OBSTINATE ULCERS MAY LEAD TO CANCER

There is no difference, at first, in the appearance of a cancerous and a common ulcer, and for this reason every sore that is obstinate or slow in healing should excite suspicion, for the sore is nothing more than the external evidence of a polluted blood, and if allowed to remain may degenerate into cancer.

While plans are yet in the formative stage, there are large interests in the Franklin and Rhode Island mining companies and the acquisition of territory from the St. Mary's Mineral Land company. According to these plans it is proposed to increase the authorized capital of the Franklin Mining company from 100,000 shares, as at present, to 200,000 shares. It is proposed, however, to issue only 45,000 shares of new stock for the acquisition of the 100,000 shares of Rhode Island with its $40,000 of cash and 640 acres from the St. Mary's Mineral Land company. There are other negotiations in progress concerning which nothing can be said at the present time, but which, if consummated, give the enlarged company a working capital of $400,000, 53,000 shares of treasury stock and a territory which will enable the further sinking of the Franklin Jr. shafts into ground to be required.

The combined property would have an unbroken length of over two miles carrying the outcrop of the Pevabie lode and nearly two miles carrying the outcrop of the Kenace lode, with the latter of limited depth from the sinking of shafts on both formations. Its lands would then embrace all of the available mineral territory lying between Quincy on the southwest and La Salle on the northeast. The present plan is to make the above-mentioned territory of similar size to those followed in the organization of the La Salle company. Such stockholders of the Rhode Island company as have already been approached speak with favor concerning the proposed plan, but the whole matter is still in embryo.

GREENE-CANAEA.

Very little is heard nowadays from the so-called protesting stockholders of the Greene Consolidated company, although we understand their opposition is still smoldering, comments the Boston Herald. One who was party to the negotiations which resulted in the raising of the control of the Greene Consolidated from the hands of William C. Greene to Messrs. Cole and Ryan, says: "I know that Thomas F. Cole and John B. Ryan have been severely criticized for the manner in which they consolidated their interests with those formerly in charge of Colonel Greene, into the Greene-Cananea company, at the same time issuing 2,500,000 shares against the consolidated properties, the plant, railroad, surface equipment and $1,000,000 of new money. Messrs. Cole and Ryan have been criticized for issuing to themselves 1,000,000 shares of stock for the properties, only partially developed, which they put into the consolidation. On the face of it this looked like an injustice to the Greene Consolidated stockholders, but I am in a position to make the statement and to make it emphatically, that if some strong financial interests had not happened along just at the time Messrs. Cole and Ryan took over the property, the Greene Consolidated stockholders would have seen their properties threatened with bankruptcy, with the very possible result that the debt holders would have stepped in, forced their claims and left the stockholders with lit-

THE FRETZEL. Its Simple Figure Scheme and Infinite Possibilities of Variety.

The fretzel is one of the most remarkable creations of the human mind and hand. It stands almost alone as an artificial product displaying the countless varieties of form produced by nature in the leaves of trees and blades of grass. Of the millions upon millions turned out by the pretzel factories since the inception of the industry, it is not probable that any two were exactly alike. The general figure scheme of the pretzel would have been an inspiration. It would have been impossible for the human mind to conceive a scheme so simple and yet permitting such approach to infinite variation. Because of the peculiar shape of the pretzel its construction is most easily described by employing sailorman's terms. A bight is taken in a ball of dough and the ends are given a half twist and brought back upon opposite sides of the bight. This makes the article somewhat heart shaped. There can have been no sentimental reason for this shape, for there is no product of art or nature further removed from the realm of sentiment than is the pretzel. The finished article looks as if it had been varnished and exposed to a sandstorm before the varnish dried. The pretzel is unique as an article of internal use. It cannot be classed as food or drink. It is not a dessert nor is it a medicine. Perhaps it should be classed as an appetizer—a bun for food, but for drink, and therein lies its uniqueness. It is the great thirst of a Sahara done up in a twist of dough. If anyone could invent something that would quench thirst as effectively as the pretzel can produce it his fortune would be made.

THE WORLD'S COAL. How Long It Will Hold Out Need Not Much Trouble Us.

The question of the exhaustion of the coal supply of the United States is not one which afflicts the present generation or the next. Perhaps the American supply is likely to be exhausted before that of Europe, and particularly before that of Great Britain. Looking at the matter from the point of view of national providence or provision, covering generations and generations, America should be contented with a little saving of its coal. It has been estimated that Pennsylvania has about enough anthracite coal to last at the rate of production that prevailed last year, a little less than two hundred years. Probably the supply will be exhausted much sooner than that, unless some profitable substitute is found for anthracite. As to bituminous coal in the United States, the supply is very great and widespread. It is estimated that it will last, at the rate of consumption which prevailed during the last decade, something less than 450 years. If the coal supply of the world at large were likely to be exhausted in any such way as to make a considerable drain on American coals for foreign consumption, the situation would be regarded as alarming if we could put ourselves in the place of our great grandchildren. But there is not likely to arrive a time when we shall have to "feed the world" with coal.

