Representative Byrns is still busy sticking by the administration. It is mutually advantageous business.

Representative Galbraith is still a house leader, though his speciality this year appears to be leading lost horses.

As far as the Common Voter is concerned the governor can go as far as he likes with his primary election reform program.

The Jamestown exposition is open, but at this early day it is about all that can be said for it, as it is far from finished.

The Wisconsin senatorial situation is about where it was the day before yesterday; also the day before the day before yesterday.

However, we may feel assured that as long as the Rev. Rutledge encounters nothing harder than eggs he will continue on his way undismayed.

We should think the Moyer-Haywood delegation would decide not to see the president. Evidently the president has said, from his point of view, the last word.

Chapter II of the governor's primary election reform program will have next week. Chapter I was so lengthy that it took up one full day's sitting of the lower house.

It appears settled that while the University of Michigan is not going to get from the legislature all it wants, it is going to get a great deal more than was given it two years ago.

Mr. Hummer, Democratic candidate for congress in the Fifth district, lumps Governor Warner, Senator Smith and State Chairman Diekmann together as "bosses." Perhaps he means bosses of the old bosses.

The Wisconsin legislature is doubtless beginning to sort of wish that the primary law also covered the choice of Senator Spooner's successor. It doesn't take this deadlock business long to become tiresome.

Miss Fish's trousseau is to cost $250, 000 and her wedding gown $50,000. Whatever the consequences of Dad's collision with Mr. Harriman, it appears that his personal fortune could not have been very badly impaired.

One of the things that actuates Representative Galbraith in choosing a line of action is knowledge of what Governor Warner wants. Once he has attained it, he can be depended upon to begin bee-hawing in the opposite direction.

From the point of view of the administration the copper country is the Michigan bad lands. Marquette county is regarded as half way territory. Only one-half of it is represented as the administration thinks it should be.

If, as reported, there are eighteen senators prepared to accept the governor's program for primary reform amendments, it appears that even former Senator Baird won't recognize his law when the legislature gets through with it.

Governor Warner may be playing politics, but the play is the sort that the people like. They have no objection to being bribed into the support of a man or set of men by an extension of political privileges that they want and that they conceive to be, in the long run, for the public's good. They hope Governor Warner will stick it out on his present line, if it takes all summer.

The state affairs committee of the senate has reported favorably on Road Commissioner Earle's bill for a Keweenaw county prison, and it has gone to the finance committee, of which Senator Smith is chairman. Senator Smith is reported to be one of the patrons of the measure. There are geographical reasons why he should favor it; also he might be expected to favor it because the administration is opposed to it. The bill is receiving more consideration in the upper house than it should get on its merits. In the lower house, however, where the administration influence is more pronounced, there is no expectation that it will be considered seriously, even if it should emerge from committee, which is by no means a certainty. By the majority of the legislators the proposal is regarded as a good deal of a joke.

A Chicago preacher thinks that there are no benefits in knowledge or anything else that can follow on the discovery of the north pole that can compensate for the demoralization, moral and physical, of the Esquimaux, following on the visits of the white man. Rather rough on the white man, this view of the case.

Governor Warner and Arthur Hill of Saginaw sat on the same platform at Lansing this week at a memorial service for the late A. T. Bliss. Nothing untoward happened, but it is reported that the entire assemblage could have heard a pin drop when Mr. Hill, in the course of his eulogy, said this: "Governor Bliss did seek office, as his eloquent comrade has stated, but in the sharp political contests, of which he had many, and to kill, not to wound, but to win and win like a gentleman. He never from ambush hurled slur or slander, but fought in the open field, according to the rules of honorable warfare."

Senator William Alden Smith has joined the governor in a stand favorable to a direct vote on the candidates for the U. S. senate. The following dispatch from him, addressed to the Michigan legislature, was received Wednesday night, before the house took up the proposed amendments of the primary reform law as a committee of the whole, and perhaps was a considerable influence in determining its action favorable to the direct nomination project: "The state primary law is intended to reflect the public will, and should include in its scope the nomination of United States senators by direct vote of the people; I hope the law may be thus amended."

The village council at Munising has this year been insisting on gilt edged saloon bonds, and it is reported that the number of saloons in the village will,
 in consequence, be reduced 25 per cent or more. It is said that the manner in which the recent elections were conducted were one influence in leading the councilmembers to insist on sufficient bonds.
 Munising has in the past been following the general practice of accepting saloon bonds without close scrutiny, and thus many of them have been of the straw variety. As long as it insists on bondsmen who really have the property free from encumbrance they swear to have the number of saloons in the village will doubtless be considerably smaller than would otherwise be the case.

GOVERNOR OR LEGISLATOR?
 Every school boy knows the fundamental of the plan of government conceived by the Fathers of the nation.
 There were to be three branches—the executive, legislative and judicial—each possessing distinctive functions and each wholly divorced from the other. The legislative branch was to make the laws, the executive to execute them and the judicial to interpret them. But in latter years two branches, the legislative and judicial, have become so badly slurred that it is hard to tell where one begins and the other leaves off. We see this in state governments, and we have seen it in the national government. We have had this week a first class illustration of it at Lansing, where, Thursday, on the floor of the house, Governor Warner directed in person a four hours' fight for the amendment of the present direct nomination law to accord with his ideas.

Governor Hughes of New York, a great lawyer, is among the few governors who have seen the peril in breaking down the wall between the functions properly belonging to the executive and to the legislative branches of the government. At the beginning of his present term he took the stand that he would content himself with exercising the executive powers conferred on him by the state constitution, allowing the legislature to work out its own salvation in legislative matters, without let or hindrance.
 Governor Hughes has stuck pretty close to his announced program. He has not gone down into the halls of the legislature to beat the members into line for his program. As a consequence of his refusal to embark on such a course the legislature was getting away from him rapidly, when the decision in the reapportionment case gave him a new grip on affairs. Governor Hughes' experience has been such as to suggest that the breaking down of the old wall between legislative and executive prerogatives has gone so far that the executive who stands aloof from the legislature, and does not endeavor to influence it, stands a poor chance of getting his program carried out, unless, per se, it accords with the views of a majority of the legislators.

Governor Warner's course shows that he has no time to waste on nice questions about the proper balance between the collateral departments of the state government. He wants results, and he intends to take the most direct road to get them. Throughout the session he has been a bigger influence in purely legislative business—though primarily elected as an executive—than any man, or number of men, elected by the people to make laws. He was a big factor in the senatorial fight. It was he who gave direction to the railroad legislation. The binder twin plant project is one that would likely have failed if it had not been for his advocacy of it, and now he appears on the floor of the house of representatives and leads the fight for carrying out his personal ideas in regard to the primary elections law.

The fact that much of Governor Warner's work has been popular, and of a nature to benefit all the people, and the fact that his views on the need for a far-reaching revision of the primary election law are sound do not change the condition that direct interference in legislative affairs by an executive is fraught with danger. This would be quickly borne in on people were Governor Warner a bad, instead of a good, intentioned executive, and had he his present influence with the legislature. Then there would be an instant outcry against his part in legislative proceedings. It would quickly appear to people that his course was out of consonance with the best theory of the American form of government. It is only because the governor's ends are approved that his methods are palliated. Even President Roosevelt has not yet appeared on the floor of congress to push his measures, and impetuous and fearless as he is, it will probably be a considerable time before he will venture the experiment.

About Governor Warner's making good there is no doubt. The house Thursday approved both the repeal of the 40 per cent provision of the present primary law—a good thing to do—and the nomination of U. S. senators by direct vote —come to be accepted as another good thing. Other proposed amendments will be taken up later, and will doubtless also be approved. At this writing there seems to be better than an even chance that Governor Warner will get the primary law amended by the legislature as he wants it amended. But many thoughtful people will wish he might have attained his ends by indirection, instead of leading his fight on the floor of the house. They regret to see a man they elected as an executive apparently the most active legislator. Presently, they apprehend, they may draw a governor-legislator who is not as good or as honestminded a man as Governor Warner. Anyway they believe in the abiding wisdom of the statesman who devised the scheme for our three-branch government, and would like to see the three branches kept distinct and separate, each held responsible only for the work it was elected to do.

