582 ARE KNOWN TO HAVE PERISHED

THAT NUMBER OF DEAD, RESULT OF IROQUOIS THEATER FIRE, ARE ACCOUNTED FOR.

THIRTY CHICAGO SCHOOL TEACHERS AMONG THE VICTIMS.

Chicago, Saturday, Jan. 2.—At midnight the total number of bodies accounted for as a result of the Iroquois holocaust was 582. Of these, 501 have been identified. Many persons are still missing.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Such a day of mourning Chicago never witnessed as that which ushered in the new year. In every portion of the city almost it seemed as though there were funerals going on or undertaker wagons arriving with their coffins for the last time.

While funeral processions were moving to various cemeteries, the throngs about the morgues and undertaking establishments seemed almost as large as ever. The scenes here were the same as those of the past two days and nights. Many men were in line at Rolston's and Jordan's morgues this afternoon who had been on their feet constantly for forty-eight hours searching for those they had lost.

The greater number of dead are in these two places, and men who had viewed the ghastly rows of corpses before and had gone on an unending search to every morgue and undertaking room in the city to which dead from the theater had been taken, came back once more to Rolston's and Jordan's almost in despair but hoping against hope that they might have overlooked their dead in the great number that had crowded the tables and floors Thursday morning. In some cases they were successful; in many others, they were not.

Practically all the bodies which admit of careful identification have been carried away and of those remaining the majority are in such condition that only the most minute inspection will be able to reveal their identity to those who knew them best.

Found His Children Safe. One of the saddest was that of Herbert and Agnes Lang, of 1632 Barry avenue. Both children had attended the performance, and after many hours of tireless searching the broken-hearted father finally found his daughter in an undertaking establishment.

Lang, almost exhausted through his continuous trip from morgue to morgue, hospital to hospital, police stations to the coroner's office and back through the wearisome round again and again, came this afternoon in utter despair and begged that detectives assist him. He also pleaded with newspaper men, and his voice choked and failed as he referred to his wife, who lay utterly prostrated at their home. Lang said that these were his only children.

The detectives and newspapermen promised him every assistance, though they themselves were almost worn out. Finally, the father found and the broken-hearted father gathered up the little form and carried it to a carriage. The absolute failure of Lang to identify any one of the bodies as that of his son has caused some hope that the boy may still be alive and cared for in some hospital.

Later—When Lang reached his home with the body of the little girl, he was greeted by his wife, who told him their two children had returned home this evening in safety. They had been lost and wandered about the city. Lang at once returned to the morgue with the body he thought to be that of his own child.

Bereaved Father Uses Gun. A pathetic incident occurred today on the Cottage Grove avenue cable line. This passes near Rolston's morgue. Late this afternoon a man, haggard and worn, walked up to a car and climbed aboard, carrying in his arms the body of a little golden-haired girl. The form was partially wrapped in canvas cloth, but not sufficiently to conceal it. The conductor, while expressing his sorrow that the rules of the company prevented the carrying of bodies in that manner, asked him to leave the car.

The father rose, holding the body of his child on one arm, and with his free hand thrust a revolver into the conductor's face and said in a tone which betokened utter weariness: "This is my daughter. I have looked for her all of last night and all of today. I have tried in vain to obtain a cab or a carriage, and I can get none. I am taking my baby home to her mother, and I intend to take her on this car. Now, go on." Others on the car interceded, the conductor gave way and in the crowded car the father sat and carried the corpse of his child to her home.

Clergymen Almost Worn Out. The clergymen of the city are almost exhausted in their efforts to conduct funerals from homes of their parishioners. All day they went from house to house to conduct funeral services and minister to the grief-stricken members of their flock.

The livermen were overwhelmed with demands for carriages for funerals, and the number sent to each was necessarily limited to the smallest possible to convey immediate relatives to the cemetery.

This was the situation in Chicago today, and tomorrow it will be intensified. The coroner's office today issued nearly 300 burial certificates for people killed in the fire. Some of these were for people residing in other cities, but they were comparatively few, and Superintendent of Schools Cooley announced today that the Iroquois theater fire had killed twenty of the teachers of the Chicago public schools, and that six teachers are still reported missing, making a total of thirty.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Three persons were killed and four injured in a fire tonight that destroyed the Louvre Hotel, in Lake avenue. With remembrance of the Iroquois theater horror fresh in their minds, every one of the 100 guests became panic-stricken and rushed madly for the streets as soon as it became known the hotel was afire.

The dead were: PATRICK RYAN, retired merchant. MRS. FLORENCE CHAPIN. TWELVE-YEAR-OLD BOY, son of Mrs. Chapin. All three had been overcome by smoke and had not been touched by flames. The injured are: M. M. Bright, William Hayden, Dr. N. Vonschill, and Fred Hoop, a fireman, who fell from a fire engine.

The smoke was so thick in the upper story that the guests there had great difficulty in finding the exits. The stairs and passage ways became so congested in the rush for safety that many guests on the second floor were obliged to drop off by means of a plank held to a window by men outside.

Miss Mary Covert, an employe of the hotel, rushed into the burning building and rescued from almost certain death three children of Mrs. F. O. Schaffer, a guest.

The fire originated in the dining room. The loss is $40,000.

New York, Jan. 1.—Fire in the Murray Hill Hotel today caused a loss of $10,000. No one was hurt.

BAD FIRE AT MARINETTE. N. Ludington Company's Sawmill Is Destroyed—Loss, $75,000.

Marinette, Wis., Jan. 1.—The N. Ludington company's sawmill here burned tonight. The loss is $75,000.

Milwaukee, Jan. 1.—Captain Frederick Pabst, president of the Pabst Brewing company, died today, aged sixty-seven. While the family knew he was suffering from an incurable disease and that he could not live more than a few months longer, his death came suddenly and unexpectedly.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 1.—Former Congressman James J. Belden died today, aged seventy-eight. He was Syracuse's richest citizen, his wealth being estimated at over ten millions.

MAYOR CLOSES PLAY HOUSES

NINETEEN CHICAGO THEATERS ARE FOUND TO BE VIOLATING THE LAW.

