

CABINET CONSIDERS FINANCIAL POLICY

General Favor With Which the Administration's Plan Is Received Is Gratifying to the President and His Advisers.

Possibility Is Seen of Criticism in Congress on the Part of a Few Members Who May Hold the Issue of the Certificates Not Justified Under Existing Conditions, but the Prospect in This Particular Is Causing No Worry.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The communications which have come to the treasury department approving the financial policy adopted by President Roosevelt and Secretary Cortis, and the criticisms received for the Panama bonds and the one-year certificates, were the subject of a discussion at the meeting of the cabinet today and afforded general gratification.

While the details regarding the subscriptions are not yet being made public, it seems to be the feeling at the treasury that both loans will be oversubscribed. The decline in the stock market today is regarded as only a symptom of hesitation until the effect of the failure or success of the measures are proved by the opening of the bids.

Important Questions Raised.

Several important questions are being raised in communications addressed to the treasury. One of these questions, upon which no official information has yet been given, is whether the new one-year certificates will be available for bank reserves. The law on the subject seems sufficiently clear—that they are not available for this purpose—but it is possible that the presence of a few of them in the reserves under the present critical conditions would be winked at, just as in the case of clearing house certificates.

It is prescribed by Section 5191 of the Revised Statutes that banking reserves shall be "in lawful money of the United States." This can only mean gold and silver coin, coin certificates and legal-tender notes. The law does not even permit bank notes, which circulate as currency, to be counted as reserves, although small amounts are occasionally included in the same packages with lawful money.

Whether the new certificates should be counted as reserve money would be, under the present conditions, a more or less academic question, because they are legitimate investments of banking funds and the question of reservation is only upon the amount held. As a large portion of the national banks are now being permitted to do business with their reserves considerably reduced below the legal limit, the question whether the proposed treasury certificates shall be counted as reserves or investments is practically only a matter of bookkeeping.

Some Congressional Criticism Likely.

The possibility is attracting some attention that the issue of one-year certificates will be criticized in congress much the same manner as the sale of bonds to the Morgan syndicate to protect the gold reserve in 1895. The fact that a Republican member of the house committee on banking—Mr. Prince, of Illinois—was quoted today as declaring the issue not justifiable under existing conditions, is considered a symptom of the attitude which may be taken by a few of the members of congress.

STOCKS UNLOADED.

Wall Street Liquidation Renewed, Prices Suffer Acutely.

New York, Nov. 19.—There was a renewal of liquidation in the stock market today of a character which carried formidable influence on speculative sentiment. The effect for good of the national government's plan of relief for the currency situation seemed to have passed away completely, this result being witnessed a steady waning of the effect of that factor. The prices today got back generally to below the closing level of last week, and in not a few instances to the lowest prices of the year.

The pressure to liquidate first developed in portentous form in the Rock Island railroad collateral issue. This is the operating company, all of whose stock is owned by the Rock Island company. The collateral 5% of the same company were issued in part payment for the St. Louis & San Francisco common stock. The weakness in this group gave direction to many speculators as to the source of the liquidation. The later heavy liquidation in the United States Steel securities was used as confirmation of some of these conjectures, owing to the large common interest known to be held in the two groups of properties. The selling of St. Paul, Union Pacific and New York Central was supposed to be connected in some way. Although the indications pointed to a different source for this selling, it was a feature of the day's market and it was its sympathetic effect, more than anything else, that gave tone to the rest of the market.

Bank Examiner, Witness at Walsh Trial, Traces $2,000,000.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Approximately two million dollars which it is charged by the federal prosecutors had been transferred by John R. Walsh from the vaults of the Chicago National bank to the coffers of his several enterprises had been traced by means of entries in the books of the institution when National Bank Examiner Moxey stepped down from the witness stand at the adjournment for the day of the trial of the financier.

The bank examiner was not allowed to allege any connection between the various sums shown in the books. Such testimony was ruled by Judge Anderson amount to a conclusion on the part of the witness, and the prosecution was confined to introducing entries, which showed, first, that the loans had been made on securities of Walsh corporations, then that the amounts, often precisely the same and at other times approximately those secured on the loans, had been paid into the personal account of Walsh on the day the loans were made, and that the Walsh corporations had received on these days amounts the total of which was about the same as the amounts originally loaned.

New York, Nov. 19.—The motion of counsel for Catherine Clemons Gould to vacate the order obtained by the husband, George Gould, for the examination of Helen Mer before the trial of Mrs. Gould's suit for separation from her husband was denied today by Justice O'Grady of the supreme court. It is said that Mrs. Mer testified to a confession made to her by Mrs. Gould regarding her relations with Colonel Wm. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) before her marriage to Gould. The woman is from London, Eng., and it was on her claim that she could not remain here until the trial that the court issued the order for her examination at an earlier date. The attorneys for Mrs. Gould fought for the postponement of the examination of the woman in order, it is said, that they could submit her to cross-examination in court. TEXAS STORY OF MRS. BRADLEY, SLAYER OF EX-SENATOR BROWN, IS LONG AND PATHETIC.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, the defendant in the trial now in progress in the criminal court of this city, today spent about four hours on the witness stand relating the details of her acquaintanceship and intimacy with former United States Senator Brown, of Utah, with whose murder she stands accused. When court adjourned for the day she had not reached the events directly connected with the tragedy in which Brown was killed, and these will be the subject of the first testimony tomorrow.

