

SMALL CALLS OUT ALL UNION MEN

Threatened General Strike Order Is Issued by the President of the Commercial Telegraphers' Organization.

Eleven Thousand Operators in All Have Deserted Their Keys, and One Hundred Cities Are Directly Affected—Business Continues Badly Demoralized, and Mean-While There Are as Yet No Prospects of an Early Settlement of the Trouble.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—President Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' union today issued his threatened general strike order. It came out all union operators except those working on union contracts. The strike now directly embraces one hundred cities, and some 11,000 men are out. The commercial wire business the country over continues demoralized, although it cannot be said that the conditions are worse than have been the case the past few days. As yet the prospects of an early settlement appear dubious. The strikers manifest a determined spirit, as do the companies, and tonight finds little prospect of any immediate adjustment.

No progress was made today by certain labor leaders who have intervened to bring about arbitration. President Small met Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, and Labor Commissioner Neill during the day, but tonight he said that it was only in a social way.

Strike Given Official Sanction. New York, Aug. 16.—Interest in the telegraph strike centered today in the probable effect of the general strike order issued by President Small, of the national union, and which called upon all operators employed by the commercial companies and those working private and leased wires not under union contracts to go out.

Throughout the East there were few if any responses to the call. This was explained on the ground that all operators who would strike had already quit work, and here the strike order was given importance only as affecting official sanction of the action already taken by the strikers without previous approval of the national officers.

JUDGE URGES LIFE TERM. Chicago Jurist Scores Man Accused of Attacking Girl.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—With the assertion that if it lay in his power he would send the prisoner to prison for the rest of his natural life, Municipal Judge Dicker of the Warren avenue branch court, held Nicholas Santon, aged forty-one years, to the grand jury under $15,000 bonds on three serious charges preferred by Angelina Bozzo, aged fourteen years, of 153 Forquer street. According to the girl's story, corroborated by the policeman who arrested Santon, the latter enticed the girl from her home by offers of candy and fruit.

HORSE TEARS BOY TO PIECES. Child Becomes Tangled in Halter and Is Fearfully Mangled.

Oconto, Wis., Aug. 16.—Fred Schiller, a young son of Gottfried Schiller, a farmer of this county, was the victim of a fearful accident, leading a horse to pasture, the boy's neck became entangled in the halter, a small chain, and the frightened animal dragged the screaming lad over a field of stumps for half a mile. When the undertaker was called he found the father, distracted with grief, holding the head of the child in his arms. The mother lay in another room in a deep swoon. The undertaker was unable to find more than one-half of the body of the child.

FIRE DESTROYS BIG MILL. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 16.—A dispatch from Blind River says the Dominion Timber company's plant was destroyed today, with 2,000,000 feet of lumber. FLYER IS DITCHED Passengers on Fast Train on the C., B. & Q. Escape Death as if by a Miracle.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—The Burlington railroad's California Limited, No. 6, due here at 9:30 o'clock last night, while racing eastward at a rate of fifty miles an hour, jumped the track near Russell, Ia., yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Four coaches, including the buffet-smoker, the dining car, and two observation cars, filled with passengers, left the rails and plunged into a ditch. The passengers all had miraculous escapes, no one being killed and but fifteen being injured. At the time the train left the track, which, it is believed, was caused by spreading rails, a number of the passengers were just finishing luncheon in the diner. A panic ensued, in which men and women fought to get through car windows, jagged with broken glass. Many suffered severely lacerated hands in making their escape.

MYSTERY MUST KEEP 93 YEARS. Strange Envelope in Custody of State Bears Order It Be Opened in 2000.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 16.—Ninety-three years must pass before the veil of mystery may be lifted from an envelope which was today laid before the state board of revenue commissioners by the state treasurer. It has been in the custody of the treasurer's office since 1881, when it was sent to the capitol bearing across its face the injunction that it was not to be opened until July 4, in the year 2000, when its contents should be applied to the state debt.

COSTLY GEMS STOLEN BURGLARS MAKE HAUL IN NEW JERSEY.

Mansion of Count Seckendorf of Ramseys Is Raided and Precious Stones Valued at More Than $35,000 Are Taken.

New York, Aug. 16.—Diamonds and other precious stones valued at more than $35,000 were stolen yesterday from the mansion of Count Seckendorf, Ramseys, N. J. The house was entered by some one familiar with the premises. The burglar ransacked the upper floor of the house but did not touch thousands of dollars' worth of silverware which had been stored on the first floor. The countess' jewel case was stolen, as well as all of the jewelry of the count. Both were in the mansion at the time. The matter was reported to the police of Hackensack, who sent out an alarm for a servant formerly employed in the household. Count Seckendorf is a brother of the nobleman of the same name who was court marshal of the late Empress Frederick. Shortly before her death she was said to have contracted a morganatic marriage with him. In her will she left him $2,000,000 marks. The Kaiser, however, denied the marriage.

VACATION STOPS A STRIKE. Thread Company Allows Employees a Two Weeks' Holiday.

New York, Aug. 16.—The Clark Thread company will close its mills and give all its employees a vacation in order to avoid a strike that was threatened by operators, who complained that they were tired out. The Clark company, which employs several thousand hands in its mills on both sides of the Passaic river, has posted a notice to the effect that the Newark mill will close from Aug. 24 until Sept. 3, while the mill in Kearny will close on the same day and remain closed until Sept. 10. The demand for vacations has become so great that the company finds it would almost empty the mills to grant all the applications, so it has decided to let all the hands rest at once.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION PUTS TOWN IN PANIC. Jamesville, Wis., Aug. 16.—Several thousand gallons of gasoline in the Standard Oil company's tank at Broadhead, Wis., exploded tonight, destroying the tank and causing a panic in the town. A passenger train was near by when the explosion occurred. All the car windows were broken. No one was injured.

PORCUPINES KILL HEMLOCK TREES. Escanaba, Mich., Aug. 16.—A woods cruiser, after inspecting a tract of timber forty miles north of the city, estimates that one-half of the standing hemlock on 500 acres of land has been killed by porcupines. The district is overrun with the little animals, which in the early spring months of each year have clipped off the budding foliage, killing the trees, until now there are more dead than live timber on the tract.

PAPER MILLS IN BIG COMBINE International Company of New York to Take Over the Leading Plants in Wisconsin, Michigan and Wisconsin.

International Company of New York to Take Over the Leading Plants in Wisconsin, Michigan and Wisconsin. Sales Are Practically Made, and Mean, It Is Said, That Within a Year's Time the Print Paper Market Will Be in Control of a Gigantic Monopoly—Pulp Mills Are Included, and the Deal Runs Far Up in the Millions.

Appleton, Wis., Aug. 16.—The secret of a big paper mill merger leaked out today when the positive statement was made by one of the most prominent paper and pulp manufacturers in the Middle West that the International Paper company of New York was securing control of the western print paper, manilla, fiber, sulphite and pulp mills, and that within one year this company, now incorporated under the laws of New York, will control the print paper market of the United States.

Will Control Supply. There are seventy-eight print paper mills in the United States. The International Paper company, organized in February, 1898, when John G. Hanrahan merged the interests of the mills in the East, now owns thirty mills in the East and has secured options on thirty paper mills in the West, leaving only eighteen print mills in the country, most of which are affiliated with the Great Northern Paper company.

Prices of "Print" to Advance. An officer of the former General Paper company, the alleged trust, has been quoted several times as saying that the press of the country which fought the General Paper company would regret its action within two years after the so-called trust was dissolved by Judge Sanborn of St. Paul on June 1, 1906, and it is believed his prediction will prove true, as it is said today that as soon as the impending merger is completed the price of print paper will be increased to almost double the present market price and there will be no way of preventing it.

Some Will Sell Outright. Several manufacturers are said to have already reached an agreement as to the prices for their mills and will sell out for cash and retire from the business, while others will take stock in the new company for the value of their plants as placed by the appraisers.

Take in Auxiliary Mills. Most of the thirty print and fiber mills in Wisconsin and Michigan in Minnesota on which options are said to have been secured, have ground wood pulp and sulphite plants in connection, with a daily output of 1,243 tons of print or manilla paper, 420 tons of sulphite and 876 tons of ground and wood pulp. In addition to these mills there are ten pulp mills in this state with a daily capacity of 124 tons of ground wood pulp and 108 tons of sulphite on which options are said to have been secured and several other mills are now being offered to the International Paper company without solicitation.

EASTERN STATE IS BATTLEGROUND Delaware the Scene of a Great Temperance War Which Will Not End Until the Polls Close in November.

