BALTIC SQUADRON OPENS HEAVY FIRE ON BRITISH CRAFT

Fleet of Fifty Trawlers, from Hull, Fiercely Attacked in the North Sea.

TWO MEN ARE KILLED AND MANY WOUNDED

Crews of the Smacks, Quietly Engaged in Fishing, Horrified to Suddenly Find Themselves Targets for Russian Guns--Bombardment Lasts Twenty Minutes, Shot Falling Thick and Fast, and Two Boats Are Sunk and Many Seriously Damaged--London Is Startled and Amazed Over News of the Incident, Regarded as an Act of War Unless Satisfactorily Explained and Atoned for, and the Press Demands the Strongest Representations.

Hull, Eng., Oct. 23.—A fleet of fifty fishing boats owned in Hull has been fiercely attacked 200 miles at sea by the Russian Baltic squadron, which is on the way to the Far East.

Two fishing boats sunk, two men decapitated by solid shot, many sailors wounded and great damage done to other boats is the result of the bombardment of the defenseless fishing smacks by the Russian ironclads.

Official information is that shortly after midnight Saturday morning the Russian squadron fell in with the fishing fleet in the North sea. The Russians turned their searchlights on the British vessels for some time, and then opened fire, sinking the steam trawler Cyane and decapitating Skipper Smith and Third Hand Leggett. The boatswain and other sailors on the trawler, who are seriously wounded, are on board the mission ship.

The steam trawlers Moulmen and Mino have arrived at Hull seriously damaged by shots. The Mino has sixteen holes in her hull.

It is thought the Russians must have known the identity of the fishing boats on account of the searchlights and an investigation by the torpedo boats.

The news has created intense excitement at Hull.

The skipper of the Moulmen, which arrived with her flag at half-mast, says the trawlers were fishing 220 miles northeast of the Sprinthead at 1 o'clock Saturday morning when they sighted the warships sailing in line. In the glare of the searchlights the torpedo boats seemed to approach and then steam away.

The fishermen were soon horrified to find themselves targets for the Russian cannon. The bombardment lasted twenty minutes, during which the shot flew thick and fast, tearing holes through the slight hulls and moving down the unprotected fishermen.

When the firing ceased, the battleship steamed southward and the trawlers sent up rockets for help. The Russians kept on toward the south, leaving the fishing boats to aid each other as best they could.

Representatives of the fishing fleet tonight started to consult with the authorities.

From interviews with the trawler crews, it appears that the admiral of the fishing fleet burned green flares to show that they were harmless fishermen, but that these signals were ignored.

The trawler Wren is missing and it is feared that she was sunk. There is a rumor that the "Great Northern fishing fleet" also was chased by the Russians.

Dover, England, Oct. 23.—The Russian Baltic, or second Pacific squadron, under command of Vice Admiral Rojestvsky, has passed westward.

LONDON STARTLED.

North Sea Incident Regarded as Akin to an Act of War.

London, Monday, Oct. 24.—Foreign Minister Lansdowne and M. Benckendorff the Russian ambassador, both were out of town yesterday and all the government offices in London were closed as usual on Sunday, therefore no official view could be gleaned of the firing by the Russian war vessels upon the British fishing fleet in the North sea.

The first reports were regarded as almost incredible. When culminative news no longer left doubt of the general accuracy of the reports, astonishment became bewilderment as to what possible motive could have led the Russian officers into such an extraordinary and inexplicable course of action, which, unless a satisfactory explanation is immediately forthcoming, could be regarded only as an act of war.

This is the view taken editorially by all the morning papers.

The worst feature of the story, as so far as the dispatches from the Far East show, there has been no change in the relative positions of the hostile armies confronting each other on the line of the Shakhe river.

There is an unconfirmed report that a Russian force of 20,000 men has been concentrated at Kanta pass, twenty miles northeast of Liao Yang, which may be indicative of the direction in which General Kuropatkin is likely to strike the next blow.

Upwards of 20,000 of the Russian soldiers wounded in the battle of Shakhe have reached Harbin.

Cold weather is causing suffering to the armies in the field, although it has wrought improvement in the roads.

A report has reached St. Petersburg, but lacks confirmation, that the Port Arthur fleet has left its anchorage in the harbor and has taken up a position in the roadstead.

viewed here, is the heartlessness displayed by the Russian fleet in steaming away without taking the trouble to ascertain even whether their fire had inflicted any damage and without any effort to rescue the victims.

While admitting the necessity of the suspension of judgment pending investigation and explanation, the morning newspapers are unanimous in demanding that the government instruct Ambassador Hardinge to make the strongest representations to the St. Petersburg government and obtain reparation and apology and assurances of the Russian Pacific fleet's good behavior for the future.

It is held that the omission of the Russian fleet to stay its course down the channel to offer any explanation makes the case look exceedingly grave; and the only possible solution of the mystery that has been suggested is that, excited by rumors recently spread of Japan's intentions on the Pacific coast, the Russian gunners yielded to panic and supposed that the trawlers' rockets were signals of the enemy's fleet.

The standard says: "An explanation should be promptly and sternly demanded for the intolerable outrage. The Russian government should be informed that it is expected to recall its ill-starred squadron, first, in order that proper investigation may be held, and, second, to keep it out of harm's way for the future."

The Chronicle declares: "The next twenty-four hours must settle it one way or the other. Only two modes of settlement are possible—either an explanation, apology and generous compensation to the victims' families, or an ultimatum."

Sir Frederick Pollock, an authority on international law, said: "If the facts are as stated, it is an act of war. It must mean an ultimatum or an apology within forty-eight hours or so."

Dispatch Boat Threatened.

London, Monday, Oct. 24.—The Times correspondent at Copenhagen telegraphs: "On Wednesday evening a telegram from the rear for the Russian fleet arrived in care of the Russian consul in the island of Langeland. The consul ordered two fishermen in a motor launch to deliver the dispatch."

"As they approached the admiral's ship, searchlights were thrown on the launch and some blank cartridges were fired. The Russians forbade the launch to come nearer, and sent a boat to take the dispatch."

NO CHANGE AT THE FRONT.

All Reported Quiet Except for a Desultory Artillery Duel.

Mukden, Sunday, Oct. 23.—While no pitched battle has occurred during the last few days, the two armies are kept in touch with one another, holding the positions they occupied when the big battle ended. There is no evidence that the Russian army will rush north, as was the case after the battle of Liao

Yang. In fact, the Russians have another line of defenses to fall back on in the event that they are forced out of their present positions.

