HEAVY FIGHTING STILL CONTINUES SOUTH OF MUKDEN

Japanese Stubbornly Hold Their Own and Even Begin a Counter Advance.

YET TOO EARLY FOR DECISIVE RESULTS

Kuropatkin Is Reported Aiming to Strike Simultaneously at Two Widely Separated Points and Apparently Is Yet to Deliver His Main Attack--Latest Advices, Coming via Tokio, Report Oyama Gaining Ground and a Column of the Enemy Cut Off South of the Taitse River, News Which Causes Apprehension in St. Petersburg--More Than Half a Million Men Engaged in the Operations.

Tokio, Thursday, Oct. 13--9:30 a. m. Field Marshal Oyama, telegraphing from the field yesterday, says the operations are progressing favorably.

Mukden, Oct. 12--2:40 p. m.--Stubborn fighting is still in progress, this being the third day of the engagement. It is impossible at this time to say what has been accomplished. Hospital trains are continually arriving from the south.

Tokio, Oct. 12--General activity has been resumed in the theater of war. A general engagement is progressing between Liao Yang and Mukden. Field Marshal Oyama has met General Kuropatkin's advance with a general advance of the main strength of his force along a broad front. The opposing forces were in touch yesterday and it is believed a great battle south of the Hun river is inevitable. Beside this direct movement, the Russians are attempting to strike the Japanese right at two points widely separated. A considerable force of Russians which was sent across the Taitse river, thirty-five miles east of Liao Yang, has apparently been isolated by the Japanese cutting its rear, and a report of its defeat or capture is expected.

Tokio, Oct. 12--A general Japanese advance along a broad front towards Mukden is progressing.

A brigade of Russian infantry with two thousand cavalry and two guns, having the object of striking General Kuroki's flank, crossed the Taitse river Oct. 9. The Japanese cut off the retreat of this force and possibly will capture it.

The Russians are attacking Sienehuang, thirty miles northeast of Saimatze, evidently with the object of cutting off Japanese communications with the Yalu river.

Tokio, Oct. 12--Field Marshal Oyama reports that there was fighting along the entire front Oct. 10, that the Japanese are gaining ground and that the Russian attack on Sienehuang (Sienehan), on the Hun river, thirty-five miles southwest of Mukden, was repulsed.

Tokio, Oct. 12--8 p. m.--A battle, south of Mukden, raged uninterruptedly all Tuesday and into the night. It was continued today. The results have not been decisive. The Russians have a heavy force on the Japanese right, toward the Taitse river, but it is believed the Japanese have checked the Russian turning movement.

Tokio, Oct. 12--Reports despatched last night from the scene of the battle now raging along an extended front from the central point north of Yentai westward across the railroad southeast of Bensiuh, on the Taitse river, say that the struggle continued undecisively throughout the day. The Japanese commander's avowed purpose was to continue the assault throughout the night and the following day.

The Russians have a great force down close to the Taitse river. Apparently Oyama's attack was necessarily timed to interrupt a strong turning movement that was threatening Liao Yang itself.

Reports from the right army show that Russian artillery opened a severe attack at 10 o'clock Tuesday against the Japanese at Bensiuh, where the fighting is still progressing. The Russians are also bombarding points between Ta pass and Bensiuh, while in the direction of Tumentau, pass another artillery duel is progressing. A Japanese detachment sent to the left bank of the Taitse river returned after driving the enemy back.

The center army's right column advanced toward Ouchiatzu, which it advanced and attacked Wamoniutun and Samkwaishishan. The result of the attack in these directions is unknown. The left army reports a favorable advance and that it is continuing its attack against a line extending from Pachiapo to Luitankow. The right column took possession of Yangchusung and is advancing toward Lianshachien.

The left column advanced to a line extending from Tayuhwangpo to Lalantun, through Chinguitz, and with its main strength is menacing the right flank of the army holding Chalovitzu and Yuchiatientzu.

From Russian Sources.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12--The battle below Mukden continues to rage along the entire front, according to General Kuropatkin's latest advices after the fighting of the day has ended. The Japanese were stubbornly holding their own, offering desperate resistance, and had even advanced their positions.

After an all-day fight, above Yentai,

General Kuropatkin's advance has been met with a counter-advance of the forces under Field Marshal Oyama.

According to advices received at Tokio, a general engagement is in progress between Liao Yang and Mukden; but the reports from the fighting sources describe the fighting as rather in the nature of advance guard actions.

Kuropatkin is reported to be aiming to strike simultaneously only at two widely separated points on the Japanese left. There has been hard fighting a short distance north of Bensiuh. The Japanese claim to have cut off a Russian column south of the Taitse river.

