

DU PONT COMBINE HIT BY THE HOUSE

Amendment Is Passed Prohibiting the Purchase of Explosives Made and Sold in Violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

Also There Is Tacked Onto the Naval Bill an Appropriation of $250,000 to Double the Government's Output of Powder—Senate Votes in Favor of Increasing Judicial Salaries, Relative to Which Caustic Comment Is Made by Borah and Tillman.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Strictures upon the efficiency of the officers of the navy in the care of the machinery of war vessels were heard in the house today, during the consideration of the appropriation bill, with the result that an amendment was adopted requiring the secretary of the navy annually to report to congress those instances where more than $200,000 is expended for repairs.

Marines Not Restored to Ships, After futile efforts to obtain legislation looking to the restoration of the marines aboard the ships, an amendment was agreed to prohibiting the purchase of powder "manufactured and sold in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law." The debate on this feature of the amendment was directed at the Du Pont company. Amendments by Mr. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, appropriating $250,000 to double the government's output of powder, and by Mr. Sherman, of Kentucky, fixing the price of powder for small arms at fifty-four cents a pound, were adopted.

Senate Votes Judges More Pay. Washington, Jan. 21.—A debate on the propriety of increasing the salaries of the federal circuit and district judges consumed nearly the entire time of the senate today, with the result that the compensation of the twenty-nine circuit judges was increased from $7,000 to $8,000 and that of the eighty-four district judges from $6,000 to $6,500.

Mr. Borah, of Idaho, who had offered an amendment reducing the increase of salary recommended by the committee on appropriations, declared that the action of the senate increasing the salary of the president to $100,000 was in violation of the spirit of the Constitution and would never have been taken before or during the recent political campaign.

Secretary Tillman intimated that some federal judges were on the payroll of corporations, which called forth denunciations that such charges should be made without specifically naming the judges referred to.

DENIES WITHDRAWING LANDS.

Secretary Garfield Responds to the Resolution of Senator Davis. Washington, Jan. 21.—Secretary Garfield today sent to the senate a reply to the resolution introduced by Senator Davis, of Arkansas, relative to the withdrawal of certain lands of the Choctaw and Chickasaw in Oklahoma for inclusion in the forest reserve. Several days ago Mr. Davis criticized Secretary Garfield rather sharply in the senate for his direction of the reserve, and made the announcement that he would take such steps as were necessary to compel a reply if it were possible to do so.

In sending to the senate his response to the resolution, Secretary Garfield says that he does so "by direction of the president," and that the report had been delayed by inadvertence. Mr. Garfield in his reply says that there have been no withdrawals of any Choctaw and Chickasaw lands for inclusion in the forest reserve, and that all segregated coal and asphalt lands withdrawn by direct act of congress are available for allotment until the allotments are completed.

IT DOESN'T LIKE THEM.

American Protective Tariff League Condemns Trade Agreements. New York, Jan. 21.—The establishment of a permanent tariff commission was condemned, and the congress was complimented on its reported proposed action to render it impossible for the executive department to negotiate tariff agreements without "full congressional consent and approval," at the annual meeting of the American Protective Tariff league, held here today. The league also adopted a resolution "that the American Protective Tariff league will give every support within its power to the abrogation of all foreign tariff trade agreements which are unfair to American labor and industry and unfavorable to the development of American production. In all future trade agreements involving either tariff concessions or changes in the customs administration laws, the full knowledge, consent and approval of the congress should be a condition precedent thereto."

ROWS WITH SOLONS NOT WORRING HIM

President Thus Cautiously Expresses Himself in Talk He Has With Congressional Callers at the White House.

He Is Much More Concerned With the Anti-Japanese Sentiment Manifested on the Pacific Coast, and He Wants to Do All He Can to Share With Governor Gillett the Responsibility of Holding Up Proposed Antagonistic Legislation in California.

Washington, Jan. 21.—The president talked cautiously with some of his congressional visitors today, and went so far as to say that he thought that nothing was pending in congress, nor any of the differences between himself and congress, were of half the importance of the Japanese-California question. Although talking with great deliberation and care, the president recognizes that there is a deep-seated sentiment against the Japanese in California, and he would like to see the antagonistic agitation ended with as little delay as possible. Because of the almost unanimous sentiment in the state, the president realizes the responsibility upon Governor Gillett in using his influence upon the legislature to stop the legislation at this session, and he wants to do all he can to share some of that responsibility.

Will Be No Hostile Legislation, Says California's Chief Executive.

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 21.—Governor Gillett stated today that there was to be no legislation against the Japanese, as far as he could see, at this session of the legislature. He has not decided to address the legislature in a special message, nor does he deem such action necessary, in view of the publication of the wishes of the federal authorities.

NOT AIMED AT JAPAN.

Proposed Fortification of San Pedro Long in Mind, Says War Department.

Washington, Jan. 21.—The fact that there was recently sent to congress by President Roosevelt a report by the general staff of the army, which became public today, recommending fortifications for San Pedro harbor, California, was made the basis for suggestions that such a decision had just been reached in view of the possibility of trouble with Japan. At the war department this inference was given most explicit denial. There it was said that the general staff was making a routine study of the harbor, and that the report estimates the cost of the site, fortifications, guns, etc., at $3,655,299. It also points out the absolute necessity of fortifying the harbor, and in support of this statement declares that under present conditions an enemy within a month could land 100,000 men and two months later could increase that force to 300,000 and seize the entire Los Angeles country before anything could be done to stop their progress.

SAYS PEOPLE DON'T WANT PROHIBITION

They Do Want the Liquor-Selling Business Reformed, However, Declares T. H. Gilmore in an Address at Louisville, Kentucky

One Saloon for Each 500 of Population, a Reasonable Tax and Loss of the Privilege of Retailing Intoxicants in Case of Law Violation Is the Solution Offered by the Model License League's President at That Organization's Annual Convention

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 21.—Addresses by leaders in the National Model License league movement, outlining the policies of that organization, were the order of the first session of the league's second annual convention held here today.

President T. H. Gilmore, in his speech, attacked the Anti-Saloon league as inimical to its avowals, declaring that it did not want to keep any citizen from possessing, purchasing or using liquor. D. M. Smith, of Louisville, general counsel for the league, spoke of the reputed failure of political licensing boards to enforce the liquor laws, declaring that they had forced the saloon into politics. Sidney Story, of New Orleans, delivered an address upon the causes of the alleged failure of prohibition in the South. He declared it to be an extreme measure which never would succeed.

The league's stated purposes are to keep the saloon out of politics and to punish law-breaking by retail liquor dealers, operating under the model license or "New York ballot" idea.

President Gilmore's Address.

"The people of this country do not want prohibition, but they want a reform, and when we prove that we, too, want reform, when we gain the confidence of the public, the prohibition law will recede, and the Anti-Saloon league will find its occupation gone." So declared President T. H. Gilmore, in his annual address.

Mr. Gilmore discussed reform movements and the prohibition wave, which he declared to be a protest against things that ought not to be continued. Mr. Gilmore said he was satisfied that the prohibition movement will ultimately result in good to the liquor trade and to society, but he insisted that it should be carried along in a less radical way, and that the reforms desired should be brought about without such tremendous losses as are being entailed through the passage of prohibitory laws.

"The people of this country do not want prohibition," Mr. Gilmore insisted, "nor do they want the saloon unless the saloon is properly conducted."

Good Saloons Good for the People.

"The saloon, if properly conducted, is a very good convenience, but the saloon that is run in connection with gambling, and that violates the law, and that sells to minors and to men who are intoxicated, is certainly out of touch with civilization; it is an offense to modern thought, and it should be stamped out by a mandatory penalty that is absolutely merciless in its provisions."

Mr. Gilmore said that if the saloon should be permanently abolished it will be found necessary to provide a substitute, because the strenuous life incident to modern civilization demands a place of relaxation, where friends can meet and where the worries and cares and responsibilities of life may, for the time being, be put aside.

"The Anti-Saloon league," he continued, "is not advocating prohibition, and to one who is familiar with the situation all of this talk about 'dry territory' is nothing more than an absurdity. There is no 'dry territory' in this country, although there are a number of states and a great many counties, aggregating in area probably one-half of the United States, in which laws have been adopted prohibiting the sale, and in some cases the manufacture, of alcoholic beverages. A law merely prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages, however, can not affect the purchase and use of alcoholic beverages any more than a law that might prohibit the sale of cigars would affect the consumption of cigars."

The speaker said that since the passage of prohibition laws in such states as Georgia and Oklahoma, the shipments of whisky and of beer to these states have been phenomenally large. This he attributed to the fact that people who, under a license system, would never keep whisky in their houses, are persuaded to buy at least four bottles through fear that in case of dire need they would not be able to secure it in time. The Anti-Saloon league, he said, was fully alive to the weakness of its cause, and its leaders knew that the people of this country do not want prohibition. He declared that the Rose law in effect in Ohio was deemed to be absolutely nullified and in time would be repealed, as it would not bring the desired reform.

Would Pattern After Europe.

