REAL STRUGGLE IS POSTPONED

PEACE ENVOYS DEFER CONSIDERATION OF THE SAKHALIN ISSUE.

TAKEN AS A HOPEFUL SIGN

IS NO PRESENT INDICATION, HOWEVER, OF EITHER SIDE GIVING WAY.

Crisis Will Come the End of This Week or the First of Next, When the Main Dispute Is Again Taken Up—Russia Agrees to Surrender Leases.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 15.—The crisis in the peace negotiations is approaching rapidly, and the end of this week or the first of next should witness the climax.

Two more of the twelve articles—four and six—were disposed of today. Article four consists of mutual pledges to observe the integrity of China and the policy of "open door" for the commerce of all nations. Article 6 covers the surrender of the Russian leases to the Liaotung peninsula, Port Arthur, Dalny, and Blonde and Elliott islands.

To article 4 both parties agreed unanimously. Article 5, consideration of which was postponed until later, provides for the cession of Sakhalin. Discussion appearing useless at this stage on account of the firm negative given in the Russian reply, it was decided upon the motion of the Japanese to defer its discussion, this revealing the Japanese intention of postponing to the end the life and death struggle.

The fact that the Russians acquiesced in the proposition shows that they, too, are as careful and as anxious as the Japanese that the world should not accuse them of being responsible for precipitating the break, if break there is to be, and wrecking the conference. This in itself is a hopeful sign.

To the closest observers the final solution begins to crystallize quite naturally—Russia yielding session of Sakhalin; Japan foregoing the "cost of the war," but taking compensation in the money to be refunded to Japan by China on account of the transfer to her of the Chinese Eastern railroad, which Russia owns and operates; and the Russian government property in Port Arthur and Dalny, and remuneration for the maintenance of the one hundred thousand Russian prisoners in Japan.

Text of the Conditions.

Some confusion has arisen about the five articles already adopted, and the following resume can be accepted as absolutely accurate:

1. Recognition of Japan's "preponderance" in the Manchurian region.
2. Mutual obligations to evacuate Manchuria, Russia to retrocede to China all special privileges, etc.
3. Japanese obligation to restore the sovereignty and administration of China in Manchuria.
4. Mutual obligations to respect the territorial and administrative integrity of China and the principle of the "open door."
5. Surrender of the Russian leases to the Liaotung peninsula, including Port Arthur, Dalny, and Blonde and Elliott islands.

The remaining seven articles, "not given in numerical order," are:

1. Reimbursement for the cost of the war.
2. The cession to China of the Chinese Eastern railroad.
3. The article relating to that portion of the main line of the Siberian railroad running through northern Manchuria, which includes a provision for policing the road by China and not by Russia.
4. Fishing rights on the Siberian coast north of Vladivostok to the Bering sea, and the cession of the Chinese Eastern railroad to China.
5. The only jar in the conference today occurred at the morning session when a rather spirited controversy occurred over the question of the publicity of the proceedings. Each side manifested a disposition to charge the other with being responsible for the "leaks," and it was settled by renewed pledges to observe the strict secrecy hereafter regarding the proceedings.
6. The cession of Sakhalin went far enough to demonstrate the determined opposition of Russia to its cession, and there was not the slightest sign of yielding when the agreement was reached to reserve decision on the article until later. Competent Japanese authorities still insist that Japan will never abandon this point. They declare, however, that Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira will go to the extreme limit to secure the basis of the "treaty of Washington."
7. "They do not pretend to say that they are assured the treaty will be signed. They do not even say tonight that they are hopeful."

DRIVING OUT THE MEN.

Women Destined to Rule in Industrialism Declares Speaker at Detroit.

Detroit, Aug. 15.—The speech of Mrs. Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education, created a sensation among the delegates to the convention of factory inspectors and sociologists today. The speaker produced federal statistics covering the past twenty years, showing that the industrial competition of women, children and machine labor was driving the men out of large cities to fields of heavy manual labor in mining and agriculture. She declared that woman was destined to be the ruling sex in industrialism.

Discussing society, the speaker declared that if conditions continue as they are today, within a decade the question of the neglected children of the rich will become as great a social problem as that of the neglected children of the poor.

The new railroad will run through Kansas wheat belt. The capital stock is two million dollars.

RELIEF IN ST. PETERSBURG.

Postponement of the Sakhalin Issue Considered a Good Sign.

St. Petersburg, Wednesday Aug. 16.—The Associated Press dispatches announcing the decision of the plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth to waive for the present consideration of the article relating to Sakhalin island, and to proceed with the discussion of points that Russia is willing to accept as bases of negotiations, were received here with some surprise and even relief by the Russian public, which had been forewarned that yesterday's (Tuesday's) session might end the conference. AMERICAN TO HANG.

Dominion Government Refuses to Interfere in Case of Convicted Murderer.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—Charles King, an American, is to be hanged at Edmonton Aug. 31. King was convicted of murdering an English prospector named Hayward at Lesser Slave lake, N. W. T., last fall. He was tried twice. The Dominion government has had the case under review, and today decided not to interfere. King came from one of the Dakotas.

WANTED FOR MURDER

MAN SUSPECTED OF BEING MYS-TERIOUS MR. DOVE ARRESTED IN THE EAST.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Warrants have been issued charging George Lawrence, alias Bonnett Marsh, formerly employed as a chauffeur for various Chicagoans, with killing William Bate, the young chauffeur who was murdered in a lonely spot near Lamont last November. Chief of Police Collins is confident he has finally identified the mysterious "Mr. Dove" and will send officers to Brockton, Mass., where Marsh lives. The latter is said to be in the last stages of consumption.

Later—After he had heard the statement of Joy Morton, former employer of George Lawrence, who was arrested in Brockton, Mass., today on suspicion of being the mysterious Mr. Dove, Chief Collins tonight expressed lack of faith in the theory that Lawrence, or Marsh, is the murderer. The statement of Mr. Morton, to the effect that Lawrence, known to him as Marsh, was employed by him steadily from Nov. 2 until Dec. 12, substantiated by records showing the suspected man's movements, tends to establish an alibi for Lawrence.

Brockton, Mass., Aug. 15.—George L. Marsh was arrested at his home here this afternoon at the request of the Chicago police, in connection with the murder of William Bate.

POISON IN HIS STOMACH.

Kansas Woman Arrested Charged With Murder of Her Husband.

Pratt, Kas., Aug. 15.—Mrs. Harvey McPherson Null, charged with murder in the first degree in having, it is alleged, poisoned her husband, a well-to-do farmer, has, together with H. C. Kelley, a farm hand, charged with aiding and abetting her in the crime, been arrested here. Mrs. Null was released on bond. Kelley was remanded to jail. The warrants were issued following the report of the coroner's jury. Null died suddenly Aug. 6 after eating supper cooked by his wife. His stomach when analyzed was found to contain twenty-four grains of arsenic.

MANY LIVES IN PERIL.

Rudderless Steamer Tossed About in Gale on Lake Erie.

Buffalo, Aug. 15.—The steamer Idlewild, carrying 200 women and children, was tossed about rudderless on Lake Erie for five hours in a high wind which blew all today. When off Windmill point the rudder broke. The Idlewild was brought into port by four tugs which were summoned by persons on shore who saw her distress. The officers preserved order among the passengers, none of whom was injured.

BIG DEPOSITORS TIPPED OFF?

Books of Bank Show Large Accounts Withdrawn Just Preceding Failure.

Buffalo, Aug. 15.—The books of the defunct German bank, produced by a court order for the inspection of the creditors' organization, show that large accounts were drawn by a few depositors on the Saturday preceding the closing of the bank and on Monday, Dec. 5, the day of the failure. These amounts vary from $6,000 to as high as $33,430. It has been charged that several of the largest depositors were warned that the bank was to be closed.

