

CZAR NICHOLAS IS ATTACKED

Charging the Emperor With Violating His Solemn Promise, Russian Revolutionists Call for a New Struggle for Freedom.

Parliament Dissolved, It Is Proclaimed, Because the Government Needs an Obedient Duma Which Will Support the Interests of the Aristocrats, the People Are Summoned to Rise in Their Might and Take by Force the Liberties Now Denied Them.

St. Petersburg, June 24.—The Social Revolutionists and Group of Toil members of the late parliament today issued anticipated manifestos summoning the people to continue by force the struggle for land, liberty and popular representation.

The documents, which proclaim that the parliament perished for defending the people's rights, are remarkable for the fact that the emperor is for the first time attacked by name for breach of faith, the revolutionary proclamations having hitherto attributed all sins to the government on account of the lingering sentiment of loyalty to the emperor among the peasant masses.

Czar Traitor to the People.

"The emperor did not hesitate before a violation of his manifesto of October 30, giving the fundamental law, and his solemn promise given at the winter palace to the deputies of the first duma, to defend the liberties granted the people. He announced before the whole people that the election law would only be modified with the assent of the duma, and now without the permission of parliament the people's rights are trampled upon and the government, relying on bayonets, openly pursues a course of forcible violation of the law.

"The new election law limits the franchise of peasants and workmen and increases that of the land owners and merchants. The representation of Siberia, the Caucasus and Poland is decreased and some parts of the country are entirely disfranchised, and the minister for the interior and the governors are given great powers to manipulate elections. The third duma will not include defenders of the interests of the proletariat.

Appeal Made to Force.

"Citizens: After a long struggle, in which innumerable victims fell, the people forced the government to convolve the duma. When you elected us, and sent us to struggle for land and freedom we did not conceal from you that if the duma was not supported by the people it would be powerless. The government will yield only to force. Only through a steady, organized struggle will the people conquer their rights."

LATIN AMERICANS UNEASY.

Fear Drago Doctrine Will Suffer at Hands of Peace Conference.

The Hague, June 24.—The American delegation to the peace conference has not yet given out the definite draft of its proposition for the collection of contractual debts. This is causing some uneasiness among the South American countries, especially after the publication of the Drago doctrine in April, 1905, of its original character, thereby destroying the purpose for which it was intended, a protection against illicit European interference. General Porter, on the other hand, appears satisfied with the work accomplished and is confident of the support of European and South American countries in this matter.

Private Property at Sea.

The American proposition relating to the private property of belligerents at sea, presented this afternoon by Joseph H. Choate, established that this is in violation with the exception of contraband, but "inviolable" does not extend to private property trying to run blockade.

The third committee of the peace conference met this morning behind closed doors. The third committee has been divided into two sub-committees. The program of the first sub-committee includes the question of the bombardment of harbors, etc., laying mines and obstructions, and the adoption of the Red Cross in warfare at sea. Dr. Hagerup (Norway) is president of the first sub-committee. The second sub-committee will discuss the treatment of belligerent ships in neutral harbors. Count Tornelli is president.

Queen to Receive the Delegates.

Queen Wilhelmina arrived here privately today. She will remain two days and will receive the delegates to the peace conference at the royal villa, situated one and a half miles from The Hague.

At least two other victims are beyond hope of recovery. Of the sixty-five Italian workmen on the train, only a few escaped unharmed, the list of injured being about forty.

COLONEL COLT WITHDRAWS.

Rubber Magnate Abandons Senatorial Contest in Rhode Island.

Providence, R. I., June 24.—Colonel Samuel Pomeroy Colt, president of the United States Rubber company and a candidate last winter for the United States senate, has notified the Republican state central committee that he had withdrawn unconditionally from the senatorial contest.

At the legislative session just ended there was an unbroken deadlock over the senatorship. George Peabody Wetmore of Newport and Colonel Colt, who is a resident of Bristol, belong to the Republican contestants, while Colonel Robert H. L. Goddard of Providence was the Democratic candidate. Eighty-one ballots were taken without any decision. Colonel Colt's decision not to again be a candidate for senatorial honors came in a letter which was read by Colonel Harold J. Gross, chairman of the Republican state central committee. The announcement came as a great surprise to everyone, as it had been no intimation whatever that Colonel Colt would not continue in the contest. Ill health fear of disrupting the Republican party and a regard for the wishes of his business associates are the reasons for Colonel Colt's withdrawal, according to the letter.

ASK PRESIDENT TO ORDER PROBE

Alleging a Conspiracy of the Telegraph Companies in Restraint of Trade, Labor Unions Request an Investigation.

President Small of the Operators' Union Also Proposes the Government Intervene in an Effort to Settle the San Francisco Strike—Companies Meanwhile Stand Firm, and a Big Bonus Is Authorized Paid the Men Still at Their Keys.

Washington, June 24.—The Central labor union of Washington tonight sent a telegram to President Roosevelt, requesting that he institute an investigation to determine if the telegraph companies have entered into a conspiracy in restraint of trade, in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. At the request of the American Federation of Labor, similar action, it is said, will be taken by all the leading labor organizations of the United States.

Proposes Government Intervention.

Oakland, Cal., June 24.—President Small of the Telegraphers' union, announced this afternoon that he would ask the aid of the United States government in the settlement of the strike. He said that he would appeal to President Roosevelt and the members of the cabinet to intercede on the ground that the transaction of business of national importance is being interfered with because of the strike. Small asserts that when intervention is made by the president and the cabinet, the telegraph companies will be forced to accept the terms of the strike. Small says that he is in no wise to blame for the strike.

Big Bonus for Workers.

A telegram was received today by General Superintendent Stone, of the Postal company, in San Francisco, from President Mackay of that company. It is in substance as follows: "While deeply regretting the situation, I feel that our men, in abandoning their positions, were unmindful and heedless of their duty to the public and the company and were guilty of unwarranted action. We shall take a firm stand in dealing with the situation and are determined to win regardless of cost. With this in view I hereby approve and confirm the instructions given you by the general manager, and in addition thereto you are authorized to say to our loyal men who stand by us in this emergency: 'All operators will be paid their regular salary as bonus, and their service will be computed as extra on the basis of seven hours, day or night.' Should you deem it wise, you may also furnish free meals and lodging until the return of normal conditions."

New York Operators Ask Reinstatement.

New York, June 24.—The nine telegraphers who claim that they were dismissed by the Western Union because of their affiliation with the union, and whose demand for reinstatement figured in the recent trouble between the company and the telegraphers, have not been reinstated. They went to the company's office in a body today and applied for their old positions, calling attention to the letter written by President Clowry to Commissioner of Labor Neil a few days ago. In this letter Mr. Clowry said that any operator who had been discharged for no other reason than membership in the union would be given his own position.

Upon returning to the union headquarters the operators reported that they were told at the Western Union office that in view of the strike order in San Francisco the company does not feel itself bound by the statements in Mr. Clowry's letter to Commissioner Neil. General Manager Barclay of the Western Union, however, said that this was not the case. He said that the applicants for reinstatement were informed that their cases would be taken up individually and given consideration.

Clemenceau, to continue the movement calmly and peacefully until full satisfaction had been attained.

In broad description, it is to be a denial of every material count in the testimony of Harry Orchard, with the showing that Orchard killed Steunenberg because of a private grudge borne by loss of a rich share in the Hercules mine and explanations of the independent circumstances that tend to connect the three co-defendants with Orchard's life and operations.

CALLS THE MEASURE VICIOUS AND UNFAIR

NEW YORK'S ACTING MAYOR VETOES THE SUPPLEMENTARY RECOUNT BILL.

New York, June 24.—Acting Mayor McQuinn vetoed the supplementary recount bill today. He states that he believes this bill like the original one which he vetoed, to be unconstitutional, vicious and unfair. It does not provide for a full count of all the votes cast, and under it, he says, at least 100,000 separate ballots would have to be passed upon by the lower courts and by the appellate division before they could be counted, delaying the courts and requiring years of labor and expense to the city and to the present mayor, who would be called upon to employ an army of lawyers to look after his interests. The bill now goes back to the legislature, which will be asked to pass it over the veto.

ORCHARD'S STORY DENIED IN TOTO

Haywood Attorneys, Outlining the Defense, Announce Through Darrow They Will Prove the Tale a Tissue of Falsehoods.

Boise, Idaho, June 24.—Clarence Darrow of Chicago, today outlined to the jury the defense of Van D. Haywood to the charge he had murdered former Governor Frank Steunenberg. In broad description, it is to be a denial of every material count in the testimony of Harry Orchard, with the showing that Orchard killed Steunenberg because of a private grudge borne by loss of a rich share in the Hercules mine and explanations of the independent circumstances that tend to connect the three co-defendants with Orchard's life and operations.

Haywood will take the stand to make personal denial of Orchard's accusation. Darrow will be called to testify solely to events and circumstances affecting the Western Federation of Miners, but Pettibone will not be a witness in this case. Mr. Darrow denied the existence of the conspiracy to murder alleged by the state, with Orchard's testimony as the basis, and he denied that the federation was anything but an earnest fighting labor organization, with higher wages, shorter hours, tolerable working conditions and the care and safety and education of its members and their wives and children as its high and only motives. He denied the intimacy with the three co-defendants that Orchard claimed; he denied the several confessions and conversations which Orchard testified that Orchard had even committed many of the crimes of which he had boasted, and he promised to back up his contentions with the testimony of many of the men named by Orchard when on the stand and many witnesses of creditable character not connected by any tie with the federation or its leaders.

CHARGES PLOT OF MINE OWNERS.

Mr. Darrow charged that the agents of the Mine Owners' association of Colorado and their detectives had joined their hands in a conspiracy to discredit and destroy the Western Federation of Miners. The agents of the mine owners had, he asserted, committed many minor crimes to discredit the federation, and he promised that the defense would show it was a reasonable inference that they had engineered the independence depot outrage as an "attempt" that had miscarried into a tragedy. He asserted that this trial was the culmination of a conspiracy to kill the organization by killing the leaders; that the organization and not Haywood was on trial, and that Orchard, under the manipulation of Detective McPartland, was trying to kill Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone that he might save his own life.

In explanation of the draft of $100 which Haywood sent Jack Simpkins, Dec. 21, 1905, Mr. Darrow promised that the defense would show that Simpkins himself had cashed a check for that amount in Denver, and gave Haywood $100 with the request that he mail the amount to him at his home in Spokane.

MARQUETTE, MICH., JUNE 25.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Now for the glorious Fourth!

We will all hope that the situation at Lansing is not as bad as reported.

Mark Twain's London engagement promises to be an unqualified success.

Can Ishpeming beat the promises of Marquette's three-sheet poster? We would like to know.

Who want to be the delegates from the Third-first senatorial district to the constitutional convention? Speak up, gentlemen.

There must have been a little misapprehension somewhere. The people who were praying for rain didn't want a cloudburst.

Secretary Taft must have fully recovered from his recent touch of indigestion. His check for a St. Louis breakfast the other day was $2.65.

The close of the fiscal year will find the government with an embarrassing surplus of $880,000,000. What would the poor government do if it were not for the Panama canal?

Although the charter amendments were framed with the idea of giving Marquette but one municipal election in two years, it now appears that we are to have two elections in one year.

The Marquette County Agricultural association promises an improved fair and improved grounds for next fall's exhibition, and its officials intend to make good the promise in every respect.

Mrs. Russell Sage's contribution of $25,000 to the Lincoln farm association should put that organization on easy street, while its officers cannot help but be gratified with the intimation that she will give more money for the same purpose, if it is needed.

The question of a special session is an open one. In any event Governor Warner will not pass on it finally until after the first of the year. Meanwhile, unless the courts intervene to prevent it, the straw vote August 13 will give him a first-rate idea of the drift of public sentiment in the matter.

Midsummer day makes the nearest approach to being an international holiday of any of the multitudinous list. Yesterday it was formally celebrated in Marquette county by the French, the Scandinavians and the Finns, while people of all other nationalities represented in the district joined in to help the fun along.

The members of the French societies visiting in Marquette yesterday were favored with a very pleasant day. Sunday's storms made the outlook none too propitious, but yesterday dawned bright and clear, and the day, if not warm and balmy enough to be the typical midsummer day, was bright and the air invigorating. Both the members of the local society and the visitors were as fortunate as they could wish to be in that respect.

Representative Bennett of Chippewa county is credited with a gratifying record at Lansing this year. The Times quotes a state official as saying of him: "Mr. Bennett has made a record at Lansing unequalled by any member of the house, and his standing at the capitol is of the very highest. He has brought Chippewa county into a prominence that no other member has been able to give it in recent years. He was looked upon by other members as one of the coming men of the state, and there is not one who is not his friend."

Look wherever they might yesterday members of the park, cemetery and street commission found reminders that ordinary macadam is a material that indifferently resists the heavy downpours we get two or three times each season and that attention to true economy makes it advisable to experiment with tar macadam, or some other material of the sort, especially for use on the hillside streets. The storm Sunday did thousands of dollars of damage to the streets, much of it of a nature that cannot be readily repaired.

There was a lot of talk and sputter at the Soo about seeking the repeal of the law permitting the Michigan Lake Superior Power company to get off with merely nominal taxes, but we notice that the session of the legislature closed without any fight to that end being made. Evidently the Soo people decided to wait on the Power company for an additional two years, in the hope that something will develop to enable the company to make good its promises by developing the entire water power for which the canal was planned. The Soo has been sick with hope deferred, but evidently not so sick that it cannot stick it out a little longer. It is to be hoped that its forbearance in regard to the Power company will bring the reward of the early fruition of that disappointing concern's plans.

