

Shriners Are Victims of Fearful Wreck

RUNNING FIFTY MILES AN HOUR A TRAIN ON THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC STRIKES A DEFECTIVE SWITCH AND IS HURLED FROM THE RAILS.

FILLED WITH MASONS AND THEIR LADIES HOMEWARD BOUND FROM THE LOS ANGELES CONVENTION, THE FIRST COACHES ARE SMASHED INTO FLINDERS AND THEIR OCCUPANTS THROWN IN EVERY DIRECTION—THIRTY-TWO PERSONS ARE KILLED, MANY OF THEM SCALDED OR BURNED TO DEATH, AND MORE THAN A SCORE OF OTHERS ARE INJURED.

Santa Barbara, Cal., May 12.—While hurrying northward over the Coast Line of the Southern Pacific railroad yesterday afternoon, a train bound for Los Angeles, 143 Shriners of Ipsania temple of Buffalo and Rajah temple of Reading, Pa., with their families and friends, were hurled into the midst of death when their special train, running fifty miles an hour, struck a defective switch at Florida, a lonely station on the sand wastes of the Pacific beach, derailing the train, smashing coaches into flinders, killing thirty-two persons and maiming many more.

Names of Dead and Injured. The following is a list of the dead now in the Santa Barbara morgue: J. Douglas Hippie, potentate of Rajah temple, Reading, Pa. A. K. Giffman, Reading, Pa. A. Roth, Reading, Pa. C. Gilbert Steff, Reading, Pa. S. S. Snyder, Reading, Pa. Louis Nellenbogen, Allentown, Pa. Howard Meyer, Hazleton, Pa. A. D. Wasson, Buffalo, Pa. Charles S. Henry, Johnson, Pa. John W. Cutler, Binghamton, N. Y. Charles M. Loving, Pullman conductor, Buffalo.

The following are the names of the women who met death in the wreck: Mrs. William W. Essick, Reading, Pa. Mrs. S. Snyder, Reading, Pa. Miss Stoltz, Reading, Pa. Mrs. L. Nellenbogen, Allentown, Pa. Mrs. J. W. Cutler, Binghamton, Pa. Mrs. Henry J. Swisher, Cleveland, Pa. Mrs. Cora Young, Cleveland, Pa. Mrs. Brumbaugh, Reading, Pa. The following are the dead at San Luis Obispo: Richard Essick, Reading, Pa. Oliver T. Kaufman, Reading, Pa. Henry Miller, Reading, Pa. Alonzo B. Rogers, St. Paul, Pullman car conductor.

Tran Making Terrific Speed. The wreck occurred exactly at 2:23 o'clock. The statements of the train crew make it plain that the train was making terrific speed when it struck the defective track. It is estimated that it covered the sixty miles of curves and crooked track between Florida and Honda in exactly 190 minutes. Business man Frank Champlaine was pitched with his cab twenty-five feet beyond the engine, and got up and ran three-quarters of a mile, seeking help, before he discovered that his arm was broken and that he was severely scalded.

Dining Car a Death Trap. But the unfortunate who occupied every seat in the dining car were caught in a fatal death trap. Only two of the nine men of the crew were numbered among the dead. The remainder, through cramped up in the narrow kitchen and pantry, sustained only bad cuts and bruises. A last call for lunch had just sounded a few minutes before the disaster.

Will Make No Attempt at the Coming Conference of Ohio Leaders to Bring About the Elimination of Foraker.

Washington, May 12.—To fight or not to fight Foraker is the most important question to be settled at once by the president and Secretary Taft.

Foraker's Friends Stubborn. From a source very close to Senator Foraker, it is said, his friends in the Ohio state central committee will go into the conference prepared to fight a Taft endorsement for president to the bitter end, unless Foraker is likewise endorsed for the senate.

City Brevities

Yesterday's temperatures. Seven a. m., 39 degrees; noon, 45; 7 p. m., 64. Maximum, 58 degrees; minimum, 39.

Frank Rose has gone to Milwaukee for a visit with friends.

Dr. Howard Macklin, of Marinette, Wis., was in Marquette Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Rappleye and Miss Nellie Page, of Negaunee, are the guests of Marquette friends.

The funeral of the late F. W. Road will be held from the family residence, No. 425 East Arch street, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shoeh and Mrs. John Finlayson of Marquette attended the funeral of the late Samuel Redfern at Negaunee yesterday.

Duncan C. Ross, who has been in the city for the past ten days, went to Ishpeming Saturday morning, where he proposes to give an athletic show some time during the coming week.

Dr. Gregory of Marinette returned from the copper country Saturday, leaving that evening for his home. Dr. Gregory is just back from a visit to the Kimberly-Willey mines.