VOTING LIST PADDED

MORE THAN 50,000 NAMES SAID TO BE ILLEGALLY REGISTERED IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—According to a statement made today by the directors of the department of public safety, based on a canvass made by the police, there are 60,083 names on the voting list of the city which under the law have no right to be thereon. The assessors in all voting divisions of the city will be asked to strike the alleged fraudulent names from the lists.

BLOWN TO SHREDS

NINE ITALIANS THE VICTIMS OF A GANG OF DESPERADOES IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Elkins, W. Va., Aug. 15.—Nine Italians were blown to shreds and their bodies reduced to fragments by a dynamite explosion at a construction camp six miles from Durbin today. This is thought to be another chapter in the feud between a gang of desperadoes and the Italians. The crime was not discovered until daybreak, when members of the camp ran across the gruesome spectacle of parts of the bodies of the foreigners hanging to trees. The deed was promulgated, but there is no trace of the perpetrators.

EMPLOYERS READY FOR STRIKE.

Printers Warned Eight-Hour Work Day Will Not Be Granted.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—President Ellis of the United Typothetae today appeared before the committee appointed by the International Typographical union to report on the eight-hour day movement. Mr. Ellis said emphatically that the employers would not consent to an eight-hour day. If there is to be a strike in January to carry that point, he said, let it come, the bosses would be prepared for it. The committee will report on Thursday.

SPANISH JAILS CROWDED.

Filled With Starving Peasants Seeking Food and Shelter.

Seville, Spain, Aug. 15.—A commission of land proprietors and farmers has laid before the authorities a report on the conditions prevailing in and about Osona, in Andalusia. They estimate there are five thousand workmen, armed with rifles, roaming about the country. The jails are crowded with persons who have committed no offense but who have given themselves up to the police on pretense of having committed crimes, in order to procure shelter and food.

Fir Cones an Article of Diet.

Cadix, Aug. 15.—The famine which commenced last March has now reached the point of actual starvation throughout the fertile valley of Andalusia. Workmen are unable to secure food. They are too weak to work and are becoming desperate. Children are living on fir cones and the fruit of wild cactus.

CHINESE BOYCOTT IS NOT EXTENSIVE

ONLY IN SHANGHAI HAS IT ASSUMED ANYTHING LIKE SERIOUS PROPORTIONS.

SUCCESS OF PLAN DOUBTED

GREATEST FEAR THE DANGER OF AROUSING A POPULAR ANTI-FOREIGN FEELING.

Purpose Is Not to Secure Admission of Coolies, It Is Declared, but to Gain Better Treatment for Higher Classes, Heretofore Shown Slight Courtesy.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Dispatches from China show that Shanghai is the only place where the boycott against American goods has assumed anything like a serious aspect. At Canton the movement has made some headway, but at other points it has not been successful. This information sent some days ago to Minister Rockhill and the consular officers in China to keep the state department advised as to the progress of the boycott. One dispatch on this subject received today was not made public at the state department, but was sent to the president at Oyster Bay.

Cause of the Movement.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—J. W. Davidson, acting consul general at Shanghai, who arrived from the Orient today, says that the cause of the Chinese boycott was the discourteous treatment which sons of influential Chinese officials have received at the hands of the immigration officials on landing at San Francisco. Mr. Davidson thought the fact that orders had already been placed six months ahead for the delivery of American goods would prevent the boycott being successful, but he admitted that a popular anti-foreign feeling might be aroused which would carry the fight beyond control and result in serious consequences.

"The purpose of the boycott," he says, "has never been to secure the admission of coolies, but to gain a proper treatment of the exempt classes."

Portland Chinese Aid in Move.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 15.—The Telegram today says: "Ten thousand dollars will be raised by the Chinese of Portland to aid in the boycott in China against American goods. Two meetings of the local colony have been held, at which it was decided that each Chinese in Portland should contribute at least $2 to carry on the campaign. The movement was instituted by a secret organization of San Francisco."

WILL DODGE REVISION ISSUE.

Prime Movers of Reciprocity Movement Lay Plans in Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Leaders of the delegations to the reciprocity convention to be held here met at the Auditorium Annex tonight and were in session until a late hour discussing plans for the conference this week. It developed that there is likely to be an out-cropping of opinions as to tariff revision in connection with specific products, but it is the hope of those who have been the prime movers in arranging for the gathering to hold aloof from any formal expression along that line.

MOVES AGAINST STANDARD OIL.

Missouri Attorney General Seeks to Oust It from the State.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 15.—Attorney General H. S. Hadley and Frank Blake, one of his assistants, will leave tomorrow for Cleveland, and thence to New York, to look up evidence in a suit against the Standard Oil company. Mr. Hadley will seek not only to impose a heavy fine upon the company, but to oust it from its franchise as a corporation in Missouri and to permanently withdraw its privilege to do business in this state.

ASKED TO VISIT CHINA.

Dowager Empress Anxious to Entertain Miss Alice Roosevelt.

Manila, Aug. 15.—Hullo tendered the Taft party a magnificent reception today. The transport Logan will sail with the party tomorrow for Bacolod, capital of Occidental Negros.

The dowager empress of China has inquired through her consul here, desiring to know if Miss Roosevelt will visit Peking.

LOVING CUP GIVEN SHEA.

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—With the installation of new officers today, the teamsters' convention adjourned to meet in Chicago the second week in August next year. President Shea, who was re-elected, was presented with a loving cup by his friends in the convention.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Fair, Wednesday, cooler in the east; Thursday, partly cloudy; light to fresh east winds.

WALTER PULLMAN SUCCEUMS.

Redwood City, Cal., Aug. 15.—Walter Sanger Pullman, who was injured in a runaway accident last Sunday, died tonight. His skull was fractured.

W. E. CARTER, ATTORNEY, DEAD.

Milwaukee, Aug. 15.—William E. Carter, one of the best known lawyers in Wisconsin, is dead from the effects of a stroke of apoplexy.

QUEBEC, AUG. 15.—Twenty thousand citizens of Quebec today witnessed the unveiling of the monument to the Quebec soldiers who lost their lives in the South African war. Earl Grey unveiled the monument.

MARQUETTE, MICH., AUG. 16.

Entered as second matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

The Portsmouth, N. H., negotiations are, at least, being carried on in a very gentlemanly manner.

There will be general satisfaction that the open door seems to be getting everything that is coming to it at Portsmouth, N. H.

Panama canal employees are doubtless greatly delighted to learn that they are to be made the objects of even tardy solicitude by the government.

Perhaps the wireless telegraphy train equipment on the Chicago & Alton railroad will be the means of ultimately making the American railway mortality record compare more favorably with the one of the British Isles.

The public is now thoroughly reconciled to wait to see dirt fly on the Panama canal until the commission has made the zone habitable for its 20,000 employees. This is another case where the long cut is the shortest.

The people of Chicago will doubtless be much obliged to Justice Brewer for the kindly interest shown by him in their welfare when he suggested that Jane Addams would "make good" as mayor of their city, but it is unlikely that she will take his counsel to heart any day before Mayor Dunne has secured "immediate" municipal ownership of street railways.

The Grand Rapids Post, one of the leading Democratic papers of the state, thus refers to the outcome of the Jackson prison investigation: "Advocates of prison reform have reason to be glad that Warden Vincent is to retain his place in the Jackson prison. Vincent may have been unwise in some of his actions, but he has done more for real prison reform than any other man in the world, and it is a credit to Governor Warner and the state that the clique whose opposition the warden had encountered were not allowed to bounce him."

Auditor General Bradley and Land Commissioner Rose have been making a personal inspection of some of the larger tracts of the state's delinquent tax lands for the purpose of determining the best solution of the problem they present. It is probable that the policy through which such lands are sold at public auction to the highest bidder, in operation during the past three years, will be continued. The efforts of the state officers having such matters in charge to learn through personal investigation the best course to follow in the interest of the state is deserving of commendation.

