

WM. D. HAYWOOD IS A FREE MAN

On Trial for Weeks, Acknowledged Head of Western Federation of Miners Is Acquitted of the Stuenberg Murder.

First Apparently Deadlocked, Jury Reaches Verdict After Twenty-One Hours, and in View of Court's Instructions Its Decision Does Not Occasion Particular Surprise—State Is Not Content, However, and Will Push Prosecution of Remaining Cases.

Boise, Idaho, July 28.—Into the bright sunlight of a beautiful Sabbath morning, into the stillness of a city drowsy with the lazy slumbers of a summer Sunday, William D. Haywood, the defendant in one of the most sensational trials of the century, walked forth today a free man, acquitted of the murder of former Governor Stuenberg.

Prosecutions to Continue. It was also freely predicted that in the event of Haywood's acquittal the state would abandon the prosecution of his associates, Charles H. Moyer, the president of the federation, and George A. Pettibone, a Denver, Colo., miner.

Prosecutions to Continue. It was also freely predicted that in the event of Haywood's acquittal the state would abandon the prosecution of his associates, Charles H. Moyer, the president of the federation, and George A. Pettibone, a Denver, Colo., miner.

Closing Scenes Dramatic. It was after being out for twenty-one hours that the jury, which at first had seemed deadlocked at ten to two, finally came to an agreement shortly after the first faint streaks of dawn.

Events moved rapidly enough after this, and when at last the principal actors in the trial had gathered into the court room at a few moments before 8 o'clock the white envelope handed by the foreman to the judge was torn open and the verdict was read.

Judge Wood's Charge. Judge Wood's charge to the jury, delivered Saturday morning, was favorable to the defense, if at all, in that it apparently gave the defendant the benefit of doubtful points of law.

Judge Wood laid emphasis upon every assumption by which the defendant might be found not guilty and declared that if a conviction could be secured, the prosecution must not only remove every reasonable doubt, but the jury must be convinced "to a moral certainty" that the defendant is guilty.

One of the most important of Judge Wood's instructions, as viewed from the defense, was the following: "To find a person guilty of a conspiracy to commit a crime, it is necessary for you to be satisfied from the evidence, beyond a reasonable doubt, that the party accused shared in the criminal purpose, and in this case if you find the defendant did no overt act in carrying out the conspiracy and did not enter into any unlawful agreement, then, even though you find a reasonable doubt, that the defendant knew of the conspiracy, it would be insufficient to warrant you in pronouncing that he was guilty of the crime charged."

penalty of ten years to life imprisonment. Voluntary manslaughter, one to ten years. Involuntary manslaughter, with a penalty of one to ten years. Not guilty.

The charge contained sixty-six instructions. Judge Wood dwelt at length upon the laws of conspiracy and the value of the evidence given by an accomplice.

"The law views such evidence with distrust," he declared, "and it should be received by the jury with caution and criticized with great care. And if from the evidence, it appears that any favors have been extended by the authorities to Orchard and there is any promise relating to further favors on account of his testimony, they are proper matters for the jury to take into consideration."

First Visits Aged Mother. Haywood's first thought was of his aged mother, who yesterday had suffered a complete nervous breakdown after the jury had retired.

Next Haywood went to the little cottage where his wife and daughters have been stopping. Once home Haywood said: "I want to thank the people of Boise for their kindness to my wife, my mother, my family and my friends."

Miners' Lawyer Dying. John Murphy, general counsel for the Western Federation of Miners, who in spite of the fact that he is wasted to a skeleton by consumption, has almost daily occupied a place at the defense table throughout the trial, was unable to be present at the closing argument of the case. He is now dying in the hospital here.

Haywood called on him early today, and the scene between the two is said to have been most affecting. Haywood lifted the slight form of the dying man in his arms, and Murphy is quoted as saying between stifled gasps: "Bill, in this hour of your great triumph, be humble and thankful."

MESABA DEPUTIES GET UNDER ARMS. TROUBLE LOOKED FOR AT NASHWAUK TODAY, SHERIFF PREPARES TO MEET IT.

Duluth, July 28.—A telephone message this evening from Rovey, Minn., says that Sheriff Healdman of Itasca county, who is at Nashwauk, has sent a telegram to his chief deputy at Rovey, telling the latter to get the deputies under arms and be prepared to move at a moment's notice.

A mass meeting of citizens, sympathizing with the United States Steel corporation, was held at Rovey this morning, with the result that about 150 men under arms are camped about the city hall, prepared to entrain in ten minutes. About 100 men are under arms at the Holman location, who will be picked up en route to Nashwauk.

Deck Strike, too, Continues. Mayor Callahan said tonight that it was not likely a settlement of the ore handlers' strike would be achieved tonight, but he is hopeful of being able to announce by tomorrow morning that the objections to a complete understanding have been removed.

Oshkosh, Wis., July 28.—The remains of Professor R. H. Halsey, of the State Normal school, who was accidentally shot and killed while in camp at Lake Gogebic, Mich., arrived here last night in charge of the two sons of the deceased, Rowland and Richard. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the First Congregational church.

Sons Crazed With Grief. The two sons, crazed for the time being by the tragic end of their father and hoping against hope that the wound was not fatal, tried to stop the flow of blood. Realizing that he was beyond their aid, they rowed across the lake to the residence of L. L. Wright, state superintendent of public instruction for Michigan and a great friend of Professor Halsey.

Was a Prominent Educator. Professor Halsey was killed by the Oshkosh Normal was one of the leading educators of the state. He served for thirteen years as principal of the Oshkosh High school, five years as superintendent of the local public schools and for the last eight years was the head of a normal school having an enrollment of about 700 students.

Portsmouth, N. H., July 28.—The Austria, one of the vessels captured by the United States from Spain in the Philippines, has been commissioned at the navy yard here for the use of the naval militia of Michigan. The vessel, which has been placed in thorough repair, was turned over to a detachment of the Wolverine sailors, and the boys from the great lakes will take their vessel back under their own command and with their own crew.

Ripper Is Still at Large. Eight Thousand Extra Policemen Patrolling the Streets of Berlin.

Berlin, July 28.—The criminal who stabbed five little girls on the streets of Berlin is still at large. The theory that finds the greatest favor among medical men is that the man is an epileptic—a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde—who probably has recovered his normal condition and is now without any recollection of what he did; that his attitude toward these dreadful nets is that of a complete stranger. He will next be heard of when in another seizure he kills another child. Eight thousand special policemen are patrolling the streets. A reward of $1,000 has been offered for the culprit's arrest.

SEVEN BLOCKS ARE SWEPT AND REST ESCAPE BY A VERY NARROW MARGIN.

New York, July 28.—Coney island, the play ground of New York's millions, was visited by a disastrous fire early today, and seven blocks in the amusement zone were completely destroyed. Tilyou's stevedock park and nearly a score of small hotels were wiped out, and for a time the flames threatened destruction to Luna park and Dreamland, those great homes of summer amusement, and the scores of smaller places which fringe the water's edge for a mile.

CASTRO DEFILES UNITED STATES

Action Is Taken by the President of Venezuela That May Lead to the Severing of Diplomatic Relations.

Taking Advantage of a Critical Period in the Peace Conference at The Hague, Fiery Head of Southern Republic Replies to the Demands of Secretary Root by Refusing to Submit to Arbitration American Claims Involving Millions.

Washington Not Surprised. Washington, July 28.—The state department officials were not surprised to be informed of the second refusal of President Castro to submit to arbitration the claims of certain American corporations and individuals.

Reach Into Millions. The New York and Bermudez Asphalt concession was based upon the right to take asphalt from La Policiana, and is among the oldest and best known of the claims. The United States and Venezuelan company claims to have been deprived of the right to mine asphalt and to operate a narrow gauge railroad from the coast to the interior.

It is believed here that the Venezuelan government is seeking to take advantage of the fact that the Hague conference is just about to embark on the consideration of the Drago doctrine involving the right of states forcibly to collect debts. President Castro has probably been presuming that the United States as an ardent advocate of that doctrine, would scarcely care to weaken its argument by now threatening a display of force to collect claims.

The attitude of the Venezuelan government toward the government of the United States and toward the interests of its citizens who have suffered so grave and frequent wrongs arbitrarily committed by the government of Venezuela, requires that justice should be fully done, once for all.

Crisfield, Md., July 28.—James Reed, a negro, was lynched here this morning. He killed a policeman yesterday, and was caught today while trying to escape across the sound in a sailboat. As the boat bearing the negro approached the wharf, a crowd gathered quickly. Immediately the crowd pounced upon the man, and beat and kicked him to death.

U. S. IS SUED FOR STATUTE. New York, July 28.—Announcement is made that J. Q. A. Ward, sculptor, has authorized his attorneys to bring suit for $35,000 for work done on a model of a statue of General Philip Sheridan, which was rejected by a congressional committee. It is said the model, on which Mr. Ward worked for a number of years, pleased artists and members of the commission who viewed it, but Mrs. Sheridan was asked to view it and, it is alleged, following her disapproval the model was rejected.

IMPORTANT EVENTS BOOKED THIS WEEK

TWO ON THE LIST THE PHILIPPINE ELECTION AND THE OIL TRUST SENTENCE. Chicago, July 28.—Important news events of the week include the election of a congress for the Philippine islands; the decision of Judge Landis of Chicago in the Standard Oil case; the opening of the fourth trial of Caleb Powers, charged with the murder of Governor Goebel of Kentucky, and probably further legal proceedings in the test cases to determine the constitutionality of the North Carolina state railroad law.

Then the leader of the Alabama bar, and was admitted to practice in 1842, opening an office at Gainesville, Ala., as the partner of Turner Reavis. He served as a lieutenant in the Mexican war.

In 1849, when thousands rushed to the California gold fields, he was a delegate back with others to the coast. Upon his return to Alabama he was elected judge of the Seventh circuit, but resigned in 1858 and moved to Dallas county. He resumed the practice of law, but at the opening of the war of the rebellion he went into the Confederate army as a major of the Twentieth Alabama infantry, and soon afterward was made lieutenant colonel of his regiment. He became a brigadier general of infantry in 1863, serving until the close of the war.

At the rebellion's close the soldier returned to the bar and took an active part in Democratic politics. In 1896 he was elected senator by the state legislature for the term beginning March 4, 1897. It was his first political honor, although he had been a delegate to national Democratic conventions almost since reaching his majority. Senator Pettus was unanimously re-elected in 1903. The present term expires March 3, 1909.

MYSTERY IN CUT THROAT. Chicago, July 28.—The police is attempting to solve the mystery surrounding the attack on Andrew Benis, who was found with throat cut from ear to ear. Benis, who is forty-four years old, was found unconscious and bleeding at Van Buren and Halsted streets. Two men were seen running away and were arrested. Both had blood-stained clothes, but they deny that they assaulted Benis. They assert that they were giving him aid when policemen came on the scene.

BREAKS PASSENGER RECORD. New York, July 28.—The Hamburg-American line steamer Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, which sailed from Hamburg, July 25, and Southampton and Cherbourg the 28th for New York, carries the largest number of passengers ever brought to this port during the month of July. The list includes 551 first, 279 second and 223 third class and 1324 steerage passengers, with a crew of 1,000, totaling 3,377 persons.

