

BRYAN WILL RUN IF PARTY WANTS HIM

He Is a Receptive Candidate for the Presidential Nomination—Will Neither Ask nor Make a Fight for It.

Most Weighty Question, He Says, Is Whether He or Some One Else Will Be the Strongest Standard-Bearer—He Will Not Attempt to Dictate, nor Will He Be Disappointed or Disgruntled if the Honor Goes to Another Man.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 14.—William J. Bryan will accept the Democratic nomination for president in 1908, but he will neither ask nor make a fight for it, he says today.

The question that ought to weigh most, he says, is whether his nomination will strengthen the Democratic party more than the nomination of some one else.

Mr. Bryan, after making the above statements in some detail, says: "His (Bryan's) availability is a question to be decided, not by him, not by a few leaders, not even by leading newspapers that call themselves Democratic, but by the voters of the party, and to them I trust the decision of the question—They are the supreme court in all matters concerning candidates, as they are in all matters concerning the platform."

Republican party has rewarded them. The Democratic campaign must be carried on by volunteers who will work because they desire the triumph of Democratic ideas. We cannot hope to appeal to the timid or to buy the purchasable, even if such course would contribute toward Democratic success.

Would Fight in the Open. "No one should favor Mr. Bryan's nomination unless the party is willing to open its books and show where its contributions come from and for what the money is expended. The Republican party ought to be challenged to conduct its campaign in this open and honest way, and if the Republican leaders refuse to accept the challenge, the Democrats can well afford to leave the issue with the public."

"An appeal to conscience is politically expedient, as well as morally right, for conscience is the most potent force with which man deals. The national conscience has already been aroused, and a large majority of the voters have been educated to the necessity of real reform—a reform that will make this government again a government of the people, by the people and for the people. It only remains for the Democratic party to convince the voters that it can be entrusted with the work of reform, and nothing will do more to convince the public than a refusal to negotiate with predatory wealth and an honest appeal by honest methods to the honest sentiment of the country."

WORK AT LANSING IS MUCH DELAYED

State Printing Office Slow in Turning Out Needed Reports, Constitutional Convention Is Making Discouraging Headway.

However While the Deliberations Are Retarded the Delegates Themselves Show Little Dilatoriness in the Matter of Dropping Proposals Into the Hopper, Each Session Being Productive of a Fresh Big Batch Dealing With Topics of Varied Nature.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 14.—[Special.]—Delay in the state printing office again causes delay in the constitutional convention's work. No proposals are printed, so there can be no session of the committee of the whole Friday morning.

The first copy of the convention's debates on Oct. 22 reached the hall today. In committee of the whole today, the present constitutional clause providing that "one-fifth of the members-elect to the legislature may demand yeas and nays" was changed to read one-fifth of those present. The present house rules do so even farther than this, however, allowing ten to demand a roll call.

New Batch of Proposals. The following is a partial list of today's proposals: Duell—A county officer may become a legislator if the term of one office expires before the other begins; justices of the peace to be cut from four to two in a township.

Burton—The superintendent of public instruction to be ex-officio member of the board of regents; the regents to be elected for eight years.

Burt—The governor and all the executive state officers, excluding the judicial officers, to have a four-year term, and to be ineligible for re-election.

Thomas—All county officers on salaries; corporations not to be created by special acts.

Stewart—The repeal of a statute shall not affect rights established or cases commenced.

Cook—To use state lands for forests.

Rowe—The legislature may regulate freight of passenger rates or delegate such power to a commission.

A. L. Moore—No divorce, except for adultery.

Rowe—The legislature shall not adopt the two-thirds rule for relieving committees of the consideration of matters; legislators shall each draw $60 per month during their term of office; terms of court to be held twice yearly in every county and four times in counties with a population of more than 100,000.

Calverly—Making the university, mining college, agricultural college, normal schools and such other schools as may be established by the legislature constitutional in their rights.

Rowe—The legislature shall provide a poll tax for all males, but electors who exercise the right of franchise may be exempted.

WEATHER FORECAST

MINISTER TO THE VATICAN

Prussia's New Representative Is as Usual a Protestant. Berlin, Nov. 14.—Dr. von Muhlberg, under secretary of the foreign office, has been appointed Prussian minister to the Vatican, which is regarded as being next in rank to an embassy, succeeding Baron von Rothenhan, who retires on account of age.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 14.—The third Russian parliament opened this morning. M. Kohnyakov was elected president of the house. The city is perfectly quiet.

After organizing, the parliament listened to a brief greeting from the emperor. The budget for 1908 places the total expenditures for the empire for the next year at $1,257,500,000. The ordinary receipts are estimated at $1,159,000,000, the acknowledged deficit at $98,500,000.

SPY ADMITS GUILT

Ensign of the French Navy Confesses Attempts to Sell Military Secrets. Paris, Nov. 14.—Ensign Ulmo, who was arrested last month at Toulon, charged with having sold military secrets, today when confronted in court with the original of a telegram which he had filed at Toulon addressed to an agent of a foreign power. Ulmo told the magistrate that his former power in Paris last August, and that Siegel's real name was Ulmo.

The Libre Parole today declares that the connection of Admiral Siegel, German naval attaché here, who has just been recalled, with Ensign Ulmo has been established by documents now in the hands of Magistrate Leydet, who is inquiring into the charges against Ulmo. The paper adds that their correspondence was carried on through Hebrew intermediaries, but that a personal meeting between Ulmo and Siegel occurred in Paris last August.

Carlist General Sentenced to Death. Barcelona, Nov. 14.—A court-martial today passed the death sentence upon Carlist General Moore and his son. They were captured near Barcelona, Dec. 1st, in the act of leading an armed uprising in Catalonia. Six other men were sentenced to death for life for taking part in the movement.

Peace Conference Opens. Delegates from Central America in Session at Washington. Washington, Nov. 14.—The peace conference of the Central American Republics convened today. The ceremonies incident to the opening of the conference were impressive.

Some high promises were paid on currency again early in the day, but the tendency was toward relaxation. The point of interest in this subject has shifted to the interior, from which the urgent demands are most responsible for present conditions.

It is a time when every citizen should assume his share of the burden. The hearing of money, the execution of business necessities, to do otherwise is not only unpatriotic but unwise.

Directors of the American Shipbuilding Company Vote to Shut Down Practically All Their Plants at Once.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 14.—The directors of the American Shipbuilding company, at a meeting today, decided to retrench in view of the uncertainty of the general financial condition by shutting down practically all their plants along the Great Lakes at once and deferring the usual dividend upon the common stock of the company.

FINANCIER A SUICIDE

J. T. Barney, Late President of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, Kills Himself.

New York, Nov. 14.—Charles T. Barney, late president of the Knickerbocker Trust company of this city, and prominently identified with many industrial and financial institutions here and throughout the country, committed suicide at his residence today. He shot himself this morning, dying four and one-half hours later.

It had become known within the last few days that Mr. Barney was in a state of physical and mental collapse. At the office of the Knickerbocker Trust company, it was known that morning that his physical condition was very serious, and some of those who had known him intimately for years spoke of the pitiable condition he was in.

Mr. Barney was president of the Knickerbocker Trust company up to a day or two before that institution closed its doors with liabilities of $60,000,000. It was understood at the time that Mr. Barney had been very heavily involved by this summer's sharp decline in the prices of securities.

