HELD TO THE GRAND JURY COLLIERY A DEATHTRAP

Chicago City Officials Are Blamed for Theater Horror.

MAYOR ONE OF THEM

LIKewise FIRE MARSHAL AND BUILDING COMMISSIONER.

EIGHT MEN ACCUSED IN ALL

MANAGER DAVIS AND THREE OF HIS EMPLOYEES IMPLICATED.

Coroner's Jury Renders Verdict Finding Ordinances Grossly Violated at Playhouse and That Municipal Authorities Were Negligent.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—The coroner's jury which for three weeks has been listening to evidence relating to the fire in the Iroquois theater late tonight returned a verdict by which the following persons are held to await the action of the grand jury:

CARTER H. HARRISON, mayor of Chicago.

WILL J. DAVIS, proprietor, in part, and manager of the theater.

GEORGE WILLIAMS, building commissioner of Chicago.

EDWARD LAUGHLIN, building inspector under Williams.

FIRE WARDEN WM. H. MUSHAM.

WILLIAM SALLERS, fireman in the theater.

JAMES E. CUMMINGS, stage carpenter.

WILLIAM M'MULLEN, who had charge of the light that caused the fire.

Warrants Prepared.

The report of the jury was not expected before morning, and the announcement that a verdict had been reached at 11 o'clock tonight created much surprise. The coroner at once decided that all the men who should be held by the verdict to the grand jury, should be taken into custody tonight. He therefore at once prepared warrants for their arrest, and called upon the police department for officers to serve them.

"I do not expect that some of these men who are likely to be held will try to escape," said the coroner, "but some who have not large property interests might take it into their heads to do so. I do not intend there shall be any mistakes in that direction laid to my department. If I cause the arrest of one I am compelled to cause the arrest of all, and there will be no favoritism shown, no matter who are the men held by the jury."

As soon as the finding of the jury was announced, details of officers were at once sent for to the city of Chicago, with orders to bring them in at once, and if they could not furnish bail, they were to be taken to jail for the night.

Findings of the Jury.

The findings of the jury follow: The cause of the fire was a drapery coming into contact with a flood arc light.

The city laws relating to the building ordinance, fire alarm boxes, fire apparatus, dampers of flues on and over the stage, and the fly galleries, were not complied with.

The ordinance requiring fire-proofing of the scenery and all woodwork on and about the stage was violated.

The asbestos curtain was wholly inadequate, and was entirely destroyed.

The building ordinances were violated in that the aisles were enclosed on each side of the lower boxes, and by the force of fire apparatus on the orchestra floor.

The ordinances were also violated in that there was no fire apparatus in the gallery or on the first balcony.

Will Sallers, fireman in the theater, was primarily responsible for the observance of the laws and was bound to see that his employees were properly instructed as to their duties in case of fire.

Censure for the Mayor.

In relation to Mayor Harrison, the verdict reads: "We hold Carter H. Harrison, mayor of the city of Chicago, responsible, as he is shown, for the lack of force and for his efforts to escape responsibility, as evidenced by the testimony of Building Commissioner Williams and Fire Marshal Musham, and as the heads of departments under Carter H. Harrison, following this weak course, have given Chicago an inefficient service which makes such calamities as the Iroquois theater horror a menace until the public service is purged of incompetents."

Building Commissioner Williams was held "for gross neglect of duty in allowing the theater to open its doors, when said theater was incomplete and did not comply with the building ordinances."

Fire Marshal Musham was held responsible "for gross neglect of duty in not enforcing the city ordinances, and failure to have his subordinate, William Sallers, the fireman at the theater, report to him the lack of fire apparatus."

Sallers was held for not reporting the lack of fire apparatus; McMullen for carelessness in handling the light that caused the fire; Cummings for not providing the stage with proper fire protection.

Later—the coroner decided later not to arrest Mayor Harrison, Fire Marshal Musham and Commissioner Williams tonight, but they would be given a chance tomorrow to offer bonds for their appearance when wanted. Mittimus were made out, however, for the others.

The special grand jury will convene next week to reopen the investigation. The charge, so far as the city officials are concerned, which the grand jury will consider, is malfeasance in office. Convictions will mean their removal from office in addition to any other penalty.

Enabling Act Modified. Action taken tonight by the city council on the ordinance governing theater will, it is believed, allow one or two of the houses to open in a short time, but it will be months before the others are able to do business, and two or three of them will never re-open.

The city council tonight decided that it would not insist upon the installation of a sprinkler system, and the requirement of steel construction for the stage was also stricken out. All the managers are required to give a bond of $25,000 for the performance of all the conditions of the ordinance by Sept. 1.

Mother Superior at Des Moines the Heir-ess to an Uncle's Estate.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 25.—Sister Philomena, mother superior of Mercy hospital of Des Moines, tonight finds herself heir-ess to an estate valued at fifteen millions. The estate is that of an uncle, John McCormick, who died in Australia ten years ago. Two brothers, John and Henry McCormick, in their early youth, went to Australia. The McCormick family came to this country from Ireland in 1850. Mary married a man named Keating and moved to Davenport. Sister Philomena is a daughter of Mary Keating. Two brothers and two sisters at Davenport will inherit the fortune with Sister Philomena.

Herr Bebel Gets a Fortune.

Berlin, Jan. 25.—Herr Bebel, Socialist leader in the reichstag, has been made the legatee under the will of a Bavarian lieutenant named Hermann Kollmann. The estate is valued at $100,000, one-half of which is willed to Bebel.

HOPE AT BERLIN

OFFICIAL CIRCLES LOOK FOR PEACE IN THE FAR EAST.

Pekin, However, Reports Russian Troops Moving Toward Korea, and at Tokio War Preparations Continue.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The state department has received a cablegram from Mr. Tower, American ambassador at Berlin, saying that in official circles there the belief is strong that Russia and Japan will arrive at a peaceful arrangement of their difficulties.

London, Tuesday, Jan. 26.—The Tokio correspondent of the Telegraph sends the following: "The official gazette publishes an imperial ordinance empowering the government to assume control of all private railways, etc., for military purposes. The situation is very grave, and developments are hourly expected."

Pekin, Jan. 25.—Advices received here from Port Arthur are that Russian troops are moving from that point toward the Korean frontier.

The Chinese authorities have approached the ministers of the several powers with proposals directed toward attempting mediation with Russia and Japan. China is exceedingly anxious that war should be avoided.

Tokyo, Jan. 25.—Takahama, Japanese interpreter for the Russian attaché, was arrested Saturday on suspicion of acting as a spy in the Yokosuka fortified zone. He has been taken to Yokohama for trial.

Pekin, Jan. 25.—The American government is arranging to despatch the senior student interpreter here to Mukden, Port Dally and Antung, Manchuria, to act as American vice consuls.

ANONYMOUS LETTER THREATENS.

Moline (Ill.) Foundrymen Warned to Speedily Settle Molders' Strike.

Moline, Ill., Jan. 25.—H. Ainsworth, secretary of Williams, White & Co., today received an anonymous letter threatening to blow up the homes of all the Moline foundry owners unless the molders' strike now on is settled. The letter was written awkwardly on a typewriter, was postmarked Davenport, Ia., and was signed "Dynamite." A postscript read: "If you care to answer this letter, address me, 3456 Sixty-first street, Chicago." While the manufacturers threatened are inclined to regard the letter as a hoax, the police have been advised of its receipt.

LOWER TRIBUNAL SUSTAINED.

U. S. Supreme Court Passes on a Provision of the War Revenue Act.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The supreme court of the United States today affirmed the decision of the United States district court for the Southern district of New York in an action brought to test the constitutionality of the provision of the war revenue act of 1898 which required revenue stamps on deeds conveying real estate. The opinion was handed down by Chief Justice Fuller and was based on the ground that as the payment of taxes had been voluntary, and without protest at the time, there could be no recovery. The opinion did not discuss the question of constitutionality.

GOVER CLEVELAND'S VIEWS.

"Mr. Bryan Has Got the Stage, and Let Him Go It."