Desultory Artillery Duel.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 23.—Lieutenant General Sakharov, General General Kuropatkin's chief of staff, in a dispatch dated Oct. 22 says: "There is no serious fighting, but there has been a desultory artillery duel throughout the day. Russian batteries bombarded the portion of the village of Linshupu occupied by the Japanese as well as Shakhe station and the village of Lamunting, while the enemy bombarded the portion of Linshupu in occupation of the Russians and the village of Shakhe."

Russian Casualties Enormous.

London, Oct. 23.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says the Russian general staff has received from General Kuropatkin a report showing that the total number of Russian wounded taken over by the Red Cross and kindred departments since the beginning of the battle to Oct. 18 was 35,868. The number killed is unknown exactly, because many men are yet missing, but the total is estimated to have been 12,000.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The Japanese legation has received the following: "Marshal Oyama reports that the investigation completed after Oct. 22, regarding the Russian losses at the battle of Shakhe river, shows that there were about 500 prisoners and 10,550 dead bodies. The trophies of the battle are thirty-five guns, 6,920 shells, 5,574 rifles and 78,000 rounds of ammunition, etc. The dead of the enemy were all buried with military honors. The Russian total casualties are estimated at 60,000. Further investigation is still proceeding."

London, Oct. 23.—A dispatch from Tokio to the Japanese legation says Field Marshal Oyama reports that there was no change in the situation at the front Oct. 22. He adds that the left army thus far has captured a total of forty-three Russian guns. There is reason to believe that the total Japanese casualties fell below 20,000, killed and wounded. The Russians took fourteen guns, of which five were mountain cannon.

RECENT FIGHTING REVIEWED.

Situation at the Front as a Result of the Battle of Shakhe.

Washington, Oct. 23.—What has been done at the front in Manchuria since General Kuropatkin started the movement which precipitated what is likely to be known in history as "the battle of Shakhe" is reviewed by an impartial observer as follows:

On Oct. 2 Kuropatkin issued his bombastic "order of the day" in which he intimated that the day of retreats was over, and from that time on the Russian army would fight its way southward to effect the relief of Port Arthur. By Oct. 5 the operation was well under way. Starting from the line of the Hun in three columns, one moving south along the Mandarin road toward Ventai; another along the wagon road to the Yentai mines, and the third along the road to Lentsiaputz, the first rush carried the Japanese out of all their advanced positions, including places that they occupied immediately after the battle of Liao Yang and some that were in their possession before that fight.

The town of Shakhe, fifteen miles south of Mukden, which had been dismantled by the Japanese, was seized and the bridge across the railroad repaired. The center column moving south along the road drove in the Japanese outposts, covering the Yentai mines on Oct. 6. At the same time the Russian left secured possession of a hill commanding Bentsiaputz, which the Japanese had strongly fortified. By some oversight the Japanese had failed to occupy this hill, and as a result were forced to evacuate Bentsiaputz and later Bentshu pass, still further to the south. Quickly recovering from the unexpected weight of the Russian advance, and before the units of the Russian forces had established communication with each other, the Japanese generals concentrated their forces, and by a masterly counter-advance began to force the Russians northward again.

For ten days the Japanese continued to push the Russians back. Owing to the length of the front the actions were rather a series of battles than one great battle. The fighting at every point of contact was of the fiercest nature. Positions were taken and retaken many times, and the slaughter has been frightful. It seemed probable at one time that the Japanese might win a decisive victory, but on the tenth day of the battle Kuropatkin rallied his forces on the Shakhe river and stemmed the Japanese advance. The Russians even recrossed the river and in a desperate fight recaptured Lone Tree Hill, a precipitous height which was fortified and held by a whole division of Japanese troops. This position being the key to the Russian southwest front, the Japanese made strenuous efforts to recapture it, but without success. On Monday night last the Russians made an attack on the entire Japanese front, but it was repulsed.

The situation now is that the Russians occupy the line of the Shakhe from the town of Shakhe on their right to a little south of Bentsiaputz on their left. As the Russian starting point was the Hun it will be seen that at the present moment the Russians are in possession of a line ten miles south of that occupied when the movement began. On the other hand this has been accomplished at tremendous cost, and the Russian strategy involved in the operation has been completely frustrated. The conclusions to be drawn from this great battle is that any attempt for the present at least to relieve Port Arthur from the north is futile, that the rank and file of the two armies are among the bravest soldiers of any time, that the Japanese artillery is better served, and that as strategists and tacticians the Japanese commanders are rather better than the Russian generals. But the close character of the fighting does not warrant the Japanese cry of "on to Harbin" until Oyama is very heavily reinforced.

END NEAR AT PORT ARTHUR.

Correspondent With Japs Says Garrison Cannot Hold Out Much Longer.

The Foo, Oct. 23.—The Japanese, on the afternoon of Oct. 16, resumed the attack on the Russian outer works at Kihlung mountain. After four hours fighting they captured a number of the Russian trenches and one small hill.

Headquarters Third Japanese Army, Before Port Arthur, Oct. 11 (via Chefoo, Oct. 15, via Shanghai).—The end is not far off. After five months of attempts to relieve Port Arthur from the north is futile, that the rank and file of the two armies are among the bravest soldiers of any time, that the Japanese artillery is better served, and that as strategists and tacticians the Japanese commanders are rather better than the Russian generals. But the close character of the fighting does not warrant the Japanese cry of "on to Harbin" until Oyama is very heavily reinforced.

POPE PIUS SURPRISED.

Anti-Church Vote in French Parliament Larger Than Expected.

Rome, Oct. 23.—Pope Pius X. spent most of last night waiting for telegrams from Monsignor Montagnini, auditor of the papal nunciature of Paris, about the discussion in the French chamber of deputies. His holiness was not surprised at the statement and speech of Premier Combs, which were much as had been expected, but he had not thought, from private information he had received, that the premier's majority in the chamber would be so large as it was.

The pope and his entourage attribute the near success of Premier Combs, who, according to reports received at the vatican, are determined to bring about the separation of the church and state in order to be free to undertake a campaign with the object of destroying all religious feeling in France. When the news of the action of the chamber of deputies was received, the pontiff exclaimed, "God's will be done."

PARKER CHARGES DENIED IN TOTE

GOVERNOR OF PHILIPPINES, LUKE WRIGHT, DEMOCRAT, TAKES THE NOMINEE TO TASK.

CABLES LONG STATEMENT

SAYS CONDITIONS IN ISLANDS ARE OF THE BEST.

Declares Candidate Grossly Deceived and His Assertions the Veriest Nonsense Without a Scintilla of Truth to Support Them.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Governor Luke Wright, of the Philippines, at the request of Secretary of War Taft today sent a cable denial to the speech of Alton B. Parker in which the Democratic candidate for the presidency averred that the Philippines were in a state of terror, ruin, starvation, sickness, corruption, debt and tyrannical oppression.