Back of bad wiring is cheap labor and cheap material. But bad wiring is poor economy, and cities and property owners should be made to realize it.

The formally social side of Emperor Wilhelm's visit to King Edward is a howling success. The perceptibly cool attitude of the populace is a sort of death's mask at the feast, but the etiquette of the situation demands that it be overlooked by the principal actors in the drama of royalties.

The Mary Charlotte company at Negaunee today lays off some 150 men. The company's stockpiles are large, larger than the average at the Ishpeming and Negaunee mines. It should not be hastily assumed that its action is the forerunner of similar steps by the other companies.

Lieutenant Governor Chanler's campaign for nomination as the Democratic candidate for president has taken the form of a personal campaign against Mr. Bryan. Possibly a Democrat can make such a campaign and land a nomination. Certainly he cannot make it and win an election. Mr. Bryan has too many friends left.

The committee of the constitutional convention having the matter in charge has recommended that the house of representatives be bound to make no rule by which more than a majority vote is required to take any matter from a committee. This would kill the smother-bund. It is a provision that every good citizen should be glad to see written into the new instrument. May the convention deal kindly with it.

The proposition by Governor Warner's special commission of nine, at Saginaw, attending the interstate forestry conference, to exempt the now practically worthless pine barrens from taxation, with a view to their purchase and reforestation, seems eminently sound. Under the existing system of taxation private individuals cannot reforest them; for they could get no returns for their investment until the tree crops matured, while the additional value given by a growing crop of trees would result in practically confiscatory taxation. The state can well afford to exempt from anything but nominal taxation all tree-landed lands if by so doing it can unload its large and unprofitable holdings of pine barrens and get them under process of reclamation. The reclamation of such lands, too, would be a general benefit to the state.

The Lansing Journal comments sagely on the unwisdom of calling names, particularly in politics. "We may be amused," it says, "at some of the characterizations of Henry Watterson, who is a master of vituperation and invective, but he does not lead us thereby to espouse his cause, or to assist him in squelching a political enemy. The clown amuses us; we may think him the best we ever saw, but we don't care a rap about his politics or his religious tendencies. Often we do not even inquire what they are. Most people think just as much of the president of the United States since Watterson called him a 'broncho buster' as they did before. Calling Governor Hughes an animated feather duster didn't diminish his popularity. Squeaking out 'Little Willie' whenever William R. Hearst came into public view did not dispose of that gentleman or diminish his influence, and calling Mr. Bryan all the names in the category has not wiped him out as a political factor in the United States. The public demands something more than names. It demands reasons. Calling Governor Warner a sausage may tickle his enemies, but it solidifies his friends. After we have laughed we always stop to think."

State Road Commissioner Earle while in Marquette this week strongly advised that the city begin without further delay the use of tar macadam in building its streets. He said that tar macadam was long since past the experimental stage; that it has been used with excellent results in scores of cities. Mr. Earle himself has superintended the construction of tar macadam highways that have through a number of years proved greatly superior to ordinary macadam roads. They harden under traffic, have excellent wearing qualities, are easy and cheap to maintain and are less dusty than other streets. Mr. Earle is of the opinion that the material could be used here to excellent advantage on the side hill streets, on which the ordinary macadam has proved expensive and unsatisfactory. The park, cemetery and street commission planned an experiment with tar macadam for the season lately closed, but unfortunately the delivery of the necessary material was so long delayed that it was impracticable to go ahead with it this year. It is to be hoped that the experiment will be one of the first things the commission will give attention to next spring. There is lots of room in the highway department here for improvement along the line of building more durable, and thus cheaper, streets.

HIGH SCHOOL FRATERNITIES.

In Illinois the Appellate court has just handed down an important decision affecting the standing of high school fraternities and their members. It has held that the school authorities have the power to restrict the representation of the public schools in athletic contests, oratorical contests and the like to students who are not members of the high school fraternities. The court holds in substance that as long as the student has equal opportunities with other students to study and acquire learning he is in full enjoyment of all the unalienable rights which are his, and other matters are a question of discipline and school management wholly in the discretion of the school authorities.

Under this decision wherever the school authorities in Illinois shall decide to fight the fraternities by putting a ban on the participation of fraternity members in any athletic contests or other contests incident to high school life in this country, the student will have to choose between these organizations and the possible honor and pleasure to be gained from participating to the full in the competitive life of his school. The choice is one which should lead every ambitious young man and woman to, in time, turn his back on the fraternities. Among the young men eligible for athletics this influence against the fraternities should be a particularly potent one.

The fight against the high school fraternity shows no abatement, but is carried on vigorously in many different states. The fraternity is being attacked in various ways, most of them efficacious, and sure progress is being made against it. The almost unanimous testimony of the teaching profession is against the fraternity. It is attributed with hastening an early development of clique and class feeling and with developing a spirit of sabbotage in the schools. Furthermore it is held to be an obstacle in the way of securing the greatest efficiency in the school room and the best education of the schoolgoing youth.

In view of the unanimity of teachers, principals and superintendents on these points, it is surprising to find that the stubborn resistance the high school fraternity has been able to make against the efforts to uproot it is due largely to the stand of parents in backing up their children in their opposition to what the school authorities judge the best interests of the public school system. It would seem that parents ought to be willing to accept the word of the school authorities—who are the experts in these matters of education—for the bad influences of the fraternity system and stand behind their efforts to free the schools of it, instead of aiding and abetting their children in their fight for it. Parents ought not to favor a system that conduces to snobbishness and slack work in the schools, but the sad fact remains that many of them, through mistaken ideas or too great a readiness to swallow all that their children tell them, do just this thing.

ELECTRIC WIRING.

H. W. Trembath, manager of the Upper Peninsula Inspection Bureau, has been stirring up a question that can well be agitated, for it has not received the attention in this region it is entitled to. The subject of electric wiring is one of direct importance to every resident in the upper peninsula and to every interest in it, for bad wiring is a menace to life and property everywhere that electricity is used.

Mr. Trembath first broached the subject in a communication to the Negaunee council. The city of Negaunee is just installing a new equipment for its municipal lighting plant, and Mr. Trembath considered the occasion timely for urging the passage of an ordinance covering the subject of electric wiring and making requirements that will insure good and safe wiring. He informed the city fathers, in language more convincing than flattery, that the wiring in both Negaunee and Ishpeming was very bad, and way below the quality of the wiring in most upper peninsula cities, this despite the fact that the average wiring in the upper peninsula is none too good.

This letter was followed by an interview Mr. Trembath gave a Mining Journal reporter, and which was published in yesterday's issue. In it the importance of good wiring is insisted on, and the criticism made that most wiring in the upper peninsula is far below standard. The comment is made that this condition greatly increases insurance costs, the hazard to property and the danger to life. Mr. Trembath referred to the unwillingness of property owners to make changes even when their attention is called to obvious defects as one of the

HOT BISCUITS AND PASTRY FOR DYSPEPTICS

Coming down to specific cities, Mr. Trembath said that the wiring at Norway was probably the best to be found in the upper peninsula. St. Ignace, he said, is also well wired. Marquette he was inclined to put in third place for the quality of the general wiring. It may be explained that if the quality of the wiring now being done is considered Marquette deserves first place, as here every requirement of the code recommended by the national board of fire underwriters is being strictly complied with, and violations of that code committed in the past are being corrected as fast as this can be done. The city's employes spare no expense of labor or material in doing absolutely safe wiring, and their work has the highest endorsement of the state inspectors.