Delaware the Scene of a Great Temperance War Which Will Not End Until the Polls Close in November. Neither the Republican nor the Democratic Party as an Organization Is Taking Part, but Leaders in Both Have Buried the Hatchet and Are Fighting Together to Eliminate the Liquor Traffic—Churches and Organized Women Aid.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 16.—Delaware is now engaged in a great temperance fight which, when it closes at the polls next November, will decide whether the state will fall in line behind the southern states that have gone "dry." In this campaign party lines have been broken and leaders in both the Democratic and Republican parties are fighting together to eliminate liquor from the commonwealth.

Neither the Republican nor the Democratic party as an organization is taking part. The strong men, leaders of experience in both parties, have buried the hatchet, and are fighting side by side to make the state "dry." The liquor men are concentrating their efforts to try to save Wilmington, where they think they have a fighting chance to win.

The legislature at the last session, by a large majority, decided to submit the question whether the state should be "wet" or "dry" to the people. The state was divided into four districts and the vote in each will be counted separately. The liquor men tried to prevent this and maintained a large lobby, but the sentiment expressed by the assembly was that the majority of the people in the districts surely had the right to say whether there should be liquor sold in their districts or not. This victory for the prohibitionists, one for which they had been fighting for years with no success, added strength to the "dry" movement.

MARQUETTE, MICH., AUG. 17.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

There was no crowding to the pie counter for the office of controller. The present day Marquette politician appears to be sadly decadent.

The suits in which Mrs. Eddy is the central figure have at least had the result of determining in an official manner that Mrs. Eddy is alive. That's something.

The president is of the opinion that both Wall Street, in its present tantrums, and the telegraphers' strike will be able to get along without his dipping in.

The knowledge that its work will have to be excellent and thoroughly well considered if it is to count for anything at all will furnish the constitutional convention with one strong incentive to high class effort.

There appears to have been some misunderstanding between the mayor and Mr. McCarthy regarding the office of controller. The office of mayor must be accepted at the incumbent's risk of having numerous of these little misunderstandings.

No one has proposed a presidential boom for Secretary Bonaparte. By common consent what he needs is a muzzle. The opinion is getting abroad that he is too much of an alarmist for the portfolio of attorney general and that he would be more safely disposed of had he been allowed to have remained in the navy.

The telegraphers' strike is not wholly effective. A little news filters over the wires to the newspapers and some commercial business is being done. However, at that it is effective enough to have thoroughly disorganized the business usually done by the means of the wires and to have united public sentiment in the opinion that it is a big nuisance.

The question of main extension to North Marquette is beginning to take on tangible proportions. It appears to be a question of whether the extension desired shall be made entirely at the expense of the general fund or partly at the expense of benefited property. Presently it will be fully outlined and people will be able to pass on it intelligently.

Philadelphia and New York, between them, have opened up a considerable bit of space in the percentage column between the present position of the Detroit team and first place. Detroit has no fault to find either, as it was fairly defeated in the critical games. However, it continues strongly in the running, and may again presently top the heap. Certainly it has as much business there as Philadelphia, or Cleveland, or Chicago. When it comes to baseball form its present aggregation does not have to take a back seat for any of them.

There have been a number of robberies of copper country dental rooms similar in their general nature to the raiding of a Marquette dentist's office a few weeks ago. It is probable that the same man, or number of men, did the work. It would be advisable for dentists in other upper peninsula towns, not already visited to keep their supplies of gold in a secure place, and also to have their offices watched. It is probable that the men who picked out the Marquette and copper country dentists as easy prey will extend their attentions to members of the profession in other upper peninsula cities.

Among the candidates nominated for the constitutional convention are a large number of high class men. Others who might be placed in this category were turned down for candidates inferior to them in point of availability for the service required. There are some prospective delegates who are known as professional politicians, and a liberal sprinkling of "machine" men, as they are loosely designated. Some lower Michigan papers are disposed to speak sarcastically and caustically of the candidates, as a whole, but it's a matter of habit with them. As a matter of fact the personnel of the convention promises to be excellent, and one that will warrant considerable confidence that a sane constitution will be evolved.

The produce men are among the greatest sufferers from the strike of telegraphers. Dealing in perishable products, they find the mails utterly inadequate for their business, and the long distance telephone is an unsatisfactory substitute for the telegraph which is only available in a part of their territory. The produce men are unable to quickly send their perishable stock to the best markets and are unable to communicate quickly and certainly with their customers, on whom the strike weighs as heavily as it does on the wholesale dealers. The loss in the Chicago market chargeable to the strike is alone figured at $890,000 daily, and it is but a small part of the total loss, for produce men and the retailers all over the country are losing large sums as a result of the trouble.

It is to be feared that in the heat of discussion over the question of water supply for North Marquette the major question of improving the conditions surrounding the general supply for the city is being overlooked. The crocodile nuisance has not been disposed of; it is not urgent for the time being because the winds minimize it and there are no heavy storms to stir up the lake. When the water board outlines its position in regard to extensions of mains to North Marquette, let it also tell the public what it is doing, or proposes to do, in regard to this other matter. The announcement that the board will make a statement of its position in regard to the North Marquette extensions, and its reasons therefor, is a gratifying one. Such a statement could have come with excellent grace earlier, and if it had it would have spared the board part of the criticism and publicity that some of its members have been inclined to take umbrage at.

The railroads are revising their schedules of fares in accordance with the new rate laws in this state and Wisconsin. Already lower fares have been introduced for trips between upper peninsula towns and Milwaukee, Chicago and intermediate points. The new basis of travel will be three cents a mile for upper peninsula mileage and two cents a mile on all the principal railroads of both lower Michigan and Wisconsin. For travelers in the upper peninsula who are accustomed to buy tickets for single trips the saving will be 25 per cent; for users of mileage the change will make no difference. In the aggregate, however, taking local traffic between upper peninsula points and the traffic between lower Michigan and Wisconsin points, the lower rates are going to mean a big saving for the traveling public. They should, to some extent, stimulate travel, though whether they will do this in large enough measure to make up to the railroads the difference in fares is a thing that is perhaps doubtful.

It has been justly commented that there has been too much loose talking by officials of the government during the past two weeks of unsettled market conditions. As prominent an official as Secretary Bonaparte has been guilty of this indiscretion, and there have been several minor offenders. Officials have been quoted as intimating that the government is going out gunning for trusts promiscuously, when there is no likelihood that this is the case. It is proper for officials to talk, if they wish to, about facts and cases actually in progress, but it is plainly out of place for them to frighten investors and the general public with bugaboos of prosecution that it is more than likely won't materialize, unless they want to play into the hand of the bear contingent that has already unduly depressed values. They are probably not desirably doing this, though their indiscreet talk certainly has had that effect. It is ill advised utterances of officials that will, if anything can, set in motion an unfavorable current of opinion in regard to the administration's plans and policies.

TWO WEEKS OF IT. Two weeks ago today Judge Landis fixed his fine of $29,400,000 against the Standard Oil in the Alton rebate cases. As he reached that part of his opinion where the amount of the fine was mentioned, dozens of agents of speculators and brokers dove for the doors of the court, to send the news speeding to the New York exchange. However, it was received too late to influence stock prices in the day's market to any extent. The opening of the show was reserved for Monday.

Monday prices began to be shaded, and they have been going off, with brief breathing spells, ever since. For both speculators and investors the past two weeks hold little that they will care to remember. They have seen standard securities decline to prices lower than they have reached at any time before in the past decade. They have, in many instances, seen "coppers" fall off to figures representing no more than half of their value at the high point for the year. Rarely before has such a slaughter of values been compressed into such a short space of time.

Needless to say, Judge Landis' fine was not the cause of all the shakout. It was the occasion, perhaps, of the declining movement, but the cause has been, in a general way, lack of confidence in the immediate future, due to the aggressive attitude the officials of the government have taken against big corporations that have violated the laws and to the radical nature of much recent legislation on the subject of corporations. These things, combined with the uncertainty over the copper metal situation and the telegraphers' strike as a culminating trouble, made a situation most inviting for an irresistible bear movement, and once the thing got under way it rapidly helped itself along, as declining prices lessened the sufficiency of margins and in its turn forced stock on an already overloaded market.

The air is not yet clear. There has been no recovery to speak of. The markets are nervous and easily subject to further depression. That prices are very low for all good securities goes without saying, yet none of the brokers are urging their clients into the market, advising them, instead, to wait until the atmosphere is somewhat cleared up. By waiting they may lose a few points in stocks they may purchase, but it should be worth a few points to finally know that the worst is past. As for present prices it seems that they have discounted so many bad things that they ought to be the bottom prices. However, that is an essentially different thing from saying that they are bottom.

