Canal Legislation Is Discussed at a Three Hours' Caucus and Finds Harmony Conspicuously Absent.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The Democratic members of the senate caucused for over three hours today, but were unable to get together on a program as to the canal legislation. Four distinct propositions were submitted, and many other suggestions were made informally, but no agreement could be reached and the caucus adjourned to meet again on the call of the chairman. Several senators on leaving the caucus bitterly complained of the lack of harmony and condemned the Democratic position with the attitude of the Republicans, who they said, with twice as many representatives, had not a struggle, while hardly two Democrats were of the same opinion.

The resolution which was discussed at greatest length was offered by Senator Carmack of Tennessee. It declared the sentiment of the Democrats to be that the present canal law should be put into operation by the president, who would declare the Democratic position with the attitude of the Republicans, who they
said, with twice as many representatives, had not a struggle, while hardly
two Democrats were of the same opinion.

Attributed to Political Quarrel.
Washington, Nov. 16.—Senator Dietrich and Editor Rosewater, of the Omaha Bee, have arrived in this city and tonight all inquiries as to the indictment of the senator were referred to Mr. Rosewater, who declared the indictment was a result of a political quarrel. Mr. Rosewater asserted that Senator Dietrich has good defense and added that he and the senator had come to Washington at this time to bring about the removal of District Attorney Sommers. He said they already had been to the White House this morning. Mr.
Rosewater declared that Sommers had pushed the charges against Senator Dietrich for the reason that they were politically antagonistic.

Charges of Fraud and Misrepresentation
Made by the Mother of Mrs. Fair.

New York, Nov. 16.—Fraud and misrepresentation on the part of agents of the Vanderbilt and Oelrichs interests in the estate of the late Charles I. Fair are charged by Mrs. Hannah F. Nelson, mother of the late Mrs. Fair, in a deposition to be filed tomorrow in the supreme court by Bela D. Eisher, special commissioner appointed to take testimony of the witnesses of the automobile accident by which Mr. and Mrs. Fair lost their lives near Paris. In her testimony before the commission, Mrs. Nelson testified that after her husband's death she was induced to go to San Francisco, where agents of Mrs. Herman Oelrichs and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., induced her to relinquish her claim to the $3,000,000 estate of her husband. She testified that she had cablegrams showing that Mrs. Fair had died instantly and that her husband survived her, which, if true, would destroy Mrs. Nelson's right to the estate. As a result, she says, she accepted $125,000 to sign over an agreement relinquishing her rights.

LABOR LEADERS DISAGREE.

Spirited Debates Enliven the Federation Convention at Boston.

Boston, Nov. 16.—Two spirited debates enlivened what would otherwise have been a dull session of the American Federation of Labor today. The first was upon the question whether the federation should grant a charter to an organization by Senator Bacon as a substitute for the Carmack plan. This opposite extreme met immediate rejection. It was at this point that some of the senators withdrew from the caucus.

DIRECTED AGAINST CHINA?

Over 250,000 Russian Troops Have Been Ordered to the East.

Moscow, Nov. 16.—The Russian military reoccupation of Mukden, Manchuria, has aroused such an aggressive attitude on the part of China that the continued despatch of troops to the Far East is now said to be directed against China, despite the pacific turn of the Russo-Japanese dispute. Over 250,000 troops have been ordered to the Far East, and with those already there will give Russia an overwhelming force with which to over-awe China.

AMERICAN TRADE WILL NOT SUFFER.

Washington, Nov. 16.—It is stated that this government, in view of the representations of the Russian government to it on the subject of Manchuria, is confident that the events there so far as Russia can control them, will not operate against American trade.

ener was riding.

GUNBOATS WILL SHOOT TO SINK.

Dominican Agent at New York Warns
the Clyde Line Agent.

New York, Nov. 16.—The agent of the Clyde Line steamer Cherokee, which had trouble with the Dominican government authorities on her last trip, declared today that the Cherokee will sail Wednesday on her regular schedule, stopping at Samana Bay, Monte Cristi, Sanchez, Puerta Plata and Macoris. Manuel De J. Galvan, consul general from San Domingo to New York, said today: "If the Cherokee attempts to enter any of those ports, gunboats will not parley with her this time. They will surely sink her."

WASHINGTON NOT WORRIED.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The state department today received notice from the Dominican government, through the consul general in New York, that it had closed certain ports during the continuance of the insurrection. Minister Powell and Captain Briggs, commanding the Baltimore, will determine whether the blockade proposed is really effective and under no circumstances will the state department respect a paper blockade.

The Dominican government, on the insurgents, whoever attempts to establish a blockade must have ships present to make it effective. The officials have not the slightest fears that the Dominican government will try to sink any regular United States liner so long as the Baltimore is in Dominican waters.

FOULLY MURDERED

PROMINENT ILLINOIS GIRL FOUND DEAD IN PASTURE.

Was Thought to Have Eloped With Man Who Escorted Her to a Social and
Who Has Disappeared.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 16.—Miss Ella Henneger, a prominent young lady of Bishop, who was supposed to have eloped, was found murdered today in a pasture near her home. Her body was horribly mutilated and was half buried. Miss Henneger accompanied Fred Strubble, a neighbor's son, to a social a short distance from the girl's home Saturday evening. All efforts to locate Strubble have proved unavailing. The condition of the body indicates that a desperate struggle had taken place.

Later—it has developed that Strubble and Ella Henneger drove in a buggy to a schoolhouse near Havana Saturday evening. Upon their arrival at home, shortly before midnight, Ella was found lying in the carriage unassisted.
Strubble then whipped up the horse and drove away with the other sister.
The girl failed to return home Saturday night or Sunday morning and search was instituted. The girl's skull was crushed, her body was terribly bruised and most of the clothes were torn off.
There was no evidence of criminal assault. Strubble has disappeared. Jealousy is given as the cause of the crime.

BUT ONE BLOCKADE SERIOUS

NUMEROUS HEADS BROKEN AND

Is Planned to Extend the Service to the Cottage Grove Branch Today Under Heavy Guard—Renewed Efforts
Made to Secure Arbitration.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—The City Railway company will tomorrow resume traffic on the Cottage Grove avenue line under guard of 500 policemen. The Wentworth avenue line was operated today under heavy guard, and despite considerable interference five-minute service was maintained.

Riots were frequent along the line,
but the police charged on the crowds with such quickness and force that but one serious blockade was met with.
That was when a teamster who blockaded the track refused to drive out. When the police attempted to drag him from his seat the crowd grew ugly. The police moved against the mob and many persons were clubbed and a few policemen were bruised by stones. A number of arrests were made, and finally after considerable difficulty the mob was dispersed and the car moved on.

A lively fight occurred near the barns at Seventy-ninth and State streets tonight when a wagon carrying provisions to the men living in the barns was stopped by strikers. A crowd of non-union men rushed from the barn and charged the mob around the wagon, quickly putting the crowd to flight.
Stones were thrown and revolvers were displayed, but no shots were fired. Several men were injured, and a few were a few broken heads, but finally they did not last long enough for the police to make any arrests.

It was reported a few days ago that there are 5,000,000 acres in the Soudan ready for cotton cultivation.

England, Austria, Italy, Russia and Germany are all raising cotton in their colonies.

Germany's textile values head the list, at $200,000,000.

He has been a persistent anti-Lafollette man, and now the government's friends are showing their teeth.

It is too early as yet to form any just idea of how the congressman will come out of the engagement, but unquestionably he will have to let out his belt and do some fighting.

The fact that the capital premises are for the first time in their history a "dry" district teaches the representatives to see the folly of their action on the anti-canteen legislation, and should do not a little to create a sentiment for the restoration of the canteen in its original form.

The capitol restaurant will probably experience a falling off in receipts during the forthcoming winter.

Now let the best wishes of the upper peninsula follow Escanaba to Ann Arbor in its quest for state interscholastic football honors.

The victory at Escanaba Saturday was decisively and fairly won, and it demonstrated clearly that the Escanaba eleven is far and away the best in this region.

It will, in all likelihood, prove the best in the state.

The men have weight and football sense and from all reports their game Saturday exhibited a degree of finish rare for high school teams.

The Mining Journal sincerely hopes that they will bring the championship home with them.

