

OUTLOOK PLEAS PRESIDENT TAFT

Prospect That the Tariff Legislation Will Be Enacted at a Comparatively Early Date Affords Him Much Satisfaction.

Washington, April 2.—President Taft was informed today of the senate program for the administration of the new tariff bill. It provides that the minimum tariff shall apply to all countries for one year.

The president is understood to favor strongly this idea of the application of the maximum and minimum principle, and it is believed that it will be the plan finally agreed upon.

The plan governing the enforcement of the rates gives to the executive complete power to inquire and decide. The supreme court of the United States, in a case involving the constitutionality of the McKinley tariff act, decided that Congress by a similar method of administration was in no wise delegating its authority to the executive.

MARQUETTE, MICH., APRIL 3.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Escanaba has a perfectly good lot of voting machines that it has decided not to use in the election on Monday next. Does somebody want to grab something?

There is talk that the legislature will adjourn May 1. To do so it will have to make much more rapid progress than it has made to date, for much of the most important business of the session remains to be disposed of.

Dr. Elliot, former president of Harvard, is grateful that he should be considered as a desirable appointee to be American ambassador at St. James. At the time he expresses doubt whether he will be able to accept the post.

No matter who is elected mayor of Marquette next Monday and no matter who the successful candidates for aldermen are, "economy" will be a good watchword for the next administration.

THE PERIL OF FIASCO.

If rumors coming out of Washington concerning the tariff bill are correct there is grave need of the men of cool heads and broad minds more closely organizing for the promotion of the general interest.

But it is not in the house that there is the greatest danger, for after a period of sputter it is still reasonably certain that the majority will pull itself together and pass the bill.

No matter who is elected mayor of Marquette next Monday and no matter who the successful candidates for aldermen are, "economy" will be a good watchword for the next administration.

IMMIGRATION REVIVES.

The tide of immigration to this country has somewhat suddenly revived, and the steamship agencies and the bureau of immigration are at a loss to explain the reason therefor.

Immigration is usually a barometer of industrial conditions in this country. When work conditions were bad, immigration immediately fell off.

To the Editor of The Mining Journal: As your paper has shown in its comments on that "bouncing committee" at Crystal Falls the true spirit of an American editor, I take it you will not decline some additional illustrations.

VALUE OF FARM LANDS INCREASED

PROPERTY OWNERS IN THE DISTRICTS WEST AND SOUTHWEST OF THE WINTHROP AND SAGINAW LOCATIONS THINK ONE WILL BE FOUND THERE.

Some of the farmers in the district south and southwest of the Winthrop and Saginaw locations have placed increased values on their land since the Monroe Mining company, subsidiary to the Buffalo & Susquehanna interests, purchased the old Saginaw property, four miles southwest of the city. Some of the farmers believe that there is ore on their land and their belief has lately been strengthened by the fact that mining men have made inquiries as to the prices they ask for their tracts. Some of the farmers are on leased land, but others own their places outright.

Some of the land owners a few years ago put down shallow pits and the indications of locating iron ore were not unfavorable. It is believed by some that the ore formations of the properties at the Winthrop, also at the Saginaw and New Burt, extend farther west and southwest.

The Monroe company has not yet made a start on its exploratory work at the Saginaw, which has been idle for many years. The property shipped in the neighborhood of 450,000 tons during the years it was operated. Like the Cleveland-Ciffs company's Fitch mine, to the west, the deposit in the old workings was apparently shallow and when these bodies appeared to pinch out the mine was closed down. The tract, which contains 200 acres, was not thoroughly explored. Much of the surface has not been carefully examined, nor did the early operators penetrate to any considerable depth. It is thought that ore bodies larger than any encountered in the workings will be found at greater depths. At most of the properties on the range, extending from the Winthrop mine to the Fitch, the ore was found near surface. Most of the exploratory work in the territory was done by test pits, none of which were sunk to a great depth, though several drill holes were sunk some twenty-five years ago at points between the Saginaw and Fitch. At that time it was not thought that the ore extended any considerable distance either north or south from these properties, but some are of the opinion that the territory to the south and southwest of the Saginaw is promising.

