

DR. J. B. BRADLEY IS THE NOMINEE

Michigan's Present Auditor General, Will Head the Republican State Ticket at the Election to Occur in November.

In Remarkably Closely Contested Primaries in Which Each of the Two Leading Candidates Polls More Than the Necessary Forty Per Cent, the Eaton Rapids Man Wins Out Over Governor Warner by a Plurality of from 2,500 to 5,000 Votes.

Detroit, Mich., Wednesday, Sept. 2.—Both the Detroit News and the Free Press will say this morning that Auditor General J. B. Bradley won the Republican nomination for governor in yesterday's primaries.

The Free Press will estimate Bradley's majority at 2,500, while the News places it at 4,000. It appears that with 387 precincts missing out of a total of 2,015 in the state, the vote was: Governor Warner, 70,363; Dr. Bradley, 72,012; Horatio Earle, 20,010.

For lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket, P. H. Kelly, the incumbent, had no opposition. Laurence T. Howens, of Mason, had no opposition for the Democratic nomination for governor, and the Democrats will nominate their candidate for lieutenant governor at a state convention.

Earle a Poor Third. Detroit, Mich., Wednesday, Sept. 2.—[Special.]—Nearly complete returns from all counties indicate the nomination of Dr. Bradley by from 2,500 to 5,000 plurality. Both he and Governor Warner each received more than 40 per cent. Earle received not more than 5 per cent. He carried but two counties—Keweenaw and Kalkaska.

Bradley's lead was mostly in the large cities; Warner's was mostly in the counties where the towns are small. Wayne county gave Bradley about 2,500, while his managers were claiming 10,000. Ingham county gave him 1,200; Kent gave him 2,000; Saginaw, 1,500; Arthur Hill, 2,500; Washtenaw, the home of Glazier, 1,100, and Eaton, where Bradley lives, 1,600.

Governor Warner carried Oakland county, where he lives, by about 1,500. Lenawee county, the home of Attorney General John E. Bird, went against Warner by about 600. Warner carried nearly every county from a line across the state from Midland county north to the straits by good majorities. He cleaned up in Huron county, in the Thumb district, by 1,300; Lapeer by 600; Grand Traverse by 800 and Oshtemo by 600. He carried most of the upper peninsula counties.

Except in counties where they were also nominating candidates for county officers, the vote was very light. The total vote for all three candidates may not exceed 125,000.

Congressman Fordney Renominated. Grand Rapids, Mich., Wednesday, Sept. 2.—[Special.]—At 1:30 o'clock this morning the returns from 1,366 precincts out of the 2,015 in the state give Warner 48,906, Bradley 69,963 and Earle 21,593. In the Third district, Washington Gardner is renominated without opposition. In the Fourth, Joseph Fordney, in the Eighth, and George A. Loud, in the Tenth. In the Eleventh, F. H. Dods of Mt. Pleasant beats George Covell of Traverse City, to succeed A. B. Darragh, by about 1,500. The following Republican congressmen were renominated without opposition: C. E. Townsend, G. J. Dickema, S. W. Smith, Henry McMoran and J. C. McLaughlin. The Republicans in all twelve will nominate congressmen in district conventions.

DEBS ATTACKS BRYAN.

Neither Is Taft Spared in Socialist Nominations Speech at Des Moines. Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 1.—Eugene V. Debs, socialist candidate for president, made a scathing attack upon Bryan and the Democratic party in his address here tonight. At the same time he did not spare Taft and the Republicans.

He criticized W. J. Bryan for having had himself photographed hand in hand with Charles Murphy of Tammany Hall, "which is the most corrupt political organization in the country," he said, adding: "With Roger Sullivan, whom Bryan classed as worse than a train robber, Bryan is now working side by side for the success of the Democratic party."

The recent financial depression gave Debs the text for a large part of his address, and he made it the basis of an appeal to the workmen.

MICHIGAN "SAFE" FOR TAFT. State Will Give Him 177,000, Denby Tells the Candidate. Middle Beach Island, O., Sept. 1.—Judge Taft received a number of visitors today, the most prominent being a delegation of veterans on their way to the Grand Army encampment at Toledo.

Representative Denby of Detroit assured the nominee that Michigan was "safe for Taft" by 177,000.

Mr. Taft will go to Toledo tomorrow to review the Grand Army parade. It is possible he may make a brief speech. The lake was too choppy for bass fishing today, and the proposed expedition to the fishing grounds was abandoned.

He Has Been Endorsed by Several Thousand Plurality—Lenroot Downs Judge Jenkins in the Fight for Congress. Milwaukee, Sept. 1.—The returns from the primary election in Wisconsin today indicate that the two leading parties have nominated the following:

Governor—James O. Davidson, Soldier's Grove, Republican; John A. Aylward, Madison, Democrat. Lieutenant Governor—John Strang, Oshkosh, Republican; Burt Williams, Ashland, Democrat.

Secretary of State—James A. Frear, Hudson, Republican; Frank B. Schurz, Milwaukee, Democrat. Treasurer—Andrew H. Dahl, Westby, Republican; William F. Pierstorff, Middleton, Democrat.

REPUBLICAN PARTY WINS IN VERMONT

State Is Carried for Prouty, for Governor, by 28,000 Votes Over James E. Burke, Burlington's Forner "Blacksmith Mayor."

Plurality Is the Smallest in a Presidential Year Since 1892, and the Democrats Have Made Considerable Gains in the Lower House—However the G. O. P. Controls Both the Legislative and Executive Departments and Will Name the New Senator.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 1.—The Republicans won the election in Vermont today by carrying the state for Lieutenant Governor Prouty, of Newport, for governor by about 28,000 votes over James E. Burke, of Burlington, his Democratic opponent.

The plurality was the smallest in a presidential year since 1892, when it was only 17,956 and was followed by a Democratic national victory, but it was larger in 1888 and only slightly less than in 1904. Compared with 1904, there was a falling off of about 8 per cent in the Republican vote, while the Democratic vote fell off 2 per cent.

The Independence league appeared for the first time, and polled about 1,000 votes, while the Prohibition and socialist vote remained about the same. The Democrats make some gains in the lower branch of the legislature. As Vermont is the first state to vote during a presidential campaign, there was much interest throughout the country in the size of the Republican plurality.

