IS RELEASED ON PAROLE. Indiana Preacher Serving Sentence for Wife Murder Gains Liberty. Indianapolis, Nov. 27.—Rev. William W. Hinshaw was released on parole today from the Northern prison, where he has been serving a life sentence for the murder of his wife. In 1895 he was pastor of the Methodist church at Belleville. On the night of Jan. 15 he preached to a country congregation and he and his wife were invited by one of the members to stay at the latter's home over night. He declined, but insisted that his wife go. She refused with much vehemence, attracting attention. Early next morning the people were startled by a cry of murder. They found Hinshaw in the yard of his home, bleeding from a bullet wound and a number of knife cuts. His wife was in the kitchen doorway with a bullet in her brain. Hinshaw claimed burglars had attacked them, but many circumstances connected with their family relations aroused suspicion and after a sensational trial he was convicted.

GROVER CLEVELAND NOT A CANDIDATE EX-PRESIDENT PUTS A QUIETUS TO THE ROOM LAUNCHED IN HIS INTEREST. IS GRATEFUL TO HIS FRIENDS BUT WOULD IN NO EVENT ACCEPT A NOMINATION. "My Determination Not to Do So is Unalterable and Conclusive," He Declares in a Letter to the Brooklyn Eagle.

New York, Nov. 27.—Grover Cleveland has sent the following letter to Editor McKelway, of the Brooklyn Eagle: "I have wanted for a long time to say something which I think should be said to you before others. You can never know how grateful I am for the manifestation of kindly feeling toward me on the part of my countrymen which your initiative has brought out. Your advocacy in the Eagle of my nomination for the presidency came to me as a great surprise; and it has been seconded in such manner by Democratic sentiment that conflicting thoughts of pride and duty have caused me to hesitate as to the time and manner of a declaration on my part concerning the subject, if such declaration should seem necessary or proper. In the midst of it all, and in full view of very consideration presented, I have not for a moment been able, not to open my mind to the thought that in any circumstance or upon any consideration I should ever again become the nominee of my party for the presidency. My determination not to do so is unalterable and conclusive. This you, at least, ought to know from me, and I should be glad if the Eagle were made the medium of its conveyance to the public. Transfers Support to Parker. The Eagle, to the editor of which Mr. Cleveland's letter was addressed, announced today that the support it had given Mr. Cleveland for the Democratic presidential nomination would now be given to Alton B. Parker, at present chief judge of the court of appeals of this state.

COLLEGE ATHLETIC BOARD MEETS. Representatives of the Big Nine Began Annual Session in Chicago. Chicago, Nov. 27.—Representatives of the Big Nine colleges began their annual meeting here today. Earl Schriener, the star player on the Wisconsin eleven who was disqualified two years ago, applied for reinstatement. The case was taken under advisement. It is probable the request will be granted. Communication was received from the superintendent of the Chicago public schools, requesting that action be taken to prevent colleges including high school students to leave before graduation in order to join athletic teams in colleges. The conference promised to do all in its power to abate the evil. It was learned that the University of Illinois has decided to try the plan of alternating coaching, so popular in the East, and that Woodruff of Pennsylvania, who coached Illinois this year, will be released.

After reciting the known facts in the case, the judge decrees that neither the sealed letter by which it appears that Mr. Bennett expressed a desire to give $300,000 to W. J. Bryan and his family, nor the envelope containing the letter, should be admitted to probate as part of the will. Otherwise the will is allowed and ordered recorded.

HIGHWAYMEN CAPTURED AFTER BLOODY BATTLE Three Bandits Involved in Chicago Car Barn Crimes Are Taken in Indiana.