With the Saginaw the Monroe company now has three properties on the Marquette range, the other two being west of Michigan. However, the company's principal interests in the Lake Superior district are on the Menominee range, and for the most part in the Iron River-Stambaugh district. The corporation is developing the South Dunn property near Crystal Falls, and is opening a mine on the Swanson tract near Stambaugh. It is said that it has a fine proposition in the Hiawatha mine at Stambaugh and it is also testing the old Chicagoan property, midway between Crystal Falls and Iron River. The latter has been in the hands of various interests during the past several years. It was under control of the Oliver Iron Mining company some years ago and exploratory work was done on it as far back as 1882. It is generally believed that there is a large ore formation in the vicinity of the Chicagoan, but until the advent of the Monroe people the work was not productive of encouraging results. The Monroe people also have the Monroe mine in the eastern portion of the Menominee range. This is an open pit property, producing a low grade ore and operated only during the summer season.

Just received a carload of buggies and wagons. Humphrey Lucas, Sixth street. (4-2-21)

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT.

Widow of Late Frank Austin Passed Away in Green Bay.

The following account of the death of the widow of the late Frank Austin, who was one of the pioneer meat dealers of Ishpeming, and who moved from here to Fort Howard, Wis., in 1880, is from a Green Bay paper:

"The decedent was born at Detroit, Mich., May 8th, 1838, and spent her early life in and near that city. Aug. 10th, 1862, she was married to Francis Austin of Rockland, Mich., where Mr. Austin was one of the pioneer business men. Later they removed to Ishpeming, Mich., and in 1880 took up their residence in this city.

"Mrs. Austin was always most faithful to the interests of her home and family. She possessed in large measure those sterling qualities that made her a devoted wife and mother, a loyal friend, a strong, true woman. She leaves the memory of a well spent life, fragrant with the spirit of good cheer and of loving ministry for others.

"Mrs. Austin is survived by four daughters, Mrs. J. A. Williams, the Misses Clara and Miriam Austin of this city, and Mrs. Fred Henderson of Kansas City, Mo., and also by one grandchild, Lull Henderson.

"The funeral services were held at the family residence, 159 N. Ashland avenue, the Rev. Herbert Knox of the First Presbyterian church officiating. Mrs. John Whitney, Miss Eva Mars and Mrs. J. A. Larsen assisted in the music.

"The profusion of beautiful floral offerings attested the loving esteem of a large circle of friends.

"The bearers were Messrs. R. J. Black, C. W. Lomas, J. A. Larsen, Carl Anderson, J. E. Kaye and E. A. Plumb.

"Interment was at Fort Howard cemetery."

TO VISIT CRYSTAL FALLS SOON.

Ex-Mayor W. J. Roberts yesterday said that he expects to go to Crystal Falls within the next few days to give a socialist address. He does not anticipate having trouble with the members of the citizens' committee there, as he believes that they will do nothing that will make themselves liable under the law. The date of the meeting will be announced as soon as a hall can be secured. Mr. Roberts will be accompanied to Crystal Falls by other socialists of the county.

BIRTH RATE HIGH.

There is only one other city in Michigan that had a higher birth rate in February than Ishpeming, and that was Bessemer, on the Gogebic range. Ishpeming's rate was 40.8 on each 1,000 estimated population, while Bessemer's rate was 80.3. It is very seldom that the birth rate in either the large or smaller cities of the state exceeds 50 on each 1,000 population, while the average does not run much above 30. In February there were thirteen births in Bessemer and Ishpeming had thirty.