GOLD BRICK SWINDLE. South McAlester, I. T., July 28.—J. J. McAlester, president of the American National bank of this city, was swindled into paying $10,000 cash for a worthless brick offered by a man claiming to be a miner. The brick was taken to Muskogee, appraised at the government office, and stated to contain eight per cent pure gold. When the deal was completed McAlester was given an imitation.

ACTRESS KILLS HERSELF. Pittsburgh, Pa., July 28.—Helen Bailey Trowbridge, aged about thirty-five, of Chicago, a character actress, until last week with the People's Stock company, enacted the last act of a tragic life by cutting her throat with a razor in the American Hotel. One cent in money and a newspaper clipping of James Whitcomb Riley's poem "The Blues," found in her pocket, told the story of the reason for her deed.

TENEMENT HOUSE SCENE OF HORROR

Fire in New York Has Awful Results—Fourteen Persons Are Dead, Twice as Many More Probably Fatally Injured.

Explosion as Yet Unaccounted For Tears Out Front of a Six-Story Building, and Amid the Flames That Follow Most of the Members of the Twenty Families Occupying the Apartments Are Caught Sound Asleep—Panic That Ensues Is Fearful.

New York, July 28.—An explosion accompanied by fire shattered an East side tenement late tonight, and with the crumbling walls fourteen persons went down to death. While a large number were probably fatally injured.

The wrecked building was at 222 Christie street, where a six-story tenement rose above a grocery store basement. An explosion as yet unaccounted for tore out the front of the building, and the fire that followed caught the twenty families, numbering about 100 persons, while most of them were sound asleep.

Of the injured many jumped from the windows, others were caught by falling timbers, while still others received their wounds during the panic and mad flight among each other for the exits.

GRAFT PROSECUTION FAILS. Jury Unable to Agree in Glass Bribery Case at San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 28.—The jury in the case of Louis Glass, vice president and general manager of the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph company, accused of having bribed Charles A. Boston, a member of the board of city supervisors, through the agency of Theodore A. Halsey to withhold a franchise from a rival corporation, was unable to agree on a verdict, and was discharged at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon after being out forty-eight hours. The prosecution announced that it will proceed with other indictments against Glass.

The jury stood seven to five for conviction from the first ballot.

WATERWAY IMPROVEMENT.
 The question of waterways and water
 transportation is attracting more attention in the country at large this summer
 than at any previous time. There is reason for this. For one thing the utter inability of the railroads to cope with
 the business offered, coupled with their
 frank confession that it will be years
 before they can expand their facilities
 to adequately provide for the traffic and
 their present great difficulty in financing
 improvements, shows a necessity of removing, as soon as possible, some of the pressure on these avenues of commerce.
 Again, active work on some waterways
 projects and preliminary work on others,
 together with intelligent agitation of the general question by the newspapers, have combined to begin the education of the public to its great importance.

Not only in this country is the question of waterways and water transportation looming large, but it is also receiving serious consideration in Canada,
 and most people familiar with the practical progress made in the utilization of waterways in Canada feel forced to admit that, despite the great expenditures
 of our congress on such projects, there is
 in that country today a more general
 and more thorough understanding than in the United States of the importance of as far as possible supplementing the
 railroads as agents of commerce by extensive water routes.

There is, however, every reason to believe that our thorough awakening on this subject, if delayed, is imminent. The present year has seen an active start
 on New York's great $101,000,000 large
 canal project, and has also witnessed
 widespread agitation for the enlargement
 of the Chicago drainage canal to the dignity of a ship canal, which, in connection with the improvement of the natural waterways with which it joins,
 shall give the lakes a direct connection, for ships of good burden, with
 the gulf. In relation to this project,
 a trip over the route of the proposed
 from-the-lakes-to-the-gulf waterway by President Roosevelt is planned for the coming fall. He is in hearty sympathy with the general movement for water-
 way improvement, and it is quite probable that what he sees on his forthcoming
 trip will result in specific recommendations favorable to this particular project in his next message to congress.

This gulf route must be one important part of a general waterways program. It is important to have Chicago directly connected by water with the gulf and the thriving cities and country
 districts of the Mississippi valley, but it is equally important, or more so, that she should be connected by the shortest
 possible route with the country's metropolis, New York, by a waterway sufficiently large to enable the carrying of cargoes in one bottom, without breaking
 or transfer.

The only adequate waterways system
 for this country will embrace two improved channels of commerce opening
 from the great lakes. The one, planned for easy and cheap commerce between the eastern and the middle western states, will be a system of public canals
 that will permit a steamer of fair size
 to be sailed from New York, up the Hudson, through the barge canal, to the several great lakes ports. The other channel of commerce will be the Chicago-to-
 the-gulf route, opened for more effective means of communication between the great lakes states and the states of the Mississippi valley and the gulf, via the Chicago drainage canal and the connecting rivers. These waterways, and the minor improvements of similar nature
 that will follow in their train, will give
 the country a plant for water transportation which will relieve the railroads of their excess burden and which will spread
 the beneficent influence of lower freight tariffs over the entire nation. It is a system such as this, designed to serve
 the whole country, that should be the objective point of all effort for the improvement of water routes.

The great lake states outside of those
 actually the scene of present or prospective waterways operations have not yet taken the broad interest in this question that they should, and Michigan,
 with the others, is liable to this indictment. Michigan has been ready enough to push for harbor and other improvements on the great lakes, but has neglected to look beyond, to realize the possible benefits to accrue to it from a larger waterway development, and thus

 has failed, as yet, to raise her voice for the carrying out of the comprehensive plan suggested, in outline, above. This is an omission that cannot be too soon corrected. No program that stops with the mere improvement of already navigable waterways is sufficient. Such as they are they are admirable, but the crying need is the opening of new waterways between points which now have to depend for means of interstate commerce on the railroads.

Reference has been made to the work
 of Canada. With some of it every well-informed person on the lakes is acquaint-
 ed. There is the Soo canal on the Canadian side, a waterway of great value in handling the vastly increased lake traffic of the past few years. The Welland canal, the connecting link between Lakes
 Erie and Ontario, is another monument
 to the enterprise of the Canadians in making lake routes available for traffic
 in lake bottoms, without breaking of cargo. Within the Dominion are many waterway projects particularly of Canadian concern, as opposed to the international nature of the works here referred to. Another Canadian project of international importance, toward the completion of which the Dominion government is slowly but steadily working,
 is a waterway from the eastern end of Georgian bay to the north shore of Lake Ontario, by way of Lake Simcoe. What this would do for lake traffic between the western ports and the state of New York can be best seen by a glimpse at the map. It would permit of a saving in distance, time and weight of inestimable
 value, and would be an important factor
 in any comprehensive system of waterways.

The working out of a complete waterways project calls, for the largest measure of success, for the completion of the Canadian improvement here referred to.
 Further it calls for the construction, as soon as possible, by the state of New York between Oswego and Troy of the proposed large canal. In the following extracts from a letter published in the Utica, N. Y., Daily Press, written by a Utican who has lately made a trip of the great lakes, this point is given due prominence, and certain general features of the problem are commented on in an interesting manner:

I am more and more impressed with how important it is that New York state
 people should turn their attention to and give preference to that portion of the barge canal which would connect Lake Ontario with the Hudson river, which would be only about one-third of the built and completed and in operation in about one-third of the time that will be required to build the entire large canal
 from Buffalo to the Hudson river; and
 with the great need of additional transportation facilities which the railroads
 are unable to supply, it does seem to me
 that it would be wise if our governor
 would make recommendations to our legislature that nothing wiser could be done
 than to enact legislation directing and giving preference to the portion of the barge canal from the Hudson river to Lake Ontario at Oswego.

With the barge canal open and completed from Troy to Oswego, then crossing Lake Ontario to connect with the proposed Georgian bay and Lake Ontario canal, sometimes known as the Trent Valley canal, we would have a short cut by water for all traffic to and from Lake Superior through the Saint Ste. Marie locks; Lake Michigan through the straits of Mackinac, and Lake Huron and the Georgian bay
 reaching New York city, the metropolis of the world, and that vast population bordering on the Atlantic, and at Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other Atlantic ports. Furthermore, if this portion of the barge canal from Oswego to Troy were completed we would have Lake Ontario from Oswego
 to the Welland canal, through the Welland canal to Buffalo and all western ports on the lakes. The cost compared with the benefit would be a mere bagatelle, and the improvement is something
 so much needed that we cannot afford to waste any time to accomplish and
 complete it.

These Great Lakes are interstate and international waterways and should be so used. The jealousies between Canada and the United States should not exist as far as transportation is concerned any more than in the case of the international railroads, such as the Michigan Central, the Pere Marquette, the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific.
 The above mentioned railroads are transporting goods from points in the states
 to Canadian points, and vice versa.
 These waterways should be free to do like transportation. I believe that Canada is deeply interested to have a waterway to connect with New York city, and we should be equally interested to have
 a waterway connecting with their ports,
 because Canada is the greatest customer
 for our products from an export standpoint, and we should have the best facilities for transporting them. We want Canadian products and the best facilities
 for transporting them, and how important is a reciprocal arrangement, so that,
 with these waterways completed, we should be privileged to use the proposed Canadian waterways and in turn extend
 to them the privilege of using our waterways.

It does seem to me that New York city
 and all the upstate people should recognize what Canada is doing, what
 the middle west is striving to do, and sit up and take notice of what we ought to do to complete a waterway from the Hudson river by the quickest and cheapest possible route, that we may have the resultant benefit in the shortest possible
 space of time.

In conclusion, I must emphasize the fact that this system of Great Lakes,
 with the various proposed outlets to the Atlantic coast; connecting Lake Erie
 with the Ohio river at Pittsburgh; Chicago connected with the Mississippi by its drainage canal, would be the greatest plant for transportation purposes in the world. I will not except the great Pennsylvania system and our New York Central system of railroads, and when we consider the class of products that would be transported by water at low tariff

rates, relieving the railroads to carry the higher class of products, and relieving
 the railroads from the present congested conditions, we must realize what a great benefit it would be to the country at large.

The comment is obvious that the working out of the different steps of the waterways program suggested in the foregoing devolves principally upon New York
 state, the Dominion of Canada and Illinois and the states of the Mississippi valley. However, the ultimate benefit will be derived by the entire nation, and the people of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and the other states indirectly
 concerned will find it to their ultimate profit to show an intelligent interest in the general subject involved and to show
 ever they can, give their support to specific measures for carefully considered
 waterways development.

The criticism of F. C. Smith, an inspector of the interstate commerce commission who attended the inquest in connection with the Pere Marquette wreck,
 that the superior officers of the company
 should not be allowed to be present while their subordinates are testifying, is a reasonable one. No subordinate is going to talk freely about such a serious disaster if his superiors are hearing everything he says. Prosecutor Robison excepted certain witnesses because he didn't want to draw out testimony that might
 prejudice their superiors against them,
 saying that he would get the information
 "higher up." The inquiry has shown General Superintendent Trump, of the Pere Marquette, as insisting that the blame lies on the train crew of the freight, for reading their orders incorrectly. The orders, as written, he holds to be clear and sufficient, and insists that if they had been checked over, as required by the rules, there would have been no wreck. Prosecutor Robison does not entirely agree with him. He, and others support his view, holds that the orders were carelessly written, and therefore liable to mislead on such a casual
 reading as it is to be feared most train-men are in the habit of giving orders. At the present time the prosecutor is disin-
 clined to issue warrants against the crew
 of the freight, but is apparently determined to have someone formally accused of criminal manslaughter.

