RUSSIAN TROOPS TAKE THE OFFENSIVE NEAR MUKDEN

Forward Movement Is Begun and a Strategic Point Is Cap- tured After Sharp Fighting

JAPANESE LOSSES REPORTED CONSIDERABLE

Kuropatkin in Proclamation to His Army Declares Him- self at Last Strong Enough to Assume the Aggressive. With the Relief of Port Arthur as the Object--Is Sus- picioned, However, the Campaign Has Been Or- dered Against the Commander's Better Judg- ment and That the Retirement of the Mikado's Forces Is Designed to Draw the Enemy Up- on a Strong Defensive Position-- Momentous Developments Anticipated.

Mukden, Oct. 8, via Tien Tsin, Oct. 9.—A crossing of the Taitsu river east of Bentshu by Russian cavalry shows that the Japanese are retiring on their positions at Liao Yang and in the hills east of Yentai, as though they were still desiring a decisive action near Liao Yang.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 9.—General Kuropatkin's order (given below), announcing his determination to take the offensive, is supplemented tonight by the news that an offensive movement has already been begun and that the Japanese line has been broken at Bentshiaputze.

The Japanese occupied a front of about fifty-two miles, stretching from Bentshiaputze, on the east, through Yentai and across the railway to the Hun river, on the west. The Russians have been moving south in close touch with the Japanese advance since Oct. 4.

The Japanese outposts were driven back in a series of skirmishes Oct. 6. The Russians re-occupied Shakhe, fifteen miles south of Mukden, restoring the bridge across the Shakhe river the next day in order to facilitate the advance. Meanwhile General's Mitchenko's Cosacks pushed southwestward as far as the Yentai mines, defeating the Japanese in a series of skirmishes. The most important action, however, occurred on the Japanese right, at Bentshiaputze.

Here the Japanese held a strong and important position, but it seems they had made the inexplicable omission to fortify a commanding hill, which was the key to the whole situation. A portion of Kuropatkin's force made a strong attack on Bentshiaputze, occupied the hill from the east and flanked the Japanese out of the town, causing a serious loss in a rear guard fight.

Kuropatkin's Proclamation. General Kuropatkin's order, above mentioned, was dated Mukden, Oct. 2. In part, it says:

"More than seven months ago the enemy treacherously fell upon us at Port Arthur before war had been declared. Since then, by land and sea, the Russian troops have performed many heroic deeds of which the fatherland may justly be proud. The enemy, however, is not only not overthrown, but in its arrogance continues to dream of complete victory.

"The troops of the Manchurian army, in unvarying good spirit, hitherto have not been numerically strong enough to defeat the Japanese army. Much time is necessary for overcoming all the difficulties of strengthening the active army so as to enable it to accomplish with complete success the arduous but honorable task imposed upon it.

"It is for this reason that, in spite of the repeated repulses of the Japanese attacks upon our positions at Tatchekiao, Liandianshan and Liao Yang, I did not consider the time had arrived to take advantage of these successes and to begin a forward movement, and I therefore gave the order to retreat.

"You left positions you had so heroically defended, covered with piles of the enemy's dead and without allowing yourselves to be disturbed by the foe and in full preparedness for a fresh fight. After the five days' battle at Liao Yang you retired on new positions which had been prepared previously. After successfully defending all the advanced and main positions you withdrew to Mukden under most difficult conditions.

"Attacked by Kuroki's army, you marched through almost impassable mud, fighting throughout the day and extricating guns and carts with your hands at night, and returned to Mukden without abandoning a single gun, prisoner or wounded man, and with the baggage train intact.

"I ordered the retreat with a sorrowful heart, but with unshaken confidence that it was necessary in order to gain a complete and decisive victory over the enemy when the time came."

