DEAD NUMBER MANY THOUSANDS

Situation in Asiatic Turkey Resulting from the Savage Outbreak of Moslem Fanaticism Is One of the Extremest Gravity.

With 25,000 Persons Reported Slain in Adana Vilayet Alone and With Other Districts Red With Blood, the Carnage Continues Unchecked, Various Villages Are Besieged by Tribesmen and Each Hour Brings Tales of Further Atrocities.

Beirut, April 25.—The situation in Asiatic Turkey is one of extreme gravity. How many thousands have been massacred cannot even be estimated, because the disturbances are so widespread that it has been impossible to secure details of the happenings in the last ten days.

The latest estimates of the number of killed in the vilayet of Adana are approximately twenty-five thousand, in addition to which thousands have been slain in other districts.

Several warships are now in these waters, but the disorders are so far-reaching that the efforts of the powers to restore normal conditions are as yet hardly felt.

City Itself Taken After a Desperate Engagement, the Troops Protecting the Yildiz Kiosk Surrender Unconditionally—Martial Law Prevails and Order Is Strictly Maintained—Whether Abdull Hamid Will Continue to Reign Is Still a Problem.

Constantinople, April 25.—The garrison of the Yildiz Kiosk surrendered today to the constitutional forces. The commanders of these battalions began sending submission to Mahmoud Scheffer Pasha last night, and all the troops protecting the palace gave a formal and unconditional surrender shortly after dawn.

Sultan Remains in the Palace. Sultun Abdull Hamid has been permitted to remain within the Yildiz Kiosk, where yesterday with his ministers he waited for the outcome of the struggle between his loyal troops and the army of investment, each hour bringing him word of fresh disaster.

SCREWS APPLIED BY GREEDY BAKERS

That the Wheat Corner Agitation Is Used to Squeeze Unusual Profits Out of Patrons Is the Charge That Is Made.

Market Conditions Do Not Warrant Such Procedure, It Is Asserted in New York City—Putting Up the Prices or Cutting Down the Size of the Loaves Is Declared by a Big Flour Merchant to Be Robbery of the Most Despicable Kind.

New York, April 25.—Investigation here proves that bakers who have cut their loaves one-fourth are only using the wheat corner agitation to reap for themselves unusual profits. Where they may have been forced to pay one-quarter of a cent a loaf more for flour they are squeezing one and one-quarter more out of the customers.

Should the bakers of New York all reduce the weight of their loaves in accordance with this resolution, said a big West street flour broker, "they would rob the public of $100,000 a week. I say 'rob' because 'rob' is the word. Market conditions do not warrant any such advance in price to the customers.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female ills, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."

Another Operation Avoided. Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is all the same like the best, healing, helpful, pain-killing Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

ODD LAWS IN TWO STATES. How Florida and Georgia Elect Their Senators.

They Are the Only States in Which the Legislature Does Not Meet Almost Immediately Before Terms of Senators Expire—Double Primary System Prevails in Florida and a Majority Vote Is Required to Decide.

Washington, April 25.—Senator Alexander Stephens Clay of Georgia is re-elected in the Congressional Directory as "re-elected in 1908." Senator Duncan Ellerbe of Florida says of himself in the same publication that he "was nominated for United States senator in primary election June 16, 1908, and elected by the legislature next convention."

Next time these statements are strictly true although neither is unusual. Both senators took the oath March 4, 1909 and are serving under appointment by their respective governors. Their cases are attracting some attention, for they involve an interesting constitutional question not exactly in the rights of these gentlemen to hold their seats, for that is not questioned, but of the wisdom and political safety of the states in permitting senators to represent them unnecessarily under any tenure except that of election by the legislature.

Under act of congress of 1860 United States senators are elected by the legislature of each state which is chosen "next preceding the expiration of the term for which any senator was elected to represent said state in congress."

Both Are the Popular Choice.

Senator Fletcher was nominated by primary June 16, 1908, to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of William H. Hall Milton, who in turn had been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William James Bryan. In neither his case nor that of Senator Clay have the governors voted the popular will; Senator Clay, when the senate by a vote of 32 to 32 adopted a resolution that Mr. Quay was not entitled to continue in his seat. His term had expired while the legislature of the Keystone state was in session and no choice had been made.

An interesting legal point comes in here, although it has no practical application in the present instance. Should the incoming legislature of Florida for any reason fail to elect a senator, undoubtedly the seat would become vacant. This point was decided by the senate in the celebrated case of Matthew S. Quay, when the senate by a vote of 32 to 32 adopted a resolution that Mr. Quay was not entitled to continue in his seat.

AND IT WILL BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

COUNCIL WILL ADOPT, AT A SPECIAL SESSION THIS WEEK, AN ANTI-SPIITING ORDINANCE. NOW BEING PREPARED BY CITY ATTORNEY THOREN.

