Will Make Its Bow—The organization of the new Marquette band has reached the point where it is now fairly complete, and it will make its first appearance tonight at the French bazaar. The new band, which now has fourteen pieces, grew out of the band which made an impromptu appearance here Fourth of July last, and called itself the "Hayseed Band."
Game Is Postponed—The game scheduled to be played at Munising between the Marquette nine and the Munising team was called off at the last minute Saturday night by the manager of the Munising team. The reason he gave was that one of his men is ill, but it is thought that other considerations brought about his action. Since Marquette recently laid claim to the amateur championship of the upper peninsula, Munising has been one of the teams that appeared eager to contest the claim.
Home From Trip Abroad—Miss Kate Clume, a teacher in the middle, arrived home yesterday morning from a trip to Ireland. She left for that country June last, accompanied by Frank Mulvey, and Miss Nellie Mulvey, and arrived in New York a week ago Saturday, spending the week before her arrival here visiting in New York, Buffalo and Chicago. In Ireland Miss Clume spent considerable time in her native home, and besides visited many points of interest. Mr. Mulvey and daughter arrived in this country some time ago, and are now visiting in New York and Boston.

Two Ball Games—It is estimated that each of the members of the Yalmer baseball team ran seven miles yesterday afternoon when the nine defeated the Harvey nine by a score of 53 to 9. Ford and Bordenau were the battery for the Harvey nine and Wilson and Johnson for Yalmer. Four of the nine runs made by Harvey were brought about by a home run made by Ford with three men on bases. The game was played at Chocoma. In the game at Skandia, the Skandia team defeated Wetmore by a score of 13 to 2. V. Sagarberg and E. Johnson were the battery for Skandia and John O'Neil and M. McCarthy were the battery for Wetmore.
Called Himself Asia—A clean-cut athletic youth in knickerbockers doffed his hat and east Saturday morning as he rode along Washington street on a bicycle, and telling the passers-by that his name was Asia, promised to give them some amusement. Asia kept his word, for a more difficult and unique exhibition of trick bicycle riding than the one he gave is rarely seen off the stage or out of a circus. Within three minutes the curb on both sides of the street were lined with interested on-lookers and Asia's performance met with considerable applause. After a short period he stopped and passed his hat around. Then he pocketed the silver he had collected, put on his hat and coat and disappeared down the street.
Bijou Opens Today—The Bijou, W. A. Ross' theater, will be reopened today, after being closed for the better part of a month, during which time it has been undergoing repairs and redecoration. The front has been painted white and will be brilliantly illuminated. The interior of the theater patrons will find greatly improved, an artistic scheme of decoration having been carried out. The apparatus used in giving the moving pictures has been overhauled and more provisions have been made against the danger of fire. The Bijou will present its usual bills, vaudeville turns with moving pictures to conclude each performance. The new decorations of the theater were designed by J. D. Chubb, the Chicago architect who designed the new French Catholic church and who is now in the city. A number of artistic interior paintings were executed by W. A. Ross, proprietor of the Bijou, who is himself an artist.

IS A MUSICAL MELODRAMA.
George Cohen's "Little Johnny Jones" Will Be Here Tomorrow Night.
Everybody has heard of "Little Johnny Jones," and therefore the announcement that this musical hit of last season will be presented at the opera house tomorrow evening conveys with it a deal of pleasurable anticipation for theatergoers.
"Little Johnny Jones" has been called a musical melodrama, and this title probably fits it better than anything else, as it is a semi-sensational play set to music. It was written by George M. Cohan, the author of "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway," "The Governor's Son" and "Runnin' for Office." Mr. Cohan is also the composer of the twenty-old musical numbers and has personally staged the present production.
The attraction has the prestige of a metropolitan reputation, having played ten different engagements in New York covering a period of almost an entire year. It was also seen for three months in Chicago, several weeks in Boston, four weeks in Philadelphia, and in all the principal cities, where it scored big successes. The production in a scenic way is massive. The three acts display pictures representing the exterior of the Hotel Cecil in London, the steamship pier at Southampton, England, and a street scene in the Chinese quarter of San Francisco. The production is also said to be very expensively gowned, the wardrobe consisting of eleven complete changes, and representing an investment of twenty thousand dollars.

COMPANY I RETURNS.

Members of National Guard Enjoyed Encampment at Ludington.