Upper Peninsula
Ended Life With Paris Green—John McGuire, aged forty-eight, is dead. Grand Marais, the result of taking paris green with medicinal intent. He had been despondent for some weeks.
 McGuire was an engineer on the Muskegon railway. A wife and an adopted child survive him.

School's Head Retained—Superintendent J. W. Jayne has been re-engaged by the Grand Marais board of education at a salary of $1,400, the same as last year. The balance of the teachers have not as yet been retained but it is said there will be few if any changes in the present corps.

Marksmen Bays Three Wolves—Frank Moulton, a sawyer in a mill at Duff's Siding near Eckerman, came in to the Soo and had with him the heads of three wolves, which he claimed were shot by a member of a party of four who were after the animals on a rifle for sport. Moulton was one of the party.
 He says that wolves are very thick in that region. This party of four took their rifles and were in the woods just north of Duff's siding but a short time when one of the party ran across a pack of seven wolves which were chasing a deer and succeeded in dropping three of them. This accomplishment, in view of the fact that killing wolves with a rifle is considered practically impossible, is deemed very remarkable by hunters.

The four men will receive $20 to divide among themselves as the result of their day's sport. Moulton was not able to secure the bounty, however, as the law requires that the identical person who shot the animals make an affidavit before the bounty is paid, and Moulton was not the man who killed the wolves.
 He stated that the right man would be on hand in due time to make the affidavit.

Globe-Trotter Starts Out—Brimful of enthusiasm and with a minimum supply of personal belongings, Gerald Clifford, an Escanaba young man, has started out to earn his own way around the world. He is headed for the Atlantic seaboard. Arriving there he plans to sail for Liverpool in a cattle steamer, and on reaching England will proceed on his European itinerary. That finished, the youthful globe circum-navigator will go to China, Japan and the Philippines, returning to this country by way of Hawaii. He expects to be gone probably two and one-half years and upon his return will enter the law department of the Michigan university at Ann Arbor. Young Clifford expects to maintain himself entirely through his own efforts and those who know him believe that he will succeed. He is strong, mentally and physically, and is well equipped to perform the feat which he has undertaken. "I am carrying only a small satchel with a few extra clothes," said Clifford, "and if that gets me numbers, I'll soon check it. While I don't expect to ride in steamboat cabins or first class trains, I intend to go everywhere I have a desire to go, and you can bet I'll get through."

Gets His Clerk After All—
 When the Chippewa board of supervisors at its annual meeting last fall decided that all county officers hereafter pay their own clerk like it also cut out the salary for a register in chancery, saying that this work rightfully belongs to the judge of probate. Judge Snell argued that the law did not require him to act in a clerical capacity and that if the board did not make allowance for paying their own clerk they would be left incomplete and that the public would be the sufferer. However, the supervisors were firm and adjourned without making provisions for the payment of a register.
 It now transpires that the judge did not lay down when the board refused to grant his request, but biding his time he had introduced in the legislature a bill providing for a probate register for Chippewa county and fixing the compensation therefor. This bill has been passed and is now a law, the governor having attached his signature thereto. The judge has the laugh on the board and all that the supervisors can do now is to look pleasant and pay the salary of the register in the probate office. Moral:
 There is more than one way to skin a cat.

Aged Documents Unearthed—County Clerk H. E. Paralle was looking over old records of his office at the other day, and ran across some very interesting documents of the days when Michigan was a territory and Chippewa county took in the whole of the upper peninsula and half of Wisconsin. Among the papers was a notary commission issued and signed by Lewis Cass to Ephraim Johnstone and dated April, 1827. Chippewa county was organized in 1827, and a polling list of the voters contains twenty-seven names.
 The county could not have grown very rapidly for a record was found directing Sheriff Samuel Ashman to summon twenty-four jurors as a circuit court panel. His returns, however, contain a list of but seventeen names and whether the number is all that was available is not stated. The residents in those days were not very prosperous and had considerable difficulty at times in keeping the wolf from the door. They united in a lengthy petition to the legislature asking to be exempted from paying their taxes, one of the reasons being that the "Soo was a small town set off in one corner." Human nature is thus shown to be the same in those days as in the present, for people have continually endeavored to evade paying taxes ever since, and even today the tax question is one of great importance in the community.

St. Ignace Gold-Bricked?— Disgruntled, it was said at the time, at the lack of attention paid them, the members of the Western Hay Fever association voted a few years ago to relocate their headquarters from Marquette, Casting about for a suitable location, they hit upon St. Ignace as the ideal spot, and upon that city promising certain flattering inducements, the "jolly sneezers" lured themselves thither. There were no tears shed in Marquette at the departure, for as a rule they were small spenders and benefited the town but little in comparison with the financial good accruing from the actual summer resort-ers. St. Ignace congratulated itself on its drawing of the big prize, and among other things in carrying out its pledges it caused a pavilion to be erected at a cost of several thousand dollars for use as the permanent headquarters of the association. Now the news comes from the city at the straits that J. M. Campbell, erstwhile of the straits, waited on the common council at its recent session and asked as to what use, if any, the building could be devoted, now that it is

THE WISDOM OF TAFT.
 It is announced from Washington that after consultation with the president Secretary Taft is determined to make no change in his contemplated program.
 Although strong pressure has been put upon him to abandon his proposed trip to the Philippines and devote his time instead to a canvass of Ohio he has decided that he will go to Manila as originally contemplated and at the time contemplated. The decision is a wise one.
 Secretary Taft attending strictly to his duties and performing them well regardless of his personal interests is a much more inspiring spectacle than Candidate Taft neglecting his public duties and working for his own interest.

The country has become somewhat impressed with Mr. Taft's fitness for the position of president, not because he is reported to be the president's choice as his successor, but because he has demonstrated his personal worth and his ability. If he is nominated at all it will be on that account and were he now to practically desert his post and devote his time to a personal campaign he would in a large measure forfeit the administration new felt for him.

Mr. Taft has gained in strength as a possible candidate from the time his name was first mentioned and it appears that his strength has increased without any effort on his part to build up a personal party or a personal machine. During all the talk he has steady-ly gone about his business doing what was at hand. No mistakes have been charged up against him. In the Philippines, in Cuba, in Porto Rico he has been the visible factor in effecting results and though complaints regarding our course have come from all these sources in no instance has there been any complaint against Taft.

In the present case Mr. Taft seems to have been guided by the highest political wisdom. He does not avow himself a candidate and so does not draw the fire of the opposition.

BRIDE ASSAILS HUSBAND.
 Chicago Woman Accuses Muskegon Banker of Wrongdoing.

Muskegon, Mich., April 26.—Mrs.
 Gladys Manson Thayer of 1070 Sherman drive, Chicago, well known in north shore society circles and a descendant of Daniel Boone, has filed in the Muskegon county circuit court her answer and crossbill to the suit for divorce that her husband of five months, John E.
 Thayer, the Muskegon banker, instituted some time ago.

Mrs. Thayer denies every allegation made by the complainant and in her cross bill makes accusations that would shock the ordinary mind. She alleges that three weeks after their marriage her husband made to her a shameful proposition and that once again, late in the month of January, he repeated his request.

Charges Inhuman Treatment.
 Soon after their marriage he started a course of insulting and inhuman treatment. She alleges she was made to carry coal and food and shovel snow in the dead of winter and at Christmas time she went to bed one night with her fingers stopping her ears, so insulting and degrading was his talk.

On the evening of Feb. 9 he was going away and after she begged him to take her Thayer consented, but on the way home he became angered at her "tagging him" and knocked her down in the snow, dazing her and walking on home. She lay for a long time, endangering her health. She arose and wandered about the streets for some time. Later she found her husband at home enjoying the heart of the stove. He soon afterward pulled her hat from her head without extracting the hatpins, nearly tearing the hair from her head. He choked her and she was disabled for several days.
 He wouldn't walk by her side on the streets, she says, but would walk half a block ahead.

Instructs Him at Table.
 She continually had to instruct him as to table manners. He was always treating her indecently when alone as well as in the presence of others. She says he operates a small loan agency, charging poor people exorbitant rates for money. She wants absolute divorce and alimony. Turner & Turner, attorneys for Thayer, state that their client will answer his wife's allegations.

MUST "SHOW" SMITH. The worm has turned. To be specific, Senator Charles Smith, of Calumet, who long was what in South Carolina they would call a "pow'ful factor" in state legislation, don't propose to be snipped out of his identity in these blocks days.