The result of the national referendum on the dissolution of the partnership between Norway and Sweden, shows that the course taken by the government meets with the almost unanimous approval of the Norwegian people. Out of 321,358 votes cast but 161 were against dissolution. In view of such a showing, it can well be understood why Sweden was content to stand by without opposing force to the breaking of the ties that bound the governments together. The Swedes would have had to have contended against a unanimous people had they tried to thwart the purpose of the Norwegians.

The meeting to be held at Grand Rapids Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 22 and 23, for the purpose of organizing a state forestry association, is an effort which, if successful in the practical purposes it has in mind, will be of far-reaching value to Michigan. There are some problems directly affecting the larger and better work which the projectors of this association have in mind that can only be solved through state-wide co-operation and assistance. Michigan's forests have been sources of enormous wealth to the state, and some of this great value can be renewed and retained through the timely and well directed work of such an organization as may be formed at Grand Rapids.

Detroit has come to be a good deal of a shipbuilding center. There will be general gratification in Michigan at the announcement that the metropolis is furnishing about 40 per cent of the vessels being constructed along the great lakes this season, and that in shipbuilding alone over 4,000 Detroiters are given employment. The volume of business aggregates $5,000,000 for the season. A Detroit shipyard is now planning the construction of a winter harbor, where boats can tie up during the closed season. The advantage of this is obvious, such a harbor permitting of repairs being made at a minimum cost, and greatly adding to the popularity of Detroit as a marine center. Furthermore Detroit's unique favorable position promises a continued and great development of its shipping industry. It should gain new ground each year.

It is apparent from the progress of the peace negotiations that there will be little trouble in reaching an agreement on all points except thecession of Sakhalin and the payment of an indemnity. In regard to these features of the Japanese demands, St. Petersburg asserts that it must be modified if a peace compact is to be arrived at, and there is considerable faith that the Japanese representatives are both powerful and willing, in the last analysis, to modify them. The outcome of the negotiations seems to depend on whether the terms first announced by Japan were terms that are irrevocable and final. If so, it appears that the war must go on. On the other hand if the Japanese are prepared to give ground regarding Sakhalin and the indemnity, peace should be attainable. The week's developments should make very clear the course of the future relations between the two powers.

Michigan's valuation of railroad property as compared with its estimated commercial value is, with but two exceptions, the highest of all the states and territories of the union. This information is officially given in the bulletin recently issued by the national census bureau. Michigan's railroad valuation on the books of the state tax commissioners is 70.9 per cent of the highest commercial estimates of such property in this state, and only Connecticut and Wisconsin are credited with as high valuation of such property. In view of the fact that some Democrats have for party purposes criticized Michigan's railroad taxation policy, it is interesting to note that not a single Democratic state in the union is credited with a valuation of railroad property equal to that of this state. In fact, the states which have longest been controlled by Democratic administrations show the very lowest railroad valuation for taxation purposes.

The working of the new school law for Marquette will be observed with much interest in the forthcoming election of trustees. The board has arranged to have but one registration for the entire city; is sufficient, and a good way to keep down expenses. At this registration every person desiring to vote at the election is expected to have his or her name enrolled on the poll list. Both registration and election are to be surrounded with safeguards designed to prevent illegal voting, and the machinery of both appears adequate. Illegal voting should be entirely eliminated, and under the new law school elections will have an order and dignity that heretofore they have sadly lacked. The Marquette experiment will be closely observed by other communities that still retain the antiquated school election methods so long in vogue here, and if it fulfills its fair promise it will not unlikely be copied in other communities in the upper peninsula. Locally there will be much disappointment if it does not prove an entire success.

A DEMAND FOR HOME RULE. There is an effort apparent in some of the dispatches to create an impression that the people of Porto Rico are desirous of withdrawing from the rule of the United States and are disposed to be rebellious. The report of what they have actually said and done, however, does not bear out such an interpretation. They want a larger measure of self government, and their request seems to be a reasonable one.

The memorials adopted by the Porto Rican bodies are phrased in such fashion as to occasion a little amusement, but their meaning is plain enough. "We do not believe," said the board of municipalities in requesting greater powers for their cities and towns, "that Porto Rico, after obtaining her municipal freedom, will serve as a special model of local administration without a blotch or blemish." "What we should assert and do hereby assert, is the right to work out our own salvation and advancement. Let us reap profit from our good acts and derive benefit from the lessons of our errors."

This is not an unreasonable request. At a time when the cities and towns of our own country are demanding and obtaining a greater measure of home rule, it is hardly just to deny it to the cities of Porto Rico altogether. It may be that the Porto Ricans will make mistakes and that they will not provide a perfect local government, but as they say in the memorial already quoted, "there are cities in the United States, the immoral administration of which gives rise to the protest of all good citizens, but over there no one has ever thought of depriving the municipalities of their autonomy and charging the state with the solution of local affairs." No one has suggested, for instance, that the city of Philadelphia should be deprived of its charter, although it is acknowledged that for years the local government has been in the hands of scoundrels and thieves. No Porto Rican city is likely to be half as bad.

In order to grant the request of the Porto Rican cities it will be necessary for congress to act. The island is governed, in effect, by congress, and it ought to be manifest that such a body some hundreds of miles distant and totally unacquainted with local conditions cannot perform the duty capably.

THE MOST RELIABLE.

The peace conference at Portsmouth is naturally a center of attraction for the newspapers all over the world, and many of the great journals have special correspondents on the spot. Many newspapers, however, rely on the regular service furnished by the news-gathering associations. Thus far the members of the Associated Press have fared better than those papers which have relied on their special correspondents. In the very beginning the Associated Press completely outgeneraled the special correspondents in securing and giving out for publication a detailed statement of Japan's terms of peace. The special correspondents to a man indulged in guesses and generalizations, while the Associated Press gave minute details, all of which have proved to be correct. The subsequent reports have also been reliable and prompt, and even the papers which have special correspondents on the spot depend on the Associated Press for the news and publish the gossip of the correspondents as mere side lights.

This superiority of the Associated Press as a news gathering machine has been manifest all through the war. Scores of special correspondents were sent into Manchuria, all of the real news concerning the movements of the armies and the results of the various engagements came first through the Associated Press, and it has been found that its reports were reliable, while in most cases the reports from the special correspondents have been filled with guesses and inaccuracies.

The success of the Associated Press is due mainly to the fact that it employs in all large matters a band of reliable trained men of wide acquaintance who work together and work systematically. These men know where to go for the news, and the reports which are brought in by several men from different localities are corrected and given their proper place in the narrative by men who are acquainted with the field and understand the significance of the various detached incidents. The special correspondent can report only what he sees and hears himself. The Associated Press condenses and puts into one narrative what is seen and heard by different men located at different points, and these observers are trained to the business.

Another secret of the Associated Press' success is that those whose words and action are reported are correctly reported. They have confidence in the impartiality and the truthfulness of the association's agents, and know from experience that they can trust implicitly to the discretion and honor of its reporters. A member of the Associated Press has no need of special correspondents. It is sure of all the news at the earliest moment, and its patrons know that they are being given the facts.

ment in social circles there. They were met by Mr. Dodge, the superintendent of the place, who escorted them through the old mansion and grounds and finally conducted them down the winding steps to the bluff that overlooks the Potomac and conceals the vault that contains the dust of the father of his country. As the party approached the sacred place Mr. Dodge, who was leading, turned and said in an impressive tone: "Ladies, it is just a step to the tomb of Washington. There was a pause and a reverential silence for an instant, which was broken by the clear, sweet voice of a cabinet lady, who asked: "Is my hat on straight?"

The Stage Uplifted.

There once was a man, a reformer created, Who said, "Lo! our Drama must be elevated. Our stage, on the level! Has gone to the Devil! So Art must be raised to a plane more elevated."

"Just look at the balderdash, slapdash libretto And dramas and jokes only fit for the ghetto. Come, knights of the hammer, Let's lift up the Drama, and And to this low pageant give the stiletto!"