HAVE NO ASBESTOS CURTAINS

MUST INSTALL THEM BEFORE DOORS CAN BE OPENED.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Mayor Harrison today took steps to provide, as far as possible, against a repetition of yesterday's horror. As a result of an investigation made at his orders, nineteen theaters and museums were ordered closed, some being among the leading and most popular playhouses of the city.

The action of the mayor was based on the fact that the owners have violated the ordinances which provide that theaters shall all have an asbestos curtain as a means of protecting the auditorium from fire on the stage.

The theaters closed are: Howard's, Sam T. Jack's, Narlow, New American, Olympic, Academy of Music, Alhambra, Avenue, Bijou, Chicago Opera House, Columbus Stock, Thirty-First Street, Criterion, Fiegenbaum's, Milwaukee Avenue, Garrick, Glickman's, and the London, Globe and Clark street museums.

The Chicago Opera House and the Olympic theater are high-class vaudeville houses and are generally crowded, even at matinees, which are given every day. The Garrick theater ordered closed is a small playhouse on the Northwest side of the city and should not be confounded with the larger theater of the same name situated near the Iroquois. The scope of the investigation included no other feature than asbestos curtains. The mayor declared it was his intention that no theater should be allowed to open its doors in Chicago hereafter unless provided with asbestos curtain of standard quality that would work at all times and under all conditions.

The mayor said that it might not be possible to prevent loss of life when audiences run for the doorways, but he proposed all precautions as will prevent any cause for panic among the people. The mayor declared that there would have no reason in the Iroquois if the apparatus there had been in proper working condition.

The seating capacity of the theaters closed is 12,370, which includes 3,600 at two performances each day at the Olympic. In two places the curtains were found to be made of burlap, three were of canvas and the others of linen.

Mayor Inspects the Iroquois.

Mayor Harrison today, in company with Building Commissioner Williams, and several architects, including B. H. Marshall, the architect of the building, visited the Iroquois theater and went over it thoroughly. As they stepped into the building the mayor accidentally trod on a large lock of human hair, which had been torn from the head of some victim of the disaster. He shuddered and, removing the hair from his shoe, placed it on one side of the hallway and passed in.

The mayor went out on the fire escapes, tried the exits, mounted into the rigging loft and visited the dressing rooms. It was noticed that the exits were not marked, as required by the ordinance. Architect Marshall said signs were being prepared and that temporary masks were not used because they would have marred the beauty of the building; he also explained that the doors of the exits were covered with heavy damask curtains so as to improve the appearance of the interior. The ordinances require that the galleries must each have a separate stairway leading to the street, but it was noted that one stairway was made to serve both galleries at the Iroquois.

CULPABILITY FOUND.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Culpability in permitting unsafe conditions to exist at the Iroquois theater, which resulted in the horrible catastrophe of Wednesday, is narrowed down to three points. Violations of city ordinances existed to the number of at least ten. Those responsible for the house running in violation of the law are: The management of the theater—Harry J. Powers and Will J. Davis; the city fire department—William H. Mushman, fire marshal; the city department of buildings—George Williams, commissioner.

The management of any theater in Chicago is required to comply with the building ordinances prescribed by the city's code. This was not done in several instances. In case of violation the building law states that the commissioner of buildings or fire marshal shall enforce the law and gives the power to close any theater which does not comply with the law.

Here are ordinance provisions that investigation shows have been violated: No persons shall be permitted to stand in aisles or passageways during any performance. Emergency exits shall be kept free from obstructions of all kinds, including snow. The main curtain opening shall have in iron or asbestos curtain. There shall be above the stage a flue pipe not less than one thirtieth of the stage area in diameter. Automatic sprinklers shall be maintained above and below stage and in dressing and paint rooms. Fire apparatus of specified kind shall be kept at certain points above the stage. Fire alarm telegraphic calls shall be

SIXTEEN TO ONE THE SCORE.
Canadian Soo Hockey Team is Outclassed by Portage Lake.

The Canadian Soo hockey team was outclassed in its game with the Portage Lake team in the Amphidrome at Houghton yesterday afternoon. The score was 16 to 1 in favor of the locals, and now the copper country enthusiasts are wondering just where the American Soo aggregation comes in, inasmuch as the best it could do with the hockey team from across the river was to defeat it 4 to 2.

Great hockey was played by the locals yesterday, and it was again demonstrated in the presence of a big crowd that Portage Lake is materially stronger than last season. The team work of the copperdom seven was gill-edge, especially in the second half. The playing in this half was almost entirely in the Canadian's territory and the Soo goal tender was literally bombarded by shots aimed for the net. He failed to stop twelve of them, but at that, considering the many times the puck was driven toward him, he did good work. Here, the Portage Lake goal tender, was kept busier during the game than in any contest to date this season, but he had no difficulty in stopping all but one shot.

The first half ended with the score 4 to 1. R. D. Schooley of Toronto, an expert hockeyist, refereed yesterday's game. He officiated again this evening. He refereed the recent match played by the American and Canadian Soo teams, and the Canadian Soo management requested that he be allowed to officiate at Houghton. The request was readily granted. Last season he refereed most of the senior O. H. A. games.

The game this evening promises to draw out even a larger crowd than was present yesterday afternoon. The hockeyists saw good hockey yesterday and another good match is assured tonight. The line-up of the teams will be practically the same.

Another Ling in favor of the American seven was that the Canadians did not have their regular goal tender, "Billy" Scott, in the game. He was injured in the recent match, and was unable to play. Charlie Watt, the "wonder," took his place and the News states that although he made a number of good stops he showed lack of experience. The News adds that Scott in goal and in form and Washington at point would have made a wonderful difference on the defense of the Canadians. Scott was in yesterday's game with Portage Lake. The visitors were in better trim than when they lined up against the American Soo team as Scott is about as good as they make them.

Ready to Play Portage Lake? The Soo News states that the American Soo hockey team is now ready to arrange games with Portage Lake and will ask that a series of not less than eight, and possibly ten, be played. Nothing official has been heard to that effect by the Portage Lake management, but the locals only hope the news is true. There will be joy in the Portage Lake camp when the games have been scheduled.