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 25.—Former President Cleveland, when asked tonight by the Associated Press for his opinion on William J. Bryan's statement that no man who voted the Palmer-Buckner ticket can be nominated by the Democrats, smiled and said: "I have not a word to say on the matter except that Mr. Bryan has got the stage; let him go it. I guess that's definite enough."

RUMORED CHANGE IN CABINET.

Is Reported That Three More British Ministers Are to Resign.

London, Tuesday, Jan. 26.—The News publishes a rumor that further cabinet resignations are imminent, saying that the officers to resign probably are Lord Lansdowne, secretary of state for foreign affairs; Lord Londonderry, president of the board of education, and Gerald Balfour, president of the board of trade.

BAD WRECK IN MISSOURI.

Three Passengers Killed, Others Injured, in a Train Collision.

St. Louis, Jan. 25.—The Denver express on the main line of the Burlington road was run into from the rear by a local passenger train while taking water at Gardenee creek late tonight. Three passengers were killed, four were seriously injured and seven were badly hurt. The wreck occurred on the bridge over Gardenee creek. The bridge, two cars and the engine of the local train were burned. The names of the victims cannot be ascertained tonight.

Ashland, Neb., Jan. 25.—A passenger train on the Burlington collided with an extra freight here tonight. Engineer Grabbill, of the freight train, was killed. Two passenger cars were thrown from the track and a number of persons were injured, but none seriously.

IDLE PLANT RESUMES.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 25.—The Acme Harvester company, closed for several months because of financial difficulties, today resumed operations with a force of several hundred operatives.

BANK WRECKED

TREASURER OF TRUST COMPANY "HELPED OUT A FRIEND."

John P. Goggin of Nashua, N. H., Is Taken Into Custody, Charged With Embezzling from $50,000 to $100,000.

Nashua, N. H., Jan. 25.—John P. Goggin, treasurer of the Nashua Trust company, was arrested today, charged with embezzling $80,000 to $100,000 from the bank. The bank did not open today. State bank commissioners have the institution in charge. Goggin was held in $10,000 bonds. He says his downfall is not due to speculation, but to having given assistance to a friend.

NO ARRESTS AS YET.

Mystery of the Murder of Miss Schaefer Remains Unsolved.

Bedford, Ind., Jan. 25.—Concerning today's developments in the mystery surrounding the murder of Miss Schaefer, the high school teacher found assaulted and killed a few days ago, Mayor Smith today said: "We have no evidence which justifies the arrest of anyone as yet, and so far as I know no arrest will be made today."

In response to a telegram from a cigarmaker named Harry of Louisville, who declared he could conduct the officers to a woman who might be able to throw light upon the mystery, Chief of Police Russell and Sheriff Smith went to Louisville to secure an interview with the woman. The officers interviewed her today and claim to have secured valuable information. The woman's story, it is said, was told only after a pledge on the part of the officers that her name should not be divulged. It is therefore impossible to obtain information regarding the Louisville interview.

Later—Mayor Smith asserts there is absolutely no significance attached to the return of the officers from their interview with the woman. He says the woman was a clairvoyant, seeking notoriety.

THINKS COMPANY A FRAUD.

American Consul in Argentina Warns Against Minnesota Schemers.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The department of state has received from Consul Meyers, of Buenos Ayres, Argentine republic, a report concerning a company in Minneapolis, with branch offices throughout the United States. The company is selling shares at $500 each, each shareholder being entitled to certain lands and privileges in the Argentine republic. The company, according to Consul Meyers' informant, claimed to have made certain arrangements with the Argentine government whereby colonists will be exempt from taxation for ten years and will be allowed to carry all their household goods, farm machinery, etc., into the country free of duty. The promoters claim to be able to buy lands in Argentina for from fifty cents to $2 per acre, and will divide the said land among the shareholders. Consul Meyers says the chief of the land office at Buenos Ayres informs him that Argentina does not know the company and has made no arrangement with it whatever.

TAFT EXPECTED THIS WEEK.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Preparations are making at the war department for the transfer of the secretary's office from Root to Taft. The new secretary is expected here Wednesday afternoon. Secretary Root has issued cards for a large reception Friday evening in honor of his successor. Secretary Moody tonight gave a farewell dinner to Secretary Root.

REBELS ON THE RUN IN URUGUAY.

Montevideo, Jan. 25.—Government troops have again defeated the insurgents commanded by General Saravia in an engagement at Paso De La Cruz. Many insurgents are crossing the Brazilian frontier, where they are being disarmed.

ALLEGED BRIBERS ARRESTED.

Green Bay, Wis., Jan. 25.—Aldermen A. L. Gray and George Schwartz, City Attorney Fontaine and City Assessor Parmentier were arrested today on warrants based upon indictments returned by the grand jury charging bribery.

Nearly 200 Pennsylvania Coal Diggers Perish.

EXPLOSION ENTOMBS

HARWICK MINE AT CHESWICK THE SCENE OF DISASTER.

HORROR DUE TO FIREDAMP

CAGES ARE WRECKED AND SHAFT IS RENDERED USELESS.

Is Hours Before Rescuers Are Able to Descend, but Only One Man of the Many Who Went to Work Is Brought to Surface.

Pittsburg, Tuesday, Jan. 26.—The body of Selwyn Taylor was brought to the surface at 2:35 o'clock this morning. The rescuers report the dead scattered one above another as thick as pine needles. Water is fast pouring into the mine, covering the corpses with a shroud of ice and making the work of rescue almost impossible.

Pittsburg, Jan. 25.—Nearly 200 men have been entombed by an explosion in the Harwick mine of the Allegheny Coal company at Cheswick. General Manager Schaefer gives little hope that many of the men will be brought to the surface.

The explosion occurred at 8:20 o'clock this morning at the bottom of one of the shafts, presumably caused by firedamp. It was four this afternoon before it was possible to make the first attempt at rescue. Two men tried to get into the mine by way of the air shaft, but were finally driven back by foul air.

Shaft Made Useless.

The main shaft into the mine 220 feet deep, was made useless by the explosion, which hurled both cages, one of which was within thirty feet of the bottom of the shaft, through the tangle thirty feet above the surface. Shortly after 5 o'clock a temporary rigging was put in place over the mouth of the main shaft, and a bucket carrying Selwyn M. Taylor, mining engineer, and J. M. Rayburn was lowered into the shaft.

There was a silence of fully forty minutes after the cage reached bottom. Then came summons to haul up. When the cage reached the top, Rayburn was there and with him was Adolph Gorgie, a miner, still alive but gasping for breath and evidently seriously injured. Again the cage went down, and this time it carried E. Taylor, Engineer Taylor's assistant, and a boy, Robert North and J. McCann, who had made the first attempt.

Village Horror-Stricken.

The village of Harwick that surrounds the mining workings has been horror-stricken all day. Wives and relatives of the entombed men have crowded about the entrance to the pit, beseeching for news of loved ones below. Doctors have been summoned from surrounding towns and also from Pittsburg.

Manager Schaefer said tonight to the Associated Press that the explosion was so terrific that both cages were blown from the shaft, one to a distance of 200 feet. He also said that there are at least 150 men in the mine and expressed fear that there are a number more, although he said there are several men on the pay roll who did not report for work this morning.

Later—From all that can be gathered at this hour, between 180 and 190 men are lying dead in the headings and passageways of the Harwick mine. Cage after cage has gone down into the mine and come up again, but only one miner of all those that went down to work this morning has been brought to the surface.

Gave Up His Life for Others.

In addition to the miners at work when the explosion occurred, it is now believed that Selwyn M. Taylor of Pittsburg, mining engineer who plotted the mine and who was the first to reach the bottom after the explosion happened, is also now among the dead.

One of the rescuers who went in with Taylor says that after the party had gone a considerable distance he began to feel sick and dizzy and they were called back and fell. His lantern fell. Others tried to lift him up, but could not carry him and they made their own way to safety.

Three rescuers who have returned to the surface declare that, in their opinion, all in the mine outside of the rescue party are dead, including Engineer Taylor.