So early and earnestly labored our hero Encouraging Shakespeare and damning Pinero; But he gave up the juggle And died in the struggle With Art still depressed in the region of Zero.

But his work was not vain; for a structure unsightly Now looms o'er the grave where our hero sleeps lightly. And the Stage he bestrided Is now Elevated Where a lofty Roof Garden Show flourishes nightly. Wallace Irwin, in N. Y. Globe.

Promising Lad.

It so chanced that all the passengers that entered one of the elevators in a tall building on Market street were going to the sixth floor, so they had opportunity to glance at the book which the young elevator man had been reading, and which lay face up on his stool. He had been intently reading it before starting with his passengers as to be almost abstracted, although very lively and handy with the actual work once the start was made.

"I'll bet that book is an Indian fighting blood-and-thunder," whispered one passenger to another he knew.

"No; he's too old for that—'Id say it was a thriller of a love romance."

"Or one of the six best sellers of the month," interjected a third. "Everybody was interested. All were 'rubbering' at the book and when the group of passengers got out of the cage one deliberately stooped and looked at it. 'Young America forever,' he said; 'it is a volume of Blackstone. This kid will be sitting on the bench some day.'"—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Delicate Task.

"Blank was the excellent clerk of an excellent hotel. These entered one day an elderly farmer. The man wore expensive clothes, but Blank knew him for a farmer at a glance. 'What are a farmer's tastes?' What appeals most to a farmer?' he asked himself hurriedly. And then he said: "We can give you all the home comforts here, sir."

"The farmer laid down the pen with which he had been entering his name and said in a disappointed voice: "I want more than that when I come to a York hotel, young man. I kid him the home comforts at home."—New York Tribune.

How an Engineer Saved a Child's Life

Special Correspondence. From Wichita, Kansas. Mr. Joseph Tack, living at 423 W. 2nd Street, this city, one of the oldest and best known engineers in the State of Kansas, tells an interesting story in which he saved the life of Mary, the beautiful child of section foreman Wade Roy. Mary was sweet company for her mother, and she always ran with smiling and joyful glee to meet her father as he came from work, and her happy disposition banished any cares or worries that he may have had.

The Rescue as Told by the Engineer

A year ago I was troubled so with my stomach I thought I had cancer. One Sunday afternoon I had such pain I could hardly stand it. I was at Wichita, where we had three hours' lay over before going to Salina. I went to Arch McVicar's drug store, and asked for a dose of Bromo Soda. He said that would only help for a few minutes and recommended Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for a permanent cure. I bought a bottle and had immediate relief. I took four bottles and am cured entirely. I have run a locomotive engine for twenty-eight years, twenty-five of that time on passenger, where we only have twenty minutes for meals. That is what ruins railroad men's stomachs; that is why I thought it my duty to tell you about this medicine, so that my brothers could be relieved in case of trouble of this kind.

I have been a B. L. E. for twenty-seven years; run on Mo. P. R. R. twenty years; am known nearly all over Kansas. About a year ago, now, our section foreman, Wade Roy, from Ruella, told me his little girl had cholera infantum, and was given up by three doctors. While I lay at Kiowa I bought a new bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and while sitting in the coach I read a testimonial where children had been cured by taking twenty drops when doctors had given them up, so I poured half of my new bottle in the old one, and when I got back to Ruella, I stopped the engine in front of the section house and gave him the bottle and told him to read the circular and use his own judgment, that the medicine had cured me. Next morning he was at Anthony smiling and said the child was better from the first dose. In two weeks she was up and running around, and a more grateful family was never seen. With best wishes I remain, JOS. TACK, Engineer Mo. P. R. R., 423 W. 2nd St., Wichita, Kansas.

KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE Digests What You Eat Relieves instantly and cures permanently Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Weak Stomach, Gas on Stomach, Belching, Puffed Stomach, Catarrh of the Stomach and all Stomach Troubles that are curable.

A countryman in a restaurant ordered roast lamb, and the waiter bawled to the cook: "One lamb!" "One lamb?" cried the countryman. "I can't eat no hull lamb. Gimme some fried oysters instead."

"One fried oyster!" bawled the waiter. "Well, Methusalem's ghost! Mister one fried oyster ain't going to be enough. Gimme a dozen of 'em. Burn these city eatin' places!"—The Independent.

SHIPBUILDING IN JAPAN.

When one of Japan's big warships is wounded the hospital to which she is sent is the Japanese shipbuilding yard of Mitsui-Bishi at Nagasaki, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch. The yard is fitted up with every naval feature devised by European and American shipbuilders, and with its 7,000 workmen is the biggest and most complete yard in the Far East.

The yard was built in 1864 by the Japanese government, as the first shipbuilding yard in the country; but it confined its work at first to repairing ships, and was not built until 1871. Twenty years ago the government sold the yard to the Mitsui-Bishi, a private company, and since then it has developed by leaps and bounds until the hospital for ships has gradually become the nursery of the Japanese navy.

Of the 7,000 men working in this yard only six are foreigners. In 1890 the yard launched three steel-built steamers, each of 700 tons, and when in 1896 the Nippon-Yasui-Kaisha company wished to open up trade in European waters with six steamers, each of 6,000 tons, the yard had developed to such a point that it was able to build one of them. This vessel was launched in 1898, and served as a transport vessel until a year ago, when it was sunk by the Russians. Since that time the yard has built eight ships, each of 5,000 tons or more.

The Mitsui-Bishi yard is divided into two parts. The machinery construction department which is, roughly speaking, the nursery, is at Akuzonga, and the drydocks, which constitute the hospital, are at Tatagema. These places are separated by a small hill on which are the workmen's dwellings, and at that central point the whole administration of the yard is concentrated. Not only do the men work in the Japanese shipyards, but there are women also; small, sturdy, in short coats, and they do a man's work.

There are no foremen shouting their orders and adding to the confusion. Every workman knows his work and goes about it as though it was independent of all the other work that is being done in the yard, and yet the result shows how perfectly dependent every part of this human mechanism is on every other part. Such stillness, order and rapidity of work are possible only where the workmen, like the Japanese, specializes in one small detail, and so becomes an artist in it.

In the shipyards of the west the workmen are constantly dissatisfied and asking for higher wages. The Japanese, however, are satisfied with very little, and as for a strike in the Japanese yard it is absolutely unheard of, but it must be remembered that the Japanese workman has very few wants compared to the workman of the west. He is satisfied with very little, but the workman in Europe would die of hunger if he received the wages that to a Japanese would seem munificent.

Not only the engineers, but the mechanics all speak English, hospital where have received their technical training in the United States or in England. All the notices are in English. One of the recent developments in the Mitsui-Bishi shipyard has been a training school for foremen, a handsome building of brick, which houses about 200 pupils. But, although the foremen are educated now at home by the Japanese, English is still the technical language. All the appliances bear English names, and an instructor in the school says, "English is the best international language in the domain of engineering, and if we have to engage a foreign engineer to explain to us a novelty, of course, our foreman must be able to understand him." In its equipment this training school can compete with the best technical schools of its kind in the world. Another feature of this yard is an up-to-date, well-built and perfectly appointed hospital where foremen, when injured, receive the best medical and surgical attendance. In fact, the whole appearance of the yard shows that no money has been spared in order to have only the best of everything.

Most of the machinery came from England, and all the electrical fittings are American. The museum in the yard contains models of all the best ships in the world and no pains or expense are spared to get fresh models.

Shipbuilding has been of late most costly to the Japanese, as all material, with the exception of copper, must be ordered from England. But this is only temporary. The Japanese are constantly endeavoring to make themselves independent for every commercial necessity, and it will not be long before native material will be available. The journey department is a little gem of a place and the work turned out is equal in every respect to that done in England and the United States. But the pride of the Mitsui-Bishi company is its steel foundry which is now in course of construction. The hope of Japanese industry is to carry the possibility of independence of England and the United States into steel as well as copper, since steel is to Japan as it is to the rest of the world, the most valuable metal. Japan is only now in the early stages of steel production to which the impetus was given by the Japanese government, when it established the steel foundry at Wakamatsu.

