

TELLING BLOW DEALT MONOPOLY

Standard Oil's Domination Is Smashed, So Far as Texas Is Concerned, After a Fight Waged for Nearly Two Years.

Not Only Is Trust Ousted from the State, Standing Now as a Legal Outlaw, With Millions of Dollars' Worth of Property Involved, but Fines of $1,623,900 Are Assessed, of Which Amount the Prosecutor Is Entitled to More Than a Fourth.

Austin, Tex., June 2.—A verdict in the Waters-Pierce oil company case has been brought in by the jury as follows: "We, the jury, find for the plaintiff against the defendant on each of the issues submitted to us, and fix the penalties at $1,500 per day. We further find that the permit of the defendant to do business in the state of Texas should be canceled. No find for the defendant on all issues made by the plaintiff and not submitted in the charge of the court."

The court in his charge outlined several forms for the verdict, whatever it might be, that the jury should decide upon, and the verdict was rendered in accordance with the first form. The total amount asked by the state in its pleadings was $5,239,400.

The minimum amount of the penalties would have amounted to $281,000. The total amount of the judgment returned was $1,623,900, the state being liable for each day's violation under the anti-trust act of 1890, at $1,000. Under the act of 1903 the law fixes the penalty at $50 a day for each day it is violated. The defense has two days in which to make a motion for a new trial. It was stated by attorneys for the defense that the case would be carried to the higher courts.

Prosecutor Gets $391,145. Under the act of 1890 the fee of the county attorney is $387,275, or one-fourth of the judgment; under the act of 1903 it is 10 per cent of the first $1,000 of the judgment and 5 per cent of the remainder or $3,770, the total of both being $391,145.

According to the agreement with J. P. Gruet, Jr., the existence of which was brought out during the Senator Barney investigation in 1905, to receive one-third of the fees belonging to the county attorney. The state's special counsel will also be paid out of this. The attorney general's department receives no fees out of the judgment.

It is claimed that the jurors stood three for the maximum penalty, four for the minimum and five for the middle course. The county attorney gave out a statement today in which he said that the verdict was of special significance to the people of Texas and undoubtedly meant the expulsion for all time from Texas of a corporation which has offended against the laws with greater frequency and more flagrantly than any other.

Fight Lasts Two Years.—The verdict is the most telling blow ever dealt the Standard Oil company, as the trust in Texas does business under the name of the Waters-Pierce company. The decision means that all trust domination is smashed, so far as Texas is concerned, and that every future case of law-breaking will meet quick punishment.

The trust, owning millions of dollars' worth of property in Texas, stands as a legal outlaw, without right to do business in this state. The state has been fighting the trust nearly two years. One result of the crusade was the arrest of H. Clay Pierce, its president, in St. Louis. Pierce's fate is still to be determined. The trial lasted three weeks.

The attorney general already has begun action to collect the fines. He will seize the property of the company, if necessary, and sell it at auction.

HAYWOOD HIMSELF AGAIN. Work of Selecting Jury, Interrupted by Illness, Will Resume Today.

Boise, Idaho, June 2.—The work of securing the jury in the case of William D. Haywood, charged with the murder of former Governor Stennenberg, will be resumed tomorrow morning unless the prisoner, who was quite ill yesterday, has a relapse. Today Haywood is himself again. Although a little drawn and pale, he appeared to be in his normal condition. He was out early in front of the court house and walked in the sun and breeze with members of his family among the pleasant surroundings of well-kept lawns and rose bushes fragrant with blossoms.

Judge Fremont Wood has said that he is determined a jury shall be secured tomorrow if possible. Forty-four talesmen are quite probable that Judge Wood will hold a night session. With a jury secured tomorrow the case for the state will be opened Tuesday morning.

DOCK STRIKERS RECEDE. Compromise Terms Offered Steamship Companies at New York.

New York, June 2.—At a meeting today at which were represented nineteen branches of the striking longshoremen's union, the demands made a month ago on the steamship companies were revised and tomorrow the new demands will be submitted. The longshoremen had at first demanded forty cents for day work and sixty cents for night and Sunday work. Soon after the strike began a compromise was effected with the Savannah and Morgau lines on a basis of thirty-five cents for day and fifty cents for night work. At today's meeting it was decided to reduce the original demands made on the transatlantic lines to the compromise figures.

SNOW FALLS IN NEW YORK.

New York, June 2.—Snow fell in New York today. The flakes were not of the sort that make sleighing and snow balls, but they swirled about the skyscrapers and added a midwinter touch to a remarkable June day. At the warmest moment of the day the temperature, as officially recorded, was fifty-one degrees. At 10:20 a. m. the mercury dropped to forty-five. At 8 o'clock tonight it was forty-seven.

Los Angeles, June 2.—The National Educational association will meet at Los Angeles on Saturday next and will continue in session for five days.

MISTOOK HER FOR ANOTHER GIRL

ILLINOIS YOUTH, CRAZED BY DRINK, MURDERS YOUNG WOMAN IN CROWDED STREET.

Freeport, Ill., June 2.—Mrs. Edna Hummel, nineteen years old, was shot to death last evening by Herbert E. Springer, eighteen years old, of Rockford, Ill., who chased Mrs. Hummel from her baby through a crowd in Ninth street, thinking she was another woman. Springer today was revived from an alcoholic stupor and raved over the fatal mistake.

Mrs. Hummel was wheeling her infant along the street when Springer stepped up, drew a revolver and fired at the woman, missing her. The woman fled, pursued by her assailant, who fired a second shot and missed. As the woman turned into a store, Springer fired a third shot, and the bullet struck her dead as she fell into the arms of Grocer Aten.

Springer was arrested. Friends took the baby home to its father, who says he never heard of Springer. At the jail Springer said he had mistaken Mrs. Hummel for a Rockford girl, who he said, had "thrown him over."

Double Tragedy at Cleveland. Cleveland, O., June 2.—Mrs. Martha Roberts, aged eighteen, was probably fatally wounded by her husband, William Roberts, twelve years her senior, in the home of her mother last night. Roberts then shot himself, dying in an ambulance on the way to the hospital. The shooting followed the woman's refusal to withdraw a divorce suit.

NEW TRUST PLANNED BY STANDARD OIL

SOUTHERN FORESTS GOBBLED IN PROJECT TO CONTROL TURPENTINE AND ROSIN INDUSTRY.

New York, June 2.—The Press today publishes the following: Standard Oil officials are making preparations to control for that trust another important industry. Their latest project is to control the turpentine and rosin markets of the world. With this end in view, it is reported, purchases were made a few days ago of huge tracts of Southern pine forests, and options were taken on millions of dollars' worth of other lands in the states of Florida, Georgia, Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi. These deals have been made with the utmost secrecy by special agents acting for the Standard Oil interests. The plan is to do away with the hundreds of farmers and factors who now handle the products first hand. It is estimated that the annual value of turpentine and rosin produced in the United States exceeds $100,000,000.

MISTAKEN FOR A BEAST.

Man Who Snored Is Shot and Killed by Friends.

Oskaloosa, Ia., June 2.—Richard Harding's alcoholic snoring, while sleeping behind a hedge at the Durfee mining camp, caused him to be shot and killed by friends who mistook the vibrations for the snorting of a wild animal. The slayers surrendered to the sheriff.

COAL PRODUCTION FIGURES.

Washington, June 2.—The geological survey announces that the total production of coal in the United States during 1906 was 414,039,581 short tons, valued at $512,610,744, an increase in quantity of 5 per cent and in value of 5 per cent over the previous year. West Virginia supplied Illinois as the state second to Pennsylvania in coal production.

MICHIGAN WINS HONOR IN EAST

Ann Arbor Athletes Take Second Place in Big Intercollegiate Meet, Only Four Points Behind the Pennsylvanians.

But for the Collapse of Coe Just at the Finish in the Half-Mile Run, the Championship Would Have Come West—Garrels Is the Star Performer of the Day, and New Records Are Written in Six of the Thirteen Events.

Boston, June 2.—Five star athletes from the University of Pennsylvania won the intercollegiate championship yesterday in what proved to be a series of the most wonderful athletic performances ever won on an American circuit. New intercollegiate figures were written in six out of thirteen events and one more record would have gone down, that of the high hurdles, had not the officials decided that the runners were too much favored by the wind.

Pennsylvania was given a splendid fight for first place by the men from Michigan, winning by only four points. Pennsylvania scored 33 to 29 for Michigan; Yale was third with 23, Cornell fourth with 15, Princeton with 10, and Syracuse with 8 beat out Harvard, which won only 7 points.

Intercollegiate records were broken in the mile, shotput, quarter mile, two miles, high jump and pole vault. Garrels of Michigan ran the high hurdles in 15.3 seconds, but Kraeplin's record of 15.2 seconds will remain as the intercollegiate figure. Several other events were almost up to new marks, the hundred yards being run in 10 seconds and the half mile in 1 minute, 57.4 seconds.

Garrels Leads the Field. Captain Garrels of Michigan led the field with thirteen out of the twenty-nine points for the Westerners. Garrels won both the hurdle events from such fast men as Shaw of Dartmouth and Hubbard of Amherst; and the sturdy Michigan athlete also showed his strength in the shotput, placing second place over Stephenson of Harvard.

Haskins of Pennsylvania won the mile and half mile and Cartmell of Pennsylvania got both dashes. Haskins' victory in the half mile run decided the meet for Pennsylvania, but while that proved to be the critical event of the day, the two-mile was the most exciting.

In the latter event Eisele of Princeton set the pace and six times round led the field. Then Dall of Michigan captured the lead, followed closely by Rows, his college mate, with Magrofin of Cornell and Eisele fighting for fourth place. In the last lap Magrofin, who won the event last year, tried to catch Rowe, who had gone into the lead, but the Michigan runner had enough strength and wind left to break the tape by a good ten yards ahead of the Cornellian. Michigan picked up two more points in this event, as Dall finished third, while Eisele fell exhausted across the line in fourth place.

In the half mile Parsons of Yale, who holds the intercollegiate record, shot into the lead at the start and kept it for the first time around, when he practically collapsed and Coe of Michigan went to the fore. At the three-eighths bend and French of Cornell came up strong and caught the Michigan runner at the turn into the stretch and at the same time Baker of Swarthmore joined the leaders. Thirty yards from the tape Haskins of Pennsylvania darted through the field and won by two yards. Townsend and French of Cornell were second and third respectively, while Baker beat out Coe for fourth. A blanket could have covered the five men. If Coe had had a trifle more strength and wind the championship would have gone to Cornell.

The mile was Haskins' race from the gun fire, although Magrofin of Cornell and Coe of Michigan pushed him.

Names of the Winners. The summaries follow: 100-yard dash—Cartmell, Pennsylvania, won; Rulon Miller, Princeton, second; Hamble, Princeton, third; 10 seconds. Mile run—Haskins, Pennsylvania, won; Cole, Michigan, second; Lewis, Cornell, third, 4:20 3-5. 440-yard run—Taylor, Pennsylvania, won; Coholan, Yale, second; Rogers, Cornell, third, 4:48 4-5. 120-yard hurdles—Garrels, Michigan, won; Shaw, Dartmouth, second; Armstrong, Princeton, third, 1:5 1-5. Two-mile run—Rowe, Michigan, won; Magrofin, Cornell, second; Dall, Michigan, third, 9:34 4-5. 880-yard run—Haskins, Pennsylvania, won; Townsend, Cornell, second; French, Cornell, third, 1:57 4-5. 220-yard hurdles—Garrels, Michigan, won; Hubbard, Amherst, second; Shaw, Dartmouth, third, 24. 220-yard dash—Cartmell, Pennsylvania, won; Stevens, Yale, second; Whitham, Pennsylvania, third, 21 4-5. Hammer throw—Haskins, Yale, 111 feet 4. Broad jump—Moffat, Pennsylvania, 9 feet 10 inches; Heath, Michigan, 22 feet 8 1/2; French, Michigan, 22 feet 1. Shot put—Kerriger, Swarthmore, 46 feet, 5 1/2; Garrels, Michigan, 45 feet 2; Stephenson, Harvard, 44 feet 5 1/2. High jump—Moffat, Pennsylvania, 6 feet 3 1/2; Marshall, Yale, 6 feet 2 1/2; Horrax, Williams, 5 feet 1-5. Illinois Wins in the West. Chicago, June 2.—Working true to in-

FOUR MONTHS AT OYSTER BAY

President Will Leave for His Summer Home Next Week, First Going to Jamestown to Participate in Georgia Day.