After the first burst of rioting the Chicago street railway strikers have been comparatively peaceable during the past few days.

The company has succeeded in moving cars during the day time, though, to be sure, to do this it has been necessary to fill them up with policemen.

Moving cars under such conditions and taking care of a regular traffic without interference are two different things.

Success with the one by no means guarantees success with the other.

People should not be too hasty in concluding that the strike is broken. It may prove that it has only begun.

Dowie may adopt the policies of expansion and benevolent assimilation.

He informs his followers that he has offers of 40,000 and 10,000-acre tracts of land in two different places.

The prospective sites of New Zion cities. The latter is within thirty-five miles of New York.

It is a safe prediction that he will never again be able to persuade his followers to move on that inhospitable territory.

They will be a long time forgetting their first experience there. Dowie had better act cautiously.

It looks as if prospective town boomers were after him.

Lunt, K. Salisbury has just made a new confession, the full contents of which are as yet withheld, that promises to reopen in fullest detail the Grand Rapids water works scandal, to the amazement of all.

THE FRIARS AND THEIR LANDS.

The best news that has come from the Philippines in many a month is the report that Governor Taft has practically succeeded in buying the lands in the archipelago held by the friars.

It has been claimed, and perhaps justly, that these are a deeply wronged body of men, but it has been plain for several years that their usefulness was at an end and this fact was apparently conceded by the vatican.

On his return to the Philippines Governor Taft stopped at Rome and conducted negotiations with the church authorities with results satisfactory to both parties.

It was found, however, that the friars were holding their lands at a virtually prohibitive figure.

The papal delegate at Manila demanded a certain portion of the purchase money for general church uses. This was resisted by the friars, who finally fixed the price at $14,000,000, apparently with the idea of making Uncle Sam pay the vatican's share as well as their own.

The pope's representative, however, refused to indorse this course and through his influence the price was reduced to $6,000,000, for which the island government expects to buy all the friars' holdings.

These lands consist of more than 400,000 acres in the islands of Luzon, Cebu and Mindoro and are among the most valuable in the islands.

There seems to be no question about the title as most of the best estates have been held for a century or more by their present owners.

It is Gov. Taft's intention, as explained by him in Washington last winter, to raise the purchase money by a bond issue and either sell the lands to the natives on easy terms or rent them and permit the income to go on the purchase price.

The United States was never inclined to drive a hard bargain in this matter, realizing that the problem to be dealt with was a political rather than a financial or religious one.

The friars have been recognized as a most serious cause of unrest in the islands and to remove this for good and all would seem to be worth the price paid.

A secondary, but still important, consideration will be that through the bargain about to be closed the natives will come into possession of the best land in the islands under conditions that will make it worth their while to develop their new holdings, even if the warpath has to be abandoned.

THE STEEL TRUST'S FUTURE.

The continuous decline of steel trust securities in Wall street after a number of burries which were supposed to have forced weak holders and marginal speculators to let go of their holdings attracts much attention and different opinions are advanced in explanation.

One, entertained by a considerable number, is offered by the Detroit Free Press.

It is a remarkable thing that during a high state of financial placidity in the country the steel shares should at this advanced stage of liquidation reach the low record of valuations and that 100,000 of them should change hands in a single hour.

It is known by every broker that outside capital cannot be attracted to this quarter for investment while the company's affairs, in the matter of its bond sales, are being conducted as they are.

It is as if a wheel of fortune, which had just been set in motion, were to be stopped at a point where it had just started.

The corner who has been investigating the Big Four week at Indianapolis October 31, in which several members of the Purdue football team lost their lives, has finally fixed the responsibility for the disaster.

He lays it at the door of the chief train despatcher, who, it is claimed, failed to notify the yardmaster at Indianapolis of the approach of the special, thus allowing him to clear the tracks.

It is now in order to make this despatcher, unfortunate man, pay some adequate penalty for the terrible loss of life consequent on his blunder.

Punishment in cases of this nature is important mainly in that it is calculated to accent the necessity of the greatest caution on the part of those entrusted with the safety of the traveling public's lives.

Bourke Cochran is also mentioned as a possible successor of Mayor-elect McClellan at Washington.

Cochran returned to the fold in the recent municipal election and was lined up with Tammany, delivering a few of his characteristic speeches.

It does not appear that he wants to go to congress very badly or that there is much chance of his being allowed to succeed McClellan, but his name is being bandied about in the connection.

His previous experience in the halls of legislation was brief and unsatisfactory.

He found that his vaunted oratory was at a discount and he was too impatient to try to work up to a position of power and influence by the ordinary, time-honored laborious methods, even though his ability would have stood the test.

It is characteristic of Cochran always to want everything all at once.

The western football championship situation is still enveloped in doubt.

Saturday's games did nothing to simplify it. Michigan and Minnesota, whose recent tie game is now regarded more than ever, both won.

Michigan put Wisconsin finally out of the running and Minnesota ran up a considerable score on the Illinois, who, however, had already been defeated by Chicago, Northwestern and Indiana.

Next Saturday Wisconsin and Minnesota play. This game may settle the mooted question.

If Wisconsin should win then Michigan is successful against Chicago Thanksgiving day the honor would rightfully belong to the Wolverines.

On the other hand should Minnesota win and Michigan lose to Chicago Minnesota will be in the best position.

Neither of these contingencies are, in fact, likely, as the indications point to both Michigan and Minnesota closing their seasons with clean records, with the exception of their tie game.

If this proves the case it is clear that the western championship cannot rightfully be claimed by either team.

A postseason game would decide it, but these contests are not in good favor, and anyway the feeling between Michigan and Minnesota over their first game would make such a meeting impracticable.

BIG VOLCANOES ACTIVE.

Columns of Flame and Smoke Rising High Above Cotopaxi.

Four of the famous volcanoes, each far distant from the others, have been reported recently as renewing their active condition.

One of them is Cotopaxi, a volcanic cone only a little lower than its brother, Chimborazo, the two mountains being known all over the world as the giants of the Ecuadorian Andes.

For some time past columns of flame and smoke have been rising high above Cotopaxi's crater and showers of ashes have fallen in the neighborhood of Quito.

The present eruptions are exactly like those which preceded the formidable eruption of 1877. It may be that the phenomena reported are only preliminary to more terrific outbursts.

Cotopaxi stands out as an ideal volcano. It is of regular conic form, with gently sloping flanks, so that it may easily be scaled by climbers capable of resisting mountain sickness.

It was on the edge of its crater that Whymper passed a whole night in order to study the physiological effects of rarification on the human organism at an altitude of nearly 20,000 feet.

Whymper believes that volcanic outpourings have considerably increased its height during the last 150 years.

At any rate, Cotopaxi is overtopped only by Chimborazo, whose extinct crater has long been filled with snow and ice.

The last great eruption occurred in 1877, and middle aged Ecuadorians will remember that event.

Torrents of boiling mud and showers of red-hot stones poured over the crater among the ice fields, and a deluge of slush, water and ice were roaring down to the plains with a velocity that could not be a minute sweeping away houses, bridges and all other obstacles along its way.

This deluge reached the sea, 280 miles distant, on the very day of the eruption.

During this active period a huge column of black ashes was projected to a height of 18,000 feet above the crater, and moving west with the wind, was diffused widely over the Pacific.

Steamships plying along the coast were suddenly wrapped in darkness, and when the black shroud was lifted streams of molten red lava were seen boiling over the rim of the crater, changing the ice and snow to avalanches of slush.

The summit of the volcano during the purest white snow, is usually beautiful to see, but now it became black and calcined. A boiling sea of lava had swept over it.

Panama reports that the volcano of Santiago in Nicaragua is in eruption.

Many coffee plantations near Masaya and Masatote have been damaged by the fall of ashes.

The word Santiago is used in many places for mountain names throughout Latin America, merely as a part of the Nicaragua volcano by this name.

The towns mentioned in its neighborhood, however, show conclusively that the volcano is Masaya, which the Spaniards in the early days called inferno (hell), and which stands midway to the west of the neck of land connecting the lake basins of Masaya and Nicaragua.

The name Masaya means burning mountain.

The volcano was first ascended by Oviedo, who saw its crater filled with burning lava. It has been quiet for over 100 years, except in 1832 and 1856, when it discharged large quantities of vapor.