The steel foundry now being built by the Mitsui-Bishi company will be smaller than that at Wakamatsu, but quite as important. An interesting feature of the new foundry is that it is being built entirely by the Japanese engineers and machinists. This is the first fruit of the new regime in Japan. The Japanese are now educating their own men and keeping in touch with the rest of the world by sending their students abroad to bring back to Japan the latest results of every branch of the shipbuilding industry. So it will occur that the steel industry in Japan will be built up entirely by Japanese hands.

REUNION OF "DRUMMERS"

Upper Peninsula Commercial Travelers Will Gather Here This Week.

A reunion of the United Commercial Travelers of the upper peninsula will be held in Houghton and Hancock Friday and Saturday, under the auspices of U. P. Council, No. 186, whose jurisdiction embraces the entire peninsula. A business session will be held in the Knott hall, Hancock, Friday evening, when a class of twenty-five copper country travelers will be initiated into the council. Following the business meeting a banquet will be served at the Douglas House, Houghton, at which covers will be laid for about seventy-five. The banquet will be followed by speechmaking and a few hours of social enjoyment. For Saturday, it was originally intended to have a ball game between the copper country and iron country travelers at the Hancock park. Late Monday it was decided to accept the invitation of the Copper Range road to spend the day at Freda Park and it is probable the game may be played there.

The order of United Commercial Travelers of America, is as its name implies, a national organization, protective and fraternal. It has a membership of 30,000 at present and is rapidly growing. The order is divided into grand councils, each of which has jurisdiction over a state. The grand councils in turn consist of subordinate councils, located at convenient towns in each state and containing a membership of from ten to over 1,500.

Upper Peninsula Council, No. 186, with headquarters at Marquette was organized four years ago and although one of the youngest of the thirteen subordinate councils in the state it stands fourth in point of membership. The membership represents travelers residing in Marquette, Ishpeming, Negaunee, Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba, Gladstone, Manistique, Calumet, Houghton, Hancock, Ironwood and Menominee and others who live outside of the state.

The officers of the council are the following: Senior counselor, J. E. Burthess; junior counselor, Robert Richards; past counselor, C. A. Wheeler; secretary-treasurer, George Eccles; conductor, Charles Truscott; page, P. Maloney; sentinel, George Chamberlain; executive committee, W. C. Allen, C. W. Grimes, P. Higgins and John Kraft; entertainment committee, C. A. Wheeler and John Kraft.

GYMNASIUM BY SEPT. 10.

Mining College Structure Will Be Ready for Occupancy Shortly.

The interior finishings for the gymnasium at the College of Mines have arrived and are now being installed by Contractor Herman Gundlach. President McNair said yesterday that the gymnasium would be completed and ready for use not later than Sept. 10. The regular session at the college will close Aug. 31, after which the students will have a vacation until Sept. 29, when the regular fall term opens.

TO JOIN NORTHERN LEAGUE?

Good Prospect That Calumet and Lake Linden Will Do So.

There is a possibility that Calumet will become affiliated with the Northern League next season. Rumors have reached copperdom to the effect that at a recent meeting of Northern League officials, held at Duluth, the matter of inviting Calumet to join was suggested and favorable action was taken. The Aristocrats are generally recognized by the Northern League officials as being in the Northern League class and there is a strong probability that the next season may see the circuit extended to copperdom.

In the event of such action, it is highly probable that Lake Linden and other clubs affiliated with the league. By extending to the copper country the Northern League circuit would become larger and stronger, and fans would be given an opportunity of seeing a high class of ball. The proposition appears to hinge on whether or not Ashland enters the league. Should the latter join, it would be an easy proposition to include Calumet, it is felt.

LAST QUARTERLY MEETINGS.

Copper Country M. E. Conferences Being Held by Presiding Elders.

Presiding Elder C. M. Thompson of the Marquette district of M. E. churches, which embraces the copper country, and a large portion of the upper peninsula, returned to his home at Marquette yesterday after holding the first of the quarterly conferences. Mr. Thompson will return to Copper Country in the next few days to resume his work. Next Saturday and Sunday he will officiate at the Indian camp meeting at Pequaming. Monday, Aug. 21, the regular quarterly conference will be held at Baraga, and the following afternoon Mr. Thompson will be at Baraga.

TO DEDICATE CHURCH SUNDAY.

The Swedish Lutheran church of Hancock will be formally dedicated next Sunday. The services will be in charge of Rev. R. Linder of Marquette, president of the Ishpeming district of Swedish Lutheran churches. Rev. Linder will preach the dedicatory sermon, and there will be addresses by Rev. Erik Rehner, the pastor, and other members of the clergy. Although completed nearly three years ago, the Swedish Lutheran church has never been dedicated, owing to the fact that there has been no regular pastor. Services have been held on Sunday, addresses being given by theological students and Professor Charles Brandelle, formerly of the Hancock Finnish college. The church now has sixty members and also a flourishing Sunday school, under the superintendency of Fred Johnson.

PROVOST CASE COMPLETED.

Kenton Man Charged With Dynamiting Was on Trial Yesterday.

The taking of testimony in the case in which Frank X. Provost is charged with assault with intent to murder, it being alleged that he attempted to blow up the home of Norman J. Dolph, a real estate dealer of Kenton, was completed yesterday. The trial was started Monday afternoon and a number of witnesses were examined. Shortly before noon yesterday the prosecuting attorney presented his argument, followed in the afternoon by Attorney P. H. O'Brien, representing the defense. The case was given to the jury about 3 o'clock.

BENEFIT CONCERT TONIGHT.

Calumet & Hecla Band to Play for Former Member, Now Sick in Chicago.

A benefit concert will be given by the Calumet & Hecla band at the Light Guard Armory this evening, for Fred Miller, a former member of the organization, who is now in a Chicago hospital. The band will be assisted by local talent. Miller was formerly with Ringling Bros' circus, and made such a favorable impression while touring through copperdom several years ago that he was tendered a position in the C. & H. mine. About a year and a half ago Miller's health commenced failing, which necessitated a trip to Arizona and other southwestern states. The change, however, was without good results, and Miller is now taking the open air treatment in Chicago.

LABOR SCARCITY.

Steady Work for 1,000 More Men in Lake Mines.

The output of the Michigan copper district for the current year will establish a new record; but it is equally true that the figures of production will be considerably higher were it not for the scarcity of labor. The extent to which the mines have been affected is scarcely appreciated, but one who has made a study of the situation and knows whereof he speaks, is authority for the statement that 1,000 men can find immediate and steady employment in this district. There is also scarcity of building tradesmen, particularly carpenters; for whose labor there is a big demand in the Portage Lake towns.

MARSHAL HAD A TUSSELE.

Marshal Louis Voetsch received a cut in the face and a deep scratch on the back of his hand as the result of an encounter with a drunken man whom he picked up in Frenchtown yesterday morning. The fellow, a Frenchman, went along as far as the lockup peacefully enough, but when the officer attempted to put him into a cell he rebelled. For a time things were pretty lively and it was only after the man had been handcuffed and taken to the lockup, that the drunk was finally placed behind the bars.

THEATERS OPEN THIS WEEK.

Friday marks the opening of the theatrical season in copperdom. The opening attraction will be Isidore Whitman's comedy drama, "The Chaperons," which made a decided hit when presented here last season. The play will be at the Calumet theater on Friday evening, and the following night the Kerredge theater will be opened with the same bill. Both Managers Cuddihy of the Calumet theater and Kerredge of the Kerredge theater have looked an exceptionally fine list of attractions for the season.

PHARMACY BOARD MEETS.