No official reports from the front were received by the Russian war office last night, and the fact is regarded in Moscow as rather surprising, especially in view of the fact that Kuropatkin's forward movement. Military authorities, however, point out that owing to the magnitude of the movement planned it is too early to expect news of decisive results.

where the Russians sustained their first check, the Japanese still held that position. The infantry was practically engaged, artillery being the main part of the fighting. The Japanese stuck to their guns and the Russian batteries were unable to dislodge them.

According to advices received by the war office here, the Japanese hold a number of lines extending in a semi-circle north of the Yentai railroad station, continuously reported to have been captured by the Russians.

General Sakharoff, telegraphing under date of yesterday evening, confirms the reports of desperate fighting north of Yentai where the heights were alternately held by the Russians and Japanese.

Other war office information from the battle of Schill river says the fighting has been of the most desperate character. The positions are constantly changing hands, the Russians inflicting and sustaining heavy losses.

At the Russian front, Oct. 10, by courier to Mukden, Oct. 12--An artillery duel is progressing on the Russian left, twenty-seven miles southeast of Mukden, while the fighting at Yentai rages with terrible bitterness. The Japanese are essaying a counter attack. The result is in the balance. Russian reinforcements are coming up rapidly.

Mukden, Oct. 11--[Delayed.]--The battle was resumed this morning along the line of railway with a terrific artillery fire on both sides. The railway line almost to Yentai is in possession of the Russians. The station has been damaged nearly beyond recognition. The Japanese are throwing up earthworks toward the west.

It is believed the Japanese have one hundred guns at the railroad bridge across the Taitse river, rendering hazardous a Russian attack there.

The Japanese cannonading yesterday was for the purpose of disclosing the Russian position, but it was apparently without result except as showing that the Japanese are disposed freely to make battle within 100 miles of the railway.

The heaviness and regularity of the cannonade since five this morning indicate that greater fighting is in progress.

St. Petersburg Intensely Anxious.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12--It is now midnight on the battlefield below Mukden, and the failure to receive news that the Russians have achieved decisive results in today's fight north of Yentai, coupled with a Tokio report that Field Marshal Oyama is gaining ground, has caused increased apprehension.

The dispatch of the Associated Press from Tokio was the first positive information that Russian troops in any force were already across the Taitse river, although it was already known here that some cavalry had passed over the river; but the report that another column was attempting to cut the Japanese line of communications with the Yalu river did not come as a surprise, as it was known, although not revealed for strategic reasons, that while turning operations were proceeding on the Russian extreme left, screened by a column operating against Shan Pintaidze.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12--Midnight--

No official news of the result of today's battle south of Mukden is available at this hour. General Kuropatkin doubtless has communicated his regular report to the emperor, but the dispatch was not sent back to the general staff tonight.

So the latest word from Russian sources is contained in the Associated Press dispatches from Mukden.

The frontal attack on the Yentai mines developed a desperate battle in which probably 100,000 men are engaged, but though the dispatches so far deal almost exclusively with this feature of the battle, it is pointed out that there is a much wider field involved.

The appearance tonight of a Russian column at Tzanehan, thirty miles southeast of Mukden, striking at Oyama's communications with the Yalu, and the knowledge that another column is already across the Taitse river, gives evidence of the wide nature of the turning movement. It is possible the attack on Yentai might simply be intended to hold the main Japanese force stationary and that the outcome of the Yentai fight may have little bearing on the result of the general engagement.

While it is now asserted that General Kuropatkin enjoys a considerable numerical superiority, the main fear expressed is that this superiority is insufficient to enable him to carry out the big operations he has undertaken.

Apprehension is caused by a Tokio dispatch saying that Field Marshal Oyama reports that he is gaining ground and has cut off a Russian column below the Taitse river. It is only natural, after the repeated reverses already suffered, that the Russians should roll up General Kuropatkin's advance now, all hope of aggressive Russian success in this campaign or of the relief of Port Arthur would be ended probably by this year.

The battle now in progress undoubtedly will outweigh in importance the hard fight at Liao Yang. For Kuropatkin, victory, partial or complete, is absolutely necessary. Defeat would certainly spell ruin for his military reputation and probably would prove a disaster of the first magnitude to the Russian army. If the Japanese should roll up General Kuropatkin's advance now, all hope of aggressive Russian success in this campaign or of the relief of Port Arthur would be ended probably by this year.

MANY SERIOUS CONFLICTS.

Japanese Generals Report of the Fighting Occurring Oct. 10th.

Tokio, Oct. 12--A batch of reports covering the fighting of Oct. 10 was published this evening. The reports record serious conflicts at various points along the Japanese front.

There was a desperate struggle in the neighborhood of Bensiuh, where the Russians crossed the Taitse river and where the Japanese endeavored to entrap the invaders. The Hsienchung garrison vigorously attacked and repulsed the Russians, possibly relieving the pressure on the Japanese line of communications.