His Trip to Washington from Lansing Without Mishap and Marked by Cheering Crowds at Many Stations—"Somebody Else's Turn," His Answer to a Third Term Enthusiast—A Report He May Become the Head of Harvard University.

Washington, June 2.—President Roosevelt arrived in Washington early last evening. The trip from Michigan was made without a mishap. All along the road crowds gathered at the stations anxious to get a glimpse of the chief executive. At many places when the train did not stop the president waved a greeting from the rear platform and was cheered. When the train stopped at many places, usually alighted and mingled with the crowd, shaking hands with as many as could greet him during the short stops.

The president will remain here until next Sunday afternoon, when he will go to Jamestown to take part in Georgia Day and to make several speeches. He will get back from Jamestown June 11 and leave for Oyster Bay June 12. On July, August and September will be spent at his Oyster Bay home.

GOING TO HARVARD?

At Cambridge, Pa., where a large crowd had gathered, the president spoke as follows: "Above all remember that your first duty in being a good neighbor is to be a good neighbor to those who are nearest to you. I have mighty own wife and children. I have mighty little use for the man who is always declaiming in favor of an eight-hour day for himself who does not think anything at all of having a sixteen-hour day for his wife. Give fair play all around and remember that the man who needs fair play even more than the man I believe in an eight-hour day for the man, but I want to see the man's wife given as good a show as the man."

MAY GO TO HARVARD.

Hillsdale, Mich., June 2.—There is a possibility that President Roosevelt may become president of Harvard University after he retires from office. This has been surmised frequently in discussions as to the president's future and additional force was given to it by the following remarks said to have been made by the president to Harvard men at Lansing: "In one year and eleven months I expect to be an active member of the Harvard organization."

IF PARTY DEMANDS IT.

Bryan Will Run, He Says in an Interview at Richmond, Va. Richmond, Va., June 2.—In an interview tonight, Wm. J. Bryan declares that the matter of selection should no longer be a bar to a man's nomination for the presidency by the Democratic party. He explained why he could not regard President Roosevelt as a Democrat and said that he (Bryan) would be a candidate for the nomination if the party demanded it and if he considered it for the good of the party.

WOULD TAR AND FEATHER HIM.

Brownsville (Tex.) People Enraged at Foraker's Contention. St. Louis, June 2.—"If Senator J. B. Foraker ever visits Brownsville he will be tarred and feathered," said L. R. Cowan, a member of a party of citizens of that Texas town, as they left here for Washington to testify before the senate committee on the Brownsville raid. "It is outrageous for Foraker to try to make out that we would shoot into our own houses and kill our own citizens," continued Cowan.

MEMORIAL TO MRS. MCKINLEY.

Canton, O., June 2.—The services at the First Methodist Episcopal church today were a memorial in honor of Mrs. McKinley. Rev. F. O. Buxton, D. D., who conducted the funeral services of Mrs. McKinley Tuesday, delivered the address. The church was crowded.

FRENCH STRIKE GROWS.

Ships Are Unable to Leave and Those Coming in Are at Once Deserted. Paris, June 2.—The striking seamen are displaying unusual unanimity. The same tales are told in every port of France. Ships are unable to leave owing to desertions by officers and crews, and arriving French vessels are abandoned by sailors as soon as they reach port. The decision of the government to lend blue jackets to ship-owners has proved abortive. The first vessel manned by them was unable to leave because the officers refused to navigate her.

STATE GIVES MANY MILLIONS.

Foreign Contributions No Longer Needed for Relief Work in Russia. St. Petersburg, June 2.—The Russian famine committee has notified its representatives in London and New York to cease agitation for foreign subscription, as Russia is now able to care for her own people. With the latest duma appropriations, the aid given by the state totals $87,000,000, of which $6,000,000 will be devoted to fighting the scurvy in Ufa province and elsewhere and in maintaining eating places, which at present number 30,000 and are feeding two million and a half people.

TWO LITTLE BOYS PERISH IN RIVER.

Cousins, Aged Eleven and Ten, Drown at Ontonagon While Playing on Logs. Ontonagon, Mich., June 2.—[Special.]—Playing on logs in the river at Ontonagon this afternoon, two little boys fell into the water and were drowned before help could reach them. The unfortunate youngsters were Raymond and Emory Lemoine, cousins, the former aged eleven and the latter ten, the oldest son, respectively, of N. S. and P. Lemoine. A strong current was running at the time and it was feared that the bodies would be carried into Lake Superior, but after lively work on the part of a force of men the remains of the little victims were recovered.

SWEDEN TO CELEBRATE.

Uffivelli was found alive, but died in a hospital without regaining consciousness.

FALSE MOVE MADE IN GRAFTERS' CASE

BLUNDER BY DEFENSE SCORES FOR THE PROSECUTION AT SAN FRANCISCO. San Francisco, June 2.—Abraham Rice, Mayor Eugene Schmitz, President Patrick Calhoun of the United Railroads, and his associates in the political department of that corporation, Thornwell Mallary, Tivy L. Ford and William M. Abbott, and Frank G. Drum, John Martin and Eugene De Sabin of the gas company, were arraigned before Judge Lavelle yesterday on the fourteen indictments charging them with receiving and giving bribes. Their hearing was continued for a week.

INDIANAPOLIS OFFICIALS UNDER FIRE.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 2.—Fifteen indictments were returned by the grand jury yesterday against constables and justices of the peace, charging them with grafting by means of collecting illegal fees, arresting ignorant immigrants on false charges, and following a regular course of hold-ups in the several courts.

SHERBIE BECKER TO BE AN ACTOR?

Proposition of Abandoning the Mayor's Chair for the Theatrical Stage Is Contemplated by the Milwaukee Executive. Chicago, June 2.—Mayor Sherburne M. Becker, of Milwaukee, is contemplating abandoning the mayor's chair for the stage. Negotiations are pending between the Milwaukee executive and Manager W. A. Brady of New York, according to information given tonight, which if completed will place Mr. Becker in the leading role of a play dealing with political affairs, entitled "The Man of the Hour."

POWERS COMPLETE MASTERS.

No Program for The Hague Conference Arranged by Dutch Government. The Hague, June 2.—The general plan at the second peace conference will follow closely the procedure of the first congress, held in 1889. Practically nothing has been worked out in advance. The Dutch government, realizing that the representatives of the forty-six powers who will assemble here, June 15, must be complete masters of the situation, has refrained from in any way attempting to control or arrange the program or method of procedure. It simply offers its hospitality to the conference. The conference, too, as before, is under the control of the czar, who summoned it into being. The arrangements up to the present time, therefore, simply cover the opening session, when M. Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador to France, will make an address extending his sovereign's greetings to the delegates. The Dutch minister for foreign affairs will reply in an address of welcome on behalf of Queen Wilhelmina. Thereafter it will remain for the conference to decide how it will proceed.

RICH TURF EVENTS ABROAD.

Chantilly, June 21.—The Prix Du Jockey club (the French Derby) race for three-year-olds at one and one-half miles resulted today in the unexpected victory of Maurice Eprussi's Mordant, 26 to 1 in the betting, by three-quarters of a length. Edmond Peril's Biron was second and Raymond DeMouhel's Bravo third. Fourteen horses started.

BAD MILK POISONS MANY.

Gomez, Palaco, Mex., June 2.—Admitted milk poisoned twenty-seven people here yesterday, most of whose lives were saved only through the heroic measures resorted to by medical men. Three gentlemen were first to feel the effects of the poison.

SENOR CREEL ELECTED GOVERNOR.

El Paso, June 2.—The election for governor of Chihuahua, Mexico, passed off quietly today. Enrique C. Creel, ambassador to the United States, was elected without opposition.

District Attorney Cobb, arguing for the state, was forcing his reply when Attorney Campbell, representing the mayor, and accepted the copies, with the understanding that none of the rights of his client should be forfeited.

Judge Fairall, of counsel for Schmitz, made a pronounced gesture of displeasure and Delmas started so that Schmitz realized that some false move had been made, and he eluded violently at the sleeve of Campbell. But it was too late. The opening being made, Cobb took immediate advantage, and many arguments that had been prepared for the defendants could not be made.

Constipation. Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. VARIOUS COUNCIL MEETINGS.

Hancock Board Will Discuss Retaining Wall Matter Tonight.

The Hancock city council will tonight once more take up the question of awarding a contract for the construction of a retaining wall across the Front street ravine, and for the filling of the ravine. The matter has been brewing for several weeks. It is likely that the Dakota Heights company, which is now engaged in filling ravines in the vicinage, will secure the work as being in the best position to do it both by experience and through its connection with the Quincy Mining company, owner of the ravine property.

The Laurium and Red Jacket councils also will meet tonight. It is believed that the Laurium council will take some definite action on the question of paving Hecla street. All of the citizens affected by the proposed improvement favor it, and in mass meeting have asked that the work be undertaken. The meeting tonight will undoubtedly take some definite step in the right direction, after some two years of consideration of the matter.

The business before the Red Jacket council will be routine in its nature. As far as is now known, the village has nothing left to do in the way of municipal improvement except to pave the alley. It has also to deal with the matter of providing a park, which is being agitated to some extent, but generally speaking the council will have little other than routine business in the future.

The first public program will be given Nov. 15, when E. J. Hall, principal of the high school, will read a paper on high school work. The second public meeting will be held Jan. 17, with a paper on patent medicines by Dr. C. H. Rodi. "Some things women should know about business" will be discussed by W.

NOTES OF CHURCH NEWS.

The fifteenth anniversary of Grace M. C. church of Houghton was observed yesterday with special services. Rev. George Elliott, D.D., who is to attend the district convention in Laurium tomorrow, arrived in Houghton Saturday to be the principal speaker at the anniversary services.

In anticipation of the general congregational convention this week, the Hancock Congregational church has been undergoing extensive repairs and alterations for several weeks, and the church services have been held in the Y. M. C. A. building. The services in the church were resumed yesterday. Rev. J. Sidney Gould, the pastor, preached both morning and evening, and there was special music. In the morning the choir sang Duffley Buck's "Te Deum" in D minor. As usual in the choir, the choir sang the solo "Come Unto Me" by J. L. Houghton, and the choir sang "The Pilgrim of the Night" by H. Ernest Nichol, at the evening service, and J. L. Houghton sang "Out of the Deep" by Marks. Rev. WILL BUY STEEL TUG.

The Government calls for bids on an 85-Footer.

The government needs a steel tug for the use of the engineering department in the harbor improvement work in the Lake Superior district and Maj. Graham D. Fitch, engineer in charge, is about to advertise for bids on a vessel. Last year the government advertised for bids for a steel tug, but the offers submitted were all so much in excess of the amount that would be available for the boat that no bid was accepted. The government intends to spend about $35,000 for a tug of the style and dimensions wanted, and it is probable that if the bids do not fall somewhere within the amount available the contract will not be awarded. Maj. Fitch will open the bids at noon, June 15 next.

The government will require the contractor, if a contract is awarded, to commence the construction of the tug twenty-five days after date of notification of approval of the contract by the chief of engineers, United States army, and will prosecute the work faithfully to completion on or before May 1, 1908.

The specifications call for a steel tug 85 feet 6 inches over all with a beam of 21 and depth of 11 feet 6 inches. The hull must be built, launched and equipped with a boiler and engine, steam steering gear, pumps, electric lighting plant, searchlight and heating plant. It must be fitted and made complete with pilot house, cabin, galley, pantry, mess-room, bathroom and water closet, all built of fitting pumping arrangements, speaking tubes, signal bells, etc. The material used must be of steel to conform to the specifications adopted by the American Shipbuilders' association.

