Ore Docks in Commission Again, Operations Are Started Up on a Heavy Scale in the Hibbing and Eveleth Districts.

No Trouble Occurs, but There Is Grave Apprehension of What Today Will Bring, and Special Guards are Rushed to the Range from Duluth—Strikers Seem in Desperate Mood, and the Use of Guns Is Counseled by the Italian Who Leads Them.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 1.—Work on the ore docks began promptly this morning with 245 men, and more were put at work as the day advanced. There was no trouble.

In the range country, everything is reported quiet. Hundreds of men returned to work today in both the Hibbing and Eveleth districts.

While counselling peace, the Italian advocated the use of guns to maintain what he said was the "right" to sell labor where it could be done at best advantage.

The end of the twenty-four hours is awaited with anxiety. All the special guards who have been in Duluth have been rushed to the range. It is said there are 250 men in the party.

Government's Wishes Carried Out. The Steel corporation officials are carrying out the wishes of Governor Johnson in resuming operations.

The strikers would not be interfered with if they go about in small groups, but if they attempt to march in large bodies they will be stopped.

Thomas D. O'Brien, former state insurance commissioner, and Harvey Grimmer, executive clerk to Governor Johnson, who visited the range today.

Workingmen at the Fayal mine today carried babies in their arms when on their way to work. The infants were kept at the mine all day by the men as a protection against possible violence.

Tonight's reports indicate that mining operations have been resumed heavily in the Hibbing and Eveleth districts.

Tonight the convention made the following nominations: Governor, Frank Frantz; lieutenant governor, N. J. Turk; secretary of state, T. N. Robbett; attorney general, S. P. Reid; state treasurer, M. Stillwell.

The platform occupied the committee on resolutions all afternoon. The principal difficulty is the desire to frame a declaration on the constitution that will solve the problem of the admission of Oklahoma as a desirable document.

State Railroad Commissioner Glasgow has received a large number of replies from letters addressed to railroad managers in Michigan, stating that they are making schedules in accordance with the terms of the passenger rate law for this state. So far he has not received a single reply refusing to comply with the law.
Nevertheless it is understood at Lansing that the Pere Marquette and possibly one or two other roads will fight the law, and the legal department is preparing to it, if necessary, look after the state's interests.

Frank S. Neal, of Northville, has been appointed by Governor Warner to succeed Charles L. Benjamin of Saginaw as state oil inspector. Mr. Neal is a former legislator and of other experience in office holding. He is a staunch and devoted friend of Governor Warner's, and all lower peninsula comment on his selection to succeed Benjamin closes with the statement that he can be relied on to choose his deputies to please the governor. This will help some, providing there is any mixup over the choice of Mr.
Warner's successor, or in the event that he becomes a candidate to succeed himself.

The conviction is growing that the state legislature, under the new constitution, should be relieved of the burden of enacting local legislation to a large extent, so that it would be free to give close attention to the more serious problems of legislation affecting large interests. In such case we should not be confronted with the remarkable spectacle of numerous important laws being declared void and unconstitutional. So much attention was given by the last legislature to local measures that toward the close of the session important bills were passed with very little scrutiny, and this condition is largely responsible for the defective legislation that is being brought to light through the efforts of the attorney general.

Ziehr, the copperhead wrestler, has issued an ultimatum. Carkeek, to get a match with him, must agree to wrestle at Calumet, and also fall in with Ziehr's other ideas concerning the contest. Inasmuch as Negaunee-Ishpeming men conceived the idea of the match, and arranged the preliminaries, Ziehr's demand is an indefensible one. His attitude will not make him any friends, but will lead many people to question his class as a performer in the Cornish jackets. He has been lordling it over the upper peninsula wrestlers plainly under his class, and it looks suspicious to see him take to the timber when a match is offered him by a man worthy of serious consideration as an opponent. The impression is gaining ground that Mr. Ziehr is bogus when it comes to a matter of lining up against first raters.

Governor Warner is disturbed at the prospect that no money will be forthcoming under the terms of the appropriation bill for the proposed binder twine plant. Attorney General Eird has given an opinion that the bill contains defects making it non-operative, and has advised Auditor General Bradley not to pay out money on warrants calling for a part of the appropriation. As both these officials are reputed to be political enemies of the governor, it is conceivable that they are getting considerable quiet satisfaction out of the obstacles in the way of carrying out his pet project. Governor Warner, however, may get a ruling of the supreme court on the validity of the law in question. He says that unless the appropriation is available within a very few weeks it will be impossible to complete the plant in time to give the farmers the benefit of the convict made cropped. The bill can doubtless be fixed up at the Tinker session of the legislature, but if it is necessary to wait that long the erection of the buildings and installing of equipment will be so delayed that before any product is obtained next year the farmers will have all their crops in. To be sure, the supreme court is more likely than not to uphold Attorney General Bird's opinion, but it is the governor's last hope of getting early action on his pet plan.

The growing interest in forestry in this country, manifested alike by state and national governments and private citizens, makes pertinent a reference to the forestry system in France. With the exception of Ancient Greece France was the first country in Europe to make special laws for the preservation of forests. Her laws on this subject date as far back as 1376, and so successful have been her methods that other European countries have adopted them. One-sixth of the area of France today is in woodlands owned by the government, by communes and by private individuals. There is nothing haphazard in the management of the forests. There is no ruthless slaughter of the trees. The government has a department of forestry, and this department employs as inspectors curators and overseers the graduates of the forestry schools. The management is such that the forests yield a large annual income. The income, however, is subordinated to the preservation of the forest areas. The French have been foremost in appreciating the value of trees in equalizing temperature, preventing floods, keeping the soil of mountains and hills from being washed away and the drying up of the watercourses. This country is awakening to the importance of such work and is making progress, but has much yet to do before it will be anywhere near the French standard.

In the light of the activity of the attorney general's department in uncer-veiling errors and faults in bills passed by the legislature at its recent session
the following paragraph from the Detroit News possesses interest:

The fact that Attorney General Bird continues to find bills passed at the late session of the legislature that are either unconstitutional or fatally defective in construction makes pertinent the observation that it might be different if the executive department and the attorney general's department were on friendly terms. The unfriendliness between the two departments amounts virtually to hostility. Because of it the executive department did not submit a single bill to the attorney general for examination as to its legality during the session, although it had been the custom in preceding sessions to do so. The attorney general, on account of the strained relations, would not suggest to the executive department that the old custom be adhered to of having the state's chief law officer review bills of doubtful legality before the governor signed them.
Deputy Attorney General Harry Chase, who is sorely disappointed because Governor Warner spoiled his plans to make Arthur Hill United States senator, and who still thinks and talks and dreams mean things about the governor, is doing his best to maintain the strained relations between his chief and the chief executive. The talk of the attorney general as a candidate for governor next year, backed by Arthur Hill, which is equivalent to saying he would be an anti-Warner candidate, adds to the strain.
Having scrupulously refrained from looking for defects in bills while the legislature was in session and which could then be corrected, some of the governor's close friends entertain an able-bodied suspicion—and they aren't backward in saying so—that the attorney general's department is now going through the same bills with a microscope to see in how many invalidating defects can be found, with the idea that an additional measure of criticism can be put on the governor for every defect located.

ORE HANDLERS AT WORK.
The press dispatches yesterday brought the welcome news of the settlement of the ore handlers' strike at Duluth by the decision of the men to return to work. There was no formal settlement of the strike at Superior and Two Harbors, but work will also be resumed there, and before the week will be in full swing, in large part with the old men. The end of the trouble will result in a general resumption, with such labor as the companies can obtain, at the Mesaba mines, and armed officers will, wherever necessary, prevent interference with men in the companies' employ.

The settlement of the Duluth dock strike hinged on the action of the men in regard to the response to their pres entation of their case in a letter by W. J. Oleott, president of the Mesaba dock. This letter was phrased in a conciliatory tone that did credit to Mr.
Oleott's diplomacy, and at the same time was so firm that it apparently convinced the men of the futility of remaining out.
Mr. Oleott wrote that as far as the officials of the company knew there were only two points of difference, the question of open shop and the rate of pay.
On the first point Mr. Oleott flatly said that the company would make no concessions on any terms. For fourteen years it has "consistently stood upon the broad policy that it has the inherent right to employ any man seeking to enter its service irrespective of whether he is affiliated or not with any organization or association and without regard to nationality," and it proposes to continue that policy without alteration.

In regard to wages Mr. Oleott set forth that the present scale was the result of a verbal agreement between the dock employees and the company, it being understood that it would continue in effect until Oct. 31. The agreement was arrived at in a conference in which eight delegates represented the employes, and was, Mr. Oleott wrote, thoroughly understood and assented to by both par-

Work was carried on under its terms at the docks for two months, and Mr. Oleott expressed the opinion that a verbal agreement should be considered as binding as a written one; therefore he vouchsafed his belief that fair dealing on the part of the men demanded that they return to work at once, under the terms of the understanding reached May last.

So much for the firm hand. But in his letter Mr. Oleott did not neglect to include a number of things complimentary to the striking employes and calculated to propitiate them. He commended heartily the orderly and dignified manner in which they had conducted themselves and assured them that in the event they decided to return to work there would be no discrimination against any of their number. Furthermore assurance was given that the company would be, once the strike was ended, glad to receive delegations of the men authorized to take up matters of mutual concern, and to give what they had to present full and fair consideration. It was doubtless the friendly and courteous tone of this part of President Oleott's letter that reconciled the men to giving up everything they went out for, and to returning to work on the old basis of employment.

The labor leader is a much abused fellow, therefore due stress should be laid on Mayor Cullum's statement that, "It is due to the good advice of the labor leaders that the men went back, and they deserve a great deal of credit for their cool headed stand and the attitude they have taken throughout the trouble." In general it is commented that the feeling between the men and company is much better than it was before the strike, and that the trouble has actually brought them closer together. Certainly the excellent self control of the men and the courteous, conciliatory attitude of the officials of the company have left little to regret in connection with the walkout.

PROHIBITION AND RACE PROBLEM.
Even a superficial observer need have no particular difficulty seeing why the prohibition movement has made much greater progress in the southern than in the northern states. This is due, as may be easily discerned, to the race problem and the labor problem.