General Kuropatkin then details the forwarding of fresh troops and supplies from St. Petersburg, and declares that Simultaneously with General Kuropatkin's announcement to his army that the time had come for a forward movement, there comes the news that the Russians have captured Bentshiaputze, one of the strategic points held by the Japanese. The event did not precipitate a severe engagement, though the Japanese are reported to have suffered considerable loss, the turning of their position having exposed them to a severe fire.

In his address to his army, General Kuropatkin states that the Russians have a force numerically superior to that of the Japanese, and he predicts a telling victory for his soldiers. The retirement of the Japanese on their position at Liao Yang is construed as evidencing the desire of Field Marshal Oyama to draw the Russians into an attack upon a strong defensive position.

At London, General Kuropatkin's order for the forward movement created much surprise among military critics. The most acceptable explanation is that he has again been overruled from St. Petersburg and is acting on imperial orders. The Telegraph this morning says that the Russian commander seems to be thrusting his head into the lion's jaws under instructions from St. Petersburg to give the czar victory at any cost.

The fleet blockading Port Arthur is reported to be more than usually alert, watching for British ships that are supposed to be planning to take supplies into the harbor.

"The time has arrived for us to compel the Japanese to do our will, for the forces of the Manchurian army are strong enough to begin a forward movement and relieve Port Arthur."

Nemiravitch Danchenko telegraphs the Associated Press that General Kuropatkin's order for the forward movement created wild enthusiasm among the Russian troops; that the army is now fit to measure itself with the Japanese, and that the regiments from Russia are arriving in fine condition.

Bloody Fighting Looked For.

St. Petersburg, Monday, Oct. 10.—The news of General Kuropatkin's southern movement is greeted by the press of St. Petersburg with deep thankfulness and expressions of confidence that it marks the turning point in the campaign. The expectation is expressed that the coming battles will be even more serious than those of the past and that while Russian arms are destined to ultimate victory, it will be bought at the expense of much blood and suffering.

The Russ says: "Our advance has begun. We are facing a powerful and cunning enemy. The Japanese have not failed to take advantage of naturally strong positions and fortify them to the utmost. Our movement morally will be easier, because we are going forward instead of retreating, but materially it will be even more awful than the past. We are going to victory, but must be prepared to pay a heavy price."

Doubt Report of Naval Battle.

It is now accepted that the reported naval fight of Port Arthur was purely imaginary. The naval experts of the newspapers dwell on the difficulties which the Port Arthur squadron must experience in breaking out of the harbor after the disastrous sortie of Aug. 10. The general opinion is that the squadron could not venture out unless something had happened to the Japanese warships, of which there is no knowledge.

In any case the Russian ships could not go to the neutral port of Chefoo, but must head for Vladivostok. If the Baltic fleet was approaching, however, the whole situation would be different. Prince Ilikoff, minister of railroads, has arrived home after spending three months in personally superintending the construction of the Circum-Baikal railroad. He says the whole Siberian line is working perfectly.

The Circum-Baikal branch is open for freight traffic, but passengers are still crossing the lake in ferry boats, that being the shortest route, the ferry boats taking two hours to steam across, about thirty miles, whereas the trains take four hours to cover the distance.

DULL CLIPPERS CAUSE MURDER.

Negro Patron Kills a Colored Barber in a Chicago Shop.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Because he was using a pair of dull clippers, Charles Alexander was murdered here today by James Thomas, a man whose hair was being cut. When Thomas complained that the clippers Alexander used were dull and were pulling his hair instead of cutting it, the barber struck him. In the fight that followed, Thomas got possession of the clippers and slashed his antagonist's throat. Alexander died almost instantly, his jugular vein having been severed. Both men were killed. Thomas was once a coachman at Cairo, Ill.

PAYNE AT HIS LAST REST.

Funeral of the Late Postmaster General Held at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Oct. 9.—The remains of Postmaster General Payne were laid to rest in Forest Home cemetery, Milwaukee, this afternoon. The funeral party who accompanied the remains from Washington took a farewell view of the departed at noon.

