NO MERCY TO SATURN

Planet's Rings Have Been Dropping a Long Time Without Damage.

Flagstaff, Ariz., Nov. 27.—In regard to the perturbed condition of Saturn's rings, which scientific men are now discussing, Professor Lowell of the Lowell Observatory here makes the following statement: "The criticisms of Professor Lowell's explanation of the present appearance of Saturn's rings are founded on a misapprehension of what has been observed at Flagstaff. The rings are known to be composed of a swarm of small bodies, and such a swarm could only be stable in the absence of collisions. But the perturbing action of the satellites must bring about collisions even if they did not otherwise occur. Now, at each collision, the particles not being perfectly elastic, a loss of energy must take place. This must reduce the orbit of the particle bringing it at last down upon the body of the planet. There is no catastrophe involved. The falling in upon the planet is a very slow process, but it has been going on ever since the ring system formed and will go on for a long time to come."

For one thing it is predicted with much positiveness that the five-game schedule will be replaced by a seven-game schedule.

The lengthening of the schedule would remove one of the objections to the conference regulations made much of by Michigan, and would increase the likelihood of a resumption of relations between Michigan and the conference colleges, a thing to which Michigan must be now inclined by her lack of success in her big games with Pennsylvania

It is generally reported that the kill during the deer hunting season now drawing to a close has been lighter than it was last year, and in previous years.

There is some difference of opinion as to the cause for this, but there is much support for the explanation that the kill of deer has been lighter because the deer are not so numerous as they were, but are appreciably fewer in numbers because of the constant inroads being made on the herds by the wolves and the hunters.

The deer in the upper peninsula is a constantly harassed game. The wolf pest is an undoubted one. Stories of the ravages of these animals are too numerous and too circumstantial to permit of any doubt that they annually kill perhaps nearly as many deer as fall before the rifles of the hunters in the legal open season.

Unless the wolves are curbed and unless the game laws are enforced against the pothunters the deer is destined to slowly but gradually lose in numbers in the upper peninsula until the hunter who bags one will really have something to boast about and until the annual deer hunt has lost its present day picturesque.

Representative John Sharp Williams has a "new" story. During the recent Mississippi gubernatorial campaign the Honorable Jeff Truhy was one of the unsuccessful aspirants for the majority suffrage of his fellow citizens.

More non-resident nimrods have hunted deer in Dickinson county this fall than in any other portion of Upper Michigan. It is not chronicled, however, that they have been particularly successful in the chase, and since their licenses alone have cost $25 each their outings have been attended with considerable expense.

Now that the big game season is on the wane in Upper Michigan, interesting stories are making their appearance with the return of the hunters, descriptive of experiences during the annual chase in the woods.

Without the knowledge of the intended victim of the joke a blank cartridge had been slipped in the magazine of his rifle, and the remaining members of the party were prepared to make much sport of the judge's marksmanship when he failed to bring down the cow.

Mr. Sales made only a geological examination of the property and that was not encouraging for the stockholders. His observations as to the ore in sight also confirm the findings of Gillie and Goodale. The directors of the Bames-King mill have been shut down for some time, owing to the fact that the supply of cyanide ran short, but operations have been resumed.

ELECTRIC COMPANY EARNINGS. Earnings of copper country companies controlled by Stone & Webster of Boston are reported as follows for the twelve months ending Sept. 30, last: Houghton County Electric Light Company.

Work has been stopped on the Badger State shaft in Butte, Montana. The shaft is 600 feet deep. The management states that work will be resumed when conditions improve. The Badger State is thought to carry a continuation of one of the rich veins of the North Butte.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Butte & Bacoem company is continuing its shaft, but has not yet found commercial ore. The confidence of the management has not wavered in the least, however. The company is drifting on one vein north of the shaft and on another south of the shaft.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the firm of Paine, Webber & Co., who with his family sailed from New York for a four months' vacation in foreign countries, the eastern part of the vacation will be spent in Egypt. Mr. Paine has very extensive business connections and has applied himself so closely for several years past that he began to feel the need of a period of rest.