The headquarters of the Manchurian army, in reporting the conditions on the night of Oct. 10, telegraphs as follows: "The enemy, with a body of infantry of considerable strength, is holding an eminence west of Shan Chiatan.

"A powerful column of the enemy is advancing. It is in the Yehokou valley near Shaotakou. A regiment of Russians is fortifying the ridges.

"Another body of Russians with artillery has been seen advancing toward upper and lower Lailotau.

"A line of eminences east of Bensiuh was taken by the enemy, as were ridges east of the roadway between Huolinchia and Bensiuh, by a night attack. The next morning, under cover of a mist, our forces succeeded in retaking the line of eminences east of Bensiuh and another line of ridges between Huolinchia and Bensiuh.

"At eleven this morning the enemy's cavalry attempted to attack one eminence east of Suolichia, but were driven back after a hand-to-hand fight. The enemy left numerous killed and retreated to the base of the eminence."

The center army reports: "Our right has taken possession of a line of heights east of Yamentzu. Our left reached the ridges of Huangti and attacked the enemy at Wilitau but was unable to dislodge him up to sundown."

The left army reports: "Our right column is occupying Kinchiatun and vicinity and is co-operating with the left and center. The army attacked the enemy's combined forces occupying the heights of Wulitaitzen, in the vicinity of Erastaitzen. We took possession of a line extending from Soutaitzu to Erastaitzen. Our center column reached a line from Chientaitzu to Kangehiatun and attacked and dislodged the enemy from his position near Taitungshan which he had been holding since the day before. Our left, after attacking the enemy holding Hailooshatun, continued to advance to Hsienchiatun. The garrison at Hsienchung made a night attack and drove the enemy east and north."

Piano, Tex., Oct. 12--A triple tragedy occurred about three and a half miles of Plano this afternoon. Will Cochran, a blind man, who had been separated from his wife for six weeks, led by his nephew, fifteen years old, went to his mother-in-law's house and called for his wife. When she sat down by him, he grabbed her, staking her to death with a dirk, after which he killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. James Skelton, seventy-three years old. He then shot and killed himself. The women were literally cut to pieces.

STALWARTS VOTE NOT TO WITHDRAW

TICKET HEADED BY EX-GOVERNOR SCOFFIELD WILL BE KEPT IN THE FIELD.

LONG CONFERENCE IS HELD LEADERS OF THE FACTION ASSEMBLED IN MILWAUKEE.

Decision to Continue Fight Unanimous Despite That Spooner Is Lukewarm on the Subject and Inclines to a Compromise.

Milwaukee, Oct. 12--The National Republican (Stalwart) state ticket, headed by former Governor Edward Scofield, will remain in the field.

This was decided after a protracted meeting of leading Stalwarts from every part of the state today when the question of withdrawing the ticket came up for discussion.

Besides a number from Milwaukee, among those who took part in the conference were: Senator Spooner, Madison; ex-Governors Scofield and Upham; Marshal Cousins and C. H. Henry, Eau Claire; Solon Perrin, Superior; W. H. Ellis, Platteville; Theo. Godlin, Janesville; Frank R. Bentley, Baraboo; A. M. Jones, Waukesha; Graham Rice, Madison; E. D. Coe, Whitewater; John Hicks, Oshkosh; A. L. Kresner, Waukesha; George H. Ray, La Crosse; Neils Holman, Deerfield; W. G. Bissell, Lodi, and Arthur James, Waukesha.

Senator Spooner was one of the speakers to give his views on the subject. It is said that while he did not advise the withdrawal of the ticket, he did not wish to oppose the national committee and that he would support whatever action the meeting might take. Senator Spooner left the meeting shortly after he had spoken on the subject. He took this step, he said, in order not to embarrass those whose views might be different from his.

The conference lasted several hours. Before the meeting adjourned a resolution was passed unanimously in favor of the ticket being kept in the field. The resolution reads as follows: "Resolved, That it is the judgment of this meeting, most emphatically expressed, that the present Republican ticket, headed by Edward Scofield, be kept in the field, and we pledge to this ticket our enthusiastic support; that the state central committee be heartily commended for the work already accomplished, and that the campaign be vigorously pushed from now until the day of election."

Ex-Governor Scofield, the Stalwart candidate for governor, after the conference expressed himself as satisfied with the conclusions reached by the conference. He said he was in favor of remaining in the field because he believed the Stalwart course to be right.

Full Compromise in Delaware.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 12--The state committee of the regular Republican and union or Addicks of Delaware met here today and completed the work of selecting a compromise congressional and state ticket. Preston Lea, regular Republican, was agreed upon as the compromise candidate for governor.

HAS ANOTHER BUSY DAY.

Senator Fairbanks Makes a Dozen Speeches in Iowa.

