

CHICAGO & ALTON GETS IMMUNITY

In Return for Its Testimony Against the Standard Oil It Will Not Be Prosecuted for Granting the Rebates Involved.

Judge Landis So Directs After Letter from the Attorney General Is Read, Explaining the Deal, and Then Orders Grand Jury to Investigate the Claim of the Petroleum Company's Head That Other Shippers Are Equally Guilty.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—It was decided today by Judge Landis, of the United States district court, that the Chicago & Alton railway shall not be further prosecuted for its connection with the Standard Oil company in the granting of rebates on shipments between Whiting, Ind., and East St. Louis, Ills.

It was recited by Attorney General Bonaparte, whose brief was read in court by District Attorney Sims, that Mr. Morrison, the predecessor of Mr. Sims in office, had promised immunity to the Alton road provided it assisted in good faith in the prosecution of the Standard Oil. The attorney general general claimed that it was the duty of the government, to see that no further steps toward the punishment of the railroad for its part in the granting of the rebates be taken.

Judge Landis in a statement which required fully thirty minutes for its delivery declined to discharge the jury, but instructed its members that they had no further duty to perform in connection with the Chicago & Alton railroad. The court then called attention to the statement recently issued by President Moffett of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, in which it was claimed that if the Standard Oil was guilty of receiving rebates, no other manufacturer was innocent. The court directed the jury to investigate the conduct of other manufacturers and directed that a subpoena be issued for President Moffett.

Hoist on His Own Petard. Judge Landis, after the reading of the letter of the attorney general, resounded to the members of the grand jury the history of the case, citing what he said were evidences of criminality on the part of the railroad company in connection with the granting of rebates, and saying that the promise of immunity must, however, be kept.

"There is, however," said Judge Landis, "another matter which it becomes my duty to submit to you. A document purporting to have been issued by the directors of the Standard Oil company to its employes and stockholders, and which counsel for the Standard Oil assure me they have never seen and knew nothing of its contents, has come into my hands. It appears to have been freely circulated, and I have received many copies of it. This document purports to deal with facts concerning the transportation of property in interstate commerce in the neighborhood of Whiting, Ind.

"In the document is a statement from James A. Moffett, president of the Standard Oil of Indiana, and I quote from it as follows: 'Thousands of tons of freight have been shipped from these points during the last fifteen years under the same circumstances as the Standard Oil company, and if the Standard is guilty in this case, so is practically every shipper of this great manufacturing territory. Is there a purpose in selecting the Standard as the victim?'

"I hope," went on Judge Landis, "that I need not say to you that it is my highest ambition to so administer the affairs of this court that no one can truthfully allege such things as this. Therefore I direct that a subpoena be issued for James A. Moffett, directing him to attend your next session, and charge you to give diligent attention to his testimony. Mr. Moffett will be summoned to appear before you next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

HIS NECK WAS BROKEN. Leaping from Train in Effort to Escape, Prisoner Is Killed.

Dayton, O., Sept. 24.—In a desperate fight for freedom, Wm. R. Burch of Glendale, O., a federal prisoner, enroute to Cincinnati in custody of Deputy Marshal Sanderson, plunged headforemost from a fast flying Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton train near here today. His neck was broken. Death was instantaneous.

TWO MEN HORRIBLY BURNED. Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 24.—While laborers were at work on a large sewer being constructed by the city today an explosion from leaking gas occurred and two were caught in the sewer and amid a mass of flames. The fire department extinguished the blaze. Antonio Cassale, an Italian, died immediately upon being taken out, and John Jackson, colored, is burned so badly he will die.

ASKS GILLET'S RELEASE. Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 24.—District Attorney Covell applied to the United States district court here today for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Private Cyrus Gillet, U. S. A., charged at the Soo with manslaughter after being acquitted by a military court martial.

WANTS THEM OUSTED Attorney General of Texas Sues the Pullman Car and Western Union Companies.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 24.—Attorney General Davidson today instituted suit against the Pullman company and the Western Union Telegraph company to prevent them from doing business in Texas, and asking for permit fees of $100,000 from each company on the amount due the state based on their capital stock, one hundred million dollars in each instance. The petitions recite that both companies have been doing business in Texas for a number of years and have never filed copies of their articles of incorporation or have taken permits to operate in Texas as required by law.

BIG TRACTION LINE DEFUNCT. New York City Railway Goes Into Hands of Receivers.

New York, Sept. 24.—Receivers were appointed today for the New York City Railway company on the joint application of the creditors and the officials of the New York City Subway, one of the numerous corporations formed in the various mergers of the traction and subway lines in this city. The New York City Railway company guarantees certain dividends on the Metropolitan Street Railway stocks. These dividends amount to about $3,640,000 a year, and it is estimated that the street railways have fallen $2,000,000 a year short of the earnings required to pay the dividends. Ever since the consolidation of the surface, elevated and subway lines in this city under the name of the Interborough Metropolitan company it has been understood that the elevated lines were more than holding their own, but that the surface lines, operated by the Metropolitan interests, were not earning their fixed charges and dividends.

GIVES SKIN TO SAVE STRANGER. St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 24.—Moved to pity by a graphic newspaper account of the terrible injuries suffered by a man he had never seen, Skapti Sigvaldson, an Icelandic, living at Ivanhoe, Minn., came to this city and volunteered to give up 125 square inches of his cuticle to save the other's life.

The operation of skin grafting was performed to save Gust Olson, an aged man, whose wife has died of burns she received in the same explosion in which her husband was injured. Physicians here to-day are confident that Sigvaldson will recover.

TAFT IS FAVORED

NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS DECLARE FOR HIM.

War Department Head Hailed as the Man Preeminently Qualified to Carry Out the Wise Policies of Theodore Roosevelt.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 24.—Under the new statewide direct primary law this was the day designated for all political parties represented on the primary ballot to hold their state platform conventions. Of the five parties, the Republicans, Democrats and Populists gathered in considerable numbers. The Prohibitionists held no convention, and the socialists were without representation, save for one delegate, who certified to a platform and organization with the secretary of state.

The Republican convention, which was the most largely attended, was primarily a business meeting, with little oratory. In the report of the committee on resolutions, which was adopted, Secretary Taft was endorsed as follows: "We recognize and commend Taft of Ohio as a man whose personal character and long public service marks him as preeminently the man under whose leadership the wise policies of Theodore Roosevelt may be perpetuated and the Republican party may again receive the approval of the national electorate."

NEW ENGLAND FOR ROOSEVELT. Congressman Thayer Says People Want Him Rather Than Taft.

Washington, Sept. 24.—That New England is for Roosevelt rather than for Taft is the opinion of ex-Representative John R. Thayer of Massachusetts, who is in Washington. "The situation," said Mr. Thayer, "is one which the Democrats might as well admit, and prepare to face. New England Republicans want Mr. Roosevelt renominated; they are all for him, and so are half the Democrats. I believe he will be renominated, and I greatly fear that he will be re-elected. I don't believe he will be able to withstand the pressure of the demand that he run again. However, if he were my own brother, and I felt certain that he would be re-elected, I would not advise him to take the nomination. We are on the crest of a great wave of prosperity now, but if there should be a panic and business depression during the next four years, Roosevelt would go down in history a failure rather than a success, as the country seems to regard him. No one can guarantee that there will not be a business depression in view of the present tendency to unsettle things."

Regarding the Democratic situation, Mr. Thayer, who has never been regarded as a present Mr. Bryan man, said that no other man than the Nebraskan was seriously under consideration by the New England Democracy. "We haven't attached much importance to the Chandler boom in Massachusetts, so that at present Mr. Bryan seems to have the call. There hasn't been a time in years when the Democrats of Massachusetts had as good a chance to carry the state and elect a governor as they have this year, if they would get together and quit fighting among themselves."

TRUST EMPLOYES AUDITED BOOKS

Testimony Brought Out in the Government's Suit Shows Waters-Pierce Oil Company in the Hands of the Standard.

Troubles of an Independent Concern, How It Was Discriminated Against by Big Eastern Railroad, Also Constitute an Interesting Recital, as Does the Story of How the Combine Gobbled Up a Competitor Through a Ruse.

New York, Sept. 24.—The fact that accounts of the Standard Oil company have audited the books of the Waters-Pierce Oil company of Missouri since 1900, when its name disappeared from the list of companies controlled by the Standard, was admitted by Wade Hampton, general auditor of the Standard Oil company, who testified today in the government's suit against the oil monopoly. In 1900 the Waters-Pierce Oil company was prohibited from doing business in Texas under the anti-trust law because of its relations with the Standard. The Waters-Pierce company was reorganized, and the stock held by the Standard was sold. Testimony has previously been adduced that Charles Pratt, secretary of the Standard, bought the stock and held it in the Standard's interests.

Mr. Hampton testified today that each year he sent accountants to the Waters-Pierce Oil company to audit the books at the request of the officers of the company. Mr. Kellogg produced a letter sent by the witness to one of the officials of the Waters-Pierce company, stating that an accountant was on his way, and that for reasons he could not understand his name had better be put on the pay rolls of the Waters-Pierce company until the accounting was completed. Mr. Hampton said he had forgotten what the reasons mentioned in the letter were.

Independent Concern's Troubles. The troubles of the oil firm of Lombard & Ayres in the early seventies were an interesting feature of the day's hearing. Mr. Lombard said that he had difficulties in obtaining tank cars to ship oil, and his company had much trouble in competing with the Standard, which he said was taking rebates from trunk lines. He had two conferences with A. J. Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad, but was told that the rebates given the Standard did not amount to much. Mr. Cassatt, the witness said, suggested that his difficulties would doubtless be cured if he united the Lombard company with the Standard. Mr. Lombard testified that he had a conference with Colonel Thomas Scott, president of the Pennsylvania, in which he was told that the Lombard company was getting all the tank cars it could obtain under the allotment. Colonel Scott, according to the witness, said that the Pennsylvania railroad would not haul tank cars built by the Lombard company. Colonel Scott also expressed the opinion that the Lombard company would do well to unite with the Standard.

Anthony L. Brady of Albany told today how the Manhattan Oil company of Ohio was sold to a London company. Mr. Brady said he had no idea when the sale was made that the company was going into the hands of the Standard.

CALLS "NEW STATE" REPUBLICAN. Judge Thomas Says the Returns from Oklahoma Are Misleading.

Washington, Sept. 24.—"Oklahoma and Indian Territory are safely Republican in spite of the returns showing the Democrats to have carried the proposed state. There is no possibility of the admission of Oklahoma under the present constitution, and the matter simply goes back to its old status." Such is the opinion expressed by Judge J. R. Thomas of Muskogee, for ten years a delegate to congress from Indian Territory. He is thoroughly in touch with the status of the two commonwealths, though he says he is now out of politics and engaged in the practice of law. "The explanation for the course the recent election took," he continued, "is to be found in the apathy on the part of Republicans in the contest over the adoption of the constitution. They felt a delicacy in voting against that constitution in the face of the fact that it meant that the territories would be kept out of the union for a year or two longer. They simply stayed away from the polls and let the matter drift. They failed to entuse over the election of officers whom they felt would never be seated in the absence of a possibility of the national government approving the constitution."