The length of the life of the Calumet & Arizona mine is problematical, says the Boston Commercial. The company owns about six claims in the mineral area of the Copper Range Consolidated, which includes the Barmes-King, North Butte and Butte Coalition companies, all of which have their ore treated at the Washoe.

DUEL WITH BOOMERANGS.

Traveler's Tale of Deadly Encounter Between Australian Aborigines.

I was visiting at Port Augusta when the chief justice came to that town to hold the assizes, writes a correspondent of the London Field. Port Augusta is almost on the border of the desert. In the immediate neighborhood there was growing in profusion the "salt bush," which supports the life of the sheep during drought, and the tempting "prickly jack," a weed good to look upon but accursed to the farmer, as its pointed spur works havoc among the fleeces. Close by we saw a prosperous ostrich farm and a number of camels, with their Afghan drivers, about to start on a journey still further north.

The strange impression of this juxtaposition of old and new was deepened by the nature of the principal case for trial. It was a charge against Jimmy Woyyitta of the murder of Billy Lee, both aborigines. The story of the crime was not complicated. A quarrel seemed to have arisen through the refusal of the deceased, though of mature years, to submit to initiatory rites which technically made him a "young man." The witnesses were careful to speak of him always as a "boy," though it was testified that he had a few grey hairs.

The actual conflict between the two men was conducted with much of the panache of a duel. Each of them was armed with what is commonly called the "double boomerang," strictly speaking, it should rather be called a club in boomerang form. It is a large and somewhat heavy weapon, not intended as a missile at all, but used to inflict a blow which must be delivered only against the head. The inviolable etiquette of such encounters demands that each combatant in turn shall bend his head to the attack, not attempting to repay it until he has steadily suffered his own chastisement. Blow thus solemnly alternates with blow, until the man with the stronger arm and harder head is left the victor. In this ordeal Billy Lee succumbed.

The witnesses in this trial were of course mainly aborigines themselves, for the crime was committed in one of their camps. Their demeanor was extremely nervous. Again and again they had to speak clearly. One of them, a strong man with dents upon his head suggesting a long experience of boomerang duels, fainted in the course of giving his evidence, and another collapsed as soon as he had left the box. Later witnesses were therefore allowed to sit, and were frequently refreshed by a glass of water, which they would empty at a single gulp. Their evidence was given in pidgin English, interpreted by a police inspector, who was protector of aborigines for that district.

The counsel for the defense had the advantage of having lived for some time among the blacks when a boy, and could consequently make himself easily understood by them. "You yabba longa me now," was his intimation that they were now to speak to him instead of to his learned brother. "You tell me straight, no tell lies," was sufficient to emphasize the importance of truthful answers. Several peculiarities in linguistic usage came out during the examination. The witnesses used the word "lose" as an euphemism for "die," and "kill" in place of "struck." It had the oddest effect to hear how one man would kill the other, and then the other would retaliate by killing him.

Two peculiar characteristics noted by the writers on aboriginal customs were illustrated in this trial. One was the blacks' inability to count. At one point it was desired to ascertain what time elapsed between the death of the victim and the giving of information to the magistrate. The man who had himself carried the news could give no answer when the question was put to him point blank. He was next asked how many "sleeps" he had during his journey. This inquiry was also ineffectual.

Lastly, the lawyer proceeded in this fashion: "Where you sleep same night Billy Lee killed?" "Me sleep So-and-So Creek," was the prompt answer. The places of sleeping, however, after night was then elicited until it was easy to calculate the total interval. So, too, the time of day at which any event happened was indicated not by mention of the hour, but by pointing to the quarter where the sun was.

The other characteristic especially illustrated was the reluctance of the friends of the dead man to mention his name after he is gone. It is stated by one of the latest authorities on aboriginal practices, N. W. Thomas, that to mention the name of a dead man is thought equivalent to summoning his ghost, and that to avoid such a calamity words once

AN EXCELLENT PROGRAM.