WANTS HONORARY MEMBERS. Company E of Calumet has started a movement to secure 150 honorary members. Circular letters explaining the privileges of such membership were sent out to businessmen and it is believed that many favorable replies will be received. The membership exempts from poll tax and jury duty and also gives the same privileges enjoyed by the regularly enlisted men. Any businessman may become an honorary member by the payment of ten dollars. Company E intends to put the money it secures from this source into its treasury for company purposes.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES. It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c. at The Stafford Drug Co.'s store.

AN IROQUOIS THEATER VICTIM.

Harvey Kieley, Member St. Louis Hockey Team, Perished in Fire.

News of the death of Harvey Kieley, a member of the St. Louis World's Fair team, who was one of the victims of the Iroquois theater horror in Chicago, was received with deep regret in hockey circles in copperdom. His name was noted in the list of the killed Thursday morning and a telegram was sent to Manager Gillespie, of the St. Louis seven, to verify the report. Mr. Gillespie wired back that the sad news was true. Kieley played coverpoint in the first game with the Portage Lakes in the Amphidrome at Houghton Christmas afternoon and in the game the Saturday evening following he played in the forward line. On the return trip of the visitors Kieley secured a stop-over at Chicago during the day that was the only one of the team who did not go straight through to St. Louis. Before leaving Houghton Mr. Kieley remarked to local acquaintances that it had been some time since he had enjoyed a good visit in Chicago and that he intended to take advantage of the opportunity to spend a few days in the Western metropolis on his way home.

Kieley's death is deeply felt by his Houghton and Hancock friends. Like the other members of the St. Louis seven, he was a devoted amateur. He was followed by a crowd of admirers to the best player on the team. He was with the St. Louis team last season when it visited Houghton, consequently he became well acquainted in local hockey circles.

Disaster Arouses Sympathy. The Chicago catastrophe was discussed by all copperdom Thursday evening. It would scarcely realize the horror of the fire, although most graphic accounts are given in the newspapers. Much sympathy has been expressed for D. J. Norton, the well-known Ontonagon lumberman, whose two daughters, Edith and Mattie, are among the victims. Miss Edith's body was one of the first to be taken from the ruins and identified. The body of Mattie was not recovered until some time later. It was reported at Hancock Thursday that Mrs. Thomas Coughlin was among those who had lost their lives, but it was certain during the day that she did not attend the theater. Mr. Coughlin was overjoyed at the good news. Among the dead are Mrs. Foreman, wife of Mrs. N. P. Leopold's brother, all well-known in copperdom, and Walter D. Austrian, son of Joseph Austrian, a former copper country resident. Copper country people anxiously scanned the lists of dead, missing and injured to discover whether any of their relatives or friends were among the number. The horror of it all has struck home in many different places and some time will elapse before people cease to talk about it.

BOWLERS AGAIN TO CONTEST.

County League Will Resume Its Weekly Series Next Week.

Interest in bowling will be revived next week. The devotees of the game let up for the holidays shortly before Christmas and have not yet returned to any extent since then. By match games were scheduled for the holiday season. The Houghton County league will begin its regular weekly series of games next Thursday. Lee Dees and Millers will play on the Dees alleys at Houghton, the Drippers and Hancock will meet on the Drippers alleys at Hancock, the Callumets and Houghtons will play on the Miller alleys at Calumet, and the Mitchells and Hancock will meet on the Mitchell alleys at Hancock. The thoughtless are at the top of the league at present.

The Houghton Bowling league probably will be reorganized shortly. It will include the same teams that played before the advent of the holiday season, namely the Hennes, Businessmen, Bankers and Antiques, and possibly two or more additional.

Lake Linden bowlers have organized a league and will start its schedule next Monday evening. The teams are the Oaks, Mahogany, Maples, Pines, Hickories and Hemlocks. Theodore Hennes is the president of the organization. A. Brokaway vice president and A. A. Breen secretary and treasurer. Regular games will be played on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, with the exception of next week, when the Wednesday evening game will be omitted, and the schedule will continue for ten weeks. All games will be played on the Ketteneil alleys. The personnel of the teams are as follows: Oaks—Hennes, Pfeiffer, Glass and Keiser; Maples—Therrien, Harris, LePage and Hartman; Mahogany—Barbeau, Ziel, Hagen and Gray; Pines—Brokaway, Roy, Keiser and P. Pfeiffer; Hickories—Haefter, James, Prince and Steffes; Hemlocks—Bushell, Hermann, Goldsworthy and Corbell.

On Monday evening the Hemlocks will play at Hancock and next Friday evening the Mahogany and Hickories will play.

IT LOOKS LIKE SCOTT.

It looks now as if Mayor A. J. Scott of Hancock will be successful in succeeding himself at the municipal election next spring. A few weeks ago he announced that he would not again be a candidate unless the sentiment favorable to his reelection was pretty general. Now, judging from reports received, he is the choice of a large number of influential citizens who are well pleased with his administration and it would not be at all surprising if the nomination goes to him practically unanimously. There is no question that Mr. Scott is a strong man, and popular. He has devoted much of his time and attention to municipal affairs during the years he has been in office, and he has never been found wanting. Hancock has progressed with rapid strides since Mr. Scott has been its executive. Although he is not wholly responsible, he had a great deal to do in bringing Hancock to the front as one of the leading cities of its size in the Northwest.

GOES TO TEXAS.

F. O. Morrison, cashier in the D. S. S. & A. railway freight depot at Houghton for the last four years, has resigned his position. He left Thursday afternoon for Beaumont, Tex., where he takes a similar position with the Kansas City & Southern railway. He is succeeded at Houghton by Joseph Knight, who has been employed as a clerk in the freight depot.

"DEVIL'S AUCTION" TONIGHT.

Charles H. Yale's "Devil's Auction" will be seen at the Korredge theater at Hancock this evening. Entire new scenery and costumes have been provided, and the cast, ballet and vendettes have been strengthened. The attraction has pleased Portage Lake people on former occasions and it likely will be greeted by a large audience at the Korredge.

Purifies the blood; Cures (ointment for the skin).

COPPERDOM BREVITIES.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Will Ferguson of Houghton, a daughter.

