

MINERS WILL WORK UNDER HEAVY GUARD

Deputies by the Dozen Are Sworn in at Goldfield to Support the Federal Soldiers in Preserving Order.

Martial Law Doubtless Will Be Declared—Operators Are Firm in Their Intention to Re-open the Shafts at Once, and Men Secured in California Are Ready to Come at Short Notice—Governor Is on the Ground, With Funston on the Way.

Goldfield, Nev. 10.—It was announced tonight that General Funston is coming to Goldfield to personally look into the situation here. Governor John Sparks arrived this afternoon and had a conference with Colonel Alfred Reynolds, in command of the federal troops.

There were meetings of the executive committee of the Goldfield Miners' union and of the Goldfield Mine Owners' association tonight. Apparently the mine owners are determined to carry out their intention of resuming operations Thursday.

Governor's Arrival Excites. The arrival of Governor Sparks has led to many rumors, but beyond the little excitement caused by the presence of the state executive two days ahead of the time announced, nothing has transpired today to materially affect the situation.

The indication is that the military authorities are preparing to proclaim martial law. Governor Sparks had a conference with Colonel Reynolds this afternoon, and an hour was spent in going over the situation. Colonel Reynolds said that he had not yet obtained a thorough grasp of the situation, nor had he learned all the conditions which led to the signing of the troops.

The state executive was visited at his hotel by prominent mine owners and members and officials of the Mine Owners' association, but he denied that any official conference between himself and the officials of the association had taken place since his arrival. He was also visited by the officers of the miners' union, who assure him that the union would do all in its power to prevent violence, and had been and is still earnestly endeavoring to effect a peaceable settlement of the difficulties between themselves and the operators.

Desperate Element Armed. Doubtless a search of the camp will be made for weapons and ammunition alleged to be hidden by some of the desperate element among the miners, and the districts where the miners live will be patrolled by soldiers night and day. It is definitely known that at least 200 men have been secured in the mining camps of California and are being held in readiness to come to Goldfield on two days' notice.

Thirty deputy constables are now in the employ of the Mine Owners' association, and at least one hundred more will be sworn in before Thursday morning and be detailed in the district where the mines to be opened. The miners who go to work will be heavily guarded by constables and perhaps soldiers.

Union Pretexts Against Troops. The executive committee of the miners' union tonight adopted resolutions condemning the authorities for sending the troops, protesting against their remaining here and demanding their withdrawal at once. The decision to stand by previous declarations in regard to the refusal to accept scrip in lieu of coin for wages was made, and it was also decided to make no overtures to the mine owners other than those previously extended.

C. F. Maloney, vice president of the Western Federation of Miners, is on his way to Goldfield from Denver. He will arrive tomorrow. Some action by the local union may be taken after his arrival looking to a speedy settlement of the troubles.

General Funston's Plans. San Francisco, Dec. 10.—General Funston tonight said that he would leave tomorrow with two or three staff officers for Goldfield for the purpose of looking over the situation. He wished it made plain, however, that he was not going there to take command of the troops or in any way to supersede Colonel Reynolds. Neither is it his intention to order additional troops there. General Funston expects to spend only two or three days in Goldfield.

Denver, Dec. 10.—The executive board of the Western Federation of Miners has officially called off the strike in the Cripple Creek district declared Aug. 12, 1903, in sympathy with the striking miners of Colorado City. Hawley outlined the state's case today. For two hours he spoke of what he termed the most gigantic conspiracy in the annals of crime. The taking of evidence began this afternoon, and before court adjourned for the day the state had prepared the way for Harry Orchard, who will tomorrow take the witness stand. Orchard was brought from the penitentiary to this city this evening.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES. Forty Workmen Are Precipitated Into a River, Where Seven of Them Drown.

Bloomington, Pa., Dec. 10.—High water tonight caused the collapse of a new bridge in course of erection over the west branch of the Susquehanna river near Middleville. All were thrown into the river. The dead were: A. W. Fahn, Charles Creitzer and Adam Nuss, of Selms Grove; Adam Tritt, of Beaver Valley; Irvin Udegraf, of Georgetown; Millard Bowman, of Middleville; and George B. Peany, address unknown. They Vote, as Well, in Favor of Licensing Saloons, Though by a Much Smaller Majority Than in Previous Elections, and in Other Important Cities of the State the Temperance Sentiment Shows Surprising Gains—Three Big Towns Go "Dry."

Boston, Dec. 10.—In the closest and hardest fought election contest which the Hub has known for many years, the city went Republican today by about 2,000. Postmaster George A. The city also voted in favor of licensing saloons, though by a much smaller majority than in previous elections.

Second Biggest City Goes Dry. Worcester, Dec. 10.—The swinging of Worcester, the second largest city in the state, into the no-liquor column for the first time in sixteen years; a similar change of attitude by the voters of Lynn after eleven years of liquor selling; and like action in Woburn, together with substantial gains to the temperance sentiment in many other places but with a complete turn in the other direction on the part of the Chelsea voters, were the most surprising of the general features in the municipal elections held in eighteen Massachusetts cities, exclusive of Boston, today.

BAD SLUMP IN STOCKS. Banks Call in Loans, and Protective Measures Are Withdrawn.

New York, Dec. 10.—Support for the stock market, which has been persistently for some time past, was evidently abandoned today, but whether voluntarily or forcibly was not clear. There was a further calling of loans by the banks, following that of yesterday, and the call money rate was run up to 25 per cent compared with a maximum rate of 20 per cent yesterday. This had had a bad effect on speculative sentiment.

The selling converged especially on the Hill stocks and Reading, and as these had been picked out for the most conspicuous operations in supporting the market, their sudden relapse was of advanced sympathetic effect on the whole market. Some relative resistance was shown by the coppers, which might be accounted for by the large short interest in those stocks waiting to cover on the decline. There was some evidence also of the direct transfer of large accounts from the Hill stocks into the Hariman Pacific.

The motives for the withdrawal of call loan credits by the banks were not clearly understood and were, perhaps, of called unfavorable effect for that reason. The government's favorable estimate of the cotton crop had but moderate effect in steadying stocks, and the day's decline in prices proved to be considerable.

INQUIRY BY SENATE

Action of the Administration During the Recent Crisis Will Be Looked Into.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Senator Aldrich today informed the senate committee on finance that he would within a very short time bring in a resolution providing for an inquiry into the recent bond issue of the government, and that it would provide for an investigation into all matters contained in the resolutions offered by the senators concerning the financial stringency and the efforts of the government to relieve the situation.

With this assurance, Senators Culberson of Tennessee and Clay of Georgia agreed to permit their resolutions to go to the committee for its consideration. Mr. Tillman allowed his resolutions on the same subject to lie on the table until he had secured the data he desired to present to the senate. The senate adjourned at 1:05 o'clock p. m.

The underlying cause of the whole disaster was, first, too much money in speculation, and second, too much money in unprofitable enterprise. 'A currency bill that in Canada, or Germany, which increases or decreases in volume, according to the public needs, is the need of this country.'"

ST. PAUL, ATLANTIC CITY, LOUISVILLE, CHICAGO, DENVER, ST. LOUIS, CINCINNATI AND CLEVELAND WANT THE MEETING. Mr. Taggart said: "Geography, railroad facilities, hotels and finance will be the combination to win. I have no hesitancy in saying that, exclusive of the money question, Chicago will get the convention. I have been assured, however, that there is not yet sufficient money in sight to insure the meeting for this city."

He recommended that the sale of liquors in grandstands be prohibited. HIGH COURT CLERK TO LOSE BIG FEES

Constitutional Convention Decides That He Be Put on a Salary and Be Limited to a Four-Year Term of Office.

One Proposal Reported Out Gives Vote to Lieutenant Governor in Case of Ties, and Another Confers Upon Cities Exceptional Municipal Ownership Powers—Mr. Flannigan of Norway Declares Against the Indeterminate Sentence Law.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—Delegate Flannigan of Norway spoke on the indeterminate sentence law in the constitutional convention today, but the convention, seeing itself getting tied in a knot of debate, put off the evil hour of consideration to Wednesday. Mr. Flannigan declared against a system which, he said, makes the warden practically the prosecuting attorney in the hearings before the pardon board, allowing him the opening and the closing talk.

Home Rule Proposition. The committee on cities and villages reported out the home rule and municipal ownership proposition today, and asked that it be made the special order for Tuesday next. It allows cities to make and amend charters under a general law which will have restrictions as to the bonded indebtedness and general items. Cities may own and operate any public utility and may expend up to one per cent of their assessed valuation on the vote of a majority of the electors. For an expenditure over that amount, the assent of the majority of the taxpayers is needed, while money taxpayers being given the same right to vote as the men. However, cities which have borrowed to the limit of their bonded indebtedness for a plant may issue bonds, secured only by a majority of the special vote of the sum necessary. Cities are also allowed to sell a surplus of products within or without the municipal limits.

To Prevent Senate Tie-Ups. A proposal reported out gives the right of voting to the lieutenant governor in case of ties in the senate. This would have prevented the trouble with the "Brooks" last fall and will prevent tie-ups in the future.

Delegate Gore failed in getting the supreme court clerkship made an elective office, but he succeeded in getting four years set as the term of office, while the legislature will put him on a salary and require the fees to be turned over to the state. It is the announced intention to make of Goldfield an open camp. This is carrying war into the enemy's country with a vengeance.

"Governor Hughes has no intention of going to Chicago next June, nor has he any intention of opening headquarters
 there or anywhere else." This statement, authorized by Robert H. Fuller, the governor's secretary, in connection with the report that quarters had been reserved for the governor at a Chicago hotel for the convention dates, speaks for itself
 in an unmistakable manner.

State Treasurer Glazier will not increase the esteem in which he is held by refusing to give up his office except under pressure. The developments have put him in such a contradictory position as treasurer that it is his plain duty to resign, and pave the way for the appointment as his successor of a man in no way involved in the suspension of the Chelsea bank. A prompt resignation would not be taken as a confession of deliberate or criminally intended wrongdoing, but simply as a recognition of the fitness of things in this particular instance.

Representative Galbraith of Calumet has announced that he will not be a candidate for renomination to his present office next fall. He has shown a large measure of ability at Lansing and has been a prominent figure in the house ever since he appeared there. He has been a fair fighter, and a courageous one,
 and has earned the respect and esteem
 even of the members who have been almost invariably opposed to his manner of regarding the questions that have come up for action. If his decision not to be a candidate again is final, his district will lose a forceful representative.

The action of the National Republican committee in ruling that any delegates chosen prior to the call for the national convention will not be recognized makes void the convention held in the Eighth Michigan district some weeks ago, and Representative Fordney and E. O. Dewey of Owosso were elected delegates and Speaker Cannon was endorsed for nomination as president. The convention will be held over again, early in the spring, with perhaps the same results,
 for Representative Fordney is avowedly
 in favor of the nomination of Speaker Cannon, though he professes not to know when the delegates will be instructed for.