In the south the low saloon and dives, in which liquor is sold only with the idea of getting the largest possible revenue out of the wretched men who patronize them, are a much more potent factor for mischief than they are even in the north. They are crime breeders among the whites and blacks alike, but on the latter they have a peculiarly disastrous effect, as the black in the south is, under the most favorable conditions, disciplined to labor, and it takes very little of bad influence to make of him a confirmed bummer and potential criminal. Bad whiskey and the low saloons debate him rapidly. They increase the likelihood of crimes against white women and clashes between the men of the races, which in the south quickly and easily lead to race riots.

The Atlanta riots are still fresh in mind. Perhaps there was no more potent influence in bringing them about than the low saloons of the city, which were allowed to run riot under the authorities' eyes. In them whites of the lower class and the negroes drank without restraint, and they did an unusually profitable business just before the outbreak. Dozens of these saloons and dives were permitted to prey on the weakness of the black, and it was only after the riots that the decent people of Atlanta awoke to their own responsibility in allowing them free rein.

The demoralization of negroes by liquor leads not only to the crimes against white women so frequent in the south, but also grievously interferes with the industrial development of the southern states by making the negro labor—already unstable and hard to deal with—more unreliable than ever, thus furnishing a second incentive for tightening the restrictions that surround the sale of intoxicants.

It is conceivable that if the southern states found it practicable to do so they would regulate the liquor traffic as they have voting in their territory, leaving it open to the whites and denying it to the blacks, either as sellers or consumers.
But this is impossible, in the nature of things, and of the two alternatives of prohibition or the demoralization of the negro through an unrestricted liquor traffic, sentiment south of Mason and Dixon's line is coming to favor the former, with the result that prohibition in the south is much more advanced than it is in the north.

It is said that the prohibition law in Georgia will be nullified by the springing up of "blind pigs" and other means of dispensing liquors. However, the thought occurs that if there is public sentiment on the question strong enough to force such a law through the legislature this same public sentiment should be able to secure a pretty close enforcement of its provisions.

HAD AN AWFUL TIME.
But Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Cured Him.

It is with pleasure that I give you this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through simple and homely and I shall always speak of it with pride for this remedy saved my life. G. W. Gwin, Concord, Ga. For sale by The

Copper Country

MONTGOMERY'S HISTORY.

Man Murdered at Newberry Known in the Copper Country.

Frank Montgomery, a former resident of Baraga, who was killed this week at Newberry in a fight with a man named Colburn, he being stabbed to death, was well known to the police of the copper country. He was arrested about six years ago for larceny, and was sent to Marquette prison for a short term. The robbery was committed at the time the Mineral Range railroad was being built through Laird, and it was said at the time that Montgomery and a gang made it a business to hold up laborers on the railroad when they were paid.

Montgomery returned to Baraga after completing his term at Marquette, and later at L'Anse got into some trouble for which he was arrested. He escaped from the sheriff, however, and as far as can be learned in Houghton was not recaptured. Montgomery was of powerful physique and was a bad man to tackle in a rough and tumble fight, but Colburn's knife finished his life of violence.

GAS FRANCHISE ASKED.

The South Range Gas company is planning further extension. It has applied to the township board of Rockland, Ontonagon county, for a franchise, and a special meeting of that body will be held today in that connection. There is little doubt that favorable action will be taken, in which event it will not be many months before Rockland will have a gas system of its own.

COPPER COUNTRY'S FIRST.

Serious Automobile Accident at Houghton Yesterday Afternoon.

Automobiles have become very common in the copper country in the last few years, but the first serious accident to a machine happened yesterday afternoon at Houghton. E. L. Liebman's big Winton crashed through the fence at Haas' Park and was completely wrecked. The car was being driven by Mr. Liebman's chauffeur, who with a driver employed by another automobile owner was entertaining two young women. It is said that the car was going at a high rate of speed over the College avenue boulevard, and when it came to the turn at Haas' Park, into the Isle Royale road, the steering gear refused to work.

The car crashed through the fence at full speed, jumped over a tree on the edge of the park, and landed in the water. The car was completely wrecked, wheels wrenched off, machinery scattered and seats torn out. One of the young women was injured, though how seriously could not be learned yesterday afternoon.

GAME WARDEN PIERCE.

Visited With Senator Charles Smith at Houghton Yesterday.

Charles S. Pierce, of Lansing, newly appointed state game and fire warden, who arrived at Calumet Wednesday night, was not visible yesterday. He left early in the morning for Houghton, where yesterday he was the guest of Senator Smith, inspecting the Calumet & Hecla smelters and mills. He was not accessible to reporters.

Mr. Pierce is here for the purpose of inspecting the conditions of forests and fishing and hunting grounds with a view to determining the extent of the districts into which he may divide the copper region. He has expressed his intention of apportioning the upper peninsula into ten districts, each of which will be in charge of a game warden at $1,000 per year and expenses. He will make a thorough survey of the territory before he makes a survey or any appointments. In the meantime the claims of John Gipp of Calumet and W. H. Foster of Houghton, who seek appointments as wardens under this district arrangement, will be presented to him.

Harry Chase of Lansing, assistant attorney general, who is here on the Michigan National Guard investigation into the death of Private Lukkanen, was seen by The Mining Journal Wednesday night. He had nothing to say regarding his connection with the matter, except that the state's legal department requires to be informed of the case in anticipation of possible complications.

MILITIA EXONERATED.

Bullet That Killed Private Lukkanen Not Fired by a Soldier.

The National Guard has been exonerated of all blame for the killing of Private Elmer Lukkanen, of the Houghton Light Infantry, who met death last Sunday while participating in the sham battle at Calumet. The verdict of the coroner's jury handed down late yesterday afternoon, was that the young man had been slain by a bullet fired from a gun in the hands of some person unknown but not a member of the militia forces of Michigan.

An investigation, under instructions from the adjutant general's office, was held at the Calumet Armory Wednesday night. It was conducted by Colonel J. N. Cox, assistant adjutant general, assisted by Colonel W. H. Thielen of Calumet, assistant inspector general. Assistant Attorney General Chase represented the state legal department and prosecuting attorney Kerr represented the people. The two legal men were present in order that they might be fully informed in the event of future legal action either by the people or the relatives of the victims of the shooting.

The brigade officers, company commanders and Messrs. Chase and Kerr went out to Swedeton yesterday morning and carefully went over the ground, after which they attended the inquest held at Swedeton last evening. The result of the inquest is given in the first paragraph of this article.

Dr. P. D. McNaughton, brigade surgeon, now transferred to the naval division, was present at the investigation Wednesday night, and he and Dr. H. S. Cole, second lieutenant of the Houghton company, explained the death of the boy from the surgeon's viewpoint. Dr. McNaughton's opinions were of value, he having had much experience with bullet wounds in the Spanish-American war. It is of the opinion that the bullet which killed the young soldier was fired at a distance of fully 600 yards, based on the nature of the wound. He also explained that the bullet passed through the left arm, the chest and the right arm, passing in absolutely the straight line. The bullet must have had its maximum velocity to follow this course without lodging in the body.

Experience and experiment shows that a high power rifle bullet does not have a steady motion when first leaving the rifle. After 400 or 500 yards it steadies down to a rotary motion and then on reaching or approaching its maximum range it wobbles again. This being so the bullet, with its initial unsteady motion, if it had struck the boy at a range of less than 500 yards, would have made a larger wound. This would also have been true had it struck him at maximum range. Therefore it must have been fired at an intermediate range, and as the Calumet company, which was firing in the direction of Lukkanen and the Houghton company, was not distant more than 102 yards the wound could not have possibly been made by a bullet from a Calumet engineer's rifle. There is no possibility that it could have been fired from one of the other companies.

The solution, then, is that it came from the outside to the left of the militia, and was fired by some one not a member of the organization.

"What shall we have for breakfast?" "Why Cudaly's Peacock Ham and Eggs of course; they are always acceptable, especially at this season of the year."

William Anderson of Hancock, formerly head teamster of the fire department, yesterday assumed his duties as turkey at the county jail.

The Knights of the Golden Eagle will attend divine service at the Red Jacket

CIRCUIT COURT MATTERS.

New Citizens to Be Created—Probable Criminal Cases.

It is probable that the September term of the circuit court will present rather a weighty calendar, particularly in the criminal department. Prosecuting Attorney Kerr has now a number of important cases on his hands, and there are others already set for trial at that term. A Houghton county circuit court term without a murder trial is a rarity, and at the coming session this is to be provided by the old Bohemian molder who shot and killed his nephew in a quarrel at his home in what is known as Corktown, Houghton.

Derezis, the Italian arrested at South Range a week ago on a charge of threatening to kill, may provide an interesting case. He has not had his legal examination as yet, as the prosecutor on the bench find his case needs considerable investigation. The Italians of South Range seem to believe that Derezis is a member of a "black hand" gang, and he is reported to have declared himself guilty of killing a girl in New York City. He is under arrest now on the specific charge of threatening to kill the husband of a South Range woman in whom he was interested.

Alex. Michaelson and John Raapanen were taken before Justice Olyvier, of Hancock, yesterday, on a charge of robbery. It is alleged that they held up and robbed a farmer named Jacob Hultala, July 2. The farmer had come into town and disposed of some property, and had quite a roll of money with him. The two young men were charged with getting it away from him.

Calumet provides the usual number of liquor violation cases for the September term, the latest being that of a man named Madrich, who is charged with conducting a blind pig at the Highways, on a charge of violation of law. He was arrested yesterday by Justice Jarkola yesterday.

Most important of all the prospective cases are those of the thirteen Finnish socialists who were arrested in Hancock last Sunday on a charge of creating a disturbance and distributing red flags in violation of an interesting legal question involved in the right of the socialists to carry red flags, and the trial should bring out some law on a subject which has now become a red flag in the business, and could not be molested for so doing under this ordinance. The attorney for the socialists claims in much the same way that they have the right to use a red flag as their distinctive banner when they are not claiming or avowing any anarchistic belief, in so doing. The thirteen socialists will be given their hearing before Justice Olyvier in Hancock this morning.

The September term of the circuit court will be called upon to create six-ty-seven new citizens to be created in Hancock. The list of applicants for citizenship to be heard in the November term is growing. There are now eight on this list, and of these four were posted yesterday morning, the following being the names: John Penberthy was born in Scotland and came to the United States via New York on May 3, 1902. He now lives in Hancock. Martin M. Rillstone is also English; he lives in Hancock; landed in Hancock in 1894. He is married; his wife, too, is English; he lives in Hancock, and has been in the United States since Sept. 9, 1899, on which date he landed at the Soo. Henry Mikkila is a Finn. He has lived in the United States since arriving at the Soo July 28, 1901. His present residence is Jacobsville.

