

The Houghton county Republican convention lasted eleven hours. Cut out the work of the credentials committee and the Marquette county Republican convention would have lasted about eleven minutes.

Wonder if Mr. Taft's itinerary will include the great upper peninsula of Michigan? There's no use of looking for Mr. Bryan. His knowledge of what his persuasive oratory cannot do in this region, gained in 1896, will cause him to give this part of Michigan a wide berth.

There may be some anti-Hughes sentiment in New York, but there is very little of it outside that state. The rank and file of Republicans in the country at large, and many of the leaders, feel that it would be a disastrous blunder not to again make him the nominee of the party.

Now that Fred M. Warner is to be the first governor of this state to serve three terms in that office we presume the precedent is as good as established. In the future we might as well be prepared to elect all governors for three terms, and if we do the prospects are we will get pretty tired of some of 'em—Calumet News. But Governor Warner won't be the first Michigan man to serve three terms. There was John S. Barry, you know.

Over a hundred new citizens have been made in circuit court the past few days. They have been turned out with neatness and dispatch, but at the same time with assurance that they have fulfilled all the requirements that must be met before the final papers are issued. The new law and the manner of its enforcement marks a big advance on the old law. Citizenship is now surrounded by the scrutiny that its high dignity entitles it to. The day of indiscriminate naturalization has passed.

There will be precious little sympathy for the Marquette man whose realty assessment was increased from $875 to $3,000 because as surety on a liquor bond he swore that he was possessed of $3,000 in real property. The practice of swearing to something that isn't true is as pernicious and criminal one, and is all too common. Many people do not seem to appreciate the viciousness of the false oath. Doubtless the man in the case referred to did not. Perhaps the difference between his taxes this year and last will be the means of instilling a moral lesson.

One noticeable result of the primaries just held is the thorough elimination of the opponents of primary law reform as legislative candidates, says the Grand Rapids Herald. Most of these kept out of the contest altogether, and those that entered it were mostly found short when the ballots were counted. That the primary elections law, state, county and municipal, needs a thorough and careful overhauling is generally recognized, and there seems no question that the next legislature will be completely under the control of the friends of the direct nomination system that the needed reforms can be accomplished without difficulty.

Wayne county was carried by Dr. Bradley's friends, but Governor Warner's supporters were in full control of the county convention Tuesday. They had the organization and named the slates of delegates. They, however, used their power with discretion, and gave the Bradley men in the convention a large measure of recognition. But they kept a secure hand on the delegation to the state convention, it being said that from two-thirds to four-fifths of it is friendly to the governor. Governor Warner received a strong endorsement in the resolutions. As the Wayne delegation is numerically far and away the strongest in the convention the success of Governor Warner's friends in controlling it is highly significant.

The Marquette County Agricultural society's annual fair went off very well this year, being favored by exceptional weather and a large attendance. The exhibits of vegetables, grain and fruit crops were highly creditable, considering that the season has been a poor one, owing to the excessive dryness, and again has led those who have observed them to conclude that upper peninsula agriculture has yet a long way to go before it will realize its possible development. In connection with the exhibits the society has offered a varied program of sports that has appeared to satisfy the patrons and send them away pleased. The directors and officers of the association give its affairs a lot of attention, and all they can possibly get out of it is the satisfaction of pleasing the public, and a pretty critical public at that. This year they have done this in a manner there is no gainsaying.

Timely rains appear to have put an end to the forest fires on the Mesaba range and to have relieved the strain on the people of Hibbing and the numerous other towns that have been threatened with destruction for some days past. The Mesaba range has been the severest sufferer in the fires this season, with the destruction of Chisholm standing forth as a real disaster. Only the most strenuous work, undaunted against heavy odds, appears to have saved Hibbing and other towns on which the flames descended. In this region the fires do not appear to have been as serious as were those of two years ago the present fall, when many farmers were burned out. They have been bad enough, at that, however, and suggest the need of more precautionary measures against their recurrence, and perhaps some legislation on the subject.

The county conventions throughout the state appear to have been peaceful affairs. Harmony was the keynote for practically all the gatherings. The divisions of the party which had been for several months waging a strenuous campaign over the governorship had, apparently, little difficulty getting together. In some counties the friends of Warner had control of the conventions; in others the friends of Bradley were in the saddle. As a rule neither tried to push their advantage unfairly, but made up delegations representative of all interests in the party. The real campaign will doubtless be Democratic hopes that they will profit from Republican dissensions. There appears to be no general sympathy with the proposal to question the primary results. The great mass of Republicans in the state will be satisfied to accept the returns as determined by the state canvassing board, and will vote their ballots straight, for Taft, Warner and the other party candidates.

Dr. Bradley is quoted as saying that he feels he owes it to his friends to make an investigation of the alleged irregularities in connection with the recent primary in Michigan, and therefore he has placed the matter in the hands of his lawyers, and will be governed as to his future action by their advice. The irregularities were greatest, Dr. Bradley says, in those counties which returned Governor Warner the largest majorities. So much for the Bradley side of the case. The public may be assured that Governor Warner's friends will match lawyer by lawyer in this little post-primary game. When it comes to irregularities the Warner people have a pretty tale of their own to tell. It is this condition that makes agitation of the matter so bootless. Irregularities there doubtless were, but neither side had a monopoly of them and for the state at large they doubtless offset themselves. It will occasion regret that Dr. Bradley has seen fit to follow the Detroit Free Press' lead in this matter. His earlier attitude was more sportsmanlike and gave rise to a belief that he would accept the results of the official canvass without demur, and wait for another occasion for carrying his case to the people. And perhaps he may yet.

ITS FINAL TEST.
On Oct. 22, after six months of trial, the people of Cleveland will decide whether they wish to continue the municipal control of street railways. At last spring's election they supported Mayor Johnson's policy of city control and 3-cent fares. This policy had been worked out in detail as accurately as traction men could work out a plan which had never been tested by practical operation. Theoretically it seemed to them perfectly feasible. But as usually happens with a new policy unforeseen difficulties began to crop up as soon as theory was exchanged for practice.

The first of these unforeseen difficulties was a strike of employes, which added tremendously to the cost of operation during the first month or two. Others have grown out of the lease by which the old company transferred control to representatives of the city. Other difficulties came from the attitude of the local banks which, it is believed, will refuse to carry the notes of the company any longer. The old company kept in each of these banks a considerable cash deposit. The new municipal company has not had the cash to deposit because of its low fare and its expenditures for improvements. So the banks threatened to call in the notes, which amount to $1,288,000.

It is the rare exception when a radical innovation works smoothly from the beginning. The fact that Mayor Johnson would meet unforeseen difficulties was a safe prophecy. The only question was whether the people of Cleveland would have enough faith and enough patience to give him time in which to overcome these difficulties. That question will be answered Oct. 22.

Two aunts of James S. Sherman, Taft's running mate, spell their name "Shearman."

BANK DEPOSIT GUARANTEES.
In an address delivered just before the close of the Vermont campaign, Congressman Hill of Connecticut pointed out some of the rank injustices which would result in his state from an attempt to apply Mr. Bryan's compulsory guaranty theory. In Connecticut there are eighty national banks, seven state banks, twenty-five trust companies and eighty-seven savings banks, with total deposits of $342,838,031. Practically all banks would be drawn under the federal law by the proposed Bryan guarantee scheme, for those outside it could not meet the competition of those inside, advertising a federal guarantee to all depositors. If an assessment of an eighth of one per cent were levied on the Connecticut banks, the state would have to pay into the federal fund $428,470 a year, $320,465 of it coming from the savings banks, which have no stockholders, and being therefore, deducted directly from savings. "What would Connecticut get in return for this contribution?" asks Mr. Hill; and he thus effectively answers his own query:

Connecticut would have the entire amount of losses to depositors in her banks, so that, if this beneficent Bryan plan had been in effect for the last ten years, assuming the same average of deposits as last year, Connecticut banks would have paid out $4,285,547, and their depositors would have got back $31,387,790. She would, however, have had the privilege of helping make good the losses to the depositors of the speculative banks and stock gambling trust companies of Wall street and numerous other similar institutions in other parts of the country.

The foregoing is one of the most effective exposures of the plausible but fallacious, unjust and dangerous scheme that Mr. Bryan is now specially exploiting. As Mr. Hill puts it, a uniform guarantee of deposits at an equal assessment is in effect a guarantee by the United States of the honesty, integrity, general business ability and special good judgment of 20,000 boards of directors and all of the officials of the banks which they represent. Long experience, demonstrated integrity and ability, thorough knowledge of the community and its industries, all these and many other things which would grade the risk if it were purchased from any indemnity company on earth, all count for nothing in this wildly paternalistic Bryan scheme which is condemned emphatically by every recognized banking and financial authority on earth.

