HONORS OF THE BOUT ARE WON BY JOE GANS

Jabez White, Lightweight Champion of England, Is Out-Boxed by the Colored Man in a Ten-Round Go in New York.

First round. White led twice for the head, but was blocked. Gans jabbed a left to the face and sent a right to the jaw. White swung a hard left to the nose. Gans hooked a right to the jaw.

Second round. White swung a hard left to the stomach and chest, and jabbed it to the jaw. Gans jabbed a light left to the face. White responded liberally, and when the round ended had a good margin.

Third round. White forced the fighting motion of this round, but both did some effective work and at the end the honors were even.

Fourth round. White led a left for the chin, sent a right to the jaw and landed hard on the stomach. Gans answered with a right and sent in a straight right to the stomach, following up with a right hook to the jaw.

Fifth round. Gans did the most effective hammering in this round, but neither man was in trouble at any time.

Sixth round. Gans jabbed a light left to the face and hooked a right to the head; he swung a right to the jaw twice and then sent in another and landed one putting White down for nine seconds.

Seventh round. White came up weakly and after a few exchanges was sent down, the bell saving him almost at the count of ten.

Eighth round. Neither man did much in this round, both apparently being very tired.

Ninth round. This was a very tame round, the blows being light and without effect.

Tenth round. Joe landed a heavy right to the wind and swung a right to the ear. Joe did all the forcing. He hooked a right to the jaw, but missed right to the head, and although it had little force, it halted Gans. White swung again to the head and ripped it into the wind. They were sparring at the bell.

"JOKER" IS FOUND IN NEW STATE LAW

Richard C. Flannigan of Norway Discovers in the Copley Enactment a Provision of Vast Importance to Upper Peninsula.

Slipped Through Legislature and Now on Statute Books, It Develops That It Gives Tax Commission the Right to Raise Assessed Valuations on Complaint of Non-Resident Taxpayers—A Two-Edge Weapon, However, Its Repeal Is a Possibility.

LANSING, MICH., MARCH 12.—[Special.]—A "joker" of vast importance to the upper peninsula was discovered today in a bill passed at the instance of Representative Copley. The bill purports to give non-resident taxpayers the right to appear before boards of review, but in reality it allows them to take complaints to the state tax commission, which can then enter the assessing district complained of and force a raise of the assessments if it thinks it justified.

THE PRACTICAL WORKING OUT OF THIS would be that John Jones, a Detroit taxpayer, if he could make a showing that the Calumet or Hecla or Cleveland (Chiefs Mining companies were under-assessed, could make the state tax commission take cognizance of the matter, and the latter could, if it wished, raise the local assessment to what it thought just figures or the cash value.

ALREADY SIGNED BY GOVERNOR.

"Disk" Flannigan discovered the "joker" last night, and today in the senate Senator Moriarty moved that the house ask the governor to return the bill. Senator Whittier, of Saginaw, opposed the motion, on the ground that the bill as it stands would give the farmer with property on each side of a township line the right to work for fair taxation. Senator Moriarty's motion was lost, but it would make no difference anyway, as the governor signed the bill yesterday. The only thing to be done now is to repeal the bill, and there is a possibility of this, because both sides of the straits see that it is an edged tool.

THE BILL WAS INTRODUCED BY REPRESENTATIVE Copley Jan 14 and passed the house Feb. 11 and the senate March 2. None of the upper country members saw the import of the bill, which came from the attorney general's office. Attorney General Bird has long been known to favor the principle of equalization, believing that the tax commission should be given authority to enter the counties unasked and equalize values where thought necessary. He said he never had visited the rooming house where he is accused of accompanying the woman and signing the name of "J. H. Rayburn." He admitted that he had consorted with negro women in New York. COAL CONFERENCE IS WITHOUT RESULT

Meeting to Arrange a New Working Agreement, the Sub-Committees of the Miners and Operators Fail to Come to Terms.

Delegates Representing the Men Will Now Be Summoned to Consider the Proposition Submitted by the Employing Interests, and on the Action to Be Taken by This Convention Will Depend the Question of a Strike in Anthracite-Producing Region

PHILADELPHIA, MARCH 12.—The conference between the sub-committees of the anthracite workers and operators to arrange a new agreement to go into effect at the expiration of the present working arrangement ended late this afternoon without result. While the prospects are not as bright as they were for a peaceful settlement, there is still hope that radical action by either side will be avoided.

THE EXECUTIVE BOARD will tomorrow issue a call for a convention of the miners of the three anthracite districts, to be held for the purpose of considering plans for further action, and then will hold another conference with the operators before March 31. The counter proposition of the mining companies to renew the present agreement for another term of three years will be placed before the convention by the executive board of the workmen. National President Lewis said after today's meeting that the suggestion for another conference came from the operators.

JOINT STATEMENT GIVEN OUT.

There was but one session of the sub-committees today. Following the meeting the following joint statement was given out: "The joint meeting of the mine workers' committee and the operators' committee came to an end this afternoon, without agreement being reached. Mr. Lewis made another clear statement of the mine workers' position. He reviewed the various demands, giving special emphasis to the question of union recognition. He maintained that he and his committee represented the organized mine workers, and that if not recognized as representatives of the organization they had no standing and could not venture to sign a contract which would bind anybody. He said that this committee was acting strictly in the interest of the anthracite district and was not attempting to subordinate the anthracite to the bituminous interests.

THE OPERATORS repeated their intention to deal with the committee as representatives of the anthracite mine workers and not as officers of the union. They renewed their offer to continue the present agreement for a term of three years, and this was their final proposition. Mr. Lewis requested that it be put in writing, and the operators answered that it could be considered as an exact duplicate of the one made in 1906. They called attention to the number of the page of the minutes of the meetings in 1906, upon which the proposition appeared.

IT WAS UNDERSTOOD that another conference would be held after Mr. Lewis and his committee had presented the operators' position to the convention of mine workers."

A POSSIBLE MOVE TO CUT WAGES.

During the discussion, President Lewis said, several of the operators again referred to the statement made in the conference yesterday that several of the coal companies had been considering the advisability of asking all the companies to agree on a ten-cent reduction in wages, because of industrial conditions, instead of thinking about an increase. Mr. Lewis further said that it was not made as if there will be no agreement, but was mentioned, the operators told him, as showing how some of the companies felt in regard to present mining conditions. Mr. Lewis told them, he said, that the mine workers would not think of considering such a proposition if it were ever made.

