

ABDUCTED BOY NOT YET FOUND

Despite That Scores of Detectives Are at Work on the Case Eight-Year-Old Willie Whitla Still Remains in Kidnappers' Possession

Following Instructions Outlined in a Letter, the Father Deposits $10,000 in a Park at Ashtabula, Only to Find the Money Undisturbed on Returning to the Spot—Police Had Seen the Act and Had Set a Trap Which Failed to Catch Intended Prey.

Cleveland, March 21.—A man and a boy, believed to be Willie Whitla and one of the kidnappers, are being detained by the police of Cuyahoga Falls. The man claims he is from Harrisburg, Pa. Scores of detectives are at work on the kidnapping case.

Cleveland, March 21.—After failing to negotiate for the return of his kidnapped son, Willie, at Ashtabula, J. P. Whitla has returned to Sharon, Mr. Whitla was instructed in a letter from the kidnappers to leave $10,000 in a park Saturday night. If no detectives were about, the kidnappers promised that they would deliver the boy to the father at 3 o'clock this morning. Mr. Whitla deposited the money, but the Ashtabula police learned of the plans to pay the ransom, and went to the park. The kidnappers are supposed to have seen them, as the money was left intact and no one approached the spot.

The letter from the captors of Willie Whitla came to Mr. Whitla in Sharon Friday. Instructions were given him to go alone to Ashtabula Saturday night and place $10,000 in the park at 10 o'clock. At 3 o'clock the following morning, if the money was obtained by the kidnappers, they promised that the stolen boy would be sent to the Smith Hotel in Ashtabula. It was promised that another letter would be written to Mr. Whitla under name "C. A. White" Saturday night. Mr. Whitla consented to permit detectives to accompany him to Cleveland and await his summons.

Police Balk the Plan.

At 8 o'clock Mr. Whitla left Cleveland for Ashtabula. A few minutes after nine the kidnappers, in keeping with their promise, sent a letter addressed to "C. A. White," Smith Hotel, Ashtabula. A boy, unknown to the police at the hotel, handed the letter to the night clerk, who called the name out several times. Later, when no one called for the letter, the clerk opened it. He notified the mayor, and the mayor ordered the police to institute a search for the captors.

Promptly at 10 o'clock Mr. Whitla left $10,000 in the park. Three policemen saw him leave the money. They approached Chief Laskey, and received instructions to remain on guard at the park. In the meantime Mr. Whitla had returned to the city and established communication with the detectives in Cleveland. They advised him to go to the hotel before the time set. After five hours waiting Mr. Whitla started after the boy. On the way the policemen informed him that three officers had been on guard at the park. Mr. Whitla was overcome when this news was broken to him. He went to the park and found the money undisturbed. Late tonight no clue to the kidnappers had been found.

Father's Face Shows Fearful Strain.

Sharon, Pa., March 21.—Weary and worn and showing in his face the terrible strain under which he has been for the last three days, J. P. Whitla, father of Willie Whitla, the kidnapped boy, returned home this morning from a fruitless trip to Cleveland, where he expected to find trace of his missing son. "We know no more," said Mr. Whitla, "than we did before, and we seem no farther along with the search than we were last night."

In spite of all efforts having been in vain so far, Mr. Whitla and his family have not given up hope. It is the general belief here that the checks at the park were up open in correspondence with Mr. Whitla at present, but will communicate with the father later and await his assurances that the whole matter will be kept quiet. In nearly all churches the subject was touchingly alluded to today.

The search is said to be made at the instance of Frank Chickering, who says that Baker is alive and for several months has been associated with Wall street broker under the alias of Kaber Latoras. Mr. Chickering told the inspector that it was necessary for him to find Baker in order to clear up title to lands valued at $3,000,000. After Baker's bankruptcy, 1894, word was sent to his family that he had died in Bellevue hospital. A body was sent to Big Rapids and was identified by the family as that of Baker.

Men Hurdled Many Feet; Picked Up Like Straws.

Explosion Caused by a Windy Shot Sweeps Coal Mine Like a Whirlwind—Five Workers Are Killed and Seven Are Injured.

Evansville, Ind., March 21.—Five men were killed and seven were injured yesterday's explosion caused by a windy shot at the Sunnyville mines. The dead were: John R. Pett, William Schmutz, Samuel Coomes, Nelson Willingham, Sr., and Nelson Willingham, Jr. The injured are: Fred Clark, who probably died; David Brink, may die; Jesse Craig, may die; George Clausheldt, may die; Charles Parrish, will die; Joe Lions and Alexander Jarvis.

There were twenty-eight men in the mine. The disaster, it is thought, was caused by a charge of extra proportions, probably fired by Pett. He is the only man burned. The other men were killed by the force of the explosion and the accompanying sulphuric fumes. The survivors, as the survivors say, were swept as if by a whirlwind.

Blown Hundreds of Feet.

The miners, who had left their rooms and went in passageways leading to the foot of the shaft, were picked up like straws and blown hundreds of feet. The miners who were still in their rooms were not hurled off their feet, but soon succumbed to fumes.

The first intimation of the disaster came when the terrific blow stopped the fan at the air shaft. The engineer threw on full power on the fan and at once began filling the mine with fresh air. At the bottom of the airshaft one of the shaft men, George Fares, thought to open the trap door and save the lives of the men along the north entry, who were crawling along the floor to the shaft.

Sixteen Miners Go to the Rescue.

About ten minutes after the explosion the engineer got signals from the bottom of the shaft to haul up the cage. George Fares, John Clark, John Chapman and another man were in the cage. They had reached the shaft. Immediately the work of rescue of those in the rooms and passageways near the scene of the explosion was begun. Sixteen miners went down. They found the mine filled with gas.

Doctors, ambulances and police arrived in a few minutes. Wives and children of the miners, crying wildly and trying to get to the shaft, had to be kept back by the police, who stretched ropes. Joseph Schenk, president of the local union, was the last dead man brought up. He was getting his body three other miners were overcome and fainted upon reaching the surface.

KEEPING PACE IN CENTRAL AMERICA

It was something less than two years ago that the representatives of all the Central American republics met at Washington in a peace conference, at which it was mutually agreed that wars should cease and that all future differences should be submitted to a court of arbitration to be held under the joint auspices of the United States and Mexico.

Recently, however, President Zelaya of Nicaragua made an apparently unprovoked attack on the neighboring republic of Salvador, and as a consequence there is danger of an open rupture between these two governments.

The United States has no desire nor could it afford to annex any of these banana republics. Any one of them would be a rich and profitable possession, and no European power would hesitate for a moment to take advantage of the present opportunity to grab them.

The approaching completion of the Panama canal and the progress which American railway builders are making in connecting the links in the Pan-American railroad, which now needs only about forty miles more to carry it as far south as Panama, add an additional obligation on our part to safeguard property rights and preserve the peace in that region.

INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE

Bearing on the subject of how tariffs are made, the following from the current issue of Collier's Weekly is of interest: "When the Dingley tariff bill was pending—the bill under which all of us have for twelve years paid very stiff prices for our woolen cloths—the clerk to the senate committee on finance was S. N. D. North, at present filling the highly responsible position of director of the census. North was at the same time a salaried employe of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers.

"Between North, the clerk of the senate committee, and William Whitman, president of the Arlington woolen mills at Lawrence, Mass., the following letters, among many others, passed: "First, North to Whitman: "It is lucky I was here and just in the position I am. It has given me a whole day to work on the matter and get it right and with Aldrich away there is no one on the committee who knows anything about it. But Allison and Platt trust me and I expect they will both agree to what I have asked. I went over the matter with them last evening."

"Washington, June 20, 1897. "I will do the best I can with Mr. Allison when the time comes, but he knows nothing about the understanding I have with Aldrich on the worsted yarn schedule. "S. N. D. NORTH. "Washington, D. C., June 16, 1897. "Then these from Mr. Whitman to Mr. North: "My Dear Mr. North: I am unable to go to Washington and have no one to look out for my interests there, but yourself and I depend upon you. Of course Messrs. Aldrich and Dingley will do all they can, but I depend upon your letting them know what I need. I depend upon you. Dress goods, yarns and tops. Yours very truly, WILLIAM WHITMAN. "78 Chauncy street, Boston, July 10, 1897."

"We all depend upon you to watch closely our interests. To see that nothing is overlooked or neglected by our friends on the committee. I have no doubts, they will do all they can do, but with so many interests to look after, our special representative must see to it that our interest receives proper attention. "WILLIAM WHITMAN. "Boston, June 2, 1897."

Collier's says that North got $5,000 for his service, and the wool manufacturers got duties on some of their products as high as 150 per cent. These same wool manufacturers, it is noticed, are taken pretty good care of in the pending Payne bill.

Gets Belated Discharge Papers—Fully seven or eight years after the discharges had actually taken place and the members had enlisted in the Third regiment of the Michigan National Guard and served for over three years in that organization, the discharges from the Wisconsin National Guard of the old regiment were not delivered. It now develops that the members were all members of the National Guard of two states at the same time, although not actually serving in more than one at a time, and therefore only drawing money from one organization.

Gets Civil War Cannon—A relic of the Civil war which is proving very interesting to the people of Iron Mountain is a cannon which is on exhibition in the window at the Burbank undertaking parlors, having been received from the arsenal at San Antonio, Texas. Application was made for the cannon some time ago by the G. A. R. post, which desired the gun for the Grand Army lot at Cemetery Park, and to which place it will be taken. When these war relics are sent to the various posts making application, the United States military authorities do not send any of the appointments, but merely the bare gun. Thus the Iron Mountain cannon is minus sight, hammer, wheels etc. Stripped, it weighs 816 pounds, and measures six feet, two inches, with a three-inch rifle bore. It is a muzzle-loader. The material in it is No. 1 wrought iron, and from all appearances it is well preserved, although the commander at the arsenal has recommended that it be not used for active service, considering it unsafe because of its age. When Mr. Burbank was apprised that the cannon would be sent he wrote for the history of it. The commander replied that it would be impossible to procure the history of any one gun in particular, but that he knew the cannon shipped to Iron Mountain was used in the Civil war and for twenty-five years after. The military authorities have sent a blue print to be used as an illustration, suggesting that the cannon be mounted on a base. It has not been decided as yet, however, whether the gun will occupy a position on a concrete, stone or marble base, or whether will be mounted on a pair of wheels.

Iron Ore Situation—The Iron Trade Review says: While it is not expected that shipments from the Lake Superior ore ranges will exceed those of last year for a number of months after the opening of navigation it is hoped that the closing months of the season will be more active, and it is estimated that about 4,000,000 tons of ore will be sold and delivered than during the last season when the shipments amounted to 26,414,987 tons. As some increase in demand is expected, or men do not believe that any sound reason for decreasing prices exists. They are advising blast furnace operators to blow out their stocks rather than operate on a basis which will not be profitable with the present ore prices.

Upper Peninsula Ball Players in Good Berths—Ed. L. Scott, a wellknown baseball pitcher of Iron Mountain, has signed with the Freeport team of the Wisconsin league for the coming season, at an increase in salary. He played with the same club last year. Joe Miller, also an Iron Mountain twirler, goes to the Fort Wayne (Ind.) league team. Father Asks $10,000 Damages—Srit for $10,000 has been started in the circuit court at Marquette, Wis., against the Conner Lumber & Land company, as the result of an accident which occurred in the mill of the company at Leona, Aug. 28, 1908, and in which Fred Bodette of Wisconsin, Mich., aged eighteen years, lost his life. Nicholas Bodette, the father of the deceased young man, is the complainant. The case is expected to come to trial during the May term. Fred Bodette was working on a board cutter when a piece of lumber flew and struck him. He was killed instantly. The complaint alleges that the company did not properly safeguard the machinery and did not instruct the boy fully so he could protect himself.

C.S.S. REMOVES THE CAUSE OF CATARRH

No remedy that does not entirely remove the cause of Catarrh from the blood will ever make a permanent cure of the trouble. Just as long as the circulation remains contaminated with the impurities and catarrhal matters which produce the trouble, the mucous membranes or inner linings of the body will be kept in a state of irritation and disease. Sprays, lotions and other local applications will sometimes temporarily relieve the tight, full feeling in the head, buzzing noises in the ears, uncomfortable, stuffy feeling of the nostrils, and help to loosen the mucus in the throat; but Catarrh is a constitutional blood disorder and until it has been entirely driven from the system there can be no permanent cure. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by removing the cause from the blood. It attacks the disease at its head and by thoroughly purifying and cleansing the circulation, and ridding it of every particle of impurity, and at the same time enriching the blood, allows the inflamed and irritated membranes to heal, improves the general health, and stops every disagreeable symptom. S. S. S. reaches down to the very bottom and leaves no trace of the disease in the system. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write.

Man Found Dead—Late last week, a wellknown character at Iron Mountain, a man known as "Black Bessurean," reported to the police that there was a woman lying dead at his room on East Brown street. Investigation showed that the woman was Mrs. Michael Kenney, who lived on East Ludington street. The woman had apparently been dead for some time, possibly a day or two. Bessurean was seen walking the street several times during the night, and at 2 o'clock was questioned by an officer, to whom he said he was trying to get into a saloon to get a drink. Bessurean was arrested and held pending an investigation by a coroner's jury. The woman's husband works in a camp near Wauchedah.

