So our upper peninsula sanitarium for tuberculosis sufferers is to be a state sanitarium after all.

The general verdict in regard to Senator Tillman's explanation is that it hasn't explained a little bit.

In fact Senator Forsaker couldn't be sorer if it had been the president, rather than Mr. Hearst, who had unearthed those Standard Oil letters.

Meanwhile, it may be remarked, Harry Thaw is undergoing punishment, of a kind, for the crime which he committed. That is a good deal better than having him go scot free.

Considering the weather we have been having, it is not surprising that the car-ferris occasionally get stuck in the ice. The thing to occasion wonder is that they ever get out of it.

Why doesn't the police commission go a step further, and map out a complete code of rules for modern penal practice? Might as well do a complete job while they are about it.

A legislator from Ludington has introduced a bill providing for an open brook trout season to extend to Sept. 15. The next logical step is a bill to abolish the closed season altogether.

We wouldn't be surprised if the manner in which this week's address to the senate has fallen flat would discourage Senator Tillman from attempting that more elaborate effort at laying out the president which he has promised.

Former Secretary Wade of the University of Michigan expresses himself as satisfied with the outcome of the investigation into his management of his office. If Mr. Wade is satisfied we don't see why anyone else should find fault.

The Menominee Herald-Leader says that the Ontonagon Herald asserts that Judge Stone "is a strong personality and would disgrace the supreme bench." This seems to be a case of a syllable too many seriously interfering with the idea it was aimed to express.

At a meeting of the University regents this week, Arthur Hill, of Saginaw, asked permission to place in the proposed Memorial hall a monument in his relief, wrought in bronze or marble, of which President Angell shall be the subject, to be erected as a memorial of his eightieth birthday, celebrated recently. Needless to say the desired permission was promptly granted.

A legislative committee has been appointed to investigate the matter of water powers in Michigan, to the end that the state's interests in its water powers may be safeguarded. It is commented, however, that the state proposes to lock its barn after the horse is gone, as it is asserted by well-informed men that all the water powers of any importance in Michigan have already been pre-empted by private interests. If this is the case, and it probably is, the new commission will prove to be more ornamental than useful.

Governor Warner this week transmitted the appointment of Robert Shields of Houghton to succeed himself on the board of state tax commissioners. This appointment was foreseen, as Mr. Shields had endorsements from the governor's friends throughout the upper peninsula, and while there was some talk of opposition to him it did not at any time reach a formidable stage. The appointment is a popular one. William Kelly of Valcan and James MacNaughton of Calumet were reappointed members of the board of control of the College of Mines, and it is on the cards that Roger M. Andrews will be named as mineral statistician. Some of our copper country friends are worrying lest Mr. Andrews' knowledge of mining is so circumscribed that he may not get out a good report. We admonish them not to have any fears on that score. Mr. Andrews has the ability to collect and compile the material for a report which will compare favorably with any that have been issued, and we have no doubt that he will do it.

At a meeting of the Houghton county sportsmen's clubs this week various changes to the game laws were discussed, and resolutions were adopted setting forth what the copperdom sportsmen want in the way of revision. There was considerable debate over the proposal to limit the number of deer allowed each hunter to one, that one a doe. The proposal, however, did not meet with the favor of a majority of the sportsmen present, and the resolution that was finally passed called for leaving the present provision regarding the deer unchanged. The delegates voted for a restoration of the former season for brook trout, from May 1 to Sept. 1, instead of from April 15 to Aug. 15, as at present, and also recommended the enactment of a law providing for a uniform bounty of $50 for each wolf killed. The one thing on which the upper peninsula appears to be most united is the demand for the restoration of the former trout fishing season, though many authorities and observant sportsmen declare its restoration will be a blow at the perpetuation of the brook trout in upper peninsula waters, unless it is accompanied by a provision protecting the trout, which are on the way to the spawning beds, in the mouths and lower reaches of the spawning streams.

The Soo News urges a suspension of judgment in the case against Frank Higgins, former assistant postmaster at the Soo, who has been bound over for trial in the May term of the federal court at Marquette, charged with embezzlement of postal funds. "The commissioner in binding Higgins over was doubtless actuated by two motives," says the News. "The first of them is the practice in such cases; the almost invariable rule being that such action is taken by the commissioner where there seems to be even the slightest suspicious circumstance, and, second, that which Judge Colwell himself explained; such action gave to Mr. Higgins the only opportunity he could have to absolutely establish, in open court, before a jury of twelve men, his innocence of the charges made. Of course, even this is contingent upon the grand jury finding an indictment against him, when the matter is brought before that body for investigation. . . . There has been, we believe, too much of a disposition on the part of the public, lacking any other explanation of the affair, to attribute guilt to the assistant postmaster. This is unfair to Higgins and un-American in spirit. The practice of the courts is to assume a man innocent until he is proved guilty. This legal practice has become popular as well, and no exception should be made in this case. If Higgins is guilty he should, of course, be punished, but there is a disposition on the part of a considerable element in the community to assume his guilt before he has had any opportunity to make a defense."