Banking conditions in different sections of the country are different, discount rates are different and risks are different. Why, then, should the government attempt a forced equalization of credits, and tax Connecticut or New York or Michigan to help business and secure depositors in Arkansas, Oklahoma or other states where high interest is paid to catch deposits and great risks taken in loans in order to secure 10 to 12 per cent returns?

Tea is now elevated to the dignity of a germ destroyer. Dr. McNaught, the medical investigator, has found that the typhoid bacilli placed in cold or lukewarm tea are greatly diminished at the end of four hours and have completely disappeared at the end of twenty-four hours.

LOW RATE TO WEST MICHIGAN STATE FAIR.
The South Shore railway has announced a low rate of $14.65 from Marquette to Grand Rapids, Mich., and return, all rail, via Mackinac City, and the G. R. & L. R'y. Tickets on sale every day, Sept. 15th to 17th, inclusive. Return limit Sept. 20th. (8-18-9T-2W)

PULL THE MOTE OUT.
The assets of the Free Press wants Governor Warner to pull out because of the F. P.'s insinuation that "there is a flaw in his title." It would be interesting to know what evidence there is that the candidate who polls the requisite number of votes under the law has a flaw in his title. If that is the last four volumes it is up to it to place it before the public. In numerous towns out because the newspaper in question failed to land its candidate out of court.

The F. P. refers to the story that there were "alleged wrong-doings" in the late primary. Quite possible. But in the absence of positive evidence who is to name the guilty party? Where would one naturally look for questionable practices in a primary or election? Hardly in the farming districts. The late voters' poll for Dr. Bradley was in the cities and towns the centers of population. Had the general center been nominated by that vote could the F. P. be charging wrongdoing? Not at all, though the story has gone through the state that a fund of $100,000 was raised for the purpose of the campaign to promote Dr. Bradley's interests and that hundreds of Democrats in the river districts in Detroit were enrolled as Republicans for hire to vote for Bradley.

No one questions, as the F. P. says, the right of the voters to judge for themselves an expression of their desires respecting party nominees, and that right was enjoyed.

There wasn't a voter in the state deprived of a full and fair expression of his desires. Under the primary law, the voters were to be taken into account. When he enters the polling booth he is free to exercise the full right accorded him and none can interfere. And the Free Press well knows it. If the voter votes for the candidates and sets his right of expression in the primary, that is something which none of the candidates can prevent.

Political trickery is rarely if ever found in the rural districts or small towns. It is fed and fostered in the large cities where hundreds of unscrupulous men are always in the place. No doubt there may be some corruption to an extent in the late primary. There has never been an election or primary in a state contest when such has not existed. The city of Detroit offered the most inviting field for questionable practices in the late primary of any locality in Michigan and there is more available material for fraud there than in all the entire state besides.

But there isn't a particle of evidence that either Dr. Bradley or Governor Warner were parties to fraud in any locality. The Tribune believes now, as it did at the outset, that neither of these gentlemen were for a moment countenanced wrong doing in the campaign. Both of them conducted an honorable canvass and neither has any regrets as to his own personal action.

When the Republican party by a majority vote expresses the wish that Governor Warner pull out he will undoubtedly give the subject the consideration it deserves, but he isn't likely to give even scant courtesy to the mandate of an independent Democratic newspaper. The Republican party in Michigan is the Republican party in Michigan.

The Republicans of Michigan are content to abide by the results of the returns. Whomever those returns declare to be nominated, he it is that under a government guaranty, as he is respected as the governor of Michigan, the ensuing two years if elected in November—Bay City Tribune.

GUARANTEE OF DEPOSITS.
Editor Mining Journal:—In your issue of today appears an alleged reply to Mr. Bryan and his advocacy of government guaranty of deposits. It is drawn from the actual experience of its only, I believe, so far adherent—Oklahoma—which on its face is so shallow and absurd as to surely need but little in fact or argument to stand refuted. And as The Mining Journal itself takes the position, and properly so, in its support of guaranty, it should not be a partisan question, I take it it will not refuse space for a few words in reply to the statement of this Mr. Frank Lee.

The sole and only point to it is that under a government guaranty, as he is respected as the governor of Michigan, the ensuing two years if elected in November—Bay City Tribune.

Upper Peninsula
Bryan and Kern Club—
A Bryan and Kern club has been organized at Iron Mountain. The officers are: President, Hugh McLaughlin; vice president, Thomas J. Sheehan; secretary, Leo M. Mortenson; treasurer, Martin H. Hartwig. The club expects to take an active part in the campaign.

Another Industry for Menominee—
The last of the machinery is being placed in position in the woodworking factory of D. F. Daley in North Menominee and the plant will be ready for operation in the near future. Appliances for making columns of all kinds, stove legs for big stoves and casks and spindles of all varieties and sizes is in place. The plant will employ a large force of men and will operate all the year round.

New Mill Being Constructed—
The insurance on the old Buckeye stove mill at Gladstone has been satisfactorily adjusted, the loss being total. The property represented an accumulation of nearly $50,000 and was insured for $200,000 by a company in Chicago. The new mill, which will probably be completed about the last of November, the plant will employ about twenty more hands, and have an output considerably larger than the old. Concrete foundations are now being laid. The main mill will be 50x125 with a wing 24x80, the hoop departments occupying space 78x50 and 30x70. The boiler house, to be concrete of brick, will be 51x33, and a concrete dry kiln will be erected, 100x40. The mill will be well equipped with hydrants which will give connection with the city mains.

Menominee's Schools—
E. J. Shives of Monroe, Mich., who succeeds H. W. Kirkland as superintendent of the Menominee schools, is an advocate of clean athletics. Football practice has already begun. Fred S. Norcross, ex-captain of the Michigan varsity team and present coach at the Oregon University, together with Attorney Fred Haggerson, has been coaching the boys for a few weeks past. Only one grade room will be taught at the high school building this year. The deaf school will be in the Roosevelt building, with Miss May Howlette as teacher. There are five deaf pupils. The new manual training teacher to succeed John Besock, who resigned in order to accept a better position in Montana, is D. W. Bradford of Richmond, Va. There is also a change in the principal of the high school this year, J. B. Krouch of Normal succeeding E. Reynolds. The Normal training school will have as principal Miss Hazel Akeley. She will be assisted by Mrs. Sawyer as critic. Two rooms at the Liberty street school will be used for the Normal training of county teachers and it is expected that some fifteen or more young women will be enrolled. Among the teachers in the grade schools are twenty-three Menominee young ladies, who have been graduated from various Normals and universities throughout the country.

Is an Agricultural Enthusiast—
Judge Flanagan, president of the Sagola Lumber company, is very enthusiastic and optimistic relative to the agricultural possibilities of Dickinson county and the upper peninsula. He is also a persistent and insistent advocate of good roads. In conversation with the Iron Mountain Press the other day Judge Flanagan declared that, in less than five years, he would have a farm of a thousand acres in Sagola township. In his opinion nearly every acre of land in Dickinson county is capable of cultivation, and he predicts a great future for the region affords a cash market for everything the farmer can grow. Judge Flanagan asserts that we do not appreciate our possibilities as a farming region for the necessity of advancing our prosperity by building good roads. He believes that, with a good road extending from Iron Mountain to Republic, Marquette county, many farms would be developed in a short time. Judge Flanagan, it can be said, is practicing as well as preaching his theories. Perhaps no township in the peninsula has better

IMPROVEMENT AUTHORIZED.

Board of Supervisors Voted Appropriation for Poor House Barn.

At its meeting yesterday the Houghton county board of supervisors authorized the expenditure of a sum not to exceed $10,000 for a barn to be built in connection with the new poor house, and as the structure is designed to house the livestock of the farm through the winter, the work of building it will doubtless begin at once. The plans, which had been prepared, were submitted at the meeting yesterday.

Supervisor Goggin, of the building committee, placed the matter of the new barn before the board. He also asked for an appropriation of $1,500 for a lighting plant. It had been planned to install a plant governed by power furnished by a gasoline engine and it had been estimated, he stated, that this plant could be put in at a cost not to exceed $1,500. This matter was not acted upon, however. At the board's next meeting figures for current to be brought from a power company, or from some electric power, will be submitted, and if it is found that the installation of an independent plant seems the most advisable thing to do, it is likely that the board will empower the committee to go ahead with the work.

Improvements of various kinds are to be made at the county detention hospital. Chairman Edwards stated that the work, which was authorized by the board some time ago, had been delayed by the unwillingness of workmen to go near the place while smallpox cases were being treated there. At the present time there is but one case at the hospital and it will probably be discharged within a short time. The communication from the state prison board, recommending that steps be taken to enlarge the capacity of the county jail, was read at the meeting, but no action was taken upon it.