Sunday's rains were worth thousands of dollars to the farmers, but they would have been fully as valuable to the farmers and less expensive for the city and railroads had they been considerably smaller in volume. No more disastrous rains are remembered by any save the oldest inhabitants. Indeed they mounted to the dignity of a flood. If it were practicable to do so it would cost the city a pretty penny to repair the damage to the macadam streets. The South Shore and Marquette & Southeastern railroads, particularly the former, will be at an extraordinary expense repairing the mischief worked in their yards and to their trucks, particularly in the lower yards in this city. In short, the downpour Sunday came too fast and there was too much of it. But we suppose it was just such an excess of rain as might have been expected after the protracted dry spell.

Representative Ward, speaker pro tem of the house, was presented before adjournment of the legislature with a silver tea service, as an expression of the esteem in which he is held by his fellow members. The presentation may also have been an expression of confidence, as there has been no formal clearing up of the case of Miss Edith Presley, a former clerk in one of the Lansing departments, who died some weeks ago in a private hospital in Detroit, with which case Representative Ward's name was connected. Mr. Ward was prevented by sickness from taking any part in legislative business after this case was exploited in the newspapers, and we suppose that his connection with it is to remain, for the general public, a mystery, just as this public has never been given any adequate information as to what Governor Warner had "on" Arthur Hill of Saginaw, who some months ago wanted to be senator.

The council of the city of Hancock, which has been flirting with the municipal lighting question for the past several weeks, has decided to forego the installation of a city plant for at least five years, and has signed a contract covering that period with the Houghton County company. The rate is somewhat lower than the city has been paying, so the municipal lighting plant talk appears to have been profitable, particularly as it didn't cost anything. It would perhaps be too much to say that Hancock has chosen the wiser course, but if she had made a financial success of a municipal plant, steam-driven, she would have done more than a great many cities, some in the upper peninsula, have done, and the chance that she would have done so would not have been much better than even. Any city which is getting fair treatment from a privately owned plant should eschew municipal ownership. Except under unusually favorable conditions—conditions that promise to make the proposed plant a positive money-earner—municipal ownership should be only a last resort.

SOME INTERESTING VIEWS.

The current number of the Michigan Investor, a weekly paper that usually takes the corporations' view of things, contains an interesting discussion of the work of the Michigan legislature, with particular reference to railroad legislation. Regarding the two-cent fare bill it says "the same objections prevail against it as were recited by Governor Hughes, of New York, in his veto message of a similar law passed by the assembly of that state. There has been no such thorough study of the conditions under which Michigan railroads operate as to warrant the passage of any such law."

The Michigan Investor believes that the legislature has reduced the fare for passenger traffic without giving the consideration to the question whether the percentage of reduction is not so great that the roads will have to increase freight rates to earn a legitimate interest on their investments, and is of the opinion that the present passenger rate law will, in time, bring just this result. The statement of the case accompanying this conclusion fails to bring out all the considerations favorable to the existing law, and lays stress on those supporting the Investor's deductions, yet its criticism that the legislation was not foreseen by a sufficiently thorough and careful inquiry into the broad question it presented will be agreed in by many people who are kindly enough disposed toward the idea of two-cent fares.

As for the railroad commission bill the Investor doubts whether the act creating it gives to the commission the authority which it should have in the way of regulating the railroads. "The bill," it comments, "is by no means a perfect one. It does not provide for the employment of a class of talent which should be employed by the state for so important a duty and it promises to furnish the state a railroad commission composed of politicians, with no great knowledge, if they have any at all, of the conditions under which steam railroads are operated, or of the proper method of regulating them in the interests of the people and the shippers. However, it must be said of the bill that it is a start and that the two years of experience with it will determine to what extent it must be enlarged or amended in order to get the best results."

The following phase of the legislature's work, as presented by the Investor, has doubtless struck many people:

After all, one cannot contemplate the action of the retiring legislature without feeling that there is a good deal of buncombe in its proposals to reform that, or the other alleged evils. This publication has many times, in the past, called attention to the injustice with which the ad valorem system of taxation has been applied to public service corporations. Another opportunity to apply it came to the legislature this year in the form of a proposition to tax telephone and telegraph companies upon the ad valorem basis, rather than by levying a specific percentage upon their gross receipts for which the law now provides. If the ad valorem system was to be applied to these companies, it would be applied also to telephone and telegraph companies, but a new influence was interjected into the discussion of its application to this form of corporation from the fact that there are scattered through the state any number of small competitive telephone companies, in which local capital is interested to a greater or less extent and when the time came to apply the rules of uniformity and consistency in the matter of taxation, the representatives of all these petty companies which would be affected thereby brought their influence to bear upon their respective local members, with the result that the bill was smothered. All of which goes to show that these bold heroes of legislators, who are so ready and so willing, from time to time, to tax capital beyond reason when they consider that it is foreign capital, are mighty careful not to tread on the toes of the local Croesus who happen to live in the same town with them and who will have a chance to vote for or against them at the next election.

The following communication and accompanying budget for the park, cemetery and street commission was presented and referred to the committee of finance and taxation:

Marquette, Mich., June 3, 1907.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Marquette, Michigan.

Gentlemen—The Park, Cemetery and Street commission hereby respectfully submit to your honorable body, in accordance with "Charter Provisions," Sec. 22, an estimate of the amount of money that will be required by the commission for its work, as specified in the enclosed budget, for the ensuing year. We also present herewith schedules of all property under control of this commission.

The estimated cost of rebuilding streets runs from 39 cents to 40 cents per sq. yard, depending on the condition of the street to be repaired, and the distance that the material has to be hauled.

On account of the existing high price on cement, it is doubtful if sidewalk, and other concrete work, can be put in this year, at the same price that the same was done during the past year.

You will note, that inasmuch as the appropriation herein asked for includes improvements for all departments under the jurisdiction of this commission, that the amount of said appropriation is reasonable and justified, and we would therefore recommend that amount be appropriated by your honorable body.

Yours very truly,

THE PARK, CEMETERY AND STREET COMMISSION.

M. W. SHRA, President.

N. CADARETTE, Secretary.

SLAUGHTER-PERRAULT.

Houghton Girl Becomes the Bride of a M. C. M. Graduate.

Thomas Slaughter of Republic and Miss Veronica Perrault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Perrault of East Houghton, were married yesterday noon at the rectory of St. Ignatius' church, Rev. Father A. J. Rozek performing the ceremony. It had been intended to have the ceremony at the Perrault home, but Father Rozek's illness prevented. The groom was attended by Eugene L. Perrault, brother of the bride, and Miss Mayta Haas was the bride's attendant. The wedding luncheon was served at the Perrault home. The guests were the members of the two families concerned, Mr. and Mrs. William Slaughter of Escanaba, parents of the groom, and the Misses Slaughter, his sisters, were the only guests from out of town.

The young couple left in the afternoon for a wedding journey, at the conclusion of which they will take up their residence at Republic, where Mr. Slaughter is engaged as a mining engineer. He is a graduate of the Michigan College of Mines, and during his student days was one of the best liked fellows at the college. His bride is a young woman of much personal charm and very popular with Houghton people, among whom she has lived since childhood. The wedding held much public interest in Houghton through the esteem in which the bride is held and the groom's college associations.

OPENING OF THE REUNION.

Knights of Pythias Began Arriving Last Night in Hancock.

The first delegations of the Knights of Pythias to the annual convention of the Upper Peninsula Pythian league, arrived in Hancock last night. But the bulk of the visitors will arrive here this morning, the actual opening of the big reunion.

Hancock businessmen generally were somewhat tardy in their decorating because of the failure of the special bunting and decorative effects to arrive on time. The stuff came in Sunday, and yesterday the merchants along Quincy street were busily engaged in making a show of red and yellow and the shield emblem and "Friendship, Charity and Benevolence" motto of the order. The town will be a blaze of color by this morning.

The opening session will take place this morning in Germania Hall, where the delegates will be welcomed by Mayor and Chester Dock, and to these addresses of welcome responses will be made by Henry L. Baer, president, on the part of the league, and by P. L. Abbey of Kalamazoo on the part of the grand lodge, of which he is grand chancellor. The degree team contest for the league trophy will open this afternoon and will be continued tonight.

Tomorrow the delegates go to Eagle Harbor to visit the old Rathbone school house.

KEWENAW STILL BOOMING.
Messrs. Paine and Denton's Visit—Keweenaw Central.

W. A. Paine, president, and F. W. Denton, general manager of the Copper Range Consolidated, visited the Mandan property of the Keweenaw Copper company, going over the Keweenaw country in Mr. Paine's private car. They explored the Medora shaft of the Keweenaw company and are said to have expressed themselves as confident of the future of the property. All recent visitors to this property are interested in its showing. The company has now a mile of drifts in good rock and prospects are very bright.

Mandan is coming to be quite a location. The Keweenaw company has just let to Edward and Uleahy of Calumet a contract for the construction of ten additional double houses which will be rented to employees immediately on completion. With the operations at the Delaware, Cliff, Misowauk, Mandan and other prospects in Keweenaw county that county's boom is keeping up a lively race and is growing in importance every day. Very little is being given out regarding the showing made at the various explorations, but optimism is manifested by all who are interested.

Superintendent Shields of the Keweenaw Central assured The Mining Journal yesterday that the road would be operating trains over its own tracks into Calumet by November. Byers & Co. are pushing the grading from Mohawk to Calumet and the road now in operation is being ballasted and otherwise improved so that thirty-mile an hour trains are now possible. Superintendent Shields says that the passenger traffic over the road is enormous, considering the equipment now employed.

RESERVE LOSES THE YANTIC.

Michigan Lost Chance to Secure the Don Juan de Austria.

If the story told to the Hancock naval reserve men yesterday be true there is a clerk in the office of Governor Warner at Lansing who had better watch out and beware. It relates to why the Hancock naval reserve is not going to get the cruiser Yantic for its very own. The story involves a lot of politics and cannot fully be told here for lack of information of an authoritative sort, but it is certain that the Michigan legislature and the military board had taken all the necessary preliminary steps toward securing the Don Juan de Austria for the Michigan naval brigade. It was upon getting this old Spanish cruiser by the state on which hinged the delivery of the Yantic at Hancock. It remained only for Governor Warner to make an official request for the cruiser, and he did so, dictating a formal letter to the secretary of the navy.

A sufficient time had elapsed and the friends of Michigan at Washington asked the governor why he had not written the said request, that he was now too late that Connecticut had secured the Austria. Governor Warner started an investigation and found this important letter in a pigeon hole where a careless clerk, secretary or stenographer had placed it and had forgotten its existence. For the sake of the personal safety of said clerk it is hoped it is a lady.

This effectively closes up all hope of the Hancock division securing a ship this year. The Yantic will have to continue as the sole and only ship of the Michigan brigade. However the Hancock sailors are not shedding many tears of disappointment as they had not built their hopes very high—but it did look good for a while.

WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

DROWNING ACCIDENTS.

Bodies of Man at Baltic and Boy at Old Colony Are Found.

The bodies of the man who was drowned at the Baltic dam and the boy who lost his life in similar manner at the Old Colony dam Sunday afternoon have both been recovered. That of the boy was found Sunday afternoon shortly after the accident. The man's remains were recovered yesterday morning when Deputy Sheriff Johnston went to Baltic and dragged the man.

This victim's name was Hugo Majasalahti, a trapper employed by the Baltic Mining company. He was nineteen years of age, and but for a cousin who also lives at Baltic he had no known relatives. He went in swimming in the dam with a pair of water wings, being unable to swim without them. The wings collapsed and Majasalahti sank.

The boy's name was Gustav Wauhalu, went in swimming in the Old Colony dam near Calumet with a number of other boys. He must have become cramped, as he sank very suddenly before any assistance could reach him. One bystander attempted to dive for him, but could not do so, owing to his clothing, which he had neglected to remove.

This is the fourth drowning accident which has come to the notice of copper country authorities within a week. The floater found in the lake near Houghton and Anders Anderson, who drowned last week ago last Sunday at Lac LaPelle, were the other two.

FLOATER STILL MYSTERY.

Inquest Adjourned Yesterday Pending Further Investigation.

The inquest on the body of the floater found in Portage lake Saturday morning was started yesterday morning in Justice Brand's court in Houghton and adjourned until July 1. The only evidence taken was that of George Hall, the twelve-year-old boy who found the body. The little fellow was fishing off Slock's dock and he had taken one fish. His second cast brought up the floater, a terrorizing experience for the youngster.

The theory of Judge Brand was that the man had been killed in Hancock, and his body had floated down the lake into which it had been thrown. Sheriff Beck has two theories. One is that the man was walking on the railroad track and was struck by an engine and knocked into the lake. This is easily possible as the track is right on the edge of the lake at this point. The other theory is that the unfortunate man fell from the deck of a passing vessel. The sheriff refuses to listen to any sort of a murder theory.

The body was buried without identification, but yesterday Justice Brand was informed that a section land from Hancock was missing and it might prove that the floater was this man. If this identification is established it may be possible to arrive at an explanation of the cause of the man's death.

In the meantime the mystery of the little office in the Mineral Range railroad yards in Hancock remains unraveled. Three weeks ago there were unmistakable signs here of a bloody fight. A knuckle pin covered with blood and hair was found, and there was blood and hair in the office, blood in quantity sufficient to show that a bad wound had been made. A knuckle pin is such a weapon that a blow from it would surely kill a man. A rigorous investigation is established and will be made by Sheriff Beck. He would have made it sooner, but he was not informed of the finding of the blood-stained pin and other evidences of a fight.

CERNY MURDER CASE.

Inquest Opened Yesterday Afternoon—Some More Details.

Coroner Brand of Houghton called a jury Sunday night to sit in the case of Rudolph Cerny, who was shot and instantly killed that evening by Rudolph Cerny in Calumet. The jury viewed the body and adjourned the inquest until yesterday afternoon. Until the inquest had been completed no arrangements were made regarding the examination of Cerny on a criminal charge, though he is in jail awaiting such hearing.