The fire department responded to a false alarm Saturday evening. It was turned in on the supposition that there was a fire in Tierney's store, in South Marquette, a reflection from the stove being mistaken for flames.

Funeral Wednesday Morning—The funeral of the late Philip Colman, whose death occurred yesterday, will be held from St. Peter's cathedral at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. The Knights of Columbus will attend in a body. Mr. Colman was a member of this order.

W. R. C. to Buy Flag—Women's Relief Corps, No. 188, will give a card party and dance at Keough's hall this evening, to raise money for the purchase of a flag for the Baraga school building.

All the public school buildings by the national colors are the members of the W. R. C. believe that parochial institutions should evidence the same patriotism. It is proposed to buy a silk flag 20 by 12 feet.

Marquette's Defeat Rivals—The Marquette's scored an easy victory over the Rivals at the fair grounds diamond yesterday afternoon by the score of 13 to 6. The attendance was small and the game, while hotly contested, was marked by ragged playing on both sides. Scholtus and Webb were in the points for the Marquette's, and Kelly and Kraft for the Rivals. Nine hits were made off Scholtus and eleven off Kelly. Scholtus struck out nine and Kelly eight. The diamond was slow.

Rehearsing Class Play—The members of the senior class of the Normal school who will take part in the presentation of the class play, "As You Like It," during the commencement exercises in June, have already begun rehearsals. Mrs. Bushmore, who has charge of the production, says that many of the students give evidence of possessing histrionic talent of a high order, and she is hopeful that the performance will surpass in merit those of former years.

Organizing News Company—Articles of incorporation of the "Talk With Ryan Agency" were filed with the secretary of the State Friday. The object of the company is to do a general insurance brokerage business throughout the upper peninsula, with headquarters in this city. John F. Ryan, of Marquette, is promoter and general manager. Among the stockholders are a number of the best known financiers in Northern Michigan.

Harbor Tug Here—Marquette has a harbor tug notwithstanding that the Great Lakes Towing company's Buffalo, which had been assigned to this port, is still lying on the bottom of Portage lake. The Delian tug Nellie Cotton, formerly in the log towing business at Skegess, is now its commission here, and will continue in the service at least until the "trust" despatches another craft to the port. The Cotton is an iron boat, and is a good, seaworthy craft. She is now chartered at Houghton his spring. The tug will be available for both harbor work and up-shore traffic.

Will Secure a Good Band—Mayor Robertson said Saturday, relative to the announcement that Ishpeming was to have a Fourth of July celebration and had secured both the Ishpeming band: "Residents of Marquette need not fear that we will not have a band. I am going to take this matter up with the committee on arrangements very shortly and we will secure a band, and a good one, if we have to send to Milwaukee or Duluth. Ishpeming got in on the ground floor in the band matter, as it had a perfect right to do, but we will go right ahead with our plans and try to give the biggest celebration in the history of the city."

Troubled by Electricity—Axel Olson, of Michigan, will be examined as to his sanity before Judge Potter in probate court by Drs. Goodnow, of Michigan, and Markham, of this city, tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The man who has been held at the county jail for several days, has a common though strange illusion. He thinks that he is a human dynamo and continually begs those with whom he comes in contact to connect him with a telegraph wire so that he can run the electricity out of his system. Sheriff Rough says that he has had a number of insane cases at the jail suffering from similar hallucinations. He also says that attendants at Newberry say that that form of mania is a very common one.

At the Chocolate Furnace—There were many visitors at the Chocolate furnace location yesterday. They found considerable work accomplished, but much remaining to be done. The large dormitory building, planned to accommodate some fifty men, is enclosed, as is also the house that will be occupied by the cook and family, and in which the dining room will be located. A large space has been cleared and scraped out for the charcoal kilns, two or three of which have been partially erected. At the furnace proper three new boilers are in position, ready to be bricked in, and three pumps, two of fair size, have been placed on the floor of the engine room. Work is progressing with a large force, and satisfactory progress is being made.

Fins to Celebrate—At a meeting to be held at the Finnish Temperance hall on Washington street tomorrow evening, arrangements will be completed for the observance of Midsummer day by the Finnish societies of the upper peninsula.

Midsummer day, the national holiday of the Finns, fall upon Monday, June 24, and has always been a great event in the "Fatherland." An executive committee consisting of Mr. Kolvisto, A. Peterson, A. Tallbaka, John Michelson and Jacob Jacobson has been empowered to appoint all sub-committees and complete arrangements. It is expected that at least 2,000 visitors will be present. There will be numerous games and addresses, in addition to a picnic at Presque Isle.

