PEACE DELEGATES CHEER ROOSEVELT

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS AT THE HAGUE OPENED BY ENVOY OF THE CZAR.

The Hague, June 16.—M. Nelidoff, representing the czar of Russia, opened the peace conference yesterday by affirming that universal peace and disarmament were unattainable. The deliberate utterances of the Russian statesman, although pessimistic to the extent referred to, were hopeful when later he said he believed that a better method for the judicial adjustment of disputes was possible, even though all conflicts between nations were so many and varied that conflicts between individuals.

In the course of his address M. Nelidoff greatly pleased the American delegates by the high tributes which he paid to President Roosevelt and Andrew Carnegie, not mentioning any other countries or rulers. The references to President Roosevelt in the speeches of Du Van Tets Van Goudrain, the Netherlands foreign minister, and M. Nelidoff were greeted with rounds of applause.

The whole ceremony lasted hardly twenty minutes when the conference adjourned until Wednesday. Tea was served in the main hall and the committee rooms after the adjournment.

NO MORE BODIES FOUND.

Washington, June 16.—The navy department tonight received a dispatch from Admiral Evans, in command of the fleet in Hampton Roads, stating that the search for the bodies of the six midshipmen and four sailors who, with the fireman whose body has since been recovered, were drowned at Matineer night, was continued today without success. The search will be resumed tomorrow.

ADMIRAL EVANS' SHIPS "DESTROYED"

NAVY IGNORANT OF WAR GAME, SUDDEN ROAR OF FORTS CATCHES SQUADRON NAPPING.

New York, June 16.—The battleships Connecticut and Alabama, under command of Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, were "destroyed" while passing through the narrows on their way from the launchroom exposition to the New York navy yard. Admiral Evans, who evidently had not been apprised of the war game which has been going on at the Narrows for a week past, was a much amazed man at the sudden roar of the guns at Fort Hamilton and Wadsworth. He rushed to the bridge of the Connecticut, and gazed first at one noisy fort and then at the other. Then one of his officers enlightened him about the sham "war" between the forts manned by regular coast artillery, upon a national guardmen and small boats manned by regulars representing a hostile fleet, the purpose of which was to test the alertness of the guardians of the sea approach to New York city.

REFERS MATTER TO NEIL, PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ASKED TO INTERVENE TO PREVENT TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 16.—President Roosevelt has referred to Charles P. Attention is called to the fact that Mr. Neil has on his own motion acted with more or less success in several recent strikes simply by making an investigation and bringing to light salient facts in the controversies, his reports being the basis on which a settlement was later reached.

Secretary Taft may have a great presidential career—if the banqueters spare him for it.

It is apparent that a good part of the tailend of the legislative session belongs to Governor Warner and his friends, even if they have fallen down on two of their most important measures.

Munising is also going to celebrate the Fourth of July. A big program is being arranged, and the whole countryside is going to be invited.

Of Road Commissioner Earle's convict labor bill a Lansing correspondent remarks: "Earle's plan for a prison in the upper peninsula to employ convicts to crush rock for good roads seems to be dead. The senate allowed $200,000, but the bill is now in the Jackson prison committee in the house, and the majority members on it refuse to meet, so that a vote cannot be forced on the proposition."

Carl E. Bailey, stenographer of the Hillsdale circuit, has asked the legislature to pass a bill reducing his salary from $1,600 to $1,400. The circuit has been changed so that henceforth there will be one less county in it, and Mr. Bailey's conscience tells him he would be overpaid for the lessened amount of work at the old salary.

Walter Fitch, who has been appointed to the board of control of the College of Mines, was a member of that body when he was a resident of Marquette county, before his departure for the southwest. Mr. Fitch's interest in the college was keen, and by training and tastes he was equipped to give it excellent service, which he did. It was fitting that on Mr. Fitch's return to the Lake Superior region he again be given a place on the board.

Just to show that he is not entirely a dead one, even if his prison labor ideas have been scorned by the legislature, State Road Commissioner Earle had $50,000 tacked on to the appropriation allowed by the ways and means committee for good roads encouragement in Michigan. Mr. Earle originally asked for $280,000, which the ways and means committee cut to $200,000. The $50,000 increase was obtained on the representation that $200,000 would fall far short of paying the state rewards to counties that have already applied for them.

The University of Michigan is going to get a material increase from the legislature. There has been virtual agreement on what will be done for it. The house committee has decided to let the senate bill providing for increasing the rate of university tax stand, instead of making a specific appropriation for the new buildings needed. The proposed increase is from one-fourth to three-eighths of the great annual income of $649,286. Out of this sum the board of regents will be expected to conduct its building operations, as well as to defray other increased expenses. The sum is a large one, but, when the pressing needs of the institution are considered, it does not appear to be too large.

It was freely predicted that the action of the house in repealing the Baillie law would not be concurred in by the senate, and it is reported that by the success of those favoring repeal in getting the senate to vote for it was due to the employment of clever legislative strategy. This measure, known as the limited liability act, operated to lessen the demands on corporations for injury or death of employees, and was a measure that worked particularly to the advantage of the railroads.

SUPERIOR TRUST COMPANY HANCOCK MICHIGAN Capital $150,000. This company is under the supervision of the state banking department and is authorized by the law to act as executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver or trustee.

age of the railroads. Thus it was brought up in the senate when the representatives of the railroads were held in the house, watching the fight on the railroad commission bill. When the bill for repeal had been read twice Senator Russell moved to put it on its immediate passage. There was consternation among the "ants," but they knew not how to effectively parry the move of the friends of the bill. On the proposition of suspending the rules there were nine nays: Senators Crosby, Jenks, Moriarty, Kane, Keyes, MacKay, Smith and Whitney. On the roll call on the repeal only three senators stuck out and voted nay: Crosby, MacKay and Smith. As the Baillie law has been formally condemned by a Republican state convention, and has also been condemned by the people, there is no doubt whatever that the governor will sign the measure repealing it, and that the objectionable law will be immediately wiped off the statute books.

Governor Warner will have a hearing on the bill to remove the restriction on mining companies holding over 50,000 acres of land today. The governor is inclined to favor the bill, and unless its opponents make out a very strong case against it he will probably sign it. There has been a guerilla warfare against the measure on the part of certain lower peninsula papers, but it has been notable principally for the foolishness of the arguments employed. The mining companies only ask a right open to other corporations when they ask to be permitted to provide for their future needs in land and lumber. The proposed law is fraught with no danger to the other upper peninsula interests. In fact, it is generally recognized in the upper peninsula that the law would be a good one.

The reformers are fairly in the saddle in San Francisco. Mayor Schmitz is in jail, application for bail having been refused. In the meantime a minor official is acting mayor. Schmitz does not cease to be mayor until all efforts to have his case reopened fail. He will take advantage of all the technicalities, but it is expected that only a short time will elapse before the supreme court definitely refuses to interfere. Then the office of mayor becomes vacant. It will devolve on the supervisors to choose a new mayor. These officials are, however, under the dominance of Prosecutor Heney and Rudolph Spreckels, the sugar millionaire who has financed the reform campaign, so it is assured that the new mayor will be a man who will honestly apply himself to the task of restoring order and honesty in San Francisco. Former Mayor Phelan is likely to be chosen for another term. He is reported to have said that he doesn't want the office, but it is believed that he would go against his personal inclinations in the matter if the office was placed before him in the light of a public duty. Phelan is, from all accounts, such a man as the emergency that has arisen demands, and it will be generally hoped that he, or some other man in whom the public can have confidence, will early be inducted into the office in which Schmitz has disgraced himself.

