

STATE TREASURER NOW TO BE OUSTED

Glazier Refusing to Resign, the Governor Will Undertake Immediate Proceedings to Have Him Removed from Office.

Interests of Commonwealth Must Be Protected, Says Mr. Warner, and He Believes Gross Neglect of Duty Can Be Shown—Delegate Flannigan Loses in Fight Against Indeterminate Sentence Plan, the Convention Retaining It.

Chelsea, Mich., Dec. 11.—Governor Warner today announced that he had called upon Frank P. Glazier to resign the office of state treasurer, but he had refused to do so, and that the governor will now undertake immediate proceedings to have him removed from office.

Governor the Sole Authority. Lansing, Mich., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—The governor had an interview with State Treasurer Glazier today, and Mr. Glazier refused to resign. Mr. Warner immediately afterward gave out an interview in which he said that he would remove Glazier. He will formulate charges and set the date for the hearing, but that will be a formal affair, apparently, for the governor is the sole authority in the matter and there appears to be no appeal.

"I shall set forth the facts as they exist in connection with the state funds," said he, "and shall quote the very words of the constitution authorizing the executive to remove certain state officers. I believe it can be shown that there is gross neglect of duty by the state treasurer. The state's interests must be protected, and the course I have outlined will be followed out."

It is believed the hearing will be had within two weeks, though no date is set yet.

FLANNIGAN LOSES OUT. Indeterminate Sentence Plan to Be Retained in Existing Form.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 11.—[Special.]—Delegate Richard Glazier, of Norway, tried for two hours today to get the constitutional convention to adopt his proposal making a distinction between the treatment of habitual and casual criminals in the indeterminate sentence law, but he failed. The convention finally adopted the committee report, which in form is practically as in the present constitution. "It does not appear to me that habitual criminals have any right the state is bound to respect," said Delegate Pratt, of Bay City, and this, though hardly germane to the point, did much to influence the convention.

A committee of equal suffrage women from Detroit attacked the convention today and secured Jan. 8 as the date for a hearing on their plan. The state Association of Farmers' Clubs endorsed woman's suffrage today, and it has been endorsed previously by the state Federation of Labor and the state Federation of Women's Clubs.

Batch of New Proposals. Not a single proposal was introduced Tuesday, the first time this has happened, but the record was broken today. The following are today's propositions: Rowe—No county officer to have more than two terms until two years shall have elapsed from the expiration of the last term.

Burton—That cities and villages of over 1,000 people shall be given the right to make their own charters; that only taxpayers, male and female, be allowed to vote on the raising of money, and not more than one dollar for every ten persons be spent for the installation of public utility plants; also that state banks shall not deposit the money of depositors outside the state.

Hall—That the state may receive deposits of not less than $5, on which it shall pay 4 per cent interest, said deposits not to be withdrawn inside of ten years, except on the death of the depositors.

Monfort—That the bond for state moneys deposited shall equal the size of the deposit, and the deposit shall not exceed 50 per cent of the bank's capital.

Sawyer—Providing for a county auditor, to be named by the circuit judge.

The public service corporations committee, of which Albert T. Sharpe of the Soo is chairman, today reported out the recommendation that in the revised constitution all state officers, including members of the legislature and judges, be prohibited from accepting from transportation, telephone or telegraph companies any free passes, tickets or franks of any description. To do so is made, not a misdemeanor, but a crime, and the offense is binding equally on both giver and receiver.

STATE TROOPS ORDERED OUT. Hopkinsville, Ky., Fearful of New Raid by Night Riders. Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 11.—That another raid by "night riders" on Hopkinsville is under way tonight was the startling information received by Governor Wilson today. The result of a hurried investigation was the ordering of Company H, at Earlington, to proceed immediately to Hopkinsville. Governor Wilson and Adjutant General Lawrence decided to remain all night, and in case the fears of the Hopkinsville citizens prove well-founded to order as much of the state forces to the scene as may be needed.

FLEET IS READY TO SAIL.

Battleship Minnesota Joins the Squadrons in Hampton Roads. Old Point Comfort, Va., Dec. 11.—The last vacant berth in the imposing double line of the Pacific-bound battleships was filled this afternoon when the Minnesota, the flagship of Rear Admiral Thomas, steamed into Hampton Roads and took her place at the head of the outward column.

The size and dignity of the fleet that is to carry the flag through the Magellan straits and add such an important new chapter to American naval history, is best emphasized by the fact no less than four rear admirals are in command. The battle at Santiago found a commodore and a captain temporarily assigned to flag rank as commanding officers at the time. Dewey sailed into Manila bay a commodore.

The last supplies of food and ammunition were being placed aboard the ships today, and tonight the fleet is practically ready to sail. It will not depart, however, until next Monday.

Detroit Council Adopts Resolutions. Detroit, Dec. 11.—The common council last night adopted resolutions to be sent to Rear Admiral Evans, winging his Godspeed on his expedition to the Pacific and directing the raising of the flags on the City hall on the date of sailing of the fleet.

RUSSIAN EMPRESS ILL.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 11.—Empress Alexandra, who for a considerable time past has been suffering from an attack of influenza, was stricken with a high fever today and was ordered to stay in bed.

Queen Sophia's Condition Alarms.

Stockholm, Dec. 11.—The condition of Dowager Queen Sophia is occasioning anxiety. Since the death of King Oscar she has been almost constantly confined to her bed.

IS FOR PROHIBITION

State Grange, With Membership of 51,000, Declares Against All Traffic in Liquor. Saginaw, Mich., Dec. 11.—The state grange, with a membership of 51,000 at its annual meeting here today adopted a resolution calling upon the constitutional convention now in session at Lansing to insert a clause in the new constitution prohibiting all traffic in liquor.

"Drys" on Top in Massachusetts.

Boston, Dec. 11.—All but one of the 354 cities and towns of the state have gone on record on the question of liquor license, and tabulations made today show a no-license majority in Massachusetts of over 13,000. The state voted for no-license last year by about 1,800 majority for the first time since 1898. The majority this year is the largest in the history of the state.

By this year's elections license is now favored in fourteen cities and seventy-two towns, while prohibition prevails in eighteen cities and 249 towns. North Adams, the only city which has not voted this year, but which will do so next Tuesday, favored license last year by 400 majority.

Iowa Law Must Be Enforced.

Des Moines, Dec. 11.—Attorney General Byers today notified the county attorneys of every county in Iowa that he will insist on the strict enforcement of the Martin millet prohibition law. His orders apply to those cities and towns in Iowa which do not live up to the closing law.

FIERY SPEECH IN SENATE.

Jefferson Davis of Arkansas Violently Assails the Trusts. Washington, Dec. 11.—Passionate oratory marked the proceedings of the senate today. Senator Jefferson Davis, of Arkansas, who on being elected declared that he would attack the trusts immediately after taking his seat, fulfilled his promise, although he was a few days late in doing so. The speech was filled with sensational declarations and was given with that vigor for which the Arkansas senator is famous in his own state. After declaring that his bill, rigorously enforced, would kill the trusts, with dramatic effect he challenged the senator to step forward and contest the issue with him.

WM. ALDEN SMITH'S PLAN.

Cost of Federal Examination to Be Assessed Against the Banks. Washington, Dec. 11.—Senator Wm. Alden Smith of Michigan today introduced a bill amending the national banking act by providing that national bank examiners be paid a salary of not less than $4,000 a year and traveling expenses, which amount shall be assessed against the banks examined in proportion to the amount of their capital. Senator Smith believes the bill will be beneficial in promoting efficiency in bank examinations, as it will not make the examiner directly dependent upon the banks he examines for his pay.

Establishes a Naval Militia.

Senator Dick today introduced a bill establishing a naval militia and placing it upon practice at the same footing with the government as the National Guard.

WAS AGED 114 YEARS.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Dec. 11.—John Busha, aged 114 years, died last night at a hospital where he was taken on Monday. Busha took part in the Black Hawk war in 1832. He was blind and practically helpless for fifteen years.

PRESIDENT SQUELCHES THIRD TERM MOVEMENT

In Statement Issued Last Evening, Theodore Roosevelt Makes His Position Clear and Unmistakable--He Has Not Changed Nor Will He Change His Decision Announced on Election Night Three Years Ago--Under No Circumstances Will He Be a Candidate for or Accept Another Nomination.

"The night after my election I made this announcement: 'I am deeply sensible of the honor done me by the American people in thus expressing their confidence in what I have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me, and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit it. On the fourth of March next I shall have served three and one-half years, and this three and one-half years constitute my first term. The wise custom which limits the president to two terms regards the substance and not the form, and under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination.'"

"I have not changed, and shall not change, the decision thus announced."

Washington, Dec. 11.—President Roosevelt will not be a candidate for a third term. All doubt on this point was tonight dispelled by the authoritative statement from the White House that Mr. Roosevelt still adheres to his declaration of renunciation made on the night of election day three years ago.

In a statement issued tonight, and given above, the president says that he has not changed, and shall not change, the decision communicated to the American people in 1904.

It appears that President Roosevelt had been awaiting the call for the Republican national convention to afford proper opportunity for making his position clear and unmistakable, thus leaving the field clear for Messrs. Fairbanks, Taft, Cannon, Knox, Foraker and other declared or receptive candidates for the Republican nomination.

STAMPEDE YET POSSIBLE.

However Most Politicians Now Consider Roosevelt Definitely Eliminated. Washington, Dec. 11.—The announcement that the president would not accept the Republican nomination if tendered came at too late an hour tonight to become generally known in political circles, but among those who learned of it, Democrats and Republicans alike, the feeling was gained that it left no element of doubt in the presidential situation as far as it relates to the third term talk, and that it definitely eliminates Theodore Roosevelt from the contest.

However some Democrats express the belief that a Roosevelt stampede in the Republican convention would shake his resolution, and that he would prove no exception to the historic precedent that no American citizen ever refused the presidential nomination. Administration Republicans declare that the announcement gives a great impetus to the Taft boom, while the Democrats, many leaders of which party are here to attend the meeting of the national committee tomorrow, are shouting that it means "Bryan in a walk."

Republican Opinion. Speaker Cannon, when shown the president's statement, said: "The president speaks for himself."

Senator Foraker, "That has been his position all the while, I suppose, but I don't care to discuss the matter, thank you. Senator Hopkins—It is in keeping with his character. It shows him to be a patriot as well as a statesman, following, as he is, the traditions of Washington and Jefferson in limiting himself to two terms.

Senator Hansbrough—There is no question at all about the president's sincerity at this time and before. If conditions should demand his nomination, the convention would nominate him, and I do not see how it would be possible for him to decline, however earnest he might be.

Senator Long, of Kansas—The Taft boom will be the only one worth considering after this announcement.