COPPER COUNTRY SPORTS.

Baseball, Wrestling and Horse Racing Interest Public.

The Winnipeg ball team defeated Calumet Wednesday night, and the visitors finished with a score of 8 to 5, the visitors leading Young Sinocek pretty easy while Calumet could do little with Terry. There were two incidents to break the monotony. Terry quit in the seventh because of his disagreement with the umpire on certain close decisions, and Gienke took his place but too late to lose the game for Winnipeg. Manager Herr of Winnipeg disagreed with Umpire Danahy also, and he was invited to leave the lot, accepting as graciously as possible in the circumstances. Houghton took one from Duluth in the score of 9 to 1, doing it mostly by pounding Comedian Haney.

Houghton should have one or two new players by the close of the week. It is said that Thompson, slated for shortstop, is a wonder. Brocking, succeeding Sundheim at third, is playing great ball, and his team mates promise him a berth in faster company next season. Loughlin for Houghton and Newcombe for Calumet are the two substantial successes of the season in copper country baseball. The boys have developed into utility men of high order. Newcombe takes his regular turn at piteeing and plays every other day in some infield or outfield position that needs toning up. Loughlin, greatest of center fielders, is now playing at short, after having caught several games in great utility men of high order. CANAL REPORT SHORTLY.

U. S. Engineer Banks Expects a Better Traffic Showing.

George H. Banks, United States Junior engineer, in charge of the Portage Lake waterways, expects to have ready for publication shortly his report of traffic through Portage Lake in July. He began the compilation yesterday. Mr. Banks told The Mining Journal that he believed the report would show a great increase in traffic over June, which was a light month. He bases this opinion on the number of vessel passages and on the number of unusually large cargoes which have been carried through these waterways. The largest of these was the cargo carried by the steamer D. H. Hanna two weeks ago. She brought to the Copper Range coal dock 11,115 tons of coal, the largest load ever brought into this lake. The steamer had a draft of 19 ft. 4 in.

Mr. Banks considers this a good test of

ITCHING PUPPLES TORTMENT 5 BOYS

Arms and Hands Affected—Could Not Sleep Because of Itching—Suffered for Two Months Until Two Cakes of Cuticura Soap and ONE BOX OF CUTICURA CURED THEM ALL

"I have five boys, from five to eleven years of age, who were affected some time last winter by some kind of skin disease. The worst parts of the body were around the arms and hands, where small pimples formed and itched, and they suffered for two months so that they could not sleep at night. I noticed an advertisement about the Cuticura Remedies and we made a trial of one or two cakes of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment which gave great satisfaction. I used the Cuticura Remedies and we made a trial of one or two cakes of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment every other day. Since then they have all been healthy." E. Carlson, Norcross, Travers Co., Minn., Nov. 26 and Dec. 23, 1906.

WORST ECZEMA

Baffled Medical Treatment For a Year, Cured by CUTICURA.

"About four years ago I was afflicted with black spots all over my face and a few on my body, which produced small pimples formed and itched, and caused me a great deal of suffering. I was forced to call in two of the leading physicians of our city, and they entirely stopped the breaking out. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every part of my body was covered with affected parts left as clear as ever. I have not felt a symptom of the eczema for three years." Mrs. Lizzie E. Sloan, 540 Jones Ave., Selma, Ala., Oct. 28, '05. Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humour of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (2) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (2) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Tablets (2) to Purify the Blood. the waterway. That draft is practically the depth demanded by great lake carriers, and shows that Portage Lake can handle any size of ship or cargo.

Other Marine Notes.

Mr. Banks announced yesterday the following of a contract to John Richards of Duluth Bay for repairs to the tugboat in the canal cut, No. 3, at Portage Entry. The steamer Schuykill struck this part of the canal last month, and injured about eighty feet of it. Mr. Richards will make the repairs at once.

Mr. Banks is personally making repairs to the upper breakwater on the canal at the west entrance to the lake. The damage here is due to natural causes, the heavy storms of last fall having washed out the sand at the beam of the breakwater, permitting the rock filling to wash out from the structure through the opening this made. It is being repaired by placing large blocks of stone entirely around the breakwater. The work will probably be completed in a few days.

The tug Buffalo of Duluth has been added to the other hulks which lie beneath the waters of Portage Lake. It was not thought that the wrecking tug Buffalo, which will shortly be replaced, was too badly damaged as well as being too old to raise. The favorite has taken off the most valuable of the tug's machinery and has left the wreck probably beyond the hope of getting the Buffalo to the bottom of the lake. The Buffalo is twenty years old, having been built in 1887.

Mining News

Developments Continue to Show Good Results—Policy of Management.

The showing in the Pevabie drifts of the Franklin Mining company continues to please the management, comments the Boston Statist. The workings which are operated from the twenty-first level of the Allouez conglomerate shaft No. 1 continue to show excellent copper and to hold out the promise that the company will find still better things when the ore is taken from the twenty-third level of the same shaft is opened and drifting on the vein can be prosecuted. Meantime Superintendent Edwards is pushing down with the Pevabie No. 1 shaft, which is now at the fourteenth level, and is hoping to have this equipment working at the sixteenth level, where work was abandoned by the former executives in charge of the work at the property, in a very short time. Re-opening this shaft has been a very expensive task. The shaft had been abandoned for seven years, and the cost of the shaft is being met by the company. The hope of the management is that the workings will be found better at the upper levels than there was ever reason to suppose would be the case from former explorations. But there is every indication that the poor work of the shaft was followed, and as practically no lateral work was done, no conclusive evidence of the worth of the vein below the fourteenth level was ever found. However this may be there can be little doubt that the former workings were abandoned at the very edge of the vein. The hope of the management is that the workings will be found better at the upper levels than there was ever reason to suppose would be the case from former explorations. But there is every indication that the poor work of the shaft was followed, and as practically no lateral work was done, no conclusive evidence of the worth of the vein below the fourteenth level was ever found. However this may be there can be little doubt that the former workings were abandoned at the very edge of the vein.

Had it not been for the money that was expended in this manner the property would have unquestionably been a dividend before this time. That such expenditure was wise no one could doubt. There is some question, however, as to whether the ultimate result might not have been effected more quickly had an assent been levied and the management been permitted to go about development work more strenuously. In the opinion of many mining men the showing in the Pevabie justifies the sinking of two shafts in order that when the ore body is reached quicker results may be returned. The Franklin has never been assessed and the present management did not desire to burden the shareholders, feeling that the property could be brought to a profitable basis along present lines.

The old workings do not change much. Shaft 2 shows better with depth than did shaft 1, depth for depth, but the significance of the old workings has been lost in the much better promise held out by the new ones. Considerable work has been done at the Franklin mill which has been followed, and as a result the work is being done better and more economically. It can also handle the promised increase from the Pevabie workings with its present capacity. It takes time to effect changes at best and labor conditions at the Lake have not been good for over a year.

RAVEN.

According to late advices the Raven probably will not be able to ship any more ore for three to six months. It will require as much time as this to complete the work of timbering its shaft on the Raven claim, and then open the vein at greater depth and prepare for production. The shaft will be sunk to the 1,000-foot level and drifts extended on the vein each hundred feet down. In re-opening the old Raven mine it has been discovered that there is a face of ore of workable grade on the fifth level. Thus there is doubtless basis for the belief that the Raven vein will prove to be well mineralized at a little greater depth and that this claim itself will put out enough good ore to pay dividends.

It was recalled that the Raven was formerly a producer from a vein which was supposed to outcrop in the Snoozier claim. The ore was mined from the 1,200 or 1,500 foot level and hoisted to the surface through the Mountain Consolidated shaft of the Amalgamated Copper company. Later the vein became apparent to Amalgamated officials that the so-called Snoozier vein really outcropped in the La Plata claim of the Butte & Boston company, which adjoins the Snoozier on the north, and as a result the use of the Buffalo shaft was withdrawn. This brought to an abrupt termination Raven's career as a producer, and made necessary the recent issue of 100,000 shares additional capital stock to raise money with which to develop the Raven claim. One of the Amalgamated sub-companies owns a minority interest in the Snoozier claim, and therefore is in a position to have an influential voice in its management. The Old Glory claim, which occupies a position between the Raven and Snoozier claims, is owned by a corporation in which Battle Condition is a considerable stockholder, but the owners of the majority interest are understood to be negotiating with the Raven company for a consolidation. It is even hoped that the Amalgamated company may be induced to consent to the sale of all its interest in the Snoozier and Old Glory properties and allow them to be combined, thus making an independent operating company of considerable proportions.

The payment this week of a $7 dividend marks a record in the dividend history of the Osceola Consolidated. Last January $6 was paid. This week's payment is at the rate of $14 per annum, whereas last year the company paid $10, the largest rate up to that time. In 1902, dividends were passed, owing to the small earnings of only 16 cents per share, which was caused by the low price of 11.78 cents per pound received for its refined copper and a cost, including construction of 11.77 cents.

The present tendency of the output is to mount toward the 20,000,000-pound mark, which has been attained but once, and that in 1904. Last year's production was 18,588,451 pounds. In 1905 the stock sold as low as 42 1/2 cents. The lowest price this year was 115, on March 26, and the highest 181, Feb. 21. Below are given the earnings per share, the dividends per share and the output of refined copper from 1890 to 1906 inclusive:

Table with columns: Year, Earnings per Share, Dividends per Share, Output of Refined Copper (lbs. per ton).

Rehabilitation of the smelter will not be completed much before the end of the year. October, however, should see matters advanced to the point which will enable a marked increase in copper output for that month. Many delays have been experienced and are still being contended with in getting new equipment over the lines of transportation from the east, which accounts for the longer time which the smelter improvements will require. A little gain is nevertheless being made. The amount of the Bonanza bodies as yet giving no indication of limitations. In the new No. 3 shaft on the south of the property they have fine ore and are opening into a body of which there is no longer doubt as to its large extent. This ore is showing on the dump is better than 7 per cent and means a splendid concentrating proposition.