"There is no thought of immediate admission in my mind. The constitution is absolutely objectionable, and in the face of the fact that its adoption would, if the returns of the recent election are taken seriously, mean that the Democrats would get eight elector votes above what they have without the new state. I see no reason why the administration should let it in. Indian Territory is cited as the Democratic stronghold, yet I am satisfied that it is safely Republican, and I served on that ticket for ten years in congress. When a favorable constitution is framed and the state is finally admitted, the Republicans will make an entirely different showing. We regret the postponement of statehood, but hope to put forward a more favorable constitution when we are allowed to frame another."

PICKED UP IN ARCTIC Shipwrecked Crew of 253 Men Rescued by the U. S. Revenue Cutter McCulloch.

Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 24.—Captain Murchison and 233 survivors of the ship John Currier, recently wrecked in Alaskan waters, and who were rescued by the United States revenue cutter Thetis, reached port today. The cutter proceeded with the survivors to Seattle.

On Barren Island, Without Food. Washington, Sept. 24.—Officials of the treasury department today received a message from Captain Munger, commanding the Herlin sea fleet of revenue cutters, dated at Unalakleet, stating that the cutter McCulloch had rescued 253 persons from the ship John Currier, which was wrecked Aug. 9 in Nelson's lagoon, Unimak island, Bering sea. All the rescued were transferred to the cutter Thetis on Sept. 16, and the Thetis had discretionary orders for landing at either Seaward or Seattle. The rescue was timely, as the food supply saved from the Currier was getting short, and the place where the wreck occurred was a desolate and barren island.

FINDS MOUNDS FAR NORTH. Believes Builders Related to Cliff Dwellings and Aztecs.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 24.—Professor Henry Henshaw, University of Toronto, an authority on prehistoric races, is of the opinion that the mound builders occupied the continent 140 miles north of the international boundary. He stopped here on his way home after a summer spent in exploration in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. Prior to his mound builders did not go far north of the international boundary nor west of Manitoba. "I have devoted twenty-five years to the study of the mound builders and cliff dwellers, and the matter I believe that they be related to the cliff dwellers of New Mexico and Arizona and the Aztecs of Mexico," said Professor Montgomery. "Where burials have been made in the mounds, it is usually in circular pits about three feet diameter and three feet deep. The bodies are in a crouching position and generally four in a pit. Pottery, implements, and weapons which the dead might have been fond of are with them. 'The pits are filled in with black earth packed down and there is a layer of concrete which the mound builders knew how to make, as laid out here. After that the earth is piled about the pits in the shape of a mound, so that the water will run off and not soak into the burial pits, everything being done to make the pits dry, to preserve the bodies as long as possible.'"

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 24.—The jury to try United States Senator Borah was completed this afternoon. The government counsel announced that they contended that Senator Borah's alleged offense is only a misdemeanor.

CALLS THE TARIFF LEGALIZED GRAFT

Operates as a Cloak of Cunning, a Shield for Monopoly, a Tax Upon Industry, Etc., Etc., Says Governor Folk.

Trusts Will Never Be Done Away With, Asserts the Missouri Executive, Speaking at Nashville, Until the Wall Which Shelters Them Is Taken Down—Elimination of Special Privileges He Declares the Paramount Issue Before People of the Nation.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 24.—Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri was the principal speaker at a largely attended Thomas Jefferson banquet here tonight. Speaking of "Democratic Ideals," he said in part:

"The prospect for the success of democratic ideals was never brighter than now. By democratic ideals I mean those principles embraced in the expression, 'equal rights to all, special privileges to none.' This maxim of Jefferson expresses every essential element of real democracy. 'The elimination of special privilege is the paramount issue before the people of this country—the special privilege of lawlessness; the special privilege conferred by law, and the special privilege of monopoly. Any privilege is a graft, whether it be a privilege exercised contrary to law or one that the law itself may give. A tariff so arranged as to create monopoly and to give a few people the privilege of preying on the rest of the people is a legalized graft.' Considered from this standpoint, the tariff is a moral question."

"The world is now the business field of our great industries. They sell in competition with all the world abroad, and have no right to ask that they be protected from competition at home. A monopoly tariff is not necessary to protect the American workman; was never intended to do so, and has never had that result. It is self-evident that if a tariff equal to the difference between the cost of labor in this country and abroad is necessary to keep wages of American laborers on their present basis, then American-made goods could not compete with European goods, for as the American laborer receives more for his products, they could not be sold at the same prices as those made by cheaper European labor."

Benefits the Trusts.

"What are the facts? All the great factories of America now sell in competition with the entire world abroad. The handwork of the more skilled and better paid American laborer is now sold abroad in competition with the lesser American laborer without decreasing in the least degree the wages of the American laborer. The law of supply and demand regulates the price of labor. The average American laborer is worth more than the average foreign laborer because he is better educated and can accomplish better results in a shorter time. He competes with the world today because there is nothing to prevent foreign labor from coming here, and what he manufactures is sold abroad in competition with the same labor. Labor asks no largesse of the state. It wants but freedom of opportunity to have and to enjoy and to exchange the products of its handicraft. The protective tariff cannot be for the benefit of the workman. Then for whose benefit is it? 'There is a tariff of 150 per cent on oil for the benefit of the Standard Oil company, although this same company sells its oil all over the world and for less than it is sold here. We tax hides to hamper the shoe and leather industry, and pay higher prices for our shoes for the benefit of the beef trust. We tax steel rails and obstruct the development of our transportation facilities for the benefit of the steel trust. We tax wood pulp and hamper the printing business by the increase in the cost of paper for the benefit of the paper trust. As if to add insult to injury, these trusts in almost every instance sell their products for less in foreign countries than at home. The same article of free American trust sells in England for five dollars is sold in America for five dollars plus the tariff."

General Demand for Revision.

"The injustice of the present tariff schedules is so apparent that a general demand has been brought about for tariff revision. The suggestion that the tariff should be revised by its friends is in line with the request of the highwayman that he be tried by a jury of his peers, which he insisted meant a jury composed of men of his own calling. If this oppressive system that taxes the people without their consent and usually without their knowledge, is ever to be removed, it must be done, not by those who think it is right, but by those who know it is wrong and who hate monopoly."

A Tax Upon Consumption.

"The tariff is essentially a consumer's tax, a tax upon consumption, upon the things of daily use. And, as every tax upon consumption tends to limit consumption, it must, precisely in the same manner, tend to limit consumption."

INDIA SAFEGUARDED Treaty With Britain Barring the Czar Gives Him Free Hand in Northern Persia.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 24.—All fear of a Russian invasion of India, which has been the bugbear of British statesmen for years, has been set at rest by the ratification of the Anglo-Russian convention at the foreign office. Imperial Russia maintains its position in the north of Persia and Great Britain in the south. The other governments interested in Persia have been assured that the convention is of the nature of a treaty of the country and does not interfere with the vested interests of any one.

The convention guarantees the maintenance of the present positions of Thibet and Afghanistan, each of the contracting powers agreeing not to endeavor to obtain any advantages in these fields which might be to the disadvantage of the other.

Russia, it was announced, from Sept. 20 made prompt use of the free hand given under the terms of the treaty and conveyed a direct plan to the national assembly at Teheran of Russia occupation of North Persia, if the Persian authorities were unable to put down the state of anarchy existing among the tribes adjoining Russian territory.

SLAYER SOUGHT BY POLICE. Woman Found Dead in Trunk Near Seattle Is Identified.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 24.—Less than a month ago Mrs. Agnes True McCombs Covington, whose body was found in a trunk on the beach at Alkali point Sunday morning, told Miss Ada Watkins, friend, that she loved Charles Burillon better than she did her husband, Frank Covington. Burillon and Covington were at one time friends. Both are missing now, and the police are seeking for them in the hope of finding a clue to the murderer. McDonough, an expressman, informed the police today that two weeks ago he was summoned to the Keswick Hotel, Ninth avenue and Stewart street, where the murder is thought to have been committed, and removed a trunk to the Galbraith dock. Two men accompanied him.

STAFF OFFICERS TO ATTEND. Columbus, O., Sept. 24.—Probably all the living members of the staff of William McKinley when governor of the state will be present at a reunion at the mansion in Canton next Monday.

This was ascertained today on the receipt of messages from the persons concerned.

POUNDED TO PIECES. STEAMER ALEX NIMICK IS A TOTAL LOSS.

Grand Marais, Mich., Sept. 24.—The steamer Alexander Nimick is a total loss. She has gone to pieces under the terrific pounding of the seas. Three bodies have been recovered. They are those of Watson, Paisley and Scott. Thus far the body of Captain Randall has not been thrown up by the seas.

Survivors Taken to the Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 24.—The tug Bayton arrived from the scene of the wreck of the steamer Alexander Nimick in Lake Superior with the surviving eleven members of the crew. Following is the list of dead so far as known:

Captain John Randall, Algoma, Mich. Wheelman Lewis Dudley, Detroit. Watchman John Watson, Port Huron. Paisley Scott, Port Huron. Thomas Parent, Port Huron. Unknown watchman.

From the survivors it was learned that the Nimick, after lying in shelter under Whitefish point for some time, sprung a leak. At 7 o'clock the evening pumps could no longer keep the vessel afloat and Captain Randall decided to run his ship on the beach. Before this one of the yawl boats had been broken up by the heavy seas, and with the remaining one the members of the crew on the stern of the ship put out for shore, as the steamer already had begun to pound to pieces.

Several attempts were made to rescue the six men in the bow of the ship, but it was impossible to battle with the heavy seas, and the small boat was run for shore, where the men accompanied landed safely. Six men were left in the bow of the steamer. One of these, Charles Craig, the chief engineer, plunged into the surf and succeeded in swimming ashore safely. Nothing more was seen of the five men who remained on the bow of the steamer as it broke up on account of the darkness, until the bodies of three were found. Wheelman Thomas Parent was washed overboard from the wreck soon after it struck.

Suspension Saved His Life.

Buffalo, Sept. 24.—In suspending his license for thirty days, the local inspectors at Buffalo saved the life of Captain Frank Bertrand of the lost steamer Alexander Nimick. But for the enforced idleness during his suspension, Captain Bertrand would have been in command of his steamer when she was wrecked in place of Captain John Randall, who lost his life.

The Nimick left Buffalo on Sept. 11 in command of Captain Bertrand, but was forced to remain in port on account of heavy weather. While returning to the harbor the Nimick collided with the steamer S. S. Curry, resulting in the destruction of Captain Bertrand and the promotion of First Mate John Randall to the captaincy.

AMASA CAMPBELL FOUND GUILTY

Wealthy Lumber Dealer of Antigo, Wis., Charged With Killing Dr. B. F. Harris in Chicago, Is Convicted of Manslaughter.