"We contend," said he, "that it is absolutely essential to the solution of this problem that all licenses to retail liquors shall continue in this country as they continue in Europe—that is, that the saloon keeper's license to do business shall continue without any possible interference, or any power of cancellation, unless it be by a majority vote of the people or else by conviction in a court of competent jurisdiction of a violation of the law. A license of this character would immediately remove the saloon keeper from the realm of politics; he would save him from the demands of the backslider; it would give him a feeling of permanency and a desire to conduct a business that is to be permanent in the best possible manner.

"We, furthermore, contend that no more licenses ought to be issued until the proportion is not greater than one for each 500 of population, so that each of these licenses would possess a very great value. We also contend that the price paid by the saloon keeper each year for the privilege of doing business should be reasonable. We then insist that, in consideration of so valuable a license, the penalty for the violation of law should be mandatory, and that no discretion should be lodged with any judge or licensing board."

"It is our idea that for the first conviction of the violation of law on the part of a saloon keeper or of his employees in the conduct of his business, his license would be suspended for a period of thirty days; and that for the second conviction his license should be absolutely cancelled, and that he should not again be licensed to retail liquors in the state."

Condemns the Treating Habit.

This, Mr. Gilmore said, would solve what is known as the liquor problem insofar as the sale of alcoholic beverages is concerned. This problem solved, the more important problem of intemperance on the part of the individual could be taken up, he said.

In conclusion, the speaker said: "I am satisfied that the time is coming when the man who becomes intoxicated will be treated as a criminal and will be punished with the utmost severity; and I furthermore believe that the time is coming when the people of this country will give up and resent what is known as the treating habit, even as the people in continental Europe have done."

Marquette Case Is Cited.

The records of the work accomplished and the future prospects of the Model License league were outlined by Secretary Washington tonight. Mr. Washburne declared that many states were coming to the model license idea, and that Florida, Louisiana, Michigan and West Virginia were to legislate or had already legislated along the lines proposed by the league. He said that Springfield, Ill., Freeport, Ill., Sioux Falls, S. D., Davenport, Ia., and Marquette, Mich., had regulated the liquor trade according to the recommendations of the league; that a recent visit to the league headquarters here of Florida men had resulted in the understanding that the legislature of that state will be pressed to pass a model license law; that the Gay-Shattuck law in Louisiana was the result of the work of the league and that only the killing of Senator Carmack and the subsequent "hysteria" in Missouri had made statewide prohibition possible there; and that Wyoming and Nebraska were ready for model license.

THINK MANY BODIES WILL STILL BE FOUND

Chicago Police of the Opinion That Seventy or Even More Men Met Their Doom in the Fire in the Water Tunnel Crib.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—That the list of fifty known dead probably will be increased to seventy or even more was the chief fact developed today in the official investigation of the burning of the temporary wooden crib in the lake one and one-half miles off the shore of South Chicago on Wednesday.

It was discovered that most of the workmen had died at the mouth of the shaft, and that surrounded by fire and with the wide stretch of icy water before them and the shore they had sought but failed to reach safely by going down into the submarine tunnel. The shaft was investigated to a depth of 165 feet today, but no more bodies were found. It is believed, however, that bodies will be found further on and also in the lake. Although a boat plied between the crib and the shore, no regular fireboat was provided for an emergency, it was stated.

It was said tonight that the police have concluded that one of the three workmen who escaped from the crib will be able to explain just how the fire started. One of the men is being kept under surveillance, though he has not been arrested, and another is in a hospital. A survivor is said to have given evidence that one of the men entered the compartment on the crib in which the dynamite was stored, with a lighted torch, and that he either dropped the torch there or allowed some sparks from it to fly about and then left, finally escaping when the fire came.

WOULD BE MARTYRS IN LABOR'S CAUSE

'We Have Not Asked and Will Not Ask for Clemency,' Say Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison in a Signed Statement.

To Do So Would Render Useless All the Sacrifices Endured That People's Rights and Liberties Might Be Restored, They Declare, Joining in a Denunciation of Judge Wright That Leaves Them Open to Further Punishment for Contempt of Court.

Washington, Jan. 21.—"We have not asked and will not ask for clemency, and we hope our friends will not urge us to pursue such a course. Loving liberty as free men do, it cannot be difficult to appreciate what incarceration in prison would mean to us. To ask a pardon would render useless all the trial and sacrifice which our men of labor and our friends in all walks of life have endured, and that the right and liberties of our people might be restored. Such a pardon would only leave the whole situation in confusion, and the battle would have to be fought over again from the beginning."

This is some of the language in a statement signed by Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison and appearing in the current number of the American Federationist as a formal protest against the action of Justice Wright, in sentencing them to imprisonment for contempt of court in the Buck Stove & Range company case Dec. 23.

Judge Declared Vindictive.

Mr. Gompers heads his statement: "Judge Wright's Denial of Free Speech and Free Press," and he declares, "we will not slate a single word nor take a letter back." Mr. Gompers refers to the "intemperate and vindictive spirit displayed by the justice," in a separate statement, but he joins with Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Morrison in declaring that they would not enter into competition with the "honorable court in the use of investives, rumor or scathing denunciation," and that they should protest against the court's unprecedented and unwarranted flagellation of the cause of the people who have the honor to represent.

That the trio of labor leaders fully understand the responsibility they assume in making their statements is shown by their declaration that, even though they may be held in additional contempt, "we are willing to accept the consequences," adding: "It may be necessary to the preservation of the liberties of the people that a judge should be disobeyed. Judges sometimes usurp power and become tyrants. Disobedience to a tyrant is obedience to the law."

Is Court Who Has Denied the Law.

"When a judge issues an injunction like that in the case of the Buck Stove & Range company, it is the judge who defies the law, and not the citizens who refuse obedience to his injunction mandates, which would deprive men of their constitutional rights."

The statement enters into a close analysis of the famous injunction case, and it is asserted that Mr. Mitchell was not present at the labor meeting which directed the circular letters attacking the Buck Stove & Range company, and that he did not sign or have knowledge of its circulation. It is asserted that President Gompers' removal of the injunction from the "We don't patronize" list as soon as the injunction became operative, and he had no intent to defy the order of the court by its discussion. Finally, in conclusion, it is said:

PLEA FOR THE CHILDREN.

Speakers of National Repute Discuss the Factory Labor Problem.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—"Keep the child out of the factory business" was the consensus of sentiment at the opening today of the National Child Labor conference. The plight of the poor child who is taken from school to become the support of parents, and the unnatural and unhealthy surrounding of the child in the factories of the big cities and in the cotton mills of the South were all described by workers of national repute in an argument for more legislative protection for children.

Two hindrances to child labor reform were pointed out by General Secretary Owen Lovejoy, of New York. These were: The influx of foreign races, which bring customs entirely alien to the ideals in this country; secondly, the lack of harmony between the different state regulations on this subject. Dr. A. J. McKelway of Atlanta, secretary for the Southern states, spoke on "The Child and the Law."

Secretary Lovejoy declared that it was not alone in enclosed places that the children were overworked, but in the berry fields of New Jersey, the vegetable gardens of Delaware and Maryland, injured in the wreck on the Denver & Rio Grande railway near Dotsero last Friday, died today, making the twenty-fifth victim of the catastrophe.

The average daily wage in Michigan for 1908 was $1.92, compared with $1.93 in 1907. The one cent decrease was due to the pinch consequent on slackened industrial conditions.

By the terms of any of the primary reform bills introduced at Lansing the Democrats will have to swallow the direct nominating pill, at which they have been hesitating so long.

From the fact that President-elect Taft and Mr. Rockefeller were guests at the same banquet, we gather that the president-elect has forgiven Mr. Rockefeller for his support of him in the recent election.

Representative D. Z. Curtis, formerly a Marquette newspaper man, has sprung into the limelight at Lansing because of his proposal to investigate conditions surrounding water powers in Michigan. He is chairman of the house water power investigation committee, and is formulating plans for a thorough inquiry. Representatives of private power interests are displaying much solicitude because the legislature has seen fit to embark on this line of investigation, but the comment throughout the state is uniformly favorable to the plan, and there is no doubt that the legislature will have the support of the people in carrying it out.

The University of Michigan's athletic department will have to regard the activities of the Western conference as a stranger for another year at least. The leading conference colleges have arranged their football games, and there's no room for Michigan on any of their schedules. Of course Michigan hasn't yet asked to be allowed to get in out of the wet, but it might have done so if it could have seen any satisfactory games in prospect. Sentiment at the university and sentiment among the alumni now seems to favor resuming relations with the western colleges as soon as it is feasible. It is believed that the active athletic managers of the conference colleges and universities would welcome Michigan back into the fold without any further delay or question, and the suggestion is made that if Michigan is to be disciplined it will be because of the attitude of the faculty members of the various boards of control.

The Oregon idea that the U. S. senate will reject the Senator-elect Chamberlain to prevent the spread of the "Oregon idea" of popular designation of senators will doubtless prove farfetched. The senate is the judge of its own membership, but the framers of the constitution could not have conceived the idea that the senate would reject a man elected as fairly as Senator-elect Chamberlain was. There is no taint attached to his toga; in fact it is to be doubted if there is a cleaner one in the upper house. We know of nothing that would give such instant and great impetus to a demand for the carrying through of the preliminaries for changing the federal constitution so as to provide for direct election of all senators as would any disposition to deny to Senator-elect Chamberlain the honor and office that he is so fully entitled to.

