

ITHACANS WIN BY NARROW SHAVE

Cornell Is First Across the Line in the Big Varsity Race at Poughkeepsie, but Only Five Feet Ahead of Columbia.

Gotham Crew Beaten Just at the Finish by Tremendous Spurt of Brawny Rivals—Middle Row Magnificently Finishing Third, With Pennsylvania Fourth and Wisconsin Fifth—Syracuse Captures the Four-Oared, Badgers the Freshmen's Contest.

Poughkeepsie, June 26.—Cornell won the varsity eight-oared race at the intercollegiate regatta for the eighth time this evening in the most exciting contest ever rowed over the four miles Poughkeepsie course.

Cornell's time was 20:02.5. Columbia was second, the Naval Academy third, Pennsylvania fourth, Wisconsin fifth and Georgetown sixth. Syracuse did not finish, her shell being swamped half a mile from the finish.

The Ithacans won by the narrowest margin from Columbia, and until the finish line was crossed the judges pronounced that Cornell had won, the spectators were in doubt as to which crew had achieved the victory.

Tremendous Spurt Settles It.

Cornell and Columbia fought for the honors of the race over the whole four miles, and at no time during the entire distance were the two shells more than twenty-five feet apart. Columbia led for over three miles, and Cornell took the lead only to lose it to Columbia again. In the last 100 feet of the race, Cornell, by a tremendous spurt, shot the nose of her shell out into the lead and swept over the finish under the glare of the searchlight on board the United States monitor Arkansas, five feet ahead of Columbia. The Annapolis crew rowed a magnificent race and finished two lengths behind Columbia.

Syracuse captured the honors in the race of the varsity four-oared shells from Cornell, Pennsylvania and Columbia, which finished in the order named. Syracuse finished two lengths ahead of Cornell and her time over the two-mile course was 10:37.1-5.

Wisconsin won the freshmen's eight-oared shell race over the course of two miles, leading Syracuse over the finish line by one length and covering the distance in 9:56. Pennsylvania was third, Columbia fourth and Cornell fifth. Columbia rowed the last quarter mile with an almost waterlogged shell, which filled near the stern when three feet of plankings were ripped out by striking a submerged log.

Big Race in Dim Twilight.

The varsity race was postponed until after 7 o'clock on account of rough water. Twenty thousand people saw the race, or at least were present. Secretary of the Navy Metcalf viewed the contest from the gunboat Yankton, while nearly 400 midshipmen cheered the Annapolis crew from an observation train and from the bridges and coming towers of the monitors Arkansas, Florida and Nevada, anchored near the middle of the darkness was falling and the midshipmen could scarcely be seen as they took their position on the offshore. Columbia had the shore position; Cornell, second; Syracuse, third; Pennsylvania, fourth; Georgetown, fifth; Wisconsin, sixth.

There was a long race as the crews hung at the line. Suddenly a gun on the stewards' boat flashed, and with a great cheer from the sight-seers the race was on. With a great sweep of their blades, the navy and Columbia shot in the lead. Cornell was second, and the other crews groped close together. Columbia quickly took a slight lead over the navy, which in turn fell behind Cornell. Columbia rowed a steady, even stroke, averaging in the first mile thirty-four to the minute. Cornell rowed thirty-four while the navy was hitting thirty-four. Georgetown fell far behind in the first quarter of the journey, and Columbia and Cornell rowed side by side with the slender prow of Columbia half a boat length ahead of the Ithacans, while far outside on the course, the navy was trying in a third position and trying to stave off a spurt from Pennsylvania. Syracuse and Wisconsin fell back gradually.

Passing the first mile post, Columbia had a lead of half a boat length over Cornell and was rowing thirty-two. The navy spurred, and, creeping up, tied with Cornell for second position at the mile post. Pennsylvania was third, Syracuse fourth, Wisconsin fifth and Georgetown last. Cornell and Columbia swept through the water, their bows never varying an inch between strokes.

A leaders went by the mile and half mark, Cornell's stroke increased. Columbia answered the challenge, and two crews raced madly along, with Pennsylvania and Annapolis still fighting for third. Passing Poughkeepsie bridge, Cornell increased the stroke to thirty-four and took the lead from Columbia. Columbia held to her thirty-two stroke, but it was suddenly increased and cut down the lead of Cornell to a couple of feet.

Finish Tremendously Exciting.

The leaders were now within a half mile of the finish line. The Annapolis crew had opened up two lengths of open water between their shell and Pennsylvania, which was fourth. Syracuse was fifth; Wisconsin, sixth, and Georgetown, seventh. Columbia had a terrific spurt, and when her bow nosed out ahead of Cornell the cheers from the Columbia men were deafening.

Columbia and Cornell were within one hundred yards of the finish when Cornell made a final effort. Amid a shrieking of whistles the leaders neared the finish line, on which played a great bar of white light from the searchlight of the monitor Arkansas. Cornell's steady low stroke shot the nose of her shell five feet ahead of Columbia as they came in the rays of the searchlight. Columbia tried vainly to cut down the slight lead, but could not, and Cornell slipped over the line, the winner by a decidedly narrow margin.

The Annapolis crew, third, was three lengths behind Columbia. Pennsylvania was two lengths behind the navy, taking fourth. Four lengths behind Pennsylvania was Wisconsin, crossing the line fifth, and far behind was Georgetown, the sixth to finish. Syracuse's shell began to fill within half a mile of the finish and would have sunk had not the crew jumped overboard. They were picked up by passing launches. Cornell's crew seemed in good condition after the race.

The official finish, with the times, except the times of Wisconsin, Syracuse and Georgetown, which were not taken, was: Cornell, 20:02.5; Columbia, 20:04; Navy, 20:13.4-5; Pennsylvania, 20:33.2-5.

NOW WINS THE IRISH DERBY.

Richard Croker's Orby Is First Again, Stable-Mate Second.

Dublin, June 26.—Richard Croker's Orby, winner of the English derby, won the Irish derby today. Mr. Croker's Georgian was second. Seven horses started.

By the victory of Orby today, Mr. Croker has made a record in racing history. It was Orby who won the English derby of 1907. This is the first time three great classics have been captured by the same horse. The Irish derby was run at Curragh. It was for three-year-olds, for $5,000, a mile and a half, the same as in the English derby.

VOTES TO CURTAIL POWER OF PEERS

HOUSE OF COMMONS PASSES THE PREMIER'S RESOLUTION, 432 TO 147, AMID CHEERS.

London, June 26.—Three days' debate in the commons ended at midnight when Premier Campbell-Bannerman's resolution in favor of curtailing the power of the house of lords in voting bills passed by commons was carried, 432 to 147, amid cheers.

An amendment introduced by A. Henderson (Laborite, of Durham), for the total abolition of the house of lords, was previously rejected, 100 to 315, the majority being composed of Laborites, Nationalists and a few radicals. In this division the Unionists as a body abstained from voting.

Robert H. Asquith, chancellor of the exchequer, in closing the debate remarked incidentally that in his view the opinion of the country was against a single chamber. By adopting the premier's resolution, he said, they would take the first and longest step on the road to the final emancipation of the people.

The premier on leaving the house was given a great ovation.

FRANCE WOULD TAKE CONGO.

However, Paris Expects Belgium Will Absorb the African State.

Paris, June 26.—In government circles Sir Charles Dilke's suggestion that Great Britain would accept the predominant interest of France in the Congo or would facilitate any Franco-German arrangement in the event of Belgium refusing to annex the Congo independent state, is regarded as premature. The impression here is that Belgium will eventually take over the Congo. The question of its partition with Germany has not yet been considered by France, and such solution is regarded as unlikely unless Germany takes the initiative.

Presence of Japanese Ships at Kiel Is Thus Explained.

Kiel, Germany, June 26.—The presence of the Japanese warships Chitose and Suburatsubo is explained from the Japanese side as being in consequence of Emperor William naming the emperor of Japan last May, while the vessels were in American waters, inviting them to visit Kiel. It had not been the intention of the Japanese to go to England, but after the German emperor had accepted the German emperor's invitation the Chitose and Suburatsubo were sent to British ports.

RUSSIAN PREMIER SCORES A TRIUMPH

M. Stolypin Finally Successful in His Protracted Struggle for Control of His Own Ministry—Schwanebach Is Out.

Czar Assents to the Retirement of the Comptroller of the Empire, Bitter Enemy of Witte, and Will Accept the Resignations of Other Reactionaries Doomed to Fall Along With Their Leader—Bomb Outrage at Tiflis Kills Many Persons.

St. Petersburg, June 26.—The emperor has accepted the resignation of Comptroller of the Empire Schwanebach, leader of the reactionary wing of the cabinet in the campaign for the dissolution of the duma. The retirement of Schwanebach marks the culmination of Premier Stolypin's protracted struggle for control of his own ministry.

Prior to a dissolution of the duma the premier three times demanded the resignation of the comptroller on account of his constant intrigues against Stolypin's policy of toleration to the duma, but the comptroller's position was so strongly backed by the reactionaries that he was unable to prevail. Stolypin's assent to the dissolution of the duma deprived the comptroller of his exclusive influence and led finally to the presentation of his resignation and its acceptance by his majesty.

Schwanebach was one of the bitterest enemies of Count Witte and is believed to have inspired the press campaign conducted against him abroad. Schwanebach, who has spent his entire life in the state service, is unlikely ever to return to an influential position. It is understood that his retirement will be followed by the resignations of other reactionary ministers.

FEARFUL OUTRAGE AT TIFLIS.

Bombs Thrown by Robbers Kill or Maim Many People.

Tiflis, June 26.—A bomb was thrown today into Erivan square, in the center of the town, and which was thronged with people. The missiles exploded with terrific force. Many persons were killed or injured, and windows and doors were shattered over a large area. The police prevented all approach to the scene.

It appears that the outrage was connected with an attack on a treasury wagon containing $125,000, escorted by Cossacks. The wagon had reached Erivan square when the bombs were thrown and the explosion followed. The bags containing the money have disappeared.

IMMUNE FROM CAPTURE.

Hospital Ships Not Warships—German Proposition at The Hague.

The Hague, June 26.—The German proposition for adopting the Red Cross convention to naval warships, which was presented to the peace conference June 24, says that hospital ships cannot be captured, not being considered as warships.

The proposal presented by the British delegates provides for the establishment of an international prize court, which would appear in regard to prizes captured at sea. A neutral power may appeal to this court from the finding of a prize court.

The text of the American proposition presented to the peace conference, June 24, by General Porter is as follows: "Bombardment by a naval force of unfortified and undefended towns; Such towns, villages or buildings are liable to damages incidental to the destruction of military or naval establishments, public depots of war in port; and such towns, villages or buildings are liable to bombardment when reasonable requisitions for provisions and supplies at the time essential to the naval force are withheld, in which case due notice of the bombardment must be given. The bombardment of unfortified and undefended towns and places for non-payment of ransom is forbidden."