The Michigan board of pharmacy met at the Douglas House yesterday morning for the purpose of examining candidates for positions as registered and assistant registered pharmacists. The members of the board follow: Arthur B. C. Smith, Henry W. C. Smith, John D. Miller, Frank Rapids, and W. E. Collins. Sessions will be held until this evening.

Mining News

COPPER RANGE.

Thomas W. Lawson Given a Grilling by a Boston Publication.

Thomas W. Lawson would endeavor to make out that there is a mess in Copper Range, despite the fact that the Boston News Bureau. He issues his "tissens" almost daily to maintain that he controls the company and that the officials are in power by his influence. As a matter of fact all the mess or tussens in Copper Range is Lawson's creation. The facts are as follows, and there are no others worthy of consideration.

First. Seventy thousand shares of Copper Range stock, the so-called Lawson-Burroughs stock, was sold absolutely and completely and possibly a little more.

Second. The buying of the same has not been concentrated, but it has been distributed all over the country. This fact and no guesswork can be stated as the result of the Boston News Bureau's investigations in all the leading brokerage offices.

Third. The sale of this stock was in violation of an agreement, but it is doubtful if the agreement was not so skillfully broken as to defy legal restitution.

Fourth. The interest of Thomas W. Lawson in Copper Range is confined exclusively to his future prospects for attacking the same.

The Boston News Bureau has always maintained that Lawson would find his proper place as an attacker of Copper Range and its management after it was disorganized and developed success. This does not mean that Copper Range is now or ever was worth $125 per share, the price the Lawson boomers have for years been predicting for it, nor does it mean that it is worth more than the stock of its partner, the St. Mary's company, which can always be bought lower.

Lawson has existed through the bear side of gas, the bear side of Amalgamated and other copper, and his existence in the future will be on the bear side of Copper Range. There never yet was a shining mark in finance where Lawson could not sooner or later be found around the corner with his slush bucket, especially after people had refused to do business with him.

William A. Paine has made the greatest success in Boston's Michigan copper field since the Calumet & Hecla. He saved Lawson and Lawson's associates from disaster by taking over their Tri-mountain after the mine had been gutted under instructions from the Lawson speculative management.

The only stocks identified with Lawson that he has never yet attacked, but has always been consistently bullish upon are Arcadian and Trinity, which never were real properties. But there are possibilities in Arcadian from the Kearsarge vein, and if it is ever opened up by Mr. Burroughs one can wager even that Lawson will boom it as a speculation and later "attack" it.

Another Observation.

A bright observer of the financial times says: "A. C. Burroughs is a director of the Amalgamated Copper company. He probably wishes to remain. He has been in partnership with T. W. Lawson. He has been perfectly apparent for many months that that partnership could not remain. The only way to dissolve that partnership was to sell that 70,000 shares of Copper Range. It had been borrowed on at $40 per share throughout New England and at $70 per share would release an equity of about $2,000,000. The cost of Copper Range is understood to be about $60 per share for Lawson and Burroughs. Therefore Lawson might realize a few hundred thousand dollars from this equity and consent to the dissolution of the partnership provided the Tri-mountaine debt was not to be fully met."

Placing of 70,000 Shares of Stock in the Name of Paine, Webber & Co. at the time of the Tri-mountaine consolidation with agreement that it should not be transferred for three years practically insured the control to Paine.

He and Burroughs and Lawson tied up their dividends pledged to the Tri-mountaine debt, their properties pledged to him and their stock pledged to the banks.

"Now, Lawson did the booming of Copper Range from the 40's to the 80's by his advertising campaign and liberal advice to his clients and the public to buy the stock which he was preparing to sell. Lawson's customers got loaded with Lawson's stock, but that is another story. The ship was righted and the Lawson Copper Range boom was knocked in the head at about $3 with sales of several thousand shares.

"Lawson became wild, but Paine answered that he was still in the brokerage business and would execute any orders in Copper Range or any other stock. Lawson has now shown that he is still in business—the same old business.

"Now, Paine cannot afford to sell Copper Range and Lawson probably could not afford to buy it. Paine has the stock and he has possibly more certificates in the Street to monkey with."

Banks Warned.

Notices signed by Paine, Webber & Co. and written upon the official paper of the Copper Range Consolidated have been issued to Boston banks suspected of holding the Copper Range certificates as collateral for A. C. Burroughs. The full text follows:

"Gentlemen—You will please take notice that any shares of the Copper Range Consolidated company stock which were issued in September, 1903, and now or heretofore held as collaterals by you for any note or notes of Albert C. Burroughs are our property, the title to the same being in us, subject to the loans under the agreement between said Burroughs, the Copper Range Consolidated company and Paine, Webber & Co., under date of Aug. 25, 1903.

"You are notified to hold in your possession, subject to our order, any such shares which may be in your possession and in response to this notice to place such shares which may now be in your possession or under your control. You will be held responsible for any payments which you may make of any part of the proceeds of any such sales over and above the amount of the loans which they may have heretofore secured."

No suits have yet been started in the Copper Range controversy.

mountain after the mine had been gutted under instructions from the Lawson speculative management.

The only stocks identified with Lawson that he has never yet attacked, but has always been consistently bullish upon are Arcadian and Trinity, which never were real properties. But there are possibilities in Arcadian from the Kearsarge vein, and if it is ever opened up by Mr. Burroughs one can wager even that Lawson will boom it as a speculation and later "attack" it.

ALLOUEZ.

The selling of the first Allouez metal from the Kearsarge lode marks the entrance of the mine upon a self-supporting era, comments the Boston Financial News. The money received from this sale should be sufficient to pay development and construction expenses for the next three months; so that in reality the stockholders may be said to be getting their first return. The construction expenses for the next three months will include the sinking of shaft No. 2, and it is the hope to complete this work without calling upon stockholders for additional assessments of money. The company will be in a position at the end of another week to send enough more mineral to the smelter to warrant the sale of an additional 50,000 pounds if it should see fit to do so. Thus, for the first three weeks of production the treasury will have been benefited to the extent of about $20,000.

The management has been conservative in its statements and has been anxious to state that the present production relates only to the first three levels, which are in a small corner of the property and are extended at the present time as far as the limits will allow. Considerable good stamping rock continues to be lifted from the shaft where sinking is in progress and from the drills at work in extending the level extent of the stoping, which is being conducted at the present time, therefore, in order to keep the quota up to its requirements has only to add what the daily development operations fail to provide. Then some stockpile is being held in reserve as a source from which the daily supply can be maintained should any accident happen.

On these grounds, always barring any of the accidents to which all mining operations are liable, Allouez seems to have started on an era of production which should last at least three months, and possibly five or six. What will be done at the end of the period depends entirely on the result of the underground work. If sufficient ground is opened up to warrant a continuance of the stoping operations, it is possible that the property will continue to keep the Centennial mill running, but if the pushing of development work will be better advanced by giving the entire attention of the men to opening up ground and sinking, that course will be followed. The three upper levels are rich. The copper seems well distributed and has all the appearances of a permanent deposit; for the shaft, as it has gone down, although subject to the usual contortions of the lode, has shown the same heavy mineralization that has been a characteristic of the lode from the first. The shaft has now a distance of sixty feet to be traversed before reaching the station of the fifth level. On this level the Allouez will for the first time be in a position to extend its drift to the level extent of the property; so that completion of this work will be anxiously awaited, as it will give the first test of the lode to the limits of the property. It may be decided to drop the level to the fourth level below the level extent of the property, in order to give a greater distance from that boundary as the fifth level if sunk a hundred feet from the fourth, as at present specified, would be within a short distance from the boundary of the property.

HUACHUCA.

J. S. Palmerlee, of the Huachuca Consolidated Mining company, has returned from Michigan, where he went several weeks ago for the purpose of conferring with stockholders regarding raising additional funds for the purpose of equipping the mine with a ten stamp company, says the Bisbee Review. Seen by a newspaper man, Mr. Palmerlee announced that he had met with complete success and was on his way to the mine to make immediate preparation for the installation of the mill.