R. C. Flannigan, of Norway, one of the best known attorneys in the upper peninsula, has been suggested as a successor to Judge Stone in the Twenty-fifth judicial circuit, in the event of the expected success in securing Judge Stone's nomination to succeed Claudius B. Grant on the supreme bench of the state. The Menominee Herald-Leader heartily endorses Mr. Flannigan for this preference. "Those who know him, and who in the upper peninsula does not, are well aware," says the Herald-Leader, "that he would be the last man in the world to seek an office for himself. If the honor of the circuit judgeship comes to him, as we hope it will, it will be because the people will speak up and acclaim him as their choice." Speaking of Mr. Flannigan's career, the Herald-Leader says: "He was born Dec. 15, 1859, at Ontonagon, Mich., and is the son of the late James F. Flannigan. He attended the public schools at Marquette until fifteen years of age, when he secured a position in the weighing depot of the Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon railroad, where he remained four years. He then entered the law office of Parks & Hayden at Marquette, and later attended the University of Michigan, and was admitted to the bar in 1880. Richard C. Flannigan was but twenty-one years of age when he was elected prosecuting attorney of Menominee county, and his progress since that time has been steady and substantial. He was the first mayor of Norway, and in 1886 was re-elected prosecuting attorney, defeating the late W. H. Phillips. He has established a reputation as one of the ablest criminal lawyers in Michigan, and has been identified with many cases of state wide importance. He has for several years been attorney for the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, and has exerted a wide influence in state affairs." Mr. Flannigan, the Herald-Leader might have added, enjoys a substantial popularity among the legal fraternity both of the Twenty-fifth circuit and the entire upper peninsula, and the suggestion that he would be an excellent man to succeed Judge Stone has been widely approved by his legal friends. A related question, in considering this matter is, "Will the present boundaries of the Twenty-fifth circuit remain intact in case Judge Stone is elected to the supreme bench?" The project of dividing the circuit has already been broached, and has been urged in some counties, notably Delta, as the proper thing to do.

Upper Peninsula
Bank Official Resigns
M. J. Weaver, for the past thirteen years vice president of the Soo Saving bank, has tendered his resignation to take effect this month. He will retain his membership on the board of directors, however. Mr. Weaver's resignation is made for the purpose of allowing him more time to look after his personal interests both in the vicinity of the Soo and in the East.

Four Times Without Opposition
Judge Steere of the Soo is now serving his fifth consecutive term as circuit judge. The first time he had opposition in the person of the late Judge Goodwin, but four times has he been honored by an election without opposition, receiving not only the support of Republicans and Democrats alike but the support of Prohibitionists, Socialists and Populists, and all other political factions. In this respect Judge Steere is believed to hold the record in the state.

New County Clerk in Office
The only changes at the county building at Bessemer on the first of the year occurred in the clerk's office. A. D. Johnston, who had served as county clerk for ten years, was succeeded by John Luxmore, Jr., who has been deputy clerk since the death of L. C. Walker several months ago. Mr. Johnston declined re-nomination, and Mr. Luxmore was chosen at the election last November. Sheriff Spencer has reappointed John Hollan as under sheriff and John Carlson as turnkey. Treasurer Keloh has retained G. L. Zeilner as his deputy. Mr. Luxmore's choice for deputy county clerk fell to William I. Russell of Bessemer.

Postmaster Filled the Order
The other day a polite little boy walked into the postoffice at Ironwood and handed Postmaster Houk the following note, which he said had been written by his mother: "Give him seven two-cent stamps, and if you haven't the many give him as many two-cent stamps as you have and the rest in one-cent stamps." Uncle Sam's agent looked around and found that there were a few two-cent stamps left in spite of the fact that it required thirty-four thousand two-cent stamps, and if you haven't the many give him in the month of December, and the order for the seven named in the note was filled.

Electric Line in Prospect
An electric car line to connect Stambaugh with Spring Valley is a possibility in Iron county, Menominee range. The village council has granted a thirty-year franchise to D. C. Walker, who represents Chicago interests. Those promoting the proposed line say that there is every possibility that the project will go through and even though it may not be a financial success at the start they are willing to take the risk, feeling assured that the rapid growth of the district will soon make the investment paying one. The franchise stipulates that construction shall begin within two years and that the line shall be in active operation in five years. It is provided that twenty-five tickets shall be sold for a dollar.

Property Burned; Sues Railroad
John Cunard, a farmer, started suit in Menominee county this week, charging $1,000 against the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company. On the 28th of last August a tract of land in Menominee and Delta counties owned by Cunard was fire swept. The plaintiff alleges that sparks from a Northwestern engine fanned by a heavy breeze, caused the damage. According to Cunard's complaint he had a logging equipment, cedar and hemlock ties, logs and pulpwood on his property not far from the railroad tracks. At this point, the train was passing a Northwestern engine on a steep grade and the heavy ore train bound for Escanaba usually use two engines. The complaint alleges that about noon on Aug. 28 a double-header pulled by the property, both engines emitting fire sparks from the smokestacks. The huge showers of sparks which fell from the street and the heavy ore train burning in a few hours the timber and other property was destroyed.