THE CHINESE NEWSPAPER.

The compositor of a Chinese newspaper is almost as important a personage as the editor. His acquaintanceship with the language is just as great. The American typesetter is obliged to be familiar with twenty-six letters, ten figures and a few signs and symbols, as periods, dollar marks, etc., but the Chinese compositor must be familiar with an alphabet of an hundred and thirty characters, and find its expression on paper in thousands of distinct symbols. Certain sounds often stand for several hundred words, the difference, often vital to an intelligent presentation of an idea, depending on the particular marks accompanying each word. There are thousands of these symbols which are engraved, each one representing a type, but a well regulated newspaper will require but 11,000 characters; if others are needed they are printed in the office. A font of 1,000 of the Chinese language requires 1,000 spaces, and in large and spacious racks each word instead of each letter, as in English, has a place for itself. There is also a peculiar grouping or classification of symbols into groups to further facilitate the mental labors of the typesetters. Thus in the immediate vicinity of the symbol for fish would be found the symbol for scales, net, fins, tail, gills. This simplifies the labor, which in any event must be so strenuous that it is evident that the compositor's end of the Chinese newspaper should, if perfect justice ruled, be the highest paid.

Picnicked at Eagle Mills—A delegation of members of the Marquette fire department joined the Negaunee department at a picnic held by the latter at Eagle Mills yesterday. There was a program of sports and games and a fine afternoon's enjoyment was had.

Demise of William Longworth—William Longworth, a recent comer to Marquette, who has been engaged in the saloon business the past few months, passed away from heart disease Saturday morning. The death was sudden and unexpected, Longworth having apparently been in perfect health. The family resides at Skandia.

Death of a Child—The infant son of G. H. Kemper of Toronto, Ont., died at 11 o'clock last night at the home of George Rutherford, 903 Lee street, where Mrs. Kemper and the child have been visiting for some time. Mr. Kemper who is a former Marquette man, was called to the city because of the critical illness of the babe, and arrived here last Thursday.

Thermometer Disappeared—A valuable thermometer, owned by the street commissioner, was picked up at the corner of Front and Washington street last week, where it was being used in connection with the melting of the tar placed on the macadam. It is thought that the person taking it may not have known it was the city's property. Its return to Street Commissioner Mitchell would be appreciated.

Great Commander Coming—Great Commander Loveland, the head of the order of Maccabees, will visit Marquette Wednesday, and Wednesday evening will meet with the Marquette members of the order at a session to be held at Keogh's hall. Mr. and Mrs. Russell, much to the regret of numerous Mining friends, are preparing to move to Marquette.

TRIMMED BY ISHPEMING. Marquette Ball Team Went and Saw But Did Not Conquer.

The Marquette ball team, with an escort of 250 devoted followers, journeyed to Ishpeming yesterday, but journeyed home without the hoped for victory, for the honors of the final engagement for the Marquette and Ishpeming teams in the Marquette-Ager county league went to the ball tossers of the Hematic city, who took the Marquette's players' measure by a score of 5 to 3, in a game loosely played on both sides.

The error column is the thing in the summary that looms up largest. The Marquette players are credited with nine misplays, most of which contributed to Ishpeming's run making, and Ishpeming had five bingles distributed throughout the game. The Marquette infield played raggedly, and wild heaves to bases practically gave the game to the opposing team.

The pitchers both played good games, and barring the errors the game would have been nip and tuck to the finish. As it was, it was one of the looest exhibitions that the Marquette team put up during the season, possibly for the reason that it was particularly desirous of winning it. It is reported that the Marquette delegation left considerably money behind, in the hands of Ishpeming and Negaunee supporters of the Ishpeming team.

ESCANABA WANTS A GRAND JURY

PETITIONS REQUESTING JUDGE STONE TO CALL ONE ARE NOW BEING CIRCULATED IN THAT CITY—IS BELIEVED HE WILL ACT.

Petitions are now being circulated both in the city of Escanaba and in the county districts asking that a grand jury be appointed for an investigation into the affairs of both the city and county government, says the Escanaba Mirror. It is understood that the petitions are being liberally signed and that they will be presented to Judge John W. Stone at the opening of the coming term of circuit court.

In view of the demand that appears to exist on the part of a large number of signers of the petitions, it is considered probable that they will be granted by Judge Stone, and that a complete and rigid investigation of both city and county affairs will be brought about.

It is likely that the petitions will be presented to Judge Stone early in the October term of court, to allow immediate steps being taken for calling the jury and the beginning of the investigation while Judge Stone is in the city.

For some time rumors have been circulated about Escanaba and through the county concerning alleged graft in the conduct of both the affairs of the city and the county, and an investigation such as that now proposed is surely to be welcomed, because of its clarifying results. If such conditions are alleged exist the guilty ones should be detected and punished immediately, and if the rumors are unfounded it is equally as important that the facts should be known.