Governor Wright, who is a Democrat, appointed by President Roosevelt from Tennessee, denies the charges at length and in full, ending his dispatch with this sentence: "Judge Parker has evidently been grossly deceived."

Governor Wright's reply, in substance, is as follows:

"1. There are no more defaulters in the Philippine service than in any other. The total default since July, 1901, the beginning of the civil government, were $78,559, with no ultimate loss to the United States, which is protected by insurance. There is a comprehensive civil service law, rigidly enforced. The defaulters, with few exceptions, were appointed during the disturbed conditions.

"2. Nothing warrants the statement that towns are in ruins or lands out of cultivation. The demand for labor exceeds the supply, and wages have increased. The epidemics of two and three years ago killed 70 per cent of the farm animals, reduced the area of cultivated land and caused distress which the commission has relieved. The present crop in all lines is exceptional; good and the prices are remunerative. There is no lack of food. The enrollment of the public schools last year was 184,202, and this year is 293,358.

"3. Taxation is not oppressive. The tariff duties are 18 per cent, as against 25 per cent under Spain. The Spanish taxes are also less than the Spanish. The receipts are honestly applied.

"4. Ladroneism has been suppressed except in isolated regions. There is no disorder or disposition to violence among the bulk of the people. Americans can and do go everywhere without danger. The troops have been reduced from eighteen to twelve thousand. Life and property are as safe as in the United States. Samar is a slight exception to this general statement, as it is inhabited by some half wild men, who, however, are being rapidly suppressed.

"5. Statements that newspapers are bought or browbeaten and that free expression of opinion is denied are wholly unsupported by the facts. Free press and free speech are recognized as in the United States. Political questions, including immediate independence, are every day freely discussed without interference. Plays are not censored. A year ago a crack-brained playwright produced a play in Tagalog full of insurrectionary utterances and culminating in the tearing down and trampling down of the American flag on the stage. The playwright and some of the fellow actors were prosecuted and convicted for this. This is the only case of the kind. It is equally untrue that officers are spied on by detectives in the guise of servants or otherwise. All these statements are the veriest nonsense without a scintilla of fact to support them."

DEMOCRATS HARMONIOUS.

National Committee Issues a Statement Claiming Victory.

New York, Oct. 23.—A statement was given out today by the Democratic national committee after a consultation participated in by Thomas T. Tamm, William F. Sheehan and Delany Nicoll. It says:

"Our efforts during the past three months have been devoted to organizing and harmonizing the party in this state, hitherto considered doubtful by reason of former dissensions. That work is now finished, and it is possible for the first time to reach a conclusion based upon a systematic canvass.

"In every state and in all sections the Democrats have buried their differences and are working harmoniously and enthusiastically for the ticket. In the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, Maryland, Delaware and West Virginia, and in many of the Western states, our organization is now more complete and effective than ever before."

MARQUETTE, MICH., OCT. 24.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

The weather of the past few days has been a warning that winter is just around the corner. Is your coal bin filled?

"Uncle Joe" Cannon is unkind. He even claims West Virginia. What does he suppose Cassaway Davis has been doing all this time?

"The big stick" furnishes an excellent text for Democratic platform sermons, but the fact remains that the people feel secure when they know the stick is of adequate proportions.

Could there be any more eloquent testimony that President Roosevelt is a man of peace that his announced intention to invite the powers to name delegates to the proposed Hague conference?

If the Hague tribunal could devise some means of ending a permanent fog over the eastern battlefields it might accomplish the ends of mediation without risking a rebuff at the instance of Mr. Nicholas.

As the Democrats are to have but one meeting in Marquette they are wise in bringing in their head liner, Woodbridge N. Ferris, their candidate for governor. Mr. Ferris will be courteously received and listened to. In the upper peninsula, at least, political preferences are not allowed to override good manners.

The republic of Panama may have been born under American auspices, as our Democratic friends are prone to assert, but it seems to have obtained from somewhere all the restlessness and discontent of the typical Central of South American state, in which Government of the people, for the people and by the people is interpreted to mean illimitable right to revolt.

"Pop" Goodell, than whom primary reform could claim no more consistent and unreasoning opponent, was last week made a sacrificial offering to the Wayne county primary law, and was voted out of public life by a margin that conclusively proved that "Pop" has been representing anything but his constituents. It is to be feared, too, that there will be mighty few tears shed for "Pop," even among his erstwhile friends of the senate.

A good deal of fun is poked at Grover Cleveland, and every once and a while he comes in for a blast of vitriolic abuse, but he holds a warm place in the hearts of the American people. No man is more eagerly or more respectfully listened to. His Carnegie hall audience was a tribute of which he may well be proud. If Grover were speaking often the Republicans would have to devote a good deal of attention to carefully following his trail.

The general participation of Democrats in the Republican nominations under Wayne county's primary election law last week has had a perceptible effect on many Republicans who have heretofore been inclined to sympathize with the radical primary reform program. When fact is faced with it, they do not like the idea of having Democrats exercising an important, if not decisive, influence in what are supposed to be their party councils. If they will only study the workings of the Wayne law last week carefully they will doubtless conclude that the Republican platform goes quite far enough on this much-discussed question.

The Grand Rapids Press considers that Colonel Robert J. Bates' letters to the militia captains of the state, urging that they do whatever lies in their power to line up the militiamen for Fred M. Werner and the rest of the Republican state ticket, are a "ground for removal." But who would want to push a case against Colonel Bates? Certainly not the Democrats; his fine Italian work will benefit them, if anyone. On the other hand the Republicans are prevented from moving in self-protection by the sentimental reason that the colonel himself is a Republican and that his intentions were probably good. They can only pray that he won't do it again.

The jury in the case against "Doc" Ames disagreed, after being out two days. "Doc" who is charged with systematizing the levies on the disorderly housewives of Minneapolis during his term as mayor, is again on trial for the fourth time, a new case having been presented immediately on the jury's announcement of its failure to disagree. When "Doc" and he's a sweet-scented citizen, if there ever was one, ran for the nomination for congress in the Minneapolis district recently, he received the second highest number of votes and just barely failed of success, under the workings of Minnesota's primary election law. The query naturally arises "where would 'Doc' have come out if the former caucus and convention system had been in vogue?" He would never have been heard from.

The Pittsburgh Steamship company, the lake transportation branch of the Street corporation, has placed one of the largest shipping contracts ever let on the Great Lakes, namely, for four great steel steamers, each larger than the Wolvin, which broke all cargo records in the season just closed. The Pittsburgh company is determined to keep abreast of the development of the lake marine, and its new orders indicate a policy of getting in position to handle all the corporation's ore.