CHICAGO FIREMEN KEPT BUSY.

Are Called Out Sixty-Three Times in Twenty-Four Hours.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—During the twenty-four hours ending at 10 o'clock tonight, the fire department of Chicago was called upon to fight sixty-three separate fires. The majority of them resulted from over-heated furnaces. The largest fire of the day was that which completely destroyed the dry goods store of Johnson Bros., in Milwaukee avenue, entailing a loss of $60,000. At another fire several firemen were injured by falling from over-heated furnaces. ## INMATES RESCUED UNINJURED.

Owatonna, Minn., Jan. 25.—The north and central wings of the state school for indigent children were gutted by fire today. All the inmates were taken out unharmed. The fire broke out in the roof of the central part of the main building. The south wing, as the children's dining room and kitchen were saved. No estimate of the loss is made.

The shipbuilding edition of the Marine Review is at hand. It is an interesting and creditable number, and shows that the Review is fully alive to the importance of the great industry to which it is dedicated.

Things have been moving swiftly for Homer A. Guck, formerly of Calumet. The directorate of the Mining Gazette company lately advanced him from the position of Calumet correspondent to that of editor in chief, and now he has just arrived home from Chicago with a bride.

The present cold snap revives an old thought in the minds of Lake Superior people. They wonder whether so much frigidly during the present winter can be taken as a guarantee of a real summer.

Marquette county's adjustment of the rival candidacies of Lieutenant Governor Maitland and Captain Thomas Walters for delegate at large will be observed with a great deal of interest and curiosity from other parts of the upper peninsula.

A Guthrie, Ky., lynching furnishes a spice of variety to the usual course of these bloody affairs. In this instance a negro mob strung up a negro murderer, whose victim was a negro woman.

A Menominee county man who claims to know what he is talking about asserts that the candidacy of W. N. Mills, of Menominee, for state senator for the Thirtieth district is merely a preliminary to his candidacy for congress four years hence.

Many upper peninsula newspaper men are missing a good thing in the State Press association. It does more junketing than the legislature and everyone feeds it on the fat of the land.

The results of the hockey games at the Soo will result in a quickening of interest in the sport at that city, and will help it out in all the Lake Superior country.

Why can't the senate get down to business on the Panama question? The honorable members have all made up their minds what they are going to do. The present talk is making no votes for either party to the contention.

W. J. Bryan says that no Democrat who was not loyal to the party's tickets in '96 and 1900 can be considered as available for the nomination this year. W. J. is generally supposed to have been striking at Judge Parker. He has already scratched Gorman, Olney and Cleveland, and now Parker follows after.

The Detroit and Milwaukee papers continue to buy the slush ladled out by the Bessemer correspondent, so nearly every day he outdoes himself. His latest is a weird yarn to the effect that an ambassador extraordinary for the United States Steel corporation is in the upper peninsula for the purpose of organizing all trust employees against President Roosevelt.

King Edward has done a magnanimous and tactful thing in releasing Colonel Lynch, the erstwhile leader of the Boer's Irish brigade, who had been sentenced to imprisonment for life, for treason.

The Mining Journal does not like the idea of allowing large school buildings to worry along without fire escapes, putting sole reliance on fire drills. These drills work excellently well in practice and indeed have been efficacious in many instances where fires have really destroyed school buildings.

Considerable interest was aroused in this part of the country a short time ago by the announcement from an apparently authentic source of political information in New York that the platform which is to be adopted by the Democratic national convention is being prepared by Charles A. Towne. Mr. Towne is a product of Michigan and Minnesota, and gained no little fame as a Populist of the most Populist type.

Mr. Towne's agility in turning corners, however, has often excited admiration and wonder, and no surprise will be caused by the statement that he has changed his point of view. A well known New York correspondent says: Mr. Towne has been since his retirement from congress a citizen of New York and has here learned that the money power is a somewhat different thing, greatly different in purpose and widely apart in theory, from that which he viewed it when he represented a far Western district in congress.

Mr. Towne has been since his retirement from congress a citizen of New York and has here learned that the money power is a somewhat different thing, greatly different in purpose and widely apart in theory, from that which he viewed it when he represented a far Western district in congress.

his country rests in the acceptance of the principles identified by Colonel Bryan's name. In a word, Mr. Towne is a reformed Populist. Having bearded the octopus in its lair and become somewhat intimately acquainted with its disposition and habits, he appears to have found it to be a mild mannered, kindly disposed and much maligned creature, and he has undertaken to convince his former associates of their error.

But this, it now appears, is not the whole of his task. He is also expected to convince Mr. Bryan that if a majority of the delegates to the national convention adopt a gold standard platform and nominate a Cleveland Democrat, he will be inconsistent and stultify his own record if he fails to support the platform and ticket with his pen and voice. Mr. Bryan, it is pointed out, insisted at the Chicago convention eight years ago that the majority of delegates had the right to make the platform and ticket, and that it was the duty of the minority to submit gracefully. He has ever since been insisting that those Democrats who refused to be bound by the platform then adopted should be forever cast into outer darkness.

It is possible, of course, that Mr. Bryan may have a foolish notion that the Clevelandites, even though they manipulate the caucus in such manner as to secure the delegates, will not represent the majority of the party, but regularly has been his theme for eight years, and Mr. Towne will no doubt be prepared for him if he advances such an argument.

ONCE IN AN ERUPTIVE STATE.

Many Extinct Volcanoes Within the Limits of Minnesota. Most of the natives of Minnesota have never seen a mountain. When they first come east over the Appalachians the great hills are a wonderful and inspiring revelation.

Prof. C. W. Hall, who occupies the chair of geology and mineralogy in the University of Minnesota, tells us in a book he has just written that the volcanic phenomena of Minnesota were, in their time, on a scale more magnificent than even in Italy, Hawaii, and the Philippines, where, as we know, tremendous masses of lava have been poured out of craters, to cool as basalt.

The region of Minnesota has many times been shaken by volcanoes. Four periods of eruptive activity may be counted in the rocks as one walks the streets of Duluth. Six or seven lava beds are recognized in walking from the mouth of the St. Croix river up through the straits of Taylor's Falls, which stand on the bank. The twin of Chongwatana stands on a site where at least sixty-five separate sheets of lava may be counted.

The city of St. Cloud, on the upper Mississippi, is surrounded by rocks that were fused and thrust to the surface by tremendous earth forces. Along the northwest shore of Lake Superior were a series of ancient volcanoes that poured out enormous lava flows, built up beds of volcanic ashes, or injected molten material abroad as dykes within the older rocks.

Mr. Towne's agility in turning corners, however, has often excited admiration and wonder, and no surprise will be caused by the statement that he has changed his point of view. A well known New York correspondent says: Mr. Towne has been since his retirement from congress a citizen of New York and has here learned that the money power is a somewhat different thing, greatly different in purpose and widely apart in theory, from that which he viewed it when he represented a far Western district in congress.

Quincy.

The Quincy Mining company having completed its fiscal year and reported its mineral output for the twelve months ended Dec. 31, 1903, the showing for the year may be closely approximated.

Table with financial data for Quincy Mining Company, including Total net, Construction, Balance, Dividends, and Surplus.

The cost of production per pound of copper was slightly higher in 1903 than in the previous year, due to larger underground expenses. In 1902 the cost was just 9 cents per pound exclusive of construction.

The present shutdown, due to the strike of the trammers, is not expected to be of long duration. The company claims that with the introduction of electric haulage underground the work of the trammers has been materially reduced, and that the latter cannot consistently ask for a continuance of the former wages of $60 per month.

The year 1904 is expected to witness a considerable increase in Quincy's production. November and December, last year, were two of the largest producing months in the company's career, the refined copper yield for December being in excess of 1,800,000 pounds.

CENTENNIAL.

It really looks, at last, as though the Centennial would soon begin production. The proceeds of the $5 assessment levied several years ago for the building of a mill have been pretty well used up in opening the mine, with no sign of a mill yet, but the money, while not expended according to program, has been laid out to far better advantage than if the original plans had been followed.