Copper Country Newspaper Man Praised Elks' Minstrel Performance.

Charles Rogers, a Hancock newspaper man, who witnessed one of the rehearsals of the Hancock Elks' Minstrels, which will be the attraction at Ishpeming theatre Saturday evening, has written The Mining Journal representative here, that the performance will be one of the best of its kind ever seen in the upper peninsula. He says:

"Too much cannot be said in favor of the performance as it is really the best thing of the kind ever seen here and I am positive that you and the people of your city will be pleased with it."

The secretary of the Ishpeming Elks' lodge yesterday sent printed notices to all the members of the society urging them to participate in the illuminated parade Saturday evening. The members are requested to meet at the club rooms at 7 o'clock. The parade is to start thirty minutes later. A banquet to be served in the Woodmen's hall at the conclusion of the performance will be in charge of E. C. Cooley.

JOHNSON INQUEST.

The inquest in the case of the late William G. Johnson, who was killed at the Salisbury mine, was conducted yesterday morning by Coroner William Peir. Johnson's partner as the principal witness in the inquest corroborated the story of how the unfortunate man met his death published in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal. When Johnson told his partner that he intended to return to the drift for his candle-stick he was asked to remain away, as they could then hear the timbers cracking. Johnson replied that he thought he would have plenty of time, but the dirt came down just as he had reached the point where they had been working. About fifty feet of the drift fell in. The verdict was to the effect that Johnson came to his death by a fall of ground. The jury was composed of William Thexton, Joseph Gill, William Pearce, John Dowrick, J. Silas and Richard Whinnen.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Captain F. E. Keese and George F. Ruez, who have been at Cuba City, Wis., since Monday morning, will arrive home today.

The council session Tuesday evening, lacked a quorum, and the special business which was to have been acted on was held over until the regular meeting next month.

Mr. and Mrs. William Carlson, 838 North Pine street, are the parents of a daughter.

Joseph Walton and wife are happy over the advent of the son at their home.

The funeral of the late William G. Johnson will be held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from T. F. Gill's undertaking rooms on Canda street. Services will be conducted at the Salisbury Methodist church, by Rev. James Ivey, the pastor. The deceased was a member of the Ishpeming branch of the Mine Workers union.

The members of Rematite camp, No. 1128, Modern Woodmen of America, have been requested to meet at their hall this afternoon at 1 o'clock sharp to prepare for attending the funeral of the late Oscar T. Johnson.

His father, who had taken ill suddenly, died before Mr. Duff arrived at Goderich. His wife will spend a short time with relatives in the lower peninsula, before returning to Ishpeming.

Lawrence Barnett, who has been confined to the Oliver Iron Mining company's hospital at Coleman, Miss., suffering with pneumonia, is expected to arrive home this morning. He will remain here until after the holidays.

George R. Jackson and wife, of Princeton, arrived in the city yesterday from Pennsylvania, where they visited relatives. They will return to Princeton tomorrow.

The funeral of the late Oscar Johnson, who died Monday evening, will be held this afternoon under auspices of the Ishpeming camp of the Modern Woodmen of America. The cortege will leave the family home on North Maple street at 1:30. Services will be conducted at the Swedish Lutheran church at 2 o'clock.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

There will be no work at any of the mines today and all of the business houses, banks, brokerage offices and the public library will be closed. There will be services in a number of the churches both morning and evening, and several church entertainments will be held tonight. The Convent school closed yesterday afternoon for the vacation. The public schools, which have been closed for a week, will open Monday. Most of the rooms in the several buildings, particularly in the districts where whooping cough and scarlet fever have been most prevalent, have been disinfected.

A SICK LOAN ASSOCIATION.