Republicans Will Choose Senator. The Republicans retain complete control of the legislative and executive branches of the government. They have elected to Congress from the Senate district, David J. Foster, of Burlington, for another term, and from the Second district, Frank Plumley, of Northfield, for the first time, and they have chosen a majority of the state legislature, which will select a successor to the late Senator Prouty. The Republican majority in the next house will be considerably reduced, however.

The voters were urged to support the Republican ticket by speakers of national importance during the past two weeks, discussing issues which will be heard in other parts of the country this fall. The Democrats fought the battle with James E. Burke, formerly known as "the blacksmith mayor," who was the standard-bearer. Late tonight Mr. Prouty expressed himself as pleased with the result, but reserved his statement until more complete returns are available. Mr. Burke said: "From the returns received by me, I claim that Prouty's majority will be under 25,000."

Result Is Gratifying to Hitchcock. Chicago, Sept. 1.—Chairman Hitchcock, of the Republican national committee, tonight expressed gratification over the result of the Vermont election, and said that in his opinion it presaged Republican success in November. He called attention to the fact that the called attention to the fact that the plurality today was only about 1,500 less than in the election four years ago, when Roosevelt was elected, while the total vote was reported 8 per cent smaller.

Mack Is Pleased, Too. New York, Aug. 1.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic committee, tonight expressed gratification at the result of the Vermont election.

MARQUETTE, MICH., SEPT. 2.

Nice day for an election, wasn't it?

Well, what do you think of the direct primary?

Now we will have a chorus of "I told you so's" from the winning side.

Among the notable things about yesterday's election is the number of people who did not vote.

Mr. Taft's serenity of temper is clearly indicated by the fact that he finds time enough to go a-fishing, even while the campaign is waxing hot.

When it comes to interpretations of the statutes what are attorneys when stacked up against Second ward election officials. Huh? Nothing at all.

As Mr. Lincoln once remarked: "You can fool some of the people all the time, and all the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all of the time."

A contemporary says "Bryan stands for tariff reform." He does indeed. He stands for a tariff that will place the American working man on the level with the workingman in Europe as to wages and conditions of living.

But yesterday, as it were, no newspaper in all the land manifested such bitterness toward W. J. Bryan as the New York World.

What a lot of trouble some girls make for their families. It is now reported that Helen Maloney is held a prisoner in her multi-millionaire father's home at Spring Lake, Pennsylvania.

HE MAKES IT VERY PLAIN. The judges of the court of appeals, which rendered the Standard Oil decision, seem still unable to comprehend the real questions which were before them.

But when it came to pass judgment it was on the offenses of the parent company that the Hoosier offering was found guilty and it was in accordance with the property and revenues of the parent company that the fine of the offering was gauged.

The record shows that the judgment in Judge Landis' court was given against the Indiana company. By what authority does the court of appeals say that it was against the New Jersey corporation?

SUPERIOR TRUST COMPANY HANCOCK, MICHIGAN Capital - $150,000. This company is under the supervision of the state banking department and is authorized by the law to act as executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver or trustee.

should have been gauged with reference to the property and revenues of the Indiana company. The issue is made plain in the attorney general's brief. He speaks of a letter carrier who extracts a letter from the mails and under the law receives the minimum sentence, a year in the penitentiary.

GUARANTY OF BANK DEPOSITS. In a recent address Judge Taft, commenting on the Denver platform demand for compulsory insurance of all national bank deposits, thus forcibly lays bare not only the injustice of the proposed system, but also its dangers:

The fundamental objection to the proposed plan is that it puts a premium on reckless banking. Relieved of the responsibility to and the fear of the depositors, the tendency would be to promote speculation at the expense of fellow bankers, and ultimately at the expense of the depositors.

In the same address attention is called to the fact that Mr. Bryan's original proposition was that the government provide a system for the guaranty of deposits of such national banks only as voluntarily chose to come under it.

But yesterday, as it were, no newspaper in all the land manifested such bitterness toward W. J. Bryan as the New York World. During a period covering years it hammered him early and late and for a year past it has presented fact and figure day after day to show that Bryan spelled disaster to the Democratic party.

EXCESSIVE FIRE LOSSES. Statistics of the National Board of Fire Underwriters place the total fire loss in this country for the year 1907 at $199,383,900. For the past five years the total loss is estimated, conservatively, at $1,257,716,955, an average loss of over $251,000,000.

This appalling loss constitutes one of the serious problems with which the country has to deal. That it is vastly excessive is generally conceded and steps are being urged all over the country to reduce the danger from fires.

Other supposed losses are frequently not losses at all, from the broader standpoint and put into another. One man, one industry, one community or one country may suffer, but another gains proportionately. But a fire loss is an absolute destruction of wealth, which leaves the world proportionately poorer.

That the fire loss in this country is greater than it should be is shown by a comparison with other countries. Statistics of the National Board of Fire Underwriters place Germany's fire loss in 1902 at $27,955,600, or a per capita loss of $4.9.

Or, in general terms, the average per capita loss in six leading European countries was $3.3, as against a per capita loss in this country for the five years ending with 1907 of $3.02. The American loss, in other words, was something over nine times as much per capita. The per capita loss in thirty leading European cities is given as $4.1, as against $3.10 in the five years' average of 252 cities in the United States.

which the danger of fire can be reduced in this country—by improving fire fighting facilities and by improving the construction and relative location of the buildings. Efforts are being made in all parts of the country in both these directions. The country is still comparatively new, many of its cities have been hastily constructed and the buildings in general lack the solidity and safety of the European structures.

TAFT OR BRYAN? Will the American people have the Roosevelt policies continued and administered by Mr. Taft or by Mr. Bryan? That is the real question before them for decision.

News has been received in the copper country of the death at Los Angeles, Cal., of Mrs. Louis Goggin, widow of the late G. Goggin, who was superintendent of the C. & H. stamp mill. Mrs. Goggin was sixty-three years old. The remains are to be sent to Chicago, where the funeral will take place.

A promoter is endeavoring to interest Ontonagon capital in a project to establish a creamery there. He is a representative of a Chicago concern that makes a business of building creamery plants. It recently established plants at Even and at Baraga. The proposed plant for Ontonagon would cost about $4,000.