There were 655 deaths in the upper peninsula in February, corresponding to a rate on each 1,000 estimated population of 12.8. Luce county had a higher rate than any other county in this part of the state, its rate being 28.7. Keweenaw county was second, with a rate of 23.1; Menominee was third, with 17.7. The rate in Marquette county was 15.9, the total number of deaths being forty-seven.

FROM MORGAN'S CURB LETTER.

"After the steady advance of the past five or six days some reaction was to be expected, and the profit-taking sales of yesterday and the day before are having their effect upon prices. The technical condition of the market has changed but little; commission houses are carrying few stocks, and the important purchases are made by strong people. It is a fact worthy of comment that the activity comes only on the upward swing, and very few stocks are offered on the declines. No change in the metal situation; sales of small lots are being made daily to domestic consumers, but the amount in the aggregate is unimportant. All grades reduced 1/2 in the asked price today. The Lake Copper company encountered a fine showing of copper in their north third level last night. This find is responsible for the rise of 1/2 in the price of the stock today. Goldfield Consolidated and Tonopah were both weak today. The weakness in the former is especially difficult to explain, when we consider that their statement for March shows that 19,350 tons of ore were treated during the month, amounting to $1,700,000. The milling cost was $124,000, leaving net earnings for March $950,000."

Yesterday's prevailing prices were:

WHAT THE ARMY NEEDS.

Various of the Department Commanders Make Suggestions. Test Rides Tried and Found Generally Satisfactory—The Absenteeism of Officers Deplored.

Washington, April 2.—The annual reports for 1908 of the commanders of the different military departments of the government have just been published, in accordance with a resolution of the house of representatives. They include many recommendations for the improvement of conditions in the army. Practically all of them speak in terms of appreciation of the recent increase in pay of enlisted men, and there is a unanimous demand for a remedy for absenteeism among officers.

Major General Fred D. Grant, commanding the department of the East, finds special reason for praising the war department's scheme for the general allotment to each department of funds for shooting ranges and permitting the department commander to distribute them among the several posts.

Brigadier General Carter, in command of the department of the lakes, thinks that "officers who instruct their men in shooting should themselves know how to shoot;" but he finds that presence of so many officers at competitions means their absence from their proper commands, and hence recommends that officers be not ordered to the competitions as competitors. He dwells upon the necessity of a general training of the men in shooting, and finds a source of gratification in the fact that his department stood at the head of the army in the general figure of merit for last year's firing. General Carter would also have a larger army. "The tours of foreign service," he says, "come with too brief intervals at home stations. The duty in the United States has become strenuous for men recently returned from tropical service."

General Carter also deals with the test rides of 1907, and says that of the forty-seven officers who took the test under his supervision, all but one did so in a perfectly satisfactory manner. He finds that the varying rulings of the auditing officers of the treasury department have the effect of causing the disbursing officers of the army to be so timid as in many cases to reject claims of officers which they know to be fair and just for more technical objections with the result that the officers are forced to bring suits in order to make collections. General Carter finds in this condition a real hardship, and he thinks that a remedy should be found for it.

Brigadier General Myer, of the department of Texas, makes the following notation: "Strenuous attempts have been made in this department to prevent the illicit sale of clothing by enlisted men and its purchase by civilians. In one or two cases there have been unfavorable decisions. It is evident legislation is needed."

That the contentment of raw recruits might be increased and desertions diminished by a modification of the present system of original assignment, is the conclusion of Brigadier General Earl D. Thomas, commanding the department of Colorado. Believing the first year of a soldier's life to be a critical period, he asks "why not send him to a station where climate and local conditions are similar to those under which he has grown up?"

Brigadier General Brush, of the department of the Columbia, thinks that the dissatisfaction of the infantry fighting men of today is not so much with the long marches to which he is subjected as with the weight of the roll which he is compelled to carry, and with the way in which it is carried. He says that many hundreds of thousands of dollars would be saved in each campaign if there should be a change in these requirements, because the soldiers would not then throw away their packs as they now do.

WATER WINS VOTES AT YALE.