FOR FEDERAL CONTROL. Senator Burrows filed a telegram at Kalamazoo the other day, but the Western Union could make no promise as to when it would be delivered. Now Senator Burrows is listed among the men who believe in the federal control of the telegraph service. It is doubtless unfair to conclude that the little personal inconvenience he suffered brought him to this stand. He has probably given much thought to the question involved, and his personal experience with the annoyances caused by a prostrated telegraph service simply furnished the occasion for an expression of his views.

"The time is ripe," he says, "for the government to take steps to establish a postal telegraph system in conjunction with the present mail system, in order to prevent a repetition of the present interruption of the service. I can't say which would be better; for the government to purchase the present systems or to construct one of its own. Anyway the government rates would be lower than the present rates and in a short time the government would be getting the bulk of the business and the public would be insured excellent service. There was considerable agitation of this question at one time; I think John Wamaker presented it to congress, and I believe that the present trouble with the telegraph service will result in its being re-opened."

The expressions credited to Senator Burrows have been in a great many papers the past few days. Untold financial loss and interruption of business affairs has been occasioned by the interruption of the telegraphic service, and the end is not yet. As a means of communication the telegraph lines are as important as the mails, for if the business done by means of them is less in volume than that done through the mails it is vastly more important and urgent, while there is much business done by wire that, in the nature of things, cannot be done otherwise. Government control obviates all danger of interruption of the mails except by causes over which men have no control. Strikes come and go, and the mail trains are not suffered to be interfered with. Unless there is a speedy settlement of the telegraphers' strike it will give rise to a general demand by the people for legislation providing a telegraph service which will be as immune from interruption by labor troubles as is the mail service today. No hesitancy about the wisdom of federal ownership or control will be allowed to influence people against this demand if they find that the security of

INDEPENDENCE MENACED.

Margin of Profit of New York Dailies Now Very Small—A Subsidized Press Impending?

There are over 23,000 newspapers in the United States and yet there is no other business in regard to which such dense ignorance prevails as to cost and profit of production, The Wall Street Journal says.

It is a matter of public concern, for the character of the American press for its future influence as the protector of American liberty depends upon it. Some extremely important facts have been given in a brief submitted by John Norris on behalf of the publishers.

Mr. Norris does not hesitate to say that there is a larger menace back of the daily newspaper press of New York than the most serious menace that ever confronted it. An additional burden of $3,000,000 a year in the expense account of sixteen daily newspapers constitutes the menace, but there is a larger menace back of these figures. This $3,000,000 includes $2,160,000 for white paper, $600,000 additional for compositors, $200,000 additional for stereotypers, and $100,000 additional for other labor. No more than four papers out of the sixteen could make both ends meet upon such terms. These sixteen papers pay $1,500,000 a year tribute to organized labor, the additional cost of a closed shop over an open one.

Ninety per cent of all newspaper circulation in New York city is on the one paper, the New York Times. Its advertising rate is also on a declining rate. Since 1895 the earning power per column of most of the New York papers has been reduced. A powerful combination of dry goods merchants has operated to reduce the line charge. This dry goods combination stayed out of the world for several months, boycotted the Sun at the time of its labor trouble, and has been out of the Times for about four years. When the New York World reduced the price of its paper from two cents to one cent it gained 90,000 circulation in three weeks, but gave up $1,000 a day, $312,000 a year in revenue and added at least $500 a day to its expenses. That meant a loss of $450,000 a year in gross revenue. The New York Times is prospering, but its profit for a long period would not pay for the additional cost on its new building, and upon it by the many unions in fights to which the Times was not a party. These fights added $338,000 to the cost of construction. The Herald is a three-cent paper and can afford many extravaganzas, but there are extortions beyond which one-cent papers cannot go. The demands are verging upon the point of putting up some newspaper shutters. The New York World pays out $2,500,000 a year for labor, and the remarkable fact is stated that there are 1,000 men in the city who can receive over $1,500 a year. The news dealers make a profit of $1,500,000 every year from its sale. The smallest share goes to the newspaper capital.

Mr. Norris adds that the daily newspaper business is the most precarious venture that can be devised. The most highly prosperous spends more than 80 per cent of its revenue in its operating expenses, while most of the papers show deficits. The newspaper percentage of profit is less than that of any other manufacturing enterprise. For every $1,000 of increased business gained by at least one paper more than $1,000 has been paid out to get it. In ten years the New York World's expenses increased 40 per cent, and its earning power decreased fully as much.

Such facts as these are staggering. Unless conditions change they point to very important changes in the character of the newspaper press. The liberty of the press is one of the safeguards of our civilization. Independence is best maintained by the greatest newspaper for profit. Any other method of operation simply means a subsidized press. Joseph Pulitzer, when he learned the cost of cutting down the price of his paper from two cents to one cent, declared, "I prefer power to profit." Either a newspaper is to be conducted for profit or else it becomes dependent upon some rich man like Mr. Pulitzer, who is willing to conduct it, for the power it gives him, or else upon some rich man like Mr. Hearst for political opportunity, or else it is controlled by the great corporations like the Standard Oil company. This is the greater menace.

The McKinley-Darragh mine is very busy. Work on the Kendall vein is proceeding rapidly. Cross-cutting has proceeded for a hundred feet to an average depth of fifteen feet. From six tons of this ore an assay was made giving 12,000 ounces to the ton. The vein is also heavy with nicotite. A Cobalt correspondent writes: The strike situation is little more exciting than it has been during the past two weeks. The capture of the 37 Nova Scotians who were to have worked at the mines here is considered a signal triumph for the union. Their baggage is still held at the station, as the agent who hired them still holds the checks. The agent declared that if the men would come one by one he would let them have their belongings.

ROCKLAND GAS COMPANY.

Ontonagon Mining Town Will Have an Illuminating Plant.

The organization of the Rockland Gas Light & Heat company was partially perfected at a meeting in Rockland Thursday afternoon.

The new company, which is practically identical with the company now operating at South Range, received a franchise from the Rockland township board two weeks ago.

The Calumet Butchers' association has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Joseph Betsler; vice president, Fred Morgan; treasurer, W. A. Williams; corresponding and financial secretary, Joseph Trudell; trustees, Caspar Olson, John Hoeking, and Peter Schneller.

The latest lodge to be formed in the copper country is a Hancock lodge of the Colored Knights of Pythias. It was organized this week with the following officers: W. L. Armstrong, Charles Burton, Robert G. Johnson, Jas. A. Gardner, William J. Black, Albert Richey, George Jones, Robert Garland, Jess Lytle and M. Jordan, Wallace Smith, a grand lodge officer from Detroit.

The railroad officials in the copper country expect that tomorrow or Monday, the Detroit, South Shore & Atlantic railroad will issue its passenger rate, which is to go into effect under the new law, Sept. 1.

In the meantime the South Shore has suspended the sale of tickets to Wisconsin points because the Wisconsin rate of two cents a mile went into effect Thursday night, and the present upper peninsula fare and Wisconsin's new rate would involve confusion.

ance with a recently passed ordinance the street car company will place fenders on all of its cars next month. Yesterday experiments were made with the Philadelphia and it probably will be the