The specifications call for an engine of the inverted cylinder direct acting, for an aft compound type, with cylinders 16 to 24 inches in diameter with a common stroke of 26 inches. The screw propeller will have two, cast iron blades of eight feet diameter and of such surface and pitch as to enable the engine to make 140 revolutions per minute. The government will require a two weeks' working test before final payment is made for the tug.

The new tug, if one is secured by the government, will be constructed along the lines of an ice-breaker.

BYERS & CO'S MEN ON STRIKE.

The Concrete Construction company of Houghton will commence its contract on the South Range water works today. It is expected this concern, too, will experience some difficulty with the wage question, as there appears to be scarcity of laborers.

Mayor Spies, of Menominee, has instructed the city attorney to bring suit against all property holders, who have been notified to repair the defective sidewalks and have not complied with the order. A number of damage suits are threatening that city on account of the defective sidewalks.

The Swedish Mission church of Iron Mountain has placed an order for new electric fixtures to cost several hundred dollars. They will include several twenty-four light chandeliers and numerous smaller ones. Nearly two hundred lamps will be employed in lighting the main auditorium.

The firing of guns in the city limits should be stopped forthwith and violators severely punished, declares the Iron Mountain Press. At the home of John T. Jones recently several large windows in the conservatory were smashed by bullets from a rifle, and Elmer Jones could hear the bullets whistling about his head.

A number of the laborers employed by the city health department in cleaning up the streets and alleys at Iron Mountain have struck for an increase in wages. The men have been receiving two dollars per day, which is more than is paid laborers by the mining companies and railroads in that city.

The school population in the first and second wards at Iron Mountain is increasing at such a rapid rate that additional school room has become necessary and the board of education has decided to erect an addition to the Chapin building. The addition will be 23x37 feet in size, two stories and a basement, and will contain two class rooms, making ten in the building.

Quietness reigns from one end of the copper market to the other, and yet the leading producers are firm in holding at 25% for electrolytic, and 23% to 26% for Lake, says the Boston News Bureau. The next dividend on Mohawk—the company's fourth disbursement—will be paid July 10. While the company is earning sufficient money to pay $5 a share, or $300,000, and has remaining a substantial surplus, it is not certain that the management will at this time decide to advance for the fourth successive time the disbursement to stockholders. The previous rate is $4 will at least be maintained and it is practically certain that if an increase is made it will be $5. The management is well pleased with the way in which the copper contents of its rock are improving, and with better results from this direction, and the ability through compounding of its heads of stamps to treat a larger tonnage. Mohawk is passing through the best period in its history.

William Tudor, vice president of the Shammut Consolidated, writes from the Sedalia mine of the company has an ore body 750 feet by 500 feet and 80 feet wide, or approximately two million tons; that over one hundred thousand tons has been shipped from the mine already by former owners, averaging 29 to 30 per cent copper; that the ore body now in sight will average 3 to 5 per cent copper with considerable values in gold and silver. He advises that the company treat its own ores, and states that an output of 200 to 500 tons per day can be maintained without any difficulty; that the mine should be put in shape at once to extract this at the lowest possible cost. At present the company is taking out less than one thousand tons per month, but this is much higher grade and costs too much to extract.

Today's weather: Showers and fresh southerly winds.

Yesterday's temperatures: Seven a. m., 52 degrees; noon, 57; 7 p. m., 64. Maximum, 71 degrees; minimum, 42.

James Russell left last night for Duluth, on a few days' business trip.

H. C. Reynolds of Cleveland left the city Saturday night, after a few days' visit here.

Judge Stone left last evening for Crystal Falls to preside at the June term of the circuit court for Iron county.

Charles Rettalle left Saturday for Norfolk, Va., and other southern points. He will visit the Jamestown exposition before returning home.

Mrs. F. T. Mitchell, who sailed from Dublin, South Africa, May 4, is now on the "Friends in England." She is expected to arrive in this city for an extended visit with her mother, Mrs. N. Cadarette, between the 20th and 25th.

The engagement is announced of John W. McSquire, formerly of Marquette, to Miss Harriet A. Mason of Hancock, of which city Mr. McSquire is now a resident. The wedding will occur late this month.

In a baseball game played yesterday afternoon, the West Ends defeated the Rival Juniors by the score of 11 to 7. The batteries were, for the West Ends, Balme and Reynolds, and for the Rival Juniors, Lafave and Neault.

Ellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Cameron, of Chocomaug township, died Sunday morning, aged twenty-one, after an illness of but few days' duration. Funeral arrangements have not as yet been announced.

The Marquettes defeated the Rivals at the new fair grounds yesterday afternoon by the score of 24 to 3. As the score indicates the game was too one-sided to be interesting. There was a small attendance.

The building boom at Harvey is still on. Alphonse Geork is putting up a combination residence and business block, and A. Basse has recently purchased four lots and will begin the erection of a modern residence within a few days.

John Paquette, convicted of larceny, and David Moran and Peter Morin, convicted of burglary, who were taken back to the county jail after receiving their sentences from Judge Stone, Friday afternoon, were transferred to the Marquette prison Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. George W. Hubbard and son, Gould, who have been the guests of F. M. Moore and sister, at 726 Spruce street, for the past two weeks, left this morning for Montreal and other Eastern points. Their stay in that portion of the continent is indefinite, but they will return to Marquette prior to departing for their home in the City of Mexico.

Telephone Girls' Hop—The Bell Telephone girls will entertain with a social hop at Legion Hall this evening. Sweden's orchestra will furnish the music. Refreshments will be served by the young ladies.

Library Will Close Earlier—Beginning with this evening, and continuing until further notice, the Peter White Public Library will close at 8 o'clock each night. For some months past the closing hour had been 9 o'clock.

Bridge in Dangerous Condition—Complaint is made that the bridge over the mouth of Deauville river is in dangerous condition. A section of the rail on the west side has been torn out and there is nothing to prevent a team from sliding into the water, if it were frightened. The condition of the bridge is also dangerous for pedestrians by whom it is used considerably. It should be repaired without delay.

Died at Son's Home Here—The death of John Klapperick, Sr., of Calumet occurred Saturday morning at the home of his son, on Genesee street, in this city. The remains were taken to the copper country for burial, leaving here on the 11 o'clock train last night. Mr. Klapperick had been ailing for two months or more, and was enroute to Mount Clemens for treatment when taken seriously ill and obliged to stop off here.

Three Classes Confirmed—Rev. Bishop Eis is in Iron Mountain until today. Yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock he confirmed a class of fifty-eight children at St. Mary's church. Rev. N. H. Noshick, pastor. At 10 o'clock, at St. Joseph's church, Rev. Father Jacques, pastor, a class of thirty-five children was confirmed by the bishop, and in the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, confirmation services were held at Holy Rosary church, when a class of forty-five was received.

Verdict for the Plaintiff—Judge Stone has entered judgment for the plaintiff in the case of Catherine Baecher vs. Matthew McFarland, an action in chancery for the performance of contract. The plaintiff alleged that she purchased six acres of land from the defendant in Turin township six years ago and made a payment on the same, and that the defendant subsequently refused to transfer the title. The court found that the plaintiff was entitled to the land and instructed the defendant to turn it over to her upon the receipt of the balance of the purchase price.

Dressmakers Deluged—The dressmaking trade has received a boom within the past few days and many dressmakers are refusing to accept any more orders, while others have contracts ahead running well into July. Owing to the backwardness of spring trade was very slack during March, April and the greater part of May, many women being apparently doubtful if warm weather was ever going to arrive. As a result when the atmosphere gave evidence of calmness there was a stampede to the dressmakers and the latter were deluged with work.

Wolf Puppy a Fighter—The wolf puppy purchased by George Knapp several weeks ago shows all the characteristics of a young dog save in one respect. It likes to be fondled, will come when called and is playful and good-natured at all save feeding time. A puppy of any thoroughbred strain will never show anger at having its teeth removed by a member of the human family, though it will bristle up and show fight quickly enough on any evidence of peaching on the part of its own kind. With the wolf puppy it is different. The moment it is given a piece of meat it stands over it on guard and its teeth are bared and the hair rises on its back if it is even approached until it has concluded its meal.

Attend Memorial Service—Ispheming

Knights of Pythias to the number of 100 joined the Marquette lodge in memorial services at the First Methodist church here yesterday morning. The visitors, accompanied by the Light Guard band, arrived in the city at 11:40 o'clock and were met at the depot by the members of the Marquette lodge in full regalia. The march was made directly to the church where the services were held. The Rev. A. A. Maywood preached an eloquent sermon, and the choral numbers were of unusual excellence. In the afternoon the Park cemetery was visited and the graves decorated. The visitors left for home at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A Red Letter Day—Yesterday was a red letter day for the Presbyterian church. Sixty-four persons were welcomed to their first communion at the quarterly service held for that purpose at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Of this number, fifty-three were received on confession of faith and eleven by letter from other churches. In addition to this ceremony, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. E. Miller received the ordinance of baptism, and B. W. Wright was installed as an elder of the church. There were present at the service the largest congregation in many years, and it was the unanimous sentiment that the occasion was one of the most fruitful in the history of the church. On June 10, the church will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary. Plans are being pushed for a suitable observance of the event.

DEATH CLAIMS

AUGUST MACHTS

WAS ONE OF THE OLDEST RESIDENTS OF MARQUETTE AND SERVED CITY AS TREASURER FOR SIXTEEN YEARS.

August Machts, one of the oldest residents of Marquette, died at the family residence, No. 522 South Front street, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, aged seventy-nine years. Though Mr. Machts had been failing for the past four years his condition did not become critical until three days prior to his decease. Death was merely due to a general breaking down of the system, caused by advanced age.

Mr. Machts shared with a handful of other Marquette men still living the distinction of being the oldest residents of the city. He came here over half a century ago, when the primeval forest held sway about the infant village, the Indian still built his tepee in the vicinity of the deer and the bear slaked its thirst at the lake front. Born in the village of Krauthelm, Germany, he attended the common schools until he was fourteen years of age, when he entered the employ of a merchant with whom he remained for six years. At the age of twenty he learned of the great opportunities offered to ambitious youth in the new world and emigrated, landing in New York July 1, 1849, he first went to Milwaukee where he worked for two weeks. It was there that he met a man from this locality, who spoke glowingly of the prospects of the new town. Mr. Machts decided to come here, and, with a number of others, went to Sault Ste. Marie, and from there to Marquette, in a small sailing vessel.

There were only three or four small buildings in Marquette at the time, and Mr. Machts worked as a common laborer, doing anything that came in his way. In 1855 he secured employment with Peter White as clerk. When Mr. White sold out to James R. Pendill a year later, he accepted a position with Mr. Pendill, with whom he remained until 1860, when he started a grocery business of his own. In 1870 he disposed of his business to Mr. Pendill and again entered that gentleman's employ, remaining with him several years.

In 1879 Mr. Machts was elected city treasurer, which office he held for four successive years. In 1888 he was again elected to the position and continued in office for ten years, making in all sixteen years served in that capacity. He was married in 1853 in this city to Miss Lena Schwartz, a native of Bavaria, who passed away in 1892. One daughter Mrs. James R. Hudson, with whom he made his home, survives. Funeral arrangements have not as yet been made.

KIMBERLY AND NORTH BUTTE COMPARED.

A comparison between the Kimberly-Willey mine and North Butte would strike the average reader as rather far fetched. North Butte has been one of the wonders of the copper mining world since its organization, while Kimberly-Willey is on the eve of full operation. Yet when the figures are made they show up not better than North Butte. This is a strong statement, but it is borne out by facts. Here are the figures: North Butte treasury stock was sold for $15.00 per share. It is now paying $5.00 per share dividend. It will be remembered that the first quarterly dividend on North Butte was fifty cents and the second $1.25.