An option for certain tracts of Iron county land owned by Houghton county was extended eight months upon the petition of R. Skiff Sheldon, to whom the option was given a year and a half ago. The land for which the option was given was granted to Houghton county by the state some years ago as a reward for road building.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION TODAY.

The Republican convention for the thirty-second senatorial district will be held at the Laurium village hall this afternoon. There is no opposition to the nomination of Senator Charles Smith of Hubbard. Twenty-nine delegates are entitled to seats in the convention. The district includes Houghton, Baraga, Keweenaw and Ontonagon counties.

REPORT FOUR WERE BURNED.

Keenwood That Farmer and Children Sought Safety in Well from Fire.

A report which was brought to Houghton yesterday, but which it was not possible to authenticate, is that a Finnish farmer and his three small children lost their lives in one of the forest fires on the Otter river. It was stated that the four bodies were found Wednesday afternoon in the bottom of a dry well. Destruction from fires in the woods along the Otter river, has been widespread, but few many, if any, dwellings were burned and is not yet known. It is believed that it was in one of the areas that the Finnish farmer found himself and his children trapped. Unable to keep in advance of the flames, those who told of the case say that he and the children climbed into the well, hoping that the fire would pass over them, and were suffocated.

Damage done by the fires in Keweenaw county has been as extensive as elsewhere, and persons who have passed through the burned area within the past two days say that the danger is fully as great now as it was a week ago. It is said that a number of farm houses and buildings were burned. One of those who suffered loss is Andy O'Neill, who lived on a homestead about eleven miles east of Eagle river, with his wife and two children. At the time of the fire neither O'Neill or his wife were home. Their three children escaped to Phoenix. It is stated that there is some danger that Fred Park, the Copper Range road resort on the lake shore, about twenty miles from Houghton, will suffer from the fires that have occurred all around it.

EXCURSION BOAT ON ROCKS.

Vessel, With Sixty Clergymen and Families, on Way to Calumet Wrecked.

Widespread alarm was caused in the copper country, and particularly among the delegates and visitors attending the Detroit conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, by the report that the excursion boat, the Conestoga, with sixty ministers and their families, had gone on the rocks on the west coast of the Keweenaw peninsula. The Conestoga was due to arrive in Portage lake yesterday morning, and the report that she had been wrecked came as a startling answer to the inquiries that had been set afoot when the vessel failed to arrive on time.

It was stated yesterday that the Conestoga and her passengers were in no immediate danger, and the report that she had been wrecked came as a startling answer to the inquiries that had been set afoot when the vessel failed to arrive on time. GRIN REAPER CLAIMS THREE.

Two Copper Country Pioneers and Hancock Young Man Pass Away.

John G. Wiedenhofer, an aged and widely respected resident of Hancock, died Wednesday afternoon after an illness of five weeks caused by a stroke of paralysis. He came to Hancock from his native home in Germany just forty-two years ago, and was fifty-two years old when he died. He was a prominent member of the German Lutheran church of Hancock. Besides his widow, he is survived by two sons and a daughter. Another copper country pioneer who passed away this week was Jacob Weiss of Lake Linden, who died Wednesday morning. He was a native of Bavaria and had been in Hancock since coming to this country in 1839. He became a resident at the old Cliff mine location the year following and while living there married Miss Margaret Dimmer. They lived at Copper Falls and at Calumet before removing to Lake Linden thirty-seven years ago. Mr. Weiss was prominent in Catholic circles. Besides his wife he is survived by five sons and a daughter.

Another death that was a shock to many in Hancock was that of James Shea, son of John T. Shea, whose death was reported in this column a few days ago. He was twenty-nine years old and had lived in Hancock all his life.

In the Houghton High school there are twenty-eight seniors, thirty juniors, thirty-two sophomores and sixty freshmen. Fifty-six students are taking the commercial course. In 1899 there were just forty pupils in the entire school. Just a few years ago when the school was built there was much opposition on the part of some taxpayers who considered that it was a waste of money to build a large structure. There would never be pupils enough to half fill it, they said. Since the enrollment this fall it has been found that the school is filled to over-crowding and it will require the next year of calculation to provide seats for all of the pupils.

Mining News

DAVIS-DALY.

That F. Augustus Heinze is making progress in reorganizing his companies and rehabilitating his fortunes is indicated by the reports of the reorganization plans of the Ohio Copper company, the Davis-Daly copper company and the Davis-Daly Estates Copper company, writes a Putte correspondent. It is also announced that the affairs of the Stewart Mining company are in a fair way of settlement, and that there will be a resumption of the mine and mill in the near future.

Butte stockholders of the Davis-Daly company have received notice of a special meeting that will be held in New York for the purpose of perfecting the reorganization of that company. The new company is to be known as the Davis-Daly Copper company and will have a capital stock of 600,000 shares, 70,000 shares less than the old company, and the old stock will be exchangeable for the new upon the payment of a $2 assessment. The new stock has a par value of $10 per share; the old was $15 par, and was consolidated at $12.50. The new stock will therefore stand the subscribers $14.50 on the old basis of subscription. There is mention in the talk about the reorganization that the vendors are to turn into the new company the old debt, but in that there is no information about this additional property, unless it is the Daly property on which the vendors hold unpaid options, but the title to which, of course, stands in the original owners. The vendors were supposed to be liable for the deferred payments on the great lateral shaft of the Gironx from a depth of 1,000 feet to the surface, but it now appears that there is a substantial controversy over that question and the vendors will make good by turning over some additional property interests, so it is assumed, consisting of a quarter interest in Davis estate mining property and city lots, and some other mining interests indefinitely described property belonging to the vendors.

The debts of the company aggregate about $400,000, possibly more, including $200,000 in mortgages on property, $100,000 in unpaid options, and about $100,000 in a floating debt. After paying all obligations the company expects to have a fund of about $700,000 for development work, if it is successful in collecting the $2 assessment. The old company has already spent about $700,000 in development work, equipment, etc. The company is laboring under the mistake made from the beginning of operations, and still being carried on, of making unfounded statements regarding the results of development, or permitting over-zealous friends to make them. Reports of a great strike of 12 per cent copper ore and a vein full of it in the Original crosscut were persistent last year, and despite denials from reliable sources the falsehoods were spread and believed. Lately there have been more reports of large strikes in the Colorado mine, which have not been made. Several veins have been cut and they contain good ore, but not in commercial quantity or quality.

Of all the properties owned by the Davis-Daly, the Colorado is most likely to develop into a copper producer. The "big strike" in the Colorado mine has been persistently reported last year, has "peppered" out, and the lessee who made the strike had to abandon their lease because there was no more ore in the "rich" vein and the ore in the other vein did not pay for mining.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

Miami expects to handle 2,000 tons per day and has the ore reserve to enable it to do so, but it will be well into 1910 before the first unit of the mill is in operation and well toward the end of the year before any such production can be reached.

Mohawk production for August was about the average for this year so far (but was below that for the same month a year ago and in 1906. Mohawk is not a bonanza property, but is one of the Kind that is always doing well. The indications are now that the Keweenaw will be much the same kind of a property. No official statement of the mill run from the Melora shaft has been given out but it was understood to be satisfactory to the managers.

The Palakala has now received the last assessment from the stockholders and it is expected to have the smelter at Coram in operation within a few weeks. Many believe that there will be a combination of the First National and the Trinity Copper companies.

Greene-Canaan production is now on the basis of about 45,000,000 pounds per month from four furnaces of the new smelter. This is a better record than the old management made with eight furnaces. The cost is gradually being reduced and everything indicates that Greene is to be one of the large low-cost producers.

The interference with the operation of the Granby smelter caused by the troubles at the coal mines is over but the directors did not declare a dividend at their meeting last week. The smelter of the Dominion Copper company, which was closed down for the same reasons, has been started up and the company hopes to make fair profits even on the present metal market.

Superintendent R. M. Edwards of the North Lake property has made arrangements for the commencement of active operations at the property at once. Two diamond drills will be put into operation. From the data regarding the lode as evidenced by the work at the Lake property, there is little doubt that the old management made with eight furnaces. The cost is gradually being reduced and everything indicates that Greene is to be one of the large low-cost producers.

Quincy managers have met with much success in reducing the cost of production. The economics of the year and those expected from the completion

The display was a large one, consisting of sheaves of the grain and fodder crops, samples of the various grains and many vegetables. It occupied considerable space in the administration building and Mr. Laurier was busy the afternoons of the fair answering the questions of people who were attracted by it.

Today the court will take up the case of the People vs. Sam Dazi, Andrew Bernardi and Basil Roman, who are charged with murdering a countryman on the Swanzy range a few months ago. The taking of testimony will require the entire day, but it is expected to finish the case tomorrow.

MANY ATTENDED BANQUET

Michigan Telephone Co. Entertained Marquette People Last Evening.