That there is any bad wiring at all in Marquette is due to the fact that for some years the business here was in the hands of private contractors. During that period many jobs were improperly done and others were slighted. Much of this wiring still remains in use. In many cases while it is defective it is hardly bad enough to warrant the city electricians in condemning it. In this city, too, the task of improving the quality of the deficient work has been handicapped by the unwillingness of property owners to remedy defects pointed out to them. Many of them prefer to pay an increased insurance rate for the privilege of keeping faulty wiring that carries a constant threat of fire.

The general question is a good one to stir up. Cities that have no ordinances regulating wiring should pass them. The possible benefits of a thorough inspection should be canvassed. Bad wiring is mighty poor economy. The difference it means in insurance rates would soon pay for good wiring, and in addition there is the danger to life that bad wiring involves.

Upper Peninsula

Crystal Falls' municipal exchequer is in a sad condition of depletion, according to the Diamond Drill of that city, which says: "Work on the addition to the new power plant is suspended. The decision to close down was arrived at when Mr. Strauss of the Falkenberg Construction company appeared before the council and made a written proposition in response to a communication previously given. He proposed that the city pay the construction company the sum of $250 as a bonus for the privilege of having the work suspended; that the expenses incident to closing down be borne by the city; that the city pay the freight on the machinery back to Chicago and when it is wanted again that the city again pay the freight. The terms were accepted. It is estimated that the expense of closing the work and returning again next summer will be in the neighborhood of $1,000.

A small loan has been arranged for with the Finnish & Swedish Mercantile association. This concern agrees to loan the city $2,000 at an interest rate of 7 per cent upon the city giving them a bond as security. It is understood that other arrangements are being made to get money to liquidate pressing claims, such as labor and supplies. The machinery men will probably take their orders and wait a few months until funds are forthcoming to settle them. The matter of settling up the sewer contracts has not been taken up yet and the question remains just as it was a month ago. It is understood that the city owes somewhere in the neighborhood of $5,000 to the contractors. No claims were audited at this meeting excepting the bills of the Faulknean company which that concern has to pay. The reason for allowing no claim is that there is no money in the treasury and Mayor Webb and Clerk Munns have intimated that they will sign no orders unless the money is ready to cash them or some arrangement is made so that the city's paper will not be floating broadcast.

Mr. Earle's earnestness and evident sincerity when he is presenting his views would persuade almost any of his hearers that he is a political seer, and really knows how the Michigan voters are going to line up, and in what proportions they are going to distribute their votes among the candidates. However, when the thing is thought over out of the magnetic spell which Mr. Earle's presence casts the conclusion must be reached that the road commissioner is stating his case over-strong. His claim of 67 per cent of the total vote appears in the calm of reflection somewhat preposterous, as does his allotment of but 33 per cent of it to the Boxers and Peewees, so-called.

Mr. Earle, however, is a bona fide candidate, and there is no doubt that he will play an appreciable part in determining the result. For one thing he will hold enough of the vote to appreciably lessen the probability of any one of the candidates getting 40 per cent of the total in the direct primaries, thus throwing the nomination into convention. Mr. Earle has some excellent ideas which he is advancing. One of general appeal is his proposal for superceding the cumbersome and expensive state land department by some other plan of handling the state domain. His proposal is that the lands shall be given to the counties, to be administered by them with the purpose of furthering good roads work.

It is as a good roads commissioner rather than as a candidate for governor that Mr. Earle will most impress people. In that capacity he is energetic and chock full of good ideas. He is doing much missionary work in a good cause, and is furthermore getting a large amount of actual results, considering the comparatively meager sums that the state is willing to appropriate to encourage the good roads movement.

MINING NEWS

CALUMET & HECLA.

New Properties Make Future Secure—Production Will Not Be Reduced.

The output of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company has not been reduced during the period of low prices that the copper market has passed through and there is little question that it will remain normal during the remainder of the current year. The company has very little old copper on hand, but it is generally understood that the management has the firmest belief in higher prices and is not desirous of selling too far into the future. The steady customers consume most of its copper, and these are accustomed to settle at current rates with the company asking a certain amount for the year. The great financial strength of the concern makes it very easy to keep a supply of copper on hand for the better markets that are in the future. The company's retrenchment has been expressed in a moderate reduction in wages and it will also profit by the general reduction in the cost of supplies which must certainly result from the present state of business conditions. The company is able to operate at a profit on a basis on a 15-cent copper market, so that no fears need be attached to its earning power under anything like present conditions.

In the old Calumet & Hecla ground the company's attention is being directed toward the opening of the Kearsarge lode which shows excellent copper at depth, and as it has been only cursorily handled, there seems little doubt that a big mine will be opened at the location that will add many years of life to the property. The company is also successfully operating the shafts on the Osceola lode, from which high-grade copper has always been produced. The showing in the Kearsarge lode has recently been so good that the company in addition to handling the shafts that are already active on the formation will also doubtless open several others in the very near future so that it will have the benefit of the lode throughout the entire extent of its domains. It has recently been suggested that the Pewabic lode might be located in the Calumet & Hecla territories and that development there might give good results. This, however, is a matter that will be looked into at a later period in the company's career. The success that has been attained on the Osceola and Kearsarge lodes will be sufficient to take care of the company's future far beyond the lifetime of anyone now living on the earth, so that in spite of the fact that the Calumet lode is of a limited existence the future of the property seems secure enough.

The drain that is being put on the Calumet lode as a consequence of the opening of the Kearsarge and Osceola lodes has been constantly growing less, and this rock, or rather the high grade that is now in sight, will be used sparingly and as a sweetener, so-called, for the other and poorer rock. There is, however, a considerable extent of territory on the Calumet lode that is still to be explored and that remains practically intact. The installation of electricity for the motive power of the company will also make possible the working of the Calumet lode to a greater depth than was considered possible a few years ago. Thus, with the added prospects that have come to the company from its new properties its future seems amply secure.

FURIOUS ITCHING HUMOR ON CHILD

Bleeding Sores Covered Her Whole Body After an Attack of Measles—Nursed Every Night for Three Weeks—Nothing Helped Her.

THEN CUTICURA MAKES COMPLETE CURE IN 5 DAYS

"It is in my opinion my duty to join those who praise the Cuticura Remedies. After my granddaughter of about seven years had been cured of the measles, she was attacked about a fortnight later by a furious, itching and painful eruption all over her body, especially the upper part of it. For 10 or 12 days she was in a state of great distress, and she suffered a great deal for three weeks we nursed her every night, using all the remedies we could think of. Nothing would help. We then remembered having heard so much about Cuticura Remedies. We sent for them and after twenty-four hours we had considerable improvement, and after using only one complete set of the Cuticura Remedies, in five consecutive days she was cured, much to our joy, had been entirely cured, and has been well for a long time. Mrs. F. Rutenacht, R. F. D. 3, Bakersfield, Cal., June 25 and July 20, 1906."

HUMOR ON FACE Cured by Cuticura Remedies No Return in 20 Years.

"My son, when a lad of sixteen, was troubled with humor on his face and after using Cuticura Remedies he was freed from every humor and has continued so to the present time after twenty years have passed. Your Cuticura Soap has been tried on my family for several years and I have faith in Cuticura Remedies. A. H. Smith, Marion, Me., Dec. 1, 1905."