Today's story dealt with the first acquaintance of Mrs. Bradley with Brown, she told how that acquaintance had gradually ripened into friendship and finally into love. It was a long and pathetic narrative of an illicit affection on the part of a woman which could not first be made only on account of disapproval on both sides, and then of disappointment and grief when both became free and could have legally been united if Brown had been willing.

Mrs. Bradley gave the particulars of a promise made to her, told how Brown had introduced her as his wife, and of how he had given his name to one of their children, and also of how he had aided her in no less than three criminal operations. She said that he had told her over and over again that she was the only woman he had ever loved, and she averred that by his manner toward her and his superior attainments he had gained a complete mastery over her. Mrs. Bradley said that her health had failed during her association with Brown, and she told of one occasion when she was tempted to commit suicide.

It's just as well that the North country has given up hockey for the approaching winter. It is doubtful whether it could stand that additional drain on its financial resources.

By the way, where does the present financial stringency land the Jamestown exposition? Or was the exposition already in such a bad way that a financial stringency or two additional could not make any difference with it?

Tesla expects to hurl a message across the void to Mars by means of Niagara's electrical power. If his system were working now the first question we would want asked is "Got any currency to spare?"

The president's attitude toward Cortelyou's presidential aspirations, as we understand it, is that if Cortelyou can get away with the nomination he will look as pleasant as circumstances will permit, and not actively interfere.

Ten-round boxing contests, without any decision, are said to be slated for Detroit. If in Detroit, why not in the remainder of the state? However, it should be borne in mind that the first of the Detroit mills has yet to be successfully pulled off.

A well-known theatrical manager says that the stage has lost 3,000 actors and actresses, through the paucity of good plays and overworking of the theatrical business. Sometimes we have felt that it could lose three times 3,000 without losing much.

Mr. Taft may have had unexcelled talent for the office of secretary of war, but it clearly appears that had he foreseen the political possibilities of the office of secretary of the treasury in this year 1907 he might have expressed a preference for that portfolio.

Chicago university now has, beyond any question of doubt, the "champion" football team of the west. And if it should manage to defeat the Carlisle Indians its eleven would favorably compare with the best in the country. Nor is that outcome unlikely. Minnesota's close game with the Redmen indicates that Chicago should be able to turn the trick. Indeed the comparative scores bearing on the question would indicate that such an outcome is probable.

The presidential boom of the Hon. Mr. Fairbanks appears to have gone into a total eclipse. We hear much of Taft and Hughes and Cortelyou. Mr. La Follette is laying his plans for the Wisconsin delegation and a movement for him has been set afoot in Minnesota. The country is full of people who believe that when all the maneuvering is over Mr. Roosevelt will be the nominee. But outside Indiana and Mr. Fairbanks' family circle it is impossible to find anyone who takes the Fairbanks boom seriously. It's busted.

Ishpeming and Negaunee are now handling their money that isn't money and still is just as good as money. The checks convertible into cash represent all that the average workman would save from the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker, and as these obliging tradesmen are willing to accept the other checks nobody is hurt. Of course the secret of the smoothness with which the arrangement works is the confidence that there is somewhere a dollar in currency behind every dollar represented in the checks, as there certainly is.

The deer hunters are picking up numerous wolves, which goes to show the presence of these animals in the woods in considerable numbers, as they are notoriously hard to shoot. Much has been written about the ravages of the wolves among the deer. Some good people have been of the opinion that the stories are overdrawn. However, they are too numerous and circumstantial to make this probable. High bounties have not proved efficacious to lessen the number of wolves. They are too cunning in evading traps, poison and hunters. That they are killing large numbers of deer and gradually spoiling the hunting in large stretches of territory there is no doubt.

If Judge Van Fleet's ruling in the United States court at San Francisco, in the case of Willard & Co. vs. the Williamsburg Fire Insurance company, is sustained, it will, according to the published reports, invalidate practically all the earthquake defenses relied on by the companies which are fighting the payment of claims. The policy in the Willard case, which was only for $2,500, contained the usual clause that the company should not be liable for losses "occasioned by or through earthquake or volcano." The judge, however, directed a verdict for the plaintiff, presumably on the ground that the earthquake clause was, for some reason not set forth in the report of the case, inoperative or void—probably the latter, for it is hardly supposable that the conclusion was reached that the earthquake was the result of the fire instead of the cause of it. Possibly the earthquake clause was in violation of the California statutes.

Michigan's football season is ended. As soon as the players receive their M's and the official photograph is taken the football togs will be put away. Defeat in the Pennsylvania game prevented the season from being crowned with success, but the same defeat showed Michigan to have a team of class and advanced development. It is not to the Michiganers' discredit that the Pennsylvania team was just a little bit better. The outlook for Michigan next season is none too promising. Several veterans, who bore the brunt of the work this fall, will be out of the game. There will be but a nucleus of seasoned material to start in with. Nothing has been said about a game with Pennsylvania next fall, but presumably one will be arranged. The Michigan management will hardly be willing to close its relations with the Quakers with a record of two consecutive defeats. The Quakers, for their part, want a Michigan game, and it has been a pleasing condition that both Michigan-Pennsylvania games have been characterized by clean playing and gentlemanly conduct on the field. Generally in the west there would be pleasure at Michigan's resuming relations with the conference colleges, taking on at least one big game, preferably with Chicago, if such a game could be arranged. The Pennsylvania game is an interesting and noteworthy contest but does not stir the blood like a meeting with one of Michigan's traditional rivals, particularly Chicago.