Representative Charley Ward is chairman of the ways and means committee. Unlike as in congress, where all appropriation bills must be introduced in the house, appropriation bills in the Michigan legislature can be introduced in either house, about one-half of the bills for the budget having been introduced in each house this session.

Senator Smith, who is on the ostracized list of the governor's callers, being the sole survivor of the original nineteen of Governor Pingree's time, has caught on. He smells a rat. He sees it in the air. He proposes to smite said rat. In other words, Representative Charley Ward and Governor Warner think they are going to get an appropriation bill before the ways and means committee to slash as they please.

Cobalt Gossip. The Wabi Cobalt Silver Mining company has one shaft ninety-one feet deep and another fifty feet. Ore has been taken from these shafts showing good values in copper as well as silver.

The Cobalt Lake Mining company struck another vein this week, the assay from which ran over 2,000 ounces of silver to the ton. It was taken from a prospect shaft on the south shore at a level of twelve feet.

Engineers who have followed the Right-of-Way shaft into the La Rose workings report that the management has removed ore for 117 feet of drift, averaging twelve feet high, with probable value of $300,000.

The Nipissing company has struck vein 20 in crosscutting from the new shaft near the vein at a depth of 112 feet. The vein is nine inches wide where struck and is rich but assays have not yet been made.

The reason given for the increased demand for Cleveland Cobalt shares is that the company is just completing its power plant and rich discoveries are being made on the Hudson Bay claims close to the Cleveland Cobalt.

From Larler Lake a report comes that a gold assay of $1,362 to the ton has been made from a sample taken from a vein on the Golden Horn Mining company. The company has eighty acres on the north arm of the lake.

The Temagami Copper company, composed of Toronto capitalists, has been organized with a capital of $2,000,000. More attention will be paid to the copper fields south of Cobalt this year than before and considerable American capital is interested.

The two last blasts in shaft No. 5 on the Argyle Silver company's property in Cobalt, blew free silver in quantities at a depth of only eight feet from the surface. The vein is 1,000 ounces to the ton. This shaft was sunk on the footwall of the vein.

A despatch from Cobalt says that a new silver district has been found about ten miles from Cobalt, in the township of Lorraine. So far the only claims of any prominence in the township lie between Cross Lake and Devil's Rock, on the shore of Lake Temiskaming.

The manager of the Buffalo mine at Cobalt reports that a new vein has been discovered which shows high silver. A shipment from it is being prepared. All of the other veins continue to develop. The company is experimenting with a view to building a concentrating plant.

Fifty-two veins of varying sizes, some of excellent promise, have been discovered on the property of the Railway Reserve Mining company, which has the mining lease of fourteen miles of the right of way of the Temiskaming & Northern railway, eleven south and four north of Cobalt.

The shaft on the Abitibi is now down about forty-five feet on one vein which is stripped and open cut for about 1,200 feet. It was in this drift that considerable native silver was found. One of the veins has an average thickness of nine inches of pink calcite and the other about ten inches. The silver in them is not visible, but is undoubtedly there. When the snow is all gone much more trenching will be done. Up to the present all work has been done by hand, but direct navigation opens a hundred horse power boiler and six drill company will be shipped to the mine.

On the Temiskaming & Hudson Bay property in Cobalt a fissure four to five feet wide has been uncovered for about 400 feet, containing four to twelve inches of solid ores. This vein has been traced up to the house of the Nipissing property, that section lying north of the town of Cobalt and north of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario railroad, containing about 100 acres, which part of the Nipissing property has never been prospected. This unexplored section of the Nipissing property will be thoroughly prospected this summer, and this remarkable discovery on an adjoining property is indicative of what may be expected. Heretofore, all operations on the Nipissing have been on territory lying on Cobalt lake.

Contest Cases Are Heard—Testimony was taken Thursday before the register and receiver of the local land office in the case of Nell Livingston vs. John W. Gleason, an action in which the complainant alleges that the defendant failed to comply with the homestead laws in the presentation of 180 acres of land in the vicinity of Northland. The complainant was represented by B. O. Pearl and the defendant by S. E. Byrne. The matter has been taken under advisement. No testimony was taken in the case of William Seaford vs. Eugene LaRoche, set for hearing yesterday, as a technical error was discovered in the papers. What action will follow cannot be stated. The case involves the title to 180 acres in Schoolcraft county and the charge is abandonment.

Ship Maple Sugar West—"I was in Milwaukee Tuesday," said D. M. Holbrook, of Grand Marais, at the New Clifton, yesterday, "and took more advance orders for maple sugar than I have for many years past. Milwaukee consumes more maple sugar than any other city of like size in the United States. I can't explain it on any other hypothesis than that the taste for the sugar has been inherited by the residents from their ancestors. There was a time when the Badger state had as many maple trees, if not more, than Maine, but they have almost all fallen before the ax of the woodman. Now Wisconsin gets their sugar from Maine and Canada. No, I don't think that the cutting down of the maple groves was wise. The cleared land was probably of greater value to the farmer. The farms in Maine are not as a rule nearly so productive as those of Wisconsin so the trees were allowed to stand. Most of the maple sugar consumed in Marquette comes from New England."

Billiard Expert at Club—The house committee of the Marquette club has made arrangements with George E. Spear, an expert billiard player, to give an exhibition at the club this evening, for the entertainment of the members. The first part of the exhibition will be a match game, either regular three-ball billiards, 14 or 18 inch ballline, in which Mr. Spear will play George DeGroot, one of the best amateur billiardists in the northwest. After the game he will give a series of fancy and trick shots. There will be a large attendance at the club, as there will be much interest in the game between Mr. DeGroot and the visitor.

What Think ye of Christ?—Dr. Killgore preached a remarkably striking sermon on this text last night at the Baptist church. The speaker is a radical and presents his ideas in a radical manner, but a sober second thought on the part of many a hearer leads him to the conclusion that the speaker is right. This session among the church-going people of Marquette, and many feel that the message and messenger are needed by religious conditions here. There will be two evening services still in this series, and after a brief rest Dr. Killgore will meet other engagements. It is hoped that these remaining meetings may be (Continued From Page One.) a record of 49.1-5 seconds. The team, however, will be weakened by the fact that Taylor must run the last half of the two-mile relay before the mile race.

Yale is the favorite in the two-mile event over Pennsylvania, Dartmouth, Princeton and Columbia. The Elis base their hopes on Tillson, a two-minute man, and Parsons, 1.56, the intercollegiate champion.

Eastern men do not see any way to oppose the triumph of Michigan's world championship team in the four-mile event. The Wolverines have precisely the same team as in 1906—Coe, Rowe, Maloney and Ramey—a team which averaged 4.32 to the mile.

For the special events the entry list is a most remarkable one. In the pole vault there are nine men who have done better than eleven feet, four inches and five who have beaten eleven feet eight inches.

MARK ELLIOTT GUEST OF HONOR

WAS TENDERED A BANQUET BY HIS FRIENDS AT HOTEL MARQUETTE LAST EVENING—GOES TO THE MESA SABA RANGE.

A party of some fifty friends of Mark Elliott, the county clerk, who has resigned his position to accept the superintendency of the Interstate Mining company's properties on the Mesala range, tendered him a banquet at the Hotel Marquette last evening that proved an enjoyable affair for all concerned.

The banquet began about 8:30 o'clock. For half an hour previous the guests assembled at the hotel. On being ushered into the dining room they found the table arranged in a hollow square, with the toastmaster and guest of honor seated at a point where they commanded the attention of the other banqueters.

alone deferred them from overthrowing the government. Action upon the treaty, of whatever character, is almost sure to be followed by local disturbances, and should the convention be rejected it is probable trouble will ensue general throughout the island.

FOUND MARBLE IN SEARCH FOR GOLD

LOCALITY IN WHICH VERDE ANTIQUE WILL BE QUARRIED CONTAINS GOLD, SILVER, AND A POCKET OF SILVER LEAD.

A great philosopher once said that the three greatest incentives to action were love, hate and the lust for gold. Nearly all great discoveries in the mineral world were made by men in search of the yellow metal.

About a quarter of a century ago an old "forty-miner," a man who had gone west with the first stampede to the new goldfields, and who had prospected thousands of miles through the Sierras and the Rockies, happened to be making a brief stop in the vicinity of Verde Antique.