In line with the latest ideas of practical charity, the philanthropic section of the Woman's Club of Schenectady, has organized a Sick Loan association, which promises to be of great benefit to those for whom it is intended. The object is to collect a number of articles which are needed in a sick room, the cost of which is too great for the poor to pay. At a small rental to those who need such articles and free to those in need who cannot pay for them, these things will be loaned. They include a wheel chair, rubber ice and water bags and the appliances of other things that are needed in properly caring for the sick. After the long illness of some member of the well-to-do family there is an accumulation of things that often lie untouched for years, and during all this time there is suffering that might be alleviated if the victims of disease were allowed to borrow them. A wheel chair is a boon to a paralytic who pines to get out of the atmosphere of the sick room, and there are numerous devices that could offer comfort to the sick, but are allowed to remain unused in garrets and store rooms.

GOOD STRIKE ON BEGOLE MOHAWK LEASE

GOLDFIELD PAPER REPORTS THAT IT SHOWS GOLD QUARTZ TO BE VERY RICH IN MINERAL.

A brief dispatch received a few days ago announced a strike of rich ore in the Begole lease on the Mohawk ground in the Goldfield district. The following concerning the strike is from the Goldfield News:

With but two weeks to run, the Begole lease on the Mohawk ground struck a phenomenal streak of high grade ore last Wednesday, on the 275-foot level. The rock is streaked and seamed with yellow metal and will run $10,000 a ton, ten feet across. Extraordinary efforts will be made to extract as much of the picture rock as possible before the expiration of the lease.

The Begole lease is a portion of the original Kalfus block. When the differences between the Kalfus and Ish-Sheets people were settled by the formation of the Mohawk-Combination company to take over both leases, Kalfus retained a portion of his block and the Begole Leasing and Mining company was organized to work it. For several weeks the Begole lease has been shipping about eighty tons a day of ore that averaged $70 a ton. Most of this ore is being taken out through the incline shaft by arrangement with the Mohawk-Combination people.

It has been reported here that the bank situation in Goldfield is bad and that it is likely to affect the general mining business in the district. It is reported that the miners are much displeased with the general situation, and the prediction has been made that there will be another walkout, unless the men are assured cash payments for their labor. The News has this to say of the situation:

The bank situation in Goldfield continues about the same as at the close of last week. Both the State bank and Trust company and the Nye and Ormsby banks remain closed and will not resume business until the depositors sign the agreements to accept the payment of the sums due them in installments, extending over a year's time. The State bank has already presented such an agreement to its depositors and has secured the signatures of about 75 per cent of them.

The Nye and Ormsby bank will submit a similar agreement to its depositors as soon as the bank examiner has completed his examination of the books of the various branches of the institution. It is probable the two banks will resume business at the same time.

WILL OFFER LIBERAL PRIZES.

The arrangement committee for the German Aid society's annual masquerade ball, which will be held at McDonold's opera house Jan. 24, has decided to give $50 in cash prizes. This is the same sum that was distributed last year. The committee has not yet decided how many prizes will be given, but the awards for the best masked couples will be liberal. The Negaunee orchestra will furnish the music. Tickets will be fifty cents for all persons masked, as well as adults, and twenty-five cents will be charged children.

USING NEW LAMPS.

A number of patrons of the municipal lighting plant are trying the Tungsten incandescent lamp, which gives a brilliant light. It is a fifty-candle power lamp and by a test made here by Superintendent Pearce it was shown to consume less energy than an ordinary sixty-candle power lamp.

NO TRACE OF AHO.

Thought That Negaunee Business Man Is Now in Finland.

The creditors of Walter Aho, the baker who disappeared from the city more than a month ago, leaving a number of unpaid bills, believe that he has returned to his old home in Finland. For a time it was thought that Aho, who had been drinking before he left here, had gone to the woods, but about two weeks after his departure a postal card was received from him by a Negaunee friend. No information was given on the card as to his destination, but it is generally thought that he was then on his way to Finland.