AUTHORITIES SHOULD ACT.

There is nothing that can be said in defense of selling liquor to minors. It is a practice that reflects alike on the saloon men who commit it; the authorities who neglect to stamp it out and the city that tolerates it. It is an offense that exists to some degree in Marquette. Not long ago a story was published of a man and his son, a lad of tender years, rolling home drunk together, after the unnatural father had urged liquor on the boy in a downtown saloon, while the hangeron laughed at the performance, holding it to be a good joke. In another column today The Mining Journal prints a letter from a Marquette man whose son is in the county jail charged with the theft of a considerable sum of money. This boy is a minor and the boy who was with him is only sixteen years of age, yet they visited at least three Marquette saloons—and maybe more—before, after having committed the theft, they caught the train to Duluth, which they boarded in a roaring drunk condition.

These are cases that have come to light in a few weeks. The law of averages compels the conclusion that there have been other cases which have not come to light, and the conclusion is likewise forced that there are a number of saloon men here who would as soon sell liquor to minors as to adults, if only the minors have the money to pay over the bar. These saloon men are a disgrace to their business, and discredit a large number of men in that business who try to conduct it with a respect for the law and the decencies of citizenship. On them no one need have any pity, least of all the careful saloon men who are unfavorably affected in reputation and in the conditions under which they must conduct their business by this illegal practice. Public sentiment here won't stand for selling liquor to minors. The saloon men who have been guilty of the practice should realize this, or they will have an expensive lot of prosecutions on their hands. The police authorities must realize it, or they will find themselves distrusted and their motives and efficiency questioned. The practice should not be a difficult one to root out, if the task is taken up in earnest. We imagine Judge Stone will be there with severe penalties in any such cases proved before him in circuit court.

LOCKING UP CURRENCY.

The measures taken by Secretary Cortelyou with the president's approval for the relief of the money situation are valuable for the assurance they give that the operations of the government will not accentuate the stringency. In order to meet the emergencies of the situation the secretary a few weeks ago deposited in the national banks where it could be kept in circulation practically all of the cash in the treasury. The amount reserved for its own operations was so small that it would plainly be necessary to withdraw some of the deposits soon, and the fear of this withdrawal offset largely the relief which the use of the money was calculated to effect. It is not likely that either the issue of Panama canal bonds or the use of the treasury certificates will result in any material increase of the circulating medium in time to affect the situation, but it is now assured that the treasury deposits in the banks will not be withdrawn until normal conditions are restored, and this will permit the banks to use the money freely. A more immediate and effective action is that of the Chicago clearing house in issuing checks to circulate as currency. In order to secure the notes banks are obliged to deposit with the clearing house approved securities to an amount one-third in excess of the value of the checks. That is to say that in order to secure $75,000 in clearing house checks a bank must deposit securities to the value of $100,000. The checks issued by the clearing house are practically guaranteed by the combined assets of all the banks in the association and are undoubtedly safe, while the association is secured by the deposit of securities.

These clearing house checks are in effect asset currency such as many financiers advocate permitting the banks to issue directly instead of through the clearing house. The clearing house collects on the checks interest at 6 per cent for all the time they remain in circulation, so that it is incumbent upon the banks to withdraw them just as soon as the need for them has passed. The only objection to an asset currency, and it applies also to the clearing house checks, is that it tends to reduce the security of depositors. The currency itself is absolutely safe. In his letter to Mr. Cortelyou the president describes the situation exactly, and what he says about locking up currency is the truth. The hoarding of money by the people is the sole cause of the present stringency. If everyone would go right along depositing his money in the bank just as he did three months ago the stringency would disappear in a twinkling. If the deposits were to be made today, the stringency would cease to exist tomorrow. The money is here, there have been large additions to the circulating medium within the past four weeks, but people have been putting it away in secret hiding places instead of keeping it in circulation.

Chairman Edwards of County Board to Attend Tuberculosis Conference.

A. D. Edwards of Atlantic, chairman of the Houghton county board, left yesterday afternoon for Marquette for the purpose of attending the convention called to discuss the question of establishing a public tuberculosis sanitarium in the upper peninsula. Mr. Edwards goes at his own expense, though delegates by the supervisors.

The convention will decide whether tuberculosis is a malady sufficiently prevalent in the peninsula to warrant the expense of maintaining an institution especially for the treatment of its victims. As far as Houghton county is concerned, Mr. Edwards goes without instructions, the supervisors being merely desirous of securing data on which to base future actions. Houghton county will join in the movement if the convention's findings appear to warrant it.

LIGHT INFANTRY NO MORE.

Captain Cole Applies for Transfer to the Naval Reserve.

The Houghton Light Infantry will pass out of existence within a few days because of the fact that the company has finally consented to seek a transfer to the Michigan Naval Brigade. The petition to Captain H. S. Cole, asking that action, was fully signed Monday night, and it was the commander's intention to make the application to the military board yesterday afternoon, as soon as possible the clothing and equipment of the company will be returned to the state, and in their stead naval equipment will be issued.

There is a misunderstanding existing regarding the nature of the transfer. It does not mean that the Houghton and Hancock companies will be merged. They will be separate organizations and will continue to occupy their present armories. It is only in the summer when on a cruise in the Yantic that the identity of the two divisions will be lost. Another change will be in the titles of the officers. Captain Cole will now be lieutenant; Lieutenant Saunders will be lieutenant, junior grade, and Lieutenant Cundy will be ensign. They will not lose their relative rank, as positions in the navy is of equal rank with a captain in the army and the other titles rank with first and second lieutenant.