City Attorney T. A. Thoren, in accordance with instructions he received from the council at the annual meeting held a week ago Thursday, is preparing an ordinance to prohibit spitting on the sidewalks. A special meeting of the council is to be held this week for the purpose of accepting the ordinance. Mayor Winter says the ordinance will be strictly enforced, and he hopes that the city should be aided in every way possible in their efforts to assist in stamping out the disease. He said that the chief of police will have instructions to arrest all violators.

Spittoons Are Dangerous.

The physicians of the city are endeavoring to create interest among the people in the crusade against tuberculosis. One doctor yesterday said that as people are learning how to spit, some things that have been tolerated as a necessity are being done away with. In waging war against tuberculosis, one of the first things to be abolished, he said, is the filthy, germ-ridden cuspidor. It has been proven that to permit sputum to remain in a room in an open cuspidor endangers the health of every member of the family, even when the cuspidor is kept as clean as possible. The cuspidors should be banished from every household.

TO OPERATE PORTLAND.

Stripping Operations Have Been Started West of Michigamme.

The Buffalo & Susquehanna company, which is operating the Ohio mine, west of Michigamme, has taken a lease on the Portland, in the same district, owned by George Maas of this city. Hoose & Person, of Iron Mountain, have been given a contract to strip the overburden from the ore body and about twenty-five men are now at work. Hoose & Person have had other stripping contracts for the Buffalo & Susquehanna company, their last work having been at Amasa, on the Menominee range, which they completed a short time ago. The Portland ore body is thought to be extensive. In many places it outcrops at the surface, while the average depth of the overburden in the area thus far explored is less than eight feet. A number of test pits, were sunk by Mr. Maas some few years ago and the Buffalo & Susquehanna company also put down some pits before taking a lease of the property. The Portland lies directly west of the Webster mine, which is owned by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, but which has been inactive for a few years past.

The Portland ore is of about the same grade—averaging from 48 to 50 per cent—as that produced at the Imperial, Cleveland-Cliffs company. It is quite high in phosphorus, but with careful handling the ore can probably be made to average slightly above 50 per cent. It is reported that the Buffalo & Susquehanna people expect to produce some 200,000 tons this season. An area of about 300 feet in length by 200 in width is to be stripped at the start and as soon as the overburden is removed mining will be started with steam shovels. The ore is a hard hematite and will require drilling and blasting before it will be ready for the shovel. The Imperial and Ohio mines were operated with small forces throughout the winter, less than 140 men being employed at the two properties. Both have fairly large piles of ore, the shipment of which will be started soon. The Ohio will crush all of the ore shipped from the pockets this season, but it is not certain that the ore now in stock will be crushed before it is shipped.

SCHOOLS HAVE CLOSED.

On account of the prevalence of small pox among the school children, the authorities concluded that it would be well to close the schools for two weeks. Meanwhile every room in all of the schools will be thoroughly fumigated. It is thought that if any new cases of small-pox develop they will be discovered before the schools will open again. Health Officer Dr. N. J. Robbins intends to make another careful examination of the children who attend the Jackson school as it is thought that if there are any new cases, they will be in that neighborhood. One of the Negaunee physicians on Saturday expressed the belief that the schools in all cities should be disinfected at least once a month, and more frequently, if convenient. This could be done on Saturday and Sunday without interfering with school work.

CATCHING MANY FISH.

Michigamme people have been enjoying pickerel fishing the past week or so. Crews of men and boys are fishing every day at the big bridge at the inlet to Lake Michigamme, west of the town. Many pickerel, weighing from nine to eleven pounds were caught last week. A few weighing fifteen pounds were taken last year. Several thousand pickerel and bass were planted in the lake eight years ago and the former are now plentiful. A party of Negaunee men plan to go to Michigamme to fish next Sunday.

ORE MOVEMENT STARTED.

A Number of the Mines in Negaunee Will Be Shipping Before Close of Week.

The Negaunee mine will be the first of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's properties in this city to start shipping. Orders to load ore from the pockets were received Saturday and it is expected that the first trainload will move to the docks today or tomorrow. The Maas mine will also begin shipping to the docks this week, provided the company's boats arrive. The Maas has been shipping about twenty carloads a week all winter to the Gladstone furnace. Both the Negaunee and Maas mines have fairly large stockpiles, but a good deal of stockpiling is still available.

The Mary Charlotte Mining company expects its first boat to arrive at Marquette early this week. Orders to begin loading cars at the mine were received Saturday, and the ore will start moving to the docks today.

The Regent mines of the Oliver company loaded a number of cars from the pockets Friday and Saturday and it is expected that the movement will continue indefinitely, as a number of the company's boats are expected to arrive this week. The range officials received instructions last Thursday to begin loading certain grades of ore from the pockets of several of the mines and a few trainloads are now ready for movement. The season is starting out more favorably than a year ago. No ore to speak of left the mines of this range until some time after navigation opened, on account of the labor troubles on the lakes. Active shipments did not start until after July and for some time prior to that date it looked as though much ore would be left in the stockpiles at the close of the season. The movement during the last three months of the season was fairly heavy, making up largely for the several weeks delay in the spring. A few additional railroad crews will be put to work in the yards here and at Ishpeming this week and if the boats begin to come in rapidly steam shovels will be in operation within a few days.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Jonah Johnson, residing on Kanter street, is building a very neat veranda at his home.