It suggests that a further extension is not improbable. La Lucha says the continuance of the intervention will result in a further disintegration of the existing political parties.

ORCHARD'S RECITAL DECLARED FALSE

Wm. F. Davis, Alleged Fellow Conspirator, an Important Witness for the Defense at the Trial of W. D. Haywood.

He Makes Positive Denial of Every Statement Involving Him or His Miners' Union Associates in Any Form of Crime, and He Makes Solemn Oath Steenberg's Murderer Had Threatened to Kill the ex-Governor to Satisfy a Private Grudge.

Boise, Idaho, June 26.—William F. Davis, of Goldfield, Nev., one of the most important witnesses for the defense in the trial of Wm. D. Haywood, was called to the stand at noon today, and his cross-examination had not been completed when court adjourned this evening.

Orchard had testified that Davis led and commanded the mob that destroyed the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill in 1899, that he inspired, as the agent of Haywood and Meyer, the Vindicator explosion and the train wrecking plot at Cripple Creek, and was an accomplice in the Independence station crime.

Davis went over the story of his working life, including the pathetic story of the death of his wife and babe at Cripple Creek, at which he wept, and made positive denial of every statement of Orchard that involved him or his associates in any form of crime. He denied that he was even a member of the union when the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine was blown up, and at the conclusion of his general story he swore that at Cripple Creek, during the strike, Orchard had told him the "Irene" mine affair and had threatened to kill Steenberg, blaming the former grudge for the loss of his interest in the gold proposition.

PROPOSED TELEGRAPH PROBE.

Labor Union's Petition Referred to the Bureau of Corporations.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 26.—A telegram asking President Roosevelt to investigate the alleged violation of the anti-trust law by the telegraph companies received yesterday from the Washington Central Labor union, was today transmitted by Secretary Lusk to Herbert Knox Smith, chief of the bureau of corporations of the department of commerce and labor.

Oakland, Cal., June 26.—National President S. J. Small, of the Telegraphers' union, said today: "I am hopeful the present strike will not be prolonged. We are anxious to avoid any kind of trouble, but when forced to do it we will of course fight. That is only natural. Should the two telegraph companies refuse to meet their operators in order to adjust the differences now existing, there is no doubt in the world that the struggle will continue until we can force a government investigation. We are willing and anxious to do anything in reason to adjust the present troubles. The union need not appear in the adjustment at all, and, as has often been stated before, if the employers of the telegraphers will deal honestly and honorably with their operators they will never hear of the union."

"We claim that the sliding scale, the blacklist and the employment of women at less than will pay their living expenses is dishonest and in a way criminal. That is what both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies are doing all over the country."

COLOR PHOTOGRAPHY ACHIEVED.

Assistant Secretary of State Interested in New Discovery in Paris.

Washington, June 26.—Acting Secretary of State Adee, just returned from a circuit tour of France, brings back the report of a wonderful recent discovery whereby real color photography is said at last to be possible. The discovery has been made by Lumiere Bros. of Paris, photographers of high repute, and is strictly scientific—being based upon structure of the human eye whereby certain fibrillae over the retina transmit to the brain impressions of red, blue, and yellow, the primary colors to which they are sensitive.

By use of a plate covered with transparent globules of starch, colored so that some are red, others blue, others yellow, a negative is produced having the complementary colors of the original object. This negative is reproduced and shows the original colors of the object photographed.

Mr. Adee is having an investigation of the process made by a scientific friend in Paris, and believes its possibilities may prove to be great.

COURT ISSUES DRASTIC ORDER

Rockefeller, Rogers or Any of the Standard Oil Magnates May Be Haled Before Judge Landis at Chicago.

Refused Information as to the Assets of the Company, and Denying a Motion for a New Trial or an Arrest of Judgment, United States Jurist Directs the District Attorney to Summon the Officials of the Big Petroleum Trust.

Chicago, June 26.—Detailed information regarding the financial condition of the Standard Oil Co. is to be given in the United States district court before Judge Landis, even though it is necessary to summon the leading men of the company to obtain it.

This was made clear today when Judge Landis, after an unsuccessful attempt to obtain the information he desired from other sources, ordered United States District Attorney Simms to issue subpoenas returnable July 6 for all the officials and directors of the Standard Oil Co. It would be left to the discretion of the district attorney what men are to be summoned, but the court announced that the information must be secured.

All Trust Motions Overruled.

The day's proceedings were not filled with comfort for the Standard Oil company or its attorneys. Judge Landis some weeks ago directed the attorneys for the company and for the government to come into court on June 26, prepared to furnish him with information with regard to the financial condition of the Standard Oil, as he believed that if a fine was to be assessed against the company in pursuance of its recent conviction on a charge of using illegal freight rates, it should be proportioned to the amount of assets possessed by the defendant.

The motions of Attorney Miller, of the Standard Oil, for a new trial, arrest of judgment and that the government should be ordered to elect a specific date in the indictment on which to base the final judgment of the court, all were overruled. This last motion, if sustained, would have limited the fine to $200,000, the maximum for a single offense. The court can, under the conviction, punish the company with fines aggregating $20,000,000 on the 1,462 counts in the indictment that have been held good by the court.

Railroad Officials Examined.

The court then ordered J. H. Howard, auditor of the Alton railroad, to take the witness stand. The attorneys for the Standard Oil objected to Howard's testimony, declaring it to be improper, but the court ruled against them. The examination of Howard was confined to a 10-cent tariff on oil said to have been issued by the Alton in 1905.

The evidence of Howard was meagre and unsatisfactory.

He was followed on the witness stand by Frederick S. Hollander, chief rate clerk for the Alton road during the time the Standard Oil's alleged violations of the law are said to have occurred. He also was unsatisfactory.

Two other witnesses were placed on the stand, and then Judge Landis issued his order for a showing of the Alton's financial condition. Concluding his order, Judge Landis said: "Congress imposes upon this court the exercise of discretion in carrying out its jury verdict, and it is eminently proper that the court have information regarding the financial affairs of the defendant company before taking action. I want this information, and I intend to have it."

Rockefeller and Rogers Liable.

Immediately prior to the issuance of the order the attorneys for Standard Oil declined to furnish the information requested by Judge Landis, declaring that his demand was extra-judicial and not pertinent. After the adjournment of the district court, Attorney Simms declared that he would prepare his list of subpoenas at once.

The Standard Oil company was recently convicted of making shipments at illegal rates between Whiting and East St. Louis. Under the court's order the district attorney may summon John D. Rockefeller, R. H. Rogers or any other man connected with the Standard that he may desire to question.

WARNER AND THE "ANTIS." The legislature has adjourned, but discussions of state politics continue, with the gubernatorial question to the fore.

Presumably the governor would again be a candidate should he call a special session of the legislature and the senate again refuse to strike the 40 per cent provision from the primary law.

while the governor's opponents will find it hard to believe, it is nevertheless a fact that if Governor Warner decides to stand for a third term he will have the support of the most important elements of the upper peninsula.

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription."

The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, etc.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American medicinal forest plants.

That Bird would make a strong candidate is unquestioned. He ranks high as a lawyer and his ability has made itself felt in the office of attorney general, especially noticeable being his efforts to induce the enactment of laws that would insure equal taxation and give the state tax commission power to review assessments.

The movement to pension school teachers is one for which a great deal can be said both on sentimental and practical grounds. NEW YORK STOCKS.

New York, June 26.—The early dealings today showed that the stock market was in skillful hands, and the appearance of activity and strength was maintained during a period of profit-taking sales.

There was some revival of the crop damage reports, and this may have contributed to the late reaction in stocks. It had much more the appearance, however, of a natural reaction from yesterday's sharp advances and a demonstration of the continued narrow dimensions of the present market.

The market opened strong and active. Union Pacific led in the early strength. The support given the market was apparently of the right kind. The trade was not confined to the local contingent, as has been the case recently, but outsiders were free buyers during the morning.

Notwithstanding the fact that Wolverine costs per pound of production will, in the fiscal year to end this week, be increased to slightly more than seven cents a pound the management will still retain the distinction of possessing the cheapest produce of native copper at Lake Superior.

Paine, Webber & Co. wired regarding yesterday's Boston market: "The weakness in the market today was a great disappointment to the bulls."

PENSION FOR TEACHERS.

The movement to pension school teachers is one for which a great deal can be said both on sentimental and practical grounds. If the defenders of our country are entitled to provision against old age and infirmity, should not the same principle also extend to those who sow the seed of patriotism and progress.

LATE COPPER NEWS.

The directors of the Daily Judge have not announced a dividend for payment in July and the general opinion prevails that none will be announced. This Park City company has paid two quarterly dividends of $112,000 each.

Leading brass manufacturers say that the future of the price of copper is holding back an enormous volume of new business; that consumers will not order new wire, tubing and other forms of manufactured copper until they get some line on the future price of the metal.

The News Bureau says: It has become quite apparent that the former Manager Channing left the Utah at an opportune time. A close friend of his said the other day that he realized many months before leaving for his post at the Cerro De Pasco mine in South America that the mine could never again be operated on such low mining costs as was the case in 1906.

Underwriters of the 100,000 shares of new stock of the Raven Mining company took 24 per cent. Work is now progressing in the Raven claim workings of the company, in sinking and in three crosscuts. Within sixty days it is expected that shipments will be started from the 300 and 500-foot crosscuts which will net the company from $8,000 to $8,000 per month.

Important developments are making at the Isle Royale property. The fine copper showing in numbers 5 and 6 shafts is creating renewed interest in this property at the lake end of the basis for much of the recent lake buying.

CHICAGO GRAINS.

Chicago, June 26.—The wheat market opened easier today because of a moderate decline at Liverpool. Reports of additional rains in Kansas brought out an active demand from commission houses, resulting in a quick rally. It was the opinion that continued wet weather would seriously delay the harvesting. The news from the Northwest was also bullish. It was claimed that the crop in North Dakota is suffering from lack of rain.

Receipts and shipments were as follows: Receipts, Shipments. Flour, barrels, 45,000 21,000 Wheat, bushels, 52,000 19,000 Corn, bushels, 808,000 700,000 Oats, bushels, 225,000 125,000

Wheat Summary.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following report on the Chicago wheat market yesterday: "Wheat showed decided strength at the close, with the best prices of the day at gains of 5/8 to 3/4 over the close yesterday. The same local forces were at work today in trying to prevent an advance by putting long wheat on the market on every hard spot. This induced many of the local traders to take scalping profits on the bulges and caused a sort of choppy market, but the tendency of prices is higher and it is doubtful whether the bear tactics of the past few days will succeed in holding the market in check much longer."

Copper Metal Prices.