Until reasonably certain of favorable action on both, the administration was not willing to run the risk of rejection either by presenting them to the congress. Rejection of the treaty would have the effect of ending the modus vivendi, under which the customs have been administered for the last two years.

One remarkable feature of the situation at the island capital is that the opponents of the treaty, almost without exception, are in favor of continuing the modus vivendi. It has been difficult for the government to convince even the leaders of its own party that this arrangement could not be continued indefinitely.

In the absence of C. R. Jackson of Princeton, W. H. Johnston of Ishpeming, one of the Michigan commissioners for the Jamestown exposition, was called on to speak in regard to Michigan and the exposition. He detailed many interesting facts in connection with the exposition, particularly in relation to Michigan's part in it.

Washington, April 26.—Having failed to reach a verdict after more than six hours' deliberation today, the jury in the case of Binger Hermann, on trial for destroying public documents while commissioner of the general land office, was locked up for the night.

Winona, Minn., April 26.—The citizens of Winona, at a banquet in his honor tonight, presented to James A. Tawney, chairman of the appropriations committee of the national house of representatives, a solid silver loving cup, lined with gold.

Bridgetown, Island of Barbadoes, B. W. L., April 26.—The rioters of St. Lucia are again turbulent. A dispatch has been received from the governor of the island announcing that he is in urgent need of assistance.

Chicago, April 26.—Eleven suits against the Milwaukee, Rock Island, and Burlington railroads were begun here today by the United States district attorney, in which it is alleged that the shipping laws relating to the confinement of livestock in shipping cars were violated.

TELEPHONES IN THE WOODS.

Maine Loggers' Wires Strung Through the Virgin Forest.

A traveler in the forests of northern Maine would be surprised to come across telephone wires strung from trunk to trunk, just out of reach.

The eye of every man in the crew is on a glut of logs coming down stream. They watch it as it nears a boulder in midstream and if the logs scatter and flow down the river well and good.

Then it is that the man at the telephone gets busy. Three long whirrs of the crank of his little box calls the dam, and he tells the man who answers to close the gate and stop the logs from coming down until the jam is broken out.

Usually a stick of dynamite placed with accuracy will start the logs and clear the channel, and if one stick is not enough there are always plenty more. The channel clear, the man telephones the order to the crew at the dam to "let 'em" come.

Before the telephone came into use these messages were conveyed up the river by relays of men. The men were stationed at frequent intervals along the bank and the message was shouted from man to man.

The telephone lines are being extended every year and it will not be long before telephones are almost as common in the woods as they are in the city. Considering the country through which the men doing the work have to travel the lines are put up in remarkably quick time, for a small crew of men will put up many miles of wire in a week.

Recently the telephone has been called into use to aid the fire wardens in discovering and extinguishing fires in the northern forests. A station has been established on the summit of Squaw Mountain, about six miles west of Greenville.

A man stationed at this point can see the country for miles around, and with the aid of powerful field glasses and range finders can discover and locate a fire anywhere within a radius of sixty miles.

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different man.

Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—Mrs. Sarah A. Cole, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is also worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale by The Stafford Drug Co.

MINER MEETS DEATH.
Fatality Occurred Yesterday Morning at Oliver Company's Lake Mine.

Gust Louna, a miner employed at the Oliver Iron Mining company's Lake mine, died yesterday morning about 8:30 o'clock as a result of injuries received a few hours earlier. He was engaged in blasting out some timbers in a worked-out stope. He prepared his explosive, lighted his fuse and then started to leave the stope through a winze. The charge went off sooner than he expected, and his body was only partly through the opening in the raise when a piece of timber, or chunk of dirt, struck him, caving in his breast and one side. He never regained consciousness. The deceased was a native of Finland, where he leaves a wife and three children. He had been in this country two or three years. He was about thirty-three years of age and boarded at 133 Jasper street. Coroner William Prin impounded a jury and will conduct an inquest today.

ODD FELLOWS' ANNIVERSARY.
Members of Ahmeek Lodge of This City Celebrated Last Evening.

Yesterday was the eighty-eighth anniversary of the organization of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in America. The society was formed at Baltimore, Md., by Thomas Wilby of England and six others, all of whom were members of the order in foreign countries. The total membership at this time is over 1,000,000. It is the largest benevolent society in America. There was a large attendance of the members of Ahmeek lodge at the society's meeting place in the Sellwau block last evening. The degree team, which has reached a high point of perfection, did second degree work. Following the regular business session and the adoption of resolutions, refreshments were served, after which a number of impromptu speeches were given by prominent members. The Ishpeming branch has had an excellent growth during the past year, its membership at this time being about 210.

WILL CLOSE EARLY.
Public Schools of the City Will Complete Term June 14.

The Ishpeming public schools will close one week earlier than usual this year for the summer vacation. This has been made possible on account of the shorter vacations than usual at the Christmas and Easter holidays. Friday, June 14, has been selected as closing day, and preparations have been started for the commencement exercises. This year's class numbers about fifty, the largest in the history of the schools. It has been decided to conduct the commencement exercises five different evenings in order to give all the members of the class an opportunity to be heard in essays or other exercises appropriate to the time. The exercises probably will take place June 6, 7, 10, 13 and 14.

POOL TOURNAMENT.
The pool tournament, which has been in progress at Wanek's hall the past few weeks, will be terminated next week. The standings to date are as follows:

DEPOT NUISANCE TO END.
Crowd Assembling There Tomorrow Evening Will Be Forced Back.

Mayor Roberts stated yesterday that the city and South Side officials will co-operate in an effort to keep people from blocking the railway station here on Sunday evenings. A start is to be made tomorrow. The police officers will be instructed to compel people to stand back at least six feet from the outer edge of the platform, so that passengers getting off the train will not be obliged to crowd their way through. The line will be maintained until those desiring to board the train have entered the coaches. The marshal will today be instructed to be on hand to see that people who do not intend to take the trains are kept back. If the throng is too large to find standing room on the platform, as is often the case when the weather is fine, they will be requested to find places in the streets.

MISS FARM MAY SING.
Excellent Program Prepared for Tonight's Bazaar Entertainment.

Another large crowd attended the church bazaar last evening at the Woodmen's hall. The program rendered under the direction of Miss Nellie Kennedy was heartily received, as was the case the previous night with the musical and literary program given under direction of Mrs. George Voelker. Miss Tekla Farm, who gave a concert last evening at Iron Mountain, is expected to arrive in the city this afternoon, and she has promised to participate in tonight's program. This will probably be Miss Farm's last public appearance in this city. The program, aside from Miss Farm's numbers, has been arranged by Mrs. M. Schumacher and Miss Anna Lacey as follows: Overture, "Empire".....Howard Trombly's Orchestra. Song, selected.....Miss Elsie Koob. Duet, "Military Parade".....Holst and Miss Violet Cleary and Miss B. Carey. Vocal duet, selected.....Misses Julia McMillie and E. Laughlin. "So Long Mary" (By request).....Cohen Trombly's Orchestra. Song, selected.....Miss Julia McMillie. Instrumental duet, violin and piano.....Mr. and Mrs. J. Goodman, Jr. "Preacher and the Bear".....(Arranged by Frank Trombly.) Trombly's Orchestra.

MAY START NEXT WEEK.
J. D. Chubb, the Chicago architect, who was in the city Thursday, advised the school board that Thomas M. Solar of Antigo, Wis., who has the contract for the erection of Ishpeming's new high school building, will probably arrive here sometime next week with a crew of men to begin work. He said that he talked with Mr. Solar a few days ago, and the contractor stated that if the weather was favorable he would begin on the job next week, otherwise not until the week following. Mr. Solar is said to have his men to work as soon as he arrives, as sand and other material are on the ground ready for the construction of the concrete foundation.

FROM HOPKINS' CURB LETTER.
"Calumet & Arizona did a few stunts today and was easily marked up 84 per cent share to 170. Our advices from Bisbee today are to the effect that men are steadily returning to work, and that the trouble may be considered as over with. A sensational advance in spot metal was recorded in London today, while on the New York exchange all grades were advanced 1/4 in the bid price. Superior & Pittsburg continues in good demand with the southwest a good buyer. Thus, F. Cole and associates are said to have picked up big blocks of the stock on the recent decline and are credited with the statement that the property will develop into one of the biggest mining propositions in the United States. Unquestionably it is a wonderful property with unlimited possibilities before it. We cannot too strongly urge the purchase of the stock."