What Imagination Does
That imagination is an important factor on this mundane sphere was rather amusingly illustrated during the cold spell at Ontonagon this week. H. M. Powers has two thermometers in front of his pharmacy. One registers accurate ly and the other shows it to be about ten degrees colder than it really is. The other day the "strategy board" found much amusement in watching the "trains." Leisurely one would come along the street, and instinctively, almost, he would stop and look at the thermometer. If it happened to be the cold one, there was an instantaneous change in his attitude. Up would go his coat collar and whipping his hands he would tear along the street as if he had just received an urgent summons to reach his destination. Perhaps the next one would gaze on the other one. He would continue along as though it were but a summer day. And the "strategies" would grin in glee.

Copper Country

CALUMET GETTIN' SPORTY.
Teddy Olson and Tommy Scully in Opposite Corners—For Chalmers.

The copper country, and particularly Calumet, is developing rapidly as a sporting center, and it is evidence that this is so, because it may be found in the announcement that Teddy Olson and Tommy Scully of Escanaba will be found in opposite corners of a roped area at the Italian hall this evening. It is to be a boxing exhibition in the bantam class and is scheduled to go eight rounds. The two will weigh in at about 115. Scully is a youth of twenty-five and has aspirations for the bantamweight championship of the world. Olson is a husky young man widely known in the north country, having appeared in Calumet not long since in a privately-managed affair. A purpose of tonight's exhibition is to raise funds for the earthquake sufferers of southern Italy. It is believed that a large sum will be realized.

The Beaman-Pardeello wrestling match will probably not take place in Calumet on Washington birthday as had been arranged. Instead it is now planned to have a match that would be even more interesting—a bout between Beaman and Fred Beal of Marshtown, Wis., the only team in this country who ever threw Frank Getch, world's champion. The proposed match has not yet been arranged and it may not be, but negotiations with Beal are on. If it is arranged the Pardeello go will be deferred to a later date. Pardeello's value as a drawing card suffered somewhat by his defeat at Des Moines, Ia., this week by Boniers of that city. Another match being arranged for Beaman is with Ed. Adamsen, known also as Joe Collins.

TO VOTE UPON BOND ISSUE.

At the election to be held in L'Anse next spring the voters of the community will be asked to authorize the issue of bonds by which money will be raised to pay for the new electric lighting plant. A somewhat singular feature of the situation is that the plant has already been built and is in operation. It seems it is yet to be paid for by the village. The type of bond that is proposed to issue is a mortgage bond secured by the electric lighting property only. The issuance of bonds of this type—mortgage bonds, so-called—is authorized by the new constitution. The L'Anse council at its meeting this week adopted a resolution calling the election.

WATER BOARD SITS TIGHT.

Has Not Yet Published Deadbeat Names of Meter Objectors.

Up to the present time the Hancock board of public works has not made good its threat to publish as deadbeats the names of those water consumers who have refused to obey the board and install water meters. Whether the board will acknowledge itself finally defeated and will back down remains yet to be seen. The board has exhausted every effort to compel the property owners in question to put in meters; the property owners continue to laugh comfortably in their sleeves.
At its recent meeting the city council became interested in the matter to the extent that it asked the board to make a complete report of water system affairs at the next meeting. This report will include a list of those persons and firms that have not yet installed meters. The council asked for this list particularly. It is possible that the board has deferred action until after the council shall have acted upon this report.

STAMP SALE A SUCCESS.

Report Shows That Anti-Tuberculosis Society Raised Over $1,000.

At the meeting in Lake Linden Tuesday night of the Houghton County Anti-Tuberculosis society a report presented of the sale through the county of the Christmas stamps which the proceeds amounted to $1,120.95. As the scheme was devised with the purpose of bringing to the copper country a visiting nurse to carry on practical educational work among those afflicted with or exposed to the great white disease, it is expected that this project will be carried out without further delay. It was estimated that a thousand dollars would be sufficient to do this. The report was presented at the meeting by Mrs. A. T. Streeter of Houghton, under whose direction the stamps were placed on sale.

The skating party will be one of the important Lake Linden social affairs and for the occasion all of the business places of the village will close at 6 o'clock in the evening. A special train is to be run from Calumet to the amphidrome.
Fire at the residence of Lincoln Wilben in West Hancock Tuesday was extinguished by the department after damage amounting to about $200 had been done. The blaze was confined to the upper story and roof. The department was obliged to lay 1,500 feet of hose before effective work could be done.
The firm of Arne & Ruttelberg of Calumet, which has conducted the Savings Bank department store in Calumet for the past fourteen years, has been dissolved. One of the members of the firm, Mr. Ruttelberg, has leased the store in the Schneider block, on Quincy street, Hancock, and purposes to begin business there.
In a fast, snappy game between the Houghton and Red Jacket hockey teams at the Amphidrome Tuesday night, the Portage Lake team lost by the score of two to four. The first half provided the fastest play seen so far this season at the Amphidrome, and the half ended with a score of one to one. The game throughout was clean.
The new officers of the Houghton lodge of Eagles are: Past president, Casper Brand; president, Dr. W. P. Scott; vice president, James Maher; secretary, E. L. Chapman; treasurer, Casper Brand; conductor, T. A. Steller; inner guard, Theodore Henrie; outer guard, Robert Olson; trustees, W. F. Miller, A. M. Hendrickson and Fred Meyer.
The Hancock Naval Reserves are to give a luncheon and smoker in the armory this evening, Friday evening, Jan. 22. The organization is to give a skating and dancing party at the Amphidrome. All of the military organizations of the district have been invited to this and a special train service has been arranged from the towns on the range and from the Calumet district.
A complaint that a Hubbard councilman voiced concerning the fire department was that while some of the members were willing to don uniforms for street parading purposes, when fires occurred these same members were unwilling to don rubber coats and get busy. He gave that as the reason why he favored the proposal to reduce the membership of the department.
The funeral of Amos Fetterly of Calumet, who died Tuesday afternoon, will be held this afternoon, with services at the residence at 2:30 o'clock and interment at Lake View cemetery. Rev. L. Long will officiate. Mr. Fetterly was a native of Lenexburg, Ontario, and had been a resident of Calumet for twenty-five years, twenty-two of which were spent in the employ of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company. He is survived by a widow and three daughters.
Another big list of naturalization cases is to come up at the February term of the Houghton county circuit court. It is likely, due to new laws after the offense was committed he concluded a painstaking investigation which led to the nineteen arrests.