Wrestling Champion Arrives—Tom Connors, at one time champion catch-as-catch-can wrestler of England, arrived in Marquette Saturday from Newberry and will go to Ishpeming today to join Duncan C. Ross. Mr. Connors says that he understood that it was Mr. Ross' intention to give a show here this week instead of last, and to that fact was due his failure to put in an appearance last Tuesday night. Connors, though a man well over fifty, does not look his age by fifteen years. He lays his retention of youth and vitality to the fact that he has never dissipated and that the wrestling game develops all the muscles proportionately. Wrestling he claims is the true art of self-defense. A boxer, he says, has only one chance to knock out a wrestler and that is with the first wallop. When they pull off one of his opponent's arms and pound him over the head with it.

Popular Hotel Man Leaves—Walter Yeazel, for the past eight years clerk at the Hotel Marquette, has resigned his position and will leave this week to enjoy a short vacation—previous to taking up the duties of clerk at the Hotel Brunswick in Minneapolis. The proprietors of the Brunswick had been endeavoring to get Mr. Yeazel for a year past and finally made him an offer that tempted him away from Marquette. The Brunswick is a high class European hotel. Mr. Yeazel is one of the best known hotel men in the upper peninsula, his long service at the Marquette having given him an acquaintance with all the traveling public that make this territory with any regularity. He is popular both with this public and among his Marquette friends, and there will be general regret that he is to leave the city.

WHEAT SOARS LIKE A ROCKET

JULY OVERTOPS NINETY IN CHICAGO AND REACHES A DOLLAR IN NEW YORK.

Chicago, May 12.—The violent upturn in wheat which followed the publication of Friday's crop by the government continued yesterday.

Within fifteen minutes after the opening of the board of trade, prices of all wheat options were 2 cents higher than the close of Friday.

When July wheat had touched 90 1/2 cents extensive realizing sales set in and the price was crowded back to 90 cents.

The strength of the market, however, was not lessened, the urgent demand continued, and prices again advanced until they touched for July and September 91 1/2 and 91 1/4, respectively, both options being 2 1/2 to 3/4 cents above Friday's close.

Excitement in New York. New York, May 12.—Amid further excitement in the local pit bulls made an enthusiastic effort to get dollar wheat.

GOING OVER TO HUGHES.

Sudden Rush at Albany in Favor of Governor's Legislation.

Albany, N. Y., May 12.—A sudden influx of Republican leaders, most of them of the Roosevelt camp, has created a turmoil here, such as has not been seen this year; National Committee member William L. Ward, Congressman Littauer, George W. Aldridge, William J. Youngs, the president's former secretary, and W. W. Cocks, the president's congressman, who was used by Roosevelt to secure the nomination of Hughes at Saratoga are all there.

"I am here to aid the governor," said Congressman Littauer. "Do I represent the president? No, but I have no hesitation in saying that he is in accord with the governor on his main proposals."

The governor is in charge, and any Republicans who do not follow him will be back numbers," said Mr. Ward. "I am for the governor's legislation, as he wants it," said Mr. Woodruff.

Hard on this influx of politicians came the sudden decision to caucus the senate at the public utilities bill. This move came out of a clear sky. It was precipitated by Senator Page. At this caucus the friends of the governor may succeed in binding the senate to the governor's measure.

Back of the visit of these politicians, Albany believes there lies the beginning of a campaign for the control of the delegates for the next Republican national convention. This is confirmed by the whisper that the real game of these men is to dictate the lines of the proposed re-appointment on which the delegation will be based.

MEN ADMIRE

A pretty face, a good figure, but sooner or later learn that the healthy, happy, contented woman is most of all to be admired.

Women troubled with fainting spells, irregularities, nervous irritability, backache, the "blues," and those dreadful dragging sensations, cannot hope to be happy or popular, and advancement in either home, business or social life is impossible.

The cause of these troubles, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs. It acts at once upon the organ afflicted and the nerve centers, dispelling effectually all those distressing symptoms. No other medicine in the country has received such unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cures of female ills as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Miss Emma Runtzler, of 631 State St., Schenectady, N. Y., writes:—"For a long time I was troubled with a weakness which seemed to drain all my strength away. I had dull headaches, was nervous, irritable, and all worn out. Chancing to read one of your advertisements of a case similar to mine cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I decided to try it and I cannot express my gratitude for the benefit received. I am entirely well and feel like a new person."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most successful remedy for all forms of Female Complaints, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and is invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life.

ISSUE BALANCE OF STOCK. IN BURLINGTON WRECK.

Shareholders of Pine Tree Will Get One Share for Each Five.

Marquette county shareholders of the Pine Tree Mining company, operating a lead and zinc property near Cuba City, Wis., yesterday received the following announcement from Secretary George F. Ruez:

"At a meeting of the board of directors held in the city of Ishpeming on April 17, 1907, the following action was taken:

"Resolved, That the unissued 13,000 shares of the capital stock of the company be sold; that same be offered to stockholders of record on May 18th, 1907, at $2 per share; that the appropriation shall be at the rate of one share of the stock offered for subscription for each five shares held by stockholders of record on above mentioned date; that in order to avail themselves of the opportunity to subscribe for the shares which their holdings entitle them to, remittance covering same must be in the hands of the secretary of the company by June 1st, 1907.