A number of Marquette people were the guests of the Michigan State Telephone company at the banquet given at Menominee last evening in honor of Vice President Fairbanks and other distinguished visitors to that city. True they did not sit down to the tables and partake of the toothsome menu that doubtless was discussed in the banquet hall, but they heard the music and were able to follow as many of the toasts as they cared to.

All this came about through the enterprise of the Michigan State Telephone company in making a long distance connection with the banquet hall, and then throwing subscribers onto the line. During the early part of the evening the orchestra could be heard playing a program of overtures, and the buzz of conversation in the banquet hall was discernible. The noises were mingled and confused, as they always are at this stage of a banquet.

When the cigars were lit and the chairs drawn back from the table there was a different tale to tell, however, and the listeners had an object lesson in the excellence of the long distance telephone service. Every word uttered by those who responded to toasts was as clearly audible as if the Marquette listener was present in person in the banquet hall. The toastmaster was Roger M. Andrews, publisher of the Menominee Herald-Leader. The principal toast was responded to by Vice President Fairbanks, who spoke eloquently and well.

Was a Red Letter Day.

The event being celebrated yesterday was the forty-fifth anniversary of the Menominee Herald-Leader. The plan of getting Vice President Fairbanks and the other distinguished guests to Menominee was outlined by Mr. Andrews. Yesterday was Fairbanks' day at the Menominee county fair and one of Menominee's "red letter" days. There were thousands of visitors in the city.

The exercises of the day opened with a cannon salute, after which Vice President Fairbanks, Senator Wm. Alden Smith and other distinguished guests were entertained with an automobile ride. A "Fairbanks" tree was planted at the John Lemmes Park with appropriate ceremony. Early in the afternoon there was a big military and civic parade, participated in by National Guard companies and the Escanaba Naval Reserves, and with the Third Regiment band at the head and the marchers moved through gaily decorated streets to the fair grounds. Scores of automobiles, all decorated in patriotic colors, were in line. The parade was reviewed at the fair grounds by the vice president, after which Mr. Fairbanks, Senator Smith and other distinguished addresses. An immense crowd was present.

In the evening occurred a fireworks display and the banquet. The latter was served in the city hall building. A very large number of guests were seated at the tables. The serving was done by young ladies of the city, who had volunteered for the duty. Messrs. Fairbanks, and Smith, Congressman Young, ex-Governor Seville of Wisconsin and others responded to toasts. The banquet was the biggest event of the kind ever given at Menominee, just as was the day the biggest in the history of the city. The electrical illumination at night was beautiful.

Brimley Child Dies—
Alice McQueen, the infant daughter of James McQueen of Brimley, who swallowed a five-inch hat pin recently and who underwent an operation at the Soo hospital is dead. From the time of the operation the child seemed to improve and prospects for her recovery appeared excellent. Then a sudden turn for the worse was noticed. HENRY CHARGES FRAUD AND ERROR IN COUNT

ESCANABA MAN FILED PETITION FOR RECOUNT OF PRIMARY VOTE FOR SHERIFF WITH BOARD OF COUNTY CANVASSERS—DIFFICULTY MAY ULTIMATELY BE AIDED IN COURT.

Adam J. Henry, who was a candidate in the recent primaries in Delta county for the Republican nomination for sheriff has filed a petition for a recount of the vote. It is probable that the matter may ultimately find its way to the courts.

In the petition filed by Mr. Henry, he expresses himself in unmistakable terms as being aggrieved as a result of the count of the votes in certain precincts, and charges fraud and error in the basis of his grievance on the township of Fairbanks, also on the two precincts in the township of Garden and many other precincts named in his petition. It is charged that alleged challengers were allowed to go into the booths with voters to prepare their ballots without an inspector being present; that challengers entered the booth where ballots were being prepared without the voters taking oath that they could not read the English language; that inspectors of election took the same liberty; that the boards did not preserve the unused and spoiled ballots to return to the township clerk; that five persons sat as a board of primary election inspectors in each of the precincts named; that none of the members of the boards were elected by viva voce vote or took the required oath of office; that numerous persons were permitted to enroll and vote contrary to law; that the polling places were not provided with a railing or entrance and gate as provided for by law; that the returns made are inaccurate.

Mr. Henry is represented by a large array of legal talent, those having his interests in charge being Attorneys A. H. Ryall, A. W. Norblad, Gallup & Gallup and John Cunoiskey.

The petition of Mr. Henry in full is filed as follows:

To the Board of County Canvassers of Delta County, Michigan:

The petitioner, Adam J. Henry, respectfully represents to your honorables board:

1. That he was a candidate for the nomination of sheriff in the county on the Republican ticket at the primary election held in said county on Sept. 1, 1908, and that he was voted for at said election as a candidate for said office.
2. That he conceives himself aggrieved on account of fraud and error done or committed by the boards of primary election inspectors in the township of Fairbanks and in each of the two precincts in the township of Garden in said county, in the count of the votes cast, and in the returns made by said board of primary election inspectors.

That the nature of the errors and frauds complained of and which your petitioner alleges to have been committed are hereby set forth as near as may be as follows:

- (a) In that persons claiming to be challengers at said election were permitted to go into the booth with voters who were then and there preparing their ballots without an inspector of election being present at the time in said booth.
- (b) In that persons claiming to be challengers at said election were permitted to go into the booth with voters who were then and there preparing their ballots without the voters having first made oath that they could not read the English language.
- (c) In that inspectors at said election were permitted to go and did go into the booth with electors who were then and there preparing their ballots, without said electors having first made oath that they could not read the English language.
- (d) In that the boards of primary election inspectors did not preserve the unused ballots together with the spoiled ballots and return the same to the township clerk of said township.
- (e) Because in each of the precincts in the township of Garden and in the township of Fairbanks five persons sat as members of the board of primary election inspectors.
- (f) Because none of the persons who sat on said board of primary election inspectors were elected by viva voce vote and because none of said persons took the oath required by law.
- (g) Because numerous persons in said township were permitted to enroll contrary to law on election day and permitted to vote at said election.
- (h) Because the polling places in said townships were not provided with a railing or an entrance and exit gate as provided by law.
- (i) Because the returns made by said boards of primary election inspectors are inaccurate and not properly made.
- (j) That your petitioner also conceives himself aggrieved on account of fraud and error done and committed by the boards of primary election inspectors in the township of Ferris River, township of Park River, township of Escanaba, township of Brampton, township of Masonville, township of Mape Ridge, township of Nahma, township of Bay de Noc, in the First, Second, Third Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh wards in the city of Escanaba, and in the First, Second, Third, Fourth wards in the city of Clam Lake in the count of the ballots cast and in the returns made by said boards of primary election inspectors.

That the nature of the errors and frauds complained of in said townships and wards which your petitioner alleges to have been committed are hereby specified as near as may be as follows:

First. The returns made by said boards of primary election inspectors are inaccurate and not properly made and the ballots cast at said election in said townships and wards are not properly and accurately counted by the boards.

Second. Your petitioner therefore prays that the votes cast at said election in all of said townships and wards be recounted and that your honorables acts such action in the premises as it shall deem just.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s correspondent at New York yesterday telegraphed as follows:

"The list was extremely feverish and closed generally lower. The developments of the day were the announcement of the decision on the Hepburn commodity clause, which was declared unconstitutional, the passing of the dividend on Locomotive common, and the advance in call rates from 3/4 of 1 per cent to 2 1/2 per cent. Up to noon the undertone was firm, and the demonstration took place in Reading after the announcement of the above decision. Locomotive, Amalgamated and Smelters were conspicuously weak, and reports as to conditions in industrial circles, although indicating a slight betterment, are hardly of a character to create bullish enthusiasm among outsiders. The recession in the last hour carried prices in most cases well under last night's level and from the action of the market, it would seem that the reaction may extend somewhat further, although there are still indications that the interests behind the market are not as yet prepared to permit a decided decline."

Boston Stock Quotations.

Wiring from Boston yesterday, Paine, Webber & Co. had the following to say of the stock market:

"The passage of the Locomotive dividend had a bad effect on the market and the traders were able to break prices especially at the close. There was no great amount of public liquidation and any bear raid will have the way for higher prices. However, the poor showing of the Locomotive company will deter many buyers and will cause many to realize that the industrial situation has not improved as fast as it should. Don't get short, however, as the big banking interests have the stocks and will eventually put prices much higher. The election is only about fifty days away and the possibility of a Bryan scare is getting less."

Copper Metal Prices.