The members of the Young Men's club of Redridge are making preparations for a masquerade ball, to be held at the school hall on the evening of Friday, Jan. 22. Music will be furnished by the Redridge orchestra and the ladies of St. Ann's chapel will serve supper. Those in charge of the affair are John W. Daley, Antoine Gabe, William Smith, Joseph D. McArdle, Norman D. Harrington, Norman Burkhmann, August Keiser, James Squires, William E. Corbett, William Schacht and William Polkinghorne.

Extensive preparations are being made by the Calumet lodge of Hibernians for the entertainment that is to be given to all of the other lodges throughout the county at Calumet on St. Patrick's Day, March 17. The committee that has the affair in hand is composed of Henry Shea, J. E. O'Neil, James Kelly, John Wade, Thomas Shea, Thomas Joyce, D. McGeehan, D. Harrington, Dan Sullivan, Stephen Sullivan, John B. Sloane, Con Shea, Con Hanley and John C. Leary.

A Lake Linden man, returning home drunk from Calumet one afternoon this week, let this team wander into a ditch at the roadside and left it there. After the animals had been stalled in the snow for five hours, Marshall Kline of Lake Linden succeeded in extricating them, but by that time they were so thoroughly frozen that they had to be carted on drays to a livery barn. As they were promptly attention by a veterinarian at the barn they may live. The owner of the horses was fined in the court of Justice E. E. Prince. Lake Linden has no humane society, nor has any of the other copper country towns.

LAKE COPPER PRODUCTION.

1908 Output Was 224,742,925, a Slight Decrease from 1907.

The Boston News Bureau's estimated output of the Lake Superior mines for December was 19,169,600 pounds of copper, which compares with 17,743,290 pounds in November, 1908, and 19,308,750 pounds in December, 1907. For the entire year the Lake Superior mines have produced 224,742,925 pounds of copper compared with 227,804,674 pounds in 1907, a slight decrease of about 3,000,000 pounds. The production since the first of the year compared with the previous years was as follows:

BUTTE MINES IN GOOD CONDITION.

Producing at a Greater Rate Than at Any Time Since the Boom of 1906.

The Butte mines have started the new year in good condition and with bright prospects, says the Butte correspondent of the Boston Commercial. The mines are producing at a greater rate than at any time since the boom period of 1906, and it is doubtful if the latter will ever be equalled. Operations are conducted more conservatively, more economically and with better results all around. Gradually the new companies are coming into operation and the large concerns are taking up new work again, work of an exploratory and exclusively development character.
Recovering from Smoke Scare.
Montana communities are recovering from the scare given them by the threat from Washington to close the Montana smelters and mines, because of damage done by the smelter smoke to forest service, and assurances have been made that no precipitate action will be taken. Reports from Washington are that conditions have been greatly misrepresented to the president by the parties interested in having action taken against the smelters.
The wide interest and agitation the matter created is evidenced by the letter sent to President Roosevelt by Bishop R. B. Rowley of the Episcopal diocese of Montana. After recounting the disaster that would result by a closing of the Washoe smelter and the Butte mines, the bishop says he has been in Montana twenty-five years and was here before there were any smelters, and knows of his personal knowledge that little harm has been done by smelter smoke to the forests. He declares that all the timber within a radius of twenty miles of the Washoe smelter cannot possibly be worth more than $50,000. By far the larger portion of the timber that existed twenty years ago has been cut off for wood, fencing and lumber. In the city of Anaconda, within a few miles of the smelter, beautiful trees, plants, grass and flowers are growing where none grew before. Even in Butte where all trees and vegetation were once killed by the fumes of the Butte smelters, beautiful lawns and flowers are now flourishing, all of which has come from the efforts of the mining and smelting companies to abolish the smoke veil.
The state board of land commissioners has also sent similar resolutions to the president, declaring that very little damage is now being done to timber. For five years or more the Anaconda Copper company has had in its employ some of the most noted and high-classed experts in the world, who have been doing nothing but travel over the world studying similar places and devising means for improving conditions and abolishing the poisonous gases, and