The members of Company I, Michigan National Guard, arrived home Saturday noon from Ludington, where the encampment was held. The company traveled by special train, along with the other companies from this part of the state. The Ishpeiming men greatly enjoyed their work. Some of them brought back good views of the grounds where the troops camped, one showing a picture of all the companies on brigade review, taken Wednesday, the day before camp was broken. In the foreground are the members of the three regiment bands, numbering nearly 100 men.

It is reported that the people of Ludington were favorably impressed with the work of the troops and that they now desire that the grounds used be selected as the permanent camp for the National Guard. The matter will be brought to the attention of the legislature at its next regular session and it is said that the plot will be sold at a figure much below its actual value. There are ready to be turned over to the state about 225 acres, but the military officers were advised that a two-year option would be proscribed on 800 additional acres that could be purchased by the state at any time during that period.

General Harrah is said not to favor the Ludington grounds as a permanent camp for the troops, as the tract is not as desirable for maneuvers as is a tract near Detroit. The underbrush is said to be too thick and if it were to be cleared away the land would still be in some respects unsuitable for the ground is the fact that it is too level for maneuvering.

The M. A. Hanna Co., which over a year ago secured control of the American mine, ten miles west of Ishpeiming, and is now operating it, has now taken the Boston property, adjoining the American on the west, and is to begin mining its ore bodies at once. The American and Boston are connected by a drift, put in some years ago, when the American was operated by the American Mining company, which was largely composed of Ishpeiming men. The Boston has been idle nearly twenty years. Its shaft will not be used, at least at the start, by the Hanna company, as all the ore is to be hoisted through the American shaft, which was overhauled before operations were resumed and is now in good condition.

The same formation is found in both the American and Boston, and there is no difference in the quality of the ore. It is believed that the Boston deposit will be found to be as large, proportionately, as that being mined at the American. The latter is the larger property of the two, a much greater amount of both mining and development work having been done there, but there is considerable promising territory on the Boston lands, and it is believed that the ore formation will be found to extend some distance to the west of the shaft. The Hanna company will be able to operate the Boston mine to much better advantage than any other company because one set of equipment will answer for both properties. With the American and Boston both being wrought a fairly large production should be obtained. The Boston workings were unwatered when the American was pumped out, so that it will not take many days to get the drifts in condition for work.

BEULAH HOME FOR BOYS.

Superintendent Herman L. Swift Talked at Churches Here Yesterday.

Herman L. Swift, superintendent of Beulah Land Commonwealth for Homeless and Neglected Boys, located at Boyne City, Mich., addressed three church congregations in Ishpeiming yesterday, and two of the boys from the home are to give where an entertainment is to be given tomorrow evening.

It is seldom that the hearts of the church-going people are so moved by the home missionary spirit as they were yesterday, when Mr. Swift addressed them, telling of the practical work he has in hand. Mr. Swift's story is one of absorbing interest and all of his audiences were favorably impressed with his talk.

All of the boys at the Beulah home are taken from the streets, and there are now several from the upper peninsula at the institution. The home was established fourteen years ago, since which time Mr. Swift has been in charge of it. A number of boys who were taken from the slums of some of the larger cities, or from places equally as undesirable, have been turned out of the school as specimens of manhood. One young man, who was picked up in one of the cities and educated in the home, is now secretary of the Young Men's Christian association of Chicago, an important position, where his training at the school in the handling of young men and boys serves him to excellent advantage.

To Erect Dwellings.

Superintendent Frank Platto has advised The Mining Journal that the company is to erect a dozen dwellings for the workmen, part of them double houses. They are to be located on the Boston property, in the field on the west side, between the mine and lake. The location is attractive, being high and dry, and permitting of a fine view of the surrounding country both east and south. When the American and Boston mines were operated formerly most of the dwellings were on the side of the hill immediately south of the Boston and only a short distance southeast of the American shaft, and there were several houses on the side of the hill south of the mine. The latter was a very pretty location, but the Northwestern line passes through it and the new location which Captain Platto has selected for the dwellings is now preferable.

Plans and specifications for the buildings are now being prepared and they are expected here within a few days. As soon as they arrive Captain Platto will ask the contractors to submit bids. An effort will be made to have all the dwellings completed and ready for occupancy within five or six months. The management will like to see them by the first of the year, but as all the contractors of the county are crowded with work it is doubtful if this will be possible.

School May Be Moved.