Has Coin 1,500 Years Old—Joe Gagner possesses probably the most ancient coin in Gladstone. It is about eighteen hundred years old, and has not been spent probably for several hundred years. It is a brazen Roman coin, with the names of Cerva and Trajan on it, and has been stamped with a head in high relief. It would be impossible to stack such coins, although a higher degree of art was expended on them than on the modern, for they are irregular in outline, the art of milling the edges being a comparatively recent invention. The inscription is badly worn, but the "SIVQR" is plain. The coin was given to Mr. Gagner by a Spanish war soldier, who claimed that it was dug up while excavating in Cuba.

U. P. BOWLING ASSOCIATION.

Organization Will Be Perfected at Marquette Tournament in April.

The first steps of a definite nature toward organizing an Upper Peninsula Bowling association, a project which has been in the air for the past year or more, were taken at a meeting at Marquette, Mich., Saturday night in the Elks' quarters at Hancock, attended by prominent bowlers from copper and iron country towns. This meeting was held following the tournament which took place in Hancock through last week.

A committee will at once begin the work of drafting a constitution and by-laws and these will be acted upon at a meeting at Marquette next month in connection with the tournament that is to be held there. The association will be formed then. It will include the towns of the copper country—Houghton, Hancock, Lake Linden, Calumet and Laurium—and the three iron country towns of Marquette, Negaunee and Ishpeming. Later other towns of the peninsula may be admitted. It is stated that hereafter at least two and probably more tournaments will be held each year in the copper and the iron countries.

The committee which is doing the preliminary work of organizing the association is composed of A. E. Miller of Marquette, Dan Fisher of Hancock, Theodore Hennes of Lake Linden and James E. Fisher of Calumet. The tournament at Marquette will be held the week of April 19 and most of the crack copper country bowlers will participate in it. Last week's tournament was not characterized by particularly good playing, but many of the contests were close and interesting. The Hancock team took first place in the five-man event and second honors went to the Lake Linden team. Hancock also won the three-man and two-man events. The biggest score was made by F. Wade, with 218 pins. The five-man team from the iron country was composed of Messrs. Miller, Bell, Stafford, Mames and Godwin of Marquette.

I. O. O. F. OFFICER LEAVES.

General F. W. Davis to Inspect Cantons at Crystal Falls and the Soo.

Brigadier General Fred W. Davis of Detroit, head of the military division of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Michigan, and who conducted the installation of the Houghton canton Saturday, left yesterday for Crystal Falls and the Soo to inspect the cantons at these two places.

The installation of the Houghton canton Saturday brought to the village a large number of Odd Fellows from lodges of the district, in addition to which the Copper City canton of Calumet attended in a body. Besides conducting the installation, Brigadier General Davis inspected the cantons at Crystal Falls and the Soo. The Houghton branch starts life with a charter membership of forty-five and included in it are residents of the towns of the range as well as Odd Fellows of Houghton and Hancock. The new branch is Canton Superior, No. 32, Patriarchs Militant. Following the installation the members of the Holly Rebekah lodge served a banquet.

NO ARRESTS REPORTED.

No arrests have yet been made in connection with the robbery which occurred last Friday at the home of Guy Sutherland near Chassell. Owing to the circumstances surrounding the case it was thought that the officers would have no difficulty in tracing the robber. Much sympathy is felt in the community for Sutherland, who is a South Shore section foreman and is widely known. It is stated that the $250 that was taken was his savings for years. Disregarding a scarlet fever sign on the house the thief entered the place at 3 o'clock in the morning while Mrs. Sutherland was in the barn caring for a sick cow. Sutherland was not home. From the fact that the money was hidden and the thief was not obliged to lose time searching for it, it was thought that the guilty one was well acquainted with the premises.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE.

Bicknell Young interested a large assemblage at the Hancock theater yesterday afternoon, and his address upon the subject of Christian Science. He gave the effect of widening and making more comprehensive a general knowledge of the faith. While practically all of the Christian Scientists of the copper country attended the lecture, there were many there of other faiths. Mr. Young's address was a lucid and well told exposition of Christian Science. He is a speaker of much force and has been connected with the board of letterpress of the mother church at Boston for many years. He embraced Christian Science in 1890, having been cured about that time through the faith of a serious physical disease.

HOLDS FIRST MEETING.

Amheek Council Plans to Do Things as Soon as Village Has Cash.

Martin Poshak and James Wilson, defeated candidates in the first election held in the new village of Amheek, who declared that they would contest the election, will have to carry their cases into the circuit court if they persist in their intention, for the village council at its first meeting ratified the returns as originally announced. Mr. Poshak ran for president against Morris Kennel and Mr. Wilson ran for clerk against James Hamilton. Both were defeated by one vote, each receiving twenty-three, while their opponents polled twenty-four. It is not likely that anything further will come of the contests, for it is stated that Messrs. Poshak and Wilson will not make a fight.

Amheek begins life without a cent in the treasury, and President Kennel says that for that reason no improvement work will be done nor will any expense be incurred for some time, yet, as soon as funds that will be forthcoming within the next several months are received, he stated that some of the needs of the village will be attended to. A fire department is to be organized, and for this equipment will be needed. Another needed item is a drainage system. Sidewalks are lacking, and streets should be improved. The village will get its first money about the first of May. This will be the cash from liquor licenses. The village now has six saloons and it is probable that others will be started. The revenue to the village from each will be $495.

CALUMET CURLERS WON.

As a result of the curling contest at the Laurium Palestra Saturday morning between the Calumet team and a team of Portage Lake curlers, Calumet lays claim to the copper country championship. The Calumet team won Saturday's contest by the score of seventeen to eight. The project of building a special rink for curling is still alive. It will probably be carried into effect this summer, in which event the followers of the sport will have a rink that will be devoted solely to curling. It is planned to build the rink at the Laurium Athletic park.

FUNERAL AT TRIMOUNTAIN.

The hearing of Thomas Scholar of Calumet, who is charged with having seduced his own family, is to be held this morning in the court of Justice Jackola. Formally adjudged insane, three Finns were taken to Newberry from the county Saturday. The patients were John Logiborg of Dollar Bay and Paul Ristonen and John Jackola, both of Hancock. Deputy Sheriffs T. J. Donlan, Kenville and Nordstrom were in charge of the men. The mental affliction of Logiborg, who is aged about thirty-two, is attributed to rheumatism.

NO EASTER VACATION.

church, Hancock, has condemned them from his pulpit and has told the members of his parish to pay no heed to them.

Illustrative of the need in Portage Lake towns of new dwellings is a report of the experience of a Detroit man, who paid a visit to Hancock and determined to establish his home there, so he chartered a car upon which his furniture and household goods were loaded and started for the copper country. Then he began to look about for a house. He continued to look around, while his car stood on a sidetrack and accumulated charges. He was obliged at length to admit that he could not find a house in Houghton or Hancock and considered himself exceedingly fortunate in being able to find one in Calumet, whither the car was sent.