FIRST KILL ONE MAN, WOUND TWO OTHERS Desperadoes, Who Themselves Are Shot, but Not Seriously, Confess to Eight Murders, Several Attempted Murders and Numerous Hold-Ups During the Past Three Months.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Chained wrist to wrist, their hair matted with dried blood, their clothing covered with dust and dirt, two headless boys—Peter Neidermeier and Harvey Vandine—sat tonight in the presence of Mayor Harrison and Chief of Police O'Neill, calmly confessing their share in a three months' career of crime which included eight murders, the wounding of five other men and a long series of robberies. Taken After Desperate Fight. The two young bandits, neither of whom is over twenty-one years old, together with their companion, Emil Roski, who is no older, were captured near Liverpool, Ind., today after a fight in which they battled against policemen, railroad detectives, railroad laborers and farmers. One man was killed, another was fatally wounded and all three bandits were wounded but not seriously. The dead was: T. J. SOVEA, a brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad. Those wounded are: Joseph Driscoll, a detective on the Chicago police force; shot through the abdomen; will die. Matthew Zimmer, also a detective on the Chicago police force; shot in the head and arm. Peter Neidermeier, wounded in the hand by birdshot. Harvey Vandine, similarly injured and sustaining in addition a flesh wound in the left thigh. Emil Roski, shot in the right hip. Roski's wound is the most serious of any inflicted upon the three bandits but it was not sufficient to prevent him traveling a long distance after receiving it. The three men were wanted by the police for complicity in the murders at the car barns of the Chicago City railway on Aug. 30, when two men were killed and a third was badly wounded and $2,250 was stolen. Accused by Accomplice. Gustav Marx, who last Saturday night murdered Officer John Quinn when the policeman endeavored to arrest him, confessed after his capture that he committed the crime at the car barns. The hunt for Vandine, Neidermeier and Roski had been hot ever since. Although they knew the entire police force was looking for them, the three men remained in the city until Wednesday morning. "We were laying for a fellow that was a witness against Marx," said Vandine. On Wednesday they went to a dugout in Indiana along the Michigan Central road, and later in the day moved to another dugout near Miller's station. In the evening they spent the night and where they were surprised by the police this morning. A school teacher, T. S. Reichers, near Clark station, Ind., last night notified the police that men answering the description of those wanted for the car barn murders were in the dugout. Eight detectives detailed for the work reached the dugout at three this morning, guided by Reichers. Met by Bullets. The force advanced in a circle and Detective Driscoll picked up a chunk of wood and hurled it at the dugout. Instantly there was a flash and a report, and Driscoll fell, shot through the abdomen. One of his fellow officers stooped to pick him up, and the other six opened fire on the dugout, from which shots were coming thick and fast. While the fire was at its hottest, Vandine and Roski rushed out, followed a few minutes later by Neidermeier. The latter ran to the tracks of the Michigan Central and, throwing himself flat on the roadbed, steeled his arm on the rail as he kept up a rapid fire with three revolvers. Roski ran for the brush, but Vandine retreated slowly, although the air around him was filled with bullets and the snow at his feet was kicked up by them. Catching sight of Detective Zimmer, who was behind a tree, he fired Zimmer went down with a bullet in the head. As he fell, Vandine fired again, the bullet going through Zimmer's arm. Roski ran by this time disappeared, and Vandine and Neidermeier made a run for freedom. The detectives fired constantly, but the bandits escaped. Brakeman Instantly Killed. After running a mile across the country, the desperadoes came to the Pennsylvania road. A switch engine with a train was close at hand, and hurrying up to it, the men ordered Brakeman Soeva to uncouple the train from the locomotive. He refused and attempted to take Neidermeier's revolver from him. The latter instantly sent a bullet through the brakeman's brain, laying him dead in the snow. Springing past Soeva's body, the bandits mounted the locomotive, with revolvers in hand, and ordered the engineer to move out in a hurry, which he did, going in the direction of Liverpool, Ind. After two miles were covered, the men ordered the engineer to slow and, leaping to the ground, disappeared in the woods. Reinforcements Despatched. After the train had carried the bandits away, Detective Sheehan hurried to the nearest telegraph station and wired Chief of Police O'Neill for men and rifles. The message met with prompt response, and in a short time Assistant Chief Schuttler and fifty officers, armed with rifles, were on the way. The officials of the Pennsylvania road also rose to the emergency. Captain Briggs, of the detective service of the railroad, was given a special train as soon as the news of Soeva's murder was known, and with orders to take no chances and spare no expense and to get the men dead or alive, he and his men were off toward Liverpool. The entire Pennsylvania system was placed temporarily under Captain Briggs' orders. Farmers Join in the Hunt. The news of the fight at the dugout soon spread throughout the country, and by the time the bandits rushed up to the locomotive a hundred farmers and railroad laborers were after them. One farmer, armed with a shotgun, catching sight of Vandine as he poked his face through the cab window, turned loose with both barrels. The shots struck Vandine in the head, face and trunk. When they left the train both men were nearly dead and unable to travel over the rough sandy country there. They made slow progress, but farmers, railroad laborers and the officers' party were coming up fast and soon were close on the fugitives. It was easy to track them in the snow, and the hunt was speedily closed. The bandits were seen as they dodged about in the sand dunes, and farmers, armed with double-barreled shotguns opened fire. Neidermeier received a charge full in the head and the blood streamed down his face into his eyes, blinding him so he could hardly see. A shot grazed Vandine's head, carrying off some of his hair, and his wounded leg was weakened. Bandits Give Up. The posse was closing in on all sides. There was no escape any longer. To both men that the time had come to surrender or fight to the death. Both were heavily armed and able to take more lives before both lost their own. But, as Vandine said tonight: "There would have been no good in that, as we never showed anybody unless we have to and the killing of any of these fellows would not have let me off the jig was up for us, no matter how many we killed. I said to Pete, 'Well, what do you think? He nodded his head and dropped his guns, and that's how they got us.' Vandine, who has served in the army in the Philippines and shows his military training in many ways, was full of scorn for those who had taken him. Could Have Killed Many. "I could have killed no end of them," he said. "They came walking along like a drove of quail and I could have covered the ground with them. I had plenty of cartridges, and I generally hit what I shoot at. It wouldn't have done me any good, though, and I don't shoot unless it's necessary." The men were at once handcuffed, placed upon the special train and hurried to Chicago, the city police waiting not a minute in rushing them over the line into Illinois in order to avoid a possible conflict with the Indiana police who might have demanded the men on account of the murder of Soeva. This fear was not justified, however, as Governor Durbin of Indiana has said that he approved that action. Calmly Confesses to Police. On their arrival here the bandits were hurried in a patrol wagon to the city hall, and there, in the presence of Chief O'Neill, Mayor Harrison and a throng of officers, they calmly discussed the events of the day. They showed no bravado, did no boasting and did not hesitate in the least in discussing their crimes. Vandine talked freely, showing in word and bearing the courage that he had revealed throughout. Neidermeier sat with his head on his hands and did no talking except to corroborate some statements made by Vandine. When Vandine said, "Pete shot Driscoll," Neidermeier looked up, smiled slightly and remarked, "Yes, I shot Driscoll and the brakeman," then he sank back to listen to Vandine. When Vandine heard that Mayor Harrison was coming into the room he straightened up, tried to smooth Neidermeier's hair, which was matted with blood, and, taking a small mirror from a pocket, tried to scrape the blood from his own face. Admit Car Barn Murders. Both men admitted that Marx had told essentially the truth in connection with them and the various crimes against them. They admitted they did the killing at the car barns. "We left Chicago," said Vandine, "because we thought it wise to disappear for a time after Marx had made his