Davenport, Oct. 12--With a speech at the Turner Opera House at Davenport tonight, Senator Fairbanks concluded his tour of Iowa. He came into Davenport this afternoon and after crossing the river and speaking at Rock Island, Ill., returned to this city for the night meeting. In addition to these points, he spoke during the day at Des Moines, Colfax, Newton, Kellogg, Grinnell, Brooklyn, Marquette, Iowa City, West Liberty and Durant, all in Iowa.

The crowd here tonight was large, but the meetings of the day were not, upon the whole, as well attended as were those of yesterday. Most of the day's stops were of only brief duration. The longest day stop was made at Iowa City, where the meeting was attended by a club of students calling themselves "Teddy's Hawkies." To them, as to the students at Grinnell, Senator Fairbanks addressed himself especially, telling them that "the Republican party stands for principles as fixed and enduring as the stars."

A large part of the day was spent in the Second congressional district, the only Democratic district in the state. Senator Fairbanks was accompanied by A. F. Dawson, the Republican candidate for congress. At both Davenport and Brooklyn, Senator Fairbanks discussed imperialism. At Brooklyn, he said: "Our Democratic friends have suggested from time to time that there

William Alden Smith had a fine meeting at Ishpeming. It takes two front names spelled out in full to bring out a crowd.

Among the resurrected public heroes is Terry McGovern, once the "terrible Terry" who has finally again licked a man. The copper country might arrange to take him on for Jimmie Dugan.

Candidates for county offices have donned their gumbos and slipped into the woods. They aren't addressing any mass meetings, nor are they tearing up and down the highways and byways in automobiles; neither are they asleep.

D. J. Campau as senator is at present a remote and nebulous Democratic dream. Remote as it is, it is still, in the mere suggestion, of a nature to make many Michigan Democrats shiver. The corraling of such an honor by Campau would be the last straw.

The O. K. mark of the national committee for the La Follette faction in Wisconsin should be accepted as a revision of the judgment passed by the national convention in Chicago. Still it's rather absurd for Chairman Conrad to expect the committee to apologize for ancient history.

Congressman Minor, of Wisconsin, hitherto of Stalwart sympathies, has announced that he now considers the La Follette ticket regular, and will support it. Congressman Cooper has also fallen into line, and has presided at the La Follette meeting. We will now please hear from Congressman Babcock; might as well make it unanimous.

The fact that as sincere an advocate of primary election as Congressman William Alden Smith finds it consistent to stump the state for Fred M. Warner should persuade doubting Thomases that Mr. Warner's attitude on the question is satisfactory and open-minded. He promises to go as far as the Republican platform goes, and it readily appears that for a starter that is quite far enough.

In the periods of uncertainty as to what the Stalwarts are to do, it is always noticeable that the Milwaukee Sentinel discusses editorially such safe questions as the crops, railroad wrecks and the far eastern war. Until the Stalwart leaders make up their minds the Sentinel has little or nothing to say about the one question in which Wisconsin is so concerned. Its editors are waiting for orders. Great is the independent press!

"O, what a campaign of humbug is this of Parker's," said Tom Watson at Chicago. "Hypercity and humbug! Why a prohibition campaign led by the whisky trust; a crusade against gambling led by Cantel and Tom Taggart; a campaign against corporations led by the Standard Oil company would be no more preposterous than this." Thus Tom Watson proves beyond a doubt his possession of that lurid and picturesque rhetoric without which a Populistic candidate could contribute little or nothing to a campaign.

Ex-President Cleveland will raise his voice but once in the present campaign. He has been invited to address a meeting of New York business men to be held at Carnegie hall, Oct. 21, and at that will not deliver the principal speech, but will speak briefly as chairman. John G. Carlisle, ex-secretary of the treasury, will do the principal speaking. Will does Mr. Cleveland know how to observe all the dignities of his ex-presidential state. He can be unhesitatingly recommended as an example for future ex-presidents.

One indirect result of Columbia's sidestepping Michigan, it is feared at Ann Arbor, may be the departure of Coach Yost, who has been turning out the championship eleven of the past three years. Yost is in football more from taste than necessity. He is comfortably off, and in the game's pastime. He wants to try his prowess against a leading eastern college and may leave Michigan to take the direction of football at some institution that the eastern colleges can't dodge. It would be sad for Michigan to lose Harry Yost.

Controller Groat of New York aired his opinions on Carnegie libraries this week. The occasion was an increase made by the Brooklyn library board in the original estimate of 1904 expenses, the increase being made to provide for the expense of buying new books. The controller wanted to know if the books couldn't be provided with the Carnegie money, and being informed that this could not be done remarked: "I always understood a library was a collection of books."