Copper Country

MILITIAMEN NOW DRAW PAY. BANQUET TO PRESIDENT ANGELL.

Three Copper Country Companies Receive Fees for Drill. Michigan University Alumni Association Making Its Plans.

In General Orders No. 33, dated Lansing, Nov. 1, the members of the Michigan National Guard have been notified that the military bill passed by the legislature at the recent special session, has gone into effect. The new bill provides that there shall be paid for each enlisted man for attendance of duty at regular drills the following sums: Art below the rank of corporal, 20 cents; Art corporal, 25; sergeants, 30; and to each enlisted man qualified as a marksman shall be paid the additional sum of 20 per cent of the pay due his rank for attending at regular drills. The officers receive $1 per night for attending drills and $50 allowance for clothing on their admission to the National Guard of election to commission from the ranks.

The question of the transfer of the Houghton Light Infantry from the foot branch of the National Guard to the naval reserve is still being agitated. It is said that the military board is determined to make the change because of the necessity for a larger crew for the battleship and the fact that it is easier to get up an infantry company than a reserve division. The Houghton boys do not seem to relish the change. They voted it down once, but it is to come up again, in all probability next Monday night. It is not possible to burn the Houghton Light Infantry, as the members of the company are retained. The members of the Calumet company of engineers tendered a banquet to the company and staff officers Tuesday night in the armory. Colonel W. H. Thielman, assistant inspector general and Dr. P. D. MacNaughton, surgeon of the naval reserve, were the staff officers present.

HONORS TO DEAD ENGINEER.

Worcester (Mass.) Paper Tells of C. W. Sanders' Funeral.

Friends of the late chief engineer of the Copper Range railroad, Charles W. Sanders, have received copies of the Worcester (Mass.) Telegram which describes the funeral which took place in that city last Saturday. It says that the relatives and friends gathered in large numbers to attend the funeral of the late Charles Willis Sanders. The services were from the home of a cousin, Mrs. Woodbury C. Smith, 435 Pleasant street. Rev. Austin S. Garver of the Second parish Unitarian church conducted the services, which were varied from the usual form by the reading of an original poem, "That city just out of sight."

The funeral hymns were by the Second Unitarian church quartet, Mrs. H. W. Johnson, Mrs. Alice Shirley, Chester Porter and Fred L. Ricker. The selections were: "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "Lead, Kindly Light." Encompassing the casket were beautiful floral arrangements of friends in Houghton, Mich., Chicago, Boston and Worcester. C. W. Delvey of Milwaukee, a friend of Mr. Sanders, who came on to attend the funeral, said last night: "There was a funeral service in the city hall, Houghton, Wednesday, prior to sending the body to Worcester, conducted by Rev. Mr. Carson of the Episcopal church. Mr. Sanders was beloved and respected by a large circle of acquaintances and was known to most everybody. He was a man of fine qualities and a good character. The body on leaving Houghton from the mine to the city was the president of the Copper Range railroad to Chicago, and was brought to Worcester by the Chicago flyer."

TO CONVOY LOUISIANA.

Capt. Reid Arrives With the Tug Ottawa—Marine Notes.

Captain James Reid, the best known wrecker on the great lakes, arrived in Houghton yesterday in the wrecking tug Ottawa to take charge of the temporary repairs on the steamer Louisiana, sunk in Portlake lake last Sunday and raised Wednesday. The Ottawa will convey the Louisiana to Sandusky, O., when she leaves for that port. The Louisiana was entirely submerged for about seventy-two hours, but she suffered little injury. Her engines are not injured at all by their immersion in Portlake lake and the cargo is iron ore, the damage to that is small. The holes in her bottom present the most serious difficulty. Only temporary patches can be placed on them here, and the work done in Lilly pond was necessarily imperfect, so that while she steamed down from the mine to the city it was necessary to keep her pumps going to prevent any sinking. It was the intention of Captain Buchanan to leave Portlake Lake for Lake Erie yesterday, but the arrival of the Ottawa with facilities for better repairs will delay the departure. It is believed that less than a month will elapse before the season of navigation will close through Portlake lake. The lighthouses in the territory will be open until Dec. 13, but it is doubtful if they will be of service to vessels that late.

DAN McDONALD'S FUNERAL.

The remains of Daniel McDonald, a veteran of the Spanish-American and Philippine wars, who died last week at Columbus, Wash., are expected to arrive in Hancock for interment today. On arrival of the body the arrangements for the funeral will be completed. The obsequies will be in charge of the Spanish War Veterans, who will attend in a body. The soldiers' relief commission is bearing the expense of the funeral and the dead soldier will be given military honors before he is laid to rest with others of his comrades in Lakeside cemetery.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

List of Cases to Be Tried in Houghton County Court.

Prosecuting Attorney Kerr yesterday made known the criminal cases on the calendar for trial at the November term of circuit court, which opens at Houghton next Monday. The defendants and the crimes of which they are accused are as follows: Matt Hokala, Emil Fredrich and Gerie Forrester, assault, with intent to murder. Sakris Kanonen and Jennie Kanonen, arson. Edgar Lanning, larceny from person. Alex Colombe, wife desertion. Matt Verbanac, larceny. Sue Ark Dip, Low Wai Chun and Lew Sam Bing and Matt Eskila, Oliver Laverne, Henry Kottenbelt, Emanuel Hammerstrom, Matt Wuolukka, William Gosse, James Albreto, and Marr Wuolke, violations of the liquor law. Matt Nissinen, John Lundberg, Vaino Koskela and Peter Kempainen, statutory charges.

LAST DAY FOR BOND SALE.

S. A. Kean of Chicago Has Until Tonight to Make Good.

The extension of time given S. A. Kean of Chicago by the common council of the city of Hancock for the disposal of the $50,000 worth of municipal refunding bonds expires at the close of business tonight. If Mr. Kean does not by that time report a sale he must return the securities to the Hancock treasury and the council will take other steps toward disposing of the paper. The finance committee could sell $5,000 of the bonds at once, as the Finnish Mutual Life Insurance company, which has the cash on hand. It expects, too, it could dispose of the balance of the issue without much trouble, though the financial conditions existing in the country will make this most difficult to do. The credit of the city is good and only the tightness in the money market has militated against the sale before this.

DAKOTAH HEIGHTS SUITS.

Real Estate Company Claims to Own C. R. Roundhouse Site.

There are found on the civil calendar of the Houghton county circuit court for the November term two ejectment suits against the C. R. Roundhouse site. The defendants are the M. Van Orden company and the Copper Range Railroad company, the Dakota Heights company claiming to own the land on which the Van Order and the Copper Range roundhouse stand. It is difficult to arrive at a detailed story of these cases but the facts appear to be that the old Dakota Mining company location included the Van Order site and the Copper Range roundhouse. The Van Order company secured them from the M. Van Order company, which had an imperfect title, according to the contention of the Dakota Heights company. The latter company is a group of prominent men of Houghton and Hancock counties who are desirous of the final disposal of the Dakota Mining company's property, purchased the old location and platted it into village lots, making an addition to the village of Houghton. The property is located west of the village limits of Houghton and originally extended down to the lake front. The first intimation which the public received of trouble between the Dakota Heights people on one hand and the Copper Range and Van Orders on the other was the fact that the Van Order company, superintendent of the Dakota Heights company, attempted to cut down a trestle which the Van Order company used as a means of egress from their coal dock. The latter company secured a temporary injunction from Judge Keweenaw to prevent the Van Order company from cutting down the trestle. Then came out the ejectment suits. The Copper Range roundhouse and the Van Order coal dock and lime kilns are two of the largest plants on Portage lake and if the Dakota Heights people can really prove ownership the railroad company and the Van Order's will face a pretty expensive proposition. A member of the Dakota Heights company talked with the Mining Journal yesterday. He said that while the suits are brought for ejectment it is not the intention of his company to attempt to force the present occupants from the land, but his company believes it owns the property and wants a recompense from the other companies. This is the most important case which has been brought up in the circuit court of Houghton county since the late summer. It is undoubtedly a legal battle. It is intimated that the Houghton county court will not be permitted to decide it and that no matter which way the scales of justice tilt it will be carried higher.