FIREMEN'S REUNION
OCCURS NEXT WEEK

MANY MARQUETTE COUNTY PEOP-LE ARE GOING TO ONTONAGON
—TRAIN SERVICE WILL BE EXCELLENT.
Special rates for the occasion having been announced by the railroads, and an excellent program of entertainment having been arranged by the committees in charge of the event, it is expected that large numbers of Marquette county people will attend the annual tournament of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association at Ontonagon next week. The dates of this reunion of Northern Michigan's fire-fighters are Aug. 20, 21, 22 and 23.
More running teams will take part in the track contests for the costly prizes the Ontonagon people have offered than have competed at any tournament in several years past. There will be at least five different towns represented, and as the men have been diligently training for some months there is no doubt the races will be hotly contested. The track is fast, and it is expected a number of new records will be established. There will be various sporting events in addition to the firemen's program, itself, and there will be moving picture shows and other forms of entertainment, as well as plenty of music by the best brass bands in the peninsula.
The intention from the start has been to make this Ontonagon reunion a firemen's tournament, such as the promoters of the Upper Peninsula association contemplated, and not a street carnival, such as has been the case at some of the towns which have entertained the fire laddies in later years, and while there will be plenty of fun and amusement for all visitors the purely firemen's events will be featured. Among other things, there will be a firemen's dance each evening, with music by the famous Calumet & Hecla band and orchestra, which have been engaged by the Ontonagon committee for all four days of the tournament.
The train service will be excellent.
Marquette county people can make close connections with the St. Paul trains at Sibley, arriving at Ontonagon at 12:30 o'clock, just in time for dinner, by boarding the D. S. S. & A. passenger leaving Marquette at 6:45 o'clock each morning. By taking the night train out of Marquette, leaving shortly after 11 o'clock, tournament visitors can arrive at Ontonagon at 9:50 o'clock the next morning, from Houghton going out over the Copper Range road, which will run both regular and special trains.
The Mining Journal is assured by the Ontonagon committee that the accommodations will be entirely ample; that provisions have, in fact, been made for many more persons than the hundreds that are looked for. Most of the copper country visitors will return to their own homes each evening. Marquette firemen expect that the Ontonagon tournament will be one of the most successful in the history of the association, and they are looking forward to the event with eager anticipation.
All members of L. S. P. camp, No.
991, Modern Woodmen of America, are requested to attend the meeting tonight.
Important business to be acted on and a full attendance is desired.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

New York, Aug. 16.—The course of today's stock market was marked by extreme irregularity, with the operations on a slightly reduced scale and limited in the main to the active issues. The lowest prices of the day were touched in the final hour, when persistent rumors of a threatened failure in banking circles were current. Aside from the encouragement which Wall street saw fit to derive from the forthcoming public speeches of President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft, the day's developments were for the most part adverse. Early in the session reports couched the name of a very large Western manufacturing concern with impending insolvency. The securities of this corporation fell abruptly, as they had done on the previous day, the losses ranging from 4 to 5 points or more in the common and preferred shares. Sentiment was further affected by dispatches from various out-of-town points, most of which told of business depression and an increasing outflow of money rates. From Pittsburgh and Cleveland came confirmatory advices of a relaxation in the steel and iron trade and in affiliated industries. The closing was dull and weak.

Paine, Webber & Co. telegraphed from New York yesterday as follows: "The stock market was very feverish again today, but early in the session there was a tendency to slow down and shorts to cover freely, which caused the list to advance slightly over last night's close. In the afternoon there was considerable selling, due to the report that a Western industrial concern was in difficulty, which report was strenuously denied. However, the selling of the stock issues of the above company was rather suggestive and caused the market to weaken and close at about the lowest prices of the day. There was a noticeable increase in the investment demand, and the ease with which advances are secured is indicative of the scarcity of standard issues and the presence of a large short interest. It can hardly be expected that a recovery after such a severe decline as we have had will be permanent, especially as the conditions surrounding the market are still unsettled. We are, however, looking for a period of readjustment, and although stocks may sell somewhat lower, we are inclined to think that the time is at hand to buy the good issues for substantially higher prices in the fall, when the monetary conditions are likely to improve."

Closing prices were:
U. S. Steel, 80; Mo. Pac., 87 1/2; C. & N. W., 92 1/2; Erie, 87 1/2; Rep. St., 23 1/2; Am. Loco., 23 1/2; Sp. S., 23 1/2; C. & G. W., 23 1/2; Smelter, 23 1/2; Sugar, 23 1/2; St. Paul, 23 1/2; A. C. N. W., 23 1/2; C. P. R., 23 1/2; Erie, 23 1/2; Penna., 23 1/2; N. Y. Cen., 23 1/2; D. & H., 23 1/2; U. P., 23 1/2; B. & O., 23 1/2.

Writing from Boston yesterday, Paine, Webber & Co. said: "Investment buying of liquidated stocks a little better, but liquidation of weak accounts is going on all the time and in the late dealing prices broke easily and the closing was the lowest yet recorded. Money is becoming more and more scarce and is a serious menace to the situation. It is hard to be pessimistic at this level, but from the action of the market it looks as if it would go still lower. We advise the sale of stocks on all strong spots and don't think there is any possibility of any extended rise for some weeks to come."

WAR RUMORS DOUBTED.
State Department Does Not Look for Fighting in Central America.
Washington, Aug. 16.—Threatened war, involving the Central American republics of Guatemala, Honduras, Salvador, Nicaragua, and perhaps Costa Rica, is causing grave concern here, as such a conflict would have phases that might involve the United States. The war reports mostly all come from Mexico, the capital of which is the rendezvous for intriguers from Central America. For this reason the state department is not inclined to accept the reports with credence.
All authentic reports received at the state department have been to the effect that the warlike preparations in Central America had entirely ceased, due to the combined influence of the governments of Mexico and the United States. A cablegram was received at the navy department today from Commander Gobe of the gunboat Yorktown, dated at La Union, Salvador, stating that all was quiet in that section, with no signs of trouble.
Only yesterday the state department received a cablegram from American Minister Lee at Guatemala City stating that Guillermo Aguirre, the minister of finance of Guatemala, accompanied by Senor Mato and another official, had just left that city for the city of Mexico for the purpose of meeting Secretary Root upon his approaching visit there. If war has not in the meantime broken out between the Central American states, it is probable that Secretary Root would feel it his duty to endeavor to impress upon the delegation the wisdom of conserving the peace with their other neighbors.

Western Gold Stocks.
Western stocks closed as follows yesterday, Paine, Webber & Co. reporting the quotations:
Sandstorm, 47; Red Tail, 47; Mohawk, 47; Colorado Mountain, 47; Jumbo, 47; Jumbo Ex., 1.80 @ 1.85; Goldfield, 1.50 @ 1.75; Blue Bull, 24 @ 35; Booth, 25 @ 46; Kendall, 24 @ 35; Adams, 24 @ 35; Perry Pick, 25 @ 46; May Queen, 25 @ 46; Dixie, 25 @ 46; St. Ives, 25 @ 46; Consensus, 25 @ 46; Diamond, 25 @ 46; Atlanta, 25 @ 46; Orodonado, 25 @ 46; La Grana, 25 @ 46; Red Bear, 25 @ 46; Los Llanos, 25 @ 46; Goldfield Con., 25 @ 46; Triangle, 25 @ 46.

WORKING ON WATERWAYS.
BURTON PLANNING FOR TRIP DOWN THE MISSISSIPPI.
Party to be Accompanied by the President—Changes Probable in Waterways Commission—Mr. Roosevelt is Likely to Increase Its Membership.
Washington, Aug. 16.—Representative Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, head of the Inland Waterways commission, which is devising a great system of waterways, improvement for the entire United States, has come here to confer with Senator-elect Bankhead and other members of that body in regard to the trip down the Mississippi with President Roosevelt the first week in October. Since the commission was appointed in May, only a few preliminary meetings have been held for the purpose of perfecting an organization and distributing the work. The individual members however, have been putting in much time on the problems that will come before them as a body, and are now about ready to hold meetings during the next few weeks and accomplish definite results that may be put into practical effect next winter by the national legislature.
Mr. Burton will devote most of his attention to the work that lies before the commission, as is indicated by his announcement that he will not in any circumstances be chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, in which place he has been practically in control of waterway improvements for several years. In fact, he was named head of the new and much more important commission, because of his superior knowledge of the problem.
Speaker Cannon will probably not consent readily to this new move of Mr. Burton, and, in fact, he is already understood to have voiced his opposition to it.
Mr. Burton says that the primary reason for his intention not to accept the chairmanship of the committee for another congress was his desire to devote a greater share of his time to the service of his constituents, whom, he says, he has been compelled to neglect because of his duties as head of the committee. He is also deeply interested in Secretary Taft's candidacy for the presidency, and will give much of his attention during the next few months to political affairs.
"The chairmanship of the rivers and harbors committee," he said, "is not an easy task. The incumbent must stand against a pressure of injudicious and extravagant improvements which to some persons would seem also overwhelming. Even in private enterprises there is always danger that extravagant enterprises will be entered upon in the construction of canals, railways or other agencies of transportation, although those who undertake them must pay the cost themselves, and must also, in the majority of instances, convince bankers that the enterprise is one on which they may safely lend money."
"It is easy to see how very different the situation is when some project is advocated, not a dollar of the cost of which is to be paid by those who advocate it, but all to come from the national treasury. For a considerable time we have been spending only $20,000,000 or $25,000,000 per annum, but the projects pressed upon the rivers and harbors committee are so large and so rapidly increasing that I can hardly state the amount involved. It is certainly no less than $200,000,000."