MAJOR RUNCIE ACCUSES WOOD MOST IMPORTANT WITNESS OFFERED BY THE OPPONENTS OF THE GENERAL IS HEARD. WAS GOVERNOR'S ADVISER HE THROWS LIGHT ON NOTED ARTICLE IN MAGAZINE. Asserts Attack on Brooke Was Deliberately Planned, and as Result of His Story Senate Committee Issues Further Subpoenas. Washington, Nov. 27.—The senate committee on military affairs today heard Major James E. Runcie of Havana, probably the most important witness that will be offered by the opponents of General Wood in their attempt to prevent his confirmation to be major general. Major Runcie told the committee of a dinner at Santiago, Cuba, attended by himself and where, it is alleged, was planned the magazine article attacking Major General Brooke that has figured so conspicuously in the Wood case. Major Runcie was stopped more than once during the course of his testimony and told to give nothing but facts of which he had personal knowledge. This did not exclude his story of the dinner incident, which resulted in the issue of subpoenas for three other witnesses, among them General Brooke. In his testimony the major said he had acted as the confidential adviser of General Wood for nearly two years and that they lived together in Santiago, it was while they were living in the same house that Baker went to Santiago in search of Havana for the magazine article. A meeting was arranged between the men, and a dinner followed, testified Major Runcie, at which was discussed a plan to have published an article which would exploit the military success of General Wood in dealing with affairs at Santiago and draw a comparison with the situation at Havana unfavorably to the administration of General Brooke. Major Runcie declared that General Wood had asked him to write the article, and that he had done so. He asserted that General Wood knew what he article contained and that had correspondence about it as a result of the article created by its publication. He offered to produce copies of letters he had written General Wood concerning his own defense. It is said that Major Runcie has knowledge of General Wood's order for the arrest of Major Rathbone and, as general at Havana for the magazine article, an information in regard to Major Rathbone's charge that General Wood used his influence with the courts in saving Rathbone's bond fixed at a figure thought to have been unreasonable. MINISTER POWELL DEFiant. Refuses to Acknowledge New Government and Denies Its Demands. San Domingo, Nov. 27.—United States Minister Powell today refused to acknowledge the provisional government and also denied its demand for the withdrawal of former Finance Minister Galvan, who, with Judge George Gray of Delaware, had been appointed to arbitrate the San Domingo Improvement company matter. Minister Powell told the provisional government that the question of the arbitration of the claims of the improvement company was closed and could not be reopened; that the board of arbitration was now fully constituted, according to the conditions of the protocol; but the board will convene and its members will proceed to the construction of the issues presented by both parties, and that its decision will be final. He added that the United States government cannot and will not interfere in any manner with the composition of the arbitration board named by the government of President Gil. The German government placed the minister Falke at the disposal of General Gil, who accompanied by former Ministers Bralle and Espallia, left this afternoon on the Falke for Porto Rico. The French and Belgium ministers have energetically protested against the action of the provisional government concerning only the floating debt and seeking the other foreign claims pending. The troops are gradually leaving, and quiet prevails. CAISER'S DOCTOR RETURNS HOME. The expected has happened. The western intercollegiate football season has ended with the championship fairly in dispute, Michigan and Minnesota being the claimants. HE BUILT FORT DEARBORN. A Document of Rare Historical Interest Just Published.

Lieut. James Stodge Swearingen of the United States Army was in all probability the man who actually superintended the building of the original Fort Dearborn, about which the city of Chicago was built in the early '30s.

Why Capt. Whistler and his son, Lieut. William Whistler, should have been detached from their company and have sailed with their families in the government vessel Tracy for Chicago, while the young artillery lieutenant marched the command of sixty-five men and three guns, with several wagons, through the primeval forests to Chicago, it is impossible to learn after the lapse of a century.

With all the sparkle and spontaneity of what seemed an altogether impromptu effort, the gifted orator delivered the speech word for word as he had dictated it. Remembering that his remarks dealt in due sequence and order with various little known events and episodes, chapters and characters connected with the Dutch settlement and administration of New Netherland, deftly and skillfully related to men and matters of interest in our later history, this facility of preparation seemed to call for remark.

IT IS NO WONDER. That He Remonstrated Emphatically Under the Circumstances.

WOULD MAKE HUNTING SAFER. Houghton Man Proposes to Bar Nimrods Lacking Certain Qualifications.

"I have observed that there has been considerable discussion going the rounds of the state press regarding the new law which makes a criminal of the man who shoots a fellow being while hunting," remarked George Williams, president of the Houghton County Gun & Rod club yesterday. "Different views are held, one that the law is all right because it will tend to make men more careful while in quest of deer. That view is open for criticism but as I have remarked before I believe it is wrongly taken. Making a man more careful is not the point at all. Hunting accidents will happen, although the number may be smaller, but just the same when a hunter does happen to make a fatal error he is from that moment a criminal, made so by the law. He recognizes that fact and ten chances to one he will leave the place and his victim to die if the person he has shot has not already expired. That's where the rub comes in. The law makes criminals of men and it is wrong, all wrong.

"I have observed there is only one way you can legislate with effect against careless shooting, and that is in the manner of issuing hunting licenses. Instead of giving every Tom, Dick and Harry permission to go into woods for deer, have the law distinctly read that any person talking out a license must have clear sight and a pretty thorough knowledge of firearms. A law of that nature would reduce the number of hunters and it would tend to lessen the number of accidents, so-called. Then the hunters themselves can make hunting safer by being careful about their dress and in the amount of liquor taken into a camp.

"I believe that three deer are too many for one man. The number should be cut down to one. I expect to see it changed from three to two next year, as it is in Wisconsin. A large number of deer and fawns have been killed this season. Whether bucks are scarce or whether there are harder to get I do not know, but I know that the number of bucks killed, in this section at least, has been small in comparison. Because of the greater number of female deer killed, the effect of the slaughter is bound to be apparent.

Season Ends Monday. The hunting season will end Monday. The number of hunters in the woods during the past ten days or so has not been nearly as large as at the opening of the season, when there was a veritable stampede for the woods. Most hunting parties have been successful and the slaughter of deer on the whole has been large. A lack of snow proved somewhat of a handicap at the start, but with the first fall of the beautiful hunting was good for several days. During the week, however, the snow has been too deep for good hunting, and frequent small sized blizzards have made the sport less enjoyable.

AN INTERESTING TEST.

The Calumet public schools have just completed an interesting test in arithmetic. The test was made in the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades and was similar to one made a year ago. Problems of the same degree of difficulty were used so that comparison could be made in this important line of work. The results have been tabulated and indicate an average of about 70 per cent higher than was obtained a year ago. An advance of 10 per cent in all the grades tested is very encouraging, but it does not mean that efforts will be relaxed, as there is still much room for further improvement. Teachers, and pupils are earnestly working for still greater progress.