Mining News

OSCEOLA.

The report of the Osceola Consolidated Mining company for 1908, computed with $39,000 on Dec. 31, 1908, compared with $7,193 on Feb. 1, 1908. During the past year the company secured the remaining 5 per cent of the outstanding shares of the Goldfield White Rock Mining company, and the Goldfield-Kalamazoo Mining company, so that these properties are now entirely owned by the Begole Mining Syndicate. The company has no outstanding bills payable and all its property, equipment, supplies, etc., are fully paid for. It has 25,000 shares outstanding, par $10.

The Anamalgamated directors and Boston & Montana directors meet next month for dividend action. There have been reports of reduced disbursements, but the matter of dividends has not yet been considered by the respective boards.

The average Chinese community all letters and waste paper are laid away in a clean receptacle to await the collector, who appears at regular intervals to transfer the waste papers to the sacred furnace. If the papers were burned by the Chinese in their own homes the ashes of the sacred writings would mingle with the ashes of wood and other fuel, and the ashes of Chinese writings are as sacred as the writing itself.

The ashes from the sacred furnace are placed in sacks, the sacks are conveyed by wagons to the sea, and there, in a Mon War boat, are carried out where the tide runs swift and consigned to the waves. The Mon War boat belongs to the Mon War Sher, which is a lodge with branches everywhere, organized for the purpose of paying reverence to the spirit of Confucius.

The furnace in the Chinatown which nearly every large city in the United States harbors is generally a brick, ovenlike structure, about five feet high. Opposite it on the wall there will usually be found an inscription of the character following: "The spirits of our ancestors are pleased that we keep sacred the writings of our country." ALL WRITING SACRED. How the Chinese Dispose of Letters and Waste Papers.

The Chinese hold every scrap of writing sacred, no matter what the character express—the merest commercial message, advertisement, etc. Since Confucius used those characters to teach his wisdom, they are holy.

In the average Chinese community all letters and waste paper are laid away in a clean receptacle to await the collector, who appears at regular intervals to transfer the waste papers to the sacred furnace. If the papers were burned by the Chinese in their own homes the ashes of the sacred writings would mingle with the ashes of wood and other fuel, and the ashes of Chinese writings are as sacred as the writing itself.

The ashes from the sacred furnace are placed in sacks, the sacks are conveyed by wagons to the sea, and there, in a Mon War boat, are carried out where the tide runs swift and consigned to the waves. The Mon War boat belongs to the Mon War Sher, which is a lodge with branches everywhere, organized for the purpose of paying reverence to the spirit of Confucius.

Syndicate, has returned from California and Nevada. He states that he has picked up a fine field property for the syndicate.

The annual meetings of Calumet & Arizona and Superior & Pittsburg will be held in Bisbee, Arizona, April 12. No change is contemplated in the directorate of either company. The annual reports are being prepared.

Superintendent Edwards of the Bronkfin Mining company reports that all the openings on the amygdaloid at the Franklin show no improvement in the last two weeks. The foot lode at the twenty-fifth was nine feet thick and well charged with copper. The twenty-third and twenty-fourth, both north and south, were all in good copper ground, looking particularly well south.

The shaft at the Lake property is sinking in good vein matter fairly charged with copper at a depth of 529 feet. New openings are being made rather slowly and although the ground opened to date does not carry copper at all points, the general average is nevertheless exceptionally high in copper contents.

Work has been stopped in Tamarek No. 2 shaft on account of remodeling preparatory to the use of Kalmbeck's shaft. It is estimated that the work will cost $75,000. The entire shaft required retimbering and the shaft house had to be raised to use the new system. Work on these alterations started about a month ago. It is understood that the plan is not to be abandoned as soon as control passes.

Winona is preparing to commence operations on the new mill, which will be built in conjunction with King Philip. Plans are prepared for a three-head mill, capable of treating 1,500 tons of rock daily. Men are now being engaged and work will be started as early as possible in the spring. Winona is opening a good ground tributary to No. 4 shaft. The new electric hoist is working satisfactorily, though it is not likely to prove popular in the Lake Superior district.

The second annual report of the Begole Mining Syndicate shows a cash on hand of $39,000 on Dec. 31, 1908, compared with $7,193 on Feb. 1, 1908. During the past year the company secured the remaining 5 per cent of the outstanding shares of the Goldfield White Rock Mining company, and the Goldfield-Kalamazoo Mining company, so that these properties are now entirely owned by the Begole Mining Syndicate. The company has no outstanding bills payable and all its property, equipment, supplies, etc., are fully paid for. It has 25,000 shares outstanding, par $10.

The Anconada directors will meet this month for action on the dividend, which has been at rate of fifty cents a share quarterly. The Anamalgamated directors and Boston & Montana directors meet next month for dividend action. There have been reports of reduced disbursements, but the matter of dividends has not yet been considered by the respective boards.

RAY CENTRAL COPPER

FOR MORE THAN A YEAR WE HAVE BEEN PUBLISHING OUR SPECIAL COPPER LETTERS, ANALYZING PROPERTIES, DETERMINING SECURITY VALUES, AND DEMONSTRATING THE METAL'S MARKET POSITION; THAT OUR CONCLUSIONS HAVE HAD WEIGHT IS EVIDENCED BY THE FLATTERING RECEPTION ACCORDED THESE REVIEWS, AND THAT IN EACH INSTANCE SEVERAL REPRINTS HAVE BEEN NECESSARY TO FILL INSISTENT AND GROWING DEMANDS.

FROM THE BEGINNING OF OUR SPECIAL ATTENTION TO COPPER WE HAVE SCANNED THE FIELD THOROUGHLY FOR AN OPPORTUNITY TO PLACE BEFORE THE PUBLIC A GREAT COPPER IN ITS INITIAL STAGES:

Ray Central conforms to each of these requisites.

The Mining of Copper today is an economic and purely commercial business, dependent for success upon manufacturing costs against selling prices.

Natural advantages, such as water in plenty, ore deposits easily handled and in tremendous volume, transportation facilities unexcelled, electric power, oil as fuel and many other favoring factors exist in Ray Central to sharply contrast it with other properties of a less fortunate environment.

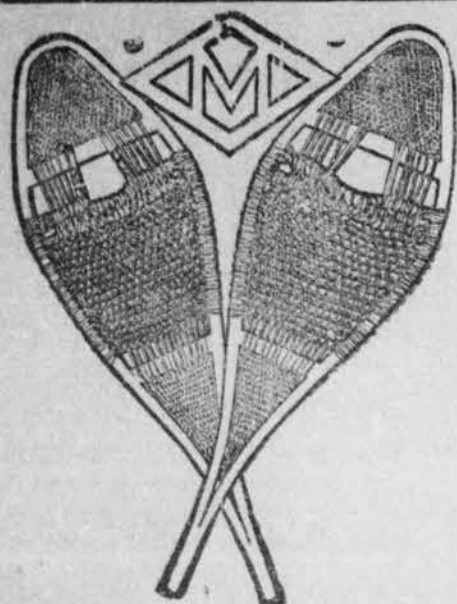

So keen are these commercial factors that great financial strength, strong executives and the best engineers are necessary for the fullest measure of profits in coppers; in any and all of these Ray Central is second to none, and offers, in our judgment, an investment attraction so marked that its future worth will admit of few parallels.