Senior Class Adopts It as Beverage Over Beer by 74 to 27. New Haven, April 2.—The Yale senior class has announced its vote for water as its favorite drink. Beer has stood as the traditional drink for Yale seniors, except for one year when the class played a joke on itself by voting for milk. This year water was chosen by seventy-four to twenty-seven for beer. Coffee got nineteen votes and fourteen went for milk.

Maudie Adams is, as usual, chosen the favorite actress with 116 votes against nineteen for Ethel Barrymore. The class is Republican by 201 to twenty Democrats, sixteen Independents and one Prohibitionist. Next to Yale Princeton is the favorite college with 125 votes and Harvard second with eighty-six.

THE CONSTIPATION EVIL.

Is Responsible for Most Cases of Piles.

Constipation paralyzes the blood vessels of the lower bowel, and often causes piles. Women, and all other indoor workers, are the most frequent sufferers. But curing constipation alone won't cure piles. A special medicine is needed—internal treatment, to strengthen the faulty veins and start pure blood circulating.

STUDENTS TRYING GYMNASIUM TRACK

ATHLETIC ROOM IN NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING WILL SOON BE COMPLETED, BUT EQUIPMENT WILL NOT BE INSTALLED FOR SOME WEEKS.

The high school athletes have had an opportunity this week to try the running track in the basement of the new high school building. The maple floor has been put in, but the railing has not yet been set in position. The floor stands at the turns, and they can be made without trouble at high speed. The floor is fashioned after race tracks in other high school gymnasiums which the members of the board visited before the construction work was started. Among those who have tried the track are a number of the high school girls, many of whom take much interest in athletics. The track is twenty laps to the mile.

The ceiling and walls of the gymnasium have been painted and the rough boards have been laid on the lower floor. The gymnasium room will be completed, so far as the carpenter work is concerned, within a few days and it is expected that the students will be given permission to use it while training for their summer contests. The room will be well ventilated and is to be well equipped.

The artist who is here putting up the stucco work in the auditorium has finished the job, with the exception of filling the joints and other minor details, and the decorators are now priming the ceiling and walls. The auditorium floor has not yet been laid, and there is considerable other work to be done before the room will be ready for the furniture and fixtures.

U. R. Durner's crew will complete the tile work in the second story corridor this week. The men are putting in long hours, with a view to finishing the job as soon as possible, as Mr. Durner has other contracts that he wishes to have them start on.

Many Negaunee people have visited the school the past few days and they are much pleased with the progress being made there. Among the visitors this week were members of the Ishpeming school board all of whom expressed themselves as being delighted with the building.

The board of education expects to close up its furniture and fixture contract before the end of this week. Bids have been received from several concerns and representatives of some of the dealers are now in the city. Bids were considered at a meeting held Wednesday evening, but no decision was reached. The contract for the gas and electric light fixtures was awarded to a Milwaukee firm represented by F. Halzhauser, who was here Wednesday with a line of samples. The board selected fixtures that will harmonize with the furnishings.

MORTALITY IN FEBRUARY.

Rate Through State Was Higher Than During the Preceding Month.

According to the Monthly Bulletin of Vital Statistics there were 2,767 deaths returned to the department of state for February, 1909. This corresponds to an annual death rate of 13.6 per 1,000 estimated population. This is slightly higher than the rate for the preceding month, which was 12.7, but is considerably lower than that for the corresponding month of 1908. Reports were received from districts covering 2,494,442 persons, according to the last state census, or 98.6 per cent of the total population of the state.

Included in the deaths reported there, were 596 deaths of infants under one year of age (exclusive of stillbirths); 150 deaths of children aged one to four years, inclusive, and 829 deaths of elderly persons aged sixty-five years and over.