THE MINERS tonight had nothing to say as to the probable action of the tri-district convention. The miners' leader stated positively before today's conference that the miners' representative would not sign an agreement unless it explicitly provided for recognition of the United Mine Workers of America. It also, he said, must be signed by the miners as officers of the union and not as anthracite mine workers. If the miners support him in his attitude, it looks as if there will be no agreement, as the operators since 1900 have been unalterably opposed to recognition of the miners' organization.

Members of congress who haven't called before in years are calling at the White House.

Reforestation, not the lowering of lumber duties, says Gifford Pinchot, is the only adequate plan for giving the country a permanent source of timber supply.

The wool, iron, steel and lumber schedules, and the others, are all important, perhaps, but nothing has availed to fix the average man's attention on tariff revision like the proposal to put a tax on tea and coffee.

The question of whether one time champion Mr. Jeffries will take on the newest champion, the dusky Mr. Johnson, depends, the former says, on whether he is able to get into condition.

The first burst of criticism of Auditor General Fuller because he has gone ahead selling state tax lands, as required by the statutes, has largely quieted down, and it has come to be realized even by the members who showed considerable heat in the connection that Mr. Fuller is a man who would not pursue a given course simply for the sake of being arbitrary.

The joint committee of the Wisconsin legislature, to which was referred the question whether the investigation into the methods of the candidates for senator in the primary campaign should be dropped forthwith or continued, decided, by a vote of eight to three, to extend the investigation until April 15.

The press dispatches yesterday chronicled the final killing off of the Mapez civil service bill in the senate. Senate Majority, of the Thirty-first, voted with the supporters of the measure for a reconsideration, on the promise that the bill would be referred, if it was resuscitated, to the state affairs committee for changes, but two of the senators who voted for the bill in the first instance changed their votes, and the motion to reconsider was defeated.

There will be no vote on the prohibition question in Dickinson county the coming spring, after all, as the board of supervisors this week decided that the petitions asking for the submission of the question were insufficient, and declined to order an election.

ed marriage. It's rather a pessimistic view, but there is no doubt that there is an underlying stratum of truth in it, as there is certainly sound sense in these observations: "I don't believe young people should marry unless they have saved up enough to start housekeeping with. And if they haven't common sense enough to see that—and we all know what young folks are when they think they are in love—the state should compel them to observe the rule."

In regard to practical remedies for the evil Mr. Spindler says: "My experience has been that where a man can be reformed, a short term in the house of correction will bring him to his senses. But when he fails to reform after that he is as lost to his family as if he were dead. He never will support them. Therefore, I would advocate on the second, or at the most third offense of non-support that the husband be given a three-year term in Waupun. That will give the woman a chance to get a divorce, which she will take five times out of six. The couple is far better apart."

"One more suggestion; some change should be made in the laws governing divorce, whereby better provision may be made for compelling the payment of alimony. Not in one case in ten is the alimony paid after the divorce is granted. Perhaps the best suggestion along this line was the plan of Judge O. T. Williams, who advocated making the state a party to all divorce actions, so that the interests of the state could be protected. That would mean that the district attorney would appear in the case and look after the interests of the children. Either that, or something to secure the same result, should be done."

GAMBLING BY TELEPHONE. In Manipulator's Office It is a Predominant Feature.

The engine of manipulation consists largely of telephones. On seeing the interior of a big manipulator's plant for the first time one might believe that it consisted wholly of telephones. Two small rooms, one furnished with some chairs, a table, a stock ticker, a news ticker, and a shelf of Financial Chronicle which are never opened; and one furnished with telephones—that is all the plant any operator needs. He would not know what to do with more. With the telephones there is room for a bookcase or two. The telephones, twenty of them, thirty of them, maybe more, run in a row around the wall. They communicate directly with the brokers who receive and execute the manipulator's orders.

It is commented as a significant feature in connection with the purchase of the Bigelow holdings that this financing is of temporary character. The price paid for the 125,000 shares of Bigelow stocks in the five properties was $8,210,000, of which consideration $2,700,000 was in cash and $5,510,000 in notes. More than $2,600,000 of the cash was realized by the sale of additional notes, the balance coming from the treasury. None of the notes exceeds ten years in life and provision is made for the optional redemption of all of the notes in three years.

BUTTE LOOKS GOOD TO HIM.

"Butte looks good to me," said J. A. Minner, the well-known stock broker of Laurium, in an interview with a newspaper man. Mr. Minner has just returned from a visit to the Butte camp, and was observant of conditions while there. He said that no one could fully realize the vast stores of mineral wealth in the Buttefield. "The properties all lie close together," said Mr. Minner, "and there is little wonder that there are law suits and controversies arising from time to time."

A great deal of interest centers on the work which the Butte Coalition company has just commenced on the 1,700-foot level of the Tramway shaft to open up the Minnie Healy ground at a deeper level than mining has ever before been done in that property.

ATLANTIC.

The Atlantic Mining company's reports for 1908 shows expenses of $96,955, reducing the surplus of $206,843, Dec. 31, 1907, to $109,888, Dec. 31, 1908. J. F. Gay, president, says: Underground operations during the year were confined to further exploratory work at section 16. The railroad and stamp mill have been kept in commission handling and stamping the output of the Michigan mine, and arrangements have been made with the Superior company to transport and stamp the output from that property.

GREENE CONSOLIDATED.

The annual report of the Greene Consolidated Copper company, the operating company of the Greene Consolidated Copper company, for 1908, shows total earnings on copper, gold and silver, and net earnings from miscellaneous revenues of $2,477,636. The expenditures on account of copper, gold and silver amount of $1,821,950, leaving a net profit of $655,686. Deducting sundry expenses, including shut down, costs, etc., of $820,446, a deficit of $214,140 is shown for the year.

HANCOCK CONSOLIDATED.

The report of the Hancock Consolidated Mining company for 1908 shows a deficit of $78,913, the disbursements totaling $227,701 against receipts of $148,787. The surplus on Dec. 31, 1907, was $154,332, reduced to $55,419, Dec. 31, 1908. President Cassidy says: The principal development work done during the year, tributary to No. 1 shaft, was on the West vein Nos. 2, 3. Vertical shaft No. 2, barring unforeseen accidents,

This knowledge is had in its fullest degree by the men charged with administering poor relief and by people engaged in carrying on charitable organizations.