CALL FOR PRAYERS.

Temperance Advocates Will Ask for Divine Guidance in Their Work.

The mobbing and egging of Rev. C. H. Rutledge and Jacob Kaminen in Negaunee last Thursday at midnight has caused Mrs. Elizabeth Ivey, field worker and evangelist of the Women's Christian Temperance union of the Twelfth Congressional district of Michigan, to issue a call on all the churches of the district to pray for divine guidance in the direction of temperance work. The call, Mrs. Ivey said yesterday, was prompted by the disturbance in Negaunee, which she denounced as disgraceful. Mrs. Ivey said that such work would aid the temperance cause in the upper peninsula. Mrs. Ivey's call may not reach some of the churches by Sunday, and she asks that the ministers take this announcement as official. It is expected that several temperance sermons will be preached in upper peninsula churches tomorrow. One Negaunee minister announced a sermon in which he will speak indirectly, if not directly, on the question of mob violence, perhaps making particular reference to the disturbance in that city this week.

Upper Peninsula Will Plant Many Fish.
The distribution of brook trout fry from the Soo hatchery is now in progress, having been delayed somewhat because of the backward season. The planting of commercial fish will not be started until next month. Twenty-five million whitefish and 6,000,000 lake trout will be planted by the hatchery this season, all in Lakes Superior and Huron.

Chippewa Farmers Rebel.
Holding unwarranted the recent raise in the prices of horseshoeing and other work by the blacksmiths of Chippewa county, announcement of which followed the recent organization of the smiths into an association, Pine Grove grange, No. 1290, has decided to establish a blacksmith shop of its own to serve the farming community in which its members are residents. The blacksmiths say that the raise in prices has been caused by the increase in the prices of material.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.
D. T. Morgan was down from Republic yesterday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Helberg, 201 Hill street, a daughter.

C. B. Ulrich of Hancock transacted business in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Murphy of St. Cloud, Minn., is in the city visiting T. Hughes and family.

T. F. Cole, president of the Oliver Iron Mining company, was in Ishpeming Thursday.

Miss Nellie Connolly, teacher in one of the public schools, is confined to her home with diphtheria.

Miss Florence Milden has gone to Milwaukee and lower Michigan, to be absent three or four weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lafeniere, 325 South Main street, are happy over the advent of a daughter at their home.

Miss Lottie Bennett of Calumet has returned to her home after a week's visit with relatives and friends here.

George E. Spears, a noted liar, of Minnesota, will give an exhibition at Wanek's pool room some evening shortly.

W. P. Belden has returned from Lansing, where he transacted business for the Cleveland-Cliffs iron company. He was present at the exercises in memory of ex-Governor Bliss.

Michael Collins, who has been suffering for some time past with stomach trouble, arrived home yesterday from Chicago, where he consulted Dr. Murphy. He was accompanied by his son-in-law, Thomas Hughes.

Three members of "The Gingerbread Man" company, who overslept yesterday morning, missed their train out of the city. They departed last evening for Escanaba where the company plays tonight. "The Gingerbread Man" was witnessed by a good-sized house at the Ishpeming theater Thursday evening. The production was favorably received.

James Billings, who has conducted a saloon in the Marquette Brewing company's building, at the corner of Cleveland and Erie streets, for a number of years past, has rented the Nolan block, soon to be vacated by Mrs. Mary Wasley, and will manage a hotel and saloon there. Charles Couvau will engage in the liquor business at Mr. Billings' old stand.

George F. Ruez did not go to Cuba City, Wis., Wednesday night, as he planned. He started on the trip but was taken so ill before he reached Negaunee that he was obliged to return home, and Thursday and yesterday he was confined to his bed. Mr. Ruez has not yet fully recovered from the severe attack of tonsillitis and the grip from which he suffered two or three weeks ago.

FROM MR. RUTLEDGE.
To the Editor of The Mining Journal: The story in Thursday's issue of The Mining Journal demonstrates that Negaunee ought to be proud of her saloons and their ability to muster a mob on short notice and of her police force and the celerity with which they disappear on the slightest suggestion of disorder. She has acquired quite a reputation for waylaying preachers and mobbing those who endeavor to enforce the law against saloon violators, but she is perfectly willing to tolerate drunkards and other disreputable persons, and to even elevate some of them to places of honor and distinction.

But why particularize about Negaunee and its saloons and police? Wherever the liquor traffic dominates, the same conditions exist; and one has only to interfere with the wholesale lawlessness accompanying that business to bring out the true character of those responsible for its continuance.

The only answers given to those who oppose either this business or its lawlessness savors of mob violence and are pregnant with threats, jeers, missiles and private injuries.

"We have often been assailed by mobs but never once in a public career of about thirty years except when the liquor traffic was responsible.

I have never known saloon men to openly take part in these disgusting scenes, but I know that many of them rejoice when such a mob occurs, and that the traffic is wholly responsible for every such incident; sober and law-abiding citizens do not mob those who seek to enforce the laws; it is the thugs and bums that congregate in, and hang about, the saloons that take part in such disgraceful acts.

I do not share the confidence that Mr. Kaminen expresses concerning the saloon men of Negaunee. I believe that they were at the bottom of the whole affair and that the police either played into their hands or were criminally negligent.

COOK WITH GAS

When Haddock was killed in Sioux City, Iowa, it was proved that the saloon men had just held an indignation meeting at which lots were cast to ascertain who should pound the preacher into silence and inactivity. When I was assaulted last year a number of my friends notified me that a plot was laid for the murder of my business and private property, and a thousand other acts of violence directed against the temperance and anti-saloon forces.

I have no hesitancy in saying that this same traffic is responsible for the killing of men, the burning of churches, and private property, and a thousand other acts of violence directed against the temperance and anti-saloon forces.

Very truly,
C. H. RUTLEDGE.

Upper Peninsula Will Plant Many Fish.
The distribution of brook trout fry from the Soo hatchery is now in progress, having been delayed somewhat because of the backward season. The planting of commercial fish will not be started until next month. Twenty-five million whitefish and 6,000,000 lake trout will be planted by the hatchery this season, all in Lakes Superior and Huron.

Chippewa Farmers Rebel.
Holding unwarranted the recent raise in the prices of horseshoeing and other work by the blacksmiths of Chippewa county, announcement of which followed the recent organization of the smiths into an association, Pine Grove grange, No. 1290, has decided to establish a blacksmith shop of its own to serve the farming community in which its members are residents. The blacksmiths say that the raise in prices has been caused by the increase in the prices of material.

Question of Jurisdiction.
State Game and Fish Warden Chapman is in a quandary on the question of the jurisdiction of the game laws of the state over the target range reservation of the Saginaw valley, in which its members are residents. The blacksmiths say that the raise in prices has been caused by the increase in the prices of material.

A Boomer's Bad Break.
It has leaked out through Lansing channels how Representative Michael Harris, a former Marquette man, has gained the title of the "fighting member" of the 1907 legislature. Unaware that the Menominee county salon is of Celtic ancestry, a Saginaw boomer—a Board of Trade man—buttonholled Harris in the Pere Marquette depot. "You know we are up here in the interest of that fish bill," he said, "we've got a lot of those Irish Catholics down there in Saginaw and we've got to keep them in fish somehow." The speaker didn't know then that Representative Harris' good old mother had christened him Michael. So he continued: "We're twenty thousand of the pops in Saginaw."

Representative Harris' fist added a period and brought the sentences to an abrupt close. The Saginaw man tripped over a valve and went down. Then friends of the representative from Menominee prevailed on him to leave the depot. The Saginaw man mysteriously and suddenly disappeared. The story was kept quiet for a time, but it was too good to keep for long. Too many wanted to shake Harris' hand and assure him that his action had the approval of a vast majority of the house.

It is related in the connection that the upper peninsula law-maker will nevertheless vote for the fish bill. Representative Waters of Saginaw had received a promise of Harris' vote. After the deputy at the depot it was quite generally talked that the Saginaw Board of Trade officer had won an enemy to his measure. It is characteristic of Harris that he sought out Mr. Waters, told him the rumor had reached him and assured him that the little affair had not changed his intention of his friendship.