Important causes of deaths were as follows: Pulmonary tuberculosis, 182; other forms of tuberculosis, thirty-two; typhoid fever, twenty-nine; diphtheria and croup, forty-one; scarlet fever, eleven; measles, twenty-one; whooping cough, eighteen; pneumonia and bronchopneumonia, 299; diarrhea and enteritis, under two years, forty-one; meningitis, thirty-five; influenza, forty; cancer, 141; violence, 145.

As compared with the preceding month a slight increase is shown in the number of deaths returned from pulmonary tuberculosis, other forms of tuberculosis, whooping cough, pneumonia, meningitis, influenza and violence. A slight decrease is shown in the number returned from typhoid fever, measles, enteritis and cancer.

It comprises about one-seventieth of Ireland's area.

NEGAUNEE DEPARTMENT PALMER MAN DIED THURSDAY NIGHT

FRANK SMITH, UNTIL RECENTLY ONE OF THE PROPRIETORS OF THE PALMER STORE, EXPIRED WHILE ON WAY TO NEIGHBOR'S.

One of the saddest deaths that has taken place of late in this part of the county is that of Frank Smith of Palmer, who expired suddenly Thursday night, shortly before 12 o'clock. The announcement of Mr. Smith's demise was a distinct shock to his numerous friends and acquaintances in Negaunee. He spent the greater part of Thursday and Friday on his way to neighbor's. The circumstances surrounding Mr. Smith's death make his passing particularly sad. His wife gave birth to a son Thursday evening about 8:30 o'clock, and she went to Palmer about two blocks distant, to get her to stay with Mrs. Smith during his absence. While on his way to the Liquor home he was struck by the snow. Four Finnish men, residing at the location, went along the road at 12:15 and ran across Mr. Smith's lifeless body. Recognizing the deceased, they went to the home of his brother, Don Smith, who had the body removed to his place. A physician was summoned, but it was evident that death had occurred a few minutes after Mr. Smith had left his home. Since the death of her husband, Mrs. Smith's condition has been precarious and it was feared yesterday that she would have a hard time pulling through. The deceased located at Palmer about three years ago, when he and his brother, Don, purchased the general store and meat market business there. He was married to Miss Minnie Lucas, daughter of Humphrey Lucas, a few months later. The baby born Thursday night is the second child, the other also being a boy, less than a year and a half old.

The deceased was a native of Green Bay, where he spent practically all his life before locating at Palmer. For eighteen years he was an employee of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company on the Peninsula division, having given up a position as freight conductor a few years ago to engage in business at Green Bay. He disposed of his interests there at the time he and his brother took the Palmer store. About a month ago Mr. Smith sold out his interest in the store to his brother and

STREET CARS ARRIVE.

The four street cars which Manager McCorkindale of the Marquette County Gas & Electric company recently purchased arrived yesterday morning from Chicago. The cars were bought from the Chicago Union Traction company and had been used on that system. They are in good condition. All are single trucks, but two of them will be equipped with double trucks and motors. The other two will be used as trailers. The cars are provided with stoves, wire screens in the vestibules, etc., and they have exceptionally large windows, making them very desirable for summer use. Manager McCorkindale expects to have some of the cars in use next Tuesday and Thursday evenings, when it is anticipated that large crowds will be handled, on account of the baseball games between the Ishpeming and Negaunee nines.

STORES HAVE TAKEN ON SPRING DRESS

SOMBER GARB OF WINTER HAS GIVEN WAY TO BRILLIANT COLORS OF THE SEASON.

DEPARTURES IN THE STYLES

Easter Fashions Characterized by Many New Things in the Realms of Both Women and Men.

Nowhere is the near approach of Easter and springtime more surely evidenced than in the rejuvenated appearance of the women's and men's clothing and furnishing stores of this city. Dry goods stores, millinery stores, clothing stores and furnishing and notion stores are one and all resplendent with the latest creations of the fashioner's art, and present a pleasing contrast to the more quiet and somber wearing apparel in vogue during the summer and winter. Women and men alike find attraction in the tastefully show windows of the downtown stores, filled with the newest things for spring wear. With the first mild, sunny days Marquette is shedding the dull gray garb of winter and the riot of bright colors in the stores entrances nearly everywhere.