CALUMET & HECLA.

It is commented as a significant feature in connection with the purchase of the Bigelow holdings that this financing is of temporary character. The price paid for the 125,000 shares of Bigelow stocks in the five properties was $8,210,000, of which consideration $2,700,000 was in cash and $5,510,000 in notes. More than $2,600,000 of the cash was realized by the sale of additional notes, the balance coming from the treasury. None of the notes exceeds ten years in life and provision is made for the optional redemption of all of the notes in three years.

WIFE DESERTION.

William C. Spindler, superintendent of the poor in Milwaukee county, is quoted as making some interesting observations on the causes lying back of the crime of wife desertion. How much there is of this crime and the heavy burdens that it places on the community the general public has but slight knowledge of. This knowledge is had in its fullest degree by the men charged with administering poor relief and by people engaged in carrying on charitable organizations.

BUTTE COALITION.

A great deal of interest centers on the work which the Butte Coalition company has just commenced on the 1,700-foot level of the Tramway shaft to open up the Minnie Healy ground at a deeper level than mining has ever before been done in that property.

move peace and quietude and results in legislation at Washington. And the tariff bill will be framed at once.

Another fact in changing sentiment relates to the conclusion of the sensational action against the Standard Oil corporation. These are but straws which show that the public has tired of the hurrah and noise of corporation baiting and wants to give the business interests a chance to work. These things all have their influence on state legislatures and there is every reason to expect that this spring will see few evidences of insane measures going into effect in various states to interfere with the progress of industrial development. All that business men want is a chance to go ahead and public service corporations which are usually large consumers of copper, are now planning extensions and improvements and new lines, because the fear that they would be stopped by unfavorable legislation is removed.

All these things have resulted in a changed public sentiment relative to the general market conditions and to the copper shares in particular. All the bad news that could be worked on the markets has been used by the depression press, but the public is not in the market over head and is in position to hold all the stocks now carried, so that these market manipulators were unable to freeze them out. They are not selling at these prices because the public is in position to hang on and wait for better figures which are sure to come soon. We believe that all of the good copper are a purchase right now. We believe, too, that it will be quite impossible to get any of them at present prices inside of a month and we would not be surprised if the decided change in sentiment came within two weeks.

At the meeting of the Osceola shareholders held on Thursday the Bigelow people withdrew and the Calumet and Hecla directors were named in their place. The personnel is the same as controls the other Calumet and Hecla subsidiaries. During the week the annual report, the last issued by the Bigelow management, came out. It was certainly the best report ever issued by this company, and considering the conditions under which the company operated last year, the showing is a great credit to the management and sets a pace which it will be no easy thing for the new management to beat. Earnings were better than $7 a share, and the costs were lower.

The present management leaves the Osceola in excellent physical condition, underground, and otherwise, and Osceola ought to be able to make at least 88 a share per year even under most unfavorable metal market conditions. The possibilities of a great increase over that amount with any decided investment in the metal situation. The first advantages which the Calumet & Hecla people are likely to find beneficial is that which is to come when the new shaft on the 3rd Kearsarge becomes an active producer, cutting tapping at it does a very rich district.

PAINE, WEBBER & CO'S WEEKLY COPPER LETTER

Information Concerning the Red Metal Market and Copper Stocks.

This copper share market is certainly going higher and the upward movement is going to start this month. Six weeks ago we made the prediction that a dip market with slight recessions and no slight advances might be expected for several weeks to come. It is now clear that the dip market has passed and the first real signs of the betterment in business conditions were apparent and the first real noticeable improvement in the metal market was in the copper share market. It is indicated that our predictions were about right. We confidently anticipate a much better copper share market before this month closes and we look for a gradual and substantial continuation of the improvement for the remainder of the year. There are a number of reasons for this optimism toward the future. In the first place there is no denying the fact that the change in the national administration at Washington has been beneficial for all business interests. Without disparaging in the least the great revolutionary work which former President Roosevelt did for the country it must be acknowledged that great reforms seldom know how to reach actual results. Mr. Taft has the same hopes for betterment and plans for reformation which Mr. Roosevelt openly advocated but Mr. Taft likewise has tact and judgment and a better knowledge of the ways to accomplish his reforms without killing the business of the nation in so doing. As indicating the change in affairs at Washington we read in the dispatches that the president and Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon in conference regarding the tariff measure. You never heard of Senator Aldrich visiting the White House while Mr. Roosevelt was president and Speaker Cannon was not there in too often. Yet Mr. Taft goes even further and is reported to be visiting to talk Cannon for speaker again. This simply indicates one thing. Mr. Taft knows that this tariff measure must be put through right away if we are to have a revival of business activity. And he knows that the cooperation of two such leaders as Aldrich and Cannon is necessary to the success of the measure. He is obtaining that co-operation by asking for it, not by hunting up the two leaders with a big stick. Therefore it seems reasonable to presume that we are to

COPPER METAL PRICES.

New York, March 12.—Copper was lower in London today, spot closing at 43 1/2, 17c, 6d and futures at 45 1/2, 12c, 6d. The local market was higher and lower, with Lake quoted at 12 1/2 to 12 7/8, electrolytic at 12 7/8 to 13 1/2 and casting at 12 1/2 to 12 3/4.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, March 12.—Wheat advanced more than two cents today. Half of the day's gain was made on the initial transactions. The demand was general, owing to an advance at Liverpool and which was largely due to the decrease of nearly two million bushels in the Argentina visible supply and smaller exports for the week from that country than had been predicted. The bull leaders gave the market active support. This led to free covering by shorts in general. Reports of damage to the French crop, claims that the Balkan situation was again becoming acute and reports alleging enormous export sales from this country were factors that further strengthened the market late in the session. Rumors were current that the export business at New York today would aggregate more than 100 boatsloads, but a message from a reliable house there, declared they would not exceed thirty boatsloads. The sentiment was extremely bullish the final hour of the market closed excited and strong. The close showed net gains for the day of 13c, 1/2 to 2 1/2c. The May opened at 68 1/2, closing 68 1/2.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co's correspondent at New York yesterday telegraphed as follows: The support in the Erie issues caused short covering in these specialties and held the selling in check in other quarters. It is thought that between now and October some arrangements may be made to properly finance the company, but from present indications it would seem that a reorganization and drastic re-organization is necessary to strengthen the position of the company. The character of the trading during today's session was the same as has been witnessed for the past week, but the pressure did not seem so insistent, and some shorts displayed a disposition to cover commitments. The chief sustaining influence at the present seems to be a good sized short interest, but undoubtedly in the near future efforts will be made to discharge long stock on the excitement incident to the coming of congress. Closing prices were as follows:

PAINE, WEBBER & CO'S WHEAT SUMMARY.