THOUGHT DEAD BUT RETURNS.

Nestor Suminen of Calumet has returned to that place from Butte to bring both joy and consternation to his friends. It was reported last spring that he had been drowned at Minneapolis. The incident occurred through the fact that Charles Johnson, a friend of Suminen, had taken the latter's suit case through error and had worn some of the clothing contained in it. In the pockets were letters which served to identify Johnson as Suminen when Johnson met with a fatal accident. It was his body which was found in the river.

WILLIAM ANDERSON NOT DEAD.

The Mining Journal last week published a report of the death of William Anderson, a Clamming railroad man, leaving the generally credited rumor that he had been murdered. Now Mr. Anderson writes, somewhat in emulation of Mark Twain, the reports of whose death were greatly exaggerated a few years ago, that it is not dead, that the whole affair was a joke. The Mining Journal is pleased to welcome Mr. Anderson back to the land of the living.

WORCESTER MILL CLOSES.

The Worcester Lumber company's mill at Chassell has closed down pending necessary repairs after a long run. New boilers are to be added and improvements made to the machinery and it will not be until mid-December that the mill will be in operation again. The closing is not due to conditions which have affected other industrial plants recently in various parts of the country, but is an annual event in the mill town at this season.

Upper Peninsula Woods Labor More Plentiful.

There is a marked change in the labor situation in the lumber woods. Logging contractors are actually receiving applications from men who desire to work. Heretofore the employer had to seek the employe, but the laying off of many men by the copper mines has resulted in an influx of labor to the timber districts.

Physician Fined—

A leading physician at Escanaba has been convicted of failure to report a case of diphtheria and of the intentional removal of a warning sign. Many persons were exposed to the disease, which terminated fatally in the case attended. The doctor was fined twenty-five dollars and costs.

Deer Hunter Wounded—

Emerick Champou, of the Soo, was accidentally shot and seriously wounded in the shoulder while hunting with a companion, whose name has not been learned. It is said he will recover. Champou and his friend were in the woods together, and the accident happened while they were crawling through a fence.

C. & N. W. Shopmen Strike—

Following the announcement of a further cut in wages, twenty-five experienced machinists employed in the Northwestern shops here struck today and it is said that more will follow before the close of the week, save a dispatch from Escanaba. On Nov. 1 the company reduced the working time of all shopmen from ten hours to eight hours. Yesterday orders were issued reducing the working time of shop employes to four days a week. The first reduction was accepted without question, but the second

Although the dairying business will be conducted the same as in the past, for some time at least, the large crops to be raised on the Pine Hill and Nine Mile farms will furnish a great quantity of farm produce for the Carpenter-Cook canning factory.

Falling Limb Kills—

Struck on the head by the falling limb of a tree while at work on the right-of-way near Elmwood, Waldo Adams, a survivor in the employ of the new Wisconsin & Northern railroad, sustained a fracture of the skull. He was taken to a hospital at Iron River, but failed to rally, death ensuing shortly. Adams was thirty years of age and was the son of a clergyman at Crandon, Wis.

Camp Jumpers in Jail—

Following the example set by the Hudson Lumber company, Jas. Grimore, operating near Boston, Mackinac county, had four men arrested for jumping his camp after his paying their expenses from Bay City. They walked out of camp the same afternoon they reached there. Mr. Grimore followed them to Reston, and at his instance Constable Fellows arrested the men at a boarding house. They were taken before Squire Boushcar at Garnet and were sentenced to the county jail for ninety days.

Food Commissioner Loses—

By a decision which was rendered by Judge John W. Stone at his chambers at Marquette A. C. Birl, state food commissioner, is permanently restrained from interfering with the Pierre Viaus Maple company in the sale and distribution of that concern's blended maple syrup. It was held by the court that so long as the label placed on the syrup cans plainly announced that the syrup was a blend that no action could be taken by the food commissioner to interfere in any way with the product. The decision will be of interest to many local merchants and wholesale houses who have handled the syrup for sometime and who had been warned against its use recently by the state food commissioner.

Bloodhound Shows Its Worth—

Sheriff McClintock of Mackinac county having received a request for the use of the county's bloodhound, at Trout Lake, a deputy took the animal to the town. P. M. Furlong's store had been burglarized at an early hour and some underclothing, jewelry, etc., taken. The dog picked up a trail that led to a bundle of goods hidden between the Soo Line track and the lake; to a fire where the burglars had camped; and ultimately to a point where two strangers had been observed to board a train going west. On a telegram being sent they were captured at Garnet and were turned over to the Chippewa county sheriff.

Will Raise Sheep—

Three registered thoroughbred Shropshire lambs from the Wyoming ranch of the Wyoming Cattle company have been received at Ontonagon. Two were for Charles A. Brown, keeper of the county poor farm, and the other for Mrs. R. Francis. They are exceptionally fine stock. Mr. Brown has a flock of about sixty Southdown ewes and expects to increase the number to a hundred by another season. He recently purchased 160 acres of land on the Greenland road and will make a sheep ranch out of it. Mrs. Francis has purchased a flock of twenty-five sheep and will devote a part of her farm to sheep raising.

Football Team's Ultimatum—

Whether Escanaba will be forced to contest Saul Ste. Marie's claim to the peninsula high school football championship will be determined quickly now. The ultimatum has been issued to the Soo management by Coach W. E. Boren of Escanaba that unless the superintendent of the Saul Ste. Marie schools shall forward to Escanaba a list of the players composing the Soo team and shall certify that each is a regular student in the high school department carrying the regulation number of studies, no attention will be paid to the Lock City's claims for recognition. It has been practicing successfully in the lower peninsula that Muskegon has won the lower peninsula championship and will meet the winner of the peninsula pennant on Thanksgiving Day.