Like everyone else accused of a crime,
 in which guilt is not manifestly certain,
 Representative Ward is entitled to the benefit of the doubt. Prosecutor Robi-
 son's decision to issue a warrant for him
 is not a conviction. Indeed, it is said that Ward's counsel desired to have the whole matter thrown into the courts,
 and is reported to be confident of his acquittal. On the other hand, the prosector says he has a stronger case against
 Ward than was indicated at the inquest.
 The prosecutor, in any event, has done
 his duty. All facts adduced at the inquest and all inferences point so strongly to Ward as the man who arranged for the criminal operation that he would have been derelict had he not pushed
 the case. The courts will doubtless clear the whole matter up. Ward will be shown to be guilty or innocent, whether or not he is convicted, for guilt can sometimes be shown without conviction
 being secured.

Governor Hughes of New York has given another notable victory. The legislature, in a special session called for the purpose, has passed the senatorial reapportionment bill. The supreme court
 last winter set aside the senatorial apportionment on the ground that it did not comply with the constitution either
 in geographical principle or on a basis
 of fair representation. The legislature in regular session failed to enact a new apportionment, and the special session
 was called almost immediately after the adjournment. The politicians opposed doing anything, but Governor Hughes
 and public sentiment held the legislature

to its duty and won. The new apportionment will make changes in many of the districts, and under it some members who have been conspicuous in legislative affairs may find it difficult to retain their seats, which will be to the advantage of good government.

Joe Ziehr says that he will presently
 have his forfeit money up for the match with Carkeek. Also he says that if Carkeek prefers to wrestle in Marquette
 county, he prefers to wrestle in Calumet,
 because he believes the largest gate receipts can be obtained there. This is very much to be doubted. Ishpeming
 and Negaunee, together with Marquette,
 would turn out as big a crowd as Calumet, and as profitable a one. The match was first suggested at Negaunee, and Marquette county men have pushed the preliminaries to their present stage.
 Either Ishpeming or Negaunee is plainly entitled to it. The difference of opinion
 over the place where the contest shall be held may be a rock on which the negotiations will break. This is very likely if Ziehr wants to dodge the meeting. If both he and Carkeek are in earnest,
 however, they ought to be able to come to some agreement. As a last resort
 they might leave the matter to chance,
 and settle it by the toss of a coin.

Governor Johnson of Minnesota went
 at the task of getting informed regarding the strike situation on the Mesaba in a sensible manner. He paid a personal visit to the several Mesaba range towns.
 He found the mines pretty well tied up.
 The mine owners wanted troops, to protect their property from possible attacks. Governor Johnson replied that inasmuch as there had been no destruction of property he did not see the necessity of calling out troops, but he indicated that he would do so at the first sign of riot. The governor gave good counsel to both mine owners and men.
 He takes a sanguine view of the outlook,
 and thinks the strike will peter away to
 nothing in but a short time.

The council will meet this evening.
 North Marquette will make another demand for water. To be sure, it is not the council's business to supply North Marquette with water. There is a board duly appointed to look after such matters, but the North Marquette residents
 complain that they can get no action
 from the board.

Archbishop Messner of Milwaukee,
 who last year put the taboo on the
 peek-a-boo shirtwaist for church wear,
 has now extended it to the short sleeve.
 Proper regard for the sanctity of churches, he maintains, dictates full length sleeves. There, ladies, what do you think of that?

If Attorney General Bird's eagle eye
 continues to discern faults in the recently passed bills the Tinker session of the legislature will have more to do than the
 regular one.

It must have been a boxer clerk who
 was entrusted with the task of transcribing Governor Warner's binder twine plant
 bill.

What the attorney general's department needs is a discovery bureau that will get into action before the legislature
 adjourns.

Governor Warner's binder twine plant
 will be delayed a few months, but there is no doubt about its ultimate operation.

Even if the Hon. Horatio Earle's trap
 rock prison bill had been passed there might have been a fatal error in it.

It's a difficult matter to foresee who
 is going to profit from the Mesaba strike.

PAIN
 Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause.
 Pain in congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—
 coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers.
 Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently
 though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.
 If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
 If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
 If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute
 the unnatural blood pressure.
 Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

SHAM BATTLE'S TRAGIC ENDING

MEMBER OF HOUGHTON MILITIA KILLED DURING JOINT MANEUVERS AT CALUMET.

Elmer Lakkamen, eighteen years of age, a member of the Houghton Eight Infantry, was shot and almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon during the joint maneuvers of the Houghton, Hancock and Calumet militiamen at Calumet.

The fatal shot was fired during the sham battle. This opened at 1 o'clock, the Houghton soldiers and the Hancock naval division attacking the Calumet troops in the trenches. The assaulting party approached through woods and over hills, firing blanks at the Calumet company, which retreated. Half an hour after the opening of the battle the boy fell with a shriek. He died within fifteen minutes. The bullet entered the left side and went out the right breast; it pierced the lungs, and the doctors could render no aid.

There are two theories with respect to the fatality—either some militiaman accidentally used a loaded cartridge, or firing from outside sources caused the death. Firing in the woods was heard all afternoon, and it was not from the militia. Lakkamen's position was struck by a bullet which came from the left. The boy being on the left, the angle makes the theory of the outside shot probably correct. Coroner Armit called a jury which viewed the body and adjourned until today. The body was taken to the home of the parents at Hancock. A military funeral will be held Wednesday.

The accident has cast gloom over the militia, which had been in good spirits just before camp-time and was making a great showing. Great care was taken by the officers before the sham battle. All ammunition was inspected, and the cartridges belts were examined. No bullets were found, and everything was as safe as reason could expect. Both military and civil investigations will be made.

$30,000 LAND COMPANY.

There was incorporated last week, with the filing of articles in the office of the secretary of state at Lansing, the Copper City Land company. The new concern has secured thirty acres of land in the northern part of Houghton county, purchased from J. T. Finnegan of Hancock, who is one of the incorporators. The company is capitalized at $30,000. It will lay out a townsite to be known as Copper City. The purpose of the company is to take advantage of the home-seeking which will result from the development of the Algonac and Algonac mines, in Keweenaw county, and adjacent to the new town.

RED FLAG AROUSES HANCOCK CITIZENS

BANNER OF ANARCHY IS TORN TO PIECES, AND SOCIALISTS ARE JAILED.

The Finnish socialists of the copper country held a convention in Hancock Saturday night, and yesterday they assembled at Anthony's farm, West Hancock, for their annual picnic. It was said on Saturday that the parade incident of a test of the anti-flag ordinance recently passed by the Hancock city council.

In the past the Finnish socialists or a similar organization have paraded under a red flag, and the Hancock council believes this to be a symbol of anarchy. The resolution went into effect last week, after the usual period of publication, and if the socialists appeared yesterday with a red banner Chief Andrew was expected to arrest the leaders of the parade as being guilty of expressing anarchistic principles.

Red Flag Is Flouted.

Later—the expected happened. The parade started at 9 o'clock in the morning. It consisted of a procession of the spectacle cheered the American flag that was carried. Later the socialists appeared with three red flags, whereupon a crowd of patriotic citizens attacked the standard-bearers and tore the banners to pieces. Chief Andrew, with extra policemen, arrested twelve men and one woman, all socialists, on the charge of violating the ordinance and of inciting riot.

Those jailed were the following: Fred Helander, baker, of South Range; Albert Malmgren, baker, of Hancock; Felix Hillone, printer; Lavo Tervo, manager, of Hancock; Kaarta Ahonen, a miner, of Crystal Falls; Salli Walki, a trapper, of Iron Mountain; and Miss Fanny Makki, a domestic, of Calumet.

All gave bonds for their appearance before Justice Oliver at Hancock, today. P. H. O'Brien, a leading Laurium attorney and prominent socialist, has taken charge of the defense. The prisoners were jailed only a short time pending bail. No injuries were inflicted in the riot.

OTTER LAKE ROAD.

Justice Croze Declares for Balloons for That District. Justice L. L. Croze of Houghton, a member of the Portage board, visited the outlying districts of that township last week in company with Highway Commissioner Ruelle. The visit made possible an inspection of the road through Chassell township which is used by the people of the Otter lake district and which is to be repaired by the county at a cost of $1,000.

Justice Croze says that this road is in such bad condition that a balloon is the only means of locomotion out of Otter lake in the spring. The mail carrier who serves the people of the district declares that he has to swim his horse over parts of the road during the period mentioned. Commissioner Ruelle found the Portage township roads in good condition, and he let several small repair jobs. To get to Otter lake, which is in Portage township, the officials had to travel over the Chassell township road, and they declare that three miles of it is the worst stretch of road in the upper peninsula.

The rebuilding of this road will be of great benefit to a large agricultural district, the Otter lake region being one of the most productive in the copper country. The delay in building good roads is retarding development very materially.

Justice Croze reports that he saw a scorpion in the woods near Otter lake. This bird is a stranger in this district, and how it happens to be seen this summer is a mystery.

J. Abner Sherman of Houghton is building a hunting cottage at Otter lake. It is of logs in the Finnish style, which includes a groove on the top of each log, into which groove the next log fits, making the building air tight and leaving no necessity for chiming. This cabin will be one of the most comfortable hunting lodges in the copper country.

A MACHINE FOR WOMEN Should be the best obtainable. The Singer and Wheeler & Wilson sewing machines are acknowledged the lightest running, most durable and convenient of any. Look for the Red S. Singer Sewing Machine Co., Marquette, 108 N. Third St.; Ishpeming, 120 S. Main St.; Negaunee, Iron St.; Hancock, 503 Reservation St.; Calumet, 423 N. Fifth St.; Escanaba, 713 Lexington St.; Iron Mountain, 205 E. Houghton St.; Sault Ste. Marie, 116 Ashmun St.

Hotel Williams, Grand Island, Munising, Michigan, has opened its third year with a large number of reservations for the whole season. Local and out-of-town people are arranging to go to the Red S. Island, which indicates the popularity of this resort.

Father says: "Say, Mother; can't doughnuts if I will bring home a pair of you make us some more of those fine Cudahy's Peacock's Lard again?" (11-27-e-o-d)

All manufacturers and mine owners contemplating doing any roof work either Gravel or Felts, or repairing and cutting the old metal or felt roofs, will do well to write to the Enamored Roofing and Roofing Co., 169 Deming St., Kenosha, Wis. GASOLINE TANK EXPLODED.

John C. Pryor, Houghton Yachtsman, Seriously Burned.

John C. Pryor, the well known Houghton yachtsman and lumberman, was very seriously burned in an explosion of gasoline Saturday night about 8 o'clock. Mr. Pryor had gone to his boat house on the shore of Portage lake to pull out his motor boat for a trip on the lake. A tank in which was kept an extra supply of gasoline for the boat was stored in the house, and this must have been leaking.