The Mining Journal has been pleased to note that an increasing amount of attention has been given the question whether it would not be wiser to leave the provision of the present game law closing the trout season Aug. 15 unchanged, rather than to lengthen the season to Sept. 1. The point that the trout need the protection they get after Aug. 15 to insure the maximum of natural propagation is beginning to receive the attention it deserves. The Lansing sportsmen have pronounced against lengthening the season, and here and there in the upper peninsula a voice has been raised against any change in the present provision on this point. A number of upper peninsula papers have also expressed the opinion that the law should be left as it now stands. There are various signs of a growing belief that we have been affording all game too little protection in the season when it is propagating, and a realization that this course has been both short-sighted and expensive. Too little thought for the morrow has been characteristic of our dealing with all our resources—and game is a resource of a kind. It is because of this national heedlessness that there has arisen the necessity for a country-wide conservation movement of such comprehensive scope as the one that we have lately seen gotten under way.

Discussing the changes in the present primary statute proposed by the Dickinson bill, the Saginaw Courier-Herald says: "Most important of all these features are the change in the enrollment day, and the retention of the state convention for the purpose of nominating a state ticket. We have always contended that the best interests of the public would be served by just such rules as are now proposed. The late enrollment is decidedly unsatisfactory, and the abolition of the party conventions would go far toward destroying party organization and enthusiasm. Hence in offering his bill Senator Dickinson, formerly a most radical primary reform man, has proposed sane and sensible provisions, the right and justice of which have long been asserted. The mandatory provision in regard to various other offices is also to be admired. Long has this state witnessed the spectacle of the Democratic party clamoring loudly about the evils of the convention system and demanding a complete primary law for the majority party, but never has the weaker political faith shown its honesty by adopting the new system. The Dickinson bill requires nominations for congress, state senator, members of the legislature and county officers, and also in cities where a primary law is now operative, action by all parties. Naturally a roar may be expected from the Democratic ranks because of this, but it is well to test their real loyalty to the direct voting system. The Dickinson bill, having the solid support of the administration, will be given the preference at Lansing over the Collins measure and it appears probable will secure approval with but few minor changes, if any are made."

That the state brewers were acting in good faith when they recently endorsed a program of regulatory legislation to apply to the saloons is indicated by the fact that Representative Clark of Wayne county, has introduced two bills which are understood to have their endorsement. One of these bills embodies a recommendation made in Governor Warner's message, namely, that the number of saloons shall be limited to one for each 500 people in the community. It is further provided that conviction of three violations of the liquor law shall make the person convicted ineligible to be further licensed for the conduct of a saloon business. Governor Warner recommends that this consequence should follow on two convictions. One of Representative Clark's measures proposes that saloon keepers and brewers shall have the right to sue for loss of property in counties, districts or cities where they are put out of business by local option. Among the items of legislation which the anti-saloon people will seek from the present session are an act enlarging the power of search for liquor in "dry" territory; the extension of local option to residence districts and putting on the saloon keeper the burden of the first action, and local option by cities and townships. It is predicted that the fight over the various measures affecting the liquor traffic will be one of the liveliest of the session, and there is little basis for a prophecy as to how it will come out. The proposal that the number of saloons shall be reduced to a ratio of one for 500 people has much support, and if the anti-saloon people add their endorsement of this proposed measure to that of the brewers it will probably be passed. Whether the anti-saloon workers will do this is problematical, for the proposed reduction is not prohibitory—and prohibition appears to be their particular end—but regulatory. The advantages it would bring about would be principally the driving in of saloons on the outskirts of towns and the concentration of the traffic in the business districts, making the task of policing it easier.

UNIFORMITY IS NEEDED. The Detroit News this week discusses a timely topic, on which George Shiras III recently addressed The Mining Journal at length, and urges a uniform system of protective regulation of the fisheries throughout the lake coasts. The fishing laws of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Canada, ought to be practically uniform, it says, and violations ought to be punished with sufficient severity to discourage law-breaking. The News denounces the present policy, by which states look after their own waters and permit poaching upon other waters, as subversive of all regulation, and urges that an American violating the law in Canadian waters ought to be punished in American courts if he escapes the Canadian game wardens. The question of boundary is unimportant when the desideratum is to perpetuate the fish supply.

Consul Van Sant, at Kingston, Ont., calls attention to a condition that argues for this reform, says the News. The United States whitefish hatchery at Cape Vincent, N. Y., plants millions of spawn in the United States waters of Lake Ontario every year, but the fish seem to find the best feeding ground on the Canadian shore about the bay of Quinte, and in consequence Canadian fishermen are finding the supply of fish rapidly increasing, and their shipments to the United States have expanded in proportion. In reality it matters little who catches the fish, provided the consumer gets his food at a reasonable price in sufficient quantity. The probability is that the distribution and preservation of fish will always be done through a big commercial organization. It is only such an organization that can afford to equip itself with shipping to gather up the catch of each day, to provide itself with ice plants and storage houses at convenient locations, and to arrange for immediate transportation at the most advantageous rates in car lots and by refrigerators cars. The one thing that vitally concerns all the states bordering upon the Great Lakes is to keep the spawn of the best food fish, and to keep fishermen from marketing undersized fish or catching them by methods that result in depletion of the supply. Fish ought to be on the free list and under general protection.

It is with the purpose of bringing about uniform regulation of the fisheries in international waters, which the News comments, that the fisheries treaty, now pending between this country and Canada is being framed. The main purpose of this treaty is admirable and commendable, but examination of its text shows, however, the validity of Mr. Shiras' objections to it, as stated in The Mining Journal recently, that it proposes too large a measure of local regulation, and thus sets out to do by treaty what the federal government has not yet attempted to do by law, namely, have any voice in determining the conditions under which game or food fish shall be taken in purely state waters.

THE STORM BLOWS OVER. The congressional onslaught on President Roosevelt is petering out in a raucous wail. Both houses and senate seem to realize that they have over-shot the mark, and are now beginning to wince at the ruffled front of injured dignity as the best make-up under the circumstances.

The congressional onslaught on President Roosevelt is petering out in a raucous wail. Both houses and senate seem to realize that they have over-shot the mark, and are now beginning to wince at the ruffled front of injured dignity as the best make-up under the circumstances.

Not only has the Tillman demand for an inquiry met with no response, but there seems to be no evidence of activity with regard to the inflammatory investigations of the president which were authorized. After all, they were only blank cartridges and their explosion having satisfied the would-be fire-eaters, their shells will sooner or later find their way to the congressional scrap pile.

The president, beyond such regrets as any good citizen might entertain about the spectacle which congress has made of itself, has every reason to feel gratified over the part which was assigned him and the manner in which he conducted it. Not only did he meet such challenges as he could properly recognize both skillfully and completely, but he kept his temper throughout; something that all the congressmen did not do.

Furthermore, he was given the devotedly desired opportunity of bringing the whole matter of the secret service before the people of the country, and he did this so effectively that there can be little doubt that the next congress will restore it to its former status or an even more desirable one.

President Roosevelt has suffered no loss of popularity from the baiting to which he has been subjected, while congress has thereby added none to its own. The people believe in pride and dignity for their national legislature, but they also realize that such pride and dignity must have a substantial basis of righteousness and truth before it can be made a ground for action.

Congress may continue to sulk during the closing days of the session, but there is small danger that any further invitations for a fight will be sent to the man in the White House—Milwaukee Free Press.

OCEAN AIR.

How It Affects the Head of Those Who Sniff It.

"I can't understand," said the stenographer employed on board a ocean liner, "why so many people who take a sea trip will insist on pegging away at a hard tug during the voyage. Half the people I got so mixed on II O's and one thing and another that I didn't know whether I would ever get the tangle straightened out or not. Finally I concluded that I couldn't, and that a spell of seasickness was preferable to a blasted reputation due to ignorance of chemical terms. So I pretended that I was about done for. But the chemist wouldn't have it so.

"You come back here," he said. "The properties I am now describing would make an infallible cure for seasickness if mixed in the proper proportions, and you ought to be ashamed of yourself to get bowled over when working on a remedy like that."

"I thought myself that it wasn't fitting the man exactly right to desert him at such a critical moment, so I pegged away until the pamphlet or address, or whatever it was, was finished.

"All people, provided they are able to write at all, write differently on the sea than what they do on land. The salt atmosphere gets to their heads, and the imagination is quickened. As a result, they get a stronger hold on their vocabulary and use bigger words than ordinarily.

"Even in the matter of love letters the rule of polysyllables holds good. I wrote some rattling good love letters on the way over this time. There was one series that struck me as being exceptionally fine. They were written at intervals of every two hours between breakfast and bedtime. They were directed by a young woman who was so ill most of the time she couldn't hold her head up, but even that affliction did not put a damper on her affections. She could think of nothing she wanted to say to him. There was quite a batch of the epistles when we gathered them up and mailed them at the end of the voyage. The young fellow on the other side will get them all in a bunch, and I can't help wondering what he will say when he reads through the whole series."—New York Times.

EYES CAN'T STAND PACE.

According to observers, there is a new eye complaint developing in Washington, which for want of a better name is called picturitis. It is a result of the popularity of moving picture entertainments.

Thousands of men, women and children now patronize the moving picture shows, which offer a half hour's entertainment for a nickel. Some visit two or three different shows in one evening, and so spend practically an hour or an hour and a half in a darkened room looking intently at the jumping, rapidly shifting pictures on the screen.