Views of Democrats. Senator Tillman—This is by way of documentary evidence that the president has seen the handwriting on the wall. It means that Bryan will be the next

LOOKS LIKE BRYAN

No Talk of Any Other Candidate at Committee Meeting. Convention Will Be Held After That of the Republicans, and Louisville Will Get It Unless Chicago Digs Up Money.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The situation with reference to the selection of the national convention had so simplified itself tonight that practically all candidates for the honor had been eliminated except Chicago, Louisville and Denver.

Chicago holds the favorite place in the estimation of many committee men now in Washington, but the frank statement of Roger Sullivan, who represents Illinois on the national committee, that it would be difficult to raise enough money to pay the expenses of the convention has had dampening effect. Denver has been the favorite of the Democratic party, but the fact that that city is considered too far from the center of population, Louisville offers to pay all the expenses of the convention, and the indications tonight favor that city.

It is almost definitely settled that the convention will be held after the Republican convention, beginning the 23rd or 30th of June. There is no talk of any candidate except Bryan. Some of the members of the committee think it is too early to say that any one man is certain of the nomination, but they admit that the probabilities point to the Nebraskaan.

Southern Coalition Likely.

New York, Dec. 11.—Hoke Smith, governor of Georgia, in an interview here today said that there is a sentiment among the Southern Democrats for concert of action. "There is no one in the South now who wants the Democratic presidential nomination," he said, "but if the South had a candidate of its own, I think the Southern Democrats would not hesitate to support him in the convention." They propose hereafter to do their own thinking, he says.

ILL WITH APPENDICITIS.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth Must Submit to Surgical Operation. Washington, Dec. 11.—Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, wife of Representative Longworth and daughter of President Roosevelt, is ill at the White House, suffering from appendicitis. It was stated tonight that an operation would be performed, probably tomorrow.

RATE LAW TO BE TESTED.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Through a suit brought at Chester, Ill., by John Meyers of Sparta, Ill., against the Illinois Southern railway the validity of the two-cent passenger rate law enacted by the legislature last spring is to be tested. Meyers is the city marshal of Sparta. The Illinois Southern agent on July 1 charged Meyers three cents a mile for a ticket from Sparta to Salem, and the present suit is the result.

ONE-ARM SHOT HIGH GUN.

Boston, Dec. 11.—In a trap shooting contest at Wellington today George Maxwell, the one-armed shot, of Hastings, Neb., was high gun, making the phenomenal score of 90 of 100. He shot three events of twenty birds without a miss, and also hit every bird in the last twenty. He missed one bird in the fourth event.

BLOWS OFF TOP OF HIS HEAD.

San Francisco, Dec. 11.—T. Otway Saldier, manager of the West End branch of the California Safe Deposit & Trust company, committed suicide last night by blowing off the top of his head with a shotgun. He was a close friend of J. Dalzell Brown, vice president of the company, who is in prison, accused of embezzling funds of the bank.

NO MARTIAL LAW FOR GOLDFIELD

Plans of the Operators to Reopen Mines Under the Active Protection of United States Troops Go Up in the Air.

It Is Ordered by the President That the Soldiers Take No Sides in the Trouble, and in Addition He Sends a Commissioner from Washington to Investigate—Situation Further Complicated by a Walkout of Power Company Men.

Goldfield, Nev., Dec. 11.—By the direction of the secretary of war, Adjutant General Ainsworth has directed Colonel Alfred Reynolds, in command of the federal troops at Goldfield, to cause to be publicly posted here an order from the war department to the effect that he is under no sides in the trouble and to interfere with no person in any way, unless such course becomes necessary to protect life after violence has been committed. The notices are posted in conspicuous places on the main streets.

It is possible that in view of the anticipated coming of the commissioners selected by the president to investigate conditions here, and who left Washington today, and the positive assurance that martial law will not be declared, the determination to reopen the mines tomorrow will be abandoned.

Situation Completely Changed. Goldfield, Dec. 11.—President Roosevelt's communication from Washington to Colonel Alfred Reynolds, in command of the federal troops here, which was posted in conspicuous places throughout the camp this afternoon by direction of the president, has put a different complexion on the situation. This, coupled with the fact that General Funston will arrive tomorrow to view the situation and report to Washington, has caused a complete change in the program of the mine owners, who had hoped to be able, through Governor Sparks, to have martial law declared tonight, and to reopen the mines tomorrow under the active protection of United States troops.

SHORT OF CASH

Western Union Will Pay Its Quarterly Dividend in Stock of the Company. New York, Dec. 11.—The directors of the Western Union Telegraph company today declared the quarterly dividend of 1 1/4 per cent, payable in stock of the company. The company has $2,630,000 of unissued stock, and the dividend will be paid by the issuance of this stock to the amount required.

Abandoned Work Resumes.

Omaha, Dec. 11.—Two hundred and fifty men began actual construction work on the Lane cutoff of the Union Pacific this morning. The construction of the pieces of work abandoned during the financial flurry. Additional men will be put on immediately.

Closed Banks Reopen.

Kansas City, Dec. 11.—The State bank of Admire, Kas., reopened today, and the Union Avenue Bank of Commerce of Kansas City and the private bank of D. A. Becker of St. Louis, Mo., will reopen tomorrow.

EARLY LOSSES WIPED OUT.

Brisk Rise in Final Hour Gives Stocks a Strong Closing. New York, Dec. 11.—The withdrawal of effective support for prices, except in spotty and irregular fashion, and the dull, yielding tendency that characterized the stock market today were a reflection of the disappointment at the tardiness with which financial affairs are working towards a correction. It is clear that the speculative party which started to advance prices and to hold them over the end of the year counted upon the initiation before that time of a reduction of reserves into the larger banking centers and a relaxation of the stringency in all departments of the money market which is a consequence.

Confidence is unimpaired that, at a given stage of the restoration of credit, there will be a sudden and heavy reflux into the bank and reserves, and something like a redundancy of supplies in the credit markets. The impression has taken hold of the speculative element in the stock market, however, that miscalculation has been made of the period of the arrival of these conditions, and the revised anticipations are disposed to put it forward beyond the turn of the year. The tone of some banks to speculative borrowers, and the running up of the call money rate this week, carry this unmistakable intimation.

A dull recovery set in after midday today, coincident with a decline in the call money rate, and this rally culminated in a brisk rise in the last hour. Except in extreme cases, the early losses were recovered and most of the favored stocks were quoted materially above yesterday's closing. Heavy short covering in American Smelting was a feature, and there was also conspicuous strength shown by Reading, St. Paul, the Hill stocks, Southern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper.

SCORE STUYVESANT FISH.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—In the Illinois Central case today, copies of several affidavits attacking the integrity of the purpose of Stuyvesant Fish in bringing his injunction suit were served upon Mr. Fish this afternoon. So severe are the documents that Attorney Leman called the attention of Judge Ball to them, and asked of him a rule that no affidavits prepared and signed in New York be admissible in the case. This point will be argued tomorrow, when the case comes up. Among those who signed the affidavits are Edward H. Harriman, J. T. Harahan, John W. Anchinow, Charles A. Peabody, Cornelius Vanderbilt and Robert W. Goellet.

BROOKLYN BANKER INDICTED.

New York, Dec. 11.—John G. Jenkins, formerly president of the First National bank of Brooklyn, and his three sons were indicted by the Kings county grand jury today on charges of conspiracy and perjury.

Power Company Men Walk Out. Goldfield, Dec. 11.—Tonight all the men employed in this city by the Nevada-Columbia Power company decided to walk out because of a cut in wages from $7 to $5 a day. They are principally maintenance men and linemen. The men employed in patrolling the line have not yet been notified of the cut in wages, and it is possible they will all quit as soon as notified, and that the power upon which the mine and other industries depend will be cut off.

Federation Endorses the Strike.

Denver, Dec. 11.—Official endorsement of the miners' strike at Goldfield has been given by the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners. The board has promised to render all possible assistance.

San Francisco, Dec. 11.—General Furston started for Goldfield at 8 o'clock this morning.

ORCHARD ON THE STAND. Is Witness Against Pettibone, on Trial in Idaho for Murder. Boise, Idaho, Dec. 11.—For four hours today in the trial of George A. Pettibone for the murder of former Governor Steunberger, Harry Orchard was on the witness stand, and when court adjourned this afternoon his story was only half told. In the main the testimony was the same as given at the Hayward trial, but the questions emphasized Pettibone's alleged conspiracy. An entirely new feature of evidence was the statement by Orchard that Pettibone had told him in 1904 that he purchased 100 rifles from a hardware company in Denver and shipped them to the Cour d'Alenes for use in the riots in 1893. The witness said that Pettibone told him he paid $1,500 of Western Federation money for the rifles.

BRID EGROOM A SUICIDE. Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 11.—Following the discovery of the body of a baby this morning in a telescope in Grand Rapids, the marriage this afternoon of Morris Newton and Frances Titus of Cloverdale, the bridegroom committed suicide tonight at his father's home near the village of Delton by shooting himself through the heart. The name of Ed. Titus, the father of the bride, was inside the cover of the telescope. Newton, it is said, admitted that he had been in Grand Rapids with Miss Titus, but he denied that the child had been born to her.

Mr. Horton, head of the state grange, is grooming another of his perennial candidates for governor. What's the use, Mr. Horton? You will only obscure the issue.

Lieutenant Governor Kelly made it clear this week that he will be a loyal supporter of his chief in the campaign next year. There are no more spots on him because Governor Warner contemplates being a candidate for another term. He apparently realizes that so far as his own gubernatorial ambitions are concerned it would expose them to an untimely blight to put them forward next year. He is willing to wait for this higher preferment at the hands of the voters, should such a thing be in store for him.

Again Governor Hughes has acted in no uncertain manner. He has brought down his neckers on the neck of John F. Ahearn, president of the Borough of Manhattan, New York city, and his head has rolled in the basket. The principal ground for the action was the conviction of neglect and disregard Ahearn permitted to obtain in Manhattan streets. Ahearn is a former state senator and a Tammany chieftain. The case against him was worked up by one of the citizens' leagues which are laboring to obtain an efficient and businesslike conduct of local affairs. They made out a strong case, and it didn't take Governor Hughes long to decide that there were ample grounds for their complaint. And to decide with Governor Hughes is to act. The removal will doubtless stick, too, though Ahearn has resorted to the courts, and in his untimely official end his predecessor should be able to find a salutary lesson.

The row between Representative McMorran and Senator Smith over the office of postmaster at Port Huron has not arrived at any definite stage yet, but it is understood that the representative can have the united support of his colleagues in the house any time he calls for it. The disposition of postoffices has been regarded as a prerogative of the representatives, and even the suggestion of interference by a senator has always been sufficient to get them up in arms. So in this case they are prepared to oppose Senator Smith, not especially because they don't like him or because of the merits of the Port Huron case, but as a matter of principle. They neither love McMorran more nor Smith less, but they propose, if they can, to show that senatorial interference with the disposition of postoffices in their districts will not avail. Senator Smith does not appear to have given any ground. He has stated that whatever fight he will make will be made in the senate; he does not intend to carry his troubles to the White House. The outcome will be observed with interest, as will also the degree of feeling left over from the dispute.