Twice the Jury Asks Additional Instructions, and Once It Requests to Be Released, Declaring Its Inability to Agree, but After Eight Hours' Discussion It Reports a Verdict Recommending the Minimum Penalty of a Year's Imprisonment.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Amasa C. Campbell, a wealthy lumber merchant of Antigo, Wis., who killed Dr. Benjamin F. Harris in the Stock exchange building here last winter, was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury in Judge Wladimir's court here tonight. Accompany the verdict was the recommendation of the jury that the punishment be fixed at one year in the penitentiary, the minimum penalty allowed by the law.

The finding was reached after eight hours' discussion. Twice the twelve men asked for additional instructions from the court, and once they asked to be released, declaring they could not agree. The jurors, who retired to consider the case at 10 o'clock in the morning, sent in a query during the afternoon as to whether they could fix the penalty if they found a verdict of manslaughter. To this Judge Wladimir replied that they could recommend mercy, and that their recommendation would be taken into consideration by the pardon board. At 5 o'clock the jury reported a disagreement, but were induced to continue their efforts. An hour later the finding was announced.

Campbell declined to discuss the verdict.

Murder Suspect in Custody.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—A telephone message from Niles, Mich., says that Richard Walton, the alleged negro murderer of Mrs. Lillian White Grant, who was found dead in her room here last Friday, is under arrest at home. It was said the suspect was suffering from three bullet wounds which are said to have been received in a saloon fight at Gary, Ind. The police are investigating.

LOVE'S DREAM SHATTERED SOON. Newport Society Favorite Asks Divorce from British Husband.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 24.—Mrs. May Brady Hall, a society favorite and summer resident of Newport, has instituted proceedings for divorce from her husband, Major Charles Hall, of the British army, with whom she fell in love in an elevator in a London hotel four years ago and with whom she lived only a few months.

Mrs. Hall came here to live nearly two years ago, soon after she had separated from her husband, and her friends seemed to understand that she would sue for divorce as soon as she had gained a residence. Mrs. Hall declined to discuss the matter, however, and to many she denied the report. Recently her petition was filed here, and now that services have been made upon the respondent, objection to the matter becoming public appears to have been removed. The case will be placed on the docket for the December term of the superior court, and if the petition is favorably acted upon Mrs. Hall will obtain her divorce six months later.

Tall and stately, Mrs. Hall has long been considered one of the most attractive women in society. She was a daughter of Judge Brady of New York, and she and her sister, Mrs. Katherine Harris, two of the prettiest girls of their time, were very popular. May Brady first married C. Albert Stevens, a young man of large means, and he died about six years ago. A few months later she met Major Hall, a dashing British army officer, and their marriage followed soon after in London. They spent the season of 1903 there, but their differences soon became apparent to their friends and they separated in the autumn. Two years ago Mrs. Hall purchased a villa on Clay street here and she has since made her residence in Newport. Here she is one of the leaders in social matters and her dinner companions are frequent and delightful.

She charges her husband with desertion and failure to provide for her. It is understood that he will not answer the allegations.

WIRELESS SERVICE OVER SEA. Inventor Marconi Says All Difficulties Have Been Overcome.

Glouce Bay, N. S., Sept. 24.—"We have overcome all obstacles and in about three weeks we will commence a commercial trans-Atlantic wireless service," said Guglielmo Marconi today. He said that bad weather would not affect the service, provided the masts and poles used in the wireless system remained undamaged; that the average speed used in sending messages would be twenty words a minute, and that the rate would be ten cents a word for ordinary commercial messages and five cents a word for press dispatches. This rate, he said, would be cut in two later. Mr. Marconi arrived in Cape Breton on Sunday and proceeded to the harbor station at Glouce Bay where a plant has been established.

Can the leopard change its spots? According to Mr. Archbold the Standard Oil company intends to cling to its old dress.

Politics torrid in Illinois and Indiana?
 It seems to be a little early. But in due time they promise to be fairly torrid in Michigan.

The rivers and harbors committee has heretofore been the best fed and dined committee in congress. Now, however, it is reported to be jealous of the waterways commission, which is receiving a great amount of attention. However, its jaunt up the great lakes and back ought to have restored some of the committee's good humor. A great deal appears to have been made of it.

What's a little suspension between friends? The water commissioners were as busy as bees Monday evening, considering the North Marquette extensions, and the presence of a delegation of North Marquette people appeared to be a tacit recognition that they were still the water commissioners. Under fire they appear to be unusually active, up and doing. Perhaps that is why they are put under fire so often.

Governor Warner has called the much discussed special session of the legislature to convene October 7. In his call but two subjects are mentioned: The Mt. Pleasant Normal appropriation bill and the direct nominations law. The former bill as signed by the governor was not the bill that passed the house and senate, so to assure the Normal its money the appropriation has to be made over again. On the subject of direct nominations the governor says: "The people of the state are almost a unit in demanding that all candidates for public office who are voted for by the primary system shall be selected by the people and under no circumstances by a delegate convention. The existing law in Michigan makes this provision for all candidates save those for governor and lieutenant governor. At the recent session the legislature failed to make a number of changes in the law which the people of the state desire. These un-versally desired changes should be made before another general election is held in Michigan. The legislature alone can supply the needed remedies. Regarding the situation as extraordinary and as demanding immediate attention, I hereby call the legislature of the state of Michigan to meet in extraordinary session
 Monday, the seventh day of October, 1907, to consider such matters as may be submitted by the governor by special message."

It seems to be the consensus of opinion that Mr. Burton has essayed a mighty big task in going out to defeat
 Tom Johnson for mayor of Cleveland.
 Johnson is a veteran campaigner and a skillful one. His administration has not been beyond reproach, but it has been successful in some respects that have made a special impression on the imagination of the average voter. Disclaim it as he may, Burton will appear in the campaign as the candidate most friendly to the traction interests, and indeed there is no doubt that of the two men they would greatly prefer him.
 There is likely to be a line-up of the vested interests and solid business men for Burton. This will have a tendency to solidify the other class of voters for Johnson, who will not hesitate to hasten the process by demagogic appeal. That Mr. Burton would make the best sort of a mayor for Cleveland there is no doubt. That he can be elected is by no means certain, while many of his friends regard the risk of defeat too great to warrant them to call his decision to run wise. However, if he gains a victory he will at once advance to the foremost rank of Ohio's public men and the way to new conquests will be clear before him. He is playing for big stakes, and doubtless that is why he is willing to take such big chances.

The Central American states have finally agreed to hold a peace conference.
 The meeting place will be Washington, and the time early in November.
 Each country may send as large a representation to the conference as it may desire, but will have only one vote. The United States and Mexico will also be represented, but as arbitrators and advisers rather than active parties to the proceedings. It has taken time and much diplomacy to prevail upon these peevish boxes to attempt a peaceable adjustment of their difficulties. That success has finally come has been due largely to President Roosevelt. President Diaz of Mexico has ably seconded the motion, however, and is entitled to a full share of the glory. The conference will no doubt result in an understanding between the states and agreements as to the future. Similar understandings and agreements have been reached in the past and the fighting went on as usual. The present conditions, however, are unlike those of the past. The United States and Mexico will see to it that the treaties are lived up to. They will be the big brother of the family and there will be no quarreling when they are around. The Central American states are favored in climate and rich in resources. They have been hampered in their development by their readiness to fight. Peace, enforced if need be by outside power, will bring prosperity to these countries and make them factors in the world's progress.

CAN'T SELL BONDS.
 In connection with the general case of council vs. water board an investigation by attorneys has disclosed the interesting fact that, due to the charter revision the early part of this year, the $75,000 bonds which the voters some months ago authorized the water board to issue cannot be issued, as they were not properly authorized under the law
 as it applied to the city of Marquette at the time they were voted upon.

In accordance with the original general law, for the proper authorization of a bond issue a majority vote of all the qualified voters of the city was required.
 In 1901 it was expedient to apply to the legislature for a local act amending the act incorporating the Marquette water board, and among the things asked was the amendment of one of the sections to permit the water board's bonds, as they might become necessary, to be authorized by a majority of the voters voting on the proposition.

The men who framed the amendments to the charter early this year desired to add something to the section in the original act which was amended in 1901
 to make it easier to secure the approval of bonds, and, overlooking the fact that it had been thus amended in 1901, did so, with the practical effect of restoring the old requirement for authorizing a bond issue—that it must be approved by a majority of all the voters. The bond issue sought by the water board
 this year was not so approved, though it had a majority of the votes actually cast, and thus the bonds cannot be issued.

ISHPEMING
 VERY SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

About 300 Ministers Attended Swedish Methodist Assembly at Chicago.

Rev. O. W. Carlson, pastor of the Swedish Methodist church, arrived home yesterday morning from Chicago, where he attended a general meeting of the ministers of his denominations from various parts of the country. He reports that the meeting was most successful and that plans were discussed for a more general extension of the field work than has heretofore been conducted throughout the United States. About 300 of the 500 preachers in the country were present.

There are about 42,000 members of the church in the United States. The membership has been growing very rapidly of late, and there are not now a sufficient number of ministers to supply the charges in many of the districts. The new seminary recently dedicated at Evanston, Ill., was visited by the delegates, and Mr. Carlson stated that they were all surprised to find such a fine building, well equipped. The school is well managed and the visiting ministers were pleased with it.

Mr. Carlson stated that in view of the fact that the Swedish Methodist church society has been in existence in this country only sixty-two years, excellent progress has been made. Rev. Jonas Hultstrom was the first Swedish Methodist preacher to occupy a pulpit in the United States. He preached his first sermon in New York in 1845. The society is growing strong in many districts in which the field work was only started within the past few years, and the ministers present at the meeting in Chicago were unanimous in the opinion that another conference should be established taking in California, Oregon and other Western states. An appeal will be made to the general Methodist conference of the United States to be held next May, asking aid in establishing the proposed new conference. Another seminary will be established within the next year or two, probably at some point in Texas. The Texas institution would not be conducted on as large a scale as that at Evanston. The need of additional ministers is so apparent that the preachers concluded that a second seminary is an absolute necessity.

SNOW FELL YESTERDAY.
 The first snow of the fall season fell here yesterday. The weather was the coldest and most disagreeable of the season, and heating plants were in commission throughout the city. It was reported from points west of here that it had snowed there also. Last fall the first snow fell here Oct. 8.

DRY HOUSE BURNS.
 The dry house of the Lake Shaft mine of the Oliver Iron Mining company was destroyed by fire last night. The building burned was only a temporary structure, and the loss is not great. The origin of the blaze is unknown.

 coming a more pronounced feature in and say that the absorption of copper stocks the past two weeks has been on a very large scale. The action of today's market was rather tame, fluctuations being within narrow limits, although at a fractionally higher level."

COMMUNICATED.