"Your board of directors begs to state that the funds obtained from the sale of this stock are to be used for the purpose of constructing a mill on the property of the company, as the physical condition of the mine is such that the directors feel warranted in taking the important step of erecting a mill at the earliest possible date. The order for the mill has already been placed, and it is hoped that Sept. 1st, will see the Pine Tree Mining company a producer.

"The transfer books of the company will close at 4 p. m., Saturday, May 18th, and remain closed until June 3rd, 1907. Send remittances covering subscriptions for stock to George F. Ruez, secretary, Ishpeming, Mich."

The Pine Tree company is capitalized for $55,000, the par value of the shares being $1. For nearly a month past the shares have been selling at from $2.25 to $2.50, and very little of it has been obtainable.

REACHES ORE IN SHAFT.

Good News Received by Officers of Vandeventer Lead and Zinc Company.

Robert A. Fox, superintendent of the Vandeventer Lead and Zinc company's property near Cuba City, Wis., wired the officers here Saturday to the effect that twenty-one inches of the lead and zinc ore had been cut in the shaft. The ore is described as being unusually rich; in fact so rich that if the same quality of stuff is obtained from other portions of the deposit it can be sold in its crude form at a good price, saving the expense of erecting a mill at the property.

Superintendent Fox also says that ore had been encountered in hole No. 40, sixty feet southeast of the shaft. This makes ten drill holes in which ore of good quality has been struck in the past few weeks. The ore body has been proved up 300 feet in length and fifty feet in width.

The drill will be kept in operation to test the run of the ore and cross cutting and drifting will be started from the shaft. The ore here averages over five feet in thickness, and its depth in some of the holes is eight feet. The management is highly elated over the developments at the property. The wisdom of the step in purchasing the land outright, saving the royalty fees, is now appreciated by the officers.

John H. Quinn, vice president of the company, and who promoted it, said Saturday: "The Vandeventer company is one of the very few corporations operating in the Wisconsin field on its own land. Should we continue its present richness, it is the opinion of the management that most of it can be marketed to smelter operators without having to be put through a concentrator. The ore is of remarkable purity, with very little trace of sulphur in it. When it is considered that a six-inch sheet of the quality ore we have found in the Vandeventer is highly profitable much profit can be expected from the mine should the present deposit prove up as well as we expect."

Send your children to the new Grand Family theater, opposite Skud's and we'll take good care of them. Opening Wednesday evening.

Carpenters and painters have had possession of the place since the first of the month and the interior decorations are now about completed. The front of the building has been transformed into three arches, which are to be brilliantly lighted. Back of the center is the box office, with entrance to the stage on both sides. The interior decorations, the work of Trembath Bros., is attractive. Between seventy-five and 100 seats will be put in, but there will be standing room for forty or fifty persons. The management expects to give several performances each afternoon and evening, with a change of pictures and illustrated songs every Wednesday and Saturday.

Next Wednesday evening they are to hold an experience social, when each will give the story of earning his money. All friends of the young people are cordially invited.

MANY LEAVING BOSTON.
Wealthy Men Establishing New Domiciles to Escape Personal Tax.

Boston, May 12.—As in years past the indication are that Boston is again this year going to be a sufferer to a considerable extent from the fact that numerous wealthy men are going to give up Boston as their legal residence. This means the loss of a considerable amount to the city from personal taxes alone. It is understood that nearly half a hundred notified the city officials prior to the first of May of their intention to change their domicile.

Under the law a citizen may have several residences in different places, and it is for him to decide which shall be his legal domicile and in which he chooses to be assessed. Therefore, if the persons in question were not found at their former places of residence in Boston on May 1 they will not be assessed here.

Engene N. Foss of Jamaica Plain has notified the assessors that he will make his domicile for the future at Cohasset. If he adheres to this determination, which seems more than probable, it means a loss of $15,000 to the city on his personal tax alone. Last year he was assessed for an even $1,000,000 on his personal property. In addition to this the city will lose its credits from the state for all Massachusetts corporations with which he is identified.

Dr. Hasket Derby has also notified the city official that hereafter he and his wife will make their legal domicile at Bar Harbor, Me. The most interesting thing about Dr. Derby's change of domicile is that on April 29 Mayor Fitzgerald appointed him a member of the board of trustees of the Children Institutions department. The probability is that under the circumstances the appointment of Dr. Derby will be withdrawn by the mayor.

TO KNOW A GOOD PIPE.