Milwaukee reports confirm the stories emanating from New York to the effect that the big brewers are preparing to cooperate in any reasonable reform movement for the suppression of the dive and the low saloon. It is their idea that if the abuses existing in, and in connection with, the liquor traffic are rigorously curbed there will be less danger of reform movements running into stringent restrictive measures. As noted in these columns yesterday, the brewers are strenuously opposed to any extension of prohibition territory. Not only that, but they propose a campaign for the repeal of prohibition laws in states—Maine, North Dakota and Oklahoma are specifically mentioned—where they are now in force. A Chicago brewer is quoted in the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin with the expression of the following progressive view: "It is idle to talk of absolute prohibition. The American people will not stand for such limitation of personal liberty. Regulation which will regulate is the sensible, the reasonable solution of the problem, which has become national in scope. I would go to the length of favoring a national regulation, which would make uniform the license laws throughout the country. The brewers of America have nothing to conceal. They are manufacturing a product that is at least as good as that which is produced in the best breweries of Germany. It will surprise many, but it is nevertheless a fact, that American beer is now largely exported into Germany, as well as into other European countries. With purity of manufacture and healthfulness, when taken in moderation, as arguments for American beer, the ground for the campaign of education is laid. Wise, reasonable regulation of the business will accomplish every good and eliminate every evil."

Representative Young has introduced two bills calling for an outlay by the government of $150,000. One proposes an increase of $50,000 in the appropriation for the proposed federal building at Escanaba, it having been decided that the original appropriation will not suffice to erect the kind of a building Escanaba needs. The other calls for $100,000 to provide for the erection of a federal building at Representative Young's home town, Ishpeming. Here in the upper peninsula it will be generally hoped that both bills will be passed. The government should build a structure at Escanaba ample not alone for present but for future needs as well, and it seems to be agreed that this cannot well be done with the original appropriation. Ishpeming's postoffice has been but indifferently housed of late years, and in consequence the service has at times suffered. The volume of business done by the office, as well as the importance of the city, makes a request for an appropriation to give it a federal building a reasonable one. Representative Young can be depended on to push the matter to the best of his ability, and if the desired building is not forthcoming it will be because of too great demands on the treasury for the major appropriations necessary to carry on the government.

The report of the board of U. S. Engineers appointed to consider the question of providing a better entrance to the harbor at Duluth has been transmitted to congress. Widening of the canal, at the disastrous wreck of the Mataafa occurred two seasons ago, is regarded as objectionable, as it is the conclusion that it would increase the severity of waste action in the inner basin, and thus in time raise up another problem. The board found, however, that greater safety might be given to the Duluth entrance by increasing the depth of the lake just outside the canal to from twenty-six to thirty feet, which would give the vessels endeavoring to make the canal more seamore. The board reached the conclusion that the only practicable solution of the problem was a modification of the project to have vessels, in stress of weather, enter at the Superior entry and reach the Duluth harbor by the inside route. The board recommends against the building of breakwaters off the canal entrance at Duluth, but in case it should be decided to build them indicates the best positions to place the piers. The question involved is one of the greatest importance to lake traffic and it will be carefully threshed out before any final action is taken.

BOOMERS WARNED OFF. Some weeks ago the action of President Roosevelt in warning certain prominent men in the official circle that their efforts to develop and organize third term sentiment was distasteful to him and that if they were persisted in they would be judged a sufficient cause for removals created much discussion, and was generally taken as an evidence of the president's sincere desire to terminate his service with the present term, according to the letter of his election night declaration.

This week a letter written by the president to the cabinet officers, which is, in effect, a restatement of his earlier utterance on the subject, has been made public, and it is understood that the cabinet officers will comply with its request that their subordinates be notified to cease pernicious third term activity. The letter, which is of date Nov. 19, though it is only now made public, is as follows: "I have been informed that certain officeholders in your department are proposing to go to the national convention as delegates in favor of renominating me for the presidency or are preparing to procure my indorsement for such renomination by state conventions. This must not be. "I wish you to inform such officers as you may find it advisable or necessary to inform, in order to carry out the spirit of this instruction, that such advocacy of my renomination, or acceptance of an election as delegate for that purpose, will be regarded as a serious violation of official propriety and will be dealt with accordingly."

It is obvious that even if the president remotely contemplates the possibility of being a third term candidate he is determined that if the nomination is to come to him it will come as a spontaneous offering from the people and not as the fruit of activity by federal officials, his appointees or the appointees of his appointees. It is noticed that third term talk continues about as pronounced as ever, despite the fact that the president has been credited with intimating to recent visitors that he would under no circumstances be a candidate. Walter Wellman, who is a correspondent more of the time than he is an Arctic explorer, and who is credited with being on the best of terms with the president, has lately professed a belief that the president will be nominated and will run. It may be pointed out, however, that there is nothing in fact to support the speculations that end with this conclusion while there is much in fact to support the belief that the president will stand by his declaration against a third term. Therefore the weight of plausibility, to put it as modestly as possible, is entirely in favor of the latter.

THE NEW KING OF SWEDEN.

If a nation must have a king it could not wish for a better one than the late King Oscar II of Sweden. And curiously enough this good and best beloved of monarchs was the only one in Europe to bear the "stigma" of having peasant blood in his veins. Because he was the grandson of a peasant, the famous Marshal Bernadotte of the Napoleonic era who by his own ability rose from the humble position of a notary, the nobles of Sweden held aloof from him as they had from his brother, who preceded him on the throne, his father, and his grandfather.

The new king, Gustave V, is considered by the nobles to have wiped out this stain by virtue of having had a semi-royal mother in the person of a member of the house of Nassau. To this he adds the advantage of having as wife a daughter of the late grand duke of Baden in whose veins, genealogists declare, there are some drops of blood derived from the house of Vasa, Sweden's first royal family. The fact that both these illustrious ladies, like nearly all the royalty of Europe, suffer from incurable diseases which will probably weaken their descendants, is held by the Swedish nobility to be a matter of trifling consequence.

Gustave V succeeds to a smaller dominion than did his father, for two years ago the kingdom of Norway, which had been conquered by his great-grandfather, seceded from the union with Sweden and chose a king of its own. Gustave is said to be very popular with his subjects, yet it was in some degree due to his dictatorial attitude that Norway finally broke the bonds uniting her to Sweden. Long before the separation the Norwegian legislature showed its hostility to Gustave, then crown prince, by refusing to vote him his annual allowance from the Norwegian treasury.

Gustave is a well educated man, a well traveled man and a well related man. Through his wife he is closely connected with the imperial family of Germany, for the new queen is the favorite granddaughter of the German empress. Through his daughter-in-law, the present crown princess, he is related to the royal family of England, for she was Princess Margaret Victoria, daughter of Prince Arthur, duke of Connaught. He has had experience in government, as he has several times been regent during the illness of his father. It only remains to be seen how he will wear with his people.

COMMUNICATED.

Marquette, Dec. 11, 1907. To the Editor of The Mining Journal: In a conversation the other day with a gentleman who is by no means an apologist of the saloons, it was pointed out to me that the natural outcome of my arguments on the liquor problem would be not only the destruction of the saloon, but the liquidation of the brewing business as well; that many brewers are public spirited and charitable men, and contributors to the funds of various churches, and even of my own; and that on this last account I might well reflect before advocating extreme measures.

Up to this point I have advocated no measures at all. I have simply endeavored to show that the licensing business does not pay the public; that we can afford to do without it, and that we cannot well afford to continue it. I have dealt with it largely as a business proposition, and desire to add a few words on that score. Considered as a financial proposition the revenue from saloons ought to be at least doubled, before the public could afford to consider it merely as business. Whether this could be done is a very doubtful proposition. If the license revenue would not double the revenue for there would be fewer saloons. Very high license would be an improvement on present conditions because it would lessen the place we need to watch, and so increase the dealer's interest in his license as to make him dread a forfeiture worse. But it could hardly increase the revenue appreciably.

The other side of the proposition would be to decrease the public expenditures consequent on the saloon. The strict enforcement of the law would largely do this. And, in my judgment, the only way for the liquor dealers to forestall what seems to be impending is to meet and resolve together to clean house. Public opinion can not be handled like a weak kneed police. The present law carefully enforced would mean the elimination of drunkenness. Independently of questions of his pocket, or of his example on the young, the moderate drinker does no particular harm, even if he does no good. But the present law is defied and broken every day in all the following particulars in this and closely allied communities:

Liquor is sold to minors, to drunken men, to people habitually given to intoxication, after hours, on Sundays, and behind screens, to people whose families have protested, and in connection with dice throwing and gambling. Liquor is sold in houses of prostitution. All this, every day and Sundays. And besides this, the saloon is a place of blasphemy and foul speech. I have kept out of saloons, but I have seen through swung doors, and being very tall have seen over window guards, the pictures used to educate youth in uncleanness. The saloon men have trifled with their opportunity. The laws have been so far made in their real interests. And now that long years of lawlessness have aroused the public we are warned that we will destroy property and cut off contributions to charity, if we press matters. Can the government be charged with destructive tendencies, when it dynamites houses in the path of conflagration? The church does often accept gifts from men interested in the manufacture and sale of strong drink. Why should she refuse any man an opportunity to do good? But if a gift from any man means the silence of the church on the question of his particular business or particular sin, there would be little left for the church to do. No man throws such burdens on the church as the liquor dealer. We can better afford to dispense with his gifts, than to accept them and all the consequences of his business. What is the destruction of a business compared with the saving of life and character? It is the home we are fighting for.

A little more than twenty years ago a prohibitory amendment was lost in this state by the vote of Detroit alone. And it was freely charged that the vote of Detroit was made to fit the requirements. I have no doubt that with a fair election now prohibition would carry this state, if the provision for it were wisely drawn. The former amendment was not wisely drawn, and was opposed by some church people because it did not allow fermented wine to be used for sacramental purposes. Nevertheless, at this time, I am not going to urge prohibition, as a state measure. What it carries it ought to be by a most sweeping majority. But I would propose: 1. The limitation of saloons to one for each 500 people. 2. A large extension of local option privileges, including the suffrage of women on the question. 3. A prohibition for any brewer, distiller or liquor dealer to go on the bond of any other liquor dealer, or to furnish the money for another license than his own. 4. A second conviction for any offense against the liquor law to work forty days in jail. 5. No saloon to be within 200 yards of any other. 6. Sentences for drunkenness to carry hard labor, the stone pile for men and basket making for women.

But unless there is an immediate cleaning of all the saloons, and they become trustees for the good behavior of each other, state prohibition will come, and come soon. G. MOTT WILLIAMS.

A LAUGH OR TWO.

Rather Embarrassing. Foster Rockwell, Yale's head football coach, tells of a sophomore who pawned all of his good clothes. A little before Thanksgiving he got a big check from the pawnshop.