To The Mining Journal.—In your paper of a recent date the statement was made that under the provisions of the Georgia clergyman who served sacramental wine would be liable to as many indictments as people to whom they handed the communion. From that it would appear that the church was in the rear instead of the van in the fight against alcoholic beverages and that alcoholic wine was a necessity to them.
 Barring a few exceptions the evangelical churches use non-alcoholic wines at communion, just the pure unfermented juice of the grape. They use this non-alcoholic wine because there is abundant evidence that when Christ instituted the holy communion he used unfermented wine. It was at the Jewish feast of the Passover that he said to His disciples
 "This do as oft, as ye do it in remembrance of Me," and the Passover cup of which He told His disciples to drink could not have contained intoxicating wine because no ferment was allowed in a Jewish home during the feast of the Passover; even their bread must be without leaven. Then the Bible teaches that two kinds of wine were used by the Jews, the fermented and unfermented, condemning the former and approving the latter. We cannot conceive of Christ, who came to fulfill the law, handing intoxicating wine to His disciples and coming under the "Woe to him that putteth the beetle to his neighbors lips." Neither would He break the commandment "Look not upon the wine
 when it is red, when it moveth itself aright, when it giveth its color in the cup." The wine our Saviour used was of the kind that we read that "swiss has mingled her wine," pure grape jelly mingled with milk or water to make it drinkable, or it was the juice of the grape sealed to prevent fermentation,
 or, as is sometimes used by the Jews,
 the juice of the stewed dried raisin grape. We need no legislative permitting the churches to use intoxicating wine, and the hour is fast approaching when we will not require it for medicinal purposes. Sir Edward Trives, physician of King Edward VII of England, has declared that "alcohol has no place in medicine." Spang will not permit me to name the hundreds of illustrious men who have made like statements. The victory draweth nigh. Doctors of divinity and doctors of medicine have declared that alcohol is not needed by either soul or body of any human being.

ACT QUICKLY.

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Marquette.

Do the right thing at the right time.
 Act quickly in times of danger.
 Backache is kidney danger.
 Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly.
 Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this.
 Samuel McMillan, bricklayer, Marquette, Mich., says: "Although my back had bothered me for a long time and I had consulted doctors and used many different medicines, nothing ever acted as quickly and effectually in my case as Doan's Kidney Pills. My trouble had been a dull continual aching in the loins and back and pains that struck me in different parts of my body and kept me miserable day and night. Loss of sleep was undermining my health and nothing that I used was helping me. At length
 I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the Star-ford Drug Co.'s store and after using them a short time the backache disappeared and with it all symptoms of kidney trouble. I have had no trouble of the kind since, and feel confident that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought permanent cure."

WORKING WOMEN,
 WHAT THEY SHOULD KNOW

Women for the most part spend their lives at home, and it is these women who are willing and ambitious that their homes shall be kept neat and pretty, their children well dressed and tidy, who do their own cooking, sweeping, dusting and often washing, ironing and sewing for the entire family, who call for our sympathy.
 Truly the work of such a woman is "never done" and is it any wonder that she breaks down at the end of a few years, the back begins to ache,
 there is a displacement, inflammation,
 or ulceration of the abdominal organs,
 a female weakness is brought on, and the struggle of that wife and mother to continue her duties is pitiful.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, is the exact medicine a woman needs whose strength is overtaxed. It keeps the feminine organs in a strong and healthy condition.
 In preparing for childbirth and re-cepting therefrom it is most effective. It carries a woman safely through the change of life and in making her strong and well assists
 her to be a good wife and mother.

Mrs. Sadie Abbott, of Jeannette,
 Pa., writes:
 Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
 "I suffered severely with pain every month and also a pain in my left side. My doctor prescribed for me but did me no good. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I wrote you in regard to my condition. I followed your advice and am a perfectly well woman. The pains have all disappeared and I cannot recommend your medicine too highly."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

ON A NOVEL CHARGE.

South Range Junk Dealer Arrested by U. S. Deputy Marshal.

Deputy Marshal Mosher of Marquette arrested James Solsky of South Range yesterday afternoon on the charge of violation of the interstate commerce law. Solsky was taken in custody a week ago while trying, it is alleged, to ship mass copper in barrels marked hides. The present charge is based on the idea of an attempt to evade railroad rates. The defendant will be given a hearing today before United States Commissioner Goodale.

HANCOCK TELEPHONE POLES.

Storm Cripples the Wire Service and Complicates Matters.

Without staying right on the ground and watching every move of all parties concerned in the matter it is difficult to arrive at any definite news regarding the Hancock telephone pole situation, but there were unverified rumors yesterday tending to show that the company is going to put up a figure more seriously to do with an injunction restraining the city from further action in the matter, pending a hearing in the courts.

For the present the company has a much greater difficulty on its hands, as all the telephones in West Hancock, 150 in number, are out cut owing to wire troubles originating in the storm of the last few days. From about the point where the disputed poles start to the western limit of Hancock there was no telephone service yesterday, and no prospect that there would be any for some days.

In the meantime the city authorities have taken down not more than four poles of the twenty-two in dispute. Under the best conditions the company might take care of the telephones served by the twenty-two poles, but with the present state of affairs it is said the removal of the poles would more seriously cripple the service and it is on this idea that the injunction is presumably to be based, if there is to be an injunction.

Whatever the conditions, it is certain that the two corporations, the city of Hancock for one and the Michigan State Telephone company for the other, are not preserving exactly an armistice. It appears more like preparations for war if not exactly active hostilities. Both parties seem to be not altogether sure of their position and the gavel of nations will be added to if nothing else before the matter is settled. Later in the week an exhibit was taken down during the last evening that the threatened injunction would be served on the city officials this morning.

RATHER GLOOMY INTRODUCTION.

But the Copper Country Fair Gives Promise of Brilliant Week.

Were the promoters of the Copper Country Fair endowed with less sanguine temperaments they might have been pardoned yesterday for feeling blue. It was the opening day of the fair, and the big exhibition was ushered in by a wind and rain storm which kept people indoors, except such of them as are employed at the fair and a few spirits whose desire for entertainment rises superior to climatic obstructions. The opening was not marked by a large attendance, and the exhibits were not as numerous as they will be today, but none the less the fair gave promise of a brilliant week.

The opening day would naturally lack the dash of a day in which the fair is in full swing, and this lack was enhanced by the weather, but the brilliantly lighted Amphidrome, the pretty booths therein, the bustle and gaiety and enthusiasm of all who are interested in the various departments, were contagious and the gloom was to a great extent dispelled.

The most complete exhibit was that in the forest, field and stream department, which is in the hands of the feverishly busy, but tirelessly energetic sportsman, George Williams, who at other times of the year is commercial agent for the Copper Range railroad at Calumet and president of the Houghton County Gun & Rod Club. The exhibit is the best ever shown at a county fair in Michigan, second only to that of the state fair. Most attention is given to this department here today because of its early completion. It is shown in the men's and women's waiting rooms of the Amphidrome, the fish in the first and the fauna in the latter.

The list of the living fish, shown in electric lighted aquaria, is as follows: Rainbow trout; specimens weighing seven pounds.

Brook trout, twenty-one pounds; contributed by Charles Blankingham of L'Anse.

Yearling trout, propagated and planted as fry in Houghton county streams.

Brook trout, three years old, propagated.

Whitefish.

Black rock, crappies bass.

Pike perch; very large specimens.

Dog fish.

Gar fish or gar pike or bill fish.

Black sucker.

German carp.

Gold fish; very large.

Leeches, turtles and crawfish are also shown.

There are mounted specimens of eels, landlocked salmon and black bass.

Thomas Munn of Hancock, a well-known taxidermist, has charge of the mounted fauna and birds. He shows a splendid specimen of Lapland caribou, the reindeer of the north. The animal was killed in Finland, brought here in a smoked condition and was mounted by Mr. Munn. There are also specimens of elk, red deer and albino deer.

In this department also is shown a collection of fungi, the purpose of the naturalist who contributed it being educational, showing the marked differences between the edible and poisonous fungi, popularly distinguished as mushrooms and toadstools. Such an exhibit was never shown in this fair before, and Mr. Williams calls particular attention of teachers and school children to it. The forest, field and stream department is very complete, full of interesting things for the lover of nature and the nature fane.

A popular feature of the fair of course is the entertainment department. This is provided by the Calumet & Hecla band, Bonanzinga, the aeronaut; Klavton, Jenks and Jasper, in "The Dark-town circus", a clever trick bicycle and slack wire act, and Prince, the high diving dog. All of the attractions but Bonanzinga were seen yesterday. The high wind prevented the aeronaut from making an ascension. He is one of the most daring in the business, but he does not attempt suicide. If the wind goes down today he will ascend as per announcement.

There will be various special attractions during the week. The baby shows, the marriage ceremony, the submarine explosions, the corn exhibit. There will be dancing every afternoon and night, and refreshments will be served every afternoon and evening of the fair.

Each department of the fair has a sufficient number of clerks, and all visitors to the fair will be shown everything by these capable and courteous attendants.

James E. Crooker of Ontonagon, the picturesque humorist of that county, is agent for the department of the agricultural departments. He was a saddened man yesterday because the awful weather held the farmers back, but toward afternoon he cheered up owing to the number who braved the elements to get their prize money at the fair. Mr. Crooker says that this has been a very backward summer for the farmers and he would not be greatly disappointed if the exhibit last year would excel this one, though he sees much promise in the exhibits so far brought in.

The Copper Country Fair is open every afternoon and evening of this week. It extends an invitation to the world at large and the upper peninsula in particular. It is primarily an exhibit of the agricultural, mineral and industrial products of the copper country, including Houghton, Keweenaw, Baraga and Ontonagon counties, but exhibitors from other districts are not barred.

SUPREME LODGE MEETING.

National Governing Body of Sons of St. George in Calumet.

The supreme lodge of the Sons of St. George, the national governing body of that society in the United States, met in Calumet next Tuesday, Oct. 1. The supreme lodge meets only once in two years, and a great amount of business is transacted at its sessions. The Calumet meetings will open in Gately-Wiggins Hall Tuesday morning and will continue until Friday afternoon.

Time will be taken in the intervals between the sessions to show the visitors the copper country and to entertain them in a manner for which the district is justly famed. They will be banqueted one night in Lake Linden, one in Calumet and one in Hancock. A number of the grand lodge officers of Michigan are resident in the copper country, and James P. Edwards of Houghton is a supreme lodge officer, so that the copper country is recognized as an important portion of the Sons of St. George territory.

The supreme lodge officers will leave Saturday morning for Ishpeming, where members of Sir Humphrey Davy lodge will entertain them during the day and show them around the iron mines.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Liquor Case Yesterday—Socialist Cases Soon on Trial.

The Houghton county circuit court was concerned yesterday with the case of John Madronich of Calumet, charged with selling liquor without a license. He was defended by P. H. O'Brien. The charge was that on July 14 Madronich, at that time in charge of a farm near Calumet, had sold two bottles of beer to one Hill, accepting thirty cents in payment. He claimed he had a case of beer on the farm, and had treated Hill. Madronich was charged with violation of the liquor laws as this term of court who did not plead guilty.

Of the fifty criminal cases on the calendar, forty-one had been disposed of up to yesterday. Of the remaining cases the most important are those of the Finnish socialists arrested in Hancock in July for violating a city ordinance and displaying red flags. They were convicted in the lower court. The case excited a great deal of interest at the time owing to the activity of socialists in the county, and on its settlement in the circuit court will determine the status of a red flag as a peaceable and legal society emblem.