Work on Section 16, at the Atlantic, continues. The shaft is now down about 650 feet, and within less than 200 feet of a point that would intersect the tenth level drift of the Baltic mine, and this drift is within 150 feet of the Atlantic's boundary, and shows good values—a pretty good indication that the Atlantic is going to come into a new mine, with depth. Then, too, the old mine may be worked from again. The damage to the shaft was not nearly as serious as was first supposed, but this can only be ascertained by an examination of the shafts and levels. Arrangements are being made for a new hoist at Section 16 shaft, where it is intended to install the one at "A" shaft of Atlantic, which has capacity for hoisting from a depth of about 3,000 feet. A site for the hoist and compressor building has been selected, and the excavations for the foundations have been made. The Times believes in the old Atlantic, and believes in the deposits that will be commanded by the shaft now going down on Section 16. The Atlantic has the railroad, it has the mill, it has the smelters, and it only wants developed ground, carrying copper of commercial value, to take its place among the cheap producers and big money earners of the district.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The Utah Copper company now has five steam shovels at work on its Bingham property. Two are being used on ore and the balance in moving overburden. The latter has been cleared from an area about 600 feet square. The surface described here had a thickness of about sixty-five feet. The big bins in which to store ore from the underground are now complete. They have capacity for 8,000 tons of ore.

Examination of the annual report of the Calumet & Hecla shows that during the fiscal year which ended April 30, 1907, the company earned net $1,207,291 or practically $13 per share on its outstanding capital of 100,000 shares, par $25. The net earnings would be equal to 16 per cent on a market price of $13 per share. On a price of 80¢ a share the company earned last year over 14 per cent. Out of the net earnings of last year $750,000 was paid in dividends, leaving a balance of $1,797,291, which together with $3,000,876 taken from the

S.S.S. KILLS THE GERMS OF SCROFULA

Through the blood, diseases are carried from one generation to another. Parents transmit them to their children, and so it goes on down the family line for years and years unless the taint is removed from the blood. Especially is this true of Scrofula, for it is a disease that is "bred in the bone," and unless the blood is purified and every trace of the trouble removed the miserable disease will finally undermine the entire health and wreck the life of its victim. The usual symptoms of Scrofula are enlarged glands or tumors about the neck, which often burst and become discharging ulcers, weak eyes, Catarrh of the head and throat, skin diseases, etc. The trouble being so firmly entrenched in the blood often attacks the bones, resulting in White Swelling, or hip disease, while a waxy, pallid appearance of the skin, loss of strength and energy, and often lung affections, show that the disease is entirely destroying the bright red corpuscles and rich, nutritive qualities of the blood. Scrofula being a constitutional disease, one affecting the entire circulation, must be treated with a remedy that builds up and strengthens every part of the system, which has so long been denied the strength and nourishment it should have received from the blood. S. S. S. is the best of all blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics, and is therefore the ideal remedy for Scrofula. S. S. S. searches out and destroys all germs, taints and poisons, gives strength, richness and vigor to the blood and cures Scrofula permanently. It so thoroughly removes the trouble from the blood that no signs of it are ever seen again, and posterity is started out in life with a clean, pure blood supply, which is their rightful inheritance. S. S. S. while thorough, is gentle in its action, and the healing vegetable ingredients which compose it build up every part of the system. Book on the blood and medical advice free. Indigestion Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as distinct diseases, and they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nervous disease—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success, and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and salivaceous, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

PRISON POPULATION LARGE.

However, Board of Pardons Will Soon Let Some Men Out.

The population of convicts at the Marquette prison is now the largest it has ever been, and is within one of the cell capacity of the two cell blocks. There are 311 men serving time at the institution, and there are but 312 cells, exclusive of the accommodations for convicts in the hospital and place of solitary confinement. It is expected that several will be recommended for clemency, so that within a few weeks the number of convicts now confined will be somewhat reduced. A convict was received from Kent county this week. He is John Durand, sent up for grand larceny for a term of from one and one-half to five years, and he boasts no less than eight aliases. He has served time in other states. He was brought up by W. D. Kennedy and F. E. Smith, officers of Kent county.

It will travel as a body to Norfolk by special train over the Pennsylvania to Washington, thence down the Potomac river and Chesapeake bay by boat. The national convention will be attended by some 200 delegates, and will be in session in the convention hall on the grounds of the Jamestown exposition the greater part of next week. The concluding day of the session, the 11th, will be the occasion for a general reunion of members of the order in the south and east, and it is expected that there will be an attendance of 10,000 people. Mr. Byrne expects to be absent from Marquette about two weeks.

MARKETS

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—The wheat market was firm the greater part of the day. The main factor was the weather in the Northwest, where the temperatures were so low last night as to suggest possible frost before the crop is fully matured. Higher prices at Minneapolis emphasized these fears. Other strengthening influences were the higher prices in the principal grain markets of Europe, and the bull campaign now being waged. The demand came from commission houses, while the selling was largely by pit traders. The trading was only moderately active. The market became weaker about the middle of the day because of increased local receipts, but the prices soon rallied. At the close the September was up 3/8c, September opened at 91 1/2c; highest, 92 1/4c; lowest, 91 1/4c; closing, 92.

Corn.—There was an active demand all day because of numerous reports of damage to the crop in Iowa and Illinois. The market was firm throughout the session, closing at the highest point, the September showing a gain of 1/4c. September opened at 54 1/2c; highest, 54 3/4c; lowest, 53 3/4c; closing, 54 1/2c.

Oats.—The market was strong on renewed buying by local bulls. The trading was active. The market was strengthened by numerous damage reports. The September closed 3/8c higher. September opened at 40 1/2c; highest, 40 3/4c; lowest, 40 1/4c; closing, 40 1/2c.

Receipts and shipments were as follows: Receipts, Shipments.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES.

Victories in Straight Heats Feature of the Day at Cleveland.

Cleveland, Aug. 1.—Another large crowd was out to witness the Grand Circuit races today. The results of the five events were somewhat similar to Tuesday, each race being won in straight heats, with the driver generally looking back.

In the twelve heats there was not a sensational finish, but the last race was productive of considerable excitement. Mike Boverman, driver of General Watt, protested the first heat, alleging that he had been fouled by McDonald, driver of Bell Bird. The judges did not allow the protest whereupon Boverman attempted to strike McDonald. Other drivers separated them.

Ben White, of Buffalo, driving the Count, was thrown in the last heat of this race, and was carried off the track unconscious. The horse escaped with slight injuries.

Watson, driven by George Loomis of Minneapolis, was too fast for his rivals in the 2:11 trot.

Ed. Goers' only victory came in the 2:06 pace, when he won rather easily with John A.

BOOKS FOR CANAL.
Libraries Purchased for Enjoyment of Government Employees.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Joseph Becklin, bishop, secretary of the isthmian canal commission, will sail from New York for the isthmus Thursday. The commission has purchased through him libraries for the four recreation buildings that have been completed and thrown open for the use of the employees of the commission at Cristobal, Georgia, Empire and Lunenburg. These libraries contain about six hundred volumes each, comprising standard reference books and volumes of his- tory, biographies, travels and fiction.

This action is different in each library, so that it can be changed about from one library to another, thus giving the employes a much larger collection.

Private Club Given Books.
A library of similar size has been bought for the University club in Panama. This club is composed of several hundred canal employes in clerical and other higher grade positions and has a very attractive little clubhouse in the city of Panama.

Being a private organization and in no way under commission control it was not in the power of the commission to purchase a library for it. General Thomas H. Hubbard of New York city gave the necessary funds as soon as the matter was presented to him.

P. M. IS SETTLING UP.
Taking Care of Claims of Victims of Salem Wreck.

Ionia, Aug. 1.—Claim Agent Kuiper, Train Dispatcher, Claim Master, Mechanic and Assessor, Master, Mechanic and Chamberlain of the P. M. Marquette are in the city settling minor claims of those who suffered loss or injury in the Salem disaster. They are making their headquarters with District Freight Agent McGuire.

The officials are making the rounds of the homes concerned in an automobile and checks have been given for clothing, doctor bills, various personal effects lost and in some cases funeral expenses. The company paid the burial expenses of Banner Duggins and also gave transportation free to the relatives and friends who came to attend the funeral. One girl who was injured was given five weeks' wages at $9 a week and new clothing, making a total of $180. None of the larger claims made on account of the deaths of bread winners are being handled by the visitors.

Frank Melzow, whose knee was crushed in the wreck, was Tuesday taken to Butterworth hospital, Grand Rapids. It is feared he will lose his leg.

BUMP OF CAUTION.
Railroad Commissioner Says It Should Be Examined.

Lansing, Aug. 1.—"Railroad managers examine their employes as to their eyesight and hearing," said Railroad Commissioner Glasgow today, "but they utterly fail to examine their 'bump of caution,' which is far more important. A man's hearing may be normal and his eyesight unerring, but if he is a reckless, careless man, he is an unsafe employe for a railroad company. In my judgment it is a far more important qualification that a railroad employe have a quickened sense of responsibility than it is that he have some of the other qualifications required."

PEARY'S CREW BOUND TO WIN.

SPRIT OF DETERMINATION ANTIMATES NEW EXPEDITION.
WAITING WORD FOR THE START.

Ship Has Been Strengthened for Combat With the Ice Fields in the Polar Regions.

New York, Aug. 1.—Captain Robert Bartlett, the intrepid young mariner who commanded Peary's ship on her voyage on the record dash for the North Pole from which she returned in November last, as he stood on a pier at the ship yards on Shooter Island, declared with firmness: "We'll win this time;" and thirteen brawny Newfoundlanders, judges of wit, the same spirit, stood behind him and shouted: "Yes, by, us'll win!"

The Roosevelt, her long rakish bow pointing seaward, her decks and rigging trim and staunch, is all but ready and within a few days she will be ploughing toward Sydney (Cape Broken) there to receive her final lick and slip her flag and sprint northward into the great white silence. Time is short and all speed will be necessary if Cape Sheridan is to be reached for winter quarters.

Peary himself is resting quietly. For two weeks the explorer has been in retirement, taking a long farewell of his dear ones before he leaves them for the two interminable nights and the dangers and trials of the Unknown.

That the expedition is not now well on its way toward the Greenland coast, the last connecting post between civilization and the ice deserts, is largely on account of delay in the work of refitting the ship at Shooter Island. Despite the best efforts of Peary himself and Captain Bartlett there have been delays. Contractors are not always realizing how much the loss of a day may mean to a ship that must be far north of 70 degrees before the great ice fields cease their grinding and drifting and settle firm and solid for the long dark silence.