New York, Sept. 10.—Copper declined 28, 6d, to £60, 17s, 6d for spot and £61, 12s, 6d for futures, in the London market today. The local market was dull and unchanged, with London quoted at 13.50@13.75, electrolytic at 13.37 1/2@13.62 1/2 and casting at 13.12 1/2@13.37 1/2.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Wheat was strong today, from start to finish. Despite the lower cables and the continued liberal receipts at the Northwest, the market opened firm, with the prices a shade lower to 1/4 higher. Within a few minutes the prices advanced 1/2, on buying by shorts and the bull leaders. The demand was brisk the entire session and the market steadily gained in strength. The buying was based chiefly on the urgent demand for cash wheat at nearly all the markets of the country and largely on the demand in the Northwest. The cash situation in the Southwest was equally bullish. The final figures showed net gains of 1 1/4 in all deliveries. The December opened at 96 1/2 @ 96 3/4; highest, 97 1/2; lowest, 96 1/4; closing, 97 1/2 @ 97 3/4.

Corn.—The market was active and the feeling decidedly strong, the close showing a gain of 1/4. The December 1 1/4 @ 1 1/4; highest, 1 1/4; lowest, 1 1/4; closing, 1 1/4 @ 1 1/4.

Oats.—The trade was quiet. The sentiment, however, was bullish all day, owing to the demand for the opening by big cash oats were in moderate demand by shippers, at an advance of 1/4. The close was firm, with gains of 1/4 to 1/2. The December opened at 50 1/4 @ 50 1/4; highest, 50 1/2; lowest, 50 1/4 @ 50 1/4; closing, 50 1/2 @ 50 1/2.

the surplus wheat off the market and the advance was made without very much opposition from any quarter. In fact, a feature of the market for a day or two has been the absence of bear pressure, even with the encouragement of the heavy marketing of the northwest crop. There appears to be a wholesome fear of selling wheat short in any large quantity. There has been practically no hedging of northwest wheat here because cash and December prices at Minneapolis have held so strong. The widespread dry weather over the winter wheat states is preventing preparation for the next crop. We believe the most bullish effect of the early spring wheat movement is over and that the market is now in a fair way to make a better advance than yet recorded since spring wheat harvest began."

LABOR'S BIG GROWTH.

Shipwrights Organized in New York a Century Ago.

Unions Now Are Stronger Than Ever Before in Their History, and All Told the Federation Has Some 2,000,000 Members.

Washington, Sept. 10.—"The unions in America today have a greater membership than ever before in the history of the labor movement," says Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Morrison does not overstate the case, at least as to the membership of the unions. In the American Federation of Labor there are now affiliated 117 national and international labor unions, representing approximately 2,000,000 local labor unions. The number of state federations of labor is thirty-six, and there are 541 central city labor bodies and 607 local trade and labor unions. In the aggregate about 2,000,000 men are members of the body or are affiliated with it.

Outside of the A. F. and L., as it is commonly called, are the plasterers and bricklayers, the electricians, great labor bodies and the trainmen's unions, such as locomotive engineers, firemen and switchmen. This great labor organization recruited its strength from the remnants left after the dissolution of one of its predecessors, the Knights of Labor, which in 1869 ceased to be a controlling factor in the labor world. When the Knights of Labor practically went out of existence—although there are still several lodges of the order, at Boston, Pittsburg and other points—the A. F. of L. took on new life and made great strides. The election was organized in 1881. Samuel Gompers was its first president and still holds the office. Mr. Gompers, by reason of various chairmanships and other offices, has continuously served as head of the great body with the single exception of two years in 1894, when John McBride, a miner, defeated him for the honor.

Beginning of Unionism.

Profitable comparison might well be made of the condition of the laboring man now as compared with his condition a few hundred years ago, or even a century ago. The beginning of labor unionism in America was in the organization of the shipwrights society in New York in 1803. In 1806 the tailors and carpenters followed the example of the shipbuilders and organized in the next four or five decades organizations were effected by various other crafts.

To the printers may be given credit for the formation of the first real union. In 1852, the National Typographical union was organized. Ten years later, in 1862, to admit Canada, the printers changed their constitution and name to fit the requirements of the International Typographical Union, which endures to this day, perhaps the most widely respected organization of craftsmen in existence.

In 1866 the National Labor Union, a sort of federation of labor unions was organized. Its field became political immediately, and it was only three years later that the Knights of Labor appeared in the United States. It was not until 1878 that the Knights of Labor, with Terence V. Powderly at its head, first dared to manifest itself. The K. of L. was primarily a lodge of workmen. Its principles and purposes were not similar to those of the American Federation of Labor as it exists today. In the Knights of Labor, workmen of all kinds found an organization which made for their good, but which was not bound for the protection or good of any particular class of craft. The movement was for all laboring men.

Politics Ended It.

The Knights of Labor fell into politics. The finish of the organization came with that unfortunate move, and when in 1882 Powderly resigned from the presidency the Knights of Labor had shrunk to an organization of more than 1,000,000 to practically nothing numerically. Numerous railroad strikes and terrific organized onslaughts on all employees brought the Knights of Labor into distrust of its own members, and its political aims and purposes did nothing to increase their regard for the organization.

The American Federation of Labor arose as the Knights of Labor fell. At a convention in Columbus, Ohio, in 1886 the A. F. of L. then five years old, received into its membership about nine-tenths of the disappointed members of the Knights of Labor. The purpose of the federation was to band together the men of the various trades and crafts, and then federate them into a great central body. No social or lodge or brotherhood organization were incorporated in the new organization constitution and by-laws. This, briefly stated, is the history of unionism in America.

Terence V. Powderly, now at the head of the division of information of the immigration bureau, speaking of the labor day, said:

"Labor has learned to know its own dignity and its own worth. It has today in its ranks men of judicial minds and temperment cool, careful and deliberate, capable of discussing and weighing all questions of interest to the toiling masses. Through the influence of labor organizers working men and their employers have learned to know that while their interests are not identical there is a common field on which they can meet to decide their differences without the threat of the strike."

Strikes Less Frequent.

"You may have noticed that strikes are becoming less frequent every year and that the general public takes more and more an interest in labor matters than ever did before. In 1886 had the record of 187 strikes going on at one time. Today there are but half a dozen if there are that many that are claiming public attention. That demonstrates two

Some of the Virtues Ascribed to It One Way to Make It

Hollanders use enormous quantities of mustard and thrive on the condiment. There is a small spot in Overijssel, I think it is near Gooer, where the land slopes gently down to the river IJssel and is a brown gray clay. This is fashioned into the cutest little jugs you ever saw, holding about a pint each, and the genuine Dutch mustard, made only in that pocket borough, according to a secret process handed down for many generations, is hermetically sealed therein. It will keep for years and is as delicious as the finest condiment. In fact, cheese and condiment to the Hollanders who can afford it. And there is no other place on earth where that mustard can be bought.

You might ask, "Why do the Hollanders eat so much mustard?" The answer is: The Holland mustard is a most delightful stomach stimulant. "It makes the food slide down." It cures the worst cases of dyspepsia. It keeps the liver in fine shape. It is an antidote for the most deadly poison—corrosive sublimate. It is in large doses a non-nourishing emetic. It is the only counter-irritant handed down to us by our grandmothers—the mustard plaster. Dutch girls use it sparingly on their sweet cheeks to give a rosy complexion. When a person is down and nearly out of a drink made of pure mustard and oil will fetch him around. A mustard "steep" is a certain cure for catarrh in the nasal cavity.

Here is one Dutch method of preparing mustard for the table: Mix equal portions of black and white seeds and grind to a fine powder. Roll this in the grate some fresh horseradish, squeeze out the juice and add to the mustard. Then put in a little salt, a little sugar, a little turmeric, a little fenugreek and a little white honey. You will eat this on your bread, cake, pie, buttercakes, and waffles, your meats, fish, game and poultry.—New York Press.

ELECTION BILLS MUST BE UNIFORM

ALL WARDS HAVE NOT BEEN EMPLOYING THE SAME NUMBER OF CLERKS—RENTAL CHARGES ARE CONSIDERED EXORBITANT.

There was a discussion at the regular monthly meeting of the council Wednesday evening relative to the bills presented by the several boards of registration and primary election. The bills for the various wards were not uniform, there being a difference of something like $10 or $12 in the charges for some of the wards. After the bills had been read and recommended by Alderman Olson, chairman of the committee on claims and accounts, Alderman Barnett asked why it was that the bills for one ward were greater than those for another. It was explained that there were more persons employed in some wards than in others while in all of the wards the allowance for services on both the board of registration and election was one and a half days' or $9, for the two sessions. A board of registration is composed of three members, with an extra clerk, if desired, and a board of election is composed of three regular members, with two clerks and two gatekeepers. In a few of the wards an additional clerk was employed.

Alderman Barnett moved that the allowance for each ward be made uniform, or $42.50, but later withdrew it. He said, however, that before the fall election he would introduce a resolution limiting the number of employees for the boards of registration and election to the number required by law.

Rental Bills Exorbitant.

