CONFERENCE NEAR BREAKING POINT

PESSIMISM IS AGAIN THE NOTE AT PORTSMOUTH BUT THERE IS STILL HOPE. CRISIS HAS BEEN REACHED. ONLY CHANCE NOW IS A COMPROMISE ON SAKHALIN AND INDEMNITY.

Exchange of Views Shows the Plenipotentiaries Far Apart and There is No Sign of Concessions When the Envoys Adjourn, Reporting No Progress.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 17.—The Associated Press learns at midnight that during the day's conference the Japanese plenipotentiaries several times manifested a sort of desire to couple consideration of disputed points. This might indicate a willingness to bargain at the end.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 17.—The crisis in the peace conference has been reached, and pessimism is again the note. But there is still hope. The predictions of a final rupture tomorrow certainly will not be justified, unless Baron Komura figuratively picks up his hat and announces that it is useless to proceed further.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 17.—The pessimism tonight is based upon the fact that no progress was made today. The exchange of views at the morning session on article 9 (remuneration for the cost of the war) showed at once that the plenipotentiaries were far apart, and the issue was raised.

Deadlock Not Surprising. The sudden revival of deep pessimism tonight was induced by a report given out when the plenipotentiaries returned to their hotels that no progress had been made today.

Important Russian Conference. A very important conference occurred in M. Witte's rooms shortly before midnight tonight. There were present Baron Rosen, the other Russian plenipotentiary, and the five Russian delegates.

It can be stated that the individual views of the members of the Russian mission differ as to what point should be yielded if compromise is to be offered. Some favor the surrender of Sak-

EXCURSION TRAIN PLUNGES INTO A RIVER Half a Hundred Persons, All but Two Colored, the Victims of a Horror Near Norfolk, Virginia.

Norfolk, W. Va., Aug. 17.—Owing to the inability of Engineer Reig to control his air brakes, an excursion train from Kingston, N. C., bound to this city, plunged through an open draw over the western branch of the Elizabeth river, eight miles from Norfolk, this afternoon, and half a hundred persons, mostly negroes, were drowned.

The list of injured, as far as can be ascertained, numbers nearly 100, though most of these are slightly hurt. A large number of physicians from this and nearby cities have gone to the scene. Among the victims, the only white persons killed, were Edward Joffie, manager of the excursion, and Edward

RELATIONS STRAINED BRITAIN CONVINCED THE KAISER AIMS AT A COALITION AGAINST HER.

Berlin, Aug. 17.—According to several high officials of the government, Prince von Buelow, imperial chancellor, who yesterday left Norfolk, where he was spending his vacation, for Berlin, went to the castle Wilhelmshohe to see Emperor William. Dr. von Muhlberg, under secretary of the foreign office, who left Berlin for a vacation of several weeks, was suddenly recalled to join the chancellor at Wilhelmshohe.

The reason for these movements is so far only the subject of conjecture, but it is known that the relations between Great Britain and Germany have recently been on the point of breaking to an extent beyond the knowledge of the public. Precisely what happened has not been learned, but a serious situation existed; indeed, it is understood it has not been dissipated.

SALE TO ARMOURS FAILS. Milwaukee Packing Plant Will Remain an Independent Concern.

Milwaukee, Aug. 17.—The expected sale of the Plankinton Packing company's interests to the Armours of Chicago having fallen through as a result, it is said, of the beef trust disclosures made by the federal grand jury, the big Milwaukee concern has decided to continue business on a much larger scale than formerly. Contracts for additions to the plant have already been let and it is believed that D. H. Booth and Joseph Moody, respectively vice president and secretary of the corporation, will continue in executive control. The Milwaukee concern has at all times operated independent of the alleged trust.

CHICAGO CONFERENCE ACTS. DECLARES FOR THE ADOPTION OF THE MAXIMUM AND MINIMUM SYSTEM.

Keynote Sounded by Governor Cummins of Iowa, Who in Fiery Speech Urges Political War Must Be Waged Against the Exponents of the Stand-Pat Theory.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—The reciprocity conference called to devise means of bettering the trade relations between the United States and foreign countries finished its work today. It arranged for a committee to prosecute the plans of the convention and formed a permanent organization, styled the American Reciprocal Tariff League.

The resolutions adopted advocate a minimum tariff as a means of relieving the situation with which this country is confronted, and suggest that such reciprocal concessions be arranged by a permanent tariff commission to be created by congress and to be appointed by the president.

The principal speaker today was Governor Cummins of Iowa, who in an address full of fire and eloquence hurled defiance at the enemies of reciprocity. The speaker brought the audience under his spell, and except when interrupted with uproarious applause he held full sway for three-quarters of an hour.

WARSHIPS COLLIDE. CRUISER CHICAGO AND THE ILL-FATED BENNINGTON BOTH CONSIDERABLY DAMAGED.

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—The cruiser Chicago, flagship of the Pacific squadron, flying the flag of Admiral Goodrich, went aground close to the lighthouse end of signal station on Angel island, in this harbor, today. She came only from San Diego with the disabled gunboat Bennington in tow and accompanied by the navy tug Fortuna.

CALLED LIAR AND PERJURER. Railroad Official Vigorously Attacked by the Florida Commissioner.

Deadwood, S. D., Aug. 17.—In the National Association of Railroad Commissioners' conference today, Stet Burr, commissioner from Florida, created a sensation when he openly denounced Walker D. Hines, former assistant general counsel and now first vice president of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, as a liar and a perjurer.

The commissioners' association adopted some strong recommendations to congress. These favor the publication of rates and regulations; empower the Interstate Commerce Commission to annul unjust rates until the question is decided by the courts; forbid increasing rates before consulting the commission; compel the railroads to submit books to the commission's inspection; the regulation of private car lines, and heavy penalties for disobedience.

FAVORS JEROME FOR MAYOR. Citizens' Union Will Offer the Nomination—Conferees Being Held.

New York, Aug. 17.—District Attorney Jerome refuses to say a word for publication regarding the attempt of the Citizens' Union to make him the anti-Tammany candidate for mayor. He assured his friends, however, that he would not accept a nomination for mayor and that the only office he desires is the one he now occupies.

IF NOT RECIPROCIITY, THEN RETALIATION

THAT THE SLOGAN OF THE "AMERICAN RECIPROCAL TARIFF LEAGUE."

CHICAGO CONFERENCE ACTS. DECLARES FOR THE ADOPTION OF THE MAXIMUM AND MINIMUM SYSTEM.

Keynote Sounded by Governor Cummins of Iowa, Who in Fiery Speech Urges Political War Must Be Waged Against the Exponents of the Stand-Pat Theory.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—The reciprocity conference called to devise means of bettering the trade relations between the United States and foreign countries finished its work today.

The resolutions adopted advocate a minimum tariff as a means of relieving the situation with which this country is confronted, and suggest that such reciprocal concessions be arranged by a permanent tariff commission to be created by congress and to be appointed by the president.

The principal speaker today was Governor Cummins of Iowa, who in an address full of fire and eloquence hurled defiance at the enemies of reciprocity.

Other speakers today were Edward Rosewater of Omaha, former Mayor W. C. Maybury of Detroit, A. B. Farquhar of Pennsylvania, S. F. Hovser of Wisconsin, E. S. Lockridge of Indiana and a dozen delegates who made volunteer addresses. The resolution adopted relative to permanent organization is as follows:

"We recommend that a permanent organization be formed, styled the American Reciprocal Tariff League, and that a committee of five, to be appointed by the chair, be authorized to organize and further prosecute the work for which the convention has assembled. Said committee shall have the power to increase its membership and to fill vacancies when necessary."

FAVORS JEROME FOR MAYOR. Citizens' Union Will Offer the Nomination—Conferees Being Held.

New York, Aug. 17.—District Attorney Jerome refuses to say a word for publication regarding the attempt of the Citizens' Union to make him the anti-Tammany candidate for mayor.

The commissioners' association adopted some strong recommendations to congress. These favor the publication of rates and regulations; empower the Interstate Commerce Commission to annul unjust rates until the question is decided by the courts; forbid increasing rates before consulting the commission; compel the railroads to submit books to the commission's inspection; the regulation of private car lines, and heavy penalties for disobedience.

Several Tammany leaders have assured Mr. Jerome of their friendliness and have expressed a desire to support him if he should be nominated by Tammany for his present office. One of these leaders yesterday told Charles F. Murphy that Mr. Jerome should be made the Tammany candidate, but he received no encouragement from Mr. Murphy, who is still smarting from the attacks made upon him by Mr. Jerome.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

From the viewpoint of the thermometer yesterday was "going some."

About the best peace augur is the very evident desire of both parties to bring the hostilities to an end.

The Japanese are making excellent progress with the laying of the Russian submarines in the far east.

The beef packers are reported to be preparing for an aggressive defense. Well they may, for from all reports the prosecution is to be made as vigorous as possible.

The combined forces of state and federal health authorities have proved equal to the task of coping with yellow jack, if press dispatches are to be believed. The disease is on the retreat.

The Detroit Tribune concedes that Michigan is not as low as Pennsylvania, really a considerable concession, considering the very positive opinions of the Tribune on the badness of Michigan.

Federal control of insurance companies is likely to be a subject treated at length in the next message from the president. There is no subject on which the people would be better pleased to hear from Mr. Roosevelt.

The Democratic endorsement of a Republican nominee for associate justice of the Pennsylvania supreme bench is another indication of the strange political ways into which the Keystone state has been falling of late months.

It is interesting to note that while the rest of the world is now in an optimistic frame of mind regarding the Portsmouth, N. H., negotiations the St. Petersburg sentiment furnishes a little variety by being distinctly pessimistic.

The steamship Fern has, it appears, altogether too interesting a record for active service on the great lakes. Its proper place is in a museum of historical relics. Perhaps it will go there when the Minnesota naval reserves get through with it.

In view of the fact that Henry C. Frick is announced as the successor of Boies Penrose as United States senator from Pennsylvania when the legislature has not yet been named, it is apparent that the Pennsylvania machine must have a few substantial cogs left.

Colonel Watterson predicts that the next president will be a Republican, apparently being tired of having his election predictions contradicted by the results. So desirous is he of once being right that he didn't even run the risk of predicting which Republican the president will be.

There is no gainsaying that it is rather late in the day for another discussion of the proper location of the canal with which it is proposed to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, somewhere between the southern boundary of Mexico and the northern boundary of Colombia.

The New York World solemnly warns John D. Rockefeller that his extravagance late makes him liable to beggary. In three months he has given away over $11,000,000 and his Standard Oil income has been but $2,400,000. With due allowance for other incomes, it appears that John D. must be keeping receipts and expenditures pretty nearly on a par.