When he went home for the holidays the first thing his mother took out of the trunk was an overcoat, and on it was pinned the pawnbroker's ticket that he had forgotten to remove. "Hello, Frank," she said, "you surely didn't leave these in the cloak room, too, did you?"—Kimball's Dairy Farmer

Not His Size.

A certain western man who had worked with Andrew Carnegie when he was making his start in this country once came to see him in New York to have a contribution to a hospital fund. After they had exchanged greetings Mr. Carnegie said, "Well, what do you want?" "Somewhat hesitatingly the visitor replied, "I should like to get some money for a hospital."

"Why, Frank, do you want?" "The visitor said, "I am afraid it is a great deal. I should like to get a thousand dollars."

Out of Her Class.

A member of the school board of a certain Pennsylvania town relates the sad case of a young woman who failed to pass her examination for appointment as teacher in the public school of that place. The mother of the disappointed young woman was asked by a friend whether the daughter had succeeded in running the gantlet of the examiners.

"No," was the reply in mournful tone. "Jimmy didn't pass at all. Maybe you won't believe, sir, but then examiners asked the poor girl about things that happened years and years before she was born."

Hunting.

One of the most jovial men in Denver is a big fellow who likes to hunt. Every Saturday night for the past six weeks he had put on his hunting coat, cap and belt and has taken his gun to go up to Brighton to hunt chickens or ducks. But he has not reached the hunting ground this fall. He always starts down Sixteenth street to catch the night train. He knows all the saloon men along the street and he always stops in each place to tell the men behind the bar how much he intends to get. At each place he takes a drink, and if he finds congenial company, several more. The result is that he always misses his train. Then it takes him several hours more to explain along the street how he happened to miss the train. Every Sunday morning for the past six weeks he has been seen walking slowly homeward with his gun on his arm. He just can't catch the train.

Not All in the North.

Stoughton J. Fletcher, who has been rusticated on his stock farm in Tennessee, is in the city for a few days. "A while ago," said Mr. Fletcher, "I entertained the belief that labor troubles were all north of the Ohio river. The other day I was forcibly reminded of my error. I employed a number of colored laborers in hauling gravel and in roadmaking. At half past seven a delegation of these negroes came to me and refused to go on with the work."

"What's the matter?" I asked. "Not shovellers enough," was the answer. "Well, go ahead and do the shovelling yourself; load your own wagons. 'Til pay extra." "They went away, and at 9 o'clock another delegation of negroes came. "What's the grievance now?" I asked. "We won't work no mo' under a white boss. We want a colored man to do that job."

"I told them that the white boss would be replaced by a colored man as soon as possible, and they went away. At 10.30 a. m. another delegation of negroes appeared. "What's up now?" I asked. Then they told me they had struck for more wages, and not another shoveller of gravel would be thrown until I came to their figures. This made three strikes before 11 o'clock in the morning. Here the camel's back gave way. I told them that it was my turn at last, that I had struck and I took the first train and came north."—Indianapolis News.

What We Are Coming To.

"Is the room disinfected?" "Yes, mother; and I have sterilized the curtains, deodorized the furniture, septitized all the fixtures, vaporized the air, washed my lips in an antiseptic solution, and—" "Have you septitized the mistletoe?" "Thoroughly, mother; everything is done. Arthur is waiting now in the hygienic room."

Fatal Hunting Accident—News was received in the city yesterday that Axel Anderson, son of a Yalmar farmer had been shot accidentally by Swan Lindblad, a neighbor's son, while the two boys were rabbit hunting Sunday afternoon.

Funeral Today—The funeral of Mrs. Briquet Smith, the aged woman who died at the poor farm, is to take place this morning. Services will be held at St. Peter's cathedral at 8 o'clock this morning, and the interment will be in the old Catholic cemetery.

Answer is Made—Controller McCarthy has made answer to the charge preferred against him regarding his absence from office and if further action in the matter is to be taken, it will be a part of the business of the next meeting of the city council, according to a statement made by Mayor Robertson.

Concert at Prison—The concert given last night at the prison by the little folks of the Methodist church was greatly appreciated by a large audience and each of the numbers on the program were applauded with vigor. The children recently gave the concert at the Methodist church where it scored a big success.

Water for Rink—At the water board meeting last night the petition of Alfred Hanson, who recently asked for water for a skating rink which he is to equip at the foot of Arch and Ridge streets in the Longcar lot, was granted. He is to be charged $15 for a water supply for the season and a condition of the grant is that the water bill which, it is said, is unpaid from last year, be paid. Hanson stated recently that his rink would be put in shape as soon as the water board granted him a water supply.

Elevator is Safe—The new elevator gear in the Savings bank block is now working in excellent shape. A new motor with an entire new gear was installed by Superintendent Retalle of the city's electrical department. The safety appliances on the elevator are of the most modern type. The car automatically locks at the fifth and basement floors. It can go neither higher nor lower. Should the cable break, the equipment is such that the car would stop instantly. Formerly the elevator was controlled by power from the street car power house. The power is now taken from the city plant.

WORRELL FREED, TO LEAVE CITY TODAY

DESTITUTE WHEN BROUGHT TO JAIL, HE LEAVES WARMLY CLAD WITH MONEY IN POCKET.

It took the jury just three hours and fifteen minutes yesterday to reach a verdict in the case of Charlie Worrell, who killed "Wallie" Hogan on the night of Labor Day, and freed from the charge of murder which has hung over him for the past three months. Worrell today leaves Marquette. He is going to Seattle, Washington, and says he is to take a position as a cook on a boat running between that point and Honolulu.

Receives Gifts.

That considerable sympathy for the man has existed throughout the term of his imprisonment, and the course of the trial is evidenced by the fact that yesterday afternoon received numerous gifts, chiefly of wearing apparel and besides, one donor has advanced the amount of his railway fare to Seattle. Worrell was brought to the jail a ragged, unkempt, half starved figure, sick from long exposure, which he had undergone during the search for him which followed the crime. He had just sixty-nine cents. He will leave today warmly clad, with money in his pocket and with his fare paid west.

Following the argument of Judge Potter and the concluding argument of Prosecuting Attorney Bell and the instructions to the jury by the court which consumed about an hour, the jury left the court room at just fifteen minutes to eleven. Worrell was taken back to the jail. Three hours later the jury notified the sheriff that a verdict had been arrived at and the twelve men were brought back into the court room. It was a sorrowful little figure that walked with uncertain steps across the yard between the jail and the court house with the sheriff after him. He had been moved and told that his fate had been decided.

Wept at Verdict.

Joseph Hosking of Ishpeming was the foreman of the jury and when the verdict of "not guilty" was read, Worrell's head dropped and tears streamed from his eyes. He quickly recovered and there was a marked change in the man as he returned across the yard to the jail. His head was erect and as he chanced to catch sight of some people watching him from the windows of the court house, he waved his hat to them gaily and beaming, shook his hands at them.

Though he was free to go, he told Sheriff Rough, that he was anxious to avoid the curiosity of people and as he wanted to keep off the streets, he asked permission to remain at the jail. This was granted and through the afternoon he remained in the jail anteroom. Here he had a number of visitors and besides several of the jurymen came in to see him. These he quickly recognized and as each entered, he sprang forward to grasp the outstretched hand with earnest expressions of his gratitude.

During the three hours that they were out, the twelve jurors reviewed the entire case discussing the weighting carefully the testimony of each witness. Upon the first ballot there were ten for acquittal and two were in favor of imposing punishment of some sort. Following this ballot there was nearly an hour's discussion before the second ballot was taken and the result of this was the same as the first. Upon the third ballot eleven were for acquittal and only one held out for a punishment. Upon the fourth and final ballot all were in favor of acquittal.

Praises His Attorney.

All credit for his escape from punishment Worrell gives to his attorney, Judge Potter and that the man's freedom was won by the masterly and painstaking efforts of Judge Potter is the consensus of opinion of all those who watched the progress of the case. "Had I been a millionaire," Worrell said yesterday, "I couldn't have had my case handled better," and this is probably true, for as Judge Potter himself said at one point during the trial, he was appointed by the court because the man was penniless, but he said he had more interest in the case than if there had been a big fee to be earned.

Besides the disclosures which Judge Potter's skillful cross-questioning brought forth, the testimony of Louis Perry and William O'Leary is what probably saved Worrell. Both of these witnesses saw the encounter between Worrell and Hogan. Both of them said they heard Hogan use threatening language to Worrell. Both Farney, who was standing near the two and Black, the bartender stated that they did not hear this.

VALUABLE BOOKS RECEIVED.

Works and Literature and Travels Are Important Acquisitions.

Among the many choice books that have been added to the Peter White public library during the last year perhaps none have been more attractive than the last installment of books, which just received at the library. These recent acquisitions consist of two valuable sets for the reference department and are devoted to the study and history of literature in four volumes. This work of reference is by Gannell and Gosse. The other is a set of Travels in thirty-seven volumes, De Grand Luxe edition, of the world's famous places and people, including the following titles by distinguished and entertaining authorities:

MUSIC, the Busy Man's Tonic

If you go to a fine concert at the Opera house, you will be struck with the fact that in the audience women are largely in the majority.

But that does not prove that men do not like music. In the afternoons they are engrossed with business affairs. In the evenings they are too tired to go out.

What they have been waiting for was the Pianola—an instrument that will bring the music to them, rather than compel them to go to the music. An instrument that gives the keenest form of pleasure to be derived from music—the fascination of producing it yourself.

THE PIANOLA $215 AND $300
THE PIANOLA PIANO $500 AND UP

Purchasable by Moderate Monthly Payments

CAUTION: Do not make the mistake of supposing that any Piano-player may be called a Pianola. There is but one PIANOLA—made only by the AEOLIAN COMPANY.

ROOSEVELT'S POSITION

President Firm in His Decision Not to Run Again.

Is Favorable to the Candidacies of Taft and Cortelyou, Without Preference to Either.

Washington, Dec. 11.—After months of doubt and uncertainty, a clear light has been thrown at last upon Theodore Roosevelt's position as to the Republican presidential situation, and it is now possible to define it with an accuracy heretofore impossible. This is a succinct description of it:

The president is not a candidate for a third term. He has not been working for a renomination and would not accept it if the national convention decided to give it to him. He does not share the conviction frequently expressed by certain third term boomers that he is the only Republican who can be elected next November. On the contrary, he believes the convention should have little, if any, difficulty selecting a candidate who can defeat William J. Bryan or any other Democrat who may be nominated.

The president's chief aim is to have the convention endorse his policies and nominate a candidate who not only is committed to continue them, but who is certain to do so after he enters the White House as Mr. Roosevelt's successor. It is for this reason the president has manifested so great concern in the preliminary contest for the nomination. He objects to a retrogressive movement, and has striven to prevent any so-called reactionary candidate from making headway with his canvass, and will persist in this effort.

