A MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY THE MINING JOURNAL CO. (LIMITED.)

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

The outcome of the election yesterday, a victory for the Citizens' ticket headed by Daniel Vaughan by very considerable majorities, was not unlooked for by the political observers who were closest in touch with the situation and who were frank enough to look the facts in the face.

This Representative Ogg in our lower house at Lansing must have a mean disposition, says the Houghton Gazette. He must be a cranky sort of a person.

Senator Foster has introduced in the legislature a bill to repeal the act creating the forest reserve and to abolish the state forestry commission.

5% DEBENTURES Running one to five years secured by first mortgages on improved real estate worth more than double outstanding debentures.

TO REDUCE THE COST.

The Baltimore News seems to state the fact correctly when it says that this time the country has demanded a revision of the tariff in order to reduce the cost of living.

Although the News does not quote figures it might have done so. The customs duties are divided into fifteen schedules or classes.

Further analysis shows that the increase is very largely on those articles which are used in the household, tea, coffee, cocoa, spices, olives, millinery goods, fruits and the cheaper articles of apparel.

THE NATIONAL VICE. "I should like," said Mr. Harriman last week in one of his many chats with the public, "to see an agitation simultaneously in every part of the country against the unbusinesslike handling of the people's money."

Several Menominee institutions which have heretofore used wood as fuel for generating power will this year use coal and will discard the old style of fire-box. It would surprise an old resident of the city who lived there prior to the transition from a lumber town to a varied manufacturing city to find how little wood is now used for fuel purposes.

WOOD AS FUEL SUPPLANTED. The annual state convocation of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen will be held at Escanaba today. A state foreman, state correspondent, state treasurer and three state directors will be elected.

made by the heads of the eight great departments, each one acting separately. President Taft has recently suggested a correlation of the estimates, but even this simple and obvious thing is a novelty.

During the recent administration the Keep commission studied the methods of the departments and made not a few valuable recommendations as to promoting economy. But it possessed little power to do anything, and its report is but added to the many other burdening national shelves.

Upper Peninsula Missing Man Found Dead. The remains of Charles Ecklung, an aged man who disappeared from his home at Inargill, Menominee county, have been found in the woods, a short distance from the home.

YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF

If you were to buy something on installment, of say $1 or $2 per week, you could meet your payments. You are able to pay what you owe others, but not what you owe yourself and family. Now, if you could take care of a debt in payments why not take care of a bank book in the same manner?

Start it this week with a dollar or two and figure that you must pay yourself that much each week for your bank account. You'll find that the hardest part of a bank account is in getting started.

We pay 3 per cent interest on savings balances.

WE saw lots of boys' suits which wouldn't have cost us nearly as much as XTRAGOOD Clothes

but they weren't extra good, so we paid a little more to give a little more value and a great deal more satisfaction. All the pants have the "seat of wear," and that's where the wear is the hardest. Really two pairs of pants sewed together, because their's lining all the way through just as in a coat. It's not heavy enough to make them unwearable on the hottest days, but it's strong enough to double the service.

Your boy wants a new suit for Easter. Buy him an XTRAGOOD Suit, $3.50 to $8.00, and perhaps a natty little Overcoat, a pair of Knickerbocker knee Pants, a nobby Spring Cap, K. E. Shirt Waist and pair of dressy box calf, patent leather or tan Shoes, either oxford or lace. Our spring lines now complete.

CHARGES VIOLATION OF ANTI-TRUST LAW. Seeking the Dissolution of the Standard Oil Company, the Government Files Its Brief in Court at St. Louis, Mo.

St. Louis, April 5.—The government today filed in the circuit court of the United States for the eastern district of Missouri, its brief in the case of the United States against the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, by which it is sought to dissolve that corporation. In this brief the history of the company from its inception to the present time is reviewed, and the declaration is made that the testimony shows that the various defendants have from the first pursued a system of unfair competition against their competitors, whereby the independent companies selling and marketing petroleum have either been driven out of business or their business so restricted that the Standard Oil company has practically controlled the prices and monopolized the commerce in the product of petroleum in the United States. This system, it is contended, has taken the form of price cutting in various localities, while keeping up high prices or raising them still higher in other localities where no competition exists; of paying rebates to consumers as a part of their system of price cutting; of obtaining secret information as to competitive business, largely through bribing railway employees, and using their secret information to procure the countermanding of orders of independent producers, and to facilitate the price cutting policy of the use of so-called independent companies, that is, companies held out by the Standard Oil company as independent which are engaged in price cutting, while the Standard Oil company maintains the price through its well-known companies, and other abusive competitive methods against the competitors.