SUPERIOR TRUST COMPANY. Hancock, Michigan. Capital - $150,000. This company is under the supervision of the state banking department and is authorized by law to act as executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver, or trustee.

of books. In this case it seems to mean a simple building. The city provides the site, provides the books, and maintains the institution. It looks as though the city were doing the larger part of the work and Carnegie the lesser. As the case stands I think it would be more appropriate to call these institutions city libraries than Carnegie libraries. If the Carnegie scheme were to be brought before this board now I should hesitate to vote for it.

President Roosevelt is upsetting all the rules of the game. Robert J. Wynne, the new postmaster general, just as was the case with Robert B. Cortelyou, is a man without political power, almost without a voting presence, in fact. He has won his way to the front by excellent ability and honest service. As President Roosevelt honors these qualities above everything he has made them a royal highway to even the highest positions. His course has not the approval of politicians who are primarily politicians, but it is nevertheless a popular one. The public likes to see the man in the ranks get abundant recognition.

The New York Giants, the winners of the National league pennant, could not coax or sold into an American championship series with the Boston team, the winner of first honors in the American league. Thus Boston has a technical claim to the American championship, as it won the title last season by defeating the Pittsburgh Nationals. The obduracy of the New York management in regard to a post-season series was a great disappointment to the fans, but was doubtless dictated by prudent considerations. Boston, in truth, looked too strong and it was felt that tampering for avoiding the final test, of strength were infinitely to be preferred to a round trouncing. A parallel is found in non-professional athletics in the situation that has arisen in connection with the once hoped for Columbia-Michigan football game.

NAVAL BATTLES AND NERVES. The commander of the cruiser Rossia and many of the officers and men of the Vladivostok squadron defeated by Admiral Kamimura are being sent home to Russia suffering from an acute form of nervous prostration as a result of the terrific tension undergone during the battle with the Japanese fleet. If this result was so apparent upon the personnel of the Vladivostok squadron, which had only one encounter with the foe, it was probably even more marked upon the officers and men of the Port Arthur fleet, which has been engaged repeatedly and has suffered a more pitiless hammering than the squadron from the northern port. Moreover, the strain upon the Port Arthur force has been continuous for six months or more, whereas that at Vladivostok has been attacked not at all in port, and hardly so much as threatened.

It does not require an unusually vivid imagination to fancy the severe strain to which a modern naval battle must subject the nervous system. The Chinese crews under the Japanese fire in the war of ten years ago made the complaint that the Russians do now of the prostrating effect of the discharges of both heavy rifles and small rapid fire guns. Those on the losing side, compelled to take blows without being able to return them, would naturally feel the tension most. It is not recalled that the emotions of the Spaniards under the hail of shots from the American ships off Santiago have even been put on record, but the pitiable state of the survivors who were brought north as prisoners of war may easily have been due in large measure to the shock to their nervous systems caused by the battle. Even during target practice in time of peace the same complaint is heard, and many men who have spent their lives in the navy dread the season of target practice hardly less than a battle.

The nervous tension during a battle, however, severe as it doubtless is, can hardly exceed that far more prolonged strain which accompanies blockading duty, for example, when almost within striking distance of an enemy, as at Santiago and Port Arthur. A sudden onset of fighting ships at night would alone be serious enough for the blockaders, but when to that is added the hidden danger of the submarine and the hell revealed menacing of the torpedo boat the perils are multiplied and the nervous strain made more intense. The prostrating effects of battles are probably no more severe than those following prolonged blockade duty. Even the marvelous Japanese are liable to feel the consequences which the Russians have not escaped.

FARLY ACTION DEMANDED. The people who set out on that railway journey which ended so disastrously at Warrenburg, Mo., the other day probably never thought of the danger of accident, but if they thought at all doubtless assumed in the characteristic American fashion that if an accident should happen it would happen to someone else. The few who escaped alive and uninjured from the ensuing collision were injured. It was the old story of a blunder concerning orders and a collision between two trains which met at high speed on a curve. Last year accidents of this and other kinds on American railways cost 10,000 lives. In ten years they have cost 78,000 lives, and the slaughter is increasing year by year. What is to be or can be done to reduce this appalling annual butchery is a question that is more and more clamoring for solution. The experience of at least ten years goes to show that the railway companies themselves cannot be expected to take the lead in a reform movement looking to the saving of life. It is equally clear that public sentiment is not at present sufficiently powerful to compel the roads to take such action. It is, however, in the power of congress to remedy the matter, in part, at least. This power was exercised ten or more years ago when railways were ordered to equip their cars and locomotives with safety devices. A great howl went up from many railway offices, but the greatly needed improvement was made, nevertheless. Not long ago the interstate commerce commission recommended the compulsory adoption of the block system on all American lines and prepared a bill to that effect. It will come up at the next session of congress. It seems plain enough that if congress could deign and enforce the adoption of safety couplings it can compel the adoption of safety signals. Naturally the roads which have not adopted the block system would protest loudly if compelled to install it. It would doubtless be an expensive proposition, but, as in the case of installing automatic couplings, the government would extend the operation of the law over a period of at least ten years and the expense would not be ruinous to any road which had any excuse for existence.