ABREAST OF THE TIDE. Henry Watterson is vigorously calling on William J. Bryan to abdicate his position as leader and perpetual candidate of the Democratic party. In case he does so Mr. Watterson promises to reveal the name of a man who can be nominated and elected by that party. Mr. Bryan, however, with a far away smile merely suggests that Mr. Watterson name the man first and when that is done the question of abdication will be in order. Meantime, according to Mr. Bryan's opinion, it is not in order. It ought to be apparent, even to Mr. Watterson, that Mr. Bryan has the best of the argument. While Mr. Bryan is very popular with his party the last national convention showed that another man can be nominated. Later the election showed that the man who was nominated could come no nearer than Mr. Bryan to success at the polls, while he was distinctly inferior as a leader within the party itself. Mr. Bryan is now the leader and prospective candidate of his party simply because no other man has demonstrated a better right to the position. Why then should Mr. Bryan stand aside while the party institutes a hunt for a stronger man? Obviously if there is such a man he should be produced first.

Mr. Watterson's rather brassy demand and the evident desire of a certain portion of the Democratic party to get rid of Mr. Bryan lead the Washington Herald to make some quite pertinent and truthful observations. It says: There is a curious notion abroad, which persists, in spite of the overwhelming defeat of Judge Parker in 1904, that somehow or other a Democratic candidate not of the Bryan type would prove successful against a candidate of the Roosevelt type of Republicanism. Those who stick to this notion are strangely out of touch with the times. They ignore the rapid advance of political opinion throughout the country and the obvious strength which Mr. Bryan has gained by keeping abreast of or ahead of the swiftly moving tide. Of all the Democratic leaders Mr. Bryan is the only one of whom this may be truthfully said. And he has done for his party just what the president has done for his; he has kept its face turned toward the future; he has made it live in the present instead of the past, and if it has any vitality at all, that vitality must be attributed in large measure to Bryan leadership and following. There are Republicans just as anxious to get rid of the Roosevelt incubus as some Democrats are to dethrone Bryan. The rout of the former is as nearly certain as anything of the kind can be at present the indications are that defeat is also in store for the latter. The political literature of twenty years or so ago teems with reference to Bourbon Democrats. They were so termed because like the Bourbon aristocracy after the French republic was established they were constantly trying to restore outgrown and discarded conditions. They always looked backward and not forward and their reactionary efforts drove multitudes from the party. The Parker wing of the Democracy seems to be composed of the descendants of the old Bourbon Democrats. They keep their eyes on the past and refuse to see that times and conditions have changed. Mr. Bryan may not be able to win at the polls, but he is progressive.

THE REPEAL. The repeal of the Baillie law is one of several good things for which the present legislature must be given credit. In this case particular credit is due for the reason that the repeal was strenuously opposed by not only the railroads, but by other powerful corporations. But there are undisputed objectionable features in the law relative to negligent injuries as it is left by the repeal of the Baillie act. The repeal, however, is in accord with justice and public sentiment and is a well merited rebuke to those who seek to obtain changes in the law by underground methods. Now that the situation has been in a measure cleared by this action of the legislature, it would seem to be in order to give this subject of damages for negligent injuries thorough consideration. The railroads and others interested as to the law as it now stands not only presents many anomalies, but is oppressive. That the double measure of damages established by the rulings of the courts is inequitable may be admitted, but that it is the corporations which are most unjustly treated is an assertion which may at least be debated. All persons, as well as corporations, should be held strictly accountable for negligence. Their accountability, also, should be such as will operate to make them careful. The law ought, also, to be so framed as to discourage litigation and to make it unnecessary. The damages for injuries should be specific and should not be left to be argued before a jury. The question which should be left to the jury is that of whether the injuries resulted from the defendant's negligence. If the jury finds that they did the amount of the judgment should be fixed by statute. This matter is one which should come before the constitutional convention.—Grand Rapids Press.

PAIN Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation. If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure. Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply common sense. We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend Upper Peninsula Biggest Rainbow Trout—The Detroit man who recently hooked an eleven-pound rainbow trout in the rapids of the St. Mary's river at the Soo has lost the title of champion fisher of the stream, won at the time. His trout was a dwarf alongside a fish of the same species subsequently caught by William Brown, an employee of the state fish hatchery at the Leek City. Brown's catch weighed sixteen pounds, was thirty-two inches in length and twenty-one inches in circumference. It is believed to have been the largest fish of the kind taken from Michigan waters. It is only a few years ago that the fish commission began planting rainbow trout in St. Mary's and previous to that time there were none of the species in the stream. Now it is no uncommon thing to catch them, but the surprise is their large growth.

WORKS WONDERS. A Wonderful Compound—Cures Piles, Eczema, Skin Itching, Skin Eruptions, Cuts and Bruises. Doan's Ointment is the best skin treatment, and the cheapest, because so little is required to cure it. It cures persistent cases of eczema. It cures all skin itching. It cures skin eruptions. It heals cuts, bruises, scratches and abrasions without leaving a scar. It cures permanently. Marquette testimony proves it. E. H. Hurley, carpenter, of 300 W. Washington St., Marquette, Mich., says: "For skin eruptions and skin sores of any kind Doan's Ointment is the best preparation I know. I had an eruption on my hand and arm that bothered me for years and was often so bad that I could scarcely bear the touch of my clothing. The annoyance was great and I tried salves, ointments and washes of all kinds but nothing helped me until I got Doan's Ointment at the Stafford Drug Co.'s store. One box served to drive the trouble away so that it has never re-appeared." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Copper Country

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Annual Reunion of the U. P. League Opens Next Monday.

The annual reunion of the upper peninsula league of the Knights of Pythias will be held at Hancock commencing one week from today. Extensive preparations have been going forward for some months for this event, which promises to be the most numerous gathering of this order ever held north of the Straits.

COPPER COUNTRY BASEBALL.

Teams Will Leave Tonight for the North—Patronage Has Been Poor.

The Houghton and Calumet baseball teams will cross bats at Calumet this afternoon in the last game of the copper country will see until July 4. The clubs will play an exhibition game at Duluth Wednesday, and the next day Houghton opens at Winnipeg and Calumet at the Zenith City. They will spend a week in the northern towns before returning home.

Attendance Very Poor.

Concerning the poor attendance at the games in the copper country, a correspondent writes as follows: "The baseball league is, as a whole, facing an unprofitable season. The only consolation possible in view of the slim attendance accorded the games in the Michigan end of the circuit. Whether it is out of disgust at the comparative lack of showing of the two copper country teams, or whether there are other reasons, the crowds are not turning out. From a financial standpoint, the two weeks' series of games just concluded proved disastrous, or at least disappointing. The Duluth and Winnipeg territory would have been much more profitable, while in the two Michigan towns the club owners have so far been compelled to draw on their private banking accounts to liquidate salaries."

The reunion includes the annual meeting of the league, the annual session of the state grand lodge, the reunion of the Pythian Sisters of Northern Michigan and the annual degree team contest of the upper peninsula league. It will bring some hundreds of strangers to Hancock, and the city will for the greater part of a week be given over to the Pythians and their ladies. All the visitors will be given every opportunity to see the great mines and kindred industries of the copper country at close range.

Escanaba Out for the Honors.