The president formed the opinion six or eight months ago, and made no secret of it, that Secretary Taft was qualified to an unusual degree for carrying out the policies the president has inaugurated. This put him in the attitude of making the secretary his favorite among the list of aspirants, and the popular construction of his position was correct. He imparted such stimulus to Mr. Taft's candidacy as, in his judgment, was consistent with his occupancy of the executive office. The assistance he thus rendered proved of great value to the secretary and was responsible in a measure for the progress thus far made with Mr. Taft's candidacy.

The president is making careful inquiry as to Mr. Taft's chances of being nominated. He is seeking this information from the leaders of the party now in Washington. Whatever knowledge he is acquiring he is keeping to himself, but it will be utilized to govern his future course. If he concludes that the secretary has sufficient strength throughout the country to make his nomination certain, or, at least, strongly probable, he may take occasion to express his preference.

The president, however, does not feel that he is so strongly committed to the secretary that it would constitute a breach of faith if, as the result of his inquiries, he concludes it would be inadvisable for him to exert himself further in Mr. Taft's behalf. In such an event, his attitude will be neutral as between the secretary and some other man or men who can be relied upon to continue his policies if nominated by the convention. He will not advise the secretary to withdraw from the race, even if his counsel is sought, but will be reluctant to appear to stand sponsor for a candidacy which may not culminate successfully.

Regard for Cortelyou. The president has not yet indicated, in a manner that is not open to misinterpretation to what other candidate he will throw the weight of his influence, unless the contest appears to be narrowing down to two men, one of whom he believes can be relied upon to execute his policies, and the other one who favors a different course. Then, without doubt, he will abandon his attitude of neutrality and show clearly where he stands. He entertains a strong regard for Secretary Cortelyou, and, it is believed, would prefer to see him achieve the nomination above any one else, should the Taft movement show signs of disintegration. The foregoing may be accepted as authoritative and no one qualified to speak for the president will undertake

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Writing from New York yesterday Paine, Webber & Co.'s correspondent said: "There was a continuance of heavy liquidation through some of the largest room traders and brokerage houses in the street from the opening this morning, and it lasted the entire forenoon. It was chiefly in Union Pacific, St. Paul, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Sugar, Northern Pacific, Great Northern and the Steels. We see at the best nothing better than a continued narrow and irregular trader's market in prospect, and we think there will be plenty of time for those who wish to do so to load up with stocks to still better advantage before the turn of the new year than the present opportunity offers."

Table with 2 columns: Stock Name and Price. Includes U.S. Steel, Amalgamated, Anaconda, etc.

Copper Metal Prices.

New York, Dec. 11.—Copper declined to $20.50 for spot and $20.10 for futures in London today. The market locally further declined, with Lake closing at 13.12 1/2@13.37 1/2, electrolytic at 12.87 1/2@13.12 1/2 and casting at 12.02 1/2@12.87 1/2.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—The wheat market opened weak today because of lower cables and the decline in stocks. At the end of the first hour, however, the early loss was regained and during the remainder of the day the market was firm on a moderate advance. The news concerning the stocks of wheat in the Northwest was decidedly bullish. One dispatch claimed that the country elevators contained 40 per cent less wheat than a year ago. This, with the strength in corn, caused active covering by shorts, and the market closed strong.

Wheat Summary.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s Chicago correspondent said yesterday concerning the wheat market: "There was a better turn to the wheat prices late in the session, simply because the selling was overdone early and the shorts were somewhat alarmed by some good buying by the bull leaders under 100 for May. Twice during the morning the May price was forced to 99 1/2 by bearish tactics and each time the market made rather quick recoveries, showing an upturn to 100 1/2 at the best point. The bears have been unsuccessful in forcing the May under 100 and holding it there for any length of time. They had most of the news in their favor today, with weak and lower cables, an easier stock market, a considerable renewal of tight money talk, flattering reports in regard to the Argentine harvest, which are said to be yielding at an average of sixteen bushels per acre, an increase of 25,000 bushels in the Minneapolis stocks, receipts a little over 1,000,000 bushels, compared with 700,000 bushels a year ago, and the dullness which is usually attendant to bear operations. Leaders of London, reviews the foreign situation and claims that Europe will need every bushel of the Argentine wheat, no matter how large the crop. Duluth reports sales of No. 1 Northern wheat, C. I. F., Buffalo, at 10c over the Chicago May price. A Montreal paper claims that the Canadian northwest has stocks of wheat of only 10,000,000, compared with 25,000,000 at this time last year. The grading of wheat at Winnipeg showed 74 per cent of poor stuff, below the milling quality. It was not the news, however, so much as the action of the bull leaders in frightening the shorts to cover which gave the rally in prices and caused the market to close with a net gain of 1/2 for the day."

FOUR LIVES ENDED

Tennessee Boy's Choice of Dynamite as a Plaything Has Tragic Consequences.

Bristol, Tenn., Dec. 11.—Four persons were killed ten miles west of here today, and their bodies were subsequently burned. On the farm of John Duff, his son William, aged fifteen, was playing with a stick of dynamite, when it exploded, instantly killing the boy and also causing the death of Mrs. Nathaniel Barnes and Mrs. Elijah Moody and her child. The house caught fire and was destroyed, all four bodies being burned to death.

NO BLOODY RACE WAR.

Sensational Tale of Bloodshed in Dixie Looks Like a Hoax.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 11.—Seven negroes were killed and twenty thirty wounded in a race riot in Pickens county, Alabama, near the Mississippi line last night, according to telegraphic dispatches received here tonight from Columbus, Miss. According to these dispatches the whites raided a negro lodge meeting, and in the fighting which followed many negroes were shot. The building was then burned by the whites, as were other negroes' houses in the neighborhood. Owing to the discovery of a plot by the negroes to rise against the whites of the county, every black is in danger, it was said. The trouble started Monday with the arrest of a negro on a charge of stealing cotton.

Correspondents Send a Denial.

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 11.—Answering messages for an accurate account of the alleged riots in Pickens county, correspondents of The Advertiser at Columbus, Miss., and near the scene of the alleged shooting, declare that there has been no riot in that county, that the only person shot was a negro under arrest, and that he was killed by his own friends in an attack upon the officers.

PRESIDENT FULLIAM REELECTED.

New York, Dec. 11.—Harry C. Fulliam was re-elected president of the National Baseball league by the board of directors today and so was secretary Treasurer John Heyler. The club presidents discussed charges in the playing rules and amendments to the league constitution. Mr. Pleischmann, of Cincinnati, brought up the question of placing the pitcher's box on a level with the diamond. No action was taken. The proposal that the number of pitched balls to a batter be reduced to three was advanced, but the question was left to be decided on a later date. Chicago, Dec. 11.—The American League of Baseball Clubs today approved President Johnson's ruling in which he fined the Cleveland club $300 for delaying a game at Detroit, but later the penalty was revoked. The league approved the suggestion that the world championship series be increased to nine games. The proposal to place a club of the American association in Chicago was defeated.

idea has not been much of a success. "As I view it the coming contest will afford an excellent opportunity for voters at large to show whether they can be depended upon to stand loyally and squarely by a governor who has stood by them and who in so doing has aroused the active opposition of powerful private interests. Personally I have no doubt as to what the voters will do in a situation of this kind."

WARNER BUILDS MACHINE.

Carries Third Term Fight Into Every Township in Lower Peninsula.

Lansing, Dec. 10.—While the boxers and machine crowd, as well as the politicians who oppose Governor Warner for one or more reasons, are undecided as to whether they will pit against the governor in the coming campaign, the latter is perfecting an organization which will by the time activity is necessary reach into practically every township in the lower peninsula. The new primary election law does not take effect until about Jan. 20, when that date is reached and the word goes out for petitions to be circulated there, is every indication the Warner men will be ready with a voluminous list of names as a starter for the governor in his fight for a third term and the complete overthrow of his enemies.

Today Lieutenant Governor Kelley is making definite announcement of his course. He is with the governor because he believes the governor can rally the votes of those who stand for what the governor does and he fears that if he, Kelley, should enter the race other men would enter also, divide the vote and allow the machine men to again name a man in the convention. In discussing the matter the lieutenant governor said regarding Warner's chances, "I believe that the coming contest for the governorship will be settled in the primaries, notwithstanding the fact that the present primary law requires the successful candidate to poll at least 40 per cent of the entire vote cast, and I also believe that Governor Warner will be the nominee."

Enemies May Break.

Among the anti-Warner faction there is discussion which may end in an open break. Auditor General Bradley has under way an active campaign for the gubernatorial nomination for himself and is somewhat disgusted because the entire faction has not rallied to his support. He feels that with their support he could defeat Warner, while many of the leaders are not sure enough so that they dare to climb into his wagon. What they want to do above all other things is to nominate a man who is not in any way connected with the governor. It is not necessary that they play an important part in the game, but they do not propose to give any assistance to any except a man who can deliver Warner's scalp. Lacking perfect confidence in Bradley as that man they have failed to give public notice of their rally around his standard.

BRINKLEY BEATS 'EM ALL.

North Carolina Man Has a Beard Over Seventy Inches Long.

S. G. Brinkley, of Magnetic City, N. C., is the possessor of what he believes to be the longest beard in the world. He is six feet two inches in height, and when he stands erect and lets his beard down, fully four inches of it rest on the floor. For convenience, though, Mr. Brinkley keeps his beard tucked up and carried in an oiled silk bag in an inner pocket of his coat. Otherwise he would be always tripping over it. His extraordinary beard is not the result of the application of any hair invigorator, but is just a natural growth. He first visited a barber shop when he was thirteen. Even at that age he had a very respectable looking beard. When his whiskers had attained a much greater length than any ordinary set he began to brush them daily for several minutes, and also when he found one of them split he would take the scissors and clip the hair above the splitter. The longer his beard grows the prouder Mr. Brinkley is.

He expects it to grow several feet longer before he dies, and does everything in his power to create growth. Strange to say, he does not find the immense beard at all in the way, and says he pities men who have mere growths of a foot or two.

He has refused to exhibit his beard on the stage, but delights in having his friends admire it.—New York World.

TELLS OF 'FRISCO CRUSADE.

Upper Peninsula

Anti-Liquor Petition

Petitions are being circulated in Menominee which ask the constitutional convention for the adoption of a clause which will prohibit the manufacture or sale of intoxicating drinks in the state of Michigan. Several petitions will be forwarded from Menominee county this week, and one other has already been forwarded to the convention. This petition contains 191 names, principally residents of Stephenson township. It was signed first by Peter Peterson, the husband of the woman who petitioned Governor Warner to stop the so-called prize fights in Menominee. Menominee saloon men are much concerned regarding what the convention will do about the liquor laws. Menominee's two large breweries are furnishing most of the saloons in that portion of the upper peninsula with their beer. They own a large proportion of the saloon buildings in Menominee county as well as a large number in other portions of northern Michigan. One clause which was about ready to be inserted in the new constitution, but which was fought by the anti-saloon interests, was that each saloon would be required to pay a $1,000 license. If this clause had been inserted it would have cut Menominee's fifty-six saloons down to thirty or thirty-five.