Alderman Olson presented bills for $20 from the Washington club and Eric Anderson in the Third and Sixth wards, respectively, for the use of their premises by the boards of registration and election. He said he considered the bills exorbitant and that he did not feel disposed to recommend to the council that they be allowed. It was generally agreed that the time had arrived when less expensive places should be provided for the registration and election boards in both wards. If the places mentioned are used for the election in November it will be the fourth time this year that the city has had them for registration and election purposes, so that the revenue to the parties in control of the properties would be $80 each for the year. The bills were finally allowed and ordered paid.

Alderman Finnegan agreed with other members of the council that the parties controlling the polling places were receiving altogether too much for them and he moved that the matter of obtaining new places, or, if necessary, providing portable booths to be placed on the streets or vacant lots, be referred to the committee on grounds, buildings and insurance, together with the board of public works. Mr. Finnegan expressed the opinion that the cost of the booths would be no more than the city is paying for the rental of the rooms referred to for one year. He stated that in some of the larger cities the elections in many precincts are held in portable booths, which can be erected and taken down with very little expense.

Alderman Olson also objected to the bill of $3 presented by T. F. Gill for the use of chairs and tables in one of the wards. He said that the outfit rented from Mr. Gill can be purchased for very little more than the rental charges and he recommended that equipment of this kind necessary for use in the wards be purchased before the November election. The purchase of the equipment was included in Alderman Finnegan's motion.

PLATTO-ANDERSON NUPTIALS.

Miss Annie Platto and Gust Anderson were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's brother, Captain Frank Platto, on North Third street. The bride was attended by Miss Hilma Peterson, Joseph Anderson, brother of the groom, was best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. V. Isaacson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, in the presence of a large number of relatives and intimate friends of the young couple. Following the ceremony a supper was served in the dining room, which was tastefully decorated with palms and cut flowers.

The bride was attired in a gown of white silk and Persian lawn and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas. The bridesmaid also carried sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were the recipients of a large collection of costly gifts. They left last night for Chicago and other points, to be absent a week or ten days, and upon their return will reside on North Pine street.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT.

Mrs. John Maroney, one of Ishpeming's pioneer residents, died yesterday morning. She had been ill for several weeks and for more than a week past her condition had been precarious. Her daughter, Mrs. Edward Thomas of Painesdale, was called home several days ago and has since been aiding in the care of her mother. Her son, John Maroney, Jr., is in Canada, but is expected home to attend the funeral, arrangements for which will be completed today. The deceased had many friends in the county to whom her death will be a shock.

CEMETERY VAULT.

William Carlson, who began work on the addition to the Ishpeming cemetery vault a few weeks ago, is making good headway, and he expects to complete the job within two or three weeks. The rock for the structure is being secured from the Deer Lake bluff. In the contract the quality rock obtainable at that point was specified.

WILLARD MACK'S PLAY.

"In Wyoming" Will Be Presented Here on Sept. 15.

An announcement that will no doubt be of considerable interest to the effect-going public of this city is to the effect that H. E. Pierce & Co. will present their latest offering, "In Wyoming" by Willard Mack, at the Ishpeming theatre next Wednesday evening.

It is rather an unusual occurrence in theatrical circles for a production to be made without an advertised star in the cast but in the case of "In Wyoming" the cast is so evenly balanced that the supposedly essential feature is not necessary. The play was written by Willard Mack of the Mack-Leone players who a short time ago filled engagements in the copper country theaters and was given its first production by that company at Duluth last year. Since that time the play has been presented in many cities and towns throughout the country and it has met with the hearty approval of both press and public. Mr. Mack was born and raised in Wyoming and he has written a play that will be greatly enjoyed by all.

CARTER'S PLAY TONIGHT.

"Too Proud to Beg," Lincoln J. Carter's thrilling melodrama, will be at Ishpeming theatre tonight. It is full of sensations, climaxes, stirring incidents, developed dialogues, full of real and original humor, clever dialogue, dramatic situations—but it is there. Several neat specialties are introduced.

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

"The copper share market continued dull and uninteresting the greater part of the day. Sales were light and nearly all issues declined slightly. London copper metal opened 1/2, 3d higher, but closed off 28, 9d for both options. Utah Apex is now listed on the Boston Stock exchange. The selling of stocks became more evident near the close. At New York also the metal stocks were dull and lower. The net changes were only fractional, except on New York Central, which advanced 2 1/2. Today's reaction puts stocks on a level where those of the best class can be safely bought.

Every authority advises purchases on reactions in expectation of much higher prices when all political uncertainty has been finally dispelled. It is always difficult to procure stocks at the real bottom."

IOWA MAN TO LEAD THE ROOSEVELT PARTY.

Career of Leigh S. J. Hunt Reads Like a Romance.

Amassed Two Fortunes—Developed Korean Gold Mines and Introduced Cotton Raising in Africa.

Burlington, Ia., Sept. 10.—Iowa has again come to the front in a most remarkable manner. The fact demonstrated in a brief dispatch from Des Moines announcing that Leigh S. J. Hunt had been engaged as an escort and guide to President Roosevelt on the latter's coming hunting trip through equatorial Africa.

Hunt, an Iowa boy, who taught school in Henry county and read law in the office of an attorney at Mount Pleasant. He was born in Indiana and came to Iowa in an early day. After teaching school in this locality for some time he concluded to go to the young West, and selected Seattle as his new home. He arrived there shortly before the fire which destroyed that young city in 1888.

Hunt's sole capital was energy and a remarkable personal magnetism. He became a mine promoter and acquired a large fortune. He was the head of one of the strongest banks in Seattle, and became proprietor and publisher of the Post-Intelligencer. He promoted vast mining industries and was the trusted investor of millions of dollars of other people's money. He built a veritable castle on an island in beautiful Lake Washington. In 1892 the public swept all his fortune away, closed his bank and compelled him to dispose of his newspaper property. He left a debt of over a million dollars. He hadn't a penny to pay his creditors.

About that time he disappeared from the Pacific coast and was buried under all knowledge of his former friends until some years later he suddenly appeared again and calling his creditors together paid each what was owing him with interest.

Career Reads Like Romance.

Hunt's career continued to read like romance. When he left America a ruined man he took passage to Japan. And in that drift he drifted into Korea. There he became acquainted with the emperor of the country, who gave him permission to explore the country. This Hunt did thoroughly, and as a result he returned to New York, where he sought out J. Sloan Fassett and revealed to him the fact that he had discovered fabulous gold mines in Korea. Both men returned to that country, and securing a concession from the emperor, developed the mines. Machinery was shipped from America and extensive works established. It is stated that Hunt and Fassett cleared up something like $15,000,000 in the Hunt spent some time in America after his return, and finally drifted to Africa, where he introduced cotton raising. He has prospered amazingly, adding several millions to the money he accumulated in the Korea. To now has a beautiful home in the Potomac river across from Washington.

When he heard that President Roosevelt was to make a hunting trip in Africa he offered his services, which were cordially accepted. He will be the chief manager of the entertainment, and Africa will give Roosevelt and will be his companion and guide during his hunting expeditions.

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Scores of Marquette Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow: Urinary trouble, diabetes, Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

Thomas Northy, of 1008 N. Third St., Ishpeming, Mich., says: "There were times when I could hardly attend to my work on account of pain and misery in the small of the back. If I stooped forward it hurt me so severely to regain an erect position, that usually I had to take hold of something as a support. The kidney secretions were discolored and very troublesome, causing me much annoyance at night. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended for these troubles that I got a box and tried them. They helped me from the start and I was encouraged to continue using them. After taking two boxes I was completely cured and have had no return of this trouble since."

Plenty more proof like this from Marquette people. Call at the Stafford Drug Co.'s store and ask what their customers report.

SAGE ESTATE OWNS WORTHLESS BONDS.

More Than $1,000,000 Valueless Securities Held by Financier.

Appraisers Find Many Bad Bargains in Stocks—These Were Made in the Early Life of the Money Lender and Were Varied in Character.

New York, Sept. 10.—Executors of the estate of Russell Sage have found in the Sage safe deposit vaults in the Mercantile Safety Deposit company and on his stock and bonds register about $1,071,000 par value of bonds and 1,800 shares of stock and scrip which are practically worthless. In addition there are some 700,000 shares of stock which are also practically worthless. The securities were made in the early life of the money lender and were varied in character.

Included in the worthless securities are mining shares, railroad, bank and trust company issues, shares in warehouse concerns, in grain elevator companies, in industrial concerns and steel companies improvement shares, electric railroad issues land grant scrip, defaulted state bonds of Georgia and North Carolina and defaulted town bonds. Much of this paper came into Mr. Sage's hands early in his career, and at the time he put them into the safe deposit vaults, as soon as the stock is disposed of. He said that he regretted very much leaving Negaunee as they are doing an excellent business, with prospects of a steady increase. When the firm started three years ago its stock was less than half its present size and the room now occupied was plenty large enough, but the store is now so badly crowded that the clerks and customers have hardly room to move around. If a building was to be built, Mr. Sage said he could easily use double the floor space available at their present stand.