Electric Carpet Sweeper—The latest electric household convenience to be received by the city light and power commission is an electric suction carpet sweeper, which is now at the city hall on exhibition to prospective purchasers. The device is said to be much more effective than the ordinary carpet sweeper and that with its use it is never necessary to take up rugs and carpets for the purpose of cleaning them. The sweeping brush and suction fan are operated from a long cord attached to any electric connection and the machine is then pushed about the room as any carpet sweeper. There are attachments for cleaning corners and out of the way places and also for cleaning the walls and ceiling. However convenient the electric sweeper may be, they are not likely to become very popular, as they retail at about $20 each.

CITY OFFICIALS SCORED BY PASTOR

REV. MAYWOOD DECLARES THAT GOOD PEOPLE MUST LEARN TO PLAY THE GAME OF POLITICS IF CIVIC PURITY IS TO BE OBTAINED IN THE COMMUNITY.

The political situation in this city was the subject of Rev. Ames Maywood's discourse at the Methodist church last night. The well-known minister fearlessly and unequivocally condemned the water board for their dilatory tactics in the settlement of the water problem, and the mayor, council, police commission and policemen for their failure to uphold and enforce the laws against the saloons and houses of ill fame in this city. In the last analysis, however, he placed the blame for present conditions on the good and respectable people of the city, who were apathetic concerning the existing evils and did not rally to the support of the officers in the enforcement of law.

"The love of the people of Marquette for their city is unique and provincial," said Mr. Maywood. "Their pride is so great that it is made a matter of jest in surrounding cities. Looking on the exterior surroundings alone, I know of no more beautiful or desirable place to live. As in the case of some other things, however, a look into the interior does not reveal people who, bearing in mind pure conditions. The time has come in our city affairs when the good people should take a stand for righteousness. As this is a mixed audience, I cannot bring before you tonight the conditions of civic filth as they actually exist, but I will call your attention to a few of the things that are patent to all of us.

Contamination of Water. "For years the city government has been attempting to work out some method of relief from our present contaminated water supply. The years we have been waiting for our city officials to solve the water question—a question which an expert could probably solve in twenty-four hours. Meantime, little children are being carried to the cemetery and men and women are being stricken down week after week because of this contamination of the water supply. This burden falls most heavily on the poor, but according to the teachings of Christ, the responsibility for that burden rests on the more fortunate. This question should have been settled long ago. God hastened the day when men will think more of their children and their fellow men than of their dollars!

Saloon Power Dominant. "It is a matter of common knowledge that the saloon and its parasites dominate the politics of this city, and that a discrimination amounting to anarchy exists in favor of this class. If I break the game laws, I am taken before the justice and fined, but if I belong to the 'fraternity' I may break the law with impunity. It is known to the police and to everybody else that saloons remain open after hours, that women of bad resort are found in certain saloons and that the laws are being broken in other ways, yet this disregard of law is winked at by the officers. If this is not an anarchy, I should like some one to explain what anarchy is. Young girls are parading the streets at all hours of the night, and the moral contamination in Marquette is infinitely more serious than that which we are being asked to stand for. It is the responsibility for these conditions. Upon the mayor, for he has power to enforce the laws; upon the common council, for they have power to enact laws and back up the mayor; upon the police commission, whose duty it is to see that the laws are enforced and upon the policemen themselves.

Mayors Have Lacked Backbone. "But no mayor of this city in the last twenty years has posed as a reformer. Public sentiment has not demanded any different conditions and no John Calvin has appeared who was willing to make the stand for righteousness singlehanded. We all thought that our present mayor was a reformer, and stand out for the right, but in this we have been disappointed. As is true of all other politicians, he has friends in the opposition camp who have constantly expressed their willingness to rally to his support and deliver him the votes if he would carry out their wishes, while the good people of this city have made only spasmodic and weak attempts to enlist him on the side of righteousness. He is like the average man in politics and does not wish to antagonize anybody. The council in turn has been made up of average men, who were willing to move along the line of least resistance. The foes of righteousness have been constantly using their influence with the officials, while the good people of this city have been in politics weakly and spasmodically. In order to accomplish anything we must learn to play the game of politics as well as the other fellows.

Business Men Oppose Reform. "Moreover, it has happened that when a new mayor entered upon his office with the intention of cleaning up some of the political filth, certain so-called respectable business men, who attend church in frock coats, have clandestinely gathered together and suggested to the mayor that it would not be best to close up any of these nameless places at that time. They have suggested that they had notes about to become due, and that it would hurt business to stir up any trouble. Many so-called respectable men are traitors to the cause of righteousness. "No mayor will be found who will be strong enough to stand forth for the right in the face of such opposition. I should like to see a mayor elected who has backbone, but it is too much to expect under the present conditions. We can hope for no different conditions until the good people can play politics as well as the other crowd and by getting out on the streets and working arduously to deliver the votes in support of a clean administration.

Duty of Civic League. "A Civic League has recently been organized in this city. This league simply stands for decent, business-like administration of municipal affairs, yet it has been said that this league will fail if a mistake is made in the man whom it endorses for mayor. This league should be organized, not only for the coming election, but for all time. Whoever is elected, the same influence will be brought to bear as in the past, and unless there is counter pressure brought to bear to keep him in the right course, he will be apt to follow along the same lines as those who have preceded. "Personally, I like the present mayor and a good many of the fellows who are in the other camp, but that is no reason why I should blindly follow them, or, necessarily, vote for them. The signs of the times are toward a more general interest in local affairs. As I said before, these conditions that I have merely touched upon, fall most heavily on the poor. For the sake of the poor and the general interests of this city, let us be citizens and politicians all the year around. It should be the business of the Civic League, not only to see that good men are put in office but to rally to the support of the mayor and his subordinates in their hour of temptation and need." In his closing prayer, the minister asked the blessing of God upon the present mayor and upon the man who would be the next mayor of our fair city.

OLCOTT RESIGNS FROM MESABA LINE

VICE PRESIDENT OF OLIVER IRON MINING COMPANY GIVES UP RAILROAD POSITION AND IT IS GENERALLY BELIEVED HE WILL SUCCEED T. F. COLE.

More changes in the officers of the United States Steel corporation at the head of the Lakes came on the return of W. J. Olcott from the East, says the Duluth Herald.