Fat Folks at Unique Luncheon

Newport Hostess Turns Beauty Doctor and Tells Guests How to Lose 20 Pounds of Excess Fat a Month.

It has just leaked out that Mrs. G. Sylvester Bourin's mysterious luncheon invitations of last week, which described the function as a soiree affair for those only who were over "160," referred not to the age of the guests but to their weight.

The luncheon was wittily entitled the "Emancipation Luncheon," but the significance of this title was not clear until it was discovered today that at this luncheon Mrs. Bourin told the secret of getting thin without the necessity for the scant, punishing diet usually prescribed by the doctors.

At each plate, concealed among the fern and orchid decorations, the guests found a dainty engraved card on which was inscribed the following: 1/2 oz. Marmolade, 1/2 oz. Fluid Extract Casarea Aromatic and 3/4 oz. Syrup Simplex. Nothing more. To the inquiring puzzled glance of her guests Mrs. Bourin, replied by a few words of explanation. The receipt on those cards, she said, was a simple one for the secret or home treatment of excessive fat. It was harmless and pleasant, she declared, and she earnestly advised all her over-dressed guests to preserve the formula, for it made a mixture that would, if taken in teaspoonful portions after meals and at bedtime, not only take off from one-half to a pound of fat a day but preserve the natural beautiful outline of the figure—in short prevent wrinkles. She concluded by saying she had gathered them together to show them how they could get as thin as they cared to be without dieting, exercise or taking the waters; emancipate them, in other words, of their over-abundance of fat and from the restrictions of the beauty specialist and obesity doctor at one and the same time.

WANT SERVICE ON EAST IRON STREET

BUSINESS MEN AND OTHERS PETITION MANAGEMENT OF TRACTION COMPANY TO RUN CARS TO BREITUNG HOUSE TERMINAL

Some fifty Negaunee people, including practically all the business men on East Iron street, have petitioned Manager McCorkindale, of the Marquette County Gas & Electric company, to run the street cars to the east end of Iron street during the winter. For some years past the track has not been kept open beyond the Northwestern crossing after the first heavy storm. Mr. McCorkindale did his best to keep it open during the early part of last winter, but with the limited facilities found it impossible to do so. However, with the new snow play available he believes he will be able to keep the tracks clear all winter.

Mr. McCorkindale answered the petition yesterday, his reply being as follows: "To Messrs. George J. Haupt, D. McDonald, H. G. Muck, Daniel Shea, and others, who signed the petition asking our company to run the street cars to the Breitung hotel this winter.

"Gentlemen:—Answering your petition, we wish to state that it is our desire to operate the cars up to the Breitung hotel as long as is possible this winter. You must appreciate that it is very costly to keep this piece of track open, and at the same time do it so that the merchants on each side of the street are not discriminated by the condition of the street.

"The street railway business in the winter time is run at a loss, and it will be quite an expense if we have as severe a winter as last winter to keep this street open, both for the taxpayers and the street railway company, but we wish to give you as good service as we possibly can, and will use every reasonable endeavor to comply with your petition."

HAD THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Carl Thompson, an Ishpeming lad who spent Sunday at Princeton visiting his brother had an experience the following day that he would not care to repeat. He waited for the Northwestern train at Little Lake in a candy store, and remained there until it had started to pull out. When he approached the coaches he found the vestibule doors closed, so he stood on one of the steps, clinging to the handrail. The train reached Swanzey. He then jumped down and started to run to the opposite side of the coaches, thinking he might find an open vestibule, but the train pulled out again. Rather than be left behind again he got on the step. Before the train reached Negaunee his hands became so cold that he several times thought he would be thrown off. He finally got between the two coaches and stood on the bars extending from the ends. There are several bad curves north of Swanzey, and the boy had the greatest difficulty hanging on. When he reached Negaunee he was in bad condition, and it is doubtful if he could have retained his position between the cars for another mile.

NO ALMANAC LIKE HOSTETTER'S

This is the opinion of thousands and thousands of persons in all parts of this country as well as in Australia, Mexico, South America and other parts of the world where it is known, and the indications are that the demand for the 1908 edition is going to be greater than ever. Its popularity is due to its many entertaining features, such as statistics, recipes, jokes and other items of information for the entire family. The 1908 edition is printed in the English, German, French, Norwegian, Swedish, Bohemian and Spanish languages and is given absolutely free by any druggist or general dealer. Get a copy before the supply is exhausted, and if you suffer from dyspepsia, indigestion, costiveness, biliousness, chills, colds, headache or malaria, try the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is pure and will do you a world of good.

RACE A DISAPPOINTMENT.

Negaunee Man Too Speedy for Fast Skater from Escanaba.

The one-mile skating race between Frank Winter of this city and J. Kelly of Escanaba attracted the largest crowd to the Adelphi rink that has assembled there in some years, but the race was a big disappointment, as Kelly made a poor showing. The skaters started at opposite ends of the rink and before the completion of the third lap Winter overtook Kelly. In the fourth lap he passed him. After that Kelly seemed to weaken, and Winter had an easy time of it. In the eleventh lap one of Kelly's skates came off, ending the race. It requires twenty-three laps to make a mile at the Adelphi.

The Escanaba man appeared to be a good skater, but he seemed to have lost his nerve. He said that the rink was so much smaller than the one at Escanaba that he could not turn the corners to advantage. Kelly has defeated all comers at Escanaba this season, but is not a match for Winter, who is not only a rapid skater, but is unusually strong and a good finisher.

SPELLING TESTS.

A short time ago spelling tests were conducted in two of the Chicago high schools, also at a number of the grade schools. Twenty words were given the pupils. The average in the two high schools was 83 1/2 per cent, and in the eighth grade schools from 50 to 72 per cent. Superintendent Orr Schultz gave the pupils in the Negaunee high school, also those in the eighth grade the same test, using the identical words that had been given in Chicago. The percentage of correctly spelled words in the high school was 91 1/2 per cent, and the average in the eighth grade was 83 1/2 per cent.

J. R. Gordon Sells Land—John R. Gordon, state representative of Marquette, has sold to the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company the entire section 3 and the north half of section 6, 47-15, in Schoolcraft county. The consideration is not announced.

Lineman Instantly Killed—Engaged in stringing wires for the Michigan State company at Crystal Falls, William Greece, a lineman, of Iron River, missed his footing and fell from the top of a telephone pole. He was dead when picked up. His skull was crushed, as he had fallen head foremost onto a concrete sidewalk.

Gogebic County Saloons—For the privilege of dealing in intoxicating liquors there was paid in Gogebic county during the fiscal year just ended the total sum of $47,349.81. There are ninety-six saloons all told, and of these fifty-three are located in the city of Ironwood. Bessemer has twenty-five retail establishments; the village of Wakefield has ten and there are eight in four townships. Apportioned among the various communities, the revenue from the sale of saloon licenses was as follows: Ironwood, $25,799.81; Bessemer, $12,500; Wakefield, $5,050; townships, $4,000.

Meat Dealer Cuts Prices—Joseph Van Dyck, one meat dealer at Manistique, has broken away from the local butchers' so-called "trust" and has slaughtered prices outrageously. As a consequence the people of the Schoolcraft county seat, at least those who patronize Mr. Van Dyck, are getting their meat supplies at lower cost than are those of any other community in the peninsula. It may be of interest to quote the cut prices. They follow: Porterhouse steak, fifteen cents; sirloin, fourteen; round, 12 1/2; roast beef, 11; boiling beef, 6 to 10; pork roast, 12; chops, 13; pork in chunks, 10; half or whole hog, 7 1/2; ham, 13; picnic ham, 9 1/2; bacon, 16. A co-operative meat market society, organized with a big membership in consequence of the alleged exactions of the so-called combination, is equipping a shop and will be opened for business.

Fishermen Lost in Fog—Seventeen Menominee county fishermen living on the bay shore, from Pepplar Point to Ingallton, floated aimlessly in the fog that hovered over Green bay early in the morning until afternoon Monday. No accidents of any kind occurred. The fishermen left the shore in their gasoline launches shortly after 7 o'clock to lift their nets, about two miles distant. When they had proceeded a few hundred yards from shore the thick fog so completely enveloped them, is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

LOCAL LACONICS.

John Paradise of Little Lake is visiting in Negaunee. He is just recovering from a severe illness.

A party of Negaunee people attended the production of "The Gingerbread Man" at Ishpeming theater last evening.

Alphonse Beaudette, who had been on the Mesaba range all summer, has returned to Negaunee, and will remain here for the winter.

The ladies of St. John's Episcopal church had excellent success with their bazaars and societies yesterday afternoon and last evening at Shea's hall.

Frank La Belle, John Wilson and Ole Nelson of Lake Linden were visitors in Negaunee yesterday, having stopped at here on their way to Milwaukee.

The Misses Doyle and Anderson, who have been at Ishpeming the past ten days, now have their display of art needle work at the Breitung House.

L. M. George, of Chicago, arrived in the city yesterday to install the storage batteries at the power station of the Marquette County Gas & Electric company.

The four-year-old daughter of Samuel Dahlberg, of the Jackson location, died Tuesday. The funeral will be held this afternoon from the Swedish Lutheran church.

John Broad, a former resident, who is now located at Virginia, Minn., returned home yesterday, after a few days' visit with relatives in Negaunee, he having stopped off here on his way back from the east.

Samuel Bros., Finnish aerobats, will give an entertainment at McDonald's opera house this evening. The Samuels are clever in their line of work. They gave exhibitions both in the iron and copper districts a year ago. They will be at Ishpeming Saturday and Sunday nights.

MUNISING

REMOVAL PRIVILEGE DENIED.

Saloon Man Not Allowed to Change Location of His Business.

At the last meeting of the council the petition of Abe Artibe, who planned to move his saloon business from its present location on Superior street to the basement of the Munising House, that his license be made good for the new location, was rejected by a unanimous vote. Artibe has purchased the Munising House and has assumed its management.

Artibe had been making arrangements to transfer his saloon business, and the rejection of his petition came unexpectedly, upsetting his plans. Trustee Baldwin, after the petition was read, moved that it be rejected on the ground that the proposed location is not a proper place for a saloon. It was supported by Trustee Collins, and the vote was unanimously in favor of his motion.

A communication was received from J. A. Dresser, of Detroit, in regard to a judgment of $200, a sum which will not allow a man to devote much time to the duties of his office.

Sheffil Thornton last week ordered out all the slot machines. A large number have been in use, as they have been running unrestrained.

Machire Peels Bark—The factory of the Great Lakes Veneer company at Munising has the distinction now of possessing in a newly installed "barking" machine the only contrivance of its kind in the United States. Only one other is in commission anywhere, that at the plant of the Singer Sewing Machine company at St. John's, Quebec. A Canadian is the inventor. It is the duty of the machine to peel the bark from the logs before the timber goes into the vats, and it is claimed for it that it is a wonderful saver of time, of steam and of labor.