All Determined to Win.
The spirit of determination which characterizes the members of the new expedition, from Peary himself to the Wilkerson, is stronger than it has ever been in the former party. The commander feels that he has the right to win this time. Only a continuance of extremely bad fortune deters him on the last dash. And, moreover, he feels that perhaps this will be the last chance granted him by fate. He has grown old in the fight to find "the ultimate, the Thule." The Roosevelt is the greatest ship ever built for Arctic purposes. What errors of judgment were made in her originally have been corrected by the experience of the last voyage. Her officers are all most intimately acquainted with the country farther north than men have ever been before. Peary is determined to win this time, and the tense eagerness of this determination grips the entire crew under him.

The winter spirit was noticeable in the voice of Captain Bartlett and the Roosevelt's lucky crew.

"We'll win this time." The young seaman made the statement as calmly and with as much assurance as if he said, "I'll die some time." And the crew, hearing the declaration, backed him up.

"There will be no chance to lose," Bartlett went on. "We've just got to get there. The Roosevelt has been overhauled from stem to stern. There isn't a feather out of place, and these points of the ship which were damaged on the last trip have been changed according to the dictates of experience. We have, therefore, a ship that will meet every requirement of Arctic work—not an experiment, but a finished work, a tested article."

Changes Made in the Ship.
"The crew are the best men in the world for the work they have ahead of them. The North is nothing new to them, nor is hardship and danger. They are veterans by trade, young, strong and spirited. The work is being done among the men of the naval reserve in Newfoundland."

"With a man like Peary at the head, this expedition will not return without having accomplished its object. Peary will see to it that the rest of us will keep up with him, and the rest of us will keep up with him."

"We're just putting on the finishing touches. Everything will be ready within a few days. The crew is here, and when the order to sail is given there will be no delay. We'll just everlastingly let the rest of the world wait until the Roosevelt is ready to start."

Even a casual observer can notice the difference in the Roosevelt's appearance since she underwent improvements. The chief feature is the extension of the forecastle from the foggallan forecastle to the forward part of the main deck. This will be a great improvement, more room, which will be available for the increased number of Eskimos Peary intends to ship at Etah, Greenland. There are wing passages both port and starboard, too, and here will be stored the provisions and supplies for landing at Cape Sheridan or for emergency landing on the ice-foot during the struggle for winter quarters.

On previous trips all stores have been below decks and difficult of access, so that the new plan is greatly superior. Then the men saved by storing so much of the stores in the wing passages will be used for the storing of sledges and lumber coal, and this also will mean a vast improvement.

There is practically no change in the hull of the ship excepting that it will be more easy to get the rudder out and in than formerly.

Scotch Boilers Installed.
But in the matter of boilers there has been a most important change. It was defective boilers that handicapped the Roosevelt almost from the start to the finish of her last voyage. Her old boilers were of the water tube variety and the development of a defect in one impaired the usefulness of the entire complement. On this voyage she will carry Scotch boilers, which will be divided so that if one breaks down the rest will still be able to do the work.

In the matter of her crew, the Roosevelt will have new men almost entirely. A few of the old party officers will be old hands, but the rank and file of the men will be new. The two engineers will be new men, too, both of them New Yorkers.

Dr. Louis Wolff, who accompanied the last expedition, will not go this time. Dr. Wolff is a young man, who is old hands, but the rank and file of the men will be new. The two engineers will be new men, too, both of them New Yorkers.

about and no bad results followed. "To go mad, tear our hair and talk loud and unreasoning is not simply to show our unfitness for popular government. It is a reflection upon the people who framed and adopted the plan of settlement. It is better to take a little time and follow constitutional lines than to humiliate either state or nation or adopt revolutionary methods. "If all state authorities are going to usurp functions of the supreme court and judge what federal act shall be nullified no one can tell where it will end." Mr. Jenkins says he is opposed to weakening the powers of both state and nation and calls attention to the fact that the state has the remedy in the supreme court if the nation encroaches upon its rights. "Why should state authorities declare they will exercise every power at their command to prevent such consummation?" he asks. "This is an unlawful attempt to oppose lawful efforts." "This continual talk about state authorities restoring federal power by armed force will sooner or later end in bloodshed, possibly in the disruption of union." In concluding Mr. Jenkins says the supreme court of the United States may err. It may differ with the views of a great majority of the people but however that may be, the constitution says its decision is final and must be regarded as the supreme law of the land and that is what must govern us. "Better live under a wrong decision even than amidst that anarchy that must prevail in this country if each state authority is going to disregard the constitution of the United States and assert its own power, right or wrong, in defiance of the national power, thereby weakening and absolutely disregarding this great government that has cost so many generations so much to make and preserve it."

Log Famine at Menominee—
For the first time in the history of lumbering on the Menominee river there is a log famine at Marinette and Menominee. There is not a log above the marking gap and from the present outlook no logs will reach the mouth of the river for some days yet. The Spies Lumber Company's mill in Menominee has been closed and other mills may have to suspend. The Boom Company's sorting crew has been sent up river to hurry the logs down and every effort is being made to relieve the situation. The lack of logs, it is believed, is due to the low water. There are no big jams but the logs stick on the bars and shores on account of the shallowness of the stream.

A Canine Rattles—

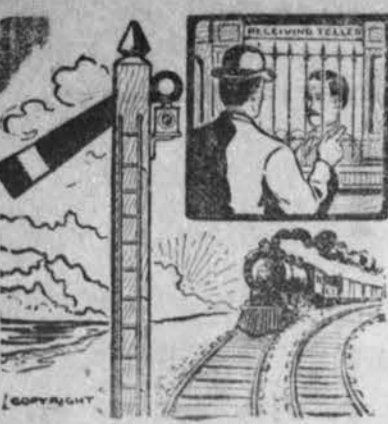

Has Menominee a dog which has slipped into large stores, and unnoticed by the proprietor or clerk carries off valuable objects in his mouth? Several people say no, but Cox & Roper, who have had several startling experiences with the canine Rattles, believe that a small, brown, curly-haired spaniel, which entered their place and twice attempted to enter the safe, is a practical criminal. Two other merchants on Main street claim that the same dog entered their stores, quietly approached their safes, and upon finding them closed, turned Washington, Aug. 1.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business July 31, 1907, the debt amounted to $1,273,275,342, a decrease for the month of nearly $24,000,000, due to the redemption of the 4 per cent bonds which matured July 1. The payments on this and other accounts reduced the cash on hand to the extent of $30,000,000.

WORK ON WATER MAIN TO BE STARTED SOON

CONTRACT WITH MICHIGAN PIPE COMPANY HAS BEEN SIGNED BY MAYOR AND RECORDER AND HAS BEEN FORWARDED TO BAY CITY.

The board of public works has forwarded to Bay City a copy of the contract, hearing the signatures of the mayor and recorder, which is to be entered into with the Michigan Pipe Company for the construction of the 14-inch water main from the south end of Douglas street to the intersection of Division and Pine streets, entering the former from the western end, near Washington street. It is expected that the Bay City concern will sign the contract without alteration, as it was drawn up in accordance with the plans and specifications on which the company submitted its bids. The Michigan Pipe company agrees to complete the work before October 1. It is probable that the work will be commenced inside of a week or ten days.

The company will furnish a bond in the sum of $5,000 to secure the proper performance of the work, and the repair of all defects, breaks and leakages that may appear in the pipe within a year from the date of the acceptance of the job. The work of laying the pipe and the other work is to be under the supervision of and subject to the approval of the board of public works, or its superintendent. In addition to the 14,500 feet of 14-inch pipe the company will have considerable other material, such as tees, crosses, "Y"s, valves, etc., to furnish.

The ground which the pipe will traverse will not be difficult to operate, and it is not expected that any ledges of rock will be encountered, though in certain places some good-sized boulders may be uncovered. Only a small portion of the trench will pass through low land where trouble may be encountered on account of water.

MISSING MAN FOUND.

Abel Hokkinen Located Yesterday in Old Shack at Cedar Lake.

Henry Nurni and John W. Kotka yesterday afternoon found the former's brother, Abel Hokkinen, in a dilapidated shack at Cedar Lake. The shack is about 200 rods in from the Cliff's road. Hokkinen had been known to frequent that district of late, and his brother suspected that he might be found somewhere in that neighborhood.

Mr. Kotka yesterday advised a Mining Journal man that Hokkinen spent the greater part of last week at the hut and that he had come into town Sunday night, but had disappeared again. Yesterday he recognized both his brother and Mr. Kotka, though he would not talk much. He will be cared for at Dr. Lindgren's hospital for a time, and if he comes around all right, as the doctor thinks he will, he will probably be sent to his old home in Finland.

Hokkinen has been in this country ten months, and it is said that at times he has been badly homesick. He was employed in a business house in Finland and he disliked his work at the mines here. He is well educated.

SAYS IT'S UP TO CARKEEK.

Ziehr Talks as Though He Would Have Easy Time With Champion.

Wednesday's issue of the Calumet Evening News contained the following interview with Joe Ziehr relative to the proposed Cornish wrestling match with Jack Carkeek: "I am tired of all this talk relative to my match with Jack Carkeek. Just tell them that I am the challenged party and that I have a right to name the place for the match. I prefer the copper country, and if Carkeek is looking for a match, and the money at the same time, he had better come here. There ought to be a $700 or $800 gate in Calumet, and if he is anxious to meet me this is the place for the bout."

Ziehr stated that personally he does not care very much himself where the match is held, but his backers wanted it in Calumet, believing that it is the best place for a bout of this kind in the state.

"I had to go to Ishpeming to convince them that I was in earnest about Carkeek," said Ziehr, "and it now looks as if they want me to come back and demonstrate the same with Carkeek. This time Carkeek must come to Calumet. The money is waiting for him and the crowd also. This is the place for a Cornish wrestling match, and if Carkeek knows his business he will come."

Ziehr's money is awaiting Carkeek here and if the followers of Carkeek are anxious to see the men meet for the purpose of settling the supremacy, then an arrangement for the match to take place in Calumet is in order, the News says.

An Ishpeming man who has been concerned in the effort to close negotiations for the match between Ziehr and Carkeek said that Ziehr's talk about his copper country backers rather amused him, inasmuch as he could not find any one to aid him in raising the forfeit money of $100 to cover Carkeek's forfeit which is still in the hands of John Lacey. It would appear from Ziehr's talk to The Evening News, also from a recent letter he wrote Mr. Lacey, that the copper country men who propose to put up a $500 purse are doing so in the event he wrestles for a special purse of $500 either in Ishpeming or Calumet. However, the backers of Carkeek would have been quite willing to pay the loser a reasonable percentage of the gate money, the winner taking the $500.