Paine, Webber & Co's Chicago correspondent said yesterday concerning the wheat market: This advance coming on top of the strong upturn yesterday marks a very decided increase in the buying force in the past twenty-four hours. The market today was not characterized by any great excitement, except possibly on final trades, which were one cent or more over the close of yesterday. The shorts were busy covering on each fresh advance all day long. There is fresh investment buying by the public. The foreign situation is developing fresh strength. All the advice from Argentina indicate an early falling off in the shipments. The northwest markets in this country led the early advance and at the close showed gains of about two cents with Chicago. The reports from the growing crop are the best and any crop damage added to the present bullish conditions might foster this July up stronger and higher than yet recorded. There is less talk of manipulation and the trade and the public appear to be studying the legitimate conditions and buying wheat. SIMPLE REMEDY FOR LA GRIFFE

S.S.S. RIDES THE SYSTEM OF CATARRH. Catarrh is a blood disease which causes a general inflammation of the inner linings or mucous membranes of the body. The discharging of these delicate surfaces and tissues produces all the well known symptoms of the trouble, such as ringing noises in the head and ears, tight, stuffy feeling in the nose, pains above the eyes, irritation of the throat, sometimes slight fever, and a general feeling of weakness and ill health. Even the lungs become infected by the continual passage of impure blood through them, and there is danger of consumption if the disease is allowed to remain in the system. S. S. S. cures Catarrh because it purifies the blood. It goes into the circulation and removes every particle of the catarrhal matter, making this vital fluid pure, rich and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, every symptom disappears, the constitution is built up and health restored. S. S. S. rides the system of catarrh by attacking the trouble at its head and entirely removing the cause from the blood, thus making a permanent and lasting cure. S. S. S. is made entirely from health-giving roots, herbs and barks, and for this reason is an especially safe and desirable medicine. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA. Probate Judge Bentley has been notified

Even the lungs become infected by the continual passage of impure blood through them, and there is danger of consumption if the disease is allowed to remain in the system. S. S. S. cures Catarrh because it purifies the blood. It goes into the circulation and removes every particle of the catarrhal matter, making this vital fluid pure, rich and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, every symptom disappears, the constitution is built up and health restored. S. S. S. rides the system of catarrh by attacking the trouble at its head and entirely removing the cause from the blood, thus making a permanent and lasting cure. S. S. S. is made entirely from health-giving roots, herbs and barks, and for this reason is an especially safe and desirable medicine. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write. TAKEN ON SUSPICION.

Arrest Made in Connection With Birch Postoffice Robbery.

Marshal Manning returned from Birch yesterday afternoon, where he had spent the preceding twenty-four hours investigating the postoffice robbery of Wednesday night. Lewis Page came from Birch on the same train, and at the Marquette station he was arrested by the marshal on suspicion of having been connected with the crime.

The marshal stated last night that the links of circumstantial evidence which he had woven about Page indicated a probability of guilt, although nothing like absolute proof had been obtained. The tracks about the store, which were very plain owing to the newly fallen snow, indicated that the robbery had been committed by one man, and these tracks were followed for some distance toward Page's house. The night of the robbery Page had been playing poker and had lost. When arrested he had $17 on his person, although his wife had said earlier in the day that he had no money. Page says he made the money on a dance given some time ago, but his wife says they lost money on the dance. Page was familiar with the store, having had a small check cashed there the day preceding the robbery. It is expected that Page will be given a hearing today and if evidence of probable guilt is not forthcoming, he will be again set at liberty.

Whoever the burglar was, he had an easy time getting the money from the store. The outside door of the safe was unlocked, the combination lock having been broken for some time. In the money box taken was $186.52 in cash, obtained from postoffice money orders and stamps sold. The cash drawer of the store was rifled of $27.41 and $35.60 collected by Mr. Hudson, local collector for the M. B. A., was taken from behind a tea chest. Stamps and money in another part of the safe were left untouched. The way the job was done showed clearly that it was the work of some one thoroughly familiar with the store.

THEATRICAL.

"The Virginian."

"The Virginian" as dramatized by Owen Wister and the late Kirke La Shelle from Mr. Wister's novel of the same name, and the most successful drama of Western life ever produced on any stage, will be presented at the Marquette opera house March 18 with a company of exceptionally clever artists, including W. S. Hart, as the Virginian, and the original Trampas, Frank Campeau. If you wish to spend a few hours in the heart of the cowboy country, full of thrilling adventures intermingled with comedy and pathos, go and see "The Virginian." There is nothing dull in the play; it holds the attention of the audience from the start to the finish. In its dramatic form "The Virginian" is displayed in four acts; the first at Uncle Hecwey's, the second at Judge Henry's ranch, the third at the camp of the horse thieves, and the fourth in Medicine Bow, Wyoming. The opportunities afforded for stage settings are fine, and the author has succeeded in presenting scenes of the most beautiful of Western life. The first act opens at Uncle Hecwey's with a dance and christening. The Virginian, an invited guest, tries to become better acquainted with Molly Wood, a school teacher from New England, whom he has previously saved from drowning. He receives little encouragement, but is determined. In this act he quarrels with the bad man, Trampas, and the act ends with the exceedingly funny scene where the Virginian and Honey Wiggins mix the babies left sleeping in an adjoining room. The second act, Judge Henry's ranch, the Virginian is elevated to ranch boss, and his love affair is progressing nicely until the lynching expedition comes up, when he is ordered to head a party of vigilantes to capture the cattle thieves, among whom is his loyal but misguided friend, Steve. The third act, the Horse Pasture, where two cowboys and the cattle thieves have a most exciting scene, ends in a lynching. The final act, Medicine Bow, where the bad man, Trampas, meets his just reward and the Virginian and Molly Wood have no more difficulty in their love affair, is very realistic.