Game Law Violation Charged—Two Berglund (Ontonagon county) men—K. O. Herried and Ed. Thompson—were arrested for illegally having deer hides in their possession. The matter was investigated by Deputy Game Warden Charles E. Hayward of Escanaba and the arrests were made upon his complaint by Sheriff O'Rourke. The men were arraigned before Justice Gillett at Ontonagon. They pleaded not guilty and Dec. 17 is the date which has been fixed for their trial. It is alleged that they had in their possession two deer hides in the red coat and two in the blue coat. On the complaint of the two men Justice Alex. Martin of Berglund has issued an action in trespass against Deputy Hayward for taking possession of the deer hides in question. This case will come to trial at Berglund.

Not Rasmussen's Murderer—Dispatches recently published have recited that by the confession of a man in custody at Antigo, Wis., the mystery of the killing of Peter Rasmussen of Iron Mountain has been cleared. The prisoner is doubtless insane. Nothing is known in Upper Michigan of any murder such as he describes, and in no particular can his story be connected with the shocking tragedy of which Rasmussen was the victim. The cause lack of capital and a decrease in patronage due to the depression in business circles. He has made no definite arrangements for the future; but as soon as affairs can be wound up expecting to take a position in some other printing establishment. The Independent plant will be left at Greenland, but what will be the final disposition of it is a mere matter of conjecture. This makes the second journalistic venture which has gone on the rocks at Greenland. Some five or six years ago the City Miner was launched by Adam E. Bower. After a checkered career of a couple years or so, publication was suspended and the old antiquated outfit is still there.

Hunting Deer With Dogs—According to a correspondent at Garden, Delta county, there is plenty of work in that vicinity for the state game warden's department. He writes that the practice of hunting deer with dogs, in season and out, has attained scandalous proportions. Four miles east is the Schoolcraft county line, he says. From that point east, to Thompson, about fourteen miles, is a large tract of practically unsettled territory that constitutes a fine range for deer, both summer and winter. It is a veritable paradise for those who hunt unlawfully with hounds. It is not without the bounds of truth to say that there is hardly a day, in season or out of season, that there is not one or more deer driven into Lake Michigan along the stretch of beach between Portage Bay and Thompson village. That these are the facts is common knowledge. Hounds may be found at nearly every camp or settler's house in the territory, and it is notorious that the dogs are kept solely for the purpose of hunting deer. It is a matter demanding immediate attention from the proper authorities if the game is not to be exterminated.

Wages on Down Grade—With the employing interests no longer clamoring for men, wages are on a descending scale in Upper Michigan. Laborers at work on the Wisconsin & Michigan railroad's extension from Quinnessee to Iron Mountain are now being paid a dollar a day. Two weeks ago they were getting double that, and subsequently they were cut to $1.35. Wages in the lumber woods have dropped from $15 and $40 to $25 a month. Miners in the copper region are receiving from 5 to 12 1/2 per cent less pay than formerly. The wages of the employes of the iron mining companies are on the same basis as has been prevailing the past year, but there is some apprehension a reduction will be announced. Nothing will be done along this line, if at all, however, until the conference of mining managers usually held in January. The pay of section men has not been cut in Upper Michigan, but as is customary every fall there has been a reduction in the size of the crews. Skilled men in the trades and in the railroad service have not been affected as far as wages are concerned. However there has been the usual cut in working hours.

Christmas Tree Center—Fred Greenwood, a Schoolcraft county man, is loading 2,000 spruce trees for shipment to Youngstown, O. Rebecked in all their tinsel finery, and illuminated at nightfall with scores of lighted candles, each of them will help bring joy to some happy home during the Yuletide season. The preparation of this particular consignment serves to call attention to the fact that as a Christmas tree center Upper Michigan is an important source of supply. Annually in this particular it meets the demands of many a metropolitan market. Trees by the dozens of thousands are shipped out each fall. Recently one consignment of twelve carloads was forwarded from Menominee iron range points. Naturally, in common with the steady depletion of the forests generally, fir and spruce appropriate for use as Christmas trees are not as plentiful as they have been, still, in perspective of the second growth, it will be many years before the supply is exhausted in the Lake Superior region.

Taxes High at Crystal Falls—Crystal Falls will be treated to one of the highest tax rates this year in the history of the city, says the Diamond Drill. The straight tax, outside of the special sewer tax, foots up to $4.83. Of this amount, $2.51 is the school's share; the city's portion foots up to $1.41. The balance is spread between the county and state and county road. Taxpayers in sewer district No. 2 will pay considerably over 5 per cent with their sewer tax included. The treasurer's report of the month showed the sum of $120 on hand with which to pay claims amounting to thousands. This condition will probably exist for some time as there will be but few taxes paid in before the tenth of January. When the power plant improvements were begun it was figured that the current taxes and the saloon licenses would take care of the expenditure. The present slump was not figured on in those calculations and as a conservative estimate places the number of saloons that will be doing business here next year at ten less than the present number, there will be a deficit of $5,000 at least in that item and the next council will have tough sledding to carry out the work on the income it will get.

Fine Job of Wrecking—It is doubtful if a better job of wrecking was ever done on the lakes than the achievement of Captain James Reid of Sarina in releasing the Wilson Transit company's steamer Spokane from Gull Island reef, Lake Superior. The boat running hard aground on the rocks during the afternoon of Oct. 26, when the weather was calm, the accident being due to a defective compass, it was supposed the craft was a total loss. Reports were sent out that the steamer had broken in two. The Great Lakes Towing company's new working tug Favorite, the most modern and powerful vessel of her kind on the lakes, was dispatched to the scene from St. Ignace, and the Spokane was thoroughly examined by divers. The conclusion was reached that it would be a hopeless task to attempt to free the steamer, whereupon the owners abandoned her to the underwriters. The latter had in fact practically abandoned the craft when Captain Reid appeared on the scene. Examining the wreck, he saw a chance of effecting her release, and he tried to the lower lakes, offering to undertake the task. Permission granted, although in the spirit of a forlorn hope, Captain Reid set about the work. He employed two of his tugs, the Reid and the Ottawa, in the operation. In the meantime the Spokane had been stripped of everything of value, and much of her cargo of blacksmithing coal, originally consigned to Duluth, had been salvaged by the steamer Neff. Captain Reid was greatly hampered by unfavorable weather at the exposed bit of rock which constitutes Gull Island, but he stuck to his work. Now the Spokane is saved. The wreck could have withstood the storms of the winter. She would have broken up and disappeared by spring. As it is, the steamer will again be plying the waters of the great lakes next season.

Bounty on Sparrows—The law is placing a bounty on sparrows, the little birds which fly about the snow during all the cold winter season, and chirp and make merry in the desolate places of the city in summer. The law is to be repealed from more than on standpoint; it is to be repealed that earnestly should be encouraged in boys and given by the price set for the slaughter of these pretty birds; and, moreover, great danger is to be apprehended by the careless use of firearms.

This is the second time that the Michigan legislature has been induced to pass a law for the first in 1877, which prohibited the bores until it became a burden through depleted treasuries in a number of counties where the "head hunters" were the most active. The law led to great deal of fraud. In some counties fraud was frequently perpetrated upon the county and city officials and money was paid out which was not earned or provided by the law. Forgery was resorted to. Men who ought to have been engaged in other business, went from city to city and scattered poisoned bait upon the streets for the unsuspecting birds to swallow, that they might tangle over dead and be picked up for the bounty which each head called for. In 1901, after four years of trial, the law was repealed. Little boys now possess rifles, easily equip themselves with slugs, and these in some instances are as dangerous as the rifle in that they are not so sure.

Now that learn are the sparrows? The United States biological survey in an official report says that one-third of the food of the sparrow found in the country this winter was made up of consisted of obnoxious grain, while 40 per cent of its food consisted of grasshoppers, that are harmful. The sparrow destroys caterpillars, weevils, moths, and they are most potent in keeping down the army worms. They are scavengers as everyone knows, while it report referred to says the sparrows clean up city parks and city streets of insects harmful to trees. These things are mentioned inasmuch as many persons are a prejudice against this bird because they think it does no good and much harm. The war of extermination now being carried on is so cruel that it would not be tolerated. It is wasteful public funds, arouses a savage spirit in the minds of the youth, and besides is a source of danger of accident.

Church Debt Is Lifted—After hissing $10,000 in one day, this practice of forcing the congregation to all debt Escanaba's new First Methodist Episcopal church was dedicated with elaborate ceremonies.

Dr. James Rowe, head of the City Church Extension society of Chicago, belongs to the credit for raising the money. It was his plan to bring about a brought-on response from all parts of the house at both the morning and evening sessions and insured the clearing up of the church building debt. Dr. Rowe gave an eloquent demonstration of his ability as a money-getter when the evening session was opened all the burden of the debt was yet to be raised. In an inimitable manner Dr. Rowe appealed directly to the people for contributions and with the peculiar blending of comedy situations with the serious kept the audience which filled every portion of the big auditorium in constant good humor. He was assisted in the work by an able corps of assistants, stationed in all parts of the house, who made a personal canvass of those able to contribute.

Everything in the early part of the evening session was carried with a dash and shot of spirit which did not allow the tempo to appear to drag, but as the hours grew later it was seen that a climax was necessary to bring the contributions up to the mark which would leave the building free of debt. All of the debt with the exception of $1,500 had been subscribed for and the Rev. Frederick Spence furnished the necessary impulse to raise the remaining amount by incidentally opened the way for a high tribute to a pastor of an Escanaba church as has ever been given by any congregation. Amid silence Mr. Spence announced that he would assume the responsibility for raising $1,000. If others would contribute some remaining $500. With this new impulse given the required sum was soon pledged and it was then that the marked tribute was paid to Mr. Spence. T. M. Jison, who had already given liberally also and after paying a high compliment to the church, ability and necessary perseverance of Mr. Spence in the church building project, announced that he would be one of ten men to pledge an additional $100 and thus relieve from the shoulders of the pastor of the congregation all further responsibility. The prominent in the Methodist congregation followed in quick succession, pledging $100 in addition to the amounts already subscribed by them, until the entire $1,000 had been raised and the carrying up of the debt was assured.

COBALT GOSSIP

Smelter difficulties have not proved insurmountable and Cobalt mines are regularly sending out their ore. The La Rose mine is sending out its second grade ore to the American Smelting & Refining company's smelter at Denver, Col.; the O'Brien is sending its ore to the new Canadian smelter at Deloro; the Temiskaming and Kerr Lake are shipping their high grade ores to Perth, Ontario. The Silver Queen, Town-site, Temiskaming & Hudson Bay, Foster, Nova Scotia and Tretwey are sending their high-grade ores to the smelter at Copper Cliff, Ont. That smelter treats the ores for the mines and returns their silver bullion to them, charging for smelter treatment.