Prof. C. W. Hall, who occupies the chair of geology and mineralogy in the University of Minnesota, tells us in a book he has just written that the volcanic phenomena of Minnesota were, in their time, on a scale more magnificent than even in Italy, Hawaii, and the Philippines, where, as we know, tremendous masses of lava have been poured out of craters, to cool as basalt.

Calumet & Hecla.

Rock containing good values in copper is being taken from the Calumet & Hecla No. 19 shaft, which last week cut the Kearsarge lode at a depth of ninety-one feet. Sinking in the shaft will be continued until it has passed through the footwall. It is too early to say what will be the nature of the future development work.

The Calumet & Hecla has recently made two very large sales of copper. Its mills and smelter are both running to their full capacity and shipments are being rushed ahead from the lake as rapidly as possible to meet requirements.

The output of Montana copper in December was somewhat restricted by reason of the severe cold weather in Montana, but this is now over and the output should be larger from now on. It is expected that the Heinz production of copper in Montana will this year pass the 40,000,000 pound mark, and the net earnings of the United Copper company are expected to be above $1,000,000.

MINERS SIDE WITH STRIKERS.

There is no change in the Quincy mine strike. A joint meeting of the striking trammers and the miners was held at Germania Hall at Hancock, yesterday morning, when it was finally decided by the miners that they would not return to work, but would stand by the trammers. It was the opinion of the miners that should they go back, some of them at least would be put at work tramping, and they had no desire to thus assist in breaking the strike.

The prevention of consumption is entirely a question of commencing the proper treatment in time. Nothing is so well adapted to ward off fatal lung troubles as Foley's Honey and Tar. Desjardine's Pharmacy.

MINING GOSSIP.

The Calumet & Hecla company is understood to have advanced its asking price for copper a quarter of a cent to 13 1/4.

It is stated that in the old Franklin mine a zone of rich virgin mineral territory has been opened at the 110-fathom level, 1,000 by 350 feet. An upraise will probably be carried from the 113-fathom level. It is estimated that this will add at least five years of productiveness to the old Franklin.

Calumet & Hecla officials are anticipating a good copper year with a steady demand and good prices for the metal. They say there is no accumulation of the metal, trade is improving in many lines which use copper and the indications point to higher rather than lower prices.

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merits of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me.

Better health is all I wanted, and cure if possible. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. Life seems new and sweet to me, and everything seems pleasant and easy.

Six bottles brought me health, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick women as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help.—Mrs. B. A. Idaho will make an exhibit of minerals at the World's Fair that will call attention to that state's wonderful resources. Her unrivaled exhibit of 200,000 opals is now overshadowed by the report that big discoveries of radium have recently been made. Executive Commissioner Hurtt is arranging for a display of this newest wonder.

The great fly wheel that is to move the machinery for the St. Louis World's Fair makes two thousand revolutions a minute. Latin Americans visiting the fair will no doubt look upon the wonderful performances of this fly wheel with feelings of envy.—Laredo, Tex., Times.

TABLES TURNED.
Portage Lake Hockey Team Wins at the Soo Four to One.
The Portage Lake hockey team turned the tables at the American Soo last evening by taking the Lock City seven into camp to the tune of four goals. The exhibition is reported to have been by far the best ever seen at the Soo, and while at times it was nip and tuck the playing was for the most part in Soo territory and the coppermen most satisfactorily demonstrated their superiority. It was a good, clean game, characterized by but little body checking, and despite the fact the locals lost it greatly pleased the crowd. Team work had much to do with giving the victory to Portage Lake, the men working like a machine, and but for the fact that Jones, at goal, was well nigh invincible the score would have been much more one-sided. Jones was literally bombarded by shots, the drives for goal being estimated at about fifty, while Hern goal tender for Portage Lake, had comparatively little to do, only some seven or eight shots being sent at the net where he stood guard. The Soos' lone goal was made when Portage Lake had one player on the fence and when six men were opposed to seven. The referee was satisfactory to both sides.

MURDER TRIAL FIRST.
Circuit Court Takes Up the Case of Peter Faletti This Morning.
At the opening of the January term of the circuit court yesterday morning the case of the People versus Peter Faletti, charged with murder, was set by Judge A. T. Streeter for trial the first thing this morning. It will be the first criminal case to come before the attention of the court, and no little interest will be taken in the proceedings. Faletti yesterday demonstrated a spot guilty. He will be defended by Hon. John Power of Escanaba and Louis N. Legris of Houghton, the latter of whom has prepared the defendant's side of the case for presentation. Self defense will be claimed.

PIANO CONTEST CLOSE.
Three Leaders at Portage Lake Are Now Well Bunched.
Although the Good Will farm of Houghton and the St. Joseph's hospital of Hancock each polled a large vote last week in the Keller piano contest, which has been in the lead for several weeks, is still at the top. The contest, however, is now closer than it has been for some time. The church's total vote for the week was 48,780. So far the grand total of all the votes cast in the contest is 360,601.

MILITIA OFFICERS MUST WORK.
Schools of Instruction Ordered Established by Colonel Bates.
Colonel Robert J. Bates of the Soo has sent out an order to all the companies in the Third regiment that contains the following: "If you have not done so already, establish schools of instruction for your non-commissioned officers and hold the same as regularly as you do company drills. Weed out all undesirable material which you may have in your company and recruit it with men who would be a credit to you and your organization. It is desired that each company have a full complement of men within the limits prescribed by law. Make requisition for all stores necessary to make full equipment for seventy-six men. Insist upon attendance and see to it that every member of your company be thoroughly instructed in every duty pertaining to the service."

A WOMAN THE COMPLAINANT.
Matt Swetish, an Austrian resident of the Florida location, has been arrested on a criminal charge, the complainant being Maggie Laurenschick. The warrant for Swetish's arrest was sworn out in Justice Fisher's court at Calumet, where it is believed the case will be amicably settled. According to the woman's story she has been following Swetish for the count seven years, and bringing him to justice, the chase starting in the old country.

FISTS AND KNIVES WERE USED.
Under Sheriff August Beck went to Trimountain yesterday with warrants for the arrests of two Finns, charged with assault and battery. The men in question participated in a nasty brawl at the Copper Range depot at Houghton last Saturday night. Fists and knives were freely used and several of the party were badly cut. The warrants were sworn out in Justice Fisher's court, where the trials will take place.

Resolutions on the Death of P. R. McKernan Are Spread on Court Journal.
At the opening of the January term of circuit court yesterday morning a resolution on the death of Phillip R. McKernan of L'Anse, prosecuting attorney for Baraga county for six terms and a member of the Houghton county bar, who died last spring, was presented by members of the bar and ordered by the court to be spread upon the court journal. The resolution is as follows: "Phillip R. McKernan was born on the fifteenth day of May, A. D. 1860, in Houghton, Mich., where he resided until the year 1869, when he removed with his parents to L'Anse, Mich. He attended the public school at L'Anse until he attained the age of sixteen years at which time he entered Lawrence University at Appleton, Wis., where he pursued a literary course. Returning to his home he taught school at L'Anse for three years, after which he entered the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and was graduated from the law department in 1882, after which he returned to L'Anse and engaged in the practice of his profession until the time of his death, which occurred at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Q. McKernan, at L'Anse, on the sixth day of May, A. D. 1903.