One of the most interesting contests incident to the selection of the Republican and Democratic tickets in Wayne county last week was that between Edwin Denby and Truman H. Newberry, both aspirants for the Republican nomination to congress, to run against Alfred Lucking, the present Democratic representative, who received the unanimous Democratic vote. Newberry possesses a brilliant and he opened it freely in his canvass. It is estimated that he put $20,000 into the campaign. He tore over the city in a big motor car, scattering cigars and dollars in his train. Denby opposed to these strenuous efforts the personal work of a big hand of college chums and intimate friends. It was friendship against cash, and friendship won. The nominee is in every way creditable to the party and should make a strong fight against Mr. Lucking, the lone Democrat of the Michigan delegation.

The deer season will not open for two weeks, but the numerous reports of accidental shootings from various parts of the upper peninsula indicate for one thing that the game law is being freely violated by too anxious hunters and for another that the same slanting-fire-at anything methods that have been responsible for so much killing of hunters in recent years will be in vogue again this season. A half dozen or more hunting casualties have already been reported; fortunately none of them have had a fatal issue, but this luck will not long be noted if hunters continue to be reckless. These accidents previous to the opening of the season indicate the necessity for more game protection, and they should also be accepted as a warning by men who plan to go into the woods during the forthcoming legal season. They accent the necessity of being slow enough on the trigger to be absolutely sure of the target before the bullet is sped.

THE OLD AGE PENSION. An order by the Pennsylvania Railway company forbidding the employment of men over forty-five years of age a few weeks ago called out considerable comment which was distinctly unfavorable, and also, probably, unjust. The Pennsylvania company has instituted a system of pensions for its employees which includes men who have reached the age of seventy years and also employees who have remained in the employ of the company for stated periods. The order prohibiting the employment of new men above forty-five had reference to this pension system, and was presumably issued to prevent burdening the pension rolls with men who become incapacitated after a very brief period of employment.

This pension system of the Pennsylvania company is the first attempt to do anything of the kind in this country on an extensive scale, and the working of the system will be watched with much interest. Its adoption speaks well for the humanity and benevolence of the officers of the company. Whether its establishment, however, is a cause for general rejoicing may be debated.

The German government has established a system of labor insurance which is much more comprehensive than the Pennsylvania company's plan, and other countries are considering pensions for all laboring men who attain a certain age. The German system is founded on the great fact that the only salable thing the workman has is his work. When he loses his capacity for work he loses everything. Hence the necessity for insurance which will save him from poverty. It is unfair, also, it is argued, that the workman should bear alone the risks of his calling when that is one which involves great danger.

The German government now pays, or sees that the workman is paid, whenever he laid up through an accident, not resulting from his own gross carelessness, an amount equal to two-thirds of his wages. The injured man also receives free medical attendance. The money is obtained from an assessment levied on all employers engaged in the line of industry in which the injured man is employed.

This kind of accident insurance possesses an element of justice which commends it. Old age pensions, however, are founded on the supposition that workmen during a life of toil are unable to save anything for old age. In some of the Old World countries, this assumption may be well founded. It is to be hoped, however, that it will never be true of America, and if the Pennsylvania's system is founded on that basis it is an evidence of conditions which are regrettable indeed. If, however, it is established for the purpose of encouraging men to remain in the system's employ and to secure competent and faithful service, it merits only praise.

SOME SEASONABLE ADVICE. It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by the Peoples' Drug Store.

Taxation Without Representation. In the old days in Vermont many of the towns were without facilities for carrying their dead from their earthy habitations to the burying ground. Therefore the good people went from house to house soliciting contributions for the purchase of a town hearse. It was a difficult matter to raise the necessary $40 or $50 in the town of B. It was finally accomplished. At each recurring funeral different farmers loaned horses to draw the hearse.

In the course of time the old hearse came to the end of its labor, even as those whom it had carried to the burying ground had come to the end of their labors. The subscription committee made a second canvass of the town, and visited an old farmer who had contrived towards the first hearse and laid before him the necessity of a second hearse. Old Graybeard regarded them narrowly, and then said with determination— "Me and my family ain't never had no use of Collier hearse, and I don't cater late for pay out a dern cent more." To Ham and Eggs. Into the vulgar eye thou may'st appear A simple, common article of food; With gentle taste in what concerneth cheer, A combination wherein both inhere Substance, perhaps, but never such as wooed That staled palate from its slobber mood.

To new excess and deep potatoes dear, So to the vulgar! But the poet thinks Of how the mind of man forever links You two together, an immortal pair! Even as Aspinx and great Princes.

Are named in fame; Aeland and Eloise, Paola and Francesca, in despair! H. Which spring to being first from out the void, Or ham or eggs? Which had the elder birth, And waited, darling, on the desolate earth, With Rattle-like yearning, sick, grief un-aided, Until it saw, with spirit overjoyed, Come its ally to fill the dearth, And make existence all the trouble worth.

ONE OF MANY. The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Greene's Standard Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower restores the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect indigestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. Stafford Drug Co.

THE CHEERFUL IDIOT. "I notice," said the Tired Citizen, "that a New York woman was holding a pair of trousers belonging to one of her lodgers until he should pay her her room rent." "Well," butted in the Cheerful Idiot, "it's nothing new for trousers to be rent."—Baltimore American.

Value of Confederate Money. That Confederate money was never taken seriously is well illustrated in the following story told by the late General John B. Gordon, and which, as far as can be ascertained, has never appeared in print. One day during a temporary cessation of hostilities between the opposing forces a tall, strapping Yankee rode into the Confederate camp on a sorry looking old horse to effect a trade for some tobacco. "Hello, Yankee!" hailed one of a number of Confederate soldiers looting about on the grass in front of a tent, "that's a right smart horse you got there." "Think so?" returned the Yankee, "yes, what'll you take for him?" "Oh, I don't know." "Well, I'll give you $7,000 for him," countered the Confederate. "You go to blazes!" indignantly returned the Yankee; "I've just paid $10,000 of your money to have him carried."—John Ed Quinn in Lippincott's.

SKIN DISEASES

The Outcropping of Bad Blood.