CRAVING FOR DRINK DESTROYED.
The best aid to temperance is something that will strengthen the drunkard's wrecked nervous system and cure his unnatural craving for drink. We believe that any man who really desires to be cured of the liquor habit can cure himself by using Orrie. This remarkable discovery has made so many cures among our customers that we are glad to sell it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

It is in two forms: No. 1 that can be given secretly, and No. 2 for those who wish to be cured. It is not only the most reliable treatment known, but it is also the most economical, as it costs only $1 a box and there is no detention from the usual duties while if cure is not affected, there is no expense whatever. Mail Orders filled. The Orrie Co., Washington, D. C., or The Stafford Drug Company.

ERIE CANAL SNARL

A REMARKABLE COMBINATION OF POLITICS AND FINANCE.

How the Issue of $101,000,000 in Bonds Was Finally Carried Against the Work of the Republican Machine, and How These Bonds Are Now Held Up—Three per Cent Bonds Are Not a Tempting Bait, but the Rate Cannot Be Raised Except by Constitutional Amendment—Various Expedients Employed to Float the Bonds—The Democrats to Enjoy the Plums—The Public Looking for a Scandal.

Albany, April 26.—While the attention of the whole country is focused upon the trials and troubles of the great Panama canal, the people of New York state have managed to burden themselves with a canal problem that is only less stupendous than that of Panama, because it is, in a measure, a modernizing of a long existing canal. In Panama, moreover, the greatest difficulty is climate, in New York state money and politics combine to make obstacles. There is nothing insignificant in the way of figures about New York's canal, three hundred miles of waterway and over $100,000,000 expenditure are the first of the many arrays of statistics which confront the taxpayer.

The general scheme of the canal improvement is generally understood. After nearly four generations of continuous use, the Erie canal has become hopelessly inadequate and for many years it has been a matter for political platform to urge the rebuilding of the canal. Ten years ago plans were actually completed and work begun on such an improvement, for which $90,000,000 was appropriated. The result, of course, was a great scandal. The renunciation of Frank S. Black as governor was made impossible, because the scandal took place in his administration, although his responsibility ended there. In fact, only the coming of Theodore Roosevelt with the glamour of San Juan hill about him saved the Republican party from defeat. This preliminary detail is worth considering, because it sheds light on some of the various objections to the present project.

After 1898 the canal question lapsed for a few years. But East and West, in New York city and in Buffalo, the demand for a 1,000-ton barge canal was heard with increasing insistence. New York, like Boston, has periods of depression, when it sees a future destruction of its entire commerce. In such a period the agitation for their platforms for the canal, and finally in 1902 the state legislature passed the first canal act. It was a constitutional amendment and had, subsequently, to be passed a second time. In the legislature the Republican leaders fought the measure consistently. Only a handful of Republicans voted for it, and these came from New York and Buffalo. In the fight there was presented the odd spectacle of the minority leader, Senator Grady, leading a majority party in support of the canal, while the majority leader, Senator Raines, was at the head of a minority. This early did politics begin to figure.

After passing the legislature twice, the canal project was then submitted to the people. As able a political strategist as B. B. Odell, Jr., at that time governor, planned the campaign against the measure. There were all sorts of charges that the rival railroads expended thousands of dollars in defeating the proposition. Their money and Odell's skill were both wasted, however, for by a huge majority, secured in New York city, the state was committed to the canal. Still the trouble continued. It was only two years ago that an opinion secured from Elihu Root, then a lawyer in practice, was used as the basis for an attack upon the law in the courts. But the attack failed, and last year the Republican administration was obliged, despite the hostility of Governor Higgins to the canal, to begin operations.

The extent of the operations may be judged from the fact that on Jan. 1 of this year upwards of $15,500,000 of contracts had been let. These contracts, moreover, covered the most difficult phases of the work, the erection of new locks at Waterford, above the mouth of the Mohawk, locks which call for the largest concrete work in the world, and the beginning of the equally stupendous task of canalizing the Mohawk river from Utica to Cohoes, more than a hundred miles. What the Chagres river is to the Panama canal, the Mohawk is to New York's "big ditch." The floods on the Chagres, however huge, are not complicated by the Mohawk's own feat of ice and jams, and many engineers have pronounced this work impossible. The voters of the state, however, have decided otherwise.

Governor Hughes' administration had hardly opened, and the governor had just named as his superintendent of public works ex-Senator F. C. Stevens, the man who supplied the financial backing for the lowest bidder on the Panama contract, when the canal project met still another obstacle. It had triumphed over the opposition of politicians and of railroads, but suddenly the work was whispered that there was no money. Here was a fatal difficulty. The people had voted that the state should issue 3 per cent bonds, as it chose. But even the state could not make 3 per cent bonds salable. The state of the market precluded the sale of securities of this sort; the new companies journeyed to New York city and did his best to arrange a sale, but he came back empty handed. Immediately a dozen ingenious methods were suggested for "raising the wind." Of course the obvious way was to increase the rate of interest on the bonds. But instantly the enemies of the canal declared that this was clearly unconstitutional, as the people had expressly voted to make the bonds 3 per cent. Next it was suggested that the tax on the surplus of savings banks should be repealed, so far as this state should lay its own unstable securities. This last proposition was adopted. But it has the obvious disadvantage of not providing enough money. Seven and one-half million dollars is a conservative estimate of the money needed to meet this year's expenses on the canal.

About the time this final plan was proposed it became known that Mrs. Russell Sage had decided to donate $10,000,000 for the Russell Sage foundation and that this money would come into the custody of the state. The present project is to put this money into the canal bonds, also but it must be apparent that this relief is inadequate. Unless the market should speedily go back to a point where 3 per cent bonds are not a drug, the great canal project in the world, outside of Panama, seems likely to come to an abrupt halt. Of course a bill will be forthcoming to raise the rate of interest, but the politicians will fight the bill, it will have to pass two legislatures and then be accepted by the people at a referendum. Meanwhile there is every prospect that the canal work will be suspended and the Erie canal resemble the condition of that at Panama after the French collapse.

The opposition of the railroads to the canal project has been concealed, all save the Erie Canal Company and the Delaware & Hudson. The directors of these lines have computed that the profit to them that will come from hauling the material for the new work will be tremendous. But the critics of the proposed canal improvement have steadily maintained that the state could build a double track line from the lakes to the Atlantic and operate it at a less cost than the canal improvement. On the other hand the champions of the canal project insist that the canal will lower the price of freight to such an extent that it will be necessary for the Mississippi valley to return to New York, when 1,000-ton barges are available to transport it. Moreover, the present superintendent of public works, ex-Senator Stevens, is experimenting with electricity in the hope that he may find a method to supplant the sea-going mode of tradition with electric motor, either supplied from an overhead trolley or by a mono-rail engine on the bank.

Always, however, in New York state public policies are certain to fall foul of political contingencies. When the people decided that the canal should be built, the Republican party, which opposed it, found consolation in its defeat in the realization that the $101,000,000 contract plans would fall to their friends. But now the Democrats are in charge. The canal board is Democratic. The state officials under the governor are Democratic; the state engineer and surveyor, who has enormous influence in this work, is a Democrat. Finally the present disposition in the Democratic party is under the domination of two eminent contractors, both in politics and in public works, Charles Francis Murphy, boss of Tammany Hall, and William J. ("Fingy") Connors, the present Democratic state chairman. Already these worthies are said to be at work planning ways of securing a portion of this plan. Indeed, the charge has been made many times that the real prize contested for in this state for the past few years has been, not the state government, with its insignificant haul, but the $101,000,000 canal "job."

The disposition of Governor Hughes' administration is to build the canal and it seems probable that work will be continued for a year or two. But twenty years is a conservative estimate of the time the work will take, under favorable circumstances, so it must be apparent what a long drawn out conflict will be waged over the canal. It should be added that the people of the state are ever alert for the first scandal of the new canal. They recall that the state capital, which was promised at a cost of $4,000,000 is now unfinished after a spending of $26,000,000, and that only last year one of the uncompleted staircases started to crumble and fall. Consequently they are figuring on the cost of the new canal improvement would cost at least $75,000,000. With the exposure of one good scandal, however, there seems reason to believe that the work would come to an abrupt close. Meantime it will continue just so long as the state can buy its own bonds in this species of "high finance" has unfortunate limits.