The First National bank of Hancock has declared a dividend of 5 per cent on its capital stock.

The Catholic Order of Foresters of Hancock will install its recently elected officers tomorrow evening.

A reception for members of the Houghton Lunch club was held at the home of Miss Agnes Van Orden last evening.

Eugene Perrault has resigned his position with Gottliebson & Whitcomb's furnishes of Houghton, and will enter the college of mines.

Mrs. H. Stuart and Miss Stuart of Ottawa have arrived in Houghton to join Hod Stuart, coverpoint of the Portage Lake hockey team.

A meeting of those interested in the organization of a Finnish lodge of the Knights of the Macabees at Baltic will be held tomorrow afternoon.

The Hadden-Rodee brokerage firm has distributed New Year's souvenirs, consisting of paper weights, note books and match safes, among its friends and patrons.

The Copper Range road will run a special train from Calumet this evening for the second hockey game with the Canadian Soo in the Amphidrome at Houghton.

C. A. Pearce, the architect, who has made his home in Hancock for several years, has left with his family for Montreal, Canada, where they will permanently reside.

Meyer & Smith of Houghton went out of the retail meat business yesterday. The firm offers its entire stock and fixtures in the Young block on Sheldon street for sale.

I. Miller of Houghton has rented the basement store room in the Citizens' National bank building and will put in a stock of drygoods and clothing. He will open for business about Dec. 15.

Following "The Devil's Auction," which will be seen at the Korredge theater in Hancock this evening, the next attraction will be "The Little Christian," which will appear next week.

E. T. Dume has resigned his position as manager of the Trimountain Mining company's store at the mining location. The resignation takes effect Jan. 15. His successor has not yet been named.

The Houghton firemen gave their annual ball in their new hall Thursday evening. The proceeds will go towards lifting the indebtedness on the fire hall. Music was furnished by Klinghammer's orchestra.

County Game Warden W. H. Vivian and W. A. Jamison, warden in Ontonagon county, will work together hereafter in rounding up game and fish law violators. Mr. Vivian says there is nothing doing just at present.

A hockey game between the Oyster and Atlantic hockey teams probably will be arranged for a near date. Negotiations are under way and it is believed an amicable agreement can be reached. The contest will be amusing, to say the least.

The fire department of the village of Hubbell will give its first annual ball on the evening of Jan. 22. The event will take place in the Bismark Hall. Every fire company in the copper country will be invited to participate in the festivities.

The South Shore railroad offers special rates for the hockey game at Houghton this evening. A rate of one dollar for the round trip will be charged from L'Anse and Baraga; eighty-five cents from Keweenaw Bay, and thirty-five cents from Chassell. For a party of ten or more special rates will be given from iron country points.

The Laurium Commercial college, conducted by Professor and Mrs. Reiner in the Kichetta block on Hecla street, will open for the January term Monday morning. The total enrollment of the day and night classes is now over seventy. The attendance has increased so far that two extra rooms have been rented for the work, making five in all. Typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping and business methods are taught.

Superintendent John C. Shields of the Mineral Range railroad and Charles Ongie, master carpenter, respectively employed for thirty-one and thirty-two successive years on that road, have sent to their numerous friends a unique New Year's greeting. It is in the form of a card containing an excellent likeness of each gentleman. Mr. Shields has earned an enviable reputation in keeping his trains in commission during blustery winter weather when the snow drifts in huge piles over the tracks.

A VERY CLOSE CALL.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by The Stafford Drug Co. Price 50 cents.

A VEST-POCKET DOCTOR.

Never in the way, no trouble to carry, easy to take, pleasant and never failing in results are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. A vial of these little pills in the vest-pocket is a certain guarantee against headache, biliousness, torpid liver and all of the ills resulting from indigestion. They tone and strengthen the system. Sold by The Stafford Drug Co., H. M. Meloche, Ishpeming.

Green Mountain State Overrun by the Odorousiferous Pests.
Vermont is at the present time so overrun by innumerable skunks that measures are being taken by the residents of various towns and villages throughout the state to rid themselves of the odoriferous pests.
Skunks have always existed in Vermont in considerable numbers, and for many years the state has paid a liberal bounty for their heads, but heretofore the skunks have kept well away from the thickly settled communities.
This fall, however, they have invaded the cities and towns in large numbers and have become a serious nuisance. They run about the streets and into back yards, and any animal or person that approaches near enough usually regrets it in short order. In some towns and large villages the odor of the skunks has been in the air constantly until the people have become so tired of it that they have organized skunk hunting parties. Those who make up the parties are usually attired in rubber clothes which do not permit of the odor reaching a person's skin and clinging to him after the suits have been taken off. A number of these parties have secured between 200 and 300 pelts in a single expedition.
City Engineer Elmer S. Moore of Boston, Mass., has systematically hunted the animals all the fall, and has caught 237 of them up to date. He has cleared a neat sum from the sale of the pelts and from the bounties. An old fisherman living at Thompsons Point, on Lake Champlain, has secured 318 of the animals this season.
Thompson's Point, which is usually a popular place for fishermen in the fall, has been avoided this year on account of the presence of the disagreeable animals.
The coming of the skunks to civilization in such large numbers this year is attributed to the fact that their favorite food, grasshoppers, has been remarkably scarce this year, owing to the unusual climatic conditions of the past summer.—Boston Herald.