The light on these pictures is uneven, and frequently sharp flashes of light fall on the retina. The effect of the eye is the same as watching steadily near-by scenery from the window of a rapidly moving express train or from a flying automobile, which is known to be very

THINK PLANT WAS DYNAMITED.
Gas Company Officers Ask Sheriff to Investigate Explosion.

Officers of the South Range Fuel & Light company, whose plant was destroyed by an explosion last Saturday morning, believe that the explosion was not due to accident, and have stated definitely that they are of the opinion the destruction was brought about deliberately by dynamite. No specific charges have been made, but the matter has been placed before the sheriff and an investigation has been under way for the past several days. Whether any disclosures have been made through this has not been announced, nor has any motive been advanced for a crime of the kind that the company people believe was committed.

Albert Lagomach, president and heaviest stockholder in the company, states that it is proposed to erect a new plant in South Range at once. The annual meeting of the company will be held next Tuesday at 10 o'clock. At that time the question will be definitely determined. The company has not withdrawn its petition for a franchise at Baraga since the explosion. The Baraga village council has not yet taken action upon the matter.

GOOD WILL FARM MEETING.
Eighty-five Children Cared for and Homes Found for Large Number.

According to the report of Mrs. G. M. Walker, superintendent of the Good Will farm, the institution cared for a total of eighty-five children the past year. The report was presented at the annual meeting of the Good Will Farm & Home Finding association, held Wednesday afternoon at the Douglass House, Houghton.

Of the eighty-five children cared for during the year forty-six were returned to friends; twenty-two were placed in the homes of foster parents and two died, leaving a total of fifteen at the farm Jan. 1. In nationality, the children are apportioned as follows: Finn, 22; American, 17; English, 13; French, 8; German, 7; Hebrew, 4; Irish, 4; Italian, 2; Norwegian, 3; Scotch, 3; and Swedish, 2.

The income from all sources amounted to $9,280.96, and the disbursements amounted to $9,408.84, a deficit of $127.88. But the association had a balance on hand at the beginning of the year of $890.62 and it starts the new year with a balance ample for ordinary needs. Within the year a number of improvements were made at an approximate cost of $12,000. One of these improvements was the installation of a new furnace.

Those who attended the meeting were: Dr. W. H. Dodge, president of the association; John A. Doelle, secretary; Ed. Haas, treasurer; Mrs. C. C. Douglass, C. H. Moss, J. C. Mann, trustees; Mrs. G. M. Walker, superintendent; and Mrs. Prosser, matron.

COUNTY CONVENTION CALLED.
Republicans to Meet a Week from Tomorrow at Red Jacket Village Hall.

At the meeting of the Republican committee of Houghton county held at the Douglass House, in Houghton, Wednesday afternoon, the county convention was called for Saturday, Jan. 30, at Red Jacket village hall at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Twenty-seven delegates will be named to attend the state convention. This latter will be held at Grand Rapids, Mich., and will be the purpose of nominating a state ticket for the spring election. Two upper peninsula men are candidates for offices: Judge J. W. Stone of Marquette, father of Attorney John G. Stone of Houghton, for justice of the supreme court, and Luther L. Wright of Ironwood, for state superintendent of public instruction.

The representation of the townships at the county convention is based upon one delegate for every seventy-five votes or fraction thereof cast for secretary of state at the recent election. The townships will be entitled to delegates as follows: Adams, 13; Calumet, 62; Chassell, 3; Duncan, 3; Elm River, 2; Franklin, 9; Hancock, 1; Laird, 2; Oseola, 13; Pigeon, 12; Quincy, 7; Schoecraft, 10; Stanton, 6; Torch Lake, 8. Hancock city will have twenty delegates. The total vote was 12,725 and the total number of delegates will be 174.

FUNERAL OF CAPTAIN STRATTON.
Death of Head Mining Captain of Atlantic Followed That of Wife.

The funeral of John Stratton, head mining captain of the Atlantic Mining company who died Wednesday afternoon from an affliction of the lungs, will be held tomorrow afternoon. The services will be conducted at the Atlantic M. E. church. Captain Stratton's death follows that of his wife, who died on the 15th of the month. He was sixty years of age. He came to the copper country thirty-six years ago and went to work as a miner in the Atlantic, which was then known as the South Pewabic. He was an employee of the company from that time up to the day of his death. He is survived by two sons, Nelson and Herbert Stratton, and a daughter, Mrs. Richard Fretwell.

NO PUBLIC CELEBRATIONS.
But Lincoln's Birthday Will Be Observed in the Churches and Schools.

So far no announcements have been made for any public observance of the anniversary celebration of Lincoln's birthday in any of the copper country towns, and it is thought unlikely that any will be held. In all of the schools the day will be observed with appropriate exercises and in the churches special memorial services will be held on the Sunday preceding Feb. 12. Exercises will also be held in the parochial schools. The Spanish War Veterans of the Portage Lake town are making preparations to observe the day, but have not yet announced any program.

WOULD BE OF BENEFIT.
It is stated that the unit school system which State Superintendent in instruction L. L. Wright is seeking to have established by action of the legislature would prove of much benefit in the copper country. The Houghton county townships that would be affected are Schoecraft, Duncan and Calumet, the last the largest in the county. The proposed change would place each of these under one government. At the present time Calumet township is divided into three school districts, each of which is governed by its own body of school officers. The other townships of the county now govern their schools by the unit system, each township having one body of school officers.

Escanaba Boxer Coming to Get in Readiness to Go With Nelson.

Tommy Scully, the Escanaba heavyweight, will put in the last few weeks of his training for his coming meeting with Ole Nelson in Calumet and will arrive there within the next ten days. The match will probably be held at the Calumet theatre the evening of the February pay day. It is also stated that Scully is thinking of following the example of Stanley Ketchel and may move to the copper country town. Undoubtedly Ketchel will have a part of some kind in the Nelson-Scully go, and he may be asked to act as referee. It is reported that Scully will have as his training partner Teddy Olson, whom he defeated last week at Calumet.

GOING TO THE IRON COUNTRY.
The Hibernian team of the Hancock indoor baseball league has accepted the challenge extended a few days ago by the Negaunee club and is making preparations for its trip to the iron country. It will play two games at Negaunee Feb. 10 and 11, and following these the Negaunee team will come to the copper country for two games Feb. 24 and 25. er's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.
Members of the Naval Reserves battalion of Hancock are organizing a drum corps. The men are being chosen by a committee composed of Irving Pearce and Ernest Coughlin. There are to be from twelve to fifteen men in the corps, and they will begin taking instruction in drumming shortly.
One of the most potent arguments advanced in support of the contention of the Portage Lake Rod & Gun club—the one copper country sportsman's club that is seeking to have the number of deer that may be killed reduced from two to one—is the reminder of the appearance of copper country hunter shops during a large part of the recent hunting season. Of the many carcasses that were displayed a majority were those of fawns and yearlings. The Portage Lake club wants the law so framed that only deer with horns may be shot.
The skating and dancing party of the Hancock Naval Reserves is scheduled to take place at the Amphidrome tonight. Those in charge of the party, as well as the management of the Amphidrome, are basing all of their hopes for its success upon the weather man's prophecy that the weather will be colder today. Through Wednesday and Thursday the thermometer kept above the freezing point and was as high as forty-four degrees above zero. This had had affect upon the ice at the Amphidrome, so much so that the skating was poor Wednesday night. It would seem that if the thaw does continue, the party tonight will either have to be declared off or it will have to be simply a dancing party.

MINING NEWS

SHANNON AND ARIZONA COMMERCIAL.
N. L. Anster, president of the Arizona Commercial and Shannon copper companies, who has just returned to Boston from a visit to these mines, says: "The Shannon is producing between 18,000,000 and 20,000,000 pounds of copper per annum, but this output should be raised to 25,000,000 pounds per month within the next sixty days. The grade of the ore and costs are running about the same as last year. The Shannon mine has more ore actually in sight than ever before in its history, and there are good chances for developing larger and richer ore bodies at farther depths."
"Since my last visit in June there has been a marked change at the Arizona Commercial property. Our main shaft is down 700 feet, and the lode at this depth is between sixty-five and seventy-five feet in width. At the upper level the greatest width was between forty-five and fifty feet. The 500-foot level, the lowest on which we have drilled, shows ore that will average between 6 and 12 per cent copper, and a fair average yield of 8 per cent. We have let contracts for the greater part of our smelter machinery, and also contracts for a large double drum hoist and for additional power supply. The smelter should be running next August, and should treat at the start about 300 tons of ore per day. It will be so built that for less than $10,000 we can double its capacity."