Big Farms Change Hands—

One of the largest real estate transfers which has taken place in Menominee county in a number of months was consummated when C. I. Cook purchased from the S. J. Stephenson estate practically every acre of the Stephenson farm property. The consideration is private, the price being in six figures, however. Mr. Cook has already taken possession of the Pine Hill, the Nine Mile, the Gilbert, Cota and Leisen & Hemes farms all on the state road. The five farms

RHEUMATISM BODY RACKED WITH PAIN

No other disease causes such wide-spread suffering as Rheumatism. It is a nerve racking torture, and so thoroughly does it dominate the system, when it becomes entrenched in the blood, that its victims are usually complete slaves to pain. Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid in the blood brought on by stomach troubles, weak kidneys, indigestion, and a sluggish condition of the system. The natural refuse of the body, instead of passing off through the ordinary channels of waste, is left to sour and ferment in the system because of these irregularities, forming uric acid which is absorbed into the blood, and Rheumatism gets a foothold. As the blood circulates through the body it deposits the acid, irritating substances with which it is saturated, into the different muscles, nerves, tissues and bones. Sharp, biting pains commence, the flesh becomes feverish, swollen and tender, the muscles and joints throb and jerk, and the body is literally racked with pain. Plasters, blisters, liniments, etc., can never cure the disease; they relieve the pain, temporarily, but do not reach the trouble, which is in the blood. S. S. S. is the proper treatment for Rheumatism. It goes down and attacks the disease at its head, and by driving out the poison and acid fluids which are causing the pain, and strengthening and enriching the blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, just what is needed in every case of Rheumatism. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

WHAT WILL COUNCIL DO IS THE QUESTION

PROPERTY OWNERS AND SALOON MEN AROUSED BY RECENT STATEMENTS OF ALDERMEN.

GORDON LAW CAUSE OF ALARM

Feeling Is That if Anything Is to Be Done Those Affected Should Be Given Time to Meet Conditions.

Recent expressions of certain members of the city council regarding the Gordon law, which empowers the city council to limit the number of saloons in the city, has caused some uneasiness among saloon keepers and property owners. The question is "What is the council going to do about it?"

At the present time there are exactly fifty saloons in the city and from these the city derives an annual revenue of $25,000. Should the council see fit to act under the provisions of the act the number would be cut to twenty-five and the revenue to the city would be cut one fourth, to $18,750. The Gordon law provides that besides reducing the number of saloons to twenty-five, a license of $250 yearly in addition to the present tax of $500 shall be imposed.

It has been stated definitely by some of the aldermen that the matter is to be taken up by the council and though most of the members are non-committal, several have said that they are in favor of carrying out the provisions of the bill and limiting the number of saloons. How this is to be effected and when seems to be in doubt. These are the questions that saloon keepers and property owners want answered, that is if anything at all is to be done.

One of the aldermen recently said that the matter would be brought up in the council within a short time. When asked how the twenty-five favored ones would be chosen, should an ordinance carrying out the provisions of the law be passed, he said that the selection would probably be based upon the past records of the various applicants for licenses. Saloon keepers who kept orderly places and had been in the business for long periods might be the ones favored, he said. One method suggested was the appointment of a board of aldermen to pass upon applicants for saloon licenses, requiring these applications to be made earlier than usual.

Should Have Time.

The property owners interested are particularly those whose places are run as saloon keepers, and these, with the saloon men, are united in the opinion that if anything is to be done it should be done long before next spring, when the saloon licenses are again due. They state that if a large number of saloons are to be closed, the persons affected should have some time within which to prepare for the change. The property owners want to know so they may take steps to see that their places do not remain untenanted and the saloon men are in doubt about entering into leases and making other plans in connection with their businesses.

When the Gordon law was first passed, it was believed by some that it was mandatory upon the council to pass ordinances carrying out its provisions, and Gordon himself so thought. The Mining Journal, however, obtained an opinion from Attorney General Bird upon the law and his opinion is that the council may or may not act in the matter, as it sees fit.

Some Favor It.

It is probable that a number of saloon men are entirely in favor of having the provisions of the law placed in effect. These are the ones who feel that they would be included in the twenty-five accepted saloons. To have the number of saloons cut in half they feel that they can well afford to pay the additional $250 imposed by the law, as the reduction of the number of saloons would increase their own businesses materially. The majority, however, are in doubt and these, with the property owners, would exert every effort to keep the council from acting in the matter. All are agreed, except that if anything is to be done it should be done at once, for if the council waits until the time when the saloon licenses again are due, the delay would work a needless hardship on the men forced out of business and the property owners from whom they rent places of business.

FIVE PORKERS OF UNUSUAL WEIGHT RAISED ON A MARQUETTE FARM—HEAD AND HAM OF THE LARGEST WEIGH NEARLY FIFTY POUNDS EACH.

J. J. Lefler, the veteran butcher, has on display at his market a hog's head that weighs forty-nine and one-half pounds, and measures eighteen inches from the top of its forehead to the end of its snout, and fifteen inches at the rear, where it was severed from the neck.

The hog from which the head was taken, together with four other hogs, all purchased from J. H. Lewis, proprietor of the Hotel Marquette, who has a farm near the city, weighed 2,173 pounds dressed.

The ham procured from the largest hog weighed forty-seven pounds before the fat was removed and thirty-nine pounds after dressing.

Mr. Lefler came from a family of butchers. He learned the trade from his father and brothers in Germany and he came to America in 1873, locating in the upper peninsula.

WILL ACCEPT CHECKS.

Merchants of City Authorize The Mining Journal to Make Statement.

While it is generally understood among the employees of the mining companies in this city that the pay roll checks to be issued on pay-day will be accepted in all of the business houses, some of the merchants seem to think that there is a misunderstanding on that score.

One of the merchants said: "We will be only too glad to accept the pay checks as we all know that they are as good as gold."

VENUS OF PURE GOLD.

A statue of the Venus of Milo, made of Canadian gold and weighing 400 ounces, has been received in a shipment of gold from the Washington-Alaska bank of Fairbanks, and is an excellent reproduction in miniature of the famous statue. The gold in the statue is valued at $7,225. Including its small square base of gold, the statue is 12 1/2 inches high.

The casting of this statue was the idea of the Alaska bank. It sent to Boston for a mold, and on its arrival the gold was melted in sufficient quantity to fill it. The work was all done in the private assay office of the bank, which is operated to assay all gold received. The employees wished to show their friends in the states that works of art were as much appreciated in the north as elsewhere, and that they could do other things than mine gold.

The model was cast Sept. 18 and placed on exhibition for a few days before being shipped south. The gold in the statue was mined in the Tanana district, and is of a dull color. It has not been polished.—San Francisco Chronicle.

It has won a place in the family medicine chest among reliable household remedies, where it is kept at hand for use in treating cold in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or snuffling. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bad case of catarrh.

STOMACH IS SEAT OF HUMAN LIFE

New Theory Advanced by Young Man Is Spreading Over Entire Country.

L. T. Cooper's theory concerning the human stomach, which he claims to prove with his new medicine, is being given more respect and comment every day.

Cooper claims that 90 per cent. of all ill health is due to stomach trouble. When interviewed about his theory recently, he said: "Stomach trouble is the great curse of the 20th century so far as the civilized races are concerned. Practically all of the chronic ill health of this generation is caused by abnormal stomachic conditions.

"To be sure, there was sickness in earlier days, when the human race was closer to nature, and men and women worked all day out of doors, digging their frugal existence from the soil, the tired, droopy, half-sick people that are now so common, did not exist.

"I know positively that every bit of this chronic ill health is caused by stomach trouble. The human stomach in civilized people today is degenerate. It lacks tone and strength. This weakness has gradually come through a sedentary existence. I further know that few people can be sick with the digestive apparatus in perfect shape. The sole reason for my success is be-

WHY CORNISHMEN LEAVE NATIVE LAND

CONDITIONS IN MINING REGIONS OF CORNWALL DO NOT IMPROVE.—ENGLISH PUBLICATION BELIEVES LOSS OF THE NATIVE BORN CITIZENS.