The fact that it has suddenly resumed activity is particularly interesting in view of the long period during which it has been dormant.

Another dispatch to the Sun says that Mount Colima is again in a state of eruption and is pouring large quantities of lava from its crater.

Mount Colima is now the only mountain in Mexico that makes a regular business of volcanic displays.

A great deal of the time it is merely smoking a little, but once in a while lava and smoke are poured from its crater in great volume, and then many of the people living in the fertile plains between Colima and the Pacific abandon their fields and take refuge at a safe distance.

One of the great volcanoes of the island of Hawaii is also reported to be in eruption, but no particulars are yet at hand.—New York Sun.

BIG APPLE SHIPMENTS.

More Than a Million Barrels Already Sent Abroad.

Apple shipments from the various Atlantic ports this season passed the 1,000,000 barrel mark October 17, a record never before equaled at such an early date.

As complied by the statistician of the Boston chamber of commerce, the number of barrels shipped this season up to October 17 was 1,044,961.

Last year, which was one of the best ever known in apple exports, the million mark was passed on November 8, three weeks later.

Maine farmers—and doubtless the same is true in New York state—are finding it exceedingly difficult, not only to get their apples in before the heavy frost strike, but also to secure barrels in which to pack their product for the foreign market.

According to the testimony of one person, who has been visiting in Maine, some of the apple growers are obliged to send ten and fifteen miles for barrels, and then carry them back to their orchards.

Everybody about the places is pressed into the service of picking.

Of course, in apple picking, as well as in almost any other business which offers a chance to make and break records there usually is some claimant for the honor of being the fastest picker in the state.

C. F. Killebreth, a selectman of Winthrop, Me., and formerly a citizen of Hallowell, reports having picked, in three successive days, 113 bushels—35 one day, 37 the second and 41 the third.

Two apples are found quite frequently. The other day a Miss Lena Sinclair of Hallowell took to a newspaper office a large apple, the upper half of which was rich russet color and the lower half a deep red. It looked as if two apples of different varieties had been halved and the upper half of one joined to the lower half of another.—Boston Transcript.

GREAT AIRSHIP

One as Big as an Ocean Liner Will Be Built by Aerenaut.

Dr. August Greth, who lately successfully sailed the airship "Aerenaut" of his own invention, intends to compete for the $100,000 prize and gold medal to be awarded for the most successful airship at the St. Louis exposition.

Dr. Greth in an interview explained fully the exclusive properties of his airship, as compared with the Santos-Dumont and Spencer machines. He said:

"There are three kinds of flying machines, so-called. The first, in theory, consists of a machine that proceeds buoyant attachment, and can raise itself by its own force, as does a bird.

"I regard this sort of machine as impossible in the present development of force. The weight of the best power we have increases in geometrical proportion to its raising power, so that if we have an engine weighing two pounds, for instance, and capable of raising two pounds from the earth by itself, and it should be desired to double its raising capacity, we would have to increase its weight to eight pounds. Manifestly, when we desire to utilize such power to raise a ton, for instance, the weight of the engine alone would be so great as to preclude it raising itself. Birds do not grow to too large size, because an increase in their weight would preclude their flying freely.

"Accordingly we are left with two possible problems. One is an airship with a gas bag inside, and containing machinery and steering apparatus, with accommodations for freight and passengers. This must necessarily be on a large scale, and its size would have to be enormous. To be properly dirigible and have a commercial value it would have to be as large as our greatest ocean liners.

"I have models for this kind of an airship, and I hope to live to see one completed along the lines of my plans. The cost of it is all that deters me from constructing one at present.

"The third and most feasible airship from a pecuniary point of view, is a machine modeled after the same principles adopted in the one I used in my recent trip. It consists of a supporting elliptical balloon connected with a frame swung underneath it, which carries the motor power and steering gear and a place for the navigator. The shape of the balloon is the same as that in use by Santos-Dumont and Spencer, but I have improved over them by doing away with the ballonet, which is a smaller balloon filled with air and designed to equalize the expansion in the hydrogen balloon. The ballonet is unsatisfactory because it vitiates the hydrogen by introducing air into it. Instead of that I have a special netting over my balloon, which keeps it taut on top and at the ends, even with a small supply of gas, and prevents the possibility of 'bucking.'"

BRAIN VS. BRAUN.

Professor Wilbur Jackson, dean of the school of education, Chicago university, believes that quality of population is more important than quantity.

In a recent address he said: "The highest evolution is in quality, not quantity. I am not particularly disturbed by the hysteria of our strenuous friends regarding race suicide. The course of evolution I believe that the race has passed beyond the stage of the rabbit and the rat."

The good sense of this is in marked contrast to much of the rhetoric on the subject.

When the country is new and sparsely settled brain is wanted in large quantities to fell forests, clear land for agriculture and expel the wild beasts of the wilderness.

When the country fills up and the problems of society press for solution brain of good quality is most in request.

The problems of civilization are complicated and intellect of rare quality is needed. If quantity is not so much in evidence in families, we have reason to hope that quality is not absent.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

TRAINMAN KILLED.

Eugene Major, Copper Range Brakeman, Falls from Engine Tender.

Eugene Major, a well-known Houghton young man, employed as a brakeman by the Copper Range Railroad company, fell from the tender of the engine of the Freda special passenger train about 6 o'clock Sunday evening and was fatally injured. He died two and a half hours later, having sustained a deep fracture at the base of the skull. The accident occurred near the Redridge station, but as no one was about at the time it was not suspected that anything had happened to the young man until Beacon Hill was reached. The train was sent back over the route and he was found along the track. The trainman at first believed him dead, but it was ascertained that he was still living although unconscious. It was seen at a glance that he was badly hurt and the young man was placed aboard the train and taken to Houghton with all possible speed. Houghton was reached at 7:30 o'clock. He was taken to the home of his brother, Frank Major, on Montezuma street in West Houghton, where death occurred.

The young man had been employed on the road for nearly three years. He was the eldest trainman in the service. He usually went out on the Freda special, which leaves Houghton at 5:10 o'clock Sunday afternoons for the accommodation of Redridge, Beacon Hill and Freda residents. He departed as usual Sunday afternoon. When Miss Junction was reached he got on the engine, as he had done many times before, and rode on it until Redridge Junction was reached. He then left the cab, stating that he was going back to the coaches. He started over the coal tender and that was the last seen of him alive. It is presumed that in crawling over the coal he lost his balance and fell off. The tender was heaped up with coal and as the train was going at a fair rate of speed it was no easy task to get back to the cars in safety. Major had done the very thing many times before, however, and he had confidence in himself. In falling he evidently struck on the back of his head. The contusion at the base of the skull and a few bruises on one of his shoulders were the only marks on his body.

Mr. Major was a general favorite on the road, and had he lived it would not have been long before he would have been promoted. Superintendent Fales said yesterday that he thought a great deal of the young man and deeply regretted his death. The same sentiments were expressed by his fellow employees and friends. He was twenty-seven years of age and had lived in Houghton the greater part of his life. He was born at the Atlantic mine location, whence his parents removed to Houghton a few years later. He is survived by his mother, four sisters and five brothers. His mother has been living with her daughter, Mrs. E. B. Nelson, in Spokane, Wash. Word was sent to her yesterday, and she is now on her way to Houghton to attend the funeral. The daughters, besides Mrs. Nelson, are Mrs. Joseph Radleigh, Houghton; Mrs. Frank Getchell, Mohawk mine; and Miss Lucy Major, a teacher at Great Falls, Mont. Miss Major has also left for Houghton. She will meet her mother at Helena and the two will come together. The brothers are Frank, Harold and Charles of Houghton, Ed of Deadwood and George of Helena, Mont. The latter two are expected to come, but have not yet been heard from. Mrs. Major and Miss Lucy Major probably will not arrive until Thursday and the funeral will not be held until that day at least.

The deceased was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Three Other Fatalities.

Anton Fondrette, a Calumet & Hecla miner, was struck by a falling rock while at work in the thirty-fifth level of No. 8 shaft yesterday morning, sustaining injuries which resulted in his death. He leaves a wife and two children.