OTHER COURT MATTERS.
The jury will report this morning. Next Monday and the Monday following have been set aside for action on applications for naturalization papers. County Clerk Richardson stated yesterday that there are over 100 applicants for citizenship this term. The session yesterday afternoon was given up to the hearing of motions.
LIVELY SCUFFLE ON CAR.
Foreigners Who Refused to Pay Fare Are Summarily Ejected.
A party of five or six Austrians made things lively on a Houghton-bound street car near Sheldon, not far from Osceola on the line between Calumet and the Portage Lake towns, Sunday evening. A lively scuffle ensued, the Austrians being serious for a while and the few lady occupants of the car were greatly frightened. Other than a few hard knocks, and the temporary laying out of one of the Austrians by the motorman, no serious results seem to have been the one which was supposed to leave Calumet at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, but as some trouble was experienced with the snow it did not start for Houghton until 4:30. The car was in charge of Conductor Stralow. The Austrians got aboard at Calumet. Their supposed destination was Osceola. At Osceola the conductor called out the name of the place, but the Austrians paid no attention to him and remained in the car. When Mr. Stralow went forward to collect another fare from the party, they refused to pay, and then the trouble began. The car was stopped near Sheldon, the location of the street railway company's Ancebidia Park, and the conductor and motorman proceeded to put the Austrians, who were more or less under the influence of liquor, off the car. The conductor succeeded in compelling them to get out, but he had to lend a hand, but the conductor and motorman were quite enough for the crowd. When once outside the Austrians were not satisfied but proceeded to break the windows. They were successful in smashing one window before the men were out after them. The Austrians succeeded in overhauling one of the cars, and knocking him out of the street. The car from Houghton was warned to be on the lookout for the Austrians, but nothing further was heard of them.

TO ADD A PATTERN SHOP.
The Calumet school board has decided to add a complete pattern shop equipment to the manual training department of the Calumet High school. A portion of the first floor of the building will be used for the shop, which will be fitted up at once. Pattern-making will be taught in connection with the wood work, and will be open only to the young men of advanced training in the department. The manual department is gradually coming to the front. It already compares very favorably with other similar institutions in connection with public schools throughout the country. Every visitor is agreeably surprised at the scope of the work and at the progress the young people are making. The young men of the department are taking excellent advantage of the help they get in their after lives. Much of the work turned out, particularly that from the machine shop, is used by the Calumet & Hecla mine, which supplies the raw material. Small pieces of furniture, such as bookshelves, tables, etc., needed for the schools, are made by the young men in the carpenter shop. W. R. Bradford is in charge of the work and under his direction the students are making excellent progress.

ARMORY WRECKAGE SOLD.
The wreckage of the old Houghton Armory, which collapsed from the weight of the snow a short time ago, has been sold by Superintendent of Public Works Foley of Houghton to William Wallace, the Calumet house mover. The deal was made for the Superior Savings bank of Hancock, which is the first mortgage on the property. The consideration was $200. Mr. Wallace intends to remove the debris at once and expects to get some good lumber out of it. The removal of the unsightly pile will be generally welcomed.

SCULPTOR TO LECTURE.
The third lecture in the course arranged by the Calumet Women's club will be given at the Calumet theater by Looado Taft, the well-known sculptor, on the evening of Feb. 10. His subject will be, "A Glimpse of a Sculptor's Studio, or How Statues Are Made." His visit is looked forward to with interest by the patrons of the course. The lecture by Mr. Winsap of Boston last week was well worth the time and money and was appreciated by all who heard him.

THIS COUNTY NOT REPRESENTED.
Houghton county was not represented at the annual meeting of the state association of supervisors at Detroit the latter part of last week. The members of the county board were invited to attend, but as the supervisors have no particular love for the Wayne county boys, the delegations are fast and no acceptance was made. Wayne county is alleged, had much to do in raising Houghton county valuation to figures all out of proportion to value. Houghton county does not desire to join Wayne county in such a proposition, and the tax commission. The commission was severely hauled over the coals at the supervisors' session at Detroit.

NOON DAY TALKS TO MINERS.
Secretary George Westermann, of the Calumet branch of the Y. M. C. A., has instituted a series of noon day talks at the Tamarack mine for the benefit of the underground and surface employees. The services will be held weekly and Mr. Westermann will be assisted on each occasion by one of the Calumet clergymen. It is believed the meetings will increase the membership of the Y. M. C. A. It is the intention to later hold similar meetings at other mines in the vicinity of Calumet.

SCHOOL DESKS RANSACKED.
Calumet authorities are looking for the unprincipled person or persons who entered the Eugene Field school at Sweettown, a few evenings ago and ransacked the desks of the pupils. Much of the school property was maliciously destroyed, and a scene of disorder was presented the next morning. The damage amounted to considerable but little of value was taken.

SAVING FRENCH BABIES.
The French—and the Parisians in particular—are becoming alive to the urgent necessity of arresting the destruction of infant life. A hundred and fifty thousand infants of the age of 12 months or under die every year in France—a high proportion in a population of about 38,000,000. The statisticians, including the chiefs of the medical profession, hold that the lives of at least 100,000 of these infants can be saved. Myriads of babies die because their mothers—belonging principally to the working classes—do not know how to take care of them, or because poverty prevents them from taking sufficient rest before and after birth. As a remedy for this last evil, the senate has just given its approval to a proposal prohibiting the employment of laboring women during the two weeks preceding and the four weeks following the birth. The prefect of the Seine has just inaugurated in every one of the twenty arrondissements of Paris a permanent system of conferences in "maternity" for the instruction of women of the working classes, or of any others in need of enlightenment. These conferences are to be held at the headquarters of every municipal division of the capital. They will be presided over by the local mayors and by the leading scientific men of Paris.

NATURAL INFERENCE.
Miss Gladys Deacon, the American girl whose originality keeps her in the public eye, amazed a scientist whom she met recently at a London dinner party. The scientist narrated in great detail to the girl a series of experiments he was conducting with the microscope. "The microscope," he explained, "magnifies sounds by the ear as the microscope magnifies objects to the eye. The footfalls of a centipede, heard through the microscope, resemble a tattoo on a kettledrum. The dropping of a pin in like the report of a cannon." "That is very interesting and odd," said Miss Deacon. "This afternoon," resumed the scientist, "I caught a fly and studied its note. The note resembled the neighing of a horse." "Perhaps," said the young girl, "it was a horsefly?"—Boston Post.

THE CONDUCTOR.
I had been suffering with a severe cold for several days, and was so hoarse I could not speak above a whisper. Nov. 16th, I met one of Dr. Warner's agents on my train, he handed me a bottle of the White Wine of Tar Syrup, and one hour after taking the first dose my hoarseness commenced leaving me. In twenty-four hours my voice was quite clear and natural, the cold nearly cured. It is the best remedy I ever saw. Respectfully, Conductor Warren, Chicago & Northwestern R. R.

Upper Peninsula

Fire Escapes for School House—Fire escapes for the two school buildings at Newberry have been ordered, and will be placed in position as soon as they can be secured from the manufacturers.

Met Death in Montana—Captain Sampson, formerly of Bessemer, was killed in one of the mines at Anaconda recently. He was operating a drilling machine and struck an undischarged blast.

Little Ligation in Luce—No jurors have been drawn for the Luce county circuit court's January term, which opened at Newberry yesterday. The calendar is one of the lightest on record, there being only three cases on the docket.

Coal at the Soo Comes Higher—Owing to the fact that it has become necessary to bring coal in by rail owing to a shortage, the price of anthracite has been advanced from $7.50 to $8 per ton at the Soo. The dealers supposed that the supply would be sufficient to last until spring, but the extreme cold weather has raised havoc with the coal piles and much more fuel than usual is being consumed.

Lost in Shipwreck—News has been received from Seattle that Robert G. Campbell, Jr., formerly of L'Anse, where he was born thirty years ago, was among the passengers who lost their lives in the recent wreck of the steamer Callam off the Pacific coast. Campbell's father, who conducted a meat market, was killed at L'Anse some year ago by the accidental loss of a gun.

Suit Is Dismissed—The suit brought in the Delta county circuit court by Nicholas Miller to recover damages from George Miller, who some two years ago killed Matthew Britz, brother of the plaintiff, in mistake for a wild animal, has been dismissed, the jury deciding the ground for action insufficient.

Theodore D. Hall, of Neenah, insurance inspector for the upper peninsula, who inspected the Menominee theater building last week, considers that reasonable means of escape in the event of a fire are provided. He believes that it is one of the safest theaters in the upper peninsula.