A prominent attorney of the city gave in detail to a Mirror representative a number of charges which he claimed were well based, and if conditions exist as claimed by this attorney the public in general should be informed and the guilty ones punished.

Only by the calling of a grand jury, as is now proposed, can the real truth or falsity of the charges be determined, and the people of the county are entitled to a knowledge of the facts.

If any city or county official is conducting his office in an unlawful manner or has been guilty of any act punishable by law he should be punished. If on the other hand unfounded charges are being circulated concerning any city or county official, such officials are entitled to full public exoneration.

The period preceding the calling of a grand jury is always marked by many wild rumors of crime and malfeasance in office, and a sufficient number of such rumors are now afloat to bring the conclusion that the time is ripe for a full and rigid investigation.

MORE RAIN NEEDED. Showers Last Week Were Swallowed Up by the Scorched Ground.

There is still urgent need for rain. The showers Friday night, while they freshened up vegetation considerably, were not heavy enough to wet down the country as it should be wet down. The fires burning in the woods were checked, but unless there are additional rainfalls within a few days they will break out again. The rain had no effect on the neighboring streams, as it was absorbed by the parched ground. Observations at Forestville Saturday showed that the river had not been swollen at all as a result of the down-pour.

At the dam of the city lighting plant all precautions have been taken to prevent the waste of water. All the leaks that could be reached have been stopped. There is now considerable water in the river, as a result of drawing on the reserve supply at Silver lake, and before that supply is exhausted it is expected that there will be some heavy rains.

HAP SCHOLTUS GRATEFUL. To the Mining Journal: Kindly allow me to use your columns to express my appreciation to those baseball fans who so generously contributed toward raising the purse tendered me a few days ago.

It would afford me great pleasure to thank them all personally, but as such a course is impossible, I take this means of letting them know that I accept the gift with a keen appreciation of their friendly good will.

In behalf of the members of the team, I wish to thank the fans for their enthusiasm and support, which so greatly helped us win the pennant, and the press of the city for their "boosting" throughout the season. We hope to retain the confidence we have inspired, and will endeavor to do our part in future seasons to duplicate our record in this one. Sincerely yours, "HAP" BERT SCHOLTUS, Captain Marquette Baseball Team, Season 1908.

BERLIN'S TRAFFIC PROBLEMS. The traffic problem in Berlin has become so acute that the town council has voted $20,000 as a prize for the best plan of laying out future additions to the city with a view of distributing the traffic. The congestion is particularly acute in the Leipzigerstrasse, and plans are being considered for diverting cars and vehicles to other streets. It is also proposed to tunnel under the Potsdamer Bahnhof, which cuts off communication between busy parts of the town.

RAM JEALOUS OF BEAR.—Eastern Man Has a Cub Which Is the Playmate of Children.

Jefferson, N. H., Sept. 20.—A cub bear, captured when it was, less than a year old, is owned by John Palmer of this town.

The bear is declared to be harmless, but is chained most of the time because of the jealousy of a pet ram which is kept in the same field.

The bear has his bath every morning and if the tub is delayed, makes a peculiar whining noise until it is produced.

An ordinary wash tub is filled daily and the tub over and lets the water run out and splashed about until satisfied, he tips the tub over and lets the water run out.

The bath always comes before breakfast. This meal he secures for himself at this time of the year. After his bath the chain is loosened from the stake where he is ordinarily tied and the cub starts for the apple orchard.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 20.—The extra session of the general assembly finished its work and adjourned sine die today. It passed a bill which leaves the election not taken by counties on a pro-rata distribution, not taken by municipalities at $100 a year, and not needed on the state farm or at any other state institutions to be disposed of at the discretion of the governor and the prison commission.

Under-Water Fighters Successful in a Sham Battle in Buzzard's Bay.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 20.—One of the most notable sham battles ever held took place in Buzzard's Bay when submarines "blew up" the cruiser Yankee.

The submarines were in command of Lieutenant Charles E. Courtney of the Octopus, the flagship of the first submarine flotilla, his fleet consisting of the Copper Range, the cruiser Yankee, the Cuttlefish, Lieutenant Edward J. Marquart; Tarentula, Lieutenant Joseph F. Daniels, and the Plunger, Ensign Prentiss P. Bassett.

It was a daylight attack, the crew of the Yankee being in general quarters steamed away on the surface in full view of Commander Marsh and his assistants.

Ways of Butterflies.—Ornithologist Says They Are Best Actors in the World.

Paul Cochet, a professional ornithologist and entomologist of Paris, France, arrived in New York a few days ago on his way to Brazil on a butterfly hunting expedition.

Mr. Cochet holds that butterflies and moths are the best actors in the world. "Birds," said he, "are, of course, the butterfly's chief enemies, but some butterflies do not agree with birds' digestions and the non-poisonous varieties imitate those the birds don't eat in a most wonderful way."