Senator Smith's willingness to open up a fight over the Port Huron postoffice indicates that he is to be no bearer of peace offerings to the men who have fought him. His policy is evidently not to be the placation of these men at the expense of those who fought for him, a not uncommon expedient in political life, but rather a policy of standing by the friends who have served him well in the past. Out of this many things will follow, not the least important of which should be Senator Smith's loyal support of Governor Warner in next year's primary campaign, if Governor Warner follows out his present expressed determination and seeks a renomination.

State Game Warden Stone of Wisconsin estimates the season's kill of deer in that state at 10,000. Returns to his department show shipments of 5,760 deer on the railroads. Non-resident hunters sent 168 deer carcasses out of the state.
 Up to December 1 it is estimated that 9,500 licenses were issued to resident hunters and 247 licenses to non-resident deer hunters. During the month of November the game warden's department made fifty-nine arrests for violations of the game and fish laws, and the total amount of fines imposed was $1,150, the costs being $1,762.4. One of the men convicted received a jail sentence of twenty days and two sentences of thirty days.

There are many people who rush into print with stories about violations of the game laws who would serve the sportsmen and the game better if, instead of telling all the people about their alleged facts, they would call the nearest deputy game warden to one side, or write him a letter, giving him a hint as to where violations have been committed and how he can gather the evidence necessary to convict. Information of this kind is invariably regarded as confidential. State Game Warden Pierce will have every complaint having any of the earmarks of probability investigated. Premature publication of stories about violations,

 if there is anything in them, only warns
 the offenders that they are suspected and leads them to take precautions against any successful prosecution. However, as frequently as not these published stories are based on hearsay and have but little basis in fact.

The mine operators at Goldfield have tackled a serious contract in attempting to operate their properties with men not affiliated with either the Western Federation of Miners or the Workers of the World. The mine workers of Nevada, and particularly of Goldfield, are thoroughly organized, mostly in the fold of the Western Federation. However, with the protection of the federal troops assured it is probable that a non-union force can be assembled sufficient to work the mines, and it goes without saying that they can be successfully wrought
 as long as the troops remain. The strikers will have little disposition to essay
 a trial of strength with the regulars, which would certainly follow any concerted attempt to interfere with the unorganized workmen. Thus we can expect a period of peace in the Goldfield camp. The outlook for the future, however, is not a pretty one. The federal troops will hardly be kept at Goldfield forever, and it is likely that their withdrawal will be followed by strenuous efforts on the part of the Western Federation to re-establish itself in the Goldfield camp. The prospect for an enduring labor peace in its mines can hardly be said to be promising.

BREWERS AS REFORMERS.
 It is reported with some show of authority that the reformers who are working for the further restriction and purification of the saloon can count on important assistance from the big brewers of the country. These interests have not failed to notice the reform wave that started in the south and that is gradually sweeping the north. They apparently realize that their best interests will be served by co-operating with the reformers to secure the elimination of the worst abuses. By this procedure they believe they can best temper the restrictive measures and prevent them from going to what would be, from their view point, ruinous lengths.

A conference of the big brewers has just been held in New York, and this declaration is said to reflect accurately the conclusions reached: "America's foremost brewers are prepared to join with any reasonable temperance reformers in a movement to abolish the dive and the drunkard, the saloon that caters to women and children and every sort that does not obey the strict letter of national and state legislation." Many of these big brewers aver, it is said, that the movement for reform will do no permanent damage to them, but will give them an opportunity they long have sought to take their product away from the dive keepers and habitual drunkard.

The views of the men taking part in the conference are said to be well epitomized by Adolphus Busch, head of the Anheuser-Busch brewery in St. Louis, the largest in the world, in the following statement: "I have long known that this business should be regulated and I anxiously have waited for the time to arrive when the public would be ready to assist in the duty of regulation. From now on I am stripped for action in a new light. Heretofore it has been a matter of business—of dollars and cents, of fierce competition. From now on I will strive to the utmost of my resources to eliminate the evils that have grown like weeds around the business. I cannot view with indifference the opinions of my countrymen concerning an institution which is the pride of my life. Hereafter, if an eagle, which is the sign and mark
 of our house, shall be found in a resort which is not orderly and law abiding it must come down, and I will join in any campaign for the elimination of such resorts."

At the same time it is said that $5, 000,000 was pledged by the brewers to wage a war against absolute prohibition.
 They regard their right to manufacture and sell beer, as well as the right of any person so inclined to drink it, as an inalienable one, and against its curtailment
 in what they regard as an unreasonable manner they will fight with their every resource. On the score of the dive, however, they have apparently decided that its way and their's must part, perhaps realizing that it is the dive more than any other one thing that has given rise to the present agitation against their business and the present danger that it will be seriously hurt in a material way.

It is high time that the brewers took the stand now ascribed to them. Too frequently they have been encouragers
 of the dive and they are the biggest factor contributing to the too great multiplicity of the American saloon now seen on every hand. Competition and the conditions of their business have resulted in their multiplying these refreshment places beyond all reason, and in this also they have contributed greatly to the upgrowth of the sentiment that now occasions them so much alarm.

CUTTING OFF EXCURSIONS.
 The Chicago Tribune notes that reports are now beginning to come in which show the working of the two-cent railroad passenger rates. The Ohio law has been in force since March 10, 1906, and the report for the first year has been completed. Twenty six important roads and thirteen subsidiary corporations are represented in the report of the state commission and the thirty-nine report an increase in earnings of nearly $1,400,000, with a decrease on ten of the smaller lines of $56,000, making a net increase of $1, 332,282.

The report contains a comparative statement for five years which proves that the receipts for 1907 were above
 the average during the five-year period.
 The elimination of free transportation and the withdrawal of excursion rates were joined with the growth of the passenger business to produce the net gain mentioned. The Tribune adds that scattering reports for given months support the idea that the fears of railroad men caused by the lowering of rates have not been realized.

The remarks of the Tribune seem to indicate that the railroad men attach considerable importance to the elimination of excursion rates and it seems probable that the roads will at least experiment for a time in that direction. As a matter of fact the new rates reduce the cost of traveling during the holiday season to nearly what they were under the old excursion rates. Whether, however, the public will consider this fact
 and travel as freely as before at the holiday season remains to be proved.

The rate law did not take effect in this state until after the roads had made up their summer schedules and arranged for their excursions, so the excursions were given as usual. During the holiday season the new rules will be in effect and the companies will then be able to tell whether a refusal to grant special rates cuts down the amount of travel. If the companies receive as much money from a reduced number of passengers they will not be likely to regret the adoption of the rule. The public having compelled the roads to reduce their regular fares cannot justly complain if the excursions are cut off, but it is likely that in the long run the roads may find that policy a mistaken
 one.

Copper Country

ARRESTED FOR GRAND LARCENY.

John Vandandugrin of Baraga Is Accused of Wholesale Theft.

Under Sheriff Vivian of Houghton county went down to Baraga Monday evening and arrested a man named John Vandandugrin, who is charged with stealing a gold watch and chain and a few garments of woman's wear, including undershirts and a cloak, all to the value of $90. It is asserted that Vandandugrin took these things from a female whose virtue is not exactly unsalable but who none the less needs the things.

The man attempted to get away. The alleged larceny took place near South Range, and Baraga, where the man with the long name went, is many miles from there. He was to have had his hearing before Justice Brand yesterday afternoon.

Under Sheriff Vivian left yesterday for Ionia, having in charge Matt Hokala, sentenced to that institution for one year. Hokala was as happy a young man as ever left on a journey. Only for the handcuffs no one would have known he was a prisoner.

EXHIBITION IN JANUARY.

Plans of Copper Country Poultry and Pet Stock Association.

The annual exhibit of the Copper Country Poultry & Pet Stock association will be held in the Houghton Amphitheatre Jan. 14 to 16. Secretary McNamara has about completed the compilation of his catalogue and premium list. He says that the latter will be somewhat larger this year. No new classes have been added, as all were covered in the first show, but better premiums are offered in some instances and some varieties have been added to classes in the list.

Secretary McNamara says that the poultry show last year had an undoubted effect in inducing the raising of common and fancy poultry in the copper country, with the fancy varieties taking the lead. One breeder with a particularly fine collection has sold more than $100 worth of settings of eggs to people who desire to start raising fancy birds. Some breeders who in the past have been raising poultry for their own use exclusively or as a fad have taken up the business of raising for the market in a serious way, and as the copper country is a good market for poultry this business will undoubtedly grow, especially under the encouragement of the poultry association.

A large number of people attended the services and accompanied the remains to the railroad depot. The honorary pall-bearers were C. A. Wright, George Ruppe, William Condon, Edward Ryan, George C. Bentley and Jacob Buer. The active pall-bearers were selected from the Hancock lodge of Elks. They were Charles Ulrich, Jay Lanctot, Andrew Bram, Tom J. Kitts, Al. Thoney and Walter Bloomfield.

Mr. Haddock's successor as clerk of the Isle Royale has not yet been named, but it is understood there are a number of applicants. Judge Haire, who includes the Isle Royale in his Bigelow management, is now in the East and on his return the appointment will undoubtedly be announced.

SOME POLITICAL TALK.

Joseph F. Hambitzer of Houghton Likes the Prosecutorship.

It was stated in these columns recently that W. J. Galbraith of Calumet might want to be prosecuting attorney, now that he has decided to eschew legislative honors in the future. In fact, it is an open secret that J. F. Hambitzer of Houghton is a candidate. And it appears also that J. F. Hambitzer of Houghton is always a candidate. He was asked by The Mining Journal yesterday if he intended to run for the office, and he very broadly remarked, "I am in the hands of my friends." Whether this condition holds out any hope for him is hard to tell.

There is just a little flutter of political gossip in the copper country. There is the office of justice of the peace in the city of Hancock, for instance. The late Justice Finn held the office for thirty years and it is believed it was remunerative. When Justice Finn died the city council decided not to appoint a man but to let Justice Olivier enjoy a monopoly of the business for the remainder of the year. But a successor must be elected. A Hancock supervisor approached The Mining Journal yesterday morning and wanted to know where this paper got the idea that Martin Goldsworthy intended to run for Justice Finn's vacant chair. The question showed that the political situation in Hancock is waking up.

The following is not germane but it may be apropos. An indignant gentleman approached Supervisor Finley of Hancock Monday night and asked, "Say, Art, did you hear that Joe Otterson was a candidate for the Republican nomination on the Democratic ticket to succeed President Roosevelt? These things go to show that there are still politics even like in the copper country, they are all one-sided."

WOLF HUNTING PROFITABLE.

William Krusch of Baraga County Is Lucky and Unique.

Houghton county paid out yesterday just $209 in wolf, lynx and wild cat bounties, showing that hunting or trapping made may be made profitable. One man, William Krusch of Soper township, Baraga county, drew $135 as his bounty on three wolves. Supervisor Finley of Baraga county, who had two wolves at $45 each, and Lowell Polmentier, who had one. Frank Smedley of Duncan received $10 for shooting two lynx, and there were three cases of wildcats at $3 each, making a total of $209.

William Krusch, the wolf hunter, is a remarkable character. He is a hunter, trapper and small farmer and while he is a great woodsman and a mighty hunter, he has not cut his hair in years. It falls over his shoulders like a rich mantle of fur. It hangs easily below his shoulders and is of an attractive brown color. How long has Mr. Krusch worn his hair this way? Figure back to the last time the Republicans came into power—when Grover Cleveland retired to private life, was it not just so long has Mr. Krusch worn his hair long, and it is said that he has vowed not to cut it again until there is another Democratic president.