Not one smoker in a thousand or perhaps in 10,000, knows the elements of a good pipe, declared a writer in the Technical World. Sage attention is paid to the pipe material, be it wood, clay or cornucob; but all of this has little if anything to do with the qualities of a pipe. Practically nothing whatever is thought of shape and proportion, the two things that make a pipe good or bad.

An engineer will talk by the hour over the draught of his fireboxes and never once in half a lifetime think of the draught in his pipe that he smokes hourly. Yet the question of a good or a poor pipe is bound up in that single word, draught.

In a pipe made on right principles, the bowl is as narrow and deep as is convenient; the hole in the stem meets the bowl at the very bottom and in the center, thus insuring a perfect and even draught, hence a complete and even burning of the tobacco.

The cake prevents the fire from burning the bowl and thus prevents making its home upon the draught.

The sides of the bowl are thick to keep in the heat, thus making the burning at the same temperature at the edges of the tobacco as in the center, and when the pipe is not puffed preventing undue cooling.

Needless to say, tobacco should be consumed at an oven temperature; to vary it from high or low for any cause ruins the flavor of the best kinds of the weed. It is commonly known that a cake adds to the good smoking qualities of a pipe. This is due to two causes, the cake, being mineral, stays hot when the pipe is not puffed; and also, being of different material from the bowl, prevents the loss of heat.

By a cool pipe one means a dry pipe, and this all depends on the stem, not on the bowl. A cool pipe or a hot pipe has little to do with the actual heat of the smoke coming from the stem into the mouth, but depends upon the chemical qualities of the smoke.

Any tobacco smoked at different temperatures produces different chemical results, and the tastes of these are falsely laid to the material of the pipe instead of to its construction.

In a poor pipe the hole in the stem meets the bowl at one side, not in the center. In consequence the draught is everywhere uneven and over half of the pipe, except on the very surface, there is no burning of the tobacco at all. This is not only waste, but, which is worse, spoils all the tobacco in the bowl, but a zone along the line of consumption is merely charred and smolders; besides this, the unburned but highly heated tobacco out of the line of draught is more or less distilled, the flavors from which mingle with those from the charred portion and the unevenly burned tobacco—something to weep and cough over.

The same thing is noticed in a cornucob pipe, when the stem stem is run into the bowl only to its inner edge. Push the reed a little further in and you have a good pipe.

Besides forming the cake common to all pipes, the cornucob is light in weight, hence is easily held between the teeth; moreover, being of a cellular structure and full of dead air, the cornucob retains the heat in the bowl, causing an even burning, whereas many other pipe substances, like clay, iron, or a dense, heavy wood, without the cake change temperature rapidly up and down the scale, almost with every puff.

All fancy types of pipes are apt to be no good whatever. The plain bowl and stem are the best. All contrivances to catch or to absorb nicotine only drive a man to cigars or out of the house. The reason of this is that the liquid wastes from a pipe are mostly tar, and if held in the pipe in out of the way health corners, decay and become a horror to the smoker.

In a plain pipe, all this waste matter must be, and easily is, cleaned out either after or before each smoke, or there can be no smoke worthy the name.

RELIEF FROM RHEUMATIC PAINS.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Roland Curry, a patrolman, of Kew West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by The Stafford Drug Co.

"What shall we have for breakfast?" "Why Cudaly's Peacock Ham and Eggs of course; they are always acceptable, especially at this season of the year." 11-27-eod.

WILL WAR ON DEER

FARMERS OF MASSACHUSETTS GET AUTHORIZATION.

A Solid Basis for the Law Recently Passed by the Legislature Permitting the Killing of Protected Game Caught Damaging Crops—Innumerable Depreciations Reported—The Open Season Begins Next Year—Connecticut Valley Agriculturists Think the Only Good Deer Is a Dead One—Orchards Ruined by These "Timid" Animals.

Boston, May 12.—Cervus Virginianus (Virginia deer), mild eyed, soft spoken, plausible Quaker that he is, has had to go on trial for his life a year earlier than he expected. The law defending his head from all shooting in Massachusetts does not expire until November, 1908, so that Cervus has not due to plead before the bar of the great general court before next winter's session. Merely, therefore, and heedless of threatening doom, has he elevated his heels about the woodlands the past year or two.

But prosperity often involves moral decadence. And so Cervus has had this spring to meet the wrathful charges of the farmer, who accuses the seepages of going through his farms and orchards like a plague of locusts, sharpening his horns on trunks of trees, scraping off bark, browsing on leaves, eating, knocking off, and trampling upon fruit, and thus imperiling the whole market garden industry unless protected by eight-foot fences. And thus it is that Cervus has been found guilty by this year's legislature, and that a bill has recently received the governor's signature, allowing farmers and others to kill with a shot gun only, any deer found injuring their crops or fruit trees.

10,000 Now in the State.