It developed yesterday that Cerny was an uncle of Cerny, the victim, and both were employed as molders in Carroll's foundry, Houghton. It was stated Sunday night that the shooting was the outcome of a quarrel regarding wages in the foundry. Cerny paid both men $3.50 per day. Phil Carroll of the firm said that the molders had frequent disagreements, but that as they always fought them out in the Bohemian language it was impossible for a disinterested person to learn their nature. It is certain, however, that there was no difficulty between the men and their employers.

Mr. Carroll said that Cerny was a particularly skillful molder. He showed the reporter a twelve-foot shive which Cerny had turned on his first trip of the job, often requiring two or more days for an ordinary molder. The Carrolls greatly regret the incident, but place the blame on the habits of the Bohemians. They are great beer drinkers and drunkenness is their besetting sin. The quarrel which resulted fatal for Cerny was little more than a drunken row. This row must have continued for some time before the shooting began, as Charles Rozum, one of the Bohemians, came to the jail a short time before the shooting and asked Sheriff Beck to go up to Corktown and make an arrest, claiming that some one had assaulted him. It is believed that Cerny

IN THE POLICE COURTS.

Man Routs Family in Hancock—Cutting Affray in Calumet.

Chief Andrew of Hancock had to take charge of Louis Bissonet Sunday night. Bissonet was on a drunk, and became abusive to his family. He is charged with throwing them out of the house and with breaking the furniture, making him generally disagreeable and unbecomingly. He was taken before Justice O'Brien yesterday, but his hearing was adjourned until today.

Jacob Fabies was arrested Saturday night at Calumet on a charge of assault. He is charged with stabbing George Danz in the back with a knife and inflicting a somewhat dangerous wound. He was brought before Justice Fisher yesterday and after a preliminary examination he was released on bail to appear for a final examination July 8. The officers consider it will be that long before Danz will have recovered sufficiently to appear against his alleged assailant.

FRENCH CELEBRATE AT CALUMET.

The anniversary of St. Jean de Baptiste, patron saint of the French Canadians, was celebrated yesterday at Calumet with appropriate exercises. A parade, religious services and a monster picnic. The societies St. Jean de Baptiste from all parts of the country, including the Upper Range hauled in one train of seven coaches full of visitors from towns along its line. Other roads carried large numbers, and Calumet was crowded all day.

COPPERWATER BREVIETTES.

The Timesta took out a large number of copper country passengers from Houghton Sunday.

County Agent W. H. Mason of Hancock was in Lansing on official business since Saturday.

COUNTY GAS COMPANY.

Maitland, Big Oshkosh (Wis.) Gas Operator, Is in Control.

There is a prospect that the Houghton County Gas company will extend its operations within the coming year. It is not generally known that Maitland, the big Oshkosh (Wis.) gas operator, is in control of the company, but this is the case. Maitland's auditor is now in Hancock investigating the accounts of the company following the resignation of Manager Curtis by Manager Cutcheon.

Maitland's accession to the control cannot be very recent and doubtless it was kept a secret from the general public for good business reasons. The company during its two years of operation in Houghton and Hancock had undergone various executive changes. It was organized by Herbert S. Baer of Hancock as the Portage Lake Gas company, and when he came separated from the management it became the Houghton County Gas company. Robert H. Shields of Houghton, was president of the latter concern for a time, but has had no connection with it for years.

Auditor Chase would not say what are the intentions of Maitland regarding the company, expressing an aversion to publicity, but he admitted that this looked like a good field for a gas company. Maitland operates successfully some twelve gas plants in various parts of the country, and the Houghton County Gas company is now undoubtedly in good hands.

ANOTHER FOR ONTAGON.

In one of the fastest and most exciting baseball games ever played in Ontagon county, the Ontagon team defeated the Tamarack Mills nine at Ontagon last Sunday by the score of 2 to 1. The features were the pitching of Tom for the home club and a thrilling me-hand catch by Shortstop Larson, of the same nine, Saturday, at Calumet. The Ontagon won from Lake Linden by the score of 8 to 3. The team is ready and willing to meet all comers, and as a sort of practice contest it would like to arrange a game with the local club, the Ontagon team, on the upper peninsula. Championship last year, and so far this season they have not dropped a game, despite that some of the best aggregations in the copper country have tried conclusions with the team.

BOY'S PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Bicycling is such an unusual pastime in Houghton these days that a bicycle accident is given more than passing notice. A youngster from Houghton had a painful experience in front of the Keweenaw club on College avenue Saturday night. His foot became tangled up in his wheel and he was thrown to the pavement, striking on his head. The sound of the impact was heard a considerable distance. The boy was picked up unconscious and was taken into the club, where it took two hours of constant work by a physician to bring him back to consciousness. His head was not injured, but it is thought he may have sustained internal injuries. He was taken home to Harroveton. The boy's name was not learned.

NORTH WEST'S FIRST TRIP.

The steamer North West of the Northern Steamship company's fleet will arrive in Portage lake this morning at 8:30 o'clock, on her first trip of the season. She will hereafter make regular trips, arriving in Houghton, Tuesday morning and returning from Duluth Wednesday noon. The big steamer makes only three stops on Lake Superior, Marquette, Houghton and Duluth. E. grinders and over three times as many Willey slime tables, together with rolls and other machinery, all designed to handle the tailings from the huge stamp mills for the further extraction of copper from the crushed mine rock. In the electrical power house, near by, an additional 2,000-kilowatt machine is being installed to meet the growing demands of the company in the continual electrification of its mechanical plant. This new generator will take up the remaining available space in the building so that the further electrical extension certain to come later will require a material enlargement of the already big structure.

At the company's two immense stamp mills at Lake Linden, twenty-four stamp heads are now doing duty out of a total of twenty-eight, and close to 10,000 tons of copper-bearing rock are handled every twenty-four hours. Yet the company is preparing for still greater things. An underground electrical power plant is to be installed, No. 5 shaft of the Calumet mine, to be used for tramming and for underground hoists, in addition to regular usages. Water hoisting from the Red Jacket shaft has been discontinued, and all water is now coming up No. 5 Calumet shaft. It is planned ultimately to do practically all tramming by electricity.

AMALGAMATED.

Placing the copper of the Amalgamated sub-companies at 10 cents per pound, resulting gold and silver values to cost, it is figured by optimists on the stock that the present rate of dividend could be maintained on a 16-cent copper market as the other income of the company would be ample to carry forward for surplus. With an annual production of 224,000,000 pounds, every fluctuation in the price of copper of one cent per pound means $1.46 per share for the outstanding shares of Amalgamated.

The equity of the Amalgamated in its sub-companies during 1906 was $3,000,000 greater than in 1905 and $2,000,000 pounds larger than in 1904. Production will not show much of an increase during the present year, but plans are being carried out all the time for ultimately larger outputs for all the properties so that it should not be long before the equity of the Amalgamated will reach 250,000,000 pounds per annum. The Amalgamated has an option on a block of Butte Coalition shares which it has not yet exercised so far as can be ascertained, with a business visitor in Houghton and Hancock over Sunday. He had business with the Portage Coal & Dock company, the local branch of the big Cleveland concern.

E. A. LaRove, superintendent of the Hancock schools, has gone to Webberville, this state, where he will spend the greater portion of the summer at his old home. Mrs. LaRove and children preceded him there.

The South Range village council will hold an adjourned meeting tonight for the purpose of opening the bids for the water works bond issue. The bonds amount to $19,000, pay 5 per cent interest and mature in nineteen years.

The Hancock police force appeared yesterday in their new uniform caps, and they are now the finest appearing force in the copper country. The force has had other additions to its equipment since Chief Andrew's assumption of office.

All of the copper country village presidents and the mayor of Hancock have been advised by the state board of health regarding the laws relating to Fourth of July explosives and the preventive measures for accidents resulting from the same. The executives are going in for a safe and sane Fourth and will enforce the laws rigorously.

The Fourth of July committee at South Range is offering a silk flag to the best appearing lodge in the Independence Day parade. It is understood that a number of lodges intend to compete. Robert H. Shields of Houghton has accepted the invitation of the committee to appear as orator of the day.

Mining News

CALUMET & HECLA.

Close to the site selected for its mammoth new boiler house, the foundations for which are now being constructed, the Calumet & Hecla Copper Mining company is preparing to erect at Lake Linden what will be the two largest chimneys in the Lake Superior region. The great concrete bases on which these immense stacks will rest are practically completed. They are thirty-seven feet in diameter, and of sufficient depth to assure a permanently secure foundation. The giant chimneys, each 14½ feet in diameter, will project up into the atmosphere to a height of 200 feet. They will be self-supporting. Each stack will have two flues, each of which will carry six boilers, or a total of twenty-four boilers.

The steam plant to be installed in the boiler house—a building that will be 220x108 feet in dimensions—will be powered by 10,000-horsepower power, it being planned to install at the start twenty tubular boilers, each of something over 500 horsepower. The boiler house will be equipped with all the latest labor-saving devices. First passing through crushers, the coal will be conveyed by link-belt conveyors to bins, whence it will be fed to the boilers by automatic stokers. Underneath the boilers will be a great pit, or rather tunnel, into which the ashes will fall to later also be cared for automatically.

The new plant in connection, the present boiler house will be demolished and its equipment transferred to other operations of the company.

An even greater plant, now in progress of construction, is the re-crushing mill, a structure 340x125 feet in size, in which will be housed half a hundred-ment work has proven the property a smelting rather than a milling ore proposition. Recent engineering reports have been satisfactory.

Within a week or ten days the Arizona Commercial Copper company will start shipments to the Shannon smelter probably at the rate of one carload per day—thirty to forty tons. President Amster has been able to secure a substantial reduction in freight rates from Globe to Gittion. Shipments will be made as soon as the new freight tariffs have been published, as required by law.

The new six-drill air compressor ordered by the Chas. Leonard Extension company some time ago has arrived and will be installed without delay. The foundation is ready to receive it. Operations at the property are progressing as usual. The shaft is 680 feet deep, timbered, and is going down in a slip, which shows signs of peacock copper and pyrites. When the shaft reaches 800 feet depth a large station will be put at each side and a large pump installed, but no crosscutting will be done until the 1,000-foot mark is reached. The officers of the company believe that when this system of veins is encountered at the present depth it will show a more permanent and regular character and contain commercial ore.

Latest advices from the Boston & Corbin property are that the lower tunnel, located at a depth of 370 feet, is 160 feet into the ore body which is three to eight feet wide. The company is now shipping three carloads of ore per week from its first tunnel level, which shipments are paying for all development costs. The sinking of the double compartment shaft from the lower tunnel level to a depth of 1,000 feet, has been started and within two or three weeks it will be to a depth of 200 feet, at which point a crosscut will be run to the ore body. Manager Emerson expects important developments at this level, and it is well below the water level.

The cutting of the hanging wall of the Thomas lode on the 1800-foot level of the Davis-Daly through the Original shaft crosscut demonstrates that the Thomas lode at this depth is about sixty feet wide and is one of the widest lodes in the Butte camp. Where the vein was penetrated twenty-eight feet was in ore of an average value of about $12 per ton, the balance being unprofitable vein matter. No attempt will be made at this time to develop the Thomas lode, but the Original crosscut will be continued to cut the several other lodes which are known to run parallel with the Thomas. When the other veins have been cut, a shaft will be immediately put down in the most advantageous location. Such a shaft can be put down at the rate of about 300 feet per month, working from both ends.

The property of the Butte Coalition company, or Red Metal, is now yielding more ore than it has at any period in its existence, the output being close to 1,800 tons a day. Some days it reaches the 1800-ton mark. Of the 1,800, the Minnie Healy, Rarus and Cora are giving about 1,200 tons; the remainder is coming from the Nipper, Red Penn and Red West veins, the latter being in Tramway ground, but operated through the West Golsa. The Red Penn contains a lot of copper glance. In a short time the company will be in condition to increase its production from 600 to 1,000 tons a day. This will be brought about by the opening of the Tramway and the Snobomish, which are now being constructed. The Tramway will soon be 1,400 feet deep, which will take it a long way into the ore zone in that section. Only half of the Snobomish and a third of the Tramway ore will go to the credit of Coalition, but the opening of this ground will enable the company to mine the ore bodies of the Minnie Healy on a much more extensive scale, as the new shaft will afford an additional outlet for these bodies. The new hoisting engine on the Tramway is rapidly assuming shape and will be ready for a trial run shortly. It is a monster piece of mechanism and will do rapid work. Some new ore bodies have been discovered in the Rarus recently, the find having been made in driving channels for waste in the lower and intermediate levels.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The shaft at the Butte & Racorn property has reached a depth of 1,925 feet and a station is now being cut preparatory to crosscutting north and south, which will be commenced early in July.

In the shaft at the Greenleaf property the Boston & Montana company has cut a vein of sulphide ore, carrying considerable amounts of silver. The shaft is 840 feet deep, and is just as little struck as the Six O'Clock mine, recently abandoned by the Butte Exploration company.

The Sonora Bananza company, owned by copper and Mexican interests, is to be reorganized. Lake capitalists made a large loan to the company and are to take a stock interest therefor. Devel-

M. Lamy, of Menominee, is spending several days in Marquette, the guest of friends.

Mrs. Martin Sorenson has returned to her home at Green Bay, Wis., after a visit with friends in this city.

The attendance at the Normal summer school will be hampered by lack of accommodations unless more rooms are offered for rent by the residents. There is still a decided shortage.

The steamer Japan, which had been delayed in this port because of a loose cylinder head since Saturday morning, resumed her trip yesterday morning, the damage having been repaired.

Boys' Drum Corps Out—The boys' drum corps was out on the city streets last evening, to help entertain the visitors to the city. Its drills and music attracted much attention, and were favorably commented on.

Many Visit Prison—The Marquette prison was visited by an unusually large number of people yesterday. They began coming early in the morning and kept coming until late in the afternoon. Over 130 visitors, mostly out-of-town people, inspected the institution.