The railroads do not safeguard their passengers, and the people cannot or will not protect themselves. It is certainly a legitimate function of government to protect the traveling public, and it cannot safely be left to the states, many of which would neglect it and few of which would enact uniform laws, which would be essential. National legislation now governs, to a certain extent, the operation of railroads, and this control may well be extended so long as it tends to protect the lives of travelers, especially as resort elsewhere is impracticable. It will not require many more accidents like that occurring at Warrenburg, Mo., to induce congress to take up the matter in deadly earnest.

THE SUNNY SIDE Campaign Excelsior The autumn days were dying fast When through the restful land there passed A youth who shouted once or twice And bore a flag with this device: "More hooraw!"

His brow was sad; his eye beneath Gloomed as he hissed beneath his teeth: "Electors! but a few weeks yet— I haven't heard of one quartet. "More hooraw!"

And as he hastened through the gloom He shouldered to the left, much as of yore, And into that soundless committee room, His vibrant yell: "Get in the game! "More hooraw!"

"Don't be so loud!" one old man cried, "Still hunts are on an every-side. "Still hunt where all the voters hide. But still the vibrant voice replied: "More hooraw!"

A maid whose voice was like a lute, Said: "Aren't these elections evil? He shouldered to the left, much as of yore, Still lifting up his ranting voice: "More hooraw!"

On, on, he sped, declaring thus: "Where is the fun without a fuss? If you keep being still this way, We'll all forget election day. "More hooraw!"

Spellsingers rose and shook themselves, And took their speeches from the shelves. Campaign quartets and bands as well Were wakened by his magic spell: "More hooraw!"

Until at last from shore to shore, From lakes to rail, much as of yore, With sounding speech and song and shout, Campaigners all were turning out "More hooraw!"

They sought for him election day, But he had vanished quite away. Ten thousand others then said: "I Was he who told you folks to try "More hooraw?"

The Speaker's Magnetism. Pater Familias had come, soft-shod, into the parlour and found matters such as he might have expected, considering that Reggie Adelphat and the daughter of the house were there alone and that he had sneaked in.

A Painful Obituary. It is always sad to see the taking off of a strong, valuable life in its early vigor. If the untimely end is due either wholly or in part, to the use of tobacco and alcohol, we naturally feel still more sorry to see such an unworthy snuffing out of a useful and potentially great life. We note that Noah Raby, of Eatontown, N. J., recently died, and under circumstances that made his death particularly sad. Mr. Raby, according to his own statements, which seem to be pretty well confirmed, was but 136 years old, and there can be little doubt that his untimely death was due to his consumption of liquor during 120 years of that time. He was a constant user of alcoholic beverages and tobacco, and had it not been for the deadly effect of these poisons upon his strong and vigorous system, Mr. Raby might have lived to a good old age. Too bad!—California Journal of Medicine.

"Don't take the game too seriously. She may be only an accomplished fusser, and not really in love with you at all." "Let the man of fussing fit the girl. For remember that all girls aren't out from the same pattern."—Rules from "The Fusers' Book."

THE GOOD OLD WAY. A severe cold or attack of a gripe is like a fire, the sooner you combat it, the better your chances are to overpower it. But few mothers in this age are willing to do the necessary work required to give a good old-fashioned reliable treatment such as would be administered by their grandmothers, backed by Boecher's German Syrup, which was always liberally used in connection with the home remedies of colds and is still in great household favor than any known remedy. But even without the application of the old-fashioned aids German Syrup will cure a severe cold in quick time. It will cure colds in children or grown people. It relieves the congested organs, allays the irritation, and effectively stops the cough. Any child will take it. It is invaluable in a household of children. STOCKS WELL ABSORBED.

Prices Cling Near the Top Level Despite Much Profit-Taking.

New York, Oct. 12.—Today's stock market was variable and uneven, but its showing of absorptive power was convincing. There was a general selling movement to take profits after the higher opening, as has become customary for several days past. A period of quiet intervened before the upward movement was resumed. This buying was of a character which kept alive the suspicion that it came largely from speculative pools or combinations of operators formed for the purpose of putting the price. The new Union Pacific directors is also a director of the Chicago & Northwestern, as are several other directors. This was pointed to as indicating progress in the supposed plan for harmonizing the Western railroad situation. Union Pacific and other grangers were benefited by further consideration of the large corn crop promised.