TO INSPECT COMPANY I.

Officer of Michigan National Guard Will Be in Ishpeming Today.

Assistant Adjutant General Cox, of the Michigan National Guard, yesterday advised Lieutenant Con Thompson, in command of Company I, that he will be here today and will inspect the Ishpeming military organization this evening at its armory in the Braastad block. A special drill had been called for tonight, but it was not known at that time that the adjutant general would be here. Colonel Thielman, of Calumet, assistant inspector general, was present at the company's drill meeting Tuesday evening and he expressed himself as well pleased with the Ishpeming outfit.

The members of the company are just now manifesting much interest in their work on account of the approach of the annual encampment, which they expect to attend. Lieutenant Thompson yesterday completed a muster of the men who will be able to go, and he stated that there will probably not be over forty-one, though it was expected that possibly forty-eight would turn out. Several members of the total strength of nearly sixty men are out of the city on leaves of absence, while others find it impossible to get away. Three drill meetings are to be held next week, and one or two the following week, prior to the company's departure for Ludington.

PRODUCE IS HIGH.

A representative of one of the big wholesale produce houses yesterday said that the prices of eggs, butter and lard have not been as high in some years at this season as they are now. The wholesale price of fresh eggs was yesterday twenty cents, while a year ago they sold for thirteen or fourteen cents. Creamery butter is quoted at twenty-seven cents per pound, and dairy butter is bringing from twenty-three to twenty-four cents. A few weeks ago the wholesale price of eggs was down to fourteen cents, which is usually the price that prevails during the greater part of the summer seasons.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin making the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. I stand the highest for its wonderful cure of the most distressing cases, and is sold in its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle Home of Swamp-Root, by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Charged With Murder—

Matt Nirva, who is alleged was stabbed by Matt Hantaka at the former's home on the Morris location on June 16, is dead from the effects of the wounds. Hantaka is in jail awaiting trial on the charge of murder. It is said at Ironwood that witnesses will be produced who heard Hantaka assert that he intended to kill Nirva. Nirva was thirty-eight years old, and leaves a wife and four children.

Sault Ste. Marie's Power Dispute—

The most interesting feature of this week's council meeting at the Soo was the presentation of a petition signed by 2,000 citizens, asking the board of aldermen to unite with the people in an attempt to bring about a settlement of the differences between the Michigan Lake Superior Power company and the Chandler-Dunbar company by forcing the companies to accept terms arbitrated by them, if they cannot get together at once on terms of their own suggestion. Action in accordance with the petition was taken. The petition cites the principal features of the history of the water power question from the time the plan of building a canal was first conceived up to the present. It calls attention to the encouragement given the venture and to the fact that the people, immediately upon the beginning of the work, began enlarging their business in keeping with the expectations that were almost universal. It contends that the good times that existed during the building of the canal only tended to encourage business men to continue in the enlargement of their business; and the investment of their capital and that the sudden slump that followed the completion of the water power and the extreme quiet that has existed for the years that have followed, owing to the fact that little has been done to make use of the improvement, largely because of litigation and controversy between the power companies, have brought many of the best of these business men to dire circumstances, when at the same time the pleas of these men were easily in keeping with what might reasonably have been expected from such an improvement. The petition closes by stating that it is considered time that this situation be remedied, and by the city if the companies do not bring it about. It also suggests the terms of the settlement to be advocated by the city. According to these proposed terms, the Michigan Lake Superior Power company should release to the Chandler-Dunbar company all claim to island No. 5. The Chandler-Dunbar company should in turn release to the Michigan Lake Superior Power company sufficient water to fill the canal. The Michigan Lake Superior Power company should build the remedial works necessary and the Chandler-Dunbar people should allow these works to be built on their lands if necessary.

The national committee appointed by President Diaz to arrange for celebrating the one-hundredth anniversary of Mexico's independence, has adopted a unique feature as a part of the general plan. It is proposed that public improvements be started Sept. 16, 1910, the date of the centennial, in more than nine hundred towns and cities. It is estimated that the average cost of each improvement will be $100,000. In the larger cities where large public buildings or public service improvements are contemplated the sum may run into millions. If a general average of $100,000 is expended the total amount will approximate $100,000,000.

This feature is said to have been suggested by President Diaz. The municipal authorities are to take steps to begin whatever public improvements their respective towns may need—water works, drainage systems, market houses, municipal state prisons, penitentiaries, etc. The fact that three years' time is given to prepare plans and raise money will enable the smaller towns to undertake extensive public works. The federal government probably will make this occasion by starting public works of the most important character in the capital and elsewhere. The organization for the celebration is being extended to every state and territory. Committees are being formed in all the towns subordinate to the national committee.

HAY CROP ONLY HALF ITS NORMAL SIZE

FARMERS MUCH DISAPPOINTED—THEY EXPECT AT LEAST $18 PER TON FOR TIMOTHY HAY—HIGH PRICES PREDICTED FOR BOTH HAY AND OATS.

The farmers in and about Negaunee are much disappointed with their hay and grain crops. The hay harvest will soon be over, but it will be three or four weeks before the oats will be ready to cut. A Negaunee farmer said yesterday that the hay crop will not be any more than 50 per cent its normal size. Last year he got over 150 tons from his farm, but he says he will be in luck this season if he gets eighty tons. The hay is thin, and as a rule it did not grow to its usual height.

"The farmers are not yet making a price on this season's hay," said the Negaunee man. "I doubt very much if any of them can be induced to sell it at less than $18 per ton, as it is the general belief among them that the price will be high throughout the fall and that next spring hay will be just as expensive as it has been for three or four months past. The reports received from other sections are not any too favorable, and it looks as though there will be a very short hay crop in many of the districts where large crops were expected. Old Timothy hay at $24 per ton is as cheap as the new hay is at $18 per ton, as the shrinkage in the latter will be from 25 to 30 per cent. Few of the Negaunee farmers will sell any of their hay for five or six weeks. It will take that length of time for it to become thoroughly seasoned. The farmers will be slow to dispose of their stock, as they realize that they made a mistake last season by selling early. Shortly after the new crop came into the market a year ago hay sold as low as $10 per ton, but in three months from that time farmers could have received nearly double that price.

"I am afraid that the oat crop in this district will be almost a failure. The seed went into the ground in May, but the oats will not be ripe for two or three weeks yet. Most years during the period I have been engaged in farming here my oats have usually been in the ground the latter part of April or early in May, but this year no planting was done until June. I have looked over many of my neighbors' crops and I find none of them better than my own. The price of oats will be high this season, as the crops have suffered a serious setback in most of the farming districts in the Northwest.

"The potato crop promises to be fairly good, in spite of the fact that the seed went into the ground nearly a month later than usual. The stalks are just beginning to blossom and it may be nearly a month before the potatoes will be harvested in any quantity. I remember the time in Negaunee when we had new home potatoes on the fourth of July, but the stalks were hardly above the ground at that date this year. The price is not now as high as I anticipated it would be a few weeks ago, when old potatoes were selling at from seventy-five to eighty cents per bushel. When the new potatoes came in from the markets below they were selling at a reasonable price and it now looks as though the new stock will not command an extra large price, at least until after November, as the yield seems to be fairly good.

SEVERAL BIDS EXPECTED. The members of the board of education expect that at least ten or a dozen bids for the construction of the new high school will be received. Twelve or thirteen blue prints of the plans, with as many duplicate copies of the specifications, have been issued. The bids are now in the hands of contractors. Six of the blue prints were sent to the board here, two or three were given out from Architect Chubb's office in Chicago, one was sent to Minneapolis, one to Milwaukee and one to Marquette. It is expected that bids will be received from two of the biggest builders in the Northwest. The bids will be opened Aug. 22.

DEATH OF OLD CITIZEN. Mrs. Fred Bower, an old and well-known resident of Negaunee, died yesterday morning. For a number of years prior to three years ago the family lived at the Jackson location, but of late years has resided on Peck street. Mrs. Bower's husband died four years ago. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles Eisman of Marquette and Mrs. Thomas Curran of Negaunee. She also has two sisters living. Mrs. Frank Otto of this city and Mrs. Stenzel of Marquette. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Paul's church.

PLEASED WITH NEW ROAD.

Members of Negaunee Council Inspected Work on County Thoroughfare.

Mayor J. H. Winter, E. C. Anthony, chairman of the board of public works and the members of the street committee of the Negaunee council, Wednesday inspected the work being done by the city, and also by the county commission, on the road between Negaunee and Marquette. All were pleased with what they saw. One of the Negaunee men said yesterday that he had never seen a finer macadam road than the one being built by the county commission, and that when the work is completed to the Marquette city line the road will be as good as the streets in most of the cities in the upper peninsula. The commission has completed from three to four miles of the road east of the Morgan location and an effort is to be made to finish the improvement to the Marquette line before winter sets in. While the Negaunee end of the road is not being done in the same manner as that in charge of the road commission the surface will present a very good appearance. The city roller, which weighs over nineteen tons, is the heaviest in the county, and is being used to excellent advantage. The road is even better than the city officials expected to find. It will be given the finishing touches within three or four weeks. The work on the Queen road is at present at a standstill, though John Stuart, who is in charge, said yesterday that it will take only four or five weeks to finish the job. The road is passable, and Mr. Stuart has done a very satisfactory piece of work. His men have been quitting him gradually until Wednesday he had only two at work. Most of the workmen gave up their places to engage with the farmers, who are offering bigger wages during harvesting time. Mr. Stuart was in the city yesterday looking for men, but he found them scarce. With a crew of a half dozen men he can finish the road in four or five days.

FOUND MANY CHANGES. Old Resident of Negaunee Paid Visit to Home of His Boyhood. Thomas Williamson arrived home Wednesday from a visit to Sherbrooke, Canada, where he spent his boyhood. It was forty-three years from the time Mr. Williamson left Sherbrooke until his return to Negaunee. The place has undergone many changes. Practically everything that he remembered in the old town has been replaced by a new structure, and despite the fact that he made an effort to locate the people he remembered during the years he was in the city he only succeeded in finding seven. Mr. Williamson was nineteen years of age when he left Sherbrooke. The streets and the river were about the only thing that looked familiar to Mr. Williamson. When he left Sherbrooke the town had a population of 1,500, but there are now over 15,000 there, and the place is growing rapidly. It has an excellent street car system and many modern buildings have been erected during the past few years. A large number of factories have been established, and more are being built right along. Mr. Williamson believes that within a few years the population of Sherbrooke will be 25,000.