Postal Changes Managers—L. H. Drummel, of Milwaukee, has succeeded C. S. Prefontaine as manager of the local Postal Telegraph exchange. Mr. Prefontaine left yesterday for his former home at Fond du Lac, Wis., where he will resume the management of the Fond du Lac exchange.

Young Girl Passes Away—Margaret, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Macaul, died at the family residence, No. 375 Alger street, Sunday morning at 7 o'clock. The funeral was held from St. Deo's cathedral yesterday at 10 o'clock, with interment at Holy Cross cemetery.

Dance at Fraternity Hall—The French Canadian societies of the upper peninsula closed their program of festivities in this city with a grand ball at Fraternity Hall last evening. The hall was prettily decorated in the national colors and the music furnished by Savet's orchestra was excellent. A unique feature of the program was a number of old-fashioned quadrilles. Fully two hundred couples were in attendance.

Many Viewed Washout—Thousands of people visited the scene of the big washout on Lake Street yesterday. They came about on carriages and automobiles. For the most part they were Marquette people, though many strangers in the city went out to inspect the storm's havoc. The damage at the quarry and the source of all the trouble were inspected by many, but the greatest amount of interest was displayed in the big gap on Lake street.

No Arrests Made—In spite of the fact that the city is entertaining several thousand visitors, there hasn't been a single arrest," said Chief of Police Manning last evening. "I don't think that ever before there was such a gathering here without some kind of trouble, but there hasn't been the slightest evidence of a disturbance. There has been considerable crowding and jostling but everybody appears to be good-natured. The crooks that follow in the trail of circuses are conspicuous by their absence at a gathering of this kind."

West Ends Win Again—The West End Juniors defeated the Gately team of Ishpeming at the West End grounds, Marquette, yesterday, by the score of 13 to 10 in a close and exciting game. All the players had their batting clothes on and the fielders were kept busy chasing the spheroid. Divine and Bondin were in the points for the West Ends and Couch and Krump for the visitors. A return game will be played at Ishpeming Sunday, July 7. This is the fourth straight victory won by the West Ends and they are open to play any team of boys in the county.

Frank McConnell Fatally Hurt—Frank McConnell, a well-known Marquette man, employed as a passenger brakeman on the South Shore road, was the victim of a fatal accident at Ishpeming last evening. Attempting to board a moving train, he fell under the wheels and suffered the loss of one leg and numerous bad cuts. He was taken to the Ishpeming hospital, and Mrs. McConnell was summoned to his bedside from this city. Mr. McConnell's injuries were very severe, and he passed away at an early hour this morning. The injured man had been in the employ of the South Shore for about a year. He was formerly a guard at the Marquette prison. Aside from a little daughter, the family residence is on West Ridge street. The details of the accident are given in the Ishpeming department of this morning's paper.

Peculiar Traits of Dogs—"Dogs sometimes exhibit some very peculiar traits," said Postmaster Mangum yesterday. "I have got two dogs, a setter and a bulldog, out at my farm at Chocoma. The setter is mighty fond of hunting but he never takes to the woods unless he is accompanied by the bulldog. Take him out to the woods alone and he will start right back for the farm to get his canine pal. The setter is the best runner and he has worn the bulldog down to a shadow. The latter is so thin that you can see through him. It's useless, however, to try to fatten him up without keeping him on a chain as the setter will coax him off into the woods, strike a trail and run him until he can barely crawl home."

"Tribly" a Big Hit—The Willard-Mack company opened a two weeks' engagement at the Marquette opera house last evening in a packed house, presenting a dramatization of H. V. Williamson's famous novel, "Tribly." Mr. Willard Mack makes an excellent "Svengali." In the role of Tribly, Miss Maude Leone appears at her best. The supporting company is strong. Altogether the troupe can be characterized as one of the best presenting repertoire companies that has ever visited this city. Tonight "The Troubles of the Tribbles," a farce comedy of more than usual excellence, will be presented.

CELEBRATION

A BIG SUCCESS

SEVEN SOCIETIES FROM AS MANY CITIES HERE TO HELP OBSERVE ST. JEAN BAPTISTE DAY—WHAT WAS DONE.

The celebration of the anniversary of St. Jean Baptiste in this city yesterday was one that will be long remembered. The descendants of the French pioneers, who as well as any other people had to do with the settlement of the great North American continent, gathered here in force, and the parade, as it passed through the streets, finely exemplified the sturdiness of the race. Marquette fully appreciated the honor bestowed upon it in its selection as the scene of the event, and nearly all of the business houses were appropriately decorated. All of the visiting delegations appeared in full regalia and the line of march could not well have presented an appearance more pleasing to the eye. There were five bands in line, all playing inspiring music. Charles Beaudry was marshal of the day, with J. D. Nault and J. B. Venestras as aides.

Cars and trailers were in waiting at Fair avenue when the parade disbanded, but they proved entirely inadequate to the occasion and fully one-third of those who had followed the procession walked to the grounds. Up to five o'clock every car leaving the downtown districts was loaded to the utmost capacity, many caught the cars blocks above the terminal point preferring to pay two fares in preference to running the risk of losing a seat or failing of transportation entirely.

Due to the failure of the Menominee and Escanaba delegations to arrive until noon, the speech-making, which commenced at 1:30 o'clock did not take place until after 3. In his address welcoming the societies, Mayor Robertson said:

Mayor Robertson's Address.

"Mr. Chairman, members of the fraternity here represented, and fellow citizens:

"It gives me great pleasure to officially welcome you to the best that our city affords, and I am but voicing the sentiment of our citizens when I affirm that our spirit of toleration includes a profound admiration of the great and the good regardless of caste or national extraction. While I take this opportunity to emphasize that no organization could soot claim a permanent place in our civilization, I am continued to make the condition of American birth a disabling factor in its membership; we recognize and fully appreciate the relief, companionship and education made practical through this temporary expedient. And so it is that on the seventeenth of March we are all Sons of Erin; on St. Andrew's Day it is 'Bonnie Scotland,' and on each respective natal day we are Britons, Scandinavians or Teutons, agreeable to the ceremonies of the day. But today as descendants of Sunny France, we rally beneath the folds of the stars and stripes, and across the lines of all national demarcation we extend our hands in one warm grasp of friendship, the friendship begotten by our kindred relations in one common American citizenship.

"The learned and eloquent gentleman to follow will assist us to draw inspiration from the mighty achievement of this honored ancestry, with its Zola in letters, Charlemagne in discovery, and good old Lafayette, who side by side with Washington struggled in the wilderness of the new world for American freedom. I cannot forget, and do not wish to forget, the gallant and chivalrous act of the people of France in rendering such noble service to our forefathers when engaged in a sanguinary struggle for liberty one hundred and thirty-one years ago. Turning aside for a time from the peaceful pursuits of the shop, the factory, the desk, the plough and the cultivation of the vine-clad hills of sunny France, your ancestors crossed the stormy expanse of the Atlantic and poured out their blood to help establish on this continent a government and land of freedom and equality. No nobler quality warms the patriotic breast than that of gratitude, and the people of the city of Marquette, together with those of the nation at large, unite in giving to our friends from France unstinted praise for their unselfish, disinterested assistance. We desire, not only formal expression, but by tangible treatment, to assure you of our unending gratitude. I sincerely hope that our entertainment of you today may prove to be but another demonstration of the fervor of our regard and affection. Cradled in the lap of freedom, justice and equality, our hearts beat in unison for the enlightenment of the common people, what could be more fitting than the friendship which has always existed between the people of the Republic of France and the people of the United States of America? And what could be more reasonable than to take you into our embrace and make you members of the great family, citizens of this greatest republic on earth? I welcome you as Frenchmen. I welcome you as American citizens. I welcome you as friends. I extend you the hearty greeting and welcome of the city of Marquette. As mayor of the city it gives me pleasure to extend to you the freedom of the city. All that we have is yours. Enjoy it to the utmost; and when your day of festivities is over I trust that it will be crowned with such a feeling of extreme satisfaction that you cannot resist the temptation to come again. Long live France and these United States of America!"

city, said that he had no doubt that the spirit of the mayor's address was fully appreciated by every Frenchman present. Frenchmen, while they could not forget the glory of the fatherland, which gave to Europe its greatest scholars, statesmen and soldiers, were now proud to write themselves Americans and to claim allegiance to a country that had no superior on the belted globe. Short addresses were also given by Rev. Father Jodocy, pastor of St. Jean Baptiste church, Marquette; Father Bourlas, St. Joseph, Ishpeming; Father Deslompas, Holy Family, Flat Rock; Henry Routhier, Ishpeming, general president, U. S. C. F., and F. N. St. Jacques, Negaunee, general secretary, U. S. C. F.

At a general meeting of the United Societies, Canadian French, of the upper peninsula late in the afternoon, Mr. LaRochelle, and A. E. Archambault, both of this city, were elected president and secretary respectively. Menominee was selected for the special anniversary celebration of 1910. Republic was anxious to secure the meeting for next year, but the matter was left open.

The city entertained fully 3,000 guests, according to the estimates given out by the local St. Jean Baptiste society. In addition to the societies of St. Jean Baptiste, Munising; Chevaliers d'Artois; Negaunee; Union Canadienne; Ishpeming; St. Jean Baptiste, Republic; Institute Jacques Cartier, Escanaba; and St. John Baptiste, Menominee, there were many visitors from other cities. The Munising society was the first to arrive, reaching the city at 9:30 o'clock. The societies from Ishpeming, Negaunee, and Republic followed, arriving at about 10:30. The parade was to have taken place at 10:00 o'clock, but a long delay was occasioned by the failure of the Escanaba and Menominee delegations to arrive until almost noon, owing to the disarrangement of the train service occasioned by washouts on the line.

The parade started at about noon, marching east on Baraga avenue to Front; north on Front to Washington; west on Washington to Fifth; north on Fifth to Bluff; east on Bluff to Third, and from there north to Fair avenue. The march was led by the Marquette society followed by the Negaunee band. Members of the city administration and presidents of local societies in carriages, a float emblematic of St. Jean Baptiste, and the societies of Ishpeming, Escanaba, Menominee, and Republic.

Made Good Run.

The only athletic event on the program was an exhibition against time by Lampros D. Lambros, the Greek runner. Mr. Lambros covered five miles in thirty-five minutes, a creditable performance when it is considered that the track was far from being in good condition and that the runner had not had the opportunity to properly condition himself. He finished easily and without any appearance of distress. The pavilions devoted to moving pictures and illustrated songs and dancing received an excellent patronage.

MANY ATTEND PICNICS.
 Thousands of People Visited Cleveland Park Yesterday.

The business streets of Ishpeiming were practically deserted yesterday after the departure of the morning train for Marquette. The South Shore took nearly 1,000 Ishpeiming people to Marquette, a majority of them going down to attend the French and Finnish picnics. The French society was largely represented. It was accompanied by the Ishpeiming City band, the Light Guard going down to furnish music for the Marquette society. On the two trains leaving for Presque Isle via the Lake Superior & Ishpeiming railway 850 people were carried, about 700 of these going down on the special at 9 o'clock. The majority of the excursionists were members of the First Methodist church, whose Sunday School society held its annual picnic at Presque Isle.

The picnic at Cleveland park, conducted by the Scandinavian society of Negaunee, attracted an unusually large crowd. Seven street cars were in commission during the entire day and evening, and there was hardly a time from 11 o'clock in the morning until 11 at night that they were not crowded. It is estimated that over 5,000 people visited the grounds during the day. There was also a fairly large attendance at the Norwegian Lutheran church picnic at Deer Lake grove.

Sundstrum Gave Good Talk.
 C. F. Sundstrum of Michigan, who was the principal speaker at the Scandinavian picnic, gave a good talk. He first spoke of the origin and significance of Midsummer day, referring in a general way to its observance by the Scandinavians in this country. He reviewed several of the important issues of the day. He lauded President Roosevelt for his excellent work and good judgment in handling many of the problems that have come before him. He condemned Socialism, declaring that no good citizen could afford to be associated with that party. He said that the party was nothing in the party's issues and that the socialistic ideas were being advanced by men who were seeking favors at the hand of the masses. He declared that the workmen of this country have nothing to gain by enlisting with the Socialist party.

Mr. Sundstrum reviewed briefly some of the important work of the Scandinavians of the country, declaring that there was no occasion that they were not capable of doing. He referred to their great success in the tillage of the soil and the good they had done for this country in that direction. He said that many of the prominent men in the northwest are Scandinavians.

The labor unions, in Mr. Sundstrum's opinion, should be encouraged, but he declared that the organizations are too often ill managed. He said that he believed that the business men, the professional men and all classes of labor should belong to unions as by uniting the educated workmen with the uneducated they would accomplish greater good for themselves and their country. To his way of thinking the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state, as well as the stars and stripes, should occupy prominent places in the hearts of every citizen. When matters pertaining to wages came up the best and most intelligent men in these organizations should be appointed to adjust the differences between the union men and their employers. He said that he did not believe in strikes and disturbances, as they seldom resulted in good to the working men.

Concluding, Mr. Sundstrum criticized the foreign-born people in this country for trying to give their children an education in the Scandinavian language, but in the English language. He said that in a large majority of cases where an attempt is made to perfect the child's education in both, either one is neglected and the work is seldom completed. He said he believed in giving the children a thorough English education first. A few years ago it seemed quite impossible that the time would come when the daughters of the Scandinavians in this country would advance far enough in an educational way to hold positions as teachers in the public schools, but today he declared there are in excess of 100 of Swedish and Norwegian girls teachers in the upper peninsula. His remarks were well received, as was evident from the hearty applause accorded him at the conclusion of his talk.