The explosion practically wrecked the boat house and Mr. Pryor was struck in the face by the burst of flame. Prompt assistance was rendered him, and he was taken at once to Des Rocher's drug store. Here it was found that his face was badly burned, his hair was missing and his hands were seriously injured. His hurts were extremely painful, but were said by the attending surgeon to be only superficial.

It is gratifying to every one in Houghton that Mr. Pryor will suffer no lasting injury from the accident, as he is one of the most popular men in that village. He has been prominent in motor boat and sailing circles, as well as socially and in business, and his misfortune is greatly regretted. He is understanding the suffering as well as might be yesterday, and it should be only a short time before he has entirely recovered.

Second Explosion More Serious.

Later—Another explosion in the same boat house Sunday morning resulted in a fire that burned the building to the top. Fred Lumberg, engineer, was badly burned. It is now believed that crossed wires were the cause.

COPPER COUNTRY SPORTS.

All the League Ball Teams Will Play Here Today.

The Houghton ball team played the last game of its northern series at Duluth yesterday. Calumet completed its series at Winnipeg on Saturday. The four Northern-Copper Country league teams will open in the copper country this week, Duluth at Houghton today and Winnipeg there tomorrow. Thereafter Winnipeg and Duluth will alternate with the two copper country teams until Aug. 9. This is the last series for the northern clubs in the copper country. The Houghton and Calumet teams have yet to make another trip before the season closes.

The teams return to the copper country this week in the same positions as when they left. Winnipeg leads, Duluth is second and Houghton and Calumet close the order. Houghton made second place for one headless instant while away on this last trip, but was forced out in jig time. "Smiley" Smith will be welcomed back in a Houghton uniform this week after unsuccessfully holding the position of playing manager of the Duluth White Sox. There are numerous other changes in the teams, changes too numerous to mention in detail. There are also two new umpires. All the managers are new, but it appears the copper country teams are playing the same old style of ball.

FINNISH CONVENTION ENDS.

Monason, Pa., Chosen for Next Year—Officers Elected.

The annual convention of the National Finnish Temperance Brotherhood of America closed Friday with the election of officers and the selection of the place of holding the next convention. Saturday was devoted to a reunion of the Finnish societies of the copper country, a big picnic and a public meeting in the interest of temperance.

Monason, Pa., was selected as the place of holding the next convention. Marquette, Crystal Falls and Miss City in Michigan competed for the honor, as did cities in Ohio, Minnesota and Illinois, and it required a number of ballots to select the Pennsylvania town. The following officers were elected: President—Mike Skuttio of Ishpeming. Vice President—Oscar Priskey of Calumet. Secretary—Jacob Kaminen of Ishpeming. Treasurer—Alex Pantti of Ishpeming. Members Board of Governors—Miss Hannah Sihla of Hancock, Esa Torko of Sault Ste. Marie, Alfred Laaska of Ishpeming.

The convention is considered to have been the most successful ever held by the brotherhood. More towns were represented and the enthusiasm manifested was most gratifying to the officers and among the Finnish people. The organization now has 6,000 members, and of these 3,500 are enrolled with Michigan branches.

LAKE LINDEN PIONEER.

Joseph Longpre, for the past thirty-eight years a resident of Lake Linden and an employe of the Calumet & Hecla company at the smelting works, died Friday evening after a short illness. He was stricken while at work on Thursday. Mr. Longpre was a respected resident of Lake Linden, and his unexpected death has caused sorrow in that community. Several sons and other relatives survive him. The funeral will be held this morning from St. Joseph's Catholic church.

HANCOCK IS NOT ALONE.

Seattle Also Tears Down Hills With Water in Reclaiming.

The statement has been made in these columns heretofore that only in Hancock could it be possible to see low land reclaimed by washing down the surrounding hills. The city of Seattle has now taken it back. Seattle has been doing this for a long time, and the Saturday Evening Post tells about it, the following being an extract:

There are tremendous holes in some of the center sections of the city. These holes were once hills. The men who own them tell you that the lots on top of the hills were worth so much, and that the lots at the bottom of the holes are worth thousands more. They talk of cutting down the grade of a street a hundred feet as if a hundred feet of excavation was a mere incident, not a considerable undertaking. The man who has seen work of this kind in the East begins to figure on how many men and how many teams the job will require.

The Seattle excavator pushes men and teams aside. He does his excavating with water, and he gets pay for it two ways—catches it going and coming with true Seattle enterprise.

A young lawyer and a young real estate man bought the lots on the top of these hills. They hoped to make a few hundred dollars out of them by leveling the land somewhat. Neither of them had money, and they were appalled at the price of moving dirt by the old method of steam shovel or the older method of pushing men and teams. They had heard of placer miners. They looked around to find a placer miner. In Seattle you can find men who can do anything, who have done everything in all parts of the world.

They got the water. The placer miner turned the stream against the hill and it began to erode. The young lawyer and the young real estate man didn't know it then, but at that moment they had opened the way for comparatively inexpensive regrading of the city. They had made it possible to cut streets through to outlying parts of the city cheaply, to build up suburbs, and to facilitate transportation. Moreover, they had established themselves in the contracting business.

As soon as the hill began to erode they saw there must be some place for the dirt. There is no sense in cutting down one hill and piling up the dirt in another. The solution of this problem came almost immediately. For years Seattle had been clamoring to have its tide-land filled in, to make place for railroad terminals and for factory sites. The men who owned the hill made a contract with the owner of a certain plat of tide-land to fill them in. They built a sluice and laid some big wooden pipes, and as fast as the water tore the earth off the hills it was piped to the tide-land.

While the Dakotah Heights company, which is doing the work in Hancock, is not a pioneer in this business, it is doing very well. The city is now working steadily night and day, using water from the old Quincy pumping plant and is rapidly filling the ravine at the bridge approach.

ARLINGTON HOTEL REFRURNISHED.

The Arlington Hotel at Calumet is being refurnished throughout under the new management. The bedsteads are being replaced with brass bedsteads with steel constructed box springs, the best that money can buy, and new carpets are being laid all through the house. The dining room, office and kitchen are receiving the same attention. Manager Will Deegan should and no doubt will receive the support of the loving fraternity in his efforts to make them comfortable. Mr. Deegan says there will not be one piece of the old furniture to be found in the hotel after this week.

FATALITY AT TAMARACK.

William George, one of the oldest men employed in active mining by the Tamarack Mining company, was seventy-three years of age when he was instantly killed by a piece of falling rock in the thirtieth level of No. 6 Tamarack just at the close of the day shift Friday afternoon. No one witnessed the accident, but it is believed Mr. George was struck by the same water through which he was carrying a load of material. His wife and five sons survive. Mr. George was an old resident of Calumet. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Odd Fellows. The deceased was a member of that fraternity.

POSITIVE PROOF.

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Marquette. Because it's the evidence of a Marquette citizen. Testimony easily investigated. The strongest endorsement of merit. The best proof. Read it: John Kelley, blacksmith, at 129 Jackson St., Marquette, Mich., says: "I have been a very healthy man and have prided myself on my ability to do as much work in a day as the best of them, but some years ago I sprained my back while lifting and after that a severe pain or stitch of pain used to catch me occasionally while at work and more often when I was sitting or standing when off duty. Attacks became more frequent and I began to feel tired and listless. At night I would be awakened by the severe attacks of backache and would be unable to rest comfortably or even to turn or shift in bed. Becoming uneasy I consulted a physician and used the medicine he prescribed but received no benefit. I tried several remedies with no better effect until, being told to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box at the Stafford Drug Co. and began using them. They seemed to be what my case needed. They went straight to the seat of the trouble and cured it. My back today is as strong as ever and I can do as much work as any blacksmith in the state of Michigan. My appetite is good and I sleep like a log at night. That is what Doan's Kidney Pills did for me, and you can say so."

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as some people suppose.

Some women are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar packages. Write for a free booklet, or you may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

RETURNED THE MASCOT.

"Nig," Wolverine's Spaniel, Sent on to Duluth Saturday.

"Nig," a black cocker spaniel, which arrived in Houghton two weeks ago as mascot of the U. S. S. Wolverine, left Houghton Saturday as a first-class passenger on the Juniata of the Anchor line. The dog had been in possession of the Hancock division of the naval reserve since the departure of the Wolverine for Duluth more than a week ago, and had been given to the organization by sailors from the ship, who had been entertained by the reserve. The commander of the Wolverine sent back to Hancock for the dog, the generous sailors evidently having had no right to dispose of him. "Nig" is a handsome and intelligent animal, and the reserve boys thought him an acquisition worth while. But when they found they were not entitled to him they purchased a handsome brass mounted collar, bearing the inscription "To the U. S. S. Wolverine from 4th Div. M. N. B.," and sent "Nig" to Duluth in the Juniata to join his ship.

HANCOCK PAVEMENT WORK.

Byers & Co. expect to have all the grading for the new Quincy street granite pavement completed by the end of this week, and Blome & Co. will then commence to lay the surface material. The firm received on Saturday a new concrete mixing machine which is expected to aid materially in hurrying the pavement work. Granite is a concrete movement and is laid very rapidly, so that Hancock people may expect to have the use of the new pavement by the early fall.

COPPERDOM BREVITIES.

Morgan's Comedians in repertoire will hold the boards at the Kerredge theater all this week. Justice William Fisher and Mrs. Fisher of Calumet have gone East for an extended pleasure tour. Rev. John Wargelin, pastor of the Finnish Lutheran church at the Soo, is visiting relatives in Hancock.

Fred Martin, a Tamarack Co-Operative store steamer in Calumet, was seriously injured in a runaway accident Friday evening. The steamer was being driven by Daniel Crawford of Detroit, formerly in business in Hancock, who has been visiting his sons in that city, left for home Friday.

The new firm of Blankenhorn & Menard of L'Anse, succeeding Louis Menard, is enjoying an unusually prosperous livestock business.

Dr. P. R. Glass of Lake Linden, president of the Northern-Copper Country league, went to Duluth on baseball business Saturday. He made the trip in the Juniata.

Mrs. Paul P. Roehm and Miss Roehm of Calumet have returned from an extended Eastern trip, which included a visit at Cobalt with Mrs. Roehm's daughter, Mrs. Reeder.

A lime house on the Quincy location caught fire Friday night. Prompt work by the Quincy fire department extinguished the blaze, which for a time threatened many valuable buildings.

Copper country people are having numerous opportunities to witness heavenly phenomena. An eclipse last week and on Saturday night a magnificent aurora borealis interested astronomers and others.

ATTRACTIVE STORE AT L'ANSE.

One of the neatest and best arranged general stores in the upper peninsula is that of J. B. Smith at L'Anse. The stock consists of groceries, dry goods and hardware. The grocery department is kept up in up-to-date manner. The arrangements of canned and package goods is attractively in place, while the bulk goods department is neatly shelved to harmonize with the rest of the store, and is well stocked. There are very few stores in the city of L'Anse that can boast of as handsome a store as J. B. Smith's.

AMALGAMATED COPPER.