MISTAKES OF ILLUSTRATORS.
"Perfection of detail" said the cartoonist, "is exceedingly rare in the making of pictures, whether they be painted on canvas by the great masters or drawn in lines by the men who illustrate the daily newspapers. It is the general effect that tells. There are few newspaper pictures—and I don't exclude my own—in which you can't pick some flaw from the standpoint of realism. In the hurried effort of the newspaper artist who counts the minutes by the clock, there may be some excuse for this, but when we see a man carrying a turkey left handed on the cover of a magazine we must agree that the artist has either been careless or else has employed a left-handed model to pose for him, and the latter solution is scarcely probable. A fisherman landing a trout on a light rod with never a flourish on the reel is quite a common mistake among magazine illustrations, and in the matter of costumes of various periods the illustrations are woefully lacking in information. To illustrate how apt we are to make mistakes," continued the cartoonist, "several years ago I drew a figure representing Cuba, emancipated, starving, a thing of skin and bones, shreds and patches. The picture was half asked, and I tried to bring out all the horrible detail—the shrunken limbs and gaunt face, the ribs protruding through the skin, and above all the hollow cavity where the stomach should have been. A friend of mine who is a doctor took me to task about it. 'Persons who are starving to death,' he said, 'may be abnormally emaciated in every other part of the body except the stomach. The abdomen in the advanced stages is expanded with gases until it puffs up like a balloon, giving the victim a grotesque appearance.' To substantiate this argument he showed me some photographs taken in India during a famine, and I was forced to admit that he was right. In this instance, however, the mistake was not so flagrant as it generally is."—Philadelphia Record.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. FIVE LYNX PELTS.

Were Brought to County Clerk and Bounty Claimed Thursday.

Henry Takkinen, a resident of Champion township, brought five lynx pelts to County Clerk Ross' office Thursday, and claimed the bounty thereon. He got $5 for each hide, $25 in all. The skins were trapped by him on different dates in the month of November. This bunch of pelts was the largest that has been brought to the county clerk's office at one time in a number of years. The pelts were all cured in excellent style, and their preparation shows that Takkinen knows his business. One of the pelts was from an unusually large lynx, a fellow who would make most people rambunctious in the woods take to tail timber. There are many lynx still to be found in the out-of-way corners of the county, and in the course of a year a goodly amount of bounty money is claimed.

BUMPED HANCOCK BOWLERS.

The Mitchells Dropped Five Out of Six Games Here Yesterday.

A picked team of Marquette bowlers demonstrated yesterday afternoon that they know something about the sport by taking the Mitchells of Hancock, said to be the best team in the copper country, into camp five games out of six. The visitors pulled out the third game by a score of 838 to 795, but before that they had won the exception of the fifth game, there was "nothing doing" from their point of view. The Marquette team included MacGregor, who distinguished himself a few weeks ago by rolling an average of 253 1/2 pins for three games, and Kimball, Hermann, Anderson and H. Hogan, this quartet being, with the exception of E. O. Bowsher, the four bowlers who have the highest averages in the city league. The local bowlers struck the best pace from the start, the records for the six games being as follows: 899-732; 823-720; 795-888; 888-709; 832-797-752. The fifth game, it will be remembered, was very close, and created much interest. In the second game the team record for the Marquette bowlers beat the alley mark, but it in turn was beaten in the evening by the Hancock bowlers, who put it at 965. Reference to the following summary conclusively shows that a number of the Marquette bowlers were hardly playing up to their games. This is particularly true of Kimball and Hogan and to a lesser degree of MacGregor. If these three men, or either one of them, had been bowled as effectively as they frequently do in informal games the visitors' defeat would have been even much more decisive.

ARE YOU A HAY FARMER?

Supt. Geismar Scores This Product of Habit and Shiftlessness.

In his New Year's pledges, Leo M. Geismar, of the upper peninsula experiment station, does not intend to include a relenting warfare against the hay farmer who sows his crop in such a haphazard manner. He says that there are altogether too many such farmers in the upper peninsula, and he does not wonder that they stay away from farmers' institutes, since it requires neither ambition nor brains to grow hay. He claims that hay farming under such conditions breeds a habit as pernicious as that of drink or opium, leading to shiftlessness and idleness. He urges the growing of clover and alfalfa, of peas and sugar beets and fruit, not only because these crops are eminently well adapted to our climatic conditions, but adding which so many more intelligent farming methods, nor because they bring three to ten times more money per acre, but principally because they foster industrial development, insure a greater home market and promote the settlement of millions of acres. Mr. Geismar contends that an increased farming population benefits the farmer even more than the merchant or manufacturer, and he defined his views in the closing remarks of his address at the recent farmers' institutes in Houghton county, when he said in regard to the marketing of strawberries: "Last, and not least, though you will get a lower price for it, market a portion of your best fruit away from home, especially in large cities where your neighborhood is apt to be advertised most; then the resources of the upper peninsula will become the envy of the rest of the world. Printers ink is of infinite value, but since the mere existence of the pudding is not sufficient to demonstrate its quality no one better than yourselves has the opportunity for furnishing a portion of your best strawberries to the market. It is a task which, if properly done, will prove that strawberry culture in the upper peninsula is highly profitable and deserves to be rapidly expanded. You might think it strange that I should advise you to accept less for a portion of your product, which there is such great demand at home, yet sound judgment will convince you that this temporary loss will prove to be one of the very best of investments. There are not a handful of farmers in the upper peninsula where there should be, and eventually will be, tens of thousands. Experience must have taught you that complete success in farming is an isolated and sparsely settled community is an arduous task, which the exceptionally strong and gifted can seldom accomplish until nearly the closing days of a lifetime fraught with privations and devoid of the enjoyment of most things which help to sum up life's happiness. We have all a touch of vanity, and the praise of our work springs us to renewed activity, while, ignored or forgotten, many of us fall by the wayside for the simple reason of being everywhere, the history of pioneer days shows that the farmer is no exception to this rule. Many an earnest and hard struggling farmer fails, though life for him would have been a complete success amidst the most favorable conditions in his neighborhood. The forest tree and the boundless prairie may be inspiring; as the farmers' only neighbor, urging him to renewed exertions, they are a dismal failure. And thus we often find many of the pioneer farmers losing the fruits of years of honest labor simply for being isolated. Many of these depart seeking a new start in life elsewhere. Others do worse; they stay, and become hay farmers. On the other hand, a growing community is the home of prosperity. The influence of a good example has no boundaries. It breeds emulation. It inspires a determination to excel and accounts for the higher civilization and the greater success of the individual farmer who finds himself in the midst of a rapidly growing community. The prize, therefore, is worth the temporary sacrifice. To you it means a growing market, a more congenial neighborhood. It means a broader sphere of endeavor, a greater efficiency, which, in turn leads to contentment and insures more perfect happiness. It means better homes, more comfortable homes, more schools and churches. It means the earlier enjoyment of those privileges which to many farmers elsewhere are now necessities, yet forbidden luxuries to the pioneer farmer. The prize is worth the sacrifice, for since you can accomplish most of it at no actual expense and merely through the agency of the best of all fruits; the strawberry, the queen fruit, not only of the temperate zone, but of every one. And as you lend a helping hand in the more rapid development of your neighborhood and of the upper peninsula, you will better appreciate the causes which inspired the patriotic sentiments of Michigan's fathers, when he wrote: 'From Maumee Bay to Keweenaw A richer land none ever saw. Thy farms are famous world around Rare woods are in thy forests found. Thy rocks in richest ores abound. Home of my heart, I sing thee loud. Thy lake bound shores I long to see; From Saginaw's tall whispering pines To Lake Superior's farthest mines Fair in the light of memory shines Michigan, my Michigan.'"