A descending cage which struck him a severe blow, fracturing his skull, was responsible for the death of Isaac Seeden at the Osceola mine. The accident occurred Sunday evening at the seventh level of No. 6 shaft. The coroner's jury returned a verdict declaring that the fatality resulted through the carelessness of the engineer in lowering the cage too fast.

The lifeless body of Frank Stappart, Sr., an old resident of Hancock, was found alongside the Copper Range tracks at the Quincy mill Sunday evening. It is believed that he fell from the tracks, receiving injuries that proved fatal shortly after. Mr. Stappart was aged about seventy and was the father of Frank Stappart, the well-known Hancock saloon keeper.

REV. MR. MYERS REPLIES.

Superintendent of the Good Will Farm Makes Another Statement.

"I have made no charges that are not based on reports made monthly," said Rev. K. A. Myers, superintendent of the Good Will Farm & Home Finding association, yesterday relative to Treasurer Ed Hanson's report that the total expenditures concerning the expense of Mrs. Walker, the financial agent, were misleading and malicious.

"At the annual meeting in January, 1903," he continued, "inasmuch as the superintendent should report to the president and the financial agent to the superintendent. Mrs. Walker's reports, however, have been presented to the treasurer and paid every month by the association. In March Mrs. Stambrough was employed. I was not advised concerning the matter. Later in the year two others, Miss Dodge and Miss Beattie, were employed in the same way. Their reports have never reached my hands until after payment has been made. When I spoke of 'questionable' items I referred to those that I objected to without a satisfactory explanation in response."

"At our meeting in August I insisted that I must know the whereabouts of the workers who solicit funds for the institution. Since that time I have only received reports giving the total expenses of the workers outside of Mrs. Walker, with the itemized expenses of Mrs. Walker, paid before consulting me. The first week of September the workers came in from soliciting in response to a call from Mrs. Walker. They remained in Houghton several days, the association paying expenses and salaries as usual. That inactivity on their part materially affected the results of the month's work. In August the collectors were $1,259.51, in September, $880.43; in October, $1,215.25. It then became evident that I was superintendent in name only and as I could no longer be responsible for the administration of the association, I resigned the office on October 1st.

"In regard to my qualifications for superintending the work, I will only recall what has already been said. I was appointed, appointed to investigate the causes for my resignation, asked me to remain and urged me to withdraw my resignation. My work has been endorsed by Dr. W. H. Dodge, the president of the association, in a letter on Nov. 6, he said, 'I endorse the work of Mr. and Mrs. Myers unqualifiedly, and regret exceedingly that Mr. Myers refused to withdraw his resignation.' Mr. Myers' insinuations to the contrary are hardly in keeping with the facts of the case. Mr. Haas, president Dodge and others. Mr. Haas denied the statement made by me to the effect that Mrs. Walker's expenses never reached $111 a month at any time. I have her reports to show that her expenses in May of this year were $113.

"I wish to thank the generous public of the upper peninsula for its fidelity to a work that I have loved and considered a worthy charity. I have heretofore regretted that the former pleasant relations could not have continued. Other than this I have no more to say in regard to the present trouble, and as far as I am concerned, I drop it for the good of the institution."

FAVORS SIMPLIFIED SPELLING.

Superintendent Kratz, of the Calumet public schools, has been asked by R. H. Halsey, president of the Oaksholm Normal school, to lend his influence at the Michigan State Teachers' association towards the adoption of such simplified spellings as laid down by the National Educational association and since adopted by the Wisconsin and Illinois state teachers' associations. A well-known educational people throughout the country are endeavoring to change certain forms of spellings, the idea being to make the construction of the words in question identical with the pronunciation. The principal changes from the usual forms are the following: thor, thorfors, program, tho, altho, thoro, thorfors, thru, thruout, catalog, proglog, deaclog, demagog, and pedagog. The state teachers' associations of Wisconsin and Illinois have formally disapproved of the restoration of such obsolete and un-American spellings as harbour, favour, colour, etc., believing the "u" in such words is a hindrance to the cause of popular education. Simplified spelling forms, it is believed, can only be brought about by interested state teachers' associations and that the best way of being followed. Superintendent Kratz of Calumet believes the simplified forms are the best and he will favor their adoption by the state association.

TOOK AWAY THEIR LICENSES.

Rev. A. L. Heidemann, pastor of the Calumet Finnish Lutheran church, while out hunting with his son near Baraga had an experience with a nery game warden who asked to see their licenses. When the reverend gentleman handed them over he was accused of an irregularity in not having obtained the documents from the Baraga county clerk, instead of the clerk of Houghton county. The warden wanted him to go to L'Anse and take oath that the licenses were made out for himself and son. The reverend gentleman also was accused of using one of the coupons of his son's license to put on a deer that the warden alleged the boy did not shoot. The interview ended by the warden taking the licenses. They were afterwards returned through the mails, the nery official evidently realizing after thinking it all over that he was in the wrong.

DULUTH TO HAVE A TEAM.

And It Thinks It Can "Do" the Portage Lake Hockey Seven.

Says the Duluth News-Tribune: Duluth will undoubtedly have a hockey team this season. Several players have been looking up sites for a rink and they now have four locations in view, any of which will suit the purpose admirably. The players say that when the season arrives they will have as good an aggregation as can be gotten together in the upper lake district.

The opening of the season is still a good ways off and there is therefore plenty of time in which to make preparations and decide on plans. The interest in the game last winter was not great owing to the fact that no suitable location had yet been found, despite efforts in that direction.

The Houghton aggregation, which has strong backing, is being generously talked about in regard to the hockey feats which it is expected to accomplish this year. The Duluth contingent will endeavor to get a game with the copper country boys and if the local players desired can be secured the Michigan boys will have to play fast to win.

THINKS MURDER WAS MEANT.

John P. Sundquist, a Calumet & Hecla miner, employed in the Red Jacket shaft, believes that a dastardly attempt was made on his life by a fellow workman, with whom he has been at odds for some time. Shortly after he had partaken of a lunch underground he became very sick and had to quit work. He wondered what had caused the trouble and set about to find out. He remembered that he had drunk some tea that had a decidedly peculiar flavor. He also remembered a threat that was made by one of his fellow workmen about three years ago to the effect that he would get even with Sundquist sooner or later. Sundquist put two and two together and examined the scalding tea in his dinner pail. He found traces of powder. He also found out that the man who had threatened him has been working near him at the time he partook of lunch. Sundquist then believed in an attempt to poison him and had been made. He consulted a local justice and made complaint against the man he suspected but the judge recommended that the prosecuting attorney be consulted before a warrant was issued. Mr. Larson has the case under consideration.

AN EXPERIENCE WITH WOLVES.

Wolves are reported numerous. A party of Hancock men back from a week's hunt on the plains out of Baraga report that they had killed a large number of animals in that region. While one of the men was out hunting alone he heard a pack of a dozen or more howling and snarling not far from where he was. It was growing dusk, and he was not a little alarmed that he might be attacked by the wolves. He was going in another direction he was very cautious. He had just about enough cartridges in his rifle for each animal in the pack and although a little nervous decided to face the music if the wolves came at him. He began planning a line of defense and determined to make a stand. He was taken by surprise when going in another direction he was very cautious. ARE NOT AFRAID.

State Fish Commissioners Quite Willing to Be Investigated.

Members of the Michigan fish commission say they are at a loss to account for the attack made upon them by Game Warden Chapman in writing a letter to Gov. Bliss asking for an investigation of the methods of the commission, and some of them are inclined to think there is a mistake somewhere, says the Detroit Free Press.

"We are freely willing to be investigated at any time," said President F. B. Dickerson. "In fact, we will welcome anything of the sort. It is true that the commission has failed to report since 1898, but the explanation is easily given. When the legislature of 1900 allowed money for the printing of the reports of the state boards, that of the commission was left out, probably through oversight. Consequently, we had no funds with which to get out our report, and as it is customary to present a printed one to the governor, we held it up. The document has been in typewritten form in our offices for the last two years. The last legislature did allow us the usual amount, and our fifteenth report is now on the way.