SAVING OIL AT DOS BOCAS, MEX.
Tampico, Mexico, Jan. 13.—The petroleum gases from the great oil seep at Dos Bocas, near San Germano river have subsided to such an extent that it has been possible to devise a means for saving the oil which comes from the phenomenon well, S. Pearson & Son, Ltd., the owners of the well, have had a small canal constructed, leading from the crater of the oil and water volcano, and into this channel the oil flows and is carried to a small reservoir or "trap," where pumps have been installed which raise the oil into a larger, earthen reservoir where it will be stored temporarily. The water from the volcano is led into the San Germano river and thence to Lake Tamiaba through another artificial canal. The oil canal is about two thousand feet long.
This oil is practically worthless for illuminating purposes, but it still retains its asphalt base, and is being used for the manufacture of asphaltum for street paving and other purposes. The output of de-illuminating oil which is now flowing from the well is about 5,000 barrels daily.
Government experts recently made soundings of the depth of the boiling cauldron, which now covers an area of twenty-five acres. These soundings were confined to the edges or banks of the volcano and were made during a period of temporary placidity of the contents. The soundings showed that the depth around the rim ranges from three hundred to eight hundred feet. It is supposed that farther away from the rim of the crater the depth reaches not less than eighteen hundred feet. The original well had reached that depth when the oil strata was struck and the first blowout occurred on July 4, 1907.

Ball Game One-Sided—The City basketball team tallied so many baskets in winning its game with the high school team at Legion hall last evening that the scorer about lost track of them. However the counting was something like 24 to 6. Dancing followed and was participated in by a large number of the young people.

Two Chimney Fires—The fire department was called out twice yesterday to extinguish chimney fires, in the forenoon to the residence of Mrs. Emily Denn, at the corner of Fourth and Fisher streets, and again in the evening to the home of Mrs. Antoine Lathier, on Rock street. Fire Warden O'Moara said yesterday that there was no reason for calling out the fire department to extinguish most of these chimney fires, as many of them were out before the company arrived. That there is little danger of the sparks from a chimney fire setting fire to a building was his statement.

Man Ad About Little—Quite a crowd was attracted to Justice Byrne's court room yesterday afternoon to hear the testimony in the case of Archie Pappa against Adolph Paris. Pappa is a bar tender, who sued Paris, his employer, for wages amounting to $9. Paris put in a counter claim of $7.55 for liquor and board given Pappa, and Justice Byrne decided that the defendant should pay Pappa the difference between the two claims, $1.25. The costs in the case amounted to $5.00, which are charged to the defendant. Both Paris and Pappa were represented by attorneys.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. NEW TRIAL ORDERED.

Verdict of Jury in Hosking Personal Injury Case Set Aside.

The jury verdict of $5,500 in the personal injury case of Samuel Hosking against The Cleveland Iron company was recently set aside by Judge Stone and a new trial ordered. The accident, which was the cause of this case, occurred at a mine near Ishpeming in April, 1905. The plaintiff was timbering a drift, when some of the overhanging wall fell and crushed one of his legs, so that it had to be amputated below the knee. Suit was brought against the company for $25,000 on the ground that the iron company knew of the dangerous nature of the overhanging wall but did not inform Hosking of the danger, who was ignorant of it. A jury trial was held last May, at which a verdict of $5,500 was given the plaintiff.

The defendant company asked for a new trial, and a few days ago their request was granted. Judge Stone has handed down a written opinion of some length, giving his reasons for setting aside the jury verdict. The most patent of these is that inasmuch as Hosking was timbering a drift—in itself a precautionary employment—he must have known that the occupation was attended with danger, and that, in consequence, the liability of the company was discharged when competent men were employed for that work. The opinion at least implies that the court should have directed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant company.

ARE GETTING ACTIVE IN STONE'S BEHALF

ATTORNEY SAYS JUDGE'S FRIENDS ARE NOT ASLEEP—CIRCULAR LETTER TO BE SENT OUT.

Some members of the Marquette county bar are inclined to take exception to the criticism that the managers of Judge Stone's candidacy for the seat on the state supreme bench, soon to be vacated by Justice C. B. Grant, have not been sufficiently active, in view of the energy that is being displayed in promoting the candidacy of Circuit Judges Perkins and Dodds, for the same judicial position. An attorney said yesterday that the legal fraternity of this part of the state had not been resting on its ears in the matter, although they had not been making much noise. "The political work that counts," said he, "is not necessarily that accompanied by the most shouting and publicity." However that may be, the experience of past campaigns has shown that political aspirants have lost nothing from the adoption of a policy of judicious publicity, especially where the candidate himself is so entirely above reproach as in the case of Judge Stone.

As a means of giving more general publicity to Judge Stone's candidacy, the committee in charge of his campaign are now preparing to send out a circular letter to the members of the state bar, setting forth the claims of the present circuit judge of Marquette county to the office, with which will be enclosed a copy of the resolutions endorsing Judge Stone's candidacy, which were unanimously adopted at the banquet of the County Bar association, a few weeks ago.

Text of the Letter.

The following is the text of this letter:

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 12, 1909.

Dear Sir:—We enclose herewith a copy of resolutions adopted by the Bar association of Marquette county, announcing the candidacy of Hon. John W. Stone for the supreme court.

With the retirement of Justice Grant, the upper peninsula will be left without any representative on that bench.

When the court consisted of but five men, it was considered that this section was entitled to one representative. It would therefore seem that now there are eight, its right to one cannot be questioned.

The upper peninsula contains approximately one-eighth of the population of the state, and about one-sixth of its assessed valuation. Its mining interests necessarily present questions peculiar to its industries.