The approaching end of the cricket season in the copper country is marked by a pretty three-cornered contest for first place. The Mohawk, Painesdale and Kearsarge teams are the leaders, each having won eight games and lost three. It is likely that a number of post-season games will have to be held to determine the final winner.

A mass convention of the Prohibitionists of Houghton county is to be held in the Laurium village hall Friday evening. The object of the convention is to elect delegates to the state congressional and senatorial conventions which are to be held in Houghton county.

An eminent mining engineer, who has spent considerable time in Alaska examining copper properties there, says: "The production of copper from Alaska in any amount is at least five years away so that no immediate attention need be paid to that situation. Mining in Alaska is a rich man's proposition, and before the Guggenheims received their severalty in Wall street, they were pushing things in Alaska. They have stopped aggressive work now, however, and are waiting for a return to better mining conditions. Millions of dollars have gone into this territory, but it will take many more millions before there will be any substantial investment returns, especially in copper. For some time, however, it can be attempted only during six months of the year, and this situation will apply until the mines are sufficiently opened up to permit of all-the-year mining. Labor also is tremendously high, which will be a deterrent factor. There are many very substantial copper deposits in Alaska and in years to come that country will probably be a valuable mining territory; but whether or not the Alaska deposits are of glacial origin and whether they are in fact worth mining, in the Valdez district copper has been followed to a depth of 400 feet where it was lost, but has come in again at a depth of 500 feet. The Guggenheim railroad will play a considerable part in opening Alaska, but copper people need to take no consideration of copper production from Alaska for five years at least. By that time additional copper supplies may be a necessity if the electrification of steam roads makes the progress now in prospect."

The Superior & Pittsburg. The Superior & Pittsburg company will be listed on the Boston Stock exchange at no distant date. The examination of the properties of the company has been made by Dwight E. Woodbridge, of Duluth. The report sent to the officials of the exchange is a very favorable one, says Bisbee advice. The Superior and Pittsburg are the most important properties of the company at present, owing to their being shipped for some time, but the Junction promises to be the largest of all. At the Houghton forty feet of high grade ore has been concentrated on its 1300-foot level in the No. 1 shaft. The most recent work on which the Lowell shaft is located. The Junction is fast approaching the stage where it will be classed among Bisbee's great mines. The 1300-foot level is showing up extremely well, all the workings being in ore. The last samples from crosscut No. 23 on this level averaged 19 per cent, the best average yet attained from this level. Last week work was resumed on the 1400-foot level, which is being increased as soon as the account of the large amount of water. A streak of sulphides has appeared in the breast of No. 2 drift, with good indications of larger quantities of the ore. The face of No. 1 is in leached material. The 1500-foot station has been begun and work is progressing nicely. The Superior & Pittsburg properties are at present shipping about 100 carloads of ore to the Calumet & Arizona smelter at Douglas weekly, and the shipments are likely to be increased as soon as water is enlarged to accommodate the ore.

COPPER IN ALASKA. An eminent mining engineer, who has spent considerable time in Alaska examining copper properties there, says: "The production of copper from Alaska in any amount is at least five years away so that no immediate attention need be paid to that situation. Mining in Alaska is a rich man's proposition, and before the Guggenheims received their severalty in Wall street, they were pushing things in Alaska. WOLVERINE. Although Wolverine directors will meet this month for the purpose of declaring a semi-annual dividend payable Oct. 1, they have not yet discussed the probable rate. In April, the company paid 85-cent reduction from the previous payment of 75-cent and at present it has in bank an amount more than sufficient to make another 50-cent payment. However, there will be a small construction item to care for this year, whereas in the fiscal year which ended June 30 the company did not spend a cent for this account. It is probable that for the first time in its history Wolverine in its current fiscal year will attain the 10,000,000-pound mark in the matter of refined copper production. The nearest approach to this figure was in 1904-05, when 9,700,000 pounds were turned out. With copper selling at 13 cents, the company is making approximately 100 per cent profit. Wolverine's cost of production is being kept down to rock bottom, and the company is, therefore, maintaining its position as the cheapest producer in the Lake Superior district. One of the tax stamps at its mill has just been compounded, thereby practically doubling the capacity of the plant. The mill is now being changed over and in about sixty days the mill should be ready to treat about 1,500 tons. Costs, with the new milling capacity, should be shaded somewhat further, - Boston News Bureau.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS. Old Colony continues underground exploratory work with indifferent results. Elm River new vertical shaft is making good progress. It passed through a hole showing some copper a few days ago and is now sinking in trap rock below the sixty-foot mark. No rock is being hoisted temporarily at the No. 1 shaft of Superior while the framework of the new rockhouse is in course of erection. The No. 2 shaft is 250 feet deep, has been enlarged to three compartments size, and is being cleaned out preparatory to sinking to greater depth. About 200 feet of lateral openings in this shaft shows no copper. No. 1 shaft openings are showing up well. The grading for the railroad is completed close to the shaft, but it is not likely that rock shipments will begin before Sept. 15. The Utah Consolidated is shipping to the Garfield smelter 800 tons of ore per day, from which it is securing a return of about fifty pounds of copper to the ton, or at the rate of 1,200,000 pounds per month. The Utah Consolidated should now be earning at the rate of slightly under $4 per share per annum, as against the present dividend payments of $2 per share per annum in 50-cent quarterly disbursements. The August copper production of the Butte mines was about 20,000,000 pounds. The preliminary figures show a material reduction in yield per ton, said to be due to a temporary lowering of the grade of ore mined, the average return of ore treated by the Washoe smelter being less than 3 1/2 per cent copper. Some official estimates make the average even lower. Parrot and Trenton ore will fall below the 3 per cent limit, and Anaconda, Butte & Boston and Washoe are but slightly above it. North Butte, with a yield of ninety-four pounds to the ton, again produced in excess of 4,000,000 pounds. During a recent debate in the Russian duma there were brought to light certain details concerning an attempted escape of political prisoners from Ekaterinopol prison. The prisoners, numbering twenty-one, had obtained explosives and revolvers, with the intention of blasting a hole in the wall while at exercise and thus escaping. The police had information of the plot a day before the attempt was to be made, but instead of seizing the explosives and revolvers and separating the prisoners concerned they allowed them to carry out their attempt and held themselves in readiness to attack the escaping prisoners. On the day fixed the prisoners of cell 10 and those of cell 12, who were ignorant of the plot, were at exercise together. When the explosion of the prepared bomb was heard by the hidden police and warders they rushed into the yard and fired indiscriminately at the prisoners, three of them, armed with revolvers, returned the fire, but were soon shot down. The eighteen other occupants of cell 10 shared the same fate. Ten fled into the prison kitchen where they were either shot or bayoneted. The innocent inmates of cell 12 were killed except a few who escaped by feigning death. They were ordered to go into their cell and when they reached the entrance the police fired upon them. The police and warders then entered the cell of the prison where prisoners awaiting their trial were confined. Escape for the unfortunate prisoners was impossible, the police firing upon them through holes in the doors, the men vainly trying to hide behind beds or falling on their knees praying to be spared. In three cells here three were killed and twenty-four wounded, the total death toll being forty prisoners killed and fifty-five wounded. Not even then was the horrible business ended. The corpses were mutilated, the women were maltreated and those injured were left unaided in the mud for several hours. - Chicago News. The number of calls for news showed a wide interest in the election.