GRANBY CONSOLIDATED.
The production of the Granby Consolidated during the calendar year 1908 was 2,549,284 pounds, as compared with but 1,534,000 pounds during 1907 and 2,126,225 pounds for the fiscal year ended June 30 last. The production by calendar years for the last four years compares as follows:

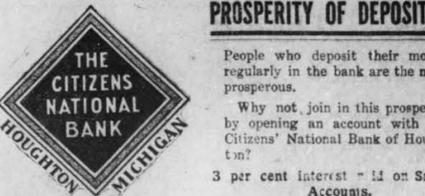

Year	Pounds
1907	1,534,000
1906	1,779,990

The 1908 production was $1,320,000 pounds or 52 per cent greater than in 1907 and is the largest output in any twelve months' period in the history of the company. Granby officials estimate an increase in copper output during 1909 of 25 to 30 per cent. The enlargement of the furnaces will be finished by May and will give a smelting capacity of from 4,500 to 5,000 tons per day, against 3,200 tons at present. The company has also installed new electrically operated con-

ting parties are: Naval Reserve party, tonight; Trainmen's Jan. 29; Laurium band, Feb. 9; senior class of the Houghton High school, Feb. 12; Brotherhood of Firemen's Feb. 15; Houghton firemen, Feb. 17; Our Boys' club of Hubbard, Feb. 28; senior class, Hancock High school, Feb. 26. Besides these dates the Portage show will be held next week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.
One of the most potent arguments advanced in support of the contention of the Portage Lake Rod & Gun club—the one copper country sportsman's club that is seeking to have the number of deer that may be killed reduced from two to one—is the reminder of the appearance of copper country hunter shops during a large part of the recent hunting season. Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.
How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, or stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

sailors nor soldiers remaining on the island will participate in the inaugural parade because their presence might detract from the pride of the people in the return of native sovereignty.

Perhaps the two regiments of American soldiers, which will leave the island during February, will participate in the inaugural parade at Washington on March 4, and share the applause and cheers with several thousand bluejackets of the returning battleship fleet, who also will be in that parade. The soldiers have done notable service on the island as members of the army of Cuban pacification commanded by Major General Thomas H. Barry, although not a single hostile shot has been fired. Reconnaissance parties have covered the island from end to end, making detailed maps of every square mile and gathering complete military information. They have engaged in practice marches and carried on much the same work as though on home station and also have devoted considerable time to the instruction of the Rural Guard and the newly recruited Cuban artillery, cavalry and infantry.

The headquarters of the army of pacification has been at Camp Columbia, several miles outside of Havana. This camp, in beauty of location, surroundings and in the permanence, comfort and convenience of the buildings, surpasses many posts in the United States. It is now being rapidly repopulated and soon will be the haven of squatters. The last of the marines, who have done one week, will leave this week for home. The troops will go out gradually until April 1, when the evacuation will be complete, save for the permanent garrison at the American naval station at Guantanamo. Few, if any, Cubans, who served as higher officials in the various governmental departments during the period of American intervention, will be retained by the incoming administration, which will undoubtedly cause some confusion at first. Congress this week will perfect its organization. It will convene the electoral vote, proclaim Jose Miguel Gomez president and Alfredo Zayas, vice president, and then adjourn until inauguration day. Some friction among the liberal leaders of the house has already developed over the speakership and it may be that there will be some lively sessions before this will be settled.

Havana, Jan. 21.—On Jan. 20 at noon the Cuban people thronged to the streets to celebrate the birthday of the American government. It was on May 20, 1902, that the American flag, hoisted after the war with Spain, was hauled down in favor of the blue-striped, single-starred ensign of Cuba. This rapidly repopulated nation will be the haven of squatters. The last of the marines, who have done one week, will leave this week for home. The troops will go out gradually until April 1, when the evacuation will be complete, save for the permanent garrison at the American naval station at Guantanamo. HEIFER WELCOMES BUCK.
But Hunters End New Romance and Warden Will Collect Fine.

Grass widower a large buck which, jilted by all the-bachelors in his herd, sought consolation in the bowels of cattails, of William Campbell of Longbridge, N. J., and began paying devoted court to Velvet Eyes, a handsome Jersey heifer, had been killed by meat hunters. Fish and Game Warden E. B. Hendershot, of Newton, has a deer to the slayer of Grass Widower, and he is making plans to bring about their arrest and punishment. The buck weighed about 180 pounds. Fearful of detection, the hunter waited until after nightfall and then took the body away in a wagon. There was a time when Grass Widower was the pride of one of the finest herds of deer ever seen in the Culver Lake section of New Jersey. He was a big, handsome fellow, and had a house on his back that resembled in many respects that of Brigham Young. The buck was so overbearing, however, that he gradually lost the affection of the does, and finally a young buck grew up, fought with him for the leadership of the herd, and vanquished him. Too proud to accept second place, Grass Widower killed a few weeks and then left the herd. He tried to make up with other does, but they knew of him by reputation and would have nothing to do with him. Finally the heifer buck saw Velvet Eyes, the Jersey heifer belonging to Campbell. He made eyes at her and she made eyes at him. Encouraged by her become bold, and recently Campbell went out and found Grass Widower much at home and in the midst of the herd. Supposition is he was on his way to tannery as former wives with the fact he had found a new affinity when a doe was shot down—New York Press.

Roads in Bad Shape—The streets of the city are in wretched condition, and it is neither good sleighing nor good wheeling. Wagons, however, run more easily than sleighs yesterday, and several firms who had delivering to do, got out their wheeled vehicles, which had supposedly been stored away until spring. Almost no farmers were in town yesterday, as the roads in the country are well-nigh impassable. On the macadamized roads, traveling is not so difficult, but sand has worked through the saw on the dirt roads, so that a sled or sleigh will scarcely run at all.

Carl Appeler, who accepted a call to Alma, Wis., about six weeks ago.

A NEW COCKTAIL.

Marquette Man Served With Strange "After Hour" Beverage in Duluth.

Nels Flodin, of this city, is reported to have had experience with an "after hour" cocktail in Duluth, which was fearfully and wonderfully made. The Duluth Herald gives the following story of the episode:

"N. P. Mowatt of Houghton, prominent and unlike the prophet, not without honor in his own country, and Nels Flodin, of Marquette, were seated in the Spalding cafe Monday evening, together with two business men very well known in Duluth.

"Various subjects had been discussed—the president's last message, Signor Ferrero's opinion of this country, the Yama Yama dances, etc. Finally it was decided to cap the evening with a cocktail and then retire.

"The four gentlemen ordered cocktails. After a short time the waiter informed them that it was after hours and that it would be impossible to fill their order. The gentlemen sent for Edwin H. Lee, who informed them he would do what he could for them.

"Presently the waiter returned with four drinks. The gentlemen, with solemn mien that marks the breaking up of a jovial and entertaining crowd, drank the cocktails, though, to tell the truth, they did taste peculiar.

"Later the four gentlemen discovered that the 'cocktail' was made of humpy-water."

The regular Saturday night hop will be given tomorrow night at Legion Hall Music by the Peerless orchestra.

REVOLUTIONIZES SMELTING.

Much Claimed for a Furnace Invented by a Milwaukee Man.

Milwaukee, Jan. 21.—Edward Fink, son of Henry Fink, director of internal revenue, Milwaukee, has completed the construction of what is pronounced the most remarkable smelter ever devised. It is said that the smelter is about to revolutionize copper mining methods. In the copper mining districts of Utah the first of the Fink smelters was recently erected. The furnace produced a superior copper from the Boston Consolidated concentrates. In several hours of operation, in the course of which a tremendous quantity of material was melted, was maintained less than one ton of coal was burned. Following that experiment Mr. Fink succeeded in accomplishing the difficult task of producing blister copper. This information was telegraphed to Milwaukee yesterday.

One of its most remarkable features of the Fink furnace is that it consumes, absolutely, its own smoke and gases. From its stacks there rises only a white hot vapor, hardly discernible; no smoke whatever is emitted. In view of the success attained in Utah a Fink smelting furnace will, in the near future, be constructed in Milwaukee. Mr. Fink will arrive in the city in the course of a few days. He has been given unrestricted right to build a furnace of such proportions as he may desire. This smelter will probably be erected at the Cactus mine, Beaver county, a property owned by Samuel Newhouse.

Experiments with the Fink smelter at the plant of the Boston Consolidated Mills company recently, are said to have resulted from Mr. Newhouse the conviction that the success evident in the operations would mean millions to both the company and inventor. Ore by the Fink process, is reduced to bluish for less than 81 per cent. Heretofore the lowest cost has been slightly under 89. It is estimated that a complete Fink plant can be fitted up for less than $40,000.

MRS. TAFT BEST OHIO COOK. FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

Recipes Which Have Been Prized in Her Family for Many Years.

Mrs. William H. Taft, wife of the president-elect, is probably the best cook in Cincinnati or for that matter, in Washington, either, and ever since her marriage she has taken complete charge of the financial affairs of her household.

Women of the Heron connection as far back as this distinguished old Cincinnati family is remembered have all been noted housekeepers and unusually accomplished in the culinary art. This family trait is said to be strongest in Mrs. Taft, Nellie Heron, whom her mother frequently declared to be the best housekeeper of all her daughters.

No social demands, positions nor interests have in the least succeeded in lessening Mrs. Taft's interest in domestic matters nor her pride in her skill as a cook.

Here are a few recipes from an old cook-book, long a favorite in the Heron family and now used by Mrs. Taft.

"Chicken Croquettes"—Chop cold boiled turkey or chicken very fine. Season with pepper, salt, a little nutmeg and onion. Mix a large teaspoonful of butter and two of flour. When well mixed and warmed add a pint of cream, season with a little salt. Let it stand a minute, then stir the mixture into the meat. When cold take a spoonful of the mixture and dip into two eggs, slightly beaten, then into bread crumbs. Roll lightly into shape. Fry in boiling oil.