Her Probable Requirements. Mr. Hilliker had promised his wife that he would give her a birthday present of "something useful" this time, and in pursuance of the promise he called at a large department store. "What have you got," he asked, "in the way of attractive furnishings for a parlor that would be likely to please a woman?" "Everything," answered the salesman, "from an ornamental matchbox to a grand piano."

What Do They Cure? The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription." The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alternative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the larynx, bronchitis, stomach (as catarrh, dyspepsia, bowels (as mucous colitis), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or acute stages of these affections it is often successful in affecting a cure.

"The Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases—those requiring weakening, purgatives and stimulants, and is especially adapted to women. It is a powerful tonic and invigorator, and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the larynx, bronchitis, stomach (as catarrh, dyspepsia, bowels (as mucous colitis), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or acute stages of these affections it is often successful in affecting a cure.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum. Dr. Pierce's Pills, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Mining News SITUATION AT BISBEE.

Production Not Much Affected by the Miners' Strike.

The strike called by the Western Federation has now been in existence for eleven days, and at the expiration of the present week the companies are in a better condition so far as the number of men at work is concerned, than at any time since the strike was first called, says the Bisbee Review.

Of the four large operating companies of the district, the Copper Queen company has been the least affected. It is stated that the production of the Copper Queen smelters at Douglas for the month of April will be up to the usual figure. This is explained by the fact that as compared with other companies of the district a less number of miners employed by the Copper Queen left the employ of this company in response to the strike order. The Copper Queen at Douglas has a large reserve ore pile which is only used in the event of an emergency, and in addition the old waste pile and the slag dump serve as a reserve ore stock pile which could be drawn upon for several months if necessary.

Again the Copper Queen company handles ores from Nacozari which shipments can be increased as required, and the slag dump serves as a reserve ore stock pile which could be drawn from Globe and Morenci, both nearby points, if such action was necessary to prevent a shutting down of any Copper Queen furnaces. Copper Queen reports 85 per cent of the normal force at work.

At the close of the week not less than twenty-three hundred and fifty men are at work in the district, out of a total of approximately thirty-five hundred employed on April 1. Of this number seven hundred are at work for the Calumet & Arizona and Superior & Pittsburg companies, and the April output from the Calumet & Arizona will be normal, although it is possible that a falling off will be recorded next month. A small reserve pile at the Calumet & Arizona has been drawn upon during the curtailed production of the past ten days, but with men returning to work daily, it should not take this company long to recover their temporary loss. The strike incident should have no effect on the Calumet & Arizona record for 1907. An enormous surplus in the treasury of this company, estimated to be between four and five million dollars, could be drawn upon if necessary.

The strike committee and the organizers still declare that the strike is in full force and effect, but it is apparent that at no time were a majority of the men employed in sympathy with the strike, and out of the possible twelve or thirteen hundred men who walked out, at least eight or nine hundred of this number have left the city. It is noticeable that during the past few days there has been little or no disorder in the camp. There have been no attempts at violence, and the nearest approach to disorder has been the threats of a few hot-headed pickets. After the first few days of the strike, the men who remained at work paid no attention to the arguments of the pickets, and as each succeeding day demonstrated that the strikers were in the minority, a number of men who went out on first notice, returned to their work and were given employment at once. While the report that men make next is problematical, it is believed that a number of men who have left the district during the past ten days are only waiting for some kind of a settlement of the difficulty to return to Bisbee, some of them leaving the district to avoid trouble, but not wishing to be placed in the position of taking sides either with the companies or the strikers.

Reports have gained ground within the past few days to the effect that placer claims are being staked out near the Warren district. While the report has gained more or less credence, those who know are saying nothing and if the rumor is based on any degree of truth, few Bisbee people are aware of the exact location of the reported gold fields adjacent to the district. The Wolverine & Arizona is still working with its diamond drill outfit. As yet no definite results have been obtained. The management is waiting for the visit of prominent stockholders who are expected weekly to visit the property and discuss the future of the company. All development work has been at a standstill for months.

At the Irish Mag shaft a good force of men is at work, and although union rumors would place the number of men at a very low figure, the fact remains that this shaft is turning out a good daily shipment of ore to the Douglas smelters and is holding its own as to daily average. The normal output of the Calumet & Arizona will be held for the month of April.

HEINZE'S BIG INTERESTS.

An associate of F. Augustus Heinze says of him and his big interests: "Mr. Heinze's business is mining, and I think it will be admitted that in his chosen profession he stands at the head. He is not buying properties unless they possess merit, and he is not buying at prices which will show him and his associates substantial profits. He purchased a large interest in Bingham Consolidated, because it gave him an important entrance into the Utah smelting field, and he is taking up first steps in the building up of a big mining and smelting industry in that territory."

"The only other properties he has acquired have been the Ohio property in Bingham and adjoining the Utah Copper company, and the Stewart mines in the Coeur d'Alene district. The ore from both these mines will probably be smelted in the Bingham company's smelter. In the case of the Ohio he purchased control for sixty cents per share, and it is today selling for $4.75 per share and gives promise of eventually reaching $10.00 per share. The ore from the Stewart he purchased with his friends 700,000 shares at fifty cents per share. This stock is now selling at $2.50 per share, and he has already blocked out 40,000 tons of ore. This property gives promise of becoming one of the largest in the Coeur d'Alene district."

"Mr. Heinze controls hundreds of thousands of acres of valuable mining and timber land in British Columbia, and he places a value upon his holdings there of $10,000,000. He has controlled this property for a number of years. He likewise, or at least his United Copper company, has a large ownership in the Davis-Daly Estates property. Mr.

Heinze had a large interest in the Davis Estates before the organization of the Davis-Daly Estates Copper company, so it can hardly be called "spreading out" for him to take the management of this property in which he and his companies have an investment running into the millions. He believes that this property is one of the greatest undeveloped mines in the world. "I hear of Heinze's investments in mines, gas and electric light companies, street railroads, banks, and I do not know how many other companies but reports are not always correct. It is true that Mr. Heinze and his associates have acquired a controlling interest in the Mercantile National bank of New York, which has $20,000,000 of deposits and Mr. Heinze has been elected president, but the affairs of this bank are in the hands of Miles J. O'Brien, one of the shrewdest and best known banking men of New York."

MOHAWK.

In connection with the talk of an increased output from Mohawk, it is pointed out that at the close of the company's fiscal year on Dec. 31 there was a surplus reported amounting to $1,059,516, more than sufficient to pay for two years' dividends at the rate disbursed last year—$5 a share. In addition there must be taken into consideration that an average price was received for the copper sold last year of 19.60 cents a pound and the year's results will undoubtedly show an increased production by about 2,000,000 pounds. The construction item this year will not exceed that of the past year, viz., $95,000 and costs, including construction, of 11.54 cents per pound should be lowered for the copper contents of rock extracted are bettering over conditions prevailing a year ago. Mohawk commenced production only five years ago—in 1902—but not until January of last year did the company enter the dividend ranks. Disbursements were started with a $2 declaration; six months later $3 was paid; while in January of the current year another dollar was added to the dividend. This means that the next disbursement, it is believed, will be $4 a share, calling for the payment of $500,000, an amount equal to last year's total payments.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The Lewisols are developing a property eight miles west of Globe which has produced 220 feet of ledge carrying stringers of copper glance. The ore is becoming more compact with depth.

The Superior & Boston company's cut in the Great Eastern mine, after going through considerable iron and lime, has broken into good ore in the Black Hawk lode, 100 feet from the Commercial line.

The Butte & Bacon company has bought the galloves frame on the Nipper mine and will use it on the Calumet mine. This frame is a large one, and will suffice for all head frame purposes in its new location.

Winona is turning out better than 2,000,000 pounds of copper a year. Its output in March was the largest since it has resumed production and April promises to do even better. Its rock is averaging 1 per cent copper.

Operations are to be resumed at the Ophir mine in the Stateline district on May 1, after a shutdown covering a period of several years. The property is owned by Detroit parties and owing to bad management in the past was not a success.

Mass is dull marketwise but the mine produced 152 tons of mineral last month, the largest month's production this year. With the installation of the second head at the stamp mill production hereafter will be at the rate of 1,000 tons of rock daily.