Aho left his affairs here in a tangled mess. He turned practically everything of any value into money before his departure. His heaviest creditor was a produce house to whom he was indebted nearly $400. The creditors have given up the accounts as lost.

HAY PLENTIFUL.

Farmers Not Obtaining Prices Expected Earlier in the Season.

A commission man yesterday advised The Mining Journal that the Wisconsin and Minnesota farmers are placing their best grades of hay on the market at from $12 to $14 per ton, and there have been several instances since the crop was harvested where the inferior grades sold for $11 loaded on the cars at the shipping point. Earlier in the year it was expected that the prices in Wisconsin would be from $14 to $17 per ton and that the dealers of the upper peninsula would have to pay from $19 to $22, the prices prevailing last spring. The better grades of hay are now selling at from $13.50 to $19, delivered. No. 1 timothy from the Soo commands the highest price in the local market.

The Negaunee farmers are receiving from $17 to $18 per ton for their hay, delivered to the dealers. This is about what the merchants here are obliged to pay for hay of similar quality coming from outside. It is reported that many Wisconsin and Minnesota farmers, who a few weeks ago were holding their hay for higher prices, are now throwing it on the market.

An unusually large amount of hay has arrived in Marquette county the past week. The commission man said that at least fifty carloads have been delivered in the three cities and that many more will be received within the next few weeks, as the dealers are putting in heavy stocks for the winter, taking advantage of the present prices, which it is believed are as low as will prevail at any time between now and spring. The freight charges on hay from Wisconsin points in carload lots is eighteen and one-half cents per 100 pounds, equal to about $3.70. Each car contains from nine to thirteen tons.

Charles E. Kirpatrick left last night for Oshkosh, where he will spend Thanksgiving with his uncle, Allen Kirpatrick. His sister, Miss Mayme, went down Tuesday. On Friday Mr. Kirpatrick will go to Manitowish on business. He represents the Northern Grain company of that city.

The satebel which is traveling the rounds of the express offices was received at the Western Express company's office in Negaunee Tuesday, it having come from the copper country, where a number of tags were placed on the string. The string of tags is now about eight feet in length, and the outfit weighs nearly twenty pounds.

Manager Archer of the Bijou theater announces that the Thaw-White tragedy will be shown in moving pictures the remainder of this week, commencing this afternoon at 2:30. The pictures attracted unusually large audiences to Mr. Archer's theater at Ishpepping and it is expected that they will also bring good business to the house here.

The schools of the city closed yesterday afternoon for the Thanksgiving vacation, which will continue until Monday. Tomorrow and Saturday all of the rooms in the public schools will be disinfectant. There has been no great amount of sickness among the children of the city, but the school board thought it well to take this precaution. The night school session will be held as usual tomorrow evening.

MESABA ASSESSMENTS.

Minnesota's New System of Taxing Mines Is Declared Unjust.

There has lately been a remarkable change in the taxable valuation of iron mines in the state of Minnesota, writes Dwight E. Woodbridge, mining engineer, of Duluth. This has been due to the official action which must be called precipitate and unjust. A brief account of the methods of the tax commission and of the results, so far as they affect individual mine operators, may be of general interest.

Early and Present Taxation

The Mesaba iron ore range was discovered in 1890 and became a shipper in considerable quantity three years later. This was during a period of depression in the iron trade, and for several years mining was carried on with little or no profit; for some years at an actual loss. The properties were placed on the tax rolls and gradually raised in valuation as shipments grew larger or as new mines were discovered and opened, until, in 1898, there was a total assessment of $5,969,000. Real estate is assessed for taxation every two years in Minnesota, and in the year 1900 I was employed by the state auditor to report on mines for valuation. At the session of the legislative council of equalization that year, before which I reported, the value of mines was increased to $7,845,168. In 1902 I was again employed and the valuation was then put at $20,047,470. In 1904 the valuation was raised to $41,903,774 while last year it was put at $69,851,843 and should not, under the usual procedure, or in accordance with the law, be changed before 1908. But the legislature of the previous winter had created a tax commission, as a regular branch of the machinery of the Commonwealth, and this commission was anxious to justify its being by making some additions to the tax rolls of the state, and under a strained construction of the law it could make changes in an odd year. Therefore it spent a few days in an examination of the mining properties. It took for no expert advice, was accompanied only by a gentleman who is employed to see that all mines on state lands return proper figures of tonnages mined, in order that collections for royalties should be correct, asked all mining companies to return figures of their ore left in the ground for its information, and proceeded to make an assessment, to be submitted to the state board of equalization as a tentative figure, upon which that body might act as it saw fit. It rather took away the breath of the mining interests when they learned that this figure was above $225,000,000, more than three times the figure of the year before, and almost six times the highest preceding valuation.