New York, June 26.—Copper was higher in the English market today by about 1/16, 10s, with spot quoted at 297 1/2 and futures at 292 1/2. Locally the market was dull and unchanged, with market in check much longer. The most important news of the day came from Germany and France. Cool wet weather over in France is putting the crop in poor shape for harvest and Paris prices hold decidedly strong. Berlin cables refer to some rust and smut on the German wheat crop and the weather is much too wet. Very definite reports came from Jamestown, North Dakota, about the wheat plant looking thin and brown as the result of drought. A Minneapolis expert who travelled 200 miles and examined many wheat fields says that green bugs similar to those which did the damage in the southwest are found in every field. The St. Louis houses wired that bad reports are coming from Tennessee. Cash dealers at Kansas City express a belief that the foreign demand will take large quantities of our wheat, regardless of price, within the next sixty days. The clearances today were 52,000 wheat and flour. Winnipeg worked twenty-five boatsloads directly to the other side. The wet weather continues to delay the harvest and to injure the grain in the southwest. We believe it is time to ignore temporary bearish influences, from whatever source, and get long this wheat on any little break for a bull market."

REMAINS SENT TO CHICAGO.

Body of Rudolph Cerny Taken by Sister of the Deceased.

A sister of Rudolph Cerny, the murdered Bohemian miner, who was shot and killed in Corktown, Houghton, Sunday night, arrived in Houghton Tuesday from Chicago, and yesterday she left for that city with the remains.

There are no new developments in the case, Cerny, who died the shooting, is confined in the county jail awaiting his examination. The date of this is not set, nor will it be until prosecuting attorney Kerr, who is away on business, returns to the county. Cerny was seen in the county jail yesterday by The Mining Journal. He is permitted to mingle with the other prisoners as the circumstances do not appear to require his isolation. He did not attempt to escape when he shot Cerny, but awaited arrest. He is a man about fifty years of age and of good appearance. Above the medium height and erect carriage, he wears a small gray mustache and goatee and has a martial air. He is a good-looking, middle-aged man. There is no one in his side of the jail cage who can converse with him, and he spends his time walking up and down in silence.

This case excites little public interest because of the simplicity of the details, the total lack of mystery. Cerny simply fired one shot of his rifle and killed a man without any attendant disorder. He was in jail within a few minutes after the act, as were the principal witnesses. The affair could hardly have been less exciting had it been merely a case of drunkenness.

HONORS TO O. J. LARSON.

Houghton County Bar Banqueted and Toasted Him Tuesday.

The banquet given by the Houghton County Bar association at Calumet Tuesday night was marked by a spontaneous outburst of friendship for Oscar J. Larson of Calumet, in whose honor it was given. Mr. Larson is to leave Calumet in a few days to locate in Duluth, in the practice of law, leaving behind him the record of years of good work and pleasant associations with the bar of this county. At the banquet the keynote of the speeches was the general regret at his departure.

W. J. MacDonald, Joseph Hambliter, P. H. O'Brien and Judge E. J. Carey spoke during the evening. Mr. Larson responded eloquently and feelingly. In

HOUGHTON COUNTY ELECTRIC LIGHT CO.

FOURTH OF JULY PROGRAMS.

All Committees Working Hard for the Coming Celebrations.

If the copper country does not get its full share of the Fourth of July it is not because of any laxity on the part of the committees in charge of the various programs. There are to be at least nine celebrations in the copper country, seven in Houghton and two in Ontonagon county. In the former Hancock, Lake Linden, Red Jacket, Trumountain, Laurium, South Range and Atlantic will celebrate, and in Ontonagon, Rockland and Mass City will plan for the day.

The committees have raised large sums of money to defray the expenses. Each town is to have a program of athletic sports, a big parade, fireworks at night, and all the old features.

The feature in Red Jacket is to be the appearance of Horatio S. Earle, state road commissioner, who will be the orator of the day. The feature at Rockland will be horse racing. South Range is going to have a Cornish wrestling tournament, with prizes aggregating $50. Robert H. Shields, orator of the day, will be an additional feature.

There will be a grand parade of all the branches of the order in the copper country Saturday afternoon. Herbert Hall will be grand marshal and J. Clayworth and R. Trevitich will be his aides. At the close of the parade speeches will be delivered in the Temple hall by Joseph Heaton, Joseph E. James, Charles Nichols and W. O. Trezise.

A public meeting will be held in the Trumountain M. E. church Saturday night with the following program: Organ solo, R. Fisher; invocation, Gus Donald; selection, William Eddy; recitation, H. Dymond; quartet, T. Mitchell, A. Johns, James Johns and Hony Kroll; solo, J. P. Williams; speech, G. Donald; duet, J. P. and J. A. Williams; address, Rev. Shaw; quartet, T. Mitchell, A. Johns, J. Johns and Hony Kroll.

The officers of the grand lodge are: William O. Trezise, G. W. T.; Gus Donald, G. W. V. T.; Joseph R. James, G. W. G. V. T.; George Gregor, treasurer; John Tippet, chaplain; George John, warden; Charles Nichols, grand; Henry Curtis, post grand worthy guard.

Rehabite Convention.

The annual meeting of the Independent Order of Rehabiles of the state will be held Saturday and Sunday at Calumet, under the auspices of Helping Hand tent. The convention is that of Michigan district No. 100, but is in effect an upper peninsula meet, as tents are established only in the iron and copper countries. The Rehabiles will attend in large numbers. The delegates will attend a divine service in a body at the Laurium M. E. church Sunday morning.

HANCOCK PYTHIAN REUNION. Believed the Local Lodge Planned too Much Program.

In spite of the fact that the Hancock lodge of the Knights of Pythias has prepared entertainment for the visitors to the upper peninsula reunion for two days longer, a great many of the visitors have already returned to their homes. The local lodge has practically all gone home last night, and this is the case of the others. The big feature of the reunion is the third degree contest, and when this is past the delegates seem not to care about remaining.

Hancock was disappointed in the beginning at the few people who turned out, the few visitors who were present from out of town. Some businessmen were disappointed because there was no parade, but some of the more thoughtful Pythians consider this one of the best features of the reunion. They do not care to parade themselves before the public gaze—they come to the annual reunion to make new friends, to get new light on the workings of the order.

The Pythians generally commend the excellence of the work of all the teams in the contest for the league cup. Naturally it is impossible to give publication to a description of the work, though when it is understood that the conferring of this degree is practically a dramatic production, with each member of the team playing a character, the demands made upon the abilities of the members may be understood. The teams which competed were Sault Ste. Marie, Ishpeming, Escanaba, Manistiquie, Houghton and Hancock.

The entire contest was concluded Tuesday night, and this left three days for the visitors to fill in with the entertainment provided by the local lodge. The excursion to Eagle Harbor was the feature yesterday. The steamer C. W. Moore, in which the trip was made, did not arrive in Hancock until late and the excursion did not leave until 11 o'clock, three hours after the regularly scheduled time. The delay was due to the weather, and in consequence many people abandoned the idea of going though the party was quite numerous as it was. The delay in starting made it necessary to give only a short time to the stay at Eagle Harbor. The visitors inspected the old Rathbone school house, the cradle of Pythianism, all that there was at Eagle Harbor to interest them.

A hand concert was given last night in Montezuma Park by the Portage Lake band. An excursion by special Mineral Range train will be given today to points of interest in Dollar Bay, Lake Linden and Calumet, ending at noon with the return to Hancock. There will be a special session of the grand lodge of Michigan this afternoon, a number of the grand lodge officers, including Grand Chancellor Abbey, being present.

The annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Pythian league will be held tomorrow afternoon. The officers for the coming year will be selected and the place of holding the next annual reunion will be named. It is conceded that Escanaba will secure it.

A social session and smoker will be given in Germania Hall tomorrow night. Robert H. Shields of Houghton will be toastmaster, and there will be a lot of fun provided for the visitors.

CURIED HEMORRHOIDS OF THE LUNGS.

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bell. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. The Stafford Drug Co.

DISCONTINUE MAIL TRAIN.

It was announced in Calumet yesterday that the mail service to Keweenaw county after the afternoon Keweenaw Central train will be discontinued after today. The afternoon train will run as usual, but will carry no mail, leaving only one mail per day into Keweenaw county, that in the morning.

MAD DOG SCARE.

Houghton Little Boys Bitten by a Victorious Fox Terrier.

Hartman Colton and Robert Rickard, respectively seven and eight years of age, were severely bitten by a fox terrier, owned by Jacob Roge of Houghton, Tuesday afternoon, while playing in the street. The little fellows were given immediate surgical attention, and it is not believed that any serious results will follow, unless the dog proves to have been mad.

Deputy Sheriff Maher killed the canine and his brain will be sent to Ann Arbor for a bacteriological examination. It is proved to have had rabies the children will be sent to the Pasteur institute for treatment. The surgeons who attended the children did not want the dog destroyed, as if it actually were mad they could study its case. But the officer worked too fast for them.

SOME FINE HORSEFEESH.

W. H. Dee Returns from Wisconsin With Equine Prizes.

W. H. Dee, of Houghton, returned home yesterday. He had been down home Wisconsin stock raisers picking up horses for copper country people and this morning there will arrive seven fine animals, a combination horse for John L. Harris, Hancock, superintendent of the Hancock Consolidated; a team of drivers for F. J. Bawden, of Houghton, Houghton of the Houghton County Street Railway company; a pony for Theodore Deagle of Atlantic, a driving horse for R. B. Harkness of Houghton, a combination horse for James R. Dee of Houghton and a driving horse for W. H. Dee, himself.

Mr. Dee says these are the first standard bred horses ever brought into the copper country for private driving. The horse he purchased for his own use is the best in the lot, and he came upon him quite by accident. The animal, owned by a man who did not know his breeding, was put up for sale, and when Mr. Dee looked the horse's pedigree was snapped him up at once. Now the former owner has gotten wise to the horse's value and wants to buy him back at the original figure plus expenses. Mr. Dee refuses to listen and doubtless some copper country millionaire will shortly be driving the valuable steed.

WEDDING AT MOHAWK.

Dr. A. R. Tucker and Miss Lila Foley were united in marriage at noon yesterday, at the bride's home at Eagle Harbor, by Rev. Father Alban of the Sacred Heart church, Eagle Harbor. George Foley and Miss Lila Foley, the bride and groom, were the only guests.

The groom is head physician of the Mohawk mine and his bride is a daughter of one of the oldest families in Keweenaw county, her father, Robert M. Foley, having for years been a prominent merchant. The newly wedded couple left Houghton for an extended wedding tour of the east.

SUCCESS OF THE KERMISS.

The kermis in the Amphidrome for the benefit of Trinity Episcopal church drew big crowds yesterday afternoon and evening. It was a success. It will be concluded with performances this afternoon and tonight. Miss Palmer and Mrs. Patee have won great praise for the excellence of the dancing.