While not always painful these are aggravating beyond expression. With few exceptions they are worse in spring and summer, when the system begins to thaw out and the skin is reacting and making extra efforts to throw off the poisons that have accumulated during the winter months. Then boils and pimples, rashes and eruptions of every conceivable kind make their appearance, and Eczema and Tetter—the twin terrors of skin diseases—Nettle Rash, Poison Oak and Ivy, and such other skin troubles as usually remain quiet during the cold weather, break out afresh to torment and distract by their fearful burning, itching and stinging. A course of S. S. S. will purify and enrich the blood, reinforce and tone up the general system, and carry off the bodily impurities through the proper channels. The skin, with good blood to nourish it, remains smooth and free of all disfiguring eruptions. Send for our book on diseases of the skin, and write us if you desire medical advice or any special information. This will cost you nothing. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

S. S. S. is a good medicine. I keep it in the house all the while. It is an excellent tonic to give strength to the system and tone to all the organs. It gives appetite and energy and makes one feel better in every way. I have found it also an excellent blood purifier. For months I was troubled with an itching skin eruption on the face, and tried specialists and many remedies to get a cure, but S. S. S. is the only medicine that seemed to relieve. I am now comparatively free of this eruption. I think a great deal of your medicine, believing it to be the best blood purifier and tonic known to the world to-day. MRS. FRANK HORNBER, 1330 East Seventh St.

ALL SORTS. Rats give trouble in the London underground railway by eating the rubber insulation of the wires. Clay molding in schools is condemned by Nazagaki, the doctor, as "worse than slates" as a means of transmitting infectious disease. A German in Mannheim, Baden, is said to have invented a cheap and effective substitute for leather and to have sold his invention to an American firm for $200,000.

The year of Little Hutton, England, does not like makers of tombstones to cut their names on the stones, but allow them to do so on stones placed in the graveyard if they pay $2.50 for the advertisement. There is no organized community of Jews anywhere in Japan excepting at Nagasaki, but the synagogue there was built by a Japanese lady who had married a Jew. When he died she built the synagogue in his memory. Paul Reimers, a German decorator, was so fond of reading his Bible in working hours that the foreman took it away from him, and found, between the leaves, a large amount of gold leaf. Reimers had been stealing regularly.

A number of young men in London have organized a club for the encouragement of a revival of breeches and stockings for men's wear instead of trousers. Fifty of these pioneers have arranged for a dinner at the Carlton hotel, when all will wear knee breeches. A Londoner lent a street bookmaker his watch so that the bookmaker might be sure that he did not take bets on a race that had already been run. The bookmaker kept the watch and the lender sued for it. The court decided that, as it had been lent for an unlawful purpose, it could not be recovered at law.

It is interesting to learn just now, when there is so much being done to prevent the spread of tuberculosis by expectation, that the Argentine health department has been working on different lines to accomplish the same end. Simple instructions explaining how to prevent the spread of tuberculosis have been printed on the labels of more than 8,000,000 match boxes sent out as an experiment.

Councilman J. P. Davenport of Los Angeles recently was removed from office under what is known as the "recall" feature of the city charter. His successor was chosen at a special election. The charter gives the electors of a ward the right to "recall" a councilman who has acted contrary to their interests. Upon the presentation of a petition to the city clerk having the signatures of 40 per cent of the bona fide voters of the ward the council must then order a special election. The available farm land in Indian territory is estimated at 15,000,000 acres. This figure is taken from the records of the Dawes commission. Of this 15 per cent was in cultivation last year. There will be an increase of at least 5 per cent this year. There are about 2,000,000 acres of land where pine is being raised in quantities, and there is an abundance of hardwoods of all kinds. The latest statistics obtainable give the value of farm animals at $55,000,000. The per cent of the population engaged in agriculture is exceeded in only three states—Mississippi, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

MILLIONAIRES' POOR STOMACH. The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Greene's Standard Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. ONE OF MANY. H. A. Tisdale, of Summerton, S. C., suffered for twenty years with the Piles. Specialists were employed and many remedies used but relief and permanent good was found only in the use of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. This is only one of the many, many cures that have been effected by this wonderful remedy. In buying Witch Hazel Salve it is only necessary to see that you get the genuine DeWitt's, made by E. C. DeWitt & Co. in Chicago, and a cure is certain. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures all kinds of piles, cuts, burns, bruises, eczema, tetter, ringworm, skin diseases, etc. Sold by the Stafford Drug Co.

ORDERS FOUR BIG BOATS.

The most important contract for new ships ever placed on the great lakes has been placed with the American Shipbuilding company by President H. Conly of the Plishing Steamship company, the lake end of the United States Steel corporation.

The contract calls for the building of four steamers, the largest ever constructed on fresh water. They will be duplicates in size, costing $400,000 each, or $1,720,000 for the four ships. The steamers will be nine feet longer than the Augustus B. Wolvin, which has annexed all records for large cargoes since going into commission last spring, and will rank high in carrying capacity among the shipping of the world.

On a draft of nineteen feet of water the new boats will carry 10,000 tons of freight, and with a twenty-five foot channel, to which the steamers are adapted, this cargo could be greatly exceeded.

Two of the steamers are to be built at the yards of the Chicago Ship Building company at South Chicago, but it will not yet be decided where the keels of the other two will be laid. According to the contract the new ships are to be delivered, ready for service, between May 1 and July 1, 1905. It is estimated that the four steamers, which will be engaged in the iron trade to South Chicago, Lorain and Conneaut, will be able to deliver 500,000 tons in an ordinary season. The new boats will measure 569 feet long over all, 549 feet keel, 36 feet beam and 31 feet deep. They will be built in the style known as the 21-foot center hatch, with semi-straight incline hopper system, having thirty-four hatches, with no bulkheads in the hold.

The estimated water ballast capacity is 8,500 tons. The engines will be triple expansion, with cylinders 24 1/2, 39 and 65 inches, with a common shaft of 42 inches.

There will be two Scotch boilers, each 15 by 11 1/2 feet, fitted with Ellis and Eames draft, and allowed 170 pounds pressure.

TWO BANKRUPT SALES
NOW IN PROGRESS

The Opera House Block is taxed to its utmost capacity. Both main floors and basement are spread with bargains. The combination of the A. T. Van Alstyn stock of Marquette, and the B. H. Lambert New York stock, an aggregation of $70,000 in clean, desirable merchandise, enables us to supply our patrons with almost any article of wearing apparel for young or old. Either of these stocks, if retailed alone at bankrupt prices, should merit the attention of the public for miles around.

We are selling TWO bankrupt stocks at the same time, and at the same place. When did the people of Marquette have a like opportunity before? When will a like opportunity be presented again? The confusion and great rush of business attending the opening of the opera house store last Wednesday resulted in a great many delays in deliveries of parcels and our service was necessarily unsatisfactory to some extent to customers. Our store is now in good running order and a much improved system will be employed from now on.

This week we will place on sale several lots of merchandise that were not ready for sale in our opening and still a number of lines that we did not place on sale last week for want of space, and again we have gone over the entire stock and marked still lower a great quantity of goods in order to insure the continuance of fast selling all this week.

IISHPEMING OUT OF RACE.