"Now, I have no wish to antagonize the game warden, nor have the others of the commission, for we hold it scarcely proper for one department of the state government to criticize another. These, however, are the facts in the case. The $75,000 appropriated by the legislature is not an annual allowance, as might be inferred, but a biennial appropriation. Mr. Chapman is reported as saying that it cost the state last year less than $500 to stock the lakes and streams of the state with whitefish, trout and wall-eyed pike on account of its arrangement with the United States fish commission. I would like to know what the state commission is doing with its money."

Worked in Inland Waters.

"We can easily tell this. Our work has been confined to the inland waters, and the work of planting the wall-eyed pike provided by the United States commission is the smallest part of our work. Beside this, we plant trout, rainbow trout, and lake trout, at an expense of something like $30,000 per year. In addition, this year we are erecting, at a cost of $11,000, two new hatcheries, one for bass at Drayton Plains, and one at Harbetta, Westport. In addition, there are the repairs to be considered, other incidental expenses, and the cost of keeping and distributing the wall-eyed pike spawn furnished us by the United States fish commission. Our reports may be seen by any citizen who wishes to call at our office, and all our bills go through the auditor's hands before they are paid. We cannot spend any money without his O. K."

"When the legislature ordered us to do no work in the great lakes, our appropriation was continued as before, and we devoted our energies entirely to the inland waters. It was fortunate for us in being enabled to make the present arrangement with the national commission. We have plenty of use for all our money, for there is now twenty times as much demand for fish as we are able to meet. The commission recently got out a card, which shows that we have planted fish in 6,000 places in the state.

Auditor General's Approval.

"As I said before, we would be glad of investigation, for we have always received the highest compliments from the auditor's office, for the manner in which we conduct our affairs. "Concerning the story that the fish trust is behind the present move of the game warden, I know nothing, and would not care to criticize in any event. I have, however, seen nothing in the reports," which ought to rouse the game warden's ire against us."

Superintendent Bower, of the state fish commission, said in connection with the matter:

"It seems very likely if the United States commission is beaten in the present contest, it will do no more work here. In that case it will be necessary for the Michigan commission to resume it."

"Suppose the legislature does not give them the opportunity, will that mean the extermination of the whitefish?"

"It will at least mean their depletion, though, for certain reasons," says their extinction in the great lakes. The number was decreasing when the work of replenishing began, but now the fish are more numerous than ever. The ill effects would be felt in Lake Erie more than in any other spot. More fish are taken from that than from any other body of water in the world. It is shallow enough all over to allow the operating of nets, and the fishing goes on practically without interruption through the entire year. The slight depth lessens the opportunity of the fish to escape. In the other lakes great depths furnish a refuge, so that the chances for serious depletion are considerably lessened."

Details of Expenses.

The superintendent was also able to give some details as to the expenses of the commission. Beside maintaining five hatcheries, this not including the one at Detroit used for only two months, it has during the last year made permanent improvements on them all. Out of the appropriation also must come the maintenance of the local office, and that of a fish car, which is in use five to six months in a year and is valued at $3,000 miles during the season.

A year ago last June permanent improvements and apparatus were valued at $56,637.48, which amount has increased to about $75,000, Mr. Bower estimates.

Although, so far as I know, there has never been anything said in this office tending to connect Mr. Chapman with the fish trust, I think I can explain why he considers us responsible for the rumor connecting him with it," said he.

"Five years ago, when an effort was made to repeal the law which gave him the trust opposed it, and the game warden's office took the same side. The commissioners held an opposite view, and probably all were honest in their opinions. It is possible, however, that Mr. Chapman, though he was not then warden, may think we are keeping up the fight. This, however, is not the case."

SOMEWHAT BETTER TONE.

It Was Characteristic of the Boston Market Yesterday.

Paine, Webber & Co. said of the Boston market:

"The buying and bidding of three or four specialties caused the whole market to have a better tone today. Every time the market rallies, however, it grows very dull, indicating that the most buyers are found on declines. The selling of Dalv' West was scattered. Amalgamated was strong, but it has apparently lost its ability to influence other coppers. The Steels are weak enough to threaten other stocks and if we were going to do anything we would sell the stocks that have had the biggest rallies."

Hayden, Stone & Co. wired W. H. Laddley:

"With the exception of Dalv' West there is no change in this market. We have never been bullish on Dalv' West or Mercur, as there has been western stock sale ever since these stocks were listed here and we have often called attention to the fact, together with the large dividends that both have paid. Since then Consolidated Mercur has passed dividends and we think the decline in Dalv' West is discounting reduced dividends. We look for considerable activity here, when New York changes. We would not advise purchases, except on reactions."

Pennsylvania's Attacked Again.

The Hadden-Rodde New York letter was as follows:

"The stock market today opened under the influence of lower prices in London. Before the early trading professional traders continued their attack upon the market. Pennsylvania was again selected as the most vulnerable stock and was sold on a tremendous account of its own. The market closed 100,000 shares of Pennsylvania had been traded in and the prices showed a decline of one point. The rest of the list was weak, in sympathy with Pennsylvania, but the selling pressure in other issues was very heavy. Around noon the announcement was made that two million dollars additional had been engaged in London for import. This announcement had an immediate favorable effect on the market and drew the attention of the traders generally to the improvement in the monetary situation. Including today's engagement something like $6,000,000 of gold will reach New York this week. Most of the sum will arrive in time to secure in this week's bank statement. The amount of currency also shows clear indication of monetary improvement."

Deer Slayer Fined—

Moses Hill of Fairgrove, Tuscola county, who was arrested for killing deer in the vicinity of Rex, Mackinac county, before the opening of the season, had a hearing before Justice Bishop at St. Ignace. The court fined him $10 and costs, in all $27, which he paid.

Lost Part of the Deck Load—

The schooner Pomeroy, one of the steamer Weston's consorts, which cleared last week from Manistique, while some twelve miles out and in a heavy sea lost about 50,000 feet of lumber. The boat was brought back and the Weston and the other tow proceeded to their destination.

Lost Part of His Lung—

Thomas Proulx, a lumber foreman at St. Ignace, was sent to Detroit for treatment last week. Without having sustained any injury in the lumber camp, the man became painfully affected in his chest. It was found that he was suffering from gangrene of the lungs, which necessitated an operation, including the partial removal of the right lung and a portion of the man's ribs. Proulx is expected to live.

Got a Bad Scorching—

Dr. F. A. Grawn's residence at Munising got a bad scorching last Friday and had a narrow escape from total destruction. The contents and building were damaged to the extent of about $1,500, fully covered by insurance. The fire was caused by a lamp overturning in the woodshed. The servant girl went to the shed to get some wood, set the lamp down and knocked it over accidentally. She tried to put out the blaze, instead of giving a prompt alarm, so that the fire gained great headway.

A GREAT LABOR STRIKE.

Millions of Workers Out

One of the greatest labor strikes you can possibly imagine is that which takes place in your body when you eat improper food. Your body is a workshop and in it are millions and millions of workers—muscle builders. In the stomach alone there are more than five million of these workers, whose business it is to devise the means to build the body. If the food you eat is of a poor quality those five million toilers—these five millions of little microscopic peepin' micks—strike, and millions and millions of other tissue builders in other parts of the body also strike through sympathy. The body may strike for but a short time, but it is long enough to throw a lot of the delicate and intricate machinery in that wonderful workshop of yours out of repair and cause all manner of trouble.

The way to avoid labor strikes in the body is to supply that vast horde of artisans which build it with proper food material, and for this purpose there is nothing so good as Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit, the only naturally porous food made from wheat. It is light, crisp, wholesome, and can be digested with ease. Shredded Wheat makes rich, red blood—blood that makes strong men, women, and children.

"I have used Shredded Wheat Biscuits in hospital practice and find the results highly satisfactory. They are especially beneficial in cases of indigestion, complicated with constipation."—Albert A. Taft, M. D., Carney Hospital, Boston, Mass.

"As a digestive, and in cases of chronic constipation and dyspepsia, Shredded Wheat cereal is one of the very best remedies I have ever prescribed."—B. F. Anderson, M. D., Colorado Springs, Col.

FIREMEN DID WELL.
Former Chief Praises the Department's Work Saturday Night.