There is no school house at the American mine location, but Captain Platto plans to have a convenient place for the children of the location to attend school before long. There are schools at Clarkburg, a mile and a half distant, and at Dexter, less than two miles away, either of which the American children will have to attend if other arrangements are not made. There were only seven children at the Clarkburg school last year. The building is in good repair and is large enough to accommodate both the American and Clarkburg children. The captain will endeavor to induce the township officials to move the structure to the top of the hill, about midway between the two locations.

Can Use More Men.

The M. A. Hanna company can use at this time about seventy-five additional miners. There are seventy men employed at the American but with the Boston in operation a force of from 150 to 200 is desired. Up to this time the force has been composed largely of single men, and the superintendent wants married men to bring their families to the location. The wage scale prevailing is better than the average on the range and the men like the mine. The location is one of the prettiest in the county, and since the Marquette County Telephone company has extended its line to the mine and the Chicago & Northwestern trains pass through the location, it is not isolated.

Captain Platto's family has been at the location the greater part of the summer, but they are to return to this city this week, in order that the children may attend school.

UNUSUALLY LARGE COMPANY.

"Little Johnny Jones" Said to Have Best Drilled Chorus in America.

"Little Johnny Jones," to be seen at the Ishpeiming theater Thursday evening, will be presented by a specially selected cast of singers, dancers and comedians, accompanied by one of the largest and best drilled choruses in America, all numbering between seventy-five and eighty people. The same massive scenic production seen for twenty-six weeks in New York and all summer in Chicago will be given here. It is by far the biggest and most expensive attraction that has ever played this circuit, and as its fame and reputation have preceded it a crowded house is already assured. There will be a big demand for the tickets when the sale opens Wednesday morning.

George M. Cohan, the twenty-eight-year-old author of "Little Johnny Jones," has had a very busy career for such a young man. He has written over 500 songs and is also the composer and author of the music of "The Governor's Son" and "Running for Office," two pretentious and very successful musical plays. During three years he has written three big successes, "Little Johnny Jones," "The Governor's Son" and "Running for Office," and "George Washington, Jr."

SELLING SOME MACHINES.

George W. Blake, the Abbott Vending company's representative, was in Ishpeiming Saturday, accompanied by his wife. This was his first visit to the city since shortly after the April election. He has been working with considerable success in other parts of the upper peninsula. It is by the Mining Journal that he had sold to eight townships in Delta county since the spring election and that Munising and Mathias townships in Alger county had purchased them. The city of Escanaba has also invested in machines, one for each of its seven wards. Mr. Blake plans to continue his work in the upper peninsula for some time, and he expects to dispose of many more machines before the end of another year. The machines have been tried out in a number of places and the results have been most satisfactory, both to the voters and the machine company.

Owing to the length of the performance the curtain will rise at 8 o'clock sharp Thursday evening at the Ishpeiming theater, when "Little Johnny Jones" will be the attraction.

The picnic conducted Saturday at Cleveland Park by Lake Superior castle of the Golden Eagle was well attended. The Ishpeiming band furnished music during the afternoon and evening.

The annual convention of the Marquette Baptist association, which includes in its territory the entire peninsula, will be held in the Calvary church, Ishpeiming, opening Tuesday evening and continuing until Thursday night.

The members of the Ishpeiming fire department held a picnic yesterday at the Dexter mine, eight miles west of the city. A baseball diamond had been made during the week and much of the time was spent in playing ball and other games.

MAY HAVE AUTORACE AT THE COUNTY FAIR

OWNERS OF MACHINES INTERESTED IN PROJECT THAT WILL BE BIG DRAWING CARD.

MANY HORSES NOW AT TRACK

Big Purse Proves Attractive to Owners and Meeting This Year Will Probably Be Best Ever Held.

An automobile race at the county fair which is to open the first week of next month is the newest project that is being exploited by promoters of the fair, and it is said that plans are now being made to make an auto race one of the leading attractions of the fair.

Owners Interested. A number of owners of automobiles have been approached upon the subject and they have evinced no little interest in the proposed race. Just what conditions will be made and what sort of a prize or trophy may be offered has not yet been determined upon.

If the race is held, it will be sufficiently speedy to supply a variety of thrills to the spectators and the distance will be sufficiently great to keep the racers before the crowd for a reasonable period. A high speed race probably could not be held on the track as it now is, as to prevent disaster tracks have to be banked at the curves for rapidly moving machines.