COPPER COUNTRY WEATHER.

Specimen Now in Use Discarded by Residents as Typical.

The copper country is at present "enjoying" a variety of weather which is worthy of more than passing comment. For the past week there has been an intermittent downpour of rain, accompanied by a nearly winter temperature.

There has been a rush to the steam stoves and other stoves employed in revivifying furnace fires, and the coal dealers are enjoying an active trade. The steady rain has caused considerable damage by floods and washouts.

The Houghton County Street Railway company has suffered and they have been many reports of flooded streets. Damage of this sort is reported in various places in Hancock and a serious break has occurred in one of the sewers of that city as a result of the excess of storm water. The break occurred under the Quincy street asphalt pavement, and it will require excavation to reach it.

Marine men of the copper country fear the effects of the storm. The wind yesterday was blowing at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour in Houghton, and as this town is protected by the surrounding hills it is easy to believe the velocity was at least forty miles per hour out on Lake Superior. News of marine disasters was expected hourly at Portage Lake yesterday.

SHRINERS TO CHICAGO.

A number of copper country members of the Ancient Mystical Shrine of Marquette, expect to leave tonight for Chicago to be present at the big Shriner's gathering in the Coliseum this week. The party will be conducted by James T. Fisher, cashier of the State Savings bank of Laurium and president of the Shrine. F. S. Carlton of Calumet, Harry Dutton of Chassell and D. G. Donahue of South Range have so far expressed an intention to be of the party, though it will be much larger than this according to Houghton Shriners.

JAPAN WAS OVERDUE.

The Anchor line steamer Japan, due in Houghton yesterday, was at noon reported to be twelve hours late into Marquette. At the anchor line office no concern was felt, it being the belief that she had taken shelter under Whitefish, though nothing had been heard from her since leaving the Soo on Monday.

PRIVATE EXCHANGE.

The Calumet & Hecla Mining company awarded a contract yesterday to the Michigan State Telephone company for the installation of a private telephone exchange in the Calumet schools. Thirty-five telephones will be put in, principally in the big new high school building.

COPPERDROM BREVITIES.

Mrs. George Penhale of Calumet is visiting her son in Massachusetts.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosevear of North Kearsarge intend leaving this week to make their home in Mexico.

Ed. Haug of Houghton, last year half back on the Lehigh University football team, has become coach of the Houghton High school eleven.

Rev. Harry Appleton of Calumet, secretary of the Hermin Mining company, has gone to Mass., Ont., to inspect the company's property.

Sheriff Rydgen of Keweenaw county has arrested a gang who jumped several saloons at "Helltown" in his county Sunday night. It is said the men wrecked the saloons and terrorized the location.

DRUNKENNESS a Curable Disease

Eminent Physicians and Scientific Men Agree That It Should Be Treated as Such.

Drunkenness is a progressive disease; the moderate drinker is not satisfied with two or three drinks a day, the craving grows more and more irresistible as the disease advances; the result is Chronic Alcoholism.

The treatment used successfully by thousands right in their own homes is Orinne. It is a scientific cure for Drunkenness and has given such universal satisfaction that it is sold under a positive guarantee to effect a cure or your money will be refunded. This guarantee is given in good faith and is carried out to the letter. Orinne is not a new remedy; it has been sold by the leading druggists in every city for years. It has effected cures of thousands of men and women in every state in the Union.

Orinne No. 1 is the secret remedy; Orinne No. 2 is for those willing to take the guarantee. Both forms cost $1.00. The guarantee is the same in either case. Write to The Orinne Co., Washington, D. C. for free treatise on Drunkenness, mailed in plain sealed envelope. Orinne will be mailed sealed on receipt of price. Sold by the leading druggists in every town and city, and in this city by The Star Drug Co.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The Amalgamated companies have already laid off more than 50 per cent. Everyone seems afraid to buy copper stocks at their weakest places and those that have the courage to buy and intend to do so are holding off in the hope of still lower prices. The big thing hanging over the market at the present time is the Amalgamated dividend. A decrease is certain and the same is true of Anaconda. A few others still remain who will be forced to join the procession.

The Union Copper Lumber & Mining company has given an option on one of its parcels of land comprising six forties near the Phoenix property. In the event of the sale of this property, which now appears certain, the directors will declare a dividend of fifty cents a share.

The dullness on the Boston exchange lately has outdone anything that has been seen since the winter of 1905-06. Everyone seems afraid to buy copper stocks at their weakest places and those that have the courage to buy and intend to do so are holding off in the hope of still lower prices. The big thing hanging over the market at the present time is the Amalgamated dividend. A decrease is certain and the same is true of Anaconda. A dispatch from Canon City says that the Tri-Bullion Smelting & Development company, which entered into agreement with the City Merchants' association to erect a smelter there with an initial capacity of 100 tons per day, has filed a bond for $250,000, has filed a bond for the faithful performance of the contract. The city is pledged to provide employment and other concessions. The capacity of the smelter will be increased in units of 100 tons each until a daily capacity of 400 tons is reached. The smelter when fully completed will cost $1,000,000.

With the sale of about 250,000 pounds of copper by the Franklin Mining company at sixteen cents and the sale of another lot at 14 1/2 cents by a Lake Superior company, the smelter copper producers have pretty well cleaned up their surplus copper supply. The Victoria Copper company, which sold a fairly large block of copper at fifteen cents a few weeks ago at around eighteen cents a pound, has no copper at present for sale, while the Mass Consolidated has little copper to sell around sixteen cents. The last sale made by the Mass was late in August at 18 1/2 cents a pound. The Altoner and Centennial have not sold copper below 18 1/2 cents a pound.

Mining News OPERATIONS IN KEWEENAW.

Some Properties Reducing Forces, Others Looking for Men.

Both the Keweenaw Copper company at Mandan and the Manitowish Mining company at Delaware, the latter under control of the Calumet & Hecla, have made their opening in the new workings in the Keweenaw County Miner. At the Keweenaw company's mine workings, surface men and some muckers and trammers have been laid off.

At the Manitowish mine at Delaware Nos. 1 and 6 shafts, the only two shafts in operation up to now, have both been shut down at present, and the three workmen are engaged in removing the rails and pipes from the shafts. Just why this move has been made by the Calumet & Hecla at this time is causing some wonderment. The exact reason has not been given out, although unofficial opinions are that the reason is that the underground showing on the lode under development through Nos. 1 and 6 shafts near the Montreal river, was very unsatisfactory. At the old Delawar mine property of the Manitowish, however, the work of pumping out the old workings is still in progress and all other operations will continue. During the past few days workmen have been engaged in covering the steam supply pipe leading to the underground pumps at this point, preparatory to colder weather, which would seem to indicate a continuation of work there.

Much speculation is being done as to how long the working force will be kept reduced. It is understood, however, that the miners and other skilled help have been encouraged to remain under the employ of the Calumet & Hecla at any of the company's other mines to which they may be transferred. It is also rumored that no rent would be charged them if they choose to remain at Delawar. An encouraging fact to be noted at this same time is the fact that the men laid off at both Mandan and Delawar will likely find no difficulty in securing employment elsewhere in the county. The mining captain at Cliff made a trip to Mandan during last week in search of as many miners as it would be possible to secure there. The Ojibwa is also looking for surface help to carry on its new work. It has also been rumored that the Keweenaw Copper company itself will put more skilled miners to work underground in the near future.

Preparations have been made to start sinking No. 1 shaft of the Ojibwa company. This is the second shaft and will be located 1,100 feet north of No. 2. During the last week the ledge was encountered in No. 2 at a depth of thirty-three feet. The work of sinking into the rock is now about to be taken up. No. 2 is being sunk in the footwall at a distance of forty-two feet from the lode, which has an angle of approximately 25 degrees at this point. After sinking about twenty-five feet into the rock the work of building the permanent shaft from that point back to surface will then be taken up. This will be constructed of concrete and will be securely tied to the ledge by means of the cement work.

The buildings which have been erected at the Ojibwa mine for the housing of machinery and supplies and for sleeping and eating quarters for employees during the development period are of a most substantial character. The twenty-four houses which are being erected by Contractor Useth of Calumet are well under way. One street is laid out at present, on both sides of which the twenty-four houses are building, twelve to be on each side. The boiler house will be erected at a point almost midway between Nos. 1 and 2 shafts. The compressor plant will be adjacent. The compressor, a ten-drill machine, is already on the ground. The site has been laid out for it and the concrete foundation will be built within a few days.

Near the site of the boiler house and compressor plant are situated the oil and cement houses and the warehouse, in which is also located the temporary office. When a new office is built later on this building will be given over entirely to the housing of supplies. At a point near the present group of mine buildings it is intended to place a hoisting plant, as mining operations demand it, in which will be housed two engines, one for raising the hoist shafts now sinking. The hoisting from the open pit at No. 2 is now taken care of by a portable hoist and boiler combined. A similar equipment has been delivered at the location for use at No. 1 shaft.

Measurements of the ore blocked out in the East battle mines have been completed, reports a Butte correspondent. Ore has been blocked out in nine veins above the 400-foot level. Drifts have not been extended to the end of the lines of the property, but in the ore actually blocked out and in sight above the 400-foot level is 297,404 tons, carrying an average of 3.11 per cent copper, 2,022 ounces of silver and 30 cents in value to the ton. Figuring on a net value of $4.50 per ton of ore gives a value to the ore blocked out of nearly $3,000,000. With the drifts extended to the end of the lines above the 400-foot level $25,225 tons should be added to the ore blocked out. A number of ore veins have been crossed below the 400-foot level, but no drifting has been done. However, values improve with depth. The development work done by the company consists of 400 feet of shaft sinking, 5,365 feet in drifts, 2,555 feet in crosscuts and 225 feet in raises. The material and cost of construction to date has cost $46,052.

SURGEON'S KNIFE A CURE.

Cineimati, O., Sept. 24.—The surgeon's knife will make a good boy out of Charles Cooper, sixteen years old. He was an exceptionally bright boy until two years ago. Up to that time there was not a better boy in his neighborhood. He fell from a building one day and was injured about the head. Since that time his entire nature has changed. It is believed that a part of his skull is missing from his brain. The juvenile court authorities think this has caused him to have a penchant for starting fires. Upon their suggestion Judge O'Connell has ordered the boy taken to the hospital for epileptics at Gallipolis. There a surgical operation will probably be performed for the removal of a portion of his skull.

Child Accidentally Hanged—

A peculiar accident resulting in the death of a two-year-old child of Matthew Campbell, is reported from Newberry, Luce county. With his brother, a year older, the child was playing about the yard. In some unaccountable manner the youngster became entangled in a rope attached to the gate post and hung himself. He had a half inch around his neck when found and it is supposed that his struggles to free himself had drawn the rope tight until suffocation ensued.