The resignation of Mr. Olcott from the presidency of the road would appear to confirm the report that he is to succeed Thomas F. Cole as president of the Oliver Mining company.

Although Mr. Cole had been intending to leave at once on a vacation trip and was very anxious to do so, out of courtesy to Mr. Olcott he consented to defer his trip for a few days, in order that Mr. Olcott might make a short trip to the East with his family.

The resignation of Joseph B. Cotton, attorney for the Steel corporation, does not take effect until May 1, and no action has yet been taken toward naming his successor.

The changes made are not expected to make any material difference in the methods of operation of either the Oliver Mining company or the Missabe road. Mr. McGonagle, as general manager of the road, has been in active charge of the operating department, while Mr. Olcott, as vice president of the Oliver Mining company, has taken an active part in the direction of its affairs.

Both Mr. McGonagle and Mr. Olcott have the reputation of being practical railroad men, and Mr. Olcott has had a thorough schooling in the mining company's affairs.

"No action was taken in regard to my successor," said Mr. McGonagle. "The question has not yet been considered by the directors of the road."

Mr. Olcott stated that until his return from the East he was not in a position to make any announcement or statement for publication, regarding the report that he would succeed Mr. Cole.

SIDEWALKS AND STREETS. Taxpayer Complains of Conditions Since the Last Big Snow Storm.

To The Mining Journal: The only thing that Ishpeming lacks to make its Main street sidewalks a rival to the Amphidrome ice rink at Houghton, is the music. In fact, the ice on the sidewalks is so thick that it is impossible for a non-resident, who is not a tight rope walker and a fancy sidestepper, and in fact capable of turning hand springs and cart wheels on short notice, will likely end up in the hospital for repairs.

Now, I don't want to knock anyone's business, even the hospitals, but they get enough out of the people who are compelled to walk through the snow in the Fifth ward after the storms. The present administration is either afraid of the Fifth ward politicians, or wishes to move them in instead of under, and judging from the reluctant visits the snow plow has made in that vicinity, after the recent storms, they mean to do both. I see no reason, however, why they should loose their sand even if election is close at hand. This must be the case as they do not seem to be able to spare any to sprinkle on the icy Main street sidewalks even to save their supporters from fractured skulls.

I would suggest if they haven't the sand that they ask the recorder or poundmaster or someone to take some ashes and put on the walks. We know that they have plenty of them. Look at the piles of ashes right on the Main street. Would it not be better to remove such decorations or instruct the people to dump them on the walks? Wake up and ice something sometime. Our Main street is a horrible sight with its ashes and garbage and is a dangerous place for those without skates and for some with the wrong kind.

"PARSIFAL" TAXPAYER. Wagner's Spectacle to Be Seen Here on Thursday, April 1.

A theatrical announcement that demands more than ordinary attention is that of Wagner's magnificent spectacle of "Parsifal." Its success and enthusiastic reception by the better class of theatergoers everywhere it has been presented has been achieved by the drama's intrinsic merit and inherent beauty. Nothing that would in any manner add to its value has been left undone by its management. A clever, specially selected cast of principals and an equally clever corps of auxiliaries are used in the production, which will be seen at Ishpeming theater on Thursday, April 1.

MINERS' MASS MEETING.

Workingmen Addressed by Prominent Socialists Yesterday.

The mass meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Finnish Co-operative Society's Hall, called for the purpose of discussing the employees' application and contract blanks, recently adopted by some of the mining companies, was largely attended. All the seats were occupied and a number stood in the rear. Perhaps 25 per cent of those present were Finnish workmen and most of the talking was in the Finnish tongue.

Socialist speakers did practically all of the talking and their arguments were largely in behalf of the Socialist party and the Western Federation of Miners. Most of those present appeared to be interested in the talks, but little enthusiasm was shown. Practically the same speakers addressed an audience of workingmen at McDonald's Opera House earlier in the day.

FINE HORSE KILLED. William Leininger's Team in Runaway Saturday Afternoon.

One of William Leininger's driving horses was killed Saturday afternoon, as a result of breaking its leg in a runaway. The team was in the alley at the rear of Mr. Leininger's store on South Main street, when the animal that had to be shot took fright and both started off on a bound. Erick Rickstad, driver of the city hose team, was in the alley at the time and he grabbed one of the horses by the bridle, hanging to it until they reached Division street, where he was thrown to the ground with considerable force. The team continued east about a block, when one horse fell. Its mate continued running, dragging the animal on the ground a considerable distance and jumping on its leg a number of times, fracturing it in three or four places. Marshal Trevelyan shot the horse a few minutes later in an alley between Main and First streets.

Mr. Leininger was thankful that the runaway did not result more seriously. Two children on Division street barely escaped being trampled on and the team came within a few inches of smashing some of the windows in the Myers Mercantile company's stores. The sleigh was only slightly damaged.

GRAND REOPENS TONIGHT. Two Ishpeming Boys to Manage Main Street Moving Picture Theater.

John Neary and Booth Goodman, Ishpeming boys, have secured control of the Grand moving picture theater in the Ketcher block on South Main street, which has been closed for two months past, and will reopen it this evening. The friends of these enterprising youngsters predict success for them in their venture. They are not unfamiliar with the theatrical business, as they have directed several amateur performances with much success. They were among the organizers of the "Silver Stock company" a few years ago.

The house is to be known as "The Kids' Grand Theater," the best on the market, was received yesterday and only high-class pictures and illustrated songs are to be used. A fine list of subjects have been secured for the initial week and it is expected that the house will open tonight with an unusually big business. There will be a change of moving pictures and songs three evenings a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and matinees are to be given only on Saturday. The boys will continue their school work, other matinees would be given two or three days a week.

NO ASSESSMENT IN APRIL. Woodmen Society's Assessment Rate Will Be Low Again This Year.

At the meeting of the executive council of the Modern Woodmen of America at its headquarters in Rock Island, Ill., last Friday, it was decided not to levy an assessment in April. This will be the first month of the present year in which the assessment was passed, but it is expected that assessments will be passed two and perhaps three more months. Last year there were only eight assessments.

While at Rock Island, Director C. J. Byrns received a draft for $250 from Hematite camp of this city, to pay for the Ishpeming branch's tent at the Woodmen's Sanitarium hospital at Colorado Springs, Colo. While a number of camps have announced their intention of providing a tent the Ishpeming branch was the first in Michigan to send in the necessary amount. Mr. Byrns, who arrived home yesterday, reported that Hematite camp was the eighth to respond. The tent is to be erected as soon as possible and it will bear the name of the camp providing it.