The day was very pleasantly spent at the park. The boats placed on the pond by the Marquette County Gas & Electric company were in use all afternoon and evening. By closing the dam on the eastern end of the pond the water has been raised over a foot during the past week. The pond is nearly half a mile in length with a number of beautiful grassy plots and islands scattered through it. During the early part of the afternoon the Portage Lake band rendered a program of selections and there was dancing on the pavilion until nearly midnight.

PENSION FOR TEACHERS.
 The movement to pension school teachers is one for which a great deal can be said both on sentimental and practical grounds. If the defenders of our country are entitled to pension against old age and infirmity, should not the same principle also extend to those who sow the seed of patriotism and progress. A great deal can also be said in regard to the merits of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, but it is sufficient to say that for 33 years it has been before the public curing such ailments as poor appetite, insomnia, liver troubles, heartburn, dyspepsia, indigestion, costiveness, female ills or malaria without a failure. If you suffer from any of the above ailments try the Bitters today. You'll be surprised at the amount of good it will do you.

W. W. Ward, of Dyersburg, Tenn., writes: "This is to certify that I have used Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup for chronic constipation, and it has proven, without a doubt, to be a thorough, practical remedy for this ailment. It is with pleasure I offer my conscientious reference." The Stafford Drug Co.

RAILROADING IN NEW MEXICO.

John Mooney, Here on a Visit, Is Engaged in it.

John Mooney, who gave up his position in the Ishpeiming office of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company last January, going to New Mexico where he is employed in railroad work arrived here yesterday on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Mooney. John resides at Oro Grande and has visited most of the principal points of interest in that region. He says that the country affords good opportunities for young men who will work and take care of themselves.

Railroading is conducted under difficult conditions in many points in both Old and New Mexico, but it is more pleasant work there than in this territory, because of the difference in the climate. The greatest handicap in the railroad work is the impurity of the water. It has all to be treated. The percentage of alkali is so great that it cannot be used successfully in the locomotives. At times the supply of water is limited. There have been times when trains have been tied up for the lack of desirable water. The sand storms in New Mexico are as bad at times as are the snow storms in this region. During March the storms are worse than at any other time of the year. The sand banks completely cover the tracks and at times the trains are tied up. During last March there were sand storms more than three-fourths of the time.

Elmer Clark, a former resident of Ishpeiming, who was an engineer on the Chicago & Northwestern system until two years ago, when he gave up his position at Fond du Lac, is working on the same line as Mr. Mooney. Clark is earning from $200 to $300 per month.

There is a shortage of competent railroad men, particularly engineers and firemen, in New Mexico. The companies are required to have an operator at every station and most of the railroading is done on the eight hour system.

FROM HOPKINS' CURB LETTER.

"Very little comment can be made on today's copper share market. Metal values came considerably lower, although it had no appreciable effect on the price of securities on this side. Coppers opened about unchanged with trade very light and price changes merely nominal. A fair demand for Superior & Pittsburg is noted around 14 1/2, while considerable is offered between 14 1/2 and 15. Balaklava was active at fractionally lower prices, while Nevada-Utah was well taken with a very narrow range of prices. The selling interests are ready to concede that lower prices for metal are inevitable, but they do not anticipate a movement of very large proportions. Orders now booked and being looked steadily will readily take care of this year's output of metal."

The day's closing prices were:

HAVE YOU SEEN MAUD?

"Maud, Have You Seen Her?" will be the bywords from now until the Fourth. Maud arrived yesterday and she will be on exhibition on one of the principal business streets of the city every evening between now and the Fourth. Maud, a mile, will aid in the raising of celebration money. The athletes of the town may try to throw a ball through the opening in her side. Every time the ball touches the ball Maud will kick. The affair will be managed by prominent members of the arrangement committee. It is thought that a good sized sum can be raised.

Some elaborate floats are being prepared by the business firms and it is evident that the display will surpass anything previously seen here. A few of the floats have already been completed, and others will be finished before the end of this week. The men at a number of the mines are working on floats. Anton Hanson, who carried off a prize in the farmers' display some years ago, when he united all the farmers north of the city, presenting attractions that covered fully a quarter of a mile of street, has plans completed for an even bigger show of similar kind. There will be liberal prizes for the farmers' display this year, so that they have something to work for.

MISS COLLUCK MAKES HIT.

Miss Emily Collick of this city, who is singing illustrated songs at the Grand theater, is making a hit. Her songs received greater applause at the entertainments Saturday evening and again last night than any other feature. She has a sweet soprano voice, which she uses to excellent advantage. The management of the Grand is fortunate in securing Miss Collick. Herbert Barrett, a baritone singer of Calumet, is also a feature of the Grand's entertainments this week. He sings one song, and Miss Collick sings the other. The Grand orchestra, composed of Joseph Troumly, pianist; Byron Lundahl, violinist, and S. C. Kops, flute, is another new and pleasing feature. As will be seen by the theater's advertisement in this issue, there will be a change of program this evening.

Scandinavian Picnic at Cleveland Park Was Largely Attended.

Negaunee presented a decidedly lively appearance yesterday morning prior to the departure of the French society for Marquette and the Scandinavian societies for Cleveland park. The townspeople were out early and by 9 o'clock iron street was well filled, while a half hour later it was next to impossible to get within a half block of the union depot, so large was the crowd that congregated either to take the train for Marquette or to await the arrival of the incoming trains with the delegations to the Scandinavian picnic. The South Shore sold 903 full fare tickets and sixty half tickets for the morning trains to Marquette, and the Lake Superior & Ishpeming also had large delegations. Others went down on the afternoon train and some left on the evening trains.

Both the special and regular trains from points in the western end of the county, the former arriving at 9:40, and the latter shortly after 10 o'clock, were crowded. The French societies of Champlain and Republic went through to Marquette, and the Scandinavian society of Republic, accompanied by a large delegation, came to this city. At Ishpeming 762 tickets were sold for the special and morning regular trains. The special on the Chicago & Northwestern line from Escanaba and other points brought in 353, all bound for Marquette, and a number came through on the regular.

The Scandinavians were prompt in starting their parade. The visitors from towns in the western end of the county and Marquette were met at the station by a delegation of the Negaunee organization and were taken to the city square, where they remained a few minutes until the members of the Scandinavian and Swedish Home societies of Ishpeming arrived by street car. The procession moved west on Jackson street to Cyr, south on Cyr to Iron and east on Iron to the Breiting House. It was the original intention to march from the city to the park, but the committee decided yesterday to have the members ride out on street cars.

The members and their friends arrived at the park in ample time for dinner. Immediately after dinner the assemblage was addressed by Attorney T. A. Thoren, chairman of the arrangement committee, and Charles F. Sundstrom of Michigan, the latter making the principal speech. Mr. Thoren's talk was in the nature of an address of welcome and an introduction of Mr. Sundstrom. The latter gave an interesting address, talking of matters of particular interest to the Scandinavians in this country.

Following the speeches there was dancing, which was continued until a late hour, the Negaunee orchestra furnishing the music. The Portage Lake band gave a concert during the afternoon. The organization is composed of seventeen members with William Morgan as leader. Mr. Morgan formerly lived at Escanaba, his father having been a leader of the band there for a number of years.

DRISCOLLS AT LITTLE CHIEF.

Brothers of Negaunee Man Are Connected With Utah Property.

J. R. Van Evera of Marquette and others, including James F. and John Driscoll, brothers of C. B. Driscoll of this city, are largely interested in the Little Chief mine, located at Eureka, Junb county, Utah. James P. Driscoll is secretary and treasurer of the company and John Driscoll, who has held a position as shift boss at the Centennial, Eureka, has been appointed captain at the property. The Eureka Reporter of the 7th had the following announcement of the change in management:

"At the annual meeting of the Little Chief Mining company on Monday the control passed from the hands of Mrs. T. D. Sullivan, Jacob Moritz and Mat Cullen to J. R. Van Evera, a well known mining man from Michigan, who has decided that there are wonderful possibilities in Tintic. Mrs. Sullivan still retains her interest in the Little Chief but Mr. Cullen and Mr. Moritz have sold practically all of their stock, and Mr. Van Evera, who has assumed the management of the company, voted considerable over 200,000 shares out of the 400,000 shares that the company has issued. The officers chosen were as follows: J. R. Van Evera, president and manager; F. D. Kimball, vice president; James P. Driscoll, secretary and treasurer, and these with Jacob Moritz constitute the board of directors.

"It is generally understood here that the taking over of the control of the Little Chief is only the preliminary step toward the formation of a big company in which several other claims will be included, among them the Granite, Town View and Hatilda adjoining the Little Chief on the south. The new officers of the Little Chief state that for the present affairs at this mine will go along about the same as usual. Superintendent Joseph Hannifin's resignation is now in the hands of the new manager and his successor will be John Driscoll, one of the shift bosses at the Centennial Eureka and a very capable miner. The sinking of the shaft is down below the 1,000 and it is the intention of the new management to drop it down at least a couple of hundred feet further. A new compressor will most likely be purchased in order that work can be carried on up on the 800 or 1,000 level while the sinking of the shaft is going on."

The extension of the water main to the Rolling Mill mine is nearly completed, though there is some pipe still to be laid. There was a shortage of pipe, otherwise the work would have been finished last week. The crew has been transferred to the Queen mine extension and the work there is now progressing satisfactorily. It is expected that this job will be completed within a week or ten days. All of the pipe is on the ground and the digging of the trenches is comparatively easy work. HOW MARBLES ARE MADE.

Most of the stone marbles used by boys are made in Germany. The refuse only of the marble and agate quarries is employed, and this is treated in such a way that there is practically no waste. Men and boys are employed to break the refuse stone into small cubes, and with their hammers they acquire a marvellous dexterity. The little cubes are then thrown into a mill consisting of a grooved bedstone and a revolving runner. Water is fed to the mill and the runner is rapidly revolved, while the friction does the rest. In half an hour the mill is stopped and a bushel or so of perfectly rounded marbles is taken out. The whole process costs the merest trifle.—Philadelphia Record.

NEGAUNEE,

CANNOT LEAVE MANILA. UTTERLY INADEQUATE FACILITIES FOR TRANSPORTATION.

Six Weeks Teachers Delayed a Month or More. Regular Seventy Days Vacation in Some Cases Will Be Lost—Ships Booked to Full Capacity Two Months Ahead—Passenger Traffic Increasing Via Suez—Some Teachers Accept Berths of Soldiers—Some Schedules in Force All the Year.

Washington, June 24.—Transportation facilities between Manila and the home land have become so wretched that the Philippine government has made an appeal to the war department on the subject. This question of transportation is always acute during the spring season and for the past three or four years there has been considerable trouble in securing berths on contract steamers from Manila to the United States during this season. It is declared that this year "the transportation facilities furnished by the contract and other transportation lines have been utterly inadequate to handle the passenger business originating in Manila as well as in the Orient in general."

In a report to Brigadier General Charles R. Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs, an official of the Philippine government gives a graphic description of passenger traffic in Manila. "At present it is impossible to get out of Manila for over a month," he writes, "unless bookings have been heretofore made. I am advised by the director of education that he has had dozens of teachers who have been delayed in Manila from a month to six weeks at considerable expense waiting for accommodations on transpacific steamers, and that in several instances teachers given leave of absence with permission to visit the United States, in connection with the regular seventy days' vacation leave granted teachers, from April 1 to June 9, will not be able to leave Manila until after the expiration of their seventy days' vacation leave, notwithstanding the fact that they have been in Manila since April first trying to secure transportation on outgoing steamers. These parties have been bothering the life of one of Calvin and me and in some instances seem to hold us personally responsible for their inability to get out of the islands. As a matter of fact, it is pretty hard upon a chap who has been out in the "bosque" for four or five years to arrive at Manila upon a long anticipated trip to his relatives in the homeland and find it impossible to get out of Manila and with nothing to do but to cool his heels and see a large part of his leave utilized at a Manila hotel.

"A resume of the condition at the present time will illustrate the point. The agents of all transpacific lines have been interviewed with the following result:

"Messrs. Castle Brothers, Wolf & Sons, agents, Pacific Mail Steamship company and Allied Lines (contract lines), state that the Coptic, Hong Kong Maru, Korea and American Maru, sailing from Hong Kong on May 16, June 1, and June 11, respectively, are already booked to their fullest capacities. The Sieria, China and Mongolia, sailing from Hong Kong on June 18, June 25, and July 2 are probably fully booked and no reservations can be made from Manila without express authority from Hong Kong. This is the case with all these lines are booked far ahead.

"Messrs. W. F. Stevenson & Co., agents, Northern Pacific Steamship company and Allied line (contract lines), state that their next available accommodations are on the Shawmut, scheduled to sail some three months hence.

"Messrs. Watson & Barnes & Co., agents, Great Northern Steamship company and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha (contract lines) state that their next available accommodations are on the Tango Maru, sailing from Hong Kong on June 11, and on each of the bi-weekly sailings of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha thereafter.

"Messrs. Smith & Seelye, agents, Canadian Pacific Railway line, have limited accommodations on the Tartar, sailing from Hong Kong June 16. This line while not under contract has been heretofore meeting the government rates, but has refused to do so this spring, as all accommodations could be disposed of at full rates.

"The agents named all agree that the transpacific passenger traffic has been congested for weeks and is only now beginning to assume manageable proportions; that the experience this year is nothing new, but is a duplication of the experience of previous years only in a more aggravated form; and that the transpacific passenger facilities are entirely inadequate to the demands of the traffic at this time of the year.

"As a remedy for our difficulty here the agents have suggested that some months prior to the general exodus from the islands in the spring of each year this office call the attention of insular employees to the necessity of making early bookings on transpacific steamers, thus getting ahead of intending passengers from Japan and the Asiatic coast. In support of this suggestion, Messrs. Watson, Barnes & Co. stated that Manila was at first given fifty-four berths on the next trip of the Minnesota, but as reservations for the Orient ship are made throughout the island as early as possible, Manila was called upon to transcribe a number of berths to Hong Kong and Japan, and not having them booked, the agents, under the rules, were compelled to comply with the result that only six or eight insular passengers got away on that vessel. The agents say that had reservations been made in Manila for the entire fifty-four berths prior to the receipt of the request for transfer of accommodations to Hong Kong and Japan, no transfer could have been made and the entire number would have been used by Manila passengers. The agents seem to think if Manila passengers reserve accommodations from two to four months ahead, there will be no difficulty in furnishing transportation to all persons desiring same and at the time they wish to go.