During his absence Mr. Palmerlee visited several Michigan points, including Calumet and Lake Linden. At each place he sent out notices to stockholders and in response to them a share of stock met in a public meeting at each place visited, and the intents and purposes of the company were thoroughly explained. At these meetings subscriptions for additional stock in the mining company were taken, and a sufficient amount pledged to insure the immediate erection and operation of a mill, which according to the plans of the company is to be increased to twenty stamps shortly afterwards.

Mr. Palmerlee returned home very much pleased and states that the Huachuca will shortly be added to the producing list of Cochise county mines. It is a well known fact that the Huachuca company possesses the ore in sufficient quantities to justify the erection of a mill. It was the intention of the company to have the plant in operation long before this.

BLACK MOUNTAIN.

A City of Mexico correspondent writes: The electric power plant for the Black Mountain Mining company, operating near Magdalena, Sonora, is being rushed to an early completion. Concrete foundations for the boilers and machinery are being laid. Under each boiler engine and dynamo there will be a bed of concrete twelve feet deep. Two large boilers will be installed, two great Westinghouse engines and two colossal high power dynamos, which will in operation drive the machinery of a high-stamp mill at Cerro Prieto, thirty-five miles away. It is anticipated that everything will be in working order, wheels turning and stamps dropping by the first of January, 1906. The site of the power plant is north of the depot on Magdalena, west of the railroad track, toward the river.

SMALL SUMS REALIZED.

Assets of Hadden-Rodee Company Do Not Appeal to Speculators.

Notes of the bankrupt Hadden-Rodee company, which had a branch office in Marquette, whose face value called for $3,000 and other big amounts were auctioned off Saturday at a sale in Referee in Bankruptcy Maxwell's office in Milwaukee for twenty-five and fifty cents. A tilt occurred between Trustee Ralph Elmergreen, who attempted to stop the sale, and W. A. Hayes, his attorney. Elmergreen appealed to the referee, who ordered the sale stopped. The bids were received subject to the approval of the court.

E. G. Hadden was present and dissuaded the bidding of small sums for the assets of his old firm. Occasionally he bid himself. He offered twenty-five cents on a number of notes. At one time he bid as high as $250 for a couple of typewriters in Houghton, Mich., to which there were claimants other than the Hadden-Rodee company. Open book accounts of $138,297.55 jumped up by $5 bids until $800 was reached. Then the bidders grew cautious. The passes were long and frequent, beginning Tuesday evening, Aug. 22, and continuing until the following Friday evening. Announcement was made in April of the intention to hold a fair this year, and since that time the solicitation committee and ladies of the parish have worked in the spirit of the law, with the result that the prospects are the most successful fair in the history of the church will be held next week.

Two years ago the fair held by the same parish was the largest up to that time. The contest between the ladies for the prizes offered for the largest sale of tickets, will close on Friday, and awards will be made to the four ladies during the fair a vocal instrumental musical program will be given, when an admission fee of ten cents will be charged. In the afternoon, however, between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock, admission will be free. The proceeds of the fair will be contributed to the building fund of the church. The contributions from the people of Marquette have been very liberal, and a large assortment of wares will be on exhibition.

STABBING AFFRAY.
August Cumbala Cut a Companion in Sallow Monday Afternoon.

August Cumbala stabbed John Hill in the right shoulder in Andrew Eckola's saloon, on Pearl street, about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. The trouble started on the street, and was continued after the men entered the place. Cumbala ran out of the saloon and up Pearl street. By going through a succession of alleys and backyards he finally reached Cleveland avenue. Marshal Lehman and Deputy Marshal Trevarrow saw the man commence to run and gave pursuit. Trevarrow caught Cumbala at the end of Cleveland avenue and brought him to the city lockup.

MISS LLOYD A LIFE-SAVER.
Young Lady With "The Chaperons" Has Promise of Government Medal.

While "The Chaperons" which will open the fall season at Ishpeming theater tomorrow evening, was last summer opening its season at Atlantic City, Miss Ruth Lloyd, a prominent member of the cast, gained an enviable distinction and the promise of a government life-saving medal when she rescued a young boy from drowning. Miss Lloyd is an expert swimmer and has won many long distance and speed matches, and created something of a sensation by suing the proprietor of a New York Hudson River bathing establishment for $5,000, because he requested her to retire to her dressing room on the ground that the skirt of her costume was too abbreviated. The suit never came to trial, because the proprietor of the bathing place made a public apology which was printed in all the New York papers at the time. The advance sale of tickets for "The Chaperons" opens this morning at 9 o'clock. A large number of out-of-town orders have been received.

The clerical force of the Superior Lumber company will occupy the new office at the yards on Lake street today. The office is large and convenient. The main room is on the south side, with vault and two telephone booths in the rear. The manager's private office is on the north side. The exterior of the building and all of the company's delivery wagons are painted red and slate.

FAIR AND BAZAAR.
The ladies of St. Joseph's congregation will hold a fair and bazaar from September 25th to the 30th in the evening, at the Woodman hall. They have been preparing for the fair for the past two months, making fancy work, embroidering and selling chances on the articles. The fairs of the congregation are very popular and have been well patronized.

WILL LECTURE TONIGHT.
Mr. Kondo, a Japanese and a graduate of Albion college, will lecture at the First Methodist church this evening at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "Japan, Its Mission and the present conflict." The talk will be illustrated with stereopticon views. The admission will be ten cents.

OUR NEW MINISTER.
The performance of "Our New Minister," Denman Thompson and Geo. W. Ryer's enormously successful character play, at the theater on Tuesday, Sept. 5, will be a revelation. The cast is the greatest and most expensive one ever put together in an American play. The original New York production will be seen in its entirety.

HALF DAY SESSIONS.
All Pupils Cannot Be Accommodated at Opening of the Schools.

Superintendent E. F. Scribner will be at his office in the high school building every week day afternoon from now until the opening of the schools in September, and parents and teachers wishing to consult him regarding school matters are invited to call.

It will be no small task to get children properly located this fall, owing to the fact that the new grade school on East Division street will not be ready for use. Mr. Scribner said yesterday that the Swedish Norwegian church, corner of Third and High streets, can be retained next year if necessary, but it will not be needed after the completion of the new structure. It will be necessary to conduct half day sessions in a number of rooms in the primary department. Mr. Scribner expects that nearly every room in all the buildings will be crowded, necessitating more than the usual amount of changing around during the first few days of the session. The high school will be filled to its capacity. Work is progressing satisfactorily at the grade school. The weather has been favorable, and the workmen have lost very little time. Contractor Wilson is employing a force of over twenty men, nearly half of whom are stone masons and brick layers. The stone work will be completed before the close of this week. The stone is hard and difficult to trim, and the masons could not make rapid headway with it.

DROVE FORTY MILES.
George Voyer and son Guy and Charles Moore arrived home from the Fence river Monday night. The stream is located about seventeen miles south of Ishpeming and the party made the entire trip about forty miles, in a buckboard. They brought in what was declared by many who saw it the banner catch of the season. The fish were almost all the same length. The trip consumed three days.

BASEBALL SUNDAY.
The City team has made arrangements to meet the Simons team Sunday, Aug. 20. Simons is a small town near Manistique, and supports a good ball nine. They have been winning most of their games this season and have an excellent battery. The Ishpeming team expects to be strengthened considerably by Sunday. The usual admission will be charged.

Mail Carrier Prostrated.
Charles Folio, a mail carrier at Escanaba, was prostrated by the heat the latter part of last week. It was not a serious case, and Mr. Folio was able to resume work on his route a few hours after he was laid out.

Asks Heavy Damages.
Robert Garvey, a shoemaker, who sustained a fractured leg by falling on a sidewalk on Lowell street, at Ironwood, on June 10, threatens to sue the city for $8,000 damages if it does not pay him $2,050 dollars in settlement of his claim.