It is the desire of Colonel Cox, assistant adjutant general, to establish an infantry company in Calumet to replace the Light Infantry in the Third regiment, but officers of that regiment do not believe this action will be taken.

The Calumet company of engineers will give its annual ball on Thanksgiving eve. The company has received new uniforms which will be worn for the first time on that occasion.

Eminent Physicians and Scientific Men Agree That It Should Be Treated as Such.

It has lifted tens of thousands from the depths of worthy manhood and has the hearty endorsement of grateful men and women in every state in the Union.

Orrine No. 1 is the secret remedy; Orrine No. 2 is for those willing to take the treatment. Either form costs $1.00. The guarantee is the same in either case. Write to The Orrine Co., Washington, D. CONTINUE ROLLER SKATING.

Manager McManara of the Amphidrome has decided to continue roller skating in the Amphidrome until Dec. 1 and possibly later, at least until permanent ice making weather has arrived. The rollers have been very popular this fall, and as there is no hockey league in operation for only practice the summer sport will be continued. The skating in Laurium, will suspend roller skating next Saturday night to make preparations for the ice season.

EYE BADLY INJURED.

Norman Stephenson, four-year-old son of Mrs. Margaret E. Stephenson of Ontonagon, met with an accident last week which threatened the loss of sight in one eye. He was ponding a bottle with a hammer and a piece of the broken glass struck him in the eye. He was taken by his mother to Milwaukee where an operation was performed. Word has been received from Mrs. Stephenson that the operation was successful and that the sight of the eye may be saved.

INVESTIGATION AT ONTONAGON.

Attorney General John S. Bird is in Ontonagon investigating county matters. He arrived Thursday and is accompanied by an assistant, George Quinn. He expects to finish the work today. Complaints have been made that there have been flagrant violations of the law in county affairs and there are intimations that the county commissioners will take a trip over the road in company with the new railroad commission. Mr. Bird expects to be home Saturday.

DROWNING OF CHAS. JOHNSON.

Charles Johnson, whose death by drowning was reported in Houghton Monday afternoon, was a member of Morrison's lumber camp near Twin Lakes, on the Copper Range railroad. His home was in Atlantic, and he was twenty-one years of age. He and a companion had been across the lake to Twin Lakes, and when returning attempted to make the crossing on the thin sheet of ice which had formed during the night. They soon broke through with a fatal result for Johnson, though his friend succeeded in reaching solid ground.

STANDSMAN WILL LECTURE.

Johnathan P. Dolliver, United States senator from Iowa, will lecture tomorrow night before the Calumet Woman's club in the Thimble theater. His subject will be "A Poor Man's Government and a Poor Boy's Country." As he is farmer born and self made, he should be able to discuss the question advisedly. Senator Dolliver is one of the real orators of the senate, and his lecture should be interesting and entertaining. He comes as a regular attraction in the club's lecture course.

DANGER IN DELAY.

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Marquette People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Jos. Perry 330 Mar. St., Escanaba, Mich., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for they cured me of backache after I had suffered for a long time. There was a constant aching across my loins accompanied by a weakness and misery that was hard to describe. I used Doan's Kidney Pills recommended by our most reliable citizens and got a box. TRAINMAN HURT

Edward Kiel Is Crushed Between Cars and Platform at Carlshend.

Edward Kiel, a Marquette & Southwestern brakeman, is at St. Luke's hospital in a critical condition due to injuries he received in an accident at Carlshend Monday afternoon. It is thought that he will recover.
Kiel was standing on a car rear a loading platform when he lost his balance and fell between the platform and the train, which was in motion. The step of the tender of the locomotive crushed him against one of the timbers of the platform and he suffered a number of painful bruises besides an injury to his skull. No bones were broken. He was brought to Marquette Monday night and remained unconscious for some time after his arrival at the hospital. He is wellknown in the city and has a number of relatives here.

THEATRICAL

"A Romance in Ireland."

Tonight at the opera house Allen Doone, styled "Joseph Murphy's success," will appear in the part of "Larry O'Day" in his new and scenic comedy-drama "A Romance in Ireland," in which the young comedian-singer is said to have scored the hit of his career. This play is a clean, witty comedy of the county Mayo in the picturesque seventeenth century. It contains all the delightful characteristics of the Irish but is constructed upon distinctly original and novel lines and away from the time worn themes of the conventional familiar play of its class.
The old-time songs and dances; the quaint costumes and the manners of the ancient regime all unite in making an entertainment well worth witnessing. "A Romance in Ireland" is in four acts and eight stage settings, and will be enacted by one of the most evenly balanced companies ever sent on tour. An especially pleasing feature will be the rendering by Mr. Doone of a number of his own sweet songs, in his own incomparable style. There is an abundance of good wholesome fun and some clever character drawing.

MARQUETTE MAY HAVE COMPANY OF MILITIA

VACANCY CREATED IN STATE NATIONAL GUARD BY TRANSFER OF HOUGHTON COMPANY.

It is stated that Company G of the Third Regiment of the Michigan National Guard of Houghton is to be transferred to the Michigan Naval Reserve. If this is done it will leave a vacancy of one company in the regiment and it is possible that the company will be recruited and established at Marquette. It is stated that a number of members of the state military board are in favor of locating the company at Marquette, should the Houghton company be transferred.