There is a tremendous task for the master hunter, says Dailly's Magazine, to examine each single hound out of some fifty couples or more and assess its probability as a success behind the fox; to weight carefully in each case the considerations of neck, shoulders, loin and limb, is a business of all-devolving interest.

Most daily in the kennels are masters of hounds and huntsmen in their white kennel coats, brooding thoughtfully over their future hopes, and discussing the motley crowd of romping puppies as they fly to the bit of biscuit tossed to some far corner of the yard to show their comportment and display their strong or their weak points.

Now and then a likely couple is isolated for special study, and, falling naturally and with easy grace into their role, they sit up with that dignified and inimicable grace which only a foxhound possesses.

The answering to their names is part of their education, which, although of course this has in a measure been achieved at walk, has now to be emphasized. But to make each of fifty or sixty couples respond at once to his name is a task not accomplished easily, though each hound in the hundred may be perfectly well aware who is wanted when the name is called.

Feeding time is the great occasion for this lesson to be driven home. Outside a door, held just sufficiently ajar to admit one hound at a time, some fifty young hounds, with a few old stagers left in to illustrate the lesson, are collected, eagerly awaiting their horsefeed and oatmeal. With wistful, upturned faces, each waits his turn.

"Prodigal!" calls the huntsman, and from the far end of the gathering, perhaps right on the outskirts, or secreted among the motley crowd, up to the door creeps or vaults over the others, as they range round, Prodigious. Then to the call of Careless there is a stir through the crowd, and in slips Careless.

So the young hounds watch it all, and thus they quickly learn to do likewise.

When full grown it is a most tiresome business. They resent it keenly, and many a bloody battle is attempted when they find themselves chained to another hound.

After the inhalation of a certain quantity of oxygen the man undergoing the experiment said his heart made itself obnoxious. "It obtruded, it clamored for recognition like a good servant who has been ignored. Exhilaration followed. Aerial champagne-like etherical emanating the vital principle—it was all this!"

After further inhalation my ears rang and I felt slightly uncomfortable as if I had hung my head downward over a cliff and protruding blood pulsed in my arteries. As I rose to my feet I swayed slightly. My speech was a little hesitating—ideas swarmed, but it was hard to seize them."

The physician who administered the oxygen reported that the pulse during the administration period of about ten minutes increased from 74 to 90, with a slight fluttering and a slight perspiration. An hour later the effects passed away, leaving the conditions much as usual.—New York Times.

There was a fierce battle in Pike pond the other day between a huge frog and a rattlesnake. It ended with the frog killing the snake.

Persons who witnessed the mighty struggle declare that it evidently started over politics. The frog living in water, was, of course, a prohibitionist, while the snake, an abject drunkard, with some other party reconciled to liquor.

During the day the frog delivered several prohibition speeches to a large audience, and his voice, attracted the attention of the snake, which came down from the hill to see what all the trouble was about. He carried with him his rattles and also campaign button, which he flaunted conspicuously.

Influriated by the arguments, the rattlesnake made a rush for the frog, and the battle started. The snake endeavored to get a grip on the frog and swallow him, but the smaller opponent was wary and kicked with such vigor that the snake bit itself in a knot with pain.

At each opening the frog sent in sledgehammer kicks, and once it knicked off the campaign button and damaged six of the rattles beyond repair. The snake tried to pick up the button, and this gave the frog the chance it was looking for. Leaping upon the snake's back, the frog hopped up and down, breaking the rattlesnake's back in three places.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN. "I declare, I'd know w'at to make of me w'ife. She'll ruin me a-spendin' all the money there is," declared Jim, when his old employer inquired for Mrs. Jim.

"She do seem reckless about money," continued Jim, with a sober face. "Always askin' me for dollar or fifty cents, wantin' money all de time, like I could pick it up in de streets."

"Well, well, that is hard," responded his questioner; "but what does she do with so much money?"

PAROTIC H. O'BRIEN, OF CALUMET, NOMINATED FOR CONGRESS, AND JOHN H. LEWIS, OF MARQUETTE, WILL MAKE THE RUN FOR STATE SENATOR.

county placed Mr. Lewis' name before the convention and he was nominated by acclamation.

On motion of K. S. Markstrum T. J. Dundon was made chairman of the session and Albert Andrews of Ishpeming was secretary. The other members of the committee are: Adolph W. Peterson, Gogebie; Isaac Gustafson, Marquette; Hugh McLaughlin, Dickinson; Duncan F. Stewart, Alger; W. J. Tully, Iron.

DROWNED AT DEER LAKE.

Son of Empire Street Man Loses Life by Falling from a Boat.

Clarence Anderson, age eighteen years, son of Victor Anderson of Empire street, was drowned in Deer lake yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The body was recovered at 5 o'clock about 100 feet from shore.