Wanted to Vote for Gordon—A pretty good story is told on a wellknown Marquette man. He dried down to the polling place in the first ward yesterday. He wasn't enrolled, but swore in his vote with the statement that he was out of town on enrollment day. When asked as to his party affiliations he said, "I'm a Democrat, always have been and after the election in November you claps will be coming to me for my influence." He was handed out a Democratic ballot, and disappeared in a booth. Presently he stuck his head out to ask where Gordon's name was on the ticket, as he said he came down, and finally to vote for him. He was informed that that would have to continue his voting to the single Democratic candidate, Lawton T. Homans, the aspirant for the gubernatorial nomination.

Wanted to Vote for Gordon—A pretty good story is told on a wellknown Marquette man. He dried down to the polling place in the first ward yesterday. He wasn't enrolled, but swore in his vote with the statement that he was out of town on enrollment day. When asked as to his party affiliations he said, "I'm a Democrat, always have been and after the election in November you claps will be coming to me for my influence." He was handed out a Democratic ballot, and disappeared in a booth. Presently he stuck his head out to ask where Gordon's name was on the ticket, as he said he came down, and finally to vote for him. He was informed that that would have to continue his voting to the single Democratic candidate, Lawton T. Homans, the aspirant for the gubernatorial nomination.

STEEL MAY REPLACE TIMBER IN MINES

UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION WILL INVESTIGATE PROPERTIES WITH A VIEW TO ASCERTAINING WHERE IT CAN BE USED SATISFACTORILY.

The officials of the Oliver Iron Mining company plan to use steel and iron wherever possible in place of wood in their properties. Captain Charles Trezona, who is well known to most of the leading mining men of this range, and who is superintending the Oliver company's operations on the Vermilion, has been named as one of the committee of three to inspect the corporation's various properties on the several ranges, with a view to ascertaining where iron or steel can be used to advantage. With timber available for mining purposes rapidly disappearing and gradually becoming more expensive, the officials feel that they will sooner or later be compelled to use steel for general construction work where timber is now used.

Mining men do not believe that it would be possible to use steel for underground work to the same advantage that timber is now used, but the time will likely come when a change will be necessary. The steel sets, although heavier than timber, and put in position as quickly, as they would be of uniform size and not too cumbersome. The question is one that has received serious consideration by mining officials, but the use of steel as a substitute for timber underground has not yet been given a practical test.

Discussing the matter yesterday an Ishpeiming mining man said: "I have for some time past been of the impression that the mining corporations will eventually be obliged to use steel in a great many places where timber is now consumed, but I doubt very much if steel can be used to as good advantage underground as timber. During the past few years the mining men have realized that there will be before many years a scarcity of timber in this region, and that they must use it as sparingly as possible. Most of the principal structures now being erected are built of steel and there will be much of it used from this time on. Engine houses, shafthouses, shop buildings, trestles, etc., are now being largely built of material other than timber."

"By the use of steel in the construction of its own buildings, etc., the mining companies benefit their own industry and it is natural that they should use it in place of other material wherever possible. I have often wondered that the mining corporations did not long ago adopt a more general use of steel at the mines. With very few exceptions all of the trestles at the mines of this range are built of timber, when they could just as well be constructed of steel. A large quantity of timber is used annually in the erection of trestles and shafthouses, but steel is now taking the place of timber for the latter work, especially where large and substantial structures are required."

JANITORS CHANGE PLACES.

M. F. Lally to Have Charge of New High School, Also All Heating Plants.

There will be several changes in the positions of the janitors of the Ishpeiming public schools when they open next Tuesday for the fall term. M. F. Lally, who has been the janitor at the old high school building for several years past, also having general supervision of the heating plants and other machinery, is to be transferred to the new high school building, where he will have charge of the mechanical departments. The electrical appliances in the new building are extensive, as the clocks in the various rooms, also the one in the tower, are to be operated by electric power. The ventilating plant will be operated by an engine in the basement of the new school, but the heat is to be furnished from the power plant in another building.

Thomas Jeffrey, who was hired by the board at its last meeting, will be Mr. Lally's assistant at the new building. Richard Cole, the janitor at the Ridge street school will succeed Mr. Lally at the old high school building, and Emil Warner, also a new man, will have charge of the Ridge street building. Messrs. Davidson, Anderson and Warner will remain in their old positions. There were thirty-one applications for the janitorship of the new high school.

Miss Geraldine Quinn and Miss Millicent Parks have been engaged as grade teachers, and the Misses Nora Sullivan, Minnie Anderson, Laura Egan and Edna Embild are to be given odder positions. Miss Elizabeth Carlson has been promoted from the sixth to the seventh grade.

The auditorium of the old high school will not be used for school purposes the coming year, but four additional rooms are to be occupied in the basement. Two of these are at the northwest corner, the space formerly occupied by the domestic science department having been partitioned off. The other two rooms are to be on the southeast corner, where the drawing department was formerly located. The auditorium will probably be divided into four rooms another year, but it will not be needed the coming year.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. This case out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

OLD RATES RESTORED.

Cost of Railroad Transportation from Here to New York Increased.