Should Have It.

Some years ago Marquette had a militia company, but due to lack of interest the membership was not kept up and as enlistments expired the company dwindled and finally went out of existence. Militia companies are now organized in many of the larger cities of the upper peninsula and it is felt that Marquette should have one. Among the cities that now have companies are Menominee, Ishpeming, Sault Ste. Marie, Calumet and Hancock.

The project of transferring the Houghton company into the naval reserve is due in a measure to the presence at Portage lake of the training ship Yantic.

In order for Marquette to have the company established here it would probably be necessary for a number of the young men of the city to organize and to make application to the state board for admission to the national guard. It is pointed out that in view of recent legislation enacted at the special session of the legislature, some of the former objections advanced by individuals against joining a militia company are overcome.

New Law.

"There is something in it" now, for under the new law members of militia companies receive a certain amount of pay and the law also provides in a measure for the erection of armories. Some of the copper country people are interested in having the company organized at Calumet, but there is now a company of engineers there.

ITALIAN MONOPOLY AT VATICAN.
OTHER COUNTRIES DESIRE RIGHTS OF REPRESENTATION.

Too Many Prelates of a Nationality Which Does Not Sustain the Catholic Church as a Nation—The Pope Will Probably Make the Cardinalate More Cosmopolitan.

Rome, Nov. 19.—An important change in policy is pending in the church owing to a discussion that has arisen as to the wisdom of the course followed for centuries of bestowing all prominent offices in the church on Italian prelates. It is pointed out that nearly all the papal representatives abroad are Italians, and that there is hardly a foreigner to be found in the Roman congregation in any capacity. The discussion was started by a New York news item which denounced the Italian monopoly of a church which is universal in character and was continued by a local publication, "Corrispondenza Romana," which claims to be an official mouthpiece of the Holy See, but which, as a matter of fact is nothing of the kind. Both the pope and Cardinal Merry del Val, his secretary of state, recently declared that the publication named had no connection with the vatican. But the "Corrispondenza" is denouncing vehemently the American papers in which have appeared letters suggesting a more equitable distribution of church offices among foreign prelates, and it claims to do this in the name of the vatican authorities.

There is no truth in the claim, but the matter has gained the personal attention of the pope, who appointed, but a few weeks ago, for the first time in the history of the church, a papal nuncio at Munich of other than Italian nationality. This nunciature is one of the most important in Europe, as it is practically the nunciature to Berlin, to which city a nuncio cannot consistently be sent, because of the Protestant character of the German nation. Mgr. Caputo had held the nunciature at Munich since the election of Pius X., but it is said in vatican circles that the German government has urged the vatican to appoint a prelate familiar with the German language. Therefore Pius X. has appointed a German, a member of a religious order, to this position. This appointment started the discussion as to whether it would be better for the church to have its prominent offices in charge of prelates of foreign nationality. It is rumored here that the pope has decided upon this policy for the future. As soon as he was elected, Pius X. appointed to the highest and most important office in the church Cardinal Merry del Val, a Spaniard. It is said he will now select his representatives from all nationalities. In course of time the rule will apply in the selection of new cardinals, the majority of whom have been for centuries Italian. It is confidently believed here that the pope is going to have other nationalities have the right to representation in the Sacred college in larger proportion than has heretofore been the rule, and it is probable that the existing majority of Italian cardinals will soon be reduced.

This step of the Holy See will not only meet with general approval throughout the Catholic world, but it is a logical consequence of the undisputed fact that the Italian nation is nearly lost to the church. Few Italians will ever connect themselves with other religious bodies, but millions of them are practical Catholics no longer, either here or abroad. The churches of Rome are attended by but 2 percent of the population, and the recent anti-clerical manifestations all over Italy showed the spirit of the populace. A majority are now Catholics in name only, and that because they were baptized in the church.

COMMISSION ON TARIFF.
Board Proposed to Make Careful Study of the Schedules.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Sentiment in favor of creating a tariff commission at the coming session of congress appears to be growing. The most ardent of the tariff revisionists now realize that there cannot be a general revision of the tariff this winter; they do believe that a good start might be made by creating a commission that would make a careful study of the existing schedules and be prepared to recommend changes to a special session of congress immediately following the inauguration of the next president. Some prejudice against a commission exists in congress, and it may be that the plan will not receive hearty support. No one believes that the legislators would accept generally the recommendations of any commission, and yet persons who are disposed to look with some favor on the commission idea admit that the work of a committee would not, of course, be bound by any of the recommendations of a commission, and yet if that committee saw fit to accept the plan in good faith a commission could and no doubt would save the committee a great deal of preliminary work.

It is evident now that some of the foremost senators and representatives on the Republican side will favor the commission plan. The suggestion had the unqualified endorsement of the American Reciprocal Tariff league, the National Association of Manufacturers, and the National American Protective Tariff league is found in opposition because it sees in the appointment of such a commission a sort of commitment on the part of the party in power to tariff revision. The "stand patters" are not yet ready to acquiesce in any step that looks like a movement against the "tariff wall." In some quarters there is hope, if not expectation, that the president may recommend the appointment of such a commission in his forthcoming message to congress. Well-informed public men say that if he says anything about the general tariff question he will urge the creation of a commission with a view to revision immediately after the next president enters the White House. Recently there have been intimations that the president is coming back to the views he expressed in his speech at Logansport, Ind., Sept. 23, 1902, when he recommended the appointment of a tariff commission.