"Plum Pudding"—One pint chopped suet, one quart sugar, one pint of raisins, one pint currants, one-half pint sugar, one-half pint sweet milk, one cup citron. Beat eight eggs and mix with the above. Add sufficient flour to make it stick together. Roll three hours in a cloth bag. Serve with favorite sauce.

"Muffins"—One quart milk, half pound butter, warm together; four eggs well beaten; four to make a batter; half pint good yeast; salt to taste. Bake in muffin tins.—New York Press.

MOTORBOATS ON THE DEAD SEA.

The Dead Sea is a government monopoly, and at present is leased out to a small native company. They have a wooden boat built for a sailing vessel, but about six months ago had a motor put in it. If this company succeeds they might try a couple more motorboats. The Dead Sea is one third solid matter, the greater part of which is salt, and the question to answer is: Can the boats stand the action of this salt water? People in this country are not wealthy enough to afford a motorboat for pleasure only, and as no one would be allowed to use one on the Dead Sea, Jaffa is the only possible market for boats in the district. The Jordan valley, the river and the Dead Sea are the personal property of the sultan. A permit must first be obtained from the sultan before boats of any kind can be launched thereon. Such permits have heretofore been very difficult to procure for motorboats.—New York Times.

The proof of success is in the ability to hold on to it.

UNUSUAL RECORD FOR MINES OF THE COUNTY

ONLY TWO FATALITIES HAVE OCCURRED IN FOUR MONTHS AND NO WORKMEN HAVE BEEN SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Only two fatalities have occurred in the mines of Marquette county since the first of October, when the mine inspector submitted his annual report to the board of supervisors. This, according to Mine Inspector John T. Quine, is an unusual record. There have been no serious accidents in or about the mines during the four months. The injuries suffered have nearly all been of a minor character.

The only fatality occurring here was that which resulted in the death of the late Joseph Pryor, who fell seventy feet through a raise at the Cleveland Lake mine, early in October. The other accident resulted in the death of Florant Brockman, assistant to Captain Peter Pascoe at the Republic mine. Captain Brockman was injured the latter part of December and lived less than two days. The accident which resulted in his death was an unusual one, in fact that he had fallen only eight feet. He was standing on a ladder, barring some ground that looked treacherous, when he fell across a stone on the floor of the drift, receiving internal injuries.

There were sixteen deaths from accidents in the mines during the year ending Oct. 1, but in the previous year there were thirty-seven, the unusual number being due to the catastrophe at the Rolling Mill mine.

The mine inspector says there are now about 1,000 fewer men employed in the mines of the county than there were when he submitted his report to the board in October, 1907. He estimates that there has been an increase of 400 during the past four months. A compilation of the number of men employed at each mine brought the total to 5,362, compared with 6,744 on the first of October, 1907.

Mr. Quine attributes the lack of fatalities and serious accidents to the great care exercised by the men in charge of the properties. He said that the superintendents and captains do everything in their power to prevent accidents, and he expressed the opinion that the number will decrease, as improved equipment is constantly being installed.

The superintendents and captains also the workmen, are prompt to adopt suggestions offered by the mine inspector upon the occasions of his visits. Mr. Quine endeavors to visit at least one mine a day and his schedule is so arranged that he visits every mine in the county at least once a month and sometimes twice. There are no places in the mines where men are employed that he does not inspect thoroughly.

UNIQUE PICTURE.

Ishpeming Family Has Photograph of Representatives of Five Generations.

The announcement in the Negaunee department of yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal that Captain James P. Foley and his great, great grandchild had been photographed together, brought to light another picture in which five generations are represented. It differs from the Foley picture in that there are five persons, four women and a baby girl in the group. The picture is in possession of James H. Gillings, proprietor of the Billings House on First street, and in it are his mother-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Menhemitt; her daughter, Mrs. Edward Moyle; the latter's daughter, Mrs. William Bule; Mrs. Bule's daughter, Mrs. Walter Williams; and Mrs. Williams' daughter, the latter being a baby. All of those in the picture, with the exception of the great, great grandmother, live at Butte, Mont. Mrs. Menhemitt lives with the Billings family.

Both Mrs. Menhemitt and her late husband, who died in this city a year ago last month, were remarkable people. She is the mother of twenty-one children, Mrs. Gillings being the youngest. The father, who lost his eyesight in a mine accident when he was nineteen years of age, never saw one of his children, nor did he ever see a railway train, having been blinded near Redruth, in England, before railroads were extended to that section. In spite of the fact that he was deprived of his eyesight, Mr. Menhemitt successfully managed a large business in his native town, for fifty years prior to coming to America in 1800. He was engaged in the fuel and grocery business. He was a fine mechanic and could make furniture, also do ordinary carpenter work. He was ninety-three years of age when he died.

Mrs. Menhemitt is now eighty-six years old and up to the last few days has enjoyed excellent health. She was taken down Monday with pneumonia, and her relatives fear that she may not survive. Of the twenty-one children there are four daughters and four sons living. The latter are Fred Menhemitt of Marquette, Charles of Negaunee, Edwin of this city, and John, living in Butte. Two sons have died in this country during the past five years. Most of the children grew to manhood and womanhood. At one time, some years before the old folks came to America, fifteen of them were at home. None of the members of the family here can tell positively how many grand children, great grandchildren, or great, great grandchildren Mrs. Menhemitt has, though Mrs. Gillings said that the combined total of the four generations will exceed fifty.

POPULAR SONG NUMBERS.

George M. Cohan's Musical Comedy a Pleasing Attraction.

"Little Johnny Jones," which comes to Ishpeming theater a week from tonight, the 29th, is apparently as much of a favorite with the patrons as it was during the days of its initial presentation. Young Mr. Cohan has devised some exceedingly clever situations, some of them melodramatic to a degree, and the web of melody which is so deftly woven throughout the three acts makes "Little Johnny Jones" an entertainment par excellence.

The song numbers in "Little Johnny Jones" are one of its most fascinating features. As a matter of fact, Mr. Cohan has supplied this particular play with more of his compositions than are found in any of his other productions. The favorites seem to be "They're All My Friends," "Nesting in a New York Tree," "Op in the 'Amson," "Good Old California," "Good Bye, Bye," "The Doodle Boy," "Life's a Very Funny Proposition After All," and, last but not least, that internationally famous one, "Give My Regards to Broadway." One of Mr. Cohan's most recent contributions to the musical world is a march entitled "Popularity," which is played by the orchestra between the first and second acts of the performance of "Little Johnny Jones."

GO TO THE MESABA.

Two Wellknown Ishpeming Miners Take Positions Near Buhl.

John Dunstone and William J. Rogers, two of Ishpeming's best known miners, left Wednesday night for the Mesaba range, where they will take positions as bosses at a new property to be opened by one of the independent mining corporations operating in that section, about three miles from Buhl. They will work under Captain Charles Bellamy, formerly of this city, who has been in charge of mining properties on the Mesaba for seven or eight years, ever since he left here. Captain Bellamy was for a number of years employed at the Lake Argonne mine. He spent Christmas with friends in Ishpeming. The first work of the Ishpeming men will be to sink a shaft. Both are skilled miners and their Ishpeming friends are satisfied that they will make good in their new positions. Mr. Dunstone has charge of operations at the Star West mine on the Cascade range during the short time it was operated by the Corrigan-McKinney company prior to a year ago. The families of the men will remain here for the present, but they will likely move to the Mesaba early in the summer.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT.

Mrs. Mary Buckley, whose husband, the late Thomas Buckley, died two years ago, passed away yesterday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Barab, 315 Vine street. Mrs. Buckley was one of the county's oldest residents, she having located in Negaunee in the early sixties, living there and at Ishpeming almost continually ever since. The deceased was the mother of eight children, seven daughters and one son. Among the former are Mrs. E. A. Sterne of this city, and Mrs. Martin Lally of Iron River, Wis. She was a native of New York state. There are two brothers and one sister of the deceased living. The brothers are Jerry and William Sullivan of Goodridge, Ontario, and the sister is Mrs. Prindiville of Seattle, Wash. The funeral will take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from St. John's church.

JUMPED 125 FEET.

Oscar Gunderson, according to a dispatch from Chippewa Falls, Wis., where a new steel trestle was recently constructed on the ski hill at a cost of $2,000, broke the American record of 122 feet, made in this city last Washington's birthday, while testing the scaffold for next Sunday's tournament, by jumping 125 feet. It is reported that Gunderson fell from 116 to 124 feet were made by other skiers. As the jumps were not made at a regularly scheduled tournament, Gunderson's record will not be recognized by the officers of the National association. It is said that Gunderson is not in the class with Evenson, Ives, the Mangseth brothers, Jonam and others, so it is thought that when these men tackle the Chippewa Falls slide some unusually long jumps will be made.

Bachelor Wants Wife—

A Schaffer (Delta town) correspondent writes: "Frank Gosselin deposes and says that he is a bachelor of thirty-five summers, of good appearance, no bad habits, and that he finds no joy in single blessedness. Being of a bashful disposition he finds difficulty in improving his unfortunate condition, and makes this announcement in the hope that it will be read by some one who will take pity on him."