There must be about 10,000 wild deer now in Massachusetts, according to the fish and game commission's figures. They are frequently seen about the country roads and often wander into large towns. A young buck appeared on a Hilyo street some months ago and finding mill town folks too plebeian for him jumped through a plate glass window. At East Deerfield, a bustling freight terminal, a dozen deer were seen the other day quietly feeding fifty yards from the jungle of freight cars and the great and horrible of the iron horse. They poke their noses into farmhouses, windows, look with the cattle, sometimes follow the cows home, peacefully enough until they find themselves cornered, when they jump about wildly to escape.

Apple Trees Ruined.

E. D. Barrows, a well known local dealer over the line in Brattleboro, Vt., owns about sixty acres with 3,000 apple trees six miles from the town, one of the largest orchards in the state. Over three hundred of his younger trees have been seriously damaged by deer, largely during the past year, and 300 to 400 others somewhat hurt. Early risers, like their old friends the Puritans, the deer are out while effect farm hands are sleeping, browsing right and left and breaking off a year's growth from young fruit trees with astounding rapidity. Every bud sends forth a shoot on a branch thus broken, so that not merely is a year's growth lost, but some one must trim off the most of the new wood. Mr. Barrows estimates that not less than fifty deer live within five miles of this orchard, and they appear to have doubled about that farm in a year.

Deer can be killed in Vermont, only during one week in October. It means the ultimate depopulation of many rural communities, is the gloomy prediction of his orchardist. Fred L. Howe, living near Mr. Barrows' farm, has sustained serious damage by deer to 150 of his 400 young fruit trees. W. D. Newton, another neighbor, who had lost half an acre of clover, set up scare crows with bells. Deer knocked them down one and then returned no more. Senator C. S. Chase of Windham county testifies to the loss of half an acre of corn.

Even Essex county, Mass., which would be suburban and even metropolitan, is driven to admit rural uncouth connections through the boorish table manners of Cervus. Cornelius Lacey of Salisbury collected last year $337 damages for 1,074 cabbages, besides onions, corn, beans, peas, squash, turnips and clover, all clumsily trampled and bitten by the graceless one. Damages were also paid to thirteen other Essex county farmers last year.

Various Petty Misdemeanors.

For all such mischief by deer the state is supposed to make full compensation. The farmer complains to the selectmen, who awards payment if they consider the damage under $20. If they set it more than that the claim goes to three disinterested arbitrators. The county commissioners pass on awards before they are paid. The sum of $2,000 was allowed for such damages in 1906, mostly in small amounts, there having been forty-four different claims in Franklin county alone. The farmer says it does not always pay to collect these awards, owing to the amount of time required to present the case.

Then, among many others, there is the tale about a milkman whose quart measure dropped out of his wagon. The man stopped, and went back for the measure, but meanwhile a deer ran across the road, and frightened the horse into running away, the milkman fled a claim for damages to his outfit and 240 quarts of milk upset, in spite of the fact that he left his horse unhitched. Three or four antagonistic interests are thus waging war over poor Cervus's hide. To some extent it is town against country. The farmer is pretty well satisfied with the new law giving him liberty to kill deer caught hurting his crops, but he would like better a general open season. To him, the only good deer is a dead deer, and he holds Massachusetts no place for a game preserve. The townsman loves the sight of the graceful creatures and wants them protected. The sportsman condemns this year's law as giving man a farmer a summer-long feast of venison and sees chance for Agriculture to spill fields of salt near little gardens planted as traps. The humanitarian is also against this year's law, in that it permits the killing of deer with shot guns only, charges from which they seldom fall without hours of suffering.

The deer is undoubtedly proving a good investment, commercially speaking.

From 1,000 to 2,000 male deer can soon be killed yearly, according to the figures of the fish and game commission, representing an annual crop valued at $45,000 at the ordinary figures placed on deer carcasses. Allowing $2,000 awarded in damages to farmers, adding two or three times that sum for all unreported and undervalued damage, and something for game warden's expenses, it looks as if the state would acquire an annual income of about $35,000 net. Reckoned on a five-cent basis, this would make the state's deer herd worth about $700,000.

Legislation in Other States.

In southern New Hampshire, particularly in Hillsboro county, a systematic campaign against deer has been carried on by the farmers. A number of the farmers have an understanding that should any of their number be summoned into court for infractions of the deer law, the others in the agreement will see him through on all expenses.

Washington, May 12.—Celery culture in the United States on an extensive scale is limited to comparatively recent years.

Many persons today can recall the time when it was considered a novelty and appeared on the table only for garnishing or flavoring purposes.

Celery has become a wholesome, palatable addition to the fare of the people generally. Southern England and many parts of the eastern continent are the home of the wild celery from which the many cultivated varieties now in use have been derived.