An open letter recently sent out by the American Reciprocal Tariff league advocating the creation of a commission at the coming session will doubtless serve to test public sentiment on the subject. It is signed by J. W. Van Cleave, chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers; William McColl, chairman of the National Foreign Commerce convention, and Alvin H. Saunders, chairman of the American Reciprocal Tariff league. It calls attention to the fact that three great national conventions of commercial and agricultural interests, to-wit: The National Reciprocity convention, held at Chicago in 1905; the Foreign Commerce convention, held at Washington, D. C., January, 1907, and the Annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers, held in New York in May, 1907, have considered this matter and agreed unanimously in calling upon congress to create a permanent non-partisan tariff commission—which shall make an unbiased investigation of the operation of our customs duties, regulations and classifications, hear complaints, study domestic and foreign market conditions, and report to the executive and to congress from time to time such modifications as in their judgment may safely and properly be made in the interests of the general welfare.

Naturally politics will enter into a determination of the question as to whether a commission shall be created at the coming session. Action by the Republican majority authorizing the president to appoint a commission would, it is asserted, be looked upon as a somewhat definite promise that the party in power will, if it shall elect the next president and shall control congress, set about to revise the tariff. The stand patters in the party are not yet ready to agree to such a commitment.

TO ERECT MODERN FLAT BUILDING

FINNISH BROTHERS' ASSOCIATION PURCHASES PROPERTY WHERE FIRST METHODIST CONGREGATION ONCE STARTED TO BUILD CHURCH.

The National Finnish Brothers' Temperance association, which has its headquarters in Ishpeming, has purchased from Joseph Mitchell of Becon, for the three lots and foundation erected for a church some fourteen or fifteen years ago by the First Methodist Episcopal congregation on North Third street. The association secured a big bargain, as it purchased the property for $2,505, which is nearly $1,000 less than the church people paid for the lots alone. The property reverted back to Mr. Mitchell a few years after the foundation was completed, when the members of the society decided to give up the building project. The foundation was put in just prior to the panic of 1893, and cost in the neighborhood of $11,000. It is one of the best and most substantially built foundations in the city and is composed of choice stone with trimmings of sand stone. It is in good condition.

At a meeting of the directors of the society held Monday matters pertaining to the building were discussed. It has been decided to erect a two story frame structure, dividing both stories into flats, and the society will make its headquarters on the first, or foundation floor. The latter contains six or seven rooms, one of them large enough for a lodge room, in case the society decides to rent it. The two upper floors will be arranged so that they will accommodate eight families, each having four or five rooms, with bath, toilet, etc. in connection. The building is to be heated by steam and all of the families are to be allowed a certain amount of space in the basement for the storage of coal, wood, etc.

It is believed that the flats will bring a monthly rental of from $10 to $15 each, so that the revenue received from the building will pay a fair percentage on the money invested. The lower floor will be fitted up for the society. This can be done at a comparatively small outlay as the most expensive part of the work will be the plastering and decorating of the walls and the putting in of hardwood floors.

When the proper time comes the society will ask the city for permission to excavate under the sidewalk on Third street, so that coal chutes can be put in. There will be entrances to the three floors from both Third and Vine streets. The floor of the foundation is on a level with Vine street, but Third street is about fifteen feet higher. The basement floor will be reached from Third street by a stairway leading from the northeast corner, while there will be a main entrance to the second and third floors in the center.

Plans for the second and third stories are now being prepared by a Hancock architect and it is expected that they will be completed in a few weeks. It is the purpose of the officers to send a copy of the plans and specifications to each of the subordinate lodges of the national body for approval. It is assumed that the plans will be approved by all of the societies, and it is expected that they will contribute to the fund to be raised to pay for the property. Each society will be asked to donate a sum proportionate to its membership, and bonds will likely be issued to liquidate the unpaid portion, after the contributions are received. Several members of the society have offered to take some of the bonds, and it is not anticipated that the officers will have any trouble disposing of them at a low rate of interest.

It is understood that the building will be erected next summer. The headquarters of the association are at present in the Amerson block, but the rooms occupied are not large enough for the accommodation of the officers.

BLOOD POISON

HUMILIATING-VILE-DESTRUCTIVE

The first symptom of Contagious Blood Poison is usually a little sore or ulcer, which is quickly followed by a red rash on the skin, swollen glands in the groin, falling hair, ulcerated mouth and throat, and often copper colored blotches on different parts of the body. As the blood becomes more fully contaminated with the poison, pustular eruptions and sores break out on the flesh, and in extreme cases the nerves and bones are attacked and the finger nails drop off. Then the sufferers find themselves diseased from head to foot with this humiliating, vile and destructive poison. No other disease is so highly contagious; many an innocent person has been inoculated by handling the clothing or using the toilet articles of an infected person. There is but one certain, reliable cure for Contagious Blood Poison, and that is S. S. S. It attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the circulation, and neutralizing and forcing out every particle of the poison. It makes the blood pure and rich, tones up the system, and completely and permanently cures this disease. S. S. S. has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison. If you are suffering with this debasing and destructive disease begin the use of S. S. S. and get the poison out of your blood before it permanently wrecks your health. We have a home treatment book on the disease which we will send free to all who wish it, and in addition our physicians will give without charge any medical advice needed. MANY RETURNING TO ITALY AND FINLAND

TWO PARTIES OF TEN MEN EACH LEFT NEGAUNEE SUNDAY AND MONDAY NIGHTS—THIRTY OR FORTY MORE WILL LEAVE WITHIN THE NEXT TWO WEEKS.