FURS are distinctively lustrous and beautiful, the workmanship the most perfect possible and the "style" assured. The skins from which MAU Furs are made are selected each season from the choicest and most exclusive offerings of the markets of Europe. WANT NO DELAY IN PAYING.

Why Houghton Authorities Are Having New Water Main Laid Now. Under direction of Superintendent M. M. Foley a six-inch water main is being laid in Lake Royale street between Sheldon and Montezuma at Houghton. The work is attended by difficulties owing to the frozen ground, but it necessarily must be done this year. Sheldon street will be paved early next spring and as a portion of the street must be torn up for the new main in question it was thought best to get the pipe into the ground this fall so the work of paving will not be delayed. This course had been mapped out for some weeks, but owing to other work it could not be started until this week.

The main will give Montezuma street better fire protection when the proposed improvements to the water system are completed next summer. Lake Royale street between Sheldon and Montezuma has never been connected with the system, and the improvement now under way will be appreciated by the residents of that particular portion of the main will serve. The increased pressure the improvements on the general water system will cause, will provide better fire protection and the main now being laid is a part of the plan of improvement.

Sheldon street from the Douglass House corner across to the Barry corner is badly torn up, but it is far better that the work be done this year. The village authorities do not want anything to stand in the way of the paving work, which will be started as soon as next spring. While that portion of Sheldon street is torn up the hydrant at the Barry corner will be changed to a larger size. A five-inch instead of a four-inch hydrant will be put in, as the larger size will be necessary when the high pressure system is in service. The work now under way is the last that Superintendent Foley will have done this year. Most of the village employes who have been working on the streets have been let out for the winter. Since his term in office, which began about two months ago, Mr. Foley has done creditable work, supported by the council, has instituted changes in the conduct of municipal work that cannot fail of appreciation by the taxpayers. A good start has been made on the water system improvements and next spring the work can be taken up and pushed to completion. The additional water tank, the building of which was started this fall, will be completed; the water tower for the high pressure system will be erected; an additional pumping plant will be equipped, and some new mains will be laid. The new tank will catch the water from the Bubble springs now going to waste and will give ample water for all purposes for years to come. The water from the tank will run by force of gravity to the tank at the present water works pumping station and from there will be pumped to the tank just above. From there the water will run by gravity to the water tower and pumped into it. The entire work will take a greater part of the summer. The work of paving Sheldon street also will be started in the spring. The material to be used will be selected this winter.

SUING FOR SICK BENEFIT.

The case of Joseph Chopp of Greenland, formerly of Calumet, against the Austrian society of Calumet, a suit for $108, which Chopp alleges is due him as a sick benefit for the last six months at $18 per month, will come up for a second trial in Justice J. J. J. at Calumet next week, the jury at the first trial, held this week, having failed to agree.

It appears that Chopp, who was a resident of Calumet about a year ago, had looked after the Austrian society before removing to Greenland. Not long after he became a member he was taken sick and upon examination by Dr. Mann of Ontonagon was found to be suffering with a tumor, which was subsequently removed. Chopp was laid up for several months. He claims he notified the society of his illness and furnished the proper proof in sufficient time so as to get the benefit money due him. The Detroit office on the other hand claims that he was too late in putting in a claim. Chopp, failing to receive his money, started suit. E. F. Letendre of Calumet is Chopp's attorney, and W. J. Macdonald of Calumet is representing the society.

COPPERDOM BREVITIES.

R. R. Goodell of Houghton left yesterday afternoon for Chicago. The Suometar and Amerikan Sanomat, Calumet Finnish publications, have consolidated. Together the papers have a large subscription list. The outcome of the Escanaba-Benton Harbor game, details of which were published in yesterday's Mining Journal, was received with surprise in the copper country. The general expectation was that the Sandy City aggregation would win with apparent ease, and Escanaba's defeat is a matter of general regret in this neck of the woods.

KREIDER, 947 Drexel Building Philadelphia. low copper ore) are now receiving a little development work northwest of Marquette, in the iron belt, and discoveries of copper ore have been made at Carney, Monominee county, and elsewhere in the upper peninsula. Of the fifty states and territories of the union, there are only four in which copper ore is not found in places, though the deposits in many of the states are of no commercial importance, and only of interest from a geological standpoint. Osceola. Osceola is now making copper at the rate of 20,000,000 pounds yearly, or perhaps a little better. The output for the year will be about half way between this figure and the production of last year. It has taken a great deal of time to get the Osceola where it is—more than even the management figured on when beginning the program of improvement—and the shareholders grew very impatient at the prolonged delay. The work has been well done, however, and nothing requires doing over, so that the shareholders are now propping to the full extent by the improved and increased facilities of production. The former deficit in the Osceola treasury has been turned into a credit balance, and a dividend is looked for soon. The mill return of the Phoenix for last week averaged thirty-seven pounds of mineral per ton. This is next to the Calumet & Hecla in the Lake district, and bears out the theory that the Phoenix fissure veins will make up for their small size by their superior richness in copper.

WHO SAW THE METEOR?
Scientist on Trail of One That Was in Evidence Sept. 15, 1902.
Upper peninsula papers are requested to copy the following letter in the hope of aiding the scientific quest outlined therein:
Sandusky, Ohio, Nov. 22, 1903.

Dr. E. R. Downing,
Marquette, Michigan.
Dear Sir:

For more than a year I have been gathering information regarding a great meteor that passed over eastern Ohio, across Lake Erie and at least a part of Lake Huron, Monday, Sept. 15, 1902, at about 4:42 central standard time. It was seen and heard 170 miles from its path and left a train that was watched by people in many places for twenty minutes. At London, Ontario, it was plainly visible for some time after sunrise.

So far my efforts to find observers farther north than Osecola county, Michigan, have been in vain. I believe, however, that the meteor did not burn out nor strike the earth farther south than Lake Superior but that clouds (shown by the weather map for that morning) prevented people from seeing it at Bay City, Alpena and Sault Ste. Marie. Those who saw it are likely to remember it as long as they live.