Kimberly-Willey treasury stock is being sold for $5.00. The ore from this mine pays a net profit, after the mining and treatment charges are all met, of not less than $7.50 per ton. With the large new mill in operation, which will be soon after July 1st, there will be mined and treated daily 300 tons of ore. The net profit on this output will be $2,250 per day, and counting 300 days successful operation in a year, will net for the company $675,000.00. This is the minimum result, and will assure the stockholders $2.25 per share dividend. That the dividend will exceed this figure is made possible by more than 300 days operation in a year and the possibility of rich streaks of ore which are a characteristic of Colorado mining.

The figures on which this statement is based are shown on the smaller returns of the product made during the month of May just passed. They are no person's estimate but are actual returns which can be seen by any one wishing to see them. Work at the plant is progressing as fast as men and money can make it go, and the time when all this will be substantiated is measured only by weeks. A committee of the directors will leave for the scene of operations this week to make final arrangements for early operations on the scale outlined.

CALIFORNIA A LAND OF PROMISE

JOSEPH FAY SPENT SEVERAL WEEKS IN THE HEART OF THE GREAT FRUIT RAISING DISTRICT—ANARCHY REIGNS IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Joseph Fay arrived Saturday morning from Panama, Cal., where for a month past he had been the guest of his son, H. N. Fay, who located in the west five years ago. Mr. Fay says that Panama, which is thirty-two miles from Los Angeles, is located in the heart of the greatest fruit raising district in the world. Oranges, lemons, grapefruit and grapes are the staples, and Mr. Fay says that he would rather own a few acres there than a claim in the Klondike. Land that a few years ago could be picked up for a song is now selling at $1,000 an acre, and is good investment at that. The bad weather that has so seriously retarded crops in middle western states, hasn't affected the coast a particle. This is due in a great measure to the Sierra Nevada and Cascade, which few storms can cross.

While in the west Mr. Fay visited Dr. Dawson at Uplands. This little city of only about 5,000 inhabitants, it is said, contains more beautiful residences and larger business blocks than much larger municipalities in the east. There is no question, Mr. Fay asserts, that the west is a land of wealth and its greatest prosperity lays not in the minerals that are extracted from its hills and mountains, but in its climate and the products of its soil. Mr. Fay visited the same locality about three years ago and the changes that it has undergone in that brief period, he says, astonished him. Profuse as is the soil in the production of fruits, the farmers are unable to meet the market demand and new orchards are being set up on every hand. Prior to leaving for the east, Mr. Fay visited San Francisco and there found a state of affairs such as he had never believed could exist in a city in this country. The great street car strike was in full blast and anarchy reigned. People rode to their work in drays, buses and in some cases in lumber wagons. Every vehicle in the city had been pressed into service to look after traffic. It was as much as a man's life was worth to ride in a street car. Now and then a lone car protected by guards would be seen passing on the street, and in its wake a howling mob, if not uncommon to hear the cry of "scab" and see a man running for his life beneath a shower of stones and bricks. The authorities, he said, appeared to be utterly unable to cope with the situation.

Market street he should never have recognized. Many of the great buildings which he was familiar had utterly disappeared. Others had been so shattered that they looked as though they had fallen into disrepair laden by the weight of masses. Litter so choked the street that it was hardly passable.

CANNOT VERIFY REPORT.

Nothing Known Here of Alleged Plans of Northern Steamship Company.

Marquette marine men say that they have no authoritative information relative to the report emanating from Milwaukee, Wis., that a Chicago steamship company is arranging to run two boats to Duluth, touching at this city. About a month ago there was a rumor to the effect that the Crosby line, which now runs boats to Benton Harbor, Muskegon and other points on the east shore of Lake Michigan, might invade this territory, but nothing has since been heard of it. Graham and Morton, of Chicago, ran a line of three boats to Duluth two years ago for a short time, but the venture did not prove a success.

The Milwaukee dispatch on which the report was based is as follows: "It is announced here that commencing Saturday night the Northern Michigan Steamship company will run its passenger steamer, Illinois and Missouri, to Superior and Duluth and northern Michigan points. Boats of the company will leave Milwaukee on Wednesday and Saturday nights regularly throughout the season. Captain William Himeau will sail the Missouri, while Captain Staffelean will command the Illinois. Dick Donley will act as steward of the Missouri, while George Le Roy, steward of the Anchor line steamer for many years, will act in the same capacity on the Illinois."

The two steamers of the company are among the finest passenger boats on the lakes and since being built a few years ago have been used on the run from Chicago to Mackinac Island. Both are modern boats and among the best equipped on the lakes. They are fast and will easily negotiate the round trip in a week with stops at Portage

TWO STRONG ATTRACTIONS.

Raymond Hitchcock and Roselle Knott at Opera House This Week.

Tomorrow evening Raymond Hitchcock, with his large and strong supporting company, comes to the opera house in "The Yankee Tourist." This will be, as those familiar with theatrical matters should know, an engagement extraordinary, as Mr. Hitchcock ranks among the best and most popular of American comedians. Most of his time is played in the leading metropolitan theaters, and his trips to cities the size of those on this circuit are exceptional.

Mr. Hitchcock has been aptly christened "the totally different comedian," and in every particular he is different from any other comedian on the comic opera stage. Mr. Davis, who takes rank as one of the most brilliant of present day writers, has studied Mr. Hitchcock and his methods closely, and the result is that he has given him as nearly perfect a vehicle as is possible. Wallace Irwin, who wrote the lyrics, rose to staid, and to what has since proved a lasting success through the medium of his verse in Collier's and other high class magazines, and the music of Mr. Kobyn is said to be most catchy. The cast surrounding Mr. Hitchcock is one which has long been identified with him, and includes Flora Zabelle, Herbert Cuthbert, Harry Stone, Helen Hale, Susie Forrester, Catherine, Walter Lawrence, Eva Fallon, Phillips Smalley and others.

Miss Roselle Knott, who comes to the opera house Thursday evening, has been seen here before. She was first introduced to the theater-going public of this city as Mary Tudor in "When Knighthood Was in Flower." Subsequently she was seen in "Cousin Kate," a charming comedy of polite English society, which gave her even a better opportunity than she had in the major play which is still remembered with pleasure by those who had the good fortune to see it, for the production was finished and one of much appeal.

Mrs. Knott's present vehicle is "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire," originally a great English success of Miss Terry's, and subsequently played in this country with fine artistic results by Ethel Barrymore. It was written by J. M. Barrie, author of "The Little Minister" and Miss Maud Adams' present success, "Peter Pan." Its production by Miss Knott and the capable company by which she is surrounded should be a delightful occasion.

CAPACITY OF FLEET SERIOUSLY AFFECTED

LOW WATER AT SOO DECREASES CARGO SEVERAL HUNDRED TONS EACH TRIP.

Fluctuations in the depth of the water at Sault Ste. Marie have caused so much trouble in passing vessels through the ship canals that boats drawing more than eighteen feet ten inches will be refused admission to the locks until further notice.

Canal authorities have posted the following bulletin: "All boats drawing more than the recommended draft will be refused passage through the canal."

This action is that of Col. C. E. Davis, United States engineer. Some vessels drawing more than eighteen feet ten inches are now on their way up and down, and they will be taken care of in the best manner possible, as it is not designed to make the order retroactive. If the regulation at the canal continues for any length of time, it will seriously affect the calculations of vessel owners and furnace men, who were figuring on bringing upwards of 40,000,000 tons of ore down this year. The order will mean a marked decrease in the carrying capacity of the fleet. The draft recommended is about a foot lower than at this time last year, when boats were loading to nineteen feet ten inches. The loss of a foot in draft will mean a smaller cargo on each trip by from 400 to 500 tons up to 800 tons on each carrier.

Damage to the Locks.

One of the things leading up to the order is a mishap at the locks. The big steamer James C. Wallace, of the Steam Ship Co., came down drawing about 19 feet 1 inch forward and 19 feet 3 inches aft. Some of the stone piers were torn out at the sill and at the sides of the lock as the Wallace passed through. Navigation was held up for three or four hours while temporary repairs were made by a diver. Complete repairs cannot be made until the end of the season.

Recent advices from Sault Ste. Marie are that boats drawing 18 feet 11 inches or 19 feet have touched at the lower end of the dyke and at Sault's Encampment. During the big gale of May 27 the water at the Encampment went down to 18 feet 2 inches. All of these conditions taken collectively have led to the issuance of the order.

PLEASED WITH TREATMENT.

Escanaba Men Appreciative of Their Reception Here.

Concerning the trip of inspection of a party of Escanaba officials to the Marquette lighting plant last week the Escanaba Mirror says: "Members of the Escanaba board of public works, together with the superintendent of the local municipal lighting plant and the secretary of the board, who spent a day at Marquette, investigating the conditions under which the municipal plant of that city is operated, are loud in their praises of the treatment accorded at the Lake Superior city. The members of the Escanaba party were met at the station by J. E. Sherman, president of the city light and power commission, and C. Retaille, manager and superintendent of the plant, and those officials spent the entire day with the party, conducting them through the plant and explaining the system employed in conducting it. They were taken in carriages to the plant, three and one-half miles from the city, where the machinery was inspected in detail and later the books of the institution were opened to the investigators and the system of keeping the accounts explained.

The average cost of power delivered at the Esplanade was learned and a mass of information was collected, which will be of great value to the Escanaba board and officials of the plant in conducting its operations in the future.

"I voice the sentiment of the entire board when I say that words cannot fully express our appreciation of the consideration shown us by Mr. Sherman and Mr. Retaille at Marquette," said President Greenbeck of the board of public works. "From the time that we arrived in the city in the morning until evening both of these gentlemen were constantly with us and they made every effort to give us all of the information that we desired concerning certain features in the operation of their plant. Marquette certainly has a lighting plant of which the city can be proud."

NO HURRY ABOUT EXPOSITION.

Traveler from Jamestown Advises Tourists to Wait Before Making Trip.

C. M. LaSalle, of Chicago, Ill., representing a dental supply house, at present calling on trade in this city, says that he would advise people not to visit the Jamestown exposition for several weeks yet. He was at Jamestown about ten days ago and found that work on a number of the buildings had not been started, and that the majority of them were in an uncompleted condition. He says that the exposition management is not entirely to blame, as it has been almost impossible to secure laborers, Carpenters, especially, are in great demand and in many instances have been imported hundreds of miles. Spring is always the building period and this year there has been a boom in construction in many cities which has resulted in a shortage in expert labor. The exposition, Mr. LaSalle says, is the most pretentious undertaking south of Mason and Dixon's line since the war, and will prove valuable in exploiting the new south.

Northern Normal Notes.

Invitations have been issued by the faculty for a reception to be given on Friday evening, June 7. It will be held at this time as a public opening of the new south hall, as the building is upon the same foundation as that of the former structure, and is to replace that, it seemed hardly fitting to have dedication exercises, as the original hall was formally dedicated; at the same time it is deemed appropriate to mark the opening by some public action, and the reception has accordingly been planned for that purpose. The building is completed as nearly as it can be before another appropriation is made by the legislature, when the third floor, which is not quite a full story in height, will be fitted up for the music department and for society rooms. The basement will be equipped before next year opens for manual training and domestic science. The pictures, which were ordered sometime ago, have not all arrived, but they will be here and in place in time for the reception next week. Mr. Thurber of Chicago, through whom they were secured, will come in person, and superintendent hanging them in the halls and the various rooms. During the evening of the reception it is planned to have every room in the various buildings open for inspection.

Principal J. H. B. Kaye attended the semi-centennial celebration of the founding of the Michigan Agricultural college in Lansing last week.

Monday morning last those who attended the assembly were given a rare musical treat. George N. Conklin entertained us with several selections played upon the orchestra. All the children of the training school, the students and members of the faculty were present, and heartily thanked Mr. Conklin for the pleasure he gave on that occasion.

Fewer students than ever before asked for permission to go home to spend vacation day. Final examinations are less than two weeks away, and few care to lose time.