The Chinese boycott may be a matter of personal initiative and the government may not have any hand in it, but that fact will prove of no particular consolation to American traders whose business is affected. Indeed it would be easier to reach the trouble in the celestial kingdom were the Chinese government more actively concerned in the discrimination alleged to be practiced against American manufacturers.

The change in the bylaws of the Calumet & Hecla company to permit the officers and directors to buy and sell shares of other mining companies marks a distinct and radical departure in the policy of this great company. Heretofore the Calumet & Hecla officers and directors have confined their attention exclusively and sedulously to this one property, but in the future it is logical to conclude they will manifest an interest in other mines and prospects. It is held that the amendment to the bylaws is a preliminary to participation by the Calumet & Hecla in the development of the Keweenaw territory to be opened up by the Keweenaw railroad now building. The developments resulting from the new policy of this Nestor of Michigan copper mining companies will be attentively watched for.

It is reported that at the next session of congress the old fight for the Nicaragua canal route will be reopened, with a proposal that the Panama route be abandoned in its favor. If any such campaign is embarked on, congress will doubtless quickly find that the sentiment of the country is almost unanimously against turning the Panama route, now that the government has finally turned its energies to the task of digging a ditch there.

The recent experience of a French submarine shows that the plan of the American naval department to provide lifting shackles on all such boats, and to require that they be accompanied during all experimental maneuvers by a vessel powerful enough to lift them, is well considered, as is also the recommendation that all experiments with submarines named by green crews be confined to waters not more than eight fathoms deep. By these precautions it will doubtless be possible to avoid human sacrifice in the development of the American submarines.

It is said that Sunday before Labor day 7,000 preachers in the United States will speak on some phase of the labor question, which fact leads the Detroit Tribune to remark that "the truth is the platitudes so commonly uttered on the so-called labor question are becoming tiresome. We all know that employers and employees should obey the law and be as considerate of each other as possible, that intemperance is bad, that many strikes are ill-advised, that many labor leaders are corrupt, that the employment of young children at hard labor is shocking, that sweatshops are an evil, and that trade unions have often increased the rates of wages and reduced hours of toil for their own members. These things are of such common knowledge, and have been said so many times, that if the 7,000 preachers can find nothing else to say about the labor question, they might better repeat one of their good old doctrinal sermons, if they still believe in them. The clergyman who undertakes to prepare a theological sermon would at least read his bible, and perhaps consult the writings of some recognized exegetist; but we suspect that many sermons and speeches and newspaper articles on the labor question are written without any thought as to what the labor question is, or as to the exact meanings of the economic terms employed. Therefore, our advice to the 7,000 clergymen is to pray over these 7,000 Labor day sermons and to do some reading and independent thinking in pure political economy."

DO THEY OVERLOOK IT? The head-on collision on the Nickel Plate railroad, due to the disobedience of orders by a freight crew, in which a dozen lives were lost, calls attention to the personal equation in railroad operation. In most of the accidents which have of late occurred the disaster was due to some defect in the equipment, or to the neglect of the railroad company to take the steps or incur the expense necessary to insure safety. In those instances the companies suffer through the payment of large claims for damage in addition to the only way an impersonal organization can be made to suffer. In such cases as this, in which the Nickel Plate is concerned, however, the company does not appear to be at fault, but it suffers just the same, while the men who caused the accident practically go scot free.

In the case of the Nickel Plate it can discharge the men who were at fault, but, according to the Cleveland Plain Dealer, there is no law in Ohio by which the company can have them legally punished. In most states there is an offense known as criminal negligence, under which such conduct can be punished by some other name, but railroads do not find it practicable to make such prosecutions.

The roads suffer in these instances, but that is but sorry satisfaction to the public or to those whose friends are slaughtered. There should be some way of preventing such accidents, and the roads should exert themselves in the matter actively. In cases like the one under consideration the men are discharged. But, asks the Plain Dealer, "how is it in the thousands of cases of which the public never hears, in which regulations are violated and disaster is escaped only through good luck? Do the roads discharge any and every man found guilty of any shortcoming which might have caused a wreck though it did not? And if this were the rule would not selfishness alone lead railroad employes to spare passengers' lives merely for the sake of saving their own positions? In other words, do not the roads frequently overlook their men's disobedience when no mischief comes of it?"

There is a suspicion that trainmen often take chances to save a little time, and that when such acts result successfully the management not only winks at them, but rather approves of them. The public should demand strict observance of rules of safety, and laws should be so framed that both the companies and their employes can be held to a strict accountability for disobedience.

CANADIAN BOUNTY STOPPED.

The Canadian government has just discovered that through the mistaken construction of an act of the dominion legislature it has been paying Canadian makers of steel rails a bounty of $3 a ton to which they were not entitled. Under the act of 1903 was passed, giving the government authority in certain contingencies for the payment of bounties on certain rolled steel products made and sold for consumption in Canada, no mention was made of steel rails, none having been made in Canada up to that time. Later, the newly organized Algoma Steel company manufactured some steel rails and applied for the bounty of $3 a ton that was authorized on other rolled steel products. On the advice of a lawyer it consulted, the government recognized the claim and ever since has been paying that bounty on all the rails

Beyond His Limit.

During the Civil war soldiers were very apt to become intoxicated, as liquor was sometimes the only drink they could get. One soldier who was in the habit of becoming intoxicated was remonstrated with by the colonel of his regiment, the conversation which took place being as follows: "You are a remarkably clean man, sir." "Thank you, colonel." "But, sir, you have had habits." "I am sorry for that, colonel." "I don't drink, sir." "Oh, I know you are sorry, but why don't you drink 'em?" "Colonel, I couldn't do it; it would kill me."—Boston Herald.

An Oliver Wendell Holmes Story.

The following story of Oliver Wendell Holmes was told me some years ago by a physician who was a student in the Harvard medical school when Dr. Holmes was an instructor in anatomy there. One day the subject before the class was the cranium, and a human skull was passed from hand to hand, the instructor asking the members of the class to describe the prominent features and apertures. A student after student gave the names and locations of the orifices, until finally the inquiry narrowed down to one opening which baffled every one.

MUNISING NOTES

Miss Lillie Cox of Ishpeming is the guest of Mrs. F. A. Grawn.

Frank Brown, who has been seriously ill from pneumonia, is convalescing.

Harry Glover left Thursday for Frankfort, where he will journey for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Chapman of Marquette and Mr. and Mrs. Nadeau of Detroit were in the city Sunday.

The Standard Tie company has completed the shipment of its stock of cedar poles and ties located on the line of the Munising railway near Dewey station.

Two hundred cases of huckleberries were shipped from this place Monday by express to commission houses in Chicago. The crop in this region is heavy this year.

Dr. E. W. Humphrey has secured office rooms at Lake Linden and will open dental parlors there about Sept. 1. He has a retail liquor store from which will be shipped from Detroit this week.

T. G. Sullivan is expected here from Detroit the latter part of the present week. His family is now at St. Ignace, and it is probable they will accompany him for a brief visit with friends here.

W. R. Burns, of the Munising Telephone company, is building an addition to the second story of the telephone building on Superior street, which will be occupied by his family as living rooms.

Mrs. O. M. McLaughlin departed Monday for southern Michigan, where she will visit for two weeks prior to taking departure for the state of Washington, where she will join Mr. McLaughlin. They will reside at Bellingham.

Andy Herron announces that he will retire from the hotel business, and move his retail liquor store from its present location to the building formerly occupied by George McCann, on Superior street. The change will take place this week.

In the case of The People vs. Chas. Clement, tried in justice court here Monday, the jury failed to reach a verdict, and the case was postponed to next week. Clement was arrested on a charge of murder, the complaining witness in the case alleging that the defendant shot a pig belonging to a neighbor at Shingleton last week.

L. C. Platt, ex-principal of the Munising schools, departed Monday for southern Michigan, where he will visit relatives for a few weeks before taking his departure for England. Mr. Platt was one of the successful contestants for the Rhodes scholarship, awarded at Albion college in May, the award being a three years' scholarship at Oxford university.

James Thompson, who is in the employ of the Northern Lumber company at their new town on the Lake Independence extension of the Marquette & Southeastern railway, writes that the new town is growing rapidly, and that the railway is expected to be completed into the place by the middle of next month. The company is conducting a large timber operation there, and many men are employed. They are in need of bark peelers and cedar men.

James Flagg, age fifty-five years, died Sunday at the home of Robert Irwin, eighteen miles north of Munising, from acute alcoholic poisoning. Flagg was in Munising for several days prior to the day of his death on a protracted debauch and left here Saturday for the Irwin home, where he was employed. His death followed early Sunday morning. Coroner Scholtes empaneled a jury Monday, and with the assistance of Dr. F. A. Grawn held a postmortem over the remains. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the findings of the physician, that the cause of death was acute alcoholic poisoning. Flagg had been a resident of Alger county for eighteen years, and was unmarried. He was a native of the state of Maine.

IRON NOTES

The Wisconsin & Michigan road has connected its tracks with the pocket track at No. 5 shaft of the Aragon mine at Norway. It would appear from this that the Wisconsin & Michigan is to take the place of the Oliver Iron Mining company's ore.

The new electric hoists at Conneaut, O., have made a record by unloading 10,514 tons of iron ore from the steamer George W. Perkins in four hours, four minutes and thirty seconds, at the rate of 2,484 tons per hour, or a little over forty-one tons per minute.

James Sampson, contractor, has been awarded the contract to build a large machine shop and power house for the Oliver Iron Mining company at Hibbing. The company has been planning on this work for some months. The shops will be the largest and best equipped on the Mesaba range.

Another shaft is to be lowered at the Shenango mine north of Chisholm. It means more than at other mines in the district, for the reason it is necessary to penetrate a strata of quicksand. This troublesome element was the cause of the loss of one shaft, and much inconvenience and expense in the lowering of the two shafts now in commission.

The first cargo of ore has been shipped from the Section mine, Menominee range. This makes five shipping mines in the Iron River and Stambaugh districts at the present time. The next few years will show double that number. Corrigan, McKinney & Co., who recently leased the tract, are about to begin exploratory work at the Baken property.

There is a shortage of labor in the Iron River district of the Menominee range. A leading mining man states that fully 200 men can find employment at the several mines in the vicinity. At the Baltic and Caspian the Verona company is handicapped on account of the lack of miners. The same is true at the other mines. The companies are paying good wages.

The iron manufacturers of the state at a recent meeting held at Grand Rapids, decided to reduce the output of pig iron one-sixth for a time on account of overproduction. As a result the Manufacture Iron company's furnace will be shut down temporarily in the near future and needed repairs will be made. The furnace has been in constant operation for several years and needs an overhauling.