Says the Escanaba Journal: "If the Escanaba Knights of Pythias degree team does not return from Hancock with the trophy it will be because there is some team in the upper peninsula which is better than perfect. The members of the local team have been doing hard work during the spring and the results of the work is apparent in the exemplification of the Knight rank. Every member of the team does splendidly and the work is most excellent. But the manner in which P. Schigerland carries out his part is so far superior to any the writer has ever seen that it is expected that he will personally win laurels for himself in the exemplification of the work before the supreme and grand lodge officers at Hancock."

SHIRINERS TO THE SOO.

James T. Fisher of Laurium, potentate of Ahmed Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, yesterday noon in the Juniata for the Soo, where this week the summer meeting of the temple is to be held. He was accompanied by Angus W. Kerr and William R. Vivian of Laurium. Mrs. Vivian was also in the party. This meeting at the Soo is the first the temple has ever held away from the home oasis of Marquette and it is going to be attended by a large number of Shriners from all over the upper peninsula. The copper country is to be largely represented, a big party having planned to leave tomorrow night by train to be present at the opening session on Tuesday.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN DOCTOR.

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Chamberlain's Pain Balm (an antiseptic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame back and rheumatic pains. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles. Chamberlain's Salve for diseases of the skin. One bottle of each of these few preparations costs but $1.25. For sale by The Stafford Drug Co.

ORDERED OUT OF CHICAGO.

Former Good Will Farm Man Not Wanted in Windy City.

A Chicago dispatch tells the following, which is of interest in the copper country: "The land of orphans from the Houghton orphanage, who in charge of H. M. Draper are touring the country in a horse automobile, were ordered out of Chicago today by the authorities, who found them violating numerous laws. The Illinois statute prohibits children of their age appearing in public exhibitions and an amusement license was in consequence refused them. They were also desired to take out an automobile license and their stand on a vacant lot was objected to by the building department and assailed by so many officials that the manager started up the auto and pulled out of the city, after securing a little money by shows given before the authorities got busy."

LEARN THE FINNISH LANGUAGE.

Finns Are the Coming Businessmen of the Copper Country. A copper country salesman advises The Mining Journal that he has begun the study of the Finnish language, and this opens up a profitable field for discussion. The salesman says that he has been practically forced to a study of the language by the advantage it will give him in calling upon his trade. He says the Finns are the coming businessmen of the copper country. Certain it is that the number of Finnish businessmen is growing, and a salesman who can talk their language has the advantage over one who cannot. There is one salesman in Houghton county who has a big trade with Finnish merchants largely because of his knowledge of the language. He was raised in the copper country and seemed to take to this tongue naturally. He can now write and speak the language as fluently as an educated native. The Finnish-speaking people represent the large proportion of the population of the copper country, in a comparison of races represented. It therefore stands a business man well in hand to know the Finnish language.

At the shaft on the Warren property the work of sinking it still in progress, and being attended with very favorable indications for the finding of an ore body when sufficient depth is attained. At the present time a force of fifteen men is engaged in the work, and the shaft has been sunk to a depth of 230 feet. For the past few days, the bottom of the shaft has been in live formation, and manganese has been encountered at several different depths. It is the intention to sink the shaft several hundred feet before any drifting is done.

During the past week shipments from the Cole shaft of the Superior & Pittsburg company have been doubled, showing the highest average of ore production from this portion of the property since it has been in operation. At the Houghton shaft sinking has been continued and is progressing rapidly. It is the intention of the management to open up a new level at this shaft within a short time, and drift drifts to tap the ore bodies. At the Briggs shaft, on which there has been little activity for some time past, it is expected to commence extensive operations within a short time. At the junction the daily shipments to the smelter at Douglas are being steadily increased.

MINING NEWS

GREAT ACTIVITY AT BISBEE.

The general conditions throughout the district during the past week, reports the Bisbee Review, have indicated that the big production which was recorded during the month of May will be duplicated during June, if not exceeded, as all of the companies are showing slight increases in their shipments to the smelters at Douglas, and crowds of miners are arriving in the district every few days from various portions of the United States. Shipments to the two Charley smelters at Douglas are such that it is thought a new high record for production will be recorded by the Copper Queen and Calumet & Arizona companies during the present month, in spite of the fact that almost every year the output in the month of June shows a decrease because many miners leave the district for their vacation at this time of the year.

Old Dominion.

President James Douglas, who is on his regular tour of inspection of the Phelps Dodge properties in Arizona, is in Globe, reports a correspondent at that mining camp. Professor Douglas has been underground in the Old Dominion mine, inspecting the principal workings. The developments on the fourteenth level were of especial interest and Professor Douglas expressed his satisfaction with the showing of the sulphide ore bodies in Nos. 2 and 3 crosscuts, and with the condition of the mine on other levels. Professor Douglas states that the plans for the enlargement of the smelter and other new construction, warranted by recent developments, would be carried out as rapidly as practicable, and that it would require about a year for their completion. The fifth furnace to be erected at the smelter should go into commission early in July and the plans for still another furnace, a new and larger stack and an additional dust chamber. The professor spoke of the importance of C shaft, sunk for the purpose of draining the western portion of the mine, where some of the largest and best ore bodies have been located, but which is so wet that it cannot be operated to advantage until adequate facilities for handling the water have been provided. C shaft has been sunk to the ninth level and should be completed to the twelfth level some time next fall. The pumps to be installed on the tenth and twelfth levels of C shaft will have a combined capacity of 8,000,000 gallons in twenty-four hours, and will be not only the largest, but also the finest, pumping plant in Arizona. C shaft is now in commission before next January.

PARROT.

In view of the fact that the Parrot Mining company, the majority of whose 250,000 shares are in the treasury of the Amalgamated Copper company, issues no annual report to the stockholders, an unusual importance attaches to the statement filed annually for purposes of taxation with the city of Butte, comments the Boston News Bureau. The taxes are levied on the basis of net earnings, and so it frequently happens that improvement and construction charges of various kinds are made to the expense account whereby the net earnings are materially reduced. It so happens that these charges sometimes conceal the real earning capacity of the property. We do not know of any unusual construction charges, however, which would tend to reduce the net earnings of the Parrot company. These earnings for is 160 feet from the point where the ore body was encountered on the 1,000 level, and favorable developments are looked for at any time. Preparations are being made to sink this shaft to the 1,200 level, and the actual work will probably be commenced during the present week. Work on the railroad spur to the Denn is progressing rapidly, and it is expected that shipping to the smelter at Douglas can be commenced within the next week or ten days, as soon as the spur is completed the company will install a fuel oil plant. The tanks for the plant have already been ordered, three of 50,000 gallons capacity, and will be delivered within a short time.

WARREN SHAFT.

At the shaft on the Warren property the work of sinking it still in progress, and being attended with very favorable indications for the finding of an ore body when sufficient depth is attained. At the present time a force of fifteen men is engaged in the work, and the shaft has been sunk to a depth of 230 feet. For the past few days, the bottom of the shaft has been in live formation, and manganese has been encountered at several different depths. It is the intention to sink the shaft several hundred feet before any drifting is done.

Superior & Pittsburg.

During the past week shipments from the Cole shaft of the Superior & Pittsburg company have been doubled, showing the highest average of ore production from this portion of the property since it has been in operation. At the Houghton shaft sinking has been continued and is progressing rapidly. It is the intention of the management to open up a new level at this shaft within a short time, and drift drifts to tap the ore bodies. At the Briggs shaft, on which there has been little activity for some time past, it is expected to commence extensive operations within a short time. At the junction the daily shipments to the smelter at Douglas are being steadily increased.

ARIZONA GOSSIP.