The following from the "Cornubian," a paper published at Bideford, Eng., will be read with interest by natives of that country, particularly the miners from the Cornwall region:

"I am sometimes given to wonder whether Cornwall is to become a second Ireland in the matter of parting with such a large number of its native population. I noticed that, a week ago, over fifty people left this county for South Africa and for the United States. One is inclined to ask, and, if possible, discover the reason of this large exodus. It seems a most incongruous thing that people, native born children of Cornubia's soil, should be continually leaving their homes and going into foreign climes, while to make up the deficiency we have to import people from all over the country to carry on our staple industry of mining. Surely there is something wrong somewhere. It is a bad thing for the country, too, for however good the imported ones are, and however manfully they strive to master the technique of mining, they can never become as efficient as our own people."

The above item in the English publication prompted the following reply from Paul Miner, a writer in the Butte, Mont., Tribune:

"A man's labor is his stock in trade; he naturally sells his wares in the best market and to the highest bidder. In America, Cornishmen realize an opportunity to enjoy the full value of their labor. For miners in Cornwall life is a struggle for existence, a struggle with semi-poverty and with adverse conditions; hence, unlike my esteemed contemporary, I am not at all surprised that the children of Cornubia's soil should seek to better their conditions in foreign climes. They possess aptitude and power of adaptation; uncomparable purpose and inexorable determination to improve their opportunities—attributes of but little value to them in the isolated life of their native land, but of great value to them in the more advanced life of America, if judiciously applied abroad. At home they cannot rise of their own energies; on the contrary, whatever they struggle at, seems as if by a fatality to plunge them into greater misery. This, thanks to a system, cannot be remedied, unless, perchance, the system be obliterated. A Cornish preacher—supported, I presume—while handing out a bunch of advice to his beloved hearers, recently said: 'The laborer should be content in that sphere where God has placed him.' If I've misquoted the pulpitier I'll apologize, but in effect it was as given."

"I regard it as rank blasphemy for a preacher to ask a man to be content in a country where a beefsteak is a luxury, when by exerting himself that same man can become a citizen of the world's greatest nation, where every voter is a sovereign and eligible to the best the market can afford. Why should the laborer be content on mediocrity and half enough to eat, whilst dives become active struggling to reduce still the poor devil's modicum of fish and fleshless pastry. Out upon such nonsensical utterances."

"I have no incentive to magnify the danger which confronts Cornwall because of its emigration. There is danger, otherwise the Cornubian would not have issued the extract that appears at the head of this article. I have argued right along that the reward of the Cornish miners has not increased in equal ratio to the advanced price paid for their production. Were they paid proportionately what is their right, the press of Cornwall would not be called upon to lament the continuous exodus of Cornubia's muscled sons to other lands."

Cornwall Is Backward.

"It is estimated that the average wealth-creating power of the individual has more than quadrupled in the last hundred years the world over. This generally has been recognized and conceded in most industrial centers, except Cornwall. There the creative power of the individual has increased, but in a moiety of cases his pay is about the same, or, at most, a slight increase is noted. Yet by the bold pulpitier he is told to be content in that sphere where God has placed him; if born in a hovel fit only for a hog, he must remain in a hovel and live like a hog, but, unlike the hog, who has no soul to save, his goes to hell. Be content in that sphere where God has placed you; be docile and meek-like and 'sich' stultify what ambition you have to become great; passively allow dives

PLAN OF SQUARING PAY ROLLS SATISFACTORY

The management of the Mary Charlotte Mining Company yesterday announced that the checks to be drawn this month in squaring its pay rolls will be exchangeable for currency at the bank for the full amount. The Mary Charlotte will be the only mine in the county paying its men in the usual way, but from expressions heard from business men and miners the checks issued by the other companies will be satisfactory, and the new plan of pay will be accepted without objection. The Republic Iron & Steel company will issue checks similar to those to be given out by the Oliver and Cleveland-Chiffs companies; 20 per cent of the wages due the employees will be paid in the regular way, and the rest will be in checks drawn in denominations of from $1 to $20.

The monthly pay rolls in Negaunee amount to nearly $150,000, and the pay-rolls at Ishpeming run from $225,000 to $235,000. It is not expected that there will be any particular shortage of currency in either city.

The money question and the plan adopted by the mining companies for paying their workmen is the main topic discussed in the two cities. There will be less heard of it in a week or ten days, after the employees have been paid off and the business is running along as usual. It is generally understood that all the business men in Negaunee will be glad to accept the pay roll checks in lieu of currency.

WILL REDUCE FORCE.

Mary Charlotte Company Will Lay Off 150 Men Today.

There will be a reduction in the working force of the Mary Charlotte mine today, when about 150 men will be laid off. Up to this time about 400 men have been employed, but it is the intention of the management to work only from 200 to 250 during the winter. The principal reason for the curtailment is the large tonnage of ore in stock, and The Mining Journal is advised that if the usual force was retained the stocking grounds would be filled before the shipping season opened next spring. It is also stated that the company has filled all of this season's contracts for ore and that its shipments will soon end.

All of the married men and the single men who have families to support are to be retained throughout the winter. While there will be a curtailment of mining it is announced that much development work will be done during the winter, in order to open up for a large output next season. In case there is a good demand for ore next season the Mary Charlotte company will be in position to output a larger tonnage than was disposed of this year.

WIRING AT BANK BUILDING.

Harry W. Trembati, whose interview on electric wiring in the upper peninsula appeared in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal, says that the work recently completed at the First National bank building by Superintendent Peares of the municipal lighting plant, is by far the best that has been done here up to this time. He also said that the work will be passed by the state inspector as meeting the requirements of the National Bureau of Fire Underwriters. The conduit system was used on the lower floor. All of the wire is encased, and a metal cabinet with all the latest improvements has been installed at the distributing point. State Inspector Montgomery was in Negaunee a short time ago and looked over the work at the bank, commenting that it was the best that he had seen here.

During the month of October the Old Dominion smelter turned out about 4,000,000 pounds of blister copper, the record for the smelter and the record monthly production of the Globe district. The first half of the month all of the battery of five furnaces were in commission, but when orders came from the east to curtail production, one furnace was discontinued and subsequently another, leaving three furnaces at work.

By reason of the favorable developments in the west drift, 300 foot-level of the Black Hawk mine of the Arizona Commercial Copper company, the management wired a few days ago ordering that sinking be resumed in the three-compartment shaft on the Black Hawk. This shaft is already down twenty-five feet, but work was stopped several weeks ago. The shaft will be sunk by contract. Smelter returns have just been received from shipments of Black Hawk ore made during the month of September. Upon a 15-cent copper settlement basis, they show net profits of 87 per ton on 3 per cent copper ore, the lowest grade shipped, and net profits of $26.71 per ton on ore averaging 12.88 per cent copper, the highest grade.

THE LAND OF NOD

ELECTRIC WIRING IS CAREFULLY DONE

CODE OF NATIONAL BOARD OF UNDERWRITERS STRICTLY OBSERVED IN MARQUETTE.

MANY PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

Superintendent Retaille Comments on H. W. Trembath's Utterances—Agrees That Subject Is Important One.

Superintendent Retaille, of the light and power commission, has been an interested reader of the articles in The Mining Journal setting forth the views of H. W. Trembath, manager of the Upper Peninsula Inspection bureau, relative to faulty electric wiring in the upper peninsula. He regards Mr. Trembath's action in stirring up the question as timely and necessary, and agrees with him that electrical wiring in the upper peninsula is as a whole, poorly done, and in many cases is an absolute menace to life and property.