The Franz mine, a small property at Buhl, Mesaba range, controlled by the Consumer's Ore company, has been closed and will likely not be reopened this season. The mine was operated underground and gave employment to 150 men. The reason given by the company for the closing is that the ore will not be needed this season. The Consumer's company owns the Yates mine nearby and has a new stripping property near the Forest, known as the Alexandria.

Superintendent C. E. Moore of the Miller mine, Aurora, Mesaba range, told the Virginian that much trouble is being caused by an excessive flow of water at the present time. The clay surface in that locality is very hard and does not take up water readily but the excessive rains of the past spring and summer have finally found their way down through it and the mine is very wet in consequence. The pumps are handling the water at present but it is about all they can do.

The Cleveland-Cliffs company is arranging for the construction of a new changing house at the Ashland mine to replace that partially destroyed by fire. The new "dry" will be a duplicate of the modern structure at the Cleveland-Cliffs company's Lake mine at Ishpeming. It will be built of brick, have a length of 208 feet and a width of 30 feet, and will be equipped with steel lockers, lunch room and twelve shower baths. Bids for the construction of the building are being received from contractors.

By ports, ore shipments this year and last have been as follows:

Table with 3 columns: To Aug. 1, 1904, To Aug. 1, 1905. Rows include Gladstone, Marquette, Ashland, Superior, Duluth, and Two Harbors.

From the 1st of August to the close of the season in 1904 the fleet moved a little over 13,000,000 tons and if the movement for the remainder of the season is no heavier than it was for the same period last year shipments for 1905 will reach 31,000,000 tons. More ore was mined last month than there was in the entire season of 1888, when the shipments were 5,063,877 tons, and that is only seventeen years ago.

"The Gayma range is sure to develop into an important iron mining district," says Gust Carlson, a Hibbing mining contractor. He has just returned from a visit to the Deerwood region, where important discoveries of iron have been recently made. "The prospects out that way are fine," he continued. "I will not be at all surprised to see the Gayma range rank in importance with the Vermilion and Mesaba ranges. The ore appears to be of an excellent quality, and there is a lot of it. The drilling operations are easier in the new field than they were in the old, owing to the fact that there are not so many rocks. On the old ranges one can see great boulders scattered over the ground in all directions, and they are frequently struck by the drills while the ore is being bored, but around Deerwood this rocky formation is lacking, and the country seems well adapted to farming. There are some very fine farms there, in fact, and holes are being drilled in them. It looks queer to see a diamond drill outfit standing in the middle of a fine oat field. The noisy engine, with its smoke and steam and piles of coal, shows up in odd contrast to the quiet surroundings."

MATCHMAKING IN PARIS. Light Thrown Upon the Practice by a Duchess's Experience.

Not long ago, at a dinner, the conversation changed from the subject of charity sales organized by the French nobility to their present condition in money matters, and one of the princely dowagers became the leading topic of conversation. Her prestige with her people is still great, and she is the organizer of almost all parties, programs of sports, charitable enterprises, in a word everything that an active society woman does, who has no home duties.

"I heard," said one of the guests, "that the Duchess of C. has lost her fortune, and that she accepts commissions for the marriages she arranges."

"She does not accept money," said a baroness, who knows the duchess intimately, "but she knows all the marriageable men and women in her set, knows the amount of their fortunes, and as she has great influence she brings those who suit one another together. Now, if the young people or their parents send a valuable present to her for her services, she accepts it. Of course she has an eye upon marriageable American girls, and has made matches between them and French dukes, princes and counts; but she is not in favor of such alliances, and prefers to arrange marriages between men and women belonging to the same class."

"But I have been told that at one time she had the largest fortune in the French nobility."

"You must remember that she gave almost $1,000,000 to the Boulanger cause. After Boulanger declared that he would put Louis Philippe on the throne, and all the nobility rallied around him, the Duchess de C. was the only one of her class who had money to throw away, and she nearly emptied her overflowing coffers into the empty ones of the general."

"What did he promise her for the sacrifice?"

"That she would be the first lady of the land; that she would preside at all the grand ceremonies. The general had left his wife, the duchess was too old to hope for an alliance by marriage, but she was promised a place as dowager of the new kingdom. Boulanger had no intention

CAPT. GRAHAM'S CURE

Of Distressing Humour.

Captain W. S. Graham, 1321 Eoff St., Wheeling, W. Va., writing under date of June 14, '04, says: "I am so grateful I want to thank God that a friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. I suffered for a long time with sores on my face and back. Some doctors said I had blood poison, and others that I had barbers' itch. None of them did me any good, but they all took my money. My friends tell me my skin now looks as clear as a baby's, and I tell them Cuticura Soap and Ointment did it." Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Write to J. C. DRIFTING TOWARDS BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Many people who are neglecting symptoms of kidney trouble, hoping "it will wear away," are drifting towards Bright's Disease, which is kidney trouble in one of its worst forms.

stops irregularities, strengthens the urinary organs and builds up the worn-out tissues of the kidneys so they will perform their functions properly. Healthy kidneys strain out the impurities from the blood as it passes through them. Diseased kidneys do not, and the poisonous waste matter is carried by the circulation to every part of the body, causing dizziness, backache, stomach trouble, sluggish liver, irregular heart action, etc. If you have any signs of Kidney or Bladder Trouble commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at once, as it will cure a slight disorder in a few days and prevent a fatal malady. It is pleasant to take and benefits the whole system.

How to Find Out. You can easily determine if your kidneys are out of order by setting aside for 24 hours a bottle of the urine passed upon arising. If upon examination it is cloudy or milky or has a brick-dust sediment or small particles float about in it, your kidneys are diseased, and FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE should be taken at once.

G. B. Burhans Testifies After Four Years. G. B. Burhans of Carlisle, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the kidney trouble, the pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have since elapsed. I am evidently cured to stay cured, and I heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble."

FIRE AT NESTORIA.

South Shore Agent's House Is Destroyed - Loss About $1,500.

Fire at Nestoria about 10 o'clock yesterday morning destroyed a third of the location in the vicinity of the South Shore depot. The house partly occupied by the railroad agent was destroyed, together with a shed and twenty cords of wood. The blaze broke out in a manner not reported, in the room occupied by Miss Emma Herbert, who conducts the lunch counter at the Nestoria station. A strong wind was blowing at the time, and nothing could be done to stay the progress of the flames. Heat the wind being from the north, it is considered certain the South Shore's new depot would have been destroyed, as well as the burned structure being just opposite across the tracks. The house destroyed was owned by the Upper Peninsula Brewing company. Most of the furniture was saved, but the loss will aggregate about $1,500.

EVIDENCE QUESTIONED.

Alleged Ground for New Trial for Provost, Attacked.

Evidence which friends of the accused are reported to have added in an effort to secure a new trial for Frank X. Provost has been brought into question. Provost is the man arrested some time ago, charged with attempting to blow up the house of N. J. Dolph and Kenton with dynamite, the dwelling being badly damaged by the explosion and the lives of Mr. Dolph and his family being placed in jeopardy. The trial of the accused occurred in circuit court this week, and on Wednesday the jury brought in a verdict finding Provost guilty of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, less than the crime of murder. Seventeen ballots were taken, it is said, before the jury reached its decision, which was in the nature of a compromise, the crime with which Provost was charged being more serious than that for which conviction was had, the warrant having alleged intent to murder.

After the conviction of Provost, who lives near Trout Creek, it was reported to be the intention to apply for a new trial, on the ground of the discovery of new and important evidence. This evidence, it was said, would show that Provost was not in Kenton at the time of the dynamiting, but had spent the night at the house of Mrs. W. McNabb at Trout Creek. Now it is stated that Mrs. McNabb denies that Provost was in her house, and she is reported to have given Sheriff Beck affidavit to that effect.

According to information obtainable last evening, Mrs. McNabb is said to have declared that Provost has visited her house but twice, on one occasion two years ago, and the second time last year. The sheriff returned from Trout Creek last night, bringing with him, it is said, the affidavit purported to have been given by Mrs. McNabb.

The Provost case has aroused much interest throughout Houghton county, and this latest development, if borne out by the facts, will considerably enhance it.

LOOKS BAD FOR ADAMS.

Witnesses Positively Identify Him as Man Who Shot James Rowe.

A strong chain of evidence has been woven around Charles Adams, the Chicago man on trial in the circuit court charged with shooting James Rowe at Laurium during the street railway strike last February. Three witnesses yesterday positively identified him as the man who fired the shot, while a fourth witness testified as to having seen a revolver in Adams' possession prior to the shooting, it having been contended that the accused was unarmed on the day in question.

The trial case was taken up immediately on the convening of court in the morning, and at 10 o'clock the following jury had been selected: Albert Poisson, Charles Hoffman, Charles Dwyer, D. J. Reynolds, M. E. Goldworthy, John Gabe, Frank Lepage, George Bonnellack, J. R. Vivian, R. H. Merrick, Josiah Hall, Jr., and James Teeley. Attorney Kerr, the prosecutor, in his opening address, stated that the contention of the prosecution would be, and such evidence would be introduced, that Adams fired the shot that hit Rowe, the bullet first passing through the arm of John Blackwood, who was with Rowe at the time.

There are still a number of witnesses to examine, but it is probable that the case will go to the jury some time today.

Dunn Jury Disagrees.

When court opened yesterday morning, the jury in the case of Edward Dunn, charged with violating the liquor laws, which had been in session Wednesday afternoon, reported a disagreement and upon being convinced that an agreement was impossible Judge Streeter discharged them.

Present indications are now that the criminal docket will be disposed of tomorrow and that the civil work will be started Monday.

LIKES THE STREET LIGHTING.

Business Man Will Try and Have Exposition System Adopted at Cadillac.

Arthur H. Webber of Cadillac, a member of the Michigan state legislature, who yesterday concluded a three days' session in Houghton, upon his return home will urge the lighting of the streets of Cadillac, at least the main thoroughfares, on the same plan followed on Sheldon street, Houghton, and Quincy street, Hancock.

Mr. Webber, who is a prominent Cadillac druggist, has been in Houghton for the purpose of securing the adoption of a street lighting system of street lighting followed in Hancock and Houghton has caused favorable comment.

MAIL CAR ON COPPER RANGE.

Postmaster Lang of Houghton Trying for Better Postal Service.

Postmaster R. B. Lang of Houghton, besides endeavoring to have the free delivery service extended to Houghton and Isle Royale locations, is urging the postoffice department to put a mail car on the Copper Range road, to run between Calumet and Mass.

At present all mail for South range stations has to be sorted at the Houghton station, and it is necessary to take a pack for each single station where mail is consigned. With a mail car on the run this work would be done on the train.