LESS POWER NEEDED

In Flying Than in Any Other Method of Progression. Flying from the figures available, may be considered the easiest of all methods of progression, calling for less horsepower than any other.

Among wild animals 100 miles is about as much as can be found in the records for 24 hours, but the bird weighs anywhere perhaps up to 20 pounds makes the 2,500 miles in 24 hours in a week is not only a record, but the weight is put at 10 pounds, this equals 25 ton miles. On the best and most level railroad and with carriages operating with the least friction, a 10 pound animal would find it difficult to haul 25 tons one mile in 24 hours.

The facts just given, when taken to other, show pretty conclusively that the power necessary for animal flight is extremely small rather than very great. It also seems to be proved that to fly successfully the speed must be high—Scientific American.

Attention Farmers.

Why remain in the North and stay in doors six months in the year consuming what you raise during the other six months?

Go South where you can work out doors every month in the year, and where you are producing something the year round. If you are a stock raiser you know your stock are not "eating their heads off" and, besides, have to be protected from the rigors of winter by expensive shelter.

Economical stock feeding requires the combination of both fleshforming and fat-forming foods in certain proportions. Alabama and Florida produce in abundance the velvet bean and cassava, the best a flesh producer, and the latter a fat producer, and they are the cheapest and best fattening materials known to the world.

More money can be made and with less labor, in general farming, fruit and berry growing and truck gardening along our road in the South than in any other section of the Union.

"The Camel of California"

Just as the camel is the ship of the desert, so is the meek and lowly burro a favorite means of transportation among the mountains of Southern California. It is slow but it is sure. It will climb steeper trails than a horse ever dreamed of scaling. Its back is broad—which helps to make riding easy. It is stupid but fairly docile. You need not fear that it will stumble and so you can enjoy the scenery to the utmost.

Going to California via the Rock Island System is very different from traveling thro' the State on the head of a burro. But there is this similarity—both are pleasant. I am always glad to quote rates and give information about our thru car service.

BIG LOGGING BUSINESS. WILL BE A LIMIT.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Road is Breaking All Records This Winter.

It is reported from the headquarters of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company that the road is doing business in the peninsula division than at any previous time in its history. The logging traffic has increased to such proportions that nine hundred cars have been allotted for the logging traffic alone. Most of these cars being used in the Northern district of Wisconsin and Michigan. The company is handling an enormous output from the Menominee range towns, and many carloads are being hauled daily from Ontonagon county.

The largest part of the logging business consists of handling pine and hardwood, but not a little spruce, cedar and hemlock is also being taken out. Pine, which constituted the greater proportion of the timber taken from the woods of this region in the past, is still a large factor, but its volume is decreasing, and the end is in sight.

Almost all the important lumber concerns in Wisconsin have holdings on the Menominee range, and recently some of them have bought timber further north. All are doing more or less work this winter. Besides, a large number of jobs, engaged in getting out hardwood, spruce, ties, etc., add greatly to the business of the railways. The St. Paul people are handling the output of many small jobs scattered along the main line and branch roads throughout the entire timber district.

The St. Paul company is doing a great deal to encourage the hardwood timber business. Heretofore it was difficult to get jobs to take contracts for its removal, but things are changing and they are now getting equipment to handle hardwood to advantage. It is reported that more hardwood is going forward to the mills this winter than at any previous time in the history of logging in the north country. The hardwood, particularly the short variety, is being shipped in box cars, it being impossible for the railway people to meet the demand for flats.

The Wisconsin valley, for many years the banner timber field of the Northwest, just now affords slim picking for the lumber concerns. All the better timber has been cleaned out, and there is not a great deal of pine left. The Ontonagon branch, which has not attracted any particular attention up to this time, is now quite active. Jobs are scattered along various parts of the range and the winter's cut of timber will be a record breaker. It is predicted that the next five years there will be some very active work in the woods of that section.

Recently the officials of the St. Paul system paid a visit to the Ontonagon district with a view to improving the rail facilities for handling the hardwood. It is figured that there will be business from that section, winter and summer, for many years to come. It is claimed that the visit has already resulted in improved car service.

REMEMBERED WATERLOO.
John T. Burke's Father-in-Law Had Recollection of Famous Battle.

The Milwaukee Journal of Sunday gave the late Michael Ames of Watertown, Wis., father-in-law of John T. Burke of this city, and father of James Ames, formerly of Ishpeming, this mention.

Michael Ames, ninety-four, a Dodge county pioneer, died in this city, where he had resided for twelve years. Mr. Ames was born in Ireland, where he grew to manhood. He had a recollection of the battle of Waterloo in which many of his father's neighbors fought. He was two years of age when the war of 1812 was fought with England.

"When twenty-three years of age he settled at Montpelier, Vt., where he was acquainted with Admiral Deseve's father, who was practicing medicine. In 1835 Mr. Ames was employed on the Lowell and Boston railway, one of the first railway systems to be operated in this country, and a few years later was employed as a blaster on the Erie canal. He lived in Lowell, Mass., and New York for a time, coming from the latter place to a farm near this city. When he came to Watertown in 1844 there was only one house standing on the west side of the river. In order to dispose of the farm produce in those days it was necessary to drive to Milwaukee, fifty miles distant, the trip taking two days."

ORCHESTRA A GOOD ONE.
Rose Cecilia Shay Opera Company Carries Ten Expert Musicians.

"One of the strongest features of our production," said George E. Baker, advance agent for the Shay Grand Opera Co., "is our orchestra. We carry ten men, nine instruments and a director, and these men were selected from Mascagni's famous orchestra, that toured this country a year ago, by Miss Shay's director, Carl Nicotia. We carry the following instruments: Violin, viola, violin, bass, violoncello, clarinet, flute, cornet, trombone, drums and piano. Recognizing the fact that it is utterly impossible to give opera without competent accompaniment and scenic embellishments, Miss Shay has spared no expense in getting the best talent and the best work, 'The Bohemian Girl,' will be put on in a most complete and excellent manner."

Miss Shay has had a remarkable career. She was graduated, taking all the honors of the institution, from the Cincinnati College of Music, and made her debut with the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra while she was still in her teens. Then followed a year in Europe under the great Leon in Italy. She then came home, a few months in grand opera in New York, then at the head of her own company, singing grand opera to Americans in their mother tongue.

ONLY $5,000 INSURANCE.
August Hendrickson, whose stock of merchandise was considerably damaged by fire and smoke Sunday, carried but $5,000 insurance on the entire stock, which will insure for about $17,000. The fire was entirely confined to the basement, except in the rear of the warehouse, back of the main store, where it broke through in one place. The firemen did fine work, considering the disadvantages they were at in reaching the blaze. In the first place they had trouble getting into the basement with the hose, owing to a poor entrance and a heavy volume of smoke. Mr. Hendrickson had met Mr. Braastad yesterday on the place, preparing to resume business. Mr. Hendrickson's assistance yesterday and filled order from patrons whom he could not supply. In fact Mr. Braastad placed his stock at the disposal of Mr. Hendrickson, telling him to call for anything he or his customers might want. It is expected that the loss will be adjusted before the end of the week.

WILL GIVE A BALL.
The local branch of the Clerks' union will give a grand ball at Braastad's hall on the night of Feb. 11. Some time ago it was suggested that a masquerade party be given, but a majority of the members were against the proposition. At the special meeting of the union held last night committees were named to complete arrangements. The price of tickets will be seventy-five cents per couple. The clerks will not appear, and that feature may be placed in the hands of other parties.

SAVED FROM TERRIBLE TROUBLE.
The family of Mrs. M. L. Bobbitt of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles Free at The Stafford Drug Co.'s store.

CURED AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS.
B. F. Hare, Supt. Miami Cycle & Mfg. Co., Middletown, O., suffered for ten years with dyspepsia. He spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and with doctors without receiving any permanent benefit. He says, "One night while feeling exceptionally bad I was about to throw down the evening paper when I saw an item in the paper regarding the merits of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I concluded to try it and while I had no faith in it I felt better after the second dose. After using two bottles I am stronger and better than I have been in years, and I recommend Kodol Dyspepsia Cure to my friends and acquaintances suffering from stomach trouble." Sold by The Stafford Drug Co., Marquette; H. N. Meloche, Ishpeming.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.
The obsequies of E. A. Malmgren's baby boy will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. William P. Belden and son have returned from a month's visit at Grand Rapids, Mich., with relatives.