The Santa Rosa mine, a property fifteen miles south of Douglas, has been taken over by a newly incorporated company known as the Caballona Development company, capitalized at $500,000-50,000 shares at $10 par. The deal was promoted by Thos. H. Collins, of Calumet, who is president of the company. Captain James Houston, vice president, and Captain Thomas Houston, secretary-treasurer, are also Calumet men. It is intended to work from fifty to 100 men on this promising property, pushing operations with vigor. Mr. Collins is a director of the San Simon Copper company of Paradise. The Lake Superior & Arizona Mining & Smelting company has its directorate office at Calumet. The mine office and superintendent's residence are at Florence, Pinal county, Ariz. The mines are located at Superior, which is eighteen miles northeast of Florence, the nearest accessible railroad point. The mines were up to 1855 worked profitably for gold. About $100,000 is spent on the property each year. The plans of the company include the building of a railroad from Florence to the mines, and the erection of a smelter at Florence, where there is an adequate water supply. It is the superintendent of the operations of this company that Fred W. Hear has recently accepted—Paradise (Ariz.) Record.

City Brevities

Today's weather: Generally fair weather. Yesterdays temperatures: Seven a. m., 75 degrees; 7 p. m., 84. Maximum, 91 degrees; minimum, 60.

George P. Delaney, of Crystal Falls, is visiting in the city.

Weather Observer Patrick reports that the wind attained a maximum velocity of fifty miles per hour, from the southwest, at 11:18 o'clock yesterday morning.

Miss Edith Russell, who has been teaching the Houghton kindergarten for the past year, arrived home last evening on the Juniata, to spend the summer vacation.

Mrs. S. K. Jameson, of Manistique, who has been the guest of friends here for two weeks past, has gone to Neenah for a short visit prior to returning home.

Henry Bohm was found insane by Drs. W. B. Lunn and F. Mc D. Harkin in probate court before Judge Potter Saturday morning and taken to the state asylum at Newberry by Sheriff Rough in the afternoon.

E. W. Maynard, operating engineer at the Marquette plant of the E. I. DuPont Powder company, left last evening for Wilmington, Del., where he will attend the annual meeting of the company's chemists and operating men. He will be absent for about two weeks.

John R. Van Evert arrived home yesterday morning for a two weeks' visit. He has been in the west the past few months in the interests of a syndicate of Lake Superior men who contemplate investments in Nevada mining propositions. Last year Mr. Van Evert represented the Begole Syndicate in Nevada.

Mrs. A. Mathews and Miss Frances Mathews arrived home from Chicago yesterday morning. Miss Mathews has been attending the University of Chicago the past five months. Eddy Mathews was a member of the class of 1907, the graduating exercises of which were held last week. He will be home early this week.

Sand Flies Numerous—Fishermen say that the sand flies this season are more numerous and savage than ever before. Several parties within the past few days have been literally driven away from the streams and compelled to abandon the sport because of assaults of the flies. Their bite appears to be much more venomous than that of the mosquito. The streams have now lowered to a point to make fishing excellent and good strings are being caught.

Results on Local Diamonds—The Eagles, of Ishpeming, defeated the Leaders, of Marquette, at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon by a score of 11 to 7 in a fast and interesting game. In spite of the fact that the weather was ideal there was a small attendance. The Marquette Juniors won from the Red Socks at the old fair grounds by the score of 13 to 7. On the same diamond the West Ends went down in defeat before the Rival Juniors by a score of 10 to 6.

Marquette to Get Convention—The state convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters will be held in this city, June 19th. Marquette was selected through the efforts of John Siegel, who represented the Marquette lodge at the recent state convention at Muskegon. Mr. Siegel was elected a delegate to the national convention at St. Paul in August. He returned home yesterday morning. His father, Henry Siegel, who accompanied him to Muskegon, will remain there for some time as the guest of his son, Edward, whom he has not visited in several years.

Will Talk of Maccabeesism—Judge Kendrick and Talbot Seneau, the former a member of the executive committee of the great camp of the Knights of the Modern Maccabees and the latter the great medical examiner of the order, will be in Marquette this evening to deliver addresses at Fraternity Hall concerning the benefits and objects of the society in which they are leaders. There are some hundreds of Maccabees in Marquette, and it is certain a large number of people will assemble tonight to listen to these distinguished fraternal orators. No admission will be charged, and the meeting will be open to the general public.

Many Children See Exhibit—The agent in charge of the Stanislaus, Cal., exhibition says that the exhibit has never visited a city where a larger proportion of the visitors were children. "Over half of our patronage so far has been derived from children under fifteen," he said yesterday. "What is more most of them seem to be more keen in acquiring information than deriving amusement. They want to know all about the various features of the exhibit and they conduct their examinations carefully and critically. This desire for knowledge on the part of the youngsters is certainly a high tribute to the Marquette public school system."

Salvationists Protest—Captain Corliss and his fellow members of the Marquette corps of the Salvation Army feel that injustice has been done them because of an apparent new policy adopted by the police department with respect to the open-air meetings conducted at the corner of Front and Washington streets. They complain that last evening persons who otherwise would have stopped to listen to the services were not permitted to do so, passers-by who were inclined to halt at that particular point being compelled to move on. The Salvation Army officers assert that there was no occasion for this activity for the reason that the sidewalk was not obstructed. They recognize that the police are within their rights when they keep the crowds moving in such manner that the passageway is not blocked, but in the order of things enforced last night they see an apparent tendency toward persecution, and they wish to register public protest. On the other land, the police report that there has been much complaint concerning the obstruction of the sidewalk at that particular corner. They deny any attempt at persecution, but say that it is imperative the passageway be kept clear, something which is hard to do once the crowds are permitted to congregate. They point out that the traffic is exceptionally heavy at this junction point of the two busiest thoroughfares in the city, and that a more inconvenient place for the open-air meetings, inconvenient for both sidewalk and street travel, could hardly be selected.

Warm Weather Is Best—"This is great weather for crushing rock," said C. E. Moore, engineer of the rock crusher, yesterday. "It's the funniest thing in the world, but a great many people have somehow become imbued with the idea that rock breaks up easier in cold weather and that the colder it is the easier the rock breaks. Nothing could be further from the truth. Rock that can be easily crushed in warm weather gives all kinds of trouble when the temperature is below the freezing point. Modern machinery will crush rock at all times of the year and under all kinds of weather conditions, but much more force must be utilized in cold weather than in warm."

New Electric Theater—J. H. Lawton, of Green Bay, Wis., who has a number of electric theaters in Wisconsin and the upper peninsula, will open one in the Greenwald block, Washington street, on or before July 1. The house will be known as the Grand Family theater, and will be in charge of S. C. Kops. Three shows will be given daily, with an entire change of bill every Wednesday and Saturday. The performances will consist of moving pictures and illustrated songs. Mr. Lawton intends to have the front of the building remodelled and will greatly improve the interior. Five cents will be charged for the matinees and ten for the evening performances.

Carkeek After Coveau—The claims of a number of copper country wrestlers to the Cornish wrestling championship have aroused the ire of Jack Carkeek, who once held the title, and who declares that if a champion tournament is held at Ishpeming or anywhere else in the upper peninsula he will be a factor. Jack, who returned from British Columbia but a few days ago, is now at Wausau, Wis. He is particularly anxious to get on with Charles Coveau the Ishpeming wrestler. Coveau, in the light of his recent challenges, should not be the issue. Carkeek is now a man of over fifty and cannot well possess either the strength, endurance or agility of his younger days. The Ishpeming wrestler would be handicapped by about fifteen pounds in weight, but all the other natural advantages of youth, speed and the power to acquire perfect condition, are his.