WILL BE HEAVY SHIPPERS. C. E. Hendrick, superintendent of the Hanna and Silver mines in this district, reports that large shipments of ore will be made the coming season from these properties, says the Virginian. It is anticipated that about 300,000 tons will be shipped from the Silver and about 150,000 tons from the Hanna. The Silver shipped nearly 50,000 tons last year and the proposed large increase for the coming season means a much larger force of men, says the Virginian. DAMAGE SUITS FILED. One Miner Asks Indemnity of $41,500 for a Fractured Arm.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company is defendant in three damage suits re-manded to the district court at Duluth for trial by order of Judge Page Morris in the federal court, in which the amount demanded aggregates $62,000. The largest of the suits is that of Zutko Bjelos, who demands $41,500 damages for injuries Bjelos received while in the employ of the company at Negaunee, Michigan, Nov. 8, 1907. He claims he was employed on a surface gang and was carrying rails from one point to another. A 900-pound rail, he claims, fell on Bjelos while he was thus employed. His right arm was broken and it is claimed that his right side was badly lacerated by the fall.

Chris Bjelos, who was also employed by the Cleveland-Cliffs company at Negaunee, claims the foreman, John Raggart, who is a co-defendant in all three suits, ordered him to approach a fuse and charge of dynamite that did not explode properly. The delayed explosion gave him serious injuries, he says. He demands $10,250. Louis Pajskovic claims he was injured in a cave-in. He asks $10,250 damages. All three accidents are alleged to have occurred in the Crosby mine.

PROMOTION BY SENIORITY. New Bill Before the Legislature of Interest to National Guardsmen.

The Stewart bill, now before the legislature, contains many provisions of interest to members of the National Guard.

The important change proposed in the regulations covering the duty of the state troops is that providing for promotion by seniority on examination above the grade of second lieutenant. This section Representative Stewart, who is major of the second regiment, says, will do much to increase the efficiency of the state troops, and is in line with the organization of the army and in accord with the regulations being adopted by other states.

Provision is also made for increasing the pay of enlisted men for attending drills. On re-enlisting, the bill provides, they shall receive an increase of 10 per cent for each re-enlistment up to and including the fourth term of service. This, it is believed, will aid in inducing men to stay in the service, something which is very difficult under present conditions, not many men, even serving, cut their first three years. Another section grants pay to officers for attending drills, providing the military board has sufficient funds to make the payment.

The organization of the military board is not changed, and the governor may continue to have as many colonels and aide-de-camps as are possessed by any South American state.

THE DANGER IN A DEMOCRACY. In the March American Magazine, William Allen White, writing of the various reforms of the past twenty-five years, says: "There is danger always when man makes a thing—whether it be a king, a constitution, a city, a democracy, or what not in the way of a human institution—of his mistaking the thing for an end, when it should be merely a means of human usefulness. The real danger from democracy is that we will get drunk on it. Government of the many by the many is not necessarily more desirable than government of the many by the few, or than the government of all by one. The tyranny of the mob was known of old to be as cruel as the tyranny of the king. And there is grave danger that the rise of democracy may not be accompanied by wisdom and self-restraint. There must be a check on the power of the masses; and the veto of the courts on legislation is not only beneficial, but absolutely necessary, if the masses are not checked in their use of power by their own broad charity, their own wide intelligence, and their own unselfish courage to do the right even against their immediate material interests. The success or failure of democracy depends entirely upon that working common sense of impersonal justice in the average man which is best termed righteousness. And as the essence of what preachers call sin is mere selfishness, it follows if we are to use our reformed ballots, or cleaned party-system, our direct primary nominations or our direct legislation to any good end in this world, it will depend upon the breadth of view of the average man, and the amount of righteous unselfish common sense that men put into our ballot boxes."

Registration and election notices have been issued by the city recorder. The boards of registration will be in session in the several wards on Saturday, April 3, and the election is to take place on Monday, April 5.

CONVENTION WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

MUCH INTEREST BEING SHOWN IN GATHERING, ALSO IN RESULTS OF WARD CAUCUSES.

ROBERTSON VS. VAUGHN

This Will Be the "Headliner," With the Contest Between Ross and Donovan Next in Importance—Lineups in the Wards.

The caucus and city convention of the Citizens' party will occur this evening and their outcome will be awaited with much interest. The developments in the political situation the past few days have attracted general attention. There will be, besides the contests over the slates of delegates, fights for the nomination for ward offices in every precinct. It is expected that all of the caucuses will be largely attended and some of them will turn up close fights between the supporters of the rival candidates.

In Other Wards.

In the Fourth ward the nomination for alderman will be contested between Alderman Eckstrom, the outgoing member, who in point of service is the oldest man in the council, and William Cledemeyer, who has the endorsement of the Labor Campaign Club. Jacob Smith will be renominated for supervisor, apparently without opposition. Friends of the rival candidates for alderman make confident claims that their man will be the choice of the caucus.

In the Third ward Alderman Asire will be opposed for renomination by Henry Patenaude. It is generally held by the voters in the Third that Alderman Asire is the best bet in this race, though Mr. Patenaude has been making an aggressive canvass and will doubtless put a good vote. Dan W. Powell, the supervisor, will be renominated without opposition. There has been some talk that a candidate opposed to him might enter the race, but nothing has come of it.

In the Second ward it is expected that there will be a close contest for the nomination for supervisor between Joseph Fay and Dr. Z. Vadnais. It is said that the latter will develop much strength, and men well informed as to the lay of the political ground in the precinct have predicted that if Mr. Fay is named it will be after he has been pressed harder than at any previous time in his long term of service. Henry Duttmer and M. H. Honesty are opposing candidates for alderman in this precinct. Last evening it was reported that there would be a third candidate.

In the First ward F. W. Sambrink, the operator of the South Marquette saw and planing mill, a heavy taxpayer and a well-known citizen yesterday consented to make the run for supervisor, and has assurances of strong support over William Wiseman, who served the post year or two. Ed Butler will be in the race against Charles Hamblly for alderman.

Convention Should Be Lively.

The Citizens' convention this evening should be an eventful gathering, as a lively contest for the mayoralty nomination has developed in less than a week, and W. A. Rose is in the field against S. Donovan, who is seeking renomination as recorder. The candidacy of Daniel Vaughn has become a formidable one, despite the fact that it was not launched until the middle of last week. So swimmingly has it gone forward that his friends now expect to land the first nomination, though their first idea was that Mr. Vaughn would be put in the field at a second convention. Mayor Robertson has been making an active canvass, and inclines to the belief that it will tonight have an outcome satisfactory to him.

The friends of Mr. Vaughn expect to carry the First and Second wards, and also believe that they have an excellent opportunity to land delegations in the Third and Fourth. Two years ago Mr. Robertson carried both these wards by large majorities, but there exists in them, particularly in the Third, a widespread and serious disaffection with him, as can be learned by anything more than casual inquiry. It has its basis in both alleged sins of commission and omission. The Fifth ward is generally held to be safe for Mayor Robertson. The First, Second, Third and Fifth wards are entitled to seven delegates each and the Fourth is entitled to ten. Thus any combination of three wards, voting solidly, can control the convention. If any of the delegations should split it would be hard to tell what might result.