At 3 o'clock the casket was placed in the hearse and, under the escort of 200 letter carriers of the Milwaukee post-office, the procession moved to the church.

The active pall-bearers were eight letter carriers of the Milwaukee postoffice who were employees at the time Mr. Payne was postmaster of Milwaukee. The honorary pall-bearers were Secretaries Morton, Victor H. Metcalf and J. Wilson, Washington; United States Senator Joseph Quarles, Judge H. Jenkins, Frank C. Biglow, Charles F. Pister, John L. Beggs, Alfred L. Cary, Gustav C. Pabst, George P. Miller, Ward Morris, C. E. Dyer, Oliver C. Fuller, H. M. Brown, W. A. Nowell, L. C. Whitney, May Vane, Fred Vogel, Jr., John DeLoach, H. E. Whitcomb, Charles Schley and David C. Owen, Milwaukee; United States Senator John C. Spooner and E. W. Keyes, Madison, and A. J. Earling, Graeco Stewart, George R. Brock, Elmer Dorer, Harry S. New, D. W. Mulvane and R. B. Schneider, Chicago.

A large delegation from the Chicago postoffice, headed by Postmaster Coyne, was at the cathedral, as were delegations from various Milwaukee organizations with which Mr. Payne was connected.

The funeral party was met at the church entrance by Bishop L. L. Nicholson, his assistants, Rev. F. A. Sanborn, C. B. Wright and J. F. Kieb, and a supplied choir of forty voices, who preceded them to the chancel. The full Episcopal services for the dead were read by Bishop Nicholson. During the services the hymns "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Abide With Me" were rendered by the choir.

With the services at the church over, the remains were placed in the hearse and the funeral party proceeded to Forest Home cemetery. The services at the grave were private.

Secretary Shaw arrived in Milwaukee this afternoon and left on an eastern train for Oswego, N. Y., where he has an engagement to deliver a speech Monday evening. Mr. Shaw's engagement would not permit his remaining for the funeral. However, he accompanied Mrs. Payne and other members of the funeral party to the city hall at noon, when he looked upon the face of his dead colleague for the last time.

Secretaries Morton, Metcalf and Wilson and the other members of the Milwaukee party who remained for the obsequies, left for the East tonight.

"Our beloved president is an eminent type of the man who allows his impulses to control and displays his determination to follow those impulses in spite of any opposition. Is it a wonder that about him, the brave Rough Rider whom we affectionately call 'Teddy,' were gathered such a brave aggregation of fighting college men and cowboys when our country called for men to defend its honor? A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. AMERICAN WINS THE CUP.

One Life Lost in Great Automobile Race for Vanderbilt Trophy. New York, Oct. 9.—In a most fiercely contested race, in which one man was killed, George Heath, an American, driving a Panhard, representing the Automobile club of France, won the Vanderbilt cup from Albert Clement, Jr., by a minute and a fraction, over a 300-mile course, with thirty-mile laps.

A vigorous protest was made by Clement and not allowed. Heath's actual time was one minute and twenty-eight seconds longer than Clement's. The control officers may take twenty seconds off. Heath's time, figuring the gross time elapsed without allowances, was an average rate of a mile in 1:12, or forty-two and four-fifths miles an hour.

Both drivers got a great ovation from the crowds at the grand stand. It is estimated that over 100,000 persons saw the contest. Numerous accidents marred the race. Half a dozen cars were early put out of the contest by mishaps. The race was stopped soon after Clement finished. Lytle would have been third if he had finished.

Nails Found on Course. A startling development of the contest was the fact that many bent rusty nails were found on the course. The great sixty horse power machine were found near the grand stand, near Queens, near Hicksville and near Jericho. It seemed that a deliberate attempt was made to wreck the racing machines. These nails accounted for the many burst tires.