CELEBRATED FLAG DAY.

Daughters of the Revolution Did Honor to the National Emblem.

The Marquette chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution observed Flag Day by gathering at the residence of Mrs. E. O. Stafford to listen to an address on "The United States Flag," delivered by the Rev. Bates Bart.

Mr. Bart gave a most interesting history of the evolution of the national emblem, from the Cross of St. George, the first flag unfurled upon the continent, to the stars and stripes. He called attention to the fact that the United States flag antedates that of any European nation with the exception of Denmark, and he depicted the use of red, white and blue hunting for decorative purposes, rather than flag bunting.

At the close of Mr. Bart's remarks M. H. Maynard, a Son of the Revolution, described the sensations of an American abroad whenever he sees the star-spangled banner displayed, and gave amusing accounts of his own experiences in this connection. Miss Margaret Rogers recited "The Blue and the Gray," the poem the author of which was the father of the late B. Finch, formerly a resident of Marquette. Appropriate music was rendered and the program closed with the singing of "America" by all present, after which refreshments were served by the hostess.

In singing the national hymn an interesting feature was added when the guests of honor were provided with autograph copies of the hymn. One of the flags used in decoration contained only thirty-six stars and was first displayed at the time of the death of President Lincoln, when it was bordered with grape for the occasion.

The Stanislaus County Exhibit cars that have been exhibiting at the D. S. S. & A. depot have pleased a large number of people. MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Logan & Bryan of New York telegraphed as follows concerning Saturday's market in Wall street: "The closing day of the week was no improvement over the unsatisfactory way the list has been acting recently. Last Monday the list enjoyed a temporary rally, which for a time looked as though a better market might develop. It turned out, however, that the advance was caused by nothing more or less than a short interest. The news during the past week certainly ought to put some strength in the market, but crop news, etc., has been ignored completely. The closing today finds the bear element still in possession of the whip hand and with little prospect of them losing their grip soon. Quite true the bears have plenty of things on which to build their belief, but from the action of the list for the past few weeks it seems that news sufficient to build stocks must be of the strenuous order. We still advise sales on all bulges."

Chicago Grains. Closing prices at Chicago, Saturday, were as follows: September wheat, 92 1/4; September corn, 52 1/4; September oats, 30 1/4. Logan & Bryan said of the wheat market: "The wheat market closes weak, with the trade somewhat in doubt as to whether a permanent turning point has been reached or not. Certainly there was no good trading market today, and buyers had much the best of it after the first few minutes. On fine weather and lower cables there was a further drive at prices on the first trades. Possibly some stop loss orders were executed on the early break, which was much the sharpest in July. Certainly there was a good trading market for the entire session, and there is a more optimistic feeling at the close. At lowest prices today the advance in wheat which followed the May report was practically wiped out, and many of the leaders in the local trade feel that liquidation has been thorough enough to put the market on a much better basis for buyers. Two good authorities in the southwest view that the talk about improvement in the winter wheat crop is all nonsense. Other reports said that the improvement that has taken place in the counties where little wheat is raised. In this view the Solomon valley will yield five to seven bushels per acre, instead of twenty-five to thirty bushels. There was a report of the first hot winds of the year in Kansas. A report from the northern part of North Dakota says that wheat is barely up in some fields, and is very uneven and the promise is poor. New York reported that foreigners were buying wheat there. There was a rumor of large export business, which was not confirmed up to the close. A prominent bear leader was active on the buying side, covering an important line. The bear forces appeared to regard the market as a dangerous one to sell short at this level. We think the improved weather and crop prospects are discounted by the break, and that the market is in shape to respond to bull news from the early harvests."

Boston Stock Quotations. Paine, Webber & Co. wired regarding Saturday's market as follows: "The same old story; tired holders getting out and very few buyers in the market. Amalgamated is being sold all

CHURCH REACHES 50TH ANNIVERSARY

PRESBYTERIAN CONGREGATION ONE OF EARLIEST STARTED IN MARQUETTE.

ORGANIZED JUNE 15, 1857

Sunday School Work Taken up the Following Year—First Church Building Erected in January, 1860.

The Marquette Presbyterian church was fifty years of age yesterday. The anniversary will be properly observed tonight at a social in the church parlors. There is no set program. The event will be in the nature of a reunion of present and former members. There will be a number of musical selections, and pioneers of the congregation will give reminiscences of the early days. In the sermon at the morning service yesterday the Rev. J. M. Rogers reviewed the history of the church.

The first meeting to discuss the organization of a Presbyterian society was held at the home of Amos R. Harlow, October 14, 1855. At that time Marquette was in its infancy. The primeval forest in its vicinity was hardly touched, and the services were generally held by itinerant clergymen who conducted them either at private residences or in school houses. The meeting held at Mr. Harlow's residence resulted in the calling of another meeting for November 6 of the same year, at which Amos R. Harlow, Morgan L. Hewitt, Charles T. Harvey, Patrick J. Bisset and Charles S. Cushing were elected trustees. Subsequently arrangements were made for a canvass for subscriptions for the purchase of a site and the erection of a church building. The corner of Baraga avenue and Fourth street, now occupied by the Baraga school, was secured for a location. No other meetings of which there are any records were held until June 16, 1857, when a meeting was held at the M. E. church and the formal organization of the congregation perfected. Amos R. Harlow, Charles T. Harvey and George P. Cummings were elected elders.

First Clergyman Secured. The Rev. J. A. Woodruff was the temporary supply clergyman, preaching on alternate half-days at the Methodist church which had been offered by its congregation for the purpose. The Rev. C. B. Stevens, the first regularly employed stated supply, was called to the pulpit November 6, 1858, services being held in the court house. A Sunday school was organized Sunday, December 13, 1858. In August, 1859, an exchange of property was made through which the church secured the lot on the corner of Washington and Third streets, and preparations were begun for the erection of a church. The first services were held in the new church, January 8, 1860. Mr. Stevens preached from the text "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord." The Sunday school was reorganized and a communion service held in the afternoon. Services were held in this building until the fall of 1865, when the present church building was erected.

Served Church for Years. Among the pastors who served the church long and faithfully was the Rev. D. Stuart Banks, who filled the pulpit from 1872 to 1882. He was ordained in 1863 by the Presbytery of Huntington and served churches at Altoona and Easton, Pa., before coming here. His pastorate was a time of prosperity for the church and was fruitful of good works. Deep regret was felt upon his resignation. After filling a three years' pastorate at Appleton he became a missionary in Northern Wisconsin and the upper peninsula. He died a few years ago at Santa Cruz, Cal., where he had gone to recuperate his failing mind.

The Rev. J. E. Bonar was pastor from 1894 to 1899, a period of ten years. He was born in Scotland and ordained to the ministry in 1857 by the Presbytery of New York city. He was pastor of the American Presbyterian church of Montreal, Canada, from 1857 to 1859, and of the Congregational church of Milford, Conn., from 1870 to 1883. He died here in the following year. SUDDEN SHIFT IN TEMPERATURE.

Clouds Dissolve and Sun Shines With the Energy of August.

Sunday came in like a polar bear and went out like a salamander. Within a period of three hours the thermometer rose over twenty degrees. From early morning until 11 o'clock the skies were lowering and the atmosphere was heavy with moisture. It looked as though the heavens might open at any moment and let out a deluge, while hail was not in the line of the unexpected. The wind rose and swept the streets with an energy that threatened many awnings, flinging the dust about in clouds. Then, as suddenly as it had risen, the wind subsided, the sun broke through the clouds and the temperature rose until it registered ninety degrees in the shade. It was the most startling change in temperature that has been experienced here in some time.