"No better work was ever done by the Ishpeming fire department than at the Jochim fire Saturday night. The boys fought a gallant battle with the flames and they are deserving of high praise for what they accomplished." This statement was made by John P. Outwater, one of the organizers of the present department and a veteran fire fighter, in talking about the Jochim blaze yesterday. Mr. Outwater takes a great interest in the department, and is always pleased to praise the men when their performances justify commendation. The fire was particularly hard to fight on account of the difficulty in locating it. The blaze could have been quenched easily with much less water if the flames had been accessible, but the smoke and the disordered condition of the upper story baffled all efforts to find the seat of the fire. The firemen were obliged to crawl on their hands and knees through a tangled mass of pipe, stove flues, tinware and other articles of a similar nature. Contending against such obstacles, they nevertheless were able to prevent the flames from spreading and the building was saved almost intact.

Insurance on the Jochim building and stock is held by the companies represented by the Miners' bank agency, Geo. B. Seeger, William Peters and Carl Tellefsen. The adjusters will probably be here by the end of the week. The fire in the Sellwood block many years ago, though the temperature did not approach the degree of cold that prevailed on that occasion. Then the mercury stood at twenty-five degrees below zero.

INSTALLING NEW BOILER.
A new heating plant is being installed in the city building and no steam will pass through the radiators for two days. The library will be closed today and tomorrow, but the offices of the recorder and the board of public works will be open as usual, being provided with small temporary heaters. The Lake Superior Heating company has the contract for placing the new boiler, taking the old one and $75 in cash. The new plant will be amply large enough to heat the building well. A great saving of coal will be effected. No less than fifty tons were required to run the old boiler.

Good progress is being made with the work on the basement. The wall is practically completed. The openings are being closed up and the doorways put in. The space under the jail has been filled with earth and loose rock, making a solid foundation for the cells.

WORK AT EAST NEW YORK.
The Ishpeming Mining company is pushing development work at the East New York mine, and exploring for deposits on the company's property across the railroad. Preparations have been made for starting drill work in a short time. A stamper has been put down eight feet to the ledge. There is a body of ore not far from the surface. The explorations will show if this deposit extends to a sufficient depth to make it worth opening up.

The shaft is being sunk from the sixth level, an additional 100 feet, making the total depth of the mine 700 feet. The mine is still yielding considerable ore, but it is mixed with rock that has to be picked out. This sorting process is slow and adds to the expense of production.

MANY VISITED BRAASTAD'S.
Braastad's store was thronged with visitors all through yesterday. Every department of the mammoth establishment was thoroughly inspected. Everyone was presented with a carnation. The supply gave out, after 4,000 had been distributed, but more were telegraphed for and arrived in the evening. Coffee and shredded wheat were served the visitors.

Shot Four Wildcats.
Edward Dunsay of Escanaba township shot and killed four wildcats while hunting last week. The bounty and pelts netted him about $20.

Killed in the Woods.
P. G. Nelson, aged twenty-four, of Iron Mountain, employed in a logging camp near Foster City, was killed by a falling tree late last week.

Broke a Leg.
J. C. Maynard, a well-known business man of Escanaba, will be confined to his home for some time to come, the result of slipping on an icy sidewalk. He broke his left leg just above the ankle.

Small Calendar.
It is not expected that the November term of the Menominee circuit court, which opened yesterday, will be in session longer than a week. The calendar is one of the smallest in years. There are but four criminal and eleven civil cases, none of great importance.

Cut Twenty Million Feet.
The Foster Estate saw mill at Baraga has closed down for the season. Since starting operations last spring, 20,000,000 feet of lumber have been turned out, the mill working on day shift only. The Baraga Lumber company's plant also has been closed down. Most of the men made idle have gone to the woods.

Venison Seized.
Twenty-five deer, killed before the open season, but shipped on Monday after the season opened, were seized at Mackinaw City and placed in cold storage. Some of the deer, it is said, were killed Nov. 1st. Game Warden Chapman is distributing the deer among state and charitable institutions.

Exodus of Foreigners.
During the past week there has been a large emigration from Norway, chiefly to European countries. Fully 100 tickets were sold, about twenty to California and other western states and about eighty to Poland, Belgium, Italy and Austria. Very few of those who went to Europe intend to remain there, but to return again at the first evidence of a revival of the iron industry.

Looks for Mills to Close.
R. H. Downing of Minneapolis, president of the Northwestern Cedarman's association, interviewed at Escanaba, last week, stated that he expected to see every single mill in northern Michigan and Wisconsin close down on Dec. 1st, when the reduced scale of wages takes effect. The companies have decided on a cut of twenty-five cents per day, to which the union men declare they will not accede.

Burned Hull Abandoned.
The hull of the burned steamer Manhattan, which met with disaster near Munising on Oct. 27, has been abandoned by the underwriters, although an attempt may be made to raise the boat next spring. The prevailing opinion, however, is that by spring there will be nothing left of the Manhattan worth raising. The cargo underwriters have sold the wheat to the firm of W. Ellis & Co., elevator men of Milwaukee. The grain is now being pumped out of the hold, carried across the bay and loaded into cars.

Jury Unable to Agree.
Frank Walker, a homesteader living eight miles from Ontonagon, last week brought action against William Heard for $90 damage for the loss of two cows from Paris green poisoning last August. The plaintiff alleged that the defendants had carelessly left a mixture of Paris green and flour upon the Heard homestead and that the cows ate enough of the poison to cause their death. Only two or three witnesses were sworn for the plaintiff and the defense closed its side without offering any evidence. The jury was unable to agree, standing two for acquittal and four in favor of a verdict for damages. It is probable that another trial will be held.

Game Wardens Balked.
On the special permit of Game Warden Overbeck of Wisconsin, two outside hunters last week each shipped two deer carcasses from Florence to their homes in Pennsylvania and Ohio. A permit of this kind is not frequently issued and it appears to have occasioned no little worry on the part of two deputy game wardens from lower Michigan who are stationed at Iron Mountain, through which city the deer passed. They visited the express offices in an endeavor to seek information regarding the identity of the shippers, but this was refused. They were inclined to dispute the authority of the Wisconsin official, but refrained from interference and reported the matter to the Michigan department.

An Interesting Question.
Have the authorities any right to refuse to sell a man a deer license? This is a question that is puzzling the Chipewaga county clerk, who has about run out of licenses and is rather dubious of getting more. What is the clerk to do when the licenses are gone and a man lays down his money and demands one? The only thing possible is to give him a receipt for his money. Then if he goes into the woods without the license and kills deer he will violate the law, notwithstanding the fact that he has paid his fee as required. Now is the hunter to be refused the right to hunt deer in Michigan because the authorities at Lansing have not had enough license blanks printed? This is an interesting question that is causing no little consternation at the Soo.

Sugar Factory Wheels Start.
For the first time all the machinery of Menominee's best sugar factory was put in motion yesterday. It was not for the purpose of turning out sugar, however, but as a test, water being utilized in place of the juice of beets. G. F. Lewis, chief engineer for the Kilby Manufacturing company, who has been in charge of the construction of the plant, says that the exact date when the factory will commence to grind beets and make sugar has not been determined, but that it will be in a few days. The big plant will be kept on the "water run" until the men are perfectly familiar with the working of the machinery, so that when the first run of beets is made there will be no hitch in operations. When the plant gets under full way and everything is running smoothly it will be capable of grinding 1,000 tons of beets a day. At present there are about 10,000 tons of beets on hand and shipments to the factory are being rushed. On both shifts there will be about 225 men employed in and about the factory proper. The shifts will be twelve hours each. In the factory proper there will be about 125 men employed. In the construction of the plant about six and a half million bricks were used.

LOST TO IRONWOOD.

Duluth High School Team Defeated by the Score of 11 to 16.

The Duluth Central High school football team went down in defeat for the third time this season in its game with the Ironwood school eleven at Ironwood last Saturday, losing by the score of 11 to 16.

The Duluth team was much heavier than that of Ironwood, its players averaging 150 pounds as against 137½ pounds for the locals. The Ironwood team was light and fast and its members were in the best possible physical condition. This enabled them to take advantage of every opportunity afforded by frequent fumbles at critical stages, by the Duluth men. Two of the three touchdowns came after costly blunders by the visitors. No accidents marred the sport and the men put up a clean game throughout.