The contest cost one life and at least four persons were injured, none of them, however, fatally. The fatal accident occurred to the car of George Arents, Jr., a wealthy New Yorker, and the man killed was Karl Menseh, his machinist. Arents' car was No. 5, and he was driving at a tremendous speed, when just as he approached a sharp curve on the Hempstead road a front tire slipped and the great sixty horse power machine went over. Both Arents and Menseh were hurled with tremendous force to the roadway. Both were picked up unconscious and hurried to a hospital, where Menseh died in a short time. Mr. Arents' injuries are said to be of a serious character. All of these injured were connected in some way with the race, most of them heavily.

Of the eighteen starters who went around the track at 6 o'clock but seven were left when the seventh lap of the course was concluded. Burst tires, broken parts of machinery and other mechanical derangements were the causes for the most of the dropping out. Garret, the noted French driver, who was looked upon as a likely winner, was well in the lead in the first three laps, but he was gradually overhauled and passed and in the seventh lap, when he broke a crank shaft, he dropped out of the race.

French Cars Lead. When there were but two rounds left for the ten required to finish the 300 miles it was evident that the contest lay between Heath and Albert Clement, who also drove an imported car and represented the Automobile club of France. Clement finished second, and H. H. Lytle, driving an American car, was third. His car was of but twenty-four horse power, while Heath drove a ninety horse power car and Clement an eighty.

STALWARTS MAY PULL OUT.

Republican National Committee Gives Governor La Follette Recognition. Milwaukee, Monday, Oct. 10.—The Herold says that the stalwart executive committee will meet soon to consider the advisability of withdrawing the stalwart state ticket.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—After scrupulously adhering to a policy of neutrality with respect to the rival Republican factions in Wisconsin, the Republican national committee has recognized the state committee representing Governor La Follette. This decision was reached ostensibly at a conference of the Republican national executive committee at the Auditorium. It is intimated, however, that action was not taken until after the whole situation had been referred to President Roosevelt and Chairman Cortelyou of the national committee.

The recognition accorded the La Follette committee, the chairman of which is W. D. Connor of Milwaukee, is said not to rest upon any action of the national committee, but in obedience to the decision of the supreme court of Wisconsin, which recently gave an opinion in favor of the La Follette state ticket. Members of the committee desire to be clearly understood on this point. They deny that the national body has recognized Governor La Follette individually, or even his state committee as a factional body; they declare simply that what is known as the "La Follette committee" has been declared by the highest judicial authority in the state to be the regular Republican state committee. Beyond this the national committee has no comment to make.

It is further pointed out that the candidates for presidential and vice presidential electors were named by the faction known as the La Follette state ticket, and that this electoral ticket is the only Republican electoral ticket in the state. If the stalwart faction should succeed in securing a writ of mandamus on the secretary of state to place on the ballot electoral tickets of the official ballot the national committee will again have a dual interest in the state and probably would again turn to a policy of neutrality.

Members of the national committee here assert that their recognition of the "regular Republican state committee," which happens to be the "La Follette committee," ought not to be construed as intending any offense to the stalwart faction. The stalwart faction, however, is said to be indignant at the recognition of Governor La Follette is not officially recognized by the national body.

The token of recognition of the "La Follette committee," or the regular Republican state committee," was the despatch of a telegram to Chairman Connor inquiring of that official if he desired to have Senator Fairbanks of a speaking engagement in Wisconsin Oct. 14 or 15.

Stalwart Faction Barred. Milwaukee, Oct. 9.—Chairman Connor, discussing the proposed Fairbanks meeting, today said: "The meeting will be arranged, but it must be no dual affair. It must be solely under the auspices of our state central committee or it can not take place. The same policy will be pursued with everything else. We will enter into no combination with the stalwarts and we are to act solely as the Republican committee in this state. I have notified the Milwaukee committee that the La Follette organization will control the nominations in the county convention by a good majority. Besides this the control of the county organization is lost to the stalwarts. This is a complete change in the situation which has existed for years."