Profits Exorbitant.
The Standard Oil company, the brief alleges, is particularly able to carry on this predatory competition for the reason that it does not sell its product at central markets or through ordinary manufacturers. It markets its products to the retailer in every village and community in the United States, and it does so directly to the consumers. It does from $5 to 30 per cent of the business of the United States, leaving about 10 to 15 per cent for all its competitors. It is also held that the testimony taken in the Standard Oil proceedings show that that company through a company in which it owns a majority of the stock (the Galena Signal Oil company) also controls about 97 1/2 per cent of the lubrication of railroads throughout the United States, and that it sells to most railroads at enormous prices. This evidence of the net earnings of the company which in 1906 were about 112 per cent on the capital stock actually paid in and about 165 per cent on a liberal valuation of the capital used. It is also shown by the further fact that the rates on these railroads are substantially double the prices charged to a few favored lines, notably the Pennsylvania. For instance, the brief says, the New York Central railroad for ten years has paid about 100 per cent per gallon more than the Pennsylvania. It is also shown that the Standard can do so, it has made contracts whereby it has either marketed a part or all of the product of the independent refineries, or has limited the output of the same.

One of the evidences of the monopoly of the defendants, it is charged, is its enormous earnings. These earnings are summarized as follows: The Standard Oil trust and the Standard Oil company, on an investment of $69,024,480 had earned up to the end of 1908, $836,783, 782. Adding the estimated profits of 1907 and 1908, we have substantially, the brief states, a billion dollars earned by this company in twenty-seven years with an original investment of about $69,000,000.

Further on the brief says:
Costs to the Consumer Increased.
"It has usually been claimed for large corporations in this country that they have increased business and decreased the cost to the consumer, but in the case of the Standard Oil company it has during ten or fifteen years actually increased the price to the retailer, and this a good deal more than the prices of other products throughout the country, although the price of its raw material and cost of manufacture and sale during these years has increased very little, if any."
It is stated that during the years from 1874 to 1882 the Standard obtained control of practically all of the pipe lines then existing and brought them under the control of the National Transit company, and ever since it has sought to prevent or destroy competition in pipeline business. It first sought to control the Titewater Pipe company, then the only pipe line to the southeast, and succeeded in getting an agreement with that company for division of the business. Through this and other agreements with other companies and purchases, the Standard, it is alleged, has at the present time control of about 95 per cent of the transportation of crude oil to the Atlantic seaboard, which by reason of the large percentage of oil exported, gives it a tremendous advantage. Recognizing the importance to the Standard of railway transportation, its officials and their associates during the last ten years, it is said, have been directors in many of the leading railroad systems of the United States. For instance, the Standard interests have in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul four directors; Union and Southern Pacific and Santa Fe two each; New York, New Haven & Hartford, New York Central and Alton lines, Missouri Pacific, Boston & Maine, Wisconsin Central, Rutland railroad, and others, one each.

Competitors Eliminated.
The brief says that "the government does not wish to be understood as discouraging enterprises or as taking a position against legitimate competition, but if the Sherman act means anything in this country, it means a monopoly acquired by such methods of competition as are pursued by the Standard Oil company. Unless it is enforced, the small corporation or individual who wishes to engage in business will have absolutely no opportunity at all. The testimony is valuable as showing the intention of the Standard Oil company to monopolize the commerce in oil through the United States. In many districts it has been an absolute monopoly. We mean by absolute monopoly that in those districts it does all the business and has eliminated every competitor. Practically this is the case through the Rocky Mountain country and most of the Pacific coast states. The percentage of independent business throughout the entire south is very small. Moreover, where there is competition, the competitors are usually strictly under the control of the Standard, in that they must, in order to be allowed to do business, sell oil at practically the price the Standard dictates, and confine themselves to a small percentage of the trade."

The brief, which occupies nearly 200 printed pages, covers with much detail the history of the company from its original organization to the present time, and asserts that its methods have been in gross violation of law, and asks the court in view of the circumstances of the case to annul the contracts under which the Standard Oil company operates and dissolve the corporation.

The brief is signed by George W. Wickersham, attorney general, Frank B. Kellogg, Charles B. Morrison, Cordeiro A. Severance and J. Harwood Graves, special assistants to the attorney general.

WAR ON GERM SPREADERS. Flies and Mosquitoes Branded as the Worst Offenders.

Dr. Howard, Chief Entomologist, Discusses the Economic Side of the Damage Done by These Pests—Large Tracts of Land Idle Because the Insects Make Them Uninhabitable—Farming Communities Suffer—Millions Spent for Screens—The Ordinary House Fly Is the Principal Agent of Typhoid Fever.