E. A. Bell is improving his residence on Main street. Carpenters will be employed there for several days before the work is completed.

Ed. Spess, who is a student at the Michigan College of Mines, came down to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stuess.

Mrs. W. Saw, who recently returned from an extended visit with her daughter at Iron Mountain, has given a contract to Charles Augustson for the erection of an addition to her home on Clark street.

Charles Augustson, the contractor, is erecting a dwelling for A. Avenue at Swanzy. He is rushing the job with a view to returning to this city as soon as possible to begin work on local contracts.

The exhibit of work from the various departments of the public schools and the program announced for Friday afternoon in the auditorium of the high school were postponed on account of the discovery of a case of small-pox in the building. The exhibit will be given before the schools close for the summer vacation.

A consignment of brook trout fry is expected to arrive here today from the Soo hatchery. The fish will be taken by members of the Negaunee Gun and Rod club and planted in the streams out from the city. It is expected that the Soo hatchery will have a million and a half of brook trout, also one million lake trout fry, to plant in the waters of the peninsula.

The flagmen in the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company have been notified by G. E. Morse, general superintendent, that they are to forbid persons not in the employ of the road to enter their shanties or in any way interfering with their duties. The flag shanties on the railways have been very convenient loading places for years past and as a rule the crossing tender is seldom without company.

Seaman & Sartell, high class singers and entertainers, will be the vaudeville attraction at the Bijou theater this week. These artists are said to be among the cleverest performers who have ever filled an entertainment in the vaudeville theater of this circuit, and it is expected that they will be greeted by large audiences. The Bijou has been doing an unusually good business since its management changed.

Captain J. H. Rough, mining superintendent of the Cleveland-Cliffs properties, was presented with a unique souvenir miner's candle stick by Captain Harry Marks of the Imperial mine Saturday. The stick was made by Mr. Marks' son, who is a machinist. Mr. Rough's name is found in two places. In one place his name is on two copper plates worked into the steel. It is a clever piece of work and the captain is very proud of it.

TAPT WITH SENATE LEADERS ON TARIFF.

President Is Won Over to Aldrich's View of Raising Revenue and Is Against the Income Tax Favored by Westerners.

Washington, April 25.—President Taft is in full accord with the tariff efforts of the senate leaders of his party. He has let it be known that he does not favor an income tax as a feature of the pending bill. If internal revenue legislation becomes necessary to provide the government with funds, the president believes, first, in an inheritance tax, notwithstanding the objections that have been raised of late thereto, and secondly, in an excise tax upon the dividends of corporations.

The plain inference from the president's talk with callers was that predictions about his vetoing the tariff bill have been entirely idle. The prominent Republicans of senate and house and others in their confidence have known this for some time. The president quietly assured some of his closest political friends of as much several weeks ago, but the more radical Republicans have been voicing such a prospect in their hostility to the schedules as framed by the ways and means and finance committees.

President Willing to Yield.

The president will be satisfied with any tariff bill that provides sufficient revenue for the needs of the government. Personally he would prefer that all the reductions made by the house and all the reductions recommended by the finance committee be kept in the bill as it is enacted into law. He would also prefer that there be practically no increases in rates whatever. But he does not feel that he is in a position to wage a warfare over particular schedules, and he intends to abstain from any such action.

As the many White House conferences over the tariff have progressed, the president has become convinced of the complications of the situation, and, in the main, has been won over to the views of Senator Aldrich and those congressmen in closest touch with the Rhode Islander. He has come to believe that there are numerous objections of a very practical character to an ideal revision, and is interested only in obtaining the best possible results that the Republican leaders feel they will be able to work out.

To Wait Until Regular Session.

To this end the president is inclined to believe that there may be no necessity for additional internal revenue legislation in connection with the tariff bill, and, indeed, that it may be well to attempt no other form of taxation at this session. For it will be only about five months from the adjournment of the extra session until congress meets again next December, and in that interval the country will be afforded a good, practical test of the revenue raising capabilities of the new tariff law. Should the bill now before the senate prove inadequate from a revenue standpoint, the sale of Panama bonds, which are now authorized by its provisions, would furnish sufficient funds with which to tide over any exigencies.

Then at its next session congress could enact internal revenue legislation to meet any such exigencies. In that event the president would favor an inheritance tax for several reasons. It can be easily collected and it is not a tax upon the producing power of individuals or individual capabilities for saving. Much of it would come first from collateral inheritance, which the president looks upon as in the nature of a windfall to the beneficiaries. He favors this in preference to an income tax, because he regards such a tax as a direct incentive to perjury, and because such a tax is usually collected on account of the willfulness of many people to misrepresent the amount of their incomes.

The president's attitude in this matter is soured upon by the senate leaders to check the impetus that an income tax is getting with the western Republicans. His reasoning will be impressed upon these westerners, who recently have been showing a disposition to flock with the Democratic senators and support the Bailey amendment or something like it.