Fairbanks in Nebraska. Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 9.—Senator Fairbanks left Cheyenne tonight and tomorrow will speak at points on the Union Pacific in Nebraska. The night meeting will be held in Omaha.

Gogebic County Logging.—The Brooks & Ross Lumber company of Arbor Vitae, which has logged extensively in the eastern end of Gogebic county for several years, is preparing for its season's operations. The firm will have camps this year at Sisco and Big Lakes, and probably in Marquette township.

Will Employ Seventy Men.—Iron W. Hoose and Martin King of Jay Mountain will operate a logging camp at Three Lakes, on the South Shore road, this winter and will employ seventy men. It is expected to run 100,000 feet of pine, 100,000 feet of birch, 4,000 cords of spruce, 10,000 cords of pulp and 4,000 cords of ties.

Poor Demand for Cedar.—A well-known cedar dealer of Menominee county says that the condition of the market is at present most deplorable. A year ago a man who had cedar to sell had only to let the fact be known and then sit around and the buyers would flock to him with their orders. This year the opposite is the rule. A man with cedar to sell has to run after his buyers and then he is lucky if he gets them.

Will Raise Chickens.—Edward Thompson has resigned his position with the Union Carbide company at the Soo and with James Sutton will engage in the raising of poultry and small fruits in the vicinity of Brimley. Mr. Thompson is of the opinion that there is money to be made in this enterprise and has selected eighty acres of fine lands as can be found in the county. It has been demonstrated that small fruits can be successfully grown at Brimley and at present there are several fine orchards to be found near there. There is no doubt about the success of the enterprise. The raising of chickens and all eggs can be laid by the hens of Chippewa county.

Paper Mills Soon to Start.—The big pulp and paper mill plant of the Munising Paper company, which has been under construction for more than two years, is about ready to go into operation. It will be running in about a week. The plant has cost over a million dollars. H. H. Everard, F. H. Millham and C. D. Fuller, of Kalamazoo, and William G. Mather, of Cleveland, are the owners. The plant will employ 200 persons.

Only Three Mills Next Year.—Menominee will have only three mills left next year, and these not large ones. They are the plants of the A. Spies company, the J. W. Wells company and the Menominee Paper company. The last saw Sawyer Goodman stock. There is very little left of the once monster lumber business of that city and another year will probably see only one small mill left. Menominee had eleven big mills at one time, manufacturing over 300,000,000 feet a year, and next year the product will not be more than 35,000,000 or 40,000,000 feet. The boom company has put a crew to work raising dikes along the Menominee river. The water will be kept busy all winter. It is estimated by some lumbermen that there are several hundred million feet of logs on the bottom of the Menominee. These will be raised in time and converted into lumber.