Young Anderson, Joseph Williams and Sigrid Anderson were on the lake duck hunting and while going toward the south shore, with the intention of returning home, all were standing in the boat. Clarence Anderson was in the act of throwing a dog into the water. The dog struggled and the boat was capsized. All the boys sank beneath the surface of the water, and young Anderson did not come up after he sank the first time. At least his companions did not see him any more. Sigrid Anderson and Williams clung to the side of the boat and worked their way ashore.

A number of men worked at the lake with grab hooks, etc., and the body was found a short distance from where the boat capsized. Young Anderson could swim and in view of this fact the other boys cannot understand why he did not come to the surface after he fell into the water. It is thought that he may have struck his head in falling and was rendered unconscious.

The Democratic congressional convention for the Twelfth district, held Saturday afternoon in Andrews hall, this city, was attended by representative members of the party from five counties, Alger, Baraga, Dickinson, Houghton and Marquette.

The convention was called to order by Thomas J. Dundon, chairman of the Marquette county committee, and K. S. Markstrum of Gogebie, was elected chairman. Peter Primeau of Marquette was chosen secretary.

On motion the chair appointed as the committee on credentials T. J. Dundon, Hugh McLaughlin and John H. Gill, and as the committee on resolutions, F. S. Eyrne, C. F. Sundstrom and James Farn.

The Delegates.

The committee on credentials reported the following delegates entitled to seats in the convention:

Alger—Hans Hanson, Thomas Oars and C. S. Meekery.

Baraga—John Hill and August Mauge.

Dickinson—P. Flanagan, H. McLaughlin, T. E. Dillon, Anton O'Dell, Martin Hartwig, Levi Collette and Henry Muck.

Gogebie—K. S. Markstrum, Cornelius Gray, John F. Finnegan, John Holland and A. W. Peterson.

Houghton—Edward Ryan, E. P. A. Gondre, W. A. Burritt, J. T. Wiggins, John W. Black, James J. Byers, John F. Ryan, Jacob Stoffes, W. J. McKenna, G. T. Harrington, Robert J. Hill, George W. Orr, Frank O. Mayotte, E. F. Fintona, M. A. Thometz, Frank Diel, E. R. Penberthy, John R. Ryan, Ed C. DeRoobers, Edward Hanson, Patrick J. Scanlon, Thomas J. Dunlop and Patrick H. O'Brien.

Warm Resolutions

The resolutions presented by the committee and unanimously adopted affirmed the convention's belief in the principles of government laid down in the platform adopted by the Denver convention and pledged support to the candidates for president and vice president; endorsed the nomination of Lawton T. Hemans for governor and bespoke for him the support of progressive citizens to whom good government stands superior to party regularity and business expediency; and the resolution stated, in aiding the "machine" politicians.

The new constitution was disapproved of on the ground that it was framed by men under corporation control.

O'Brien for Congress.

Following the adoption of the reports of the credentials and resolutions committees O. F. Sundstrom took the floor and in a speech lasting several minutes presented the name of Patrick H. O'Brien of Calumet as the party's nominee for congress. Mr. O'Brien was endorsed at the Houghton county convention. He was nominated by acclamation. He was nominated by acclamation. He was nominated by acclamation.

CONTEST AT UNION PARK WITNESSED BY LARGEST CROWD THAT HAS EVER ATTENDED A BASEBALL MATCH THERE.

The series of league baseball games between the Ishpeming and Marquette teams had a most auspicious ending yesterday afternoon at the Union Park grounds. There were more enthusiastic fans present than had ever before assembled at the park, the estimated attendance being 4,000. The street car system was swamped, but many hundreds were carried. Several hundreds of dollars changed hands as a result of the contest. One Neganee man, who staked his money on Ishpeming, went home $100 richer than he came. There were several other winners, and the bets for smaller amounts were numerous.

Ishpeming was entitled to the game because it played better ball. There were some disputes over umpire Gaffney's decisions, but it was very generally conceded by the fair-minded fans that he tried to give both teams a fair deal. He was in a good many tight pinches, as both teams fought hard to win and Captain Scholtus gained points a couple of times by protesting.

Siebethal pitched a winning ball throughout the game and he was given better support than he has received in any previous game this season. He struck out fifteen men, while Scholtus had nine strike-outs. The visitors had several errors on wild throws, while the local players handled the ball well every time they had occasion to throw. Goulette caught a fly in deep left and threw the ball to first in an attempt to catch a runner who had started for second and he came very nearly throwing him out. Lawton and Richardson both caught the game.

GOLF TOURNAMENT.

Ladies of Two Cities Competing for Cup Donated by George A. Newett.