The spring styles, both for men's and women's wear, represent many radical departures from those of the past, perhaps as much so in the millinery realm as in any other feature of dress, although the spring headgear for men is not far behind, at least in so far as colors are concerned.

Milady's Hat.
Much smaller hats so far as the brims are concerned is the decree from Paris in women's hats. The bigness now is all in the crowns. In fact, some of the Paris hats seem to be all crown, a mere apology for a brim being set at the lower edge of the crown to form a support for the trimmings. The brims of some of these hats are not greatly narrower than those of other seasons, but the head size is much larger and the huge crown, added separately, sets out to within an inch or so of the edge, giving the effect of a smaller hat. The factious cartoonist, who always picks out the sensational points of new millinery, depicts these new high crowned chapeaux as sections of a stovepipe, broadened out at the bottom to set down over the coiffure, and trimmed with a ribbon tied in a bow across the back. This trimming across the back of the hat is a feature of the millinery for spring.

There is a craze for fruit trimmed millinery in the fashion centers. Raspberries, blackberries, currants, cherries and plums are on many of the spring hats. Apples are considered especially stylish and even beans and homely tomatoes have been borrowed from the vegetable gardens. There is also a very attractive flower toque that is correct and popular.

Lace and Embroidery Creations.
Early in the year the awful news went forth that lingerie was going out of fashion and that all the wonderful and charming concoctions of lace and muslin so dear to the feminine heart were to be banished and their places taken by garments made on lines of great severity, and minus everything in the way of ruffles, puffs, lace and the like. Fortunately, nothing as serious as this has happened and women are still permitted to wear as many dainty things as ever, and, if they please, go to the wildest extravagance in the matter of materials and trimmings. But lingerie garments have in a measure changed their form, and where fullness and fullness were previously sought after, now everything is made as narrow as possible and cut so as to follow the lines of the figure as closely as they can. Plaits, gathers and ruffles have been omitted from all the new garments but their place is to be taken by lace and embroidery to an unlimited extent.

In ladies' outer garments the Paris styles offer this for summer consideration: That skirts will be short enough for comfort, built in one piece effect, skirt waists being entirely ostracized except for traveling wear with coat and skirt suits and with white linen suits; that straight lines are correct and hips are still out of favor, but that the waist line will gradually get down to its normal place again.

New Things for Men.
If a man can select his ties, his hats and his shoes well the rest of his get-up does not matter so much. He may even be shabbily dressed as to the cut of his clothes, his trousers may lack the conventional crease and his coat may be the worse for wear, but if he has a well selected tie and knows how to tie it, and if his shoes are shining, well shaped and spotless, and if he knows how to get his hat off his head and make a bow, he may hope to win the proudest girl in the land.

This spring the merchants have brought forth a stock of delectable ties, which for richness of design and variety in colors have never before been equaled. The four-in-hand remain in favor and seem to be the most popular for general use. These are wider at the ends this spring, which gives them a richer, more flaunting appearance.

Never before has there been such a tendency to colors in men's wear. This enters into every department of their clothing. Their undervestings are of the most varied and delicate coloring, likewise their pajamas. Fancy vests are more popular than last year, and ties and shirts voice the tendency of the season. At last has come the revolt against that homely horror, which only years of usage has made us tolerate, the black bowler hat. This spring will see them almost entirely replaced by the soft variety of shapes. The soft greens, which were at the subject of ridicule, have held their own against the finger of scorn and have become one of the regular stock of the spring time. The gray hat with the black band is first choice for warm, sunny days for rather drowsy occasions.