Works Like a Scissors—

The state supreme court has decided that it is no defense against a prosecution for catching fish smaller than the law permits to prove that the net used in catching them had meshes of the legal size. The court says that the accused is on trial charged with catching and having in possession fish smaller than the legal size; he is not on trial charged with using an unlawful net. John Coffey, of Manistique, is the fisherman who was pinned in this decision, the substance of which is that fishermen must not catch or have in possession fish that are too small, no matter how they are caught. All the same, if one uses an unlawful net he will be liable to catch something worse than fish. In the opinion of the fishermen, the law operates like a scissors: "If you are caught with undersize fish, one blade of the net you are caught using an undersized net, the other blade slashes."

Ice Boat Regatta—

The annual ice boat races of the Menominee Yacht club will be sailed Sunday, Jan. 24, on Green bay. The most important event scheduled will be the race for all, in which boats of all classes will be entered in the regatta. The trophy, a large silver cup held at present by the Johnson brothers of East Marquette. Many new boats have been placed in commission this winter and the holders of the cup will have to do some great work in order to retain it for a second year. The cup for the Class A race will be put up by Frank Walters, a Menominee lighthouse man. The cup for the Class B race will be donated by Christensen & Amundsen. This race will take in boats carrying a smaller spread of canvas than the Class A craft. An engineer has laid out a three mile course on the ice, with the starting mark almost directly back of the Spurr library. The boats will be measured the forenoon before the race. The Menominee Yacht club rules will govern the meet.

Will Benefit Bessemer—

The reported absorption of the Wisconsin Central railroad by the Canadian Pacific, and which is also the practical owner of the D. S. S. & A., may mean changes of great importance to Bessemer, says the Free Press of that city. The junction here, which would centralize the freight and passenger business in Bessemer and make the city the railroad center of this range. That old turning-off place, North Bessemer, would cease to be and travel to the eastern portion of this peninsula would be afforded by the comforts as well as safety of up-to-date conditions. ## OVERWORKED

Boston Trained Nurse Seeing the Good Vinol Did Her Patients, Tried It Herself With Splendid Results.

"I was completely prostrated from overwork. I had no appetite, could not sleep, my kidneys, liver and bowels became inactive, and as I grew weaker I could not retain either medicine or food on my stomach and raised blood. The doctors said my condition was critical. As I had seen Vinol prescribed for my patients with such remarkable results, I decided to try it. After the first bottle I began to improve. I continued its use, and soon began to sleep and eat every organ in my body was strengthened and became normal until it seemed good to be alive and was restored to perfect health and strength. "I advise all my patients who need strength, rich, red blood, and fresh tissue to take Vinol, as it is so far superior to old-fashioned cod liver oil, emulsions, or other tonics."—Elizabeth M. Cremond, Boston, Mass. For nine years a nurse in hospital and private cases. The reason that Vinol has such power to heal and strengthen is because it contains, with tonic iron of the curative, medicinal and strength-creating elements of cod liver oil. Try Vinol—your money will be returned if it fails to benefit. The Stafford Drug Co., Marquette, Mich. is also sold by J. E. O'Donoghue, druggist, Negaunee.

Negaunee Department

FRENCH SOCIETY IS QUARTER CENTURY OLD

CHEVELIER DE LAFAYETTE SOCIETY OF NEGAUNEE, ORGANIZED IN 1884, WILL CELEBRATE ITS TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY MIDDUMMER DAY.

At the next meeting of the Chevelier de Lafayette society of Negaunee, Sunday, February 7, preliminary steps will be taken for the celebration of the society's twenty-fifth anniversary on Midsommer day. All members in this city and Ishpeming will be asked to attend the meeting, and the twenty-five members of the society shown that there will be an unusually large number present.

The picnic will be conducted on a large scale. Invitations will be sent to all of the French societies in this region, and it is expected that there will be delegations from the towns of this county, also from the Menominee range, Escanaba, Menominee and Gladstone. The Ishpeming society will aid in making the celebration a success. There are about thirty-five members of the Negaunee society living at Ishpeming, and most of them are also members of the L'Union Canadienne Francaise of that city.

The Chevelier de Lafayette society is in fine condition. It has a large surplus in the treasury and there are 294 members. The society was organized March 6, 1884, with thirty-six charter members, about twenty of whom still live in Negaunee. Peter Trudell, Sr., was the society's first president, having held the office for one year. He was succeeded by Peter Lenoire, who held the chair for three years. P. Bernard succeeded Mr. Lenoire, holding the office for a year, and Charles Laurier, now of Marquette, was the fourth president. Alex. Nadeau, for some time a resident of Ishpeming, now living at Marquette, was the fifth secretary, and the late Antoine Barabe, uncle of Joseph Barabe, was the first treasurer. All of the old members still show much interest in the society's affairs and some of them have missed but few meetings during the twenty-five years.

A few years ago the society planned to erect a building, but this idea was given up some three years ago, when three lots it owned on Lincoln street were sold.

The members of the Negaunee City hall will ask the business men and others to contribute to a fund to be used for the purchase of a large brass band, which the band needs badly. J. C. Toms and Joseph N. Ekola, members of the band, have been authorized to solicit the subscriptions. It is hoped that the instrument can be secured before the band begins filling its spring and summer engagements.

LAND FOR DAIRY FARM.

Olive Iron Mining Company Makes Donation on the Mesaba Range.

Dr. Charles B. Lamont of Virginia, Minn., has been advised by J. W. Sibeni, of Duluth, that the Olive Iron Mining company is to donate land in that city for the establishment of a dairy farm. Dr. Lamont is still one of the most active of the older members, and Joseph Barabe, who joined the society a few months after it was organized, has held the office of treasurer for the past fourteen years.

A few years ago the society planned to erect a building, but this idea was given up some three years ago, when three lots it owned on Lincoln street were sold.

MINING MEN MEET.

The various mining superintendents and captains of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company on the Marquette and Gogebic ranges met yesterday at the corporation's mine office in Ishpeming. For some years past the superintendents and captains have met at least once a year for the discussion and consideration of matters pertaining to their work. They look forward to the meeting with pleasure, and the meeting yesterday was attended by practically all of the superintendents and captains on this range and there were two superintendents and two captains present from the Gogebic range. The latter were Superintendent Busch and Captain Perkins of the Ashland mine and Superintendent Eaton and Captain Boone of the Iron Belt property. G. R. Jackson, superintendent of the Swanzy range properties, and the three captains there, William J. Jay of the Princeton; John Ellis of the Austin and Stephenson, and August Fegerberg of the Smith, were also present. Messrs. Jory and Ellis called on a number of their Negaunee friends before going over to the meeting yesterday morning.

REAPING BENEFIT.

From the Experience of Marquette People. We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterance of Marquette residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. Mrs. Correy, 238 W. Prospect St., Marquette, Mich., says: "About two years ago I began to suffer from severe pains in the small of my back and at times was so lame that I could hardly get about. I tried a number of remedies but received no permanent relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Stafford Drug Co. Three boxes disposed of my trouble and I have had no serious return since. I have no hesitation in giving my name to be used as an endorser of Doan's Kidney Pills." For sale by all dealers. ## S.S.S. NATURE'S CURE FOR BLOOD POISON

S. S. S. is known as Nature's Cure for Contagious Blood Poison because it is prepared entirely from the blood purifying and healing extracts of roots, herbs and barks taken directly from the natural forests of the land. It does not contain the least particle of strong mineral ingredients, and is so prepared as to aid in the upbuilding of every portion of the system, while driving Contagious Blood Poison from the blood. No unpleasant effects ever follow the use of S. S. S., such as stomach troubles, dyspepsia, mercurial rheumatism, etc., as is so often the case where other medicines are used. S. S. S. goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and gently but surely, drives out every trace of the disease, cleanses and purifies the circulation, and by its fine vegetable tonic effects, assists the system to rapidly overcome the ravages of the disease, and regain its natural healthful condition. S. S. S. does not cover up or hide the symptoms for awhile, to break out later, but so thoroughly does it remove the cause that no signs of the trouble ever return. S. S. S., Nature's cure, is the surest and safest remedy for Contagious Blood Poison. Home Treatment Book with valuable suggestions and information, and any medical advice free to all who write.

MIRACLE PERFORMED AT NEW HAVEN, CONN.

His Mind a Blank as to His Previous Career, Man Recalls His Past Through Hypnotic Treatment—His Own Sub-Consciousness Tells Story to the Doctor.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 21.—The life of Charles Osten, of New York, has been given back to him by hypnotism. His identity, which was lost, has been restored. He has been led, through hypnosis to his old life, which seemed forever lost. His name, his family, home, and existence, have been again placed in his possession and, instead of picking up existence anew, as seemed inevitable, he will return to his wife "Minnie" and his little boy "Jack" of Forty-second street. The case of Osten has no exact parallel in medical science. It has opened new fields to the masters of mental science and has brought prominently to the public eye Dr. Allan R. Dieffenbarger, the eminent and specialist in mental diseases, who testified in the Thau case. Dr. Dieffenbarger threw Osten into a hypnotic state, during which he learned from him his name and life history. This was but the lesser part of the feat. While the influence lasted, the doctor informed Osten that he would awaken the next morning, after a refreshing sleep, and would then remember his name and identity.