"THE MAN FROM SWEDEN"

It Will Be the Attraction at the Opera House This Evening.

"The Man from Sweden," a play that has been very favorably mentioned the past season or two, will be seen at the opera house this evening, with Knute Erickson in the principal role. His supporting company is said to be adequate. The San Francisco Call said of the star and the play: "For the first time in eleven years we have had a genuine Swedish dialect comedian, in Mr. Erickson. There was only one Emmit in the German comedy, and so it is with Erickson in the Swedish line. It surely was an innovation to what we have had year after year; so many comedians have made a bold attempt to handle this character, but have made a hopeless failure. It did not take long to see the vast difference between Erickson and them. Every word he uttered was so true and distinct that a child could grasp it. Erickson is a careful student. He speaks his language fluently and shows pains with his work. Any one that witnessed his performance last evening will remember it a long time, for that broad, pleasant smile he wears and the honest character he plays makes one fall in love with him from the start. The supporting company is good and the California theater will no doubt be crowded to the doors during the stay here."

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES.

Baptist church, Rev. C. Maxson, pastor, preaching service at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., with sermons appropriate to the new year. There will also be a sermonette for the children in the morning. Bible school at 12 m.; B. Y. P. U. meeting at 6:50 p. m.

NOTICE.

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 1, 1904. Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Lake Shore Engine Works, for the election of directors and the transaction of other business, will be held at its office in the city of Marquette, in the state of Michigan, on the third Monday (the 18th) of January, A. D. 1904, at 2 o'clock p. m. J. E. SHERMAN, Secretary.

UPWARD MOVEMENT.

It Continued in the Boston Market Thursday.

Paine, Webber & Co. said of the Boston market: "The upward movement of prices today further encouraged the belief that we are in a bull market, for the present at least. The buying is better than the selling. On recessions we think good stocks should be bought. Amalgamated continues one on the most active and strongest stocks on the list. New York divines state that copper is very strong on the advance in prices noted Wednesday, and there are predictions that it will sell above thirteen cents next month." Hayden, Stone & Co. wired W. H. Laidley & Co.: "Under the lead of Amalgamated, stocks turned strong today. There was not much activity, however, except in Amalgamated. Utah and Tamarack were also in good demand and advanced easily. They both should sell much higher. The metal market holds unchangeably with very little doing. For any extended movement in copper stocks there will have to be a big improvement in the metal market, in our opinion." Paine, Webber & Co. report closing prices at Boston Thursday as follows: Amalgamated, 34 1/2 @ 35; Utah, 10 1/2 @ 11; Tamarack, 4 1/2 @ 4 3/4; Anaconda, 19 1/2 @ 20; Colorado Fuel & Iron, 21 1/2 @ 22; Copper Range, 14 1/2 @ 15; Franklin, 8 1/2 @ 9; Inyanine, 6 1/2 @ 7; Ring, 2 1/2 @ 3; Mayflower, 4 1/2 @ 5; Mohawk, 3 1/2 @ 4; Old Dominion, 1 1/2 @ 2; Pennsylvania, 2 1/2 @ 3; Quincy, 1 1/2 @ 2.

The Hadden-Rodeo New York letter was as follows:

"The stock market ended the year with an exhibition of considerable strength. The stocks put forward most prominently in the late trading were Atchison and the Harriman Pacific. We shall have occasion later to treat of the possibilities of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific. Sufficient to say for the present that these Harriman roads were the first to begin enormous expenditures for improvements, and they are now through, while some of the other great systems, notably the Pennsylvania, are in the midst of their improvements, and they are in a position to realize the benefits of their improvements at a time when it is most desirable that this should be the case. There was reluctance on the part of traders to go home long of stocks for a speculation, owing to the fact that the London market will be closed on Saturday while the New York stock exchange will be open on that day. Thus in the event of adverse developments in the Eastern situation over Friday our traders would be the only market to sell stocks on."

WILL SHOW GLACIAL TREND.

Float copper is at last to have a proper record with relation to the glacial action of the Northwest. The well known geologist, Dr. O. C. Farrington of Chicago, is making a study of the distribution of float copper in the glacial drift, and the members of the Wisconsin Archaeological society in all parts of the state are assisting him in gathering the desired data from all possible sources. It has long been known that Wisconsin soil contained an abundance of these nuggets and masses of glacial copper, brought down from the north by glacial action, but no scientists have gathered together information on the subject. For this reason Professor Farrington's paper will be received with interest. The data gathered will show the trend of the glaciers, a point that has hitherto been only fairly well established by deduction. The copper boulders were torn from their places in the Huronian district of the Lake Superior copper district, when the great glaciers of the ice age crushed down over Wisconsin, leveling the hills and excavating the creek, lake, and river beds. The debris, and with it the copper, was spread by the glaciers into Minnesota, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Ohio and Indiana. Wisconsin, being directly south of and nearer to the source of the float copper, retained most of the fragments, which are found wherever the drift belt has been through the drift. Secretary Charles E. Brown, of the Wisconsin Archaeological society has gathered many interesting facts about the copper fragments. In eastern Wisconsin, the counties of Winnebago, Waushara, Fond du Lac, Manitowish, Sheboygan, Milwaukee and Waukesha have produced a large quantity of the float copper. The fragments thus obtained, according to the reports now being compiled, varied in weight from a fraction of a pound to several hundreds of pounds.