The opinion was expressed in the court house yesterday that Mr. Krusch would continue to wear his hair long, that there will never be such a catastrophe as he wants to call him to the barber. But the occupants of the offices in the Houghton county court house are biased. They are all Republicans. In any event Mr. Krusch appears to be able to make a good living killing wolves. If he gets many every month as he did last, he will have so much money that his hair will be considered a delightful eccentricity.

HOCKEY SCHEDULE.

The following is the detailed schedule of the amateur hockey league games: Laurium at Home. January 3—With Hancock. January 17—Houghton. January 31—Red Jacket. February 4—Red Jacket. February 28—Houghton. March 6—Hancock. Red Jacket at Home. December 27—Laurium. January 10—Houghton. January 24—Hancock. February 14—Red Jacket. February 21—Laurium. March 13—Laurium. Houghton at Home. December 31—Red Jacket. January 13—Laurium. January 28—Hancock. February 4—Red Jacket. February 24—Laurium. March 3—Hancock. Hancock at Home. December 27—Houghton. January 7—Laurium. January 20—Red Jacket. February 10—Red Jacket. February 17—Houghton. March 9—Houghton.

SCOTCH BANQUET.

The annual gathering and banquet of the Scottish people of Calumet will take place Christmas night in Loselymyn's Hall, Laurium. Dr. Stalker, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will preside. There will be the usual characteristic program. The Portage Lake Caledonians had a banquet last winter, which gave promise of being an annual affair but so far nothing has been said regarding it this winter.

BOARD WANTS ITS MONEY.

There was a meeting of the Houghton board of education yesterday at which was discussed the action of Auditor General Bradley in sending only half of the primary school money. It was decided to get into touch with the state official for the purpose of ascertaining the reasons that actuated this policy on his part, which has doubtless seriously inconvenienced various school boards of the state. The matter of the Houghton board instituting proceedings in an endeavor to secure the balance of the money due is hanging fire.

HOUGHTON COUNTY COURT.

Judge Streeter of the Houghton county circuit court took a rest yesterday, the meeting of the supervisors requiring the court room. He will resume court this morning and it is possible the term may continue several days yet. There are three contested divorce cases to be tried, and these usually take up a lot of time. The names of the parties in the cases have not as yet been given out.

COPPER PROFITS.

All of the large Lake Superior producing mines are making a profit on 1 1/2-cent copper, with the possible exception of Tamarack, although in the case of Osceola and Mohawk the margin of profit is rather narrow. Calumet & Hecla with its 90,000,000 pounds of annual output is making at least 5 cents per pound. Copper Range between 3 and 4 cents, Wolverine between 5 and 6 cents and Quincy about 1 1/2 cents. As to the Butte mines, none of the large producers in the camp are much more than paying their "keep" under present restriction of output. North Butte and Boston & Montana may be making a little, but to all intents and purposes the present 8,000,000 pounds of monthly output from that district is not being made at any profit which means dividends for shareholders. Calumet & Arizona can easily make five cents per pound profit and there are other mines in Arizona which can put a little balance each month to the credit of profit and loss so

The Hancock lodge of Elks will give another subscription dance Friday night. Graham Pope and Miss Helen Pope of Houghton have gone south for the winter.

Major Millsap, secretary of the Salvation Army Young People's branch, is visiting the corps of the copper country. Hancock musicians have organized a union and have petitioned for a charter in the American Federation of Musicians.

Neil McVey, an indigent patient from Baraga county, died in St. Joseph's hospital, Hancock, Monday. He had no relatives and will be buried at public expense.

The home of H. P. Clausen of Tamarack was entered by burglars Monday night and $20 in cash was taken. There is no clue.

Fire caused by a lamp explosion did $600 damage to the store of J. W. Alston at Alston, Laird township, last Saturday evening.

James Doyle, a contortionist, and Anna Johnson of Hancock were married last week after a courtship of two or three days. The bride lived with her husband just three days. She refuses to have anything to do with him, and is ill at her parents' home. Doyle says that he loves the girl and says he knows of no reason why she left him so suddenly. As a result of trouble, a warrant for Doyle's arrest was issued yesterday.

Justice Brand of Houghton appears in another new role. He has been elected president of the Eagles. The list of officers was chosen Monday night follows: Andy Henriksen, past worthy president; Caspar Brand, worthy president; vice president, Dr. Scott; worthy chaplain, William Youch; worthy secretary, F. L. Champion; worthy treasurer, Frank Hannan; inner guard, P. Ruelle; outer guard, T. Homie; trustees, W. F. Miller, A. M. Henriksen, Fred Meyer; physician, Dr. Scott.

Mining News

ONTONAGON COUNTY MINES.

There is a report to the effect that a highly mineralized ore has been taken from the fourth hole which is being drilled on the Riddle farm by the Mass. Geo. Anthony & Co. It has been assumed to get a confirmation of the report, although in reply to an inquiry as to the truth of it, Superintendent Wilcox stated that the showing which is being made is not discouraging. The drill is now to a depth of 252 feet and the report is that a ledge twenty feet in width and carrying excellent copper values has been penetrated.

There is likewise an unconfirmed report that the Adventure has tapped what is believed to be the Baltic lode. This drill has reached a depth of about 1,000 feet from the point of attack near Peppart Junction. Nearly half of this distance is through a sand and clay overburden, and unless the Adventure should secure additional territory, it would be necessary to sink a perpendicular shaft for about 200 feet in order to develop the lode. Adventure is making explorations with a drill from the bottom of the mine. Another reduction in wages has been made.

Mass Again Reduces Force. The Mass has again reduced its forces, but without restricting its rock output. Between 700 and 800 tons of rock are being forwarded to the mill daily with a force at the mine of 147 men. About half of this rock is coming from shaft "C" and the balance from "A" and "B."

The night force has been laid off, with the exception of the hoisting crew at "C." Twenty-five drills are in operation for the purpose of testing the lode. It is finding that this is more economical than it would be to operate about half this number on two shifts. The mine is looking good and were copper selling for a little higher price with the present curtailment of expenses the return ought to be quite satisfactory.

At the Lake company's property all energy is centered on installing the equipment for the Baltic shaft and in erecting the necessary buildings. It will be close to the first of the year before the shaft is completed and sinking has started. The new hoist from the Lake Shore engine works has been delivered; the boilers have been coupled up and work has been started on the shaft house. The hoist has a capacity for a depth of 1,000 feet. The collar for the shaft is being made and when sinking is resumed it will be with two shifts and it is the intention of the management to crowd the work as fast as possible.

Victoria Makes New Record. November was the best month the Victoria has had in point of production, turning out 110 tons of mineral. This is an increase of eight tons over the preceding month, which was likewise a record-breaker. Operations are moving along smoothly and it is expected that there will be still further increases in output. The old wage scale is still in effect at Victoria, although it is probable that there will be a readjustment to that effect at the beginning of the year.

The Michigan turned out 174 tons of mineral during November, swelling the output of the preceding month by one ton. The new rock house for shaft "C" is being completed as rapidly as possible. Carpenters are busy on the interior woodwork and the necessary machinery is being installed. Care has been taken for economical and rapid handling of rock and when this shaft becomes a producer the mine will be in shape to increase its output. There has been a 3-cent change in the wage scale at the Michigan.

Butte Coalition Has 1,000,000 Shares. The property has possibilities of a production of 40,000,000 pounds per annum at a cost of production between 10 and 12 1/2 cents per pound, according to the price paid for labor. With copper at 14 cents per pound there are possible profits in sight of $1.00 per share or 10 per cent on the current selling price. At present, however, the mines of the company are practically shut down and there are no net earnings immediately in sight. The company is understood to have cash and cash assets exceeding $3,000,000.

It is whispered that Calumet & Hecla (or interests close to it) has many more than the 25,000 shares of Osceola that were put in its name a year ago. The Calumet & Hecla people do not want Osceola if they cannot get it legally, but they seem to think that there will be but one ending to the present legal mix-up which will come up for final court adjudication sometime next month. In the meantime it is said that the heaviest individuals in the Calumet & Hecla camp are busy buying coppers especially the Lake copper, very freely during the last few weeks. It is said that several big blocks of Allouez have been turned over to these interests at private sale and that these transactions have not appeared on the books.

The Lake Superior & Arizona, which closed its mine a short time ago, is now unable to pay off its men, on account of the failures of banks at Globe; and more money must be sent from Houghton before these payrolls can be squared. In the meantime the men are waiting to see what state of affairs will be resumed. The mine has made assessments on which several times money enough to pay up all claims is yet uncollected. The main Holt shaft will be filled with water and the tunnels left as they are for the present. Additional assessments must be collected before work can be resumed. The mine is thirty miles from the nearest railway point, but the distance is fairly level and offers no great obstacles for railway building, when the mine is in shape to offer tonnage.

The Hoatson shaft of the Superior & Pitsburg continues in the good ore encountered several weeks ago. Sinking for the 1300-foot level and drifting are the most important work being done. The Cole shaft still continues in good ore on the same level and shipments to the smelter occur daily. The Briggs is thoroughly developing ground. Persistent reports state that rich ore has been encountered at the Briggs. The Junction is preparing to cut a station on the 1300-foot level which will be finished in about three weeks. One running from 4 to 6 per cent has been encountered this week in the west drift of the 1200-foot level. The ore is of a sulphide nature, the first of the kind tested on this level. A crank and flywheel pump, the first of its kind in the district has been installed on the 1000-foot level, and another of the same type will be placed there. The capacity is 1,000 gallons per minute, which brings the total amount of water raised to 3,115 gallons per minute.

WHERE WOMAN RULES. The Khasis of India, numbering 170, 614, are completely surrounded by a great population with widely different customs. Yet they have preserved it, and it is one of the most perfect examples still surviving of the matriarchate.

The mother is the head and only bond of union in the family. In the most primitive part of the community, she is the only owner of real property, and through her alone is inheritance transmitted.

On marriage the man leaves his father and mother and cleaves to his wife, as seems to have been the custom when the book of Genesis was written, living with her in his mother-in-law's house.

Cobalt Gossip

A cash dividend of two cents a share has been declared on North Star Mining stock payable Dec. 20.

It is reported that the Nipissing Mining company is negotiating for several additional properties at Cobalt camp.

The development of the new cross-vein recently encountered in the Big Pete mine is said to continue to show high values.

A car of rich ore has been shipped from the Silver Leaf. The car contained only about twenty tons of ore, but it is expected that the returns will net upwards of $25,000. This shipment was taken out of the vein recently discovered. It was the third car of ore to leave the property, but the present shipment is much richer than the others.

The Cobalt Central concentrator has been running for about ten days, with results that exceed the expectations of the management. The tailings are stated, have shown a percentage of saving of about 90 per cent of the metal value. The management states that this saving will be increased as soon as the machinery is properly adjusted.