Partridge Flew Through Window—

A partridge that flew from the nearby woods into the town of Florence, across the state line from here, in Wisconsin, says an Iron Mountain dispatch, struck with such force against a window in the parlor of the residence of Prospering Attorney Max Sells that the glass was broken. The bird landed in a stunned condition inside the house and was easily captured. The district attorney enjoyed partridge potpie for dinner, but the dish was somewhat expensive, inasmuch as it cost just $1.50 to replace the broken pane.

They Play It to the Limit—

There is nothing show about the metropolitan press matter America, comments the Escanaba Journal. We have seen nearly a dozen pictures purporting to represent the new Atlantic liner Lusitania and no two of them are alike. One enterprising publication prints a picture of one of the nation's battleships and labels it "Steamer Lusitania," and the same paper prints a picture of Admiral Sampson, deceased, and labels it "Captain of Lusitania." If the metropolitan press would stick more to facts and not drive so much to make a showing the public would have more confidence in it. It is going too far when a paper prints a battleship bristling with cannons and hands it out as a passenger steamer.

Vessel Owner in Hard Luck—

The owner of the steamer Portage, recently seriously damaged by fire in Marquette harbor, where she was about to load pig iron, is playing in hard luck this season. Practically all of the upper works of the Portage were burned away, causing an estimated loss of $10,000. The boat cleared from Marquette Sunday, in tow of the steamer Frontenac, and will make repairs at Detroit. The Portage is owned by the same party as the one of the nation's battleships and labels it "Steamer Lusitania," and the same paper prints a picture of Admiral Sampson, deceased, and labels it "Captain of Lusitania." If the metropolitan press would stick more to facts and not drive so much to make a showing the public would have more confidence in it. It is going too far when a paper prints a battleship bristling with cannons and hands it out as a passenger steamer.

Representatives of several of the largest copper-consuming concerns interviewed state they are not in the market for copper and that no negotiations are under way for purchases of large amounts. The big electric companies, including the General Electric and Westinghouse, have not purchased a pound of copper in months. They are cleaning up their inventories as completely as possible, and not until they are absolutely bare of supplies will they begin negotiations for the metal. A representative of one electric company said: "With copper so demoralized, we do not care to make contracts for the sale of apparatus until we are certain prices have reached a rock-bottom basis." Notwithstanding the demoralized condition of the copper market, the new business of the electrical companies continues ahead of the corresponding period of last year, although it shows a material falling-off as compared with the first half of the year.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, last, the gross earnings of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad increased $254,102 over those for the year 1906 according to the annual report of the company, recently made public. The comparative figures are $3,311,878 and $3,057,775. However, because of increased operating expenses—$2,320,857 last year and $2,057,459 in 1906—the net earnings show a decrease of $9,293, being $91,020 in 1907 compared with $1,000,315 in 1906. Other revenue, amounting to $13,654.

The Coniagas concentrator is in full operation with capacity of 100 tons a day. The Hudson and Rochester compressor plants will be in operation this week and the Cobalt Central concentrator by the end of the month.

Work is progressing rapidly on the Buffalo mines. The new concentrator has been enlarged and the materials for the mill are arriving. The machinery is being installed as it reaches the mines. A new vein has just been found.

A rich strike has been made at the Cobalt Central. Rich native silver was found in a big vein on the second level, at a depth of 100 feet from the main shaft. The main vein at this point is about three feet wide. The new strike is about eight inches wide in diabase and smallite, and will run 10,000 ounces of silver or better to the ton.

The Coniagas Mining company, owning one of the best of the Cobalt working mines, is appealing to the Ontario railway and municipal board against an income assessment of $100,000, made by the municipality of Cobalt. The case, it is thought, will be in the nature of a test case, it being understood that a number of other mining concerns are likely to adopt the same attitude. The board, which has authority to deal with assessment appeals where amounts of over $20,000 are involved, has not yet fixed a date for the hearing.

WHERE STRAWS COME FROM.

In Italy to raise straw employed in making hats the wheat is sown as thickly as possible in order that the growth of the plant may be impoverished as well as to produce a thin stalk having toward the end from the last knot the lightest and longest straw. The wheat blooms at the beginning of June and is pulled up by the roots by hand when the grain is half developed. If allowed to remain in the ground a longer time the straw would become brittle. About five dozen uprooted branches the size of the compass of two hands are firmly tied together into little sheaves and stowed away in barns. Then the straw is again spread out to catch the heavy summer dews and to bleach in the sun. After additional bleaching the straw is put into small bundles and classified. Finally it is cut close above the first joint from the top and again tied up in small bundles containing about sixty stalks each and delivered to women in almost every private dwelling of the poorer classes—New York World.

GUNNERY FIGHT WAXES HOT.

Army Defends Shooting Ability—Refuses to Adopt Navy's System.

Washington, Sept. 24.—"Is it possible that the president, acting on the recommendation of a navy officer, might direct that the coast defense artillery abandon its present scientific system of fire control and gun pointing and adopt the haphazard system of the navy?" This is the question which is agitating the army. It is the kernel of the gunnery controversy, the real occasion of the earnestness with which that controversy is being carried on. Convinced that it has perfected the most scientific system of range finding and gun pointing in the world, and that it can make a better target at a range of from 6000 to 9000 yards than the navy can at half that distance, the army is surprised at the mere suggestion, and the finest gunnery talent in the army is engaged in preparing a report with which to demolish the arguments contained in the report of Commander Sims, U. S. N. Army officers are more or less indignant at the recommendation of a navy officer that they should abandon their own system and adopt the navy's, and they regard it as little short of impertinence that the suggestion should have come from a navy officer and have been submitted without their being consulted.

"The trouble with Sims is," remarked an army officer, apropos of the controversy, "that he is an iconoclast. But he is enthusiastic, and in the past his fearless criticisms have doubtless done a great deal to better the service in both branches. But while the navy has been busy for several years devising means to improve the efficiency of the naval gun fire, he evidently forgot that the army was doing something, too. He must think that the coast defense is just where it was ten years ago. Now, in my opinion, our coast defense is the best in the world. The army has a number of experts in different lines who cannot be matched anywhere. Talk about the navy's 'spotting system' for the use of the army—why, where would it be in case of a fog at night, or with the enemy's fleet shrouded in smoke? As a matter of fact, the army tried out and abandoned the system Sims recommends for its use years ago. The army system has been brought down so fine that the smokeless powder can be especially blended, and the size of the charge regulated to a nicety to give the velocity required by the projectile. It is strictly a specific proposition.

"The 12-inch guns at Fort Banks, Mass., did some exceptionally fine work. It is all very well for the navy to talk about hitting a canvas thirty feet or so square at 1,600 yards, but at Fort Banks the 12-inch guns put six shots into a space that could have been covered nicely by an armor plate, and did it at 6,000 yards in the quick time of three minutes and forty seconds. That would have sunk the biggest battleship afloat."

The navy makes use of what is called the "spotting system"; that is, an observer goes aloft and with a pair of binoculars watches where the shots strike. If the splash shows that the shot is over the target, he announces that fact, and the gunners depress the muzzle of the gun. If the splash shows that the shot falls short, the observer makes a quick mental calculation of the distance between the splash and the target. This is done by noting the apparent distance the "splash" is below the edge of the target. Now, if the target has the appearance at 6,000 yards of occupying an inch square space in the observer's field of vision, the splash may seem to be but 1-40 of an inch below the target, yet it may have fallen short 150 yards or more. The opportunity for errors in judgment are great; yet in target practice, it is soon that the range is held with astonishing accuracy.

Commenting on the claim to remarkable targets made by navy gunners, an army officer said: "Imagine an engagement in which the two guns in each of the fore and aft turrets of each of ten battleships and cruisers were firing at an enemy's fleet a perfect rain of shells such as was discharged at Cervera's fleet, each gun, mind you, firing at the rate of two to the minute—say, eighty projectiles a minute—and then imagine that navy officer in the foretop with his little binoculars trying to note the splash of his own gun and to correct the range of it. Why, the thing is ridiculous. Of course, they can make targets under the conditions governing target practice at ranges of sixteen hundred yards, for there the trajectory is practically flat, but let them try it at nine thousand yards, and then see what they can do. Why, the variation of one man's eyesight from another's will make such a difference at that range that he would hardly come within a mile of the target."

HEATING CONTRACT FOR NEW SCHOOL

LAKE SUPERIOR HEATING COMPANY OF ISHPEMING WAS SUCCESSFUL BIDDER—FOUR OTHER CONCERNS SUBMITTED FIGURES.

The board of education Monday evening awarded the Lake Superior Heating company the contract for the steam heating plant at the Ishpeming High school building, now being erected. Five bids were received, as follows:
Lake Superior Heating company, Ishpeming, $13,917
New York Blower company, Chicago, 14,871
Martin & Wigman, Green Bay, 14,896
W. S. Patterson, Appleton, 15,222
Lewis & Ketch, Chicago, 16,522

The installation of the plant will be started as soon as the construction work is sufficiently advanced to permit of the pipes being put in. If the weather continues wet much longer Contractor Solar will do well if he gets the building enclosed this fall, as work has practically been at a standstill the past few days.

The Lake Superior Heating company is now, and has been for some years past, doing the bulk of the steam heating work in this region. The company has been given about 90 per cent of the important contracts it has figured on in this county and in some other parts of the upper peninsula for five years or more. A crew of about thirty men has been almost constantly employed during that period. The concern has a number of large contracts on hand, besides numerous small ones, and more are expected.

Plumbing Contract Went Over.
The school board did not award the contract for the plumbing Monday evening. Only two bids were received, and both were from outside concerns. The Ishpeming plumbers did not send in bids, they claiming that the time allowed for figuring on the job was too short for them to procure figures on the material needed from the wholesale concerns. New bids will be called for and the Ishpeming plumbers will be given ample time in which to prepare their figures. The plumbing contract will be a large one, as considerable material will be used.

J. E. Dresberg, representing the Johnson Service company of Milwaukee, came to the city Monday to seek a contract for the automatic air service, but it may not be let for a few days. The Johnson company does much work in that line, and has put in a number of systems in the upper peninsula. Mr. Dresberg accompanied Architect J. D. Chubb to the city, both having been passengers on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train, which was wrecked near Floodwood, a few miles west of Republic.

SEAT SALE OPENS TODAY.
Isabel Irving Here Tomorrow in "Girl Who Has Everything."

The advance sale of reserved seat tickets for the engagement of Miss Isabel Irving, one of America's most famous comedienne, who will appear at Ishpeming theater tomorrow evening in Clyde Fitch's latest success, "The Girl Who Has Everything," will open this morning. Miss Irving appeared here last season in the delightful comedy, "Susan in Search of a Husband," and her work was very favorably received. She is one of the ablest actresses on the American stage, and has had varied experience in leading roles and star parts. By hard work she has succeeded in establishing herself in the good graces of the theater-goers of this country and advance reports of her present engagement are to the effect that she is being greeted everywhere by large audiences.

In the production of "The Girl Who Has Everything" Miss Irving has the support of a strong company, including among others Harry Hillard, H. Roberts, Leopold Lane, Emily Wakeman, Helen Weatherly, and Margaret Fuller, all performers of unusual ability.