Preparations are being made for a closing out sale, to be started some day next week. All of the goods are being reworked with red tags and the sale will be conducted with a view to obtaining a satisfactory agreement with the land-lord. The stock comprises men's and boys' clothing, furnishings, dry goods, ladies' cloaks, suits, etc. The goods purchased for the fall and winter trade, which are now arriving, are to be included in the closing out sale.

Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Company Has an Attractive Series of Cards.

During the past few years employees of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company have secured many attractive views at various places on Grand Island. A number of professional photographers have also secured some fine pictures there and the officials of the land department have had postal cards made of a number of the finest views. The cards have been offered for sale only at the island, but it is likely that dealers in the larger cities will be given the privilege of selling them. Among the series recently received are the following: Snow marshlands, interior of Trout Bay cottages, exterior of Trout Bay cottages; Hotel Williams and cottages; east shore of Grand island park; stock and block house at the fishing grounds; young caribou in a beautiful winter scene; bull moose, also in winter scene; view overlooking Lake Superior from one of the high points; native buck with forest background; Williams' land; native deer, browsing in a winter scene; caribou, also in winter scene; Hotel Williams; Charlie Moose, the king of the animals of that class on the island; also a number of very fine wood scenes showing the driveway at various points.

"The demand for postal cards increases steadily," said a Negaunee dealer yesterday. "When the idea was first introduced it was generally thought that the cards would be in great demand, but it was not the case. In my opinion the postal cards are here to stay as they not only contain many interesting subjects, but they are also a great convenience to the public, especially the people visiting away from home. We have had a chance to visit the store and buy cards by the dozen, while we also have noticed that patronage among the home people increases steadily. The postal cards in many instances take the place of letters. I find also that many people, particularly girls, are saving their money in the form of postal cards, and we very seldom get a big sale of them to the souvenir collectors. During the past year or so the postal cards have been made much more attractive than formerly by the colored picture, and we find that they are preferred to the colored cards to the other postal cards."

"To me a card in black and white is more attractive, but most of the souvenir buyers take the colored ones in preference. We have some excellent scenes of this kind in this city, some of them highly colored, others in black and white. I much prefer the latter, but as a rule the colored ones are preferred."

TO BENEFIT THE FORESTS.

Great Hopes for the New Scheme of the National Government.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Announcement of the names of the cities which are to be the six administrative headquarters of the United States forest service, along with the lists of the men to be in charge of the various offices, is expected soon. The task of removing practically all of the national forest business to the field seems a stupendous one to a person not familiar with the way the work has been planned. Those who have had a chance to visit the Washington office of the forest service during the past two months have learned that there is an organized forest training school running in the big brick building on F street, and that the men who are to go into the field will have received weeks of training in their new duties before it is time for them to leave the city. Other field offices have been ordered into the local office and before the time for change of administration the thorough preparation will make it possible for the men to take their places and conduct their offices as though the work had been going on for months.

Actual transfer of the national forest business to the field will be made gradually, so that there will be practically no interference with the routine work. When the change of administration has taken place to the six district headquarters will mean much in expediting and rendering the forest work more effective. The saving of time in getting action on matters relating to administration will be one of the most important benefits. Now, it takes from ten days to two weeks to get mail to Washington and receive replies at the various points in the four national forest states. With the mail going to six central cities in the West instead of to Washington, there will be a marked saving in time in getting action on matters relating to the administration of the forests.

PEOPLE'S STORE TO CLOSE OUT BUSINESS

MANAGEMENT SAYS PRESENT QUARTERS ARE TOO SMALL AND OWNER OF BUILDING REFUSES TO MAKE ALTERATIONS OR OTHER IMPROVEMENTS.

Negaunee people will be surprised at the announcement that the People's store, conducted by S. D. Cohen and S. Luwiche, is to be closed out. Mr. Cohen said yesterday that the firm has been unable to come to satisfactory terms with the owner of the building and is therefore forced to vacate. The lease, which runs for a period of one year, expires on the 1st of this month, and the owner of the building advanced the rent and at the same time refused to make much needed repairs. Mr. Cohen says that though the business had outgrown the quarters with a few inexpensive alterations they could have managed to continue in the present quarters, but the owner of the building advanced the rent and at the same time refused to make much needed repairs. AT HIBBING THIS WEEK.

Negaunee Parties on Mesaba Range Report Much Excitement There.

Mrs. Lentz and son Oscar of Negaunee have returned after a visit with relatives at Hibbing, Minn. They left there Wednesday before the rain set in and at a time when the excitement was intense. They were very much alarmed as it looked for a time as though the entire city would be wiped out and they would be obliged to flee for their lives. They report that many Chisholm people who lost their homes were in a bad way, though the contributions from other towns on the range, also Duluth, Minneapolis and St. Paul, were a great help. It was reported that the people of Duluth contributed $35,000 alone, and liberal sums were received from Virginia and other range points where there was no danger of destruction by fire.

The report in yesterday's Mining Journal that it had rained Wednesday night in the fire covered district was welcome news in this county as many here were uneasy on account of having so many received reports of the fire. Not many of the range people, who formerly lived here, have taken the time to advise their Negaunee relatives and friends as to how they were actually situated, and it is assumed that they have been too busy trying to protect themselves and their property. There has been very little work done at the mines on the range the past few days as most of the companies sent their employees out to fight the fires. The Oliver company had hundreds of men employed in the forests and other corporations also responded liberally to the calls for aid from the farmers and townspeople. In most of the towns the streets were entirely deserted and those who were not fighting the fires were preparing to leave the range on short notice.

WILL PLAY AT MUNISING.

The Negaunee baseball team has two more league games to play, both of them being with Munising. The nine will go to the Alger county town next Sunday and will play the Munising team here the Sunday following. The Negaunee fans manifested much interest in yesterday's game between Ishpeming and Marquette and a number went down to see it. The league game to be played next Sunday between Ishpeming and Marquette will attract a large attendance.

LOCAL LAONICS.

Mrs. Julius Johnson has gone to the lower peninsula on a visit to friends.

The veranda at the Swedish Lutheran church parsonage is being rebuilt and other improvements made.

Employees of the Negaunee, Maas and Jackson mines will be paid next Wednesday for last month's work.

Harry Jackson and Dick Nesbitt returned yesterday from Milwaukee, where they took in the Wisconsin state fair.

Miss Louise Miller left yesterday for Detroit and other points in the lower peninsula, where she will visit friends.

William Walters and wife left Wednesday night for Port Huron, where they will visit three or four weeks with relatives.

The thermometer at the Breitung House registered ninety degrees in the shade at 2:15 Wednesday afternoon. Two hours earlier it was eighty-three above.

O. W. Hayes of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company was a passenger on the D. & C. excursion out of St. Ignace yesterday. He will spend a week at Detroit.

Rev. James Stanaway left yesterday for Calumet in response to a message advising him of the serious illness of his brother, who is suffering from appendicitis.

John Nesbitt is enlarging the old Blake dwelling on Merry street. When the improvements are completed this house will be one of the finest in that part of the city.

Miss Margaret Cox has gone to Detroit, where she will spend a few weeks visiting at the home of Thomas Buzo, formerly of Negaunee, who now holds a responsible position at one of the salt mines there.

The funeral of the late Miss Clara Emille of Little Lake was held yesterday morning at 8 o'clock from St. Paul's church, the remains having arrived on the Chicago & Northwestern passenger train.

C. M. Kirby, inspector of the Wisconsin dammage bureau, was in Negaunee Wednesday checking up the records of the local railway officials. All of the upper peninsula towns are included in the Wisconsin bureau, but the northern Minnesota towns are incorporated in another similar organization. It is reported by the railway men that the revenue from the dammage charges amounts to a considerable sum annually.

Dr. William King and wife, of the lower peninsula, are in the city, the guests of Dr. A. W. Haidle and family. Dr. and Mrs. King are on their wedding tour, they having been married on the evening of this month. Mrs. King was formerly Miss Mary Cooley, daughter of the late Judge Cooley of Ann Arbor.

The West-Henry Stock company will doubtless do a very satisfactory business at McDonald's Opera House tonight when it will present "His American Friend," a play with a very interesting plot and several strong climaxes. The advance sale of seats is at Perkins' drug store.

LOCAL TEAM WON FROM ISHPeming

MARQUETTE TOOK A 11 TO 3 GAME YESTERDAY BEFORE A DELIGHTED CROWD.

HELD IT SAFE ALL THE WAY

Scholtus Made a Record for Teams in the League by Striking Out Seventeen Men—Some Fine Plays Were Made.