The result would indicate that, compared with Duluth, Ishpeming has the faster team this season and would probably have little difficulty in taking the Cliff Dwellers into camp. This conclusion is arrived at from consideration of the respective scores made against Ironwood. Ishpeming defeated the Gogebic range aggregation to the tune of 17 to 0. It is true that later Ishpeming lost at Ironwood, but on that occasion it was not the high school team, but rather a city aggregation that lowered the colors of the Henattie City men, and the game cannot well be counted in determining the relative strength of the Ishpeming and Duluth elevens.

The lower Michigan championship now lies between Ann Arbor and Benton Harbor, the former team having defeated Mount Pleasant Saturday by the score of 6 to 0. On Saturday next, it is expected, Ann Arbor and its rival will meet to decide the question of supremacy, the victor playing Escanaba on Thanksgiving Day at Ann Arbor for the state championship.

DEER HUNTER LOST.

Searching Parties are Looking for Stephen Nichols, of Palmer.

The friends of Stephen Nichols, of Palmer, are much alarmed for his safety, fearing that he has met his death in the swamps near Floodwood. Nichols left home a week ago Monday, in company with Frank Varelino, for a hunting trip in the vicinity of Bass Lake. He was last seen Thursday. Nichols and Varelino separated, each man taking a different course in search of deer, intending to meet later in the day. A heavy snow storm came up, completely obscuring the trails. Nichols failed to put in an appearance at the appointed place Thursday night, and when he did not return the following day his companions became alarmed and started out to search for him.

TWO FINE DEPARTMENTS.

Pupils in Music and Drawing Doing Excellent Work in City Schools.

The patrons of the city schools are probably less familiar with the work that the pupils are doing in music and drawing than with any other department. Special training in drawing was introduced about four years ago, and music has been taught, somewhat longer. The present term has seen a great advance made. Under the direction of Mrs. Rosa Marden the pupils have entered upon their work with interest and enthusiasm.

The region in which Nichols is lost is an unbroken wilderness covered with jack pine and a heavy growth of swamp timber. Much of the country is swampy. A man might easily wander about for days without meeting a human being, there being no settlers within a radius of many miles. Wolves are said to be numerous in the locality, and a hunter who had been weakened by exposure and lack of food might easily fall their prey. Another theory is that Nichols has been shot. Unless he is found very soon, his friends will despair of ever seeing him alive.

Nichols is not an amateur in woodcraft, having hunted in the region surrounding Palmer ever since he was a young boy, but he is not familiar with the region about Floodwood. The young man is twenty-three years of age, and single. He lives with his parents at the Star West mine, about a mile from Cascade. His father, W. L. Nichols, is caretaker of the abandoned mine and has been driver of the stage between here and Palmer. Stephen recently took the contract for carrying the mail. He has many acquaintances in Negaunee.

All sorts of rumors were heard about town yesterday, some reports being to the effect that the body of the unfortunate hunter had been discovered, and even asserted that the corpse had been brought to town.

AT SECTION 30.

George J. Lonstorf, who with his associates some time ago secured the lease of the section 30 proper and who since then has had men at work on the property with diamond drills, was in Duluth recently. While Mr. Lonstorf has been informed in a general way of the progress made on the range since his last visit there he is visiting the mine this time for the purpose of getting an exact idea of the work that has been done and the indications for a successful termination of the exploration.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Mike Burns has returned from a hunting trip to Little Lake.

Charles Patst has sold his candy and cigar store on Iron street to J. J. Wentala and Charles Kangas.

John Trudell left Friday for South Africa, where he has a two years' contract as a diamond drill operator.

Mrs. Alvin Greene left for Milwaukee yesterday morning, after spending a few days with her parents here.

William Boyd has arrived home from the Mesaba range. He will remain here until after Christmas, visiting his parents.

Mike Curley, who arrived here a short time ago from Eveleth, Minn. and went on an operating party, was injured received in a football game last year.

A. F. Maitland and party came back from their hunting trip Saturday. They spent a week at Maitland's camp, below Swaney. Mr. Maitland left Sunday night for the Mesaba range.

J. H. Fenner and Dr. William Kerr of Bay City were the last members of their hunting party to return, arriving here from the camp north of Michigan Saturday. Mr. Fenner brought home a 200 pound buck.

Miss Sophia Andersen, who is teaching at Northland, spent Sunday here, returning yesterday morning. Her father, Nels Andersen, who was accidentally wounded last week, is making good progress toward recovery.

A Rocky Mountain goat died a few days ago at the Bellevue Farm. The animal had been brought there from the company's game preserve at Grand Island, to be kept for the winter. After being accustomed to unrestricted freedom, the confinement proved injurious to its health. The goat refused food and a short time after arriving at the farm it pined away and died. The carcass was sent to the Field Museum at Chicago Sunday to be mounted. The animal was an unusually fine specimen, and cost the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company $500.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy, The Mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail, free of charge, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

PATTI CAME INTO HER OWN.

Warm Welcome for the Diva in New York.

Before an audience such as Carnegie hall has seldom housed, Mme. Adeline Patti came into her own again one night recently. The "Viva" met a welcome which for spontaneity and heartfelt enthusiasm probably equals any she has received in her long career--one which, indeed, may be called historic in musical annals. It seemed as if her forty years of work as an artist had been drawing gratitude at compound interest, and the accolade amount were laid at her feet in full.

It was after all the same Patti as of old, who appeared on the stage splendidly gowned, gracious in carriage and manner, easy, self-possessed. Those who had seen her before remarked a more matronly appearance, that when she was heard last night. The trace of a few years--but very few. A lady's age should be a subject by rule tabooed, yet more than one "old-timer" found himself casting the years which have gone since she first sang in New York, and saying "Wonderful! She doesn't look a day older here."

CACTI GROWN FOR PROFIT.

Arizona Scientist Found Nothing Else Would Grow in His Garden.

A business enterprise of a novel and unique nature has been built up in the neighborhood of Phoenix, Ariz., and though not large enough to attract a great deal of attention, it is being carried on successfully from a financial point of view, says the New York Herald.

Nearly everybody who has lived in Phoenix long is acquainted with Dr. R. E. Kunze, better known locally as "The Bug Catcher." Dr. Kunze takes to scientific things as a duck takes to water, and came here a few years ago from New York. Noting the many bugs, butterflies and insects that are rarely found in other parts, he began to systematically and industriously collect them from various cities, and in the schools, etc., and it is understood that his work was pleasingly remunerative, for he knew first how to catch and preserve his specimens and next how to classify them.

Finally he bought a little piece of ground along the river, and in the great deal of attention he brings it as a prospector does a promising gold ledge. He now has plants from all over the southwest, Arizona particularly. One variety he goes clear to the Mexican line for and can find it nowhere else.

NOT A SICK DAY SINCE.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Fass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50c at The Stafford Drug Co.

IN OLDEN TIMES

People Were Content to Take Things Easier Than Now.

If our forefathers could behold the modern locomotives, automobiles and electric cars, they would hold up their hands in astonishment.

The stage-coach was fast enough then--people were more content to take things easy.

They used to be satisfied with any sort of a hair lotion that came along--if it did not prevent baldness, they thought it was because baldness could not be prevented.

It's different now. People know that germs cause baldness and that Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ, thus curing Dandruff and preventing baldness.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Stafford Drug Co., special agents.

BUSY SEASON IN PROSPECT

BIG BAY LUMBER COMPANY WILL BUILD A BAND MILL AND GET OUT GOOD CUT OF LUMBER.

SHINGLE MILL CLOSED DOWN

OPERATION IS NOT PROFITABLE ON ACCOUNT OF MARKET.

Material for New Mill Now on Ground and Plant Will Be in Operation Within a Very Few Months.

The Big Bay Lumber company, located at Lake Independence, up the lake shore in this county, is now preparing for the first full winter's operations since its reorganization, a little less than a year ago, and a busy season will be put in, erecting a saw mill and lumbering in preparation for next year's cut.

Not the least important of the company's operations will be the erection of its mill, material for which is on the ground and work on which is to begin forthwith. The plant will be a single band mill, capable of cutting in the neighborhood of 50,000 feet a day, and will be the main plant at the company's settlement at Big Bay. It will require three months, or thereabouts, to build the mill, set up the machinery and get it in operation.