Company Declared in the Strongest Financial Position in Its History.

The placing of Amalgamated Copper shares on a fixed 8 per cent per annum dividend basis has been variously commented, comments the Boston Statist. One class point out that the action of the directors is intended to show that the company is in a more sound position today than ever before in its history. Another class point out that the placing of the stock on a regular 8 per cent basis was to demonstrate that the directors believe in the permanency of the higher level of copper prices and that they believe in the future of the copper market, figuring that Amalgamated can maintain this rate on an indefinite basis. A third class are firmly convinced that the dividend was changed in order to facilitate the unloading of stock by insiders.

The burden of evidence is all on the side of the first two classes. Were the stock selling 30 or even 20 points higher, there might be some foundation for the third claim but at the present time it is illogical. Is it reasonable to suppose that a stock which sold at 11 1/2 when 5 per cent was being paid, at 11 1/2 when 6 per cent was being paid and at 11 1/2 when 7 per cent was being paid, is being distributed at 90 when 8 per cent is being paid? The stock did not sell as low as at present from November, 1905, to March, 1907, and earnings today are larger than at any time in the history of the company. It is admitted that the copper share market will not again resume activity until Amalgamated takes the lead. This is but natural and the question to be decided is whether under prevailing conditions, Amalgamated is worth more money than it is selling for and whether the purchase of it is justified at this level.

Taking the production of last year, 224,000,000 pounds, and figure the cost of production at 10 cents per pound, the following is an estimate of the net profits of the company and the earnings per share per annum at 22 cents a pound, the present quotation, down to 16 cents:

	Net profits, per sh.
22c	$20,800,000 817.48
21c	19,600,000 76.94
20c	18,400,000 71.57
19c	17,200,000 66.20
18c	16,000,000 60.83
17c	14,800,000 55.46
16c	13,600,000 50.09

This marks no account of the earnings of the company in its other activities which at the lowest figure amount to $1 per share per annum. In fact it is safe to figure that on a 20-cent copper market, Amalgamated can earn twice its present dividend requirements. It is stated on good authority that the net earnings for the first half of the current year, during which it received an average of 23 1/2 cents for the copper, were $1,000,000, or $2,000,000 more than the full 8 per cent dividend requirements for the year.

The surplus of Amalgamated must be growing at a rapid rate. It reported on April 30 a surplus of about $1,500,000 and Anaconda reported $9,000,000 on Dec. 31, of which at least 60 per cent was the undivided share of the Amalgamated company, making a total of about $1,900,000. The earnings of Montana which paid $4 in dividends in 1904 when production was smaller than in any of the succeeding years. It paid $40 in 1905 and is only paying $48 per annum now so that the surplus in its treasury must be very large. Butte is making a good showing and must have a large surplus in its treasury, so that it is not unreasonable to estimate that the surplus of the present and subsidiary companies at the present time is not far from $30,000,000. These are conservative figures.

FRANKLIN.

It is not difficult to understand the failure of the Boston owned and managed copper stocks to sell at a price level more consistent with the high price of the metal and the earnings that they have enjoyed for the last year and a half when letters similar to the one we publish below are being sent out by one of the largest commission brokerage houses in the city of Boston, says the Boston Financial News. The following is a copy of a letter sent to the holder of a thousand shares or more of Franklin Consolidated by a representative of the ordinary. "A representative of the Franklin Consolidated company writes that there has already been blocked out 4,000,000 tons of ore averaging about 3 1/2 per cent copper. The first unit of the reduction plant of the Cumberland-Ely and Nevada Consolidated will be ready by December of this year, when they will be in a position to market the first copper from the mines. The companies will go on completing their units and it is expected the smelting plant, upon which 1,000 men are now at work, will be in full operation by July of next year. The smelter will have a capacity of 10,000 tons a day. Representatives of the two companies figure that the companies can produce copper at a cost of approximately eight cents a pound.

Popular prices—ten, twenty and thirty cents—have been made for this engagement, and a matinee performance will be given Saturday afternoon. The Dougherty troupe was at Ishpeming all last week, and throughout it played to very big business. No doubt its success will be duplicated here.

Mining Journal Wants Bring Results

"I should think ill of any man who did not wish to leave his children a little better off materially than himself."—Theodore Roosevelt.

Study the lives of our successful men and in almost every case will be revealed the history of a poor boy whose father could only afford to give him an ordinary education. He starts out on his career knowing that no one will leave him a fortune—he must make his own way. He sees that MONEY IS POWER—WEALTH THE FACTOR OF THE AGE. He begins by saving a portion of his earnings; he deposits in a safe bank and watches the amount grow until he soon has enough to take advantage of some good investment. The rest is easy. This Bank receives deposits of $1 upwards and pays 3 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co. telegraphed from New York Saturday as follows. "The stock market was irregular today and the appearance of the bank statement, although slightly favorable, had a noticeable effect on prices. Talk is weak, due to the strength in foreign exchange, also on account of the London settlement, in preparation for which London houses are calling in balances. The market continues to be very much of a manipulative affair, with a very light investment demand and a still lighter public inquiry. The conditions surrounding the market are far from favoring a sustained upward movement or a broad bull market. In fact, it would seem that we are nearing a period when extreme conservatism should be exercised. The most favorable factor in the situation is that the public are carrying comparatively few stocks, and, for this reason, the powers that be meet little resistance when backing up prices. Although trade conditions are reported healthy, there is noticeable slackening in the steel and iron industry, but this can be directly attributed to the fact that the larger corporations are not able to finance extensions and improvements. Relief in the money market is hardly to be expected until the turn of the year, and the meantime a highly manipulative market is likely to be expected, and great care should be exercised when buying stock on the bulge."

Writing from Boston Saturday, Paine, Webber & Co. said: "The bank statement showed no change and failed to arouse any interest in the market. Prices ran up a shade, and then rallied, closing very dull, with the prices slightly lower than the opening. The treasurer of Utah Consolidated has just written to a Boston broker a full denial of the story printed in the News Bureau regarding the faulting of the lode, etc. I advise picking up the stock at these prices, and believe that...

CONCERNING KIMBERLEY. Company Not a Party to Litigation Involving John T. Keegan.

A reply has been issued by Attorney James L. O'Connor concerning the affairs of the Kimberley Mining company of Kokomo, and especially John T. Keegan, who was arrested in Chicago charged with having obtained several thousand dollars from Kimberley men by fraudulently representing himself as an authorized agent for the sale of stock, says the Milwaukee Sentinel. In discussing Mr. Keegan's version of the affair, Mr. O'Connor, who has for the last six months been attorney for the company, said that there was much in the recent Keegan interview which was entirely without foundation. "Mr. Keegan, Dr. Gregory and some others held a certain number of shares of stock which they secured jointly, and with respect to the ownership of which there has been some controversy," said Mr. O'Connor, "these gentlemen the company has no concern. This stock was acquired with the understanding that each of these parties should render certain services to the company in promoting the same. These services consisted in securing title and paying for the same, and erecting upon the premises a first class mill and plant. The property has been purchased and the title secured. The principal part of the stock sold was sold through the untiring efforts of Dr. Gregory, and every dollar which he has received for the same has been applied in payments upon the property, and in the erection of a mill, which is now almost completed, and when completed will have cost about $250,000. "Dr. Gregory has made a complete report of all the stocks sold by him, the moneys received therefor and has accounted for every cent of the same. He has filed with the officers of the company, subject to examination by any of the stockholders, an itemized statement of every transaction on his part, with reference to his sales of stock, the moneys received, the purposes for which it was spent, and the amounts thereof. He has labored incessantly, almost single-handed and alone, to put this property upon a paying basis. "The report to which we have referred has been in the hands of the officers and no objection has ever been made to a single item contained in such report. I have frequently heard the officers say that if it were not for his tremendous labors in behalf of the company, that this valuable property would long since have been lost to the company. Not only did he labor for the company and its stockholders, but whenever it became necessary he advanced his own money in order to save the title to the properties, at one time advancing as high as $10,000 and at another time $3,000. "He is authorized to sell stock and is agent and treasurer of the company to collect on the sales of such stock. Any impression given out to the contrary from any source is without foundation, and absolutely false. In addition to this, I am informed that the matters in controversy between Dr. Gregory, Keegan and others who have owned, or claimed to own, with him, stock which they jointly acquired, have been fully adjusted between themselves. The company has an immense property and if the representations and reports of experts are even approximately true, an exceedingly valuable property. They already have a small forty ton per day mill in full operation, and within sixty days will have a 250 ton per day mill in full operation. "Phil Check, one of the officers of the company, also stated that the company was not concerned with the controversy between Dr. Keegan, Keegan and others, with respect to the sale of whole shares of stock of the company, which they claim to be jointly owned; that the statement which was published in some of the papers, that either the company or Dr. Gregory, Keegan or others, had been enjoined from selling its stock, was without foundation. No such injunction was ever served on the company, they say.

Concerning the Mohawk.

The Mohawk Mining company paid its fourth dividend during the current month, which called for the disbursement on 100,000 shares of $300,000. The production of this company for the first six months of the current year was 4,785,000 pounds of refined copper. The average price received during this period will approximate 23 cents. Costs per pound in 1906 averaged 11.54 cents, including construction, and figuring the average cost for the first six months of 1907 at 11.75 cents as a maximum, the above production, sold at 23 cents, would result in net profits of $538,125, or more than sufficient to pay dividends for the half year period at the rate of $10 a year. The company brought forward from the last fiscal year a surplus of over one million dollars. Costs during the last half of the year will probably be lowered considerably, owing to the fact that a larger tonnage of rock will be treated with the additional capacity through the compounding of the third head at the stamp mill. The company expects to turn out this year between eleven and twelve million pounds of copper, and should slightly less than ten million pounds during 1906, and this at a lower cost per pound.

Chicago Grains.

Paine, Webber & Co. said Saturday concerning the wheat market: "The wheat trade, being naturally bearish, ignored all mention of black rust on the previous days of the week and sold wheat. The Saturday session brought the trade to its senses because the evidence of black rust in the spring wheat country is so positive that it can no longer be overlooked. The first hint the trade here had that the rust was seriously regarded by people in the spring wheat country was the report of two cents in the Minneapolis price, very suddenly. This market was already strong and advancing on other bull news, but this set the trade on fire and the buying late in the session was of the kind which makes higher prices very quickly. From 91 cents on the early dip, and closed with a fraction of the 100¢. December wheat closed nearly 2 1/2¢ over the low point, and May sold up to 102¢. Shorts were buyers on the advance. Many local bulls who had sold on the decline of the previous days made desperate efforts to replace their loss. The trade forgot all about the speculables and heavy foreign markets. Anything serious hitting the home crop wheat counts. Miller, South Dakota, Thompson, North Dakota, and many other points in Minnesota, as well as the Dakotas, when the appearance of black rust, but the extent of its spread or the damage it will do is yet a matter of question. Wet weather continues to hold resists in the southwest. Europe will be forced to take notice of our strength. Don't buy on a swell of 2 1/2¢ cents, but take hold of the wheat on the first reaction."

"MINSTREL SHOW." Normal Faculty Entertained by Young Ladies of the School.