The various railroads doing business in the Northwest yesterday put into effect a new schedule of rates to New York. A few months ago the second class rate from Ishpeiming to New York was reduced from $22 to $17.00, and under the schedule now going into effect the former rate is to be restored. It is reported that all of the railroads affected are a party to the new arrangement, so that the rates will be uniform. The rates were cut last spring, when there was a heavy exodus to the old country. The increase in the rate will be quite an item to the railway companies, which since the reduction last spring were furnishing transportation for less than at any previous time. When the reduction was made the various railway and steamship companies were pushing for foreign business and the rate was reduced with a view to capturing that class of trade. The foreign born people going from this section to their native place abroad usually travel either by third or second class. The first class rate was not reduced. The railway officials have maintained ever since the reduced rate went into effect last spring that the fare was much too low.

An eastern railroad was largely responsible for the reduction in the rate last spring. Its management was not satisfied with the foreign business it was receiving, and it cut down the rate in the hope that it would gain more travel. The other railroads were either obliged to meet the rate of the competing line or lose a large proportion of their foreign business.

THE MATRON AND THE MAIDEN

Maids: "The winds are simply ruining my complexion."
Matron: "Why don't you do something to prevent it?"
Maids: "Oh, I have! Really, I've tried half a dozen different creams and lotions, but—"
Matron: "Half a dozen? My dear girl, you wrongly accuse the winds. The rough, dry, irritated condition of your sensitive skin is caused by the promiscuous use of various toilet requisites. Why, if you will use the proper preparations you can actually laugh at the winds."
Maids: "Do tell me what kind you use; your skin is always so beautifully soft and white; do you know that I envy your lovely complexion?"
Matron: "For the last five years I have used, exclusively, the requisites recommended to me by Madam Martini and—"
Maids: "You can't possibly mean Madam Martini who made the hit in Carmen at the Metropolitan?"

Matron: "I certainly do, and by the way her success must be due entirely to her beauty, for goodness knows she has no voice."
Maids: "What did I start to say? Oh yes! I met her at one of Mr. Bloodgood's afternoon functions. Everyone was admiring her beautiful complexion and I was desperately anxious to know how she managed to keep it so perfect—so I just asked her!"
Maids: "Really! What did she say?"
Matron: "Oh she was perfectly frank! She told me that when she was thirty her skin began to get rough and scallow and the pores enlarged until they were dreadfully embarrassing. A friend told her to get a bottle of E. Burnham's Coarse Pore Lotion. Would you believe that it actually reduced the pores in two weeks? She began to use the Hygienic Skin Food and the Skin Bleach to remove the roughness and sallowness of her skin and—well you know what a lovely complexion she now has!"
Maids: "Perfectly entrancing! And she must be almost forty."

Matron: "Nearer fifty—it shows how a woman's beauty can be preserved by proper care and the use of select toilet requisites. Two years ago I began to get fleshy, but the Reducing Lotion absorbed the superfluous flesh from my arms and hips and you can see that I haven't the slightest sign of the double chin—although I have gained fully twenty pounds."
Maids: "Which of the preparations shall I use to prevent the winds from irritating my skin?"
Matron: "Get the Cucumber and Elder Flower Cream and before retiring, apply with a soft cloth, rubbing well over the face and neck. Wipe off all that is not absorbed. Don't use soap! Your delicate skin cannot stand it. You will find the Cucumber Cream a much more effective cleanser than soap and water so it removes all impurities from the pores and makes the skin soft, pure and elastic. Use only Medicated Complexion Powder. Always insist on getting the E. Burnham Toilet Requisites, none other are 'just as good.'"

PARAGUAY'S LATEST WAR.

Furnished a Revival of Old-Time Method of Revolution. Opposition Promptly Overpowered the Government—President Held in Own House a Prisoner—New Regime Not Likely to Increase Country's Prosperity

London, Sept. 1.—The Times prints the following interesting story of the latest revolution in Paraguay: The world rocks little of political doings in Paraguay, a remote republic in which changes of ministry are still effected by the time-honored South American method of revolution. But, as a study in republican government in a Spanish-American country, the story of the recent revolution is not without interest. The last upheaval had been in 1904, and since that date friction had existed in the ranks of the government, the "regenerating" section of the party having broken away at an early date and formed itself in a "radical" party. Failure to obtain certain positions and inability to secure a large enough share in the distribution of public funds may possibly have prompted this secession rather than any honest indignation at the policy of the ruling party. For a time the president of the republic, General Ferreira, maintained his authority with the support of the whole army, the police, and the firemen. But the defections of those whose names were unsatisfied increased, until at length the president could rely only on the police and the firemen and a few military officers. The police and firemen had been armed and well trained by Garcia, the Gefe Politico of Asuncion, but the minister of war claimed that they should be placed under his orders on the ground that they were national troops. Garcia, however, knew full well that the police were the mainstay of the president and himself, and retained the control of the force. The revolution was originally fixed for some day in August, but one of the opposition leaders, a major, told a few of his friends on July 1 that he would begin the revolt at once, and join him single-handed if they refused. Consequently eight of his friends, who were all civilians, consented to begin, and at 2:30 a. m. on the 2d they went to the artillery barracks, where, with the aid of sympathizing officers, they overpowered the supporters of the government. They at once put the guns in working order, harnessed up the mules, and left the barracks. The Maxim and other guns were then placed at points in the streets at a convenient distance from the central police station, and stores of ammunition were set in readiness for the attack. Somewhat similar measures were taken at the infantry barracks, where all officers who refused to join the revolutionists were arrested. Although the police on patrol in the streets had been quietly seized, the men at the central police barracks soon learned that trouble was brewing, and a small detachment of well-armed firemen sallied forth to scout. They were promptly taken prisoners. The police now began to fire on the gathering force of revolutionists, who quickly developed their attack. The fighting began at 5:30 a. m. on Thursday, July 2, and lasted until about 10 a. m. on Saturday, the 4th. Paraguay's only warship, an old cargo boat, characteristically named the Libertad, adhered to the government and bombarded the positions of the revolutionists, but had ultimately to surrender. The fighting was severe, and both parties fought remarkably well. The police barracks were shelled, and seventy dead were found inside when the struggle was over. The palace, the cathedral, and private buildings in the line of fire suffered considerably. The railway station was riddled, for when the revolutionists were dislodged from the center of the town they retreated to the station, remaining there until the end. Shells came through the roof and burst on the platforms. The total number of killed and wounded was estimated at 600 to 1,000. In the end the revolutionists triumphed, and the president was kept a prisoner in his own house. In other places besides Asuncion skirmishes took place, owing to the efforts of the revolutionists to get rid of the supporters of the government. But in only a few instances were people killed. The new regime is endeavoring to strengthen its position by securing the support of the old "Colorado" party at the forthcoming elections. The prospects of a stable government, however, are not bright, for the Colorados may very likely throw over their allies. The non-political Paraguayans think less of the damage done during a revolution than of the raids on the public elevator which are resorted to by every victorious party in succession. They look for the time when a steady tide of immigration shall set in, and when for sign blood shall have been so infused into the body politic as to alter the complexion of affairs. It is this kind of change which has improved the condition of political matters in Argentina. Just before the revolution the economic condition of the country was showing some improvement after a prolonged crisis, and the premium on gold was falling. Some hope of better things was derived from the approaching establishment of a Banco de la Republica, through gold can hardly be put on the market unless some equally solid equivalent is provided by the people. For Paraguayan tobacco there is a wide and increasing demand, and the prices of hides and timber have been tending upward. But the labor supply is intermittent and business organization is imperfect. The country requires more capital and better communications, but the chief needs of Paraguay are a settled government and a restoration of financial stability. Without these there can be no prosperity. Everywhere endeavor to be useful, and everywhere you are at home.—Herbert