ARMY TO BE TRAINED TO GUARD THE COAST.
Government Decides to Establish Artillery School at Fortress Monroe.
New York, Aug. 16.—With the idea of strengthening the coast defense of the United States, the government has decided to establish an artillery training school at Fortress Monroe, Va. The new institution will be to the United States army what the school of Shoeburgh is to the British army. It will give enlisted men of the coast artillery corps higher technical training.
The scheme, which calls for the consolidation into one great school of all the existing training schools of the coast artillery, is being perfected by Brigadier General Murray. The next batch of young officers and enlisted men to report for instruction will be ordered to proceed to the new institution on the shore of Hampton roads.
The government is determined to make the coast artillery as perfect an organization of the kind as exists in the world today, and this new school will increase in every respect the efficiency of the men who man the great fortifications that guard sea approaches to the principal American ports.
The Fortress Monroe school will be in charge of a colonel and each of the regiment will be headed by a major. Colonel Harrison will probably be the first head of the institution.
At Fort Totten Major G. E. Barney of the coast artillery corps said that the scope of the new school was on a larger scale than ever attempted in this country before.
As yet no official name for the new school has been decided upon, although it is the impression among the artillery officers that it will be known as either the coast artillery or the coast defense school of the United States.

FOOD LAWS AID PROHIBITION.
Maine Police Find New Point to Help Fight Against Illegal Sales.
Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 16.—Chief of Police Mever of this town has sprung a brand new point that seems likely to be effective in overcoming, in a measure, the handicap that the interstate commerce law has been to local officers in the enforcement of the Maine prohibitory liquor law.
When he made two big seizures of liquors at the Boston & Maine freight sheds and the American express office, two weeks ago, everyone supposed he had done it with the sole intention of making Old Orchard dry and that the well known provision of the interstate law which protects from seizure liquors in transit, would necessitate his returning the load as soon as claims were filed.
But Chief Mever had been looking up the pure food laws, and believing that there would be a chance to strike in that line, he consulted federal authorities and had tests made of the seized liquors. It is said that the tests showed all the liquors seized to be under standard proof, so much of the whiskey that comes into Maine for illegal sale is known to be.

RECTOR DESERTS GIRL.
Former Minister Leaves Mail Who Ran Away With Him.
New York, Aug. 16.—According to news that has reached Hempstead, the awakening has specially come to Miss Floretta Whaley, the seventeen-year-old girl who eloped with her guardian, the Rev. Jere Knobe Cooke, then rector of St. George's Episcopal church at Hempstead, Miss Whaley, it is stated, has been deserted by the unrecked minister and is reported to be in a sanatorium in Canada, a nervous wreck. The whereabouts of Cooke has not been learned.

SPENT $5,000 FOR DRINK.
Milwaukee Man Succumbs to Delirium Tremens After Year of Dissipation.
Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 16.—After lavishly spending an inheritance of $5,000 from the estate of his mother, William Knapstein is dead in the workhouse from delirium tremens. He received the money about one year ago and since then was in police courts of the city dozens of times on the charge of being drunk. Deputy Sheriff Meyer yesterday was forced to call for assistance when Knapstein grappled with him, although Knapstein was small and emaciated and Meyer a large, burly officer.

AIM BLOW AT TAFT BOOM.
Detroit, Aug. 16.—The calling of a convention in Representative Horsey's district to elect delegates to the national Republican convention, for which a call will not be issued until next January, is regarded by Michigan politicians here as the first attempt to puncture the Taft boom in this state. Horsey is said to be dead opposed to handing Michigan over to Taft if Roosevelt persists in his determination not to run.

CRANBERRY CROP SMALL.
Cold Weather and Drought Has Affected the Cape Cod Yield.
Hyannis, Aug. 16.—Cape Cod's cranberry crop, in the opinion of the leading growers, will be at least 25 per cent less this season than it was last. This is accounted for by the late cold weather of the early summer and the continued drought of the past two months. There is not a bog on Cape Cod, in the opinion of the growers, that has not suffered more or less damage on account of the drought, and if the dry spell continues much longer many of the bogs will lose their entire crop this season.
There is much speculation as to how the growers will rally to the support of the sales company which was organized among the leading growers last year to handle the crop of Cape Cod cranberries, instead of sending the berries to commission houses, as has been the custom since the industry was started over half a hundred years ago. By allowing the sales company to handle their crops the growers hope to get better prices for the berries, and to keep the prices from being out by controlling the total crop. The sales company, so the members say, has secured the promise of the majority of the growers in Barnstable and Plymouth counties and they expect to handle at least 90 per cent of the total crop this year.

MODEL CHURCH EDIFICE FOR PRESBYTERIANS

REMODELLED BUILDING WILL BE ONE OF FINEST HOUSES OF WORSHIP IN THE CITY.

Work on the remodeling of the Presbyterian church is progressing rapidly. In making the plans the lines of the old building had to be conformed with, and the new design was considerably handicapped. However, the exterior and interior appearance of the structure have been altered, and practically a new edifice will be the result.

The exterior of the building has been finished in brick veneer and the foundation, which is built of granite taken from the New York mine, has been considerably strengthened. Above the foundation work is a cement sandstone-colored water table supporting the brick work. The cornice has been modernized and reduced in size.

The front entrance and porch are placed a little to the west of the old entrance, which was in the base of the tower. The porch is ten by fourteen feet and the floor will be of cement. There are two entrance doors opening out to the porch. On the center pillar between the two doors and facing Euclid street, an inscription tablet will be placed. It will be contributed by the boys of the congregation and will bear the inscription in granite characters: "Presbyterian church, 1877-1907." November 25, 1877, was the day on which the old structure was dedicated.

The main doors will be of oak and further in the interior two swinging baize doors will permit entrance into the church proper. To the left of the entrance a stairway rises in the tower, a space formerly devoted to the old entrance, to a gallery, which takes the place of the old arch in the rear of the church. The only chimney in the building has been placed in the tower and it can hardly be seen except at some distance from the church. The ventilation of the building is secured by means of box shafts running from the rear of the main auditorium to the tower. The gallery will accommodate three tiers of seats and will be finished in Norway pine. In the rear wall of the gallery is a stained glass window, five by eight feet.

The addition in the rear of the church, which extends for two floors, is sixteen feet long and runs clear across the width of the building. On the main floor this space is cut into an organ and choir loft. On the west of this large room are the pastor's study and on the east a small room for the accommodation of the choir. In the rear wall, and directly back of the space which the organ will occupy, a large art glass window will be placed. The choir rail will extend into the auditorium proper eighteen inches, and will be directly back of the pulpit.

The main auditorium has been left almost the same size, except for the addition of transepts on the east and west side, which increase the floor space of the church about one hundred and eighty square feet. Four pilasters capped with composite fluted work will extend from the corners of the transept and arches to the arch line of the ceiling. Above the capitals and running across the ceiling there will be decorated beam work. On top of the capping of the pilasters a twelve inch moulding will be run around the interior of the auditorium. Just above this moulding the beam work, extending to the moulding on each side, will cross the ceiling. The wood work of the interior of the church will be of golden oak.

Memorial Windows.
In the east and west transepts two large art glass windows, eight by eight feet, will be placed. All the art glass windows in the church are gift windows, and all but one are memorial windows. The art glass panels will be furnished by the Wisconsin Art Glass company, of Oshkosh. The designs of the several windows are only distinguishable from the interior.

In the basement of the church about 200 square feet of floor space has been gained by continuing the transepts on the main floor. Some new windows have been put in, making the general assembly room in the basement very well lighted. The addition in the rear of the church extends to the basement and gives space for a stairway to the choir loft and a commodious kitchen. The kitchen is sixteen by nineteen feet, and will have a hardwood floor. The room will be furnished with a large china closet, a sink and a modern range.

The tower and the northeast corner of the church has been elevated and has been made to conform to the general architecture of the remainder of the building. The gable ends are filled in with clipped shingles, tinted a seal brown. Over the main entrance there is an open work balustrade which harmonizes with the wood coping on the gables. The interior of the edifice has been replastered with wood fibre, made by the Grand Rapids Plaster company. When the work on the interior of the church has set a competent designer and decorator will be employed to carry out a plan of interior decoration which will be formulated later by the members of the congregation.

CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM.
Henry Durham Drowns in Lake Michigan While Sailing.