Perhaps observers could also be found by offering this letter to some paper that circulates widely over the peninsula. Hoping you will take an interest in the matter I am
Yours respectfully,
E. L. Mosely,
Secretary Ohio Academy of Science.

Melbourne MacDowell and Miss Stone will be seen this evening at the Marquette opera house in Sardou's "Fedora", one of the most popular pieces in their

Miss Stone has a part that offers her a particular chance to score heavily and judging from all reports she does not fail to do so. She is favorably remembered here from her last appearance, when she was seen in "Resurrection." Mr. MacDowell and Miss Stone are said to be well supported.

MARKET GAINING STRENGTH.

But Little Liquidation Follows the Advance in Copper.
Paine, Webber & Co. said of the Boston market:
"The market continues to gain strength and does not show any considerable liquidation on the advance. It looks now as though prices in general might work some higher. There is little prospect, however, of any considerable rise in the immediate future. The situation is such that purchases on the part should be carefully avoided, but on reactions the best stocks look attractive. There has been a fairly good demand for copper today, but less activity than on Wednesday. The metal market continues heavy."

Hayden, Stone & Co. wired W. H. Laidley & Co.:
"There was a very dull market for copper, with Copper Range the feature. There has been little change in price, it has held its advance of Wednesday. The general undertone is strong, in sympathy with New York, but as the market is so dull there is little to change prices."

New York Market.
The Hadden-Rodee New York letter was as follows:
"The market is so very professional that it is hazardous to venture any opinion as to the course of the fluctuations or what they are likely to be tomorrow. Efforts to bull the market on the opening this morning under the lead of Union Pacific, Atchafalaya, Baltimore & Ohio and Southern Pacific, created no enthusiasm whatever and a disposition to cover short contracts was weakened by a bear attack upon Pennsylvania. United States Steel preferred also developed some weakness. Trading became very narrow. Late in the afternoon there was a demonstration against the shorts throughout the railroad list. The market is full of manipulation. There is some buying now and then that has every appearance of being good, but the general disposition is to take stocks on rising quotations except in a very few instances not strong. We should not advise buying any stock, no matter how good on these sharp bulges. It is a temptation to come in at the top, but with a little patience one will be able to get his stocks a little cheaper. If the market advances during the first hour tomorrow it will probably react on the appearance of a good banking statement under professional profit-taking."

The Current Events club will meet this morning at 11 o'clock, as usual, in the Morgan Memorial chapel.

Miss Jennie Williams, a clerk in the Variety store, is kept from work by a fractured collar bone, the result of a fall.

The addition to the German Lutheran church at Greengarden will be dedicated tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. There will likewise be a service in the church at 1:30 o'clock.

The barge Thompson arrived at the South Shore docks yesterday, having been towed down from Lake Linden by a tug. When loaded she will be taken out by the steamer Warner.

Mrs. C. E. Wilde and daughter left last evening for Los Angeles, Cal. They will stop at St. Louis, Colorado Springs and Salt Lake en route and will return to Marquette about June 1. Mr. Wilde expects to join them later in the winter.

The South Shore had a force of men and a train busy yesterday removing the surplus snow from the Marquette yards. Several flat cars were heaped high and hauled out of the city limits to be dumped. The snow has been piling up in the yards at a great rate this week and during the past few days has caused no little trouble in handling and making up trains.

HOW NOT TO KILL A TREE.

Boiling Water Used to Destroy It Causes Thrifty Growth.
A gentleman of means living in a suburban town tells how his mother once undertook to murder a cherry tree. "I was a boy at the time," he said. "The tree stood on our lawn; it had been planted by my father, and I loved it with a parental affection; but it was an eyesore to my mother, for she thought it spoiled the looks of the garden."

"She decided to murder it secretly, because she knew that my father would never consent to its removal. For a long time she pondered, asking herself how she might kill the tree without being detected, and finally she decided that she would use for her weapon boiling water. Accordingly whenever my father was away she would get a kettle, and tipping out to the tree with a gully look, she would pour boiling water upon its roots."

"At first the tree showed no change under this treatment. After a time, though, a change began to manifest itself. My father noticed it. "By Jove," he said, "my cherry tree seems unusually fine and hearty."

"And this was a fact. The more boiling water my mother poured on the roots the more the tree thrived and flourished. Finally, in despair, she gave up trying to commit her vegetable murder."

"A florist, to whom she narrated this strange story one day, laughed when he heard it. He said it was no wonder the tree had got along so well. He declared that boiling water was often used on trees, as it killed off the worms and bugs molesting them."—Chicago Chronicle.

The Medicine That Cures.

RESNO, OKLA., May 11, 1903.

Wine of Cardui absolutely does cure sick women. I consider it the most valuable medicine, and it is the cheapest cure any sick woman can use, as it takes as a rule, only a few bottles to effect a complete and lasting cure. I especially recommend it for uterine or ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, painful, profuse or scanty menstruation and it is a most valuable adjunct to use during the gestative period, insuring easy childbirth and speedy recovery.

It should have a place in every home as it is a true friend to wife, mother and maiden and I most heartily recommend it.

Dr. E. Buchanan
WRITER AND LECTURER.

Dr. Mrs. Buchanan is an authority on the science of medicine and certainly appreciates the great work physicians are doing for the relief of sufferers. But this does not deter her from expressing her views in praise of Wine of Cardui.

Mrs. Buchanan's high intelligence and long and successful experience render her advice of great value. Wine of Cardui regulates menstruation, cures bearing-down pains and relieves suffering women of the pain and misery to which their sex is heir. You have the word of Dr. Buchanan and thousands of other eminent women that Wine of Cardui will completely cure you.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

Ishpeming and its Environs.

THE INAUGURAL PERFORMANCE. MUCH TO BE DONE.

Walker Whiteside Will Present "We Are King" at Opening of New Theater.

The new Ishpeming theater will be opened by Walker Whiteside, appearing in his new romantic comedy, "We Are King." Whiteside is no stranger to Ishpeming playgoers, having made a number of tours through this region in Shakespearean roles. He has scored a great success in "Hamlet" and "Richard III."