Dismissing the various forms in which celery appears on the table today, a horticulturist of the bureau of plant industry says that while celery may not possess much actual food value it is very attractive and its use is important.

One from the fact that it furnishes an essential vegetable ingredient to a well regulated diet.

Coming as it does at a time of the year when large quantities of meat are consumed and green foods are not plentiful, continued this authority, "the use of celery aids the stomach more palatable and greatly aids digestion. The taste of celery is at first unpleasant to some persons but a liking for it is usually acquired after eating it a few times. It is the stalks or stems of these leaves which, when blanched, form the edible part. The seeds of celery, also are very largely used for flavoring salads, soups and a variety of dishes. The fleshy root of the celery plant is used in soups, it is also prepared as a separate dish, being cut in small pieces, boiled until tender and served like asparagus with a dressing of cream."

Celery growing on a commercial scale in this country received special attention and made its greatest progress after the opening of the "muck-beds" areas of the Great Lakes region. In Michigan, Ohio and New York several thousand acres of celery are grown annually. In California and Florida celery growing today is an important part of the winter vegetable production of this crop is found on the market throughout almost the entire year.

In Florida and California the growing of celery presents a different business proposition from its culture in the Northern and Eastern states.

In the Northern and Eastern states celery is raised for the market from early June until about the end of the year. The Florida and California product appears in the market about the last week in December and continues until March or April. After that time there is a cessation in the demand for celery until the Northern crop reaches the market.

Many people are making a success of day of celery raising. It is estimated that the majority of them receive a net profit of about $100 an acre over and above the interest on the investment, but there are hundreds of acres grown annually which barely pay expenses. This is due to the fact that the soil has become exhausted and the product is consequently underseeded and inferior. The grovers of Michigan, Ohio and New York is shipped in carload lots to New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other Eastern cities.

Logan & Bryan's Wheat Summary.

Logan & Bryan wired Paine, Webber & Co. concerning Saturday's wheat market:

"At the high point today July wheat sold six cents over the low point of yesterday. The net advance for all the month for the day is from 3/4 to 2 1/2. There is a speculative buying force under this market which no man can estimate. No one can blame holders who have been right in the market for an advance of ten or fifteen cents a bushel for taking profits on the hard spots at this level. There was a great volume of this kind of selling today. There was also selling by those who attempted to force a break. But the buying was much greater than all the offerings at all times early and late. The offerings were all taken, the buying continued, the public acting hungry for wheat and the market was one succession of swells until the July price reached 91 1/2 cents at best point just before the close. September scored 3 1/2 cents advance, to 93 1/2 cents, while the December was up 3/4 to ninety-five cents. The promise of milder weather has done very little to relieve the situation either southwest or northwest. The bugs continue their ravages in the winter wheat states. Plowing up of winter wheat acreage has probably been as great since May 1 as before. North Dakota had more snow today, and everything points to a large part of the wheat acreage going into barley oats and flax. Dispatches from Winnipeg and Montreal give a most gloomy outlook for the Canadian wheat prospects for the year. Foreign news is more bullish than ever. The worst damage appears to be in Southern Russia, Rumania, Hungary and Germany. Puda Pesth was up three cents a bushel today. The public has the market. There is a most remarkable crop situation back of it. Buy wheat on any one cent break and follow its higher."

INDIGESTION

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Boarism, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the cause of the nerve, alone brought this necessary favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, flatulency, bad breath and mallow congestion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tastes like liquid-sea-salt for you, but what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Logan & Bryan telegraphed Saturday from New York as follows: "The good bank statement imparted a better tone to the New York stock market, but trading was on a very small scale, all speculative interest being centered in the grain market, and the crop situation is being observed closely, which will no doubt influence prices to a very great extent in the near future. There has been considerable short selling of late and scattered liquidation and the short interest can be reckoned as somewhat of a sustaining influence. The monetary situation is healthy and underlying conditions strong, and for this reason we don't look for a material decline."

Paine, Webber & Co. wired regarding Saturday's Boston market: "The bank statement was a little better today than expected, and the traders used the opportunity to advance stocks a fraction. We see no reason as yet to change our mildly bearish position in the face of absolute lack of speculative interest and the poor crop prospects."

HOMESTEADER GOT FIVE WOLF PUPS

THEORY OF VERNON BAILEY BORNE OUT BY EXPERIENCE OF A. KRINKE LAST WEEK.

DEN WAS IN HOLLOW LOG

Pack of Old Wolves Returned to it After it Had Been Ravished, But Homesteader, Armed With 22 Ride, Could Not Kill Them.