"Aside from the undesirable features of booking months ahead, which few persons care to do, as their plans are likely to change in the interim, and which in many cases of accountable officers is impossible owing to uncertainty as to the date upon which they may turn over their positions and obtain clearance, the above suggestion appears to be merely a makeshift. It simply means the playing of Manila against the rest of the Orient, and that Manila can't ride if she gets into the wagon first, leaving no seat for other passengers along the rest of the road. It does not get at the root of the matter any more than the cure of a consumptive's cold makes him a well man, and would result in a wild scramble on the part of intending passengers for reservations, rather than an effort of the transportation companies to meet the requirements of the situation.

"The congestion on the transpacific lines has resulted in an increased passenger traffic from Manila to the States via Suez. A considerable number of officials and employees who ordinarily would have crossed the Pacific have engaged passage via the Suez lines as the only manner of getting away promptly. In fact, the Norddeutscher Lloyd, which seems to be the popular Suez line as far as Philippine-Americans are concerned, is also fully booked for the next few weeks as far as first-class accommodations are concerned. However, the P. & O., the Messageries Maritimes and the Spanish Mail, which have finally followed the lead of the M. D. L., in making a through rate, Manila to New York, are able to furnish first-class accommodations on their next sailings, although those lines, for some reason or other, do not seem to have 'sought on' with the American Philippine trade yet.

"We had hoped to relieve the congestion in transportation by getting some of our insular officials and employees away on the transports, but the issue of orders for the return of troops to the United States, coinciding as it did with the spring break, has entirely nullified the plan, and a great deal of work with the conditions herein set forth, but even if the vessels named had not been eliminated, the traffic could not have been handled at the time passengers desired to leave. The necessity of replacing these vessels is, therefore, from a Manila standpoint, a very apparent one. It is understood that the changing of the transpacific steamship schedules is a rather large proposition, but what is really required is that the transportation companies should recognize the fact that the Orient demand increased in transportation facilities during the spring of each year. At the present time the same schedules are in operation the year round, no effort being made towards adjusting the schedules to the traffic and traffic being required to adjust itself entirely to the schedule regardless of convenience."

CURES WOMAN'S WEAKNESS.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Dr. John E. Fife of the Editorial Staff of The Eclectic Medical Review says of Unicorn root (Helonias dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription": "A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator and is especially valuable in the case of the entire reproductive system. It continues in Helonias we have a medicinal which may be used for a variety of purposes than any other drug with which it is associated. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication of this medicinal agent. Dr. Fife further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or cramping in the back, with leucorrhoea; a tonic (weak) condition of the reproductive organs of women; mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagic flooding; due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhoea; or absent monthly periods; or from accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and a gastric (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen. A cure or less of the above symptoms will be given to any woman who can afford to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medicinal properties of which it most faithfully represents. Of Golden Seal root another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says: "It is an important medicinal condition of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions, and general catarrhs, it is most useful." Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root: "In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine to be used which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is uniformly regarded as the tonic used in all debilitated states." Prof. R. H. Harkness, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, says: "It is valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation)." Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

THREE BOYS HAD ECZEMA OF HEAD.

One Mother's Trials—Little Ones Treated at Dispensary for Three Months—Did Not Seem to Improve—Suffered Five Months.

ALL WERE PERFECTLY CURED BY CUTICURA.

"My three children had eczema for five months. A little soe would appear on the head and seemed very itchy, increasing day by day. My baby had had it about a week when the second boy took the disease and a few days developed, then the third boy took it. For nine months I tried to cure them to the N—Dispensary, and they told me that the children had ringworm, but they did not seem to improve. Then I bought of Cuticura Remedies, and I thought I would write you about my case, and when I got the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, I bathed the children's heads with warm water and Cuticura Soap and then applied the Cuticura Ointment, and when their heads were well you could see nothing of the sores. I should be very glad to let others know about the great Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Kate Keim, 513 West 29th St., New York, N. Y., Nov. 1, 5, and 7, 1906."

CLEWS ADVISES CAUTION.

Little Prospect of Higher Prices for Stocks for the Time Being.

New York, June 24.—Henry Clews, banker, says in his weekly financial review:

"The money situation and the crop prospects remain the important factors in the stock market. As to the former, the outlook is not very bright. The American people have a penchant for new high records; they are disappointed at average results and find slight occasion for enthusiasm in such results. Present indications certainly point to average grain crops, if weather from now on shall remain favorable, and the wheat crop, as a carryover this year is large and that there is an assured foreign demand for our grain at high prices will go a long way towards counteracting our agriculturalists for their failure to once more establish record harvests. Meanwhile railroad freight statements are making an increasingly favorable showing. For the month of May, for instance, seventy-one railroads showed an increase in gross income of $11,771,000, or 14 per cent, over the corresponding figures for 1906; for the second week in June eighteen roads are $5,612,000, or 19 per cent, over last year's figures. The stubbornness with which the April figures are being clung to, and the available in a large way; these for eighty-one roads show an increase of $7,892,000, or 23 per cent—a figure almost identical with the increase in crop earnings. These comparisons are distinctly better than those of a few months ago.

NEW TREATMENT FOR COAL.

Is Said to Make It Smokeless—Tests by the Government.

Washington, June 24.—Recent fuel tests made by the government indicate that it may be possible soon for locomotives to enter cities without emitting a cloud of smoke. The tests, which were made by the government, showed that a new treatment for coal, known as the "Lusk" process, makes it possible to burn coal without emitting a cloud of smoke. The tests were made by the government, and the results were very satisfactory. The new treatment for coal is said to make it smokeless, and it is being tested by the government. The tests were made by the government, and the results were very satisfactory. The new treatment for coal is said to make it smokeless, and it is being tested by the government. BANK RESERVES MUCH REDUCED.

The new engagements of gold have further reduced bank reserves, and lenders, both by inclination and necessity, are husbanding their resources and pursuing a distinct policy of limiting accommodation to transactions in now-expected with expansion or speculation. The apparent reluctance of call money, and other evidence of this policy, although it is quite true that the extreme dullness in Stock exchange speculation and the consequent absence of banking requirements is also an influence in the case in the market for demand funds. Abundant call money under such circumstances represents timidity on the part of lenders who refuse to tie up their resources for specific periods. Professional Wall Street deals with the fact that it has already been discounted to a very important extent the reactionary condition of business—or, more properly, the slowing down of business activity—is that is only now being generally appreciated outside of the "Street"; and is in a position to recover as soon as general conditions improve. However, it is not yet evident. Money is scarce the world over, with every promise of continuing so at least during the balance of the year.

THE DEMAND FOR OUR GOLD HAS THIS FAR COME LARGELY FROM PARIS, WHICH UNDER PRESSURE TO STRENGTHEN ITS RESERVES IN VIEW OF THE UNSETTLED RUSSIAN SITUATION, WITH WHICH FRANCE IS SO CLOSELY RELATED IN A FINANCIAL WAY BY HOLDINGS OF SOMETHING LIKE $2,500,000,000 IN RUSSIAN SECURITIES. THIS IS A LOAD BEARING FINANCIAL ABILITY TO PROTECT; AND WITH THE PROTRACTED PERIOD OF ANXIETY THAT IS DISTINCTLY IN PROSPECT IN THE EAR'S DOMAIN, A REDISTRIBUTION OF THE FUNDS THAT FRANCE IS NOW CALLING HOME MAY HARDLY BE EXPECTED TO BECOME A FACTOR IN ANY MARKED CALCULATIONS OF THE NEAR FUTURE. THE DISSOLUTION OF THE RUSSIAN DUMA REPRESENTS A RETURN TO THE TOWARDS THE FINAL ADJUSTMENT OF THE EAR'S POLITICAL AFFAIRS; IT IS QUITE PROBABLE THAT DUMA AFTER DUMA WILL FOLLOW IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF THAT NOW JUST ENDED BEFORE THE CONDITIONS SHALL BECOME ACCEPTABLE TO THE AUTOCRATS OF GRAND DUKES TO WHOM THE EAR IS SO CLOSELY BOUND, AND WHO EXERCISE SUCH A DOMINANT INFLUENCE OVER HIM. UNTIL THIS ADJUSTMENT, SATISFACTORY TO THE EAR'S ADVISORS, HAS GONE THROUGH ITS VARIOUS STAGES THE RUSSIAN SITUATION MAY BE EXPECTED TO REMAIN A DISTURBING FEATURE IN EUROPEAN BUSINESS AND THE POSSIBILITY OF A RETURN OF EUROPEAN CAPITAL TO EUROPE OF COMPARATIVE IDLENESS WILL REMAIN PRACTICALLY AS REMOTE AS NOW. THE BANK OF ENGLAND THIS WEEK SHOWN TO HAVE IMPROVED ITS RESERVES, AND STERLING EXCHANGE CONditions seem to indicate a settled policy in his direction. The continental banks have also increased their gold holdings.

Metaphory Situation at Home. So far as money conditions in the United States are concerned, an entirely new feature will be encountered this year, which will make itself felt in connection with the usual demand for currency by the agricultural sections for crop-mooring facilities. This is the provision of the new legislation permitting the secretary of the treasury to deposit customs receipts in national depositories instead of shutting them up in the treasury as has heretofore been necessary during the crop-marketing season. Therefore, the treasury department will now naturally become a subject of criticism if it continues to lock up the enormous daily drains in the form of customs collections, quite as much as in the past it has been criticised for its expedients in nullifying the effects of such unnecessary withdrawals. To this extent the local money situation promises this year to pass through a crop period in a steadier manner without the temporary abnormal strain usually resulting from the combination of active imports and active agricultural demands.

On the other hand there will be an abnormal demand the next few months to finance railroad and other obligations. Plans for a new currency, which is a safe inference that few really banking or industrial enterprises will appear as applicants for banking accommodation for some time in the future. The demand by the older enterprises will, however, be quite sufficient to absorb what capital will be available. Meanwhile, the new currency conditions, any pronounced activity in the stock market would be very likely to produce much higher rates for call money. Secretary Cortelyou has certainly acted the part of wisdom in timing the withdrawals of $30,000,000 of public money from the government depositories so that they shall occur during the July dividend and interest payments are arranged. Preparations for the latter should naturally cause a hardening of local interest rates during the closing days of the month, while the withdrawal of the $30,000,000 public deposits from the banks during the early part of July will promptly be returned in the form of bond redemptions and other treasury disbursements.

Average Grain Crops Indicated.

Crop developments are closely following the course that experience and judgment suggested when the crop-killing season was at its height. The American people have a penchant for new high records; they are disappointed at average results and find slight occasion for enthusiasm in such results. Present indications certainly point to average grain crops, if weather from now on shall remain favorable, and the wheat crop, as a carryover this year is large and that there is an assured foreign demand for our grain at high prices will go a long way towards counteracting our agriculturalists for their failure to once more establish record harvests.

Meanwhile railroad freight statements are making an increasingly favorable showing. For the month of May, for instance, seventy-one railroads showed an increase in gross income of $11,771,000, or 14 per cent, over the corresponding figures for 1906; for the second week in June eighteen roads are $5,612,000, or 19 per cent, over last year's figures. The stubbornness with which the April figures are being clung to, and the available in a large way; these for eighty-one roads show an increase of $7,892,000, or 23 per cent—a figure almost identical with the increase in crop earnings. These comparisons are distinctly better than those of a few months ago.

POT HUNTERS AT WORK.

The slaughter of deer out of season is reported to still be going on without any interferences from the Sagola, Dickinson county. Certain hunters are said to make a regular practice of head-lighting by night and running deer with dogs, and it is reported that no less than ten saddles of venison have been brought back recently in the woods.

General Remembering Necessary.

It has been the practice of Iron Mountain foreign-born citizens, in moving from one house to another, to take the street number with them. As a result confusion has developed in some parts of the town, and a number on a house has no significance. It has become necessary to remember the entire city, and this work will shortly be undertaken the result of a prodding of the board of public works by Postmaster Cruise.

Northern Michigan Locomotives.

Rev. Fred G. Westphal, a well-known peninsula pastor, recently stationed at Ontonagon, has accepted a call from the Berean Presbyterian church of Milwaukee.

Two Circuses at Least are to Come into the Upper Peninsula this Summer.

Golmar Bros. will show in July and Norris Bros. & Rowe's circus will come in August.

Kid Hogan, who was with the Iron Mountain baseball team two years ago, is now a member of the Flint team of the Southern Michigan league and is pitching fine ball.

Small Injury Leads to Death.

Charles D. Tyrrell, a brickman employed by the Northwestern road, is dead at Escanaba after an illness of several months from a complication of diseases induced by an injury sustained late last fall. Tyrrell was thrown from the top of a car, crushing the bones of his head in a manner which made it necessary for several operations to be performed. Complications developed and the patient rapidly lost strength until the end came. The young man was twenty-nine years of age. A brother of the deceased died at Escanaba only a week before, the result of an attack of typhoid pneumonia.

Teachers on a Strike.

The board of education of Rockland, Ontonagon county, has a "strike" on its hands. Some time ago it was decreed that no contracts would be made with any of the members of the teaching corps unless the teacher agreed to take a summer course of instruction at some Normal school or other higher institution of learning. The flat created dissatisfaction particularly in the case of recent Normal graduates, and up to the present time no contract have been signed. It seems unquestioned that at least some of the young women concerned need brushing up a bit, but the prospects indicate a number of new faces on the teaching corps at the next term of school.