Even should favorable action be taken by the postoffice, it could be used only during the winter months, owing to the situation at Portage Lake. At Mass connection is made with the St. Paul road. The larger volume of mail comes in over the South Shore, arriving at Houghton, at night, but mail followed the cars, north of Channing would be brought in over the Copper Range, especially in cases where mail is consigned to points between Houghton and Mass.

DIVISION ADJUSTED.

Portion of MacMillan Township, Ontonagon County, Has Been Set Aside.

Ontonagon county now embraces one more township, a portion of MacMillan township having been set aside as Standard township. At a joint session of the newly appointed board of Standard township and the board of MacMillan township, held last Monday and Tuesday, the adjustment of the boundaries and the sets of both townships was decided upon. The real estate and personal property of the new township amounts to $186,550, and that of MacMillan township to $76,540.

It was decided by the boards that Standard township should receive 71 1/10 of the assets and should assume the same percentage of the liabilities. The negotiations were conducted by Attorney Adams of Ontonagon, acting for MacMillan township; Attorney W. J. Gallahan of Calumet, acting for Standard township; and Township Clerk William Johnson of Calumet, acting as expert accountant for both boards.

OUT OF PRISON.

John Barrett Paroled by the State Board of Pardons.

John Barrett of Calumet, who was sentenced to a year in Calumet for presentation to the prison authorities, praying for the release of Barrett. It was extensively signed and at the time was presented to the state board of pardons. The board met recently and went thoroughly into the case. The granting of the parole is the result.

Barrett's crime for which he received sentence at the hands of Judge Streeter was burglary at the Glocke store on Fifth street, Calumet. He was arrested on the charge and later found guilty in the circuit court. Judge Streeter sentenced him to not less than three years and not more than seven.

LOW RATES FOR MERCHANTS.

Full Meetings of Jobbers and Manufacturers to be Held Soon.

Tickets for the first meeting will be on sale Aug. 19 to 26, good for return passage not earlier than Aug. 21 and until Sept. 5. WOULD WRESTLE CARKEEK.

Joe Ziehr of Calumet Anxious to Arrange a Match.

Joe Ziehr, the wellknown Calumet wrestler, announces that he is willing and ready to meet Carkeek for the Cornish championship of the United States. Ziehr lays claim to the title of champion of the Northwest, and it is to defend this title that he is coming to Houghton, where he is willing to meet Carkeek. Ziehr is in the very best of health and could be in the best of condition easily. He is willing to meet Carkeek for any reasonable amount and hopes the match can be arranged as soon as possible after he has finished his match with Frank Gotsch in catch wrestling style. Carkeek's match with Harrington and Collins was only a preliminary to the more important match to follow. If Carkeek decides to come to the copper country he will find several matches awaiting him. In addition to Ziehr there are other wrestlers who would be willing to fill in to make a double match of it, if Carkeek so desires. But Ziehr himself is not looking for double matches. He is willing and ready to take Carkeek on alone, and he believes he is in a position to show against the former copper country man.

HANCOCK COUNCIL SESSION.

A meeting of the Hancock common council was held Wednesday evening at which time bids for laying water pipes in Condon's second addition, north of Summit street, were opened. Owing to the fact that no quorum was present, no official action was taken, but it was decided to award the contract for the work to the lowest bidder, to the satisfaction of the council. The reason for the haste was that the trenches have been open for several days and the pipe is already on the ground. There were three bidders. The action of the council members present will undoubtedly be ratified by the council when it meets next Wednesday evening.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one remedy, which is a scientific constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are cured by this method. MANIPULATING COPPER PRICES.

Evidence Seen of a Coming Reaction in the Metal Market.

Since the market for refined copper largely at 15 cent per pound, apparently upon its merits, there has been more or less jockeying of the market by one or two large interests, says the New York Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin. Tips seem to have been freely given to one or two exporters as well as to numerous large consumers in this country. It had been freely predicted that the market would advance at least one cent per pound and possibly more.

This prediction, too, almost has been made good. One result has been as previously noted that domestic consumers bought very heavily for delivery during the next three or four months and heavy deliveries were made on export account. Europe seems to have been less well prepared for the extraordinary rise that America, however, and the supplementary buying abroad accelerated the advance which has taken place since the 15 cent point was reached.

The unusual and large buying last year and during the early part of this year for shipment to China paved the way to the present extraordinary condition, and although buying for the Far East ceased several weeks ago enough of the surplus copper was taken up to materially assist in maturing the plans for a great advance. Another move of significance in the engineering of the market was the purchase of a round amount of at least 20,000 tons by dealers. It will be remembered that in May there was a halt in the market, and there had been a previous lagging in February and early March. Suddenly surplus stocks disappeared.

That consumption has increased very largely in this country as well as in Europe incidental to the war in the Far East and the development of the electrical industry, is undoubtedly true, equaling, if not possibly surpassing, the production for several months past, and with the copper taking by second hands the surplus was greatly reduced, as previously noted. But the American mines, including British Columbia and Mexico, as well as the United States, are now turning out metal to the extent of 45,000 tons per month, an enormous production, under the stimulus of the very high prices.

There are now signs either that consumers both at home and abroad have overpurchased or that they see more profit in the resale of the metal, because of the great advance, than in putting the crude metal into finished shapes. Mr. J. B. Lee, a resident of the state metropolis, has been seen to have sold a large block of electrolytic copper to dealers in Appleton, Wis., yesterday.

At a special session of the Red Jacket council, held behind closed doors, the proposition to purchase the Anderson building, at the head of Fifth street, with a view to extending that thoroughfare, was abandoned.

Professor Lind, who was also instructor of the Finnish mixed choir of Hancock, was escorted to the train by a number of admirers prior to the departure of the former leader.

Since the market for refined copper largely at 15 cent per pound, apparently upon its merits, there has been more or less jockeying of the market by one or two large interests, says the New York Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin. Tips seem to have been freely given to one or two exporters as well as to numerous large consumers in this country. It had been freely predicted that the market would advance at least one cent per pound and possibly more.

This prediction, too, almost has been made good. One result has been as previously noted that domestic consumers bought very heavily for delivery during the next three or four months and heavy deliveries were made on export account. Europe seems to have been less well prepared for the extraordinary rise that America, however, and the supplementary buying abroad accelerated the advance which has taken place since the 15 cent point was reached.

The unusual and large buying last year and during the early part of this year for shipment to China paved the way to the present extraordinary condition, and although buying for the Far East ceased several weeks ago enough of the surplus copper was taken up to materially assist in maturing the plans for a great advance. Another move of significance in the engineering of the market was the purchase of a round amount of at least 20,000 tons by dealers. It will be remembered that in May there was a halt in the market, and there had been a previous lagging in February and early March. Suddenly surplus stocks disappeared.

That consumption has increased very largely in this country as well as in Europe incidental to the war in the Far East and the development of the electrical industry, is undoubtedly true, equaling, if not possibly surpassing, the production for several months past, and with the copper taking by second hands the surplus was greatly reduced, as previously noted. But the American mines, including British Columbia and Mexico, as well as the United States, are now turning out metal to the extent of 45,000 tons per month, an enormous production, under the stimulus of the very high prices.

There are now signs either that consumers both at home and abroad have overpurchased or that they see more profit in the resale of the metal, because of the great advance, than in putting the crude metal into finished shapes. Mr. J. B. Lee, a resident of the state metropolis, has been seen to have sold a large block of electrolytic copper to dealers in Appleton, Wis., yesterday.

At a special session of the Red Jacket council, held behind closed doors, the proposition to purchase the Anderson building, at the head of Fifth street, with a view to extending that thoroughfare, was abandoned.

The annual picnic of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Calumet will be held tomorrow. The Calumet & Hecla band will furnish music and a program of sports will be pulled off, dancing will be a feature afternoon and evening.

A. B. Jacobs, formerly connected with the Peninsula Wholesale Grocery at Houghton, has been appointed copper country representative for the Wright-Clarkson Mercantile company of Duluth. Mr. Jacobs entered upon his new duties yesterday.

Joseph Cesar and Miss Estella Edwards, both prominent Calumet young people, were married at Sacred Heart church yesterday morning. After a honeymoon spent in Chicago, the couple will return to their home in Houghton, where they will make their home in the metropolis.

Announcement is made of two approaching weddings. On Wednesday, Aug. 23 the nuptials of Cornelius Hanley and Miss Catherine McCormick, popular Calumet young people, will be solemnized at Calumet. The date of the wedding of Miss Emma Penberthy, daughter of E. M. Penberthy of West Houghton, to O. D. Fellows, Jr., mining engineer at the Trimmountain.

Professor Lauri Lind, formerly music instructor at Suomi college, Hancock, left Wednesday night for Boston to take passage for Finland, there to enter Helsinki University to take a course in medicine. Professor Lind, who was also instructor of the Finnish mixed choir of Hancock, was escorted to the train by a number of admirers prior to the departure of the former leader.

NEW ORLEANS TAKES CHEERY VIEW OF THE OUTLOOK—ARSENIC POPULAR.

Table with 2 columns: Category, Value. Rows include New cases, Total, Deaths yesterday, Total.

New Orleans, Aug. 17.—Aside from the fact that the systematic work of the federal authorities and full compliance by local physicians with Dr. White's request for a report of every suspicious case, again developed a stout total of new cases of yellow fever today, the situation continues to give satisfaction.

The discovery of nearly a dozen cases of yellow fever at Mississippi City and the fact that Jackson has tied up the Gulf & Ship Is and road by the destruction of a quarantine against the entire Mississippi coast, leaves New Orleans the only avenue open to the Gulf coast.

Dr. Brady, of the marine hospital service, went to Waggaman, La. yesterday, to look into conditions that threaten a spread of the infection.

Dr. A. J. Montz and two nurses went to Sarpy today, in which vicinity there are a considerable number of cases.

Dr. R. B. Egan of Minnesota delivered an address tonight on his arsenization theory. Dr. Leach is disappointed at the failure of the medical fraternity to co-operate with him in his experiments.

Dr. Egan has been in telegraphic communication with the South today, trying to find all the infected points, and is unable to do so, he hears from private sources that yellow fever is existing in Louisiana and Mississippi that are not reported.

As a result of this information Dr. Egan issued an order tonight quarantining against Louisiana and Mississippi and infected points in other states.

STANDARD INSURANCE POLICY. Commissioner O'Brien Says That Will Be Outcome of Investigation.

St. Paul, Aug. 17.—Minnesota State Insurance Commissioner O'Brien has returned from New York and confirms the report that the investigation of the big Eastern life insurance companies by insurance departments of several Western states, including Minnesota, will not begin before October.