The contention of Vernon Bailey, government biological expert, who recently visited this locality to study the wolf problem, that the best way of decreasing the number of wolves is by locating the dens and destroying the young, received a practical illustration recently in the experience of A. Krinke, a homesteader having a claim near the Huron Mountain club. A few days ago Mr. Krinke found a well defined wolf trail just following a light fall of snow. He traced it for several miles until he came to a hollow log, near which the snow was marked by numerous wolf tracks. Mr. Krinke, who was armed with nothing but an ax, chopped through the log in several places and in one extremely found five wolf pups huddled together. The log had become punky in the center and the parent wolves had hollowed it out with infinite pains, as was shown by the large amount of refuse at the entrance, until they had made it into a commodious den.

Supports Mr. Bailey.

This incident supports the contention of Mr. Bailey, who claimed that when a wolf's den had been ravaged the parents would revisit it and could easily be killed. H. J. Lohdel, to whom Krinke told the story, has sent a detailed account of the occurrence to the government expert. During his visit in this locality in the early part of April Mr. Bailey said that wolves, in spite of the efforts of many hunters and trappers to make a living through their destruction, appeared to be increasing in the western states. He placed the loss through their depredations on cattle and sheep alone, exclusive of wild game, at hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. He considered the destruction of the young the most expeditious method of decreasing the number of wolves, as the litters usually consist of from six to ten pups a good proportion of which generally reach maturity. During the past few years, he said, it had become positively known through investigations carried on by his department that wolves paired for the breeding season and that the males stayed with the females until the pups were large enough to look after themselves. The pups invariably remained at the den until over two months of age. Mr. Bailey gave the following advice relative to the trapping of wolves:

Should Use Scent Bait. "Success in trapping depends largely on the use of a scent that will attract wolves and coyotes to the traps and keep them tramping and pawing there until caught. Meat bait alone is of little use, and often, indeed, scares the animals away. Of the many scents and combinations the 'scent bait' has proved the most successful. Place half a pound of raw beef or venison in a wide-mouthed bottle and let it stand in a warm place (but not in the sun) for two to six weeks, or until it has become thoroughly decayed and the odor is as offensive as possible. When decomposition has the proper stage add a quart of sperm oil or any liquid animal oil. Then add one ounce of Siberian musk, or Toquin musk. After setting the trap apply the scent with a stick or straw or by pouring from the bottle to the grass, weeds, or ground on the side of the trap opposite from which the wolf would naturally approach. Never put the scent on the trap as the first impulse of the wolf after sniffing the scent is to roll on it. This bait is very attractive to cattle and horses, which are sure to tramp over and paw out the traps if set where they can get at them."

DEATH CLAIMS PHIL COLMAN.

Well Known Resident of This City Passes Away from Heart Failure.

Philip Colman, chief clerk in the purchasing department of the South Shore Railway company, passed away at his residence, No. 118 East Ohio street, yesterday morning at 9:45 o'clock, after an illness of but a few days' duration. Mr. Colman was taken with a cold Sunday, May 5, but his illness was not considered serious until Friday. All that medical skill could suggest and loving hands execute was done to stay the progress of the dread destroyer, but in vain. Death was directly due to heart failure.

Mr. Colman was a well known and respected resident of Marquette. He was born at Clinton, Ia., Sept. 21, 1864, and came to this city in 1890, entering the employ of the South Shore, with which company he remained continuously until his demise. He was wedded to Miss Alice Sullivan in 1894. A father, John Colman, of Clinton, Ia.; a brother, William, of Chicago, and two sisters, Mrs. John Cohen and Mrs. Fred Lynch, of Chicago, survive. Relatives have been notified and are expected today. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning.

WANTS ROOM FOR MORE PATIENTS

STATE HOSPITAL AT NEWBERRY NOW CONTAINS FIFTY MORE THAN IT CAN WELL ACCOMMODATE—ASKS RELIEF FROM THE STATE.

"The state should without delay do something to relieve the crowded condition of the asylum at Newberry," said Sheriff Rough, Saturday. "The present buildings can only conveniently accommodate about 650 patients, but there are now over 700 in charge. I took a patient to the asylum the earlier part of the week, and on the same train were five others. Four of these were men and on their arrival at the hospital it was necessary to place cots for them to sleep in one of the halls, as there was not a vacant room on any of the main wards. Superintendent Campbell told me that the problem of furnishing accommodations for the patients had been a serious one for some months past. He has advised probate judges of the condition at the hospital and requested them to commit only violent cases, sending those who had become deranged through the use of drink or drugs to county jails and having them looked after by the county physicians. But though the courts have endeavored to help him out in every way, Dr. Campbell told me that it was utterly impossible for him to discharge or parole enough patients to furnish new arrivals with proper accommodations. He said that he had been compelled to release many patients whose liberty was a menace to society, but it was absolutely necessary that those more in need of medical attention should receive it. "Dr. Campbell believes that the easiest way in which the present congested condition of the hospital could be relieved would be by making two cottages out of the present administration building and then erecting a new structure for offices and quarters for the medical force."