The silver mining industry has not been affected by the recent financial stringency, so far at least as the output of the Cobalt camp is concerned. The production for November was 2,464 tons of ore, which is the record for any single month in the history of the Canadian silver district. The total production for the eleven months ending in November amounted to 13,388 tons, compared with 5,200 tons in the entire twelve months of 1906, 2,144 tons in 1905 and 158 tons in 1904. There are now thirty-one shipping mines in the camp. Their production will be materially increased by the operation of the new concentrating plant which will permit the treatment of all grades of ore. Until recently, low-grade ore has not been sent to the smelters because of the excessive charges for transportation.

This ore can be profitably concentrated, however, and those mines that have concentrators are now milling all grades of their product.

Upper Peninsula

Will Cut Sawlogs—E. J. Humphrey, logging contractor, will put in about a million feet of timber for John Garvin of Ontonagon this winter. It is the hemlock and hardwood on five forties located but a short distance from the St. Paul railroad about midway between Ontonagon and Rockland. The logs will be loaded on cars and shipped to Green Bay, having been purchased by the Northland Lumber company of this place.

Shot at by Careless Hunter—John Miles of Ontonagon had a close call from being shot by a careless hunter while stalking deer in the southwest of town during the closing week of the season. Mr. Miles stepped out of the brush into an old logging road, when he was startled by the report of a gun at close range and almost simultaneously with the report came a bullet which grazed his forehead. Mr. Miles ducked behind a tree and waited, with the expectation that the one who had fired the shot would think that he had landed his prey and would make his appearance. But the fellow either realized his error or was a careless hunter, for he did not reappear. Mr. Miles was unable to get sight of him.

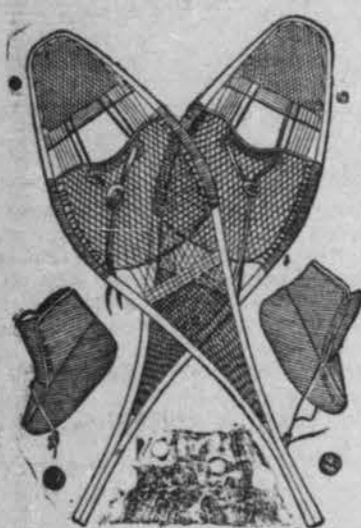

Rescued at the Brink of Death—Had it not been for the fact that the government tug Noble was engaged in towing some crabs in that vicinity, Captain John Ermatinger and John D. Laramie, lockmen at the Soo canal, would have found a watery grave in St. Mary's river. Ermatinger and Laramie were pushing their way up into the rapids in an old lighthouse boat. When their craft reached the swift current it spun around like a top and went bottom side up. As the men tried to get on top of the craft it rolled over and was repeated three times. Ermatinger was in control of his hands almost immediately, and it is due to Laramie catching him by the collar of his coat and hanging on even when both were submerged that the captain's life was saved. Captain Frank Dolson from the pilot house of the Noble witnessed the accident. He had a crib in tow at the time, but he at once gave order to cut the tow line which was done. The tug then swung around and after considerable maneuvering succeeded in making its way through the treacherous channel to where the men were. Ermatinger took the heaving line in his teeth, his hands and limbs being powerless from the icy waters, and held on until he was pulled on board the boat. He was in bad condition, and although taken ashore into the engine room of the tug, where restoratives were applied and where he was rubbed constantly, it was forty minutes before he was able to speak and an hour and a half before he was able to stand alone. Laramie, who is a much younger man, did not appear to suffer much from his accident, and he did not require much attention. Captain Dolson and Engineer Burley say that Laramie's action is worthy of a medal. Several times it looked as though Ermatinger could not be saved, and Laramie risked his own life in his efforts to keep his comrade from a watery grave. He never let go his hold until both were safe on board the tug, although both men were at times almost a minute under water and it was 20 minutes after their boat overturned before they could be gotten aboard the tug. Had not the Noble been in the vicinity both men would have surely been drowned and their deaths would have remained a mystery until the waters gave up their bodies, as there was no one near enough to have heard their cries for help.

The window is trimmed in figured crepe paper with a large revolving cone in the center. Attached to the cone are pipes, boxes of cigars and cigarettes and other articles, and over all hover a dozen colored balloons which are kept in motion by means of an electric fan. The display is a good one.

to V. F. Kaiser by Michael Shea and which is now in the Belle Isle menagerie at Detroit. The wolf was at Presque Isle throughout the summer and was presented to Mr. Kaiser recently when he was in Marquette on a hunting trip. He turned the animal over to the management of the Belle Isle menagerie and as Mr. Kaiser is a representative of the Lemp Brewing company, it was given the name of "Falstaff." The picture is on exhibition at the hotel.

New Device Received—The light and power commission has this week received a graphic recording watt meter, which will be installed at the Dead river station. This device will show every variation of the voltage through the entire twenty-four hours, preserving the record on a strip of paper sixty inches long. At present a crude chart of daily voltage is made up, based on hourly observations, but the new device will permit of a perfect record being kept. The municipal plant has what is probably the most complete outfit of recording instruments in the upper peninsula, and but few plants anywhere are better supplied with these devices.

THEATRICAL.

Probably the best melodramatic production of the season, is the new play which is being presented by the popular young actor, LeRoy Sumner, which is called "Billy, the Kid," by Joseph Santley and Walter Woods. It is to be given at the opera house next Monday. The four acts of the play are laid in New Mexico and show certain interesting phases of border life, but there is also a strong and well sustained love interest and plenty of comedy. The title role will be played by Sumner and a better leading juvenile, it would be a difficult matter to find among the actors of the present day. His supporting company is said to be an exceptionally strong one, and the production which has been given to the play, extremely elaborate.

Infant Choked to Death—

Choking to death on the detached knob of a stove door that it had attempted to swallow, the one-year-old child of Fred Barnette of Crystal Falls met with a shocking fate at the home of George Duffy, its grandfather. Creeping about the floor, the babe had picked up the metallic object and put it into its mouth. The occurrence passed unnoticed until a gasp attracted attention to the child. Before the knob could be extracted, the infant was dead. The knob was almost the size of a walnut, and how it managed to slip down the throat as far as it did is not altogether clear.

Danger of Epidemic Passed—

The Escanaba council has received a report from Health Officer O. C. Breitenbach in which it was stated that the city had successfully overcome what threatened to be a serious epidemic of diphtheria and scarlet fever. Since Sept. 22 there have been twenty-five cases of diphtheria reported, three of which resulted in deaths. Dr. Breitenbach stated that a careful watch had been kept upon schools and that wherever evidences of the disease were found, a close quarantine was effected as quickly as possible. Dr. Breitenbach said that he believed the timely work of the health department on this occasion had saved the city from a wholesale quarantine such as at Marquette. He reported the disease well in hand.

Was a Prominent Builder—

O. R. Johnson, a leading contractor of Escanaba, died recently at Los Vegas, N. M., while enroute to Albuquerque. Death resulted from tuberculosis. Mr. Johnson had been suffering with the great plague for the past three years and he was advised by physicians two years ago to move to another climate. He refused to believe that his condition was so serious and he waited until he was too weak even to stand the journey to the land which it was said would have given him health two years ago. He left Escanaba two weeks before his death for Albuquerque and would permit no one to accompany him. Mr. Johnson had been a resident of Escanaba for many years and had a wide acquaintance throughout that portion of the peninsula. He was forty-three years of age. He leaves a wife and four children.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—Wheat opened weak today and with the exception of a few slight rallies on covering by shorts it continued heavy all day. The trade was light. Severe declines in the foreign markets caused the early weakness, and later the slack export demand was a similar factor. The weakness of the stock market, favorable weather in Argentina and liberal primary receipts contributed to force the prices downward. The May closed at a loss of 1/4@1/2. It opened at 100 to 101; highest, 100 1/2@101; lowest, 99 1/2; closing, 99 1/2@100.

Corn.—The market was weak early on lower cables and the decline in wheat. It was firm later on expectation that the receipts would soon diminish. The close, which was firm, showed the May 1/2 higher. The May opened at 54 1/2@55; highest, 55 1/2@56; lowest, 54 1/2; closing, 55 1/2.

Outs.—The market was inclined to weakness, in sympathy with wheat, but this tendency was practically offset by the small receipts. The May opened at 53; highest, 53 1/2@54; lowest, 52 1/2@53; closing, 53 1/2.

Receipts and shipments were as follows:

Flour, barrels	432,000	34,000
Wheat, bushels	34,000	49,000
Corn, bushels	281,000	135,000
Oats, bushels	268,000	187,000

was elected. Blaine didn't satisfy business of the Wall street sort because he was considered too independent in some views, especially tariff. So he was defeated by the big money interests and Cleveland became president. They are getting ready to do that next year, unless the Republicans line up for distinctly conservative measures and men.

To which another Republican, a western senator, according to the story, replied:

"You mistake the disposition of the country nowadays. That scheme would be good if people were doing business along the old lines. They aren't. The truth is that there are something like thirty Republican senators who would with entire satisfaction fall in with the senate Democrats to carry out under Mr. Bryan the policies of progress and accomplishment. The country wants the results, and the day is past when partisanship will be permitted to defeat the things the country demands."

This story that big business will cast its weight into the Bryan scale if necessary to prevent a Rooseveltian Republican's election, is talked with remarkable frankness by men who are supposed to know intimately what big business is likely to do. Since the first months of his administration, when he suddenly and unexpectedly was called to the executive chair, there has never been a time when the big men of senate and house—the old-line leaders—spoke with so much fearlessness and such frank confidence about the president and his policies, as they do now. They believe the president's power is broken because of the financial troubles. They not only count him out of the presidential troubles on his own account, but they assume confidence that they have wrested control of the situation from him and will prevent his dominating the next convention.

ART EXHIBIT AT MUNISING.

An art exhibition of unusual interest will be held in the auditorium of the Munising High school Friday evening of this week. It will include reproductions of the world's leading subjects in paintings, portraits, architecture, sculpture and natural scenery. The exhibit will be in charge of Eugene S. J. Paulus, and it will be opened in a rather unusual way for a small city. The occasion will be made an interesting social event. Several ladies of the village will act as patronesses. A pink tea will be served by members of the Mendelssohn Glee club, garbed in the pink costumes of the women of Japan. The floral decorations will be pink and green. An attractive program has been arranged. A paper on "Art, the Refinement of Power" will be presented by Mr. Paulus and the Mendelssohn Glee club of the high school will sing a number of songs.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Writing from New York yesterday Paine, Webber & Co. had this to say: "The stock market was inclined to be heavy all through today's session, and the strength in the call rates was somewhat of a disturbing influence. Heavy liquidation was in evidence in several specialties and the bear element are again aggressive. There was not much news of importance, but the trading at the present time is mostly confined to the operations of professionals, who are bearishly inclined. The greater part of the short interest has been eliminated, which weakens the technical position of the market, and although the sentiment in regard to the financial situation is somewhat more calm still conditions are far from favoring an extended upward movement in the market. We are disposed to look for lower prices temporarily."

WALL STREET FOR BRYAN?

Figures That the Senate Is Strongly Republican.