Henry Durham was drowned in Lake Michigan yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock. He and two companions, Dave Peterson and Oscar Benson, took advantage of the high wind and went out in a sail boat. They had gone only a few feet from shore near Birch Point, just back of the location, when the boat capsized, throwing the occupants into the water. Benson and Peterson could swim and they made their way to shore. When they had reached the land they found that their companion had drowned. Search was immediately made for the body, and it was found an hour later. Coroner Prin was summoned from this town, and he went up on the 4 o'clock train.

Durham was employed as a car cleaner by the South Shore road at Michigan. He came to Michigan from Mackinaw City about five or six months ago.

MORE TIME FOR STOCKHOLDERS.
Books of Vandeventer Co. Will Not Be Closed Until Aug. 30.

Owing to the slump in the copper market, which has affected many shareholders of the lead and zinc properties controlled by 3 Marquette county men, the officers of the Vandeventer Lead & Zinc Mining company yesterday decided to extend the time for issuing allotments of the 7,000 shares of treasury stock being sold to pay for the new mill to Aug. 30. All but a few of the shareholders had previously taken the stock they were entitled to, so that there is very little of it remaining. Several applications are on file for any stock that is not taken up, so the officers are sure that the entire issue will be taken when the books are closed at the end of the month.

President F. E. Keesee yesterday received word from A. W. Gramis, of Joplin Mill company, advising him that the material for the mill building is now being delivered at the mine and that work on the foundation will be started within a few days. Mr. Gramis also advised him that the mill machinery will be shipped so that there will be no delay installing it after the foundations are ready.

An encouraging letter was received yesterday from Superintendent Fox, who reports that the main drift extending on the trend of the formation is now 217 feet in length. The principal drift, which runs in a southeasterly direction, is 150 feet from the shaft. Mr. Fox reports that the ore is dipping at the end of the drift. The officers regard this as a favorable sign, as they believe that a second ore body will be found beneath the one on which work is now being done. Other mines of the district, including the Empire, having formations similar to the Vandeventer have developed ore bodies below the one first discovered near surface. It is possible that the work on the southeast drift will be suspended for the time being, as it may become necessary to put a shaft down at that point in order to secure better ventilation. Superintendent Fox yesterday will send the shaft be put down in order to reach the ore beneath the foot of the present drift as well as to improve conditions underground. Owing to the shallow depth of the ore body the second shaft can be sunk for about $200. He reports that the mine is in a very healthy condition.

FROM HOPKINS' CURB LETTER.

"A firm opening this morning was quickly followed by a severe shakeout all along the line, and some new low records were established. Coppers were weak in sympathy with the New York list. London metal showed a slight improvement this morning, spot being up a shilling from yesterday's close, while futures came 10 shillings higher. Everything seems to hinge on the telegraphers' strike, and the strike situation is more unfavorable this morning than at any time yet. A general strike order has been issued calling all telegraphers out who have not yet returned to work. This will include a great many private wire operators who are not working under contract."

WOMAN IDENTIFIED.
Demented Person Who Jumped Off Train Was Mrs. Garipey, of Wolverine.

The demented woman who jumped off a moving train near Powers last week and who was referred to in the press dispatches as Mrs. William Devereaux, of Republic, has been identified as Mrs. Garipey, of Wolverine. This is the same woman who arrived in Negaunee over a week ago and who refused to tell her name or where she lived, when questioned by Marshal Griggs.

Mrs. Garipey, when taken in charge by the Negaunee officials, was on her way north from Menominee. At that city she said that her home was in Republic, and the authorities, believing her, put her on the Northwestern train. She spent a day in Negaunee her husband coming down from the copper country to take her home. Soon after her return, during one of her spells of insanity, she discovered about three thousand dollars in bills, which had been hidden in the attic by her husband and son. She seized the roll and threw them into the fire. The greenbacks were entirely consumed and only two $5 gold pieces and two fifty cent pieces remained unharmed.

Although fully aware of Mrs. Garipey's condition, the family has been reluctant to send her to an asylum where she would be given proper care. She has been taken to Houghton, pending an investigation of her condition by the probate court, and she will in all probability be committed to the Newberry institution for the insane.

PROHIBITION IN THE SOUTH.

To the Mining Journal: The article which appeared in "The Mining Journal" of the 15th inst., entitled "Harm for the South in Prohibition," is not in my opinion a fair presentation of the matter. We have nothing to say concerning the logic used in the article except that after years of testing the principle of prohibition, the Southern people are entirely satisfied with the results and are rapidly retiring the saloon. They do not believe that the class of immigrants which they will lose because of prohibition would be far better off in a state in which people are compelled to be sober, and if they are not satisfied with the conditions in the South, will be better off without them, for they have had a little experience with drunken riots in the past to satisfy all their longings in that direction.

Jacob Kaminen, who had a copy of the report of the Finnish Commission on his desk, says that the best conditions found in this country were found in Maine and Kansas. The prohibition states, and if your readers could sit and listen to Charles E. Littlefield of Maine, one of the most brilliant statesmen of the age, and hear him tell in glowing terms of the benefits of prohibition they would be ashamed of the fact that any other sentiment was ever expressed.

Very truly,
G. H. RUTLEDGE.

BENEFIT ENTERTAINMENT.

A benefit entertainment will be held at the Methodist church on the evening of Aug. 28 for the Benah Land home for neglected children. The entertainment will be given by boys who live at the home. Master Ernest Gatten, whose age is twelve years, will give a number of selections and dialect readings. Master Enrique Ortigosa, a Cuban boy, will sing songs in both the Cuban and English languages. The youngsters are said to be clever entertainers, and an excellent program is expected. The entertainment will commence at 8 o'clock.

DIED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Mrs. Anna Elizabeth Peterson, aged eighty years, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her son, E. C. Peterson, 719 Morris street. The deceased had been ill for some time and the end was not unexpected. Mrs. Peterson was born in Denmark and had lived here for a number of years. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence, with interment in the Ishpeming cemetery.

MANAGEMENT HAS CHANGED.

Dennis Hickey, who has conducted a saloon in the Flanagan block for the past several years, has accepted the management of the Donahoe estate saloon, one of the oldest establishments in the city. Michael Hickey, his brother, will retain the stand in the Flanagan block, where he has been associated with his brother for the past three years. Dennis Hickey took charge of the Donahoe business yesterday.

Menominee County Fair--
The preparations for Governor's Day at the Menominee County fair are being under way, and arrangements are being made which will make it one of the best days ever seen in Menominee. Word has been received from Oconto that this city's militia company had accepted the invitation to join in the Menominee and Marinette companies in acting as an escort for Governor Warner, who will be here Sept. 12. After reaching the fair grounds, the three companies will join in a dress parade together with Amundsen's Third Regiment band, and will enter in a competitive drill for a handsome silver cup. The Menominee boys are now at camp, but their plans have already been made for this event, which will be the biggest military feature ever seen in Menominee.
Spells Doom of Dogs--
"Probably there is no animal in the northern woods that has brought more dogs to their doom than the despised porcupine," says John R. Jones of Iron Mountain. "This animal has become the bane of every one who owns a good dog in that country and when a man takes his dog into the woods with him he has to keep constantly on the alert or he will have to be looking for a new canine pet. While in itself the porcupine is harmless it has as good a coat of mail for defending itself as could be wished. When attacked by a dog or other animal of the woods it will simply double up into a ball and wait until the attack is over. For an ordinary dog one bite is enough. The instant he closes his mouth quills of the porcupine do their work. Unless the dog escapes lucky his mouth will be filled full of these sharp quills which rapidly work themselves tightly into the flesh. In many cases there is no getting them out and the only resource left is to kill the dog."
Soo Man Drowned--
After dragging the river and with the aid of a diver, the body of James Fitzgerald, an employe at the Union Carbide plant at the Soo, was found a short distance below the power house about ninety feet out in the water. Fitzgerald worked on the night shift and considerable difficulty had been experienced in keeping him awake at his work. It is claimed that he had not slept any during the previous day. A high wind was blowing at the time. During the hour search of the body was located. The theory is that the man was leaning near the window and lost his balance. Fitzgerald was about twenty-four years of age and lived at 329 Annand street. He is survived by a widow and a two-year-old child.
NEW SHIPS NOT UP-TO-DATE.
British naval experts regard reciprocal trading engines as out of date and express great surprise that the United States is laying down two big battleships to be fitted with this kind of engines instead of turbines. Instead of experimenting with unknown remedies for ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels why not get a bottle of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at once. It has been the recognized standard among medicines for all such disorders for over 40 years and as it always pays to get the best--insist on having Hostetter's. In hundreds of cases it has effected a cure when all others had failed, so that you need not doubt its ability in your case. Try it if you suffer from poor appetite, indigestion, female ill or malarial fever. It is pure and will do you a world of good.