The proposed investigation was delayed," explains Mr. O'Brien, "as I allow New York to complete its committee and proceed unhampered with drafting new legislation for the future conduct of all life companies. The Equitable has been gone over by three committees, the Mutual is now in the hands of the New York department, and as this left only the New York Life, we decided after a consultation with President McCall to defer action until October.

Advocates Federal Control. Denver, Aug. 17.—Ralph W. Breckenridge, of Omaha, chairman of the insurance law commission of the American Bar association, delivered an address on "Federal Supervision of Insurance" before the National Insurance Agents' convention today.

REMARKABLE BIRTH RECORD. Honolulu, Aug. 17.—A dispatch by wireless telegraph from Hilo says that Hana, the Hawaiian wife of Kailua, a Chinese, gave birth to one child last Thursday, two Sunday, one Monday, two Tuesday morning, and one Tuesday night. All are dead.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT HOPEFUL. Expects Lasting Peace to Be the Outcome of the Washington Conference.

London, Aug. 17.—While pessimism reigns supreme in the British reports from Portsmouth and in the newspaper editorials, there exists in official circles in London a strong conviction that a treaty of peace will be the outcome of the conference. The Associated Press is able to state that the British government, which has been kept informed of the progress of the negotiations through Minister Hayashi, is fairly hopeful that a lasting peace will be concluded.

Views of a Diplomat. A diplomat with whom the Associated Press discussed the question today said: "It is natural for both sides to assume an unyielding attitude and to maintain their respective positions to the point of breaking off the negotiations. This has been the practice of plenipotentiaries at every peace conference.

Both Russians and Japanese knew practically what terms could be arranged when it was agreed to meet, and the Japanese would want Sakhalin and an indemnity. If the plenipotentiaries keep their tempers, I am of the opinion they are not likely to split on any points before them."

In contradiction to persistent assertions that the British government is pressing Japan to ameliorate her demands, the foreign office informed the Associated Press today that the government was taking no part whatever in the negotiations. "Advice," it was said, "had not been asked of Great Britain by her ally, and it was not likely to be given until requested."

Neutral Powers Exert Pressure. Paris, Aug. 17.—Notwithstanding official reticence regarding the exercise of mediatory influence for peace by neutral powers, it is the general impression in well-informed quarters here that pressure is being brought to bear both directly on the plenipotentiaries and in Tokyo and St. Petersburg, and the rapidity of the negotiations so far is looked upon as a result of these influences.

RAILROAD EQUIPMENT FOR JAPAN. 150 Locomotives and 2,000 Cars Ordered on American Market.

New York, Aug. 17.—It is not often that the machinery trade of the country is in a better and sounder condition than it is today. Demand is excellent for machine tools of all descriptions, which itself is a good index to the solid and expanding position of all the allied industries which come under the head of machinery. Exports are improving, and in view of the prospects of peace in the Far East, which would afford an opportunity of getting an extensive trade with the two belligerent nations who will have much repairing and rehabilitating to do at home and throughout Korea and Manchuria, the tone of the machinery market there is especially sound.

Home trade, too, is quite brisk for this time of year and has been helped along by the extensive building operations throughout the country and these being with them an ever increasing demand upon the manufacturers for building tools. The machine shops are all more or less busy and as there has been a heavy call for new designs and patterns of every description, the patents books and apparatus have been used to proceed unhampered with drafting new legislation for the future conduct of all life companies.

Steel Saw in a Banana. It was an old trick—that of secreting a steel saw in a banana, and this saw was used by the prisoner, who was allowed the use of the corridor, and during these periods he worked at the bars. After he sawed at the bars he covered the incisions with shoe blacking to hide his operations from the guards.

Then the woman began to cultivate the kitchen employes, and one of them acted as her messenger, carrying a basket of fruit to the prisoner.

Two Policemen Assassinated at Doors of Russian Polish Church. Czestochowa, Russian Poland, Aug. 17.—Two policemen were killed and a woman fatally shot here today by an unknown man at the doors of the Church of the Blessed Virgin. A piling was left as the man fled in a direction after leaving his rifle.

FIFTY DESERT AT FORT SNELLING. Privates Object to Working as Laborers and Leave Army Posts.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 17.—Because they objected to working as common laborers, about fifty privates deserted at Fort Snelling. The government recently purchased a large tract of land to extend the rifle range at the post, and instead of hiring common laborers to do the leveling and grading, the strenuous job and the hot weather caused the men's patriotic spirit to wilt and they deserted, some after the August pay day. None have been apprehended.

NORWAY'S REFERENDUM VOTE. Christiansia, Aug. 17.—Complete returns from last Sunday's referendum on the question of the separation of Norway from Sweden show that 398,200 voted in favor of dissolution and 184,400 against it.

MAKES BOLD ESCAPE

DESPERATE CROOK BREAKS JAIL DESPITE EXTRAORDINARY PRECAUTIONS TO PREVENT IT.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 17.—Andrew Cunningham, pal of Earl Trainor, escaped from the La Crosse jail during the night, just as he declared he would when arrested seven weeks ago. Trainor saved his way through the striped and from his cell door and of the corridor two weeks ago. Cunningham's escape was even more sensational. Both men belong to a gang of adroit safebreakers and they have boasted that no jail in the country is strong enough to hold them. Cunningham, Earl Trainor, and James Crane were held in jail to await trial on the charge of robbing the postoffice at Stoddard, Wis. Trainor saved his way to liberty on the night of July 31.

Guarded With Extra Care. After Trainor escaped the jail authorities adopted extraordinary precautions to prevent Cunningham and Crane from getting away. They were stripped and recled in entirely new prison clothing. They were placed in new cells, which had been furnished with new mattresses and blankets. They were only permitted to leave their cells for exercise three times a day, and then separately and accompanied by guards. They were permitted to see no one, not even their attorneys. At night the turkey had his bed in the main corridor near the doors to the cells occupied by the two men.

And yet, in spite of all the precautions, Cunningham's cell, its doors tightly bolted and every bar intact, was found empty. Cunningham had gone during the night, leaving a note which read: "The mosquito bit my foot, and so I left this place. I can't stand it any longer. Goodbye."

Cunningham had somehow or somewhere secured a heavy iron chisel. With this chisel he worked a hole through one of the four inch blocks of stone which form the floor of the cell. Inserting his hand through the hole he had thus made the prisoner tipped the block up on edge, thus making an opening in the floor of his cell large enough to permit his body to slip through.

Air Shaft Under Cell. Through this opening Cunningham slipped into an air passage three feet high and the bottom of which forms the ceiling of the basement. The partitions between sections of this passage have been knocked out by plumbers who made repairs on the jail a year ago and had never been replaced. The hole was in the boiler room of the jail, only a short distance from beneath Cunningham's cell, and undoubtedly he had little trouble in finding it.

The boiler room is not a part of the jail proper, and upon reaching it all that Cunningham had to do was to open a green door hooked on the inside and walk into a yard back of the jail, which was surrounded by a three rail fence, used to keep horses within bounds.

Postal Inspector Fraser and the local officers are completely at a loss as to the manner in which Cunningham secured the chisel or how he obtained knowledge of the air channel beneath the cell. None of the present jail officers held their positions when the plumbers made the hole, and the parties who did the work, Sheriff Haugen himself did not know of the existence of this space.

Earl Trainor's Escape. Cunningham's pal, Earl Trainor, escaped upon similar sensational circumstances on the night of July 31. Trainor had a record as a jail breaker, for he escaped from jail at Scottsberg, Ind., a year ago. When he was arrested he was charged with robbing the Stoddard postoffice. He was brought to La Crosse. The sheriff realized he was dealing with a clever crook and had looked the prisoner alone on the third floor. For a time no one was allowed to visit him. This rule was broken, however, when a handsome young woman, representing herself to be his wife, begged with tears to see him for just a few minutes. The turkey was present during the interview. The woman called several times later, but was refused admission to the jail.

Then the woman began to cultivate the kitchen employes, and one of them acted as her messenger, carrying a basket of fruit to the prisoner.

It was an old trick—that of secreting a steel saw in a banana, and this saw was used by the prisoner, who was allowed the use of the corridor, and during these periods he worked at the bars. Western Stocks. Yesterday's quotations for Western stocks as furnished by W. H. Schweitzer, 104 Savings bank building, Marquette, were as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Stock Name, Price. Rows include Calumet & Arizona, Calumet & Pittsburg, Lake Superior & Pittsburg, etc.

Copper Metal Prices. New York, Aug. 17.—Copper was higher in London yesterday, with spot closing at $29.10 and futures at $29.50. Locally there was no change. Lake and electrolytic being quoted at $15.62@15.87, and casting at $15.25@15.50.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS. Chicago, Aug. 17.—The wheat market had quite a firm undertone today, influenced chiefly by reports of unfavorable harvesting weather in the Northwest and large freight engagements at the Atlantic seaboard. Commission houses were active in the market, and the market credited to foreign account, while the selling was widely scattered. The cables did not respond fully to the advance on this side yesterday, and the frost predicted for the Northwest did not materialize. The primary receipts were less than a year ago. St. Louis reported acceptance, as well as consignments, light. A falling off of Argentine shipments imparted considerable strength to the situation. The close was firm, showing gains of 3/4 to 1 cent, over yesterday's final figures. September opened at 81 1/2 to 82; highest, 82 1/2; lowest, 81 1/2; closing, 82 1/4.

The corn trade was the smallest in some days, being largely local, and the feeling manifested, while a little unsettled, was steady and the close unchanged to 3/4 cent lower. The early tone was easy, influenced in the main, by the failure of frosts predicted to materialize, and the summary of a well-known crop paper stating that the crop likely would be a record one if not disturbed by early frosts. The country acceptances were fair, larger of more than of old, and the receipts were larger than looked for. Commission houses were moderate buyers after the early decline, professional takers on May, the action of which helped prices to some extent. September opened at 53; highest, 53 1/2; lowest, 52 1/2; closing, 53.

The trading in oats was moderate until near the close, when a general good sized buying order for the December came in from the Northwest. They picked up the offerings and made an advance of 3/4, with the last sales at the Cleveland market. There was less pressure to sell throughout the day, and considerable buying of December and selling of September at 1/4 difference. September opened at 26; highest, 26 1/2; lowest, 25 1/2; closing, 26 1/4.

Receipts and shipments were as follows: Wheat, barrels, 24,000 25,000 Flour, bushels, 162,000 147,000 Corn, bushels, 279,000 411,000 Oats, bushels, 437,000 292,000

Grain Rates Slashed. Kansas City, Aug. 17.—The Chicago Great Western railway has announced a reduction in grain rates. The report is that the rates are to be eight cents on wheat and seven cents on corn from Kansas City to Chicago and from Kansas City to Minneapolis. The present rates are 12 and 11 cents on wheat and corn, respectively. It is said the new rates between Omaha and Minneapolis will be nine and a half cents on wheat and eight and a half on corn, and between Omaha and Chicago ten and a half on wheat and nine and a half on corn.