Whether Mr. Ross or Recorder Donovan will be named tonight is a question in regard to which various opinions are held. It is a question independent of the head of the ticket, too, as it is said that some of the slates of delegates will be mixed as to these candidates.

Second Ticket Probable.

Whatever the outcome of the convention this evening it is likely that a second convention will be at once called. As stated the first idea of Mr. Vaughn's friends was that he would be nominated in such a convention, as his late entry into the campaign hardly made it likely that he would be named tonight. Thus

If Mayor Robertson should be successful his nomination will be brought about according to the original plans. It is expected, on the other hand, that Mayor Robertson would still make the race, and he were not nominated this evening and the unsuccessful candidate at tonight's gathering for recorder will also likely want to go before the voters. There will also be numerous ward offices looking for a place on a second ticket.

NEW BUILDING WANTED.

Bill Introduced Carrying Large Appropriation for Marquette Normal.

Representative C. R. McCabe introduced a bill in the house the latter part of last week, which provides for an appropriation of $122,000 for two years expenses at the Northern Normal school and $150,000 for new buildings and extraordinary expenses. The latter amount is desired especially to make possible the erection of a beautiful building between the South wing and Science hall. The new building would then be the main building and the two structures now used would be wings to it. The proposed building would greatly enhance the architectural beauty of the Normal school and at the same time provide more room, of which the institution is in great need. However, as the tendency of the legislature seems to be toward cutting down the state expenditures in every way possible, it is hardly probable that the necessary funds for the proposed structure will be forthcoming at the present session.

UPPER PENINSULA BOWLING ASSOCIATION

ITS ORGANIZATION WILL BE PERFECTED AT A TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD HERE IN APRIL.

A meeting was held at Hancock Saturday evening at the conclusion of the copper country tournament to take preliminary steps toward the organization of an upper peninsula bowling association. Those present were Messrs. Bell and Miller, Marquette; D. Fisher, Hancock; E. C. Hanson, Houghton; J. E. Fisher, Calumet; J. Gray, Ishpeming; and A. Barbeau, Lake Linden. It was decided to hold the first tournament of the new association at Marquette during the week of April 19, when the organization will be completed by adopting by-laws and electing officers.

It is believed that the new association will do much to maintain and increase the popularity of bowling throughout the upper peninsula. It is proposed to hold at least two tournaments each season, one in the iron country and one in the copper country. The individual bowlers will probably be allowed to join the association whether there is a local bowling organization in each two or not. It is also likely that handsome championship trophies will be offered in singles, doubles, three-men and five-men events, which will be subject to challenge, thus creating a healthy rivalry.

The Marquette bowlers will at once appoint a special committee to make arrangements for the tournament in April, and there is no doubt from the assurances already received that it will be even more successful than the open tournament held here a year ago. The Marquette alleys are undoubtedly the finest in the upper peninsula, and some creditable records should be made.

LUMBERING NEAR CHAMPION.

Goodman & Sawyer Getting Out Big Cut for Their Marinette Mills.

Goodman & Sawyer, lumbermen of the practical kind, and who have long been engaged in business, are very active just now getting their cut north of Champion, Marquette county, from the woods where it can be picked up by train and conveyed to their sawmills at Marinette, Wis. In this district they have already brought out 4,677,677 feet of logs, felling 75,465 trees to make this amount. This was the record up to March 8 and it is being substantially added to each day. The company has three camps, the farthest being nineteen miles north of Champion. They have about 200 men now engaged. There is an ice road nine miles long that is a beauty. It is kept in the very finest condition.

The traction engine is of modern type. It is chain driven, and provides its own power so it always has good traction on the road. It handles from seven to twelve sleigh loads of logs, taking the larger number over the level portions of the road and the smaller up the grades. The road runs along the old right-of-way of the Haron Bay line, which gives easy grades for a long distance through the valley of the Peshecke river. The engine requires three men to operate it, an engineer, fireman and a man in front to steer the front runners, this being after the manner of Ishpeming hub sled practice. The engine consumes about three tons of coal daily of twenty-four hours and does the work of ten to fifteen teams. Just now the company is working night and day crews and pushing things in a most strenuous manner.

A NAVAL VETERAN OF THREE WARS

MARQUETTE MAN HAS AN UNUSUAL LONG AND CREDITABLE RECORD AS A SEAMAN.

It does not often fall to the lot of a man to have fought in three wars, but such has been the experience of Anton A. Kruger, of this city. Captain Kruger was enlisted in the Danish navy during that country's war with Prussia in 1848 over the possession of the province of Schleswig-Holstein, was in the Sardinian navy during the Crimean war from 1854 to 1856, and was captain of the Union brig "Anemone" during the Civil war.

Captain Kruger was born in Norway in 1830, went to sea when ten years of age, and followed that vocation until well along in years. When he was eighteen years of age war broke out between Denmark and Prussia, and although the Scandinavian government maintained a neutral attitude in the fight, young Kruger's sympathies were strongly with the Danes, and he enlisted under their flag. The war lasted only about a year and then the young man passed the international examination qualifying him to navigate a ship in European waters.

In 1849 he sailed as first mate on a small freight boat, plying along the west shore of Europe and the Mediterranean sea. As the captain drank heavily, Kruger did not find his position to his liking and at Havre in 1850 he took French leave of the ship and came to New York.

After spending four years as a sailor on the Atlantic ocean, the Crimean war broke out and Kruger enlisted before the mast under the Sardinian flag. In this war, England, France, Sardinia and Turkey were pitted against Russia, to prevent the czar encroaching on the boundaries of Turkey. In this war, which lasted twenty-six months, Mr. Kruger saw some real fighting, and was in action at the battle of Balakava and the siege of Sebastopol.

At the outbreak of the Civil war in 1860, Mr. Kruger was in New York city and before hostilities had progressed very far, he wrote to the secretary of the navy, asking for a commission in the Union fleet. The commission was received within a few days, and he was assigned to a training ship in the North Atlantic squadron. Within a very few days he was placed in command of the gun deck and then made navigating officer of a brig, which was in service near the James river. Later he was assigned to a like position on a ship in the blockading flotilla and finally was made captain of the "Arenone," of the North Atlantic squadron, under the command of Admiral Porter. During the Civil war bullets went through the captain's clothing several times, but in no one of the battles in which he participated was he seriously wounded.

In 1870 he went West and settled in Duluth, where he purchased a small boat, which he operated in west Lake Superior for a number of years. Later he moved to Houghton, and in 1892 to Marquette, where he filled the position of United States steam boat inspector until a few years ago, since which time he has retired from active life. His long record of seamanship and naval warfare has been a remarkable and creditable one, in which he justly takes much pride.