Newberry's Celery Gardens.—Apropos to articles going the rounds of the state press as to the fertility of the upper peninsula soil, it would not be amiss to state that Luce county, and therefore the upper peninsula, can boast of the best celery growing soil in the United States. It is in the world. In 1884 a small piece of land lying adjacent to the Detroit, Mackinac & Marquette railway was cleared up by the land department for an experimental farm or garden. The first efforts were discouraging as the grounds were very wet. Considerable difficulty was also experienced in getting the land ploughed, and the horses had to be provided with pieces of board fastened to their shoes to keep them from sinking in the soft ground. A systematic plan of ditching was adopted and the ground was thereby drained. With this small garden as a beginning the land department experimented in raising different varieties of vegetables, and finally, as the soil seemed well adapted, decided to try raising celery and procured a few hundred plants from Detroit. This first effort was not wholly successful, but the second year the ground was thought to be due to the plants set out. During these experiments, however, it was shown that a phenomenal growth of celery was obtained. The next season, in order to avoid this difficulty, hot beds were built where all plants, needed were raised. From this time, which really marked the beginning of celery growing in Newberry, no great obstacles presented themselves. Different varieties of seeds were tried and good not found satisfactory were rejected. In the season of 1888, eight and one-half acres were planted to celery. This year the celebration of the Newberry celery gardens is acknowledged to be the best celery garden. H. L. Harris, proprietor, has sixteen acres planted to celery with some 2,000 dozen plants to the acre, a total of 32,000 dozen plants. He also has twenty-nine acres of other vegetables. The O. K. celery garden, J. G. Van Tuyl, proprietor, has ten acres in all, six of which was planted to celery. The total output of the two gardens in celery will be about 44,000 plants which will be about 300,000 bunches. The Newberry celery garden, H. L. FAILURE OF THE AIR SHIP TESTS. As a substitute for the great aerial contests so extensively advertised at the St. Louis Fair the balloon race was also a disappointment, as none of them proved controllable. Thus the secret of air navigation still remains unsolved. The secret retaining good headway was solved over 40 years ago, when Hottel's Stomach Bitters was first presented to the public. It has been proven time and again that when this medicine is used sickly and delicate people are soon made strong and healthy. It tones up and strengthens the stomach, liver and kidneys, and cures nausea, flatulency, heartburn, indigestion, dyspepsia, belching, constipation, biliousness, and malaria fever, and ague. Don't waste time experimenting when the Bitters will cure you quickly. Try it and see for yourself.

Through the Skin TO THE BLOOD.

Some of the most stubborn diseases enter into the system through the pores of the skin. The juices of Poison Oak and Ivy and other noxious wild plants, when taken into the circulation, break out afresh each season, and linger on for years unless antiodated and driven out of the system.

Workers in Lead, Brass, and other metals are often poisoned by the chemicals used in polishing, and the dust and filings settling upon the skin. The diseases that enter the system by absorption or through the pores are as deep-seated and dangerous as any, and cannot be reached by washes, salves, soaps or other external remedies. The blood must be purified before getting permanently rid of the disease. S. S. S. acts upon the blood, ridding it of the original poison and restoring it to a healthy, normal condition. S. S. S. is guaranteed entirely vegetable, and an unrivaled blood purifier. With all impurities removed from the system, sores and eruptions disappear from the skin. Write us should you desire medical advice or any information about your case; this will cost you nothing.

FIRST RALLY HELD SATURDAY NIGHT

JUDGE KENDRICK AND HON. J. J. CARTON DISCUSSED ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN.

WARM TRIBUTES FOR WARNER

Both Speakers Expressed Sentiments Favorable to Primary Election Reform, but Urged Necessity of Going Slow.

The first rally in the state and national campaigns to be held in Marquette occurred at the opera house Saturday evening. The speakers being Judge William R. Kendrick of Saginaw and Hon. John J. Carton of Flint, who spoke for the Republican national and state candidates. The city band furnished the music. The meeting was not as large as other rallies that have been held here from time to time, thus reflecting the lack of interest in the present campaign so generally noted and commented on, but those who did come out were rewarded by two intelligent and convincing addresses on the issues.

The chairman of the meeting was James Russell. On the platform were a number of prominent Republicans and the county officials. The range of the addresses of both speakers was general, they touching on all the leading national issues, with a few words for state politics. Both paid warm personal tributes to Fred M. Warner, the Republican candidate for governor, and both denounced in emphatic terms the methods employed by certain Democratic speakers and Democratic papers in lower Michigan to discredit Mr. Warner before the people by innuendo and misleading abuse.

Judge Kendrick was first introduced and talked for about an hour. He felicitated the people of the upper peninsula on being people of the upper peninsula, and outlined the manner of the acquisition of this region for the United States. To his audience he addressed some words of congratulation on Marquette's beauty. Launching into the political part of his address, he reviewed quickly and graphically some of the salient points in the history of the Republican party; made effective references to its greatest leaders, and then proceeded to discuss the leading issues, presenting the records of both parties with an evident desire to be fair.