WILL BUILD NEW SCHOOL.

Martin Johnson, secretary of the school board of West Branch township, advertises for bids for the erection of a school, which the board desires to have completed and ready for use by Oct. 1. Plans and specifications can be seen at the home of Mr. Johnson in the township. The bids are to be opened on the fifth.

LOCAL LACONICS.

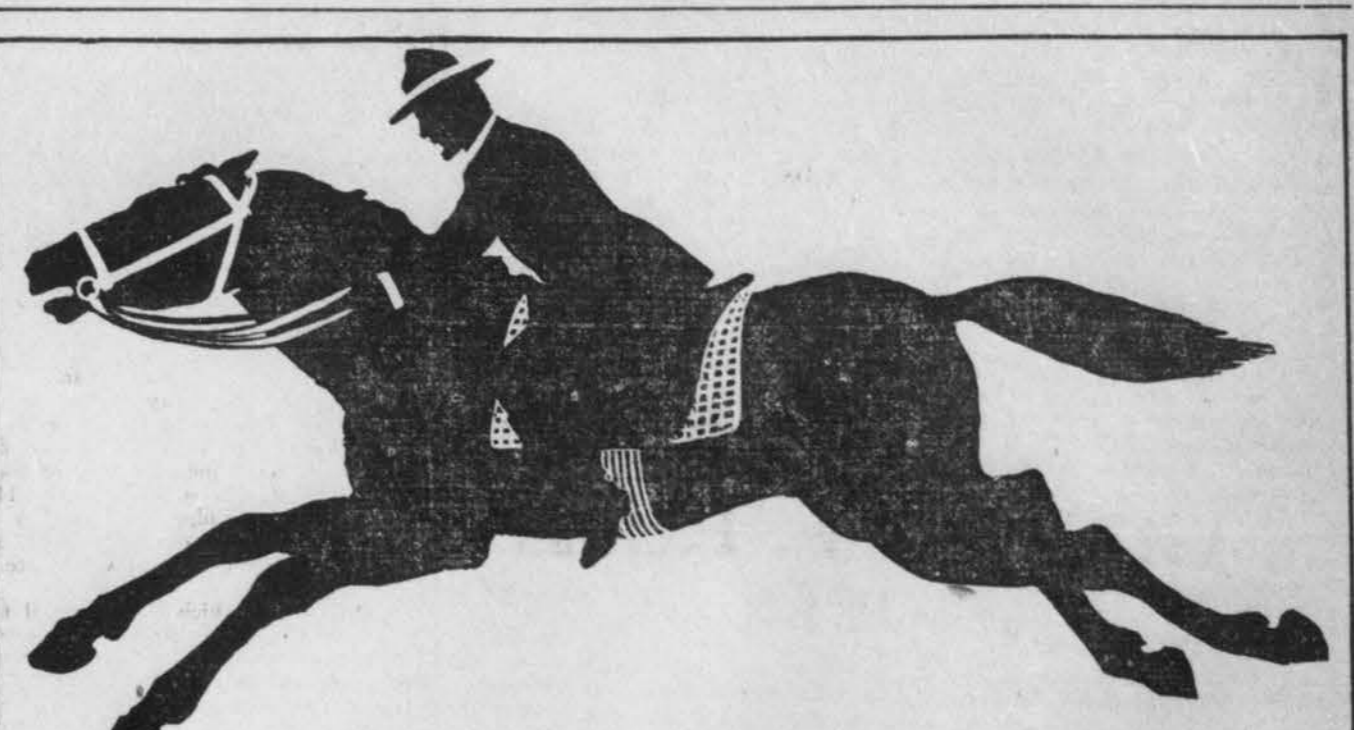

J. F. Wenck of Marinette looked after business in Negaunee yesterday. Miss Katherine Sullivan, who spent the past three weeks visiting relatives in Marquette, returned home Wednesday. She will resume her position at John Shea's store next week. The announcement that the Mesaba strike had been broken, as published in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal, was received with much satisfaction here, particularly those who have relatives working in that district. F. M. Curran, who has been at Goldfield, Nev., the past three months, is expected to arrive home within the next four or five days. For more than two weeks before he left Goldfield on his homeward journey he suffered from a severe attack of tonsillitis. The members of the Presbyterian church Sunday school society went to Cleveland park yesterday morning, but they were driven home again before noon by the rain. There were two bands of children in the party. Another outing will probably be enjoyed later. Ed. Lavigne, who was for some time in the employ of Anderson & Kilbride, the concrete walk builders, is working a crew in this city. He has taken the contract to put in walks on the north side of West Iron Street from Nicholas Laughlin's block to M. T. Murphy's building at the corner of Tobin street. Mr. Lavigne has had a number of years experience in the concrete walk work and he understands it thoroughly. John F. Allison, who recently closed his electric theater in the Sundberg block, has not yet received the consent of the insurance companies in which the building is insured to resume business. In case Mr. Allison opens the house again it will be established in the vacant store room in the block, immediately east of his jewelry store. His billiard and pool tables will be brought down from up stairs. The billiard hall on the second floor is an attractive place, the decorations having just been completed when the theater was closed.

Iron Notes

A boiler house intended to render service for all three properties is being erected on a central site at the Jones & Laughlin Steel company's Father Hennepin, Peace and Snyder mines, Gogebic range. The structure is being substantially constructed of brick and stone. The Steel Corporation is to build a fine hospital at Ironwood, metropolis of the Gogebic range, designed primarily for the benefit of mine employes. The building will occupy a site on East Averb street, and will be a handsome structure, a veritable ornament to the city. A. M. Wessinger, architect for the company, is now at work upon the plans. There has been unprecedented activity on the Mesaba this year in the way of the development of new deposits, as many a prospecting party has received orders for some fifty steam shovels for delivery this season. A considerable number of new prospectors have been added to the ship's crew, and next spring the range will be much better prepared than ever to fill the demands upon it. Among these new properties are Corrigan, McKinney & Co.'s St. James, at Aurora; the Consumers Ore company's Hanna, at Mount Pleasant; the Jones & Laughlin Steel company's Meadow and Fowler, near Aurora; Pickands, Mather & Co.'s Bangor and Syracuse, near Bivalvik; the New York State Steel company's Kellag, near McKinley, and the Larkin, at Virginia; the Republic Iron & Steel company's Monica adjoining the Kellogg; the Gogebic, Mariska and Waconah, and various mines of the Steel Corporation, including the big propositions being opened in the Celeraine district. A vast amount of drilling has been done, and a number of very important ore bodies have been located, not the least of which are in the vicinity of the Bangor and Syracuse mines in the Lake Embarras district. George A. St. Clair of Duluth, who, having perfected title to the tract, is preparing to reopen the old Nordstrom mine in the Felen Mountain district of the Mesaba range, has acquired another old-time property in that district. This latter is the Metropolitan, which has been idle for a score of years. It was a mine of much promise at one time, the ore being of very good grade, still which it has a record as a producer to the extent of 107,000 tons it took it seven years to achieve it. Nevertheless, it was the principal mine of the Felen Mountain district when mines were working there. Mr. St. Clair will explore the property in systematic manner. The Metropolitan was opened in 1882 and closed in 1888. It made no money for its former owner, the Metropolitan Iron & Land company, but that concern secured control of the big Norrie mines on the Gogebic, the greatest underground iron property ever opened, now operated by the Steel Corporation, and has made big profits from its iron mining ventures. The timber lands of the company in the district near the Metropolitan have also proved profitable. Mr. St. Clair has a number of other prop-

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

INDIGESTION. Show me a person who suffers from indigestion or dyspepsia and I will show you a person with the meanest disposition on earth. You can't blame them. Nothing in the world takes all the cheer and brightness out of life like a balky stomach. People who suffer in this way feel out of humor, out of sorts and irritable all the time. They can't eat a meal without suffering intensely afterward. Their faces are usually covered with pimples and blotches. They always have headache, constipation, are tired and listless and as many whom I have talked to put it just like mean and bad all over. They are always dosing themselves on pills and pre-digested foods and the like until they have so weakened their stomachs that they can't eat anything. It's all nonsense. I have seen and talked with people who had lived for months on milk and toast, take a bottle or two of Cooper's New Discovery and inside of two weeks sit down and eat a big meal at night then go to bed and sleep as well as any one. Here is one case I have in mind. Mrs. Ellen Keogh, 1907 Ogden Ave., Superior, Wis., recently wrote me: "No one knows what awful suffering I have endured from indigestion. My stomach would not digest the simplest foods and no matter what I ate I would be sure to suffer afterward. I was also constipated and had queer dizzy spells and frightful headaches. Oft times I felt so badly that I could scarcely walk. I had taken Cooper's New Discovery but a short time when I noticed a decided improvement. Now I can truthfully say I feel greatly improved in every way and today for the first time in ten years I enjoyed a hearty meal. I am indeed very grateful to you."

Cobalt Gossip

The King Edward Mining company has now a $100,000 worth of ore ready for the market. This is all in 3,000 sacks. Six cars of ore were shipped out of the camp last week, all of which total 167 tons. Four of the cars were shipped by the Coniags, one by the Lalloes and one by the Buffalo. Superintendent Drummond of the Nipissing Mining company says that more than 300 men are now at work on the company's properties. The largest force which the company ever had at work numbered between 300 and 370 men. Operations were not seriously hindered at the Nipissing property even when the strike of miners in the Cobalt region was at its height for at no time were there less than 200 men engaged in mining and development operations. One shipment has just been made by the company to an eastern refinery which was valued at $125,000. The deepest part of the Nipissing is now approximately 100 feet. RESIDENTS OF NORTH SIDE MAKE DEMANDS

RESOLUTION ASKING FOR WATER SUPPLY IS LAID BEFORE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.

MANY SPEAKERS STATE VIEWS

Committee Named at Recent Meeting of Commercial Club Lays Matter Before Board—No Reply Made.

In the presence of a body of North side residents and representatives of concerns located in that part of the city, the committee of the Queen City Commercial club named at the recent meeting of that body for the purpose of meeting with the board of water commissioners to ask that water be supplied to the North side, placed the matter before the board.