Last Friday evening, without indicating in any way the nature of the entertainment they intended to offer, the students living in the Dormitory invited the members of the faculty of the Northern Normal to spend the evening with them. On arriving at the building the guests were met by a small receiving party in the form of a chorus, Miss Maud Saxton, Miss Linton, Miss Olga Girz, Miss Ida Linton, Miss Maloney, Miss Marie and Miss Maloney. The faculty members were given seats, and at about half past eight they were much surprised to see about twenty-five staid young ladies make their appearance, gowned in Martha Washington costumes, and take seats on the opposite side of the room. These were followed by ten bewitching maidens in Dolly Varden gowns and bonnets. These took seats just in front of the young ladies already seated. Then Miss Mayme Barry took a position at the piano, and Miss Ida Linton, who had charge of the entertainments, seated herself in front of the group, who were arranged in the form of crescent. Miss Maud Saxton, who has been at the Normal school before, and has always been a prominent figure among the students, occupied the center of the assemblage, and throughout the entertainment was addressed as "Dime Martha."

Plenty of Marl Up Here—

While the majority of the Michigan plants are making Portland cement with quarried limestone as a base, the sand and clay being added in the factories, there are many making cement directly from beds of marl. Marl is a mechanical mixture of carbonate of calcium (limestone), mainly in the form of infusoria, with clay and sand, and while it is of more frequent occurrence in the lower peninsula of Michigan, there are extensive deposits in the upper peninsula. The workable beds of marl are usually found underlying inland lakes, and the beds are frequently of considerable thickness. These deposits vary greatly in grade, as limestone, sand or clay predominate in their composition, and are accordingly of different degrees of value. Nearly all are adequate for cement manufacture, though not all of the beds will give the higher grade products, which fact has been responsible for the failure of a number of Michigan plants. The marl measures of Michigan are of very great value. There are very promising beds in the upper peninsula, these being located to the east and south of the iron and copper districts. There is no good reason why cement factories started with adequate capital and properly managed could not do well in upper Michigan, especially as the marl beds are well located with a view to shipping facilities and would be able to get the benefit of cheap rates by water transportation.

TUSKEGEE EARNS PRAISE OF STATE. Booker Washington's School "Model of Perfection," Says Report.

Montgomery, Ala., July 28.—"The business method of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial institute is a model of perfection," says the report of the state auditor. The praise bestowed upon the school presided over by Booker T. Washington, the negro educator, by Examiner W. W. Haralson, in a report made to the governor, and by him transmitted to the legislature. The examination was made as a result of a joint resolution passed by the early part of the session which provided for a full investigation of the operation of the school. As a companion piece to the report, for the first time made public, the house committee on local legislation has advised the governor to have all the lands of the institute, save a small portion, withdrawn from the exemptions granted to other schools. The reports of Mr. Haralson goes on to relate the history of the institution, which he began with only a few students, but has now grown to where it has 1,500 pupils and 149 teachers. It has 2,000 acres of lands that are valued at $700,000 and an endowment of $147,510.

Worked a Clever Dodge—

Chief Deputy United States Marshal Ed O'Donnell, of the Western district of Michigan, who was sent to Sault Ste. Marie to arrest John Louis Sandelmann on the charge of passing counterfeit Canadian bills, killed two birds with one stone when he also captured Charles J. Wallace, charged with smuggling, and whom the entire custom house force of the Soo the marshal's force and all local officers had been seeking to entice onto American territory for more than a year. In addition to corraling his man the federal officer won a bet of a supper for the crowd. Commissioner John A. Cowell of the Soo, in whose desk the warrant for Wallace's arrest has lain for more than a year, was so sure Chief Deputy O'Donnell could not get Wallace across the river and on American soil that he made this wager. When the arrest was made and examination held he paid the bet.

QUAKER CITY FINDS GRAFT IN ITS ASHES. Could Save About $253,615 by Contract Work, Investigation Shows.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 28.—This city's investigation of the ashes-collecting problem points to the conclusion that this branch of municipal work can be done cheaper by contract than by the city, owing to political graft in higher wages and shorter hours. The work is done by municipal employees. Cleveland under a similar system paid 71 cents per cubic yard, but recently eliminated political influence and has for six months done the work for 45¢ cents a yard. Buffalo gets it done for 31 cents a cubic yard, while Cincinnati, under the same system as Philadelphia, pays over sixty cents. A law for years paid $150,000 for the work done by city employees. This was due to political influence. A large expenditure in Milwaukee was stopped by the discovery that the law did not permit the work to be done by the city. A new law has been passed permitting the city to dispose of the ashes. It is estimated that under the contract system the cost will be less than $50,000.

BATTLESHIP LAUNCHED.

Portsmouth, Eng., July 28.—The battleship Bellerophon, another of the Dreadnought class, was launched here yesterday afternoon by Princess Henry of Battenberg. The new warship has a tonnage of 18,000, which is 700 more than the Dreadnought, and it embodies a number of improvements gained as a result of the broadminded trials. The Temperance, the third ship of this class, will be launched the latter part of August.

WILL TEST NEW ACT.

New York, July 28.—Senator Otto G. Foelker has served papers through his attorney, Alexander Thain, on Secretary of State Whelan in a suit to prevent the calling of a general election in November next for the selection of senators under the new reapportionment of senatorial districts as provided in the law just enacted.

Upper Peninsula Gogebic Getting Many Men—

Every train arriving here brings a large number of miners and other workmen, driven from the Mesaba range by the strike, who have quit the range permanently, and are looking for other jobs, writes an Ashland correspondent. Most of them are Finns, Hungarians and Italians, and many are bound for the Gogebic, and about thirty yards from the strike, who have quit the range permanently, and are looking for other jobs, writes an Ashland correspondent. Wins Big Mine Suit—

Chase S. Osborn, former railroad commissioner of the Soo, has emerged victorious from the suit in which David M. Aiken asked for an accounting, claiming a four percent interest in the holding of the iron in the Moose mountain iron mines, north Georgian bay. The amount involved was $125,000. The property is said to be worth twenty-five millions. Judge Streeter of Houghton, who decided the case, dissented because of lack of evidence. The case has been the most prominent instituted at the Soo for several years, as the property involved is claimed to be one of the greatest iron fields in North America. It was discovered by Osborn, who interested Eastern capitalists in its development. At the close of the hearing before Judge Streeter, M. M. Larmouth, attorney for Aiken, stated to the court that under the evidence submitted he did not feel that he could ask for a decree for his client, nor if a decree were granted that it would be sustained by the supreme court. Watts Humphrey, representing Mr. Osborn, immediately asked that the court grant a decree in favor of the defendant, which was done forthwith by Judge Streeter. Replying to Mr. Larmouth, Judge Streeter said that he was glad to see him hold such a high conception of his duty as a lawyer and, addressing the attorneys for both sides, the court said he was glad the case had terminated so pleasantly without acrimony or unpleasant dissension, and he felt obliged to the attorneys for the manner in which the case had been conducted throughout.

ATTEMPT TO BURN QUINNESEC CHURCH

FIRE STARTED THREE TIMES SATURDAY NIGHT, GOING OUT OF ITS OWN ACCORD—REV. RUTLEDGE SPOKE THERE YESTERDAY.

Rev. C. H. Rutledge, Anti-Saloon league organizer and general director of the temperance movement in the upper peninsula, yesterday advised The Mining Journal over the telephone from Iron Mountain that three different attempts were made Saturday night to burn the Methodist church at Quinnesec, where he is billed to preach a temperance sermon yesterday morning.

There are three saloons in Quinnesec, and, according to Mr. Rutledge, the pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. D. A. Yokum, and Captain E. R. Hughes, a member of Rev. Yokum's congregation, have been enforcing the liquor law there. Wednesday night Rev. Yokum and the captain, Mr. Rutledge asserts, called at the saloons and found them open after hours. This aroused feeling among the saloon men, and it is said that there had been much talk about the affair.

Mr. Rutledge says fires were started in the floor matting in the church three different times, but each time they burned out. It is assumed that they were started hurriedly. The attempt to burn the building did not become known to the church people until yesterday morning, when the members of the congregation came out to the service.

Rev. Rutledge talked to a congregation that completely filled the edifice. The three saloon men, Mr. Rutledge asserted, are to be arrested this morning, charged with violating the law. Rev. Yokum and Captain Hughes will be the complaining witnesses.

SEWER FOR EMPIRE STREET.
Work Will Be Started as Soon as Material Is Delivered.

The council decided at its special meeting Friday evening to grant the request of a majority of property owners on Empire street for a sewer extension connecting with the main trunk sewer at the intersection of Third street and running four blocks to Maple. The taxpayers who protested against the improvement were not present at the session, and the vote for the extension was unanimous. The improvement had been recommended by the sewer committee and board of public works.

Other property owners farther north now desire to have their places connected with the sewerage system. People in the Sixth ward have opposed the extension of the sewer to that part of the city for several years past, and others have favored it. If the system was extended north on Third street, as several times requested, the owners of lots on the west side of Third, between Empire and Michigan, would derive no benefit from it, as they are some feet lower than the grade of the pipe.

The taxpayers north of Empire now desiring the service propose to ask the council at its next regular meeting to have a main extended through the first alley east of Third street, passing from Empire to Michigan, and west on Michigan to Third. This would bring it away from the lots which are too low for connection on Third, between Empire and Michigan.

On recommendation of the committee on water works and the board of public works the Michigan Pipe company of Bay City has been given a contract to furnish 14,500 feet of pipe for the extension of the water system from Douglas street to the intersection of Division and Pine streets. The contract price, including the laying of the pipe, is $24,349.28.

ISHPEMING MAN DISAPPEARS.
Abel Hokkine Has Not Been Seen Since a Week Ago Tomorrow.

The Ishpeming friends of Abel Hokkine, who boarded on Fourth street, have not seen him since a week ago tomorrow evening. The chief of police has been given a description of the man and the officers are to aid in the search for him. It is thought that Hokkine's mind is unbalanced, but his friends do not believe he has committed suicide. They think that he has left the city and that he will be located somewhere not far from Ishpeming, either in the woods or in some nearby town.

The missing man is about five feet, five inches in height; weighs about 140 pounds, has dark brown hair, trimmed short; a thin mustache, the same color as his hair, blue eyes and a rather small peaked face. When last seen he wore a dark blue coat, on which the effects of wear are apparent, a black soft hat, dark gray trousers, and black laced shoes. He is twenty-four years of age and does not speak English. He carried no money and his habits are strictly temperate.

Parties knowing anything about the missing man will confer a great favor on his friends by notifying A. W. Jurma, Anderson block; Henry Murnd, the clothing merchant, corner Division and First streets, or Marshal John Lehman.

CIRCUS HERE AUG. 13.
Norris & Rowe Show Coming a Week Earlier Than Originally Intended.

J. C. Stuart, in advance of the Norris & Rowe circus, spent Saturday in Ishpeming making contracts for the appearance of the show in this city two weeks from tomorrow, Aug. 13. The management had originally planned to be in Ishpeming Aug. 20, but a week's time on the Mesaba range was cancelled on account of the strike, making necessary a change in dates of all the upper peninsula towns to be visited. Mr. Stuart had completed his contracts in six Mesaba range towns, when the strike was declared.