Northern Normal Notes.

A practice game was played with the high school basketball team Thursday afternoon.

Next Friday evening there will be another game of basketball between the Marquette High school team and the Normal team.

President James H. Kaye has invited the officers having the upper peninsula oratorical contest in charge, to hold the final contest at the Normal school.

John E. Lantner, head of the department of modern languages, has been given leave of absence for next year. In company with Mrs. Lantner, he will spend the time in study abroad.

Miss Grace E. Salsbury, daughter of President Salsbury of the Whitewater (Wisconsin) State Normal, will again occupy a place on the faculty of the Normal school. She will have charge of the work on library methods.

The Misses Nellie Fisher, Gladys Zane, Carrie Bacon and Edith O'Meara, all of Escanaba, went home yesterday for the sake of being present at the basketball game played last evening between the Normal team and the Escanaba High school team.

Oasis Literary society is planning a sleighride for next Monday evening. Those who will be included are the members of the society and a few other invited guests. The society decided upon this form of pleasure instead of an evening party.

In recognition of the good work done by our basketball team, the students are preparing for an athletic rally to be held at Assembly hall Tuesday morning next. Speeches will be made by several members of the team, by prominent students and by several members of the faculty.

The Faculty club met Tuesday afternoon, as usual. The subject under discussion was the biological aspect of education, in which was traced the relation between the development of the physical nature and the mentality of the being, from the earliest forms to the human being.

The Junior class will entertain the student body and faculty at the close of school hours next Wednesday (St. Patrick's Day) at an afternoon chaboule. This is the first time in the history of the school that the Junior class has entertained before the large party given for the seniors, which always takes place in the spring quarter.

John Hallam, jeweler of this city, is preparing a case of crystals which he is to present to the Normal school. The case will contain the finest obtainable specimens of topaz, sapphire, garnet, quartz, agate and Superior greenstone, about fifty in all, with fine imitations of the emerald, diamond and others of the most costly varieties.

Dr. E. R. Downing has been elected president of the Civic League of Marquette, which has been formed among public-spirited citizens for the purpose of promoting the civic welfare of this city and its institutions. The league had its origin in a visit to the city last fall of Dr. E. R. Downing, president of the Chicago Municipal Voters' league. Dr. Downing has been identified with the movement from the beginning.

Since the use of the furnace in Science Hall has been discontinued, Mr. Mills has taken possession of one of the work rooms next to the furnace room and has fitted it up as a place for map making. The making of a map in relief is a kind of manual training and is very attractive to the students. A visit to the department on Thursday showed large relief maps of North America, South America, Ireland and Asia in process of building.

Preparations are already under way for the summer school, which will be held from June 28 to August 6, inclusive. A number of requests have been received from prospective students for rooms in the dormitory. One bulletin in the form of a post card carrying a picture of the buildings was sent out several weeks ago. A regular preliminary bulletin will be issued within a week or two, and later one containing full information as to courses, credits, etc., will be put in circulation.

Miss Spaulding placed on exhibition yesterday afternoon a small collection of curious pieces of jewelry, pottery and miscellaneous articles which were sent by a New York collector for this purpose. There were odd necklaces, bracelets, hat pins, belt buckles, pins and rings, some small pieces of Briton pottery, a rug, two oriental shawls, etc. Attractive pieces were a bracelet of selfless, the conscious motives of the child should be the guide. Any studies for mere discipline should be dropped. The continuity in child life must be promoted and there is so much material for this that wise choice is necessitated. The child is a motor body, and wants "to do," hence his training should be to this end. The kindergarten and the first three grades should be devoted to play, the later ones to observation and work. In the fourth grade the pupils should be made, through observation, thoroughly acquainted with the local industries; in the fifth and sixth, their study should be of industries at large; in the seventh, they should be confined to industries of the United States, and in the eighth this knowledge should be utilized with reference to the future interests to be served. During this speech, as in most of the sessions, stress was laid upon the equipment and personality of the teacher. The teacher, her personality and fitness, is rapidly taking the first place in the minds of school problems. Professor McMurray of Cornell followed Professor Merriam and took up the same line of discussion, placing even greater emphasis upon the teacher. He made three large demands upon anyone who should aspire to be a teacher—first, a body of exact knowledge; second, large and deep sympathy; third, that she should have outside relationships, that is, she should be more than a teacher; she should, for instance, have social interests in the community where she works. Mrs. Kaye said that the training of teachers, and the statement was made that in the universities there is much very poor teaching; that in the high schools the teaching is much more pedagogical as a rule than in the universities. President Kaye, then, they discussed the question of the relation between the high schools and state universities was touched upon, showing that this is a tender point. As it is now the universities prescribe fifteen out of the sixteen units accepted for college entrance in the examinations; this throws out all courses in industrial training, such as manual training and commercial studies, and the conscious motives of the boys and girls of today are appealed to by these. Superintendent Brooks of Boston declared for six months chosen by the pupil or the high school, and ten by the universities. This would allow considerable latitude to the pupils to satisfy their present interests and to bring their home life into closer relation with their school life. These speeches show the trend of educational thought today; but it is difficult for most of us to see how the pupil is to know grammar, arithmetic, geography, history, etc., without spending much time upon them, and it is certain that in the conduct of life today a definite knowledge of them is required.