MANY DIAMOND DRILLS NOW IN OPERATION

The fact that there are now as many diamond drills in operation on the Marquette range as at any previous time during the past several years is evidence that the mining corporations are obtaining satisfactory results in this branch of their development work. While a number of properties, which will eventually develop into large producers, have already been discovered with the drills, it is expected that many more will be found. It would be difficult to ascertain the exact number of holes that have been bored on the range during the past five years, but it exceeds 500. There have been years when some fifty diamond drills have been operated at various points on the range, and at present there are over thirty. The Cleveland-Cliffs and Oliver Iron Mining companies have been the largest users of diamond drills on this range for many years, and the sum expended by them for explorations has been enormous. Twenty-five years ago there were but a few machines in operation in the Lake Superior country. In the Marquette range holes were bored to a depth of from 300 to 500 feet were considered deep, but today they are frequently sunk below the 2,000-foot mark. It is seldom that the drill experts now fail to put their holes to the desired depth, but in former years a goodly percentage of the holes were not completed because of some unexpected mishap. Formerly diamonds lost in the holes were seldom recovered, but today few are lost. When a diamond, or even a bit, is dropped in the bottom of a hole it is usually recovered within an hour or less. The sinking of sand pipe is also a problem that has been thoroughly mastered, and this feature of the work is no longer as tedious or difficult as it used to be. Frequently it is necessary to sink sand pipe to a depth of 100 feet or more, through ground in which many large boulders are encountered.

Operating Eighty-Seven Drills.
Cole & McDonald and Longyear & Hodge are among the most extensive diamond drill operators in the country. The Sullivan Machinery company of Chicago has handled a greater number of important contracts, both in America and foreign countries, than either of these concerns. The operations of Cole & McDonald and Longyear & Hodge are primarily confined to the Lake Superior and Minnesota ranges, but both firms have successfully handled work in other mining districts, including some of the western states. Cole & McDonald, whose headquarters are on the Marquette range, are at present operating eighty-seven drills, all but a few of which are in the iron and copper districts of Lake Superior. The firm now has five drills on the Marquette range, two being operated near the Dexter mine, on the Cleveland Cliff range. The ambulance mine for the Republic Iron & Steel company; one at Helena, six miles below Little Lake, and one two miles from Little Lake station, both for the Jones & Laughlins company. In the Dexter district the holes have been bored to a depth of 2,000 feet. Several more will be put down before the drills are withdrawn, as there is a large area, and a great many holes, which are being drilled on this range for two and a half years, during which time it has bored a great many holes.
Cole & McDonald are doing their most extensive work on the Mesaba and Vermilion ranges, and fifteen of their drills are now operated on the Menominee range. They have seven working in the copper country, two in the Baraboo iron district. Seven have been operated for nearly two years past on the Hiago range, which is near the border line between Minnesota and Wisconsin. This is a new district. It is reported that ore has been found in a number of drill holes, but mining operations of any extent have not yet been started.
Longyear & Hodge are operating one drill near the American mine for George J. Maas and others, and the firm also has a drill on the land of the Vandercook company, which is being explored by Alexander Maitland of this city. Two drills are being operated by the Longyear & Hodge people in the Princeton district.
The Oliver & Cleveland-Cliffs companies are combining their drilling operations to the districts near their mines in this city or Ishpeming. For over a year past drills have been working in the heart of the business and residence district of Ishpeming and it is generally believed that ore formations have been penetrated in a number of the holes. The Cleveland-Cliffs company has at present three drills in operation in the heart of Ishpeming, and the Oliver company also has several. The location of ore bodies by the drills operating in the town will not necessarily mean that new mines will be opened as the underground equipment of the older properties is such that the ore can be handled through the present shafts as economically as by sinking new shafts and erecting buildings, etc., for new properties. The train systems in most of the mines are now operated either by power, or mules, so that this feature of the work is no longer dependent on manual labor.

Diamonds Are High.
The expense of operating diamond drills has increased considerably during the past few years, due largely to the increased cost of the black diamonds, which are now selling for from $85 to $100 per carat, with indications that they will be much higher. As many diamonds are now being found as at any previous time, but the demand is greater than ever before. Should the diamond drill work cease for a period of a year the price would doubtless fall to over 50 per cent. Nineteen or twenty years ago the best quality of black diamonds were sold at from $14 to $15 per carat, but at no time during the past few years have they brought less than from $65 to $70. The black diamond business is now practically controlled by a few firms who have representatives in the foreign markets to purchase the stones.

DEATH OF EDWARD GORMAN.

Well Known Young Man Passed Away After Lingering Illness.
Edward Gorman, who was born and raised in Negaunee, died Thursday afternoon, tuberculosis being the cause of his demise. The young man left Negaunee about three weeks ago for Arizona, in the hope that the change of climate would be beneficial to his health. He suffered greatly on the trip down because of his weakened condition and found that his health was not improving. The weather was very hot, and he realized that his condition was even worse than when he left home, so he started back. He was accompanied from Paradise to El Paso by his cousin, J. G. Sweeney, making the remainder of the journey alone. He arrived in Negaunee last Tuesday morning, when his friends realized that he could not live.

DEATH FROM PARALYSIS.

Mrs. Mary Kivi, who was well known to the Finnish people of Negaunee, died Wednesday at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Weidberg, on a farm near Switzer's creek, paralysis being the cause of death. The woman walked from Palmer to the farm, a distance of three miles Sunday, when she fell unusually well. She was stricken with a slight stroke of paralysis in this city last winter, but completely recovered. The remains were brought to Negaunee Thursday evening and the funeral was held yesterday morning from Elias Dave's undertaking rooms on Iron street.

PREPARING BIDS.

S. Nevaire, a cut stone contractor of Green Bay, was in the city yesterday looking over the plans and specifications for the new high school with a view to submitting a bid on the cut stone. His bid will be for one of the building contractors of Marquette county. Several representatives of firms that will furnish material for the building have been here during the past week or ten days. The bids will be opened next Thursday. It is expected that from six to eight will be received for both the construction and plumbing work, which will be awarded in two separate contracts.

GOES TO MESABA RANGE.

Clement K. Quinn, son of M. C. Quinn of this city, left last night for Virginia, Minn., where he will take a position on the engineering staff of the Jones & Laughlins company. He will have duties at all of the mines of the corporation in the Mesaba district, but his headquarters are to be at Virginia. Mr. Quinn recently looked over a number of the mines in the Wisconsin lead and zinc district, as he thought of locating there, but he concluded to accept the offer from the Jones & Laughlins company, a graduate of the Michigan College of Mines.

WILL ERECT NEW HOME.

Olaf Fredrickson has given Augustus & Norton a contract for the erection of an eight-room dwelling at the north end of Pioneer avenue. Work on the foundation was started Thursday. The house will be modern in design and will be equipped with many conveniences.

PENDILL'S MILL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

ESTIMATE IS THAT TOTAL LOSS FROM BIG BLAZE LAST NIGHT WILL REACH $100,000.

NO WAY TO FIGHT THE FLAMES

No Water Supply in District and Firemen Unable to Give Assistance—Thirty Out of Employment.

The plant and building of the Marquette Waddington company, a mile north of the city on the lake shore, was completely destroyed by fire last night and the total loss will approximate $100,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

No Water Supply.

No night watchman is kept at the plant and the blaze was not discovered until it was seen from the E. S. & I. shops a half mile away. Although the Marquette fire department made a run to the fire, it was impossible to make any effort to check it as there is no water supply in the section in which the plant is located.

When the fire was first seen at the railroad shops the alarm was given by the whistling of two locomotives, and attracted by this and by the glow in the northern sky, Marquette residents were soon apprised of the disaster.

Freight Cars Saved.

James Pendill, owner and manager of the establishment which lives on the lake shore near the plant, was not awakened by the whistling of the locomotives and he knew nothing of the fire until he was awakened by men from the railroad shops. The men at the shops saved two empty freight cars which were standing on a side track within a few feet of the burning building and which were drawn out of their dangerous position just a few minutes before the blazing wall fell across the tracks where they had been standing.

The fire started in the boiler room of the building, which is a one-story structure, 250 feet long by 100 feet in width. The boiler room occupied the northwest corner of the building and its walls were the first part of the structure to fall prey to the flames. There was a slight breeze blowing from the south toward the lake and this helped the spread of the fire.