PECULIAR FATALITY.

Iron Mountain, Mich., May 31.—A peculiar accident resulting in the death of the victim is reported from Ironwood. Carrying a mattress on his back at the Aurora mine location, Leonard Martino stumbled and fell heavily on the sidewalk. It was evident the man was injured, and he was taken to a hospital at Ashland. Peritonitis set in, a direct result of his fall, and within three days Martino was dead. He was aged thirty-five and is survived by a wife in Italy.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of My Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—irritable nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart and Kidneys as well, have their controlling organs inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the inside nerves. Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by The Stafford Drug Co.

Dangerous Explosives Tabooed—Mayor M. Perron of Escanaba has issued the following notice: "I desire at this time to call the attention of the merchants and people of the city to the ordinance passed by the council one year ago prohibiting the use of giant blowcrackers, blank cartridges, dynamite cases and all other dangerous explosives within the city limits. This ordinance is still in full force and will be enforced as rigidly this year as last."

Lansing Church Wants Him—

Rev. William C. Hicks of the Soo has received a call from St. Paul's Episcopal church at Lansing, but has not as yet decided as to whether he will accept. He will go to Lansing and look the field over before arriving at a decision. The call was extended after a committee of the church had gone to the Soo and listened to Mr. Hicks in the pulpit. St. Paul's is a wealthy parish, owning a half acre of land in a fine location and on which a modern stone church will be constructed during the year. The call is considered a compliment to the ability and likable personality of Mr. Hicks.

Big Poultry Yard at the Soo—

Beginning only a little over three years ago with an ordinary "hen coop" and about thirty-five fowls, the "Soo Poultry Yards" has developed until now two modern two-story hen houses covering over 3,000 square feet of ground, fitted with hot water heating and every modern apparatus for raising and keeping poultry, are occupied, and between 200 and 300 of the best blooded and highest scoring birds to be found anywhere are kept on land the year round for breeding purposes, and in the neighborhood of 5,000 fowls are sold for market purposes during the height of the marketing season.

Some of the two-story houses, 150 feet long by 13 feet in width, is divided into twelve sections or pens, each section having its two stories, which are connected by a small ladder easily ascended and descended by the fowls. The lower story in each section contains the roosting racks and the nests, while the second story furnishes additional running room. Hot water pipes run throughout the building and the temperature can be kept at any degree desired.

In these separate sections or pens are kept the various colonies of blooded and high-scoring fowls, the eggs from all of which, during the hatching season at least, are either placed in the incubators and hatched or else sold by settings. Eggs for hatching purposes are shipped all over the country. In these pens are found such standard breeds of fowls as Buff Orpingtons, Buff Wyandotters, Barred Rocks and White Leghorns. All these fowls are high-scoring and many of them are especially fine, there being single birds that cost as high as $50 and those costing from $10 to $25 a piece being quite numerous.

Fewer students than ever before asked for permission to go home to spend vacation day. Final examinations are less than two weeks away, and few care to lose time.

Among other buildings is the brood house, a building fifty-five feet long and twenty feet wide and two stories in height. This building in both stories is divided off into little pens or "brooders" in which the chicks are kept after they have been taken from the incubator. By means of the artificial heating apparatus the chicks are acclimated, being placed at first in pens nearer the heater and the pipes, and then gradually removed farther and farther from the heat for a period of perhaps two months, when they are ready to be taken to other quarters. In this building there are at present two large incubators kept constantly filled, and it is the plan of the management to add two more incubators at once.

In the way of the minor conveniences there is nothing lacking in this plant. Everything in the way of apparatus, such as bone grinders and other machinery and tools known to the modern poultry world are at hand. Among the novelties found at this institution are a trio of prize winning Buff Cochins, hatched by a pen of Muscovy ducks, than which no finer can be found anywhere. At the exhibition given by the Twin Lake Poultry and Pet Stock association in 1906 this institution captured in all thirty-three prizes, taking the silver cup offered as a special prize for the highest scoring bird. At the 1907 show given these yards took over seventy prizes, regular and special.

Speaking of the business done Manager E. J. Tate states that, even though the output of the plant was over 200 eggs per day and over 3,000 chickens were raised for killing last season, they were nowhere near able to supply the demands for both eggs and broilers, with prices good all the time.

J. B. WILBUR RETIRES.
Veteran Roundhouse Foreman Gives Up Position, After Long Service.

James B. Wilbur, in the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company for thirty-seven years and nine months past, retired Friday night, when he gave up the foremanship of the company's IshpeMING roundhouse, a position he had held since 1873.

Mr. Wilbur has seen many changes on the Peninsula division, since he entered the company's employ in the mechanical department at Escanaba. H. C. Baldwin was then superintendent of the division. Four men have since held the position, and Mr. Wilbur has worked under six different master mechanics. Many changes have also taken place in other departments. Firemen and engineers, who worked in the yards here under Mr. Wilbur, are dead, and others have been promoted to higher positions with the company or have moved to other places.

Mr. Wilbur retained his position for an unusual term of years. In fact there are few, if any, roundhouse foremen in the employ of the company who have been longer in service. The position has at times been a hard one to fill. During the summer seasons Mr. Wilbur usually had from a dozen to sixteen engines to oversee, and six locomotives has been the minimum number. In addition to looking after the engines and crews all the general repair work, both to locomotives and cars, was directed by him.

Mr. Wilbur goes on the pension list of the Chicago & Northwestern company. He is entering on his sixty-ninth year and he has been an active man all his life. He fought in the war under Admiral Lee from 1863 to the end of the strife, and after completing his service returned to his home in New York state, where he was born. For two years prior to accepting a position with the Northwestern at Escanaba, he was foreman in the mechanical department of the Cream City Iron Works at Milwaukee, a crew of sixty men being employed under him.

During Mr. Wilbur's years of service with the Northwestern company in this city the corporation has built three different roundhouses. The first one, erected in 1873, stood on the ground north of the Northwestern and South Shore main lines. The second building was located immediately north of the coal sheds, west of the Lake street crossing. The former building was torn down something like a quarter of a century ago, while the Lake street building was torn down over fifteen years ago. The present roundhouse, near the old Barman mine, is larger than either of the other two.

Mr. Wilbur, whose health has been impaired for some months past, plans to soon leave for a trip east or south. The company has not yet decided on his successor, but the position has been offered to a son of Engineer John Fisher, who worked at the Lake Angelina shops, where his father is now employed. His last work was at the Maas mine shop. The deceased had resided in IshpeMING about twenty years. His age was thirty-nine years and he is survived by his widow and five children.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Salisbury Methodist church under direction of Sir Humphrey Davey lodge, Sons of St. George, in which he held membership.

AMONG BEST IN STATE.
Superintendent of Vandeventer Writes That Ore Is Very Rich.

An officer of the Vandeventer Lead & Zinc Mining company Saturday received a letter from Superintendent Robert A. Fox in which the latter gives some very encouraging news, declaring that the mineral being taken from the cross-cuts is easily the richest ever found in Wisconsin and that practically all of the mineral thus far raised in sinking the shaft and opening the cross-cuts north and south is pure lead and zinc. Wednesday and Thursday last the three men working in the shaft took out fifteen tons of mineral. This, in its crude state, will bring over $50 per ton, as a large percentage of it is lead. The value of the mineral mined by this small force in the two shifts exceeds $800. In the three feet of ore passed through in sinking the shaft the estimated value placed on the ore taken out, which was of the same richness as that coming from the cross-cuts, is $1,000.

One of the cross-cuts had been opened five feet and the other three feet when Superintendent Fox wrote. The cross-cuts will be continued to both ends of the formation, which has been proven up by the drills to be from forty to fifty feet in width. Should the ore continue as rich and the deposit as thick to both ends of the formation the value of the lead and zinc taken from the cross-cuts alone will be over $5,000. And should the same conditions prevail in the 300 feet of the deposit already proved up the management figures that $900,000 is a conservative estimate of the value of the ore that will be taken out in that area.

A night crew will be put to work underground today, so that the cross-cutting should be nearly finished by the end of this week, when drifts will be started on the trend of the vein. The pany at Escanaba, he was foreman in the mechanical department of the Cream City Iron Works at Milwaukee, a crew of sixty men being employed under him.

During Mr. Wilbur's years of service with the Northwestern company in this city the corporation has built three different roundhouses. The first one, erected in 1873, stood on the ground north of the Northwestern and South Shore main lines. ROSSELLE KNOTT.

The title page of last week's issue of the New York Dramatic News contained a picture of Roselle Knott, who will be seen at IshpeMING theater Wednesday evening in the comedy, "Alice-Sit-By-the-Fire." The following is the "News" comment on Miss Knott's work:

"In the life of an actress many sudden changes occur which often make or mar a season's work.

"There are few stars before the public today who can be more assured of longer and more prosperous seasons than Roselle Knott. Six years ago she closed her second season's work with Richard Mansfield, and using Lydia in Quo Vadis as a resting point commenced her work as a star in A Modern Magdalen. Then followed two seasons in When Knighthood Was in Flower, one season in Cousin Kate, another season (that year) in a revival of the Charles Major play, and this year Miss Knott opened in The Duchess of Devonshire.

"This play was mounted in a most elaborate manner, necessitating a cast of thirty-five players and two orchestras of scenery. It was built for big cities only, and for a preliminary try-out season of twenty weeks Miss Knott, by her universal popularity, was enabled to carry this heavy burden along to most satisfactory box office receipts for her management, who concluded to retire it until a New York run could be arranged for.

"Within two weeks Miss Knott had a new production and was presenting Alice-Sit-By-the-Fire, which has carried her successfully to the Pacific coast and back again, and in which she is now touring. Her present season will close on June 22—last year it closed on August 18. Miss Knott could play all the year around if her strength would permit it; and her seasons average about twenty-five thousand dollars each to her manager, Ernest Shipman. Miss Knott's plays for next season are not yet known, but in Roselle Knott's case the play is only a matter of minor importance, for, like the late Sol Smith Russell, she has a following throughout the United States and Canada that will await her coming."

WAS A PATIENT REFERRED.

Yesterday morning death relieved the suffering of John Verran, oldest son of John T. Verran, corner Third and Vine streets, who had been ailing for four years. The boy suffered greatly during most of the period of his sickness. His trouble resulted from the gathering of a clot of blood in his foot. Blood poisoning set in and during the four years he submitted to several operations, resulting in the loss of part of his foot, and practically stopping the growth of the limb. In spite of all his suffering and almost continuous feeble health the boy kept up his studies as well as his work in music and he never lost heart, believing that he would some day regain his strength. Peritonitis set in a short time ago and his death resulted from that disease. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the First Methodist Episcopal church, leaving the house at 2 o'clock.

USE OF CEMENT GROWING.

Cement is the coming building material. Railroads are renovating steel truss and stone piers and rebuilding them with cement, and in many skyscrapers it is largely taking the place of steel girders. While remarkable progress is being made in building, advancement is also being made in medicine. The old and tried methods of endeavoring to cure ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys have been abandoned and in their place up-to-date folks have substituted Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and it has made an unequalled record of such cures. It is compounded strictly in accordance with the Pure Drug requirements, and never fails in cases of heartburn, flatulency, bloating, costiveness, poor appetite, dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, female ills or malarial fever. One bottle will convince you of its merit. Get it today from any druggist.

FIREMEN HAVE GOOD TURNOUT.

The IshpeMING fire department attended memorial services yesterday morning at the First Methodist Episcopal church. There was an unusually large congregation present, practically every seat in the spacious auditorium and gallery being occupied. Rev. C. L. Adams, the pastor, preached a fine sermon, touching upon the work of the firemen and commending the members of the department for the interest they manifest in their organization. He said that the decorating of the graves of the departed members once a year is a pretty custom and one that should be more generally observed by fire departments throughout the country. Immediately after dinner the members marched to the cemetery. Later cars were taken for Negaunee.