Italian gold stone, inlaid with a mosaic pattern; a necklace with scarabs as the ornaments; a belt buckle after an old Egyptian design, and a brooch of an old Russian enamel. The basketball team left yesterday morning for Escanaba to play a return game with the team of the high school of that city last evening. Those composing the Normal team were: Milton, Kim, Fred, Walter for the first half, and Simon Anderson, for the second half; Ernest Von Zellen and James Cameron, forwards, and Kenneth Richardson and Howard McKereghan, guards, with Wm. Mulhally as substitute. On the occasion of the visit of the Escanaba team to Marquette several weeks ago, our boys were victors in the game, with a score of 37 to 10, and it was hoped that a repetition of this score would be made, though it was reported that the Escanaba players had done under vigorous training, with a fierce determination to turn the tables. The team was accompanied by Mr. Mills, the coach, and little Chester Pierce as mascot. Tuesday morning at Assembly, the Rev. J. M. Rogers gave a talk on the subject of Christ in recent art, or in the art since the opening of the sixteenth century. It was illustrated profusely by means of stereopticon views showing the face and figure of Christ at various periods of his life. The speaker introduced his subject by a few remarks on the influence of Christ upon the various forms of art, architecture, sculpture, painting, music and poetry and the reaction of art upon man's conception of Christ. He showed that art does more than produce a face and figure for the Savior, but that it has done more to interpret the meaning of His mission to the world than all other efforts combined. He spoke of the popularization of art in recent years; whereas in the school books of a generation ago the pictures were few and of inferior character, now good reproductions of the greatest masterpieces in painting, sculpture and architecture abound in them. He spoke of the mission of the Perry pictures, the Brown "Famous Pictures" and others which scatter copies of the best works of art in all homes. These, the speaker said, have revealed through the face of Jesus conceptions of His life and mission more powerful in their influence than all sermons combined. Among the pictures thrown on the screen were many from the work of Linn, Correggio, Tissot, Durer, LeRolle and Woolman Hunt as well as others whose authorship is unknown. Many of those by Tissot were in color. The subjects most popular in the world today are those representing Christ as a shepherd or as blessing little children. Artists have generally avoided representing Christ as undergoing the great temptations in the wilderness, but the speaker showed a few views by later artists, particularly Tissot, in which the morality enforced by art was illustrated, the savior being represented, of course, ideally attractive and beautiful and the evil one dark, ugly and repugnant. The talk at Assembly last Tuesday was made by President James H. Kaye, who attended the meeting of school superintendents at Chicago recently. He gave the substance of the most important speeches made at the meeting, of which the most notable was by Professor Merriam of Missouri, on the subject of the elimination of waste in the school curriculum. The speaker declared that only such subjects should be taught in school as touch the real present interests of the children and to this end he extolled the value of industrial education and besought educators to drive out all instruction which does not appeal to the present interests of the pupils as this does. No formal work, he said, such as training in grammar and arithmetic as such, should be retained, as this does appeal to the child's conscious motives for education; whatever training in these is given should be given incidentally, in the course of his industrial training, as they are necessary here and not at all as ends in themselves.

WALL STREET MARKET CONTINUES VERY DULL

Langour Marks the Speculation, and That There Will Be Any Revival of Activity Until the Tariff Legislation Is Out of the Way Is Hardly Looked For.

New York, March 12.—The rather aimless drift of the prices of stocks turned upwards today, after an uncertain period of backing and filling. The dealings expanded also slightly over yesterday's low level for the year. The speculation centered in Reading and was based apparently on the labor outlook. The rejection by the miners' representatives of the counter-proposition of the anthracite operators is accepted with professed equanimity by holders of Reading stock. The prospect of a slight drop in mining operations seems to be regarded not unfavorably, but as giving opportunity to dispose of the accumulated surplus of coal and to reduce the interest charges for carrying this surplus. This is an argument advanced by buyers of the stock of the Ashbed. With the approved methods of mining and milling the stock today there is no doubt in my mind that the Ashbed on the Phoenix would pay well to operate. The Ashbed hold appears to be about twenty feet wide and situated so close to the stamp mill that it can be developed at very low cost and I believe that a recovery of from eight to ten to twenty pounds of refined copper to the ton of rock stamp may confidently be expected.

Upper Peninsula Soo Will Economize—

No extensive public improvements will be undertaken at the Soo this coming summer owing to financial conditions. The city will confine its efforts for the most part to reducing its indebtedness. While some of the main streets are in need of repairs, there is a strong sentiment in favor of putting off action until brick or similar material can be laid. Before new pavements are laid it will be necessary to relay part of the water mains. Delta Has the Most Saloons— A Lansing dispatch says: An effort will be made at the present session to pass a liquor bill which will limit the number of saloons to one in every 300 population. Mining News PHOENIX CONSOLIDATED.

The last assessment levied on the shares of the Phoenix Consolidated Copper company was not paid up very fully by the stockholders, as there still remains unpaid $68,235. In 1907 the Phoenix Copper company obtained control of the Phoenix and since that time the latter corporation has leased to the former or parent company its stamp mill at an annual rental of $5,000. W. A. Dunn who was formerly superintendent of the Phoenix property, in a letter to the stockholders of the Phoenix company says that he had great faith in the Ashbed lode. "I am confident," he writes "if you will make a mill test of this lode the results will be sufficiently satisfactory for you to go ahead and make a profitable mine of the Ashbed. With the approved methods of mining and milling the stock today there is no doubt in my mind that the Ashbed on the Phoenix would pay well to operate. The Ashbed hold appears to be about twenty feet wide and situated so close to the stamp mill that it can be developed at very low cost and I believe that a recovery of from eight to ten to twenty pounds of refined copper to the ton of rock stamp may confidently be expected."

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The Arizona & Michigan is making good progress in sinking its three-cable shaft, which is down over 125 feet and now going down at the rate of seventy-five or one hundred feet per month. The shaft is sinking in quartzite. Michigan is sinking shaft "A" below the sixteenth level. It is now over 2,000 feet from the surface. From the twelfth to the fifteenth level the ground shows signs of being a good lode. The sixteenth level shows the lode narrow, but with greater enrichment. A large tonnage is blocked out in the old Minnesota branch which may soon be opened. The Island Copper company is the name of a new corporation which has filed articles with the secretary of state of Michigan, and which will have offices in Duluth and Houghton. The corporation has a capital of $1,000,000 and it has been organized to own Isle Royale and develop the copper prospects there. The directors of the company are F. W. Nichols, J. C. Stone, Albert Bauden, C. H. Frimodig, J. C. McKee and Edward McKee, of Houghton; Herman A. Wiedner and James D. Looney, of Hancock, and O. E. Larson, Duluth. It has been widely and erroneously published that it is the United States Steel corporation, which has taken over the holdings of the Isle Royale corporation, an English syndicate. A director places the company's copper costs at 12 1/2 cents per pound. This is slightly less than last year. Calumet & Arizona costs are about nine cents per pound. The Anaconda company is still engaged in retimbering the Belmont shaft from the 1000-foot level to the surface, and the work will not be completed for several months. Another attachment for an unpaid bill of $800 has been levied on all the property of the North Butte Extension Development company. TWISTED A MULE'S TAIL; HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER. ISHPEMING PEOPLE BELIEVE IN TILL

CROWDS SUFFERING FROM ILLS OF VARIOUS KINDS CONTINUE TO VISIT THE BLACKSMITH "HEALER" AT ALMENA, WIS.