Hands down and with a season's record broken, the Marquette ball team easily defeated the Ishpeming nine at the fair grounds yesterday by the score of 11 to 3. Scholtus, who pitched good ball, but at all times Scholtus had the better end.

Ishpeming put up Olson as the first batter, and he was struck out. When Hickory stepped up and took the same treatment, the crowd waxed enthusiastic. Simpson was put out on a grounder to Scholtus, who held it well and retired the side.

In Marquette's first inning, Weiser was able to hit the ball, but with proper fielding it was gotten to first, retiring him. Rydholm came next, striking out. Dunlavey was put out at first, thus retiring the side.

Laxstrom opened the second for Ishpeming by shooting a grounder to second, and he reached first on an error by Brown. While trying to make second he was caught. Andrews struck out. Nichols hit a fly to Dunlavey, who took it in.

Brown struck out, when Marquette came to bat, but Scholtus reached first on an error. Gilbert was put out by a fly to right. Riopelle hit out a clean single, sending Scholtus to third, and then stole second for himself. Richardson sent out a neat single, bringing in Scholtus and Riopelle. Jeanson, the next up, shot one to left field. The ball was fielded properly, retiring the side.

Goulette opened the third inning by reaching first on an error by Gilbert, but with good work he was kept on base throughout the inning. Hoglund struck out, and so did Siebenthal. Marquette's half of the third brought two scores on hits by Weiser, Rydholm and Scholtus.

In the fourth Ishpeming managed to get one score. Hickory opened the inning by striking out, but Simpson got a hit. Laxstrom also slashed one out, bringing in Simpson. Andrews, next up, struck out and Nichols hit one to left field, and went out. After this Ishpeming did not make another score until the first part of the sixth, when it got one more. A few scores might have been brought in had it not been for some plays by Riopelle. With barb hand and running at a fast clip in the direction the ball was going, Riopelle pulled down a high fly, the catch being about the best ever seen at the fair grounds. Not only this, but he prevented two runs by making a straight throw from deep left to home plate. He is credited with two hits and two runs out of three times at bat.

Marquette made the majority of its runs in the fifth. Weiser went to first on an error by Laxstrom, as did Rydholm. Dunlavey hit. Brown, the next man up, struck out. All that was then needed was a hit, and it was made by Scholtus, the star of the game, who pointed out a two-bagger, bringing in all three runs. Gilbert, next up, struck out. Dunlavey got a base on balls. Richardson was retired at first, but not until Scholtus had scored.

Ishpeming did nothing in the seventh, but Marquette managed to bring in two more runs, on an error by Hoglund and hits by Riopelle, Richardson and Jeanson. Marquette scored one more in the eighth, on hits from Dunlavey and Brown. Ishpeming secured one score in the ninth, on an error, but the best Goulette and Siebenthal could do was to strike out, ending the game with the score 11 to 3 in Marquette's favor.

Both teams played snappy ball throughout the entire game. The work of Siebenthal, Andrews and Simpson for Ishpeming and Riopelle, Weiser, Scholtus, Richardson and Dunlavey for Marquette was very good.

Scholtus made the season's record for strikeouts yesterday, fanning seventeen men. Siebenthal, of Ishpeming, formerly held this record, getting it at Munising.

Marquette was clever at stealing bases. Scholtus, Richardson, Riopelle, Weiser and Rydholm getting a total of six of them. Scholtus made a steal from third to home while the ball was in Goulette's hands. It was the prettiest steal seen here in late years.

Sunday, owing to three games having been played here this week, Marquette will go to Ishpeming for a game, and Ishpeming will come here for the close of the season the following Sunday. A large delegation is expected to accompany the team to Ishpeming. Siebenthal and Jeanson will pitch.

The summary is as follows:

"IN WYOMING."

Western Play Will Be Presented at Opera House This Evening.

"In Wyoming," Willard Mack's play of ranch life in the west, will be presented at the opera house this evening. It tells of an interesting story of Wyoming, and is presented by a capable company, with a proper scenic embellishment. The love theme is, of course, prominent, as it is in all western plays. The characters are typical of the sturdy civilization of a new country. Dally is a splendid old ranchman, who dominates the Big Horn valley; his wife is a peppery tempered, but with all good hearted woman; Bob Rickards is a fine example of cowpuncher and there are numerous other characters who represent well known types. Many of the scenes are of great dramatic intensity.

M'CALLUM MAY LOSE.

Politics Become Lively in the Schoolcraft District.

It is reported that Representative McCallum, of Manistique, who served in the last legislature, and who is a candidate for renomination, will likely be defeated in the convention to be held at Newberry on the 13th. A Marquette man who has returned from Manistique says that the Schoolcraft delegation has been set up to favor Mr. McNamara, the Mackinac candidate, and that on the present outlook McNamara will have a majority of one vote in the convention. Both Alger and Lake counties, with five votes between them, favor McCallum, but Schoolcraft and Mackinac counties have six delegates, and if the Mackinac candidate can hold the Schoolcraft delegates he can be nominated. It is said that Mr. McCallum's friends in Schoolcraft might have landed the delegation for him, if they had not been to some degree caught napping. They were outvoted in the county convention, which was held Tuesday last. Mr. McCallum had an excellent record in the last legislature. There is now some talk of a third candidate coming in, and Archie McEachern, connected with the Upper Peninsula Agricultural association, has been referred to in the connection.

BIG CROWD FOR FINAL FAIR DAY

ITS ESTIMATED THAT 3,500 PEOPLE WERE PRESENT AT THE GROUNDS YESTERDAY.

What was probably the most successful fair that has ever been held by the Marquette County Agricultural association came to a conclusion yesterday with what is said to have been the largest attendance that has been recorded. The crowd ran close to 3,500 people. The grandstand was filled to its capacity, and the fence about the track on both sides was lined with hundreds of people, while additional hundreds congregated along the side-lines of the baseball diamond and fringed the outfield in a half circle. The day was an admirable one, warm and bright. The fair association has never been favored with better weather than has been the case this year, a fact that is largely to be thanked for the success of the week.

The crowd yesterday was well pleased with the sport, as well it might be, for it was a big program for twenty-five cents. Attention was centered on the track and baseball diamond throughout the afternoon, and much enthusiasm was displayed, both at the closely raced heats and at the victory of the Marquette ball team over Ishpeming. The 2-23 class, the principal event on the track yesterday, brought out the best racing of the fair, and was full of interest. The horses entered were Mollie M, Berlie S, Harry and Lady Arkwood. The first heat was an unusually fine one, and brought the immense crowd in the grandstand to its feet with enthusiasm. Berlie S, which yesterday showed the finest form the animal has yet displayed on the Marquette track, looked like a winner in the early stages of the heat. Harry and Mollie M were well up, with Lady Arkwood, which hadn't yet settled down to business, trailing along in the rear. Mollie M, which traveled third most of the distance, in the last quarter put up a fine burst of speed, passed Harry, and at the finish headed Berlie S in a fine burst of going. The heat was one of the best ever seen here and was thoroughly appreciated.

Lady Arkwood, which did not look very promising in the first heat, steadied down to work in the second, and won it handily, with Berlie S second. Lady Arkwood, reported in the third heat, and again Berlie S was second, Mollie M traveling third in both the second and third heats. In the fourth the race took on another angle, Berlie S heading Lady Arkwood out in a close finish. The race went to Berlie S, which also took the fifth and sixth heats. The race in these heats was between Mollie M and Berlie S, Lady Arkwood falling back to third place. The summary is as follows:

Berlie S..... 2 2 1 1 1 Lady Arkwood..... 4 1 3 3 3 Mollie M..... 1 3 3 2 2 Harry..... 3 4 4 4 1 Time—2:29 1/2, 2:37 1/2, 2:36, 2:34, 2:33 1/2 and 2:32 1/2.

Harry was not raced hard, as he was somewhat lame. The other event of the afternoon was a special race between Bourdon and Echo Medium. Echo Medium winning in two straight heats. It was an interesting event, and a fast one, for the time of the heats was 2:17 1/2 and 2:18 1/2.

It was the plan to arrange a second special race, but it was impossible to do so, as a number of the horses were lame, and others had been raced all their owners wanted to give them. The track has not been in the best condition. This is due largely to the prolonged dry spell, which has made it difficult to keep it up. Notwithstanding this fact the races, as a whole, were the best that have been seen here at a fair. A number of the heats were marked by driving finishes, and there have been a fine lot of horses at the track. The Detroit horses added much to the interest in the events, and attracted much attention, particularly Willie Tell, which caught people's fancy as perhaps no other horse has done here.

The racing yesterday and the baseball proceeded at the same time, so that there was something for the entertainment of the crowd throughout the afternoon. Before the sports began the exhibition buildings were crowded with people who inspected the displays.