Others in the Amphidrome program and for others in the kermis program, and in the manner in which the whole affair is being conducted.

CIRCUIS AT THE PALESTRA.

Manager Amolach of the Palestra, Laurium, has arranged for the appearance of big circus at this amusement place all next week. He says that it is a sensational attraction which has appeared with some of the larger shows on the road. The management of the Palestra is following out a similar policy in the Amphidrome, providing additional entertainment to the roller skating and dancing.

Miss Helia Kruka of Wolverine has gone to Marquette to attend the Normal summer school.

The Houghton county circuit court, which has been working on chancery business all week, was expected to adjourn until the September term at the close of business yesterday afternoon.

The work of removing the old Ripley school from its present site to one about 150 feet distant has been started. The removal is necessary to the progress of the erection of the new building on which work has been going on for some time. The old structure will be used for same time this fall, as the new school will not be completed until late in the year.

J. A. Nelson, formerly science teacher in the Soo High school, who resigned with the close of the present year, has entered the Michigan College of Mines as a student. He is a son of J. W. Nelson, cashier of the First National bank at Calumet.

The Keweenaw Central railroad yesterday put into effect arrangements for stage connections in Keweenaw county. The road will now connect at Phoenix with a stage for Eagle River, at Delaware for Eagle Harbor and at Mandan for Copper Harbor.

Dr. Howell H. Beagle and Miss Isabel Helen Parnall will be married Saturday at the Congregational church in Jackson. Dr. Beagle was formerly a member of the Calumet & Hecla hospital staff. His bride-to-be is a daughter of the late Captain Parnall, superintendent of the Tamarack and Osceola mines.

Dr. George A. Koenig, head of the chemistry department of the Michigan College of Mines, has gone to Philadelphia for the summer. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Elsa Koenig, who will shortly leave for a sketching trip through Europe.

The traveling exhibition of the products of Stanislaus county, Cal., will be at Chassell today. It is a special car which is advertising that county through the United States hoping to induce settlers to locate there. It has been announced that it will visit other towns in the copper country.

Mrs. Conlette and Mrs. Frank Bush, who have been the guests of Mrs. J. R. Ryan, left last night on the Juniatra for their home in Lake Linden. They were accompanied by Misses Velma Bush and Myrtle Fuller of that city, who are attending Loretto academy.—Soo News.

Mining News

GOSSIP FROM BUTTE.

Thomas Lode a Valuable Asset for the Davis-Daly.

The Davis-Daly company is rapidly developing several mines, and in a few months will be in condition to mine considerable ore, if it is inclined to do it, writes a Butte correspondent. If it can get reasonable rates from W. A. Clark for the use of the Original shaft, the Davis-Daly company can mine a whole lot of ore from the Thomas vein, through which its Original shaft has passed. The vein is fully forty feet wide, and there is ore all through it, at least twenty-five feet of it being a good grade of commercial ore that will yield on an average about $12 per ton. The size and richness of the vein meet all expectations, and it is the belief that the ore will be found of a commercial character the greater part of the 1,800 feet to the surface.

Of course, the company has no present means of mining, unless some arrangement can be made with W. A. Clark for the use of the Original mine shaft. The vein where cut is under the center of the business district of Butte, and directly over it are some of the biggest blocks of real estate in the city. The ground near there, so that it is impossible to raise or sink a shaft. However, the company owns three vacant lots about 800 feet southwest of the intersection of the crosscut and vein, and ultimately a shaft will have to be sunk there. Until some arrangement about mining can be made, there will be no drifting on the Thomas vein, and no development of the ore body.

The crosscut is being continued southward, as there are at least three more known veins in that direction, south of the Thomas. The latter vein apex on the surface just north of Granite street, and was uncovered while excavations were being made for the foundation of the new Silver Bow club. The next two veins south of the Thomas vein are, one apexing just north of Broadway and the other just south of that street, the latter being the Smokehouse discovery vein upon which the Smokehouse shaft workings are now being carried on. The north Smokehouse apex was disclosed in the excavations for the big Thornton hotel. The third vein south of the Thomas is the Destroying Angel, the apex of which was cut in digging for the foundation of the new City Savings building at the corner of Main and Park.

The dirt taken out was sent to the smelter. The apex of the Destroying Angel is nearly over the place where the Original crosscut intersected the Thomas vein in a depth of 1,800 feet. All the veins have a decided dip to the south and overlie each other.

Butte Copper Exploration.

The failure of the Butte Copper Exploration company, and the discovery of the stockholders that the company owned nothing except some equipment at the Six O'clock mine and a lease and bond on the property, has had a bad effect on some of the other new companies, and some meritorious enterprises will probably find difficulty in raising money with which to continue exploration work. Hereafter, stock buyers will probably make inquiries as to the assets of the companies offering stock for sale, and many have started investigating as to other companies operating in Butte. There are a number of the new concerns that are selling stock, and have nothing but short time leases and options. Other companies own their ground. Among the latter are the Butte & London, Amazon-Butte, Butte & Superior, Pilot Butte, while other new companies, like the Butte-Milwaukee, Butte Copper, Butte New York and Butte Copper Montana own a portion of their properties outright, have interests in others, and options on some. All these companies are making good progress in development work.

North Butte Extension.

The shaft of the North Butte Extension Copper Mining company has reached a depth of 100 feet, and the work is progressing as rapidly as possible with the temporary machinery in use. It is expected that the permanent plant will be ready by July 1. The management is greatly encouraged by the character of ground through which the shaft is being sunk, it being highly mineralized.

In excavating for the engine about sixty-five feet south of the shaft a well-defined vein was exposed, though no footwall was found. This has been traced as a continuation of the Blackrock vein, which shows for a width of sixteen feet in the Four Johns claim, adjoining the Blackrock, and close to the claim on which the North Butte Extension company is sinking its shaft. The portion of the vein exposed in the excavation indicates that it is almost perpendicular, and it is the intention of Manager J. A. Ryan to crosscut to it from the 300-foot point of the shaft, believing that ore will be found in the vein at that depth. The double existing engine is in position and ready for steam connection. It has a capacity to work to a depth of 1,500 feet.

North Butte.

The North Butte Mining company is making rapid progress with the long crosscut being driven north from the 1000-foot level of the Jessie mine. The opening is now in the Berlin ground, and it is expected that the Berlin vein will be cut before long. The vein cut several months ago, the second encountered since the crosscut was started, is one that apexes in the Croesus claim, one of the North Butte properties. The same vein strikes through the Baiger claim, owned by the Boston & Montana company. It is expected that about 300 feet further will take the crosscut to the Berlin vein.

The company will also sink a shaft on the Berlin, to tap the crosscut, and when completed the company expects to about double its output of ore. The capacity of the one shaft now in use is taxed by the present output, which is around 1,200 tons per day. A. C. Carson, who is also accomplishing wonders in the management of the Butte Coalition mines, is generally regarded as the North Butte, and is achieving great results.

Butte & Bacon.

The Butte & Bacon company is now concentrating its work on the Calumet, and is making rapid progress in shaft sinking. The shaft of the Calumet is about 1,000 feet deep, and before long a station will be cut and then crosscuts will be run north and south. Sinking on the Belinda and Colen Bawn has been suspended. The former is down 840 feet. The sinking record of the Calumet in four months was 435 feet, 110 feet of which was sunk in May. The crosscut that will be driven north from the shaft will come under the Belinda shaft, and an opening and connection will be raised from the crosscut. Extensive surface improvements are under way on the Calumet. A new 100-horse power boiler and a larger galva frame are being placed. The company has also ordered a new first motion hoisting engine for the Calumet shaft, capable of working to a depth of 1,500 feet.

Ida-Montana.

It is reported that the Ida-Montana company has struck six feet of calcopirite ore about sixty-five feet south of the 100-foot station. The ore shoot is near the middle of a vein that has a width of fifty-two feet. The strike is considered important, as it is the first important ore body found so far east in that section of the district. The shaft of the company is down 330 feet, and another crosscut will be made at the 400.

CALUMET & ARIZONA.

Bisbee Deposits Greatest Ever Discovered, Says Minnesota Expert.

Professor E. P. McCarty, a member of the faculty of the University of Minnesota, who has been traveling through the western states during the past few weeks, was yesterday shown through the mines of the Calumet & Arizona company by several members of the engineering corps by who were formerly his pupils, says the Bisbee Review. When seen last evening and asked for an expression of his opinion in regard to the district he has visited, Professor McCarty said:

"Of course as far as the amount of development work which has been accomplished, and volume of wealth produced and in sight, the Warren is very much greater than any of the other sections which I have visited. Although I have only had a slight opportunity so far to judge for myself the great wealth of the mines in this section, having made a rather hurried trip through the Calumet & Arizona properties today, yet I feel that there is not the slightest exaggeration in stating that the mineral deposits here are among the greatest so far discovered."

"The formation in the Warren district can scarcely be said to resemble that of any other locality which I have visited on my present trip, the immense blanket deposits of this district being absent from the others. The closest resemblance to the formation surrounding Bisbee which I have seen was in Utah, but even that resemblance was only slight. However, the districts of Birmingham, Eureka and others of Utah are practically undeveloped as yet, and may in the future approach the standard achieved in Bisbee."

Clawson to Quit the Copper Queen.

Although rumors have been current about the streets for several days to the effect that S. W. Clawson, for years past mine superintendent for the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining company, had tendered his resignation, continued the Review, the first official confirmation of the report was obtained yesterday from the gentleman himself. After twenty-three years in the service of the big mining company, Mr. Clawson will, on the first of September, sever his connection and move to Los Angeles, where in the future he expects to devote his time to some private business.

Mr. Clawson is one of the oldest men in mining experience in Coahuila county, having been superintendent of this Consolidated mine at Tombstone for the days when that camp was in the hey-day of its glory, for four years. In 1884 he came to the Warren district, in which, at that time, there was only one shaft, in excavating for the engine about the Copper Queen company, which has since been abandoned. His first position in the district was as shift boss and from that he was advanced gradually to more responsible positions.

When Clawson first came to the Warren district the production of the Copper Queen mines, which were the only

There will be at least four candidates, as in addition to Mr. McCarthy, Alderman Siegel, L. M. Spencer and Ed. McCarthy are in the field.

A Record Breaking Business—Comparison shows that the business done by the street railway company Monday was the largest since the line was placed in operation. Something over 9,000 fares were collected, and many hundreds of people rode without paying fares. It is safe to say that the company transported, in all, considerably more than the entire number of people living in the city. The service was as good as the company could give with its rolling stock but of course was inadequate for the unusual crowds. The cars were swarmed throughout the day, and the conductors had hard work collecting fares.

PARADE FEATURE DROPPED.

Barnum & Bailey's Big Show Now Seen Only Under the Canvas.