The leader of the advance today was Union Pacific. Stress was laid upon the fact that one of the new Union Pacific directors is also a director of the Chicago & Northwestern, as are several other directors. This was pointed to as indicating progress in the supposed plan for harmonizing the Western railroad situation. Union Pacific and other grangers were benefited by further consideration of the large corn crop promised.

International exchange and the money market were further affected by the rise in the discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany, and surmises were still rife of possible further war loans impending for both Russia and Japan. The figures of our September reports of domestic products had reassuring effect regarding our own situation in exchanges, with its showing of an increase of $12,792,383 in September compared with the previous September.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Wheat was fairly active today, with the feeling again rather unsettled, but the undertone on the whole was firm. The closing prices showed December 15c higher, while May gained 15c. The pit temper was bullish, and part of the buying was credited to the Southwest and local elevator interests. The outside markets were all stronger, which fact was an indirect help, as was also the showing of the Liverpool market, which came 3/4 to 1/2 higher. The advices from Kansas City were bullish as to the prospective movement. The secretary of the Kansas Grain Dealers' association estimated fully 60 per cent of the Kansas crop marketed, and millers' stocks were reported small. The map was favorable, and clear weather was indicated. The crop news from Argentine was bullish. Buying of May and selling of July was the feature early. The primary receipts at the Southwest were small, December opened at 106 1/2; highest, 110 1/2; lowest, 105 1/2; closing, 110 1/2. May closed at 110 1/2. There was a fair trade in corn, with the interest centering more in contracts for December. The feeling manifested was stronger, and the closing figures were 1 1/2 higher for December and 3/4 better for May. The better tone was attributed chiefly to the strong position of cash corn, better cables and small receipts. The feature was buying of December by shippers. Bids for No. 2 corn were at hand, equal to 2 1/4 cents over December, and holders were not inclined to accept the same. The weather was favorable and the Southwestern markets stronger, December opened at 48 1/2; highest, 49 1/2; lowest, 48 1/2; closing, 49 1/2. May closed at 40 1/2.

At a Virginia Negro Wedding.
A member of the Woman's Literary club was in Virginia and a friend persuaded her to slip into a negro wedding ceremony in a quaint church near the plantation. She snatched up her hat and the two arrived on the scene as the dusky bride and her adorer stood before the preacher. An altar rail with a ledge separated them from the officiating minister, and upon the ledge stood a large glass pitcher of the 25-cent valuation. The ceremony neared completion, satisfactory response had been made by the bride and groom and the clergyman looked around for something to furnish a dramatic climax. His eye fell upon the pitcher, and, solemnly raising it aloft, he said:
"By this glass pitcher, presented to this church by Sister Harriet and Brother Jonathan Sykes, I pronounce you man and wife."

There was a pause of impressive solemnity and then the assemblage, no wise startled by this novel interpolation to the accustomed ritual, pressed around the happy couple with joyful exclamations.—Baltimore Sun.

WHAT IS REGO?
Re-go Tonic Laxative Syrup is a preparation originally put up for physicians' use, and it is still largely prescribed by the best practitioners. Its wonderful cures of Constipation, and all attendant evils, such as Nervous Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness and indigestion, have led the manufacturers to believe that a great service would be rendered to their fellow men by offering to the public this famous medicine in convenient form. They have such faith in the merits of the medicine that they offer a trial bottle free to any one who will cut out this notice and present it to the People's Drug Store.

A SICKLY CHILD.

A delicate constitution exposes a child to all sorts of ailments. Do not waste any more time and money trying to doctor each complaint separately.
Doctor the Constitution.
Vin-Tone takes right hold of any weak system and builds a good healthy foundation.
It puts life and vigor into the body and mind.
That is what the child needs, that is what any person who is weak and sickly needs. Vitality.
People grow thin, pale, even become so ill they are obliged to give up their occupation, when there is nothing wrong with them excepting they are tired, so weak, their vitality is so low. To say that Vin-Tone is worth its weight in gold to those suffering from a lack of energy is to speak lightly of it. It is invaluable as it begins its work with the first dose and in a remarkably short space of time the patient is restored to a healthy, vigorous condition.
Many miserable wrecks have been transformed into strong happy men and women by this marvel of recent medical discoveries, Vin-Tone.
Good for little folks and big folks too. Pleasant to take.

After Everything Else Has Failed.

Dr. Gosson's Kidney and Bladder Cure

After physicians have tried in vain and finally said, "I can't cure you," after dozens of other medicines have not given even temporary relief, in absolute hopelessness, Dr. Gosson's Kidney and Bladder Cure has, as a last resort, been "tried" and never in all its record of forty-two years has it failed to cure any and every disease for which it was intended.