It was necessary to dismiss some of the rooms in the public schools yesterday morning, on account of the cold.

George B. Sedgewick will spend the greater part of this week in the copper country, where he has some fire losses to adjust.

"For unmitigated nerve," said the stage manager of a musical comedy, "I commend me to the Philadelphia chorus girl. While we were rehearsing in New York I undertook to take a girl from the chorus and give her a small part carrying with it a couple of lines. Somehow or other she couldn't seem to enunciate the words understandingly. Her elocution was the worst ever. I worked with her for several days, and finally I lost patience. I must have lost my temper, for she burst into tears. 'It must be due to my southern accent,' she wailed. Now, I am a southerner myself—I was raised in Virginia—and although I had not previously detected any accent in her talk, my sympathies were aroused. 'My dear child,' I said consolingly, 'what part of the south are you from?' 'From Philadelphia,' she sobbed."—New York Press.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root, and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. STATUS OF HARBOR OF REFUGE PROJECT

OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF MORE THAN ORDINARY INTEREST TO MARQUETTE PEOPLE.

APPROVED BY ALL ENGINEERS

THEY CONSIDER NEED OF IMPROVEMENT BEYOND QUESTION

Secretary of War Has Passed Their Recommendations on to Congress, With Further Recommendation That They Be Followed.

The Mining Journal is in receipt of the correspondence relative to the project of making of Marquette harbor an improved harbor of refuge by the extension of the lower harbor breakwater a distance of 1,500 feet, referred to in the latter part of last month by Edgar Root, secretary of war, and ordered printed by that body. The correspondence contains all that has passed to date concerning the project, and shows that it has the endorsement of the federal engineers, from Brigadier General G. L. Gillespie, chief of engineers, down to the district and local engineers.

The correspondence is in considerable detail and gives an excellent idea of the conditions under which the proposed improvement will have to be made, and the advantages that will result therefrom. As it has the endorsement and approval of all the engineering officers, it is not unlikely sooner or later to be undertaken. In this connection it may be mentioned that the likelihood that no river and harbor bill will be taken up at the present session of congress makes it almost certain that the plan will be almost certain to carry out the plans for at least two years.

Captain Gaillard's Statement. The report of Captain D. D. Gaillard on the preliminary examination of the harbor with the proposed extension of the breakwater in view will be found interesting, it being as follows:

There are two harbors now available at Marquette, Mich., one of them being known officially as the harbor at Marquette, Mich., and the other as the harbor of refuge, Marquette bay, Michigan. These harbors are but two and three-quarters miles apart, and the latter, although called a harbor of refuge, is built solely to afford protection to the terminal docks for an ore shipping railroad. It is not used as a harbor of refuge, for in very severe storms vessels can not lie in it in safety.

A third site has been suggested for the construction of a harbor of refuge in case additional facilities are needed of this description in the vicinity of Marquette. This is Partridge bay, lying to the west of Partridge island. All of the localities mentioned are shown on lake survey chart No. 120, chart of Marquette and Presque Isle harbors, Michigan.

A study of the various interests involved shows that if further harbor or refuge facilities are needed they can best and most economically be secured by prolonging the present breakwater at the harbor at Marquette. This breakwater is 3,000 feet in length and was completed in 1894, at a total cost of $407,732.44, including repairs. Owing to the decay of the original timber superstructure about 1,500 feet of this superstructure has been replaced by concrete. Under authority granted by the act approved June 15, 1902, it is proposed to complete the remaining 1,500 feet of concrete superstructure during the seasons of 1903-4.

The present breakwater shelters wholly, or in part, an area of about 200 acres, of which about 125 acres has a greater depth than eighteen feet.

The distance to the nearest points of shelter for vessels in case of storms is to the east forty miles to South bay behind Grand island, and to the west sixty-six miles to the mouth of Portage river. The distance of Marquette harbor from the sailing course of vessels from the Soo to the head of the lakes and around Keweenaw point is fifty-nine miles; from the Soo to Portage river, thirty miles, and from Grand island to Portage river, fifteen miles.

Vessels Now Seek Harbor. During prolonged storms large numbers of vessels take refuge in this harbor. The United States watchman states that during the past two years he has counted thirty-two vessels lying in the harbor at one time, and that they were very closely packed and experienced such difficulty from the dragging of anchors due to the great undertow which prevails in the harbor at such times that they were kept busy all night trying to avert damage to the vessels.

If the present breakwater were extended 1,500 feet, it would add about 129 acres to the total sheltered area, of which about ninety acres would lie in water deeper than eighteen feet at low water datum (9.15 feet above mean tide, New York). This would also shelter the largest ore dock in the harbor, ore dock No. 1, which is now very imperfectly protected by the present breakwater.

During the five years, 1897 to 1901, inclusive, the total vessel freight arrived and departed at Marquette harbor was 13,746,883 tons, and at harbor of refuge, Marquette bay, (two and three-quarters miles distant), 7,091,730 tons. Of this amount 2,889,501 tons of 2,000 pounds each, valued at $7,231,436, were handled in 1901 at Marquette harbor, and 1,787,012 tons, valued at $4,153,845, were handled at harbor of refuge, Marquette bay, in 1901. The figures for 1902 are not available, but it is known that they will considerably exceed those for 1901—probably reaching about 5,000,000 tons for Marquette's two ports.

In view of the large yearly increase in shipping on Lake Superior, and of the fact that at times the harbor is badly crowded, I am of the opinion that further harbor of refuge facilities are needed at Marquette harbor, and that they should be secured by extending the present breakwater for a distance of about 1,500 feet. It is not believed that any survey will be necessary, but it is respectfully recommended that an allotment of $150 be made for the preparation of plans and estimates and a report of the cost of the improvement.

Captain Potter's Report. Captain Charles L. Potter's report on survey contains further details of importance, being as hereafter set forth.

Marquette harbor has long been an important harbor for commerce, steadily increasing in that respect, and has also for several years been used quite extensively as a harbor of refuge. Its importance as a harbor of refuge has been very materially enhanced in recent years by the improvement of the Portage Lake ship canals across Keweenaw point, causing a much larger portion of the lake commerce to take advantage of that canal, and thus run much nearer to Marquette harbor in their regular course than they did formerly in passing outside of this point. It has been reported, unofficially, that there have been confined thirty-two vessels at one time taking advantage of this harbor as a harbor of refuge, and while no accidents were reported, it is stated that the space was pretty well filled.

Considering the fact that the harbor area is by no means perfectly protected, and it has already been taxed to nearly its limit, and that there is no other place so convenient between Whitefish point and the Portage Lake canal, it seems to me to be plain that "further harbor of refuge facilities are needed" in this vicinity, and that the best point is Marquette harbor.

The commerce of Marquette harbor has been gradually increasing, as is shown by the following table showing the total receipts and shipments for the past seven years:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Vessel Freight (Short tons). Rows for 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902.

Present Protection Imperfect.

While the present harbor facilities are enough to accommodate this commerce the protection afforded shipping is by no means perfect, and an extension of the breakwater would, in addition to providing more harbor of refuge area, greatly benefit the present commerce.

There is no reason to believe that there will not be a steady increase in the commerce of this harbor.