The candidacy of Judge Stone has the solid support of the upper peninsula, where he has served for nearly twenty years as circuit judge of the twenty-fifth judicial district, embracing the counties of Marquette, Delta, Minnionie, Dickinson and Iron.

We are, however, unwilling to rest Judge Stone's candidacy upon the above grounds alone. We know he is eminently fitted for the position, that he will strengthen the supreme court, and that his election will honor the state.

For twenty years he has been a studious, working, successful trial judge, and his record of success in the supreme court will prove him to be second in ability to no judge who ever sat on the bench in this state.

We therefore ask your support for Judge Stone, and will esteem it a great favor if you will advise us what the sentiment of your locality is.

Very respectfully,

DAN H. BALL, ARCH B. ELDRIDGE, GAD SMITH.

J. MAURICE FINN IS DEAD AT DENVER
BANKS HOLD ELECTIONS.
 New Directors Elected by the Miners and Peninsula Stockholders.

FORMER PUBLISHER OF AN ISHPEMING PAPER, AND AT ONE TIME DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS, PASSED AWAY IN HOSPITAL MONDAY.

John Downing, of Negaunee, received a telegram Tuesday advising him of the death in Denver, Colo., of his son-in-law, J. Maurice Finn, who was a resident of Ishpeming for some years prior to about fifteen years ago, when he moved to Cripple Creek, Colo., where he met with unusual success in the mining business. The announcement of Mr. Finn's death was a surprise to his father-in-law, as he had received a letter from his daughter the latter part of last week in which she advised him that both herself and husband were enjoying good health. According to a press dispatch, Mr. Finn died at a hospital in Denver, where he had been taken all suddenly, and that he had been transferred to the hospital.

The deceased was one of the best known attorneys in the west, and was one of the pioneers of the Cripple Creek district. A Chicago paper states that during the boom days of that camp his holdings were estimated to be worth over $5,000,000, but that he died a poor man. Some years ago, when Mr. Finn was at the height of his prosperity, he erected a mansion at Cripple Creek costing in excess of $100,000. The dwelling contains ninety rooms, and so far as Mr. Downing knows he still owns the property and his family now occupies it. Prior to locating here some eighteen or nineteen years ago, Mr. Finn lived at Grayling, Mich. During the first six months or a year he was in this city he devoted most of his time to conducting mining explorations. He explored the lands immediately north and west of the Union park for iron ore, and was also financially interested in the Grayling gold property, some miles northwest of the city. He engaged in the publication of the Lake Superior Democrat, in partnership with the late J. E. Soules of Menominee. The business was continued for a year and a half or more, and Mr. Finn's final experience in the newspaper business here was in the publication of a daily, succeeding the Ishpeming Daily Press, which was established and published by Horace J. Stevens.

Mr. Finn was one of the most radical Democrats that ever lived in the county and during the time his papers were published he devoted much space to political subjects. He was the Democratic party's nominee for congress against the late Samuel Stephenson of Menominee sixteen years ago last fall. Mr. Finn and his supporters put up the most aggressive Democratic campaign that has ever been waged in the district and as a result the Republicans were more active than during any previous campaign in years. In accepting the nomination Mr. Finn delivered one of the hottest Democratic speeches ever heard here.

At the time Mr. Finn disposed of his interests in Ishpeming, it was said that he had squandered a considerable sum in his efforts to make his paper pay. He went from this city direct to Colorado, and he was not in Cripple Creek very long until he was heard from. He became interested in some of the first properties discovered and passed through the big boom with flying colors.

MUSICAL COMEDY TONIGHT.

which will be whistled, and he has orchestrated them with a taste and neat fantasy which add to their effectiveness and give them a value above that possessed by those of the average musical comedy score. The company is a large one and it carries an exceptionally fine equipment of scenery and other stage effects.

You & Your Dealer

Stand by your local merchants, patronize the stores in your own town. Don't be tempted by catch-penny bargains to send your money flying all over the country; keep it in circulation in your own neighborhood. When you see advertised something you want, ask your dealer to get it for you or write for samples. But always buy the goods themselves through your home store. By doing this you will benefit three parties:

The advertiser---He will get an opportunity to do business in your town and to work with your dealer.

Your Dealer---He will get his regular profit and an opportunity to broaden out his business.

Yourself---You will see what you are buying, the price will be quite as little, perhaps less than if you buy by mail; and besides this you will have the great satisfaction of knowing that you have done your share toward supporting and encouraging local enterprise, upon which depends the growth and prosperity of your town.

If you live up to the above it will be easy to collect money for churches and charity.

NEGAUNEE BAND LEADER PRAISED

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the First National Bank of Negaunee Tuesday afternoon, all of the old directors, also the old officers, were elected for the ensuing year. The board is composed of Alexander Maitland, George J. Maas, J. H. Winter, A. B. Miner and T. C. Yates. The officers are Alexander Maitland, president; George J. Maas, vice president; T. C. Yates, cashier, and Thomas Pascoe, assistant cashier.

The year just closed was the most prosperous that the bank has ever had. The business has grown steadily, and the deposits are now larger than ever before in the bank's history. The cashier reported that there is now in excess of $1,250,000 on deposit, a considerable increase over the deposits on Nov. 27, when the last quarterly statement was issued. At that time the deposits were $1,061,819.40. The bank's liabilities include a capital stock of $100,000; surplus fund of $50,000; circulation of $100,000 and undivided profits in excess of $12,000.