Values and Costs. In the earlier years the taxable valuation had been fixed on a sort of combination between the mine tonnage and its relative worth, and the probable shipments during the two years of the assessment period. In those years of comparatively low mineral values, iron ore had been rated as worth about fifty cents a ton in the mine, and at this rate the valuation was based only on the amount of ore expected to be shipped the coming season. Undeveloped, but prospected, ore lands were classed at a lower rate than properties actually producing ore and a revenue. This was a reasonable and honest manner of getting the value of the mines, and a gross value of fifty cents a ton was ample as a figure for the worth of ore in the mines. Indeed, during much of the period in question ore could not be delivered at lower lake ports and sold so as to permit the use of this figure; the cost of mining, transportation and sale was such that fifty cents as a base was too high. For a period of ten years, ending with 1904, Mesaba bessemer brought in Cleveland an average of but $3.20, while costs against it were at least $3.05 for the same term.

The method pursued by the tax commission in arriving at its value for the mining industry was radically different. Ores were divided into several classes, based on the ease of mining and the grade of deposits as to phosphorus. Ores easily mined and of bessemer quality were valued at $125 a ton in the ground, and the valuation decreased from this to underground properties of low grade non-bessemer, which were put at forty cents a ton. It being the custom in Minnesota to assess real estate at 40 per cent of its actual worth, these figures were then cut to 40 per cent and the result multiplied by the tonnages that had been returned to the commission by the mining companies. Thus, the value of the ore was placed over the entire ore body, whether it could be mined in one year or in fifty years. It can be seen readily that after a property had been taxed on such a rate as this for twenty-five to forty years there would have accumulated against the ore remaining in the ground a prepayment of taxes almost confiscatory. The whole tendency of this was not to conserve the resources of the state and assist in their exploitation and development, but quite the contrary--to get rid of the resource as fast as might be and to hide any ore not actually discovered as long as possible. In my opinion the functions of government are diametrically opposed to such procedure.

Of course mine-owners were up in arms over such a change in values, and demanded to be heard, and the tentative recommendations of the commission were reduced by about $35,000,000. This amended figure was reported to the state board of equalization, then in session, and after a fight there to prevent another and still more drastic raise, they were adopted, a few days ago, and are now the total upon which county auditors must tax mines in their districts, unless the mining companies appeal to the courts, on the ground of gross injustice, and secure an abatement.

Present Valuations. The crudity of the classifications adopted by the commission may be appreciated when it is stated that one of its classes was: "Unexplored lands near good mining properties, ten cents per ton." The commission may be able to fix a tonnage on "unexplored lands" that lie near good mining properties, but no one else has that ability. Another instance is "Lands that have not been explored, but are on the well known ore belt, $5 to $10 per acre." Now, lands on the "well known ore belt" are valuable for ore or for nothing at all. Explorations show that not to exceed 8 per cent of the well known ore belt--whatever that may be--contains mine. To tax the rest of the 75,000 or 80,000 acres of the Mesaba range--rocks, cut-over lands, swamps and muskegs, or boulder-strewn clays--at from $5 to $10 per acre, is manifestly absurd.