The production in which Mr. Whiteside now holds the stellar part was written for him by Lieutenant Gordon Kean, of the British army, and is now in its first season. It has met with great favor, Whiteside never appearing to better advantage than in his dual role. The play has been presented at the opening of two new houses. This season, one at Waverly, Mo., Oct. 11, and the other at Taylor, Ia., Nov. 7. Whiteside and his company make a long trip to reach here, coming direct from Mason City, Ia. Ishpeming is the only town in this peninsula that will be played at this time, the company returning at once to complete dates in Iowa.

"We Are King," presented by Walker St. Paul and Duluth. The St. Paul Pioneer Press says of it:

"We Are King," presented by Walker Whiteside at the Metropolitan opera opera house for the first time in St. Paul.

Walker Whiteside, in "We Are King."

Work at the library is almost at a standstill. The building is still unprovided with windows, and the workmen find it well impossible to do anything in the frigid temperature. The windows have been ordered and would be here now except for some unaccountable delay in shipment. When they arrive temporary radiation will be installed and connected with the heating plant. Plumbers are engaged on the sewer connections, and one or two carpenters are at work. Other operations have been postponed until the belated windows arrive.

The electrician has made a start on installing the wiring. The library will be well supplied with artificial light, as 250 incandescent lamps will be installed and gas pipes will reach all parts of the building. A little of the metal lathing has been put on, and everything is in readiness for completing the job.

The general design of the interior can be very easily seen, the skeleton work of the partitions being in place. The stock room is completely inclosed by brick walls. A fire proof curtain will shut it off from the reading rooms. A small elevator for the librarian's private office, is finished and beside it a small elevator for conveying books from the basement is being built.

The exterior of the structure is still a good ways from completion. The roof has not yet received its coating of tar. The coping is unfinished and no little work will be required on the portico in front of the entrance. The big sandstone pillars are in place, but not much else has been done. The legend across the front of the portico, above the pillars, has been partly chiseled out, the word "Carnegie" being complete.

PATTENGILL WILL LECTURE.

To Open Teachers' Institute Next Thursday Evening.

The annual meeting of the Marquette County Teachers' Institute will open Thursday evening, Dec. 3, when H. R. Pattengill, ex-superintendent of public instruction, will deliver a lecture at the high school auditorium. His subject will be, "Made in America." He will no doubt be greeted by a large audience. The meeting will be open to the public. The regular sessions of the institute will begin Friday morning, continuing until Saturday afternoon. School teachers will probably be much in evidence in the city during the institute, as a general attendance is required. Friday evening a special session will be held.

Superintendent Scribner is planning to attend the meeting of the Michigan Teachers' association at the state university, Dec. 29 to 31. The university, Arbor High school and the Ann Arbor Preparatory are making special preparations for the entertainment of the visitors. The meeting of both sections of the American Modern Language association will partly coincide in time with the sessions of the teachers' association.

Many visitors will take advantage of the opportunity to hear papers presented by members of the latter organization on Monday and Tuesday. It will be the first time in several years that the two sections of the Modern Language association—the eastern and western—have held a joint meeting.

TURNED UP SAFE.

The friends of Harry Lohmuller and Andrew Anderson were alarmed yesterday regarding the safety of two young men, fearing that they had been lost in the woods north of town, where they had been hunting deer. It had been arranged before they left that a team would be sent to their camp on Friday to bring them home. All Gibbs drove out to the camp at the appointed time, only to see no sign of the hunters. The carcasses of several deer were in the camp, but the place had the appearance of having been deserted for a day or two. The provisions were frozen and the banks were covered with snow. After waiting some time, Gibbs came back to town. His report caused much apprehension for the safety of the two men, and friends were preparing to organize searching parties when Mr. Lohmuller unexpectedly put in an appearance in town late yesterday afternoon. He reported that Anderson was at camp and that all was well.

It is a sure remedy for flatulency, and in bowel complaints or any internal distress it cannot be equalled."

It only costs 25 cents to have a bottle sent to your home—handy—and remember, every druggist in Michigan sells it and that such druggist is authorized to refund your purchase money on any bottle of Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil that is not entirely satisfactory.

DEATH OF OSCAR PETERSON.

News of the death of Oscar Peterson, son of Olaf Peterson, a young boy who formerly lived here with his parents, has just been received here. He died at a short time ago at Kalamazoo, Mich. The Kalamazoo Bee speaks as follows of the funeral:

"The funeral of the late Oscar Peterson was held from the German Lutheran church on Third avenue east. A short service was first held at the residence, 604 Fourth avenue east, where Rev. H. E. Clowes officiated, then the funeral cortege moved to the church, where Rev. Zeigler preached the funeral sermon. The services were most impressive and were attended by a large concourse of sympathizing friends, among them being the principal and many of the former classmates of the deceased from the county high school. The coffin was almost hidden beneath masses of flowers, the display being a most beautiful one showing in what high regard the dead boy was held."

The male quartet was present and sang several appropriate selections. "The pall bearers were former school mates of the deceased. Interment was made in the Conard cemetery."

SHOULD ENLARGE LIBRARIES.

School Districts Share in Distribution of County Funds, for That Purpose.

Commissioner Davis yesterday called attention to the fact that every district in the county is entitled to its share of the pennies of the county for the purpose of purchasing books for school libraries. This money can be used for no other purpose, and there can be no excuse for not making annual additions. Most of the school districts of the county have libraries.

A list of books for school libraries has been prepared by the state superintendent of public instruction and circulated among the school authorities throughout the state, with a view of obtaining the best selection of books for school purposes.

The books are arranged for the four departments, primary, intermediate and grammar grades and high school. Each department, in turn, has four classes in which they are grouped according to the material contained, science, geography, description, travel, history, biography, general history, except in the primary, where history and biography are omitted.

The list includes 624 books. All the popular classics in the different subjects are represented and all the works are standard.

The state superintendent advises that, in purchasing, books be ordered from the publisher, through one of the large book houses or through local dealers. "The two latter ways are preferable, as larger discounts are usually secured than when single copies are ordered from several different publishers. In all cases correspondence is advised before purchases are made."