A number of Ishpeming people who have received treatment from John Till, the "healer" of Almena, Wis., declare that they have been benefited by him. The announcement in the newspaper dispatches a few days ago that he had been arrested on complaint of a former patient has not shaken the confidence of certain Ishpeming patients in Till, as is evident from the fact that another party left here for Almena Thursday night and a second party of twenty-five has been organized to leave tomorrow night. All who have thus far gone from here have traveled via the South Shore. St. Paul and Soo lines, changing to the latter system at Pembine.

One Ishpeming man who has already made three visits to the "healer," each time spending from four to seven days there, claims to have been benefited by his treatment, and he is giving Till much free advertising. Another case is that of an old man, who was badly crippled when he left here, but it is said that he returned after a few days, feeling so well that he could walk from the train. A number of those who have gone from this city are sufferers from rheumatism, and the patients have included men, women and children.

Till is a native of Russia, and from what the Ishpeming people say of him, he is a most singular man. He lives on a farm about three miles from Almena and most of the patients are driven out there by hack men of the city. Every time a train arrives there are from ten to two dozen hacks at the depot prepared to take patients out. So great has been the rush for some weeks past that some of the patients have been obliged to wait many hours before being able to see Till. He admits the patients to his private quarters three to a dozen at a time. He wears a long black beard and when working on patients is usually attired in blue overalls and his stocking feet. He is kept busy many hours each day and his only attendant is his wife, who lines up the patients and brings them into her husband's office in their turn.

Till was formerly located in Minnesota and hundreds of patients come from that state weekly to see him. Almena is just across the Minnesota line and is about four hours ride from St. Paul. The hotels and boarding houses in the town have not been able to properly accommodate all the patients and the erection of a large hotel is now contemplated. It is said that Till makes no charge for his treatment, but the patients are permitted to contribute whatever they feel disposed. There is a basket on his office table where they deposit their money.

The railroad fare from Ishpeming to Almena is $6.50 one way, or $13 for the round trip.

THINKS WELL OF ASSOCIATION. J. Ogden Armour's $25,000 Letter of Y. M. C. A. Endorsement.

As the new block for the Ishpeming branch of the Young Men's Christian association nears completion, interest in the organization's affairs increased and the officers are much encouraged over the outlook for a successful start. Many people have visited the new building during the past week and all have expressed themselves as delighted with it. The association is having a rapid growth in many sections and its work in Michigan is keeping up with that in other states. In a million-dollar canvass of Chicago the association has been made to enable it to provide low priced dormitories for young men making their way in the city, and to extend its work, one of the committee soliciting funds recently asked J. Ogden Armour, the head of the great packing industry, his opinion of the association and if he could help that opinion substantially. The following is Mr. Armour's letter: "I think the Young Men's Christian association the finest institution of its kind in the city. The fifty years of its steady growth in Chicago attests the soundness of its methods and the worthiness of its purposes. It has established for itself a permanent and increasing field of usefulness. Its peculiar genius has been that of assisting young men to devote their off-duty hours to pursuits which are at the same time pleasant and profitable. I will vouch for everything that is said to aid the Young Men's Christian association. "Well! I think enough of it to give $25,000."

Synopsis of "Vanity Fair." Mary Biggus. Reading from "Vanity Fair." Marjory Barney. Reading from Henry Esmond. Marie Lioret.

At the meeting of the Boys' Debating club Wednesday evening a new constitution was adopted and a pleasing program was given. Louis Unamuth declared and the question for debate was "Resolved, That the Government Ownership and Control of the Liquor Business is the Best Means of Controlling It." The affirmative was upheld by Roy Yungbluth and Donald Hayden and the negative by Morris Rutledge and George Dunstan. The affirmative was given the decision by the judges. A debating contest is to be held with the debating team of Grace church in the near future.

"THE VIRGINIAN" A STRONG PLAY. AN IMPENETRABLE HEDGE.

"The Virginian," the dramatization of Owen Wister's splendid novel of Western life, will be presented at the Bijou theater Wednesday evening by the Kirke La Shelle players. Few dramas of the American plains life give such a realistic and thrilling picture as that presented by this charming stage version of Wister's widely read novel. The virility and power of the original romance have been imparted to the stage version, and the necessary atmosphere of the Wyoming territorial days are known to have been cleverly added in such a manner as to give strength to the story. "The Virginian" has received much commendation and will undoubtedly repeat former triumphs during its coming engagement here.

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside.

MANY LAUNCHES ARE BEING REMODELED

OWNERS OF SMALL BOATS ARE GETTING READY FOR NEXT SUMMER'S PLEASURE.

LARGER ENGINES THE RAGE

Many Craft With Increased Horse Power Will Be Put Into the Water in the Spring—Several New Ones.

Those living in this city who are fortunate to own launches or other small pleasure boats are getting them ready for next summer's use, and the John A. Anderson boat building establishment, at the end of the breakwater, is a busy place these days. Present indications are that there will not be many new boats seen on the bay next summer, but most of those already in commission are being more or less extensively remodeled. Several persons about town are talking of buying new launches this year but, so far as learned, no purchases have yet been made. However, Captain Cleary of the life saving crew, is building a handsome new gasoline launch during his spare time this winter, and Edward Connell of the Lake Shore Engine Works, and Attorney C. F. Button are having their boats remodeled to such an extent that they will be new crafts to all intents and appearances.

The tendency of all launch owners this winter is to install larger engines in hopes of getting more speed by so doing. Compared with those in use at other places, there have never been any especially fast launches in this city, but the coming season several of the boat owners expect to put boats in the water that will outdistance any heretofore in use.

Expected to Show Speed.

Captain Cleary's boat, the hull of which is now nearly completed, gives promise of being a beauty. The boat is sixteen feet, seven inches long, with a four feet, eight inches beam. It is built entirely of cedar with a comparatively flat bottom, and will be very light and easy to pull up on the beach. It will be equipped with a six-horsepower Holmes engine, and the captain expects it to be one of the fastest boats on the bay.