"Nearly every find in this part of the country," said Mr. Brown, "annual purchases numerous solid bodies of this metal, and nearly every peddler and junk dealer can relate his experience with the pieces purchased from the finders along the country roads. Every local collector of prehistoric implements has had fallen into his hands pieces of this metal, and nearly every early settler as half a century ago, Dr. Increase A. Lapham reported several hundred weight annually as being taken by foundrymen in Milwaukee.

Among the larger pieces discovered was a mass from Dodge county, which said to have weighed nearly 1,100 pounds, at Johnson's Creek, Jefferson county, said to have weighed nearly 1,100 pounds. The latter mass was found by a general contractor in a basement in need of a $1000 plowing machine, and he traded it off with an agricultural implement man for the machine. Other pieces, weighing respectively 300, 183 and 68 pounds, were found near Plymouth and Rhine, in Sheboygan county, and at Rio, in Columbia county.

Perhaps the largest piece ever found in Milwaukee county weighed about sixty pounds, and was picked up about 1850 in Chase's stone quarry, at Wauwatosa. The piece had fallen into the limestone rock, where it was found by some workmen. When the find was reported to the owner of the property he believed he had a copper mine, but when Dr. Lapham visited the find he pronounced the matter to be merely float copper that had accidentally strayed to the surface. This piece had on its surface small specks of silver. Several other smaller fragments were afterward found there, and all were lost with the burning of the Lapham collection in the Science hall at Madison nineteen years ago. Another piece weighing about seven pounds was found during the construction of the flushing tunnel, and the find was reported to the owner of the property he believed he had a copper mine, but when Dr. Lapham visited the find he pronounced the matter to be merely float copper that had accidentally strayed to the surface. Another piece weighing about seven pounds was found during the construction of the flushing tunnel, and the find was reported to the owner of the property he believed he had a copper mine, but when Dr. Lapham visited the find he pronounced the matter to be merely float copper that had accidentally strayed to the surface. This piece had on its surface small specks of silver. Several other smaller fragments were afterward found there, and all were lost with the burning of the Lapham collection in the Science hall at Madison nineteen years ago.

CITY BREVITIES.

Today's weather: Generally fair; continued cold.

Yesterday's temperature: Seven a. m., 4 degrees; noon, 7; 7 p. m., 3. Maximum, 9 degrees; minimum, 3.

Peter White was out Thursday for the first time in several days, having been confined to his home by a slight bronchial trouble.

A party of Marquette people attended a dance at Ishpeming Thursday night, and had a very enjoyable time. They came home yesterday.

Ashley Doty is now located at Nescora, where he has a position with the South Shore. He resigned his place with F. B. Spear & Sons.

New Year's day was quietly observed here. The weather was ideal, being bright and frosty. Business was generally suspended, and Sunday hours were kept at the postoffice.

The Sunday school of St. Margaret's mission was held at the church at 4 o'clock, the regular Sunday school service will be held at the mission tomorrow afternoon.

A large number of people participated in the watch night service at the M. E. church Thursday night. During the early part of the evening there was social diversion, but the new year was welcomed with religious exercises.

Seats for "The Little Christian," at the opera house Monday evening, are now on sale at Bigelow's. The company is reported to be adequate. The play has been well received from the day it was first placed on the stage.

A number of the young people took advantage of the opportunity to slide on the Front street hill Thursday night. The sport began late in the evening, when all the sleighs were off the street, so was pursued without interruption. A number of boys were pressed into service for the evening.

Mrs. James E. Smith died yesterday, after an illness of about three weeks' duration. Mrs. Smith was fifty-nine years of age and is survived by a husband and nine children, a number of them living in Marquette. She had lived here twenty-five years. The funeral will be held from the residence on High street Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. C. H. Maxson officiating.

The Current Events class will meet this morning, as usual, at 11 o'clock, in Morgan Memorial chapel. The principal topics will be the state of affairs in the Far East and the recent developments at the isthmus. The talk on Persia, will be the next of the series, and will be given on some evening of the following week, the exact date to be announced later.

"The Devil's Auction" entertained a fair-sized house Thursday evening. It is the same old "Auction" in the main, with its mass of trick scenery and its elaborate machinery of nonsense. Some of the special features, especially the Ori fairies of jugglers, are excellent and well worthy of commendatory mention. The scenery and costuming are good. Some of the principals are not very strong, but as a whole the extravaganza stands its age very well.

A new time card will take effect on the M. & S. E. and L. S. & I. roads at 4 o'clock Sunday morning. This card will cancel Sunday train No. 1, arriving at Marquette at 9:07 and leaving Marquette at 9:12 a. m., and Sunday train No. 4, arriving at Marquette at 5:35 p. m. and leaving Marquette at 5:40 p. m. Train No. 43, Sunday only, will leave Marquette at 8 a. m. Train No. 40, Sunday only, will arrive from Ishpeming at 9:55 a. m.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago discovered some years ago how to make salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles, For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases De Witt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by The Stafford Drug Co., Marquette; H. N. Meloche, Ishpeming.

THE CONDUCTOR. I had been suffering with a severe cold for several days, and was so hoarse I could not speak above a whisper. On the 16th, I met one of Dr. Warner's agents on my train, he handed me a bottle of the White Wine of Tar Syrup, and one hour after taking the first dose my hoarseness commenced leaving me. In twenty-four hours my voice was quite clear and natural, the cold nearly cured. It is the best remedy I ever saw. Respectfully, Conductor Warren, Chicago & Northwestern R. R.

ENJOYABLE INTERURBAN DANCE.
Many Visitors Present at Party Given Thursday Evening.

The New Year's interurban dance given at Anderson's Hall Thursday evening proved to be one of the most largely attended and enjoyable parties of the season. The hall room floor was crowded to its capacity with merry-makers, one of the notable features of the dance being the number of outside guests in attendance. In addition to the usual delegation of Neegaunee people there was a party of fifteen or twenty from Marquette, giving the fundings from the point of view of the entire county, a truly interurban significance. There were also present a large number of guests of Ishpeming people, who have been spending the holidays here.