Of course this commission has taken the industry in a year of extreme profit when the figure of $125 per ton may not be out of the way. Mesaba bessemer ore of standard grade, sells at Cleveland $10 year at $4.75 per ton; estimating cost of mining at $1 a ton, of freight to lower lake ports $1.55 of incidental expenses at fifteen cents, and of royalty at thirty cents, there remains $1.75 for the value of the ore in the ground. This price of ore at Cleveland is higher than it has been in the past, and perhaps than it will be in the near future. Mesaba ore has never, till this year, sold at any such price.

If the present tax rates are adhered to in the Mesaba region the Oliver Iron Mining company would pay, under the new rate of valuation, and with the production of 1906, a tax of about fifteen cents a ton on its output per year, or so long as the conditions remain as now. The Maloining Ore and Steel company would pay about seventeen cents a ton, the Buffalo & Susquehanna about forty cents a ton, Corrigan, McKinney & Co., some eighteen cents, and so on along the list. The company owning large reserves that it proposes to hold for the future, is paying the largest sum per ton each year.

When this matter reached the state board of equalization, which is the final arbiter in all such affairs, it was before a body of men only two members of which had ever seen an iron mine, and whose information as to the condition of the steel industry is such that one of the most prominent members asserted in the sessions that there was no competition in the industry, and that the various steel-making concerns were all dominated by the same people.

HE FOUGHT AT GETTYSBURG.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., who met a foe at Gettysburg, writes: "Electric Bitters have done me more good than any medicine I ever took. For several years I had stomach trouble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose, until I began taking Electric Bitters. I would not take $500 for what they have done for me." Grand tonic for the aged and for female weaknesses. Great alterative and body builder; best of all for lame back and weak kidneys. Guaranteed by The Stafford Drug Co. 50c.

TWO PERFORMANCES TONIGHT.

"Prince Karl" Is Matinee Offering and "Graustark" Is on Tonight.

The MacLean-Bryant company last night presented "The Top Sergeant" at the opera house. The play was well received by a fair-sized audience and although new to Marquette, was a success. It is a military story and has a number of laughable scenes and incidents, with an interesting plot into which is woven a pretty love story. One of the exceptionally clever specialty artists with the company is the low dancer, Popinae. De Petit, the comedian and Lorenzo also are good. At a matinee this afternoon the company will present "Prince Karl," one of their best pieces. Tonight "Graustark," George Barr McCutcheon's celebrated story, is the offering, with Miss Bryant in the part of Yvonne.

A HARD DEBT TO PAY.

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equaled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lung complaints. Guaranteed by The Stafford Drug Co. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

SPARROWS ARE VICTIMS.

Boys Taking Advantage of New Law Granting Bounties for Birds.

Within the past few weeks a new cold storage industry has sprung up in Marquette and branches of the industry extend into all parts of the city. The product which has been accumulating is soon to be marketed. This product consists of the carcasses of many slain sparrows and the small boys of the city are the ones who have started the industry. At the recent regular session of the legislature a new law granting a bounty of two cents a head for sparrows killed during the months of December, January and February was passed, and with their air rifles the boys are preparing for the season. Hardware dealers have about closed out their stocks of air rifles and all of them report the sale of large amounts of shot. County Clerk Jenks may need an assistant to take care of the payment of sparrow bounties when the season opens Dec. 1.

"SEA PALACE" WAS WHALER.

Landman, Lured by Honeyed Promises, Has a Rude Awakening.

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—Shanghai, according to the popular notion, is an operation involving some violence, usually performed with the aid of an anaesthetic—knockout drops preferred. S. C. Allen of St. Louis, who has just completed a cruise to and from the Arctic on the whaler Thrasher, knows that the popular idea is a mistake as far as San Francisco is concerned.

Allen arrived here last spring from St. Louis in search of one of the good jobs that he understood were going begging. He was on the water front enjoying his first glimpse of salt water when a pleasant mannered stranger accosted him and inquired if he was looking for work.