MAKING GOOD HEADWAY.
Superintendent Fox of the Vandeventer lead and zinc property yesterday advised the officers that the Joplin Mill company is making excellent progress with the erection of the new plant. A large force is employed and the work is moving along even more rapidly than Mr. Fox expected. He reports that all of the machinery is on the ground and from present indications the mill will be ready for commission on or before the date specified in the contract. Most of the men employed in installing the Pine Tree mill have already been transferred to the Vandeventer.

Erna R. Ivey, graduate of school of music, Lawrence University, Wisconsin, is prepared to give instructions in vocal, piano, organ, harmony and lung development. County phone, Salisbury parsonage, 1213 S. Pine St. Erna R. Ivey. (9-25-10-3)

WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE.
Baxter Company Will be Represented Friday at Mineral Point.

The announcement in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal that a meeting of representatives of the lead and zinc mines of southwestern Wisconsin would be held Friday at Mineral Point for the purpose of considering the advisability of shutting down until such time as the price of lead advances attracted men attention here. There are hundreds of people in Marquette county financially interested in Wisconsin properties. R. P. Bronson, one of the promoters of the Baxter mine pool, which a few weeks ago took over the Baxter mine, and which it is now operating, will represent that syndicate at the meeting. It is possible that other Ishpeming men will be present.

The Baxter is the only producing property in the Wisconsin district in which Marquette county people are interested to any extent, though shares are held by upper peninsula investors in several of the mines which have reached a producing stage. The greater part of the Marquette county capital invested is interested in properties now being developed, principally the Vandeventer, and Pine Tree. Whatever action is decided on by the mining men at the meeting Friday will in no way affect either of these two properties, as neither has yet entered the producing list. It is thought that the price of lead will be satisfactorily adjusted before either the Vandeventer or Pine Tree are ready to place their product on the market.

Speaking of the proposition to close down the properties an Ishpeming mining man, largely interested in the Wisconsin field, yesterday said that he thought it was a good idea and that he believed it would result in bringing back the prices to where they were a few weeks ago. At one time during the summer the better quality of lead sold as high as $88 a ton. Upwards of a month ago the price began to fall off. It has dropped rapidly not only the better quality mineral bring only from $50 to $60 a ton. Even at this, practically all of the Wisconsin properties can be operated at a good profit, though the owners are not satisfied to let their product go at any such figure, as the market is now wholly in the hands of a combine which the producers believe they can over-ride by concerted action. The Missouri operators have stood together for some years past, and it is announced that they now propose to fight the combine to the limit. Most of their properties were closed down some time ago, and they have since been inactive. With neither the Missouri or Wisconsin operators offering lead for sale it is thought that the price will soon be advanced.

The labor problem has been difficult to solve both in the Missouri and Wisconsin districts for some time past. For a year or more the Wisconsin operators were unable to procure as many skilled miners as they desired, and as a result the wage rate is now higher than it ever was in that region. A large number of men have been brought in from other fields, but up to this time there has been a shortage of both skilled miners and mechanics. With the Missouri properties closing down for an indefinite time it is thought that many of the miners from that district will go to the Wisconsin field, provided it is decided at the meeting Friday to continue operations.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT.
Philip Coombe Passes Away at the Age of Seventy-Four.

Philip Coombe, who had been a resident of Ishpeming for many years, died yesterday afternoon at the Ishpeming hospital at the age of seventy-four. He has been an invalid for a long period, and in the hope of saving his life an operation was performed last week. Owing to his advanced age, however, and the serious nature of the ailment, he did not rally from the shock.

Mr. Coombe is survived by wife and two daughters. One of the daughters, Miss Mary Coombe, who lives in the copper country, has been in Ishpeming for the past several days. The other daughter lives in Canada. Mr. Coombe was an uncle of Rev. W. B. Coombe, pastor of the Mitchell M. E. church of Negaunee.

PICTURES WERE FINE.
The Crown County Democrat of DePere, Wis., has the following to say of the entertainment given by the Motion Picture company of Washington, D. C., which is booked for a two nights' engagement at Ishpeming theater, commencing Friday evening of this week: "Last night, at Cock's Opera House, the Motion Picture company of Washington, D. C., gave the best entertainment we have enjoyed for many a day. The scenes were from real life, and the figures in motion on the screen, accompanied by the proper noise effects, made the pictures the more impressive."

TRAIN WRECKED AT FLOODWOOD

SECTION FOREMAN, TAKING IT FOR GRANTED TRAIN WOULD BE LATE, REMOVED A DAMAGED RAIL IN A CUT--ENGINE AND SEVERAL CARS WERE DERAILED.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company came nearly having a serious disaster near Floodwood Monday morning. The passenger train due here at 10:05 o'clock was wrecked, the engine and several of the coaches leaving the track. The sleepers, diner and the division superintendent's special car were the only ones not derailed.

J. D. Chubb, the Chicago architect, was a passenger on the train, as was also H. E. Kaufman of Marquette. Mr. Chubb said yesterday that the passengers and train crew were given a bad scare, and they had reason for it, as the train was going at about thirty-five miles an hour when the wreck occurred. The section crew was replacing a damaged rail, and the rail was off the ties. When they heard the train approaching a flagman was hurried up the track, but he had gone only about fifty feet when the train appeared around a curve. Luckily the rail was removed in a cut and only the rear cars of the train were on an elevation. Had the wreck occurred 100 yards farther west the engine and some of the cars would surely have gone into a gully. The fireman jumped and was slightly injured, and several passengers in the smoker suffered from the shock. The engineer stuck to his post and was not injured.

Foreman Criticized.

The train crew and the passengers were at first much incensed at the section foreman for removing the rail just as the passenger train was about due, but after his explanation was given and after he had made a statement to the division superintendent and road master, who were in the foreman's private car, the passengers and railroad crew came to the conclusion that the section man was not altogether to blame. About the first thing the division superintendent asked the foreman was "What kind of railreading do you call this?" The foreman immediately opened fire on the officials, and said that he had instructions to put in the rail at once and that he was satisfied that the train would be late, as usual. He censured the management of the system for not having an operator at Floodwood, so that he could be kept advised regarding the movement of the trains.

Some time ago, it is said, the section foreman was notified that the passenger train would be from one to two hours late every morning, as it was necessary to transfer the passengers and baggage over the Green Bay & Western line, owing to a bridge at Green Bay being out of commission. The section foreman knew that the bridge was not yet in use and Monday was the first day that the train had been on time since the transfers had to be made. He had no way of finding out whether the train would be late. He said that he could have put the new rail in place in twenty minutes.

INSTALLING NEW BOILER.

Benjamin Neeley intends to have the best equipment he can procure for his business block, occupied by Levine Bros. The heating plant was installed at the time the building was remodelled three years ago. The boiler used the first year did not seem to work satisfactorily and another one was installed last year. The second boiler did not give any better results than the first; in fact, they were hardly as good. The Lake Superior Heating company is now installing a third boiler, and it is expected that it will be ready for use today.

INJURED DOING NICELY.

Men Hurt at Rolling Mill Mine Were Yesterday Reported Feeling Well.

The relatives and friends of the men so badly injured in the Rolling Mill mine disaster Friday morning now have some hopes of their ultimate recovery. Monday the condition of all of them had improved to such an extent that the surgeons were able to reduce the fractures of their limbs and they are now receiving nourishment. It is not now thought that the injuries to their backs are as serious as at first supposed. It was said yesterday that Jewell's back seemed to be worse than any of the others. The surgeons worked on the men for several hours Monday afternoon and evening. Roberts was the only one who was not in condition to leave work done on his back Monday night, so that he was attended to yesterday. A bone was broken and projected through the flesh but it is thought that his injuries will not cripple him permanently.

Stevens, who was considered one of the most seriously injured, was more cheerful than most of the others yesterday. He told how he struggled after the cage had struck the stump to gain his footing and keep his head above the water which came into the cage. He remembered climbing over the bodies of the dead and he said that the water was up to his chin when he was rescued. He was conscious all the while and he spoke of how the rescuers worked in their efforts to cut the timbers between the cage and the adjoining compartment. Although there was but two feet of water in the stump it is now thought that two or three of the men lost their lives by drowning, as the undertaker removed considerable water from the bodies. Most of them were lying on the floor of the cage and were unable to lift up their heads.

FARMERS WORRIED AGAIN.

Few Have Harvested Their Oat Crop, Which Is Light This Year.

"There is no reason to expect cheap oats or cheap hay the coming winter," said a Negaunee merchant yesterday. "I have talked to many of the farmers in this city and vicinity and I find that the oat crop is unusually light. If the weather we have had for the past week continues much longer a number of the farmers will not be able to harvest it. Those who have already cut their oats have not yet gathered it in and it now looks as though several of the oat crops will be destroyed. This season's oats is the lightest I have seen in many years. It does not weigh more than twenty-seven pounds to the bushel. Last year's growth weighed from thirty-six to forty pounds. The standard weight of oats is thirty-two pounds to the bushel."

"I do not remember any time in the past twenty years when oats have been as high as they are now. The retail price is sixty-five cents a bushel, and we are paying from sixty to sixty-two cents wholesale. The dealers have not had much profit on hay or oats this year, as they have been obliged to sell both at a very close margin. Three cents per bushel on oats, besides standing losses, etc., is not much. Short crops are reported from other districts and it does not look as though the price will be much below fifty cents per bushel of the coming year. Hay still remains high. The old stock is now off the market and new hay is selling at about $22 per ton. The wholesale price delivered is from $19 to $20."

FOOTBALL SATURDAY.

The Negaunee and Ishpeming High school football teams will try conclusions Saturday afternoon at Union Park. It should be an interesting contest, as the teams are said to be evenly matched. The Tigers, who are practically the high school team, had a hard contest with the Ishpeming Stars Saturday, the score being a tie, six to six. The Tigers report that the Stars had three or four ringer former members of the high school team. Kjoshe, the fullback of the team two seasons ago, refereed the first half, but he played in the second half. Styer, Farm and Goodney also played with the team. The two former members of the high school eleven are reported to be excellent players, and besides are considerably heavier and older than the boys on the local eleven.

MAY RUN VAUDEVILLE.

Although Clarence Holmberg may give up the management of Wonderland, as stated in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal, he says that his father, who controls the house here as well as the moving picture theaters at Iron Mountain and Crystal Falls, will continue the business and he might go into vaudeville. With two more theaters to be opened, Negaunee people will be well provided with amusement places.

WILL IMPROVE ROAD.

The county road commission has transferred part of its force from the highway between Eagle Mills and Marquette to the road leading from Humboldt to Republic. A camp has been established near the Humboldt mine, at which operations are soon to be resumed, and the men will work between that point and Humboldt. It is expected that the force will be considerably increased and that the roads leading to the different towns in that district will be given attention this fall. The road between Humboldt and Republic has been bad for two or three years past and the commission will find considerable to do there before it is in first-class condition. People in the western end of the county will be pleased to learn that work has been started.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mattford were here from Princeton yesterday.