Washington, Dec. 10.—A most interesting story is going the rounds about a political discussion alleged to have taken place in the senate smoking room the other day, which is regarded as characteristic of the present day political differences in high places.

"The fact is," said one speaker, a man than whom very few are better informed of such matters as he was discussing, "that Wall street—big business—in this country is getting lined up for Mr. Bryan. They have it figured out over there that with the senate securely Republican until 1912, there could be no damage to their interests in Bryan's election. Nothing radical would be done because the senate wouldn't permit. The Roosevelt policies would end, and Bryan policies couldn't be substituted. Business is liable to do what it did when Cleveland

Wheat Summary.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s Chicago correspondent said yesterday concerning the wheat market:

"The market closed at the low point of the day and with very little strength. The orders to buy wheat at 99 1/2 look very much like a peg and aside from this the pit conditions are featureless. The local shorts covered freely today around 1 and the market is in better shape for a break than before. We still think the market is too high and if the bull interest ever try to liquidate the crowd are in shape to help them sell it. There is nothing in the situation to start a bull turn, unless the selling gets overdone, and then the recovery is not likely to be important or to last long."

Upper Peninsula

First of the Dog Derbies

The first "dog derby" of the season in the upper peninsula is announced. It will take place at Penu, Iron county, Dec. 14, under auspices of the Toga Athletic club of that place. Races between canines broken to harness and driven by their juvenile owners are an event eagerly looked forward to in a number of Upper Michigan towns each winter, and annually for one day at least, they furnish plenty of excitement and sport. The contests are always amusing, this particularly so when, as is usually the case, they are marked by meeces between both the sleigh dogs and pilots, and they always attract the major portion of the population. Little business of any kind is transacted when a "derby" is on, and in most cases the main street of the town is converted into a race course for the special accommodation of the contestants. Ishpeming has a dog race each winter, generally on Washington's birthday, and so do Crystal Falls and other cities.

Woman Thief Caught in Act

Caught in the act of stealing a dress goods pattern valued at $5 at the Fair Savings Bank department store, an Escanaba woman was forced to admit her guilt in the presence of two witnesses and a warrant was sworn out for her arrest by Herman Salinsky, proprietor of the establishment. Great pressure was brought to bear upon Mr. Salinsky by relatives of the woman to settle the case without a warrant being issued, but the store proprietor was determined that an example should be established and a practice which it is claimed is assuming alarming proportions in Escanaba stores effectually stopped. The woman appeared at the store wearing a long cape and pretended to be carefully engaged in examining a pile of dress goods patterns arranged on one of the tables in the west aisle of the store. George C. Neuner, head of the dress goods department, saw her slip one of the bundles of cloth beneath her cape and a few minutes later after she had passed to another counter he accused her of the theft. At first she indignantly denied the theft, but in her excitement dropped the stolen bundle from beneath the cape. She was accompanied to the office of the store where in the presence of two witnesses she was forced to acknowledge the theft in writing, which document was presented in court by Mr. Salinsky when application for a warrant was filed.

Writing from Boston yesterday, Paine, Webber & Co. said:

"The bears worked all day to break prices, but only succeeded in making a small reaction and the closing prices were as high as the opening. Conditions certainly are not all that could be desired, but the panic we had in November forced prices to such a level that all decreases in earnings and dividends seem to have been discounted. FARMERS USED POOR JUDGMENT THIS YEAR

COMMISSION MAN SAYS THEY REFUSED HIGH PRICES FOR APPLES EARLY IN THE FALL, BUT SOLD RECENTLY, WHEN THE MONEY SCARE STARTED.

"Apples are 25 per cent cheaper now than they were when the crop was harvested three months ago," said C. E. Folger, a commission merchant of Harbor Springs, Mich., who is in the city. "The money stringency caused many of the farmers and commission men to throw their stock on the market, resulting in a big decline in prices. Two weeks ago the Chicago and Detroit markets were practically flooded with apples, and prices dropped from $5 to $3.25 and $3.50 per bushel for the best stock. Early in the season the lower Michigan farmers were independent and many of them refused better prices for their apples than they have since received. All were of the impression that there was a short crop and that apples would bring unusually high prices. The crops in Ohio and Indiana were failures, but there were good yields in many other states. Michigan's crop was not more than 50 per cent its normal size, and the demand early in the season was unusually heavy. A year ago this fall I purchased some of the finest apples I have ever seen at seventy-five cents per barrel and sold them in the Chicago markets at $1.35. A large proportion of the lower peninsula crop was sold last year at between sixty cents and $1 per barrel, and this year the farmers received from $2 to $3 per barrel in bulk, the purchaser furnishing his own barrels and doing the packing. "The commission men of the lower peninsula were held up on barrels this fall. I had to pay fifty cents for all the barrels I used. Adding freight and drayage they cost me a trifle over fifty-five cents. We paid thirty cents last year. The additional charge on the barrels was not due to the increased cost of the material or higher labor, but to a short output. "It is a good thing for the consumers that the law relative to the measurement of produce shipped in barrels is being enforced. This year the people who are purchasing apples by the barrel are getting three full bushels, but formerly the barrels would hold only eleven pecks. Mr. Folger said that there are a number of places in the upper peninsula where very few apples have been received this fall. He said that most of the smaller towns in the vicinity of Mackinac and St. Ignace have not had many. Mr. Folger said he intends to open a branch produce house in Ishpeming next spring.

STARTED ON DRY.

J. Wahlman & Son Began Work Yesterday on Building at Section 21.

"Our outside work will soon be brought to a close for this season," said J. S. Wahlman, of the firm of J. Wahlman & Son, yesterday. "We have finished six of the ten houses we are erecting for the M. A. Hanna company at the Dexter mine location, and some are already occupied. The other four have been shingled and they will be completed within three or four weeks. "We started a crew of men to work today on the Oliver Iron Mining company's new dry at Section 21 mine. The structure will be the same size and design as the ones erected this season at the Blue and Prince of Wales mines in Negaunee. "The city's new pumping station will be completed within ten days. The pipe and fittings have arrived, but the city will not start to install the machinery until we have finished the interior work. "Thirty of the thirty-eight houses we are erecting for the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company at Gwinn are well advanced, but it will be some time before they are ready for occupancy. The plastering will soon be started, and the interior work has practically been finished on all but eight of them. A new boarding house has been erected at the Austin location. "The season has been an unusually busy one and we expect to employ a number of our men throughout the winter."

"THE GINGERBREAD MAN."

Popular Musical Comedy Attraction Will Be Seen Here Tonight.

In the modern musical comedies only certain characters appeal to certain of the audience, but in "The Gingerbread Man," the fairytale fantasia that comes to the Ishpeming theater tonight, every character appeals to every listener, for they are all friends of our young days. Who has not laughed or wondered with Kris Kringle, Margery Daw, Simple Simon, Peter Piper, Sallie Lunn and the Gingerbread Man himself? Two of America's foremost comic opera composers, Fredric Ranken and A. Baldwin Sloane, have taken them from the realms of fancy and put them into real life, where they act, talk and sing in the most captivating manner. A liberal management, Nixon & Zimmerman company, has supplied a splendid cast, gorgeous trappings, magnificent scenic environment and appointments.

STILL KILLING SPARROWS.

Several Ishpeming boys are putting in their leisure time shooting sparrows for the bounty. Certificates have been issued by City Recorder J. D. West to the following: William H. Abbott, thirty birds; Howard Martin, eighty-four; Henry Stengline, twenty-eight; Doney Pepin, twenty-five; Theodore Levine, ten. The certificates are sent to the county clerk, who issues an order in payment for the correct amount. In several of the towns in the upper peninsula the shooting of sparrows has been prohibited within the city limits, but the boys here have not been interfered with by the Ishpeming officials.

DULUTH'S SKI HILL.

Steep and 600 Feet Long, Is Called Best in the World.

What will probably be the greatest natural ski hill in the world, says the Duluth News-Tribune, is being constructed by the members of the Northern Country club on land owned by G. G. Hartley, which lies just west and back of the club's home at Lakeside.

Early in the fall the members contemplated building a large scaffold-hill which could be used for both skiing and tobogganing. After plans had been drawn it was noticed that just to the west of the club house was a natural hill, 600 feet in length and steep as a stairway. Mr. Hartley, who is president of the club, owns the land and he very willingly consented to allow the club to use it. Since then a crew of men has been busy clearing the ground of trees and underbrush. Over a ton of dynamite has been used in blowing out rocks that stood in the way and many tons of dirt have been placed in the low places. It is expected that the hill will be ready to receive snow about Wednesday night.

"It is the most beautiful natural hill that one could imagine," said E. P. Alexander, secretary of the club. "Noted skiers of this city say that it is the best they have ever seen. It has a length close to 600 feet, is very steep and, when fully completed, will be about seventy-five feet in width. Half of the hill will be used for skiing and the other half will be devoted to the toboggan enthusiasts. An excellent feature of the hill is that the bump can be placed on the putting green, which lies immediately in front of the club house. No contract has yet been let for the construction of the bump, it probably will be this week. No only a few of the best riders, such as Dr. Lyman, would date to come down the entire length of the hill on skis. We will have various levels marked off on the hill so that everyone can ride the distance best suited to his ability."

SEVERAL BOYS COMPETING.

FROM HOPKINS' CURB LETTER.

"The continuation of the selling movement in the New York market and the weakness of Amalgamated were reflected in the copper again today. The tone was heavy and the market acted as though held down by a heavy weight. The talk of passing of the Amalgamated dividend entirely and the fact that all the Butte mines are closed with exception of those that can produce at a low figure was taken as a sure indication of further retrenchment in other localities."

COMMUNICATED.

To The Mining Journal: While we gave the interview recently printed in The Mining Journal, regarding local option elections in the upper peninsula, our reasons are not those assigned by the Journal. We believe that if the voters could have a chance at the ballot box, the saloon would have small chance of remaining, but the difficulties connected with securing signatures among a shifting population imposes too great a penalty upon those who undertake to bring on an election.

For example: Marquette county has over 18,000 square miles of territory; the majority of the voters are laboring men, and conditions sometimes compel hundreds of these to leave the county in a single month. The conditions are such that one third of those who voted at the last state election cannot be gotten, although a majority of the qualified electors of the county would favor prohibition.

Then we have a constitution to adopt or reject which is sure to contain something important on the liquor question. Also sentiment is rising so rapidly that we have nothing to loose by delay. We have read with interest the communications from Bishop Williams and approve all that he has said, but a Marquette man seems to us to hit another phase of the question when he said to a stranger, "I wonder if the people think who pays that $25,000?"

Twenty-five thousand dollars is a big tax, but two hundred and fifty thousand is ten times as much. And according to the figures given by The Mining Journal about a year ago every saloon must collect it. And on a conservative estimate Marquette people must pay $200,000 to support the saloons, which is levied on the butcher, the grocer and the merchant, besides materially reducing the number of taxpayers.

To us the liquor traffic looks both expensive and immoral, and could we prevail upon the constitutional convention to place something like the following in the organic law of the state we believe that the people would adopt it by a sweeping majority: "The manufacture, sale and keeping for sale of all intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes shall be prohibited in the state of Michigan on and after the first day of January, A. D. 1913; and it shall not be lawful to sell, barter or give away such liquors for said purposes previous to that time in any township, village, city or county after a majority of the qualified electors of said township, village, city or county shall have remonstrated against such traffic."