Lightning Killed His Horses.
Charles Nelson, who sold his farm north of Ironwood about a year ago and removed to Marhem, Vilas county, Wis., was injured by a stroke of lightning at the latter place last week. The lightning killed the team of horses he was driving.

Fishermen Fined.

The Menominee council has passed the revised K. C. bond ordinance. Under its provisions the bonds of $30,000 to be sold to provide money for the purchase of the K. C. mill site cannot be redeemed at the pleasure of the council, but will be taken up at the rate of $2,000 an annuity, beginning 1912. This new plan will make the bonds more readily marketable than would otherwise be the case.

Refuses to Wear Clothes.
Fred Paul, a man confined in the county jail to stand trial in the Delta county circuit court for a serious offense, has gone violently insane, after three times attempting to kill himself. Once he attempted to take his life by hanging. On another occasion he took a lot of medicine left by a physician in one dose, and recently he ate the heads off a lot of matches, and became violently ill. He has now taken it into his head to refuse to wear clothes, and last week tore into shreds a suit which had been newly furnished him.

A Former Bessemer Man.
In the Wayside Emergency hospital at Chesterfield, state of Washington, J. J. Christopher, a former resident of Bessemer, lies at the point of death from a self-inflicted wound, after making a desperate attempt to escape from the Chesterfield jail, where he was confined after being convicted of criminal assault. It was while awaiting the result of an appeal to the supreme court that he planned to escape and secured from a woman, who professes to be his wife and who was allowed to visit him at the jail, a revolver and four rounds of cartridges, a file and a bottle of carbolic acid. Christopher first attempted to escape by blowing a hole in his cell. The attempt was unsuccessful and the guards were aroused by the explosion. When the jail attendants appeared on the scene he threatened with a knife to any one who came near his cell door and fired a fusillade of shots from his revolver into the corridor. The second charge of dynamite was exploded in the door of the cell, but also failed to open a way for the prisoner's escape. Water was then turned on from the room

Conviction Follows Trial

When buying loose coffee or anything your grocer happens to have in his bin, how do you know what you are getting? Some queer stories about coffee that is sold in bulk, could be told, if the people who handle it (grocers), cared to speak out.

Could any amount of mere talk have persuaded millions of housekeepers to use the leader of all package coffees for over a quarter of a century, if they had not found it superior to all other brands in Purity, Strength, Flavor and Uniformity?

This popular success of LION COFFEE can be due only to inherent merit. There is no stronger proof of merit than contained and increasing popularity.

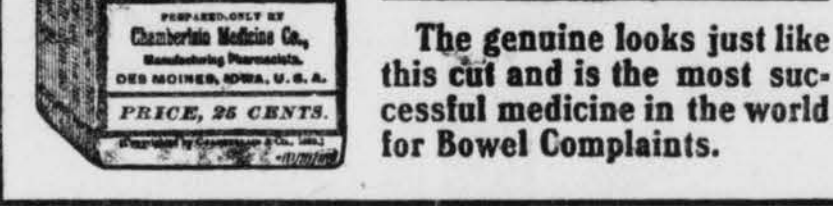

If the verdict of MILLIONS OF HOUSEKEEPERS does not convince you of the merits of LION COFFEE, it costs you but a trifle to buy a package. It is the easiest way to convince yourself, and to make you a PERMANENT PURCHASER. LION COFFEE is sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages, and reaches you as pure and clean as when it left our factory.

The Genuine Looks Like This

above, and Christopher, seeing that all was up with him, fired a shot into his own brain. He was taken from the cell unconscious.

Christopher was known here as a turbulent, quarrelsome fellow, says the Bessemer Herald, but it is only since going West that he entered upon a career of crime. His first offense was at Monte Cristo, where he attempted at the point of a revolver to rob his father, Captain J. P. Christopher, of several thousand dollars, which the latter had in his possession for paying the employees at the mines of which he had charge, and was frustrated by his younger brother, Arthur. His career since that time has been one of absolute lawlessness and twice he has made his escape from prison by overpowering the guards. People here deeply sympathize with his family, who are well known and highly respected in Michigan.

Severe Electrical Storm.
Norway reports a severe electrical storm which occasioned considerable damage. The city hall was struck twice, shattering the bellry and making part of the roof look like unto a sieve, but fortunately not causing fire. In the Second ward, near Lake Mary, the residence of Chris Larson was completely wrecked, the fluid striking the chimney. Going down into the house and after playfully breaking windows, furniture and walls it passed out by a north window, smashing the pillars, steps and whole frame work with it. Here, too, was experienced much good fortune, as, although there were several women and children in the kitchen, no one was injured. At the West Valium mine in the Third ward, the lightning struck the Penn company's reservoir and did much damage, passed into the office on the telephone wires, demolished the phone and set fire to the building. In the machine shop of the mine it also set fire to the building, going in on the electric wires.

A WARNING TO MOTHERS.
Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by the People's Drug Store.

MALARIA A Poison Breathed into the System

The air arising from low, marshy places, damp cellars, stagnant ponds and pools and from decaying vegetable matter, as well as the gases from sewers, is loaded with germs of malarial poison.

MALARIA IN HIS SYSTEM FOR YEARS. For several years I suffered with Chills and Fever, caused by Malaria in my system, and each summer for several years I would have a relapse.

Finally my physician prescribed S. S. S. It entirely cured me; I have never been troubled since. Malaria is "chills and fever," but when the blood is thoroughly saturated with the poison it becomes so weak and polluted that abscesses, carbuncles, boils, sores, ulcers and other skin diseases result.

Malaria also affects the liver, kidneys, bowels and stomach, producing a chronic state of biliousness that often results in jaundice or some malignant fever.

In cases of Malaria the blood must be purified before the body can regain its natural health. S. S. S. contains purifying and tonic properties possessed by no other blood medicine, and is the ideal remedy for the treatment of Malaria.

It destroys the germs of the disease and builds up the weakened, polluted circulation. It enters into the blood and forces out every particle of poison and waste matter and adds strength and activity to it.

S. S. S. improves the appetite and digestion, tones up the entire system by its alterative and purifying action, and Malaria, with all its bad effects, is permanently driven from the system.

COURT GRANTED AN INJUNCTION

KIBBE & WHITE AND FERGUSON BROS PRINCIPALS IN IMPORTANT SUIT.

PINE LANDS CHANGE HANDS

Case Grew Out of a Deal Made Three Years Ago—Right to Use Michigan Log Lift the Point at Issue.

Judge Stone late Monday afternoon ordered a temporary injunction to issue out of the circuit court against Ferguson Bros. of Ishpeming, restraining them from interfering with Kibbe & White, lumbermen, in the use of a log boat located on Lake Michigan, where plaintiff has a quantity of pine logs ready for shipment.

The case grew out of a contract whereby Ferguson Bros. agreed to cut the timber on certain lands in Marquette county, and the subsequent sale of the same lands by Kibbe & White to Anson B. Miner of Ishpeming, representative for Ferguson Bros.

The logs are at present in boom jam at the loading hoist on Lake Michigan, ready for shipment to Marquette by rail. In their petition, the plaintiff allege they intended to begin loading the logs on cars Monday, but were threatened with suit by defendant unless a claim amounting to $1,025.85 was paid for driving the logs from jam in the Peshekee river, to their present location.

History of the Contract. In July, 1902, Kibbe & White entered into a logging contract with Ferguson Bros., by the terms of which the latter were to cut, haul, bank, deliver and float all the merchantable timber of specified size on certain parcels of land purchased by Kibbe & White from the Michigan Land & Iron company.

Pending negotiations for the purchase of the Kibbe & White lands, or about the time of the purchase, Ferguson Bros. obtained from the Michigan company, owners of the land on which the hoist stands on Lake Michigan, a land lease for a term of years, and erected a hoist for their own use while lumbering the lands.