Show Windows Attract Many.
Marquette merchants are doing their best to satisfy the craving of the public for something new this spring and the show windows of many of the stores are a great attraction these days, for both the women and the men of this city. Milady is attracted down town to see a hat of yellow straw laden with lace and feathers, a costume of soft broadcloth with touches of embroidery, gloves of brilliant hues and short lengths, suede shoes of gray or brown, and billows of lingerie.

Knots of interested men stand before the empty void in some men's esthetic nature. Flaming red ties attract some men's attention and the latest patterns in tailored and ready made clothing are longingly admired.

BUSINESS TRANSACTED WITH GREAT DISPATCH

SHORT SESSION OF COUNCIL LAST NIGHT AT WHICH RESOLUTIONS WERE ADOPTED PROTESTING AGAINST FREE IRON ORE.

The council meeting held last night was of less than ten minutes duration the session being entirely harmonious with no discussion on any of the motions and resolutions offered and adopted.

The question of the alleged excessive assessment against three lots in the White addition, facing on Division street, which caused a great amount of discussion at the previous meeting, was settled by the adoption of a resolution offered by Alderman Williams to vacate the entire assessment roll for the improvement of that street, upon the receipt of payment for the work already done, amounting to $192.50, from Asire & Palmer, the owners of the three lots. This action means that the grading and macadamizing of this street will not be done at present, at least. However, the action of the council in no way interferes with the construction of a sewer on that street.

The petition of Charles J. Anderson and fifteen others for an electric arc light at the west end of Park street was granted, on recommendation of the committee on streets.

The street commission was instructed to repair the sidewalk in front of Joseph Reau's property on Baraga avenue. It had been rumored during the week that one and perhaps two resignations would be offered by members of two of the city commissions, but no such resignations were forthcoming.

The following resolutions were adopted protesting against the reduction or removal of the tariff on iron ore by congress:
"Whereas, It is proposed in congress to repeal and abolish the duty now imposed upon the importation of foreign iron ore into this country;

"Resolved, That the common council of the city of Marquette hereby protests against the repeal of the duty on iron ore for the following reasons:
"1. Because the labor employed in and dependent upon every producing industry of this country is, as a matter of justice, entitled to a fair share of the benefits of the American protective tariff system, and such repeal would be a denial to many thousands of our citizens of the equal protection of the tariff law.

"2. Because one of the greatest industries of this state is the production of iron ore, all of which comes from the three iron ranges of this peninsula, where nearly all labor, enterprise and business is directly dependent upon the existence and success of the iron mining industry; and such repeal would be a great detriment, if not a great calamity, to that industry.

"3. Because free importation of foreign iron ore would increase, by the amount of the duty, the advantage of the foreign mines in the American markets, where they are now already competitors of our American mines.

"4. Because with the added advantage of free importation, the competition of foreign ores in American markets will tend to compel the closing to some extent of our mines, the abandonment of further exploration and development of our mineral lands, and a result in the reduction of wages of all labor in the mines, in the shops, on the railways and docks, and in all the various employments and business directly and indirectly engaged in the production and shipping of iron ore.

"5. Because the maintenance of the high American scale of living and the superior educational, social and moral advantages enjoyed by the labor employed in and in connection with the production of iron ore in this region, is dependent upon the preservation of the American market for American mines.

"6. Because iron ore is the 'finished product' of the many thousands of laborers employed in the mining and shipping thereof, and in the employments, vocations and business dependent upon the iron mining industry; and, as such finished product, is entitled to share with the products of other labor, its just proportion of the profits of the policy of protection, and

"Resolved, That the senators and representatives in congress from this state, are hereby requested to use all honorable efforts to prevent the threatened danger to the material interests of our state; and

"Resolved, That Honorable H. Olin Young is hereby pledged our cordial sympathy and loyal support in his fight to defeat the efforts of those who by the repeal of the duty on iron ore would deprive this region of its just share of the benefits of the policy of protection; and

"Resolved, That copies of these resolutions, certified by the mayor and recorder, be forwarded to each senator and representative in congress from this state."