Wolverine is showing an increased mineral yield during the last two months, but it will hardly produce beyond its maximum capacity which is 10,000,000 pounds. There is no stock pressing for sale and around 160 it makes a good return in dividends.

the thirteenth level crosscut the same sulphide ore and rich on the fourteenth level. The thirteenth level crosscut encountered a large body of copper glance, which proves the continuation of the ore chute for 100 feet in depth. The management will push the work on the shaft from the fourteenth level 200 feet to develop the sulphide vein at the 1600-foot level.

A mining official says that he has recently quoted 26 cents for Lake copper for July delivery. About May 1, as a general thing, copper consumers come to the market and make known their requirements for the third quarter of the year, but as to whether this season will witness this condition remains to be seen. If one large consumer started to buy copper at this time, the rest would immediately fall in line.

The Butte Coalition company has resumed sinking in the Rarus shaft from the 2,178-foot depth to the 2,500, and it is driving a double compartment crosscut from the 1998-foot station north to intersect veins sixteen and fourteen. The company is now mining considerable ore, the bulk of it coming from the Rarus and the Minnie Healy. The Coalition is also crosscutting from the Corra shaft at the 2100-foot level to intersect the "Alice" vein, it being the intention to open up the copper leads below the old silver workings.

The North Butte company is working on three veins of rich ore, and in the Speculator alone it has 100,000 tons of ore in sight. The Speculator vein is of great width, and a short distance south of the main shaft, at the 1600-foot level, a winze has been sunk from which a number of drifts have been run. The ore is first class and will average 6 per cent. The Jessie vein is of good width and in places is sixteen feet wide. It has produced considerable high-grade ore, and its future output is held as a valuable asset by the company.

The Michigan Copper company, of which John R. Stanton is president, received an average price in 1906 for its copper sold of 19.70 cents a pound, the highest average thus far known for that period. The Mohawk, another Stanton property, reported as its average price for the same period of 19.60 cents a pound, and Quincy's receipts figured an average received of 19 1/2 cents. Mass received 19.52 cents. In the first half of its fiscal year Wolverine received an average of between 19.60 and 19.70 cents a pound, and the year ending June 30 should show an average close to 23 cents.

According to an engineer who has recently visited the Balaklala property, that company now has blocked out 2,200,000 tons of ore which will average a recovery of forty-five pounds of copper to the ton and about $1 per ton in gold and silver values. He figures that the Balaklala can produce its copper at a cost of not above 8 cents per pound, which would indicate that the company with a 1,000-ton smelter can produce 17,500,000 pounds of copper per annum and earn on this production $2 per share on 15-cent copper. It is not likely that the Balaklala smelter will be in condition to be blown in much before Oct. 1 and by that time the work of doubling the size of the smelter will be under way.

Reports from the property of the Butte & Superior company, commonly known as the Black Rock, are to the effect that the vein in which the shaft has been sinking is pitching away from the opening and will soon be out of the perpendicular. This means that the company will soon be sinking in solid granite and will make better headway, in addition to which it will have a safer and better shaft below the point where the vein leaves it. The shaft is said to be 650 feet deep, making 150 feet sunk since the company took hold of the property. Besides sinking, however, it retimbered the entire opening from the surface to the 500-foot station, which consumed about six weeks, taking up this work first.

APPLIES FOR AN EXTRA CARRIER

DEPARTMENT TAKES MATTER UP ON RECOMMENDATION OF POSTMASTER MANGUM.

FORCE IS NOW HARD PRESSED

Average Weight of Mail Per Carrier Has Increased from Seventy to 106 Pounds Per Man in Past Five Years.

Some time ago Postmaster John D. Mangum made an application for the appointment of an extra carrier. The matter has been taken up by the department and an investigation of the needs of the city ordered. An inspector may arrive at any time.

The need of an extra carrier here has been a crying one for many months past. Five years ago, in the spring of 1902, when Mr. Mangum took charge of the office, he applied for, and secured, an extra carrier, increasing the delivery force from six to seven. At that time the average weight of mail per carrier per day was seventy pounds. It has increased steadily until the carriers are now delivering on the average of 106 pounds per day, an increase of slightly over 50 per cent. The receipts of the office, exclusive of the money order department, have increased from $275,000 when Mr. Mangum took charge, to nearly $320,000, a gain of close to 20 per cent and an average increase of nearly $2,000 a year.

There is at present a large portion of the city that should have a mail delivery not covered. Whether it will secure it on the arrival of the inspector is questionable. The matter rests with the residents. Some very thickly populated districts are not provided with sidewalks and until these are built cannot secure a delivery of mail. Even under present conditions carriers are delivering mail where they are not compelled to by the postal regulations, and several of them could greatly lighten their labors through a protest. The laws governing the delivery of mail distinctly state that deliveries shall only be made in localities provided with good walks, and that such walks shall be kept in good condition and repair winter and summer. Though the lack of proper sidewalks is particularly true of North Marquette, it is not confined to any particular section, as there are several localities in South Marquette where there are no sidewalks or the roads are in poor condition, that are receiving mail deliveries. Should the investigation of the inspector be searching many people are liable to be cut off.

Some parts of the city are also receiving three deliveries daily, whereas they are entitled to only two. Washington and Third street might be cited. These contain a number of residences as well as business houses. The number of mail boxes in certain localities is greatly in excess of the needs of the residents and entail extra labor on the part of the carriers. It will lay with the inspector to have these removed. In speaking of the matter yesterday, Postmaster Mangum said: "There is no question of the necessity of an extra carrier in this city, but whether we secure one or not will depend largely upon whether the citizens will co-operate with me. Unless residents comply with the regulations of the postoffice department they cannot hope to secure a delivery of mail. I do not know the date when the inspector will arrive, as we receive no notification in matters of that character. However, the residents of districts where there are no sidewalks, or the walks are in poor repair, should bestir themselves without loss of time and see that the bad conditions are remedied. There is great need of an extra carrier, as the men are at present hard pressed. The weight of mail delivered has increased steadily during the past five years, and in point of receipts the office is the largest in upper Michigan."

MAY BUILD CLUB HOUSE.

Resolution to Raise Fund Passed at Annual Meeting of Women's Clubs.

President—Mrs. Frances Kealey. Vice President—Mrs. Burr Catlin. Secretary—Mrs. Morley Anderson. Treasurer—Mrs. Harry Hornbogen.

At the annual meeting of the Federation of Women's clubs of Marquette, held at the Methodist church yesterday afternoon, a motion was made and carried that a fund be started for the erection of a club house. The matter of building a club house has been a subject of discussion for some time, but not until yesterday was it brought up in a definite manner for official action. Ways and means for the raising of funds will be discussed at a subsequent meeting. It was also decided to apply for admission before the close of the present year to the State Federation of Women's clubs.

The reports from the clubs composing the federation showed all nine to be in good financial condition. The membership of each is larger than ever before and the amount of profitable work accomplished far in excess of that of former years. The work of Captain Corliss of the Salvation Army in looking after the destitute and those in need of advice and encouragement was heartily commended. A resolution that the federation continue to aid Captain Corliss by every means in its power was carried. It was also voted to continue and if possible increase the scope of the general charitable work of the federation. The report of the treasurer showed that $550 had been devoted to charity during the past year.

A vote of thanks was extended the Rev. A. Maywood for his courtesy in allowing the federation the use of the church for its session.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many friends and acquaintances for their floral offerings and for the sympathy and many kindnesses at the time of bereavement in the loss of our beloved three little ones. Their kindness shall ever remain in our memory.

ARTISTIC PAPERING DESIGNS.

Marquette people don't have to send away from home to secure anything in the house decorating line. For instance, Charles T. Geill, No. 120 North Third street, in addition to a large stock containing everything in the ordinary line of house painting and papering, has secured a number of patterns in art work that for beauty of design and quality of finish are as fine as can be purchased in any of the great cities. Within the past few years great strides have been made in the art of wall decorating. The time was when decorated ceilings and walls were within the reach of design and quality of finish. Even the most modest of homes can now be beautified through the use of decorated paper at a comparative small expenditure. Mr. Geill showed several of his patterns to a press representative last evening. A duplex valour with a metal finish is particularly beautiful. The famous Cliff house at the Golden Gate, with its background of sun and sky, bore every appearance of a creation in water colors. The tinting on a wood scene was exquisite. And these form but a small item of Mr. Geill's new stock.