If Barnum & Bailey's "greatest shows on earth" were to appear in Marquette this year, which they are not to do, the people, particularly those who hike in from the back woods, would miss the big parade, for the Barnum & Bailey management has dropped it, and now all the big shows are kept close under canvas, where only those who have paid the admission fee can see it.

A representative of the show, in speaking of the matter, recently said: "The Barnum & Bailey circus is literally too big to give a parade, even if it were considered desirable or necessary. As a matter of fact, there is no general demand for the circus parade, and every other circus management in America would cut it out if it was not a necessary means of advertising their show and arousing interest in the performances. The remark is frequently made that the Barnum & Bailey circus is the only show in the world that would dare to eliminate the parade. The reason for this is obvious.

"Barnum & Bailey do not need the parade as a means of advertising the show or attracting the public to the circus grounds. The Barnum & Bailey name, its great reputation and the fact that the public is absolutely assured of a superb performance, are sufficient to crowd its tents without the questionable aid of a street display. A parade is undoubtedly a good advertisement for a show that needs it. Barnum & Bailey do not need it. Who ever heard of an Irving, a Sothorn, or a Marlowe giving a street parade? In the dramatic world parades are confined to repertoire shows, minstrel and 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' aggregations. No circus can afford to be grouped in such a class, and a circus that can not crowd its tents without a street parade has something wrong with its performance and reputation."

COUGAR TERRIFIES TOWN.

Animal Kills Hare, and Is Said to Have Eaten a Boy.

Muskegon, I. T., June 26.—Word has been brought here that some animal, supposed to be a mountain cougar, is creating a reign of terror at Wewoka, a small town in the eastern part of the Seminole nation. A man named Davis was attacked several nights ago, and his horse was killed. There is also a report that a boy was killed fifteen miles up Wewoka creek. Davis was riding home from town and was some fresh meat fastened to the back of his saddle. Just as he reached Wewoka creek he heard a rustling in the branches of a big cottonwood tree, and the next moment he received a blow on the top of the head and knew nothing more until the next morning when some movers found him beside the road, pinned under the body of his horse. Davis' head was terribly lacerated, and one cheek was torn nearly off. The horse's throat was torn, showing that the animal that attacked it had sucked its blood.

KNOX'S SPEECH MAKES STIR.

Opposes the Centralization Idea in Regulation of Commerce.

Washington, June 26.—Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania, in his speech on the federal power to regulate commerce to the graduating class of the Yale law school, hit squarely on the head the greatest issue which will come up before congress next winter and be the principal bone of contention before the resolutions committee of the two big national conventions next year.

While expressing thorough sympathy with the attitude of the national administration in its endeavor to control interstate commerce Senator Knox took a position against that centralization of federal regulator power which has been advocated by President Roosevelt and Senator Beveridge of Indiana and to a degree the position of Secretary Root. Democrats in Washington assert his opinion is nearer that of William Jennings Bryan than of any of the three men mentioned.

ROOSEVELT IN MILK CRUSADE.

President Orders Investigation Made by the Marine Hospital Service.

Washington, June 26.—President Roosevelt wants to lower the death rate among the babies in cities. He is convinced of the importance of the pure milk question, and he has written to Surgeon-General Wyman of the public health and marine hospital service directing that an inquiry be made into every sanitary phase of the milk supply of the District of Columbia. The purpose is to have a report prepared with the stamp of highest official authority which will afford information and guidance for every city and community in the country in the regulation of its milk supply.

Dr. Wyman has put Assistant Surgeon-General John W. Kerr in charge of the work. The plan is to make a minute study of the milk furnished the District, the source of supply, the conditions surrounding the cows on the dairy farms, transportation of milk, whether it is delivered with proper sanitary care or by careless and diseased employees, condition of milk bottles, and a great number of other phases of the question.

Dr. Wyman's investigation will be supplemental to an investigation already made in the District by the Washington milk commission, composed of officials of the department of agriculture, of the public health and marine hospital service, and of reputable physicians, veterinarians, milkmen and others. This commission made a report of a comprehensive character, disclosing grave conditions, showing that much of the milk is below standard and produced under conditions calculated to spread typhoid, tuberculosis and other diseases. That investigation extended clear to the dairy farms in Maryland and Virginia.

So valuable was the report of the commission that Dr. Lloyd Magruder, who had been foremost in getting the first investigation, wrote the president urging on him the importance of carrying it further and getting the knowledge obtained disseminated throughout the United States. The president, accordingly, wrote Dr. Wyman. After the new investigation there will be a report embodying the report of Dr. Wyman and the report supplemental thereto of the public health and marine hospital service. It will be the greatest exposition of milk supply conditions ever obtained in America.

President Roosevelt is deeply interested and in a letter to Dr. Wyman made public strongly urged the investigation and report to benefit other communities. It is understood the president was particularly moved by what he learned of high death rate among babies due to impure and improper milk supply. This is what led Dr. Magruder to become interested in the milk question originally.

Although the investigation is to be confined to Washington, experts from other cities will be called upon for advice. Nathan Straus of New York, whose interest in the question of pure milk is well known, will likely be consulted in the course of the investigation.

SUGAR MEN HAPPY.

Warm Weather Has Helped the Beet Crop a Whole Lot.

Saginaw, June 26.—The last week of warm weather has done much for the sugar beets all over the Saginaw section. The seeding is finished as a rule and hundreds of acres have been thinned, while hundreds more will be gone over this week. The beet crop is just now engaging the attention of thousands of workers. Reports from all over the section tributary to Saginaw, as well as from other points throughout the state, point to a 1907 sugar beet crop that will break all former Michigan records and the outlook is likewise very bright in the other beet sugar states. Conservative men familiar with Michigan conditions estimate that the 1907 beet crop will show an increase of 15 per cent in acreage over last year.

A. Gelinax & Sons of Saginaw are at work on a big pulp drier and pulp shed for the Owosso Sugar company, the biggest job now in progress at any sugar factory in the state. The concrete men are putting in the enormous beds for the pulp drying machinery. These beds are about five feet deep, about forty feet long and are of solid concrete. There are four of them and they will average about twelve feet wide. The entire work will be completed about Sept. 1 and the machinery will then be in position.

CASSATT RAILS COST MORE.

Carnegie Company Wants $33 a Ton for Making New Type.

Pittsburg, June 26.—"Five dollars a ton extra on the Cassatt rail or nothing doing," Carnegie Steel company.

"Nothing doing, then. Stop figuring!" Pennsylvania Railroad.

These messages, which actually passed during the week, ended in negotiations being held up on a steel rail which the late President A. J. Cassatt invented, and which the Pennsylvania people have figured would solve the rail question. The Carnegie Steel company, which is the rail end of the United States Steel corporation, has had the Cassatt type of rail under advisement and has been making plans looking toward its manufacture for the past six months. They wanted to see what they could do in the way of making this rail before it would be placed on the market. They now have passed the word to the Pennsylvania that the rail they call "Cassatt" will cost the road just $5 a ton more than the steel rail as made at present, or $33 a ton. The railroad is not disposed to pay this amount of money for rails next year at the mill side, and so has called off the dog for a time at least.

On the best of authority, it is reported here the road may again take up the project of making its own rails. This has been threatened frequently, and there is little doubt that the Pennsylvania could, did it so choose, start its own rail-making plant with comparatively little expense. From one close to the railroad at Pittsburg it is asserted the road will do so before it will pay $5 extra a ton for rails after carrying the plans also to the rail makers.

It cannot be said the rail problem is nearer being solved now than it was three weeks ago. The fact that Charles M. Schwab was in Pittsburg, and had a conference with those connected with the Carnegie Steel company, presumably on rails, tends to the belief that the Bethlehem plant may also have agreed to ask $5 a ton more for the manufacture of the Cassatt rail than for the ordinary steel rail of today.

The business of rail making is becoming one of the biggest problems in iron and steel if it is not already the biggest. There have been placed already orders for almost 1,000,000 tons of steel rails in the mills of the country for next year, the first day of which is yet more than six months off. More than one-third of these orders are for open hearth rails, and all orders would be for the open hearth were it not shown that most of the big mills of the country are unable to make them. The fight over quality in rails has certainly held back the others. It is safe to predict that the rail requirements of the country for 1908 will be not an ounce less than 3,250,000 tons.

"LICENSE TO ROB."

Is What Harry Colton Says Oklahoma Officials Have.

Washington, June 26.—"A commission from Washington is a license to rob and loot," so declares a voice from Oklahoma in the person of Harry Colton. He says that a very large part of the opposition to carrying out the statehood plans comes from the federal officeholders.

Colton has made attempts to get to President Roosevelt, but Secretary Loeb has shown himself a stone barrier. Possibly the reason is that Colton's denunciation of federal officeholders in Oklahoma is so sweeping. He includes the entire outfit and he accuses them of all sorts of official misconduct.

"The chief opposition to statehood," said Colton, "comes from the federal officeholders. They know that their chances to grow fat will go glimmering when statehood comes, and so they are bringing to Washington stories about the constitution and the convention that make it."

"I know the constitution, and I know many of the men who made it. The convention was composed of 112 men. Of these, twelve were politicians, the others were honorable men. They did their work well. They introduced some new features which President Roosevelt did not like, and those were pretty largely remedied. But all sorts of opposition to the final steps in statehood have sprung up. About the most flagrant is the action of various courts in granting injunctions. The act of Congress specified that the convention should fix a day for a popular vote. Attempts have been made to do that, but the courts have granted about twenty injunctions to prevent that election from taking place."

Mr. Colton has armed himself with many detailed stories of alleged crookedness on the part of Oklahoma officials. Perhaps the picture which he draws is exaggerated, but there are other reasons for believing that the federal officeholders are afraid of the results of statehood in Oklahoma.

It looks now as though not only the present federal officeholders must go, if statehood comes, but also that politicians will have poor picking for the indefinite future. In electing delegates to the convention and in the acts of the convention the state showed a decidedly Populistic leaning.

EXONERATED FROM HOLD-UP.

Illinois Convict Cleared by Confession of Man Doomed to Die Today.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 26.—Harry Vaughan, one of three convicts to be hanged here tomorrow, made a sworn statement at the penitentiary named Kline, supposed to be in the penitentiary at Joliet, Ill., from participation in the hold-up of the Illinois Central train near Chicago in August, 1904. Vaughan says that Kline is an innocent man.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 26.—Sheriff Scott tonight has completed all arrangements for the hanging tomorrow morning of Harry Vaughan, George Ryan and Edward Raymond, the condemned convicts responsible for the killing of two prison guards in the mutiny of Nov. 24, 1905.

SAVES CITY ABOUT $9,000,000.

Prevailing Rate of Wages Question Settled in New York.