Many Bounties Paid.

During the past fortnight, County Clerk Quarstrom, at Iron Mountain, has audited claims for bounties as follows: William J. Grill, of Ralph, the fox, and three wildcats; Fred Toewlager, of Elwood, four wolves; John Walker, of Foster City, three wolves; James Parent, of Foster City, four wolves; George Sterling, of Foster City, five wildcats. At Monominee, since the last meeting of the county board, four weeks ago, a total of twenty-six wolves and sixteen wildcats scalp have been brought in to the clerk. Most of the bounties will be paid to Indians who are making a livelihood by trapping these animals. The bounties allowed on wildcats are $3 apiece and on wolves $25. For half grown wolves, the bounties are $10.

Formerly The Mining Journal.

Miss Minnie Taylor, daughter of Captain Joseph Taylor, Ridge street, is the possessor of a valuable souvenir of early Soo times, says the Sault Star. Marie Times. It is a copy of the Lake Superior Journal, published in this city in 1853, the issue being Oct. 1 of that year. Even in those early days the Journal shows evidence of having an up-to-date printing office as it is well printed and a fine display of advertising type is shown. The paper is in a seven column folio and contains two pages of solid advertising, the largest amount being from Cleveland and Detroit merchants. An article speaks of the richness of the Canadian copper deposits in the vicinity of the Soo, but which little attention was paid by reason of the fact it is only in recent years that any attempt has been made to develop these properties. P. B. Barbeau had an advertisement, and mentions everything under the sun as being kept in stock. He was the principal local merchant in those days and is reported by some of the older residents of the city.

River Gives Up Its Dead.

The body of Amunoz Car, who lost his life by being carried over Chandler's falls, Escanaba river, May 19, was found last week three miles from the scene of the fatality. The corpse was discovered in shallow water close to the edge of the stream by men who were walking along the bank. Car was employed by the I. Stephenson company as foreman of the drive drivers in the district. May 19 he went out with other men in a boat to look a jam. Car lost control of the boat and it was carried over the falls. Two men were in the boat with Car but both escaped uninjured. Car was carried on down the river by the current and finally went down. Search for the body was kept up from the time of the drowning.

Lightning Photography.

For rush work, the bunch of marine photographers at the Soo are apparently entitled to the palm. Competition is fierce. When a new boat, or one of which it is desired to secure a picture, arrives at the ship canal, it is no uncommon sight to see a half dozen cameras peeped at her from the walls of the canal. It takes about half an hour for a vessel to lock through, and while this is done the photographer develops his plate, gets his printing done, mounts his picture and offers it for sale to the people on the boat before they leave the locks. Instances have been known on extra rush work where pictures have been taken, finished, offered for sale in less than twenty minutes, and the pictures were good ones, too. These instances are not semi-occasional, but there is not a day during the season of navigation when they are not repeated.

Soo Canal Improvements.

That the work of widening the St. Mary's Falls ship canal at the Soo will be entitled to the palm. Competition is fierce. Pure White Lead is the Natural Paint Pigment

Numerous compounds are being offered to take the place of white lead as a paint, but no real substitute for it has yet been found. Pure White Lead has a peculiar property of amalgamating with the wood upon which it is used—added to this it has an elasticity which permits the paint to follow the natural expansion and contraction of the wood. Pure White Lead alone fulfills all the requirements of the ideal paint.

Southern Pure White Lead

is White Lead with its full natural tenacity and elasticity unimpaired by adulterants. Every keg of it bears the Dutch Boy trade mark, which is a positive guarantee of absolutely pure White Lead made by the Old Dutch Process.

MANY NEW LAWS JULY 1. IMPORTANT ONES FOR THE POSTAL ESTABLISHMENT.

Promotion to be Based on Efficiency and Faithfulness—Salaries of Many Increased—A Billion Dollars Appropriated Will Become Available.

Washington, June 24.—Many important legislative acts by the last congress become effective July 1, the beginning of the government's fiscal year. The most important of these are particularly interested in the new legislation affecting the postal establishment which goes into effect on that day. Here are the more important things provided for:

Clerks in offices of the first and second class carriers in the city delivery service will be divided into six grades. In the first grade the salary will be $600; in the second grade $500; third grade, $400; fourth grade, $300; fifth grade, $200; sixth grade, $120.

On the first day of the month clerks in all offices will be promoted to the fifth grade, and clerks and carriers at second-class offices will be promoted successively to the fourth grade. The post office department is now going over the evidence submitted by postmasters which will be used in making promotions. Every promotion is to be based on efficiency and faithfulness.

Any clerk will be eligible for transfer to the service of a carrier, and any carrier will be eligible for transfer to the service of a clerk.

Every city carrier who on June 30 is regularly employed at a salary of $800 a year will be promoted to the fourth grade at $1,000 a year provided there is submitted at the postoffice department evidence of efficiency and faithfulness.

Substitutes may be employed for clerks and carriers at the rate of thirty cents an hour, and a substitute becomes eligible for appointment to the first grade.

Employees in the railway mail service are classified and nearly everybody in this branch of the service will receive an increase of $100.

Rural letter carriers who cover what is known as a full route will receive $800 a year instead of $720.

The compensation paid the railroads for carrying the mails is to be readjusted, and the pay considerably reduced.

Postmasters throughout the country will begin keeping a record of the weight of each class of mail. This record is to be kept for a period of six months.

In making promotions under the new legislation the department is being guided by the recommendations of postmasters so far as postoffice employees are concerned and of division superintendents in dealing with the employees in the railway mail service.

While the postoffice department received a sort of broadside of legislation effective July 1, each of the other departments received many important orders.

The secretary of the interior, for instance, is instructed to make at the beginning of the new fiscal year an inquiry whether it is advisable to abandon the various pension payment agencies and arrange to pay direct from Washington. Congress came near abolishing these agencies last winter, but finally decided to keep them.

Nearly one billion dollars appropriated at the last session of congress become available with the beginning of the fiscal year. The navy department will have $25,000,000 more to spend than it had during the fiscal year just closing and each of the other departments will have "money to burn."

The new immigration law, with the exception of the section relating to Japanese coolies which became effective when the act was passed, goes into effect with the beginning of the new fiscal year. It contains many new features designed to bring in a better class of immigrants. The head tax is increased to $2 and the excluded classes are considerably enlarged.

The railroads are specially interested in the going into effect on the first of July of the provision of the rate law which authorizes the commission to require the railroads to install a uniform system of accounting. The law gave the commission discretion in the matter of fixing a time for putting the provision into effect. The first step of the commission was to devise a system of accounting that would answer its requirements as well as satisfy in some degree the railroads. Recently the work of devising a system was completed and only the other day the commission gave notice that the provision of the law will be effective on and after July 1.

There is yet one provision of the rate bill that will not become effective until May 1 next year. This is the provision requiring railroad companies to divest themselves of the ownership of coal mines and timber lands. They must cut loose from such ownership by May 1, 1908.

Another new law in which the railroads are greatly interested does not become effective until the fourth of next March. This is the act limiting the number of hours railroad employes may be worked. Congress gave the roads one year to readjust their business to the new legislation.

Sept. 1, this year, the new denaturalized alcohol law goes into effect. This is the legislation that authorizes the establishment of the central denaturing bonded warehouses. Other than those of distilleries, the internal revenue bureau is now preparing rules and regulations under the new law, and it is the hope and expectation of the government that the manufacture of denatured alcohol may take a spurt when the new legislation becomes effective. Up to this time the results under the denatured alcohol law have been disappointing.

CURIED HEMORRHAGES OF THE LUNGS. "Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar cures the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from colds. Refuse substitutes. The Stafford Drug Co.

HEARST OPPOSES BRYAN. May Run Against Him as an Independent if He is Nominated.

New York, June 21.—Representative W. Bourke Cockran, who has returned from a visit to Mr. Bryan at Lincoln, Nebraska, for the sole purpose of seeing Mr. Bryan, but that while in the state he had a long talk with the Nebraska "I do not know," said Mr. Cockran, "if Mr. Bryan is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year. In our talk we didn't discuss that matter as much as we did certain principles which are under discussion for the next Democratic presidential platform. Of course, if the situation develops a stronger man than Mr. Bryan he will undoubtedly come to the front. Everything is upset in most parts of the country and there is a very grave feeling that criticisms and attacks on great public service corporations may extend to great manufacturing concerns. All these matters should be explained in the Democratic national platform. It is a little early to talk about such matters. I found Mr. Bryan in excellent health and he is keeping his eye on the situation all over the country."

The statement of Norman E. Mack, Democratic national committeeman for the state, that Richard Croker is to return to this country in time to vote for Mr. Bryan for president, and that Mr. Mack hoped that the two Bryan friends were ready to speak for him on this matter, but it was learned that there is still a very pronounced feeling on the part of the Hearst people against Mr. Bryan, and the reason is given thus: Mr. Hearst in 1896 and 1900, personally and through his newspapers, supported Mr. Bryan for the presidency.

In 1904 Mr. Bryan was not a candidate for the presidency, while Mr. Hearst was, and Mr. Hearst felt that he should have Mr. Bryan's support and the support of Mr. Bryan's friends in the Democratic national convention at St. Louis. Instead of requiring the political loyalty of Mr. Bryan in the two campaigns, Mr. Bryan went upon the platform and seconded the nomination of former United States Senator Francis M. Cockrell of Missouri, who had no chance of being nominated. Since then there has been ill feeling among the Hearst people against Mr. Bryan. This was demonstrated publicly at the Madison Square Garden meeting in August last, on Mr. Bryan's return from Europe, where he spoke for the government ownership of railroads. On that evening Mr. Hearst's friends got up a counter demonstration for Hearst. According to Mr. Hearst's friends last night, the alleged differences between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Hearst have not been forgotten. Hearst people said yesterday that Mr. Hearst and Mr. Hearst's friends would do everything possible to defeat Mr. Bryan for the nomination next year, and that if they accomplished their purpose Mr. Hearst would not run for president as the candidate of the National Independence League.

While the Hearst people are not so ready to support Mr. Bryan for the nomination, they were unable to defeat Mr. Bryan for the nomination, Mr. Hearst would certainly run as the league's candidate, thus putting two Democratic candidates in the field. In that event, if added, almost any Republican candidate could be elected.

GOOD BARGAIN FOR FRANCE. Japanese Entente Makes Possessions in the Far East Secure.

Paris, June 24.—While political considerations of a high order contributed to the negotiation of the new Franco-Japanese entente, there is no longer any doubt that the substantial gains made given by France was the promise of access to the French market for future Japanese loans. Japan did not need French guarantee for Korea and Formosa, but a Japanese guarantee for Indo-China was worth a great deal to France and she was willing to pay the price demanded. Japan, according to the confidential statement made by some of her highest representatives in Europe will need something like $1,000,000,000 within the next few years to convert her present high rate loans and to furnish the capital necessary for industrial and commercial development planned in Manchuria and London. While the money markets of the world are at present unfavorable to rotations, Japan has succeeded in securing the assent of the French government to the placing of her loans here when the opportune time arrives.

It is regarded as a big achievement for Japan, but the French government is equally convinced that it is a good bargain for France. M. Pichon, the present minister of foreign affairs, had a long experience in the Far East as minister at Peking, and none appreciated more than he how impossible it would be for France to defend Indo-China against such an adversary as Japan. Besides, as a matter of fact, the dread of Japanese aggression in Indo-China has hampered the Quai d'Orsay for years. France has given Japan provocation in the past. She was a party with Russia and Germany to the tri-partite agreement which forced Japan to relinquish the fruits of her victory over China obtained in the treaty of Shimonoseki and there has always existed a feeling that Japan would some day take her revenge. Indeed, there are in the archives of the Quai d'Orsay proofs that at one time a plan of campaign against the French colony of Indo-China had been prepared at Tokio. Subsequent events, however, decided Japan to strike Russia instead of France.

There was a critical moment during the Fashoda incident when France and England seemed on the verge of war. France was then greatly alarmed. Had Japan seized the opportunity and strike, and hurried preparations were made to defend the Chinese colony. There was another crisis in the relations between France and Japan during the Russo-Japanese war. When France stretched her neutrality to the limit in favor of her ally by allowing Rojestvensky's fleet shelter when it was in Canton Bay. So keenly did the French government at that time feel that it may have given just cause for reprisal that after peace was made by the treaty of Portsmouth and Japan entered the market for a $250,000,000 loan. Mr. Rouvier, former minister of finance, deliberately braved the dissatisfaction of Russia by

Iron Notes

At Iron Mountain, on the Menominee Lake Superior corporation, with furnaces at the Canadian Soo, has resumed mining operations in a small way at the Buffalo mine, purchased last year from the Desautels interests of New York. The mine is in condition to make a large production, but its output probably will not exceed 40,000 tons. The Munro open pit mine, a summer proposition of the Buffalo and Susquehanna company, at Norway, also has been restored to the active list. It has been provided with a new Gates ore crusher and is in excellent running condition. In the same portion of the Menominee range, Ogilvie, Norton & Co. are shipping from the Buffalo mine company's open work, out from Iron Mountain. The product is going out over the C. M. & St. P. road, as in the past, delay having been met with recently in the construction of the C. & N. W. spur line to the property by reason of a right-of-way controversy.

In the Crystal Falls district, at the western end of the Menominee, there is no little complaint of a shortage of underground labor, a condition as a result of which production is likely to be seriously hampered. Miners cannot be expected to operate the properties at maximum capacity, and there is fear that instead of the expected material increase in output, the shipments will actually fall behind those of last season. There is a considerable underground, it is estimated, fully half a thousand men. However, with steam shovels in commission, excellent progress has been made in the removal of stockpiles, and by early next month practically all of this surface ore will have been forwarded to the lower lakes.