The finals in the ladies' golf tournament, started a few weeks ago, will be concluded this week. There were twenty contestants for a handsome silver cup donated by George A. Newett. The last of the semi-finals were played off Saturday afternoon, and the four remaining players for the finals are Miss Elliott, Mrs. M. Wells and Miss Rena Maitland of Marquette, and Mrs. F. Raisky of Ishpeming. The drawing for opponents of the final rounds will take place today, and the tournament will be concluded before the end of the week. Many of the scores, once around the links, have been made in the remaining two, making a record for the first seven holes which will probably stand unbroken. He finished the seven holes in twenty-six, but it required twelve additional points to complete the remaining two, making a score of thirty-eight, equal to Mr. Newett's best previous record, made two years ago, and Will Duncan's record, made four years ago. Messrs. Newett and Duncan are the only men who have ever made the circuit of the links in thirty-eight. Mr. Newett's score to the seventh hole Saturday was four to first hole; four to the second; three to third; five to fourth; two to fifth; three to sixth, and five to the seventh.

William P. Belden made the seventh hole Saturday in five strokes. This is remarkable work, as the distance from the sixth to the seventh is over 500 yards and besides there are two gulches to go over and a considerable number of small mounds, the approach being by far the hardest on the links. The hole was once or twice made in four, but there are very few who have made it in five. Mr. Belden's record is remarkable because he does not play golf as much as many of the other members who have never made this hole in better than from six to eight.

LARGE CROWD AT FAIR.

The attendance at St. John's church fair at Braastad's Hill Saturday night was much larger than either of the previous nights, there being over 500 paid admissions. The amusement were continued until 11:30. Tonight will be Foresters' night and the children will be "turned loose" this afternoon. Tomorrow night will be Neganee night. The money to be realized on the fair will be used in the payment for much needed improvements, including decorating the interior of the church, painting the exterior of the parsonage and building a concrete walk. If the receipts are as large as is now anticipated they will be the best for the church will also be painted.

Some tailors right here in Ishpeming tell you that they don't take off their hats to the best New York or Chicago tailors. What nonsense. I am more modest than that. But I will say, that I don't take off my hat to any Marquette county tailor. I will say also, that I can give you as good a suit for $20 as you can get from others, who claim to be tailors, for $30. Just come in and see for yourself. WAR CLOUD IN THE EAST.

Conditions Threatening for the Republicans.

Bryan's Tour Has Aroused Great Enthusiasm; His Reception in Maryland Significant—Interesting Comment by ex-Secretary Shaw and Henry Gassaway Davis—Further Indications That Roosevelt Will Take the Stump Bring Joy to Party Leaders—Another Attack on a History.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Attorney General Bonaparte voiced the opinion of a large number of party men the other day when he said that the Republicans must not let any grass grow under their feet if they are to elect Mr. Taft by an old-time plurality.

Two gentlemen of prominence who have just given their views on the present campaign are former Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and former Senator Henry Gassaway Davis.

Mr. Davis, after making the point that the large number of unemployed throughout the country was a phase of the situation favorable to Bryan, said: "These look to him and to the Democratic party for relief, on the other hand, of anything for a change. To this class it is seemingly convincing that if the party now in power cannot better conditions perhaps the party out of power might do so if it were given governmental control."

The intimation that President Roosevelt will take the stump for Judge Taft has been followed by the positive statements in several important Eastern newspapers that Mr. Roosevelt has positively decided upon such a course.

Another Hole in History. Another hole has been shot into history by one Albert Stewart of Washington, who comes to the front with the announcement that the story of the death of the British general, Braddock, who commanded in the campaign against the French and Indians, is incorrect. Braddock was killed by one of his own men and not by the opposing force, says Stewart.

Stewart gets his version from his grandfather, Abram Stewart, who was superintendent of the Braddock road, a route to the West before the days of the national park. The older Stewart, one day had a gang of men working on this road about eight miles east of Uniontown, Pa., when there appeared suddenly from the bushes Thomas Fossett, a deer hunter, famous in his time.

Fossett had taken shelter behind a tree and so had his brother, both being busy engaged in picking off the redskins, when General Braddock approached and upbraided them for not fighting in the open, and ending by striking the brother with the flat of his sword.

TO SEIZE ALIENS' PATENTS. British Syndicate Formed for Purpose—Enabled to Do This by New English Legislation.

London, Sept. 20.—It is announced that a syndicate of British firms is being formed with a large capital to seize the rights in foreign patents which may lapse under the new patents act through foreign firms neglecting to operate their patents in Great Britain.

The new British patents act was passed on Aug. 28, 1908, but did not go into effect until Aug. 28 of this year. Although it has many new features, the one which chiefly interests America is that concerning the working of patents taken out by foreigners in Great Britain.

They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. HEAVY RAIN PUT OUT MANY FOREST FIRES

BUT LOSSES IN THE COUNTRY WILL AMOUNT TO MANY MILLIONS—MUCH OF THE PARTIALLY BURNED TIMBER CAN BE SAVED IF CUT THIS SEASON.

Reports from the districts where forest fires have been raging for several weeks past are to the effect that the heavy rains Friday aided greatly in checking the flames, though many of the fires are still burning. In many places the fires have taken such a firm hold that it will require several heavy showers to completely extinguish them.

Various opinions are expressed by experienced land-owners and timber jobbers as to the loss on account of the fires in this region. A timber dealer Saturday said that much of the pine and other timber burned over can be saved if it is cut the coming season.