Very truly,
C. H. RUTLEDGE.

RECIPE FOR ALL THE OLD FOLKS

GIVES THIS SIMPLE HOME-MADE MIXTURE, TO EASILY OVER-COME KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLE AND RHEUMATISM.

Here is a prescription that anyone can mix at home. Any good prescription pharmacy can supply the ingredients named at little cost; being composed of vegetable extracts, it is harmless and is of a pleasant taste. Best of all it does its work well, relieving even the worst forms of bladder trouble, frequent urination, backache, kidney complaint, and by its direct action upon the eliminative tissue of the kidneys, makes these most vital organs rid the blood and system of waste matter and uric acid which causes rheumatism.

Here it is: try it if you suffer. Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bed time.

A well-known local druggist is an authority for the statement that one week's use shows good results in nearly every instance, and such symptoms as lame back, frequent desire to urinate, pain in bladder and even chronic rheumatism are generally relieved within a few days, the pain and swelling diminishing with each dose.

IN TRANCE TELLS OF HEAVEN.

Man Unconscious Ten Days at Intervals Reports Talk With Friends.

Montclair, N. J., Dec. 10.—Visions of heaven and conversation with his dead friends, it is claimed, are being reported by Edward Shea, a young man, who for Shea, who is twenty-nine years old, went into a deep slumber and has been unconscious except at short intervals. After a period of about forty hours Shea awoke and began murmuring. He told of a meeting with the Rev. Father Merrill, late pastor of the Immaculate Conception parish in Montclair, whom he knew well. Many persons who were present at this recital by the young man went when they heard the message of the sleeper delivered from the dead priest. On another of the occasions on which Shea has been awakened to a semi-conscious state he said he had again been to heaven, and there encountered Luke Farrell, a man who was killed at the Lackawanna railroad station in Montclair a few months ago. During the ten days that Shea has been sleeping he has partaken of no food and the only liquid that passed his lips was a small cup of tea. His physical condition is good.

FUNDS FOR COAST DEFENSE.

Congress Expected to Appropriate Thirty-eight Million Dollars.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Congress will appropriate liberally for fortifications and other works of defense this winter. That is the word that comes from the wise ones among the house and senate leaders. The appropriations committees will have a hard problem before them this session, between increased demands for appropriations and lessened revenues. But it is said by leading members on those committees that it will be necessary to deal liberally with fortifications. Generally speaking, estimates will be pared to the lowest limit, but this will not be the case with the estimates for fortifications and defenses for the coasts and for the insular possessions.

Must Fortify Pacific Coast.

This means that congress is feeling the need that the Pacific coast and the insular possessions in the Pacific be adequately fortified. It is ominous of the sentiment on the part of the public generally and among members of congress that the time has come when this country must be prepared for eventualities on the Pacific. It does not mean, necessarily, that congress is expecting of war with Japan, but it does mean that there is a general disposition in congress to recognize that the Japanese situation has disagreeable features which it is just as well to recognize frankly and which it will not do longer to fail to recognize.

The estimates sent by the war department to congress this winter for fortifications and other defenses amount to over $35,000,000. This is a huge sum when it is recalled that congress last winter appropriated $6,861,883 for this purpose. For many years the appropriations for fortifications and other defenses have run along about $5,000,000 or $6,000,000. Now it is suddenly proposed, and congress is not looking askance at the proposition, to increase this amount many fold.

Most Money Spent on Atlantic.

The men who have had most to do with these appropriations in congress in the past have not been responsible for the fact that most of the outlay has been on the Atlantic side of the country instead of on the Pacific side. The appropriations are made in lump sums, leaving it to the war department to determine where expenditures for fortifications were most seriously needed. The war department has gone ahead spending money on the Atlantic coast, with comparatively little expenditure on the Pacific coast and in the insular possessions. Now, the war department is thoroughly awakened to the need of getting the insular possessions and the Pacific coast in condition to meet an enemy. In other words, the war department until very recently has failed to discern in Japan a possible enemy against whom it was necessary to prepare works of defense. It is fair to the war department to say it has been no more blind on this matter than the navy department, which at this time, when it is anxious to get the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific, finds itself without adequate yards and dock facilities and able to maintain the vessels on the Pacific only with exertion and difficulty.

Mines Will Be Laid.

If congress allows anything like the amount asked for by the war department for fortifications and works of defense, along with equipment, it will mean that the country will see a most elaborate scheme of defense wrought out in the Pacific. Large sums are asked for armament of fortifications of the most modern sort; for submarine mines and necessary appliances to operate them for closing the channels leading to the principal United States seaports; for sea-net batteries at Honolulu and Pearl harbor, Hawaii, Manila and Guantanamo bay in Cuba; for electric plants and searchlights at the principal ports and naval stations in the insular possessions; and for solar batteries in the harbors of these places; for the central systems in the insular possessions and for the purchase, manufacture and test of large quantities of sea-mines common for coast-defense purposes generally.

President Wants Larger Navy.

For the same reasons that it will be difficult to cut down estimates for fortifications in the Pacific region and especially in the insular possessions it will be hard for congress to avoid appropriating liberally for the increase of the navy. The president is anxious for it, and he has much supporting sentiment among both representatives and senators.

FIRE CAPTAIN ENDS HIS LIFE.

Elgin, Ill., Dec. 10.—Charles C. Joachim, aged forty-three, captain of the hook and ladder truck of the Elgin fire department, committed suicide by shooting himself at his home today at noon. Joachim placed the muzzle of a shotgun between his teeth and pulled the trigger. He believed friends were slandering him and was despondent. It is thought he was temporarily insane when he shot himself.

SHE DROPPED FROM THE SKY.

But Her Celestial Origin Did Not Prevent Her Incarceration.

Beverly, N. J., Dec. 10.—"I dropped from the sky; I am the daughter of a king," dramatically exclaimed Lena Cohen, young and attractive, as she was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Stevenson on the specific charge of pilfering a shawl from Joseph Taylor, by whom she had been employed as housekeeper. She was sent to jail, but refused to give up the shawl, an heirloom in the family, until she had been incarcerated several chilling hours.

The specific charge against the young woman did not tell the whole story of her career. That was left for the development of the hearing, for Lena has been the disturbing element in the homes of several well-known residents of the city in the past few months. She was a domestic who declined to be discharged or rebuked. She says her husband is a prince and she is merely doing household work to save money enough to send him over to dethrone the kaiser.

She lost several good positions because she insisted upon toggling herself out in the best of her mistress' wardrobes. Silks and diamonds were none too good for her, and after a little trip to Philadelphia, dressed in the finest she could locate in the house, she would return repentant, but the angry mistress would dismiss her on the spot if she dared to be dressed in the best of her habit, however, and she would find a new place, only to go through the same program.

At the death of his wife Joseph Taylor, a retired farmer, cherished her memory to that extent that he carefully folded up all her clothing and tucked it away in the garret. Soon after that Lena was engaged as housekeeper. Taylor said she made things so lively for him that he was almost distracted. With her winning ways she obtained from him as much as $12 a week, mostly to have her pretty teeth cared for by dentists. He was somewhat dazed by her tales of coming fortune and power and trembled to dearest sympathy by her stories of her "husband's" hardships in his struggle to regain his place in royalty.

Farmer Taylor said his heart was nearly broken, however, when he saw the housekeeper tugged out in some of his dead wife's clothes. It was impossible to describe her. She summed up as being to be discarded, but when she took the pretty shawl, given his daughter by her mother, he arrested the young woman's arrest. Miss Taylor said of the hearing that the country Lena had a habit of prowling about the house at all hours of the night and took particular delight in denning the young woman's clothing without her permission.

It developed at the hearing also that Lena had sought a warrant for Farmer Taylor's arrest, charging him with taking her. She said she had accused her of setting improperly covered a trap which she passed down cellar and knew so rightly that two of his ribs cracked. The charge was ignored.

HORSE'S KICK IS FATAL.

Kenosha, Wis., Dec. 10.—Frank Houser, aged thirty-two years, of Pleasant Prairie, and one of the best known farmers of the county, is dead as a result of the kick of a horse. At the time of the accident it was not thought that Houser was badly injured, but later he was taken to the hospital to be treated for appendicitis. An examination showed that the vital organs had been injured by the blow.

MONTHLY BULLETINS ARE TO BE ISSUED

STATE BOARD WILL KEEP HEALTH OFFICERS AND PHYSICIANS INFORMED AS TO PREVALENCE OF CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

The general prevalence of dangerous communicable diseases in the state is receiving much attention from physicians. The upper peninsula is having its share of sickness and a Negaunee physician said yesterday that the average number of deaths from contagious diseases will this fall exceed the record of any similar season for some years past. In Negaunee, however, there has been very little sickness. Dr. N. J. Robbins, the health officer, yesterday informed The Mining Journal that there are only two cases of typhoid fever in the city, and no serious cases of any of the other contagious diseases.

The physicians will doubtless be pleased with the action of the state board of health, which has decided to issue a monthly bulletin showing the prevalence of the dangerous communicable diseases, and giving other information in connection with the board's work. The first bulletin was issued last month, and gave data relative to the sickness from the several diseases during October and in that month in previous years, together with other information.

The provisions of the health law of the state requiring the registration of medical practitioners by the state board of registration in medicine have worked out well. The board has instructed registrars not to accept certificates of death signed by unlicensed practitioners. If the law is strictly adhered to it will tend to force the illegal practitioner out of the state.

The board has also instructed registrars to refer all certificates of death signed by illegal or unlicensed practitioners to the health officer or coroner in his territory, for investigation.

Under the present system of collecting data and registering deaths in Michigan it is believed that 99 per cent of the deaths are properly recorded. The registrars are obliged to make monthly returns and in all cases where the data is not complete the certificates are returned for correction.

RATE IS HIGHER.

Number of Births in Negaunee in 1907 Will Exceed That of Last Year.

A larger number of births have already occurred in Negaunee this year than were registered during the twelve months of 1906. The total up to yesterday was 257, compared with 251 for 1906. The number of births occurring annually in Negaunee for several years past have been between 300 and 300. Under the present method of registering the births a more complete record is kept than was possible under the old system, and it is reported that practically every birth that has occurred in Negaunee during the past two years has been registered.

This year's death rate will probably not exceed last year's, as the total registered up to yesterday was 120 compared with 120 in 1906. The Rolling Mill mine disaster in September swelled the list for that month to a higher point than has been recorded during any previous month in several years, the total being twenty-five.

CHRISTMAS SALE TODAY.

The members of the Woman's guild of St. John's Episcopal church will conduct their annual Christmas bazaar and social this afternoon and evening at Shea's hall. The ladies worked Monday and yesterday decorating the hall and arranging a number of booths. They will contain displays of fancy and useful articles, including a collection of "Tidy bear" clothes, tea, coffee, sandwiches, doughnuts and other refreshments will be served both afternoon and evening. The high school orchestra will furnish music in the entire evening.

DOGS KILL DEER.