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES

NEGAUNEE HIGH SCHOOL TEAM, SOON TO BE ORGANIZED, WILL PLAY UNDER THE REVISED RULES THIS FALL.

It is expected that the Negaunee high school will be represented by a fairly strong football team the coming fall. Most of the boys who played on last year's team, which was one of the best the school has had in a number of years, will be students again this year, and all will probably get into the game. It is expected that the team will begin practice work soon after school opens, and an effort will be made to secure games with all of the leading school elevens of the upper peninsula.

The official football rules for this fall have been issued. There are several changes, which probably will have a tendency to make the game more open and forward passing will be made a part of the game. The roughness, time to be taken out, and the intermissions between halves. Dissatisfaction with the rules was expressed last year by players on both college and high school teams, but these the rules playing indulged in under the old rules.

The change in which the football enthusiasts are most interested is the forward pass, although the alterations are not so great as to make much difference. The rule regarding that particular was altered to the extent that when the forward pass is legally touched only the mar of the passer's side who thus first legally touches it shall be entitled to recover the ball until it has been touched by an opponent. Also, if a forward pass is thus legally touched, tumbled and touched by another player of the passer's side before the ball has touched an opponent, the oval shall go to the opponents on the spot where it was first legally touched.

The new rules also state in regard to that play that while the ball is in the air for a forward pass, players of the defensive side may not use their hands or arms on opponents, except to push them out of the way in order to get the ball themselves. Players of the side making the pass may use the hands and arms, as in case of players going down the field under a kick. Neither side may, however, hold to tackle an opponent who has not the ball. In case a forward pass is illegally touched outside of these provisions the penalty shall be that the ball go to the opponents at the spot from which the pass was made.

The rule regarding hurdling and roughness has been changed to read "Loss of fifteen yards, point to be gained and number of downs to remain unchanged."

The field judge has been made time-keeper and with the umpire has jurisdiction over the ruling of a batted ball, which has been altered to read that the penalty for bating the ball forward is now a loss of five yards. An admission of twenty-five cents will be charged. The Negaunee team had arranged with the management of the Tamara Club for a game at the park here on Labor Day, but it is not yet certain that the grounds club will be secured for that afternoon. They had been previously engaged by the league baseball teams and the Negaunee and Ishpeming will play an exhibition game unless arrangements to the contrary are made between now and Sunday.

YESTERDAY'S ELECTION.

Supporters of Candidates for Representative Did Effective Work.

A very fair proportion of the enrolled Republican voters in Negaunee cast their ballots in the primary election yesterday. The committees working in the several wards for the candidates for representative to the state legislature were in a busy day. Carriages were at the disposal of all who did not care to walk to the polls and they were kept constantly on the move. On the campaign carriages were large banners which read "Vote for Gordon and Bradley." The McCabe carriages did not have any banners attached. The appearance on the street early in the morning of the Gordon carriages caused the McCabe supporters to let themselves out at most of them worked hard until the polls closed.

The majority of the votes were cast between 2:30 and 5 o'clock, after the men returned from the mines. The mining companies allowed the men to quit work at 2 o'clock, giving them a full day that they had ample time to vote after returning from work. There were a number of men on the streets during the greater part of the day, and particularly in the afternoon, after the mines closed, also during the early evening hours, until the result of the representative fight was made known. Unusual interest was shown in the contest between McCabe and Gordon, and both men had some staunch supporters here.

NEELEY-LEHMAN.

William E. Neeley and Miss Tessie Lehman, two of Negaunee's best known and most popular young people, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lehman on East Main street. Rev. J. O. Neeley, of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of the young couple's relatives and intimate friends. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Anna Lehman, and the groom's sister, Miss Isabel Neeley, while the groom was supported by his brother, James Neeley, and the bride's brother, George Lehman. Following the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Neeley received the congratulations of all present, after which a wedding dinner was served. The parlors and dining room were tastefully decorated for the occasion. The bride and groom left last night for Detroit and other points, to be absent a week or ten days. Upon their return they will immediately begin housekeeping.

CRICKET MATCH SATURDAY.

The members of the North of England cricket team are practicing every day for their game next Saturday afternoon at the Union park grounds with the Mohawk club. The copper country players will arrive Friday evening, and they will practice on the grounds Saturday morning. The wickets will be pitched at 2:30 sharp, and inasmuch as this will be the most important contest of the kind ever seen here, it is expected that the attendance will be large. An admission of twenty-five cents will be charged. The Negaunee team had arranged with the management of the Tamara Club for a game at the park here on Labor Day, but it is not yet certain that the grounds club will be secured for that afternoon. They had been previously engaged by the league baseball teams and the Negaunee and Ishpeming will play an exhibition game unless arrangements to the contrary are made between now and Sunday.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Albert Collins, one of the clerks at the First National bank, left last night for Virginia, Minn., where he will spend a vacation.

Sidney Williams, Negaunee agent of the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway company, returned Monday from Bismarck, where he spent a week visiting friends.