Pork Quotations. Chicago, Aug. 17.—The prices of September and October pork today ranged as follows: Open, High, Low, Close. Sept. 14.32 14.35 14.32 14.32 Oct. 14.42 14.42 14.32 14.30

ARIZONA OFFICIAL OUSTED. Refuses to Increase Mining Assessments, and Governor Acts. Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 17.—Governor Kibbey today removed Member Donnan from the state board of equalization. He refused to agree to an increase in the valuation for taxation purposes of the various mines in the territory. The other members also refused to impose the increase, but they were not decapitated. The mines have been assessed on a valuation of $3,500,000. Today this was raised to $4,000,000 by the board. The mines, from which is realized nearly $40,000,000 a year, pay less taxes than the farms or railroads.

One hundred and twenty mining claims at Bisbee that produced $9,000,000 worth of copper last year are assessed at only $50,000.

The mining companies are making a hard fight on the raise, but the governor believes that the people are behind him.

REVIEW OF THE IRON TRADE. Cleveland, Aug. 17.—The Iron Trade Review today says: "The strike of the structural workers against the American Bridge company has not caused any disastrous results and indications are that fears of serious embarrassment of building operations will not be realized. The demand for structural material continues with increased force. The most important contract of the week is that for the Manhattan bridge, which will require 43,000 tons of steel, awarded the Pennsylvania Steel company. Large premiums are being paid for prompt delivery, and the American material, ranging from $4 to $10 a ton. Inquiries for heavy tonnage of steel rails are pending. One New York office reports that it has received an inquiry for 75,000 tons from a system to which it has received orders for 20,000 tons have been placed within a few days and inquiries for 130,000 tons are pending. The buying of pig iron continues steadily, but not in large quantities. In New York orders for about 30,000 tons have been placed, of which 25,000 tons have been shipped. Bessemer pig iron is firmer and there is apparently a scarcity in the east, as some shipments have been made from Ohio furnaces. A noteworthy feature of the market is that buyers of all grades are eager for prompt delivery of contracts.

Chicago furnaces report sales are satisfactory, one company having disposed of about 40,000 tons recently. The announcement that the Equinox Iron company will build another blast furnace near Chicago and that M. A. Hanna & Co., of Cleveland, are looking for a site near Chicago shows the growing importance of that district in the manufacture of pig iron."

Many New Plants. Pittsburg, Aug. 17.—Never before, it is said, has such activity been witnessed in the erection of steel mills, furnaces and shops as is now being done in Pittsburg and the Monongahela valley. The total cost of plants either just completed, in course of erection or for which plans have been prepared, is over $25,000,000, and the capacity of the iron, steel and wire plants along the Monongahela river will be almost doubled when all plans are completed. Over 23,000 men will soon be given employment in these plants in addition to the present working force of about 50,000 men. Among the companies erecting new plants are the Carnegie Steel company at Bradock and Homestead; National Tube company, at Pittsburg and McKeesport; Jones & Laughlin, at Pittsburg; American Steel and Wire company, at Pittsburg and Braddock; Pittsburg Steel company, at McKeesport; and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, at Pittsburg.

NURSERY GOVERNESSES SCARCE. The scarcity of good nursery governesses is a matter which has been troubling many wealthy mothers during the last year. English girls, especially English Canadian, are the most in demand as governesses. Among the latter the Canadians are blessed with robust constitutions, perfect health, which presupposes sunny tempers, they are gifted with soft voices and good pronunciation, and they all have the good manners of gentlemen. The position of nursery governess is like, and yet far above, that of nurse. Many young women of good families in England take up this employment, and some here who have failed to find positions as teachers have tried the work, which they find so pleasant that they would not now exchange it for the more public duties of a school. A knowledge of kindergarten work is a great help to one who wishes to become a nursery governess.—Harriet Quimby in Leslie's Weekly.

MARKETS

WALL STREET STOCKS. Active the First Hour, Dull Afterward—Some New High Records.

New York, Aug. 17.—Nearly half a million shares of stocks were sold today in the first hour of trading on the Stock exchange. The transactions of the first hour were the most significant of the day and were the crucial test of the tone of the market in the majority of cases. The extreme animation during that period near the close of the day, and the growth of speculative interest. Following early pressure to sell, the market dropped into dullness.

Immediate new events were of little consequence in the market, and nothing important occurred in fact, to change the general conditions existing. Each day's news adds to the confidence in the prosperous outcome of the grain crops, and the grain carriers held their conspicuous place in the day's market. Both Erie and Reading touched new high records during their period of strength today. Union Pacific was conspicuous and was the subject of the most talk of deals and of mysterious developments. Some getting away from the market, some important developments regarding Great Northern preferred from which it is said the expected benefit to Union Pacific will accrue. Enthusiastic forecasts of the corn crop have been reported by an additional source.

The peace conference at Portsmouth was the subject of attentive consideration under the belief that the critical stage of the negotiations had arrived. All stocks continued to point to a feeling of confidence in the financial world in the peaceful outcome of the conference, and pessimistic utterances from diplomatic quarters seemed to have no power to alter the feeling.

The projected lead merger was again abandoned, depressed National Lead had some affect also on American Smelting. The money market continued easy, and therefore received no attention in the stock market. The silver process continued up to the close, which was made irregular by heavy profit-taking in some stocks and a late rise of about a point in the United States Steel stocks and some others.

Final quotations as reported by Paine, Webber & Co. as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Stock Name, Price. Rows include Wabash, N.Y. & W., N.Y. & W., etc.

Boston Market. Paine, Webber & Co. wired yesterday concerning the Boston copper market: "The Boston market today continued fairly active, but outside of Tecumseh did not show much strength. The situation in Copper Range is still strained, and the stock was very dull. Amalgamated and United Copper both showed an net advance over yesterday's close. The interest seems to be turning to the low priced coppers, 33000, Bidsco, Island and Franklin are fairly active.

Chicago furnaces report sales are satisfactory, one company having disposed of about 40,000 tons recently. The announcement that the Equinox Iron company will build another blast furnace near Chicago and that M. A. Hanna & Co., of Cleveland, are looking for a site near Chicago shows the growing importance of that district in the manufacture of pig iron."

Many New Plants. Pittsburg, Aug. 17.—Never before, it is said, has such activity been witnessed in the erection of steel mills, furnaces and shops as is now being done in Pittsburg and the Monongahela valley. The total cost of plants either just completed, in course of erection or for which plans have been prepared, is over $25,000,000, and the capacity of the iron, steel and wire plants along the Monongahela river will be almost doubled when all plans are completed. Over 23,000 men will soon be given employment in these plants in addition to the present working force of about 50,000 men. Among the companies erecting new plants are the Carnegie Steel company at Bradock and Homestead; National Tube company, at Pittsburg and McKeesport; Jones & Laughlin, at Pittsburg; American Steel and Wire company, at Pittsburg and Braddock; Pittsburg Steel company, at McKeesport; and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, at Pittsburg.

NURSERY GOVERNESSES SCARCE. The scarcity of good nursery governesses is a matter which has been troubling many wealthy mothers during the last year. English girls, especially English Canadian, are the most in demand as governesses. Among the latter the Canadians are blessed with robust constitutions, perfect health, which presupposes sunny tempers, they are gifted with soft voices and good pronunciation, and they all have the good manners of gentlemen. The position of nursery governess is like, and yet far above, that of nurse. Many young women of good families in England take up this employment, and some here who have failed to find positions as teachers have tried the work, which they find so pleasant that they would not now exchange it for the more public duties of a school. A knowledge of kindergarten work is a great help to one who wishes to become a nursery governess.—Harriet Quimby in Leslie's Weekly.

Upper Peninsula

Report Crops Excellent—The farmers in the vicinity of Marquette report excellent indications for an exceptionally big crop of potatoes and other vegetables this season.

Dr. Eaton, pastor at large of the Lake Superior Presbytery, reports that every mission field in the peninsula with the exception of Houghton is now supplied with a pastor.

Transferred to Manistique—Father Corcoran, formerly stationed at Marquette, who for the past five years has been pastor of the Catholic churches at Bark River and Soudan, has been transferred to Manistique. Father Corcoran has done much good work at Bark River and Soudan and the news that he is to leave has been received with much regret.

Disgusted With His Machine—John Johnson of Escanaba has an automobile for sale. His decision to dispose of the big blue touring car which he recently purchased followed a sorrowful exhibition at Ludington and Charlotte streets, when the car became stalled in the street tracks and a team of horses was necessary to pull it to the side of the street.

Exonerated of Shooting—Thomas Wilde was accidentally shot and killed by Matt Penille at Spur 439, Chippewa county, this week. Penille supposed he was shooting at an animal of some kind. It was dark and he could not see plainly. The verdict of the coroner's jury attaches no blame to the shooter. The bullet struck Wilde's liver and he bled to death.

Successfully Sunk Shaft—Captain Henry Whitburn of Bessemer, who went to Detroit last summer to sink a shaft in a salt mine there for the Wallace Contracting company, has completed the work and has resigned his position. Captain Whitburn is the first man to sink a shaft in the Escanaba salt mine. His labors the past year have been arduous and he will take a rest before accepting another position.

Two Murders Suspected—Searchers who have been hunting through the woods of Bay de Noc township, Delta county, in an attempt to find Norman Williams, who disappeared from home Aug. 8, this week, have discovered for a small sum of money which he carried and the body secreted. Within six months two men have disappeared from their homes in the township and have not been found. The authorities have offered a reward of $100 for the finding of the body of the man who disappeared, or information leading to the conviction of the murderers.

In Vogue in Marquette—John G. Stradley offers a suggestion which might be taken up by the city officials. He suggests the idea of stamping in the cement walks at the corners of the various thoroughfares, thereby making a lasting monument and guide for all unfamiliar with the names and locations of our streets. The Times is of the opinion that no better way for marking city's highways could be suggested and the idea is being considered as so small as to be insignificant in comparison with the resulting benefits.—Soo Times.

Board Walks Tabooed—No more board walks will be laid on Superior avenue, Crystal Falls' leading thoroughfare. That was settled at the last meeting of the city council, when an ordinance was passed forbidding the reconstruction of the board walks out of any material other than concrete or its equivalent. This was brought about by the great amount of cement walk being built this year and the example this has set for the people. Present walks may be repaired where a board is missing, but no more repairs are necessary, but it is estimated that inside of three months not a board walk will be left on the street.