A fawn was run to its death by dogs on Teal Lake Sunday. The animal was chased from near the golf club house to Teal Lake, where several other dogs joined in the pursuit. Finally more than a dozen boys were on the trail. The deer fell and broke one of its legs, and within a few minutes the dogs had killed it. The carcass was taken in charge by Deputy Game Warden Harrington, and sent to the poor farm at Marquette.

PLOW DOES GOOD WORK.

It was necessary to use the new snow plow on the street car line yesterday. Both cars were out at the usual hour, but they were unable to run on schedule time until after the plow had gone over the line. Although there was more than a foot of snow in some places on the track it took the plow less than an hour to run from the power house to Negaunee and back to the Lake Angelina end.

Misses Doyle and Anderson will be in Negaunee for one week to conduct a display of their embroideries and needle work materials. The ladies are cordially invited to call. (12-10-1f)

INTEREST IN BOWLING.

Several Matches Are to Be Arranged Between Teams in Three Cities.

Negaunee bowlers are showing much interest in the sport this winter and as a result Orr & Tompkins alleys are doing an exceptionally good business. There will be a number of contests between now and the first of the year by teams not participating in the league series started a week ago last Monday. A team has been organized to be known as No. 2 and it bowled its first match last night with the No. 2 team of Marquette. It will also meet a new team at the Bank street alleys, Ishpeming, Thursday evening.

There were two contests in the league series Monday evening, the Green Sox defeating the Hurricanes, and the Indians winning from the Wolves. The scores were as follows:

SOME CAPITAL STORIES.
THE LIGHTER SIDE OF LIFE IN WASHINGTON.
 Bryan's Famous Broad-Brimmed Hat and How It Stirred the People of Maryland—One Time When Mr. Lowden Couldn't Pay Cash—Meeker's Money and How He Got It—Mr. Cameron's Position on Finance—Some Senators with a Handicap—Cameron's Physician—Ames Tells a Story of the Girl and the Naval Officer.

Washington, Dec. 10.—William Jennings Bryan still clings to the soft, broad-brimmed black felt hat, which is the emblem of the Western Democratic politician. While Bryan was at the White House a couple of weeks ago the sight of him twirling his hat while talking to the president recalled the following incident to the mind of a Maryland politician:
 "In the first Bryan presidential campaign," he said, "the Nebraska made a speech in Baltimore. His magnetism, charm of manner and eloquence set the Democrats of that community well nigh crazy, as the same qualities stirred his hearers elsewhere. Half the town was in a fever of Bryan enthusiasm as the candidate left for Washington. The afternoon newspapers of that day noted the fact that Bryan lost his hat from the train en route to Washington. The next morning, according to reliable statisticians about five thousand persons were hunting the railroad tracks between Washington and Baltimore for Bryan's headgear. The hero worshippers were disappointed because the hat was picked up by a telegraph linesman, within half an hour after its loss. For two days this man kept the treasure carefully hidden under his coat. When he returned to Baltimore he went to the police station and there, surrounded by policemen and safe from the souvenir hunters, he carefully drew from under his coat the lost hat.
 "Here it is," he said triumphantly. "I was afraid someone would steal it from me."

PRESENT TO THE POPE.
 Emperor of Austria Sends a Case of Tokay Wine.
 Rome, Dec. 10.—The emperor of Austria has sent to the pope, as a Christmas present, a case of Tokay wine, and to the cardinal secretary of state several boxes of fine cigars. It has long been his custom to do this every year just before Christmas season. Last year the cigars intended for the secretary of state were stolen while they were in transit from Vienna to this city and they were never recovered. Every one of the cigars bore a band with the imprint of the coat of arms of the papal secretary, but the police were unable to find even a trace of them.
 Rome's New Mayor Foe to Church.
 The agitation of the Catholic party in Italy continues and it has for its purpose the defeat of interests inimical to religion, when new elections, either municipal or national, are held. A meeting in support of the movement was held in Milan, several hundred people attending. Here in Rome, prominent members of the Catholic party are still feeling very sore over the election of so many Socialists to the municipal council, alleged to be due primarily to the order from the alien Catholic should refrain from voting, an order which was not generally obeyed. Now it happens that Ernest Nathan, formerly the head of the Masonic order in Italy, has been elected mayor of the city, through the efforts of the extremists, and the Catholics feel very bad over the matter. The whole question has great significance here because the election of Signor Nathan to the mayoralty indicates probable anti-Catholic legislation in the municipal council for several years to come. Some expected legislation includes that abolishing religious schools in the schools, the taxation of religious establishments, and other measures objectionable to the authorities of the church.
 There is much solicitude expressed at the Vatican over the fact that Mount Vesuvius is again showing signs of activity. It is not generally known that the pope sent a large sum of money to the archbishop of Reggio for distribution among the sufferers from the recent earthquake. (The matter was kept very secret because of the fact that last year when the pope sent a relief fund amounting to nearly $30,000, every one of the victims and those who alleged that they were victims claimed a share in the fund and nearly mobbed the residence of the prelate who had the distribution of it in his charge. This year the relief fund from the Vatican, amounting to about $15,000, was distributed very quietly and no disorders resulted. The fear is now expressed that the activity of Mount Vesuvius may result in disaster to the neighboring population and that relief funds may have to be sent for them.)

Only One New Italian Cardinal.
 Interest in the confessor to be held on the 16th of this month continues. It is now stated as practically certain that only one Italian cardinal will be nominated at the consistory, and perhaps three foreign cardinals, one of them German and another Austrian. Much comment has been aroused here over the elevation of Mgr. Dennis O'Connell, rector of the Catholic University at Washington, to a bishopric, because such promotion, as a rule, indicates the intended transfer of the prelate. This was the case with Mgr. O'Connell's predecessors, including Mgr. Conaty and the present archbishop of Boston. Rumor here insists that a change is pending at Washington, although it is known at the Vatican that the finances of the institution have been greatly improved, for confidence in it has been fully restored and many American Catholics have made large gifts to it.
 The rumors of Mgr. O'Connell's probable transfer are so prevalent that, although there is no authority for the discussion, his probable successor is also talked of. Opinion here centers on Mgr. Kennedy, rector of the American college here, for in nearly every instance when a vacancy has occurred in the rectorate of the Catholic institution at Washington, the rector of the American college has been sent to take the place.
 There are yet other reasons for the use of Mgr. Kennedy's name in this connection. It is the desire in Vatican circles that the rector of the American college be given a prominent position in the church abroad, because his personal influence at the Vatican has become too great for the comfort of some of the prelates of the curia. This was also the case with the present archbishop of Boston, when he held the same position here. At the personal request of the late pope, he could call at the Vatican at any time of day or night, and admit him to the papal apartments. But there came a time when he was informed that his presence here was no longer desirable and that he would be promoted. Soon after he was appointed to a diocese in America.

Meeker's Money.
 Ezra Meeker of Puyallup, Wash., who has just completed a return trip over the old Oregon trail in an ox cart for the purpose of erecting a monument in favor of erecting monuments along the old pioneer highway to the Pacific coast, has all the rough and ready characteristics of the early Western settlers. He carries his bluntness of speech and action wherever he goes, as President Roosevelt found out when asking questions about Meeker's prairie seaman and oxen in front of the White House the other day.
 When at home Meeker, among his many other activities, raised hops, the Puyallup valley being noted for their culture. A few years ago the Methodist preached in Meeker's home town found out that hops were used in the brewing of beer. He kept this knowledge to himself until the annual Methodist conference met at Tacoma, where he proceeded without delay or qualification to classify the hop makers of his local city with the other allies of the rule of Hades. Meeker, who had contributed $300 for the purpose of building a church over at Puyallup, was literally "hopped mad" over this outbreak. He sat down at once and wrote a note to the preacher which read, in substance: "If you don't like the way I made that $300 you can come home and tear down $300 worth of your church."

A Calculating Bride.
 Richmond Pearson Hobson, representative from Alabama, young, smooth faced and bald as an onion, is one of the new members pointed out to the visitors by the house guides. His conferees were discussing Hobson the other evening, and one raised the question as to whether he had treated his fame fairly in leaving the navy, where his reputation was established and taking up a political career.
 "That reminds me of what a young Washington girl once said to me," remarked Representative Butler Ames, who was one of the party. "She had married a naval officer and I asked her why she did that, as naval officers are away from home so much."
 "Well," she said, "I figured up the thing pretty carefully and I concluded that if my husband didn't turn out to be my affinity he would be away half the time and if he did he would be home half the time. What more could one ask?"

Nobody Paid Cash.
 Senators and representatives, many whose possessions run up into the millions of dollars, are telling humorous tales of financial embarrassment during the recent money stringency.
 "Just before coming to Washington," said Representative Lowden of Illinois, one of the wealthy men of that state, "I dropped into my favorite restaurant for luncheon. My bill was $4.80, and not having that amount of currency, I signed the check.
 "Sorry, sir," said the waiter, "but the new rules require payments in cash."
 "I replied, 'Surely you can't expect me to pay cash when my bank in Chicago doesn't pay cash.'"

Cannon on Finance.
 Like everything else about Uncle Joe Cannon, some of his words and the all of the pope's personal attendants came from Venice, even the Vatican chief is a Venetian, the former chief having been removed. The meals of the pope are thus prepared in the Venetian style, and he is able to speak in the Venetian dialect with his personal attendants. This is no small matter, for there is a great difference between the Italian language and the Venetian dialect. It has grown to be a custom for the Italian journals, when they quote sayings of the pope, to print them in the Venetian dialect, thus giving color to their stories. Mr. Bressan is attended by the pope's own physicians, who say that he may possibly recover. The pope visits him personally every day in his bedroom, which adjoins the papal apartments. All the Vatican attendants have been instructed to serve the sick prelate, and it is hoped that with careful nursing and attendance his health may be regained. It is feared, however, that the age of the prelate is against him, and therefore Pius X. is much disturbed.

 The pope himself is again suffering recurrent attacks of gout, which come more frequently than they used to. Dr. Petacci calls at the Vatican every day now, although as a rule he has been coming but once a week. The pope's consulting physician, Dr. Macchietti, is not supposed to come to the Vatican unless he is summoned, but he now comes every Saturday. These matters indicate a serious condition of the pope's health. But such things are usually kept secret, as they were in the case of Pius IX, and the late pope, so that the clergy and the prelates may not be unnecessarily alarmed. The pope's bedroom is always closely watched at night; one of four valets usually places his bed across the floor and sleeps thus, so as to prevent anyone from entering the room without his knowledge.

MURDER CASE WILL GO TO JURY TODAY

ALL OF THE EVIDENCE IS NOW IN AND ARGUMENTS OF COUNSEL ARE BEING HEARD.

MANY MINERS ON JURY

Charlie Worrell, Slayer of "Wallie" Hogan Related How He Came to Marquette and Describes Crime.

The trial of Charlie Worrell, charged with the murder of "Wallie" Hogan began yesterday in the circuit court before Judge Stone and the case will probably go to the jury before noon today. It is believed that a verdict will be reached before the day is over. The trial, which is the most important of this term's criminal docket, was much briefer than was expected and all the testimony of the ten witnesses including that of the accused man was in four hours after the jury was impaneled.