Officers of the United States forest service say that it is doubtful if this year's actual losses from forest fires in the Negaunee half of the country has escaped the flames. The disasters in Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin are reported to be the worst that have occurred in these states in many years.

TEXT OF SUPREME COURT'S DECISION

LANSING TRIBUNAL UPHOLDS THE VERDICT AGAINST THE CITY FOR $5,000 DAMAGES.

OPINION APPEARS DECISIVE

Finds That Condition of M. & S. E. Spur at Carp Furnace Was Responsible for Death of Late Mrs. Laughlin Johnson.

Following is the text of the supreme court's decision in the case of Laughlin Johnson vs. the City, in which a verdict of $5,000 because of the death of his former wife was returned in circuit court in the plaintiff's favor:

The plaintiff's intestate, while driving in a cutter in a street in defendant city, was overtaken by a team which had escaped from the driver, Herman Prebe, and admitted without fault or negligence on her part was trampled upon and mortally injured. This action was brought to recover damages from the city, upon the claim that the cause of the fright to the team which resulted in the loss of control by the driver was a defective condition in the highway. The annexed blue print will show the condition of the street. The crossing of the highway in question over the switch of the Marquette & Southeastern railway is indicated. The injury to the plaintiff occurred at a point some 350 feet north of this crossing. A team was drawing a sleigh conveying upon it a load of wood and driven by Herman Prebe was approaching this crossing from the south, and while upon the bridge at a point some 200 feet or less from the crossing, an unusual noise at the Carp furnace started the team, and it commenced to dance, and the driver was not able to bring them down to a walk until the crossing of the railway by the highway was reached. At this point he was thrown from the sleigh and lost control of the team. The evidence tended to show that an unusual and unnatural accumulation of snow had been formed at this point by shoveling from the railroad tracks onto the highway at either side and into the traveled part thereof, snow which had formed a very steep embankment, the exact depth of which is not shown, but which was obviously a dangerous embankment. The jury awarded a verdict to the plaintiff, and the defendant brings error.

The errors relied upon are a variance between the case made and the case attempted to be made by the proofs; that the defect in the highway, if there was any defect, was not the proximate cause of the death of Mrs. Johnson, it being contended that the proximate cause was the fright of the horses occasioned by the steam escaping from the furnace, and the negligence of the driver, Herman Prebe, in the manner in which he was driving the horses and the manner in which he stood on the sleigh, and his failure to equip his horses with sleigh bells. The question of whether there was a variance between the declaration and the proofs is so closely connected with that of whether the condition of the highway was the proximate cause of the injury that the discussion of one necessarily involves a determination of the other.

It is contended that the declaration counts upon the team being frightened at the highway crossing, whereas it is said they were frightened at the furnace. But if there was additional fright at the crossing, and if it should be determined that the previous fright had resulted in the driver losing control of the team in such sense as to make their previous fright the proximate cause of the injury, we see no fault in alleging the fright which was the occasion of the injury as occurring at the highway crossing.

It is next contended that there was no negligence proven against the city of Marquette. This point was not very strongly pressed at the hearing. We do not think it open to serious question that there was evidence in this case that at this crossing there was an unnatural accumulation of snow and ice occasioned by shoveling from the railroad track so as to produce a lump on either side of the track of several inches depth, thus increasing the height of the bank on either side. We think it was at least a question for the jury as to whether this left the highway in a condition reasonably safe and fit for travel. It is true that the natural accumulations of snow and ice and the natural results of traveling on the same do not of themselves make a case of faulty highway which justifies a jury in finding a municipality in fault. But that is not this case, as the evidence was ample to show that snow was thrown and piled on this highway in such manner as to make an unnatural hump or ridge on either side of the track.

As to whether this condition of the highway was the proximate cause of the injury presents the principal question in the case. The circuit judge left this question to the jury under instructions, the language of which is not complained of. It is contended, however, that there were no facts which warranted the submission of this question to the jury. The testimony upon this point was given by Herman Prebe, and was as follows:

down, and me standing there then holding them in; I wanted to show them down to a walk, and they wouldn't walk, then few steps; I didn't get them to walk; and coming onto this track, I got thrown off.

Q. How did you come to fall off the sleigh, you say you were standing there braced, holding them in with the lines; how did you come to fall off?

A. Because the team was going on a little trot, and by this drop, and me falling off as soon as they got onto the track.

Q. What threw you off?

A. Well, the drop of the track. My lines dropped out of my hands after I fell, not before. I don't remember them dropping out of my hands at all. They were in my hands when I started to fall. I did not let go of them before I fell.