Sixteen natives of Italy and four of Finland left Negaunee Sunday and Monday nights for their old homes, and it is expected that from thirty to forty more foreign born people, most of them Italians, will leave within ten days or two weeks. Eight of the party of Italians who left Monday night were from Princeton, the other two being from this city. The four Italians and four Finns who left Sunday night were Negaunee men, some of them having been employed at the Mary Charlotte mine, which reduced its force last Friday.

Many of those who have left Negaunee during the past few months for their native places became homesick here. Practically all of them have saved a good percentage of their earnings, and they leave with from $800 to $1,500. One Finn who left Negaunee a few months ago drew over $3,200 from the bank. This was the largest sum that any of the foreign born people have taken away from here this year, but a number have gone abroad with over $1,000 cash on their persons.

A Negaunee railroad man said yesterday that about three out of four of the men returning to their Finland and Italy have families over there. Most of them will return to this country in the spring, some of them coming back immediately after the holidays. Most of those going home have been in the country from three to five years. A majority of the men leaving here at the past six months gave up desirable employment at the mines, but they are so well acquainted that they do not anticipate trouble in securing jobs when they return. A number have developed into good miners and this class should have no trouble securing places when they come back, provided miners are in demand.

There are no foreigners to speak of coming to this region at this time. For several months early in the year an unusually large number of both Finns and Italians came to the upper peninsula, many of them locating in Negaunee, but now only an occasional immigrant arrives here. This is the time of the year when the travel to Europe is heavy, and travel is light coming this way. Practically all of the foreigners are traveling third class. The fare to both Finland and Italy is about $60, including berths and meals on the steamer.

Reports from both countries with reference to industrial conditions are favorable, so that the men going home will be able to find employment if they desire it. It is reported from Italy that there has been a shortage of workmen in all of the industrial districts, owing to the unusually large number who have gone to America and other countries. The wages being paid are the best that the working people have ever received in that country.

The parents of a number of the men own farms in the old country and they are being urged to return to take charge of the places.

CHECKS ATTRACTIVE.

Paper Issued by Mining Companies Nearly Same Size as Bank Notes.

The cashier's checks issued by the Oliver Iron Mining company, the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, and the Republic Iron & Steel company, many of which are now in circulation, are attractive. They are slightly shorter and a trifle wider than a bank note and are lithographed on a good quality of paper, so that they will not wear out or tear easily. The checks have been generally examined and commented on not only by the business people but by the workmen. Already there are a large number of them in circulation in both cities, but they will be more generally in use before the close of this week, when the mines will have finished paying of their men.

It would seem from the way the workmen are using the checks that they have a good knowledge of what to do with them. Monday and yesterday there was almost a continuous stream of men coming into the First National bank to get their regular checks cashed. Cashier Yates told The Mining Journal representative yesterday that not one of the men asked to be given currency on the cashier's checks.

No instances have been reported where the men objected to accepting the checks from the mining companies, nor have any of the business men refused them. In most cases where the checks of smaller denominations are presented in payment for merchandise the dealers give out currency for the amount due the customer. When checks of larger denominations, $10 and $20, are presented for small purchases the exchange checks of the smaller denominations are given in return. Most of the merchants have a large amount of currency on hand this month than usual, to make change on the cashier's checks. One or two instances have been reported where workmen have presented the cashier's checks for $20 in payment of small accounts at the store, and have asked that they be given their change in currency. They have been accommodated in some instances where the merchants had the currency to spare, but in other cases they have been refused and the cashier's checks of smaller denominations were given out instead. The postoffice is practically the only place in the city where the cashier's checks are not accepted.

A. P. Johnson, agent of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company, said yesterday that he is accepting all checks that are good in Chicago exchange, as his remittances are made by drafts. The South Shore is also accepting them. A large number of the cashier's checks have been received by the railway companies in exchange for tickets.

On the back of each cashier's check is printed the following: "This check may be deposited, but will not be paid in cash by the banks." The Oliver company's checks are drawn on the American Exchange bank of Duluth; the Republic Iron & Steel company's on the City National bank of Duluth, and the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's are issued on the National Bank of Commerce of Cleveland, and are payable either there or at the Continental bank of Chicago. On one end of the Cleveland-Cliffs check is a certificate of deposit from the National Bank of Commerce.

CARLOAD OF DEER.

First Big Consignment of Venison Passed Through Negaunee Yesterday.

Nearly a carload of deer carcasses passed through this city yesterday on a South Shore freight train, enroute from points as far west as the copper country, and consigned to the homes of lower peninsula men who are hunting in the peninsula. This is by far the largest batch of deer that has been shipped out this season and it compares favorably with the largest shipments of three years ago, when deer were very plentiful. About a dozen carcasses were transferred here yesterday morning and nearly all of them were consigned to lower peninsula points. This is the largest lot that has been received in this city since the opening of the season. The largest previous shipment was two deer, both of which were small.