S.S.S. KILLS THE GERMS OF SCROFULA

Through the blood, diseases are carried from one generation to another. Parents transmit them to their children, and so it goes on down the family line for years and years unless the taint is removed from the blood. Especially is this true of Scrofula, for it is a disease that is "bred in the bone," and unless the blood is purified and every trace of the trouble removed the miserable disease will finally undermine the entire health and wreck the life of its victim. The usual symptoms of Scrofula are enlarged glands or tumors about the neck, which often burst and become discharging ulcers, weak eyes, Catarrh of the head and throat, skin diseases, etc. The trouble being so firmly entrenched in the blood often attacks the bones, resulting in White Swelling, or hip disease, while a waxy, pallid appearance of the skin, loss of strength and energy, and often lung affections, show that the disease is entirely destroying the bright red corpuscles and rich, nutritive qualities of the blood. Scrofula being a constitutional disease, one affecting the entire circulation, must be treated with a remedy that builds up and strengthens every part of the system, which has so long been denied the strength and nourishment it should have received from the blood. S. S. S. is the best of all blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics, and is therefore the ideal remedy for Scrofula. S. S. S. searches out and destroys all germs, taints and poisons, gives strength, richness and vigor to the blood and cures Scrofula permanently. It so thoroughly removes the trouble from the blood that no signs of it are ever seen again, and posterity is started out in life with a clean, pure blood supply, which is their rightful inheritance. S. S. S. while thorough, is gentle in its action, and the healing vegetable ingredients which compose it build up every part of the system. Book on the blood and medical advice free. IOWA FARMS.

They Have the Proud Record of Not One Crop Failure in Fifty Years.

Within the borders of Iowa is an area of more than thirty-five million acres, fully 35 per cent of which is arable land which may be made to produce something of value. No other state in the Union has so large a percentage of its domain available for agriculture.

This great body of fertile soil is divided into approximately 240,000 farms with an average of 138 1/2 acres. Of the total number of farms 65 per cent are occupied by the owners and 35 per cent by renters.

Practically without exception all of these farms are devoted to the joint production of crops and live stock. This system of farm management tends to maintain the fertility of the soil, and it is a well-known fact that the live stock farms of Iowa have apparently not as yet been reduced in productive capacity even in the smallest measure. Commercial fertilizers have not found a market in Iowa and not one farmer in a thousand here knows anything about the nature of these products.

From an agricultural point of view the most important feature of the climate of Iowa is that its maximum of rainfall comes in the crop season, April to September, inclusive. In the six crop months the average rainfall is 22.48 inches, or 72 per cent of the annual total, and in the four most critical months, May 1 to Sept. 1, the average for the state is 10.29 inches, or 32 per cent. Although there are fluctuations in the amount of rainfall in the crop season the records of the past half century show that there has never been a crop failure and fairly good crops have been produced in the driest or wettest seasons—Farming.

EPIDEMICS DIVERT BUSINESS. "The recent epidemic of diphtheria and scarlet fever in the city have, it is reported, diverted thousands of dollars' worth of business from Chicago. FARMERS WORKING HARD.

Additional Men Could Be Used to Advantage Putting in Crops.

Since the favorable weather set in the farmers in and about Negaunee have been working hard, though most of them have been unable to procure as much help as they would use to advantage. Some of the farmers are putting in long hours; in fact they are working from daybreak until dark. Much grain has been put into the ground and a large percentage of the acreage to be planted with vegetables has been plowed. It will not be many days before most of the farmers will have a large portion of their potato seed in the ground. The farmers feel that good prices will be obtained for both potatoes and hay, on account of the backwardness of the season.

"I am afraid we will be considerably handicapped on account of a shortage of desirable help through our planting season," said a farmer over Saturday. "I have made several attempts to get men, but without success. I succeeded in getting some friends to give me a hand Decoration Day. I have a few men engaged to work Sunday and a number of other farmers will also have crews out tomorrow, also a week from tomorrow if the weather is favorable. It was considerably discouraged a week or two ago on account of the weather, but if such weather as we have had the past few days continues the farmers should come out all right, though I doubt if the crops will be as large as they were last year. Hot weather, with frequent warm rains, is what we want now, and if the season is not too dry the yield of both vegetables and grain will be good. But with cold weather off and on during the summer I fear the farmers will not fare very well."

SHOW STARTING.

Not Yet Much Activity at Mines on the Cascade Range.

Mining operations at the properties on the Cascade range did not start as soon following the opening of navigation as was expected. The Richmond, Empire and Star West are the only mines at which work is being done. The Moore, one of the biggest properties on the range, and controlled by the Ontario Iron Mining company, is inactive, and it has not yet been announced whether or not any ore will be mined there this season. The product from this mine has to be taken to the crusher at Escanaba and ore of very similar quality is being obtained on the Moore property, so it is not expected that there will be much done at the Moore, unless the demand for that particular kind of ore increases.

Preparations are being made to begin shipments at the Richmond mine, but the force at this time numbers less than twenty-five men. This property is operated by the Consumers' Ore company and is well equipped for producing a large tonnage. A crusher plant was installed last year and was successfully operated. Captain John Hutala some weeks ago expected that there would be a good demand for the ore by the first of June and that he would have from seventy-five to 100 men at work. He anticipated that his force would probably number 150 before the middle of the season.

The Empire, at which development work has been under way for more than a year past, will soon begin to ship. The boilers are in position and the foundation has been completed for the air-compressor. Work has been started on the foundation for the ore crusher, the machinery for which was delivered at the mine at the completion of the Chicago & Northwestern company's spur. Two shafts are in operation and a force of about fifty men is employed.

ROAD IN POOR CONDITION.

Palmer people report that the road from the city to the location is in poor condition. There are many patches here. A man from Palmer said Saturday that the city's end of the road is perhaps in worse condition than the township end, though he admitted he had no particular complaint to offer as he realizes that the commissioner has not yet had time to get at the work. The Palmer road will perhaps be used more this summer than during any season in some years, as the population in that direction has grown considerably in the past year. The road, when in good condition, is a favorite one for automobile and carriage driving.

NEGAUNEE TEAM WON.

The baseball game between the Negaunee and Munising High school teams at Union Park Saturday afternoon was witnessed by a fairly large crowd. The contest was a good one, and toward the latter part was exciting. During the first seven innings the Manisings did not cross the plate, but in the eighth inning they began to find the ball and before the side was retired eight runs had been scored. A new twirler was put in and the run getting ceased, the game closing with a score of 12 to 9 in favor of Negaunee.

WOULD PLAY THE HIGHS.

Manager Phil Levine of the Savings Bank baseball team, which has already demonstrated its ability to play a fast game of ball, would like to try conclusions with the high school team. Mr. Levine is an old-time ball player. He said Saturday that he thought the team would give the High school nine a close game. He has great faith in this battery, composed of the Gaffney boys, whom he says are the best of their age he has ever seen. They are practically a double battery as both catch and twirl.

LIBRARY IS BUSY.

Over 1,200 Patrons Securing Books from Negaunee Public Library.

The Negaunee public library, which has been most successfully managed during the past four years by Miss Willett, is now supplying a greater number of patrons with books than at any previous time. Miss Willett introduced the card system. Prior to her taking the position the library was of little use, as it was not properly looked after. Hundreds of dollars worth of books were practically wasted, as many of the books drawn were not returned. When Miss Willett took charge the only juvenile books in the library was one set of Oliver Optic's works. There was little fiction, and the best of the reference books purchased in previous years were missing. There are now 4,827 books and about 150 more, received last week, will be available within a few days. To date 1,248 cards have been issued.

Miss Willett reports that about one-third of the books are for children, and that over 50 per cent of the readers are pupils of the schools. A fine collection of nature and history stories has been gathered, and these are being extensively read by the children.

The school teachers have told the librarian that the children who read the library books are the best students. Many facts of history are incorporated in the story books. The teachers encourage the reading of the library books as much as possible. Miss Willett thinks that the children should not be permitted to read more than two books per week.

The library quarters on the second floor of the city building are in wretched condition, but in spite of this fact the patronage increases steadily. The rooms are filled every afternoon and evening. It is expected that more room will be provided as soon as the contemplated repairs to the building are completed.

Peter Trudell has added a fine collection of souvenir sea shells to his stock. Trudell has one of the largest and best assortment of souvenir cards of any dealer in the county.

Louis Amosky, for some time past in the employ of John Ghaldi as bartender, will leave Wednesday for Seattle, where he expects to remain permanently. An uncle residing there has secured a good position for him.

Miss Julia O'Leary, who a short time ago announced that she was soon to locate in Hancock, has decided to conduct her millinery business in Negaunee until the close of the present season, meanwhile continuing her clothing-out sale.

The Castello Railroad show, advertised to give exhibitions in Negaunee the latter part of last week, evidently fell by the wayside, as it did not reach here. The agent was in the city, but these days ahead of the exhibition. He reported that the show was to have been in Escanaba before coming to Negaunee.

The Negaunee and Ishpeming fire departments made a fine appearance yesterday afternoon when they visited the Negaunee cemetery, decorating the graves of departed members. Each department was accompanied by a band. Many people followed the procession to the cemeteries. The weather was warmer than it had been on any previous day of the season.

HOW ALEXANDRA QUEENS IT.

Her Woman's Influence on Fashion—Ceremonial at British Court.

Until recently Queen Alexandra had been wearing black for her father, though her mourning was not exactly the common variety; at least not at court functions, where she wore elaborately spangled black. Of late the queen has gone back to her beloved lavender and mauve.

When a wedding is to occur in the royal family it is the practice of her majesty to cause a public display in certain shop windows of the dress—the hats and the underwear of the ladies of the royal family, thus giving timely warning of the season's coming fashions.

The wedding of a princess in England is invariably preceded by an adequate manifestation of her lingerie along the London thoroughfares. There is in London, no detail of woman's wear to which her majesty does not stand in the relation of final arbiter.

Her favorite gems, diamonds, rubies and pearls, have been made to supersede the emerald, the turquoise and the opal. The waistbands of all bodices must be quite deep to please the queen.

Ever since she came to the throne the queen has insisted upon long trains, preferably of blue satin or pink Lyons velvet. A gown of black satin, if chosen, would imply a train of black brocade. Jet in long tapering sprays is then mandatory.

The growing length of trains is admittedly a source of much fatigues at Buckingham Palace. The Duchess of Beaufort, weighted with plumes, tiaras, necklaces, and compassed roundabout with yard after yard of black brocade, had to be lifted bodily out of her coach and transported into the presence like a bale of goods this year, because of a train so interminable that it remained streaming out of sight long after her grace had kissed hands.

Gentlemen in attendance upon their majesties have been known to compromise their deportment through intellectual endeavors to get out of the way of trains. Yet her majesty now lets it be known, by smothering the toilets of the press in attendance as mistress of the robes, that trains are henceforth to be even longer than before. The queen's own train is said to be the longest in the world, being eighteen feet in extent.

The queen is strict, too, on such points of etiquette as make it a breach of decorum, for instance, to hand anything but new and unused coin, fresh from the mint, to the consort of the British sovereign. It is likewise indelibly laid down to put a question to the queen directly. Only the king may do that with propriety. To make love to her majesty is punishable, by the law of Britain, with death, unless, of course, one happens to be the king.

When her majesty visited Chateaufort, the staidest home in England perhaps, the private chapel there was set apart for her exclusive use and a dais was imported from Paris to pierce in lights (and in the chapel, however) for the amusement of the royal leisure.

The incongruity is attributed to the queen's Danish training.

Denmark and her Danish relatives absorb her still. The queen's most intimate friend is her sister, the dowager queen, with whom she spends at least two months of every year—Current Literature.

INTENSE HEAT AND COLD.

Which of the Above Is the Harder for the Human Body to Bear?

Which is the harder to bear, great heat or great cold? A London paper has been putting the question to famous travelers lately, with some curious results.