Ed Connell's boat is now at the Anderson shop, where it is planned to cut it in two and build seven feet into the center. This will make it twenty-five feet long, over all, and it will be equipped with an eight-horsepower Lake Shore engine, in place of the three-horsepower engine formerly used. An engine expert stated recently that he expected this boat to be capable of more speed than any now in this city.

Mr. Anderson is building a new flat bottomed launch, nineteen feet long, for Frank Pendill, which the owner expects to use at Isle Royale, where he is in the custom house service. A two-horsepower engine will be installed in the craft, and it is being built so that it can be beached handily.

Button's Boat a Beauty.

One of the prettiest small launches that will be seen on the bay next summer is that recently built for C. F. Button. This launch was made from an old row boat, which was so out-of-date and dilapidated that many laughed at the owner for attempting to do anything with it. But after seeing what has been done with the old craft, those persons will be apt to change their opinion. The old boat has been built several inches higher and made three feet longer and is one of the neatest shaped launches owned in the city. It will be equipped with a three and a half-horsepower Ed engine and Mr. Anderson expects that it will show a good many boats pointers in the matter of speed.

M. H. Foard's launch is now in the boat house, where it is being overhauled and repainted. A larger engine is to be installed before the season opens, but the owner has not decided on the size or make he will use.

The large launch, owned by Robinson & Pierce, has been equipped with a new four-horsepower engine, and is being thoroughly overhauled and renovated.

M. E. Asire's launch is being overhauled by Mr. Anderson and is to be equipped with an under-water exhaust. V. Halby's boat is being extensively remodeled, new seats are being put in, and it is to be equipped with a four-horsepower Lake Shore engine.

Dr. J. Shorey has purchased the launch owned by Flint B. Aniba and it will be overhauled and put in commission by Fred Cleveland.

The boat owned by Spear Bros. and Schultheis is to be stripped of its sails and remodeled into an up-to-date gasoline launch.

ONLY ONE CHANGE.

With a Single Exception Last Year's Life Saving Crew Will Return.

Captain Cleary, of the life saving crew, states that he expects to have the same men under his direction another season that he had last year, with one exception. C. E. Whitman has been transferred to a station near Alpena and Alex Roulau, of Alpena, has been appointed to fill his position at Marquette. The other members of the crew will be John A. Anderson, now in the boat building business in this city; Daniel Sholton and Barney Holman, both spending the winter at their homes on light house point; James Gay, who is now running an engine at a mine in Ramsey, Gogebic county; Jesse Wagner, who is spending this winter in this city; Fred Jarvis, who is now on his farm, near Oquoc, this state, and James Saunders, who is now engaged as a pipe fitter at the Pioneer furnace.

The life saving equipment was in good shape when put away last fall and is now in readiness to be put into the water on short notice. The men will be called back to the station as soon as the first boat is sighted on the lake.

A new light has been received at the light house on the point, which will be installed before the season opens. This is a jet kerosene lamp, the oil being forced through a very small hole, something on the principle of a gas-oil lamp. It is said to give a brilliant light but some of those who have examined it are skeptical as to its practicality or efficiency. The government will not allow Keeper Kimball to use an electric light on the point, although one is in use at the end of the breakwater.

WHY MARQUETTE DID NOT ATTEND MEETING

MANAGER FOX CHARGES THAT IT WAS CALLED AT AN HOUR WHEN IT WAS KNOWN HE COULD NOT ATTEND.

The article that appeared in the Ishpeming department of The Mining Journal yesterday, in which it was stated that Marquette and Munising might be displayed in the baseball league by competing country teams, occasioned some surprise and a good deal of discussion among the fans yesterday. There was some friction, even as early as last summer, between the Marquette and Negaunee and Ishpeming teams, as to whether the Marquette-Alger county league should be a strictly amateur or a semi-professional organization, the Marquette management standing squarely in favor of the rules barring professionals, both in letter and spirit. This being the case, the Marquette management is inclined to believe that the article emanating from Ishpeming was published in hope of clubbing Marquette into line.

As to the meeting of managers called at the Nelson House in Ishpeming two weeks ago, which was not attended by either Marquette or Munising, Manager H. R. Fox states that he had previously informed the up-the-road managers that he could not, for business reasons, attend a meeting in the afternoon. In the past the meetings have always been held in the evening. In spite of the warning from Mr. Fox, the president called the meeting for 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, an hour at which he must have known it was most inconvenient for the Marquette managers to attend. H. O. Bell, treasurer of the league, was not even notified that a meeting had been called. This being true, many of the fans incline to the belief that the meeting was called with the expectation that Munising would be there and that the three clubs could arrange a schedule and adopt a set of eligibility rules without any opposition from the Marquette men, whom they knew would stand out against any attempt to make the league a semi-professional organization. Mmising, however, failed to show up, likewise Marquette, and the camp failed to work. At least, such is the view taken by the players and fans of this city.

Would Not Disrupt League.

The Marquette management has no desire to disrupt the league, but believes that its life depends upon the amateur standing of the players on the several teams, as has been frequently stated. Last season all the teams started out with strictly amateur players, but when the Marquette team showed itself to be stronger than any of the others, the Ishpeming and Negaunee teams began to work in "ringers." No great objection was made by the Marquette managers at the time, as it was believed, and rightly, too, as later events proved, that the Marquette team was good enough to win anyway.

Ever since the close of last season, the Marquette managers have felt that in Negaunee and Ishpeming an attempt was quietly being made to ring in a number of semi-professionals for next season. In fact, it has leaked out from the road that Negaunee and Ishpeming are out to beat Marquette, whatever they may cost. Knowing that Marquette would strenuously object to any salaried players, it is now thought that the up-the-road managers were foiled in an attempt to hold a league meeting at which Marquette would not be represented. The Marquette managers state that the league was a big success in this city last year and that if the team is kept strictly amateur, its success will repeat this season. However, it is not believed that the fans here will patronize semi-professional teams, and that to let down the bars in this respect would shortly mean the disruption of the league. For this reason it has been decided to maintain an amateur team in Marquette, regardless of the policy adopted by other teams. The Marquette managers are willing to attend a meeting held in the evening, as in times past, and have no desire to quit the league, provided they can get anything like a square deal.