The anniversary number of the American Musician, published in New York, contained a picture of Herbert A. Gribble, Negaunee's well-known young musician, together with an article on his career, also the program given by the Negaunee band, of which Mr. Gribble is instructor, at its annual concert on New Year's night. On the program were four of the leader's own compositions, most of them having been composed within the past year. The reference to him was as follows:

"Mr. Gribble lives at Negaunee, Mich., and is leader of the Negaunee City band. At the early age of twenty-two, he has already achieved what a much older man would be proud of.

"Mr. Gribble was born in his home town, Negaunee, July 29, 1886, of English descent, and inherited his musical tendencies from both his parents. He took his first lessons on the piano from his mother when he was seven. He played his first public piano solo at the age of eight in connection with the Negaunee City band concert.

"It is interesting to note that he is at the present time leader of the same band. A highly successful concert was recently given at McDonald's opera house. It was attended by an unusually large audience, practically all the seats were occupied, and several stood in the rear. The program was one of the best the band has ever given, and was well received.

"It is evident that the band has improved greatly under Mr. Gribble's instruction. At the conclusion of the concert, there was dancing, which continued until after midnight.

"He has composed many pieces of almost every description. Mr. Gribble's greatest writing, a classical piece, which he will call "Symphony in G." This will be his twenty-fourth composition, and he has about one hundred manuscripts all told.

"I have high ambitions in the composing line," he writes in a letter to the American Musician. Some of his most successful works are "The Lake Superior" march and two-step, and "The Voice of Autumn."

"Mr. Gribble went to Chicago, at the age of eighteen, and studied at the Columbus School of Music under Clara Osborne Reed. He has had experience as a vaudeville pianist, playing the Western Vaudeville association circuit. He made good. At present he is teaching the piano, leading the band and editing his spare time to composing. As a pianist, he is noted in his home town and vicinity, and deservedly so.

"The country at large will yet hear from Mr. Gribble, for he has it in him."

Mr. Gribble is greatly interested in his work and has made a big improvement in the band during the few months he has been its instructor. It is a difficult matter to build up a good band in a city the size of Negaunee, and can be accomplished only by an efficient director, who is thoroughly familiar with the smaller cities and towns is not given full credit for his efforts and in a majority of cases he becomes discouraged. There are many directors, Mr. Gribble says, in the smaller towns who are truly "sincere" and highly educated, but it is lamentable that the band business has been brought to a low level. Mr. Gribble has made a study of the work of the more prominent musicians and band instructors, and has secured many of the points to which they attribute their success. The lack of students in the rank and file of the band men has had a demoralizing effect on bands. Teachers teach and pupils practice and at the end of the year there is not a musical tone. Mr. Gribble's idea is to train the band men so that they will be able to play similar study more and blow less. He has always endeavored to impress this point upon his pupils.

IS AN IMPORTANT CONTRACT.

U. F. Durner of Milwaukee, who was awarded the contract for the tile floors at the new high school building, expects to start on the job in about four weeks. He said before leaving here that it will take his crew of five or six men four or five weeks to finish the contract. There is about 11,000 square feet of tile to be put in. This includes the three large corridors, also the vestibules. Mr. Durner laid the tile floor at the First National bank building, and did similar work in the vestibules of George J. Maas' dwelling. There were ten bidders on the school job.

EXPECT BIG GAME.

The management of the Union indoo baseball team expect to bring the crack Hibernian team of Hancock to this city. Peter Trudell, captain of the local team, is at present in the copper country and he expects to arrange the details for the match while there. An effort will be made to have the game played a week from tomorrow night at the Adelphi rink. The Hibernian team is the fastest nine in the copper country. It was the only team in this region that defeated the celebrated Spaulding nine of Chicago two years ago.

WEATHER IS FINE FOR LUMBERING

THERE IS JUST ENOUGH SNOW TO MAKE GOOD LOGGING ROADS IN THE WOODS.

THE CAMP AT BROWNSTONE

Marquette Man Will Make Quite a Respectable Cut This Winter—Thirty Men Employed.

Judge C. R. Brown, of the Rock River Cedar and Lumber company, reports that the conditions for logging operations are unusually favorable at the present time. There is just enough snow, and none too much, to make good roads, and logs are being hauled to the drives or mills with less difficulty than usual.

Judge Brown has two camps, employing thirty men and five teams, at work at Brownstone, forty miles east of Marquette. A portable mill was put up last year and the logs are hauled to the mill on sleighs as they are cut. One of the camps is right at the mill and the other three-fourths of a mile distant. A school with from ten to twelve pupils has been organized, with a male teacher and magazines and reading matter of various kinds are sent to the camps by the judge from time to time. Most of Judge Brown's employees are married men and are living with their families at the camp. For all these reasons, less time is spent in playing "tenny ante" and more in routing than is usual in lumber camps.