Osten's case has puzzled physicians in this city for more than a month. He was picked up wandering in the street on the night of Dec. 10, and was taken to a hospital where he has been found unable to relate the least scrap of personal history. His name and identity had faded from his memory, and he made his headquarters at Ishpeming, but he now lives at Houghton.

NATURE'S STRENGTH TEST.

An unexpected use is being made of the new Quonset hut across the East river by thousands of migratory birds and hundreds of pigeons, which spent the night in the sheltered nooks in the lower deck of the structure. The bridge workers say that in the early morning hours they saw hundreds of swallows flying in their favorite roosting places. Swarms of swallows have fastened onto one corner of the structure, from which they have driven the other birds. John Hergen, a bridge worker, declared Wednesday that on the morning before he saw hundreds of swallows form in battalions and attack and expel two cats that had ventured upon the structure and were getting fat eating birds. Flights of pigeons make toward the bridge nightly shortly after 5 o'clock and alight in the favorable roosting places. During the rain and sleet storm Sunday night a flock of wild ducks sought shelter on the structure, and two of them were found dead on it the next morning, having clashed against the iron work in their flight.

While the other birds take their flight when work begins in the morning, the saucy sparrows remain, and the pigeons also stay and make friends with the workmen. Edward E. Sinclair, an engineer on the bridge, said: "I have been bridge building for twenty years, but never before saw so many kinds of them gather together on a bridge as are now at night on the Quonseto bridge."

"Killing in his Bridge Builders' points out that whenever numbers of birds gather on a bridge in process of building or nearly completed, it is an indication that the structure will stand all tests. This has also been my experience. I built a bridge in Iowa several years ago, and flocks of birds strangely made their home on it. That bridge, too, was criticised, but it is standing today and has done twice the work contemplated when it was built."

LUNCHEON OF LUNCH.

Miss Ellen Terry tells us that Alfred Tennyson taught her to say "luncheon" instead of "lunch." The former is, in fact, preferred by English writers not only as a noun, but even as a verb. This Disraeli speaks of ladies "lunching on Perigord pie." In America, however, though luncheon is considered more "elegant" than lunch in describing the meal, it is less rarely used, while the verb "to luncheon" would sound like intolerable affectation to most of us. There is a story that the question once came up in the household of Mr. William Dean Howells. He himself stood for lunch, as noun and verb. Mrs. Howells declared "luncheon." An appeal to the Century was made.

"Lunch is preferred," cried Mr. Howells. "And who do you think," he stily added, "is given as authority?" "Who?" "William Dean Howells," answered that gentle giant, "and he's no authority!" smartly retorted his wife.

The passage in the dictionary is quoted from "Venetian Life," and runs as follows: "We lunched fairly upon little dishes of rose leaves, delicately preserved."—New York World.

SOME TRICKS OF THE MAIL ORDER HOUSES

SOMETHING ABOUT "MANUFACTURERS WHO DO NOT MANUFACTURE, BUT FOOL THE PUBLIC."

TWO POINTED ILLUSTRATIONS

Local Furniture Man and Dry Goods Merchant Demonstrate the Wisdom of Buying at Home.

A misleading idea that causes a good many people to buy merchandise out of town was recently illustrated in a business conversation at a subsequent sale between a member of one of Marquette's furniture houses and a prospective purchaser.

The prospective customer came to the local furniture store with a catalog from a mail order house that has flooded this city with literature, advertising that they sold Grand Rapids furniture direct to the consumer at wholesale or factory prices.

When the customer mentioned showing the mail order catalog to the local furniture man, he took from his desk a wholesale catalog and showed her the identical articles advertised in the mail order catalog, but the wholesale firm that made the goods was located many miles from Grand Rapids.

A Deal in Dry Goods. An incident that happened in one of the dry goods stores of this city not long ago illustrates somewhat the same principle.

All the local merchants ask is a fair show. If a prospective purchaser will only submit her catalog from out of town, the local dealers will gladly duplicate any price made in it, and besides, will save the customer the trouble of cartage, unpacking and delivering the goods.

RAILROAD TO BUILD.

Official of Soc Line Says His Company Will Extend to Duluth.

The Duluth News-Tribune says: "Edmund Pennington, of Minneapolis, vice president and general manager of the Soo line, yesterday confirmed in Minneapolis the report that the Canadian Pacific interests will construct a new line between Thief River Falls and Duluth to give a more direct route between Duluth and Winnipeg."

"This corroborates the story printed by the News-Tribune yesterday, with the exception that Mr. Pennington says that the new line is to be constructed in the name of the Soo line instead of that of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic. The surveys, however, were made in the name of the South Shore, but the result will be the same, for both are of the Canadian Pacific family.

"The extension will be 250 miles long, only sixty-two miles longer than the road which is to be opened July 1 between Broomfield and Duluth. It will be another strategic point in the working out of a great northwestern railway system from an operating standpoint, and from an economic standpoint it is to be a great thing for northern Minnesota. It will open an entirely new country in northwestern Minnesota, a fine farming and hardwood country, and will become an aid to the associations of business men in the state who are seeking to settle the unpopulated portions of Minnesota and make the state more accessible for this settlement and open it for the distribution of its products to the commercial centers."

LOCAL TEAMS ARE SHY.

But City Basketball Organization Does Not Lack For Games.

The City basketball team has been having a good deal of difficulty securing games with local teams, owing to the large score run up against the high school team a few nights ago.

The latter part of next week, the city team expects to make a tour of the copper country, and will have games with the Michigan College of Mines, at Houghton, the Y. M. C. A. teams at Hancock and Calumet, the L'Anse High School and the Leaders, at Lake Linden.

U. P. SPORTSMEN MAY MEET IN THIS CITY

CONVENTION TO DISCUSS CHANGES IN THE STATE GAME LAWS PROPOSED, AND IS FAVORABLY CONSIDERED.

The Grand Island Rod and Gun club, of Munising, has sent out a letter to other similar clubs in the upper peninsula, suggesting that a sportsmen's convention be held in Marquette February 16, to discuss a revision of the game laws.

There is much agitation at present over the matter of proposed revisions of the game and fish laws of the state. Nearly every Rod & Gun club, Sportsmen's association and individual sportsman has offered an expression upon one or more features of the law.

To bring about uniform recommendations, it is necessary to get together in conference and thoroughly discuss every phase of the proposed revisions.

It is to be brought about by concerted action and uniform recommendations.

Will you not advise me as soon as possible whether or not we can count on representation from your club?

THOS. B. WYMAN, Secretary.

THEATRICAL.

"Texas."

"Texas," the offering at the opera house last night, was a high class show, and should in no way be confused with the ordinary melodrama, which its name might imply.

The part of Texas West, the heroine, is taken by Nora Shelby, who is winsome and delightfully unsophisticated in the art of love making, such being the requirement of her role.

CARRYING CHARGES FOR ORE THE SAME

LAST YEAR'S LOW RATES FROM UPPER LAKE PORTS ARE EXPECTED TO PREVAIL NEXT SUMMER.

Reports received from the lower lake ports indicate that the carrying charges on ore for 1909 will be the same as they were last season, when the rates were sixty-five cents from ports at the head of Lake Superior, sixty cents from Marquette and fifty cents from Escanaba.

Some business has been done for next season on the basis of sixty-five cents from ports at the head of Lake Superior. The matter has been kept pretty quiet and it is not known what vessels were chartered.

According to reports received from Buffalo the hard coal shippers are going to try to pound the rates to Lake Michigan ports next season.

Owners who were forced to come down light for coal last season know how much profit there is in operating boats under that plan and a cut they say means just that much more of a loss.

Marquette Bowlers Win. Defeat Ishpeming in Two Matches at the Local Alleys.

The Marquette bowlers won both of their matches with the Ishpeming men at the alleys in the Bacon block last night, the Stars defeating the Premiers by 223 pins and the Meteors vanquishing the Superiors by 354 pins.

Marquette Stars—Tot. Van Idersline 174 165 185 324 Jenks 191 143 176 510 Miller 168 181 173 522 Allen 191 181 208 580 Foard 167 157 159 483

Marquette Meteors—Tot. Stafford 176 178 174 528 Manes 153 168 179 500 Conklin 161 158 161 510 Godwin 182 189 157 529 Drumney 119 157 127 453

There was some remarkable good bowling in these events and the enthusiasm was at high pitch at times, especially when a strike put in the tenth frame and rolled the tie score by 245. Allen had the best average in the three games—193 1.3 pins. A return match will be rolled at Ishpeming some night next week.

Considering the physical affliction of each and every member of the unique bowling organization, the "cripples" team rolled remarkably well. The scores were: Hansen 181 113 142 436 Ham 129 143 94 366 Lind 127 155 170 452 Larson 91 108 129 329 Gray 168 134 159 461

Hansen, the captain of the "cripples," is possessed of only one eye; Ham has lost both feet, and Larson one foot; Dave Lind, who, aside from being a good bowler, is an expert ski-jumper, is minus his right arm, and Gray is minus his left arm.

A team made up of Messrs. Stafford, Manes, Conklin, Godwin and Drumney has issued a challenge to a team headed by Dr. Van Idersline and who, other members are Messrs. Jenks, Miller, Allen and Foard. The def will be accepted and the match will take place shortly. It will be a three-game contest, total pins to count.