Washington, April 5.—According to the Bureau of Entomology every patriotic American will enlist in a war against the mosquito and the typhoid fly. And the bureau feels that there should be no delay in enlisting. Dr. L. O. Howard, the government's chief entomologist, and his assistants, have completed a study of the economic loss to the people of the United States as a result of the activity against the mosquito and the typhoid fly. The figures, they find, would be so appalling that they refrain from mentioning them. Speaking of the mosquitoes, Dr. Howard summarizes some views as follows:
"Possibly the greatest of these losses is in the reduced value of real estate in mosquito-infested regions, since these insects render absolutely uninhabitable large areas of land available for suburban homes, for summer resorts, for manufacturing purposes, and for agricultural pursuits. The money loss becomes most apparent in the vicinity of large centres of population. The mosquito-breeding areas in the vicinity of New York city, for example, have prevented the growth of paying industries of various kinds, and have hindered the proper development of large regions to an amount which it is difficult to estimate in dollars and cents, and which is almost inconceivable. The same may be said for other large cities near the seacoast, and even of those inland in low-lying regions. The development of the whole state of New Jersey has been held back by the mosquito plague.

Farm Work Hindered.
Agricultural regions have suffered from this cause. In portions of the North-western states, it has been necessary to cover the work horses in the field with sheets during the day. In the Gulf region of Texas at times the market value of live stock is greatly reduced by the abundance of these insects. In portions of southern New Jersey there are lands eminently adapted to the dairying industry, and the markets of New York, Philadelphia and the large New Jersey cities are at hand. In these localities herds of cattle have been repeatedly established, but the attacks by swarms of mosquitoes have reduced the yield of milk to such an extent as to make the animals unprofitable and dairying has been abandoned for less remunerative occupations. The condition of the thoroughbred race horses at the great racing centre, Sheepshead Bay, L. I., was so impaired by the attacks of mosquitoes as to induce those interested to spend many thousands of dollars a few years ago in an effort to abate the pest.

All over the United States, for these insects, and the house fly as well, it has become necessary at great expense to screen habitations. The cost of screening alone must surely exceed $10,000,000 per annum.
Cause Much Malaria.
Dr. Howard estimates the number of cases of malaria in the United States at three million annually. "It will not be an exaggeration," says he, "to estimate that one-fourth of the productive capacity of an individual suffering with an average case of malaria is lost. Accepting this as a basis, and including the loss through death, the cost of medicines, the losses to enterprises in malarious regions through the difficulty of securing competent labor, and other factors, it is safe to place the annual loss to the United States from malarial disease under present conditions at not less than $100,000,000.
The loss to this country in the way of retardation of the development of certain regions, owing to the presence of malaria, is extremely great. Certain territories containing most fertile soil and capable of the highest agricultural productivity are practically abandoned. With the introduction of proper drainage measures and anti-mosquito work of other character, millions of acres of untold capacity could be released from the scourge of an individual suffering with malaria. These regions in the absence of malaria would have added millions upon millions to the wealth of the country. Drainage measures are now being initiated by the United States. Parties of engineers are being employed by the government to make preliminary drainage surveys in the most prominent of these potentially productive regions.

Prompt Relief Measures Urged.
Commenting on the importance of considering the conditions from a national and state standpoint Dr. Howard says: "With a general popular appreciation of the industrial losses caused primarily by the malarial mosquito and secondarily by the forms which do not carry malaria, as indicated in the opening paragraphs, it is inconceivable that the comparatively inexpensive measures necessary should not be undertaken by the general government, by the state governments, and by the board of health of communities, just as it is inconceivable that the individual should suffer from malaria and from the attacks of other mosquitoes when he has individual preventives and remedies at hand. Large-scale drainage measures by the general

BALL GAME TONIGHT.
The first of the series of indoor baseball games to be played by the Ishpeming City and Negaunee Union teams will take place this evening at Braastad's Hall. Unusual interest has been aroused in the series and it is expected that the crowd will be the largest that has ever witnessed a similar contest in this city. Both teams are in excellent condition and it is expected that the game will be well worth witnessing. umpires satisfactory to both teams have been selected and no trouble is anticipated on account of their decisions. Wall and Nichols will be the battery for the local team and it is likely that Mitchell will pitch for Negaunee, while Dunlavy will be behind the bat. The visitors will be accompanied to the city by a large delegation of fans. The game will start promptly at 8 o'clock, and there will be dancing at its conclusion, continuing until 12. Mayor Keese of Ishpeming will pitch the first ball, and Mayor Winter of Negaunee will be behind the bat.

QUIET ELECTION.
The election passed off very quietly in Ishpeming yesterday. It was generally conceded that Mayor Keese would win by a large majority, while the election of the Republican party candidates in a number of the wards was also predicted. There was no excitement at any of the polling places and no extra effort was made to get out the voters, who were inclined to stay away from the polls. There was no work in the mines and some of the business houses closed at noon, the others remaining open until 6 o'clock. The weather was ideal and a great many men spent the greater part of the day on the streets.

If you have backache and urinary troubles you should take Foley's Kidney Remedy so they will act properly, as a serious kidney trouble may develop. Sold by all druggists.