Previous to a year ago no logging had been done at Brownstone for some time, land holders having reported unfavorably on the timber resources of the locality. However, Judge Brown made a personal examination of the 1,000 acres that is held at that place, and found that not over two-fifths of the actual timber on the land had been reported by the cruisers. He found 600 acres of the tract to contain hemlock, spruce, cedar and hardwood timber of sufficient value to pay well for cutting. Birch, maple and elm were the principal varieties of hardwood found.

Will Cut a Million Feet.

Accordingly, lumbering was begun on the tract last season and a portable mill was set up. Something over a million feet was saved out last summer, and a cut of about equal size is planned for the present season. Railroad ties, cedar poles, pulp wood and lumber are produced by the company. The soft woods are being cleared off first, as there is more money in them than in hardwood at present prices. It is expected that there will be enough timber on the tract to make another season's cut. The timber was slightly damaged by the forest fires which ravaged the cut-over lands in that vicinity last summer, and at one time the occupants of the houses near the mill fled from their homes. The houses did not burn, however, and comparatively little damage was done to the standing timber. The foreman at the camp has found some very fine pine timber in logs that were left on the ground in the first cut-over, at which time only the first class logs were taken to the mill. These logs are rotten for about two inches on the outside, but in the heart, many of them have been found to be as sound as they were the day they were cut and left on the ground in wanton waste. Judge Brown states that the lumber market is now very dull and that prices are low. The railroads seem to have all the ties they can use, and the market is overstocked with telephone poles. The condition, he believes, is due largely to the 1906 building and extension work that has been done during the past year. The paper mills are offering a very low price for pulpwood, claiming that the dry weather of last summer has crippled the water power mills and so curtailed the demand. Hardwoods have been hit especially hard in the slump, and, in some cases, are selling for a third less than eighteen months ago.

He believes, however, that the depression is only temporary and is getting out the usual amount of lumber, with the intention of holding it until the demand and price right themselves. Yesterday, he consummated the sale of his entire season's output of cedar posts and poles at a fair figure.

WIVES ARE DESERTED. County Poor Commissioner Says Cases of Abandonment Are Numerous.

County Poor Superintendent C. D. Blanchard says that more calls for aid are being registered at his office this winter than a year ago, many of which are from wives who have been deserted by their husbands. Captain Blanchard believes that the frequency of this inhuman crime is due, to some extent, to the inadequacy of the punishment meted out by the law in such cases. It is claimed that men leave their wives and children, knowing that they will be taken care of by the county poor board, and that they can be given nothing more severe than a jail sentence, which, in many cases, is no punishment at all. "A man who is so disreputable that he will desert his family, is so low that a term in jail has no terrors for him," said Captain Blanchard.

"If he is sent after and returned by the officers, it only means a double expense for the county, as he must be boarded in jail, while the county continues to provide for his family. My idea would be to sentence wife deserters to hard labor, on street or road work, for instance, and allow them a fair wage for their time, which would be applied toward the support of their families. I once tried to get such a bill through the legislature, but it was declared to be unconstitutional by the attorney general."

Many customers were supplied with good old-fashioned buttermilk yesterday by the Marquette City Dairy, and many more orders are booked for Saturday. (1-14-11)

DOES MARQUETTE PAY TOO MUCH TAXES?

COMMERCIAL CLUB IS TO INVESTIGATE THE SITUATION—A BANQUET PLANNED FOR THE NEAR FUTURE.

The members of the Queen City Commercial club are arranging to hold a banquet in the not distant future. Amos Saladin and Edward Biew have the arrangements for the feast in charge and expect to get together today to determine the time and place of holding it. An early date is favored, probably about Feb. 1.

The business men in general are not taking as active an interest in the commercial club as is desired, and the banquet is to be held for the purpose of stirring up enthusiasm for the work of the organization. No effort will be spared to make the banquet a success, and an enjoyable affair may be anticipated.

The commercial club is just now concerning itself with Marquette's taxation problem. It is public talk that property here is being assessed at a higher rate of valuation than is the practice in other cities of the county. For instance, a piece of property in the city worth $4,000 in the market would be put on the tax roll at about $3,000, while in Negaunee or Ishpeming the same property would not be listed for more than $2,500. At least, such is the claim that is frequently being made on the streets.

Moreover, the treasurer's books show that this city is paying one-fourth of the state and county taxes of Marquette county, which is said to be much more than its just proportion. The state and county tax roll of this city is larger than that of Negaunee and about the same as that of Ishpeming, in spite of the fact that there are no mines here. It is maintained that there are mines in either of the above named cities, which are worth as much as the whole city of Marquette. City Controller McCarthy and many others believe that from one-eighth to one-tenth of the state and county tax of the county would be this city's just share.

It is claimed by those who are close to this city's taxation problems that the mining properties on the Swanzy range are assessed far below their actual values, and that the same is true of much of the wild land in the county. The statement was made yesterday by one who ought to know something about it, that if the wild lands in this county were assessed for half of their actual value, it would not be necessary to levy any state or county tax in this city at all. The custom is to assess such land at about $250 an acre, whereas much of it is worth at least $50 an acre in the open market.

At the last meeting of the commercial club, Attorney C. F. Button was appointed a committee to look into the alleged discrimination against this city in taxation, and to report at a future meeting. If Mr. Button finds that the conditions outlined above are substantially true, the club will probably make an organized effort to have a more just equalization of the state and county taxes made at the annual meeting of the county supervisors, to be held next October.