The above Cobalt mines are willing to store their silver bullion for months to come if necessary. They may send it to Europe and exchange for gold. The new Canadian smelter at Deloro may give the mine-owners of Cobalt the needed relief. It must be remembered that the market for Cobalt ores has been confined hitherto to practically two buyers—the Copper Cliff and the New Jersey smelters—and the former of these no longer buys the ore, simply treating it and returning the bullion. More than one Cobalt mineowner has crossed the Atlantic looking for a buyer. The Welsh and German smelters have taken some foot-catchings of ore carrying a high percentage of cobalt.

It is known that Cobalt ores are treated at the Perth Ansoy smelter with United States ores, and these other ores are necessary before the United States smelters can treat the ores of Cobalt camp. The Deloro smelter has a process by which it can treat Cobalt ores alone (except for the necessary flux) and this smelter has about established a European market for the bullion. A government smelter at Cobalt in that event would be a superfluous and the official government relief to the district will come in the shape of a government sampling works. An appropriation has already been made by the minister of mines for this. It is believed the sampling works will attract buyers from foreign smelters and be of immense benefit to the small producers.

The total output of Cobalt for the eleven months of 1907, is 13,519.57 tons. The total output of the camp for 1906 was 5,129 tons, valued at $3,900,000. The high grade ore of Cobalt brings from $40.00 to $40.000 a car. Camp reports claim that the average valuation of 8000 a ton is a fair estimate. This means that the camp's output to Dec. 1 for the year 1907, had a value of $7,911,406. In point of tonnage the La Rose and Coniagas head the list, but these mines have shipped an immense amount of second grade ore. Their receipts would bring them near the top. The Jacobs or Kerr Lake, Silver Queen, MacKinley, Temiskaming and Right-of-Way are cases in point.

From June, 1905, to Dec. 31, 1906, the Kerr Lake or Jacobs sent to the smelters 225,000 tons of ore which netted the company $341,291, or over $1,500 per ton; or seventy-five cents for each pound of ore. The Buffalo mine has proved the most consistent shipper in the camp as it has sent out ore every month in the year and stands fifth on the list. The Coniagas, Nipissing and O'Brien have each one black month and La Rose and Tretwey have each missed two months. Since its reorganization the Foster mine has established a record as a steady shipper. It started to ship in June and has made regular monthly shipments since.

The Right-of-Way has only shipped four cars to date, but the returns from these four cars have enabled that company to erect up-to-date mine buildings and install one of the best plants in the camp, pay for its mining rights and declare two dividends of 7 per cent each on a capitalization of $500,000. Two more carloads will be shipped on the 15th of December, which will enable the company to declare a third dividend, making a total of 21 per cent for the year. This company paid $50,000 for the privilege to mine a strip of land the width of the right-of-way of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario railway for the distance of three miles. It also pays a 25 per cent royalty on the ore mined. Hence the name of the company enjoying the mining privileges. The big La Rose vein runs from that property to the railway right-of-way and runs parallel with the railway track for a considerable distance.

The Right-of-Way company has sunk a shaft just outside the La Rose gate and a few yards from the track. This shaft is now down seventy-five feet and drifting on the vein has been done for 170 feet. The vein has a width of between seven and eight inches and carries at least 3,000 ounces of silver to the ton. Stoping has been done for feet feet. The main shaft is being sunk 550 feet south of the shaft near La Rose, in barren rock and about seventy feet from the vein. It is a double compartment shaft and is now down 115 feet. It will be continued to the 150-foot depth. Stoping has been started at the seventy-foot level, but the vein has not yet been reached. In two weeks a forty-ton car of high grade ore and a thirty-ton car of second grade ore will be shipped. The high grade ore averages 3,000 ounces of silver and the second grade will carry 400 ounces of silver to the ton. The last car of second grade ore shipped by this mine averaged 550 ounces of silver to the ton.

The T. & N. O. railway is owned by the province of Ontario and the owners of the La Rose mine have set up a claim that they had the right to follow their vein under the railway strip. The action has been tried before two Canadian courts. The trial judge gave a verdict in favor of the railway company and the superior court confirmed the judgment. The appeal is now being taken direct to the privy council.

SANITARY EXPERT WILL BE ENGAGED

WATER BOARD PLANS TO BRING ENGINEER TO CITY TO MAKE STUDY OF SITUATION.

MAYOR AND CHAIRMAN TO ACT

More Estimates Upon Cost of Removing Plant—"Water Is Bad," Is Latest Report of Chemist.

Before taking action upon any of the projects that have been advanced in connection with the Marquette water supply, it has been decided that an investigation is to be made by an expert. At the meeting of the water board last night a resolution, offered by John Tobin and adopted by the board, is that the services of an expert sanitary engineer be engaged to pass upon the entire problem.

Committee Named.
In accordance with Mr. Tobin's resolution a committee composed of Mayor Robertson and Chairman Palmer of the water board and, if these two see fit, a third person to be chosen by them, are to take steps to engage an engineer. This engineer is to come to Marquette and investigate the entire situation, not only the source of a water supply, but also the disposal of the sewage of the city. At the meeting last night F. B. Spear was present and he offered a number of suggestions to the board.

In connection with the project to remove the water works plant to Presque Isle, presented to the board by H. W. Nebel, Mr. Tobin outlined a somewhat similar plan. Mr. Tobin's suggestion was that if the plant is to be removed, it be taken to Middle Island point instead of Presque Isle. When Mr. Nebel presented his plan he also gave an estimate of the cost of the work, and these is considerable difference of opinion upon this point. Mr. Nebel's figures are as follows:

Nebel Estimate.
Pipe	$ 76,500
Labor	34,000
Lead	2,500
Valves	400
Jute	311
New pump, electric and steam	20,000
Moving pump station	7,000
Moving machinery	4,000
Intake	10,000
Incidentals	5,000
Total	$159,711

Following are other estimates of the cost of the same work presented last night. The two estimates are based upon two sizes of pipe if the plant is to be removed to Presque Isle, and in the two cases, the total is larger than that of Mr. Nebel's estimate:

—24-Inch Pipe—
20,020 feet pipe	$ 92,100.00
Lead	3,250.00
Jute	333.60
Intake at Black Rocks	15,000.00
Gate valves	3,000.00
Fifty other valves	5,000.00
Special fittings	5,000.00
15,000 feet ditching	30,000.00
5,000 feet ditching through rock	20,000.00
Teaming	2,000.00
Well at Black Rocks	10,000.00
By Nebel Estimate—
Pump	20,000.00
Moving station	7,000.00
Moving machinery	4,000.00
Incidentals	5,000.00
Total	$220,359.60

As it was stated that should the plant be removed, a 30-inch or a 36-inch pipe, instead of a 24-inch pipe should be used, the following estimate of the cost for a 30-inch pipe was also given.

—30-Inch Pipe—
20,020 feet pipe	$135,150.00
Lead	4,587.00
Jute	400.00
Intake at Black Rocks	18,000.00
Gate valves	5,220.00
Fifty other valves	1,000.00
Special fittings	5,000.00
15,000 feet ditching	30,000.00
5,000 feet ditching through rock	20,000.00
Well at Black Rocks	10,000.00
Teaming	3,000.00
By Nebel Estimate—
Pump	20,000.00
Moving station	7,000.00
Moving machinery	4,000.00
Incidentals	5,000.00
Total	$269,357.00

A suggestion made at the meeting which seemed to meet with much approval was that the cessate question should be cared for before anything else and it was also contended that this question was one which the council only could attend to as the water board is without power to enforce the ordinance which forbids that the water of the lake be polluted. The ordinance can only be enforced by the council and not by the water board. Also the incident when the water board sought to take up the matter with President Mather of the Pioneer Iron company and when that official, replying stated that his company had an agreement with the council, not with the water board, was referred to.

The latest report upon the condition of the water was received from Ann Arbor yesterday. "This water is bad. Why should it be so?" is the comment of the chemist who analyzed the water. In the report it was stated that bacteria were present. The sample was taken after the wind had been blowing from the south for three days.

GOLDFIELD SITUATION.

Marquette Man Writes Friend Here Regarding the Outlook

The following letter was received by a Marquette man from Ben Gil, formerly with the Lake Shore Engine works, who went to Goldfield to take a position in the office of the Begole Syndicate: "Things are looking bad here for the immediate future. The registers have started from San Francisco and will arrive here tomorrow morning. Everything is quiet about the mines and with the exception of a hold-up, or fight occasionally, between men of different opinions with reference to local conditions, it is much the same as usual about town. While conditions just at present do not justify a call for protection there is no doubt but that there will be an abundance of trouble as soon as an attempt is made to operate the mines as the mine owners seek to conduct their own business, and as a precaution against loss of life and property, they are to have the troops here and make a test which will, no doubt, prove the future of Goldfield, as far as the Western Federation of Mines is concerned.

"There is a great deal of meanness about camp and considerable speculation as to what the outcome will be. The calling of Uncle Sam's regulars to your door is not at all pleasant, you know, and the women especially are feeling very nervous. Quite a number of people have left town and many others are preparing to go."

TO HOLD DANCE IN NEW MACHINE SHOP

CHRISTENING OF NEW PLANT OF THE LAKE SHORE ENGINE WORKS WILL BE A BALL.

CALUMET-HECLA BAND TO PLAY

Plans for Most Important Affair of the Season Made at a Meeting Held at the Library Last Night.

The new plant of the Lake Shore Engine works, north of the city is to be given a christening the first week of the new year and it is planned that a fair proportion of the city's population will take part. The christening is to be in the shape of a ball and it will without doubt be the most important affair of the season. The ball is to be held in the new machine shop, the largest of the group of buildings of the new plant. The proceeds are to be used to establish a fund for a new city hospital and are to be turned over to the managing board of St. Luke's hospital.

Meeting at Library.

Plans for the ball were outlined at a meeting which was held last night at the library. Those who attended the meeting are: H. H. Williams, J. E. Ball, F. G. Jenks, Albert F. Koepeke, E. W. McPherran, F. J. Jenkinson, Arthur Palmer and John D. Mangum. The exact date of the ball was not determined upon, but it will probably take place the Thursday or Friday following New Year's day.

Music for the dance is to be furnished by the celebrated Calumet & Hecla band. President Williams of the Lake Shore Engine works company stated last night that besides furnishing the building with heat and light, the Lake Shore Engine works would provide for the music of the band and would take a hundred tickets for the ball. Special trains are to be put on for the occasion. An L. S. & I. train will be one of these and will bring the guests from Ishpeming and Negaunee directly into the plant over the spur track which is now built. The Lake Shore Engine works will erect the boxes which are to be disposed of.

General Committee Named.

The new machine shop is a huge structure 240x80 feet in dimensions and for the occasion, the pattern shop, which is 43x80 feet will also be used. Supper will be served in the pattern shop in connection with the ball. The floor of the machine shop is of hard wood and it will see its first service on the night of the dance. The preparations for the ball will be in the hands of a general committee which was named last night. Besides this committee, a number of others are to be named and the aid of a large number of lady patronesses is to be enlisted. Those who are to serve on the general committee are: E. W. McPherran, J. E. Ball, H. H. Williams, F. J. Jenkinson and J. D. Mangum.