The arrangements for the dance were excellent. The music was furnished by Trombly's full orchestra and was very satisfactory. Greenery and red were used in the decorative scheme and the scent of the pine gave an invigorating tone to the air. Refreshments of coffee, sandwiches, salad and cake were served during the evening, the outside guests being first to go to the dining hall. Claret punch and lemonade were dispensed throughout the program. The dancers were unusually enthusiastic, and there was a demand for an encore after nearly every number. The merriment continued until about 2:30. The outside guests expressed themselves as highly pleased with their reception and entertainment by the members of the club.

Next Tuesday evening patrons of the Ishpeming theater will have an opportunity of seeing Knute Erickson, said to be the cleverest Swedish dialect comedian on the American stage, in "The Man from Sweden." Erickson played the copper country theaters last season, making a hit everywhere. The Ypsanti Argus of recent date, speaks of the show as follows:

"The story of the comedy drama by Mrs. Newton, is a pretty one and gives an opportunity for many fine situations. Erickson never loses his character of an honest, bright, brave, diffident Swede. His dialect is never overdone. It is just natural. He acts to perfection one of those noble characters who are always lovable, which, however, is not difficult, because, if reports are true, he is that in private life. Much praise is due to Master George, who plays Erickson's friend. He is a very bright lad and a natural actor. The supporting company was creditable."

ATTENDED EDUCATIONAL MEET.

The Milwaukee Sentinel says in its local column: Miss Mae McKitterick of Ishpeming, formerly a well known Vernon county teacher, in speaking of the association meeting at the Plankinton, said: "The teachers of the Michigan peninsula take an interest in the meeting of the Wisconsin association. There are about thirty of our teachers in the city, and Hancock, Houghton, Ishpeming and other towns are well represented."

PETER KOSKI & CO.

The name of the general merchandise firm heretofore known as William Anderson & Co., has been changed to Peter Koski & Co. When the new firm purchased the interest of William Anderson & Co. over a year ago it was not thought necessary to change the name. The members of the present firm are Peter Koski, John Kanlin, John Nurmi and Nels Perttula. All the outstanding accounts will be paid by the new firm and bills payable to William Anderson & Co. will be collected by Peter Koski & Co. A few months ago the firm changed from the credit system to cash, and a satisfactory business is being done.

SAVED FROM TERRIBLE TROUBLE.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Bobbitt of Bazergton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00 Trial Bottles Free at The Stafford Drug Co.'s store.

WERE NOT IN FIRE.

Miss Katie McVichie and Miss A. F. Olcott Were Detained and Did Not Go.

The report circulated in the city Thursday and yesterday to the effect that Miss Katie McVichie, daughter of F. Olcott, formerly of Ishpeming, were in the Ironquois theater Wednesday afternoon, is untrue. They had planned to attend the performance, but were kept away by business. Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Moore of Ironwood, the former the wife of Superintendent Wright of the Ironwood schools, and the latter wife of a prominent physician of that city were in the playhouse, but they were late and were compelled to stand near the main entrance. As soon as the alarm was given they departed, being among the first to reach the street. The ladies know that Miss McVichie and Miss Olcott had talked of attending the performance and for a time they were very much worried and excited, fearing they were among the victims.

TWO PERFORMANCES TODAY.

"The Little Christian," a play being received with much favor wherever presented, will be the bill at the Ishpeming theater this afternoon and evening. The company will arrive here early this morning to prepare for the afternoon performance. The doors will open at 1:30 o'clock and the curtain will go up an hour later. The evening performance will begin at 8:30.

L. C. DOTY LOST A SON.

In the list of victims of the Ironquois theater disaster the name of Lester Doty, seven-year-old son of L. C. Doty, appears. Mr. Doty is the purchasing agent of the Illinois Steel company, with headquarters in Chicago. He is a brother of E. A. Doty, of the Cleveland Lake mine office force, and was for a number of years identified with the Cleveland Iron Mining company in this city.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Harold Sanborn, a young man who visited Theo. Johnston here last summer, was a victim in the Ironquois theater horror.

William Malmberg, for many years a resident of Ishpeming, is in the city. He is selling stock in the Mariposa Mining company, organized and operated under the Ontario Mining companies incorporation act. Mr. Malmberg is still a resident of the Soo.

The Woodmen's ball New Year's eve in Braastad's Hall was attended by nearly three hundred couples. Young people were present from Neegaunee, Marquette and other places in the county. The music furnished by the Calmet & Hecla orchestra was very satisfactory.

Mrs. Carlson, wife of Mrs. Carlson, who conducts a saloon business on First street, died Thursday afternoon. She had been ailing for a year or more with stomach and lung troubles. Besides the husband there are five children survivors. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Swedish Lutheran church.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to acknowledge the kindness and express our thanks for the same to all who helped us in the last sickness, death and funeral preparations of our wife and mother. We feel under deep obligations to all, particularly the societies, those who furnished floral designs, the Salisbury choir and the Division Street Methodist church. JOHN S. GILBERT and FAMILY, CAPT. AND MRS. J. SIMON.

I was a victim of sleeplessness and extreme nervousness for eighteen months, unable to get a proper night's rest and feeling tired and worn out continually. I was easily irritated and hysterical at the slightest provocation, but Wine of Cardui gave me great relief. Within a week after I began taking Wine of Cardui, my general system toned up and nervousness became a thing of the past.

I am so pleased to acknowledge the great curative merit of your health giving medicine and gladly endorse it.

WINE OF CARDUI

We want to call your attention to the complete and immediate relief Mrs. Best secured by taking Wine of Cardui. Within a week after she began taking Wine of Cardui, Mrs. Best had her first good night's rest for eighteen months. Her restlessness was caused by nervousness and Wine of Cardui, as the best menstrual regulator, has no superior in the world as a medicine to soothe a woman's nerves. Nervousness and hysteria are warnings of the approach of insanity and if relief is not secured the end can only be the asylum or the grave. With such an outlook as this before her, no suffering woman can reasonably refuse to give Wine of Cardui a trial. It brings a cure that thousands of women have sought for in vain. Will you secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today and start treatment?