Regarding the conditions in this harbor during severe storms, Clarence Coleman, assistant engineer, has submitted to me the following memorandum, dated Sept. 25, 1903:

"I was stationed at Marquette, Mich., in local charge of the construction of the concrete superstructure to the breakwater, from May, 1895, to May, 1898. I observed that during the stormy seasons the harbor was much used as a harbor of refuge. The harbor, as at present protected, is subject to currents, and vessels seeking refuge during storms sometimes have great difficulty in holding their anchors. During a storm which occurred on Nov. 7, 1897, I saw the water on the north beach, about 700 feet west of the north end of the breakwater, surge back and forth over ninety feet, measured on the horizontal; that is to say, the undulations caused a change in the shore line of ninety feet at this point. The same night at the same locality I worked until 2 a. m., attempting to hold the scows. I had 1,200 feet of new 1 1/2-inch diameter manila line, and with a good crew of men, as detailed by the United States life saving crew, I found it was impossible to hold them, as they broke the lines as quickly as we made them fast. I am of the opinion that the permanent importance of Marquette harbor is in its position as a harbor of refuge, and while I never saw it crowded beyond its capacity with vessels seeking refuge during my residence at Marquette, yet it is no unreasonable assumption to suppose that such a condition might very readily occur.

"It would seem that the present harbor is inadequately protected or such conditions of undertow as those described would not exist, and any improvement would not only increase the harbor area, but at the same time mitigate the evil of undertow, would add much to its utility as a harbor of refuge."

Captain Benson, master of a large tug formerly employed at Marquette, states that a decided undertow is felt at the wharves, causing loaded vessels to range on their lines, frequently parting them.

It has been suggested that the harbor area might be increased by dredging at a less cost, but this would not do away with the present trouble from undertow, and it appears that the present breakwater should be extended to overcome this difficulty, and afterwards dredging could be resorted to if the available area should not be sufficiently large.

A map of Marquette harbor showing two locations of the proposed extension is submitted herewith. Of these two locations it is thought better to build on the line of the old breakwater extended. The extension of this line 1,500 feet should give safe protection from undertow, will increase the protected area outside of harbor lines to about 102 acres, as against eighty-eight protected, and this could afterwards be increased to 172 by dredging, while the oblique position will give only 152 acres, or 102 with dredging. It should give perfect safety to vessels lying at ore dock No. 1, which is now denied them; it will give sufficient space for vessels coming around the end of the breakwater to head up toward the harbor basin without interfering with vessels approaching or leaving this ore dock and gives a good location for the harbor entrance in case the harbor should ever become of sufficient importance to warrant the construction of breakwater out from the south shore to inclose more area for commerce, and the cost will be less than 12 per cent additional over the 1,200 feet on the oblique line.

PLACED NO BLAME

JURY IN LOWERY CASE HELD LONG SESSION YESTERDAY.

No Additional Light Was Thrown on Saturday's Fatality by the Inquest.

The coroner's inquest in the case of Arthur Lowery electrocuted Saturday morning, resulted in the return of the following verdict: "Arthur Lowery came to his death by coming in contact with two live electric wires connected with the system of the electric light and power commission of the city of Marquette, Mich., while in discharge of his duties as lineman for such commission."

This verdict was agreed upon only after a two hours' session, during which the whole matter was argued over in minute detail. The question at issue was whether in the verdict the blame should properly be placed on the electric light and power commission, on the ground that its line was in dangerous condition. The members of the jury, who felt that the commission was responsible in an indirect manner for the fatality. Others held differently. The question was finally settled and the discussion closed by mutual agreement to leave it out of the verdict entirely.

As for the facts in connection with the fatality, those brought out at the inquest differed in no essential from the story set forth in The Mining Journal yesterday morning. The jury heard the testimony of every person who was present at the scene of the accident, and who saw Lowery receive the shock and fall from the pole. Those examined were Andy Heizen, Arthur Sanders, William Quarters, Sam Timbers, Dr. F. MacD. Harkin, Miss Handford, Charles Retaille, Aaron Magnuson, Henry Vandenberg and Edward Mulvihill. Representatives of the commission and the family of the dead lineman were present, and exercised their right to put questions.

No one, it appears, beheld Lowery as he climbed up to the fatal wires, or saw the manner in which he grasped them. Thus there was no testimony as to whether he was proceeding carelessly or with his eyes fixed on the telephone wires he was going up to survey. None of the witnesses had their attention attracted to him until after he had received the shock and was hanging from the pole, previous to falling lifeless to the ground.

The bad condition of the line on Michigan street was brought out. Indeed there was no attempt to conceal it. The commission has realized for some months that the line was not what it should be and has been using every effort to get it replaced. Mr. Magnuson, lineman for the Bell people, said the line was unsafe. However, he testified that any well posted lineman who had his wits about him should be able to get by the electric wires on the telephone poles without danger. He himself had done so, climbing up into the cross arms.

Edward Mulvihill, a newcomer in the city, employed by the Bell people, was on the third pole from that on which Lowery was climbing at the time of the fatality. He testified that after the accident he climbed the pole to see just how it was caused. He made his way past the two primary wires. He said that these wires had evidently been tied to the steps, or spikes, and that one was still tied when he inspected the pole. The other was torn away from the step, as if this had been done by Lowery in falling. Andy Heizen, an employe of the commission, corroborated this testimony relative to the wires being tied. As to who tied the wires or why they were tied no evidence was brought out, and this feature of the case remains a good deal of a mystery.

GASKILL IN GOOD TRIM.

Big Pump at Water Works Has Been Thoroughly Overhauled.

Engineer E. E. Wentz and his assistant have just completed the overhauling of the big Gaskill pump at the water works, and will, in turn, begin on the Worthington, the smaller of the pumps, which will likewise be gone over thoroughly. The pumps are both repaired once every year and are prevented from in any degree deteriorating. In fact it is said of the Gaskill pump that it is today, after several years of service, a better machine than it was when the board installed it. Year after year it has been maintained in the best of condition, worn parts being replaced as necessary. In addition it has been kept up to date, various improvements being added as they have been introduced by the manufacturers. This today it stands in first class condition, ready for the most exacting service and with an indefinite life before it. The pumping plant now in service has given excellent satisfaction. The machinery has run on without interruption or accident worthy of the name. All interruption with the water supply since it has been installed has been attributable to trouble with the mains or intake. The plant is amply large for many years to come, rarely being taxed to its capacity. Ordinarily only one pump is running. When both are thrown into operation at the same time the pressure is secured and an immense volume of water is forced through the mains.

ROSE CECILIA SHAY. Popular Prima Donna Will Be Here Friday Evening.

Marquette people who had the pleasure last season of hearing Rose Cecilia Shay with her company sing "Carman" and the opera house are well pleased with the announcement that she is to be here again this year, Friday night, when "The Bohemian Girl" will be the offering. It has been a good many years since this beautiful opera was presented in Marquette in anything approaching an adequate manner and it is a safe prediction that Miss Shay's production will far transcend any ever given in this city. Her presence in the cast is a guarantee of a real musical treat, and she is very well supported, her company having been chosen to produce the lighter of the grand operas, which it has been doing with signal success since the opening of the present season. To a company constituted with this idea in view, "The Bohemian Girl" offers no music that is not sung with delightful effect and precision. The opera will be notable, it is said, for its chorus, on which Miss Shay has expended a great deal of effort. It is large and its singing is invariably pronounced one of the best features of the various presentations. The company is also accompanied by its own orchestra, trained in the requirements of the several soloists in a manner which permits of their best performance. "The Bohemian Girl" is an offering that promises to well merit the interest and attendance of all musically inclined people. At the same time it has distinct comedy elements that furnish much amusement. It is adequately staged in every particular.

VALUABLE ROSARY RETURNED.

A Syracuse, N. Y., dispatch, dated the 22nd, reads as follows: James M. Ryan, a New York Central trainman, today sent to his owner, who lives in Marquette, Mich., a rosary worth $300 which had been lost on the ocean and in three countries and was found here. It was purchased in Rome and blessed by Pope Pius X. The owner lost it in a Paris cafe on his way home. The proprietor, who had scruples about a sacred article, returned it to the owner. The rosary was next mislaid in the dining room of the Hotel Cecil, London. Again it was returned to the owner, upon his calling for it. On the steamer Umbria the rosary was lost for a day and a half. Mr. Ryan found the case containing the rosary under the seat in a train and returned it on learning to whom it belonged.