I have driven horses ten or fifteen years and had considerable experience in driving during that time. I am a farmer and use horses in my business and haul wood to town more or less in the winter. I was driving that day in my usual manner. I was standing in the back of the box braced against the hind dash board. I was not between the pile of wood and the dash board. I was standing on the end of the bottom boards which stick out behind the dash board. The sides of the box which come up one or two feet high also extend back beyond the hind end board. I didn't think to brace against the sides. I stood behind and had my knees against the end board and had the lines in my hands. I should judge the drop from the traveled part of the highway to the track would be from eighteen inches to two feet. I could not tell whether the snow was packed down hard or not. I did not look at that.

When my horses ran away and threw me off at the crossing they took the load of wood along with them, and when I regained consciousness, it was standing in front of Rustenhoven's saloon. I came into town afterwards with a load of wood. The wood was not spilled out at the crossing. I have had that team two years. It is a young team. They were not frightened at the furnace, but it is a young team and always a little gay and dancing. They did not run away or anything like that. The noise of the furnace never affected my horses on any previous occasion so much as then. They had noticed the furnace before but it is not every time the same noise came out of the furnace that it was then. I can't remember of ever coming along there when there was such a noise that set the horses to dancing. This team ran away from me at home before this occasion.

Q. Were you doing all you could to stop your horses when they went into this crossing?

A. Yes, sir.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE.

Bicknell Young, C. S. B., Will Be Heard at Opera House This Evening.

Christian Science will be the subject of a free lecture to be given tonight in the opera house by Bicknell Young, C. S. B., of Chicago, a member of the board of lecturership of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston. Mr. Young is one of the ablest lecturers on the board. He has spent several years telling about Christian Science from the platform, in all the states of this country and in many foreign countries. Within the past two weeks he returned from Australia, completing the circumnavigation of the globe. Wherever he goes he usually attracts crowds to the capacity of the auditoriums, and often the same lecture is delivered on two or three successive nights in the same place.

In Melbourne and Sydney, Australia, Mr. Young lectured several times to packed houses in the largest available halls. In London he recently talked to 10,000 people. Not long ago he lectured on two successive nights in the Auditorium, in Chicago, under the combined auspices of the Chicago churches, both nights filling the huge hall to its capacity within ten minutes after the doors were opened.

Mr. Young will speak on the broad subject: "Christian Science," and will frame his remarks for the benefit of those who know of Christian Science only from what they have heard casually or read in newspapers and magazines. He will tell, in general, the platform and beliefs of his religion, explain the principles of the Science, cite cases of healing and tell how they were effected, and try to clear up some of the many questions concerning Christian Science that vex the popular mind today.

In general, Mr. Young will try to show that Christian Science is not the heretical, Godless, much-to-be-feared doctrine that demands legislation to prevent its spread, as popular opinion has it; that Mrs. Eddy does not place herself on an equal with Christ; that Christian Science is not a weird, hidden, uncanny belief, but rather a simple, common sense, practical religion based upon scientific principles, that it is not a fantastic theory for which proof is being sought, but a science, each step based upon proof, with the theory as a result.

The Christian Science church has this board of lecturers in the field to place its principles before the people. It believes that popular opinion is founded upon misinformation from various sources, and that the popular misconception of Christian Science leads to the widespread opposition to it. They think that when the people know what Christian Science really is, and find out that it is after all not so very far from "what they have always believed," opposition will cease and Christian Science will enjoy even more rapid progress than it is enjoying at present.

This is the fourth lecture in Marquette by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of this city. The other lectures have been given by Edward A. Kimball, Judge Septimus Hanna, and Judge Irving. The lectures are free and all are invited. It is probable that rates on the railroads will be secured for those wishing to attend tonight from Negaunee and Ishpeming. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

CONRO GETS VERDICT.

But It Was Far Short of Amount He Sued for in U. S. Court.

The case of Charles A. Conro vs. Edwin T. Larson, suit for $10,000 damages for non-fulfillment of contract in a timber land deal on the Gogebic range, came to a conclusion in U. S. court Saturday afternoon, when the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1,280. The case took up the attention of Judge Knappen throughout the week. The jury in it was called Tuesday last, when the present session of court opened, and the taking of testimony continued until Friday, when the arguments were submitted. Judge Knappen charged the jury Saturday morning, and following the dinner hour it asked for supplementary instructions on two points. The case proved to be one of the longest in the hearing that has been up at any recent term of U. S. court here.

Following the dinner hour Charles M. Papin and Alex. Rouleau, Soo men charged with violations of the U. S. internal revenue law by the sale of liquor, were brought before the court. Both were found guilty. After quizzing Rouleau at some length Judge Knappen passed the disposal of his case to this week. Papin was fined $25. His horse was the sale of two cases of beer while he was engaged in business as a salesman. It was urged in his behalf that it was technical offense, and that Papin did not know he was violating the law.

Today it is expected that the trial of Ross and Roche, the postoffice robbers, will begin.

In circuit court Saturday Judge Stone entered an order of non suit in the case of Laura McCarthy, administratrix of the estate of Robert McCarthy, deceased, vs. the Marquette County Telephone company, because of failure of plaintiff's counsel to appear.