New York, June 26.—As a result of negotiations that have been carried on for the last few weeks between Corporation Counsel Ellison and a number of lawyers employed by union workmen and labor leaders, the 5565 suits that have been brought against the city for alleged violations of the prevailing rate of wages law will probably be settled out of court within a short time, and the municipality will save nearly $9,000,000. These suits were brought against the city, for the most part, plumbers, painters, electricians, engineers, and other classes of skilled workmen. The suits aggregated $10,000,000. Three weeks ago the lawyers met Mr. Ellison and suggested a basis on which the suits could be compromised. It was found that if the plan was followed out by the plaintiffs in the suits received the difference between the rate that was paid them and the prevailing rate in Manhattan, the city could get out of the difficulty for about $1,100,000.

NEW THIRD-TERM STORY.

Roosevelt Might Run if Assured He Could Break the Solid South.

Atlanta, Ga., June 26.—There is a persistent report among politicians here that on Georgia day at the Jamestown exposition President Roosevelt said: "If I could be positively assured of the electoral vote of a single Southern state I would gladly be a candidate for the presidency next year." Mr. Roosevelt made this declaration, according to reports, to John Temple Graves, following the wave of good feeling attendant upon the dedication of the Georgia building. Mr. Roosevelt was carried away with enthusiasm, and Georgians who were present, among whom were many well-known politicians, shared this enthusiasm. It was a love feast; political issues and party lines were forgotten; each man was toasting the other, and all were toasting the president.

Soon after this display of enthusiasm John Temple Graves went to President Roosevelt, it is said, and urged him to run for another term. Mr. Roosevelt, it is said, was moved by the plea, but recalled the promise made to the public following his election in 1904. Then the president, it is reported, said that only one thing would cause him to change his determination in this respect, that if he could be assured positively of the electoral vote of a single Southern state—if he could break the solid South—he would be a candidate for a third term. President Roosevelt, it is said, declared on the solid South, it is said, and declared it should be broken, and that he would never run again except he could be assured that his candidacy would change the South from one way of voting. According to reports Graves assured Mr. Roosevelt that he could carry Georgia, and probably two or three other Southern states, and it is said that a promise was given to the president to attempt to stampede Georgia at the proper time.

WEDS LAWYER WORTH $500,000.

New York State Widow Gives Up an Annuity of $25,000.

Lenox, Mass., June 26.—An unusual and romantic love making and the giving up of a fixed income for a fortune of millions dollars culminated at the Hotel Aspinwall in Lenox, when Mrs. Harriet E. Finch, widow of the late George R. Finch, of Glen Falls, N. Y., became the bride of George N. Ostrander, a well-known Albany attorney. Under the provisions of her first husband's will the bride relinquishes an annuity of $25,000, but wins a husband worth $500,000.

Mrs. Ostrander's former husband was a millionaire paper manufacturer and had large lumber interests in and about Glen Falls. Something over a year ago he died, and just before his death he made his will. It was drawn by the bridegroom of today. That instrument provided an annuity of $25,000 per year for Mrs. Finch so long as she remained single. In the event of another marriage the estate should be equally divided between Mr. Ostrander and a sister of Mr. Finch. Mr. Ostrander was the close personal and legal adviser of Mr. Finch, hence the bequest in his favor.

A brother of the deceased, Gerry I. Finch, tried to break the will but he lost in his attempt upon payment by the heirs of $100,000 to him. Mr. Ostrander acted as attorney for the bride during the contest and while he was in Glen Falls defending the will, his wife sued him for divorce and secured a bill. Just here Cupid began to get in his work, and before long Mrs. Finch and her counsel announced their engagement. Mr. Ostrander's divorced wife, hearing of the engagement, tried unsuccessfully to have the divorce annulled. The Ostranders had a son, and upon him the father settled $50,000. The child is to stay with its mother.

Under the decree secured by Mrs. Ostrander the husband was prevented from marrying in New York state. Love laughed at the decree, however, and Mr. Griffin, a brother attorney, was selected to make arrangements for the wedding, the Hotel Aspinwall, Lenox, being selected as the place.

Father Russell to Build a Big New Church at Cananea.

Bisbee, Ariz., June 26.—Rev. Father Russell, pastor of a number of parishes in the northern portion of the state of Sonora, Mexico, passed through the city today enroute to Hermosillo, where he will submit to the bishop of the diocese his proposed plans for a new Roman Catholic church in Cananea for the English speaking people. The building of the new sacred edifice has been made possible by the generosity of people prominent throughout the United States, among them Colonel and Mrs. W. C. Green, John D. Ryan, Thomas F. Cole and Dr. L. D. Ricketts.

When asked concerning the church at Cananea and the various other churches which he is building in northern Sonora Father Russell said: "My work in the northern portion of the state of Sonora has been made comparatively easy by the generosity of almost everyone with whom I have come in contact, especially among the men most prominent in the big mining enterprises, several of whom, although not Catholics, have given munificent sums towards the construction of a fine new church. On last Sunday I visited Cananea, and the enthusiasm of the public and members of the church in the matter of the new church was far beyond my fondest hopes. Colonel and Mrs. W. C. Green, whose reputation for generosity is well known in every possible way, especially in the munificent subscription of $2,000 towards the fund, John D. Ryan and Thomas F. Cole, the well-known financiers added their names to the list for $4,000 and $2,000, respectively. Dr. L. D. Ricketts, donated several lots for the church and rectory, as well as monetary assistance. These and many other prominent men assisted us, and the public generally responded in a most generous manner, insuring the erection of a fine church at Cananea."

Father Russell has been a missionary throughout the world, having been in the Philippines with Fumston, in China, Persia and other foreign countries. He is a linguist, speaking several tongues fluently, and one of the most learned men in his calling.

PARENTS ARE FRANTIC NOW.

Doctor Not Called to Treat Los Angeles Boy Until Too Late.

Los Angeles, June 26.—Erhard A. Kunou, the thirteen-year-old son of Professor Charles A. Kunou, supervisor of manual training in the public schools, died Monday of tetanus. The father is a Christian Scientist and the little sufferer was treated by Christian Science practitioners. A physician was not called until the afternoon of the day on which death came. Coroner Lanterman stopped the funeral yesterday afternoon, and an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the death will be made.

Frenzied with grief, the father has been prostrated since his son died. He blamed himself yesterday for not calling a physician in time. Like a crazed man he paced his room in despair. He said he realized that his son's life might perhaps have been spared had the proper remedies been applied.

Ten days ago Erhard, with companions, was playing near his home. The lad stepped on an upturned rusty nail, which entered the middle of his foot. The father saw the wound in the evening. He did not call a physician, but tried to treat the child according to Christian Science methods.

For days the father attended his child. No surgeon or physician was called, in spite of the fact that the boy suffered pain in his neck. The wound healed over. On Sunday evening Professor Kunou took Erhard to the Cintas. The boy complained of his foot, and did not take any interest in the animals or other sights. He wanted to go home and they returned early and the child went to bed. He slept with his father. In the night he complained of pains in his neck and in his back. Toward morning his limbs became cold.

Then Professor Kunou called J. H. Cole, a Christian Science practitioner. Cole arrived at 9 o'clock Monday morning. He examined the boy, but according to his own admission could not diagnose the case. The father told Cole, he says, that the boy was suffering from lockjaw. Cole did not order that a physician be called. An hour later the child was seized with convulsions.

Realizing that his son was at the point of death, and that Christian Science could do nothing for him, Professor Kunou finally asked that a physician be called. Dr. James T. Fisher responded, and after examining the boy pronounced the case to be tetanus. He applied known remedies, but the patient continued to sink, and the convulsions became more frequent. Dr. M. L. Mason was called into consultation later in the day, and a serum treatment was advised, but the boy died after enduring agony. He was conscious until the end.

When his boy died Professor Kunou became frantic with grief. He threw himself in any agony of weeping upon the bed beside the corpse, and fears were entertained that he would lose his mind because of his great sorrow.

The broken-hearted mother sobbed as if her heart would break. Time and again she would look toward the white rasket, over which a snow-white dove hovered, and give way to sobs. She could not be comforted, and bemoaned the fact that she had not been allowed to nurse her boy while he was suffering.

Ishpeming Men Home From Trip to Wisconsin Mines.

Dr. Joseph Vandevanter and Carl Telesen, president and secretary, respectively, of the Vandevanter Lead & Zinc Mining Company, arrived home yesterday from Cuba City, Wis., where they spent a few days looking over the Vandevanter and other properties. They were kept busy yesterday answering questions asked by stockholders. Both are conservative, but they advised The Mining Journal that everything that they had yet seen in print about the Vandevanter is true. Dr. Vandevanter said that he could really do nothing to the reports already published. "I do not wish to say anything that will influence people to either buy or sell the stock," said Dr. Vandevanter. "I am sure, though, that none of my stock is for sale."

"A mistake was made at the start as to the trend of the formation. It was thought that the crosscuts put in were directly across the formation, but within the past few days we have discovered that the crosscuts are not directly across the formation but at an angle to it. At the time of our visit the openings had been extended 100 feet and they were still in ore. A slight curve has been made in the cross-cuts, bringing them almost in a direct line with the formation. We are certain that the ore body is 300 feet in length."

"There is a crevice a few inches thick between two sheets of ore. This opening is large enough for a man to put his arm in between the ore bodies. We put lights into the opening and we could see the glittering mineral as far as our eyes could penetrate."

"Wisconsin mining men who have examined the property assert that the Vandevanter has the richest ore body they have ever seen. I do not care to give you an extended talk on the property, but I think the following from the last issue of the Dubuque Mining Review will be of interest to the shareholders." The extract follows:

"At the shallow depth of 26 feet a run of ore has been found that is by actual measurement 46 inches in height on the south side and 28 inches on the north. This body of ore is a solid mass of lead and zinc with a very small vein of sulphur underneath the ore body. Drilling has been commenced to the north and to the south, and mining men who have visited the property are satisfied that the Vandevanter has one of the biggest strikes ever on record. The ore body has been proven by drill for a distance of 500 feet north and south, by 40 feet east and west, which proves that the company has a bright future."

"A strong feature of the proposition is that the company are the owners of the 145 acres upon which the mine is located, so the saving of royalties will be of great benefit to the company."

"When the drilling was done upon the property by General Manager, Robert Fox, specimens weighing from 5 to 8 pounds were shot and raised out of the drill holes and it was doubted by some that these specimens ever came out of a drill hole, but the great strike in every particular. Ten tons of lead and zinc were shot and raised out of the hole in sinking the shaft. A large amount of ore is upon the dumps and a concentrating plant to separate the lead from the zinc will be erected in the near future. The principal stockholders are from Michigan and they are to be congratulated upon this great discovery."

MRS. CARTER'S TOUR.

Noted Actress, Here July 5, Has Had Long and Successful Season.