Before the twelve men to whom the evidence was presented, were chosen, the entire regular panel of thirty-three jurors was exhausted. It was anticipated that there would be some difficulty in obtaining a jury to try the case, owing to the widespread interest that it has aroused, and to be prepared, Sheriff Rough subpoenaed an additional panel of fifteen special jurymen for the trial. Nine of these special jurymen were examined before the twelve were finally accepted. For the most part the jurymen are miners and are from Ishpeming. Those who are serving are as follows:

- The Jury.
- Andrew Anderson, Negaunee, miner.
 - Samuel Winters, Skandia, farmer.
 - Robert Creer, Ishpeming, miner.
 - John T. Miners, Ishpeming, stationary engineer.
 - Richard Snyder, Forsyth township, miner.
 - Thomas Creer, Ishpeming, miner.
 - Eugene Eddy, Ishpeming, butcher.
 - Charles G. Wallenstein, Ishpeming, miner.
 - Richard Trembath, Ishpeming, painter.
 - Samuel Piers, Ishpeming, clerk.
 - Joseph Gill, Ishpeming, miner.
 - Joseph Hosking, Ishpeming, cigar maker.

The two Creers on the jury, though are both of Ishpeming and are both miners, are not related. The last four of the twelve men were chosen from the special panel of fifteen.

Worrell's Testimony.
The story of the crime as told by the witnesses did not differ in any essential particular from the story told at the inquest. Worrell related the manner in which he came to Marquette after leaving Newberry. He spoke of having worked in Snyder's restaurant at the corner of Baraga avenue and Front Street throughout the day and of having gone to the moving picture show at the opera house at night. He described his meeting with Farney after the show, how he went to the saloon and his encounter there with Hogan. Two witnesses, who were not examined at the inquest and who were in the saloon when the stabbing took place, were Louis Perry and William O'Leary. After some difficulty Perry was found by Sheriff Rough in a lumber camp near Lake Linden and O'Leary came from Munising.

These two offered the most important testimony for the defense, besides Worrell's own story. Both of them told of Hogan's aggressiveness and of the insulting manner in which Hogan had addressed the bartender, John Black, when he entered the saloon. Black himself on the stand said he did not remember this and his testimony on this point in connection with that of O'Leary and Perry was a point which Judge Potter dwelt upon strongly as it was contended that Hogan's character was shown by what the witnesses had said.

Other Witnesses.
This point regarding the epithets which Hogan had applied to the bartender was also brought out from the witness Farney and upon cross questioning Farney stated that Hogan's brother Joseph Hogan had approached him and had told him that what Hogan said to Black didn't matter and might be excluded from the testimony. Other witnesses who were examined were Joseph Hogan, Jacob Brown, William Rivers, Jr., David Lane and Sheriff Rough. The sheriff's testimony was merely upon the manner of the arrest. He said that Worrell had come with him willingly.

Court was adjourned about 5 o'clock and the case will be resumed at nine this morning. Judge Potter is yet to conclude his argument and Prosecuting Attorney Bell will close the case. The twelve jurymen took supper at the Hotel Marquette and remained there over night with Sheriff Rough.

NOTICE IS SERVED.

Controller McCarthy Must Show Cause Why He Should Not Be Removed.

Acting under instructions, notice was served on City Controller Shields McCarthy yesterday by Marshal John Manning, notifying him to appear before Mayor Robertson at the city hall this morning and show cause why he should not be removed from his municipal position. The controller is accused of neglecting his duties and having absented himself from his office during business hours.

K. OF C. ELECTION.

DO YOUR SHOPPING EARLY.

The Safe Plan Is to Purchase Your Gifts Before Christmas Week.

During the holiday season newspapers of the larger cities advise their readers to shop early, and the advice, and the reasons for it apply just as much in Marquette as they do in the larger cities. The best reason for the early purchase of your Christmas gifts is that by shopping in that manner, the burden of labor on the busy clerks in the stores is lightened. Besides it is directly to the interest of the shopper to make his purchases early for by doing so, he has a greater choice. Stocks of holiday goods which are complete two weeks before Christmas are always much depleted by Christmas week, and by waiting, a person may miss the one particular thing that would have suited him.

It is a safe and wise rule to follow to have all of your Christmas shopping completed before the Christmas week. It is better to shop early in the day than late in the afternoon, because then clerks are not apt to be so busy and can better serve you. As the duties of the clerks are unusually heavy during the holiday season it is advisable and a kindness to them to avoid the noon hour as much as possible. The men on the delivery wagons also should not be forgotten and it is an aid to them if you allow one day for the delivery of your goods.

TO DISCUSS REMOVAL OF THE WATER WORKS

MEETING OF BOARD OF FIRE AND WATER COMMISSIONERS IS TO BE HELD TONIGHT.

The project of removing the water works plant to the northwest point on Presque Isle is again to be presented at the meeting of the water board to be held tonight. At the meeting held last Thursday night, H. W. Nebel submitted the outline of a plan and an estimate of the cost of the work. His estimate is $159,711 and he stated that this figure is based upon a careful investigation that he has made.

May Engage Engineer.

At that time one of the members of the board stated that he was prepared to present a resolution and would ask the board to engage the services of an engineer to come to Marquette and make an investigation with the view of discovering some method of insuring a pure water supply for the city. It is probable that a resolution of this sort will be offered tonight. In the mean time it is planned to have the water off the northwest point of Presque Isle analyzed and also the analyses of the water taken through the present intake will be continued.

Another plan which has been spoken of is the installation of a plant to which all of the sewage of the city may be sent and where it can be treated chemically and so disposed of. Such a plant is in use at Hamilton, Ontario, and is the only one in the country. Mayor Robertson, who described this Hamilton plant, stated that by means of lime the sewage was separated and hardened. The product was then sold as fertilizer and the water from the sewage was purified.

The last sample of water sent to Ann Arbor for analysis was taken from the intake supply after the wind had been blowing from the south for three days. It is expected that the report from this sample will be received within a short time.

ONCE LIVED HERE.

Distinguished Navy Officer, Lately Deceased, a Former Resident.

The parents of Captain J. H. McLeod, whose death is referred to in the following article from the Owen Sound Advertiser, formerly resided in Marquette, and Captain McLeod spent some years of his boyhood here. The family will be remembered by many people.

"Service in the Panama isthmus and the Philippine islands, besides scouring the seas of yellow fever and malaria which developed into lung trouble and finally cut short the career of Captain John Hector McLeod, who died at Riverside, Cal., Sunday, Nov. 17, and whose remains were interred in Greenwood cemetery here two weeks later.

"In July, 1905, Captain McLeod went from Panama to a hospital in New York for treatment; from there he went to Fort Stanton, New Mexico, then to Los Angeles, Cal., in hopes of recovering his health, finally locating in February last at Riverside, where he was nursed most assiduously by his sister, Miss M. McLeod, until the end came.

"The deceased was only thirty-six years of age, but had seen much and varied service in the United States navy. He was the youngest son of Donald and Elizabeth McLeod and was born on the 11th day of February in this county. At the age of fifteen years he commenced his seafaring life and was only twenty-one when he obtained captain's papers. He was a student at the Owen Sound Collegiate Institute.

"During the late Spanish-American war he enlisted in the United States service and later graduated at a New York School of Naval Science, where he obtained the qualifications and license as a commander in all waters. He had charge of the transportation of American troops to China and was sent to the Philippines in charge of the gunboat Palawan. He also saw service in the West Indies and was appointed port captain at Colon, Panama, where he finally took ill, as above stated.

"For an act of bravery in saving human life, he received commendation from Rear Admiral Evans on behalf of the government. He acquired a large knowledge of languages, including Spanish, Chinese and Japanese.

"He is survived by six sisters and four brothers. Of the sisters, Mrs. Nell Campbell lives in Miron Sound, Mrs. A. McCullum in Sydenham, and Mrs. Robert Neelands in Woodford. The others are Alex. at Wingham, Charles at Winnipeg, Donald at Savit Ste. Marie, William at Minneapolis, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Stone at Duluth, and Miss M. McLeod, who accompanied the remains to Owen Sound."

135 LIVES LOST ON GREAT LAKES

FIGURES ON NUMBER OF FATALITIES DURING ENTIRE SEASON AT HAND—22 WENT DOWN WITH CYPRUS.

Lives lost	135
Drowned in wrecks	12
Drowned in wrecks	52
Washed overboard	8
Accidentally drowned	19
Other causes	41
Total losses	222
Vessel total losses	$730,000
Strandings	137
Collisions	49
Total monetary loss	$2,508,000

From the beginning of navigation until Dec. 5 there were 135 lives lost on the lakes and the principal monetary losses aggregated $2,508,000. Eight small steamers burned after October 7. The City of Cleveland and Naomi were destroyed earlier in the season.

The loss of the Cyprus caused the greatest loss of life, only one of a crew of twenty-three escaping when she went down in a Lake Superior gale on October 12. The Arcadian with fourteen lives lost, is the second most serious disaster.

The steamer Cyprus was the largest loss, it being valued at $275,000. The total vessel losses through burning were: Tug Christiana, $10,000; Marguerite, $4,000; City of Grand Rapids, $7,000; Cormorant, $7,000; V. Swain, $8,000; tug Pathfinder, $2,000; Madden, $20,000; Monohansett, $20,000; City of Glasgow, $25,000.

The most serious collisions in the latter part of the season were those of the Lake Shore and Palst in the St. Clair river, October 11; the Queen City and Moore in the Detroit River, October 13, and the Reis and Smith, also in the St. Clair river. The losses on the two latter will probably amount to more than $100,000 each, while the damage to the Palst was estimated at $80,000.

Many Boats Stranded.

There were forty-five strandings after October 7, which added to the previous ninety-five makes the number 137.

Other losses were the Douglas, grounded in Lake St. Clair, $5,500; Louisiana, sunk in Portage lake, $5,000; Vacondah, struck in the Welland canal, $10,000; Lamago, broken rubber post in Lake Michigan, $2,500; Pere Marquette car ferry No. 1, damaged in storm November 20-21, $35,000; Admiral, eight plates broken, $8,000.

All losses are estimated, it being impossible to obtain the figures from the vessels. Besides those mentioned there are many smaller ones, which would probably bring up the total to nearly $3,000,000.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED.

The newly elected officers of Oak Leaf Camp, No. 201, Royal Neighbors of America are as follows: Past orator, Mrs. Minnie Hanck; orator, Mrs. Clara Zapfe; vice orator, Mrs. Bridget Wiseman; chancellor, Mrs. Elizabeth Agnew; recorder, Mrs. M. When there's dampness in the air, And there's slush upon the street, Put warm clothes upon the body, And good shoes upon your feet.

We started out, really, to sermonize but got tangled up with the muses a bit. But the thought is there—warm, comfortable clothing, and good shoes to keep the feet warm and dry; it means health. To disregard it means doctor bills—sure and immediate—and big bills, too. But why neglect it when we're selling good overcoats and suits for men, stylish skirts, furs and coats for ladies, and footwear for all the family for so little money? Think it over. (12-11-11) J. J.