Washington Asks Great Lakes Be Given Another Training Ship.

Washington, June 16.—Inquiry has been made by the state department of the British government as to whether there is any objection to the stationing of another training ship on the great lakes. The number of war vessels of either nation to be stationed on the lakes is limited by treaty.

FORMING A POOL

I am forming a pool for the purpose of investment. One can put in any amount up to $300, the smallest amount is $25. I am to use my own judgment to invest, and as I never lose any investor's money, I guarantee not to lose the money you pay me. But any time after November you are at liberty to draw out your money, also profits. Dividends will be paid in the meantime. I will probably make about five hundred per cent for you. Last year I organized two pools and some of the members made as high as six hundred per cent. Remember I give you a written guarantee that you shall NOT LOSE your money, but to pay it back with all profits. This is nothing new for me to guarantee a party's money, I have been doing it for ten years when I am sure of the investment and no party has ever lost to me. All I want is the commission and your good will. Women can come to my office at 3 o'clock p. m. or at my residence at 8 o'clock evenings. Outside parties can send express or postoffice money orders.

CHURCH REACHES 50TH ANNIVERSARY

PRESBYTERIAN CONGREGATION ONE OF EARLIEST STARTED IN MARQUETTE.

ORGANIZED JUNE 15, 1857

Sunday School Work Taken up the Following Year—First Church Building Erected in January, 1860.

The Marquette Presbyterian church was fifty years of age yesterday. The anniversary will be properly observed tonight at a social in the church parlors. There is no set program. The event will be in the nature of a reunion of present and former members. There will be a number of musical selections, and pioneers of the congregation will give reminiscences of the early days. In the sermon at the morning service yesterday the Rev. J. M. Rogers reviewed the history of the church.

The first meeting to discuss the organization of a Presbyterian society was held at the home of Amos R. Harlow, October 14, 1855. At that time Marquette was in its infancy. The primeval forest in its vicinity was hardly touched, and the services were generally held by itinerant clergymen who conducted them either at private residences or in school houses. The meeting held at Mr. Harlow's residence resulted in the calling of another meeting for November 6 of the same year, at which Amos R. Harlow, Morgan L. Hewitt, Charles T. Harvey, Patrick J. Bisset and Charles S. Cushing were elected trustees. Subsequently arrangements were made for a canvass for subscriptions for the purchase of a site and the erection of a church building. The corner of Baraga avenue and Fourth street, now occupied by the Baraga school, was secured for a location. No other meetings of which there are any records were held until June 16, 1857, when a meeting was held at the M. E. church and the formal organization of the congregation perfected. Amos R. Harlow, Charles T. Harvey and George P. Cummings were elected elders.

First Clergyman Secured.

The Rev. J. A. Woodruff was the temporary supply clergyman, preaching on alternate half-days at the Methodist church which had been offered by its congregation for the purpose. The Rev. C. B. TWO FATALITIES.
FORMER MARQUETTE COUNTY MEN MEET TRAGIC DEATHS.

Mart McNulty Is Drowned in a Small Lake at Virginia, Minn., and John Cooney Is the Victim of an Accident at Coleraine.

A shocking accident culminating in the demise of a former Marquette young man, occurred near Virginia, Minn., yesterday when Mart McNulty met an untimely death in the waters of a small lake. The circumstances of the tragedy are not known to the bereaved relatives here, the brief message received conveying only the sad news that the young man had been drowned. It is supposed the fatality resulted from a boating accident.

Mr. McNulty was born and reared at Marquette, and prior to his departure for Duluth to locate, some seven or eight years ago, he had been employed at Goulding & Grimes's and other stores. When John C. Greenway was transferred from Ishpeming to Bovey to open the new mines of the Oliver Iron Mining company at the western end of the Mesaba range, Mr. McNulty went from Duluth to Coleraine to take a position in the office of the Steel corporation's big subsidiary concern there. He remained on the western Mesaba until a few months ago, when he accepted a position as bookkeeper for the Republic Iron & Steel company at its Franklin mine at Virginia. He was so employed at the time of the tragic event of yesterday.

There are left to mourn the passing of the young man the following near relatives: Thomas McNulty, of Duluth; Lee, of Hibbing, John and Raymond, of Detroit; Peter, of New York; Mrs. Charles T. Heimstreet, of Detroit; and Mrs. E. J. Butler and the Misses Elizabeth and Agnes McNulty, of Ishpeming. Thomas McNulty left Duluth last evening for Virginia, and will bring the body to Marquette, arriving there probably Tuesday morning, in which event the funeral will take place in that city on Wednesday.

Death of John Cooney.

There also was received in Ishpeming last evening brief announcement of the death by violence of John Cooney, a well-known and popular young man who left here only two weeks ago for the western Mesaba, where so many Marquette county men had preceded him. The demise of Mr. Cooney was due to an accident, met with at Coleraine, but of what nature was the fatality was not stated in the brief telegraphic advice to the relatives here.

The young man was aged about twenty-four. He was born and reared in this city, and for some time prior to his departure for Minnesota he had been in the employ of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company at its diamond drill operations in the Soudan. His parents live here, as do the three brothers and one sister. It is expected that the remains will be received here Wednesday morning.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM.

Final Entertainment of Commencement Exercises Attended by Full House.

The last of the series of five entertainments in connection with the graduating exercises of the Ishpeming high school attracted a large audience to the Ishpeming theater Friday evening. The program was one of the best of the series. It lasted about an hour longer than usual, it being 11:45 when the reception to the graduates, following its conclusion, was completed.

The program opened with invocation by Rev. C. D. Atwell. This was followed by an oration on the "Jew" by Alger Peterson. "The Panama Canal" was treated by Carl Holmgren. Mortal Adams, who was unable to give his oration on the "Congo" the previous evening on account of a sore throat, spoke Friday evening. The other orations were: "Jamestown" by Clara Kjesboe; "Fort Arthur" by Ross Kiefer; "Santiago" by Rhoda Kahen; "Santiago" by Walter Covian; "The Problem of the South" by Alice Shaver; "Theodore Roosevelt" by Roy Trehaeck and the valedictory by Svend Kroghdahl, president of the class. The diplomas were presented by Superintendent E. E. Schlander.

The musical numbers by the boys' and girls' glee clubs were enthusiastically received. The girls' club sang "Carolina" and the boys the "Sword of Farrara," and both sang an operatic selection, "The March of the Foresters." The boys' club was forced to respond to three encores following its rendition of the "Sword of Farrara."

DECORATED GRAVES.

The members of the Swedish Home society conducted memorial exercises at the cemetery and decorated the graves of departed members of the organization yesterday afternoon. There was a fine turnout. The procession to and from the burial grounds was headed by the Ishpeming Light Guard band. At the cemetery the services were conducted by Rev. O. W. Carlson, pastor of the Swedish Methodist church. At the conclusion of the services the band played "Nearer My God to Thee." The graves decorated were those of Charles Engman, Charles Person, John Johnson, Peter J. Olman, C. Carlson, Gust Sodergren, Charles Blomquist, John Erickson, A. P. Holmgren, August Carlson, Carl A. Olson, Sven Peterson, John Smith, Lars Olson, August Nicklasson, August Wallenstrom, Soft Strand, Leonard Sundblad, P. F. Kollerer, John Anderson, Erick Monson, Charles Strand, John Dahlstrom, Gust Carlson and Andrew Sundblad.