John D. Chubb, the Chicago architect, was in town yesterday and attended a meeting of the board of education in the afternoon, when business pertaining to the new high school building was disposed of.

Excellent progress is being made at the high school building. There are now eleven brick layers employed. Contractor Chaussee expects to have the building entirely enclosed not later than the first of December.

The Negaunee City band will play at the Marquette county fair next Tuesday. There will be a different band each of the four days, the Ishpeming band playing Monday, Light Guard Wednesday and Marquette band Thursday.

Mrs. Hattie Olmstead is conducting demonstrations for the E. Burnham company at J. E. O'Donoghue's drug store. She has a complete line of the company's toilet articles and her demonstrations are attracting general attention among the ladies of Negaunee. She will be at the store all this week.

The men in the employ of the Hemes Chimney company of Chicago have completed the brick stack at the new high school power house. They did unusually quiet work, having completed the job in ten full working days. The chimney is 100 feet in height, so that it went up at the rate of ten feet a day.

S. M. Crowell, for the past two years or so in the employ of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's land department here, left yesterday for Yaocot, Wash., where he is to accept a position with one of the largest timber concerns in that section. Mr. Crowell's position will give him a larger salary than he received here.

E. C. Anthony, wife and daughter, Mrs. Richard Eddy, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Fred Anthony, left Sunday night for Toledo, O., to attend the annual convention of the Grand Army of the Republic. Mr. Anthony has attended most of the Grand Army encampments of both the state and the nation since the organization of the Grand Army. They will be absent a week or ten days.

ISHPEMING

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

"There was some apprehension today regarding the outcome of the Vermont election, and traders in many instances were inclined to get out of long stock for the present. This resulted in a happy market for the greater part of the day, and trading was less active, although the effect is not expected to be more than temporary, unless the Republican majority is greatly reduced, in which event some reaction may be looked for. Superior & Boston has been sold through October. The Calumet & Hecla has been out of the market for over a month. A 14-cent price for electrolytic copper is now expected."

Mrs. E. E. Scribner and Mrs. Agnes Barber will serve tea at the Golf club Saturday afternoon.

Mesdames D. T. Morgan and M. Jenks will conduct the bridge party at the Golf club Saturday afternoon.

Michael A. Carso, quartermaster of the North Carolina steamship at Norfolk, Va., is home on a furlough.

The Misses Louise and Hazel Powell of Marquette are spending a few days in the city, the guests of the Misses Flora and Doris Elstrom.

The men employed at the mines were permitted to quit work yesterday at 5 o'clock, with a full day's time, in order to vote at the primary election.

James Olds and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Varcoe and Mrs. Alex Campbell, who spent the past three months visiting at their native place in England, have returned home.

William Noon and wife and Mrs. Sidney Adams of Marquette visited the American gold mine yesterday. The new silica driver being installed at the property will be in operation within a week.

The Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway company is preparing a survey for a line to connect with its system at the Berman location, extending to the North Lake district, where a mine is being developed.

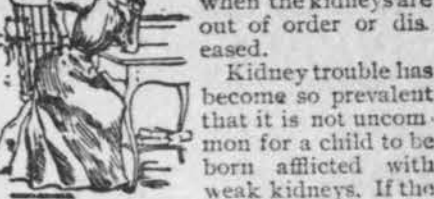

John Lacey and his sister, Miss Winifred, and Miss Esther Cronin, have returned from the national convention of the fire chiefs. They spent several days visiting other eastern cities.

The sale of reserved seat tickets for tomorrow night's entertainment of the Motion Picture company of Washington at Ishpeming theater will open this morning. There will be a complete change of program each evening and the prices to prevail will be twenty and thirty cents for seats on the lower floor and balcony and ten cents for the gallery.

A new school house is being erected at the American mine location. The children of that vicinity last year had to attend school at Humboldt, which is a considerable distance from the mine. The new school is similar in design to the one that the authorities in Humboldt township planned on building in the farming district. After receiving the Humboldt people below $1,200 bids, none of which were below $1,200 until next year, as it would be necessary to call a special election for the purpose of authorizing the expenditure of $400 in excess of the amount previously raised for that purpose.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

WARNER MAKES SWEEP OF U. P.

GOVERNOR CARRIES NINE OF FIFTEEN COUNTIES, AND WILL HAVE 3,000 MAJORITY.

MARQUETTE BOOSTS HIM

His Majority for This County Will Probably Reach 1,200, Despite the Fact That Bradley Carried This City by Small Vote.

Returns at hand at midnight indicate that Governor Warner will carry the upper peninsula well in excess of 3,000 votes over Dr. Bradley for the gubernatorial nomination. The indications are that the governor has carried nine of the fifteen counties, namely, Marquette, Chippewa, Schoolcraft, Menominee, Delta, Luce, Gogebic, Dickinson and Baraga. Bradley appears to have carried Houghton, Mackinac, Iron, Alger, Keweenaw and Ontonagon. In some cases the returns are far from complete. On such figures as were available at midnight it was possible to figure up 2,700 majority for Warner over Bradley, and in some of the counties favoring Warner full returns will doubtless considerably increase Warner's majority.

As was predicted would be the case Warner showed great strength in the counties where the vote was heaviest, in Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft, Chippewa and Marquette, where primary fights were being waged. Warner carried his counties by generous majorities, Marquette leading the list, with probably better than 1,200 votes over Bradley. Menominee came second with a majority as far as accounted for last evening of 800, which will doubtless amount to over 1,000. On the other hand the counties that Bradley carried he got by very slight majorities over Warner. Houghton county fell far below the expectations of the ardent Bradley men, the majority received by their candidate in that county, with two townships estimated, being but 134. Mackinac county did the best by Bradley of any of the upper peninsula counties, giving him a majority of about 200.

Some of the Bulletins.

Here are some of the details in regard to the upper peninsula counties received last evening by The Mining Journal:

Houghton county—Bradley, 874; Warner, 740; Earle, 686. Earle carried Calumet and Osceola, will be a surprise one to most of the people in this region in Marquette County.

Iron—Eight precincts out of thirteen in the county give Bradley 155; Warner, 54; Earle, 14. A bulletin says: "The estimated county vote is 900, of which Bradley has 75 per cent; Warner, 23, and Earle, 7."