Menominee High School football team into Camp Saturday.

The Menominee High School football team gave the Iishpeming players and fans a surprise Saturday afternoon. It was generally supposed that Iishpeming would win, as usual, but the tables were turned, the score being 6 to 0 in favor of the visitors. It was an exceptionally hard fought contest, and had it been a dry day it is doubtful if Menominee, which was the heavier team and thus the best "moulder," would have secured. The spectators manifested more interest in the game than in any previously played this season, and despite the very disagreeable weather the attendance was fairly large. Iishpeming is now out of the championship race, but several more games will be played.

Menominee made its touchdown about the middle of the first half. The visitors showed superior strength over their lighter opponents early in the game. Their line was strong and the local players could not bend it back for more than a yard or two at a time. Several times they didn't even do that, and were frequently forced to punt. Iishpeming fumbled considerably, perhaps twice as often as Menominee, the players being unable to hold the wet ball.

The ball was in Iishpeming's territory during the greater part of the game, particularly in the first half. Several times the Menominee team rushed it to Iishpeming's line, but the local players were held on the one-yard line. After two trials at the line, making less than three yards, a punt was attempted. A Menominee man broke through one of the guards and blocked it. Gordon touched the ball, but a Menominee man secured it. If Gordon had secured the ball, Menominee would have had a touch-back, counting two points, instead of a touchdown, scoring five. Goal was kicked.

In the second half Iishpeming played a much improved game, but Menominee easily had the better of the contest. The team's weight and excellent individual and team playing counted heavily against Iishpeming, but the boys who fought for the blue put up a hard fight. They tried every possible trick to get the ball over Menominee's line. The visitors were satisfied with one touchdown and took no chances in the second half.

The fans on the side lines roared, Beswick, the Menominee umpire, considerably. He was charged with favoring his own team all through the game, but the Iishpeming captain offered no strong protests. Max Barber was the referee, and both teams were well satisfied with his decisions.

Menominee will now likely play Escanaba, the winner being matched against the strongest team in the upper country. Superintendent Scribner is endeavoring to secure the Ironwood team for a game here next Saturday.

PARMALEE-JOHNSON.

Popular Couple United in Marriage at Virginia, Minn.

The Virginia (Minn.) correspondent of the Duluth News-Tribune has this to say of the marriage of Frank "Ed" Johnson, formerly of Iishpeming, at Virginia last week.

In the presence of a large number of friends, Miss Frances Lucy Parmelee, of Franklin, and Frank Edward Johnson, of Virginia, were united in marriage at the First Presbyterian church last evening, Rev. J. M. Todd performing the ceremony.

Miss Parmelee is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Parmelee, and Mr. Johnson for several years has been connected with the Mesaba properties of the Republic Iron & steel company as mining engineer and chemist. The church was handsomely decorated for the occasion in festoons of stag moss and autumn leaves.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lehmann's wedding march. The attendants were Messrs. O. A. Poirier, P. G. Gottle, Thomas Langman and O. Harold Griggs, ushers; Misses Edna Parmelee, Ruth Butler, Gladys Parmelee, and Ethel Whiting, flower girls; Ruth M. Young, ring bearer; Mesdames Alverson, Malmgren, and Hearn, attend in their wedding gowns, matrons of honor; Miss Mattie Logan, in cream silk and carrying the train; bridesmaid, and Miss Elsie Elmquist, a sister of the groom, attired in white chiffon and carrying a bouquet of pink roses, maid of honor. The bride accompanied by her father followed. The groom preceded by Mr. Todd, and was escorted by Bert Trebblock, of Iishpeming, best man, entered from an alcove at the left side of the auditorium, the bridal party passing beneath arches of green and autumn leaves and meeting at the altar, Gladys Parmelee, and Ethel Whiting, the young couple repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Baile, of Lake Boulevard, where they received the congratulations of their many friends, Mrs. Baile entertaining from 8:30 until 11.

A delicious luncheon was served. Mesdames E. D. Parmelee, C. C. Butler, D. B. McDonald and D. E. Cuppernill, presiding at the tables, while Misses Hazel Ostberg, Susan Pratt, Ruth Butler, Gladys Parmelee, Ethel Whiting, and Edna Parmelee assisted in serving.

Later the young couple drove to Bull, from which point they left this morning for a visit, with northern Michigan friends and will also visit St. Louis exposition before their return.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are both very popular young people, and the best wishes of many friends will follow them in their life. They will be at home at Franklin after November 20.

IISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Albert Trebblock has returned from Virginia and other points on the Mesaba range.

W. P. Bolden and W. T. Patter spent part of last week at Lansing on legal business.

The frame has been raised for the dwelling Simon Wahlman is erecting on North Third street.

Dr. McViechie has returned from the east, where he spent the greater part of last week on business.

Miss Esther Cronin has taken a position as stenographer with the John W. Joachim Hardware company.

Dr. J. Vandevanter, J. H. Bargh and Manville Jenks, and wives, spent the latter part of last week at Camp Nine.

Mr. J. Leonard Johnson and daughter, Miss Elsie, returned Friday from Virginia, Minn., where they spent four or five days.

Joe Collick, who captured a racoon one day last week, will send the animal either to Presque Isle or Grand Island, likely the former.

The Iishpeming City band gave a very pleasing concert Saturday evening at Braastad's Hall. The attendance was quite as large as expected.

C. J. Byrns, wife and son, Charles, will go to Hancock today to attend the funeral of Rudolph Schroeder, Mrs. Byrns' uncle, who died yesterday.

Ben Hendricks and his company played to two very fair houses at the Iishpeming theater in "The Queen" Saturday. The play gave good satisfaction.

The Midwinter club will give the first of its winter series of dances next Friday evening at the Woodmen's hall, Anderson block. Trombly's orchestra will furnish the music.

Saturday was an unusually busy day with the local merchants. The workingmen at most of the mines were paid during the week, and there was a genuine rush for winter goods.

Henry Armstrong, who was off on a vacation trip, has returned to his position as conductor on the Chicago & Northwestern passenger train between Iishpeming and Green Bay.

Daniel Oie, rope splitter at the Cleveland Bank mine, was caught between an ore car and some timbers Thursday, receiving injuries that will keep him from work for some weeks. Mr. Oie is an old resident of this city.

J. H. Kennedy, late of Houghton, and a former resident of Marquette, has been shooting gallery in the Trann block, Main street. The night he was out at the Braastad gallery, which is one of the best in the north country.

A number of prominent Republicans of this city attended the Burrows rally at Negaunee Saturday night. The meeting was the best ever held in the city. Mr. Burrows spent part of Saturday here in company with Congressman H. O. Young and others.