Reports coming from some of the districts west of here are to the effect that the hunters are now having better luck than they did early in the season. The deer have been thoroughly aroused and they are constantly on the move, so that the hunters are seeing more of them than during the first few days they were out. There are an unusually large number of hunters in the district out from Michigan, as well as at points farther west. Many lower peninsula men went out from Michigan, most of them arriving before the opening of the season.

SUPERVISORS AND DOCTORS TO MEET

UPPER PENINSULA TUBERCULOSIS CONGRESS TO BE HELD AT COURT HOUSE TODAY.

MANY COUNTIES REPRESENTED

Plan is to Provide for Erection of One or More Institutions for the Treatment of Consumption.

The Upper Peninsula Tuberculosis congress, which will be attended by a number of physicians and supervisors from counties throughout the upper peninsula, will be held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon in the supervisors' room at the court house. It is expected that at least ten of the fifteen counties in the upper peninsula will be represented at the gathering and most of those who are to attend will arrive this morning.

Purpose of Meeting.

The purpose of the meeting is to carry out plans which originated at this year's annual meeting of the State Medical Society, when the project of building one or more hospitals for the treatment of consumption was discussed. At the meeting, Dr. F. M. D. Harkin of Marquette was named as a representative of the medical society to confer with the boards of supervisors in the counties of the upper peninsula. He took up the matter with the Marquette supervisors and later appointed a physician in each of the other counties to confer with the other boards of supervisors. Each board appointed one of its members and these appointees, together with the various physicians, are the ones that are to meet today.

It is not expected that the attendance of the physicians will be very heavy, as a number of them have been unable to leave their practices, but most of the counties will be represented.

The Plan.

Statistics of the ravages of the disease will be presented and the various methods of checking its spread in upper Michigan will be discussed. The plan is to build at least one institution similar to the one now being erected by the state at Howell, in the lower peninsula. The supervisor-delegates will be expected to obtain the co-operation of the boards to which they belong, and some scheme to have all the boards unite in the project, it is hoped, will be the outcome of the meeting.

It is stated that the question of a location is a matter that will not be considered until definite plans for the erection of a hospital have been formed. It is a question whether many of the upper peninsula cities would welcome a tuberculosis sanitarium.

To Be Decided Later.

Although it has been found that absolutely no danger to inhabitants of a city exists by reason of the presence of such an institution, and that a city derives as much benefit from such an institution as would be derived from any sort of hospital, yet many communities have fought shy of having tuberculosis sanitariums located within their borders. This, however, is one of the questions that will probably grow out of the meeting today.

COMMUNICATED.

Marquette, Mich., Nov. 19, 1907. To the editor of The Mining Journal: Dear Sir:—Your issue of this date, I observe, contains an account of the arrest of my son and Miller. As there are always some things that do not come out at first I would like to give your readers a few facts in the case that can be proven.

My son left the house about 7:30 p. m., saying he was going to a party on Fisher street with Miller. They proceeded to La Bonte's saloon; from there to the Northwestern House saloon; then to the Queen City saloon on Front street, where they were supplied with all the liquor they wanted. They were both under the influence of liquor when the pot showed the train. This being in this condition accounts for a large share of the trouble that is caused myself and other members of my family.

Now, Mr. Editor, I think you will agree with me that it is about time the authorities set up and take notice, and bring to book those who persist in violating the state law with regard to selling liquor to boys. If they fail to do so I certainly shall place it in the hands of parties who will bring them to book. I am not seeking any sympathy in the case, but just want the citizens of Marquette to know before jumping at conclusions that there are always two sides to a story.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space in your paper, I am
Yours very truly
W. J. SMALL.

EXAMINATIONS WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION TO HOLD TESTS FOR VACANCIES IN CUSTOMS SERVICE.

POSITIONS ARE NOW OPEN

Places to Be Filled Are Clerk, Day Inspector and Deputy Officer—Salaries Are from $800 to $1,800.

Civil service examinations for positions in the customs service in this district are to be held at the federal building next Saturday. They will be conducted by William A. Jellison, local secretary of the civil service commission and it is expected that about seven applicants will be examined. As the positions in the customs service are among the best that can be obtained through the civil service commission, and as at the present time there appears to be an unusual number of openings in the service, it was believed that the class of applicants would be larger.

It is quite probable that those who pass the examination Saturday will be placed within a short time. The young men who are to be examined are from all parts of the district.

Positions to Be Filled.

The positions open to those who pass the examination are clerk, day inspector and deputy officer, and the salaries range from $800 to $1,800 a year. The examination will be in the first grade and those who take it will be allowed five hours within which to answer the questions. The subjects and the percentage value of each are: Spelling, ten per cent; arithmetic, twenty-five per cent; penmanship, fifteen per cent; letter writing, fifteen per cent; conversion of currency, twenty per cent and geography, fifteen per cent.

The Subjects.

In the part of the test devoted to spelling about twenty words of slightly more than average difficulty will be given. The applicant's penmanship will be graded upon its legibility, rapidity and general neatness. Under letter writing the applicant's ability to use the English language in business correspondence will be tested. Under the subject, conversion of currency, the applicant will be required to give the relative values of English, French, German and Spanish currency. The geography questions will relate to the boundaries of states and to capitals, largest rivers, cities and bodies of water.

No Medical Examinations.

The period within which applications might be made to take the examination expired last Saturday. It was required that those to be filed in the office of the civil service commission at Chicago. Those who take the examination must be between the ages of twenty-one and fifty-five years and must be United States citizens. No medical examinations are made in connection with the placing of those who successfully answer the questions.