The circus will come to Ishpeming from Marquette via the Lake Superior & Ishpeming line. The show is the largest in the country traveling by single train. Over 200 head of stock are carried and 100 people, including performers, are employed. It is a two-ring show, with menagerie, side show, etc. There are twenty-three cars back with the show and two advertising cars ahead, the first of which will be in this city tomorrow or Wednesday. The circus will pitch its tents on the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's vacant ground on North Third street.

TAKE THE POSTMASTER'S WORD FOR IT.

He says: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is standard here in its line. It never fails to give satisfaction and we could hardly afford to be without it." WELL KNOWN RESIDENT DIES.
William, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Laughlin, died yesterday afternoon at 3:35 o'clock at the family residence, corner of West Barnum and Lake streets. He had been ill for the past few months. Mr. Laughlin was known to many residents of the city, as he had resided here from infancy. He was in the employ of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company from boyhood. Besides his father and mother he leaves four brothers and four sisters to mourn his death. All the members of the family were present when the end came. Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

DEATH OF MRS. ELLA GARVEY.
With the members of her family at the bedside, Mrs. Ella Garvey answered the final summons at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dennis Mooney, wife of Boardman Mooney of the Chicago & North-western railroad. The Mooney home is on Barnum street. Mrs. Garvey was aged seventy-nine years. She had been ill for some weeks. Surviving her, in addition to the daughter, Mrs. Mooney, are two sons. The remains will be taken today to Appleton, Wis., for interment side by side with the body of her husband, whose death occurred some years ago.

DEMANDS UNREASONABLE.
John Callen, who has just returned from the Mesaba range, having been thrown out of employment by the labor trouble there, says that he considers the demands of the striking miners and dockmen unreasonable. Mr. Callen has worked at a number of the properties of both the Oliver Iron Mining company and independent organizations and he found the wages paid satisfactory. The disturbances have been stirred up by outside agitators, and most of the workmen are not in sympathy with the strike.

FELL 100 FEET.
John Makki fell about 100 hundred feet through an incline raise at the Oliver Iron Mining company's Section 16 shaft last Thursday night. The raise is on an incline of about forty-five degrees. Makki's injuries were serious, but he is doing well.

ISHPEMING BOY PROMOTED.
Simon H. Fosberg, who was formerly with the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company in this city, and who later removed to Crystal Falls, where he entered the employ of the Corrigan-McKinney company, received a promotion last week. He is now located at Iron River, where he is chief clerk of the Baker mine and is also for several explorations. The Baker mine is the new Corrigan-McKinney property in the Stambaugh valley, and drilling operations are also carried on near Iron River by the company.

FELL 100 FEET.
John Makki fell about 100 hundred feet through an incline raise at the Oliver Iron Mining company's Section 16 shaft last Thursday night. The raise is on an incline of about forty-five degrees. Makki's injuries were serious, but he is doing well.

DEMANDS UNREASONABLE.
John Callen, who has just returned from the Mesaba range, having been thrown out of employment by the labor trouble there, says that he considers the demands of the striking miners and dockmen unreasonable. Mr. Callen has worked at a number of the properties of both the Oliver Iron Mining company and independent organizations and he found the wages paid satisfactory. The disturbances have been stirred up by outside agitators, and most of the workmen are not in sympathy with the strike.

Hotel Williams, Grand Island, Michigan, has increased its capacity by adding three two-room cottages with fire places. A large number of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois people have already booked reservations. (7-8-21)

Was Several Times Mayor.

Mr. Kirkwood was seven times mayor of Negaunee and he accomplished much good for the city. During his first term in 1877 he installed the water works system, and was also largely responsible for the installation of the city's electric lighting plant, which was put in during one of the four years he served as mayor between 1896 and 1900. After serving his first year as mayor Mr. Kirkwood was defeated for the second term by one vote, the late John Mulvey being his opponent. Just ten years after completing his first term Mr. Kirkwood was again urged to accept the nomination, and he was elected by a large majority, serving one year in 1901. He served three years, retiring in 1890, but the following year he was again elected, serving until the spring of 1901.

Mr. Kirkwood was the leading advocate of municipal ownership of electric lighting and other utilities plants. It was on this platform that he was elected mayor during the latter years he held the office. During the first two or three years the lighting plant was in operation he encountered much opposition before all matters pertaining to the new enterprise were satisfactorily adjusted. After the plant was installed and all the obstacles removed Mr. Kirkwood was satisfied to retire from public life, which he did. He was later asked to become a candidate for mayor, also for supervisor from his ward, but he could not be induced to accept the nomination for either office.

During the past few years Mr. Kirkwood had spent the greater part of the summer seasons at his homestead in the Little Lake district, where he owned a section of land, which is thought to be traversed by an ore body, and which he always considered of great value. His place is one of the most attractive in the district.

The deceased is survived by his widow, one son, Thomas Kirkwood, and a step son, John R. David, of Crofton, Neb. There are three brothers and one sister living, Thomas F. Kirkwood of New York; Arthur J. Kirkwood of Chicago; James A. Kirkwood of Duluth, and Miss Elizabeth Kirkwood of Ingersoll, Ont. All of the relatives mentioned except Thomas A., and their families, will attend the obsequies, Arthur and James have been in the city the greater part of the past month, though both were absent when the end came. Funeral Tomorrow Afternoon.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services will be conducted at the house by Bishop G. Mott Williams of Marquette. After the funeral cottage leaves the home the obsequies will be directed by the Chicago & Northwestern road to the Negaunee lodge of the Masonic fraternity of which the deceased was an old member. Mr. Kirkwood was also a member of Ishpeming lodge of Elks.

Acting Mayor Daniel Shea requests that every business place in the city be closed tomorrow afternoon between 2 and 4 o'clock out of respect for the deceased. The members of the council and other city officials, together with former mayors, will attend the obsequies in carriages.

MARQUETTE COUNTY'S PIONEER DRUGGIST—SEVERAL TIMES MAYOR OF NEGAUNEE—SUCCEMBED AFTER FEW MONTHS' ILLNESS.

Philip Boyes Kirkwood, one of Negaunee's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, passed away Saturday afternoon at 5:40 o'clock. He had been in poor health for months, and his condition had been precarious for some days, his demise having been momentarily expected for hours before the end came.

Mr. Kirkwood enjoyed excellent health until last fall, when he concluded that a trip to California, to escape the severe weather of this region, would be beneficial. He and Mrs. Kirkwood left Negaunee early in the winter returning in April. Although he did not enjoy his usual good health at any time during his sojourn in the west, Mr. Kirkwood stood the trip better than might have been expected for one in his condition.

For some weeks or more after his return from California Mr. Kirkwood was able to be at his store daily, but his condition gradually grew worse. About two months ago he took a trip to Mudlavia, Ind., accompanied by his physician, Dr. Bergeron, and brother, Arthur J. Kirkwood, of Chicago, in the hope that the bath treatment would help him. From Mudlavia Mr. Kirkwood went to a Chicago hospital, where he remained two or three weeks until he was able to make the trip home.

County's Oldest Druggist.

By the death of Mr. Kirkwood Marquette county loses its oldest druggist, and it is doubtful if there is another man in the upper peninsula who has been engaged in that line a greater period of years, he having conducted business for four decades. He was a successful business man and a citizen who did much for his home city.

Mr. Kirkwood was born in Dublin, Ireland, Nov. 20, 1842. His father, Thomas A. Kirkwood, was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, was a graduate of the university of that city, and for years before his death was a prominent physician in Dublin. Philip B. Kirkwood received his education at Nutgrove school, situated outside of Dublin. He came to America in 1857, soon after locating at Oshkosh, Wis., to which place a brother, John Kirkwood, preceded him. It was in Oshkosh that Mr. Kirkwood learned the drug business, having been in the employ of W. L. Williams, a pioneer druggist of Wisconsin. He remained with Mr. Williams until 1866, when he came to Negaunee, entering the employ of the late Dr. L. D. Cyr. He was ambitious and an unusually hard worker. He was in Dr. Cyr's employ but a short time when he was taken into the business as a partner.

In 1871 Mr. Kirkwood left the Cyr establishment and went to California, to seek his fortune. After four months in the west he started back to Negaunee, where he stopped off in Chicago, where he purchased a stock of drugs with which to engage in business in this city. He had just gotten his stock ready for shipment, when the big fire which destroyed the greater part of Chicago, broke out. This was on Oct. 4, 1871. His goods were consumed and he lost everything he owned except the clothes he wore. But the loss of his worldly possessions did not discourage him. Being unable to procure a second stock of drugs in Chicago, he went to Detroit, where he bought a line, with which he opened his first Negaunee store.

Young Man Stealing a Ride Meets Death Near Little Lake.

Riding on an ore train without the knowledge of the crew, Demerse Siholt, a young man living at Brampton, Delta county, met a horrible fate on the Chicago & Northwestern road near Little Lake late yesterday afternoon. He fell between two cars and was ground to death under the wheels. He was badly mangled. Death was instantaneous. Siholt, who was aged nineteen, had been seeking a berth from Little Lake station, and was on his way home when he came to his tragic ending. As the fatality happened in Marquette county, Coroner Prin was summoned to conduct the inquest, and with Undertaker Dawes left for the scene last evening. The body of the young man will be sent to the late home this morning.

Two Residents of Princeton Arrested on Serious Charge.

Andrew Peteni and Lorenzo Robertto, boarding housekeepers at the Princeton location, have been bound over to the circuit court, both being charged with selling liquor without a license. They were arrested by Marshal James Maloney of Princeton and their hearing was concluded Saturday at T. A. Thoren's court in this city.

Mr. Maloney had been suspicious of Peteni and Robertto for some time, but it was hard to get evidence against them. There are others in the district who are selling beer without a license, and more arrests will follow if the practice is not stopped. A week ago yesterday Mr. Maloney found some men coming from the boarding houses, conducted by Peteni and Robertto, carrying bottles of beer, which they admitted they had purchased. Both witnesses were brought to the city early in the week and affidavits were secured. Marshal Maloney says that much liquor is disposed of by boarding housekeepers every Sunday. He says that from six to ten kegs of beer, and many cases, are brought in every Saturday and as a rule most of it is consumed before Monday morning.

The boarding house men say that the beer is purchased for the boarders and at the end of each week they pay their share for the amount consumed. This, Mr. Maloney says is true, so far as to what the boarders drink, but liquor has also been sold to outsiders. The method of keeping track of the beer at the boarding houses, which are turned into saloons Sunday, is unique. When each man secures a glass or a bottle of beer a mark is made opposite his name on a card on the wall. When the beer is consumed the figures are tallied and a settlement is made at the end of the week.

Mr. Maloney says that more liquor is consumed Sundays in the Swanzy district than would be the case if the saloons were allowed to remain open. All of those who use liquor make their purchases Saturday. In many instances the kegs of beer are carried into the woods and securely hidden until Sunday.

MAKING GOOD HEADWAY.