In reference to primary reform, Judge Kendrick said he believed in reform; in all reform. In questions of reform, however, he stated that a prime essential was the necessity of being sure that a reform was a reform. If anything is needed to improve the present system of making nominations he asserted that the changes can best be made by the Republican party, and drew attention to the platform plank on the question, which he considered all sufficient. He put considerable stress on the necessity of going along with the introduction of changes in the present nominating system. If tentative trials of primary reform show it to be a good thing it will be comparatively easy to extend it.

Laid Stress on the Tariff.
Hon. J. J. Carton, after introductory remarks on good citizenship, proceeded with a very thorough, logical and well considered discussion of the tariff issue, in his mind the pre-eminent issue of the campaign. He traced the positions of the two parties on the tariff since their inception, and pictured briefly but vividly the experiences of the country under the opposing systems of tariff for protection and tariff for revenue only. His points were nailed down by quotations from messages of Democratic presidents, and his argument was very concise and effective. Other issues were also discussed by Mr. Carton.

Primary election received considerable attention from him. He outlined the workings of a bill that would be in accordance with the plank in the Republican platform on the subject. It proposes optional primary election. If, for instance, after the law proposed by the Republican platform is passed the electors of Marquette county want primary election for the selection of their county officers they can elect to have it. If they desire to retain their present system it will be their privilege to do so. It will be optional with legislative, senatorial and congressional districts to introduce primary election or to retain the present system.

THE TIM-TOM ROAD.

T. E. Tarsney Now Executive Head of the Company.
The Detroit, Flint & Saginaw railway, which is now completed from Saginaw as far as Frankenmuth, is getting its affairs gradually into running shape. Last week a meeting of the board of directors was held, at which were present Messrs. Sullivan, Tarsney, Nester, Russell and Peter. The most important business was the choosing of President T. E. Tarsney as the executive head of the company. A resolution was adopted authorizing him to act as executive manager, with power to employ and discharge employees, disburse money for running expenses, etc. These new duties will be added to those he now carries as president of the company. The prospects of the enterprise were declared to be very satisfactory to the board.

It is expected that the company will begin the erection of the overhead bridge at Bridgeport as soon as possible and that as soon as material can be procured, which will be in a short time, that they will begin the extension of the road to Tuscola village, from Frankenmuth, a distance of four miles. This part, it is expected, will be completed before cold weather forces the stoppage of work. There is also a prospect, which is said to be very strong, that work on the road from Flint to Mt. Morris will be begun this fall.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

"Why Women Sin" Tomorrow Night— "The Irish Pawnbrokers" Thursday.

Another melodramatic bill at popular prices will be the offering at the opera house tomorrow evening. "Why Women Sin" will be presented by a large and well chosen company, with special scenic effects designed to bring out the sensational incidents in an impressive manner. "Why Women Sin" is a story of great heart interest, and without a story which contains nothing to offend.

Thursday night theatergoers will be offered something in the face comedy line. "The Irish Pawnbrokers" being the bill announced. This play was built for laughing purposes only and it has been fulfilling its mission for the past several seasons with excellent results. "The Irish Pawnbrokers", while a farce comedy, cannot be classed with the average entertainment traveling under that guise, as it has a well defined plot, and here is rhyme and reason for all the funny mishaps and incidents. The three acts are lightened and brightened by an abundance of music and concerted and individual specialties, but they are introduced with a view of fitting the surroundings, and not dragged in pell-mell just to fill up time, as is very often the case. There are scenic and mechanical effects.

"The Royal Chef", the newest musical comedy success which Sam S. Schubert will present here Saturday evening, has an interesting character in its organization in the person of Joseph Allen, who impersonates the "American Admiral". Mr. Allen is a recruit to the profession direct from the United States cruiser Olympia, the famous flagship of Admiral Dewey in the fight at Manila. Mr. Allen was in that memorable light and served that day as gunner's mate. His term of enlistment having expired, and not desiring to enlist, he called on a friend of his in New York, who was playing an engagement with a musical company then running in that city. Possessing a voice of rare quality, both as to sweetness and strength, he felt that the stage offered him better opportunities than any other pursuit. He applied for an engagement and was satisfied to start in on the low end of the ladder—the chorus. At the first rehearsal he was given a small part to sing, and, to quote the vernacular, "made good."