J. Clarence Hyde, business manager of the Mrs. Leslie Carter company, which will come to the Ishpeming theater, Friday of next week, July 5, said while in the city Tuesday that Mrs. Carter's present tour was one of the longest ever taken by a theatrical star. It began in Norfolk, Va., and included all of the principal cities of the Southern states, extended to the Pacific coast and then back to the Northwest, thence to New York, via Ottawa and Montreal. The season will close a week from Monday, the 8th, at Ottawa. Mrs. Carter is traveling in her private car, "Du Barry," and she carries three maids and four other servants, also a private secretary. The car is said to be one of the finest ever turned out of the Pullman shops. It is divided into a drawing room, two private rooms, a dining room, an observation room, servants' quarters, kitchen, lockers and baths. The car is seventy feet long. The interior finish is chiefly in mahogany, walnut, oak and satin wood to match.

Duluth will be the last place where "Zaza" will be produced this season. The "Zaza" scenery and effects will be sent from New York from Duluth. It requires two seventy-foot cars to transport the equipment for "Du Barry", and at least four cars will be necessary to transport the troupe through this district.

FREDLUND-BELL NUPTIALS.

Fred F. Fredlund of Marquette, formerly of this city, and Miss Mae Bell were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Brooks, at the National hotel. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. D. Atwell, pastor of Grace church, in the presence of a large number of the contracting parties' relatives and intimate friends. Following the ceremony a feast was enjoyed, after which Mr. and Mrs. Fredlund left on a wedding trip to be absent ten days or two weeks. They will reside in Marquette.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT.

Michael Harnett, a resident of this city for thirty years or more, died Tuesday evening, pneumonia being the direct cause of his demise. Mr. Harnett has not been in the best of health and his death did not come unexpectedly. During his residence here he had been engaged in mining, most of the time employed as foreman. He was fifty-seven years of age and survived by his wife and six children. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. John's church.

EXPECTS LARGE ATTENDANCE.

The secretary of Ahmeek lodge of Odd Fellows has been advised by the secretaries of the Baraga, L'Anse and Munising lodges that they will send large delegations to the meeting in this city July 23, when P. A. Rodgers, grand master of the Michigan grand lodge, and Harry McNeil, grand lodge, will be here. The Ishpeming lodge will invite every Odd Fellow between Baraga and Munising to attend the meeting.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

"The strength in the copper shares continues. The price of metal in London is being juggled again and at the opening today spot opened 2 pounds, 5 shillings higher than last night's close, while futures advanced 2 pounds. Such wild fluctuations do not tend to convince the conservative investor of stability of the metal market, but on the other hand it must be figured that the heavy consumers are now entering the market, or are about to do so, in order to care for their requirements for the next quarter of 1907, and as to the copper share market the fact is generally recognized that prices have been forced to a level where it would be madness to take any other position in the market than the buying side."

Exposed to Heat All Day, With Water Just Out of Reach.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 26.—Bound hand and foot, chained to a stake in the yard, and exposed to the scorching heat of the sun all day, Mrs. Michael Sabinsky of Dupont was rescued by neighbors in the evening, and her husband, who is accused of the outrage, was arrested by the state constabulary and placed in jail.

Mrs. Sabinsky says that for weeks her husband has tried to induce her to give him her savings, but fearing his would dissipate them she refused. Then when she again refused to tell where the money was hidden, she says he overpowered her, tied her hands and feet and then chained her to the stake.

For four hours she was kept in the boiling sun, and when she still refused to say where the money was, he placed a pail of water and some food just out of reach and left her. Not until some minutes returning to work in the evening, passed near did she manage to attract attention. She was in a pitiable condition, but will recover Sabinsky has been jailed until she can appear against him.

TWO WEDDINGS YESTERDAY. INSPECTED WISCONSIN MINES.

Both Couples Succeeded in Stealing Marches on Their Friends. Mayor Winter Pleased With Showing at Pine Tree and Vandeventer.

Christ Hanson of Hibbing, formerly of Negaunee, and Miss Iva Raymond, daughter of A. B. Raymond, this city, were united in marriage yesterday morning at 5 o'clock at St. Paul's church, Rev. Father Langner, who came down from his retreat at Baraga performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Emma Raymond, and Joe Raymond, a cousin of Hanson, supported the groom. Following the marriage the bridal party partook of breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, later driving to Ishpeming and taking the 8 o'clock train for points west. They will spend a few days at Duluth and other points in that vicinity before returning to Hibbing. Miss Hanson was raised in Negaunee, having been in the employ of H. J. Peterson, the tailor, for some time prior to two years ago. He is now in charge of a large tailoring business at Hibbing. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond.

Miss Emma Williams, daughter of John Williams of Cyr street, and Harry Treblelock of Ishpeming, were married yesterday morning at 8:15 o'clock at St. John's Episcopal church, Rev. Frederick Lake performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss David Burder of Ishpeming and Sidney Williams, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The couple stole a march on both their Negaunee and Ishpeming friends, having kept the time of the nuptial event a complete secret. They left on the Chicago & Northwestern train at 9 o'clock for Chicago, Milwaukee and other points, to be absent a week or ten days. The groom has a house furnished on Pine street in Ishpeming. Both young people are better known in Ishpeming than in Negaunee, as they have spent the greater part of their lives there. The bride was cashier at A. W. Myers Mercantile company's store a number of years until about a month ago, and the groom has held a position with that concern since boyhood.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

Amateur Actor's Mishap.

Attorney William J. Miller of Rapid River, Delta county, is confined indoors with a broken leg, the result of an unusual accident. Participating in the final rehearsal of an amateur play, a heavy piece of furniture fell on his foot, badly crippling the ankle and fracturing the smaller bone of the leg.

Bessemer's New School.

The contract for the construction of Bessemer's new high school has been awarded Daniel Eggert & Co. of Ashland, Wis., at $43,000. Six bids were received, the largest in the neighborhood of $50,000. The Ashland firm is building Ironwood's manual training school, and has recently secured the contract for the erection of a $30,000 school at Hurley.

Teeth Knocked Out.

Sitting on a bench in the shade of the Rock View House, at St. Ignace, watching a number of young men playing catch, Emil Larocque was hit in the mouth by a wildly pitched but very speedy ball. Three upper front teeth were knocked out, and a piece of the jaw-bone was splintered off by the blow. The lip also was badly lacerated. The services of a surgeon were necessary.

Bowling Alley for Miners.

A bowling alley for the club house Pickands, Mather & Co. is building at the Baltic mine near Iron River has been ordered at a cost of considerably over $1,000. The alley will be equipped with automatic pin setters. This is but one of the many excellent features of the clubhouse, which is rapidly nearing completion. If it proves a success, another, on a much larger scale, will be built at the Caspian location.

Gifts to L. L. Wright.

An interesting event not listed on the announced program of the commencement exercises of the Ironwood High school was the presentation to Professor Luther L. Wright of a handsome loving cup and a beautiful and costly gold watch. Mr. Wright, who last fall was elected state superintendent of public instruction, has for many years been at the head of Ironwood's public educational system, retiring with the close of the term just ended, and the gifts were made in appreciation of his services in that capacity. The loving cup, of sterling silver, fifteen inches high, was presented by the teaching corps the times of greater reputation than that possessed by Shea.

Big Fruit Crop Indicated.

While the season is very backward a big fruit crop is indicated for the upper peninsula this year. Never have the weather conditions been more propitious for cherries, apples, strawberries and blueberries, and there is every reason to expect bounteous harvests. Bidding was much delayed in consequence of the winter weather of the spring and when the trees, plants and bushes did blossom out it was at a time well past the period of danger from frost. The consequence is the formation of the various fruits in unrecanted profusion. Large yields of cherries and berries are assured, and it is believed the apple crop likewise will be of large proportions, the expectation being for an unusually late summer, lingering well into the lap of fall. The strawberry season is usually at its climax in the latter part of June, but at the present time the plants have little more than blossomed. The cultivation of fruit has become an important source of revenue for the upper peninsula farmer, and it is yearly assuming materially larger proportions. Strawberries even now are shipped out by the carload.

Deer Damaging Crops.

Complaint comes from farmers in the eastern end of the peninsula that deer are playing havoc with growing root and other crops. No little damage has been done by the animals in Schoolcraft county, it appears. Despite ample evidence of a wholesale slaughter of deer by wolves during the lengthy period when snow is deep in the woods, Schoolcraft county settlers report them to be exceedingly numerous.

Little Child Fearfully Burned.

Dared to dart through a bonfire as had her companions, Annie Korinek, the four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Bertha Korinek, a widow of Ironwood, attempted the feat. She stumbled and fell into the midst of the flames and in a moment her clothing was ablaze. She was fearfully burned before finally rescued by her mother, attracted to the scene by the cries of her small daughter's playmates, too frightened to render aid. The mother attempted to smother the fire by rolling the child in the grass, and was herself badly injured in doing this. The little girl is probably fatally burned.

Blou to Wrestle Shea.

A feature of Escanaba's big Fourth of July celebration will be a Cornish wrestling match between Eddie Blou of that city and "Spiky" Shea of Red Jacket, the copper country's biggest village. It is conceded there are a number of other wrestlers in Upper Michigan who could make a better showing than Shea, notably Joseph Ziehr of Calumet and Charles Coveau of Ishpeming, respectively the copper and iron country champions, but to date the Red Jacket man is the only one who has yet complied with the terms of Blou's recent sweeping challenge. It is hoped that Blou can be induced to enter the Cornish wrestling tournament which is to be the principal event of the approaching annual reunion of the Sons of St. George societies at Ishpeming. All the best men in the jackets in the Lake Superior region will participate in this big contest, the cash prizes to the winners of which will be exceedingly liberal. Little is known of Blou's prowess by iron and copper country followers of the game, and there is much interest in the showing he would make were he pitted against contestants of greater reputation than that possessed by Shea.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT SUMMER SCHOOL

ENROLLMENT ALREADY UP TO 350 AS AGAINST 298 FOR THE SESSION LAST YEAR.

MAY REACH THE 400 MARK

Work Was Started in Earnest Tuesday and Classes Are in Full Swing—Dr. Winship Will Be Here Next Week.

The summer session of the Northern Normal, opening Monday of this week and continuing for six weeks, is to be by all odds the most successful held since the Normal was established. There promises to be a gain of nearly 25 per cent in attendance. The enrollment yesterday fell but little short of 350, compared with an enrollment of 298 for the entire summer session of 1906. It is expected that the enrollment will mount to close to 400 students, as it is the experience of the past that the enrollments continue all through the first and second weeks.