"The problem," said Harry De Windt, the explorer of northern Siberia, "is not an easy one to answer. For there are almost as many degrees, or rather kinds, of heat and cold as there are letters in the alphabet. I have frizzled in Borneo, and frozen in the Arctic, and yet even now can hardly tell you which I found at the time the most unpleasant. However, my experience goes to prove that dry cold, however severe, is preferable to damp heat (always provided the former

NEW YORK CITY'S DEBT.

More Than Half as Great as That of the National Government.

The total bonded debt of the United States is only $925,000,000, and that of New York city is already more than half that of the national government. At the present rate of increase the metropolis will have the larger indebtedness in five years.

The total debts of all the states in the Union amount only to $2,314,100, less than half that of the single city of New York. The total state, county and city indebtedness of the entire United States is less than three times that of the city of millionaires.

The great military powers of the world are much concerned over China and her debt, and yet China has borrowed only $613,000,000, against $500,000,000 for New York. The entire Dominion of Canada owes only $271,000,000, about equal to New York's increase in four years.

Next to New York the twenty-five large cities of the United States, in the order of their population, are as follows: Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, Baltimore, Cleveland, Buffalo, San Francisco, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, New Orleans, Detroit, Milwaukee, Washington, Newark, Jersey City, Louisville, Minneapolis, Providence, Indianapolis, Kansas City, St. Paul, Rochester, Denver and Toledo.

Their population, according to the census of 1900, was about 3,000,000, against 3,437,000 for Greater New York. It is not likely that this proportion has changed much. Now, the total bonded indebtedness of these twenty-five cities is about $417,000,000, almost one hundred million less than that of the metropolis!

This means that the per capita debt of the citizen of New York is $145.35, against $43.45 for those of the other large cities. Boston with $116 and Cincinnati with $114 come the nearest to approaching New York's record, while Chicago and San Francisco, owing only $12 per capita each, make the best showing.—New Broadway Magazine.

FAVOR TARIFF REVISION

REPUBLICAN PROGRAM FOR THE NEXT CAMPAIGN.

Agreement Was Reached During Recent Session of Congress—Tariff League Would Like a President Who Would Do Nothing With Schedules; But the Organization Is Not Likely to Have Much Influence—The Program Is in Nature of a Compromise—Dingley Law to Be Overhauled Immediately After the Inauguration.

Washington, June 2.—Republican leaders are not taking seriously the attempt of the American Protective Tariff League to exert influence in the contest for the party nomination for the presidency. The party's tariff program was agreed on during the recent session of congress, and so far there are no indications of a tendency on the part of any of the men who were parties to that agreement to break away from it. The agreement, or understanding, is that the national convention next year shall make a positive declaration in favor of tariff revision, and shall pledge itself to undertake the work of overhauling the Dingley law immediately after inauguration of the next president, provided, of course, the Republican nominee is elected and the congress is Republican. The tariff league makes no secret of the fact that it would like to see the party nominate and elect a president who will not carry out this program. Representing, as it does, the interests that would be benefited if the existing tariff rates disturbed, it would like to see the nominee of next year's convention take a stand in favor of a do nothing policy on the tariff. In the estimation of well-informed representatives of the party the Republicans will not think for a minute of accepting any such advice.

The program that has been agreed upon is in the nature of a compromise. Some yielding was necessary on each side before such an understanding was possible. A large and influential wing of the party was insisting that the revision of the Dingley rates be undertaken at a special session of congress to be called this summer, or early fall, at the regular session which begins next December, while the "standpatters" were not disposed to admit that revision would be necessary within the next few years. After many conferences at which the whole subject was thoroughly considered, it was the decision of both the revisionists and the "standpatters" that it would be unwise to undertake a general tariff revision on the eve of a presidential election. It was agreed that a certain amount of business disturbance would result from an overhauling of the existing schedules, and the party leaders thought they foresaw that these disturbances would have some effect on the presidential election next year.

As was pointed out at the time this agreement as to tariff legislation was reached, the party leaders recognized the fact that the Republicans were hazarding something in choosing any definite course. There was a realization of the fact that some of the most ardent advocates of revision would not be satisfied with the decision to postpone action until after the presidential election, while some of the "standpatters" would not take kindly to the agreement that the national convention next year is to make a definite promise that the party shall undertake the work of revision immediately after the next president comes in. As a matter of fact, the agreement was received with more cordiality than the men who were responsible for it expected it would get. While it cannot be said that the president was a party to the agreement—originated by the Republican leaders in congress and a few Republican leaders in private life—he did acquiesce in it. He readily fell in with the view that it would be unwise to undertake revision on the eve of a presidential election. Some of the revisionists urged him to call a special session of congress this summer for the express purpose of revising the tariff, but after the congressional agreement was entered into, he gave no consideration to such requests.

Political agreements are frequently made to be broken, but there is every reason to believe that this agreement with reference to the tariff will stand in spite of any campaign the American reciprocal tariff league may conduct. It is a safe assertion that none of the candidates for the Republican presidential nomination will advocate a general revision of the tariff at the next session of congress—a session that will come to an end about the time the party goes into convention to nominate its candidate for president. It also seems reasonably safe to assert that, if they were required to define their views, every aspirant for the nomination would say that he is in favor of the national convention promising specifically that if the party is successful in next year's elections it will revise the existing schedules immediately after the new president comes into office. It is the view of disinterested students of the political situation that in spite of opinions individual members of the Republican party may hold the party, as a party, must in its convention next year promise something definite in the tariff. It is evident that Democrats intend to make the tariff the paramount issue, or at least one of the leading issues in the campaign. The hope of the leaders of the Democratic party—if it has any real leaders—is that the Republicans will fall to make a specific tariff promise in their convention next year.

Recently stories have been sent out here to some of the Eastern newspapers indicating that the president may decide to inject the tariff question into the contest for the presidential nomination by taking it up in his December message to congress and demanding that revision be undertaken at the coming session of congress. It can be said authoritatively that the administration is not contemplating any such step. The president realizes that no amount of persuasion on his part could induce congress to attempt any general tariff legislation at a time when the country is getting ready to elect a new president. It may be true that the tariff complications with Germany and France will force the president to ask congress to enact some legislation that will adjust the relations with those two countries. Ratification of a trade treaty with Germany may be asked, but one may rest assured that the administration has no thought of asking for general tariff revision at the coming session. There can no longer be concealment of the fact that the party is badly split up over the tariff. The agreement of last winter is keeping the subject in the background, but it seems inevitable in spite of that agreement that when the national convention meets a year from now there will be plenty of contention over what the party declaration shall be. Who will dare say that in spite of the "understanding" entered into here last winter the "standpatters" will not be on hand insisting, as of yore, that there shall be an equivocal declaration? And it is a foregone conclusion that the revisionists will be at the convention in force demanding a flat-footed promise of a general overhauling of the Dingley rates. In the old days the American Protective Tariff League had the party field to itself, but within the last three years the American Reciprocal Tariff League, which advocates revision, has sprung up within the party, and it is today as potent an influence as the American Protective Tariff League.

THE MAKING OF VENEER.

How veneer is manufactured is a mystery to the majority of people. The industry is not only one of the chief occupations of Matteson, Wis., but an exceptionally interesting one also. After a tree has been cut in the woods and brought to the mill on flat cars, it is rolled into a pond near the mill. Logs are hoisted from the pond to a drag saw, where they are cut into various lengths. They are then put into a steam box for at least twelve hours in order to soften the timber, and then the process called peeling. With spuds and axes the bark is removed easily, for the timber is soft now and red hot. It is then ready to enter the mill and be cut into veneer.

The peeled log is hoisted on a crane to the veneer lathe, and that is the last one sees of the log. When it once passes this lathe it comes out on the other side long thin sheets of veneer. According to thickness desired, it is cut from 1-100 of an inch to one-half inch thick and sixty-four inches long. As the veneer leaves the machine it slides along a table thirty feet in length. Ten feet from the end is a clipper, where it is clipped into different widths, an inch being allowed for drying. It is now ready to enter the drying press. The drier is eight feet wide and 100 feet long. It is a chain driven machine throughout, having four sets of rollers. In order to heat this drier there are 20,000 feet of one-inch pipes passing through it above and below each set of rollers. The temperature must always be from 200 to 250 degrees. Veneer is put into the drier at one end, and in other words fed to the drier. While veneer slowly moves through the machine it is also dried, so that it is smooth and dry, but very hot. The men in charge of that veneer at that end always wear canvas gloves to prevent their hands from becoming burned and blistered, while the perspiration runs freely from their faces. It takes from fifteen minutes to two hours for veneer to work through this drier one way. The second story of the local mills is known as the glue room. Here veneer is glued together for furniture factories, bordering panels for dressers and glass backing.

The machine known as the hydraulic veneer press is ten feet high. The veneer that has been glued for panels or glass backing is placed into this machine and by pressure of water in a tank beneath, it slowly presses the veneer together until it is firm and dry. Then it is removed, packed and shipped.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

EVILS OF PARLOR MATCHES.

What used to be called "lucifer matches" have become obsolete. They had a coating of sulphur which caused the unpleasant odor conventionally attributed to the devil and his abode, and hence their name, for the fashionable title of the devil is Lucifer. As a matter of fact, however, the matches called lucifer matches, or devil matches, had far less of the devil in them than the more modern sort which were free from sulphur and bad smells, but were far more explosive, treacherous and dangerous. Many things go by contraries in this world, and as the harmless matches were called devil matches it was natural that the dangerous sort should be called parlor matches. These reflections have been suggested by the report from Sterling, Ill., that a most estimable woman living there no longer ago than last Friday lost her life by stepping on a parlor match. The blazing head of the match flew into her clothing and set it on fire, so that in spite of everything that could be done she was fatally burned. Yet there was nothing singular about it, for so many women have lost their lives in the same way that it may be called a common occurrence. The evils of parlor matches are not confined to fatal accidents. They have often put out people's eyes and burned down their houses and in various other ways established their title to the name, not of parlor matches, but of devil matches. How it is that they are still manufactured and still bought and sold and used is a mystery. It just shows how utterly reckless and imprudent the average man and average woman are, for these matches are a constant menace to life and property, and there is a plenty of matches besides safety matches that are safe.

In many states the sale of parlor matches is prohibited, and if the present legislature of Illinois had passed such a law it would have been far more creditable than many others which the members think entitle them to re-election. If the legislature will not prohibit the sale for much the city council ought to do it.—Chicago Chronicle.

SCIENTIFIC MINING NOW.

Slip-Shod Methods Discarded in the Cobalt District.

Developments in this field are progressing rapidly, writes a Cobalt correspondent. The former slip-shod, hasty methods of scratching the ground for the permanency of the camp is being discarded. One mine is down 278 feet and is still in ore. Diamond drill explorations on this property have been made to a depth of 500 feet. While the result of this exploration has not been made known, it is definitely stated on excellent authority that $5,000,000 cash was refused for the mine.

There are now in camp and ready for shipment between 40,000 and 50,000 sacks of ore that will run some of it as high as $100,000 to the car. A carload is usually 400 sacks. This seems like a fabulous figure, but the ore is almost native silver, and also carries heavy cobalt values. One mining superintendent, who has stored 8,000 sacks, when asked why he did not ship said he had no instructions to do so. Yet he is working the shafts and has just uncovered some veins on the surface—crossing each other at right angles—for over 1,000 feet. The metal shows plainly and all one has to do is to rub the sole of his hunting boots over it to polish the native silver. This runs from two to seven inches wide at the top, and he says his experience of this property is that the veins widen with depth. The mines are only shipping the cream of the ore, the remainder being placed upon the dump. When the time comes that a custom smelter is opened near Cobalt these tailings will show good values in silver.

Those of the shipping mines that are capitalized within reason and have sensible managers are bound to pay a handsome return on the investment. One property that has eight hundred acres, has cleared it and stacked the wood for reserve fuel. This property has fifty-nine well defined veins of silver and is only working on fourteen of them. The only ore that is taken out on this property is what is encountered in the drifting and crosscutting, the other is stacked for future use. The value of the property will be higher than generally anticipated.