Home from Cuba—William Tresise has returned to Ironwood from Cuba, where he spent two years and a half as a foreman in the mines of the El Colera Copper company, near Santiago. Mr. Tresise says that only five or six Gogebicites remain in El Colera, and that they undoubtedly returned north before long. The mine has been operated for hundreds of years, and with its smelting and concentrating plant at Salt Point, Cuba, comprises a very valuable property. Mr. Tresise fought the Spaniards before Santiago in the Michigan National Guard during the Spanish-American war, and his subsequent experience in peaceful pursuits has given him all his wants of Cuba.

Has Annual Fishing Trip—Isaac Stephenson and party arrived at Swazee, Marquette county, from Marquette this week to fish on the Escanaba river, which Mr. Stephenson has taken every year for over twenty years. There were seven boats for the party, which consists of about thirty people, including fourteen fishermen. The trip down to Marquette, which was taken to Wells and Escanaba on special train over the Escanaba & Lake Superior railway, of which Mr. Stephenson is president. At Wells next Sunday the steam yacht Bonita will meet the fishermen and take them to Marquette, arriving there Sunday evening. In the party, besides Mr. Stephenson, are former Governor Hoard, H. P. Myrick, Bart Riddle and H. A. J. Upham of Milwaukee, Clarence Raymond DeLaware, W. Stephenson, Joshua Hodgkins, Mayron Warren, J. Davis, W. Taylor and Watson and Grant Stephenson of Marquette, Clarence Smith of Vicksburg, Miss., S. M. Stephenson and Dr. Phillips of Menominee and Ford Armstrong of Beaver.

UPSETS SUN RING THEORY.

Important Discovery Made by Astronomers at Chicago University.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—A new scientific discovery that promises to revolutionize astronomical and geological hypotheses and to disprove the old nebular ring theory of the origin of the solar system has been made by two of University of Chicago scientists.

In a lecture on "Evolution" at the university yesterday Professor Forest Ray Moulton of the department of astronomy made the first public announcement of the new hypothesis of the origin of the solar system which has been worked out by himself and Dr. Thomas C. Chamberlain, the geologist of this department at the university.

Professor Chamberlain and Professor Moulton have been working for the last two years under a grant from the Carnegie institute, after having spent five years before on the problem, and are now ready to publish their discovery against the attacks of the scientists of the world. The standing of the two scientists probably will at once attract attention to the announcement.

Explains the Discovery. The new theory for the creation of the solar system was explained by Professor Moulton in his lecture as follows: "According to the hypothesis that Dr. Chamberlain and I have evolved, the solar system is the result of the action of a 'wandering' sun on our sun. A sun approached close to our sun and for, say, twenty or thirty years acted attractively on this nebulous body, causing these masses which were thrown off to become spiral masses, due to the constant attraction on the masses and the various changing angles that the moving bodies took relative to each other.

The objects of the system which were attracted by this wandering sun were made to travel in certain paths, which afterward became the orbit of the planets, as the larger masses drew the smaller ones into their orbital paths. The greater nuclei of the sun were attracted to the smaller masses, millions in number, and hence the eight great planets resulted.

Action Further Described. "This wandering sun that crossed the orbit of our nebulous sun in the dim past remained near our sun for twenty or thirty years, it seems, and during this time caused the surface of our sun to be disturbed by wave tides like actions, such as the moon tides of the ocean today. Great masses of nebulae were thrown thousands of miles from the surface of the sun, and these masses were attracted the smaller masses, millions in number, and hence the eight great planets resulted.

Disproves Ring Theory. "These particles thrown from the sun are not solid spheres, but rings, as is held by the old ring theory. From this standpoint this theory will stand the mathematical test, while the ring theory will not, and by this theory the following phenomena have been explained: The direction of revolution, masses came to the orbits, the direction of orbits, presence of asteroids, formations of satellites, the equatorial acceleration of the sun and the solidity of the earth's interior."

Professor Moulton declared that the earth has been solid for ages, as has Mars, Mercury and Venus. Concerning the possibility of another wandering sun coming so near our solar system as to again upset all of its actions, Professor Moulton declared that such a possibility was remote. While he explained to the audience that it was difficult to give a popular explanation to such a technical scientific discovery, he was emphatic in his relation to the new hypothesis, which was the only one which stands the tests of mathematics and astronomy.

MAY LOSE THEIR CHARTERS. Corporate Existence of 3,000 Connecticut Concerns Provisionally Abolished.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 17.—Under a law which became operative today, the corporate existence of approximately 3,000 Connecticut corporations is provisionally abolished. The act provides that the thousands of corporations which are specified by name shall cease to exist on Feb. 17, 1921, but any corporation named in the act may, by a vote of its stockholders, petition the secretary of state for a forfeiture of $25, which shall exempt from the operation of the law. A proviso stipulates that all property rights now existing in favor of or against any specified corporation, or its officers or stockholders, shall also be exempt from the statute.

The enactment of legislation annulling the existence of the corporations in question, is to be completed by the secretary of state, who is to issue a list of the corporations which were no longer in existence, or which, being still in existence, were delinquent in complying with the provisions of the law.

The number of delinquent corporations which the investigation disclosed was sensationally large. It was found that many prominent and prosperous industrial and commercial corporations had neglected, either deliberately or inadvertently, to comply with the statutory requirements concerning annual returns to the state. Unless compliance is effected during the few months of grace allowed, and unless the prescribed penalty is paid, their existence will be terminated.

It is estimated that many of the companies have only a nominal and comatose existence at the present time, and they will not object to the annulment proceedings.

The idea in closing the transaction was to shut out the mosquitoes that might find their way to the top floor of the skyscraper. For instance, the insects are often carried up to their higher floors in elevators, or they make their way up the stairways by degrees, or they might be carried up in clothes. With the transaction closed insects thus getting to the higher floors would be shut out of the rooms, providing, of course, the doors be not left open.

The experiment in Colonel Blakeley's case proved successful, and he established the fact that the mosquito was not in the air at that height. If he had been they would have been blown in through the open window. The mosquito, as it is said before, roasts close to the ground, and he is not at all fond of the dizzy heights of the modern skyscraper.—New Orleans Times Democrat.

AMERICAN PRODUCTS WENT IN CANS TO THE REMOTE PARTS OF THE EARTH.

At the beginning of the Spanish-American war in 1898 there were 2000 canneries in the United States, which put annually $2,000,000 worth of canned goods. Most of the canned goods were consumed at home, but the year before the war we sent abroad canned fruits to the value of $1,346,281, and canned meats to the value of $2,000,000.

Since 1892 we have been manufacturing our own tin plate. The production of tin and tern plates increased from 42,119,000 pounds in 1892 to 804,411,000 pounds in 1907. This home manufacture of tin plates gave great impetus to the manufacture of cans, the bulk of the American tin plate product going to the can manufacturers.

The tin can has not only contributed to the comfort and convenience of the housekeeper at home and abroad, but it has led to a revolution in the growing of vegetables, great plantations being devoted to the growing of peas, beans, etc., to be canned.

NOT GOING TO RUSSIA. Charles M. Schwab Starts on a Business Trip to Germany.

New York, Aug. 17.—Charles M. Schwab has sailed for Germany on the Kaiser Wilhelm II, accompanied by Archibald Johnston, an engineer, and one of the directors of the Bethlehem Steel company. Mr. Schwab said he will not go to Russia, but will probably remain in Germany until he returns to New York, some weeks hence, unless he makes a visit to Mr. Carnegie in Scotland. He will land at Bremen, go from there to Hamburg, and from that point to other German cities, where he may have business to transact.

"Is it true," he was asked, "that one of the objects of the visit to Europe is to close contracts with the Russian government for armor plate?"

"No, sir. I am not going to Russia at all," he answered.

"But it is said that you have been in contact with the Russian government for the new navy Russia is to build, and that you would close the deal while in Europe."

"I will not say anything about business with Russia because I cannot at this time, but I am not going any farther east than Germany. On this trip my business is in that country."

"What about the reports that several engineering experts will go abroad with you?"

"Mr. Archibald Johnston of the Bethlehem Steel company is the only one who will accompany me to Germany."

"It is said that Mr. Carnegie is interested in the armor plate contract with the Russian government, and that you will visit him in order to confer with him about it."

"I can't say anything about any business I may have with Mr. Carnegie, but I will say that I may see him before I get back to New York, and that I go to Europe exclusively on business for the Bethlehem company and will probably visit some shipbuilding plants in Germany. That is all I care to say."

CAPTIVES OF JAPAN.

The Burden Imposed by Keeping Russian Prisoners.

Aside from the tremendous burden of the active campaign itself, Japan must find herself saddled with a heavy indirect expense in caring for her Russian prisoners. Already there are at the different prison camps—that is, the places where the prisoners are held in barracks for receiving the prisoners—some 30,000 Russian captives, officers, privates and supernumeraries (these last including a few women and several children), all of whom have to be clothed, fed and guarded, and if all of the Port Arthur garrison are not to be permitted to return to Russia on parole are taken to Japan this number will be very materially increased, without taking into consideration any more who may be captured in other engagements.

At a very moderate estimate these three items of primary expense, namely, food, clothing and guards, cannot be much less than 50 sen a day, and at that rate the total which Japan will have to provide for one year's maintenance of her prisoners of war is upward of 5,000,000 yen, and there is the disagreeable fact confronting the Japanese government that it is probably impossible for it to use the labor of those prisoners in the Japanese way.

It would be interesting to know just how the Japanese prisoners in Russian hands are faring. Exact knowledge is not available, and, besides, the number cannot be compared with that of the Russian prisoners in Japan, for no such disaster as the surrender of Port Arthur has befallen the Japanese. It is certain, however, that a considerable number of Japanese have been taken by the Russians, but where they are and how have they been treated? The Japanese government is certainly not in a position to furnish an impression created at the time of the surrender of Port Arthur, when the disparity between the number of Japanese prisoners actually accounted for with the number that must have fallen into Russian hands became evident, has not yet been removed, and is not likely to be effaced.—Shanghai Mercury.

THE MOSQUITO'S LIMITATIONS.

Not a High-Flyer, Skyscrapers Offer Territory Lame From Him.

The skyscraper is unquestionably an enemy to the mosquito, and we need not go out of New Orleans to establish the fact. It has been known for some time that the mosquito was not a high flyer, and that he was in the habit of getting very far away from the earth. The wind will occasionally blow him up, but he never gets very far up in the air unless forced up against his will. He always roasts in the ground. I was talking with Colonel Andrew Blakeley of the St. Charles Hotel the other day about this same matter, and he assured me that he had established the fact beyond the peradventure that the mosquito was not in the air at that height. To achieve the excellence demanded by college sentiment, which thinks only of the race, the professional teacher is employed because graduates are prime candidates to give half the year to laboring with the men. But rowing in America is not a popular recreation, whereas

ROWING IN AMERICA.