Fire Attacks Roof.

When it was discovered the fire had attacked the roof, which was tarred, felt and highly inflammable. Within a short time the entire roof was a mass of flames which mounted high into the sky.

The glow in the sky was visible for many miles, and believing that the disaster was nearby the Negaunee fire department was sent out. The Negaunee firemen did not come all the way to the scene of the disaster, however. Many people from the city walked to the fire which was about a mile and half out on the lake shore.

At 4 o'clock this morning the inflammable parts of the plant were still blazing, and all the machinery had been reduced to a glowing mass of junk. It will probably burn all day. The building was erected eight years ago by Mr. Pendill, and the plant has been enlarged from time to time within the period of its existence.

Besides a plant for making cement blocks, there was a complete saw mill plant and a planing mill plant, besides much machinery for other work. The entire supply of lumber and a heavy stock of finished products were destroyed. It is estimated that the loss on the building and its equipment will reach nearly $75,000, and the loss on lumber and stock will amount to an additional $25,000. Three carloads of cement which had but recently been received alone amount to $1,500. Besides this loss a large number of tools of workmen were destroyed. It was said last night that there was no insurance on the plant or its contents.

Largest Fire in Years.

When all departments are running about sixty men are employed at the plant, but for the past several months only about half this number have been employed and these will be thrown out of employment. Sashes and doors, of which there was a large stock in the building, and other materials which were to have been used on structures now being erected in the city were burned, and this loss will delay much building work that is now under way.

The destruction of the Pendill plant is the largest fire that has occurred near Marquette within many years.

GIRL'S SUDDEN DEATH.

Miss Josephine Connors' Funeral Will Be Held Tomorrow Afternoon.

Miss Josephine Connors died yesterday morning at 5 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. Max Desotelle, 205 Hampton street, after a brief illness. She was twenty-one years of age and was born and reared in Marquette.

Miss Connors was ill only a few days, and her death is a shock to her many friends.

She was one of a party of berry pickers recently, and became ill soon after returning home.

The funeral services will be held at St. Peter's cathedral at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The interment will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

LIGHTS OUT TONIGHT. Work of Installing City's New Water Wheel Will Begin at Midnight.

All power at the city's plant will be turned off tonight at midnight when the work of installing the newly arrived water wheel will begin. The city will be without light and power for at least seventy-two hours. It is believed that the work will be completed some time Tuesday. Many of the plants supplied with power by the city's plant have arranged to take power for the two days from the street car company, but there are a number of others that will have to shut down while the new water wheel is being installed.

George Clark of Dayton, Ohio, is the representative sent here by the concern which made the wheel, and he will be in charge of the work of installing it. All the parts of the wheel will be taken to the plant today.

ESCANABA WILL PLAY MARQUETTE TOMORROW

GAME WILL BE ONE TO DECIDE UPPER PENINSULA CHAMPIONSHIP AND WILL PROBABLY BE BEST PLAYED HERE THIS SEASON.

What will probably be the best ball game of the season is to be played here tomorrow at the fair grounds when Marquette and Escanaba will meet on the diamond. It will be one of the games which will decide the amateur championship of the upper peninsula.

Escanaba has scored one defeat over the Marquette team this season and another tie game was called when twelve innings had been played. The Escanaba team has lost but two games this season. One of these was at the hands of Tripoli River which it has defeated in three other games. The other lost game was played with Sturgeon Falls last Sunday.

The team has defeated Munising and Richland and several other strong nines of the upper peninsula. An excellent street car service for the game tomorrow has been arranged, and besides the regular service an extra car and a trailer will be run. The Escanaba team will arrive in Marquette Sunday morning and will leave immediately after the game, which is to be called at 2:30 o'clock sharp. Following is the line-up of the two teams:

REGISTRATION DATE CHANGED.

Mistake Made in the Interpretation of Law—Those Who May Vote.

The date of registration for the school election to be held Monday, September 2, has been changed and instead of next Saturday, as was announced by the board of school trustees, the registration board will be in session at the city hall the following Saturday, Aug. 24.

The mistake in the announcement was made in the interpretation of the law governing the time when the registration shall be held. Under the law, voters must register on the second Saturday of the month preceding the first Monday of the month when the election is held.

IN THE TITLE ROLE.

Jessie Zett Is Heroine in Salomy Jane to Be Presented Tuesday.

Jessie Zett, who comes here in the title role of "Salomy Jane," to be played Tuesday night, is well known in the western territory. A western girl by birth, she is but a few years since she removed to the east and there found a niche for her talents.

While west of the Mississippi river, Miss Zett was chiefly known for her talents in emotional leading roles. Her work in the principal role of "Frou Frou" was highly commended, and her portrayal of the leading feminine part in "Nathan Hale" is still well remembered.

Last year she achieved very considerable distinction with Isabel Irving in "Susan in Search of a Husband."

Miss Zett gained her experience in the remarkably valuable school of the stock company, and she has been a member of several organizations of this type that have become known for the splendid players they have turned out. She has two starring tours to her credit, and has supported a number of the best actors and actresses of the day.

WOMEN SWINDLED BY HANDSOME STRANGER

POLICE ARE SEARCHING FOR WELL DRESSED MAN WHO IS OFFERING BARGAINS IN NAPKINS.

A good looking, dresy young man with a black mustache in a smart rig is offering linen napkins to women in homes throughout the city, and the police are looking for the young man. The placing of a number of orders for silk hosiery a year ago with another man who had bargains to offer, has led to the present pursuit of the one who is now active in the city.

His Prices Low.

The young man who is being searched for called at a home yesterday afternoon and displayed samples of linen napkins of excellent quality. When the woman to whom he offered them asked his price for the goods, she was astonished when he asked about a fourth of their value. He told her that his goods were imported directly, and he was enabled to sell cheaply because there were no profits for middlemen, jobbers or retailers to be paid. The woman ordered a quantity of the goods and sent her daughter for the neighbors.

When the neighbors arrived the young man with the black mustache booked orders from all of them because the prices he was offering were so low. He said the goods would be delivered within a month and could be paid for upon delivery.

Another Bargain.

Just before leaving he stated that he had sold out everything. Even the sample napkins which he had showed them, he said, had been sold to a lady who had placed a large order. He remarked, however, that he had some excellent bargains in table cloths to offer, samples of which he had with him and which he was willing to dispose of. He exhibited one of the table cloths and said he would sell it for $35 cash. Dazzled by the bargains they believed they had made by ordering the napkins, the women were inclined to believe that the table cloth offered was also a big bargain and one of them bought it. Later in the day she discovered that she could have bought the same thing at a number of downtown stores for $8. Then she realized that the fine napkins which had been exhibited and which she had ordered at such a low price were only a lure to enable the young man to dispose of his table cloths at big figures.

Silk Stocking Scheme.

The same scheme was worked in the city a year ago when a salesman canvassed the city and took numerous orders for silk stockings. The sample stockings which he carried were of excellent quality and the prices asked were exceedingly low. These samples too had been sold that salesman said, and he the one operating here now, he too had other sample bargains to offer. The goods sold last year, however, were dress goods. After he left it was discovered that the dress goods were of the poorest quality and the bargain silk stockings, of course, were never delivered.

MISSION REPRESENTATIVE HERE.

Bethel Mission Has Many Branches at Great Lakes Ports for Sailors.

Rev. W. M. Van Slyke of Detroit, one of the field representatives of the Bethel Mission, a religious organization for sailors of the great lakes, is in Marquette and it is said that a branch of the mission may be established at this port.

The ports on the lakes at which the mission now has branches are Cleveland, Erie, Fairport, Ashtabula, Conneaut Harbor, Duluth, Washington Island and Escanaba. The mission also has branches at Pittsburg and Cleveland for river men.

The purpose of the Bethel Mission is to provide lodging houses with a religious atmosphere for sailors. Mr. Van Slyke stated that his visit to Marquette had no particular significance, but he stated that he was not preparing to open a branch mission here at this time. He will leave shortly for Ishpeming.

SAW THE WILDCAT.

Boy and Party of Young Women Meet it on Path at Presque Isle.

Additional reports of the presence of a wildcat at Presque Isle have been received and at least one party of picknickers had a close view of the animal.

Those who were in the party that saw the wildcat are the Misses Lillian and Mary Pollock, Agatha Grabower, Edith Seidenfeld and young Holman Pollock. The boy was the first to sight the animal Wednesday afternoon. He and the four young women were coming down a path from the top of the hill toward the appearance and for the past two days he has been conducting a search for it.