Even if the enrollment ceased where it is now, 350, the showing would be a very creditable one for the school, the rate of increase being all that could be expected. Principal Kaye is much gratified with the manner in which the students have come in for the summer work. He believes that the growing popularity of this institution is shown by the increased attendance, which is also due to the institution's reputation for doing good work. The officers of the Normal have so far been too busy getting the summer work under way to classify the attendance as to the home of the students, but every important town in the upper peninsula is represented among the student body, and many of the hamlets and country districts as well. Young women engaged in the teaching profession form the largest part of the students enrolled. Most of them are taking regular Normal work, for which they will get credit toward the Normal certificate. A large percentage of the students have previously attended the Normal, either at summer or regular terms, although there is a considerable minority who are now having their first experience at the institution.

Faculty Augmented.

The faculty for the summer school is composed of all the heads of departments and instructors for the regular term, except those who may be absent on leave, augmented by a large number of special instructors, drawn from the ranks of high schools, superintendents, principals and instructors in the upper peninsula. The latter for the present term are Fred A. Jeffers, superintendent of the Atlantic Mine schools; John A. Doelle, superintendent at Houghton; William E. Goodrich, principal of the school at Dickinson county; Miss V. Winnifred Lacey, principal Cleveland school, Ishpeming; Miss Sara Nicholson, principal Central school, Ironwood, and Miss Olive Lathrop, state librarian, Lansing, who has charge of the instruction in library methods.

The present summer school enjoys the best facilities for its work ever available here. The new south wing, just occupied, is being used, with its fine equipment, and the Peter White hall of science is occupied for the scientific work. On account of the large attendance the problem of finding accommodations for all the students was a big one. The dormitory was sufficient for but a small proportion of their number, and the others had to find rooms in the city. Yesterday, however, the young people were pretty well settled, and class work was in full swing. Monday most of the students were enrolled and arranged their classes, and Tuesday morning the work began.

Dr. Winship Here Monday.

The first of the special lecture courses arranged for the benefit of the Normal body begins Monday next, when Dr. Winship of Boston, editor of a leading educational magazine, and one of the leaders in educational thought in the country, will open a series of talks extending over the first half of the week. The themes will be of particular interest to the students, dealing to large extent with educational matters. Dr. Winship has been heard here before, and is a strong attraction for the summer school.

More Building Planned.

It is expected that this summer will see more building operations at the Normal. The legislature made an appropriation for a central heating plant for the institution, and it will be put in this year. The structure will be erected apart from the present buildings, and will be solidly built in fire proof construction. It will contain plenty of room for all the boiler capacity that will be needed. The central heating plant will decrease the fire hazard at the Normal, besides lessening the expense of maintaining the institution by decreasing the cost of heating. The legislature also appropriated $3,000 for finishing the third story of the new south wing, work which it is also planned to do with the least possible delay.

DEMONSTRATOR COMING.

Marquette People Will Be Initiated Into Mysteries of Electric Cooking.

About everything is done with electricity in Marquette but cooking, and the light and power commission expects to shortly show people how that also can be done with it. The General Electric company, which manufactures electric cooking utensils, will send a demonstrator here for a two weeks' stay. The date when the demonstration will open is now fixed as July 8. It will probably be held in some downtown store, and in addition to the cooking utensils numerous other electrical devices will be shown, so that an electrical show on a small scale is promised.

A set of electric cooking utensils is now displayed at the light and power commission's office. Properly speaking the electric stove is no stove at all. Each utensil is the stove, i. e., each utensil furnishes the heat with which its contents are cooked. With an outfit goes a table, supplied with switchboard, on which, for convenience sake, the utensils may be placed. A circuit is established with the bottom of the utensils that it is wished to use. Resistance coils generate heat, and presto, the cooking is done.

It would be possible for the commission to fix a rate for electric cooking that would make it as cheap as gas cooking, and perhaps cheaper, but still Superintendent Retalle is not very sanguine that the demonstration will result in much of a demand for electric cooking apparatus. Gas cooking is very satisfactory in the eyes of the average housewife, and it can also be done very reasonably. When it comes to the matter of first cost the advantage is all with gas. The cheapest good electric cooking outfit that could be installed would cost about $60. An outfit at that price could do all kinds of cooking and do it well, but a fine outfit for gas cooking can be put in for less than half that amount. However, some of the utensils displayed may catch people's eye, and be purchased by customers of the plant who would not think of putting in a whole outfit. There are numerous electrical heating devices that would be found very convenient even in homes supplied with gas ranges. In any event the demonstration promised is certain to attract much attention.

BAD BREAK REPAIRED.

Water Mains Wrecked in the Big Wash-out This Week.

Superintendent Kern has been busy this week repairing the water mains wrecked at the big wash-out on Lake street. A four-inch main down Huntington street was broken by the flood, shutting off the gas house, the Standard Oil company and other consumers from a supply. The shattered pipe was replaced Tuesday and water was turned on yesterday. It was then found that there was another break a little north of the gas house. There was a gate south of this break, however, so the water was turned off there without interfering with the supply for the gas house and other consumers in the neighborhood. It will require but little additional work to remove the last of the trouble.

When he was compelled to undertake this emergency work Superintendent Kern was placing water meters for the big consumers. The postoffice block, the First National, Marquette National and Savings Bank blocks have all been metered, as well as both Harlow blocks and other blocks in the business districts. The South Shore shops and the water tanks have yet to be metered, but it is expected that but little time will now elapse before all large consumers are having their water measured.

TRAINS MOVING YESTERDAY.

Temporary Tracks Across the Big Gap Served Their Purpose.

Although traffic on the South Shore and Marquette & Southeastern railroads was not back on its usual basis yesterday there was some movement of trains over the track laid across the big wash-out on Lake street. The temporary work stood up well, although the locomotives and trains slowed down to very low speed in crossing the gap. There was some filling done yesterday, and a crew of men was employed building a screw box to carry off some of the water in case of a possible future flood. A BIG THEATRICAL EVENT.

Mrs. Leslie Carter's Marquette Bill Will Be "Du Barry".

Mrs. Leslie Carter will be seen on the occasion of her Marquette engagement in "Du Barry", a play that has won her great renown the past two seasons and which she is giving the same elaborate mounting, both as regards supporting company and effects, as when it was first produced in New York. The best testimony to the massiveness of the production is perhaps found in the fact that the company requires a train of four coaches. There is Mrs. Carter's own private car, a Pullman for the supporting players and two baggage cars to carry the baggage, effects and scenery for "Du Barry".

Mrs. Carter's appearance here will be the second-last engagement of her season, which will be closed at Ottawa, Monday night, the 18th. The Duluth house will be played June 28-29, Superior, July 1, Calumet, July 3, Hancock, July 4, and Ishpeming the 5th. The schedule of prices for the Marquette engagement is not as high as it was reported it would be. The parquet seats will be $2; first three rows of the balcony $1.50; remainder of balcony $1; and the gallery fifty cents. The only $3 seats will be the boxes. This is the same scale of prices that Mrs. Carter has been charging throughout the present tour, and the same scale fixed for the Duluth house, which is nearly twice the size of the Marquette house. Furthermore it is pointed out that the rate for the lower floor is only fifty cents more than it would cost to see the same attraction in New York. The prices are, of course, unusual, but the attraction is unusual, and in the history of the Marquette opera house there is only one other that can be compared with it, the engagement of Richard Mansfield a few years ago.

WESTERN DISTRICT ORGANIZED IN '63

JUDGE STONE WAS ADMITTED TO PRACTICE DAY IT HAD ITS BEGINNING—HAS HAD FOUR JUDGES.

Naturally enough the table talk and the reminiscences after the party had adjourned from the tables at the banquet tendered the Hon. Lovel A. Knapp, judge for the western district of Michigan, at the Marquette club Tuesday evening turned on the early history of the district over which Judge Knapp has the honor to preside. Concerning this history Hon. J. W. Stone, judge of the judicial circuit of which this county is a part, had a fund of information not second to that possessed by even Judge Knapp, for he has had an intimate connection with it even from the time of its organization, and his comments on the various jurists who have from time to time presided in the district, together with his stories of important happenings in years long gone by, were listened to with much interest by the guests.

It is an interesting fact that Judge Stone was admitted to practice in the U. S. court for the district the very day it was organized, May 19, 1863, forty-four years ago. On that day, when the Hon. Spomen E. Withey, the first district judge, presented his commission, signed by Abraham Lincoln, Judge Stone was given the right to conduct legal business before the court, and always in the intervening years he has had business with it or has closely followed its history and been acquainted with the jurists who have presided over it.

The first judge, Mr. Withey, was a prominent resident of Grand Rapids, a distinguished lawyer and able man of affairs. Judge Stone remembers him as a polished gentleman and a judge of the ability. In the course of his district judgeship he had the disposal of many important cases, and some of his decisions had an influence that was country-wide. Judge Withey served for a period of over twenty years, being succeeded in 1885 or '86, as Judge Stone remembers it, by Judge Henry F. Savers, who was appointed by President Cleveland. Judge Savers was later elevated to a judgeship in the U. S. court of appeals for the circuit comprising Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee, an office he still holds, being succeeded by the late George P. Wauty, whose death abroad last year created the vacancy which Judge Knapp was chosen to fill. From 1882 to 1886 Judge Stone had an official connection with the district as United States prosecuting attorney, he serving about a year into President Cleveland's first term.

The four judges named are the only men who have been the regularly commissioned judges in the district since it was organized, but in the forty-four years of the district's existence many other U. S. judges have, for one reason or another, conducted cases in the district, and on occasions judges of the U. S. supreme court have heard causes within its limits.

JUDGE DIRECTED VERDICT.

Damage Case of Matti Jamsa Brought to Sudden End Yesterday.

The case of Matti Jamsa vs. The Baltic Copper company, with which the United States circuit court had been busy Monday and Tuesday, was brought to a sudden termination early yesterday afternoon, when Judge Knapp, yesterday the motion of A. F. Rees, attorney for the defendant company, that the case be dismissed because of the failure of the plaintiff to show cause for action. Mr. Rees made his motion immediately on the conclusion of the testimony. It was argued at great length, Mr. Rees maintaining that there had been a failure to show the negligence of the Baltic company as a contributing cause to the accident on which Jamsa's attorneys based their case, and the latter asserting their belief that negligence had been proved. The court ruled with the defendant's attorney, and the jury was discharged. Jamsa sued for $15,000 for injuries resulting in the loss of an arm.

After disposing of this case Judge Knapp heard arguments on a motion by the attorneys for the defendant in the case of the Adventure Consolidated Copper company vs. the Allis Chambers company of Milwaukee for a dismissal of the cause from court for want of jurisdiction, on the grounds that a proper service had not been made. Judge Knapp took the matter under advisement.

"UP YORK STATE."

Tonight the Mack-Leone company will present at the opera house a rural play, "Up York State," that was one of Sol Smith Russell's early successes. The piece is well written, and affords Mr. Mack and Miss Leone excellent opportunities. Last night the house was sold out and many people stood through the performance of "The Little Minister". It was cordially received.