Mr. Trembath, whose duties as inspector for the insurance companies makes him familiar with the manner in which wiring has been and is being done in this region, is quoted as saying that the best wiring is found at Norway, after Norway he ranks St. Ignace, and gives Marquette third place as regards quality of wiring. As Marquette's use of electricity many times exceeds that at either Norway or St. Ignace it appears that the wiring here is the best found in any considerable city in the upper peninsula.

Code Strictly Observed.

As a matter of fact, Superintendent Retaille informed The Mining Journal yesterday, there is no place in the country that outranks Marquette in the quality of wiring now being done. All the work of this nature here is done by linemen in the employ of the light and power commission, under Mr. Retaille's direction, and every requirement of the code recommended by the national board of fire underwriters is observed. Only the best of approved material is purchased and the linemen are instructed to spare no time necessary to insure a perfectly safe job. The policy of the commission is to wire at cost, but it will do only first-class work. The linemen are all competent hands of many years' experience.

That Marquette isn't ranked first among all towns and cities in the upper peninsula in the quality of its electric wiring can be ascribed to the fact that for some nine years after the municipal plant was started the wiring was done by contractors. It was in July, 1891, that the commission adopted the policy of doing its own wiring. Previous to that time there was, as a rule, competition here in the wiring business, and in many cases contractors, bidding against one another, quoted prices that made it impossible for them to do a first-class job. Some of the wiring done during that period was of very fair quality, but other jobs were faulty. When the light and power commission took the work over it adopted the policy of doing only the best wiring, and it has been closely adhered to.

Not only this, but as far as has been possible the faults of the old wiring have been corrected. Attention of property owners in whose houses or business places faulty wiring has been found has been called to it, and they have been urged to have it done over. Many of them persistently neglect these warnings, and an instance is related in which a fire insurance firm pays 1 per cent additional on its own risk, rather than have its wiring put in good order. Superintendent Retaille says that the city has probably spent $2,000 or $3,000 correcting glaring examples of bad wiring, which the property owners would not have done over, rather than take the risk of having a fire occur which would give the service a black eye.

Neutral Wires Grounded.

The neutral wires in all circuits here are grounded on water pipes, a precaution taken in very few, if any, other cities in the upper peninsula. By grounding the neutral wires the danger of the electrocution of any person from the service wires in house or business block is obviated. If these wires are not grounded, and if a high voltage wire, carrying say 2,200 volts, becomes crossed with a wire leading to the premises of a consumer of the current the tremendous voltage goes onto the service wires, and if a person is standing on a damp floor, in a basement or a bathroom, there is danger that by grasping a socket he may be electrocuted. A number of such accidents have occurred in the upper peninsula. It is the practice here to ground the neutral wire at several places near each converter, and possibly $5,000 has been spent on this work. It is not done in many cities because of the expense it entails. The national board of underwriters does not insist on it, but Superintendent Retaille believes that the code will soon be changed to require it. Up to about three years ago the code prohibited the practice, the idea being that it increased the fire risk, but this idea has been dispelled, and the practice is now regarded as a good thing.

It has been found here that a wire is not grounded when it is run down into the sand that is the soil commonly found for some distance beneath the earth's surface. Some six years ago when lightning arresters installed here gave very poor results it was supposed that it was the fault of the arresters, but investigation disclosed that the grounds in the sand were not really grounds at all, the sand offering too high a resistance to the current. It is now the practice to ground all wires on water pipes, which requires considerable digging and means much extra expense.

Emergency Fuses Dangerous.

The fuse blocks in use here are so arranged that only the regulation fuse can be used, and in the connection Superintendent Retaille called attention to the fact that the use of a nail or a piece of hay wire in lieu of a fuse is dangerous. The state inspector recently showed the superintendent a heavy nail he had taken out of a fuse block in an up-the-road city. The use of a nail instead of a fuse prevents the fuse block from serving the purpose for which it is installed, and is an invitation to serious trouble. Only the fuses that should properly be used should be put in when the fuse block burns out.

Regarding telephone and electric wires on one set of poles, Mr. Retaille believes it is safer to have them on one set than on two sets, unless the sets of poles are on different sides of the street. If they are on one side of the street he believes there is more danger to the linemen and more likelihood of crossed wires than there would be if both the telephone and electric wires were on one set.

The telephone line work in Marquette, Mr. Retaille says, is done carefully, and the conditions as to the wires running about the city are satisfactory. These conditions have been greatly improved by the new work the Marquette County Telephone company has done the past season.

AGED RESIDENT DIES.

Mrs. Josephine Jette Succumbs to Asthma After an Extended Illness.

Mrs. Josephine Jette died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Barcells of 310 South Sixth street, yesterday after an extended illness. She had lived in Marquette for a long period and at the time of her death, which was caused by asthma, she was seventy-four years old. She is survived by seven children.

The funeral is to take place at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Services will be held in the French Catholic church and the interment will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

MAN PAINFULLY HURT.

South Shore Employee Falls from Top of Lumber Pile in Yards.

David Korpi, an employe of the South Shore, slipped on the frozen ice on top of a lumber pile in the yards yesterday afternoon and fell a distance of about ten feet on to a flat car which was standing on the tracks at the side of the lumber pile. In falling he alighted on his back and struck a block of wood on the car.

When assistance reached him he was almost unconscious from pain. He was removed to his home at the corner of Bluff and Sixth streets. It is not believed that his injuries are serious.

DIES AT MANISIQUE.

News of Death of John Costello, Formerly Wellknown Here, Is Received.

John Costello, a former wellknown Marquette resident, died at his home in Manistique last Monday at the age of sixty-one. Mr. Costello was a native of Prince Edward's island, where his boyhood was passed on a farm. Later the family removed to St. Johns, New Brunswick and from there, at an early age, Costello set out to make his fortune.

In 1870 he found employment at the Bay furnace near Munising and it was when this burned that he first came to Marquette. He worked in the old rolling mill in South Marquette for a period. Before he came to this city he was married to Elizabeth Donovan and one of his seven children, Catherine, died here at St. Joseph's academy years ago.

After leaving Marquette Mr. Costello returned to Munising and later lived in a number of upper peninsula cities. He was prominent in public life and was the first sheriff of Schoolcraft county, besides having held many other public offices.

TRAVELING MAN UNFORTUNATE.

Pays $5 for Venison, Then Is Arrested, Fined and Loses the Meat.

Due to the keen scent of a bird dog, a Milwaukee traveling man, who is well-known in Marquette, met with misfortune recently at the hands of a Wisconsin game warden. The traveling man is particularly fond of venison and while in Marquette recently, although he was unable to go into the woods and do his own hunting, he obtained a haunch of deer meat here, paying $5 for it.

After he had purchased the meat he took it to a butcher and had it cut up and packed. He placed the package in his suit case and the same night left for his home. His train was just arriving in Milwaukee the following morning when a game warden with a bird dog boarded the sleeper. The dog started down the aisle in front of the officer and just as it came to the traveling man's berth it sniffed at the suit case under the berth and stopped. The traveling man was awakened by the warden who compelled him to open the case and his arrest followed. His fine and costs amounted to $27.50 which, with the original cost of the meat, made the total cost $32.50, and he also lost his venison.