The horse races will without doubt be the best ever seen in Marquette. Daily inquiries and notifications from race horse owners are being received and there will be a big string of fast ones here when the fair opens.

Big Purse Attracts. At the present time there are about a dozen horses in training at the track and many others entered are being put in shape at other places. The big purse hung up this year is proving a better inducement to owners than it was thought would be the case, and a large number of racers that have never before journeyed this far north are already entered.

Besides, most of the horses that were here last year will be seen.

Among those at the track now are the two horses of Mike Kemp of Calumet, Echo Medium and Billy Mack. Echo Medium has a mark of twelve and a quarter and is well known. Billy Mack is well remembered for his race last year with Lady Arkwood, Phil Neimark's horse. Lady Arkwood is also at the track now and with her is another horse of Neimark's, Red Light, here for the first time.

Named After Evangelist. Another Calumet horse owned by Henry Goddett is Billy Sunday and Bourbon C., owned by Charles Wiestrom is another, both now at the track. Fred Jeffries is handling both of these horses for their owners. Echo Medium is being looked after by Louis Sams and Billy Mack is in charge of Joe Bellaire. A. C. Shepard's horse, Air Motor, from Standish, Mich., is another of last year's fast ones now at the track and it is said in better shape than at the races last year. Reuben, owned by Standish, is also here and is one of the new ones to Marquette horsemen.

American Beauty. Joe Bernard of Baraga has his trick saddle horse, American Beauty, at the track and this will be another of the attractions that will interest many. American Beauty does the cake walk in real southern fashion. Besides, she has been trained to do many other interesting things.

The new wind mill near the barns is now completed and in operation. The cement walk is being laid and when it is finished it will be possible to walk the entire distance from the entrance gate to the grandstand on the walk. Work on the new dining hall is also nearing completion. A suggestion made in connection with the new dining hall was that between meals it be turned into a dancing pavilion and should some of the musicians of the city become interested in the project, this may be done.

MARQUETTE BAND TO PLAY AT THE BAZAAR

COUNT OF BALLOTS IN POPULARITY CONTEST BETWEEN YOUNG WOMEN TO BE ASKED FOR.

Continued success is the report made at the close of the first four nights of the French Bazaar at Fraternity hall, and the most popular thing at the bazaar is the popularity contest between the two young women representing the two Catholic parishes of the city, Miss Fannie O'Reilly and Miss Leah Pelletier.

Saturday night when the bazaar closed it was said that Miss O'Reilly was slightly in the lead, but this was denied by a number of Miss Pelletier's supporters, and they declared that they would demand a count of the ballots so far cast when the bazaar reopens this afternoon. The ladies in charge of the voting booth have been unable since Friday night to count the ballots, as the number cast was far beyond their expectations.

Tonight Fred C. Bennett of Ishpeming, the popular vocalist, will sing solos, and he is to sing another evening this week.

Another important feature of the entertainment will be the first public appearance of the new Marquette band. The band will make its first bow before the public at the bazaar. The organization now has fourteen pieces.

If you want to make big money do not buy a dividend payer; the price has been advanced to its highest point; buy while the company is developing and thus reap all the benefit of advance in price. The Grand Traverse & Arizona furnishes you the opportunity now. See one in Stafford's window, as you go in, from shaft No. 3. (8-22-07)

COSTLY BLAZE NEAR STAMPA

Frank Johnson Saves Stock When His Barn Is Struck by Lightning.

It is now estimated that the loss caused by the burning of the barn of Frank Johnson near Skandia, 19 miles south of the city, is between $3,000 and $5,000. The blaze was started from a bolt of lightning which struck the barn about 8 o'clock Friday night.

When the bolt struck, Johnson, who was at home, at once realized the danger. A few hours before, he had stored the last of the seventy-five tons of hay in the barn and almost before he could leave the farm house, this was blazing. With considerable difficulty he saved four horses which were in the barn and two cows, besides a number of vehicles and farming implements. Some harness and several vehicles were burned.

If one man sells to another a farm, a stock of goods or a house, the world receives no increase in its wealth, for the values have merely changed hands. But the gold, silver and copper dug out of the earth's depths, are so much added to the available wealth of the world. It is clean money. As you go in Stafford's drug store examine the specimens of ore in the window. Then look up the record of The Grand Traverse & Arizona, from whose lands it was taken. (8-22-07)
