank E. Mosely arrived in the city Thursday last from Connecticut and has already assumed charge of these departments. He is an experienced carpet man and will show you every attention in connection with his department.

As stated a few days ago, we have added to our force of sales-people in our main room. Mr. J. G. White, until last week in charge of the silk and dress goods department of Fremuth of Duluth, arrived in the city Saturday morning and assumed charge of the same position with us. You will find Mr. White thoroughly conversant with the details of the silk and dress goods business and pleased to serve you in that department.

In the reorganization of our clerical force, Mr. George Skogberg, for years dry goods manager for S. Johnson & Co. of Ishpeming, will assume management of our linens, white goods, wash goods, etc. Mr. Skogberg's record in Marquette county needs no comment. You will find him ever ready to give you the benefit of his knowledge of values in his department. He has a host of friends who can depend upon whatever he says.

Our millinery department, which will in a few days move into the room now occupied by the Western Express company, is under the management of Miss Blackman of Chicago, assisted by Miss Sherman of the same city. Miss Blackman as manager and Miss Sherman as trimmer have already demonstrated their ability and skill in their respective positions. You will find Miss Blackman zealous to show you every attention, and with our exclusive millinery able to please you better, doubtless, than you could be elsewhere.

As stated some weeks ago, we have planned upon a progressive policy in merchandising for this season, and as our plans mature we will tell you more about them from time to time.

Owing to the assortment and values we have been offering in ladies' tailor-made suits and wraps, our sales in this department have been greater than we could have hoped for and our customers have come for many miles in every direction. We are showing today values and styles you cannot possibly procure elsewhere, while our assortment is many times greater than is shown by any other house.

We would suggest that before buying anything in dry goods, after looking around town that you inspect our styles and prices. We will be glad to show you our goods, but do not feel compelled to purchase simply because you favored us with a call.