WILL ATTEND WEDDING.

A party of Ishpeming people, composed of Mrs. J. E. Lindholm, Rudolph Erickson and Misses Anna Lacey, Engborg, Braastad, Anna, Ruth and Laura Ellis, left last night by boat for Sault Ste. Marie, where on Wednesday they will attend the Farm-McKinnis wedding, which is to take place at noon at the Presbyterian church. Miss Laura Ellis, who has taught school at Bessener the past year, arrived here Saturday. Most of the members of the party will remain at the Soo a week or so.

IRON ORES MUST TALK.

The manager of the "Barren Beavers" baseball team on Saturday handed in the following for publication: "The Barren Beavers were going to have a game with the Iron Ores today, but the Iron Ores were afraid to play so the game was called off, the scores being five to nothing in favor of the Barren Beavers. The Beavers team is as follows: George Hill, catcher; Albert Oren, pitcher; Paul Mackl, first base; Daniel Murray, second base; John Bird, short stop; Axel Janner, third base; Raymond Nolan, left field; Rudolph Beeth, center field; William McNeil, right field. The Beavers will play any team in the county of their age, twelve to fifteen years."

WILL OPEN SATURDAY.

The Grand theater, which has been closed since a week ago last Saturday, will be reopened next Saturday. The loss by fire has been adjusted and Mr. Lawton left Saturday evening for Chicago to secure a new machine and fixtures. The room will be in possession of the proprietors all this week. On Saturday Mr. Lawton secured a lease of the Greenwald block on Washington street, Marquette, and will start immediately to put the place in condition for a moving picture illustrated song theater. He expects to move there here ready for opening by July 1, and his brother-in-law, C. Kops, of Milwaukee, will manage it.

CURED HEMORRAGES OF THE LUNGS.

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood In. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bell. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. The Stafford Drug Co.

"THELMA" TONIGHT.

Romantic Play, Dramatized from Popular Novel, at Ishpeming Theater.

The production of "Thelma" by Willis Goddard's New York company at Ishpeming theater tonight will surpass any previous presentation of the drama ever seen here, as the company carries its own scenery and the cast is strong. Miss Carolyn McLean is spoken of by the critics as being exceptionally capable, as well as very attractive in appearance. The Buffalo Courier said of Miss McLean and other members of the company: "If there is an actress capable of showing one side of woman's capricious nature, Carolyn McLean can show a hundred, which she does admirably. At times sad, joyful, coquettish, whimsical, alarmed, flighty and bantering, up and down the whole gamut of human emotions, she has made the most of the name part in Willis Maxwell Goddard's dramatization of Marie Corelli's powerful novel, Thelma. Miss McLean has first act as the innocent village maiden, until her final appearance at her father's house, where she thinks she is a wronged wife. Her pleasing personality is always present. Miss McLean's youth and beauty are a great factor in her professional success. There are many good characters, all placed in most competent hands, including Greville, James, Chas. Kellner, Ferdinand B. Ashby, Jay Crawford, Robert Watt, Elizabeth Brewer, Elenor Pierce, Mary LeVere and others."

FROM HOPKINS' CURB LETTER.

Boston and curb stocks were stagnant today, the general list being featureless, the volume of business being the smallest in many months. The general feeling is that dullness will continue until after July first disbursements. A letter dated May 30th, from Superior, Idaho, says: "I have struck the ore in the 1-300 foot raise in tunnel 8; average sample taken today 3 feet wide assays $1150; the broad of same style in ore; expect it to be 15 to 20 feet wide." Bakakala is putting on 200 additional men at the mines. Butte & London is down 1000 feet. A station has just been finished, and a pump installed and sinking will be resumed."

"THELMA" TOMORROW NIGHT.

"Thelma" will be produced at McDonald's opera house tomorrow evening. The story of the play, written by Marie Correll, is well known to the reading public, and the attraction will doubtless be well patronized. The Philadelphia Enquirer, in expressing its opinion of the performance of Miss Carolyn McLean, the leading lady, said: "Miss McLean read her lines with a spirit and finish that pleased yet impressed her audience with the charm and strength of 'Thelma.' Never has this delightful play been presented in a more artistic manner in this city." Popular prices, from twenty-five to seventy-five cents, will be charged.

DID A RUSHING BUSINESS.

The closing out of John Shea's stock of general merchandise started with a rush Saturday morning. The doors were not opened until 8 o'clock, by which time a large crowd had congregated on the sidewalk. Several additional clerks had been engaged, but the rush became so great before the day was over that several more were pressed into service. The price has been reduced from 33 to 50 per cent on every article in the store, and a large share of the goods are absolutely new and up-to-date.

"NOT READY YET TO GOVERN."

Taft TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN THE PHILIPPINES.

New Assembly Will Probably Demand Independence—This Cannot Be Granted—Education Toward Self-Rule, However, Is Progressing.

Washington, June 16.—Secretary of War William H. Taft is going to the Philippine islands in September to inaugurate the new national assembly of natives that is to be elected on July 30. It is expected that a majority of the members will at once declare for immediate independence, which will be denied by the United States government. The mission of Mr. Taft is to pacify the fiery radicals and persuade them to delay their demands toward political independence by gradual steps. There is another phase of the Philippine problem that needs watching. That is the danger of Japan taking the islands at some future time, either by force or negotiation. In connection with these questions Mr. Taft said:

"There need be no fear about the future possession of the Philippines. Japan does not want them. For a long time to come her attention will be centered in the North. Korea and Manchuria and the development of China will absorb her. A few years ago there was some immigration of Japanese into the islands, but now it has ceased. The new comers evidently found nothing to their liking. There is harmonious understanding between the governments of the United States and Japan. Our conferences have had most happy results, and there is not the slightest danger that the peace of the far East or the possession of the Philippines will be disturbed."

"I have great faith in the future of the Philippines," said Mr. Taft. "Give them the benefits of our tariff, give them the same preferential treatment as Porto Rico enjoys, and they will develop rapidly. There is no question about their resources and their possibilities. I am going out there in the early autumn. The first National assembly will be elected on July 30. I expect that most of the members will demand independence, so they may set up a government of their own. But it is the policy of this government to go more gradually, granting additional privileges and political liberties only as the people demonstrate themselves capable of receiving them. We believe that to turn the islands over to a government of natives at present, without check or restraint, would not be best for the people themselves. There would be too great danger of excesses and chaos. The Filipinos are a susceptible and easily influenced people. A man of some education and spirit can quickly stir up a village or a district and lead it into revolt. I regret that our army cannot be withdrawn yet. It still is necessary to keep a considerable force there—12,000 men at present—to insure peace and security."

"This new national assembly is but the beginning of representative national government. The members, seventy in number, are to be elected by the qualified voters of the Christian provinces. They will have the right of debate, of proposing and passing laws. But there still remains above them the Philippine commission, appointed by the president, which retains the right of veto over any of the assembly's acts. The commission consisting of five American and three native members, constitutes practically an upper house.

"We have been giving the Filipinos more and more freedom each year, and will continue to enlarge his powers of self-government as fast as he learns restraint and conservatism. In provincial government the governing boards formerly consisted of two appointed Americans and one elected native. Now there are two elective members and only one appointed member, the treasurer. How far the Filipinos may go toward complete self-government, or even absolute independence, will depend entirely on themselves and the manner in which they carry out each additional measure of government is a matter that the people must determine entirely by their own actions. A great deal will depend on the character of the men chosen in this first assembly election. I hope there will be many possessed of wisdom, moderation and conservatism."