Resolutions Adopted. After a number of addresses had been made the following resolution was adopted by those who attended the meeting, and was laid before the board:

Resolved, That it is the sense of those present that the local assessment plan of meeting the expense of laying water mains is unfair to the newer parts of the city not already supplied, and that the system of meeting such expense out of the general water fund ought to be continued as heretofore done.

And resolved further that the board of fire and water commissioners be and they are earnestly requested to act in accordance with the foregoing resolution and that they take steps to put in the water mains now needed at the earliest practicable time.

Those Who Spoke. Each member of the commercial club committee which is composed of M. E. Asire, Amos Saladin and Carl F. Wittler spoke briefly and others who made addresses were: J. E. Sherman, who nominated Mayor Harrison who was made chairman of the body asking for the improvement, A. E. Miller, A. Hornstein, H. H. Williams, Joseph Neidhart, Alderman Schauer and J. E. Ball.

The position of those seeking the improvement was fully set forth in a communication addressed to the board by D. H. Ball who was not present at the meeting. The communication, the text of which follows, was read by his son, J. E. Ball.

"In behalf of the owners of the Ayer additions, the Longyear addition, Marquette Land company addition No. 2 and the Towar addition to the city of Marquette, I wish to present some considerations in support of the request of these proprietors that the water mains and facilities for fire protection be extended to the additions mentioned, and on the same principles and terms that such extensions have heretofore been made.

The northerly Ayer addition, the Marquette Land company addition No. 2 and the Towar addition are entirely without water supply and without fire protection, being beyond the extremity of the mains which have so far been laid. As to the other additions mentioned, the mains extend far enough, but some of the houses situated there are without water supply or fire protection for the reason that they are off from the streets on which the mains have so far been laid.

The Need. The necessity and importance of such supply to these buildings is so apparent that it is entirely unnecessary to argue that question. On the northerly Ayer addition, the Towar addition and the Marquette Land company addition No. 2 there have been already about sixty dwellings built, which are occupied by that number of families. Others are buying lots and making preparations to build, so that the settled portion of the city is quite rapidly extending in that direction. As a measure of health it is absolutely necessary that these people have a supply of good wholesome water.

The original act creating your board provided that the commission should have power to lay pipes in and through all the streets and alleys of the village. That of course contemplated that such pipes should be laid in all the streets and alleys of the village where they were reasonably required. It left to the judgment of the board the question of the necessity of pipes being laid, and where they were necessary. The act of course provided for the payment of the expense either by general taxation or by issuing bonds which should be a charge against the entire property of the city, or as far as the same might be done of course out of the revenues of the water works.

The Resolution. There was no provision for raising the money for the expense in any other way until the act of the legislature of May 14, 1905, which provides that when extensions are made your board may assess such portion of the expense as it thinks proper and just upon the lots and property to be benefited by the extension. Under the authority of that act it appears that your board in October, 1905, passed a resolution stating that as a general principle in extending mains hereafter, the policy would be to assess such portion of the cost of such improvements as your board should deem equitable upon the lots and property to be benefited and improved.

In the case of the extension which is now asked for, would it be just and equitable to assess any portion of the expense of the improvement upon the lots and parcels of real estate to be benefited by it? Up to the present time every extension of the water mains, every improvement that has been made by your board, every expense that has been incurred for the purpose of furnishing a water supply and fire protection to any portion of the city, has been at the general expense of the city, and has been paid for either by taxes raised on the property of the entire city, by money realized from the sale of bonds which are a charge against the property of the entire city, or by the expenditure of the revenues arising from the water rates, being the income of the property belonging to the entire city which has been paid for by the city as a whole. New additions have been made since the inauguration of the water works. In fact all that part of the city lying north of Hewitt avenue, and a considerable portion of it lying south of Hewitt avenue, was new, unsettled country at the time of the establishment of the water works, and for many years thereafter.

Paid Pro Rata. Of course that property, when the water works were being constructed, paid its pro rata share of the expense thereof, or so much of it as was raised by taxes. It paid its pro rata share of whatever taxes had to be raised for interest on bonds and for such portion of the expense of operation as was not met by the revenues of the system. Recognizing that fact, the board of fire and water commissioners, when new plats came to be made and lots settled up, extended the principal mains and the side mains so as to furnish and supply all these people with water and fire protection.

Now settlements have extended still farther and are extending with considerable rapidity. The property now being settled up, being the additions above mentioned, are in need of water supply and fire protection the same as the other parts of the city mentioned were before. This property has always paid its ratable proportion of all the expense of establishing the water works and of their support, and has paid its regular proportion of the taxes levied annually for fire protection, although up to this time it has never received any benefit whatever.

Taxes. Up to and including 1903, the taxes that were raised for fire purposes and for the water works were included in the general city tax. From that time on it has been levied as a fire and water tax, in accordance with the provisions of the act of 1903. But under whatever name the tax has been levied, these properties have paid their ratable proportion of it ever since the water works were first established, something like forty years ago. Now that the lots are being settled and improved, and dwellings erected on them, the burden of taxation will be greater. Every house built and occupied by a family will be taxed for its proportion of fire protection the same as any other property within the city. Is it not entitled to the benefits of that fire protection?

It may be that for one or two or three years the revenues arising from the water rates will not be sufficient to pay a reasonable income on the investment necessary to make the extension. That, however, is not and should not be a controlling principle in the establishment and extension of public works.

Too Late to Object. It seems that after the property now reached by the water mains and benefited by the water system of the city has got its water supply and fire protection at the expense of all the property within the city, it is too late for the inhabitants so enjoying the benefits of the water system obtained in that way to object to the further extension of the same benefits, when reasonably required to be paid for without requiring the new settlers to submit to a special tax to be levied upon their homes and the other property to be also subjected to a special tax to be levied upon their homes and the other property to be also subjected to a special assessment, all in addition to the general tax which they, in common with all the property of the city, have to pay as a fire and water tax.

It is not just at this time, after this property has helped to build up and maintain the water works for all these years, for the benefit of the whole city, to now require that, as a condition of extending these benefits to this property, it shall be taxed for the expense of it, besides being compelled to pay taxes and water rates for the use of it.

At the conclusion of the discussion, Chairman Palmer of the board stated that the improvement asked for meant a heavy expense to the city and it was for that reason that the board is acting slowly in the matter. No definite reply to the demands of the property owners was made by the board, but it was stated that the question would be dealt with at their next meeting.

BOY IS VICTIM OF POWDER EXPLOSION

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD HAROLD BECKMAN TRIED TO REPRODUCE FOURTH OF JULY AND IS PAINFULLY INJURED.

Eleven-year-old Harold Beckman, who dropped a lighted match into a tin of powder in a St. Luke's hospital suffering with painful burns about his face and the upper part of his body. Dr. S. M. James, who is attending him, stated last night that the boy will be injured.

The accident took place yesterday morning at the boy's home on Harrison street. Unconscious of the dangerous nature of the plaything he had chosen, he undertook to reproduce some of the fireworks he had seen on the Fourth of July. When he dropped the match into the powder, the explosion shattered the glass, fragments of which were blown in all directions. A number of them were imbedded in his face and the hand in which he held the bottle was badly lacerated.

He was hurled to the ground and when he was picked up it was feared that the sight of both of his eyes had been destroyed. When he was examined at the hospital, however, it was found that by strange good fortune his eyes had escaped, but it was necessary to remove a large number of the pieces of glass from his face and arms.

The bride, whose home is in Owendosso, is a sister of Mrs. Shanafelt and has a number of Marquette acquaintances. The home of the groom is in Jackson, Mich.

After the ceremony last night the couple left for Houghton where their future home is to be located.

ARCHITECTS FOR NORMAL. Local Firm Begins Work on Heating Plant Soon to Be Installed.

Charlton & Kuenzli have been named architects of the Normal school and have begun work on the new heating plant which is being installed. The plant is to be built under the hill north of the buildings of the school and, it is planned, will be completed by the winter of 1908. The structure for which $30,000 was appropriated at the last session of the legislature, will heat all the buildings of the school from the outside.

A tunnel is to be built from the heating plant extending the length of the buildings in the rear and from this lateral tunnels are to run into the building. Hot water pipes will run through the tunnels. In the work the firm has associated itself with Professor O. F. Hood of the Michigan College of Mines at Houghton who is to have charge of the mechanical engineering part of the construction. Professor Hood is of the department of mechanical engineering of the college of mines.

CROWD GOES TO SEE MONSTER LAKE TROUT

FISHERMEN REPORT CAPTURE AND THEN PRODUCE THE GOODS—A TRUE FISH STORY.

The biggest trout that has been caught in Lake Superior near Marquette for years was brought in yesterday by the tug Columbia commanded by Captain Hugh Malloy, for the Anderson fish house, and throughout the day yesterday employees at the establishment were busy telling of the capture to hundreds of visitors who came to see the big fish.

Its Size. The trout some hours after it was taken from the water weighed forty-nine and a quarter pounds. It measured three feet seven inches in length, six inches through the body from side to side and twelve and a half inches in width. The fish's head was ten and a half inches in length, and its tail had a spread of fourteen inches. The length of its front fins were each seven and a half inches.

It was netted in 120 feet of water off Starnard rock, about forty-five miles off shore. With it, an unusually heavy catch of big fish were brought to the surface, among them a half dozen which weighed between twenty and thirty pounds. Besides one fifteen pound white fish was caught.

Fish Stories. Pioneers relate that in the early days of the port, the catch of a fifty pound lake trout was commonplace, and it is stated that in 1868 a trout which weighed ninety-two pounds was captured. In the memory of the younger generation, however, the Columbia's catch ranks far and away bigger than anything that has been brought into port within the past two decades.

How much conditions in lake fishing have changed within the past fifty years, both in the size of fish taken, and in quantity, is best told by those who knew the port in its early days.

8,000 Pounds in Hour. F. B. Spear yesterday said that in 1869 the Y. M. C. A. ran an excursion to Starnard rock from Marquette on the old sidewheel steamer, Toledo. The steamer carried fourteen small boats from which the excursionists fished and Mr. Spear relates that within one hour 8,000 lake trout were taken by the entire party. The entire catch he said was sold to John Rodgers, a dealer for $10.

The big fish which the Anderson people caught yesterday was sent last night in a special shipment to Chicago where for the next few days it will probably decorate some show window.