Thomas Solar, the Antigo, Wis., contractor, is making good headway at the old Fellows hall. About a dozen men are employed putting in the concrete, which will be up to the grade line within two or three days. Mr. Solar has a fine concrete mixer, and other good equipment for that work. He will employ several brick layers on the job, starting the latter part of this week, and he expects to have the structure enclosed within a few weeks. The Old Fellows have received several applications for the store room, but it has not yet been rented. It is now expected that the building will be ready for occupancy the latter part of October, or early in November.

FIREMEN NAMED DELEGATES.

A special meeting of the Negaunee fire department was held Friday evening at the hall, pertaining to the annual tournament at Ontonagon being discussed. Chief Julius Johnson and Secretary Oral Lacombe were elected delegates to the convention, and John A. Wasmuth and Dr. B. J. Miller were chosen alternate delegates. The firemen are more interested in tournament affairs than they were a few weeks ago, and there will be a fairly large turnout. No special arrangements will be made relative to hotel accommodations.

TO ENGLAND FOR BRIDE.

James Henry Williams, a miner, employed at the Hartford, will leave today for England, sailing from New York on one of the White Star line steamers. He is going over to be married, and he expects to return to Negaunee with his bride in three months. Mr. Williams has been located in this city since he came from England two-and-a-half years ago.

Guest Larson, who was employed in the Kirkwood pharmacy for a number of years, was in the city the latter part of last week, visiting his folks. He is now located in the copper country, where he has a good position.

A gasoline engine has been installed in the First National bank building to raise the heavy iron being used in the construction of the vault by the Detroit Safe company. It is expected that the vault will be put together inside of ten days, provided there is no delay in the arrival of the material expected early this week.

FROM HOPKINS' CURB LETTER.

"The story of today's market in copper is not a long or interesting one. They opened steady to a shade lower and continued weak until the last twenty minutes of trade, when they turned fairly strong in sympathy with an upward movement in New York, which was largely induced by a favorable bank statement. The tip was pretty well distributed today that Amalgamated was due for a big rise, and that the movement would get under way the coming week. If this expected movement in Amalgamated takes place, it will be in order for a general upward movement in coppers."

CARKEEK'S MONEY READY.

Ziehr Must Respond Soon, if He Wants a Match With the World's Champion.

John Lacey, who is to be official stakeholder for the Cornish wrestling match between Jack Carkeek and Joe Ziehr, and is now in possession of the $1000 put up as Carkeek's forfeit for the $5000 wager by two of Carkeek's friends the day the Sons of St. George society's tournament terminated, received a postal card Saturday from Ziehr, advising him that he would send his forfeit money here this week. He wrote that he has had some difficulty getting his friends interested in the proposition, and the numerous picnics held last week at and near Calumet had absorbed their attention. He asked that the time for posting the forfeit money be extended a day or two.

Mr. Carkeek has been in the county nearly a week waiting on Ziehr, and it is doubtful if he will remain much longer, as he has business elsewhere. One of Carkeek's backers said Saturday evening that he will probably remain in Negaunee until tomorrow, and if Ziehr does not come to the scratch by that time he fears Carkeek will decide to ex of the negotiations.

The Calumet Evening News credits Ziehr with stating that he will forward his forfeit money to Lacey today or tomorrow. "I notice that Carkeek favors Marquette county as the place for the contest," said Ziehr. "However, I prefer Calumet. Not because it is my home town, but because I believe the biggest crowd can be obtained here. Calumet is recognized as the most attractive place for a Cornish wrestling match, and if Carkeek wants the crowd, he had better come here. He will get just as fair play here as anywhere in the country. The best man will win on his merits. "I am anxious to meet Carkeek. It has been an ambition of mine for a long time. I am by no means certain I can down the big fellow. All I want is a try at him. If I am thrown I will be satisfied. If I throw Carkeek I will take on Rowett and Wille."

Ziehr went on to state that he can get all the backing he wants, and if

NEW GUILD HALL IS TO BE BUILT SOON

EPISCOPAL RECTOR ADDRESSES CONGREGATION ON PROJECT WHICH HE ORIGINATED.

TO GO TO CHICAGO THIS WEEK

Preliminary Plans for The Edifice Submitted to Congregation at Close of Services Yesterday.

The work of building the new Guild hall of St. Paul's church, a project originated by the rector, Rev. Bates Burt, is soon to begin. At the services yesterday Mr. Burt told of the new structure which is to be erected just north of the Morgan Memorial chapel on High street, and the preliminary plans were placed in the vestibule of the church for the inspection of the congregation. These plans as drawn now are merely suggestions of what the new building will be, Mr. Burt stated, but the general ideas given in them are to be carried out, he said. The building will cost about $20,000 and of this sum $12,000 has been raised. One of the largest sub-

Chicago it is his purpose to confer with and seek the advice of clergymen who have had experience in Guild hall work. He took occasion to reply to the objection which he said had sometimes been raised to projects similar to that of the Guild hall. "This objection," he said "was against what the objectors called institutional work."

Such criticisms are usually directed against the idea of the church providing places of amusement, gymnasiums, sewing classes, men's clubs, and things of the sort. He said that the answer lay in the history of the church which had been institutional from the beginning, and he told of the founding of the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Paris and Leipzig by the church.

Upon the question of the need of such an institution as a Guild hall, he said that there was a strong feeling in every parish of any considerable size that in addition to its church there is a necessity for a place which may serve as the center of all its parochial activity, where members of the church may meet or work and in a purely social way.

Need of Club House.

He stated that there is need of a club house for the parish, if it is to do efficient work in the community not only once in seven days but every day.

"Young men and women go to the devil for need of some place where they can enjoy innocent recreation without the presence of active temptation, and the Guild hall supplies the need." The parish house is to be a place where the young people can meet to play games, read, dance or listen to music and where they will find proper associations. In this connection, Mr. Burt said that some people missed one point of the story of the prodigal son, and that is, that the father provided the returning son with

WORK BEING PUSHED.

Preparations for Resumption at Quarry Progressing Well.

Superintendent Tomlinson reports that excellent progress is being made with the task of reopening the Marquette quarry of the Portage Entry Sandstone company. The quarry was drowned out in the disastrous storm the latter part of June, thousands of dollars of damage being done. The first work after the flood was to prepare a new bed for Sandstone creek, which burst its banks into the workings. It is now flowing in this bed, which was excavated at some distance from the edge of the quarry, and it is expected that there will be no more trouble occasioned by it. The unwatering of the quarry is underway. Work will be pushed as vigorously as possible, but it will be the middle of August before there can be a resumption. The flooding of the quarry has caused the loss of the best part of the season.

TWO GAMES AT RAPID RIVER.

Railroad to Give Special Rate—Victories for Marquette Predicted.

Following the announcement that the baseball game scheduled for yesterday between Marquette and Crystal Falls was declared off, the home team is preparing for two games to be played at Rapid River next Saturday and Sunday.

Since its defeat of a week ago the Rapid River team has shown an inclination to again try conclusions with the Marquette boys, notwithstanding the prediction that such a meeting would only mean a repetition of the recent Marquette victory.

For the games at Rapid River next Saturday and Sunday the South Shore it is said, will give a special rate. Following the games with Rapid River Marquette will play Escanaba near the next Sunday.

MANY HEAR CALL OF THE WILD.

People Seeking to Rent Camps Along Shore Find Everything Taken.

All the camps in the neighborhood of the city are occupied and Marquette residents who have been seeking to rent establishments along the lake shore have been unable to do so. In most cases owners who are renting their camps this season have already let out the summer homes for weeks in advance. It is said that if there were ten times as many camps along the shore as there are now all of them could be rented without difficulty. Rentals range from $1 to $2 a day and some are realizing as much as $2.50 a day for their establishments.

The huckleberry crop in the woods, which has been somewhat scant for the past several seasons, promises to be unusually heavy this year, and the berries will be ripe and ready to pluck about the middle of this week. There is also an abundance of the fruit called June berries, which are now ripe. The fruit and the continued pleasant weather which is predicted will, it is believed, make the demand for camps even heavier than it is now.

ONLY ONE FOR THE PROPOSED GUILD HALL, FOR ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL, AT MARQUETTE, MICHIGAN. ARCHITECT: J. H. BURT, ARCHT. & BUREAU ARCHT. 100 N. W. 10TH ST. MARQUETTE, MICH. DRAWING NO. 7708-2.

scribers is Peter White, who has promised $5,000 for the erection of the building.

Going to Chicago.

No definite date for the actual beginning of work on the Guild hall has yet been determined, but ground will be broken shortly after the return of Mr. Burt from Chicago where he will go this week to study Guild halls in that city, and to gather information which may be of value.

According to the preliminary plans, in the basement of the new building will be a recreation room, probably about 32x43 feet, with a pool and billiard parlor. A reading room is to be established also in the basement and hearing alcoves will be built. The recreation room will be used as a men's club room.

A New Feature.

On the first and second floors, Mr. Burt proposes a somewhat new departure in the building of parish houses. On these floors it is planned that the partitions will be movable, so that the apartments on these floors may be thrown into single large rooms suitable for large gatherings. The Guild hall is to be on the first floor and it will probably be of the same size as the recreation room in the basement. At the back of the hall a stage is to be erected for entertainments and connecting with this, by means of a hall, is the kitchen.

The gymnasium, it is planned, will be on the second and top floor of the building. This, Mr. Burt says, will be for both men and women and certain days will be set apart for each. In connection with the gymnasium it has been stated that a qualified physical instructor will be engaged, and classes in gymnastics will be started. The rear part of the floor will be partitioned off and used as a locker and dressing room. In the course of his address yesterday, Mr. Burt said that while he is in music and dancing the day of his return.

Two Departments.

In designing the parish house, Mr. Burt said that the needs of the Sunday school had been considered and he stated that the hope is that within a short time it will be deemed necessary to separate the present school into a junior and senior department.

The benefits of the Guild hall will be open to the entire community and the various privileges, under certain regulations, are to be granted to all the people of Marquette. It is not to be a religious institution in the common meaning of the word.

The new building is to be built of stone and the purpose is that it will match the chapel which is of red stone. It will probably be connected with the chapel by a passageway.

NOTICE.

Sealed proposals will be received up to and including August 4th, 1907, at the office of the Board of Fire and Water Commissioners, to furnish and deliver in bin at the water works from time to time as may be required, commencing Sept 1st, 1907, to Sept. 1st, 1908, 12 to 15 hundred tons of soft coal for fuel at the pumping station. Right reserved to reject any and all proposals. Envelopes containing proposals should be so marked.

OFFICER AND MAN IN RACE.

Wife Blames Husband's Temper When He Chops Hole in Door With an Ax.

Mrs. John Giesregen, upon whose complaint her husband was arrested Saturday upon a warrant charging disturbance of the peace, said that it was due to his high temper that Giesregen chopped a hole in a door at their home at 343 West Park street. The hearing is to be held before Justice of the Peace Byrne.

Mrs. Giesregen's complaint to the police was made Friday night, and when Patrolman King went to the house he and Giesregen did an erratic sprinting stunt, which included several hurdles, besides having some of the features of an obstacle race, along Arch street and over the east side. Giesregen got away. He ventured down town Saturday and, armed with a warrant which had been issued, a policeman arrested him.