"I've got a place that would just suit you," said the stranger in response to Allen's enthusiastic affirmative, "Did you ever go to sea?"

Allen explained that he was looking at salt water for the first time in his life. The stranger, after meditating for a few seconds, expressed the opinion that nautical experience would be unnecessary, as the work would be largely critical. He offered Allen a job on a steamer running between San Francisco and Portland at a salary of $75 a month and board.

"Harriman, the railroad king, owns the steamer. All his ships are fitted like private yachts. You'll live like a fighting cock, and in a few voyages, if Mr. Harriman likes your work, he may make you captain."

The Thrasher was in the stream ready for sea when Allen was placed on board. He found out where he was going as the whaler was passing Lime point. With great difficulty his shipmates restrained him from jumping overboard. He told his story next day, and by way of sympathy was nicknamed "Portland." He has returned after eight months' hard work, for which he received $1. He is going back to St. Louis.

DANCING PROVES FATAL.

Many men and women catch colds at dances which terminate in pneumonia and consumption. After exposure, if Foley's Honey and Tar is taken it will break up a cold and no serious results need be feared. Refuse any but the genuine in a yellow package. The Stafford Drug Co.

APPENDICITIS.

Is due in a large measure to abuse of the bowels, by employing drastic purgatives. To avoid all danger, use only Dr. King's New Life Pills, the safe, gentle cleansers and invigorators. Guaranteed for headache, biliousness, malaria and jaundice, at The Stafford Drug Co.'s store. 25c.

THIS IS WORTH REMEMBERING.

LITTLE FOLKS WILL APPEAR IN CONCERT

EXCELLENT PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR EVENT AT METHODIST CHURCH TOMORROW NIGHT.

The "Little Folks' Concert" to be given by the young people of the Methodist church will be given tomorrow night at the church. In past years a number of events of the kind have been given by the little folks and they have been uniformly successful. In fact, upon a number of occasions the concerts of former years have been repeated at the request of those who enjoyed them so thoroughly, that they were eager to see them a second time. The program to be given tomorrow night is of more than ordinary merit and that the church will be crowded may not be doubted. The admission price is fifteen cents. The march of nations, the closing part of the program, will be given by the children in costume with appropriate music. The program is as follows:

CAPACITY OF HALL TAXED BY DANCERS

MONSTER GATHERING ENTER-TAINED LAST NIGHT BY MEMBERS OF MORSE HOSE CO.

The annual ball of the Morse Hose company, which was given last night at Fraternity Hall, was probably the most successful that the company has ever given. The hall was crowded almost beyond its capacity and it is estimated that there were about three hundred and fifty people on the floor.

Decorations Praised.

The work of the decorating committee was praised on all hands. Along the four walls of the hall were hung long, graceful streamers of ground pine, and draped artistically with them were colored tissue hangings. The ground pine and tissue streamers also hung in long loops from the panels in the ceiling of the hall. At intervals around the walls firemen's trumpets and lanterns hung from the other decorations and throughout there were a number of Japanese lanterns. Considerable work had been done on the polished floor and it was in excellent shape.

The members of the company, in uniforms received the crowd. By 9:30 o'clock the hall was well filled and although about that time the snow, which had stopped somewhat earlier in the evening, began to fall again in clouds, the couples continued to pour into the hall. No programs were issued, but at points along the wall were printed placards giving the dances. There were twenty-four pieces announced, not counting the extras. At midnight a tasteful repast was served at the Hotel Giffon. The menu which was most favorably commented upon was as follows:

- The Menu.
- Oyster Stew
- Celery Queen Olives Pickle Beets Cold
- Roast Turkey Veal Ham
- French Fried Potatoes
- Cabbage Salad
- Hot Rolls Plain Bread
- Vanilla Ice Cream Cake
- Coffee.

The music for the dancing was furnished by the full Sullivan orchestra and the efforts of the musicians met with praise from the dancers.