BREAKWATER WORK.

Will Not Be Finished Until Middle of Next Month.

The work on the breakwater in the lower harbor will not be finished until sometime next month. For some weeks past F. L. Dever, the engineer who has had charge of operations the past two years, has been employing his force at the land end of the structure, work at the harbor end having been finished as far as it can be carried until it is determined whether Marquette is to be made a harbor of refuge. At the land end, however, there has been a great deal to do, as the structure is being run back 170 feet from the lake shore. In all over 1,100 feet of concrete superstructure will have been put in when the season comes to a close. The extension of the breakwater into the harbor from the place where work was dropped last fall amounted to 350 feet, so with the 170 feet of land end work in all the total amount of concrete construction put in will be 1,120 feet. The best of progress has been made. Until lately the weather has been exceptionally favorable. Mr. Dever expects to remain in Marquette during the coming winter.

WRECK ON M. & S. E. R. Y.

Saturday a wrecking crew of the employees of the Marquette & Southeastern railway was busy clearing up a wreck which occurred about one-half a mile this side of Yalmar Friday afternoon. The train that came to grief was the wood train due in Marquette each afternoon. The wreck was caused by a sack of coalwood falling from one of the cars, six back from the locomotive, onto the track, throwing the wheels of the truck from the rails. Eight cars followed the first to leave the track, and the resultant mass of coalwood and wreckage was a tangled problem for the wreckers. On account of the rough weather prevailing Friday night nothing was done to clear away the wreckage until Saturday morning. A large force was put at work early Saturday track was cleared by Saturday afternoon. The wood train came through to Marquette about 6 o'clock. The wreck occasioned a considerable loss for the company.

Heavy Hitting Ball Player Wanted for Montreal Team.

Bill Elton, who played with Marquette in the early part of the season of 1903, and who this year held down first base for Dollar Bay and earned the distinction of being the heaviest hitter in the copper country league, is in Marquette, having just returned from a visit to Detroit. Elton is the recipient of an excellent offer from Manager Barrow of the Montreal team, Eastern league, formerly manager of the Detroit Tigers. Barrow, who formerly played with Elton on his Patterson, N. J., team, wants the big fellow for the Montreal outfit, and has made him a tempting proposition, $225 a month for a season of five months. Elton said yesterday that he has not yet signed with Montreal, but he has the matter under advisement. He hit in the neighborhood of 400 in the stay of the Dollar Bay team.

ANNUAL MEETING TODAY.

Supervisors Will Hold Important Session—Apportionment Will Be Made.

The annual meeting of the board of supervisors, the most important in the year, will occur today, when numerous weighty matters will come up. For one thing the annual apportionment of taxation in the cities and townships will be made. It is not expected that there will be much change from last year, as conditions at this time are substantially what they were then. Another important matter to be acted on is the question of submitting the county road system to the voters at the November election. If the proposed system does not receive the supervisors' endorsement today the matter will have to be dropped until another year. There appears to be a considerable public sentiment in favor of fitting the annual reports of the various county officers will be presented today. The officers have been busily engaged getting them out the past few weeks.

No More Coughs

There is a flood of new cough cures on the market that claim to cure coughs quickly—some in a day. Remedies that cure in a day do not cure at all. They stop the cough by deadening the nerves of the air passages with opiates. Tar, Honey, Horehound and Wild Cherry cures—cures to stay cured because it cures the right way—by removing the cause. It is equally good for children and adults. Your money back if results are not satisfactory. Price, 25 and 50 cents.