C. J. Byrns arrived home Saturday from Rock Island, Ills. During his three weeks' absence from the city he visited the World's Fair, New York and other points, including by attending a meeting of the board of directors of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Thomas Manney, who has been looking after the outdoor work of the water works system for the board of public works has given up his position. He has held the job for the past twelve years and was the favorite of the board of directors of the water works of the Modern Woodmen of America.

W. H. Hopkins, who has been at the Milwaukee office of The Wallace H. Hopkins company the greater part of the time since the office opened nearly a month ago, is expected home this week. Both offices have been rushed with business since the advance in the prices of Romanza Circle stocks started some weeks ago.

The funeral of the late Captain W. H. Downing, who died at Iishpeming, Minn., Friday morning, was held here yesterday afternoon from the Division Street Methodist church, and was largely attended. Members of the Old Fellows, Temple of Honor and Juvenile Temperance societies, turned out in a body. The Temple of Honor had charge of the obsequies.

TWO STRONG ATTRACTIONS.

Big Comic Opera Wednesday—"Quincy Adams Sawyer" Thursday.

The Kirk La Shelle Comic Opera company, with Sophie Brandt as prima donna, will present "The Princess Chic" in this city next Wednesday evening.

"The Princess Chic" has everywhere met with the same enthusiastic approval which first characterized its presentation in New York. The story deals with medieval days, and incidentally with the quarrel of Louis XI of France and Charles the Bold of Burgundy.

Princess Chic of Normandy is herself a mythical character, but is thoroughly part of that romantic era, although a fanciful creation. It is her intervention which enables Charles to hold his feudal possessions against the machinations of Louis. Although the story is consistent and sequent throughout, it is full of fun and music. Kirk La Shelle, librettist and proprietor, has secured a most accurate scenic mounting and has costumed this chorus in the real Frank Danieles style. Miss Brandt's role, that of the princess, gives excellent opportunity for her marvelous soprano voice. One of the most popular vocal numbers in "The Princess Chic" is a solo for George C. Callahan, the leading basso, entitled, "War Is a Beautiful Jade". The solo is accompanied by the entire strength of the male chorus of the company. The sale of seats opens tomorrow morning.

There has probably not been such an instantaneous theatrical success in years as the dramatization of "Quincy Adams Sawyer" which will be seen here Thursday evening. The plan was to make a truly unique play, not a mere drama with country characters and scenes, and this proclaimed as a country play. In no line, situation or scene, does the play get away from a distinctive New England country atmosphere. The story is simple and sweet, there is nothing approaching a villain or an adventurer in the cast. The play does not appeal to the reason in any sense, but rather to the heart. The seat sale will open Wednesday morning. The prices will be from twenty-five cents to $1.

AT THE SELLWOOD BLOCK.

Preparations are being made for the erection of an extension to the Sellwood block immediately back of the postoffice department. The addition will bring that part of the building in line with the rear of the stores occupied by Sellwood & Co., E. P. Tilton, F. A. Baseman will be put under the addition, and a steam heating plant installed. Ground will be broken today.

The improvements will put the block in first-class condition. Several hundred dollars were recently spent, equipping it with fire escapes and other equipment suggested by the board of building inspectors.

FOOTBALL TEAM ENTERTAINED.

The members of the Menominee High school football team were entertained Friday evening by the Misses Edith Joachim, Edna Newett, Daisy Nelson and Elsie Johnson at the home of John W. Joachim, North Main street. A number of the young ladies' Iishpeming friends were also present. The evening was very pleasantly spent. A chafing dish luncheon was served.

HOP TOMORROW NIGHT.

Members of the Iishpeming court, Catholic Order of Foresters, expect a large attendance at their annual hop tomorrow night at Woodman's hall Anderson block. Trombly's orchestra will furnish the music. Tickets will be fifty cents per couple, and dancing will start promptly at 9 o'clock.

RIVALS WERE EASY.

The Peerless football team had easy work with the Rivals yesterday afternoon at Union park, the score at the end of the second half being 48 to 0. The Rivals will not play again this week. The Peerless players are anxious for games with some good teams.

One of the very oldest men in the state is Levi Rivers of Cooks, Schoolcraft county. He was born near Plattsburg, N. Y., June 5, 1804. His father's name was Francis Rivers. His grandfather, LaRiviere, came to America with LaFayette and was in his command for some four or five years. Some five years after the birth of Levi Rivers his father went to Montreal and was there employed by a man named McDonald with the Hudson Bay company. He remained with McDonald until 1812, when he was drafted into the British army. This displeased him and his statement that he was an American did not get him his release. Sugar Factory Soon to Resume—

The sugar factory at Menominee is expected to resume operations for the coming cutting season next Tuesday. The farmers are digging their beets and a considerable tonnage has already been delivered. There is about three times the average of beets this year that there was last fall.

Prosperous Concern—

One of the most prosperous enterprises on the Menominee river is that of the Menominee Shoe company, whose factory now gives employment to over 200 hands. There has been an increase of thirty per cent in the product this year over last year. Last year there was an increase of thirty-five per cent over the product of the previous year. The company now turns out shoes at the rate of 200,000 pairs annually and the demand exceeds the supply. The factory this year shut down for only four days to make the necessary repairs. The usual shutdown is three or four weeks. It is believed that the addition of another story to the building will soon be necessary.

Many Hawks Attracted—

Never before in that part of the country, it is declared, have hawks been so numerous as they are at present on Grand Island off Menominee. They are attracted by the game birds which make their home there. The birds have been seen in flocks numbering seven or eight. Fully twenty-five hawks have been killed by the gamekeepers on Grand Island and the war of extermination still goes on. A further consignment of twenty-six game birds has been received from Sweden by the Cleveland-Cliffs company, owner of the island. These birds, like those which preceded them, have been turned loose in the game preserve, which is proving an ideal place for them. Another consignment is expected shortly.

More Light for the Soo—

Changes under way in the plant of the Edison Soo Electric company have been completed and as a result the people of the Soo are assured a service in the way of lighting far better than has been possible before. The new dynamo is a 450 kilowatt machine of 2,500 or 4,000 volts as desired. The three-phase or four-wire system is now in operation. The big machine has direct connection for motors, elevators and similar work, and water wheels. Under the new system it will be possible to shut down any set of wheels without stopping the others. Besides the big new dynamo the company has a 150 kilowatt machine of the single phase system. This machine will be used for Sunday work whenever needed. A 100 kilowatt single phase machine will take care of the arc light circuit exclusively. A direct current of 500 volts will also be available for motors, elevators and similar work. The machines have been set up on foundations of concrete and are solid, with a minimum of vibration.