While the clamshell method of stripping ore, in use at the Jones & Laughlin Steel company's Grant property at Buld, is now understood to be operating to the satisfaction of the management, mining men in general on the Mesabi have not become enthused over its possibilities and there is not great likelihood of its adoption at other mines unless it has thoroughly determined in advance that the conditions are exceptionally favorable. The cost of the installation at the Grant has been approximately $1,000,000, a million dollars to state, and while better progress will be made with the scoop at work in the ore, the stripping has been slow and expensive and has been marked by the necessity of making various repairs and alterations. Specially, the steel cables, the large clamshell trawls between two movable steel towers, 170 feet high and 1,150 feet apart. Dropped into the stripping, it scoops up its load, is hoisted, and is conveyed to the dumping ground, where the jaws open and the contents of the carrier are discharged. Electrical power is used. No little trouble has been caused by rock encountered in the overburden; but there is confidence that with ore alone to be taken out the clamshell method will be found to be a cheap production. The Grant ore is of better quality and heavier grade and has been mined from a shaft 125 feet deep.

For some years except for the mining of the minimum amount of ore required by the terms of leases, the Steel Corporation's Ohio group of four properties at Virginia, Ohio, has not been operated as a single open-pit producer, presents a scene of much activity. Stripping was in progress during the winter, and it will shortly be entirely completed. The properties have been opened as one continuous pit, pear-shaped, and covered with a layer of about forty feet of overburden. The overburden has not been particularly deep, averaging possibly not more than forty feet, but no little tonnage has been encountered and in addition the proximity of old underground workings has caused no little inconvenience as the surface has been taken off. However, a large body of ore has been uncovered, and shipments are in progress. In the Hibbing district, wonderful progress has been made by the Steel Corporation in stripping work at the Sellers and Pitkin mines, but much remains to be done at both properties. The Hill-Rust, adjoining the Big Mahoning, west of Hibbing, and already one of the greatest open pits on the range, is still being enlarged. The scene of extensive stripping operations throughout the winter, Hibbing will be the nation's biggest shipper this season, with the exception of the Mountain Iron, each of these giant producers being looked to for an output exceeding two and a half million tons. The big Fayal mine at Bisset will rank third on the corporation's list, with an output of 2,000,000 tons.

A new mine which will begin shipments from the Mesabi this season is the St. James property, which Gorrigan, McKinney & Co. are opening adjoining the village of Aurora on the north. Development work was commenced early this year. The ore, which is of Bessemer grade, was encountered at a depth of 150 feet, and drifting in the deposit is now in progress. The shaft, down 225 feet, has been capped by one of the largest shaft houses on the range. Mine buildings have been erected, also a considerable number of dwelling houses for the men, and a good road will shortly be provided by the extension of a spur line from the Duluth & Iron Range branch to the Meadow property. This latter mine, also in a development stage, will like its neighbor be a new property this year, as property of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company. The Meadow is distant one and one-half miles northeast of Aurora. Still another new producer will be the Steel Corporation's McKinley mine, where stripping has been in progress for some time past. Other new mines on the Mesabi are the Syracuse and Bangor properties of Pickands, Mather & Co., at the upper end of Lake Embarras. The shaft

It is an interesting fact that people who are compelled to give up the use of ordinary coffee can drink Barrington Hall without ill effects.

Barrington Hall - The Steel-Cut Coffee

Steel-Cut is just pure coffee of high quality, prepared by our patented process, which cuts the coffee berry into fine, uniform particles and removes from it all chaff, dust and foreign matter. Barrington Hall, therefore, consists of only the best parts of the coffee berry; shown by the fact that the tannin-bearing skin (or chaff), dust, etc., which are removed by this process, when steeped alone, make an undrinkable decoction. From the small, even, refined particles of Barrington Hall it is possible to produce a cup free from the objection which eminent medical authorities agree comes from over-steeping the small particles in unevenly ground coffee, to say nothing of the tannin-bearing skin and dust left in coffee which has been ground in a coffee mill.

It Excels All Other Coffees in Flavor

is because by the Steel-Cut process the little oil cells in the roasted coffee bean are not crushed, as in grinding, thus the rich aromatic oil (flavor) which makes coffee flavor, is preserved to a remarkable degree. This is one reason why a pound of Barrington Hall will make 15 to 20 cups more of pure, full-strength coffee than would the same coffee ground in a coffee mill. The best test is in the using. We want everybody to try it. Sold nearly everywhere, price 25c to 40c a pound, according to locality. If your grocer will not supply you, let us tell you where and how to get it. Address nearest office, giving your grocer's name.

STORM WORKED GREAT HAVOC

STONE QUARRY PUT OUT OF BUSINESS AND RAILROAD TRAFFIC KNOCKED OUT BY FLOOD.

WORST IN CITY'S HISTORY

Huge Gap Opened in Lake Street at Foot of Hampton Street—Minor Damage Would Make a Formidable List.

Yesterday, when it was possible to begin checking up the damage caused by the unprecedented rain storm of Sunday afternoon and evening, it was found that it was the worst visitation of the kind that Marquette has ever suffered from and that the loss, while as yet it is only possible to estimate it roughly, will amount to many thousands of dollars. The worst sufferers were the Postage Entry Sandstone company, the South Shore railway and the Marquette & Southeastern railway, and the primary cause of their trouble was the little creek that flows from above the old Catholic cemetery.

The storm put the sandstone quarry out of business and badly interfered with traffic on both railroads, necessitating the cancelling of freights and the transfer of passengers on all the regular passenger trains. It will be late tonight, or some time tomorrow, before either of the railroads have traffic on the usual basis.

Dammed Water Burst Forth.

The damage referred to above is to be ascribed to bursting of dams, although in one case the dam was not a dam, but a fill of the South Shore railway. The rainfall that terminated the month's dry spell Sunday was unprecedented in this region. The water poured down from the hills southwest of the city at a tremendous rate. Opposite the old Catholic cemetery there has existed for many years a dam, behind which there is normally a considerable volume of water. Sunday afternoon it was quickly swollen so that the dam was overtopped and one end of it undermined. Immediately below, on an easy grade, is the fill carrying the South Shore track—the former M. & W. track—to Negaunee. Between the old cemetery dam and this fill is a considerable area, at places of a depth of twenty-five feet or more. In this area the water gathered quickly, the culvert being an iron pipe which was entirely insufficient to carry the waters of the swollen creek.

The water gained in height so rapidly that there was not time to do anything, even if there had been anything which could be done, which there was not. When the level of the immense pond that formed back of the fill reached the tracks at the lower end of the grade, it poured over the rails. Once it began to flow the embankment was quickly eaten into and as this happened the size of the torrent increased, which again increased the rapidity of the erosion.

Quarry Drowned Out.

The bed of the little creek that rises west of the cemetery formerly skirted the great excavation made in past years by the quarry company, but when the torrent that found its way over the South Shore track reached it the comparatively narrow wall separating the waters of the creek from the quarry was broken down and the great volume of water poured into the opening, which, because of the flow, it was not possible to approach by several yards. The opening was filled in a few minutes, the waters finding an outlet at the lower end of the quarry.

As a result of this disaster the quarry company finds itself fairly put out of business, and facing a large emergency expenditure before it can resume work. The water swirling through the quarry undermined a shed on the north side which housed a chandler, a machine worth $2,500, the structure being thrown into the opening. It was impossible to learn the condition of the machine yesterday, and it is feared that it may be a total loss. The pumps at the quarry were in the bottom of the cut, and are now submerged. To free the opening of water it will be necessary to secure other pumps, and then the task will be a big one. At the quarry so far this season the work done has been of a preliminary nature, stripping and preparing for chandling, which it was expected would be commenced in a few days. A force of about forty men has been employed. This is short of the number the management would like to have employed, but considerable of it will likely be laid off.

Manager Cooper was unable yesterday to estimate the loss or the money that will have to be expended before operations will be resumed. The creek is now flowing into the west end of the quarry and flowing out of the east end. Before the quarrying of stone can be resumed it will be necessary to make a new bed for it and to deflect the flow of water into this bed. This work in itself will be expensive, and will take a considerable time. Manager Cooper yesterday mentioned sixty days as the time that will elapse before operations can be resumed. On leaving of the extent of the damage he sent for directors of the company, who will doubtless be here today to discuss what had best be done. It is possible that the damage at the quarry, loss of business and expense of work that will have to be done to deflect the flow of water, will aggregate in the neighborhood of $10,000.

Big Washout on Lake Street.

After inundating the quarry in the manner described the flood of water proceeded to rip up the biggest washout on Lake street that has ever been seen hereabouts. From the eastern end of the quarry to Hampton street is but a few hundred feet. The creek referred to above flows under Hampton street in a culvert some 500 or 600 feet west of the lake house, which is on the lake front, thence reaching the lake through a culvert under Lake street immediately north of the gas house. But the culvert under Hampton street was insufficient to handle the flood of water that poured through the quarry, and the torrent found its way down the street, which has a considerable grade, direct to the lake. The volume of water must have been tremendous, for it left impressive evidence of its power which yesterday was viewed by thousands of people. Directly in line with Hampton street back from the shore of the lake a gap some 250 feet long, by eighty feet wide, and about twenty feet deep was gouged out, leaving the main tracks of the South Shore and the M. & S. E. railways suspended in air, held together by the ties, like bridges of the suspension type. About eighty feet of the main tracks was undermined, and in addition two sidetracks of the South Shore company were undermined, and four big coal cars, loaded with ore, toppled over, one of them being badly wrecked.

The great gap was far the most serious of the washouts, but there were lesser ones for a stretch of two blocks between the gas house and the South Shore freight depot. One of these was found at the northern corner of the freight depot, where an opening some five feet deep and about ten feet across was washed out. Immediately north of the gas house another flow of water undermined the substantially built block signal tower maintained by the two railroad companies, and it toppled over with a crash, being badly wrecked. The signal system was damaged and there was a confusion of telegraph and other wires at the several points.

The volume of material moved was great as was evidenced by the building out of the shore at the point opposite the big break. Water to a considerable depth was displaced by sand and other refuse.

Traffic Badly Interrupted.

The washouts greatly interrupted traffic on both the South Shore and M. & S. E. railroads. Freight trains were cancelled, as there was no way of getting them through. Passenger trains have, however, been running, the expedient of transferring passengers, baggage and mails being resorted to. The Duluth express, due here at 11 o'clock Sunday night, was held up somewhere down the line, and pulled in after 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The passengers, baggage and mail matter were transferred to a train made up here, and sent west. Yesterday this was the expedient on both roads to keep the passenger traffic moving. Buses and drays were busy hauling passengers, baggage and mail, it being necessary to make a long detour to reach the eastbound trains.

Both roads started work early yesterday morning repairing the damage, but there is so much to do that by nightfall but little apparent progress had been made, and the big washout had not been touched. The M. & S. E. has a dirt train on, and both roads filled a few of the minor washouts. Work on the big one will be pushed today. The South Shore company expects to drive piles to support the track, while the L. S. & I. company will erect a temporary trestle work to permit trains to pass. Both companies plan ultimately to fill the gap, but for the time being their chief concern will be to make temporary arrangements by which they can move trains and again begin the movement of freight, which is already beginning to stack up in a threatening manner. Big crews will be employed at the washout today. There is some hope that trains will be able to cross some time tonight, but it may be tomorrow before this will be possible, and somewhat later before traffic can be handled in the usual way.

In addition to the washout mentioned there is a bad one on the M. I. O. route to Negaunee, where the water first burst out, as related above. The track there needs much ballasting. In addition the tracks in the upper yards need considerable attention, while considerable work will have to be done in the lower yards, near the big washout.

Much Minor Damage.

A list of instances of minor damage would be a long one, with South Marquette the principal sufferer. In the path of the flood that caused the big washouts many houses were flooded, and the sidewalks and macadam on the lower part of Hampton street were washed out. A concrete walk in South Marquette was undermined and broken down and many premises flooded. The streets suffered severely, the macadam in many places being badly impaired. This part of town, indeed, appears to have borne the brunt of the storm, though from all districts come reports of damages to streets and washing out of gutters and curbs. In the nature of things it is difficult to put an exact figure on the damage to city streets, but it certainly amounted to thousands of dollars.

It is reported that two men sleeping in Rivora's saloon Sunday night had a narrow escape from drowning. When the water began to pour into the place it came so fast that it was almost immediately several feet deep, and the two men referred to had to be dragged out. Houses owned by the Standard Oil and E. B. Spear & Sons were several feet deep in water when taken from the stables. In many places gardens and fields that had been planted were ruined. All in all the storm was the most disastrous in its consequences ever experienced here.

WASHOUT AT PRISON.

Spur Track Undermined by Water Sunday Afternoon.

When the South Shore remedies its more pressing trouble up town it will have a considerable job at the prison as the small creek running behind the barn there was swollen to many times its usual proportions Sunday afternoon by the rains and washed out the embankment beneath the spur track, by which access is had to the prison yard. It will be necessary to dump several car loads of dirt to repair the damage. The sand and debris swept out were deposited several feet over a field planted with potatoes, and the yield will be cut down. The M. & S. E. road also has considerable work to do at the Carp farms, where the track was undermined in places.

PICNICS AT PRESQUE ISLE.

Finn of County Held Fourth There Yesterday.

Presque Isle was a place only less frequented by merry-makers yesterday than the fair grounds, as it was the scene of a picnic held under the auspices of the Finnish societies of the county and of another gathering held by the Methodist Sunday school society of Ishpeming. Both affairs were largely attended, the L. S. & I. bringing down 1,000 or more people. The day was somewhat chilly to make Presque Isle as pleasant as it might have been, but the sky and sun were bright, and the large concourse at the resort managed to put in a most enjoyable afternoon. The street car company handled a large traffic to and from Presque Isle, and had an unusually large day's business, as the French picnic at the fair grounds also needed many cars. The day's business, in fact, was too large for the facilities, but the company handled thousands of passengers.