It is positively guaranteed to quickly and permanently cure Bright's Disease, Backache, Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Gout, Weak Heart, every Urinary Disorder, Aching Pains over the Hips and Kidneys, Dimmed Vision, Periodical Headaches, Pain in Urethra, Despondency or "Blues," Sallow Complexion, Foul Breath, Bad Taste in the Mouth, in fact all irregularities caused by and associate symptoms of Bladder and Kidney Trouble in any form. No matter how long you have suffered, nor how terrible your affliction may be, Dr. Gosson's Kidney and Bladder Cure will cure you. It eradicates totally and completely any irregularity or symptom of Kidney and Bladder Trouble and puts those most vital organs in as perfect and healthy condition as in childhood. It never fails.

It Is Guaranteed to Cure

It destroys the very roots of these diseases. It fortifies the body against the attack of disease germs of every kind. It tones up, renews and invigorates the entire system. It is the only remedy in the world which completely and permanently drains out of the blood every particle of Uric Acid, Urates, etc., which cause these terrible diseases. It has cured thousands of others. It will cure you. Why shorten your life by neglect when health can be yours now.

Had Almost Given Up in Despair.

Dr. Gosson's Kidney and Bladder Cure brought Health.

It is with a feeling of thankfulness that I write you this letter, and if it will be of any benefit to suffering humanity, you have my permission to publish it. I was suffering with my kidneys when I saw your advertisement offering a free sample of Dr. Gosson's Kidney and Bladder Cure. I got the sample and was so much benefited by it that I continued taking the medicine, and now I am entirely well. I had tried many things to relieve me of the awful pain in my back and when I had almost given up in despair, Dr. Gosson's Kidney and Bladder Cure brought the relief for which I had so long hoped.

Negaunee Department

HE DIDN'T LIKE CUBA.

Former Republic Captain Had Charge of Mining Operations There.

Captain John Cowling, a well known Republic mining man, visited Negaunee Tuesday, having stopped off here on his way to Wyoming, where he goes to take a position with a mining corporation.

Mr. Cowling has lived at Republic for upwards of thirty years, and was formerly underground captain at the West Republic mine, leaving there to take charge of the Mansfield mine on the Menominee range. While at the latter place he was engaged to go to Cuba to superintend mining work, taking a number of men out with him. Included in the party was Louis Bouse of Republic, a diamond drill man, who is now looking after the drill work for the Junction Development company at Bisbee.

Mr. Bouse was not favorably impressed with Cuba, although his position as master mechanic would have paid him big money. He remained but three days, returning to the states to resume drill work. Captain Cowling remained longer than any of the others in his party, putting in the better part of a year, but he was never thoroughly satisfied. The mining and exploratory work was done at a big disadvantage, and there was little chance for the men or the captain to make a record. The machinery was inadequate and there were many other objectional features.

Mr. Cowling worked at the Republic during the years the late Captain Mitchell of Negaunee was in charge of underground operations. Mrs. Cowling still remains at Republic for the present, but she will join the captain in Wyoming if he decides to remain there permanently. There are a number of other Republic men in the Wyoming mining fields.

TAKING UP FARMS.

Ten or a Dozen Negaunee Men Have Recently Settled Near Palmer.

A good sized farming settlement has sprung up during the past few months some seven miles southeast of Palmer. Most of the settlers are Finns and Scandinavians. The land is being sold at a very reasonable price and on such favorable terms that a man of moderate means can soon pay for a tract by his toil, besides make a good living.

There is a very desirable strip of farming land along the Escanaba river valley, extending from the new settlement to Swanzy. The place is but a few miles from New Finland, where a dozen or more farmers appear to be prospering.

The most objectionable feature of both of these new districts lies in their remoteness from Negaunee. During the greater part of last winter the farmers at New Finland could not drive their teams to town, and the roads were completely filled in until late in the spring. This makes it necessary for them to either haul their supplies in on sleds or put in what they require during the winter before the roads are closed.

GOOD REPORTS FROM THE CHIRICAHUA

S. R. KAUFMAN IS JUST HOME FROM A VISIT OF INSPECTION TO THE PROPERTY.

CAPT. HOATSON GOING OUT

Three Shifts Are Being Worked on a Three-Compartment Shaft—Stock in Company Is Being Very Closely Held.

Captain Tom Hoatson, a director of the Chiricahua Development company, was down from the copper country yesterday consulting with N. M. Kaufman, the president, and S. R. Kaufman, the secretary and treasurer, concerning conditions at the property.

The Chiricahua has been conservatively handled from the beginning, both as regards active development operations and as regards what the officers have had to say of the property for the general public.

Work is being pushed with great energy under Superintendent Knowles. A fine plant of machinery has been installed, sufficient for future needs for some time to come.

The property is located in the Chiricahua mountains, some twenty-seven miles from Bisbee, in a new country, one in which the Chiricahua company is a pioneer.