School districts are provided for in sections 4757 to 4764 of the school laws. Any district, by a two-thirds vote of all the qualified voters present, may establish a district library. When so established the district is entitled to such share of the fine moneys, apportioned by the state superintendent through the county treasurer to the township, as the number of children of school age bears to the whole number of children in the township.

The district board has charge of the library and may appoint a librarian other than the director. The librarian must report annually to the state librarian through the commissioner of schools.

The director must report the library in his annual report to the superintendent of public instruction in order to enable the district to draw its share of the fine moneys.

The law provides that the library shall be kept at the school house. In closing the preface the state superintendent says: "There is no reason why every school district in the state should not maintain a library, and it is hoped that school officers and teachers will make a strenuous effort to provide this means of culture for the children placed under their care."

DOESN'T RESPECT OLD AGE. It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill. 25c. at The Stafford Drug Co.

EJECTED FROM STREET CAR.

Thomas Moffat has a grievance against Conductor Peterson of the street railway that he wants to have straightened out in justice court. Moffat wears a pair of badly discolored eyes and other marks of rough usage for which he holds Peterson responsible. Moffat's action against the conductor followed his summons to appear in court as defendant on a charge of disorderly conduct. He boarded a car at Ishpeming Thanksgiving day. A difficulty arose over the fare, Moffat refusing to pay. On his refusing to yield to a number of requests to get off, the husky conductor resorted to more strenuous measures, with the result that the obstreperous passenger found himself outside the car, in the snow. A complaint was sworn out against Moffat by Superintendent Peterson, charging him with being drunk and disorderly. Moffat then procured his warrant against Peterson, who was arrested for assault and battery.

INDOOR BASE BALL.

Few Indications That Sport Will be Taken up This Winter.

Little indoor base ball talk has been heard during the past few weeks. The plan of forming an association and engaging the rink for the season, which seemed likely to take form a month or two ago, was abandoned because some of the promoters finally considered it impracticable. There is plenty of material in the city for several good teams and if the sport was taken up again a series of excellent games could be arranged for the winter months.

The game may share the fate of other sports that have been introduced here in previous years, attaining great popularity in a single season and then being entirely abandoned. Roller skating and snow shoeing had their day. Indoor baseball is an interesting and athletic game, and its popularity will likely be longer lived on that account.

In Negaunee the cold weather has hardly begun and before the winter season has progressed much farther, some general interest has been taken toward arranging a schedule of games.

The Calumet team, which played here last winter, will be reorganized shortly. The Mining Gazette says:

"The team will commence regular practice Saturday evening and within a week will be prepared to meet any team in this section of the country. Games with outside teams will be arranged for immediately and a good season of baseball is promised Calumet this winter. Capt. Thielman will insist on the boys playing clean ball from start to finish. No foul play will be allowed to use the new armory when it is completed. The fault with some of the indoor teams in the past has been that a few of their games were filled with wrangling which greatly marred the pleasure of the spectators. This team, however, will play clean ball, and the way through and no one need fear that a game will be spoiled by kicking."

LOCAL LAONICS.

J. Murphy, located on the Mesaba range, spent Thanksgiving with his parents, spent Thanksgiving with his parents.

A broken trolley wire on Cyr street delayed the street cars a short time yesterday morning.

A representative of Lanpher, Skinner & Co., of St. Paul, will be at Shea's today, with a fine line of furs.

Miss Ella Johnson and Henry Wilde, of St. Louis, Mo., jeweler at Benya's, were married Thursday at Marquette by Bishop Williams.

A free demonstration of Snyder's tomato soup, oyster cocktail and chili sauce will be given the first four days of next week at Kuhlman's.

F. D. Davis, Captain Penglass and Robert Thompson arrived home Wednesday from a hunting trip near Sandy, with five deer. Mr. Davis had the largest deer that has been brought into this section. It was a buck and weighed 250 pounds.

The number of cases before the justices yesterday on the drunk and disorderly charge was smaller than usual after a holiday. More than the average number were sent to the workhouse for Thanksgiving day or else were able to escape the clutches of the police. The town has never seen a more quiet Thanksgiving than this year.

COTTON, NORTH-SOUTH.

Marked Difference in Character of the Manufactured Product.

Referring to the statement that Southern mills consumed more cotton than the Northern, the Norfolk Landmark adds, "The Northern mills still retain a slight supremacy in the general total of domestic and foreign cotton consumed." This is correct. And there is still another material fact worthy of the consideration of Southern mill owners and those contemplating going into the cotton mill business. While the South now consumes more bales of American cotton, the value of the product of the Northern mills from the Southern cotton they consume is far in excess of that of the product of the Southern mills because of the larger quantity of finer good produced. While one pound of cotton will make two yards of the general Southern product (we are not exact as to this, but it will answer as an illustration), one pound will make five yards of the finer goods turned out very largely by the Northern mills, and sells for more money per yard, of course, than the coarser Southern fabrics.

It occurs to us our Southern mills should turn their attention more to the finer fabrics. Some steps have been taken in this direction, but not to the extent that the future milling interests of the South demand. Our mills are too dependent upon uncertain foreign markets, the best in the world, is being more and more monopolized by the Northern mills.

The fact, therefore, that the Southern mills consume more American cotton than the Northern by no means indicates that the Southern mills are making the money that falls into the tills of the Northern manufacturer.

It were time the South were making a decided change in this respect. Raleigh Morning Post.

Louis Amblor of Chicago has purchased the Hotel Grand from property at Gladstone. He will either conduct the house himself or put a competent manager in charge. It is his desire to make it what it was originally intended for, a summer resort hotel.

Have the Indoor Ball Fever—

The indoor baseball fever has struck Menominee and Marinette. Several teams have been organized and plans are being formulated for the organization of a league. The Carpenter-Cook nine is the latest to enter the field. Two games per week will be played during the season.

Reading Room for Railroad Men—

The Carnegie Public Library board at Escanaba is considering the project of establishing a special reading room for the use of the railroad men, a number of whom there are a large number residing in the city. The men themselves are much pleased with the proposition and hope to see it carried through.