Mrs. G. M. Walker of Houghton was a visitor in the city yesterday.

C. B. Ulrich of Hanesok transacted business in Negaunee yesterday.

Al Collins, the street car conductor, and wife, are re-joining over the arrival of a daughter at their home.

Dr. H. S. Smith, wife, and two children arrived home yesterday morning from Chicago, where they spent the past two weeks.

Fifteen men are employed on the work of improving the Cambria road. There is considerable filling to be done, ten feet of it in places.

W. E. Nankeville's "Human Hearts" company was greeted by a good-sized audience last evening at McDonald's Opera House. The play gave good satisfaction.

The Chicago & Northwestern north-bound passenger train was nearly two hours at Negaunee yesterday morning. As a result the train which runs between Ishpeming and Marquette made two trips.

A number of Negaunee theatergoers will attend the production of Clyde Fitch's latest comedy, "The Girl Who Knew Everything," by Isabel Irving and her company, at the Ishpeming theater tomorrow evening.

John Shea, who is closing out his stock of clothing and dry goods, announces specially low prices on overcoats and suits. He has an unusually large line of men's clothing, as well as women's suits and jackets, and he proposes to get rid of the goods.

The members of Nos. 1 and 2 bowling teams, who competed in a match for a supper the opening night of the season at Orr & Tompkins' alleys, the No. 2 team winning, feasted on chicken Monday evening at the expense of the losers. The supper was served at Johnson's restaurant.

Michael Bush, who has lived in Negaunee for the past twelve years, left Monday night for his home in Austria. He was accompanied by three or four Italians who are returning to their native land. Mr. Bush is not certain that he will return to Negaunee, but he may come back and bring his family with him. The Italians will return.

Several representatives of brick concerns were in the city yesterday endeavoring to capture the contract for the material required at the new high school building. The board of education met last evening to decide on just what brick shall be used. Contractor Hanssee will be obliged to purchase the quality selected. It is understood that the price must not exceed $22 per thousand.

The melodrama, "Panama," will be offered at McDonald's Opera House tonight. The company producing it are well recommended as a popular priced attraction and it is expected that there will be a fairly large attendance. The troupe carries special scenery that can be used to advantage on the Negaunee stage. The prices will range from twenty-five to seventy-five cents. Reserved seats are on sale at Perkins' drug store.

BOARD POWERLESS TO RAISE MONEY

WATER COMMISSIONERS UNDER FIRE COULDN'T ISSUE BONDS IF THEY WANTED TO.

NO REMEDY BEFORE 1909

Law Now Requires That Bonding Proposition Requires "Majority Vote of All the Electors of City."

One of the four charges against members of the water board is that they have failed to provide funds by means of the sale of bonds, after the same were directed by the vote of the citizens of this city, to provide for domestic use in said city, palatable water and water free from foreign substances. It is not known that the four members involved mean to make a defense nor have any of their plans regarding their suspension been announced, but it is a fact that the water board probably has not power to issue bonds of any sort for any purpose as the law now stands.

First Amendment.

The law governing the water board until it was first amended in 1901, said that "the commissioners shall have power to borrow from time to time a sum of money not exceeding $100,000, and shall have authority to issue bonds for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds, provided that no such bonds shall be issued until the amount proposed to be raised shall have been submitted to the legal voters and shall have been approved by majority vote by ballot of all the electors at an annual election."

When this law was amended in 1901 it was altered so that two important changes were made. The first was that instead of being limited to $100,000, bonds amounting to 5 per cent of the assessed valuation of Marquette property, about $300,000, might be issued by a majority vote, not of the total electors of the city, but a majority vote of those who voted upon the question.

Changed Again.

Another amendment of the law was made at the session preceding the election of last spring when a project to issue $75,000 worth of bonds was voted upon. This second amendment again changed the amount that bonds might be issued for and placed it at $200,000, but in the second amendment it was not provided how a bond issue of the sort might be voted for, and the result is that the original law is now practically effective.

Under this original law, to issue bonds of any sort for any cause, there must be a "majority vote by ballot of all the electors at an annual election" and not by a majority only of those who vote upon the question.

Would Require Majority.

To those familiar with the Marquette vote, it is apparent that a majority vote of all the electors could not be obtained upon any bonding proposition. Under the law as it now stands, for the water board to be authorized to issue any bonds by popular vote, it would require that at least 1,601 votes be cast for a bonding proposition, and not one against, as it is estimated that the voting strength of the city is 2,000—it would require a majority of all the voters of the city.

It has been repeatedly demonstrated here and elsewhere that when a bonding proposition has been put on a ballot, a large number of voters ignore it. As the situation now stands, failure to vote upon a water board bonding proposition, practically is a vote against the proposition and so it was at the election last spring when some eight hundred votes were cast for the proposition to issue $75,000 worth of bonds and about three hundred votes were cast against it. About seven hundred ignored the proposition.

The proposition carried by a majority of those who voted upon it, but not by a majority of the electors of the city as the law now provides, and therefore the bond issue was not authorized and the board has not the power to issue the bonds. It is a flaw of the law, which should be remedied for as it stands, the water board is practically powerless to issue bonds, now or at a future time because a majority vote of the electors of the city cannot be obtained at any election.

If the law is to be remedied, it will not probably be before the session of 1909, unless the governor can be prevailed upon to have it introduced at the special session soon to be held. This is unlikely as other important matters, it is said, will receive exclusive attention at the special session.

TRAGEDY IN MINIATURE.

"Father, if you insist that I marry this man, for whom I have not a spark of love—if you are determined—"

"I am determined," interrupted the father.

"And my happiness—my tears—my prayers—will not move you?"

"Not a move."

"Then, cold, cruel, heartless, selfish, unfeeling, unnatural father—then, sir, it only remains for me to—"

What remains for her will never be told in that "laughter" of all farcical comedies, "The Irish Parson's" which will be presented in this city in the near future by Murphy, Murphy and Murphy, and they wonder if "The matches that are the result of love must be the product of a trust."

DEATH OF "PADDY" TAYLOR.

Printer Well Known Here Comes to Tragic End Under Car Wheels.

Investigations contradict the suicide theory in the case of the death of Alphonsus Taylor, better known as "Paddy" Taylor, by street car accident on East Portage avenue Saturday afternoon at the Soo.

Eyewitnesses to the affair who were in the buildings nearby assert that there was no evidence that Taylor noticed the car, or, at least, until too late. This is attributed to the fact that there was a heavy wind blowing. It is claimed that he had on a soft hat at the time and that the wind was blowing it down over his ears in a way that would make it difficult for him to hear.

Death was instantaneous, the head, body and limbs being mangled terribly.

Alphonsus Taylor was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor of 213 Ridge street. He was born in the Soo about thirty-seven years ago. He was a printer and was single, his near relatives being his parents, Captain and Mrs. Joseph Taylor; four brothers, Joseph, Stanley and John of the Soo and Charles of Lincoln, Minn.; three sisters, Mrs. Archie Dougan and Miss Minnie Taylor of the Soo, and Mrs. Arthur Lizzette of Waterloo, Ia. Taylor was a member of Company G of the Thirty-fourth regiment of Michigan volunteers who went from the Soo to the Spanish-American war.

It was only a few months ago that Taylor was employed for a brief period on a Marquette paper.

THEATRICAL.

Isabel Irving.

Isabel Irving will appear at the opera house tonight. Those who are familiar with the work of Miss Irving, will be given an opportunity to see her in a different role from that in which she has generally appeared, and it is said that had Clyde Fitch written "The Girl Who Has Everything" with the express view of exploiting her characteristics, the attempt could not have succeeded better.

It is a delightful play that the playwright has given to the stage in "The

ISABEL IRVING.

"Girl Who Has Everything," delightful in that it tells an interesting story; its humor is sparkling, its sentiment true, and its characters are intensely human. The story is a typical Fitch one, and in its unfolding he has provided Miss Irving with a character that appeals strongly to the heart; that of a young girl who is striving to save the children of her dead sister from her dissolute, unworthy brother-in-law.

It will be remembered that Miss Irving appeared in Marquette last season in "Susan In Search of a Husband," one of the best productions offered last season at the opera house.

THE BIJOU.

Since the Bijou has been improved and re-decorated it is more than ever an inviting place to go to for an hour's amusement. It is kept scrupulously clean, the air is pure, and the house is well lighted and warmed. The program is always good. The comedians are funny, the vocalists sing well, and the moving pictures are the best going. The popularity of the house is growing, as can be seen by the attendance. The house is well filled at each performance, especially in the evening, when all the seats are usually taken and standing room is in demand. Before the close of the first evening performance, there is always a crowd waiting for the second, which begin at 9 o'clock. Manager Ross has scored a success with the Bijou through the excellent management he is giving it. So long as he keeps it up to the present standard he will secure the best patronage the city affords. The house is a credit to Mr. Ross and to the city.

RUMOR OF WRECK OF JAPAN IS UNFOUNDED

VESSEL HOURS OVERDUE SAID LAST NIGHT TO BE SHELTERED AT GRAND MARAIS.

The report that the steamer Japan of the Anchor line had been wrecked near Whitefish point is unfounded. It was stated late last night that the boat was sheltered at Grand Marais and will probably resume its voyage to Duluth today.

Delayed by Heavy Weather.

The Japan left the Soo at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. It was expected that it would arrive in Marquette about 3 o'clock yesterday morning and a number of persons expecting relatives and visitors were gathered on the dock at that hour. The boat was scheduled to arrive at 9 o'clock Monday night, but the information was issued that it had been delayed by heavy weather and would probably arrive in the morning.

When the boat did not arrive, there were a number of anxious conjectures and when it was not heard from all day yesterday, these conjectures grew into the rumor that the boat had been wrecked. Throughout the day efforts to locate the vessel were unavailing.

Spread Widely.

The alarm was not confined to Marquette, but in some manner spread widely and last night inquiries from all of the larger lake ports and from other cities were received asking the details of "the wreck."

It was ascertained that the Japan had not reached Munising at any time yesterday and the theory that it was sheltering behind Grand Island, was shattered. It was stated last night at the Soo that a message had been received from Seney from a passenger on the boat who stated that all was well and that the boat was waiting for calmer weather to proceed. From this the indications are that the boat has been weathering at Grand Marais.

Did Not See Boat.

Officers of the ore boat, Choctaw which arrived in Marquette at noon yesterday stated that they had passed Whitefish point at about 10 o'clock the night before when the gale was at its height. They stated that there was a fearfully heavy sea at that point, but it was not observed that there was a vessel in distress. Had any lights been shown, they say they would have seen them.

No Messages Sent.

Besides this assurance given by the Choctaw officers, it is known that the coast from Whitefish point to Grand Marais is patrolled by life savers and that there is a telephone wire along this stretch of coast. Had there been a wreck Monday night or at any time yesterday, there is but slight doubt that the news of it would have been sent out by life savers as this is one of the requirements placed upon them.

It was impossible to ascertain definitely last night that the Japan was at Grand Marais as there is no telephone or telegraph connection between Grand Marais and Marquette after 6 o'clock at night.