Lack of Interest Here as Compared With Its Popularity in England.

In fairness to American sportsman-ship, it should be recognized that conditions, not theories, have had to mold the differences between our own and English athletic methods. "Trying too hard to win" is not a wholly culpable American feeling, nor does it deserve too sweeping an indictment from English critics perched at a condescending altitude.

While it is true that there exists in this country a distorted view of athletics as recreation, the professional coach is not the cause. He is both a symptom and a resultant issue. It is a plausible half-truth that while the Oxford or Cambridge man makes of boating a whole-hearted pastime, the American athlete makes of it a heart-breaking occupation. But to acquire knowledge and physical fitness needed to reach a high standard of oarsmanship, the youth of the American campus must expend untold hours of toil and effort demanded of his English cousin, and it would be un-American to expect him to be content with anything short of the highest possible standard of excellence.

Early in January for example, the Yale crew captain calls together the candidates for the university shell. Fifty sturdy youths may assemble in the gymnasium, among them only three or four of last year's "veterans" as the backbone of the eight who must be picked and welded by sheer hard work and persistence. Next come last year's substitutes, the members of previous "second" and freshman eights, and several plucky supernumeraries of other crews. Leaving the mass of unwieldy raw material are three or four freshmen from St. Paul's and Grotton, the only preparatory schools at which rowing is taught. The captain is lucky if he faces a score of rowers who have never been handled a sweep. He cannot afford to overlook the likely looking novices, among the little and muscular football men who have yet to feel the jump of the oar. Although the season has not yet months away, the time is now too long in which to train eight effective units into harmonious combination. The oarsman who learns first-class form in less than two or three years, is the rare exception.

The harbor is locked in ice, the playing fields are snowbound, yet the squad of recruits must be somehow hammered into shape, and every day is precious.

The gymnasium and the town streets are the training ground, from January into March. Stiffened muscles must be made limber and obedient, lungs drilled to rally to agonizing calls for breath, unwieldy bodies taught alert responsiveness. The afternoon's work begins with a long, jogging run through the streets, and into the suburbs, a monotonous grind of four to seven miles, and a trailing hardship to the fat and short winded. Panting, steaming, the squad backs to the gymnasium, where they are sweated for a trying round of calisthenics as would amaze the most rigorous physical culture exponent.

All this is in his preparation for rowing in the tank, an ingenious instrument of torture devised by the inventor of a shell floating in "real water." In the basement of the gymnasium is this cemented rectangular pool, down the middle of which is built a narrow trough equipped with sliding seats and outriggers. When the oar blades are struck through the sluggish water that surrounds this trough a current is set in motion, while the "boat" remains most emphatically fixed.

Although the oar blades are whittled to half their width, the resistance to the weight of water they must shove round and round is so great that to pull in the tank is to taste hard labor raised to the ninth power. At the end of the afternoon's exercise the unconditioned oarsmen in the early season will have lost from four to seven pounds' weight.

This program eliminates the unit until the ice breaks and the working barges can be launched. On the water among the early spring spray freezes where it flies on bare arms and legs, and now and then the barge is wrecked by floating ice, and the oarsmen forlornly scramble ashore as best they can. There are no interested onlookers, no cheering, no graduates, nothing but steady grind far from the campus throngs, under the eyes of unrelenting coaches. The "veterans" must suffer for the sake of the raw material, which needs the punishing persistence of effort to develop it.

Warmer weather brings some comfort, and the satisfaction of work well done; but the crew continues to be a thing apart from the college interests, toiling in dogged isolation.

June brings the pilgrimage to New London or Fougheespee, and increased nervous tension and more wearing work. There are no diversions to inspire a holiday spirit among these stern faced, sun blackened youths and boys among the country hills in their own little communities. There is little to occupy their thoughts beyond the looming race, the importance of which has been steadily magnified by six months of unremitting preparation, all for twenty minutes of surging down four miles of shining river. They are proud of their distinction, they have won great prestige among their classmates, and, if victory crowns their struggle, which it is altogether beyond words. But if defeat be their portion, the disappointment is profound, and there is little of joyous pastime to reach compensation.

The handicaps of hostile climate and inclement material have combined to make the rowing systems forced and machine-made at American universities. To achieve the excellence demanded by college sentiment, which thinks only of the race, the professional teacher is employed because graduates are prime candidates to give half the year to laboring with the men. But rowing in America is not a popular recreation, whereas

MUSCULAR LANCASHIRE MAIDS.

The maids of Blackburn are making a supreme effort in regard to the development of the race. To promote the consideration of the health question, to cultivate a proper pride regarding the care of the body, to discourage prudery and ignorance regarding vital physical parts, to foster a love for outdoor exercise as a means to develop health and strength, and to discourage the use of tobacco and intoxicants among male friends and acquaintances.

All young unmarried girls residing in Blackburn and district are eligible for membership provided they subscribe to the principles of the society.

A field has been rented by the club for the purpose of engaging in outdoor sports, and an instructress in gymnastics has been engaged to take the members in hand in the winter months. It is proposed to establish a library of books on all matters appertaining to physical culture, health and hygiene.—London Daily Express.

OUR NEW MINISTER.

The greatest hit the stage has ever known is what critics call Denman Thompson and Geo. W. Ryer's "Our New Minister," which swept through the east two seasons like a whirlwind. In "Our New Minister" as in Thompson and Ryer's other effort, "The Old Homestead," above everything else is the atmosphere of cleanliness that obtains in the production. It comes to the theater on Tuesday, Sept. 5.

ONCE LIVED HERE.

Father of Young Man Who Attempted Suicide in the West a Former Resident.

The announcement in Wednesday's issue of The Mining Journal regarding J. Christopher's attempt at jail breaking, and when caught in the act tried to kill himself, in the Chesterfield jail in the state of Washington, created no little comment here from the fact that the young man was a son of Captain J. P. Christopher, a former resident of this county. The captain had charge of several properties on this range in the early seventies. He was superintendent of the Pioneer mine at Negaunee for several years, moving later to Michigan to take charge of underground operations at the mine there. In later years Captain Christopher had charge of mining operations in the Gogebic range, remaining there until he went west to accept a more responsible position than any he held in the Lake Superior district.

According to the press dispatches young Christopher led a fast life in the west. He has been in a number of shady deals, and a few years ago attempted to rob his father of a large sum of money. The desperate and attempted to take his father's life rather than lose the opportunity then presented to get the money. A brother appeared on the scene in time to prevent the holdup and possible murder.

The latest advice from Chesterfield is that young Christopher may not live as a result of the self-inflicted bullet wound in his head. It was while awaiting the result of an appeal to the supreme court that he planned to escape, and secured from a woman, who professed to be his wife, a revolver, cartridges, dynamite, hack-saw and a bottle of carbolic acid. Christopher's first attempt to escape was by blowing a hole in his cell, which aroused the guards by the explosion. When the fellow saw he was surrounded he shot himself in the head.

A WARNING TO MOTHERS.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by the People's Drug Store.

"DORA THORNE" PRAISED.

Of Rowland and Clifford's new production, "Dora Thorne" which will be at Ishpeming theater Monday evening the Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat and Chronicle has to say: "Lem B. Parker's dramatization of Bertha M. Clay's long popular novel, 'Dora Thorne' drew a large audience to the Baker last evening and the play proved to be one of the best seen at the theater this season. The play, like the novel, is full of thrills that delight the feminine heart and the large proportion of women in the audience watched the delineation of the plot in which true love culminates in marriage, is then turned to misery by a designing adventuress, through three acts, and in the final act triumphs over the machinations of the D. A. The drama was presented by a strong and unusually well balanced cast. The prices will be twenty-five, thirty-five, fifty and seventy-five cents. The seat sale will open tomorrow morning at the usual time.

OLD PEOPLE Their Pains and Ailments

Any taint of the blood quickly shows itself with old people, and troubles, which a younger, more vigorous constitution holds in check, take possession of those advanced years. A mole, wart or pimple often begins to inflame and fester, terminating in a sore that refuses to heal.

I had a severe attack of La Grippe, which left me almost a physical wreck. To add to my wretched condition, Rheumatism developed. In a short time after beginning S. S. S. I was relieved of the pains and have gained in flesh and strength and my general health is better than for years.

SSS is purely vegetable and is the safest and best blood purifier and tonic for old people, because it is gentle, but at the same time thorough in its action, purifying the blood of all poisons and foreign matter, strengthening it and toning up the entire system.

Thousands of Women ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that it Really Does Make Sick Women Well

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatment for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished its widespread results for good?

Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

Marvellous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due.

Women who are troubled with painful irregular menstruation, leucorrhoea, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration, or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

Sigora Dase, the great Italian actress, who has been appearing in London, has a wonderful power of facial expression. One moment she is apparently a girl of sixteen; at the next, without any make-up, she resembles an old woman of sixty. She is an actress who feels her part intensely. She is reported to have said on one occasion: "If I played Camille two nights in succession, especially the death scene, I should die, the part is so real to me."

President Roosevelt has not revised his views on socialism, but he is finding it advisable to give less publicity to them. Too many parents of large families wanted recognition from him. A halt was called a few weeks ago, when letters from various parts of the country arrived at the White House asking if it was true that the president intended to present medals to parents of extraordinary large families. It seems that an obscure newspaper started a story that medals were awaiting the heads of big families, and applications for the badges of honor and distinction poured in for a short time.

William Travers Jerome's name was decided by the toss of a coin. His father, Lawrence Jerome, was a great friend of William Travers, the wealthy stock broker, whose stutter and jokes used to keep his friend in continual laughter. When Jerome's son was born the father could not decide whether to choose his own or his friend's name. "Let us toss for it," suggested Travers, and they did. The stock broker won and the boy was named William Travers Jerome. It was Travers who advised a stammering acquaintance to consult a certain doctor regarding his affliction. "You can depend on his high-sounding name," said Travers, "for he cured me."

Since his return from England former Ambassador Choate has been fairly deluged with offers and pleas to take law cases. When he landed in New York, several months ago, Mr. Choate announced emphatically that he would not resume active practice at the bar, but that statement has by no means deterred scores of individuals and corporations from seeking his services. The attempt of the legislative committee that is to investigate insurance companies to induce Mr. Choate to accept a retainer as advisory counsel of the committee has been made to persuade the distinguished lawyer to resume practice. It is said that one large corporation offered Mr. Choate $100,000 a year to become its counsel. With all these importunities and excellent opportunities for financial gain, Mr. Choate has remained quietly at his summer home near Stockbridge, Mass. Though it is possible that he may assist the insurance investigation, it is said that his determination to retire is unalterable.