To date the company has had available only a portable mill of small capacity, which is to be abandoned. This portable mill has cut, all told, about 1,000,000 feet, much of which has been used at the settlement. The other plant at Big Bay is a shingle mill, with a capacity of about 85,000 shingles.

This mill was operated through the summer, keeping a good force of men busy and turning out a goodly product. Now, however, it is laid up for the season, and the date of the resumption is indefinite. The cause for this is found in the condition of the shingle market, which has been very dull of late, resulting in general curtailment of production throughout the upper peninsula. Some mills are shut down completely and others are running light handed. At many points the shut-downs followed the refusal of the employes to accept reductions in wages proposed by the operators.

Activity at the settlement during the next few months will take the form of work on the band mill and the lumbering of the winter's cut, on which operations from 100 to 150 men will be employed. A busy winter is looked for.

There are established two camps, in which operations will be pushed all winter. It is expected to make a cut of from 7,000,000 to 8,000,000 feet, comprising hardwood, some pine, hemlock and the other softer woods. The hardwood is manufactured into lumber at Big Bay.

The company has under consideration a project for the establishment of a second mill, at Munising. As yet nothing definite has been decided, but it is likely that some sort of a mill will sooner or later be erected there. It will, of course, be a mill for handling the timber that can be floated to Munising, the pine, hemlock and other soft woods. It is not known when this second mill will be built, as the company's plans on this point are not yet definite. Other expansion is also possible in the course of time.

The Big Bay company has a large acreage of well wooded lands in close proximity to its plants at Lake Independence, and it has a considerable volume of lumber before it. The coming winter's lumbering will be done close to the settlement.

UNEVENTFUL SESSION.

Council Met Last Evening to Confirm Several Assessment Rolls.

The aldermen held an unusually uneventful special session last evening. It was called with the purpose of securing the final confirmation of a number of special assessment rolls, and this was practically all the business that came before the meeting. An early adjournment was taken.

The rolls were confirmed without protest with the exception of one, that for a proposed eight-inch tile sewer in Michigan street, between Fourth and Third, a sewer that has been in dispute for the past four months and which has at least been the subject of no little discussion on the council. The protest in this case was in the form of a communication from ten taxpayers resident in the block, and it was finally decided to let the rolls go over uncontroverted until the next session.

The trouble on Michigan street between Third and Fourth lies in the fact that some people have sewerage connections while others have not. Those on the north side of the street have connections with the sewer in Ohio street, their mains meandering through backyards to reach this Ohio street sewer. The residents of the south side of the street have no sewerage. Those on the north side, whose wants are provided for, protest against the construction of the proposed eight-inch tile sewer in the middle of the street. In their protest last night they said in part: "We believe the property owners on said street who have petitioned for said sewer can secure sewer connections more economically by laying a six-inch tile sewer near the south curb line from their property to the sewer in Third street. We are willing to assist them financially, so that the expense of such a six-inch sewer will be less to said petitioners as well as to all property owners on said portion of Michigan street."

This suggestion was not very favorably received, it being claimed that it would make the sewer inaccessible to a few property owners on the north side of the street who also want connections. Extended debate on the subject was, however, cut off by the decision to allow the confirmation to go over to the next meeting. In the meanwhile the street commissioner will prepare a report on how the improvement will serve the various people on the street. It is likely that the much-mooted question will be settled one for all at the next session.

The streets and sewers committee recommended that the electric light and power commission install arc lamps at the corner of Third and Specular and Marble and Hampton streets.

M. T. L'Hullier, on recommendation of the police committee, was given the powers of an officer, without compensation, at the South Shore depot, where he is now employed.

MODEL OF FURNACE.

An important feature of the C. C. I. Co. exhibit at St. Louis.

An important feature of the upper peninsula mining and industrial exhibit at the St. Louis exposition next year will be a model of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's Pioneer furnace in North Marquette. President Mather is greatly interested in securing the success of the northern Michigan exhibit and in addition to this contribution will have displays of ores, mining methods, etc. The furnace model will represent the entire plant, engine house, ovens, stack, machine shops, charcoal kilns, chemical plant and all, with everything in proper proportion, and from a careful inspection of it the exposition visitor will be enabled to get a first class idea of the methods of manufacture of charcoal pig iron. The construction of the model will be a task of no little magnitude and expense. It will cost upwards of $20,000, and will be but one of the Cleveland-Cliffs company's exhibits. Nevertheless, it will be a particularly interesting one, and will doubtless attract a great deal of attention.

HER STEAMER NOW HERE.

Schooner Nelson Bloom Reported Lost on the North Shore.

A report has reached Duluth that the schooner Nelson Bloom has been lost on Lake Superior. She was one of the consorts of the steamer Coffinberry, and the Twin Sisters was the other.

The Coffinberry and the Twin Sisters left Duluth Wednesday night at 10:20, and it was understood that the steamer would pick up the Nelson Bloom at Ashland, and then proceed. It is presumed the Nelson Bloom was lumbered on, as were the other boats of the tow.

It is reported that the Bloom is ashore on a rocky bottom at Algoma Mills, Can., and is filled with water. The schooner Nelson Bloom is an old-timer. She was a wooden boat which was built in 1863 at Cleveland, and was owned by J. P. Harrow of Algoma, Mich. She was 198 feet long, 37 feet beam and 11 feet depth of hold.

The Coffinberry and the Twin Sisters are in shelter in the Marquette harbor, having come in Sunday evening.

HORNS WERE LOCKED.

Two Big Bucks Killed While Engaged in Deadly Strife.

E. E. Homeier and Frank Ward are home from a hunting trip up-the-lake. They report excellent success and they brought in no less than five bucks, four of which are said to weigh over 200 pounds. Two of these bucks were shot by Ward while they were engaged, horns locked, in a death struggle. He heard the deer thrashing through the woods, and thought that a pack of wolves was in pursuit. He investigated the cause of the uproar, and soon discovered the two bucks, tearing, pawing and pulling at one another, in an effort to inflict a death wound. He had no difficulty in killing both deer. This is one of many instances of fights between bucks reported from different parts of the upper peninsula during the present season.

SOO STILL HAS HOPES.

Manager Hickler Confident Marquette Can Be Taken Into Camp.

In an interview with the Soo Times, Manager Hickler of the Lock City high school football team discusses the recent game played here, when the visitors lost to the locals by the score of 0 to 54, and expresses confidence that if the eleven again meet this season the result will be different. Says he: "It is not true as has been stated that our team was outclassed. I believe that we are capable of putting up as good, and even better, game as the Marquettes. The fact of the case and the reason for our recent defeat is that our boys were discouraged over the injury to Captain Agnew, without whom they had never played together. They went into the contest with the idea that they could stand no chance of winning without Agnew and virtually let the game go by default. There will be a different story to tell after the Thanksgiving Day game. We want the public to withhold their judgment until then and if we are again defeated then we will acknowledge that we are not in it. We were treated with every consideration while away and everything was done to make our visit a pleasant one. We have no kick coming, but believe that under ordinary conditions we will be able to turn the tables on Marquette."

The fog horn was in commission yesterday, the snow which began falling about noon serving to make navigation dangerous without its warning voice.

The snow was wet, the temperature being comparatively mild. Nevertheless, owing to the frosts of the past several days, it remained on the ground, and is apparently here to stay for some time.

The high school football team is figuring on playing a return game at Escanaba Saturday, negotiations to this end now being in hand. It is not unlikely that the contest will be arranged. The team hardly expects to make the Escanabas into camp, but if it takes the trip will be hopeful of giving them a closer game than in the first meeting of the teams here. It will be ambitious to have its showing compare as favorably as possible with that of Ishpeming.

A pleasant entertainment was given yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. A. E. Delf by the ladies of the Round Table club, for the benefit of charity. The program was literary and musical, several selections, both vocal and instrumental, being rendered by some of the best talent in the city.

An amusing incident occurred during the services at the Methodist church Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. Collins had just made a brief address, concluding with the request that persons who wished to join the church, either by letter or on probation, step forward, when a large yellow cat, as if in answer to the call, stalked majestically up the aisle, jumped onto the railing below the pulpit and walked along it. It is not known how the feline convert gained admission to the church edifice, but it certainly succeeded in creating no little amusement, not all of it quiet, until ushers captured the animal and carried it to the door.