Dickinson—The following dispatch was received: "Dickinson county gives a total vote on governor: Warner, 406; Bradley, 203; Earle, 88."

Ontonagon—Eleven precincts out of thirteen give Bradley 115; Warner, 75; Earle, 63.

Gogebic—Fourteen precincts in Gogebic county give Warner 383; Bradley, 140; Earle, 38. The five missing precincts will not materially change the above ratios, it is said.

Luce—Luce county gives Warner, 74; Bradley, 42; Earle, 6.

Menominee—Returns from twenty-one precincts give Warner 1,295; Bradley, 434; Earle, 106. The remaining precincts will, it is stated, go for Warner in the same ratio. Menominee nominated its county ticket by direct vote, and the vote polled was fairly large.

Alger—There are but meager returns. Mining is reported to give Bradley 25; Warner, 21; Earle, 15. Onota township, Bradley, 27; Warner, 15; Earle, 3.

Mackinac county—It is estimated that Bradley has 278 votes; Warner, 92; Earle, 35.

Delta—With five precincts still to hear from Governor Warner was reported last night to have a majority over Bradley of 40 in this county. It is said that the missing precincts will probably not greatly change this result, and it is thought that Warner has the county safe. The primary election for county officers was a hot one. The returns point to the defeat by 35 or 40 votes of Sheriff Aronson, who was vigorously fought by the reform element in the county, and the nomination of Adam Henry, a former deputy, who was dismissed by Aronson some months ago. The nomination of Peter Jensen for representative; Yelland for probate judge; Senger for clerk and Malman for treasurer is indicated.

Chippewa—Nearly complete returns at 10:50 o'clock give Warner a majority of about 300. It is stated that the Bradley wards in the Soo failed to deliver the vote expected of them, while the county districts favored the governor. The fight between James T. Bennett and N. L. Field for representative was reported last night to be very close. Chippewa was the scene of one of the warmest fights in the upper peninsula, the Bradley forces being particularly aggressive there. Chippewa was one of the counties in this region that the Bradley people claimed with confidence.

Schoolcraft—It is reported that this county gave Governor Warner 200 majority.

Warner Men Grieved.

The results in the upper peninsula as a whole were highly gratifying to the Warner men, as their claim that they would get the big end of the vote has been so far from the supporters of Dr. Bradley, many of whom have been offering to make wagers that Bradley would get to the straits with a majority. Warner, however, carries all the important counties, except Houghton, and the probabilities are that his total majority will figure out not far short of 4,000.

Outside of Houghton county Horatio E. Earle does not cut much of a figure in the vote, and his percentage of the total was small. His performances in

CARRIES BOTH MARQUETTE AND NEGAUNEE AND WILL HAVE MAJORITY OF OVER 340.

ELECTION PASSED QUIETLY

Successful Candidate Carried First and Third Wards Here and Piled Up Majority of 295 in Negaunee—Returns Not Complete.

Charles R. McCabe was a winner over John R. Gordon in the legislative contest fought out in the direct primaries in the first district of Marquette county yesterday. On the returns available last evening McCabe had a majority of 340, and the full returns are expected to increase, rather than decrease, it. McCabe carried both cities of the district and is expected to break even in the townships. Marquette he carried by 42 votes, while Gordon got the Second, Fourth and Fifth. Negaunee piled up 295 majority for him. He carried Chippewa township by seven votes, according to reports had last evening, while Gordon carried Powell township, of which Birch is the capital, by seven and Richmond by one. Other townships are yet to be heard from.

The details for Marquette are as follows:

Ward	McCabe	Gordon
First ward	59	97
Second ward	91	56
Third ward	79	137
Fourth ward	127	109
Fifth ward	90	87
Totals	446	486

Negaunee McCabe carried all the wards, the majorities being as follows: First, 50; Second, 28; Third, 12; Fourth, 11; Fifth, 86.

Marquette took a lively interest in the election. The vote was generally called small during the day, but the total, 932, was a fair proportion of the enrolled vote, and was by no means as small as some of the remarks made about it might have led one to believe.

The McCabe men showed a greater degree of organization than the Gordon forces yesterday. Their rigs were on the streets early, whereas those bearing the Gordon banners were not much in evidence until after the noon hour. At all of the polls, particularly in the First, Fourth and Fifth wards, there were groups of McCabe workers busy getting out the vote. In the Third, which Mr. McCabe carried by the largest return in any ward in the city, the list of enrolled voters was carefully checked over in the afternoon, and many voters were sent for and brought to the polls. During the day both McCabe and Gordon carriages were sent to the various plants in the city to bring out the men who desired to vote.

There was considerable confidence on the part of many of Mr. Gordon's friends that they would carry the city, and a number of wagers were made yesterday on that basis. The supporters of Mr. McCabe who had sounded sentiment in different parts of the city expected to pull their man through ahead, but did not look for any large majority, as it was known that a number of influences were at work that would give Mr. Gordon a very sizable vote.

The result in Negaunee probably was more favorable to McCabe than most people expected. McCabe was generally expected to win in Negaunee, and there had been much talk of large majorities. It was to large extent discounted, however, and not many people expected that McCabe would be more than 200 to the good in that city. The result showed that the effectiveness of the work being done for him had not been overestimated.

It is said that there was a general belief in Negaunee that McCabe would lose in Marquette. The claims of the Gordon men both in Negaunee and here were extravagant on that point.

At the closing of the polls the count was watched attentively by interested voters, and there was much inquiry as to the results in the different wards. In the Second the majority for Gordon was not as large as was expected by the friends of Mr. McCabe. The Third did about what it was expected to do for him. The Fourth and Fifth were largely unknown quantities, as comparatively little work was done in them until just preceding the election, and the McCabe forces felt after the count was made that they had gotten out of them in good order, particularly in the Fifth, where Mr. Gordon had the support of men who control a considerable vote.

The voting passed without unusual incident. Everything was quiet and peaceable at all the polling places. Many persons who had not been enrolled swore in their votes. This was particularly true in the Fourth ward, where the polling place was the band room of the city hall. A large number of voters swore that they had registered for the school election thinking that it entitled them to a vote in the primaries. This was held to be a sufficient excuse for their names not appearing on the enrollment books, and they were allowed to vote. As a general proposition the boards were inclined to be very lenient with persons who had not any sort of an excuse for not enrolling.