There is an organized attempt to keep information from leaking out as to the real extent of operations, and trespassers are warned with big signs. The properties are closely guarded and unless one is extremely fortunate, news of the mines must be taken second handed. The selling prices of the stocks are not representative of the real values of the properties. Why they are so depressed is a mystery, unless it is for the purpose of discouraging small holders and shaking out the stock so the floating supply can be gathered in at low prices. The idea of mining engineers in camp is that when all the stock that it is possible to buy has been accumulated, the principal mines will be merged with an enormous capitalization. The theory is that this will be followed by an outpouring of the ores now held back so that the rich values sent to the smelters will accentuate the appetite of the public for the stock of the company. The story that the smelters cannot take care of so much ore is laughed at by smelter men here, who are going into the Montreal River district prospecting as soon as the ice goes out, which will be soon.

The Cobalt district is now developed, could not stall one of the big New Jersey plants, and maintain that the holding back of the ore is part of a well organized campaign. Conservative estimates by a mining engineer who was with the Amalgamated at Butte, Me., who is now managing one of the properties here, place five years as the inside limit in which one of the mines can get out the silver in sight and in the veins proved up. The life of the camp as far as silver goes, is variously placed from five to ten years. It is believed that when the silver veins are exhausted and explorations are made to greater depth, it will be found that the entire field is underlaid with copper. This, however, is mere conjecture, as the formation is tantalizingly irregular and puzzles the best geologists. No one seems to have the nerve to drive a diamond drill through to find out what there is beneath the five hundred foot level. They look upon the present richness as good enough for a while.

Claims were staked by the wholesaler during the winter in the Larder Lake district, where gold is said to exist. Many of these claims are now being worked by companies with generous capitalization have been heavily advertised. When it is known that these claims are almost all of them what are known as "snow shoe" claims, staked when there was four feet or more of snow, it can be seen how much is known of the district. If gold has been found there it was an outcropping on some uncovered bluff. It would be an injustice to say there is no gold there, but if there is, no one really knows it. Some fine samples have come out of the Larder Lake district, but to old heads, familiar with Western ores, they bear a striking resemblance to the product of Goldfields. The same pieces have travelled to and from Cobalt and Larder Lake so often that they have become very familiar to people who have made a study of ores and their characteristics. There is not a single working permit given by the Ontario government in the Larder Lake district yet. The claims are all filed on applications for permits. If the government deems that an inspection is necessary before the permits are granted, it is altogether probable that many of the claims will be thrown out. This shows on what slim pretenses mining companies are floundering and the stock placed upon the market.

It is the opinion of mining engineers that the silver belt extends up the Montreal River for at least two hundred miles, and they say they believe that when that territory is developed it will be even richer than Cobalt. Every square foot of Coleman township, the one in which Cobalt is situated, is staked. It stands to reason that silver cannot be under all the claims. There are, therefore, many wildcats trading on the Cobalt reputation, and it would be wise for investors to find out who is behind these enterprises and what there has been found on the property before dipping into them. The same is true of Buckle and Lorraine townships. The shipping mines as a rule are all right, and there is no signs of any of them petering out. There are also a number of prospects in camp that will become shipshod this summer. These are easily picked out. The richness of Cobalt as a silver camp is neither known nor appreciated. Manipulation of stocks has given the camp a black eye, but within the next year the truth as to Cobalt and vicinity will come out.

HOPE FOR THE FAT.

Obesity Now Being Seriously Studied as a Disease.

That obesity, considered as a disease, has not hitherto received the attention that it deserves from the medical profession, is the opinion of an editorial writer in American Medicine. This omission is now being remedied. The study of the causes of abnormal fatness is progressing and its treatment is better understood. The writer believes that the obese person is generally neurotic, and that these two conditions are causally connected. First warning us that "obesity" he does not mean the normal increase of flesh that comes with middle age and is doubtless unavoidable, he goes on to say: "It has long been known that alcohol, arsenic and phosphorus cause the decomposition of fat which sometimes goes to the extreme of a change of cell-contents into fat. Recent experiments in lower animals with lead, strychnine and morphine have induced fatness. These facts have given rise to the theory that obesity is a toxic disease in which the poison interferes with normal metabolism. One writer (La Presse Medicale) carries the idea a step further and similarly accounts for the obesity accompanying or following certain infections, as, for instance, in the convalescence of typhoid or occasionally in tuberculosis. Indeed, the condition has been experimentally produced by infecting certain organisms."

"The neurotic basis of excessive obesity is ignored in all of these discussions. It is most noticeable in the obesity of childhood, but is equally evident in that of adults. They are defective in many ways, lacking in vitality, rarely live to old age, are subject to complaints of nervous origin, and prone to certain infections. The fierce swine-like appetite is of itself a stigma of abnormality, and although there is some evidence, that cases exist in which the food ingested is not excessive, it is quite evident that it is too much for the work done. Normally, in youth, the appetite diminishes as the body is saturated, but not so in the obese. The new theory would lead us to believe that in some cases the food is proper in amount for heat and energy, but is packed away as fat and the man derives his heat and energy from nothing."

"The treatment of obesity, according to the most successful specialists is mostly diete and includes accurately graded exercises which strengthen the heart but do not strain it. The new idea would seem to indicate that elimination of toxins is an essential also—a matter usually attended to in the treatment of the digestive tract, and by hydrotherapy, external and internal. Oxidation is encouraged, appetite is restrained and toxins are eliminated. In spite of all our successes there must be incurable cases where the nervous defect—the original cause—is a congenital one, and the disease is hereditary. The toxemia apparently accounts for the lack of resistance to bacterial invasion. They even melt away from tuberculosis so that this disease is more likely a result than a cause. It is generally believed that some men can eat too much and yet not fatten, the excess being oxidized and the heat radiated to the air. This is doubtful. The excess probably passes through the alimentary canal unchanged from inability to digest so much and gives rise to intestinal diseases and not those of metabolism."

EVA BOOTH'S POLICEMAN.

"You are under arrest! You are disturbing the peace!" snarled a policeman breaking off her first public prayer in the streets of London. She was still in her teens, a slight slip of a girl with no means of resistance, and as the bullying officer tightened his grip on her arm, she was dragged shrilly with him. But the action aroused the sympathies of the rough crowd as a lighted match fires a keg of gunpowder. In an instant the policeman and his prisoner were surrounded, and before the officer could raise his voice he was beaten to the pavement under a shower of fists. It was the girl prisoner who, forgetting his rough grip and the cell to which he would have dragged her, appealed to the throng in his defence. When the crowd finally retreated the policeman was groaning with two broken legs and a mass of bruises from head to foot. For weeks the girl girl in the big army bonnet paid faithful visits to the hospital, and her case could not have found in all England. To this day she receives letters in a rough sprawling hand, signed simply "Your policeman."—The London Today.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN DOCTOR.

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation for their effectiveness. Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Chamberlain's Pain Balm (an anti-septic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame back and rheumatic pains. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles. Chamberlain's Salve for diseases of the skin. One bottle of each of these five preparations costs but $1.25. For sale by The Stafford Drug Co.

CELEBRATION TO BE RECORD BREAKER

FOURTH OF JULY ARRANGEMENTS COMMITTEE MEETS WITH SUCCESS IN CANVASS.

BUSINESS MEN GIVE FREELY

Monster Parade in the Morning, Address by Eminent Orator, Free Shows and Fireworks Display to Be Features.

It can be authoritatively stated that Marquette will have the greatest Fourth of July celebration ever held in the city this year. The committee having matters in charge is better equipped with the sinews of war than any of its predecessors have been.

Sentiment Favors Celebration. "The most encouraging feature of our canvass," said John A. Hager, chairman of the committee, yesterday, "is the sentiment we meet with in every quarter that a Fourth of July celebration will be a good thing. We didn't run across a single pessimist. On every hand encouragement was extended us, and the business and professional men of the city not only aided us financially but assured us that they would give their best efforts individually towards making the celebration a memorable one. We didn't appoint a lot of sub-committees, as we believed that a few men, really hustling, could do a great deal more than a lot of men who took things easy. The element most necessary to the success of a celebration is money, and that it what we have been going after. Its money that 'makes the mare go' and we see our way clear to get enough of it to move things along at a pretty lively gait."

Will Have Big Parade. One of the greatest features of the celebration will be the parade, which will take place at 11 o'clock in the morning. It is expected that nearly every business man in the city will have a float. As the construction of these exhibits take considerable time it is to be hoped that work on them will be commenced early. Another feature will be the Haywood band, which is already in rehearsal. As the members are unduly modest in the matter of the fame that is certain to accrue to them, their names will not be given out. The Negaunee band and the drum corps have already been engaged, and the committee intends to secure another outside musical organization. Four amusement companies are now being corresponded with, and there will be plenty of free shows. It is the intention, if possible, to secure an orator of national prominence to deliver the address. An invitation has been extended to General Edward S. Bragg of Fond du Lac, Wis., and it is hoped that he may accept. General Bragg was the commander of the famous Iron Brigade during the Civil war and was personally engaged in many of the most desperate battles of that great struggle. He was subsequently minister to Mexico under President Cleveland, and consul general to Peking, China, under President Roosevelt. Bragg seconded Grover Cleveland's second nomination for the presidency in 1876; "I love him for the enemies he has made," General Bragg is a forceful speaker with a fine command of the flowers of rhetoric. The Paines Fireworks company of New York, has been corresponded with and it is the intention in the evening to have a display that will surpass anything heretofore seen in this vicinity.

Enclosing Communications in Fourth Class Matter Punishable by Fine. Though the names of the violators have not been given out several upper peninsula residents have recently paid fines for enclosing personal communications in fourth class matter. The premiums offered by tobacco companies are responsible for numerous infringements of the rules of the department. When tags are mailed for premiums the sender often encloses with his name and address a description of the premium desired. This is a clear violation of section 484 which reads: "Any person who shall knowingly conceal or enclose any matter of a higher class in that of a lower class and deposit or cause the same to be deposited for conveyance by mail at a less rate than would be charged for both such higher and lower class matter, shall for every such offense be liable to a penalty of $10. Even the enclosing of a premium number is a violation of the law, but the name and address of the sender may be put upon fourth class matter. How to live on 15 cents a day. BLACKSMITH SHOP DESTROYED.

Lake Shore Engine Works Suffers Severe Loss by Fire Saturday.

The blacksmith shop of the Lake Shore Engine Works, corner of Lake and Washington streets, caught fire Saturday afternoon about 5:40 o'clock and in the course of an hour was gutted by the flames. Officials of the company say that they have not as yet computed the loss, but it is covered by insurance. The department responded promptly and did good work, but the flames had gained such headway that saving the building was an impossibility and the best that could be done was to prevent the fire from spreading to other portions of the plant. Had the machine shop, adjacent to the blacksmith shop, not been saved many thousands of dollars and the operations of the works would have been badly crippled. While the loss of the blacksmith shop will be an inconvenience it will not necessitate a shut-down or any delay in the completion of orders now under way. The only machinery of a costly character destroyed in the burnt building were a punching machine and a trip-hammer.

The report that the fire originated from an electric light wire is scouted by employees of the lighting plant who say that all the wires running into the building were insulated and that it would have been impossible for it to have become ignited from that source. The walls of the building were of brick and the roof of slate which prevented the flames from spreading. Had the roof been of ordinary shingles the rest of the plant would have been in serious danger.

MANY AT PRESQUE ISLE.

Warm Weather Attracted Sunday Crowd to That Resort. The warm and balmy weather, practically the first of the year, yesterday brought nearly the entire population out doors, and caused a large crowd to visit Presque Isle. The trailers were brought out by the street railway management, and were needed, as the regular cars would have been unable to carry the people. During the afternoon all the cars going to Presque Isle were overcrowded. At that resort many celebrated the advent of spring by taking to the water, and all the available row-boats were in commission. Not only Presque Isle but the other parks, the cemeteries and the woods were filled with people desiring to enjoy the first pleasant weather.