"It is possible that the Philippines may become a free and independent nation. Yet should the time and opportunity come, I doubt whether the people would desire to cut adrift from this country. They probably would find it far more to their prosperity, their happiness and their well-being to remain attached to the United States, with our markets open to them, with the advantages of protection, of support, of backing that a great nation can give to a smaller one. Porto Rico thrives under American rule and is happy. Cuba voluntarily again has sought our assistance."

DR. HALL'S VIEW OF ORCHARD.

President of Clark Says Prisoner—Witness Was "Born Short."

Worcester, Mass., June 14.—Harry Orchard, the self-accused murderer in the Boise Idaho trial, was "born short," according to Dr. G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University. President Hall says Orchard is a born criminal whose fiendish instincts have been nourished by the evil influences of a madness for money on the mining frontier, rather than a product of social conditions of the present time. When asked today what conditions in the present-day social environment could be responsible for such a character, Dr. Hall said: "I think any criminologist would pronounce Harry Orchard a congenital criminal. If there is anything in our civilization that can produce such a type of man as Orchard appears to be, it is a very grave impingement of our institutions. Therefore there is a certain satisfaction in feeling the conviction that he is a congenital moral perversity. One could not help losing faith in the innate goodness of human nature to believe that at least Orchard, assuming that he tells the truth, is a product of his environment, and we therefore almost have to hope he was 'born short morally.'"

TWO MEN MEET TRAGIC DEATH

CON MURPHY KILLED ON RAILROAD AND ANTON HONTELLA IS STRUCK BY STREET CAR.

Murphy Dies Instantly While Hontella Passed Away at St. Luke's Hospital After a Twelve Hours Fight.

Cornelius Murphy, aged forty-one years, a freight conductor on the South Shore, was killed at Sand River Saturday afternoon about 2:45 o'clock. Murphy's death was a particularly tragic one. He was in charge of a west bound freight loaded with lumber and was just pulling out of Sand River, where he had stopped for orders. Murphy had caught one of the rear cars and started to climb it when he was struck by the arm of a mail crane which had been swung out to receive the bag from the east bound passenger. There was a slight abrasion of the temple which would seem to indicate that the man was caught about two inches above the right eye. The force of the blow threw him between the cars, and one of them passed over him severing his legs, a short distance above the knees, as clearly as though they had been cut with a cleaver. Employees of the road who picked him up say that he said nothing, which would appear to indicate that the blow from the crane had rendered him unconscious. As there was no evidence of a fracture of the skull death undoubtedly resulted from loss of blood.

Murphy had been in the employ of the road for about sixteen years and was popular with all who knew him. For the past four years he had boarded at the Brunswick Hotel on Spring street. On the morning of the day of the accident Murphy was in particularly good spirits, and stated to several acquaintances at the hotel that he was tired of railroad work and did not believe that he should continue at it very long. He was a man of good habits and enjoyed the entire confidence of his employers. A brother-in-law at Janesville, Wis., has been notified and is expected to arrive today. There will be no inquest.

Killed By Street Car.

Anton Hontella, aged forty-five, a resident of Dead River, was struck by a north bound street car near the furnace, Saturday evening about 6:35 o'clock and died from the effects of his injuries at St. Luke's hospital yesterday morning at 7.

Hontella, according to the statements of Motorman F. Sorenson, which are borne out by other witnesses of the accident, was walking on the curb near the track until the car was but a short distance away. The man gave no evidence of intoxication and the motorman had no apprehension of an accident as Hontella was far enough from the car to allow it to clear him in safety if he did not swerve in his course. Suddenly while the car was not six feet away Hontella lurched over toward the track. Sorenson threw off the current and reversed his car but too late to avoid striking the man. Just in the moment of collision Hontella appears to have fallen and the headlight of the car caught him in the head. The body was thrown several feet and the car was stopped before it passed over it.

Eye witnesses of the accident state that Motorman Sorenson was in no way responsible for the tragedy. Hontella, it is alleged, was walking at least six feet from the edge of the rails until the car was within a few rods of him. Then he lurched toward the car with a speed that rendered a collision inevitable.

Hontella was taken to St. Luke's hospital where he was found to be suffering from concussion of the brain. He died yesterday morning at 7 o'clock.

Drowned on the Mesaba.

News was received here last night of the drowning in a small lake near Virginius Minn., yesterday, of Martin McNulty, a former Marquette young man. No details of the accident accompanied the brief message announcing the fact of the tragedy, but it is supposed the fatality resulted from a boating accident. Mr. McNulty was born in Marquette and lived here the greater part of his life. He left for Minnesota seven or eight years ago.

GOOD PROGRAM IN PROSPECT.

Committee Completes Arrangements for Fourth of July Shows.

The Fourth of July committee on arrangements has closed contracts for its street shows, securing much better attractions than have ever been witnessed here before without an admission fee being charged. Sampson and Zaehco, one of the strongest teams of acrobats in the world, head the list. One of Mlle. Zaehco's feats is to lift a piano and play by her teeth. She also lifts a horse in the same manner. Sampson and Zaehco come here directly from Chicago, where they are now showing in the vaudeville houses. Edward Lazelle, who recently gained no little fame by duplicating Blondin's feat of walking across Niagara falls on a tight rope, will do a slackwire and juggling act. Mr. Lazelle is now with the H. Henry minstrels, who close their season in a few days. Dyer, McGuire and Hickey, highly recommended comedy acrobats, complete the program. In addition to the free shows there will be various contests of strength and skill for which prizes will be offered.

"THELMA" WEDNESDAY EVENING.

Dramatic Version of Marie Corelli's Novel a Big Hit.

No lover of one of the best novels written in the last ten years, Marie Corelli's "Thelma", can afford to miss the dramatic version by Willis Maxwell Goodhue, which is to be the attraction at the Marquette opera house, Wednesday evening. Everybody has read "Thelma", and everybody remembers the tale of the daughter of the old Norse Viking, who was wooed and won by the sturdy son of Britain, and of the old Bonde, her father, who carried into the present time the mysteries of the Sagas, and who worshipped at the shrine of Odin and Thor; of the sturdy young Englishman, Sir Philip Errington, who was not content until he carried away to his home beyond the seas the lily of the Fjords of Norseland, of his staunch comrade, George Lorimer, whose love for his friend's sweetheart did not make him false to his chum; of that strange combination of heroism and malice, the dwarf, Sigurd, of the malicious old hag, Lovisa Elsbard; the pretty little foster sister of Thelma, Britta, and the other well known characters of the Corelli masterpiece. They are all brought to animated, pulsing life in Mr. Goodhue's extremely virile dramatic version of "Thelma", which is being presented this season by Miss Carolyne McLean, and her extremely talented company.

QUEER FEATURES OF POSTAL LAWS

Letters Without Any Postage Will Be Sent Abroad.

"You have got to put some kind of postage on first class mail matter sent to any point in this country in order to have it delivered," said Postmaster Mangum yesterday, "but you can send all the letters you want to European countries without expending a cent. Incidentally I might mention that the same condition prevails in other countries. That is why E. J. Sink had to pay ten cents to secure possession of the letter sent him by the bunko man over in Spain. The postage would have amounted to only five cents had it been paid by the sender, but the fellow who sent it out was the kind that likes to toss pennies with a double-headed cent, and wasn't taking any risks. Americans are prone to overlook the fact that in Europe excess postage is called for on every letter weighing over a half ounce, while here the weight is an ounce. Consequently they put a five-cent stamp on a letter that needs a ten and the receiver has to pay the balance."