Cornerstone Relics Examined—

The old cornerstone of the Chippewa county court house, set in place when the foundations of the building were laid during the summer of 1877, was removed during the week by County Clerk John E. Parsille this week. The removal of the stone was rendered necessary by the construction work now in progress. The box is made of block lead and was supposed to be dust and damp proof. That it is not actually so is shown when the cover was lifted and it was seen that its contents had become water-soaked and frayed about the edges. The box contained copies of several newspapers, including one of The Mining Journal giving a write-up of the Soo and the new court house. It also contained specimens of "wild cat" paper money, including a $10 bill issued by the Bank of Chippewa, and numerous small coins of current date. Photographs of veterans of the Civil war were also found, but those were so faded as to be indistinguishable. A lengthy document giving the history of the county and the building of the court house was signed by Andrew Jackson, chairman of the board of supervisors; Oren R. Lyon, county clerk, and John Scott, supervising architect. The box also contained a blank bond for $500 such as was issued by the county at the time for the purpose of defraying the cost of building the court house.

Negaunee Department

ROUSING REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Burrows and Young Addressed a Large Audience Here Saturday Evening.

Senator Burrows and Congressman Young were greeted by a fine audience at McDonald's Opera House Saturday evening. Every chair was occupied and nearly all the standing room was taken. Had the hall been larger it would still have been filled, as many remained outside, thinking they would be uncomfortable.

In point of attendance and enthusiasm the meeting eclipsed anything ever held in Negaunee. Both Senator Burrows and Congressman Young gave eloquent and impressive addresses. Mr. Burrows made the principal address. Mr. Young presided over the meeting with a ten or fifteen minute speech. The meeting was presided over by P. A. Bell.

Senator Burrows reviewed the principal national issues. Perhaps the most interesting part of his discussion was his reference to Philippine affairs. He presented facts and figures that the Democratic speakers cannot discredit. Mr. Burrows asserted that the Democrats are deceiving the voters when they state that the party now in power is opposing the Philippines. The natives never had such liberty as they are now enjoying.

There are today thirty-five provinces presided over by officials of native birth and education. There are 985 municipal officers correspondingly as large in number, all chosen by the natives. The islands have fifteen judicial courts, from any of which an appeal can be made to the courts of the United States. Civil service has been established.

There are over 1,000 American teachers in the schools of the Philippines compared with about 3,000 native teachers in 2,000 public schools in all with normal, training schools, and other institutions springing up. Banks, street railways, telegraph systems, etc., have been established. There are at present over 2,000 postoffices on the islands. In the majority of cases the office-holders are native born.

The United States government has spent over $3,000,000 in public roads on the islands. There are 74,000 acres of public lands, 60,000 of which have not yet been surveyed. The people are being given lands on which to build homes at very reasonable prices.

Mr. Young referred to matters of local interest. He called attention to industrial conditions in the upper peninsula under Republican and Democratic administrations respectively. The meeting closed with cheers for Roosevelt, Warner and the other standard bearers of the party.

SECOND AMPUTATION NECESSARY. Well-known Timber Jobber in Critical Condition at Escanaba Hospital.

R. Lenz, one of the best known timber jobbers operating between here and Escanaba, lies critically ill at the Escanaba hospital. He has been confined to the institution for nearly three months past, as a result of injuries received in a runaway accident. Lenz lost part of one limb by amputation a few days after the accident, and about a week ago the surgeons performed another operation, removing more of the limb. Since then Lenz has been in a critical condition, and it is feared he may not recover.

George Henderson, who is in the employ of E. J. Goodman, came within an ace of being axed up in the accident. He was in the woods out on the White Fish branch, and encountered Lenz and his friend driving along the road. Henderson agreed to meet them at a certain point an hour or two later, and it was planned that Lenz should try to trouble Henderson. Henderson missed connections, and the other two started out alone. The team took fright, and on account of the men's effort to stop the horses one of the reins broke. They were thrown out, and both were trampled on by the horse. Henderson and one of the other men came along later, and moved the injured man to a location some miles distant.

Mr. Lenz is very well known here and at Ishpeming, particularly among the mining and railroad men. He has been one of the biggest operators on the White Fish branch and at other points down the line.

WERE PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED. The Negaunee business men who were entertained at Marquette by the members of the Merchants' association of that city Friday evening were entertained Saturday in the praise of the manner in which they were received. There were thirty-five in the local party and one merchant said: "If the other fifteen members of our association realized what a good time they were to have in our city they would have been with us." Several of the Negaunee men were called on for talks on matters pertaining to the organization. The Negaunee merchants intend to send their Marquette friends an invitation to visit them here before long. They will also invite all the Ishpeming business men. The Marquette and Negaunee merchants would be pleased to have the Hemetite City merchants organize.

JUST A FRIENDLY BOUT. Andrew Noutinen came into Justice Trathen's court Friday more dead than alive, having been severely pounded by Andrew Knudhala, and swore out a warrant for his assailant's arrest. Knudhala was gathered in and placed under bonds to appear for trial some day this week.

ABOUT THAT COAT. You wear a coat. Why? To keep the cold out? No; to keep the warmth in. What of the body that has no warmth—the thin, poor body that lacks the healthy flesh and fat it needs? For such we say that Scott's Emulsion provides the right kind of a coat. Why? Because Scott's Emulsion builds firm, solid flesh and supplies just enough fat to fill nature's requirements—no more. That means bodily warmth.

NESTER PREFERS FRED M. WARNER

A PARKER DEMOCRAT, BUT PASSES UP FERRIS, PARTY'S NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR.

STATES HIS OBJECTIONS

Doesn't Like the Neglect of the National Ticket in Michigan—Thinks Ferris Would Be "Frosty" If Elected.

Tim Nester, formerly of Marquette and the upper peninsula, is a Parker Democrat and a Warner Republican in the present campaign.

Mr. Nester says Mr. Ferris is going up and down the state advertising his school, but not preaching Democracy.

Mr. Nester further tells Democrats that their candidate is unfitted for the office of governor, and he specifies the reasons.

He pictures a scene like this in the executive office at Lansing with Mr. Ferris in the chair: A Democratic supporter of Mr. Ferris—any supporter of Mr. Ferris—enters the chamber.

fronted with a man that plainly intimates to the visitor his inferiority. He is permitted to realize that it was "me," and "my" surpassing merit that found recognition in the votes of the admiring populace.

Pitilessly Mr. Nester goes into the relations that would come about from this lofty attitude of the executive in dealing with the legislative department.

The seat of a governor is not a place for a narrow, egotistical man to fill. Acknowledging the educational talent Mr. Ferris undoubtedly possesses, subscribing to the importance of the place he has filled for many years as a teacher.