No Salary Attached to the Job—

Jesse Randel, who for years has been the government weather bureau observer at Manistique, has resigned his position, to take effect Jan. 1st. He has never been paid for his services, regarding the salary or the number of hours to constitute a day's work, for the job carried no compensation, nor did it require working overtime.

An Aged Hunter—

Frank Moss holds the record for being the oldest hunter in the Soo. He is nearly eighty years of age, but has better luck with the gun than many of the younger men. He has just returned from the Negaunee country, where he killed one of the biggest bucks ever seen in the Soo. The old gentleman hunts with a shotgun and uses buckshot to do the business.

Will Limit Number of Saloons—

The new saloon ordinance recently proposed at Menominee has been favorably reported to the council and will be passed at the next meeting. The effect of the ordinance will be practically to ban any more saloons being established on Main street. Heretofore Main street was open as far as saloons were concerned and on the other streets of the city it was necessary for a liquor dealer to get the consent of all persons residing within 300 feet of the proposed saloon, on both sides of the street, before it could be established. The new ordinance increases this distance to 500 feet and includes Main street. It also prohibits saloons within 500 feet of any schoolhouse or church.

Union Men Accept Seal—

The Wolverine Cedar & Lumber company will start operation at its shingle mill at Northland, Marquette county, on Dec. 1 at a new scale of wages agreed upon by the Shingle Weavers' union and the management of the company. This would indicate that the union men have become reconciled to the scale submitted by the Northwestern Shingle Manufacturers' association and there is every indication that other unions will adopt it. The scale adopted at Northland is practically the same as proposed by the association. The company had announced its intention of suspending operations for the winter unless the scale was accepted. A conference was held last week which agreement was reached and arrangements are now being made to resume operations.

Football Player Tackles Lunatic—

Harry Coughley, who plays right end on the Menominee high school football team, made his most sensational tackle of the year the other evening. He brought a crazy man, who was running wildly down Main street, to the ground, and made it possible for the police to capture the fellow. The man was John Gerquist of Peshtigo, formerly a freeman on the Wisconsin & Michigan railroad. Gerquist had escaped from a hospital and Officer Schwartz, who had been telephoned for, was after him. Coughley was standing on the sidewalk in front of his home, in the path of the fleeing man. The officer yelled at him to stop the man, but at first he was somewhat afraid. As the fellow passed him, however, he put out his foot and tripped the man. The latter got up in an instant and started on the run again. The boy then, seeing the officer coming, started on a run for the maniac and when almost in front of the Grignon block he made a dive for his legs—as pretty a tackle as was ever made on a football field—and brought the man to the ground. The man was soon up, however, and had turned and was about to strike the boy, when Schwartz reached him and pinioned his arms behind him. Handcuffs were placed on his hands and he was taken to jail. After a doctor had dressed his wounds the man was placed in a straight jacket and put in the padded cell. He is still confined and it is imagined someone is trying to kill him.

NOT A SICK DAY SINCE

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicine, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured. I have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine are suffering from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Fox, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50c. at The Stafford Drug Co.

Conditions in the lumber trade show much irregularity. Three years ago not enough good lumber was manufactured to more than meet the demand, while below a No. 3 common the yards were accumulating No. 4 and calls without market at all. Today quite the reverse is the rule—the better grades are piling up and the inferior product is in greater demand than the supply.

P. J. Elliott returned Thursday morning from Lake Negaunee, whether he went to be present at the amputation of James Boyd's right foot, the latter having been injured eight weeks ago, as stated in this column. The bone was so badly shattered that the wound would not heal and there was no other alternative but to amputate just below the knee. At last accounts the patient was doing well.

Joseph Lamoreaux, a lad about sixteen years old, had a narrow escape from death Sunday. He was cleaning an old 32-caliber revolver, and when least expected the hammer snapped and discharged a shell, the bullet penetrating the frontal bone. Dr. Moll found the ball flattened so much that its removal was an impossibility unless the bone was cut away, making a bad scar. It was considered best to give the wound a chance to heal.

Lumbering operations in Marquette county are now well underway for the season of 1904. They are smaller in scope than those undertaken in any previous season and are about the last operations of any consequence that will be seen in this region.

His cut will be brought to the lake at Sauk's Head, whence it will be towed next year to the Hebard mill at Piquemung. It is regarded as almost certain that the last of the Hebard pine will be cleaned up next season.

controls the greater part. These figures tell, without any elaboration, what terrible progress has been made toward the complete destruction of the county's pine forests.

Lumbering Still to Go On. Lumbering will not come entirely to an end with the last of the pine. There are other woods, hard and soft, which are becoming increasingly valuable with the disappearance of the pine, and which will be cut and manufactured for many years to come.

No figures are available on the total cut in this county during the past thirty years that lumbering operations have been pushed on a large scale, but the total is doubtless way up in the thousands of millions of feet.

The disappearance of the pine in Marquette county is but a piece of the entire depletion of the pineries of the entire upper peninsula, once among the finest forests to be found in the country.

A well-known Marquette lumberman, in speaking of these things yesterday, recalled that the old Bartis mill, formerly located just this side of the breakwater, which was dismantled and moved to Munising many years ago, was the first modern mill to be erected in Marquette county.

to the possession of the Diamond Match company. The advent of Rising, Foote & Co. in the Ontonagon district marked the first introduction there of modern lumbering methods.

Another pioneer in the lumbering industry of the upper peninsula were the Hebard's who established themselves at Piquemung in 1877-78, having operated there ever since.

The Sturgeon River Lumber company was also an oldtimer, establishing a mill at Hancock about '72. This mill was afterwards moved to Chassell.

END OF SEASON AT HAND. Tomorrow Is the Last Day on Which Deer Can Be Legally Shot.

The end of the deer season is at hand, as tomorrow is the last day on which this game can be legally shot. The number of licenses issued this year shows an appreciable increase over the record for last season and is the largest in the history of the county.

The deer carcasses have not been coming into the town at a very lively rate during the past few days, and it appears that the greater part of the hunting was done in the early part of the season.
